PRINCIPAL RIEMERSMA MAKES ALL MARRIED TEACHERS STAND

It has been customary in the high school in introducing new teachers to the pupils to ask them to get up and show themselves.

Principal Riemersma when calling the names of the new teachers of the high school the other day also called off the names of two teachers who went and got married shortly before school opened but had been instructors for some time in the local high school.

Miss Rhea East is now Mrs. Monroe, and Miss Esther Severance has changed her name to Mrs. Andrews.

When these ladies got up it was a moment for applause and a broad smile on the part of the pupils.

These two teachers will have their hands full for the next year at least first managing their husbands and doing likewise with the high school pupils.

CHRISTIAN REFORMED PAPER COMES OUT FOR CARL E. MAPES

STATES THAT MR. MAPES IS WORTHY OF OUR LOYAL SUPPORT

In a recent issue of the Banner, English organ of the Christian Reformed church printed in Grand Rapids, that paper comes out in no uncertain language in favor of Carl E. Mapes, our congressman from the Fifth District.

In a long interview given by Mr. Mapes, printed in the Banner, he states that the Volstead law is a national institution and as part of our constitution we have no right to violate it and that disobedience of any law or making a joke of the constitution means the undermining of our national well being.

The Banner states that the wets are purporting to put up a candidate against each member of congress who voted for prohibition, but, they state that Mr. Mapes refused to be intimidated and as a good American he believes in upholding our constitution of which the 18th amendment now is an integral part.

After the interview the Banner comes out as follows: "Now, people, let us stand by Mr. Mapes. He is worthy of our loyal support as a man and as our representative.—Editor."

WEDNESDAY TO BE HOLLAND DAY AT THE FAIR

Wednesday, September 13, a week from Wednesday, will be Holland Day at the Community fair. On that day the merchants of Holland will close their places of business and go out to have a good time at the fair. Both merchants and clerks will be ready to enjoy an afternoon of genuine pleasure together and no business will be done in the city while they are out seeing the races and the other attractions at the fair. Cards will be placed in the windows of the stores announcing that the stores will be closed that afternoon so that all patrons of the stores may provide themselves beforehand with what they need.

On Wednesday noon the merchants will gather in a body at the city hall and march to the fair grounds in parade formation. They will be headed by the band and it is expected that the parade will be a long one.

These plans were made Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Merchants' Association held in the city hall.

The following election inspectors have been appointed to serve at the primary election next Tuesday: 1st ward, Jacob Lokker; 2nd, F. Stansbury; 3rd, Herman Garvelink; 4th, G. Woltman; 5th, John Dobben; 6th, Peter Wierda.

AN INCREASE OF 85 PUPILS IN OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

SUPERINTENDENT FELL GIVES DETAILED ACCOUNT OF EACH AND EVERY SCHOOL

Approximately Twenty New Teachers Are Given Positions This Year

Superintendent Fell of the Public schools in an interview states that the total number of pupils enrolled this year is 2,495, 85 more than in 1921 when the enrollment was 2,411.

There is a slight decrease in some of the grade schools, however, there is a big increase in the high school, the increase being 79 or a total of 545 on the first day enrollment.

No doubt there will be many more to enroll as some of them are still working out summer jobs and others are absent from the city.

Then too there is an epidemic of whooping cough and not a few are confined to their homes.

Mr. Fell states that one new teacher has been added to the high school staff and possibly another will be placed later on.

According to the enrollment each school figures up as follows:

Washington	306
Van Raalte	316
Longfellow	276
Lincoln	306
Freobel	336
Junior High	406
High School	545

The following is a list of the teachers who have accepted positions in our public schools and also the names of those instructors whose places they have taken.

In Washington school the new teachers are Miss Alice White and Miss Mildred Barber who take the places of Miss Nita Payne and Mrs. Rena McLean, respectively.

Miss Mildred Magill who taught in the Washington school last year has resigned her position there and accepted a position as instructor in the high school at Champagne, Ill. Mrs. Wm. Westveer is filling her place temporarily.

In the Van Raalte school Miss Irhman, who teaches the 6th grade, will be principal in the place of Miss Cathcart who resigned, while Miss Catherine Windisch will fill the position of kindergarten teacher, which place was formerly filled by Miss Cathcart, while principal, Mrs. Stanaway, formerly teacher in Lincoln school has been transferred to the Van Raalte school as teacher of the 5th grade in place of Miss Ames.

In the Longfellow school the new principal is Miss Dora Strowenians who last year taught arithmetic at the Junior High school. She takes the place of Miss Cora DeWitt who became a bride during the summer.

Miss Ruth Mulder takes the place of Miss Hamilton, who is also married, while Miss Corral Gormell, last year at Lincoln school, takes the place formerly filled by Miss McCall.

Miss Ruth Barber has accepted the position formerly held by Miss Helen Severance who was married last spring while Miss Helen Dukesherer is kindergarten teacher in the place of Miss Bernice Brooks, who has also been married.

In Lincoln school two of the young ladies who taught last year have been married during the summer. They are Miss Evelyn Keppel, former teacher of the kindergarten whose place has been taken by Miss Mary Porter, and Miss Gertrude De Witt whose place has been filled by Miss Margaret Lange.

The Misses Eva Clock, Vera Althuis, Mildred Fox, and Jean Borgards have taken the places of Mrs. Stanaway, Miss Gormell, Miss Flood, and Miss Dyke respectively.

At Froebel school Miss Butler has accepted the position formerly held by Miss Binns. Miss Sprietsma is the new kindergarten teacher in place of Miss Ewall, while Miss Wiggins is teacher of the second grade in place of Miss Mabelle Mulder.

At Junior High school, Mr. Martin D. Bos is filling the place formerly held by Miss Mary Kronemeyer, who recently became a bride.

At the High school the new teachers are: Mr. C. J. Leddick in the physical science department; Miss Stella Higgins in the Natural science department, and Miss Beatrice Osborne who has taken the position of physical instructor for girls in the place of Miss Edith Connors.

TO PAVE SINGLE BLOCK ON SEVENTEENTH ST.

COUNCIL GRANTS REQUEST OF PROPERTY OWNERS ON THAT STREET

The block on 17th street between River and Central avenues will be paved. This was decided last night by the common council when the committee on streets and crosswalks brought in a favorable report on a petition by the property owners asking that this paving be done.

The petition was signed by practically all the property owners in the block.

This paving will connect the paving of the Pike road with the paving on Central avenue, making a loop. It is to make this connection that the paving will be done. The total cost will be $4,464.70, and the date for hearing was set for October 4.

MAYOR ASKS COUNCIL TO ADOPT DEFINITE PAVING SCHEDULE

SAYS PRESENT SYSTEM DOES NOT WORK OUT WELL IN PRACTICE

Mayor Stephan wants the common council to adopt a scientific paving schedule, instead of doing the work on present plan of waiting for petitions. As things are now, it is a case of watchful waiting on the part of the aldermen, the theory being that the council shall not take the initiative but shall take action only when the property owners along a street have entered a formal petition.

The mayor believes that that system does not work out well in practice. In a little talk to the aldermen Wednesday night he said that the street paving should not be done in this haphazard fashion but that there should be a definite plan so that the streets that need paving most may be paved first. Under the present system, he said, some streets remain unpaved merely because the property owners do not see fit to petition, altho they need paving badly. He suggested that the aldermen know which streets in Holland need paving most and that the work should be done on those streets.

Mr. Stephan asked the street committee to get busy right now on the plans for next summer's paving. He requested them to bring in a report soon as to which streets should be finished next year. Then the council can go ahead, vote the paving done and make all the necessary arrangements. That will give time during the winter months to hold the necessary hearings of the property owners and to argue out the kind of paving to be used. Then bright and early next spring all the preliminary work will be out of the way and the actual paving operations can begin.

