Words of Thanks From Fire Victims

Wanted: A Doll for a Doll

By Ann Hungerford
Sentinel Reporter

Talesha Khan is typical. The four-year-old loves dolls. But her large Raggedy Ann doll was lost... in a fire.

"We all got burnt out," the wide-eyed tot says.

Talesha's parents, the Pearlie Khans, understand her sorrow. They lost a few possessions too... such as a car, their furniture, their clothing, literally all their worldly goods.

Still, surprisingly despite their heavy uninsured losses, the couple is uttering only words of thanks... to the people of the Holland community.

Residents of the area for only a month-and-a-half, the Khans are overwhelmed with the generosity, helpfulness and friendship shown toward them since their three-bedroom Meadowlans apartment was destroyed last Friday in fire officials suspect was set by an arsonist.

"In Detroit, it definitely wouldn't be like this," Jane Kahn, 40, explained about her former community. "I don't think there's a church in Holland that hasn't helped out."

In similar occurrences in the Detroit area, families have to depend on Social Services for assistance, the Khans indicated.

"Because of the fire, our lives have reached other people. So much love has flown through the community," Mrs. Khan said.

The mother of two, Talesha and Moses, 3, related a story about a checker in a local store who noticed her name on the check she had been given to cash.

"Are you the people in the fire?" the checker asked and offered her condolences.

Blaine Pool lived out half of his haunting nightmare when the fire struck and damaged his apartment. "I've always lived in fear of fire and water."

"We were burned out when I was seven years old," he said, "and since we lived in Marietta, Ohio, flooding from the river was always a constant threat."

Pool surveyed the cluttered Meadowlans recreation room, well-stocked with clothes, toys, kitchen utensils but minimal furniture. "The only clothes left are what I have on my back."

Both the Khans and Pool credited the Bud Millers, resident managers of Meadowlans, with working overtime to accommodate the burned out families elsewhere in the complex and organizing volunteer efforts and donations for the families.

Mrs. Miller strongly acknowledges the volunteer efforts and generosity of teenagers in the complex. "Nobody promised them anything for helping. They didn't wait to be asked. They just pitched right in."

The complex is most grateful to Dean Adams, 17, who hurt his hip on slippery grass and who, barely clothed, warned residents of the impending danger.

"You hear so much about how terrible teenagers are," Mrs. Miller said. "But there teenagers are living proof they aren't that way."

For the Khans their gratitude goes on. "We'd like to run an ad to say thank to all who helped. We couldn't send cards to everyone because we don't know them all," Mrs. Khan said.

"You could make out the list from the phone book," Mrs. Miller added. In particular, Christ Memorial Reformed Church, which operates a youth program in the apartment complex, donated $1,300 in cash for use by the fire victims.

"So many people help but want to remain anonymous and asked their ministers to help already on Sunday," Mrs. Miller said.

Only furniture items, particularly dressers, have yet to be obtained. And one Raggedy Ann doll.

United Way Sets Goal

A campaign goal of $306,625 for 1977-78 was announced by Greater Holland United Way and kick-off meeting will be held at Point West on Oct. 4.

The Dutch treat dinner will be attended by campaign volunteers and cabinet, Greater Holland United Way board of directors, GHUW agency executives and board members and good friends of United Way.

The dinner is the official start of what campaign chairman Martin Glaser predicted would be a successful "over-the-goal" drive.

Dec. 1 marks the campaign conclusion and funds raised will support the work of 11 Holland area human service agencies and more than 20 others through the United Way of Michigan.

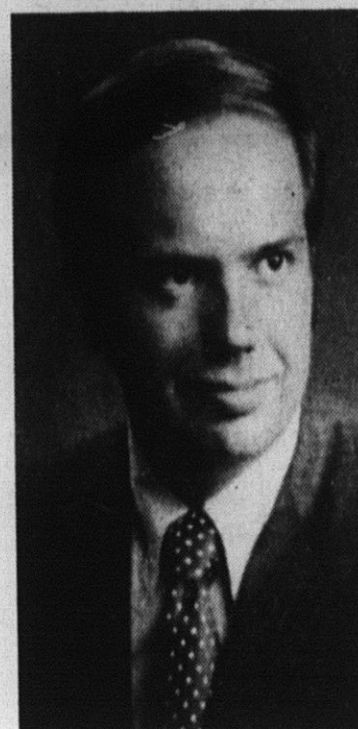

Allocation for local agencies are Boy Scouts, $22,700; Camp Fire Girls, $20,040; Child and Family Services, $55,000; Community Mental Health, $12,000; Kandu Industries, $28,000; Red Cross, $46,202; Salvation Army, $36,375; YMCA, $16,500; United Way of Michigan, $24,128.

Funds allocated to grant agencies are Community Action House, $8,000; Girl Scouts, $3,600; Holland Day Care Center, $8,580. Campaign and administrative expenses are listed at $15,000 and campaign shrinkage is $10,000.

Divisional goals are as follows: industrial, $188,163; public-civic, $33,712; commercial, $33,143; retail, $19,275; professional, $15,600; special gifts, $9,996; construction, $6,736.

Glaser, 35, is manager of Sears in Holland. His responsibilities include naming the seven divisional chairmen, directing the weekly report meetings and overseeing the progress of the campaign.

A native of Wheaton, Ill., Glaser earned a degree in Liberal arts from the University of Miami and did graduate work at Wharton School of Business and

Martin Glaser

Finance and at the University of Chicago.

In 1965 Glaser joined Sears and gained experience in stores in Aurora, Bloomington, Rockford and Moline, Ill. In 1974 he moved to Holland as manager of Sears.

A co-chairman of the 1976-77 GHUW retail division, Glaser is currently a director of GHUW, and a member of Rotary, the Holland Chamber of Commerce and the Western Michigan Officials Association.

Glaser and his wife, the former Candace Severson, have two children:

Lily Geerts

Gwendolyn, 8, and Brian, 6.

Serving as assistant chairperson is Lily Geerts, office manager of Horne's Office Service. A life-long resident of Holland and a graduate of area schools, Mrs. Geerts is president of the Holland Chapter of the American Business Women's Association. She is a director of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Chamber of Commerce President's Club and she served as a captain in the United Way campaign for two years. Mrs. Geerts and her husband Sgt. Glenn Geerts have two married children.

Hamilton Board Grants Contract to Local Man

By Ann Hungerford
Sentinel Reporter

HAMILTON—Bowling to vocal pressure and arguments presented by a large number of interested citizens Tuesday night, the Hamilton Board of Education voted unanimously to contract the teaching services of a local man in preference to the applicant recommended by the administration.

Meeting in the high school gymnasium in order to accommodate the approximately 300 electorate who attended the special session, the board took two unanimous roll call votes, the first declining to hire Rick L. Dare, the recommended applicant, and the second to approve the hiring of Loren Joostberns, Hamilton substitute teacher for four years.

The action came following a lengthy session of questions and statements by members of the audience which on occasion took on the atmosphere of a campaign rally in support of the local applicant. Spontaneous applause broke out with each statement of support.

Initially Supt. Gerald Van Wyngarden presented a formal statement prepared by the administration outlining procedures utilized in filling the history post at the high school vacated by Don Buitendorp.

Van Wyngarden stated that Dare had left graduate school in Colorado, his wife vacated a position as dental assistant and the couple rented a home in Hamilton, all action in preparation to begin teaching Sept. 26.

