Teachers Convene Two Days Prior To School Opening

Public Schools Look For Slight Increase On Secondary Level

Holland public schools are getting ready to ring the bell for another school year.

The prelude will be a conference Sept. 7 and 8.

All teachers will gather at the school Sep. 7 for a teachers' club breakfast in the Junior high cafeteria. An administrative council meeting will precede breakfast.

Following breakfast, there will be a general meeting in Junior high, at which new teachers will be introduced. Announcements and discussion of plans for the year will feature the meeting.

Dr. William Alexander, assistant superintendent of Battle Creek public schools and curriculum supervisor will speak. Dr. Alexander will play the star role in the two-day conference.

Departmental and committee workshops are scheduled to begin at the afternoon meetings. The theme will be "Curriculum Study and Revision."

That night, there will be a teacher's club banquet at the Legion Memorial country club.

William S. Carter, supervisor of elementary instruction for the state department of public instruction, will be featured speaker at second day meetings.

The departmental and committee workshops will be continued the second morning of the conference. Included in the afternoon program will be meetings at which each faculty will meet in its respective building.

Students will register for classes Sept. 9. The elementary pupils will stay all day and junior and high school students will be required to attend only a half-day.

The regular schedule of classes begins Sept. 10.

Meanwhile, Supt. C. C. Crawford said that he looks for about the same enrollment as last year. However, he added there may be a slight increase in secondary schools.

It was also announced today that Bernice Bishop, junior high school principal, and J. J. Riemersma, high school principal, will be in their offices mornings of next week for consultation and enrollment. This is for students who have not enrolled previously.

There will be 18 new teachers in Holland public schools this year. Their subject, names and schools are:

Freelbe — Mrs. Edith Herlein Maassen, third grade.

Lincoln — Mrs. Jane Marche, fourth grade; Mrs. Ada Zickler, who was out last semester to attend Hope college, first grade.

Longfellow — Mrs. Edith Sluyter, 5-A, 6-B; Mrs. Isla Van Dyke, 3-A, 4-B; Mrs. Sylvia Voss Brugger, fourth grade.

Van Raalte — Mrs. Mildred Vermaer, Hoogerhyde, fifth grade; Mrs. Geraldine Uppler, Meuseen, second grade; Mrs. Deane Van Lare is transferring from Freebel to Van Raalte; Mrs. William Schrier comes back after a two year absence to teach third grade at Van Raalte.

Junior high — Marna Kuemmerlein, history; Petrea Andersen, history; Mary Quatt, English and elementary library; Mrs. Earl Borlace, industrial arts; Mrs. Dorothy Unger, mathematics.

Senior high — Mrs. Jacqueline Greenhoe, English; Sue Johnson, English and journalism.

Instrumental music — Louise Runquist and James Schrodt.

Mrs. Greenhoe and Mrs. Unger are recent additions to the faculty. Mrs. Greenhoe was graduated from Western College for Women at Oxford, O., last June. She comes to Holland from Grand Rapids. Mrs. Unger was graduated from Oshkosh Teachers college at Oshkosh, Wis. She taught the last six years in Oshkosh schools.

St. Francis School
Announces Opening

Three new instructors have been named at St. Francis de Sales school for the coming school year.

School opens with a High Mass at 8 a.m. Sept. 8, after which the students will enroll. The class schedule begins Sept. 9.

James Schrodt of Mt. Carmel, Ill., a graduate of the University of Illinois, is the new director of instrumental music in Holland Public Schools, succeeding Everett D. Kisinger, who resigned to take over directorship of the Illinois University band. Schrodt, a trombone soloist, has played with the Illinois university and the Miami, Fla., symphony orchestras. He has taught at Flora, Ill., high school, Phillips university and Miami university.

Symphony Player Named to Direct School Musicians

James Schrodt of Mt. Carmel, Ill., will be director of instrumental music in Holland Public Schools, succeeding Everett D. Kisinger, according to announcement made today by Carroll C. Crawford, superintendent of schools. Kisinger resigned to accept a position at the University of Illinois.

Schrodt was graduated from Mt. Carmel High school and holds bachelor of music, master of music and master of science in musical education degrees from the University of Illinois. He has made a special study of the trombone and other brass instruments.

He taught three years at the Flora, Ill., high school and one year each at Phillips university and the University of Miami. During the past year he was supervisor of instrumental practice teaching at the University of Illinois.

During his 40 months service with the Army he was director of the 519th AAF band at Miami Army air base and played four seasons with the Miami Symphony orchestra. Last year he was a member of the University of Illinois Symphony. This summer he is a member of the faculty at Fort Belknap camp at Lake Winona, Ind.

Schrodt, who is not married, is affiliated with Pi Kappa Lambda, honorary music society and Phi Mu Alpha, professional music society.

Hundreds Throng
To Farmers Day

Zeeland Aug. 26 (Special) — An estimated 4,000 farmers converged at Zeeland Wednesday for the annual Farmer's Day picnic. It was a record crowd.

Art Vanden Belt of Jenison placed first in the horse-pulling contest at Christian school grounds. The contest included 20 of the leading weight pulling teams in Western Michigan.

A 4-H club orchestra furnished music for the afternoon program at Lawrence park. The entertainment also included a 4-H club horse show and a magician.

Mayor Nicholas Frankena and Adrian C. VandenBosch, president of the Zeeland Chamber of Commerce, each gave short welcoming addresses to open the evening festivities.

Professional entertainers, barn dancers and singers, highlighted the evening program.

Woman Dies While Preparing Meal

Fennville, Aug. 26 (Special) — Mrs. James Harris, 56, died suddenly Monday night in her home west of Hutchins lake while preparing the evening meal. Although she had suffered from a heart condition for three years, she appeared in good health Monday.

Born Oct. 22, 1891, she was the former Winifred Sargent, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Sargent of Hutchins lake. She was graduated from Fennville high school in 1912 and taught school for several years. She was married in 1924 and for many years lived on the Belvedere farm in Laketown township.

Besides the husband, she is survived by three children, Mrs. Max Witwicki of Chicago, Wilbur and Florence at home; three brothers, William and Harry Sargent of near Fennville and Charles of McMillan; also a sister, Mrs. Harry Broe of Fennville.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Max Witwicki, 2400 N. 1st St., Chicago.

Interment will be in the Lincoln cemetery, Chicago.

Dual Negligence Blamed for Deaths At Green Lake

Dual negligence was blamed for the triple drowning at Green Lake Aug. 11, by a coroner's jury which returned their verdict Tuesday afternoon.

The inquest was held to fix the blame, if any, for the tragedy which took the lives of Henry Zylstra, 71, William Van Rhee, 14, and Arlan John Van Rhee, 17 months, all of Jamestown, when their rowboat was swamped and overturned.

The jury deliberated one hour before returning a verdict at 2:30 p.m. which said, "We believe that poor judgment on the part of the occupants of the boat operated by Henry Zylstra was a contributing factor to the drownings. Our findings are that the pilots of the speedboats were unintentionally negligent in contributing to the drownings."

A total of 20 witnesses were called to testify at the two-day inquest.

Elwin Kamminga of Grand Rapids, operator of the speedboat nearest the rowboat after it sunk, was called as a witness Tuesday in spite of objections by his counsel. His attorney later let his client testify after one of the jurors raised a question as to why he would not testify.

Kamminga said, "I was towing my companion over the ski jump and was circling around when I observed the rowboat in distress about 150 yards back. I immediately drove full speed to the boat which was beginning to sink and was the first one to arrive on the scene."

Kamminga dove into the water and another passenger in his boat, Trudy De Boer of Grand Rapids, threw cushions from the boat to the three persons still in the water. Kamminga rescued one of the survivors and two other speedboaters in the area arrived on the scene to aid rescuing the other two.

Bernard Kamminga, a brother of Elwin, told of how he had been skiing but did not see the accident happen, as he was further out in the lake.

John Van Rhee, one of the passengers in the rowboat, told the jury Monday that the edge of the boat was from six to eight inches above the surface of the water.

Forrest Reichenbach, Allegan county deputy sheriff, testified in regards to dragging operations at the lake to locate the bodies of the three victims.

Allegan Prosecutor Chester A. Ray tried the inquest and Coroner Clyde A. Dickinson of Wayland presided. The trial was held at Leighton township hall one-half mile south of Green Lake.

Ray said he plans no further action on the drownings.

Council Approves
Assessment Rolls

Common Council met in special session Wednesday night and approved the special assessment rolls on 10 paving jobs as drawn up by the city assessor.

There were no objections filed. Notices of amounts due and terms of payment will be mailed to all property owners on the streets when the jobs are completed. Owners will be given an opportunity to pay the amount in full or spread the debt out in 10 payments.

The jobs and assessment roles are:

Graafschap Church Sends Relief Packages Abroad

Holland post office is a busy place today.

They are processing 45 gift parcels from Graafschap Christian Reformed church. The packages of clothing are on their way to German towns along the Netherlands border.

This is the second year the Graafschap church has sent relief items to the foreign towns.

City Sweats Out Another Day of Humid Heat Wave

The worst heat wave of the season continued to scorch Holland and the rest of the nation today.

A wisp of cold air from Canada began pushing down temperatures but weather experts said "the change will be so gradual you'll never notice it."

Four persons were drowned Wednesday as thousands swarmed to Michigan lakes and resorts to escape the scorching heat wave.

Park Superintendent Clare Broad of Holland State park reported that between 30,000 and 32,000 people were at the park Tuesday and between 35,000 and 36,000 Wednesday. Although this is not a record, this attendance was only surpassed one day during the early summer heat wave.

There are 190 camps at the park, including trailers and tents. Broad said, "They sprung up like mushrooms," he reported, and "some have waited in line three days for a camp site." Number of campers this year is way above last year's figures. All picnic tables and camp stoves are continually in use, Broad said.

Other results of the heat in Holland were the shutting down of the sterilizing operation at the H. J. Heinz Co. late Wednesday afternoon. Water pressure was too low to keep the process going.

In another local business firm two employees passed out of the heat.

In spite of all this, the weatherman repeats his hopeful report — "No immediate relief in sight."

Across the nation, industrial employees were walking off the jobs because of the intense heat. Auto workers in Detroit left the plants for the second day and other industries were almost completely closed down when workers left their jobs this morning.

In Flint, 39 persons of the 10,000 visiting the Freedom Train yesterday collapsed in 95 degree temperatures.

Residents Protest Factory Noise

Thirteen residents from the Crampton Mfg. Co. neighborhood appeared at the special Common Council meeting Wednesday night to register protests against noise and other conditions caused by the local manufacturing company.

They met informally with the council after the special meeting was adjourned.

Jack Van Braght, spokesman for the group, outlined the grievances which were similar to those aired at the Board of Appeals hearing on the plant addition more than one month ago.

The main grievance was against noise from a casting tumbler at the company which operates most of the night and disturbs sleep of residents of the area, Van Braght said.

Ald. Melvin Van Tatenhove and Ald. Earl Ragains, both of the second ward, were asked by Mayor Bernard De Pree to investigate and see if the trouble constituted a public nuisance.

Mayor De Pree explained that council could take no action at the special meeting on the issue. He said the people could appear at the regular council meeting next week and officially voice complaints.

Van Braght said the ward aldermen have protested on their behalf to the company in the past and it was to no avail. He said the residents would come back to the regular meeting next week.

City Attorney Peter S. Boler said an investigation must be held to determine if the complaints constitute a public or private nuisance. He said if it is a private

Pine Tree Plantings
Saved by Firemen, Rain

Holland township firemen answered two calls during the weekend.

The first call was to the heavily planted pine tree section near Port Sheldon. Flames on the edge of the pine plantings threatened to spread. Firemen put out the blaze before it reached the trees. They were aided by the rain which came soon after the fire started.

Property owners in the vicinity believed lightning started the fire. Firemen answered a call to a grass fire one mile west of Pine Creek school Sunday afternoon. They put out the blaze before it spread to a nearby barn.

Draft Machinery Ready to Start In Ottawa County

Ottawa county was getting ready today to put the cogs of the recently passed 18-25 draft bill into motion.

Registration of all men in this age bracket will begin in Holland, Grand Haven, Hudsonville, and Coopersville Aug. 30.

The local registration will be handled on the second floor of the post office building. The office will be open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. daily.

Registration will consist of filling out two cards and the entire process will not take more than 10 minutes per man, officials said.

According to the law, all persons must register, regardless of their status. Several deferments were announced by President Truman last week, but any persons eligible to be deferred still must register.

Different age groups will be registered on separate days from Aug. 30 to Sept. 19.

The Grand Haven registration will be held in the post office building and it has not been determined just where the process will be held in Hudsonville or Coopersville.

Plans were going ahead here in Holland to enlist voluntary workers to register the men. The local Chamber of Commerce is in charge of recruiting workers. They will select a local delegate to go to Grand Haven Thursday afternoon for a school. At the school, the registrars will be instructed on how to fill out the blanks and supplies will be issued to the four county registration sites.

Chamber of Commerce officials said they will send one local delegate to the school Thursday and later will hold their own school on registration here.

The county draft board, which will sit in the Grand Haven post office and have all actual drafting power, is headed by Sam Rymer of Spring Lake. Other members of the county board are Bruno Peter, secretary, George Felt, Abraham Wessel and Richard L. Cook.