It was suggested by the mayor and some of the aldermen that College avenue, Columbia avenue and 16th street need paving most urgently, and it seems likely that the committee will soon bring in a report recommending that these streets be paved.

POSTPONE ACTION ON BLOM POOL ROOM

Will Blom will have to wait some time longer before he can re-open his pool room on River avenue. The committee appointed to investigate the matter brought in a report to the council Wednesday evening recommending that the matter be held in abeyance for a while. It was not stated how long this will be but the prospects do not seem bright for reopening the pool room in the near future. The impression was left by the committee's report that the committee would take its time before taking definite action. The report was approved by the council.

PLAN TO SECURE PICTURES OF ALL THE EX-MAYORS

Mayor Stephan Wednesday night presented to the common council an enlarged photograph of the late Dr. O. E. Yates, former mayor of Holland, presented by Mrs. Yates thru Mrs. W. H. Beach. The picture was accepted by the council and will be placed in the city hall's "hall of fame."

Photographs are now being secured of all the ex-mayors of the city. They will be placed in uniform frames and will be uniform in size. In some case where it is not possible to secure an enlarged photograph from the family or descendants, the committee on public buildings and property will be authorized to have the small photographs enlarged. At the bottom of each picture will be given a plate with the names and years that the person served the city as chief executive.

GRAND HAVEN HAS ONE FIRE CALL AND VERY FEW DRUNKS IN AUGUST

During the past month of August the Grand Haven Fire department received a grand total of one fire call, this being to a grass fire. The record at headquarters also states that there was no loss or damage, truly an excellent record for this city. The police have been much more active but that is to be expected and on the roll for them other offenses fail to show up with the exception of speeding which accounted for more than half of the arrests of the month.

The police picked up 23 in arrests on various charges. They also had several sensational calls which gave them great activity. The Caspersen holdup of several weeks ago gave to them a wide field of activity while the nabbing of speed law violators always gives trouble. Contrary to expectation the arrests for drunkenness and violation of the liquor law are negligible amounting to but two for the intoxicated and one for violation of the prohibition law. Twelve were arrested for assault and battery and one each for the following crimes: careless driving, passing a standing street car, selling cigarettes to minors, selling soft drinks without a license, parking without lights and driving while under the influence of liquor.—G. H. Tribune.

CITY TO VOTE ON NEW HOSPITAL IN NOVEMBER

QUESTION WILL BE SUBMITTED TO THE PEOPLE AT REGU-LAR ELECTION

Board Issue Will Be For $175,000; Hospital to Be On the Present Site

The people of Holland are to vote again on the proposal to bond the city for a new hospital at the November election. This was decided upon by a unanimous vote of the aldermen Wednesday evening when a special committee made its report on what committee action had been taken.

The committee, appointed some time ago met with the hospital board several times in order to work out plans whereby Holland can secure a hospital that shall be adequate to its growing needs. The congestion in the present hospital continues and all those who are acquainted with the situation know that a new hospital, with more room and better facilities, is one of the crying needs of the city.

A year or two ago when the question was voted on and defeated a special committee drew up plans and worked out a scheme whereby Holland would get an adequate institution at a cost not to exceed $175,000. The present committee went into the situation very carefully and discussed the matter with the hospital board from all angles, but finally came to the conclusion that they could not do better than to submit the plan of the former committee. That body of men had done its work extremely well and the present committee could not see how they could improve on it.

About the only change made was that they recommended that it be specified on the ballot that the new hospital be built on the present hospital site on the Twelfth and Central property. When the question was submitted before much criticism was voiced because the place was not specified. It was also reported by the committee that the bonds are to bear five per cent interest.

At the next meeting of the council the formal resolution will be presented providing for placing the question on the ballot.

MAY BUILD FOOT BRIDGE OVER BLACK RIVER

The city, in conjunction with the state highway department, may build a footbridge over the Grand Haven bridge. The committee on bridges and culverts, together with the mayor, was given authority to confer with the state highway department to see what could be done. It is estimated that the cost will be about $500, of which the city would pay half. Such a foot bridge is much needed for the convenience of pedestrians. There are several factories on the north side and the bridge is much used by pedestrians.

WILLITE COMPANY LANDS CONTRACT FOR SEVENTH STREET

THAT CONCERN SUBMITS BID
ONE CENT HIGHER PER S. Y.
THAN THE ESTIMATE

The bid for the Seventh Street paving job Wednesday by a unanimous vote of the common council to the Willite Construction Co. at 2.51 per square yard. This is one cent per square yard more than the estimate of cost as figured out some weeks ago by the city engineer. It will come approximately to five dollars per running foot which is eleven cents more than the cost of the paving on 19th street. There was no other bid and the job was let after some discussion. The company in making its bid promises to have the street completed on or before December first.

Some aldermen wanted to know why it cost more than the paving on 19th street. Mr. Olsen of the Willite Company explained that the asphalt would not cost any more but that the added cost would come in the base. He declared that the company was figuring the base at the actual cost of the 19th street job, which was a little too low experience showed. He said the company would be glad to have the city lay the base and they were not figuring any profit on it but were putting it in at cost.

There seemed to be an impression that the cost would be much higher than 19th street, and when it developed that it would be only eleven cents per foot more, there were no more protests.

Earlier in the evening a large number of property owners along the street sent in a formal protest against making 7th street a heavy traffic street, declaring that it was not fair to make the property owners pay for this extra thickness of paving. They asked that the extra price be spread on the taxes at large because it would be for the benefit of the whole city. The petition was filed.

Mayor Stephan recommended to the council Wednesday night that River avenue be paved from 17th to 19th, and Central avenue from 8th to 5th. The recommendation will be taken under consideration by the streets and crosswalks committee.

ZEELAND HIGH SCHOOL STILL ON ACCREDITED LIST
There seems to be an impression with some that Zeeland High school is no longer accredited by the U. of M. This is not true. Graduates of the High school are admitted to any college of Michigan without examinations. The High school has only been dropped from the approved list of the North Central Association and this in no way affects its standing with the State University. It is hoped however that the requirements of the North Central accrediting agency may be met again soon.—Zeeland Record.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Deagon spent Thursday in Grand Rapids on business and attended "The Cat and the Canary" at Powers in the evening.

ADVISE FARM BOYS TO STAY CLOSE TO SOIL

There are just as big opportunities in agriculture as in any other industry, D. L. Hagerman of Grand Rapids, agricultural agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, told 39 Kent county farm boys at the Barlow lake Y. M. C. A. camp meeting.

"It is quite unlikely that all of you will remain on the farm," said Mr. Hagerman, "before deciding which fork of the road you plan to follow you should carefully study the future. The most successful men are those who have chosen the profession or business in which they knew the most or in which their hearts were most interested. You boys perhaps know more about agriculture than any other industry and there may be your greatest opportunities for success."

Mr. Hagerman, whose wise advice to the boys is quoted above, is very well known. He was first agricultural agent assigned to Ottawa Co. and it was largely through his pioneering and his untiring zeal in the interest of agriculture, that the farm agent's office was firmly established in Ottawa.

When Mr. Hagerman came to this county Ottawa was one of the few counties in the state to have a farm agent and the plan was new. His work attracted the attention of the Pennsylvania R'y and he was engaged to do pioneer work among the farmers along its lines. Mr. Hagerman was succeeded in Ottawa by C. P. Milham whose good work and real service to farmers have firmly established the office.