High school principal James Kos described the similar academic qualifications of the two candidates for the post and Van Wyngarden indicated that the recommendations of Dare, a South Bend native and graduate of Western Michigan University, were stronger.

In support of his brother, Duane Joostberns led off the highly emotional public statements by noting that Loren's moral integrity was beyond question and that due to input of the high school faculty, students and members of the community, his brother "is the best qualified for the position."

Fred Johnson, former local businessman, followed with a story about a vigil at the death bed of Joostberns' mother in which he vowed "to pray for the children who were very young." Johnson continued "I think the administration should think things over and I think they would be wise to change their minds."

"If I asked the Lord to stand up for him (Joostberns), He would too."

Pete Grondon, senior at Hamilton, expressed his desire to contract Joostberns who, he said, "made history fun."

After a statement by the administration that Dare had completed 38 credits in his history major and Joostberns, 43 credits, Carl Tidd also queried the board on teaching evaluators.

A member of the Hamilton faculty, Wayne Cotts stated that "we have a known quality in Loren, but an unknown quality in the other person. Why take a chance?"

Local farmer, John Klingenberg, added that "I thought we had a community school. What do you guys know about a guy from Colorado?"

Carol Knoll's challenge that the administration explain what statements and from whom were unfavorable met an administration firm in its decision to protect confidential sources.

Joostberns' other brother, Ron, a teacher at E.E. Fell, stated that his brother's substituting in the district for four years "earned a right to have a pretty good job and a chance to prove himself as a fulltime teacher."

A friend of Joostberns, Kathy Schipper declared that "when my little girl gets to high school, I hope Loren is the teacher."

Mary Sal addressed the board saying "we're not trying to strong-arm you. We're just trying to help you."

In response to Cal Schrotenboer's question on how a "rookie" can be better qualified, Van Wyngarden stated that Dare's student teaching was exemplary and that a person can do an adequate job of subbing, but not necessarily fulltime teaching.

John Van Lente, speaking as a parent and not as a member of the faculty, noted that he would like his children educated by someone who is "a fine person and a fine Christian and whose Christian credentials are displayed in life."

After brief heckling from two members of the audience to move to the microphone when stating his position, Dare stated that "I believe in myself and I mean no malice." Apparently sensing the mood of the community members present and the likelihood that the overwhelming sentiment would determine the decision of the board, Dare explained that he had "looked forward to becoming a member of the community even though my chances now look slim."

Tulip Time Anniversary Chairman Is Don Stoltz

Donald Stoltz has been named chairman of the Tulip Time Board's 50th Anniversary Committee, as announced following the board's Tuesday meeting.

Harry Nelis is the newest member of the board, replacing Bill Smolenski who has been transferred from Holland.

It was also announced Tuesday that the Tulip Time brochure has been sent to the printer.

The exhibition Dutch Dancers have been active. The Holland High group performed at the Whirlpool Corp. picnic and the Christian High group danced for the meeting of the Michigan Historical Society held at Point West. The West Ottawa group will be featured during the visit of the Artrain to Grand Haven in October.

The board has decided that the wooden shoe policy adopted several years ago will remain unchanged.

A Freshman Winner Stands on His Feet

By Ann Hungerford
Sentinel reporter

John Paul didn't "wash out" as so many of the early Pull entrants at Hope College had.

The Holland freshman was determined, if not altogether convinced, he would make the team.

That the 18-year-old competitor stands on two legs, one his own, one artificial, matters not at all to his teammates.

On only one Pull technique did John Paul face difficulties, according to his coaches.

But his spirit, his completely uncrushable spirit, carried him throughout the pull as one of the most vigorous players in the pits.

Born with a birth defect that necessitates an artificial leg, Paul nicknamed himself "Hop-Along" and lettered his blue tee-shirt with the pseudonym.

Firing up his teammates throughout the exhausting four hours, Paul demonstrated the confidence he had expressed during the final days of practice.

Relaxing Wednesday after a rigorous round of calisthenics and work on the rope, Paul recalled that the first few days of running were the toughest. Though because of his leg, he couldn't keep up in pace, he kept up in time.

Commenting on his boisterous spirit Paul chuckled. "I yell and scream to keep from hurting."

"I hope the sophomores lose," someone called to the second-term freshman.

"Don't say it that way. Just say you hope the freshmen win. I don't like to see anyone lose," Paul quickly responded.

A top student Paul graduated early from high school and began his academic career last winter at Hope College.

As a member of the Cosmopolitan fraternity, he understandably takes ribbing from the sophomores. "Actually because I have been here, I know the sophomores better than the freshmen."

"I suffered pain and fatigue every night but it's tapering off," the son of Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Paul said Wednesday adding, in retrospect, that he half-heartedly considered chucking it each night.

A patient periodically at the Shrine Hospital in Chicago for the first 16 years of his life, Paul spent the last two summers working as an orderly and assisting in surgery. His dream is to become a physician.

Paul's morale girl, Jeri Wissink, freshman from Jenison, provided steady support throughout the competition. Paul credits her and the other morale girls with really firing up the contest and keeping the men in good spirits.

"Both teams have respect for each other," he says. "That's something that those who aren't involved fail to see."

Paul said he vowed that if he had been cut, he would have returned to practice with the team and encourage them. It wasn't necessary. He participated as a full team member.

Fighting a cold, Paul speculated that there was little he couldn't do despite an artificial leg. "Of course I can't do the 100 yard dash in eight seconds," he quickly adds.

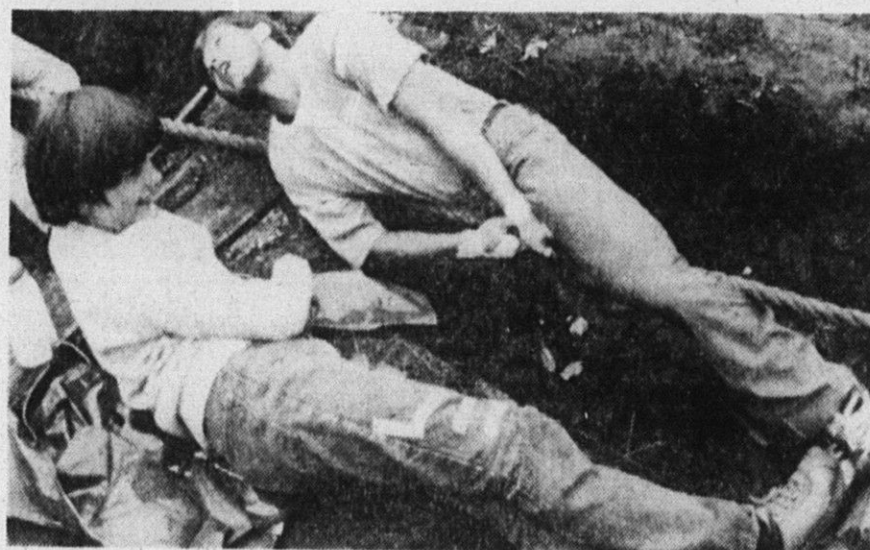

Coach Larry De Vuyst leaves his signal post to encourage the men down the line during the actual pull.

"You can do it, John," he yells. "That's why you are in pit No. 9."

His blue jeans concealing the artificial leg, Paul accomplished his techniques with such ease that only the closest observer could have detected the artificial limb locked in beneath the rope.

Although the pull ended in a draw, it was a victory of sorts for the underdog freshmen. And one young man in particular had the opportunity to stand on his own two feet.

This year the freshmen's strongest link may have worked pit No. 9.

