Extensive repairs are being made on the Riverview Park grandstand this summer.

Plans call for the completion of the work in time for Hope College's first home football game on Saturday, Sept. 28. Joe Cross, Elzinga and Volkers Inc., superintendent said today.

Cross said temporary seating will be arranged for the Holland High's opening home games on Sept. 13 and the Sept. 27 game. Work began the third week of June, Cross said.

At a cost of $40,000, contractors have replaced the roof, eliminated the grandstand center entrance, installing 60 new 50-yard-line seats in its place, and are putting in new team rooms and facilities beneath the bleachers.

Included will be a total of 1600 auditorium style seats installed, all new wiring, lighting, toilets and plumbing and new paint throughout, light blue inside and white outside. There will also be a spotter's platform added on top of the press booths which are also in place for general reconditioning. The platform will be accomplished by the addition of a railing on the existing roof. Plans do not call for enclosing it at this time.

The work is being undertaken by Elzinga and Volkers, general contractors, Hardy Brothers Electric and Reimink Plumbing and Heating.

School Board Won't Provide Bus Service

In keeping with past policy, the Board of Education at a special meeting Friday afternoon decided no general public transportation of students of the enlarged school district in grades kindergarten through 12th grade will be provided the coming school year.

The board decided, however, that a transportation millage proposal will be placed on the ballot as soon as possible following a final court decision affirming the reorganization of the district.

A transportation policy is being determined to meet individual hardship cases affecting students in grades kindergarten through sixth grade.

The board has had several meetings in recent days on school transportation.

A proposal calling for 1.5 mills for three years for school district transportation had been withdrawn from the Aug. 6 ballot after the merger of Harrington and Federal districts with Holland district was challenged in court. The merger was to have been effective July 1.

The board received written instructions Aug. 16 from state sources instructing it to proceed with operating elementary schools in Harrington and Federal districts. The authorization came from the Michigan Department of Education supported by the attorney general's office. It also instructed Holland school district to spread operational millage in the two districts.

Scholarship Program Checks Sent

ALLEGAN — Officials of Allegan's six-year-old "Dollars for Scholars" community scholarship program today announced that checks totaling $3,100 have been mailed to 12 Allegan high school graduates to assist them in furthering their education.

An equal amount will be distributed to each scholarship recipient in December.

Allegan area residents and business firms have been contributing to the "do-it-yourself" scholarship program — sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club — since it was organized in 1962.

Officers said that those who have benefited from the program in the past have not been remiss in "recognizing their moral obligation to repay the scholarship loans in the 10-year period following completion of their education." In announcing this fall's grants, they said "one girl wrote recently that she now has a job and will be repaying her loan at the rate of $50 a week."

A substantial share of the money raised for "Dollars for Scholars" comes from memorial gifts, according to Mrs. Francis Clair, one of the founders of the plan locally. She said any donation of $100 or more may be named to honor an individual. The name of the person so honored is placed on a bronze plate which hangs in the foyer of the Allegan senior high school.

Community College Plan Brighter

A proposal to establish a community college district for Ottawa and North Allegan counties will be recommended to the State Board of Education at its September meeting, according to Roger Troupe, assistant superintendent for the Ottawa Area Intermediate Board, who attended a monthly meeting of the State Board for Community Colleges in Manistee last week-end.

This area covers all school districts in Ottawa county plus Saugatuck and Hamilton districts in Allegan county. Overtures also will be extended to nearby districts in Allegan county.

Troupe said the state organization looks favorably on an Ottawa-North Allegan Community College to serve needs particularly in the area of vocational-technical training. Hope was expressed that approval by the State Board of Education in September could result in bringing the issue to a public vote in less than a year.

The initial study on a vocational-technical school for the area started in December, 1964, followed by a feasibility study on community college completed in March, 1966.

Emphasis on vocational and technical training for 11th and 12th graders, dropouts and post-graduates developed later into the community college concept to meet not only the needs of high school youth but of out-of-school youths, something not covered in the vocational-technical high school studies.

The Ottawa Area Intermediate Board petitioned the State Board of Education Nov. 2, 1966, and was informed April 21, 1967, by the State Board for Community Colleges that initial programming for a community college district for the area could well begin with heavy emphasis on vocational - technical development and then later expand to include other community college programming.

School Lot Exchanged

The Board of Education has effected an exchange of property with a Zeeland resident which eliminates construction of a house on lot 51 on West 28th St. adjoining the Holland High School site.