S. S. TEACHERS ENJOY A FINE FISH DINNER

Thirteen automobiles carried 70 persons, comprising the Sunday School teachers and officers and a few others of the First Reformed church, to Douglas Thursday evening where a fine fish dinner with all the trimmings was enjoyed by them at Weed's Place. The outing was provided by the Men's and Women's classes and was in appreciation of the untiring work of the Sunday School teachers. The entertainment established a closer bond of union between the parents of the Sunday School pupils, represented by the Men's and Women's classes, and the teachers and helped to make the latter fee that their efforts are appreciated.

After the fine dinner Jacob Loker served as toastmaster, and the flow of wit was incessant from both toastmaster and from those who gave addresses. Toasts were responded to by Superintendent George Schulling, former pastor Rev. H. J. Veldman, John Brinkman, Able Smenge, Dick Boter John H. Meengs, and the pastor Rev. James Wayer.

VISITS HERE AFTER TOUR THROUGH EUROPE

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Van Slooten of Los Angeles, Calif., have been visiting here with relatives for a few days. After attending the 75th Anniversary convention of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co. at Philadelphia during May, they traveled in Europe, visiting France, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Germany, Belgium, Holland, England, Scotland, Ireland, and the principality of Monaco, better known for its Monte Carlo.

They are leaving soon for their home in Los Angeles where Mr. Van Slooten is general agent of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., for southern California.

DIED THURSDAY AFTER A YEAR'S ILLNESS

Mrs. Coy Michmershuizen died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Sargent. After a year's illness and suffering, Mrs. Michmershuizen passed away Thursday at 12:20.

She is survived by her husband Judd Michmershuizen and her parents and other relatives, also a host of friends to mourn her early departure. Funeral services were held at the residence 175 E. 8th St. at 1 P. M. Saturday.

MAYOR STEPHAN GETS ACQUAINTED WITH BUMBLE BEE

His Honor Mayor Stephan has a considerable amount of dignity, but there come times when all thoughts of dignity go to the four winds and when even a mayor acts like an ordinary mortal. A day or two ago the mayor was riding to Grand Haven in a friend's automobile when a friendly bumble bee entered the car. The bee did not seem to have any hostile intentions but alighted peacefully on the seat next to the mayor. It cuddled up a little too close and the mayor, unconscious of its presence shifted over and sat down on it. The next moment there was an undignified and unearthly yell from His Honor and his head almost went through the roof of the car.

STEGGERDA TO COACH WISCONSIN HIGH SCHOOL

Saturday was the last time that Marvin Steggerda, pitcher for the Holland Independents threw the leather for the local team. Mr. Steggerda is about to leave for Ladysmith, Wisconsin, where he has been tendered a job as coach for the high school. He expects to assume his duties there in the near future. Mr. Steggerda is a graduate of the Chicago School of Coaching.

Another Holland man who is a graduate of that same school, Earl Knutson, will go to Grand Rapids to become coach for Union High school.

DESCENDANTS OF FIVE FAMILIES IN REUNION

A family reunion was held at Elm Wood, the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Smalley of Saugatuck on August 27th. There were present 46 descendants of the Updike, Taylor, Kibby, Nichols and Hoy families. It was decided to make this reunion an annual affair.

George Hoy of Douglas was elected president and Mrs. Guy W. Smith of Detroit secretary.

It was decided to hold the next reunion at the home of Myron Taylor in Ganges.

NOT TO STOP DAILY BOAT TO SAUGATUCK

President Morton of the G. & M. line authorizes a positive denial of certain rumors, which recently have been circulated among shippers to the effect that the direct boat is to be taken off immediately after Labor day between Saugatuck and Chicago. Mr. Morton says this service will be continued as late in the fall as there is any reasonable amount of traffic to be transported.

SAUGATUCK IS WINTER RESORT FOR STEAMERS

Saugatuck promises to become quite a winter resort for steamboats. The South Haven line is said to have made arrangements to dock the Iroquois and Petoskey at the Lumber Co. dock and considerable work will be done on them before they are put in commission for next season. The South and North America will be in a few days to store their furniture in the big pavilion warehouse. They will then go to Detroit where oil burning equipment will be installed before going into winter quarters.

It is also probable that one of the Graham & Morton boats will winter there as it is said the company has not sufficient dock space at Benton Harbor for its entire fleet of five big boats.

FREIGHT BUSINESS ON G. & M. LINE GOOD THIS SUMMER

Although the cold weather and the railroad strike had an effect on the passenger service of the Graham & Morton line the past summer in the same way that these elements materially affected business at the Black Lake resorts the freight business has been good during the summer that is coming to a close. It has not been quite as good as during summer of 1921, but the volume of business has been very satisfactory, and it is keeping up well.

A banquet Thursday night in the Rotary club of the Hotel Pantlind ended a two-day convention of the sales force of the De Pree company, manufacturing chemists, which was attended by 45 salesmen from all parts of the country. Sales methods and various selling points of the products were discussed at the regular sessions. Speakers were G. J. Diekema, A. H. Landwehr, president of the Holland Furnace Co. and Con De Pree.

SEVEN HUNDRED ENJOY G. & M. EXCURSION

Monday was a big day for a great many Holland people who took advantage of the Graham & Morton Line Excursion to Benton Harbor. The weather could not have been more ideal, and about 700 persons gathered on the dock in the morning, to enjoy the trip. The journey to Benton Harbor, beginning at nine o'clock in the morning, was made in the steamer City of Benton Harbor, while the return trip, leaving the harbor at the Twin Cities at 7:30 was made in the City of Grand Rapids.

The large crowd of people on the vessel enjoyed the trip to the fullest degree. These excursions that the G. & M. Line has been providing this summer are proving popular, and the combination of ideal weather, a calm lake, and a holiday helped to give many men, women and children in Holland a good time.

The excursion and other Labor day activities mark the close of the summer season here. Most of the resort hotels are either closed or partly closed and most of the cottagers are returning home, altho the weather is still fine and bathing is better than it was most of the time during the summer.

BOYS WHO TURNED IN FALSE ALARMS ARE CAUGHT

The fire department has been troubled greatly from time to time by false alarms being turned in, especially late at night and arriving at the spot finding there was no fire anywhere.

At last two young boys have been caught which may put an end to this nefarious work.

Martin Michelsen, 181 West 28th st. and Edward Piersma, 26th-st., 17 years old, have confessed that they were the guilty parties.

In an affidavit to Chief Van Ry, they state that they walked down Central avenue to the alarm box designated, that Michelsen saw that the glass of the box was broken and stated that he would open the box provided Piersma would pull the lever.

Piersma's affidavit was practically the same, only the persons were reversed. Nevertheless both pleaded guilty to the charge and Justice Van Schelven after lecturing them severely fined each $54.85.

Information was given the police by a young lady who saw the young chaps run through a field shortly before the fire department arrived to answer the call.

She it is stated was entitled to the reward offered by Chief Blom some time ago which award was made at the meeting of the police and fire commissioners held Tuesday evening.

MUCH NEW FISH FRY IS TO BE PLANTED HERE

The Holland Game and Fish Protective Association has just received eight cans of the nicest large mouth black bass fry that has been planted here in years. This is one of the things the association will keep on doing. They have placed orders with the conservation department for 10,000 inland lake perch fry and 10,000 blue gill fry, which will be planted in Black lake. This is something that every citizen of Holland ought to be interested in as it means better fishing for us.

The association stands for the propagation of fish and game and for the protection of same and would like to have the co-operation of every citizen in this vicinity. This means that Holland can have proper laws enacted for the waters surrounding Holland but the association must have a large membership to bring this about. It has at present a membership of about 500 and would like to have it increased to at least 1000.

The association expects to begin the fall campaign in another month and different committees will be appointed to take care of the different propositions that may come up especially pertaining to fish and game laws which, it is hoped, may be changed before another season is here. But to do this the support is needed of every citizen of Holland and vicinity. Any member of the association will explain how to become a member. The membership fee is not very costly, therefore the association is asking everybody over the age of 18 to join. Membership cards will be issued by any member of the board of directors or by the secretary at the Corner Hardware.