Cook was in Holland Tuesday arranging the local registration set-up. He was assisted by Harry Kramer who was on the local draft board during the war.

The following schedule will govern the time each age group shall register:

Persons born in 1922 after Aug. 30, 1922 shall be registered Monday, Aug. 30.

Persons born in 1923 shall be registered Tuesday Aug. 31, or Wednesday, Sept. 1.

Persons born in 1924 shall be registered Thursday Sept. 2, or Friday Sept. 3.

Persons born in 1925 shall be registered Saturday Sept. 4, or Tuesday Sept. 7.

Persons born in 1926 shall be registered Wednesday Sept. 8, or Thursday Sept. 9.

Persons born in 1927 shall be registered Friday Sept. 10, or Saturday Sept. 11.

Persons born in 1928 shall be registered Monday Sept. 13, or Tuesday Sept. 14.

Persons born in 1929 shall be registered Wednesday Sept. 15, or Thursday Sept. 16.

Persons born in 1930, before Sept. 19, 1930, shall be registered Sept. 17 or Saturday Sept. 18.

Persons who were born on or after Sept. 19, 1930, shall be registered the day they attain the eighteenth anniversary of the date of their birth or five days thereafter.

The bodies of five men from the Holland area are among the remains of 5,864 Americans who have been returned to the United States from Europe aboard the Army transport Lawrence Victory which arrived in New York harbor Sunday.

The dead were originally buried in military cemeteries in France. The body of Pvt. H. E. Harrington, Jr., is being returned at the request of Mrs. Lulu Harrington, of route 1, Holland, listed as his next-of-kin.

Others from this area and their next-of-kin are:

Cpl. Leonard R. D'Oyly, next-of-kin is Edwin F. D'Oyly of Grand Haven; Pvt. Peter Gebben, next-of-kin, Albertus Gebben of route 1, Zeeland; Pfc. Eugene N. Reminga, next-of-kin, Nick Reminga, Jensen and Tec. 5 Harvey J. Wittingen, next-of-kin, Cornelius Wittingen of route 3, Hudsonville.

The bodies will arrive in Chicago and be accompanied to their homes by a military escort.

Little Jackie Scott has had a tough time of it. But he's recovering now—and who wouldn't with kind friends and neighbors showering you with gifts? Among them are three cases of soft drinks, which Jackie's mother says he enjoys most. Jackie was hit by a car in front of his home on July 6 and remained in an unconscious condition for many days at Holland hospital. Now he's getting better and soon he'll be up and around again. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Scott, 349 College Ave.

Wormy Corn Sale Brings Court Fine

Fred Breuker of route 1, lost his own case Tuesday afternoon in municipal court and was sentenced to pay $50 fine and $5.90 costs by next Monday morning or begin serving 30 days in the county jail.

Breuker was found guilty of selling sweet corn "which was unwholesome by reason of being infested by worms and visible evidence of damage by worms."

According to the charge, he sold the corn to Harry De Vede of 317 West 17th St. The charge was signed by City Inspector Ben Wiersma.

City Attorney Peter S. Boler prosecuted the case and witnesses called to testify were Martin Jipping, Wiersma, Robert Blackburn, state agricultural inspector, and De Vede.

Judge Cornelius vander Meulen conducted the trial and passed sentence. Breuker had not paid the fine at noon today.

William Mackay, 22, of 372 West 16th St. paid $10 fine and costs after pleading guilty to a speeding charge. Milton Stokette of 79 East 24th St. paid a $1 parking fine.

Two Are Injured At Crossing Crash

Zeeland, Aug. 26 (Special) — Two persons were seriously injured Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 when two cars smashed at an intersection two miles north and one mile east of Zeeland on route 2.

Mrs. Willis Zwaagerman of route 2, received a fractured left arm, head bruises and several lacerations. Her husband received chest injuries and had a hole in his skull, according to deputies who investigated.

The Zwaagermans, who were traveling south, and a car driven by Wynard Kloosterman, also of route 2, crashed at the center of the intersection. The Zwaagermans were hurled out of their car by the impact.

The injured were taken to Zeeland hospital in an ambulance. Damage to the Zwaagerman car was estimated to be $800 and damage to the other car was estimated at $600.

The accident occurred three miles from the Zwaagerman home and one mile from Kloosterman's home.

Local Driver Slightly
Injured in Fatal Crash

Melvin Haveman, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Haveman of 45 East 22nd St., received slight injuries in a three-vehicle traffic collision near Grand Rapids Thursday in which Rein Veder, 48, of Grand Rapids, was killed.

Haveman was driving a Gravel truck and trailer of Holland which overturned on the highway spilling more than 800 gallons of milk on the South Beltline between Eastern and Kalamazoo Aves.

Witnesses said the truck hit a car driven by Benjamin Reser, 30, of Clarksville, in an attempt to pass, throwing the truck into the path of the oncoming Veder car. Both cars were demolished. Sheriff's officers flushed the road made slippery by the spilled milk.

Scores Register For Primary Vote

Political activity in Holland was stepped up Wednesday when 119 persons registered to vote in the Sept. 14 primary before the 8 p.m. deadline.

The newly registered persons are either new residents or persons who have attained 21 years of age since last election.

Another 100 reported changes of address at the city clerk's office Wednesday.

The office was jammed with voters right up until the deadline.

During the month of August a total of 272 new voters registered and another 120 reported changes of address.

Changes of address must be reported if a person moves from one ward to another. It is required that a voter be a resident of his ward for at least 20 days before elections.

The primary election will be held in each of the six local wards Sept. 14. At that time delegates will also be elected to the county Republican convention at Grand Haven Sept. 20.

Registration for the general November election will be opened after the primary.

Mrs. Tena Groteler, 75,
Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Tena Groteler, 75, widow of Gerrit Groteler who died in 1934, died at 1 a.m. today at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Vliem, 562 West 17th St., where she made her home for the last five months. She had been ill for some time.

Born Aug. 3, 1873, at Vriesland, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arie Pelgrim. For the last several years she lived at Virginia Park. She was a member of Bethel Reformed church.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Vliem, Mrs. William Nieboer of Fremont and Mrs. Henry Driesenga of Holland; three sons, Harvey of Reeman, Trenton and Melvin of Holland; 21 grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Walter Schot of Fremont, Mrs. Daniel Kiensteker of Byron Center, Mrs. Richard Mulder of Holland.

The funeral will be at the Dykstra Funeral chapel Saturday at 2 p.m., the Rev. C. A. Stoppels officiating. Burial will be in Pilgrim Home cemetery. The body will lie in state at the funeral chapel Friday from 2 to 4 and from 7 to 9 p.m.

Local Man Gets Legion Trophy

Grand Rapids, Aug. 26 — John Nyhof of Holland, head of the American Legion fifth district and immediate past commander of the Walter G. Leenhouts post 6, was given permanent possession of the Legion trophy at the closing sessions of the three-day Legion convention in Grand Rapids Saturday.

The award was given to the fifth district for its role in combating juvenile delinquency. Permanent possession comes after winning the award for the fifth consecutive year.

Federated Unit Sets Drive Dates For 1st Campaign

O. W. Lowry Hits
Red Cross Policy
Of Non-Participation

January and February of 1949 were set as dates for the first United Health and Welfare fund campaign in Michigan at a recent meeting of the state campaign planning committee.

At least 12 national agencies will combine their fund solicitations in this new organization's drive.

Heading the list is the USO which was recently re-activated at request of the Secretary of Defense. Other agencies already approved are: National Committee for Mental Hygiene, American Heart association, American Hearing society, American Foundation for the Blind, American Social Hygiene association and the Family Service association of America.

Negotiations are progressing to include the American Cancer society, Infantile Paralysis and Michigan Tuberculosis association.

According to local Health and Welfare fund officials, the new drive will assure the public that contributions will be properly allocated to various health and welfare organizations in proportion to respective needs. At the same time it is expected to reduce the number of industrial solicitations.

O. W. Lowry, member of the state campaign planning committee and chairman of the Ottawa county sponsoring committee, said, "many opinions of board members and others have been expressed privately against inclusion of the Red Cross in a united campaign."

Lowry said, "Various reasons were given and they are: '1. The feeling that Red Cross demands quotas far out of proportion to its needs. '2. That Red Cross policy of building up excessive reserves is an unnecessary drain on the public's generosity. '3. That many World War II veterans have had unfortunate experiences with the Red Cross organizations and are therefore prejudiced against donating

Dutchmen Bow At South Haven Saturday Night

Skaalen Is Loser; Locals Tangle With Black Sox Tonight

Holland's Flying Dutchmen return to their home diamond again tonight to meet the Grand Rapids Black Sox after dropping a 5-2 decision at South Haven Saturday night. The South Haven win gave the locals an even split in four games.

Tonight the Hollanders will make their fifth try to take a victory from the Grand Rapids colored club. Although the contests with the Sox have been close this season, Holland has been unable to annex a win.

It was a "patched up" Dutchmen lineup that bowed at South Haven Saturday night. Four new players, including an entirely strange outfield took the field against the Merchants.

Holland scored once in the opening inning on a walk to Lou Borgman, and a double by Loren Wenzel. The remaining two batters were retired, leaving Wenzel on second. South Haven came right back with two runs in their first on four hits, including a double by Rightfielder D. Moore.

The winners moved ahead, 3-1 in the third on a triple by Centerfielder D. Wenban and a single by Leftfielder B. Hamlin.

The locals tallied their second run of the fray in their fourth on the combined efforts of the Wodarczyks. Frank singled, went to second on a fielder's choice, and then came around to score on Stan's one base blow.

South Haven clinched the victory with lone tallies in the fifth and eighth innings.

Mike Skaalen, hurled for the Hollanders and gave up nine safeties. Windt of South Haven allowed only four scattered hits to the Dutchmen. Loren Wenzel led the local attack with two hits in four times at bat.

Speak Vows in Hamilton Church

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Glenn Branderhorst (Penna-Sas photo)

First Reformed church of Hamilton was the scene of a wedding Wednesday night when Miss Joyce Goldie Sale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Sale of Hamilton and Kenneth Glenn Branderhorst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arie Branderhorst of Zeeland, spoke their marriage vows. The Rev. Peter Muyskens read the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with palms, gladioli and candelabra.

Miss Fannie Bultman played the traditional wedding marches. She accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Donald Koops, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding the bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with a sheer yoke and a draped off-the-shoulder bertha. The bodice was shirred and extended into a full skirt. The long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. A seed pearl tiara held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a bouquet of white roses and asters. She also wore a double strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Bernard Poll was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an aqua blue shirred gown and styled like that of the bride. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and daisies with a matching

Local Rod and Gun Club Has Regular Meeting

A regular meeting of the Tulip City Rod and Gun club was held Thursday night at Holland Sport shop. President C. Zeedyk presided at the meeting.

Destruction of this romantic old mill during a small cyclone in June, 1915, ended the last vestige of commercial memory for Pier Cove, once a teeming lumbering town and later an outlet for shipping fruit. For many years, this mill stood as a sentinel over the vanished town, a reminder of past activities with its great waterwheel sagging, as if mourning over a ghost village.

Park Is Now Memorial To Allegan Ghost Town

Ganges, Aug. 26 (Special) — Pier Cove park near Ganges today lies as a beautiful memorial to a thriving town of 80 years ago which declined in step with lumbering activities and vanished after freezes erased the area as a fruit-raising center.

Destruction of an old romantic mill during a small cyclone in June, 1915, closed a chapter ending the last vestige of the commercial structure of old Pier Cove which once was the largest town between Muskegon and St. Joseph.

This picturesque old mill was erected along in 1852 when Pier Cove was a robust community. It was discontinued in 1882 with the washing away of the dam. The mill stood as a sentinel over the vanished town, a reminder of past activities with its great waterwheel sagging away from its original position. The cyclone spelled finality to the mill, already bereft of its foundation.

The park, which today comprises 100 acres, was purchased many years ago by O. C. Simmonds of Chicago.

Simmonds planted a thousand trees each year, and today the site is a well timbered park, supplied with a wide assortment of trees, shrubbery and flowers.

Simmonds died in 1931 and Mrs. Simmonds in 1937.

Pier Cove started its lumbering activities in 1847 when Marcus Sutherland built a pier out into the lake. Settlers were clearing off their lands for space to produce crops and Chicago was assuming proportions and needed lumber for building construction, wood for fuel and tan bark. Coal did not come into use as fuel until 30 years later.

Sidney Squires brought a water power sawmill from Battle Creek to Pier Cove in 1852, and in 1853 Charley Richards put a dam across the creek and built a wood turning and furniture factory, powered by water. In about 1860, a Mr. Nichols bought the shop and put a stone on the upper floor for grinding flour.

Between 1855 and 1860 William Sheffer started a fanning mill factory behind the sawmill.

The first post office was established at Pier Cove in 1854. In 1869, there were 10 streets, 139 lots in survey and 34 buildings including four stores, post office, saloon, large hotel, sawmill, repair shop and gristmill, school and

Thus, within a century, Pier Cove changed from a howling wilderness to an earthly paradise. Today one can follow an auto drive through the park or the winding paths along the ravine, or have a canoe ride up the serpentine creek and contemplate the transition of a century.