John Paul, in a jubilant moment, is sketched by Doug Irons. Right, Paul strains with encouragement from morale girl, Jeri Wissink.

Weather Cancells Big Parade

ALLEGAN— The big parade was canceled Thursday afternoon after much deliberation, because of a driving rain, slippery conditions for the 40-horse hitch, and lots of mud. A skeleton of the 200-unit parade was presented on the muddy race track Saturday afternoon.

4,000 Attend Two-Day Rock Show

About 4,000 persons attended Holland Tulip City Gem and Mineral Club's eighth annual show Friday and Saturday in Civic Center.

A club spokesman said that attendance was down from last year, mainly because only 800 students were admitted free, as contrasted to 2,600 free student admission last year. Student group attendance was reportedly down because millage failures have limited bus trips in several areas, the spokesman said.

However, club members were reportedly pleased with attendance and enthusiastic interest in the two-day event.

Editorial Commentary

What Price 'Freedom'

The "march on Lansing" by motorcycle operators determined to uphold their right to commit suicide if they like, by neglecting to wear protective helmets, hit a sour note with us.

"Rights" has become an emotionally charged word these days, and one is driven to Chief Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes' dictum, "My right to swing my arm ends at your nose."

Those who maintain that it is their own business if they want to risk serious head injuries in motorcycle crashes verge on the ridiculous. Who will support the victim of a serious motorcycle injury who is crippled for life, or lies in a vegetable state? The taxpayers, of course. And who will support the dependents of such a victim? Again, the obvious answer.

There is a great campaign on all the media now with tearful children asking their daddies to wear seat belts in the automobile voluntarily. The idea is that all the daddies will buckle up properly and save the automobile industry a bundle on installing passive restraints.

In the light of our historical penchant for passionately upholding the right to be fools, the seat-belt plea is going to fall on deaf ears, too.

Again, the support of accident victims and their dependents is now a function of the state, which means all the taxpayers. Thus, it is in the taxpayers' interest to support both the mandatory helmet law, and ultimately, passive restraints in automobiles.

The unthinkable alternative is to deny insurance payments to accident victims found to be helmetless, or not buckled up at the time of the crash, and also to deny public aid to dependents of such victims.

Think about it, all you "rugged individualists." Whose nose are you threatening?

BPW Pushes For Funds

The Holland Board of Public Works and area townships intend to push ahead with plans for an area-wide wastewater treatment collection system and have been granted preliminary approval to intervene in a Detroit case that seeks to block millions of federal dollars for such projects.

BPW general manager Frank Whitney told the BPW board meeting Monday that a hearing is scheduled Thursday in Detroit on final approval for the intervention.

Detroit seeks to impound $400 million allocated for Michigan projects. Whitney said the preliminary approval gives Holland a "foot in the door."

Meanwhile necessary documents and guidelines are being filed by the Oct. 1 deadline according to Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Agency policies for the federal funding.

"By meeting the guidelines hopefully that will put a little check beside our name at the EPA," remarked Whitney.

The BPW intends to meet with Council Wednesday for approval to exercise options to purchase property west of River Ave. along First St. for the expansion of the sewage treatment facilities.

Whitney said the BPW could manage financing of the land acquisition even if the federal funds were not granted and added that the property would be necessary for eventual expansion of the plant.

With the completion of the first two phases of planning for the area-wide system which ends with a complete set of plans and specifications, Whitney said about $1 million in state, federal and local money will have been spent.

The board heard a request from one of the haulers of liquid sludge from the waste treatment plant to increase his charges from $40 a load to $50 a load to meet rising costs. The hauler spreads the liquid on farm land as a nutrient.

Holland EDC Names 9

Nine members of and Economic Development Commission (EDC), a committee used as a means of attracting industry to Holland, were appointed by the Holland City Council meeting Wednesday night in City Hall.

Terry Hofmeyer, city manager, said among the responsibilities the EDC are: review applicants wanting to bring industry to Holland; what the cost of locating companies in the city would be; determining if the industries have the financial capabilities for such location; and recommending to the city council approval of applicants.

Length of terms on the commission and the members are as follows: six years, Randall Vande Water, David Meier, John Fonger and Terry Hofmeyer; Roger MacLeod, five years; Paul Vander Leek, four years; Robert De Young, three years; Robert De Nooyer, two years; Harvey Butler, one year.

Two Hospitalized

The Holland fire department is investigating the cause of a fire which left two in the hospital and an estimated $100,000 damage to four Meadowlane apartments late Thursday evening.

One Holland police officer and four firemen also suffered minor injuries in the fire which broke out around 11 p.m. in the carport of one of the apartments.

The blaze spread quickly through the four apartment units on the westside of the complex after it started near a car belonging to Ignacio Arreola, 1107 Cumberland. When firemen arrived, the townhouses were "well involved in flames," according to one fire investigator. An estimated 35 firemen from the three Holland fire departments and three fire trucks, one aerial tower unit and a rescue truck responded to the fire.

Fire investigators were at the scene this morning trying to find a cause for the blaze.

Listed in good condition in Holland

Hospital with chest pains are two Meadowlane residents Ignacio Arreola, 76, and his wife Frolinda, 71, of 1107 Cumberland. The couple was transported to the hospital by ambulance after the residents of the apartments were safely evacuated by firemen.

One Holland police officer, Cpl. John De Jonge, suffered burns to one of his hands from splattering hot tar. Four Holland firemen were slightly injured from the fire with various cuts and bumps.

Firemen were on the scene until 1:41 a.m.

The blaze heavily damaged apartments occupied by Pierre Khan, 1109 Cumberland; Blaine Pool, 1103 Cumberland; Stanley Ver Burg, and the Arreolas.