The Mission Festival held at the Holland Fair grounds Labor day by the Classis of Holland of the Christian Reformed church was as big a success as ever. A festival of this kind is held each Labor day and it is each year attended by a large audience from Holland and Western Michigan. Monday there were about two thousand people in the grandstand in the afternoon.

The collection amounted to approximately $200 and the canteen took in about $245. This money will be devoted to the cause of missions.

Rev. B. H. Einink of Holland, was president of the day and presided over the meeting. In the forenoon addresses were delivered by Rev. J. C. Schap of Holland and Rev. Oostendorp of Zeeland. In the afternoon addresses were delivered by Rev. Heeres of Graafschap, Rev. DeVries of Niekerk missionary Huisjen, of the Helping Hand Mission, Chicago, and Rev. Kazileck of the Chicago Tract Society. Music was furnished by the Philharmonic Orchestra.

Holland hung up three more victories in two days making 33 victories and nine losses for the season thus far. The first victory was the much touted team called the Kalamazoo Elks. The locals came out on the long end of a 4 to 1 score. Stegeman pitching his last game for Holland twirled a wonderful game allowing only 5 hits while our old friend Miller pitching for the Celery eaters could not stop our heavy hitters. Woldring and B. Batema were the hitting stars while the game was also featured by the brilliant fielding of both teams. This victory wiped out the local's defeat at the hands of this same team on last Decoration day.

Labor day was the locals red letter day by snatching two more victories from our rival neighbors South Haven. It was a grand day for our veteran pitchers Shaw and Woldring. In the morning game Shaw showed he still has got the goods by defeating the resorters 9 to 3. The visitors found his delivery for only eight hits while the locals pounded the offerings of Southerland who was relieved about the sixth by Miller. The largest crowd of the season attended. A number of prizes were offered as follows: De Free Hardware $5 and Union Bar $2.50 for the best batting average copped by Spriggs; Fris Book store $5 for the longest hit won by Woldring; Arthur Van Duren $5 for the most valuable hit won by M. Hoover who drove in the first two runs with a double. After the game the greased pig was let loose and after a merry chase by a half dozen small boys. George Woldring's son Ralph made a perfect tackle and Mr. Pig was doomed.

The afternoon game at South Haven was almost a duplicate of the morning affair. Veteran Babe Woldring pitched his annual game and he sure had the resorters eating out of his hand most of the way. Several times the bases were loaded but Woldring's slow ball fooled the anxious batters. The crowd including many from Holland were delighted to see the old timer in action. Blackburn was on the firing line for South Haven and was touched up for at least ten hits and forced to take the short end of a 9 to 1 score for the second time in one week. His support was ragged while Holland gave Woldring gilt-edged support. B. Batema led the team at bat making 3 out of 4 but all the locals fattened the batting average at Blackburn's expense.

Thursday the locals play a return game at Allegan and are ready to give Allegan the fight of their lives and are out to win. A real new pitcher will work for Holland.

Saturday South Haven plays their last game of the season here. The management promises to send a rejuvenated lineup. The Ford car will also be given away to the holder of the lucky number.

For eight innings he held the resorters scoreless and just had them eating out of his hand. Just 4 hits were garnered off his sharp shoots and 3 of these came in the last two innings. A young apple tree in the orchard of M. Bohl, proprietor of Highland Park Villa, just north of Black lake, is typical of how well apple trees in Western Michigan are bearing this year. Mr. Bohl has found it necessary to place 30 props under the limbs of this single tree of Fallowaters to prevent them from breaking under the weight of the ripening fruit. And even as it is, he has so thinned out the apples that only one out of five are left on the trees, the others being thrown out so as to give the remaining fruit a chance to grow large.

Third and Sixth Reformed churches have expressed their unqualified indorsement of the Volstead code and the election of national, state and county officers who stand squarely for its enforcement. In both churches the resolution recently adopted by the Ottawa County W. C. T. U. at its usual annual convention held in this city was submitted by the pastors to these congregations at the morning service and the large audiences responded by a rising vote. In First Reformed church a similar resolution was adopted by the adult Bible classes and in several of the other churches some action was taken in sympathy with the enforcement of the prohibition movement.

It was a surprise for Mr. Westrate on the occasion of his 45th birthday anniversary. To say that he was "surprised" is putting it altogether too mildly. In fact he was dumfounded and shocked to such an extent that John did not know whether he was going "overland" or "over-sea," and did not know whether to run or take his medicine, but he chose the latter, and a pleasant time was enjoyed by all participating. Dainty refreshments were served.

J. A. Vander Veen has received a letter from C. E. Nelson, president of the Mac Sim Bar Paper Co., describing the recent fire in the plant at Osego. There are many Holland stockholders in this plant and hence the letter is of general interest.

The loss to the building, according to the letter is about $1100, and the contents will be adjusted, probably without loss to the company. Mr. Nelson writes. Ninety-one sprinkler heads went off in this section of the building and if this sprinkler system had not worked the whole plant would very likely have been destroyed.

The fire will not interfere with operation in any way. The paper destroyed is high grade stock that is not much used and can be replaced much more easily than the lower grades, the letter states.

The unseasonable heat of Tuesday during the day and evening was too much even for the music lovers of Holland and as a result the organ recital given in Hope church by Dr. Alle D. Zuidema of Detroit, was not as well attended as it would certainly have been under normal conditions. There are many music lovers in Holland and as a rule they attend in goodly numbers the concerts that are really first class, but Tuesday night only a small but very appreciative audience braved the heat to listen to the music. And this concert was first class in every respect. It was, as had been predicted, one of the finest organ recitals ever given in Holland, comparing very well with the work of Gatty Sellers, of London, who appeared here twice.

Dr. Zuidema showed himself an artist of high ability, and the entire program was a treat to those who gathered in Hope church. Following was the program:

Chorale—"In Dir ist Freude...Bach Concert Overture (C Minor) Faulkes Tenor Solo—"The Voice in the Wilderness".....(Cyril Scott) Mr. Martin J. Van der Wiere Second Symphony.....Ch. M. PRIMARIES, SEPTEMBER 12, 1922

OUR PRESENT CONGRESSMAN.

Boosting candidates during the primaries is rather out of our line.

Candidates for different offices multiply so rapidly that their virtues would fill many papers.

It seems however that every paper has a kindly editorial comment for our present congressman Carl E. Mapes, and while other candidates for office are fixing up political fences, Carl is on the job at Washington, aiding in the trying situations that now confront our country.

In a recent visit of Patrick Kelley to this city, he at that time wished the local press to state that of all the men in congress, no one is looked up to with greater respect than is Carl Mapes of the Fifth District.

He stated that everyone put faith in his integrity and looked upon him as the most ardent, faithful, and conscientious worker in the lower house of Congress.

There is no question in the minds of anyone as to Mr. Mapes' honesty of purpose, and it is therefore with pleasure that we say these few words of commendation relative to a servant who has served so well.

BRIDGE WORK ON RIVER AVENUE IS GOING ON RAPIDLY

The long delayed work on Black river bridge which was the cause of considerable dispute and was considered dangerous for the wayfarer is at last being done. The bridge is now being rejuvenated and strengthened throughout.

The state has all its apparatus on ground and one half of the bridge is blocked off for necessary repairs while the other half is being used for traffic.

Simon Lievense is on the job day and night either with a red flag or a red lantern acting as traffic cop to see that there is no congestion or a clogging of traffic on the bridge.

The state is surely putting in some heavy planking six by 14 inches all creosoted clamped together with heavy iron. It is stated that when this floor is laid it will withstand the heaviest traffic.