Municipal Court News

Clarence M. Willey, 60, of East Grand Rapids, whose car was virtually buried under a load of hot asphalt in an accident Wednesday night, paid fine and costs of $3 in Municipal Court Friday on a charge of failure to yield the right of way. Other fines were paid by Rodger Kamps, 18, route 3, Zeeland, speeding, $10; and Howard J. Bouwens, 19, Zeeland, red flasher, $3.

a church. All lumber cut in the area was shipped out over the pier and business kept a small fleet of schooners busy during the open season.

Removal of the sawmill to Fennville in 1879 was the beginning of the end for old-time Pier Cove. Cause of the decline was the exhaustion of the products of nearby forests and the opening of rail traffic at Fennville in 1871. As Fennville took on business proportions, it drew off the freights that formerly had passed over the pier. One store closed, then another. Then the mill closed, the post office and the church. Finally only scattered houses and the old gristmill were left. The mill was discontinued after the dam washed out in 1882, remaining until its final destruction in the 1915 cyclone.

Ten years after the place faded as a commercial center, a new condition developed making a pier necessary for shipping fruit, and the R. M. Moore Transportation Co. of Saugatuck operated a line of steamers between Pier Cove and Chicago. Later the Rogers and Bird line operated from another pier to the south. During the peach harvest rush, both companies ran boats daily to Chicago and Milwaukee. During this period, the Wells-Higman Co. of St. Joseph had a large fruit package sales room there, but it was not the old town—no stores, or mill or shops—only a few families.

The freezes of 1899 which killed many peach trees and the freeze of 1906 which destroyed remaining trees and practically ended the peach crop in West Michigan, caused the cessation of direct pier traffic, and steamer lines from this point passed out of existence for want of freight.

A small passenger and freight business was taken care of by the small steamer, John A. Allber, which ran between Saugatuck and South Haven, but this traffic was ended by the coming of the auto truck which took fruit from a receiving station at Ganges to Saugatuck.

Thus, within a century, Pier Cove changed from a howling wilderness to an earthly paradise. Today one can follow an auto drive through the park or the winding paths along the ravine, or have a canoe ride up the serpentine creek and contemplate the transition of a century.

Miss Virginia Bilkert Bride of Howard Koop

Miss Virginia Ruth Bilkert and Howard J. Koop exchanged their marriage vows Saturday night in a formal wedding ceremony in Hope Reformed church. The candlelighted auditorium was decorated with baskets of white gladioli, palms and ferns for the double ring service read at 8 p.m. by the Rev. Marion de Velder, church pastor. Clusters of white gladioli also marked the pews.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul W. Harrison of New Brunswick, N. J., missionaries recently returned from Arabia, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Koop, 116 East 14th St.

Preceding the exchange of vows, Tim Harrison sang "Because" and "O Promise Me." As the couple knelt at the altar he sang "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. W. Curtis Snow, organist, played pre-ceremony music and the traditional bridal marches.

Mrs. Donald Mulder attended her twin sister as matron of honor. Mrs. Richard Lemmer of St. Louis, Mo., also a sister of the bride, was the other attendant.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of traditional ivory satin. The full hoop skirt, which extended into a long train, was shirred onto a fitted bodice accented with a square yoke of rosepoint lace. The long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. A satin headband, decorated with twisted pearls, held in place her fingertip veil of French illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Mulder and Mrs. Lemmer wore identical gowns of white eyelet embroidered cotton featuring full bertha off-the-shoulder collars and red velvet belts, tied in back, with hem-length streamers. They carried colonial bouquets of red gladioli and white carnations and wore headbands of white carnations.

The groom was assisted by Robert Nyboer, best man. Guests

GR. Black Sox Edge Hollanders In Close Tilt

Colored Lads Score Winning Run in 9th; Locals Get 3 Hits

That old Black Sox jinx continues to plague the Holland Flying Dutchmen this season. Thursday night, at Bigelow field, the Grand Rapids colored lads again managed to eke out a 5-4 decision over the locals. The defeat was the Hollanders fourth this season at the hands of the Grand Rapids club.

Last season, it was a different story with Holland winning the first four tilts from the Sox, and Grand Rapids the last contest. Holland will get a final chance to salvage one win from the Furniture City club, when it invades Riverview Park Monday night. On Saturday night, the Hollanders play a return game at South Haven. Holland has captured two out of three from the Havenites this season.

It wasn't until the ninth inning that the Black Sox clinched the one run decision over the Dutchmen. Two walks and two errors, combined with a sacrifice accounted for the winning tally.

Grand Rapids had taken a two run margin in the initial inning with the aid of four solid hits off Ernie Victor. Shortstop Smartt got the only extra base blow of the inning—a double to right field.

After three scoreless innings, Holland retaliated in its fourth inning with four runs. However, the locals can thank Pitcher Sam Robinson for most of these runs. He gave up three walks and two wild pitches to aid the Dutchmen run-scoring cause. Harold Van Wieren and Lou Borgman garnered the only safeties of the inning.

Grand Rapids knotted the count in their fifth on two hits, a walk and an error in right field.

From this point on, the contest settled into a pitcher's duel between Victor and Robinson. Although the winners managed to put men on base in practically every inning, it wasn't until the fatal ninth that they pushed a run across home plate.

Ernie Victor permitted 13 safeties to the Black Sox, while Robinson was exceptionally stingy with the Holland blows. In fact, he permitted just three hits during the contest.

Help! Help! Maiden Trapped on 2nd Floor

Rescuing maidens in distress is just another sideline for Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff.

And it was lucky the incident didn't happen in the girl's home town of Chicago, or she might have found herself stranded 20 stories up instead of a mere second story.

It happened Friday afternoon when Gertrude Cuddy of Chicago was cleaning windows in the apartment she and her fiancé, Gordon Geers, had just rented on West 10th St. Gert was getting the apartment all nice and clean before the wedding which is scheduled soon.

She found herself securely trapped when the bathroom window sash fell down when she was washing the outside. The latch clicked and in her trapped position she could not reach that way.

Neighbors informed Mrs. Arthur Yost of Gert's predicament but just as Mrs. Yost was about to enter the bathroom, the lock slipped into place.

So it remained for the chief to locate an extension ladder and rescue the girl. His arm was long enough to reach under the sash and release the widow catch.

Who Gave Jackie the Monkey? It's Swell

Jackie Scott, 34-year-old youngster who is recuperating from a serious skull fracture and other injuries received when he was hit by a car July 6, spends a lot of his time playing with a toy monkey given him by an unknown donor.

The catch is that his parents would like to thank the man who gave the nice toy to Jackie a few days before he left Holland hospital a week ago. They would appreciate a call from the benefactor. Meanwhile, Jackie is recovering quite rapidly. He still has a nurse for him.

Wed in Local Adventist Church

Mrs. Walter Sheridan Dunham

Miss Marjorie Ellen Gee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Gee, 184 River Ave., became the bride of Walter Sheridan Dunham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dunham of Dearborn in a wedding ceremony Sunday in Seventh-day Adventist church, Elder A. A. Douglas of Muskegon officiated.

While gladioli against a background of palms, ferns and candelabra formed the setting for the exchange of vows.

The bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves extending to points over the wrists, fitted bodice and full skirt with train. The fingertip lace-edged veil was held in place with a net-covered tiara trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Avery R. Keeney of East Lansing, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a dusty rose lace gown over taffeta with matching net tiara in her hair. The bridesmaid, Mrs. Richard Gee of Fennville, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a pale blue net gown over taffeta and also a net tiara. They carried bouquets of pale roses.

Linda Carol Keeney, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a white organza gown trimmed with blue bows. The ring bearer, David C. Keeney, a nephew of the bride, wore a white palm beach suit.

Virginia Parker Hurls No-Hitter

Several errors by his Virginia

Park teammates kept Harv Busscher from entering the Wooden Shoe league's Hall of Fame, Thursday night. Busscher did his part by pitching a no hit tilt, but three first inning errors allowed two runs to cross the plate.

Meanwhile his colleagues rallied enough at the plate to whip the Northern Wood aggregation, 6-3 on the Virginia Park diamond.

The Virginia Park swingers connected for 12 hits off the slants of H. Hind, on the mound for the Lumberjacks.

Northern Wood took a two run margin in the first inning on three errors and a walk, and then added another in the third on two errors.

Virginia Park made its first bid for victory in the fourth inning on three singles and an error. Then in a big sixth inning, the winners clinched the victory with four tallies. Five hits, and an error accounted for the same winning markers.

Busscher was in complete control throughout the contest, pitching himself out of trouble spots, by striking out 13 batters. The Parkers play at Hamilton tonight.

League Leaders Shut Out Cubs

Two runs in the first inning gave Claire Van Liere and the league leading Color-Ad baseball club a 2-0 decision over the Northern Shore Cubs at Riverview Park, Friday night.

It was Van Liere's second victory of the week. This time he allowed four hits in going the distance for the winners.

Color-Ad netted its only tallies on two hits, and a fielder's choice. With one out, Lou Borgman singled and went to third on Ron Fortney's double. Bob Borgman was then safe on a fielder's choice, when the second baseman tried to nip Lou, scoring at the plate. Ron Fortney then scored on a double steal, executed with Bob Borgman.

Six walks kept Van Liere in constant trouble, but he always managed to pitch out of it without a run being scored.

Fielding honors of the game go to G. Kolean, Northern Shore centerfielder. In the third inning, he raced into deep centerfield with his back to the infield to pull down Ted Bok's terrific drive.

Carl Reinink was the losing hurler, giving up six hits. Lou Borgman led all batters with two hits in three trips to the plate. Wednesday night, the Color-Ad's will tangle with the Virginia Park aggregation.

Coin Parade Still Continues

The parade of rare old money continues.

Friday, Alex Avery, of 162 West 20th St., submitted for inspection a gold half dollar minted in 1852 during the California gold rush.

The tiny octagonal coin measures 1/4 inch in diameter and is so thin it could not be measured by a micrometer. To protect the piece, Avery enclosed it in a 1 1/2 inch round plastic case about six months ago. He plans to drill a hole in it for a pendant for his daughter.

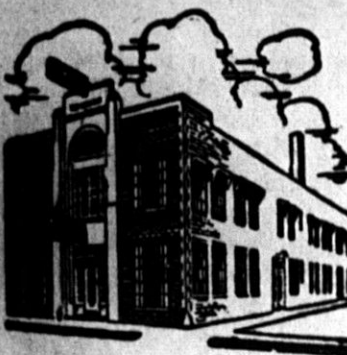

The tiny coin was given to him by a cousin when he was a small boy. It bears an Indian head on one side. It is worth about $5, Avery said.

Wilbur Martin, of 213 North Shore drive, who has been collecting coins for a long time, has several rare pieces. One is an American penny nearly the size of a half dollar dated 1793. The three on the date is badly worn but the 179 and the 1/100 is visible.

He also has a liberty head penny the same size dated 1851 with 1 star; an American two-cent piece dated 1865; an American half-dime dated 1853, regarded as very rare; a three-cent piece dated 1881, a Spanish dollar commonly called a piece of eight, dated 1808.

Other coins in his collection are an English six pence, English penny, Australian half penny, Swedish penny, Russian penny, Indian penny (or rupee), and many others.

THE ESCAPE ARGUMENT

The propaganda machines of totalitarian countries are always extremely busy arguing that life is much better in those lands than "capitalist" countries. Just now Russia is singing that song, and all the satellite countries are joining in the chorus after every verse. A decade ago the Hitler propaganda was singing the same tune, and to the unbiased listener it is hard to see what difference there is in the two songs.

But no matter how loud their voices are they can never quite succeed in drowning out the shrieks of simple facts and events. Always under dictatorships and totalitarian governments—Germany, Italy, Russia, the satellite countries—a substantial number of citizens are trying to escape. You never hear of citizens of one of the despised democratic nations trying to escape—from their own countries. It is against nature to escape from one's birthland. Not all the propaganda machine in totalitarian countries can explain away this curious fact, that their own citizens in substantial number risk their very lives to get away from the place where they have been reared by birth and upbringing.

From Poland, from Russia, from Czechoslovakia, and from other countries, planes are again and again making flights with people who overcome the pilot and make a one-way passage to the lands of the despised democracies. Or citizens of those countries spirit themselves across the border. Or they go to other lands with official consent as agents of the government but refuse to return to their native land—as in the case of the Russian school teach in New York.

You seldom hear of that sort of thing on the part of citizens from America or England or Holland or Sweden or Norway or France. When there was one case of that kind from America some months ago, that of a young diplomatic assistant who preferred Russia to America, the Russians made such a jubilation about that that you would think it marked a kind of revolution. But America simply said to the young man, "Go ahead, if that's the way you feel." It was not necessary for him to escape. And such episodes in reverse occur almost daily, when totalitarian nations try to go away from their birthlands. They include the greatest, most learned, as well as the humble, Thomas Mann and Einstein are among them, as well as hordes of the anonymous.

It looks as if the countries that claim to be Utopia have not yet reached a state of perfection. Normally people don't run away from prosperity and happiness.

Ananias—Disciple at Damascus
By Henry Geerlings
Acts 9: 1-22

To Ananias of Damascus, who lives in sacred history because of the events of one outstanding day, there was given a commission unparalleled in the annals of Christianity. He was the chosen of God to bring to the stricken soul of Paul, the persecutor, that comfort and that knowledge of the grace of God, which were to transform his life and change the whole current of his sympathies and labors. For that brief day he was both the prophet and the priest of God to Saul's broken heart.