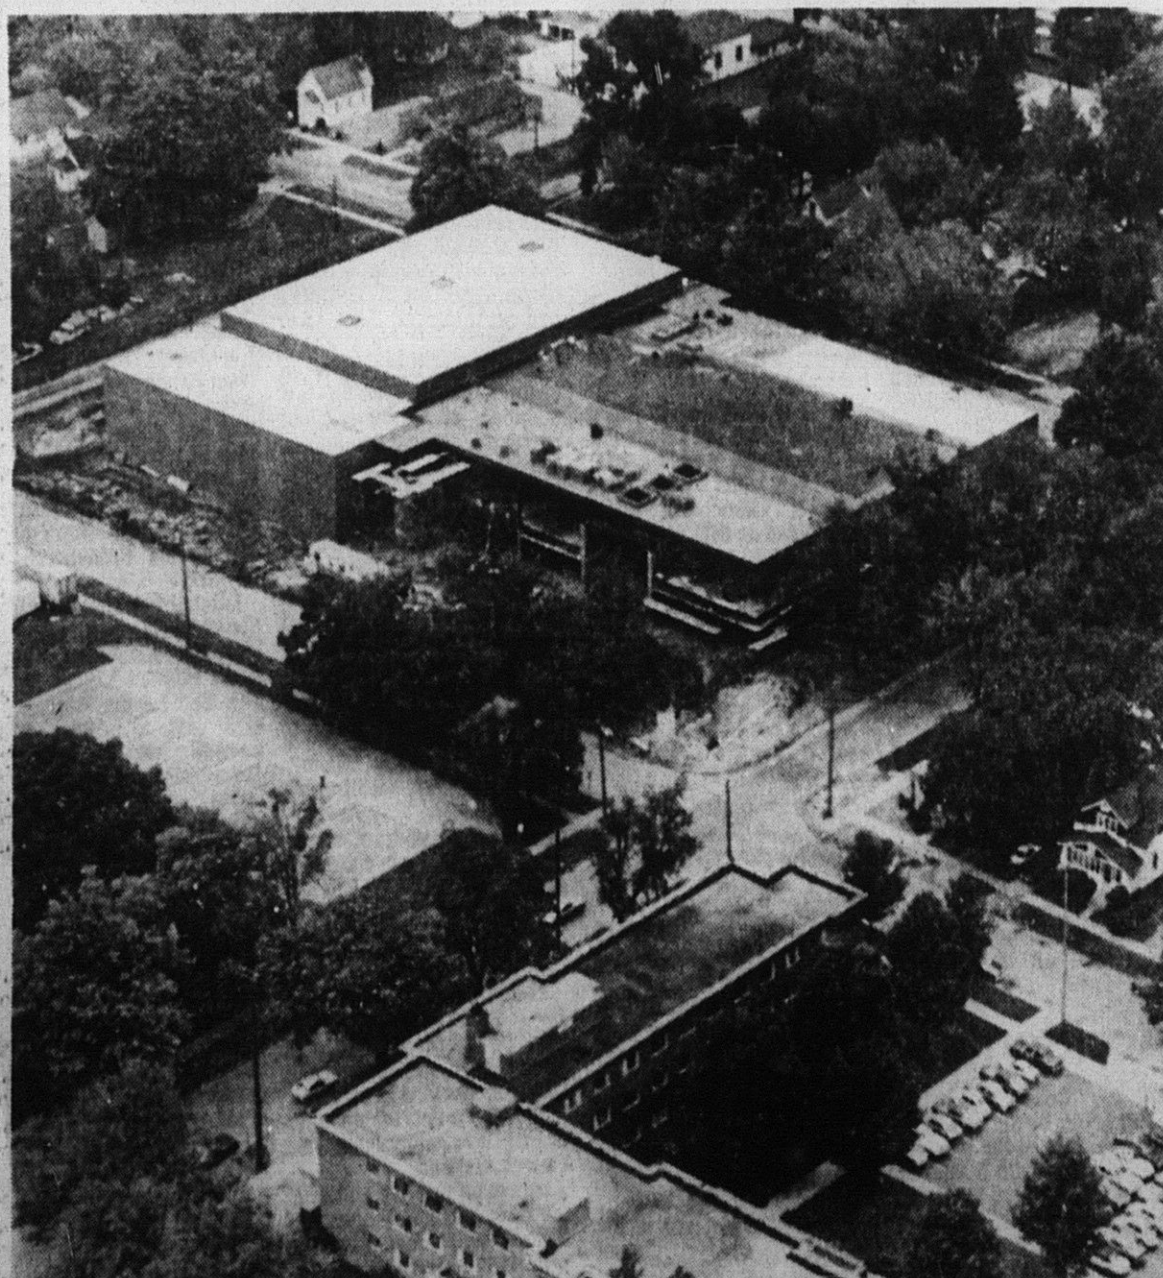

"We're lucky we didn't have more serious problems than we did," Holland fire inspector Dale Myaard said.

The fire department thanked the Salvation Army for providing sandwiches and coffee for the firemen.

Hope Names Building 'Dow Center'

'DOW CENTER'—This is an aerial view of Hope College's new health and physical education center. Dr. Gordon Van Wylen, Hope president, announced today the building will be named the "Dow Health and Physical Education Center." Dr. Van Wylen said an endowment fund for the center has been established by a pledge of $500,000 from the Herbert H. and Grace A. Dow Foundation of Midland. The building is located between 13th and 14th Sts., on Columbia Ave.

Hope College has established an endowment fund for the college's new health and physical education center, College President Gordon J. Van Wylen has announced.

Establishment of the endowment was made possible by a pledge of $500,000 from the Herbert H. and Grace A. Dow Foundation of Midland, Mich., he said.

The pledge brings to $1 million the amount committed by the Dow Foundation to Hope College for the new facility. The Foundation made an initial gift of $500,000 in the spring of 1976 toward construction of the building.

President Van Wylen said the new building, which is expected to be ready for the start of the 1978-79 school year, will be named the "Dow Health and Physical Education Center."

"This is the largest single gift Hope College has ever received for its endowment, and we are especially grateful that it will be used to support the operation of this very fine facility," said President Van Wylen.

"We are pleased that in naming this building we are able to acknowledge the generous support of the Herbert H. and Grace A. Dow Foundation. This building will stand as a tribute to the many contributions the foundation has made to Hope College and other institutions and communities in our state."

The Herbert H. and Grace A. Dow Foundation was established by Mrs. Grace A. Dow in 1936 in memory of her husband, Dr. Herbert H. Dow, founder of The Dow Chemical Company. In 1976 the Foundation contributed nearly $8.4 million to religious, charitable, scientific, literary and educational institutions in Michigan.

The generous support of Hope College alumni, friends, parents, congregations of The Reformed Church in America, and businesses will enable the building to be opened nearly debt-free, according to President Van Wylen.

In addition to the Dow Foundation gifts, three other Michigan-based foundations, the W.K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, the Kresge Foundation of Troy, and the Herrick Foundation of Detroit, provided substantial support toward construction and program.

The $3.6 million health and physical education center is located on the southeast perimeter of the Hope College campus. The building, which has approximately 86,000 square feet, has been designed to be an activity-oriented facility with an emphasis on the multiple use of space, flexibility and economy.

When the building opens, an innovative program will be implemented that combines health fitness and skill development at the undergraduate level. The program will seek to develop the knowledge, habits and skills among Hope students which will lead to a life-long commitment to health fitness.

The new building will replace Carnegie-Schouten gymnasium which was built in 1906 when the college had an enrollment of 400 students. Enrollment at Hope this year is 2,300.

Approve Prison Proposal

ALLEGAN - The Allegan County Board of Commissioners this morning approved the recent agreement between the state and the Prison Action Committee for the state's purchase of the St. Augustine Seminary property for use as a prison.

Two board members, Robert Drew of Fennville, and Louis Ter Avest of Allegan, voted against the agreement.

The agreement allows the county to buy back the prison and surrounding property after four years with a two year extension. The House Appropriations committee approved the agreement earlier and sent the matter to the House.

The county will set up an ad hoc committee composed of not more than 50 per cent of Allegan County Commissioners to study the option. The agreement provides for the county to "make reasonable effort to develop a plan for purchase of the land."

Some commissioners criticised this wording, claiming Allegan County residents may believe the county is going to purchase the 550-acre Lake Michigan tract of land in Laketown township.

"I don't want people to think that we have this money. If we do I would like to know where it is," commissioner Drew said.

"Hopefully, people in Allegan County, particularly in the northwest section, will find the prison is not such a bad thing and hopefully they will find the economic benefits in the Holland area will be beneficial," commissioner Arthur Popp of Otsego said.

Commission chairman James Rolfe, of Allegan, pointed out "If we don't approve a plan the prison will be there permanently."

Other commissioners, while agreeing the county does not have the money available to purchase the property, said they were in favor of the agreement because it provides for a third party purchase.

"I think it is out of the question at this time and I don't think we will ever be able to buy it. The other part of the option provides for a third party purchase," commissioner Kirk White, Hamilton, said.

White added he hoped the county would look for a suitable buyer of the property.

One commissioner from the south end of the county said the prison would benefit the area.