Andrew Hyma was delegated to count the number of automobiles that went over the bridge during three days. His figures for one day last Friday show 3315. Friday as a rule is a dull day while Saturday and Sunday are extremely heavy traffic days.

Mr. Hyma being out of the city the figures for Saturday and Sunday could not be ascertained.

It is expected that the bridge will be completed within three weeks.

MERCURY AT WATERWORKS SHOWS HIGH MARKS

With the water at the resorts warmer than it was during most of the summer, the weatherman is certainly getting his dates mixed. It is seldom that there has been no frost at this time of the year and it is seldom that mid-summer heat conditions prevail during the first week in September.

On Labor Day the thermometer at the Water Works registered 85 degrees in the shade, on Tuesday the mercury climbed up to the 89 1/2 in the shade and Wednesday forenoon the 85 mark was reached again.

TEN CHICKENS AWARDED AT TRAP SHOOT

Ten chickens were given away at the big trap shoot held on the fair grounds on Labor Day. Some very good scores were made. Dick De Waard leading the field with a percentage of 100. Mr. De Waard received three of the chickens. Henry Koop came in second with a score of 96 and he received two chickens. Neal De Waard landed third honors with a score of 92. He received one chicken.

Four more chickens were awarded: to Roy Wise whose score was 84; Henry Van Eyck, score 80; Vance Mape, score 72; and Sam Althuis, score 68. Dick Van Tatenhove had a score of 60, and Carl Bigge 52.

The next shoot will be held Friday afternoon at 5:30 at the Holland fair grounds.

SALES FORCE TO ATTEND STATE FAIR

The sales force of the Hollander De Weerd Auto Co. left Tuesday evening for a trip to the state fair at Detroit. The force was headed by Al De Weerd of Holland and he is to be in charge of the party in Detroit. There will be nine men in the group and a strenuous schedule of sight-seeing has been arranged for.

The trip to Detroit was made by train, but on the way back each of the nine men will be pilot for a Lizzie, which fleet of autos will be driven through to be delivered to customers of the various plants of this company.

MUST TURN IN BASEBALL CARDS BEFORE SATURDAY

The announcement was made Wednesday that all persons in Holland having baseball cards to sell should turn them in on or before Friday to H. Van Tongeren or to the Yonker Plumbing Co. These cards must be in before Saturday. On that day the automobile and other prizes will be given away on the ball grounds and an accounting of the sale of cards must be made before that.

the facts, nevertheless, from very direct sources. At the age of twenty-three years I was married to Hanna Gerding Landeweert. My wife, when still a child of two and one-half years of age, was aboard the ship Phoenix, en route from Buffalo to Sheboygan. As a baby she was rescued from the vessel, which suffered such a very unfortunate fate at the close of its voyage. Her father and mother, with two sisters and two brothers met a tragic death in the Phoenix disaster. Three other sisters were rescued and thus escaped the terrible fate of a death on the burning vessel. These sisters were Mrs. J. B. Wissink, Mrs. T. Schuppert and Miss Hendrieka Landeweert, later married to Mr. D. A. Voskuil. Mrs. T. Schuppert lived only six months after the accident and her death was due, no doubt, to the extreme exposure to the cold waters, for only by clinging to the side of a small life boat was she saved.

In my married life with Mrs. Meengs we made it a custom to meet with the relatives once every year, and then it was my privilege to hear the story of the Phoenix related by those who had actually experienced the disaster. The sisters of my wife were all older, and therefore had vivid recollections of what occurred. Primarily, then, from these sources I have most of my information. Mr. T. Schuppert was also my uncle, and he has often told me the story as he experienced it. Now I shall endeavor to give the narrative as best I can.

In the summer of the year of 1847 a company of people left their quiet little nook in the eastern part of the Netherlands, and sailed for America. The actual number of persons in the company is not accurately known. This band of people, upon arriving at New York, went to Buffalo, where a part of the group took ship on the steamer Phoenix for Sheboygan, Wisconsin. The majority of the company, however, did not embark, so that the actual number of Hollanders aboard the vessel is difficult to determine. The fact is that the total number of those who died in this catastrophe is not as large as often stated.

The steamer Phoenix, a sturdy late boat, weathered the trip well to Manitowoc, where she docked in order to take in wood. It was at this place that the most of the crew became drunk, and this fact was undoubtedly the cause of the disaster.

The Phoenix had left Manitowoc only a short time when one of the passengers, who was mechanically inclined, noticed that there was something wrong. Investigation showed that the boiler was without water, and attempts were made to refill it. The crew, however, resisted the efforts of this man, and ruthlessly threw him down upon the deck. Fire soon broke out, and the alarm was given. The vessel was only a short distance from what is now known as the north point of Sheboygan. The heat of the flames became intense and the crew and passengers crowded to the rear in the vain hope to escape torture by the fire.

As far as the facts have been given to me, there were only two little life boats available for the escape. Whether there were other boats which were burned, I have not learned. These small boats the people filled, and many even jumped into the little vessels after they had been lowered. The one little boat was overloaded and sank with its load of precious lives. The other boat managed to gain shore, and carried with it the sole survivors of the tragic event.

The propeller Delaware later towed the burned hull to the north pier of Sheboygan, but rendered no service in the rescue of those in the small boats, as is sometimes maintained.

The date of the burning of the Phoenix has been a subject of a great deal of discussion. Through a personal inquiry of Mr. George S. Goodell, who is now living in Sheboygan, and whose father witnessed the tragedy, I have found that the date is without doubt, November 20, 1847.

I have in later years personally met and become acquainted with some of the survivors, other than those I have already mentioned. Mr. H. J. Wiltedink of Gibbesville, Wis., was a survivor, although his wife perished in the accident. Mr. H. J. Russellink and Mr. J. W. Oonk, also of Gibbesville, escaped the tragic death. These men, though dead for some years, have in former years given me vivid details of what happened. I have spent some time in canvassing Dutch books in this territory, and thus had an opportunity to form the acquaintance of several survivors.

I have often been told that it is impossible to know just how many persons were aboard the Phoenix when she left Manitowoc. The fact is that many Hollanders left the company at Buffalo and therefore did not experience the unfortunate disaster.

Inquiries have come to me asking whether these immigrants belonged to Rev. Bolk's party. Possibly they did cross the ocean with Rev. Bolk, but I am sure that Rev. Bolk did not travel aboard the Phoenix and therefore did not experience the incident I have related.

It is of interest to note that almost all of the survivors of the burning of the Phoenix settled originally in Gibbesville and Cedar Grove, Wis. Undoubtedly this experience of the tragedy of the Phoenix had a great influence upon the minds and hearts of all the Holland settlers in this vicinity for years.

Hendrik J. Meengs, Cedar Grove, Wis.

June, 1922.

In the above paper, Mr. Meengs is in error one day as to the date of the catastrophe, for a clipping from the Sheboygan Mercury, given in full in Article No. 3, says, in glaring headlines, that the "Propeller Phoenix was burned Sunday morning, Nov. 21, 1847." The edition of the Mercury was printed the day after the disaster and as the catastrophe happened so near the Sheboygan, error in this regard is almost impossible. The two-hundred-year calendar which I consulted says that Nov. 21, that year, was Sunday. Mr. Meengs himself, in an additional letter dated July 17, 1922, admits that Nov. 21 is the correct date. Beyond all dispute, then, the Phoenix was lost Nov. 21, 1847.

Mr. Meengs mentions two small boats, and states that one of them was sunk. But other accounts speak of three small boats, but mention only two as reaching shore. This leaves the inference that one of the small boats, as Mr. Meengs intimated, sank, while the other two with the survivors reached the beach in safety.