Ananias knew that Saul had come to Damascus armed with credentials to wipe out the Christian church. He knew that outside the gates of Damascus something had happened to this Saul, something which made it no longer possible for him to carry out his wild design. Further, he had learned that a great softness and gentleness and misgiving had come over the heart of this former enemy. And with all these things something had come to himself, something so urgent, so unlike what he himself would have thought of doing if left to himself, that God must be behind it; something which commanded him to go without delay to the side of this stricken man.

Ananias is given a difficult commission. Awed at the vastness of the divine purpose he hesitated, but at the word of the Lord he departed. That sounds very simple. A fine but difficult impulse comes to a man to get up and do something, and he gets up and does it. That seems very simple. And yet that is everything. If we were all to get up and do the fine things which look at us and convince us, if we were all to rise the moment a fine thing knocks at the door of our heart, we could have the kingdom of God any day.

And now he stands at the door of a house belonging to one Judas, in a street called Straight. As the door opened he saw in front of him the figure of a helpless blind man. What an opportunity for a man of meanness built than Ananias! How justly he might have braided him for these days of braided slaughter. But Saul needed none of this. In those three days of solitude his soul had been pierced with sorrow barbed with remorse. Shut in within himself, his memory alert and his conscience smarting, what did he not endure!

How differently Ananias got through his difficult task with what knowledge of the soul, so that, taking the way he took, we may believe he found it not nearly so hard as he had supposed it would be. He went right up to this man and laying his hands upon him, said, "Brother Saul." It was as though he had said, "I don't know where you have reached, but that's where I am." Now we may say, "But that was a hard thing to do. I could never do a thing like that." And yet it was easier to do it that way than in a grudging or less hearty way. If a man asks you to go a mile with him, go two miles, said Jesus; meaning that it is easier to do a painful thing heartily than an inch at a time.

Before he knew what he was going to do he had done it, and before he found his great words he had uttered them. Laying his hands upon him he said, "Brother Saul." In all the circumstances, these are among the noblest words ever spoken. So long as men are to be found who can speak this great language, the human race will recover and survive.

Saul was now a changed man. The converted life, whether entered in a spectacular manner or in a quiet fashion, is one characterized by new viewpoints, new horizons, and a new outlook. We receive a new outlook on God. He becomes to us the Father of all mankind. We turn to Him as a child turns to a loving father. We have a new outlook upon Jesus. We see in Him a revelation and manifestation of the Father. We see in Him the Savior of our individual lives and the Redeemer of humanity. The converted life convinces us of our obligation to our fellow men. We see them in the light of brothers.

Dedication to Christ does not demand a closed mind. We will be ever ready for new visions and new outlooks. We must be constantly alert for new truth, new explanations, new light on the gospel, and fresh opportunities for service in the church, in the community, and in the kingdom of God.

The life dedicated to God and Christ must be characterized by obedience to the will of God and the command of Christ. There will always be problems confronting us which will demand solving in the light of the gospel. The true solutions to these problems will not always be clear to us, but, if we consistently and continuously seek for truth, we shall more and more know that truth.

Paul will remain for Christians the outstanding example of the truly converted and the truly consecrated disciple. Through his efforts the gospel was carried to the Gentiles and beyond the borders of Palestine. To him must be given the credit for the founding of world-wide Christianity. He was the first great missionary statesman. He remains the challenge to all followers of the Master. He was an ideal Christian. He devoted himself to preaching Christ.

Air Parcel Post Effective Sept. 1

When the air parcel post on a nationwide and worldwide basis is put into effect Sept. 1, the United States will be able to boast of one of the most modern and fastest delivery services in the world, according to Holland Postmaster Harry Kramer.

The new specialized airborne service, enacted into law by the 80th Congress, will reduce the transit time of air mail to a fraction of what it previously was.

Kramer pointed out that air parcel post packages will receive the same consideration shown air mail in routing. In addition, identical doorstep delivery will be given air parcel post as is given other forms of mail.

He added that distinct air parcel post stickers, printed in red, white and blue and having a likeness to the winged package with the earth's globe underneath, will soon be available at the local post office. These can be applied to outgoing packages.

"With a scheduled plane taking off or landing within the United States on an average of every seven seconds around the clock, and an overseas plane leaving our borders every 30 minutes, we stand ready to give our patrons the fastest parcel post service offered anywhere," Kramer said.

While international air parcel post service has been available from the United States and its possessions for several months, domestic airborne service is being launched for the first time in history Sept. 1.

Pon. Seniah Wins Steeplechase Race By Three Lengths

Hundreds Jam Bleachers To Witness Events At North Shore Track

Poniar Seniah, with Austin Brown in the saddle, raced across the finish line three lengths ahead of Wrathful to win the featured steeplechase race at the North Shore horse show sponsored by the Holland Horsemen's association Saturday afternoon.

The winning horse was owned by Mrs. E. H. Talmage of Far Hills, N. J. Wrathful, ridden by Wayne Morse and owned by Wayne Morse, placed second. Molly O. Friar, ridden by Henry Aldrich and owned by Gordon Sutherland came in third and High Tide, ridden by W. A. Eddy and owned by Judge E. L. McConanahy of Chicago, took fourth place money.

Stakes for the one mile race over brush were: First $150; second $75; third $50 and fourth $25. A capacity crowd, which overflowed onto the track oval, watched the seven horses parade to the post. Blush was scratched just before the race.

On the second lap, just after a brush jump, Lanstrap, owned by P. T. Cheff and ridden by James Helder, stumbled on the loose sand and threw his rider in the dirt. Just after this incident, Val-dina Gwyn, owned by Mrs. P. T. Cheff, tripped and threw his rider, Gerald Helder.

The two riderless horses continued with the remainder of the field and after the last lap broke out of the track and had to be headed off by spectators.

Brown set a grueling pace after the second lap and was not headed after he turned on a torrid pace on the far side before the home stretch. He breezed across the finish marker well ahead of the other horses. Wrathful placed second by about two lengths and Molly O. Friar finished another length behind.

Clifton Hazel, owned by Bud Pierce and with Clinton Williams in the saddle, came in fifth.

Horses from Holland, Zeeland, Grand Rapids, Eastmanville, Kalamazoo, South Bend, Niles, Muskegon and Battle Creek participated in the other afternoon events.

Local Dealer Gives Best Ford Service John Vrieling, local Ford dealer, maintains an excellent service garage at 159 River Ave. Genuine Ford parts are handled at the station and you'll always get the best mechanical experience, finest materials and guaranteed fullest satisfaction, at Vrieling Motor Sales. It's wise to remember there's no place like home for Ford service—your Ford dealer knows your Ford best. The garage is well-equipped to give good service. The service department is in charge of Al Bouman, who has had many years of mechanical experience. An adequate stock of genuine Ford parts is another feature of the garage. This department is headed by Irvin Vrieling and Ben Lanning. Mr. Vrieling urges Ford car owners to keep their cars in good running order. Although new cars are being received, you may have to use your present car for a long time, he says. The new 1949 Ford car features "distinctive styling, flowing contours, full fender-width body, grille classical in line and designed to permit entrance of fresh air for ventilation system," according to Henry Ford II.

Nearby Overisel Reformed Church Is 100 Years Old

Centennial Celebration To Include Meetings On Four Occasions

The Overisel Reformed church, which will celebrate its centennial Aug. 31, Sept. 1, 2 and 3, has planned an elaborate program of events and will publish an appropriate centennial booklet. The Rev. Marion Klaaren is pastor of the church.

Events will begin with a C. E. alumni meeting at 7:30 p.m., Aug. 31, when Julius Schipper will be speaker. A homecoming is arranged for 2 p.m. on Sept. 1. There will be psalm singing and special music. The Rev. M. A. Stegeman will speak in the Holland language and the Rev. William Pyle will speak in English. Both are former pastors of the church. Dr. John R. Mulder, president of Western Theological seminary, will preach the sermon.

The formal centennial celebration will be held Sept. 3 at 7:30 p.m. Greetings will be brought by the Reformed churches of Hamilton and Benheim and the Christian Reformed church of Overisel. The Rev. A. Rynbrandt of Zeeland will bring greetings from the Reformed Church in America. The Rev. Milton J. Hoffman will review the history of the church to the present and the Rev. Morris Folkert will speak in terms of the future. A social hour of fellowship will follow each meeting with the exception of the Sept. 2 worship service.

The history of the church dates back to 1847 when a group of 23 families left Hellevoort in the province of Overisel, the Netherlands, as an organized church of which the Rev. Seine Bolks was pastor. Hendrikus Lankheet was elder and Berend Timmerman, Gerrit Nyhuis and Gerrit H. Veldhuis were deacons. They left the Netherlands because they lacked religious liberties, and arrived in New York in the fall of 1847. Hearing that they could find employment at Syracuse, N. Y., the group spent the winter there.

In the spring of 1848 the congregation came to Holland, soon choosing this district as their home. After purchasing 2,000 acres of land from the government, construction of the first log church was begun. It was located on the Dominie's farm and on what is now known as the Nyhof road. That winter, before the church was completed, meetings were held at the homes of Gerrit J. Immink and G. J. Fynevever, Sr.

In 1851 construction of the second church was begun. By 1856 it had a parish of from 80 to 90 square miles, and the number of families had increased from 50 in 1856 to 188 in 1877. The membership reached its highest mark in 1880 when there were 226 families and 490 communicants.

The third church was begun in 1886, and this is the present building. It was dedicated on Sunday, Dec. 2, 1886 and is now 62 years old. In September of 1947 extensive remodeling was started. A complete basement with a large auditorium, several classrooms, and a modern kitchen were included. A new oil furnace was installed and the main worship auditorium was also remodeled. A new chancel was built, new carpeting laid and the pews rearranged. An Austin organ was purchased to replace the Hook Hastings pipe organ which had served for more than 50 years. Other improvements also have been made.

The church has two daughter churches, Hamilton and Benheim. Work was started in what was then known as Rabbit River, in 1863. The name was changed to Hamilton in 1866. In 1872 work was begun in East Overisel, a district now known as Benheim, under leadership of Elder Lamert Hoffman. These churches were under the care of the Overisel church for a number of years and because of this there were two pastors from 1877 to 1891.

The following ministers have served the church: the Rev. S. Bolks, 1848-1853; the Rev. G. L. Nykerk, 1858-1891. The Rev. P. Lepeltak, 1877-1891; the Rev. A. Van Den Berg, 1892-1906; the Rev. G. L. Hekhuis, 1906-1917; the Rev. J. Sterenborg, 1918-1919; the Rev. M. A. Stegeman, 1919-1925; the Rev. H. W. Pyle, 1927-1944. Rev. Klaaren came to the church in 1945.

Thirty-eight church members have taken up work as ministers and missionaries.