Commissioner Leland Buck of Hopkins was concerned about hidden costs to the county under the agreement, Ter Avest, said attorney Lewis Drain said the county only has to pay a $100 fee.

The other board member who voted against the agreement, Ter Avest, said "If I vote yes, then I am really saying I am in favor of that land for purchase."

Highlights of Allegan County Fair Biggest County Fair

ALLEGAN—By actual count, 196,081 people attended the 1977 Allegan County Fair, establishing it as the biggest county fair in Michigan in attendance, even though it rained six of the nine days.

Tuesday and Thursday were complete rain-outs, and complete sunshine prevailed only on three days, the first Friday, Sunday and Wednesday.

Marriage Licenses

Allegan County Robert Allen Krause, 27, Allegan, and Arlene June Noble, 24, Otsego; Alan Joseph Enos, 28, and Daphne Fell Pender, 22, Saugatuck; Julius Carl Slezak, 48, Kalamazoo, and Constance June Brennan, 48, Allegan; Gerald Clifton Johnson, 41, and Janet Yvonne Cavanaugh, 37, Allegan; Orlo Robert Loos, 44, Saugatuck, and Sharon Lee Leslie, 36, Fennville.

Despite a thunderburst on the final Saturday afternoon, fair officials estimate that the biggest crowd in the fair's 125-year history attended to see the 40-horse hitch perform on the race track, and to attend the Tammy Wynette grandstand shows.

The actual count on Saturday was 37,716, and is estimated to be a larger crowd than that of last year's record audience for the Loretta Lynn shows.

An actual attendance count has never been taken before this year—the fair board hired retirees to count attendance at the gates.

Due to the rains, the big parade was canceled on Thursday, marking the first canceled parade in its 24-year history, and 12 heats of harness races were called off because the track was too muddy.

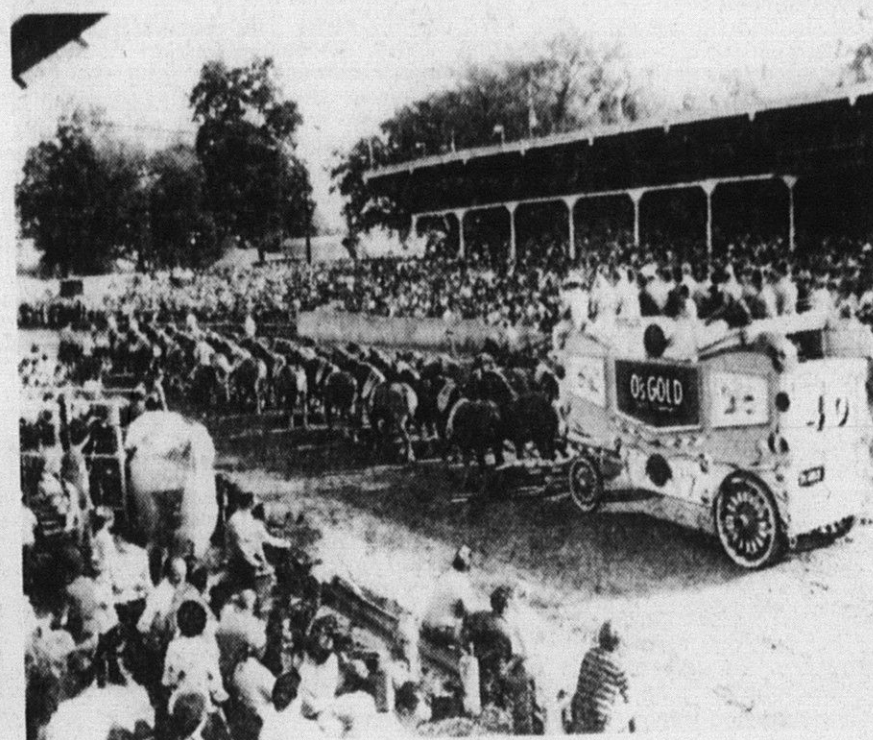

The fair was not as financially successful as past fairs because of weather conditions and the fact that $100,000 was spent this season on improvements on the fairgrounds, according to president Weldon Rumery.

Rumery also announced that the City of Allegan is now tied with Wayland in the number of Harvest Queens—both cities now boast six with this year's selection of Miss Allegan, Cindy Siegler, as 1977's Allegan County representative.

NEW QUEEN CROWNED—Miss Allegan, Cindy Joy Siegler (center), was crowned Allegan County Harvest Queen last week at the Allegan County Fair. Miss Siegler, 19, was one of seven county representatives who entered the pageant. Mary Stenberg (right), Miss Plainwell, was named first runner-up; and Fennville's Tracy Dickinson was selected as second runner-up.

Charles Kuyers, 74

Charles Kuyers, 74, of 363 West 20th St., died Thursday in Holland Hospital following a short illness.

Born in Iowa, he moved to Holland about 65 years ago and owned and operated Kuyers Shoe Store in Zeeland for more than 20 years, retiring in 1971. For the past three years he had worked on maintenance at Resthaven. He was a member of First Reformed Church, its Greater Consistory and was a teacher of the Men's Adult Bible Class at the time of his death. He had been a member of Zeeland Rotary Club for 23 years.

Surviving are his wife, Margaret; a son, Douglas of Defiance, Ohio; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Roger (Isa) Buikema and Joyce Stille Nichols, both of Holland; 12 grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; two brothers, Peter Kuyers of Jenison and Albert of Zeeland and two sisters, Alice and Emma Kuyers, both of Holland.

Popular Children's Librarian Retiring

Mrs. Helen Gibson, children's librarian at Herrick Public Library since 1963, is retiring after many years of service to others.

Fellow staff members will honor her at a farewell tea on Wednesday at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Gibson's dedication to boys and girls pre-dates her library work by several years. She served as a volunteer worker with the American Red Cross and with St. Frances elementary school.

An innovator in children's activities at the library, one of Mrs. Gibson's most-copied ideas has been the library's popular book mark contest in which children designed book marks using their favorite book characters. The best of these were published monthly and distributed to fellow students. Highlight of the contest was the displaying of all the entered book marks—several hundred of them filling an entire wall of the Children's Room.

Reading clubs are far from new at Herrick, but under Mrs. Gibson, they have been extremely popular. Last summer's club had a membership of more than 1,000 children.

Library Director Roger Walcott says that Mrs. Gibson will be missed, not only for the stability and administrative know-how which she brought to the children's department, but for the broad range of activities initiated under her supervision. Among those activities was the beginning of a Children's Newsletter, delivered with reading certificates to about 30 schools following each reading program.

In the pre-school story time which she initiated, as many as 45 pre-schoolers attend the sessions, offered twice each Friday. Along with the children, many mothers gather during the story time to exchange ideas among themselves and with the librarians. Children are often pre-registered for story sessions, and attendance has been kept with identifying novelties such as numbered leaves, boats, windmills and mittens.

Enjoying her work with the children of Holland has been the "biggest reward," according to Mrs. Gibson.

No replacement for Mrs. Gibson has been made.

Church Marker Dedicated

A Michigan Historical Marker was dedicated and unveiled at Graafschap Christian Reformed Church, Sunday, following the church's morning service.