The reports in some of the papers of 1847 to the effect that the Delaware picked up the survivors in the two small boats is erroneous, for these boats, with the survivors, were, no doubt, already ashore when the Delaware reached the burning Phoenix. The Milwaukee Sentinel of Nov. 24, 1847, says, however, that the Delaware rescued three other men who were still clinging to the rudder-chains of the burning hull. Three men only, therefore, were rescued by the Delaware, while about forty-two had escaped in the two small boats. About forty-five of all of the whole number of passengers and crew seem to have been saved.

Mr. Meengs also doubts whether the immigrants on the Phoenix were of the original Bolk's party. "De Stemmen" of Revs. Zwemer and BeBey (1871), p. 57, however, asserts that they were. These writers say that about 160 families under the leadership of Rev. S. Bolk had left Holland Aug. 24, 1847, and that of those about sixty later lost their lives by the burning of their boat near Sheboygan. A sketch of the life of Rev. Seine Bolk, by his son-in-law, Rev. Jas. De Pree, says that Rev. Bolk's party of 23 families left the Netherlands Sept. 2, 1847, landing in New York Oct. 10, and wintering at Syracuse, N. Y., reached Michigan in the spring of 1848. This difference in the dates on which these parties left Holland land looks suspicious. But there is no question that there were several parties of immigrants from the same locality in Holland, probably under the general leadership of Rev. Bolk, en route to America at this time, and that while some immigrant parties divided at New York, Albany and Buffalo, other parties often united at those places. The particular party Mr. Meengs is referring to as dividing at Buffalo, if not of the Bolk's party, may have been joined by those who had left Rev. Bolk's and his men at Syracuse. But whether of the Bolk's party or not, makes no difference in our story. The facts remain that the staunch ship Phoenix and almost all of her passengers and over half of her crew were lost in the catastrophe.

Mr. Meengs asserts that the number of those lost is "not as large as often stated," and that "many left the company at Buffalo and therefore did not experience the disaster." But De Stemmen, above quoted, placed the number who left Holland under the leadership of Rev. Bolk at about 100 families, the equivalent of about 500 people; such a large number would permit considerable reduction, and still leave the number of Hollanders on the Phoenix between 100 and 200. Zwemer and DeBey placed the number lost at about 30; and vague reports say about 50 or 90; the "History of the Great Lakes" says 190 in all were lost. Mr. Meengs in the letter of July 17, 1922, says that there were about 125 in all on the Phoenix, of whom only about 20 were rescued. But it is noteworthy that the clerk of the Phoenix, who had charge of the books and records, and whose information may be supposed to have been better than that of anybody else, in speaking of the disaster a few weeks later in Detroit gave some interesting figures. The Detroit Free Press of Dec. 4, 1847, says, "From the clerk, Mr. Donahue, we learn that there were 175 Hollanders, large and small, and about 100 other passengers, and 25 of the crew, making in all 300 persons—45 saved and 255 lost." The records and books of the Phoenix were lost; but the above figures of Mr. Donahue were, no doubt, given to an excited reporter, and we may well doubt their accuracy. Mr. Meengs, in his later letter of July 17, 1922, where he says, "There were somewhere around 125 passengers on the boat at the time it was burnt, and not more than 20 were saved, as the first little boat was overloaded and overturned," of course, tells the story as it was told in his vicinity, and does not speak with certain knowledge. The figures later furnished by Capt. Sweet at Cleveland, and by Mr. Read at Buffalo, place the number of Hollanders on board the Phoenix at the time of the fire at 154, of whom 25 were saved and 129 lost. These figures are probably correct, as they harmonize very well with the list of Hollanders lost and saved, to be given later.

Mr. Meengs also says in his last letter, "I have often heard Mr. Wissink (one of the survivors) say that on account of the illness of the captain, the management of the boat was left to the crew, and they got drunk, and threatened to kill one of the men who tried to repair a certain part of the machinery. The hull of the Phoenix was towed to shore soon after it was burned, and they even found one man clinging to boat, who was saved. Mr. John Wissink, a son of one of the survivors, says he has often heard his father say that some baggage was rescued, but no money was found, and also that several bodies were taken out of the Phoenix, and that he saw them lying on the pier. He remembered, however, seeing one man recognizing the dead body of his wife and taking from it a bag containing money."

In the next article I will tell the story of H. J. Hesselink-Pas, who later settled southeast of Holland, Mich. He was one of the survivors. The list of Hollanders lost and saved will be given in the same connection.

NEW FIRE TRUCK ARRIVES IN HOLLAND TUESDAY EVENING

Holland's new fire truck arrived Tuesday evening and this city is now protected about three times as well as it was before the big new American Lafrance pumper arrived. Chief Blom kept the arrival of the pumper as a surprise for the men in the fire department, no one knowing that it was to appear on the scene Tuesday night. When it came Mr. Blom had a fire alarm sent in, the chief being the only one in the city who is allowed to send in a false alarm without being dragged into court for it. When the firemen rushed to the scene, pell mell to put out a fire they found instead that there was no fire but that the big beautiful pumper was here. It was temporarily placed in a garage until it can be given its regular berth in one of the engine houses.

The new American Lafrance has a capacity of one thousand gallons of water per minute, which is nearly three times the capacity of the fire truck which has been in use for some years the capacity of that one being 350 gallons per minute. The cost of the new pumper is in round figures $13,000.00, and its purchase was authorized by the board of fire and police commissioners some months ago, with the approval of the common council.

In addition to protecting the residence districts of the city, the new fire truck will be a special protection to all the factories along the shore where the pumper can get its water from the lake to throw six one and one-fourth inch streams of water, even if the city water system should break down. Since the lake never gives out, protection for these factories is almost perfect.

It has not yet been decided in which engine house the new pumper will be housed. It is expected that a public demonstration will be given soon, although the date has not yet been set.

SPECTACULAR ACCIDENT AT ANDREA'S CROSSING

On Labor day a truck load of peaches was bowling along over the Grand Rapids-Holland highway near Andrea's crossing when it was struck by an interurban car at about seven o'clock.

The road was soon covered with peaches and more than 100 automobiles were delayed for sometime waiting for the track to be cleared.

Another truck pulled the damaged truck to one side of the highway, and traffic was again resumed.

During the delay several hundred occupants of cars had their fill of scattered peaches.

The driver was not badly hurt although his arm was bruised.

FORD SHOW OCCUPIES SEVEN ACRES AT STATE FAIR GROUNDS

In connection with the Michigan State Fair opening Sept. 1, at the Fair Grounds on Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., the big Fordson Industrial and Agricultural Tractor Show as well as a display of Ford and Lincoln cars will occupy a special section located approximately at the center of the fair grounds. Elaborate preparations have been under way for the past two months to make the Fordson showing the biggest and most complete exposition of tractor power as well as a motor car display that has ever been put on anywhere in the world.

The tractor division devoted to agricultural, industrial and commercial displays of tractor ability is a combination of a series of Fordson Industrial Tractor shows that have been going on throughout the U. S. since May and will show between 75 and 90 tractors in constant operation in all kinds of industrial, agricultural and commercial work to which this power plant is adaptable.

A special arch is being built as an entrance to the Fordson section of the Fair grounds, this arch being constructed of stucco and carrying as a decorative feature, an elaborate series of oil paintings showing the evolution of farming from earliest authentic record of early Egypt down to the most modern appliances used in agricultural work.

Back of this huge arch will be a special display of antique agricultural implements. Over fifty groups will be shown in this agricultural museum section including besides a complete pictorial display of antique and now obsolete farm operation displays of old threshers operated by horses on a treadmill, an old wooden moldboard plow and many other agricultural implements which have been collected together after a most elaborate search throughout the country which has been directed under the personal supervision of Mr. Henry Ford.