Sprinkling Rules Imposed by BPW

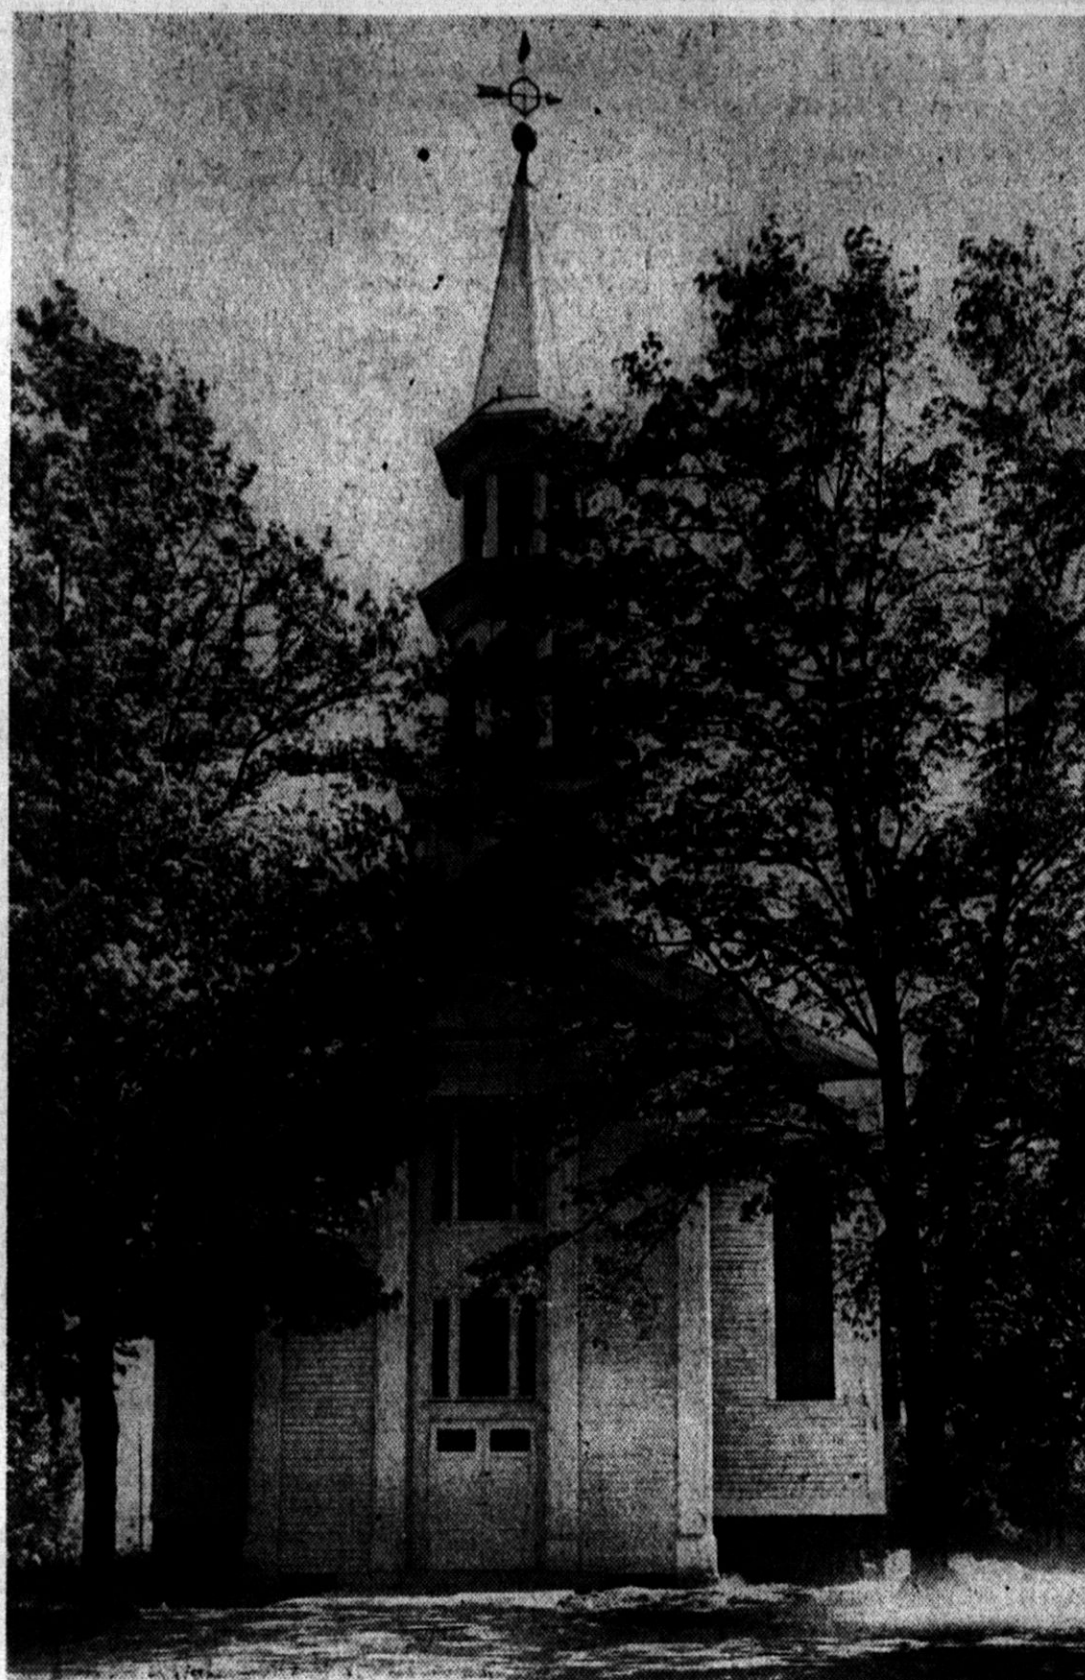

Board of Public Works officials has issued sprinkling regulations to take care of water needs. The action followed on the heels of the current hot spell. Officials refused to say how long the rules would be in force.

The following rules were issued to govern lawn sprinkling:

Persons living on the north side of east and west streets and the east side of north and south streets may sprinkle on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Residents on the south side of the east and west streets and the west side of the north and south streets may sprinkle Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The rules will be enforced by a local ordinance.

Overisel Reformed church is preparing to celebrate the 100th anniversary since its organization in the Netherlands. The program of events, Aug. 31 to Sept. 3 to mark the Centennial will begin with a Christian Endeavor alumni meeting Aug. 31. Other events included on the four day program will be psalm singing and special music, speeches by former pastors of the church and others. The formal celebration will be held Sept. 3 at 7:30 p.m. when greetings will be extended from other Reformed churches in this area and the Rev. Milton J. Hoffman will present a review of the history of the church. The Rev. Marion E. Klaaren is present pastor of the church. A 36-page souvenir book tracing the history has been issued for the occasion.

Sligh, De Goed Plan Ski Race

Bob Sligh, 1947 National open water ski champion, and Lee De Goed, who set a new endurance record recently when he crossed Lake Michigan on water skis, will race from the Macatwa dock Sunday morning at 8:30 to the Spring Lake Yacht club at Grand Haven.

Charlie Sligh and Lloyd Nyland will drive the boats and referees will be Art Mortenson and Jim Hubbard. The "Ski-daddle" and the "Ski-doodle Too" are the boats that will be drawn by lots before the start of the race which will take about one hour.

The speed test will be a preliminary event to the annual Spring Lake water ski show. In the event of a storm or rough water, the race will be postponed until a later date.

Program Planned for Good News Meeting

The Rev. Don Webber of Burnsville, W. Va., will speak tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Good News building on Central Ave., near Eighth St. Mrs. Webber, the former Anna Jean Raak of this city, also will appear on the program.

Music will include an accordion solo by Clara Rabbers and vocal duets by Lily Kleinhessel and Joan Ter Meer.

Good News meetings will be continued every night this week with special children's meetings at 2:30 p.m.

Local Tars Get 12-Day Leaves

Word has been received at the Muskegon Navy recruiting station that Harold N. Harrington, son of Irving A. Harrington of 186 East 37th St. will be home on 12 days leave beginning Sept. 2. Gerald H. Telgenhof, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard H. Telgenhof of 59 West 19th St. will also arrive home for a leave at that time.

Harrington attended Holland high school where he received letters in football and track. Telgenhof also played football at Holland high school. Telgenhof was clerk of his recruit training company and will attend radio school at Norfolk, Va., after his leave.

Both men enlisted in May at the Navy recruiting station in the Holland post office. That office is open each Tuesday afternoon for enlistments and any persons wishing to enlist can either sign up here or go to the main recruiting office at Muskegon post office.

Meanwhile, Navy recruiters for this area announced that the Navy does not anticipate using draftees to keep up its personnel strength. They expect to fill all their quotas with volunteers, officials said.

Men must apply for enlistment before being called up for pre-induction examination if they want to choose the service in which they will serve. All men between the ages of 17 and 30 are eligible for Navy enlistment.

Fillmore Annexes Second Round Lions Loop Title

Fillmore Creamery, Tuesday night, captured the second round title of the Lion league and earned the right to meet Duffy Saturday afternoon for the league championship. Duffy won the first round several weeks ago.

The winner pounded out 20 runs and 13 hits to maul a favored Hart and Cooley aggregation, 20-7. Hart and Cooley had gained the finals of the second round playoffs by tripping Duffy, 9-3.

Fillmore was in a hitting mood with every batter, but one, getting at least one hit off four HC hurlers. Human and Ensing handled the pitching chores for the Creamery lads, allowing only seven hits.

After the winners had taken a five run lead in the second inning on four hits, HC came back in their third to take a temporary 6-5 margin. Five hits figured in the Hart and Cooley scoring, including a double by Frank Wlodarczyk.

A determined Fillmore aggregation retaliated in their fourth with three runs on three hits. Featured blow of the rally was a triple by Leftfielder Setter.

While HC was being retired without scoring, Fillmore wasn't content with a two-run margin. They continued to hit and score at will, tallying four more times in the fifth and eight times in the sixth. Walks errors and hit batsmen all contributed a share to the rout.

A defeated HC club scored its final marker in the seventh on a single by Stan Wlodarczyk and a double by Dave Kemper.

Four Fillmore batters garnered two hits apiece while S. Wlodarczyk and Kemper hit twice for the losers.

Norfolk Club To Perform Here

Another traveling colored squad will invade Riverview Park Thursday night, when the Holland Flying Dutchmen tangle with the Norfolk Royals baseball club. This nine hails from Norfolk Va.

The team, according to advance notices received here, is a formidable aggregation, composed of stars who have left other leading Negro clubs. Its manager is Jerry Benjamin of the famed Homestead Grays. Two of the players were formerly members of the strong Cuban Winter league.

The Dutchmen revived after a hard earned victory over their old jinx club, the Grand Rapids Black Sox, are expected to be in top shape for the Thursday tilt. In addition Manager Benny Batema said this week that he will continue to keep his newly acquired young stars, Jerry Witteveen and Con Boeve on the squad for the remainder of the season.

Booking Manager Russ Vander Poel also said that the Dutchmen expect to close their summer schedule with two games on Labor Day.

Nominations Made At Republican Caucus

About 20 attended the Holland city Republican caucus in the Tulip room of the Warm Friend tavern Thursday night.

Members nominated six delegates for the first ward, 10 for the second and third wards, eight for the fourth ward and nine for the fifth and sixth wards. These names will be printed and will be available as stickers in the Sept. 14 primaries.

Those nominated will serve as delegates to the Republican county convention Sept. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the court house. This convention will name delegates to the state convention in Detroit Sept. 25.

Siradjoeddin Baso of Macassar, Celebes, at left, and Willard C. Wichers of Holland point to a granary and a copra tree in a picture from Bali, in the State of East Indonesia. They are comparing the granary with the model of one from Sumatra on the table. Baso, an official in the Ministry of Economic Affairs, is in this country three months studying American economics.

East Indonesia Seeking Aid to Halt Communism

Unless East Indonesia receives foreign aid in developing her vast natural resources, her economic life will ultimately deteriorate and make the spread of Communism a real threat, Siradjoeddin Baso, an official in the Ministry of Economic Affairs of the State of East Indonesia, said today.

Baso, in government work since May of 1947, is spending a few days in Holland on a three-month tour of this country to study the American economic structure, specifically with regard to the manufacturing and industrial fields.

The visitor was a prisoner in Japan during World War II and was within 40 miles of Hiroshima when the first Atomic bomb exploded. Two of his friends were killed.

The Indonesian official said the State of East Indonesia, made up of islands in the vicinity of the Celebes, is now regarded as the model in the group of some 13 proposed states scheduled to form a United States of Indonesia Jan. 1, 1949.

Since the Linggadjati agreement in 1946, there have been several developments, mainly the Republican uprisings in Java and Sumatra, to halt progress in this program.

To this end, East Indonesia's prime minister, Idris Agoeng Gde Azaeng, is now in the Netherlands to effect the union on the scheduled date of such states that may be ready for the move.

Baso said copra, which resembles coconut, is one of the main products of East Indonesia. This "fruit" is used mainly for vegetable oil for human consumption and also has many industrial uses.

The State of East Indonesia, as well as the entire Indonesian chain, is rich in oil, copper, nickel, gold and other resources, but lacks the machinery and facilities to produce them. The Indonesians are not included in the Marshall Plan, Baso said.

There are 15,000,000 people in East Indonesia made up of the Celebes, Flores, Timor and the Moluccas.

The Indonesian so far has visited Syracuse, Cleveland, Chicago and Holland, and plans to visit New York and San Francisco before returning.

Arrangements for his visit in Holland were made by the Netherlands Information bureau.

Miss Margaret Knoll Is Feted at Shower

A surprise shower was held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Van de Vusse, Friday evening, honoring Miss Margaret Knoll. Cards attached by streamers to a large green and yellow parasol told the bride-elect where the many gifts could be found. "Crazy Buncle" was played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Clarence Doktor and Miss Marcia Knoll, after which refreshments were served.

At the party were the Mesdames Babe Woldring, Henry Lemson, Joe Aardema, Joe Aardema, Jr., James Wiersma, Norman Dunn, John Kemper, Clarence Doktor, Arthur Van Dyke, Henry Knoll, Andrew Knoll, Katherine Koops, Eugene Van de Vusse, Caroline Knoll and the Misses Marcia Knoll and Shirley Jipping, all of Holland, and Mrs. Lloyd Cobb and Mrs. Olga Kiehl, from Grand Rapids.

Also invited were Mrs. Ed Wolters and Mrs. John Otting.

Earl Borr Weds Betty A. Varner

A double ring ceremony Saturday in Tekonsha Union church united in marriage Miss Betty Alice Varner and Earl L. Borr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Varner of Tekonsha and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Borr, 79 East 15th St., Holland.

The ceremony was read at 2:30 p.m. by the Rev. Howard Van Egmond, brother-in-law of the groom. Baskets of mixed flowers and seven-branch candelabra formed the setting.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Kenneth Walbeck of Tekonsha. The soloist, Miss Dorothy Borchers of Grand Haven, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony, and "Prayer Perfect" following the exchange of vows.

The bride wore a gown of white satin styled with fitted bodice with lace yoke, long sleeves pointed at the wrists and a full skirt ending in a train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was caught up by a half hat. She carried a white Bible with an orchid.

Wedding attendants were Mrs. Bryan Downey of Tekonsha, maid of honor, and William Baker of South Bend, Ind., best man, Richard and Clarence Varner, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Waitresses were college classmates of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Borr left on a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the bride wearing an aqua suit with brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mr. Borr is a graduate of Holland High school and will continue studies at Western Michigan college. Mrs. Borr also attended Western Michigan. They will live at 832 West Cedar St., Kalama-zoo.