Willard C. Wichers gave the authorization for the Michigan Historical Commission and John H. Koeman, vice president of the consistory unveiled the marker and read the inscription which follows: "Erected in 1862, this church was the center of the Dutch immigrant community. The first settlers in this area arrived in early 1847 led by the Rev. Albertus C. Van Raalte. In June of that year a separate group of seventy people from Graafschap, Benthem, near the Dutch border, founded this village which they named Graafschap. Joined by thirty-four other immigrants from Drente, The Netherlands, the villagers shared common religious views and spoke similar dialects. Before erecting a log church in 1849 near this site, these early settlers attended services conducted by Van Raalte in nearby Holland. Graafschap followed Van Raalte's example by affiliating with the Reformed Church in America in 1850. Seven years later the congregation severed that tie and reasserted its independence.

"Those who established this church were among thousands of Europeans who sought to escape religious and political persecution and economic depression by immigrating to America in the 1840s. Later Graafschap was one of the founding members of the Christian Reformed Church which bound itself closely to Dutch customs and ways of thinking, as evidenced by the fact this church's parishioners continued to speak Dutch for two generations. This structure is made of hand-hewn timber and one of the roof beams spans its entire length. Although modified by the addition of educational facilities in 1922 and expansion of the entry in 1937 and 1949, the main church structure remains intact. The Graafschap Christian Reformed Church is a noteworthy symbol of continuity in what is still a predominately Dutch-German-American community."

The marker also indicates that the church is Registered Local Site No. 483.

Bernard Den Ouden, current pastor; the Rev. Jim Lont, a former pastor of the church; Willard Wichers of the Michigan Historical Commission and John Koeman, vice president of the church's consistory.

Fall Sports Report at Holland

Shoots for Third

Scott Hoover, second year golf coach at Holland, is shooting for a third position in the Big Eight race this fall.

"This is definitely a rebuilding year for us, as we only return two people in Dan De Pree and Rod Dalman," said Hoover.

"Battle Creek Lakeview and Niles are probably our two toughest league opponents."

Making up the this fall's team besides De Pree and Dalman are Tom Slenk, Rob Bolman, Ken Stam, John Van Zanten, Jeff Moes, Brian Schipper, Rob Price, Brian Wheelwright, Mike Vandenberg, Rich Ter Haar, Scott Van Dyke, Dave Trask, Jeff Nyland, John Feininger, Dan Kempker, Charlie Brown, Kelly Drooger and Jim Von Ins.

Hoover pointed out that he has only three seniors, seven sophomores and 10 juniors on his 20-man squad.

Return 4 Starters

Holland's girls' basketball team returns from starters from last year's 7-11 club. The four include rugged rebounder Kerri Israels, Margie Helton, Kathy Kampen and Sue Kampen.

Up from the successful reserve squad which was 13-5 are Cindy Holtgeerts, Wendy Larsen, Kim Pippel, Kerri Schipper, Linda Smeenge, Vickie Sisson, Paula Van Dyke and Teri Werley. Seniors also on the team are Sherry Israels, Wendy Lokker and Angie Medina.

"Our toughest league competition will come from Kalamazoo Loy Norrix," insisted Coach Virginia Borgman. "We're looking forward to our season with enthusiasm."

We have depth on the bench and expect good team play."

Taking over as reserve coach is Carol Klompars, who played four years at the University of Michigan. Klompars was also a standout at Holland.

School Building Slowed

Construction of the new junior high school near Plasman Ave. and west 24th St. was three to four weeks behind schedule but officials told the Holland Board of Education at its meeting Monday night that the time lag can be made up.

Cassius McGrew, construction manager for Elzinga & Volkens, said the delay was caused by bad weather and slowness in delivering windows.

The west units were under roof with walls of the other units, including the cafeteria, about half completed.

Drainage ditches have been dug along the south and west sides of the athletic field and a decision will be made in the spring on whether to install drain tiles.

A public hearing on a proposed policy manual and code of working relationships was held with questions asked by Barbara Magsig, president of the Holland Education Association, and teacher Roger Plagenhoef.

The board said it would consider the questions generally concerning interpretation of certain words or phrases which could affect teachers.

The policy handbook follows 18 months of study and was done with Ernest Britton of the University of Michigan and reflects years of board decisions of record.

Improved Runners

The hard working Holland cross country Coach Walt Kooyer, is excited about his 1977 team.

"This is without a doubt, the best team we've had at Holland in years," Kooyer commented. "In Frank Yarde, we have one of the top 15 runners in the state. Dave Fik has competed for us three years on the varsity."

"I expect us to be in the top three in the league," added Kooyer. Loy Norrix and Portage Northern are also very strong."

Seniors besides Yarde and Fik are Randy DePree, Dave Vander Kooij, Gary Van Ravenswaay and Noah Dolley. Juniors are Jim Doherty, Marc Zigerman, Tim Laman, Rob Carragello, Joe Morales, Tony Martinez, Robert Nava, Joe Saldivar and Cal DeMaagd.

Sophomores are Brooks Hardenberg, Scott Appledorn, Elizer Reyes, Tom Thomas, Pete Ressique and Glenn McClure.

Two State Champs

The girls' tennis team has two 1976 state singles champions back in Patty Gogolin in flight 2 and in Kelli Driesenga in flight 3.

Also returning are Laurie Feenstra, Sue Kuipers, Jennifer Rindge and Lisa Paaue. Others on the team are Barb Bradford, Lynn Douma, Pat Kuna, Nan Marsh, Laurie Meiste, Brenda Mulder, Peg Pointer, Karen Risselada, Kim Vander Bie, Cindy Cook, Claire Ihrman, Sandy Klenk, Michelle Vander Ploeg, Mary Jane Workman, Kim Beyer, Terese Long, Peg Penna, Judy Rindge, Linda Ross, Kathy Stillwell, Karen Tysse and Erica Vander Peyl.

The five-year record of Coach Dwayne (Tiger) Teusink stands at 57-13. Last year's team was 14-5. Gogolin's two-year varsity mark entering the season is a fantastic 43-6. Driesenga also carries a brilliant 46-4 record.

Holland will be hosting a rugged Invitational on Oct. 1. Portage Northern, the defending Class A champion and Kingswood-Cranbrook, the 1976 B state champ along with Grosse Pointe Liggett, state B runners-up and East Grand Rapids, the third place finisher, will appear in the six-way round robin tourney.

Teusink said that Liggett will stay over night with the local girls.

"Portage Northern is obviously the team to beat in the Big Eight," Teusink stated. "Hopefully we can catch them with a healthy Paaue, the next time we play them."

Seek Crown

A third straight Big Eight Conference title is the No. 1 goal for the Dutch girl tankers.

Barb Bos returns to her sixth year as head mentor.

Gary Cole is diving coach. "With a group of 12 returning varsity winners, including some of the best individuals in Holland swimming, we begin the season very optimistically," Bos replied. "Our strongest league competition will come from Battle Creek Lakeview, St. Joseph and Portage Northern."

Outside the league, the Dutch will be tested by East Grand Rapids, the defending Class B runners-up champions. Milan, the B winners, was scheduled to swim here against the Dutch but cancelled because of a change in the Dutchville Relay date.

The Dutch also hope to improve upon last year's eighth place finish in the tough Class A state meet which will be held at Western Michigan University this year.

Returning state meet qualifiers from a year ago are Dawn Mugg, Julie Bauman, Anne Carey, diver-Julie Serr, Beth Terpstra and Sally Van Duren.

Chix Tear Godwin, 38-0

By Maurice Evans

Sentinel Reporter

ZEELAND — It was a long evening Friday for Godwin football fans as the Zeeland Chix mauled the Wolverines 38-0 to even their O-K White Division record at 1-1 and boost their season mark to 2-1 while Godwin fell to 0-3.