A few days ago, Henry Visser of Zeeland started construction of a house on the site which lies on undeveloped property at the southwest corner of the school site adjoining Dunn's woods and Scotts, Inc.

The board arranged an exchange with school-owned property on Washington Ave. plus $1,000.

Supt. Donald L. Ihrman explained that when the 36-acre site was acquired several years ago, it was planned to develop an athletic field in this area in later years.

The high school site had irregular boundaries and the board felt it was reasonable to obtain the property now and avoid difficulties in the future. The board has no immediate plans for developing the property.

Rotarians Have Golf Clinic by Clearbrook Pro

Charles Feeley, golf professional and owner of Clearbrook Country Club in Saugatuck, conducted a golf clinic for Holland Rotary Club members at their regular weekly meeting Thursday at Macatawa Bay Yacht Club.

Rotarians watched from the patio while Feeley demonstrated fundamentals of the grip, the address, and swing on the clubhouse lawn.

He said one of the most common mistakes of the beginner is failure to shift the body weight to the left side during the downswing, making a solid hit and proper follow-through impossible.

During the question and answer period, Feeley devoted special attention to chipping and other high iron shots. He advised golfers to stop trying to get the club head under the ball and instead hit directly into it, relying on the loft of the iron to get the ball into the air.

Feeley, son-in-law of the Rev. and Mrs. Verne Hohl, acquired the Saugatuck course last year. He announced yesterday that the second nine on the course has been completed and will be ready for play next year.

Feeley is a member of PGA and has been associated with the Canyon Country Club at Palm Springs, Calif., Twin Orchard Country Club in Chicago, and Gull Lake Country Club, Kalamazoo.

Bill Holland was chairman of the program. Feeley was introduced by Huger Burnham.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, Sept. 1
Nehemiah Rebuilds the Wall
Nehemiah 2:17-18; 4:15-20;
6:1-3, 15-16

By C. P. Dame

The more you read about the outstanding layman, Nehemiah, the more you will admire him. The church needs many laymen of his type, men and women who have a sense of mission and a sacrificial spirit.

I. Some men respond to the call of need. Nehemiah did that. In 536 B. C. a large number of Jews, in response to the decree of King Cyrus of Persia, migrated to Palestine. For a time things went well but the first enthusiasm died down and deterioration set in. Ezra the scribe came in 458 B. C. and began a reformation, and Nehemiah came to Jerusalem in 445 B. C.

Nehemiah was holding a responsible position as cup-bearer of the king. One day he heard about the sad plight of the Jews in Jerusalem and got permission to go there. With an escort of captains and horsemen and with letters from the king to the governors of the provinces Nehemiah came to Jerusalem. After resting three days he made a midnight inspection tour, got firsthand information and presented to the leaders what he had to come. He won a hearty response.

Note a few facts. Enthusiasm counts. Nehemiah had it and his was contagious. The church needs people with enthusiasm. Nehemiah also was sure that God had something for him to do and he was willing to make sacrifices in order to serve. Mark the fact that Nehemiah had staying qualities. Some workers begin but they do not stick.

II. Some workers know how to meet opposition. God's work has enemies. "Now when Sanballat heard that we were building the wall, he was angry, and greatly enraged and ridiculed the Jews" — there was opposition from without and some from within also. The opponents from without used ridicule, and plotted, and threatened, and some of the workers became tired and complained, and a number of Jews cornered the market, and Nehemiah had to inspire and to give orders in order to get cooperation.

Nehemiah planned wisely in order to meet and overcome opposition. He organized his workers, some worked, some guarded and thus the work was done. Everyone worked. A lesson for churches note. The more members work the better it is. Too many in our churches do nothing at all which hurts.

III. When all work great results follow. "So the wall was finished" — what was the secret? Well, one strong, able leader, directed the project. Leadership is important. Weak leadership hurts, while strong leadership blesses. This is revealed again and again in church life. Nehemiah inspired his fellow Jews by example and his words and they followed his pattern.

The leader worked sacrificially and the people showed a mind to work. Nehemiah said, "I am doing a great work" and he encouraged the people by saying, "Our God shall fight for us" and the people responded as the words, "for the people had a mind to work" reveal. Nehemiah had faith in God and he inspired others to put their faith in Him.

ert De Young presented the organ prelude and accompanied at the organ when the congregation sang. Special music was presented by Miss Yvonne Sims. The Rev. Louis W. Ames' message was entitled "Your Salvation." During the Wesleyan Youth program in early evening Morris Cornell showed slides taken this summer while he was working in Puerto Rico. Later at the evening church service, Pastor Ames spoke on "The Man Christ Jesus."

ers and white braid. For the modern fashions put on by Jeane's of Holland, narrated by Mrs. Jack Gordon of Grand Rapids (Miss Jean of television), outfits mostly were fine basic frocks running mostly to grays and browns with a tendency to the A-line rather than the sheath.