The Red Menace

Ten years ago, your attention was called to a handbill put out in Detroit by the Communists in support of their candidate. That handbill stated, "There is no God. Religion is a fraud. Priests and Ministers are hypocrites." That you do NOT believe.

The program of the Communist Party calls for the overthrow of our Government by force.

Early in the Roosevelt New Deal Administration, there were and, ever since, there have been on the Federal payroll pinks, reds, fellow travelers and Communists.

Years ago, on the House floor and elsewhere, attention was called by me to this Red Menace, to the fact that the First Lady was giving support to Communists by appearing with them before the Dies Committee which was exposing them.

My efforts to expose the reds and the fallacies of the New Deal were rewarded with sneers, abuse, ridicule, vituperation, vilification and, ultimately, with the charge that I was a menace to the country.

With others, I endeavored to oust the left-wingers and reds from their well-paid jobs in important Government positions. We met with some little success, but, as the press discloses, many remained.

In the last few weeks, the House Committee on Un-American Activities, the Senate Committee headed by Senator Ferguson, and our own Subcommittee hearings have made it clear that there still are Communist agents in the Truman Administration. President Truman charges that these Congressional investigations are "red herring" dragged across the trail to divert the people's attention from his abuse of Congress. He says that these hearings "stink."

But he asked for and received from Congress $6,606,000 to find and oust disloyal Federal employees. He did little or nothing about it. Now he is mad and vindictive because Congress is doing the job he should have done.

Yes, if I may use the President's language, the situation "stinks." But it "stinks" because, and only because, Congressional committees are tipping the lid off the odiferous mass of disloyalty which has been brewing behind the President's iron curtain.

It is absurd and inconsistent to spend billions of dollars to fight Communism abroad as he asks, as we are doing, and, at the same time give Communists and their agents sanctuary here, as Mr. Truman continues to do and to deny to Congress information which might expose them.

In season and out, on the floor of Congress and elsewhere, ever since I came to Washington as your hired man, I have consistently, vigorously and without cessation, fought this Red Menace on which, at last, light is being thrown.

If you think that is the right course to follow, give me your support at the September 14 primary, at the November 2 election. If returned as your Representative, you may be certain you will have an advocate here in Washington who will, vigorously and effectively, fight for the things you want—your welfare, the welfare of our country—a safe and prosperous nation.

Your Representative,
Clare E. Hoffman

Heaters Move Into Finals of Regional Meet

Holland Shuts Out Garfield Park Club; Cork Weener Is Winner

An amazing Holland Furnace softball aggregation moved into the finals of the Western Michigan Regional softball tournament at Grand Rapids Tuesday night when they blanked the Garfield Park club, 6-0. The win was Holland's second in as many nights in the Grand Rapids meet.

The Heaters will tangle with the Wayland Vets for the Class B championship at Association Park, located on the corner of Division Ave. and Cottage Grove at 6:15 p.m. Thursday night. Should the locals annex the title, they would be eligible to compete in the state tournament, which follows, at Lansing.

Tuesday's win for the locals was their fifth in tournament play. They started their victory trail, annexing the district crown at Grand Haven with victories over Midway Motors, 4-3, Dale Engine, 8-0, Camfield Pop Ups, 13-4. Then Monday night in Grand Rapids, they took their first Regional win from the Leighton Eagles, 2-1.

Cork Weener, who has hurled all of the Heater tournament decisions so far, was the winning hurler again Tuesday night. Consecutive nights of pitching don't bother him, since Tuesday's master piece was a two-hitter. In fact in tournament play, the local hurler has allowed just 23 hits and eight runs. In addition to allowing only two hits and striking out eight batters, Weener also garnered two hits himself against the Garfield club.

Holland waited until the third inning to move into the scoring column against the Garfield lads. A double by Woldring, a single by Weener, a walk and a long fly produced two runs in the third. Finally in the sixth, the Heaters broke loose with four tallies to "ice" the victory. A walk, doubles by Weener and Ken Bauman, a single by Ray Morren and another two base blow by Rightfielder Scheerhorn accounted for the remainder of the Furnace tallies. Pitcher R. Huyser of the losers, allowed six local safeties. Cork Weener was the leading batter with two blows. Thirdbaseman Morren turned in an outstanding defensive game for the locals.

Merchants Edge Zeeland Outfit

Holland Merchants of the City Softball league, took a non-league win from the Zeeland Coliseum at the Pine Ave. diamond Tuesday night. The locals barely staved off a desperate seventh inning rally on the part of the Zeelanders to take the win, 6-5.

Zeeland, trailing 6-3 going into the final inning, scored twice on two hits, to pull within one run at the close of the contest.

The losers opened the scoring in the first inning on a triple and a long fly, but Holland came back with two in its second. Zeeland tied the score with one in the third, but again Holland moved out in front with three markers in its half of the third. Catcher Henry Visser's long triple highlighted the rally.

The Coliseum whittled the margin to 5-3 with a single run in the fourth without getting a hit. Holland pushed its final run across in the fifth on a triple by Firstbaseman De Young and a single by Leftfielder Huyser.

Holland connected for nine hits off R. Samer and Bosch of the losers while Zeeland managed to get four safeties off Ed Ribbens, local flinger.

More Rare Coins Turn Up Locally

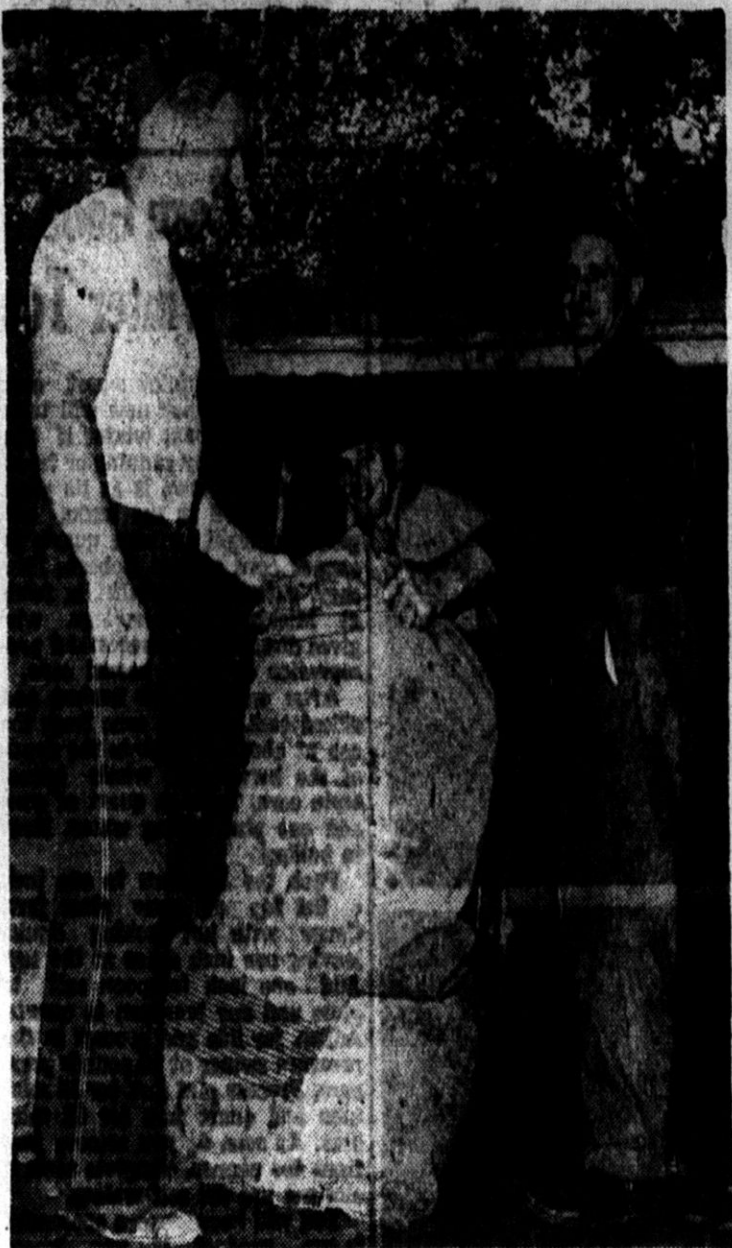

Most complete collection of U. S. pennies reported to The Sentinel so far was brought in by C. Reidsma, 252 West 11th St. His framed display includes an eagle white penny of the early 1800's. The next penny is an 1859 and from then on, the collection includes a penny of each year through the present.

Reidsma has the six white Indian head cent pieces coined during the Civil War. Copper Indian heads continued until 1908 and the first Lincoln penny was coined in 1909. The only other white penny in the complete collection is the wartime 1943 coin.

Reidsma has several larger size pre-Civil War pennies, old nickels, an 1828 half cent and early foreign coins. He has a ten 10-dollar note from the National Bank of New Canaan, 1882. He began the collection as a small boy 50 years ago.

Another old coin was displayed by Willie Turner, 75 East Ninth St. He has a five-cent piece with the date, possibly 1668, barely readable.

William Prince, 321 Columbia Ave. has several excellent specimens among his collection of coins, an 1853 quarter, marked "guar. two-cent piece from 1870. Three three-cent pieces dated 1865, 1866, 1873 that are very distinct; an 1860 white penny and Verne Barkel, Bernie Schutler and Jake Borgman load mail sacks onto a truck at the local post office destined for the C&O depot. It's all in a day's work for Borgman who has been on the job meeting all trains for the last eight years. The truck runs between the depot and the post office and back carrying mail sacks from 3 a.m. until 9:30 p.m., 365 days a year.

Mail Loader Works 365 Days Each Year

Meet the man who meets all the trains.

He is Jacob Borgman, mail messenger for the Holland post office. He hasn't missed a train for the last eight years. Borgman has the contract to haul the mail coming into Holland from the trains to the post office. He also hauls the mail from the post office to the trains.

Borgman gets to work at 3:15 a.m. each day to start the first haul of the day and finishes his last haul at 9:15 p.m. This is a seven-day schedule, 52 weeks a year and includes holidays. Jake says, "When I was brought up they never dreamed of a 40-hour week."

Borgman, who is 64 years old, unloads all the mail himself. He estimates his daily work includes handling 440 mail sacks and separate parcels. The average weight is 40 pounds per sack and frequently many of the sacks weigh 100 pounds.

"When the heavy magazines and mail-order catalogs come through I sometimes think how wonderful it would be to retire to my farm on route 2, but then a few days of normal mails and I begin to feel normal too," Borgman said.

"The only vacation I have ever had from this job was several years ago when the railroad was on strike. It's the only strike I was ever able to benefit by."

Couple Now Living in Zeeland

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Schrotenboer

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Schrotenboer are living at 38½ West Washington Ave., Zeeland, following their marriage Aug. 6 in Third Christian Reformed church, Zeeland. The bride is the former Theresa Vanden Heuvel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Vanden Heuvel, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gradus Schrotenboer, all of Zeeland.

Dr. J. Bruinooge officiated at the double ring ceremony before a setting of palms, ferns, baskets of gladioli and candelabra. Miss Cella Bruinooge played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Gerald Vande Vusse who sang "At Dawning," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Attending the bride were Miss Esther Vanden Heuvel, her sister, as maid of honor, and Misses Geraldine De Roo and Esther Schrotenboer, sister of the groom, bridesmaids.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the church parlors. Mr. and Mrs. Schrotenboer left on a northern wedding trip following the reception.

Huge Turnout Greets Hurricane Grid Mentors

More than 30 prospective Hurricane gridders "buckled down" to hard work Monday night at the 19th St. field at the start of the second week of practice. Monday's drills were in charge of Len Van Hoven, who will concentrate on the line this year.

Owney, Fred Bocks, along with Carly Wiegierink and Van Hoven are well pleased with the turnout and the progress shown so far. It appears at this early stage of drills, that the Hurricanes are going to have a potent backfield, with a host of capable runners. Heading the backfield candidates are Pat Garzelloni of Coopersville, Marvin Aylsworth, Jack Westerhof, Don Leeuw and Bob Wyngarden. Plenty of work will be needed on the line, coaches admit, although several promising linemen have reported since the start of practice.

Uniforms will be issued to 35 players Wednesday, Bocks said. First scrimmage is on the card for later in the week. So far, practice has been devoted to fundamentals and signal drills.

Bocks also announced that season tickets for five home games have now been placed on sale at various points.

The roster as reported by position is:

Centers—Jim Schurman, Lawrence McCormick and Norman Raggott.

Guards—Stan McClure, Jason De Vries, Randy Smart, Lloyd Brown, Jay Peppier and Stan Wlodarczyk.

Tackles—Al Klinge, Jim Abel, Marv Gebben, Lloyd Boeve, Harley Bos and Bill Draper.

Ends—Marv Van Eck, Don Hulst, George Botals, Ted Bos, Ken Leeuw and Mel Klinge.

Quarterbacks—Vern Vande Water and Ron Klampert.

Fullbacks—Pat Garzelloni, Rudy Belik and Bob Harrington.

Halfbacks—Marvin Aylsworth, Jack Westerhof, Jack Vanden Berg, Ted Vanden Berg, Don Leeuw and Bob Wyngarden.

Vanderbush Calls Gridders Sept. 1

Coach Al Vanderbush of Hope college announced today that the first "foot-ball" practice is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 1. Equipment will be issued and preliminary drills will get underway at the time, Vanderbush said.