Mr. Ford himself is particularly interested in this section of antique farm implements through the showing of which the development of agricultural methods from the most primitive types to the highly efficient modern utensils will be traced step by step.

Also on display as a historical exhibition will be shown each of the various types of gasoline engines built under the direction of Mr. Ford including models of the first type of Fordson Tractor, the first type Ford Car, and successive developments in these models up to the present stage.

Showing the high developments in power equipment, the newest Russian type locomotive used on the D. T. & I. railroad will be exhibited on special spur track built into the grounds. This locomotive is one of the largest ever built and an idea of its size may be gained from the fact that it is 90 ft. long.

The 6,000,000th motor built in the factory of the Ford Motor Co. will occupy a prominent part among the display features of the Fordson show and each day during the progress of the fair, the serial number of the latest motor to be built on the day previous, will be placed on the pedestal holding motor No. 6,000,000.

In connection with the tractor show a day and night motion picture program will be held in a special dark tent at which all of the newest releases of the Ford Education and Geographical and Industrial films will be shown. Special band concerts will be given every day during the fair by the Ford band in the afternoon and in the evening.

Included in the exhibition will be tractors utilized as locomotives by the installation of special flanged wheels. This tractor locomotive will be in steady operation hauling railroad cars over a specially constructed ed railroad track. There will be large stationary saw mills as well as portable saw mills both operated by the Fordson Tractor.

Loading machinery of the most advanced types mounted on the Fordson Tractor will be kept busy transferring loads of dirt and gravel in huge trailing bodies drawn by a Fordson tractor. Lime pulverizers and rock crushers tractor operated will be demonstrated every day from the opening of the fair until the closing out night. There will be tractors shown in connection with all types of road building and road maintaining equipment, scrapers, ditchers, planers and graders, representing the latest and most efficient development of many of the largest manufacturing concerns in the country in this type of industrial equipment.

SENATOR'S DEEP WATER PROJECT WOULD MAKE HOLLAND AN OCEAN PORT

TOWNSEND SAYS PASSAGE OF BONUS BILL ON HEELS OF TARIFF NOW CERTAIN

The U. S. senate undoubtedly will pass the soldiers' bonus bill immediately after the tariff bill is disposed of, Sen. Chas. Townsend told paper mill workers recently.

There is no reason why the bill should not be passed; I believe the men are entitled to it," said the senator.

Sen. Townsend declared he would vote to override a presidential veto of the bill.

A veto, he said, would be the president's privilege if he thought the best thing for the country, but it would be opposed by many senators, Mr. Townsend said.

The senator came to Kalamazoo today from Benton Harbor and continued his tour, his next speech being scheduled for Flint.

Mr. Townsend also is working hard for the deep water way along the St. Lawrence river to the Great Lakes that would make Holland an ocean port if the project went thru. This would enable ocean steamers to take this waterway directly to Lake Michigan with freight from any port of the world and would enable our manufacturers of Michigan to ship all over the world direct rather than first load on cars and then unload on the ships at New York. It would provide Michigan with all the coal oil and food stuffs necessary without bothering about railroads or railroad strikes. The deep waterway from ocean to lake would be the most wonderful project for Michigan ever thought of.

OTTAWA COUNTY'S TURN TO HAVE THE SENATE

JUDGE VANDER WERP OF MUSKEGON EXPLODES OPPOSITE CONTENTION

Stories have been circulated that Ottawa and Muskegon counties have been swapping the state senatorship in turns, and that Ottawa county should not place a candidate in the field for the reason that it was Muskegon's turn.

A letter from Judge Vander Werp a Muskegon man, to Mr. Connelly, would make it appear that Ottawa still has a turn coming. The letter follows:

Fourteenth Judicial Circuit
John Vander Werp, Judge
Muskegon, Michigan
Aug. 17, 1922

Hon. Wm. M. Connelly,
Spring Lake, Michigan.

Dear Senator:—Believing that your record while serving former term as senator entitles you to another term, and also that you will be able to give this Senatorial District good service in the future, I am pleased to say that what little I am able to do will be for you.

With best wishes, I am
Yours very truly,
(Signed) John Vander Werp.

Oscar Johnson Nails a Campaign Canard and Incidentally Gets a Splendid Endorsement from H. Superior Officer in the M. N. G.

Oscar Johnson, candidate for nomination for sheriff, while in camp at Grayling recently with Co. D. 126th Inf. of Holland, was active in preventing the liquor traffic between bootleggers outside the camp and the soldiers. In the course of his activities he captured two bootleggers and seized one still. On his return he found a story in circulation to the effect that his activities had been the opposite of what they actually were. The following letter received by Mr. Johnson knocks the lining out of one more political canard.

Lieutenant Oscar Johnson,
Holland, Michigan.

My dear Lieutenant:— I am in receipt of your letter of August 30th in which you indicate that some persons are circulating the story that you were responsible for or in league with certain people who were attempting to furnish booze to the soldiers at the last camp at Grayling.

I am absolutely at a loss to understand why any such stories could possibly be circulated. When the rumor of the attempt to supply this poison to our soldiers was brought to me as Camp Commander, I immediately consulted with the Sheriff of Grayling and the sheriff requested that if a soldier could be detailed to assist him that he would greatly prefer to have you detailed for that purpose, inasmuch as you had had police or sheriff experience.

We did perform some work along that line and you will recall that at one time by my direction you were given a particular job in the attempt to locate a band of Indians, who were across the lake and who it was rumored were supplying the soldiers with liquor. All of the time that we were in camp you will admit we were on the lookout to curb this vice. You will also remember that through the activities of the camp officers and the State Constabulary and Civil forces, we were able to prevent a great deal of this iniquitous traffic.

I am sorry that any story that intimated in the slightest degree that you were connected with or in sympathy with these people has been circulated. It is absolutely false and I am very glad to in this way let people in Ottawa county know that you are a good officer, a good soldier and a good citizen of this state and that you are highly in favor of the enforcement of the laws of the state.

I will be pleased to have you give this letter such publicity in Ottawa county as you may desire.

Yours truly,
EARL R. STEWART,
Brigadier Gen'l 63rd Inf. Brigade.

One Exchange.
A magazine writer says nearly all great men are silent. That may be the way they got their reputations.

J. H. DenHerder States His Platform

To the Public:— While campaigning thru the county I have met scores of people who inform me that when the present prosecutor ran for office a few years ago he pledged himself to two terms. The people have been good to him and given him three terms. Now he is seeking his fourth term. He knows full well that the fair-minded citizens of this county do not approve of the policy of continuing one man in office indefinitely when equally deserving candidates are in the field, and that they also believe in giving every man a chance to make good, but he is trying to overcome these handicaps and perpetuate himself in office by appealing to the well known feeling in this County against liquor, and his letters and articles are so worded, perhaps innocently, that many people might be led to believe that he is the only one of the candidates for prosecutor who stands for law and order.

In order to correct this possible impression, and because I wish everyone to know my position, I feel it my duty to inform the public my attitude on this subject.

I wish to assure the voters of this county that I stand and have always stood four square for a strict and honest enforcement of all laws, including the Prohibitory Liquor law which will be enforced to the letter.

I too, have no sympathy with the drunkards, loafers, bums and criminals of all descriptions as an examination of my docket as Justice of the Peace will show, and as those who know me will testify, and I therefore join with him most gladly in denouncing them.

If any one of the criminal class intends to vote for me hoping he will be favored or protected if I am elected, I give him this opportunity to change his vote.

Those who do vote for me at the primaries on Sept. 12th can do so with the knowledge that they are voting for one who will enforce all laws strictly and honestly, one who believes in Prohibition, and one who is bound by no campaign promises of any kind to any one and will be free to serve the public to the best of his ability. They can at the same time register their disapproval of allowing one man to monopolize public office, which practice is contrary to fair play and the American conception of good government.