Accenting the basic outfits were dramatic capes, coats, cloches, wigs, brass buttons, belts, buckles and an abundance of fur. There were fine woollens, gabardines, flannels, velvet, and a couple of flashy coats in leopard and ocelot design. There were a few ruffles and frills.

There was only one pants outfit, one long formal (velvet), one "fun" social dress with bare midriff, and as a sustaining feature a good basic black with pearls. "You never go wrong with wearing black with pearls."

Models were Mrs. James Bradbury, Mrs. Willard Hopkins, Mrs. Robert Sligh, Mrs. Ford Berghorst, Mrs. N. J. Danhof and Mrs. Jerald De Vries. Several others modeled old costumes, among them Mrs. Gary Byker, wife of the senator of the 23rd district, who wore gingham and a sunbonnet.

Mrs. A. Hubble Loomis, club president, modeled several variations of suffragette outfits, and finally a campaign skirt with GOP buttons she had worn while serving on the staff of the Eisenhower campaign train in 1952...shortened now by several inches.

Serving as co-chairman of the event were Mrs. James Olsson and Mrs. Sidney Johnson.

Greenhouse Constructed For West Ottawa Program

The horticulture program at West Ottawa High School was expanded this summer by the addition of a new greenhouse, located on the north side of the school.

It was constructed by two teachers at West Ottawa. Ronald Simon, vocational agriculture teacher, and Henry Brederland, vocational carpentry teacher, were assisted by four school employees, Dennis Bosma, Leon Knoll, Virgil Payne and Jim Atman. Construction began in late June.

The horticulture program began at West Ottawa during the 1967-68 school year. The need for this type of program was realized because of the decreasing numbers of jobs in the production agriculture fields of animal husbandry and crop farming.

More jobs are available to the agriculture students in the field of horticulture through landscaping and fruit growing, Simon said.

A basic horticulture course was offered at West Ottawa last year and this year courses in floriculture and landscaping have been added. The floriculture course will consist of floral arrangements and work with artificial flowers and with plants. The landscaping course will deal with design and types of plants.

The new greenhouse will give students the opportunity of "learning by doing." Students will observe different types of work done with plants and flowers. They will also raise their own plants in the greenhouse.

Future plans call for the expansion of the horticulture program. A lath or shade house may be built to be used for nursery stock and potted landscape plants. Plots of blueberries and Christmas trees may be planted as well as a horticultural garden.

Future course offerings include forestry and nursery management, greenhouse crop production, blueberry culture and Christmas tree culture.

Holland Christian Schools will officially open for a half day session only on Wednesday, Sept. 4, Supt. Mark Vander Ark reported today.

All elementary, junior high and secondary students will meet at their schools at the regular times on Wednesday morning, he said. Classes will be dismissed about 11:30 a.m. with the first full day session slated for Thursday, Sept. 4, Vander Ark said.

High school students will assemble at 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday in the auditorium. Following the convocation students will adjourn to home rooms for the distribution of schedules. They will then attend shortened classes for the rest of the morning. Textbooks may be purchased in the high school book store on Wednesday afternoon and evening. Lunches will be served in the cafeteria beginning on Thursday. Any student desirous of making a schedule change should do so in the high school office on August 26 or 27.

Junior high school students will receive their schedules at designated rooms on Wednesday at 8:15 a.m. After obtaining the schedule, the student will report to home room for further instructions.

All elementary children should report to their individual schools where teachers will greet them to give further instructions, Vander Ark reported. There will be considerably more shuttling of students buses this year due to the closing of the Central Ave. school, it was reported.

Harold Grissen will continue as principal of the Maplewood school while Wendell Rooks will again serve as principal of South Side. Harley Ver Beek is the principal of the Rose Park and West Side schools while Mrs. Louis Hekman is in charge of the East View school.

Since many children will be transferring to other buildings this year, parents and children are cordially invited to visit the elementary school buildings on Tuesday, Sept. 3, from 2:30 to 5 p.m., Vander Ark said.