The Hope mentor refused to make predictions concerning the coming season. He said he would have at least the core of his 1947 backfield on the roster again this year, in addition to several promising freshmen who will enroll at the college. Two of his star backfield men, Bob Emery and Eddie Leverette, will join the ranks of the school this fall.

Vanderbush also announced the schedule for the coming season. It includes five MIAA tussles in addition to three outside foes. Perhaps the highlight of the 1948 card will be the trip to Monmouth on Oct. 2. It will be the first meeting between the two schools on the gridiron.

The 1948 Hope football schedule:

- Sept. 24—Michigan Normal—here (night).
- Oct. 2—Monmouth—there.
- Oct. 8—Adrian—here (night).
- Oct. 16—Hillsdale—there.
- Oct. 21—GR Junior—there (night).
- Oct. 30—Albion—here (homecoming).
- Nov. 6—Kalamazoo—there (night).
- Nov. 13—Alma—here.

Former Holland Man Weds Whittington Girl

Miss Joan McAfoos, daughter of Mrs. Maggie Hood McAfoos of Whittington, Ill., and John T. Funckes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Funckes of Chicago, formerly of Holland, were married Sunday in the Whittington Baptist church by the Rev. Mac D. Van Wey.

Music was played by Mrs. Webb Hood, pianist, preceding the exchange of vows. Miss Dorothy Harper of West Frankfort, Ill., sang "Because," accompanied by Miss Maxine Garvin, also of West Frankfort.

The bride wore a white street length dress with navy blue accessories and a corsage of white roses. Miss Roberta Webb McAfoos, the bride's attendant, wore a blue afternoon dress and a corsage of yellow roses.

Henry Funckes of Chicago, assisted his brother as best man. A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Whittington, Ill.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Whittington of Benton, Ill., Randall Hooten of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. John Funckes, Arnold Funckes, William Funckes, Anna Mae and Henrietta Funckes, all of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Funckes left on a wedding trip to Michigan before returning to school. The groom is a senior engineering student at the University of Illinois and the bride will resume her studies in bacteriology at the University.

John F. Macklin, Michigan State college football coach from 1911 through 1915, produced teams that won 29 games and lost only five. One of them, the 1913 aggregation, was the only undefeated club in Spartan history.

Married at Home of Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scheerhorn

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scheerhorn were married Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride. She is the former Joyce Van Oss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Oss, 560 State St. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Scheerhorn, 451 College Ave. After a wedding trip to northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Scheerhorn will live on Sanford Ave., Muskegon.

Kiwanis Club Informed About Training Program

Co-operative training in Holland high school was explained to Kiwanians Monday evening at their regular meeting at the Warm Friend Tavern by Gerrit H. Wiegierink, co-ordinator of the new program.

Choosing for his subject, "The Community as a School," Wiegierink pointed out that business establishments of the local employers are being used as training stations for 50 Holland students. He said that although the national average stands at approximately 20 per cent for high school public who later attend college, Holland's average stands quite a bit higher than the national figure with 32 per cent of Holland's seniors attending college.

In sending students out on part time work Wiegierink stated the goal is to try to correlate their work in school and their work on the job, thus making for more skilled employees at an earlier stage in life. The program also gives an opportunity to the student to go out and apply what he has learned in school before he quits his studies.

President Tony Lasto who presided at the meeting also introduced the speaker.

A number of accordion selections were given by Miss Evelyn George. Miss Virginia Kookier briefly outlined the Ottawa County Blood Donor service with a number of Kiwanians volunteering to donate blood in the near future.

Visitors introduced were C. N. Findlay of New Orleans, La., and Prof. E. A. Edwards of Charleston, Ill.

"Civilization is under construction," asserts a sociologist. We must be passing over a detour.

Noordeloos

(From Tuesday's Sentinel)

There will be a hymn sung Sunday at 7:45 p.m. C. Karsten will lead the singing and a girl's trio from North Street Christian Reformed church will present special numbers.

The Rev. William Vander Hoven who has accepted a call to Edgerton, Minn., preached his farewell sermon Aug. 15. A gathering of the congregation was held Aug. 17 as a farewell event. Each society was represented on the program. A mixed quartet composed of Mrs. J. Weener, Mrs. E. Van Lier, L. Diepenhorst and A. Diepenhorst, sang "Anywhere with Jesus," and "Simply Trusting." Hugh Koops sang, "The Lord is My Shepherd," and "The Good-bye Chorus." Rev. Vander Hoven was presented a gift of money. He responded and offered prayer. Refreshments were served.

Candidate A. Walcott has asked for a week's extension on his call to Noordeloos.

The Rev. William Vander Hoven who at present is staying with relatives at Grand Rapids, plans to return here a day this week to say goodbye to those who were unable to attend the farewell meeting due to illness.

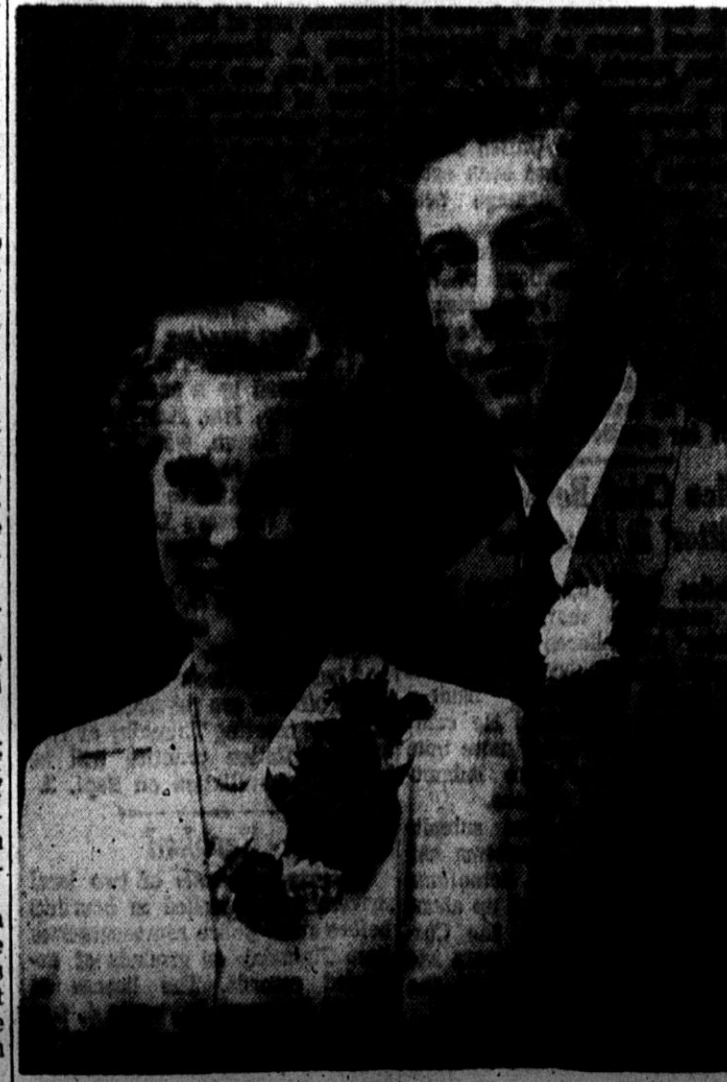

J. Weener's Sunday school class of young people is planning an outing for Aug. 26.

The NBC bus will again accommodate pupils from this vicinity to the Holland schools.

The Rev. Wesley Prince of McLean was guest preacher at the local church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Weener, Paul and Mary, enjoyed a trip north a few days last week.

Wed in Overisel Church

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Sternberg

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Sternberg were married August 5 in Overisel Reformed church. Following the ceremony they left on a wedding trip to Kentucky and upon their return will live in Zeeland. The bride is the former Goldie Arlene Lubbers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lubbers, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sternberg, East 32nd St., Holland.

Heaters Annex Win in Regional Softball Meet

Holland Furnace's softball outfit made the most of three hits Monday night to whip the Leighton Eagles 2-1 in the first round of the Regional softball tournament at Grand Rapids. This was the Heaters' first contest at Grand Rapids after they captured the district tournament at Grand Haven a week ago. The Leighton club was the winner of the Allegan district tourney, in class B.

The contest was a pitcher's duel between Cork Weener of the locals and Knoper of the losers. Weener was also in superb form, allowing only four hits while striking out five batters. Four Holland batters went down by the strike-out route.

The Dutchmen opened the scoring in the first inning on a single by Catcher John Tuls, a single by Ken Bauman, a stolen base and two fielder's choices. Bauman scored the first tally.

In the second inning, the Heaters took advantage of two Leighton errors to send the runner across. Rightfielder M. Scheerhorn smashed a long drive to center, and when the centerfielder let the ball get by him, Scheerhorn went all the way to third. He then came in to score when the third baseman muffed Tice's smash down the third base line. This ended all run making for the locals, and they settled down to protect the scant margin.

The Leightons offered their most serious threat of the contest in the fifth inning when they scored their only run. Three singles and a stolen base sent the lone tally across the plate. The losers also had two runners on in the final inning, when Weener struck out Shortstop Braun to end the thrilling fray.

The only locals to get hits were B. Prince, J. Tuls and K. Bauman.

Attorney Speaks To Optimist Club

Gerald R. Ford, Jr., Republican candidate for U. S. Representative from the fifth Michigan district, was principal speaker at the weekly meeting of the Holland Optimist club Monday noon in the Warm Friend Tavern.

His subject was "Dangerous Trends in Government."

The Grand Rapids attorney said there are five dangerous tendencies in our present government: "Lack of citizen interest in governmental affairs; the increasing number of federal employees in office as of Jan. 1, 1948; the overall increase in the cost of local, state and national government; failure on the part of Congress to attack the real problems for strengthening our armed forces and the drift towards an appeasement policy with Russia."

Ford was introduced by Optimist president Robert Topp.

In other business of the meeting, members voiced unanimous agreement to a suggestion to send flowers to fellow Optimist Bill Buis, who was seriously injured last Friday in the car-truck crash. Jim Frane was appointed head of the Dale Lewis project. The Optimist club has pledged its aid to this boy who is attending extension school of the Starr Commonwealth at Jackson.

Topp presided at the meeting.

Bus Feud Ends With New Rules

An announcement was made at the Common Council meeting last Wednesday night that the long-running feud between the Lake Shore bus company and the Holland City bus line was ended.

New regulations were issued today by both concerns to take care of operations on what formerly were duplicate routes of the two companies.

The Lake Shore bus company announces that it will not accept any passengers whose entire ride will be within the city limits of Holland.

Holland City bus line will quit all runs outside the west city limits except buses going to Hart & Cooley and Chris-Craft factories. The new regulations will go into effect Sept. 7.

Kitchen Shower Given For Miss Arlene Wieten

A kitchen shower was given Tuesday evening for Miss Arlene Wieten by the Misses Karyl Prigge, Lois Van Ingen and Mary Vande Wege. The event was held at the Prigge home, 192 West 12th St.

Game prizes were won by Mrs. C. Van Raalte and Miss Peggy Prins. Duplicate prizes were presented to the guest of honor. The ringing of three alarm clocks set at regular intervals was the signal for the guest of honor to find hidden gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Emily Beale.

Guests were the Mesdames Phillip Haan, Don Mulder, John Vande Wege, Emily Beale, Louis Van Ingen, Don Oosterbaan, C. Van Raalte and Herman Wieten and the Misses Peggy Prins, Amy Konig, Faith Den Herder, Mary Van Raalte and Dorothy Mannes.

Photographs were first transmitted by telephone wires in 1924.

Tips Given on How to Preserve Quality of Eggs

MSC Specialist Says Hot Weather Causes Rapid Deterioration

Tips to poultrymen on how to preserve egg quality were given today by J. M. Moore, extension poultry specialist at Michigan State college.

Hot weather can cause a rapid deterioration of egg quality. Unless special precautions are taken, eggs can be rendered unfit for food.

Steps that Moore recommends, beginning at the farm, include: further efforts to produce clean eggs, more frequent collection of eggs each day, immediate cooling of eggs after collection and before packing, temporary farm storage under proper temperature and moisture conditions, frequent marketing by farmers and country buyers, candling for quality, and the holding of eggs under refrigeration at all times after they are packed in cartons or cases.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture comments on the egg situation by saying that egg production for the remainder of 1948 is likely to be somewhat smaller than it was for the same months last year. Through careful conservation of quality, however, the anticipated supply, plus the eggs now in storage, will provide about as many eggs as were consumed per capita during the last five months of 1947.

USDA experts point out that consumer interest in eggs centers on quality. For this reason market prices in the hot weather period usually advance sharply for high quality eggs and decline for those of lower qualities. At least a part of this wide spread in quality and price can be offset by quality conservation which begins at the farm and continues through the marketing system.

Arnold Reports Fine Legume Seed Crop

Farmers throughout Ottawa county may have the opportunity to harvest a fine legume seed crop in 1948. L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, declares he has never seen such a fine bloom as can be seen in many clover fields. Recent weather conditions have been quite favorable for seed development. If good seed is formed, the seed crop would far exceed in value the use of the clover or hay or pasture. In walking into several fields Arnold has observed that few bees are present. This may cause poor pollination. The agricultural agent believes that many more bees are needed in the county. He deplors the fact that the lowly bumble-bee is so often destroyed. This insect is quite valuable in the pollination of several farm crops. Owners of these blossoming fields should make close observation before cutting the field for other than seed purpose.