Led by the rushing performance of fullback Brad Kraai, who gained 162 yards on 17 carries and scored two touchdowns, the Chix scored in the opening minutes by capitalizing on a Wolverine fumble and went on to dominate the entire game.

Zeeland's Scott DeJonge recovered the Godwin fumble on the Wolverines 30-yard line on the first play from scrimmage. Chix quarterback Roger Elenbaas moved the ball to the six on a 24 yard scamper and two plays later Elenbaas scored on a quarterback sneak with only 1:26 gone.

Less than three minutes later Kraai scored the second Chix touchdown going 40-yards off left tackle, shifting to his right and side stepping the last Wolverine defender making it 12-0.

Second quarter play saw

Elenbaas score his second of three touchdowns during the night on a five-yard sweep to his left making it 19-0 with 5:29 left in the half.

Any yards gained in the game by Godwin were earned as the Chix' hard-boiled defense only gave up one first down in the first half and six for the entire game. Linebacker Chuck Kraai headed the Zeeland defense with 12 tackles as the onrushing brown and gold Chix line sent Godwin's quarterbacks and running backs scrambling all night.

Zeeland marched 58-yards on the opening series in the third quarter that included the final four yard trap play by Elenbaas making it 25-0. The Chix's final score in the third stanza was set up by Tom Hop's 35-yard punt return to Godwin's 48. With the help of two unopposed line conduct penalties against the Wolverines, including the ejection of the Godwin head coach, Zeeland found themselves on the two-yard line where Kraai went over for the score.

Zeeland's final score came in the fourth quarter on a pitchout from quarterback John Klamt to back Carlos Alfarez who ran for the nine-yard touchdown. Klamt shifted to quarterback in the final stanza after playing tailback most of the game as Chix head coach Bob Lamer substituted freely in the second half.

"Everybody came out hitting tonight," said Lamer. "We took control of the game from the start."

Lamer noted the play of Brad and Chuck Kraai and had praise for two offensive tackles. "Tim VanDyke and Kurt Brinks opened the holes for the backs to go through," Lamer said.

Zeeland will head for another tough conference clash next Friday as the Chix travel to Forest Hills with game time slated for 7:30 a.m.

Saugatuck Edges Rival

By Ann Hungerford

Sentinel Reporter

ALLEDALE—Although the Allendale Falcons managed to pick up the only scoring against the tough Saugatuck Indians in three games this season, they couldn't muster the offense needed to win.

The 8-6 victory for his Indians in Falcon country Saturday afternoon put a broad grin on coach Jack Lampen's face.

For five straight years his team fell victim to traditional rival Allendale, making this year's conquest all the sweeter.

"Our defense played well," Lampen stated after the victory and named senior Kyle Burkett and junior Robert Rank as sparking the defensive squad with key interceptions.

Near the close of the half and final quarter Saugatuck picked off passes by Allendale's Jerry Rotman, both passes intercepted near the goal line and both potential scores.

In facing their toughest foe in three games, Saugatuck failed to generate their now typical insurmountable scoring attack.

A touchdown by Allendale midway in the first quarter jarred the Indians into an immediate response, generating their own six points on the next possession and adding two.

Allendale's interception of a Burkett pass set up a short drive and a Jerry Rotman to Scott Geurink 17-yard pass to the end zone. Allendale faked a point after but failed to complete the pass.

The Falcon's on-side kick attempt was recovered by Saugatuck on the 45 allowing the Indians good field position for their only scoring of the afternoon.

Fullback Bill Sparks pulled free for a thundering 35 yard run into the end zone and padded the score with a rush for two points.

Though the scoring ended in the first quarter the game provided drama and action through the succeeding three quarters.

A 68-yard punt by Allendale senior Scott Geurink rolled into the end zone for a touch back.

Saugatuck opened the second half with a second-down 36-yard keeper by Burkett, a drive that ended with Saugatuck attempted to run on a fourth down.

Burkett's interception of an Allendale pass with only seconds remaining gave the Indians possession and the game.

Saugatuck travels to Covert Friday for a 7:30 p.m. game.

Fire Station Pact Changed

A $6,082 additional construction cost for the building of the new fire station at 273 Kollen Park Drive and a 60 day extension on the completion date were approved by the Holland City Council meeting Wednesday night in City Hall.

The additional expense for the fire station involves sidewalk, curb and gutter installation adjacent to the site. Overall cost of the project is $557,866 with an estimated $577,093 made possible for the station by a federal grant.

The 60 day extension was asked by Highland Construction Co., general contractor for the project, because of set backs caused by extensive rainfall and other delays. The revised completion date is Dec. 16, 1977.

In connection with the new fire station, the council approved several traffic revisions affecting driving on Kollen Park Drive, 11th and 12th Streets and Van Raalte Avenue. The city police department's traffic safety unit recommended the changes to assure safety for citizens and firefighting personnel and equipment after investigating traffic conditions in the vicinity of the new facility.

The revisions are as follows: Kollen Park Drive, no parking for 20 feet on both sides of the main entrance to the station and for approximately 280 feet on the north side of the street opposite the fire station; 12th Street, no parking for approximately 35 feet on the north side of the street, between the parking lot entrance and the main apparatus entrance and on the north side of the street for a distance of 20 feet east of the main entrance.

A double-head traffic signal will be installed at the intersection of Van Raalte Avenue and 11th St. with a flashing caution signal for traffic on Van Raalte and red stop light for drivers on 11th. A signal would be activated from the station when equipment would be approaching the intersection giving the firefighters a green light while heading east on 11th and all other traffic at the intersection a red stop signal.

A no right turn sign will be installed on Van Raalte Avenue for traffic turning onto 11th and signs will be placed on Van Raalte warning traffic of the emergency signal at the 11th Street intersection.

A revision of the compensation plan for volunteer firemen and the Board of Public Works received approval from the council. An increase of $100, from $1,500 to $1,600, in annual pay was granted to volunteer firemen answering calls to industrial blazes while men fighting suburban fires got a pay increase yearly of $65 from $1,000 to $1,065.

The revised vacation schedule approved calls for five weeks vacation after 25 years of service.

Hope College Awarded Challenge Grant

Hope College has been awarded a $50,000 challenge grant by the National Endowment for the Humanities for support of the college's libraries and foreign languages and literature department.

Announcement of the grant was made by Robert J. Kingston, acting chairman of the endowment.

Dr. Jacob E. Nyenhuis, Dean for the Humanities, will serve as director of the project which will be entitled "Languages and Libraries: Keystone of the Humanities at Hope College."

Under the terms of the grant, Hope is expected to raise an additional $150,000 in matching funds within the next two years.

"The new funding which this challenge grant will generate will give a tremendous boost to the humanities," said Dean Nyenhuis. "Without a strong humanities program, a college cannot legitimately claim to be a good liberal arts college. And since libraries are the major repositories of humanistic knowledge, they are the humanist's laboratory. We cannot effectively do our scholarly research or our teaching unless we have considerable depth in our library holdings, but the high rate of inflation in the publishing industry has seriously impaired our ability to keep pace with the acquisition of books and journals."

During the past three fiscal years, the increased costs for faculty, staff and the supplying of energy have contributed to a decline in the libraries' share of the total educational and general budget.

"This grant should help us to reverse this dangerous trend," said Dean Nyenhuis.