Simple Device Used for Applying Ground Sprays

East Lansing — Increased use of chemicals in weed control has emphasized the need for versatile spray equipment, say C. L. Hamner and Loren D. Tukey of the Department of Horticulture at Michigan State college.

The greater use of 2, 4-D as a selective herbicide on lawns, golf courses, parkways, pastures, corn fields and the like shows the need for a sprayer of low cost that can apply concentrated solutions at rates of five to 10 gallons per acre instead of the conventional 150 to 200 gallons.

To meet these new demands, the specialists have constructed an inexpensive, easily-operated sprayer from a common three-gallon hand sprayer mounted on a hand garden cultivator and equipped with a spray boom. Such a sprayer can easily be adapted to a specific crop such as corn and gladioli where 2, 4-D is to be applied between the rows and away from the crop.

In addition to its use for applying 2, 4-D, the sprayer can be used for applications of other materials in concentrated form such as insecticides, fungicides, and hormones. Plans and descriptions of the device may be had upon request from the Department of Horticulture, Michigan State college.

FALL SEED

The certified list of wheat and rye growers is now available through the Michigan Crop Improvement association, Michigan State college, East Lansing, or the county agricultural agent. All seed sown whether certified or not should be treated with some organic mercurial compound such as Ceresan. This is cheap insurance against stinking smut or bunt.

PASTURE FALL, SPRING

Rye sown in August at one and one-half bushels per acre makes an excellent fall pasture for livestock. Sows with fall pigs will do well on rye and it can be used again next spring.

Dr. C. Dale Barrett, Jr.

County Health Director Given Leave of Absence

Grand Haven, Aug. 26 — Dr. C. Dale Barrett, who came to Grand Haven in May, 1946 to assume duties as director of the Ottawa County Health department, has been granted a nine months' leave of absence in order to take graduate study at the University of Michigan.

The graduate study in public health administration is expected to qualify him for a degree of master of public health. The leave was granted by the health committee of the County Board of Supervisors of which Charles E. Misner of Grand Haven is chairman. The committee met Aug. 17.

Dr. Barrett expects to leave Grand Haven on or before Sept. 15. The leave extends to June 30.

During his absence Dr. Ralph Ten Have of Grand Haven, former county health director, will serve as acting director and will continue his private practice. Emory Mann Eby, supervising nurse, will administer the duties of the department. Dr. Barrett expects to move his family to Ann Arbor for the period.

The department also has announced a new classification in the Holland office. Katherine Groeneveld has been classified as senior nurse and will manage the nursing office.

Doris Diekema and Fiance Entertained

Miss Doris Diekema and William Carpenter, who are to be married Sept. 10 in Hope church, were guests of honor at a buffet supper and kitchen shower, given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Beebe, Saturday evening. The party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Beebe and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Thomas, Jr. Forty guests were present.

On Friday evening, Miss Diekema and Mr. Carpenter were feted at a dinner dance given at the Macatawa Bay Yacht club by Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Cheff. About 85 guests were seated at long tables decorated with pink and white roses. An orchestra played. During the evening the honored guests were presented with an engraved leather photograph album.

Mr. and Mrs. Egbert H. Gold and Dr. and Mrs. Herman Harms also entertained at an outdoor steak roast at the Harms residence at Waukazoo.

Shower Compliments Miss Donna Timmer

A miscellaneous shower was given Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Lester Timmer, 123 Vander Veen Ave., in honor of Miss Donna Timmer, September bride-elect of Preston Vander Slick. The room was decorated with bouquets of gladioli, streamers and tiny paper umbrellas. Notes telling where the gifts were placed were placed inside balloons.

Games were played and a two-course lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. C. Meusen.

Invited were the Mesdames John Timmer, Lawrence Timmer, William Timmer, Joe Vugteveen, Frank Heyboer, Detra Visser, J. Kamphuis, Gerrit J. Kamphuis, Jacob Stael, Clarence Timmer, Carol Meusen, Gerri Van Kampen, Harry Kramer, Dale V. Sioten, Harold Troost, How. Baumann, Alvin Wassink, Terry Costello, Clarence Renkema and the Mesdames Arlene Vugteveen, Alice Beereboom and Lorraine Vugteveen.

Methodist Bible Class Has Waukazoo Outing

Twenty-six members of the Ladies Bible class of First Methodist church attended a potluck supper at the home of Mrs. William Bender at Waukazoo Friday evening. The supper was served outdoors. Games were in charge of Mrs. Henry Galbraith. Mrs. Willis Haight was prize winner. Teacher of the class is Mrs. Nina Daugerty.

TOUGH DRILLS AHEAD

Washington, Aug. 23 (UP) — Secretary of Navy John L. Sullivan said today Naval Reservists will have to drill and like it if they want to avoid the draft.

Turkeys Raised In Confinement Need Good Care

Michigan turkey growers are gradually shifting toward raising more turkeys in confinement pens on wire or slatted floors, reports Charles Reed, extension poultryman at Michigan State college.

While great success has been achieved in most cases where birds were raised by this method, some poultrymen have been troubled by the birds getting sore feet and hocks. Growers of Broad Breast Bronze turkeys have encountered some difficulty, Reed says, while the hens of this breed and other small breeds show very few symptoms of sore feet and hocks.

The trouble arises when the heavy toms get tired and soreness develops from constant standing on wire or slats. To rest their feet they sit on their hocks until they are sore. As a last resort, the bird rests on its breast until it becomes sore, blistered, and bruised. This results in a loss to the grower because of the poor flesh condition of the breast and from the birds not being able to walk to the feeders and watering fountains like normal birds.

Reed suggests a solution that has been used with success in some eastern states. The confinement pens are reconstructed and under the section of the pen that is covered by roof, about one-fifth of the floor area is made of solid flooring covered with a deep layer of clean, absorbent litter or straw. This gives the large, heavy birds a place to go and rest their feet when tired from walking or standing on the wire or slatted floors and reduces the amount of sore feet and hocks affecting the birds.

State Fair Season Is In Full Swing

Michigan's fair season is well under way, reports Clarence L. Bolander, chief of the bureau of agricultural information, and supervisor of fairs, Michigan Department of agriculture. Between now and Oct. 9, 59 more fairs will be held.

The department is co-operating with as many fairs as possible by setting up its educational displays.

Lists of all the fairs are obtainable from the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Participation in the fairs is the opportunity of everyone. Agricultural exhibits at the fairs held to date, appear to be better and bigger than ever, with 4-H projects well in the lead.

Inspectors from the Bureau of Marketing and Enforcement are checking all eating and drinking places, according to Miles A. Nelson, chief, to be certain Michigan's fairgoers are protected with respect to the state's food and drink laws and sanitary conditions. On the whole, inspectors this year are finding conditions much improved, with only a few violations. Throughout the fair season, department inspectors will maintain vigilant inspection so that fairgoers may have this important protection.

Foreign Insect Not Found in State Survey

Inspectors of Michigan's Department of Agriculture, cooperating with personnel from the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, Washington, D. C., have been engaged the past several weeks in a survey to determine the presence or absence of an insect known as the European Chafer, reports C. A. Boyer, Chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry. The European Chafer, apparently introduced into the United States sometime in 1942, has been causing considerable damage near Newark, N.Y.

A two-week survey has not revealed any indications of this pest in Michigan. Purchasers of plant material, however, are cautioned to be on the alert for suspicious specimens. Any found should be mailed to the department for positive identification.

'Police Chief Believes Critter' Is Identified

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff has concluded that the queer "critter" his children picked up in a small pond Friday was a horse hair snake developing from a grasshopper or cricket. He came to this conclusion after more than eight possibilities were submitted by interested persons.

This explanation was submitted by both Ralph Schuitema and Louis Van Hartesveldt. Schuitema told Van Hoff he picked up about 50 such "critters" at the Cascades at Jackson a few years ago, and had them identified at the Grand Rapids museum.

Lois Jilison of Holland believes it is a horse hair snake which is the larva stage of the May fly Godiacea.

Regular Meeting Held By Royal Neighbors

A regular meeting of the Royal Neighbors on Thursday night was followed by a party. The district deputy, Mrs. Harry Limbach of Grand Haven, was present at the meeting to help make plans for the convention to be held Oct. 14 at the Woman's Literary club.

Refreshments were served and cards were played with prizes awarded to Mrs. H. P. Kleis, Mrs. Raymond Sly and Mrs. John Bronkhorst. Mrs. William Norlin and her committee were in charge. All officers are requested to attend the meeting Thursday at 7:30 when initiation practice will be held for installation on Sept. 2.

Licenses Revoked

Operator's licenses of two local drivers were revoked in hearings before state police representatives here Thursday on grounds of extended records. The license of Arnold Jackson, Jr., route 4, was revoked for 45 days and that of Edward Sjoerdma, of 227 West 18th St., for 30 days.

SMALL BUT GOOD

The average hen's egg weighs two ounces, measures 2.27 inches by 1.72 inches.

North Holland

(From Friday's Sentinel)

The Girl's League for Service met in the church parlors last week. Miss Connie Nienhuis led in devotions. It was decided to have the annual play in November and committees were appointed. After the business session a shower was given for Mrs. Ernest Nash, the former Carol Sas, and for Mrs. Peter Breen, the former Pauline Stegenga. Both were presented with gifts. The Misses Margery Bauman and Arloa Raak were on the game committee. Luella and Mildred Knoll, Margery Bauman and Mrs. Frances Bauman served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Bauman and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bauman have returned home from a trip to Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Gertrude Messer of White Cloud visited her sister, Mrs. Chris Sas, on Sunday.

The Rev. Richard Jager, pastor of the Reformed church of Byron Center, had charge of both services here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Nienhuis have purchased the home formerly owned by Mrs. Wiersma on the Beeline and plans to move next week.

School Friends Fete Mrs. Schutmaat

Mrs. Alvin Schutmaat, of Bogota, Colombia, the former Pauline Loew who is visiting her parents here, was guest of honor at a party arranged by former Holland High School friends at the home of Mrs. Joseph Borgman, Jr., 59 East 26th St., Thursday afternoon. Guests brought their children who received favors from Bogota.

In the group were Mrs. Schutmaat and sons, Jamie and Freddie, Eloise Hulett Shashagay, John, Joan and Diane Shashagay; Dorothy Ann Van Dyke Bontekoe and son Blair; Eileen Van Lente Le Barge, Bill, Jr., and Carol Le Barge; Bea Bekken Shashagay, Tommie and Jane Ann; and the hostess, Virginia Dykhuys Borgman.

Arnold Jackson, 44, Dies in Grand Rapids

Arnold Jackson, 44, died suddenly at 11 p.m. Saturday of a cerebral hemorrhage at his home in Grand Rapids. He was employed at the Corduroy Tire Co.

Surviving are the wife, the former Dora Holkeboer of Holland, two children, and a brother, Gerald, of Jackson.

Sweet Corn Good During Winter Too

That tender juicy sweet corn that tastes so good now will taste just as good next winter if you preserve some by canning or freezing while the crop is at its peak.

One bushel in the husks will give you eight or nine quarts of canned corn advises Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in foods at Michigan State college, who gives directions for successful preservation of whole kernel corn.

After washing the husked and silked ears, cut the corn from the cob at about two-thirds the depth of the kernel for whole kernel style corn. To each quart of corn add one pint boiling water. Heat to boiling.

Pack the hot corn to one inch in the top of your glass jars. Cover with hot cooking liquid, leaving one inch space at the top. Add one inch teaspoon salt to pints and one teaspoon to quarts. Adjust jar lids and process in the pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure. Process pint jars for 55 minutes and quart jars for 85 minutes. As soon as you remove jars from the canner, complete seals if closure are not self-sealing.

You will have more successful frozen product if you freeze whole kernels rather than the corn on the cob. Harvest the corn early in the morning. Select ears with well-filled rounded kernels and sweet flavor. Avoid hard and immature kernels. Handle quickly to preserve quality and flavor.

Husk, silk and trim the ears. Avoid submerging corn in water as much as possible. Scald on the cob for three minutes in boiling water, cool quickly and cut the corn from cob. Pack in moisture-proof, vapor-proof cellophane and heat seal.

Rye Grass Effectively Used as Cover Crop

During past years many farmers have come to believe in the value of a cover crop, thus protecting the soil from erosion, according to L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent. The West Ottawa Soil Conservation district has urged such plantings for years.

Rye or rye grass planted in corn in July or August will cover the bare ground, stop erosion and put humus in the soil when turned under. This cover prevents leaching of valuable elements as the roots grab up these elements and store them in the stem and roots. Otherwise some of these elements in the bare soil go downward or leach outward to lower places, leaving the top in poorer condition.

The cover crop of rye supplies a fine pasture for animals in the fall and early spring. The Balboa rye is now recommended highly for pasture as it does not taint the milk with an odor. With ordinary rye the dairymen should have cows off the rye feed for two hours or more before milking. No such practice is required with the new rye, Balboa.

HATCHERY MEN MEET

The annual hatchery conference will be held at Michigan State college on Sept. 15 and 16. President John A. Hannah of Michigan State college, now in Europe as a delegate to the World Poultry conference, will address the poultry banquet session.