The libraries' share of the new funds will be used not only to increase holdings but also to add a critically needed new professional librarian and to provide for such necessary renovations as air conditioning or a similar ventilating system, carpeting, and an adequate security system.

"The environment in which our faculty and students work is likewise very important," said Dean Nyenhuis.

The grant and matching funds will also underwrite newly-filled positions in the French and Classics departments.

"I do not believe that you can have an excellent humanities program unless you have a strong and dynamic language program," Nyenhuis said. "For too long our country has foolishly been heading down the path toward cultural isolation and linguistic insularity. The study of other languages and other cultures is absolutely essential at a time when global interdependence is such an obvious reality. Language embodies the highest aspirations and the deepest sufferings of mankind, it alone can bridge the gap between individuals and nations, for it is the unique key which unlocks the door to understanding the essence of another culture, he asserted.

Nyenhuis became humanities dean in July, 1974, after serving for 13 years on the faculty of Wayne State University, including 10 years as both chairman of the department of Greek and Latin and the director of the liberal arts honors program.

Since coming to Hope he has been project director for two separate grants to the College from the Michigan Council for the Humanities totalling more than $12,000 and two grants from Region XIV Council for the Aging. In Nov. 1976, he was appointed to the board of directors of the Michigan Council for the Humanities. In that position he shares in the responsibility for deciding how to dispense approximately $600,000 in federal funds to increase public awareness of and appreciation for the role of the humanities in the shaping of public policy.

Allegan Glory Short

By Steve Spalding
Sentinel Reporter

ALLEGAN — It was nice while it lasted. For a few minutes in the first quarter it looked as though the winless Allegan Tiger football team might upset unbeaten Three Rivers.

But despite being stunned by an early Allegan touchdown - the Tiger's first of the year - the Three Rivers Wildcats came back to hand the home team its third straight loss of the year 33-6.

Joe Ghera scored four of the five Three Rivers' touchdowns, two coming on offense and scoring two while he was on defense.

But the well-disciplined Wildcats went to its star All-State candidate halfback Bart Haines to lead Three Rivers to its third win and third conference game of the season.

Haines, an All-Wolverine conference back last year, rolled up 201 yards on the ground on 20 carries before being taken out in the final quarter. The hard-running halfback was most impressive in the first half, rushing for 151 yards on 13 carries for over 11 yards a run.

However, at the start of the game, Haines looked as though he might turn out to be the goat of the game. He fumbled early in the first quarter on the Wildcats' 23-yard line to set up Allegan's score.

On the Tiger's third play after the turnover, halfback Irvin Little ran 17 yards over the right side for the Allegan Tigers' only touchdown of the season.

But the experienced Wildcats did not choke as they took the ensuing kickoff and marched 53 yards to score. The Wildcats ran up most of the drive on the ground, but scored on quarterback Mark Yoder's first pass of the game, a 15-yard toss to Ghera. Jeff Brueck kicked the extra point to put the Wildcats out in front, where they remained the rest of the contest.

Haines made up for his early mistake later in the first quarter by scoring on a 56-yard run up the middle. The halfback had two touchdowns called back in the second quarter because of penalties.

Three Rivers' third touchdown of the game came on a blocked Allegan punt. Ghera picked up the pigskin to run 16 yards for his second touchdown of the game.

In the second half, Ghera capped a 53-yard drive by scoring his third touchdown of the game on a one-yard dive.

The Allegan defense keyed on Haines in the second half and was able to limit his rushing, but the halfback still managed to rip off a 37-yard run.

Ghera's final score came on a 21-yard interception run with no time left on the clock.

Timber: Girls at Work

By Ann Hungerford
Sentinel Reporter

A little retaliation is good for the body. Or so the boys think. Working as earnestly as their male counterparts did earlier in the afternoon, the 18 Hope College freshmen women, alias morale girls, toppled a towering oak at the Pull practice field Wednesday.

Well actually it was more like a limb. Okay...really a branch.

The boys enjoyed the role-reversal shenanigans as much as the girls.

To understand the pain the young men endure in the Pull pits, freshman coaches urged the women to give it a try.

With the 2½ inch rope supposedly lashed around a tree trunk, the girls pulled with little success. Without warning, a final mighty heave suddenly uprooted the bush and a dozen and a half blue-jeaned-bottoms bit the mud.

Preparations for the fairer sex's day on the ropes lacked the vigor displayed by the men in 2½ weeks' training.

Good athletes always warm up before participating and the women jumped into the activity...with finger calisthenics...counted in multiples of ten.

"Water...water..." the ladylike competitors bellowed.

"Morale boys," they demanded repeatedly.

One unsportsmanlike male headed for the tape supply suggesting "let's tape their mouths."

The "weaker sex" retreated to the pits.

And never mind, guys, that in order to bolster your egos, the gals sawed ever so slightly through the tree trunk...guaranteeing success on the practice line.

Girls. They just make Pulling more fun.

Pull Ends in Draw and Darkness

By Ann Hungerford
Sentinel reporter

By midnight coaches of the Hope College pull teams reported their combatants were "feeling no pain."

Spirits were soaring and foamy despite the draw called after the historic four-hour match Friday.

Freshman anchorman Paul De Young, limping slightly on his swollen bare feet, expressed little concern for his numb thighs. "Been numb for three weeks," he joked after the only draw in the 80-year history of the pull across Macatawa River.

As jubilant as his teammates for tying the older, more experienced sophomores who boasted 13 of 18 pitmen as returnees, De Young was indulging in a little well-earned revelry and speculating that he might return next year.

"I'd rather be anchorman," he explained, "because my hips can take it better than my hands."

For the sophomores the draw decision was met with slightly less than total enthusiasm.

Coach for the sophomores Brian Hipwell expressed pride in his team, admitting minimal depression at not winning outright.

"When the pull was called," Hipwell stated, "we were on offense. After 3½ hours we came back hard."

Both teams claimed to be on the verge of victory but the lead sawed back and forth during the final hour.

And coaches for both teams admitted that the decision to call the match was in the best interest of players.

If the sophomores initial attitude was to "get it over and drink beer," they were surprised by a strategy-conscious frosh squad determined to win.

Freshman coaches explained that strategy was to lock in and hold the larger sophomores for lengthy periods. "It takes much more energy to throw a heave than to lock in and strain," freshman coach Tim Pfeiffer said.

It apparently does.

By 6:30 the frosh started a major drive and at 7:30 had taken a commanding lead only to see the sophomores regain ground and retrieve the lost rope.

Announcement to the freshman first that the contest had been called, produced a confused response to the uninformed sophomores who reeled in the dropped out with the enthusiasm of winners.

It was not to be. The sophomores were informed of the decision.

"It's not a game...it's the real things," the competitors were challenged throughout the long late afternoon and evening.

The real thing produced signal callers with taped hands to fingers allowing clearer visibility of signals for participants.

Maybe it the prone position taken by freshman morale girls which allowed for greater head-to-head encouragement that gave the freshman the unexpected drive and stamina. Sophomore morale girls sat alongside their pullers.

Something fired-up the traditionally underdog freshmen...and it was probably the spirit and determination of the coaches, young men who had lost themselves as sophomores.

Unlike to so many of the other years, not one player from either team was hospitalized for collapse and total mental and physical exhaustion.

They had spent their previous three weeks in training.

Freshman Judy Giannasca learns the ropes in an exchange of aches and pains with the pull team at a practice session Wednesday. Prior to pulling the morale girls practice leg lifts, chorus-line-fashion.