I was admitted to the Bar in 1917, am serving as Circuit Court Commissioner, my second term as Justice of the Peace, and I believe I am justified by experience and training in asking your consideration.

Pol. Adv. J. H. Den Herder.

To the Republican Voters of Ottawa County

Last week I called your attention to the issues and answered the arguments made against my nomination.

There will be no "eleventh hour" letters sent out by me. There has been none, and will be no statement of any kind, name or nature, made by me or inspired by me in any form relative to the candidates who oppose me. I have the kindest personal feeling toward both of them.

However, I again call your attention to this fact: The entire liquor element and criminal and loafer classes are opposing me bitterly, because of my attitude on the whisky question and social problems.

The "American Issue" published by the Anti-Saloon League issued last week calls attention to the fact that my record (during six years as prosecuting attorney of this county) has been "excellent." This is a recommendation from an absolutely impartial source.

If you are in accord with the principles of law enforcement I urge you to attend the primaries next Tuesday.

Sincerely yours,
FRED T. MILES,
Prosecuting Attorney.

COMPANY EXPLAINS WHY ROAD WORK WAS HALTED

The Willite Road Construction Co., of Detroit engaged in road building in Holland, today sent for publication the following explanation in regard to the delay in completing the work:

An Explanation

We have been constructing an asphalt pavement on a six inch Macadam stone foundation along River Av. 18th to 17th Sts. and 17th St. from River Av. to the Park Road. As we have been unable to make the progress planned on this work, we feel this explanation is due to the citizens of Holland, for the reason we have been unable to make your streets passable.

We equipped a large bin at the boat dock to receive stone supplies by boat. After several attempts, this stone was rejected by the state highway department inspectors acting through the Ottawa County Engineer. This rejection was made only on account of size as the stone stood an unusually high test for hardness. We have since secured the stone shipments by rail from two other crushers, at a very large increase in cost. At various times the shipments from these plants have been rejected because of size.

We have felt a great deal of this trouble was needless and could have been avoided by inspection at the plant which was requested and denied. We feel that the objections were entirely technical and did practically nothing to improve the quality of the work.

We were forced to order asphalt shipments to cover only such work as we could believe a month ago would be ready for top surface. Also, the shipments of asphalt for 17th St. and River Ave. must be made at Norfolk, Va., and the Norfolk and Western Railway Co. placed an embargo on all shipments for two weeks. Shipments of asphalt for 19th St. were able to move promptly because of better railroad conditions prevailing at the refinery. The result is that tonight the 19th St. contract is completed and ready for use except the east block between Columbia and College avenues.

The materials for the River Ave. and 17th street contracts are moving and it will be completed this month. We make these statements that the people of Holland may know the facts and feel assured that we will be able to complete the contemplated paving on 7th street, if awarded us, this year with a minimum of inconvenience to them. We believe our record in constructing 9th street last year and 19th street this year justifies this belief.

ONLY FOUR BOYS OUT OF 36 HAD EVER SEEN SUN RISE

During the boy scout camp at Port Sheldon, presided over by William Slater, physical instructor for boys, it was decided to show the 36 boys in camp a real sunrise. A poll of the camp was taken to find out how many of the boys had seen a sunrise before, and the astonishing fact developed that only four had ever seen the sun rise, and two of those had seen it within the past week in camp while they were on guard duty early in the morning.

The camp which came to a close Tuesday afternoon, showed the boys a great many other things than a sunrise. It was one of the most successful camps ever held. It lasted 15 days and there were varying numbers of boys at various times. The largest number at one time being 36. But altho the boys were their own cooks, at no time did it take more than 55 minutes to cook any meal for this large number. The experience in camp has taught every one of these boys how to prepare a good meal in the open over a wood fire.

Each day two cooks were appointed to prepare the meals under Mr. Slater's direction, and these two were assisted by four kitchen police. The campers were placed in a semi-circle, squatting Indian fashion and then the food was doled out to them. And substantial meals they were. There was all that any healthy boy could eat, and during all the 15 days in camp not a single meal was left. And it goes without saying that not a single boy was late to any meal.

Mr. Slater had built an ice box in the sand that kept the milk and other foods colder than in any refrigerator at home. Much of the success of the camp was due to Earnest Brooks, who took the trouble each day of taking fresh meat and bread from Holland to the camp, sometimes making two trips a day to make certain that the boys had all they needed.

Each day in camp began at 7:30. At 8:30 breakfast was served, followed by scout work from 9:15 to 10:30. From 10:30 to 12 was the swimming period, from 12 to 1. Lunch, from 1 to 2 rest period, from 2 to 3:15 scout work again, from 3:15 to 5 another swimming period, 5:30 supper, after supper boating and general sports, back to camp at 8:30. Then the camp fire was lighted and all sat around it telling stories and singing songs. At ten o'clock prayers were said and the boys went to bed.

The boys who attended the camp are enthusiastic over it and it is certain that there will be a large number of candidates next year.

Steggerda's brilliant work on the mound, backed by strong support, enabled the Holland Independents Saturday to defeat the Kalamazoo Elks 4 to 1. The locals touched Miller for timely hits and scored 1 run each in the third and fourth and 2 runs in the eighth. The victory is regarded as significant as earlier in the season the Elks defeated Holland 16 to 1.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT AND SCHOOL BOARD TO CURB EPIDEMIC

Holland is in the grip of an epidemic of whooping cough and it is very likely that a large number of children will be absent from school during the first few weeks. It is estimated that there are at least a hundred cases of the disease, and all efforts to stop the spread of it have not curbed it. There is said to have been much carelessness on the part of mothers, children often being exposed to the disease when a little precaution could have prevented it, and one woman even went so far as to remove the sign from her home when the health department had placed it there. As a result the disease has spread and is still spreading.

Many people do not realize the seriousness of whooping cough, the health department declared. The disease is extremely serious because of its after effects. It often affects the internal ear or impairs the eyesight, and it carries in its train a large number of other disease, the most serious of which is disease of the kidneys. For that reason it is a dangerous disease, the health department points out, and every care should be exercised to prevent it.

The health department and President Leenhouts of the school board have agreed to do all they can to prevent this and other contagious and infectious diseases from spreading among the school children. To this end, when school opens each child will be examined by the teacher and if there should be any sign of infectious or contagious disease the child will be turned over to the city nurse. If she is at all in doubt in any case the child will be turned over to the family doctor or to the health board, and all pupils having any contagious or infectious disease even in mild form will be kept at home until pronounced normal by a physician. In this way it is hoped to safeguard the school children and it is also expected that this somewhat drastic step will help materially to curb the whooping cough epidemic.

RETURN FROM AUTO TRIP TO NIAGARA FALLS

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lievens, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Van Zanten, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Heeringa, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Klomprens returned Saturday night from an automobile trip to Niagara Falls. They made the trip in the cars of Klomprens and Heeringa, and Mr. Heeringa put a pennant on the back of his machine calling attention to the good Dutch Tea Rusk.

The trip lasted five days and was made without accident and almost without the slightest bit of trouble of any kind. On the way down the party took the boat from Detroit to Buffalo, but on the way back they drove all the way. All pronounce it a delightful tour.

MEINTE SCHUURMAN ENROUTE TO INDIA

Word has been received by the friends of Meinte Schuurmans that he is on board ship enroute for India. He states that the weather has been inclement during the first two days of his voyage. Several missionaries en route for India are aboard ship, and he states he anticipates a "bon voyage."

LOCAL PASTOR TAKES CHARGE IN TENNESSEE

A surprise came to the vestry members of Grace church Wednesday night when Rev. M. L. Tate, rector of the church, appeared at a special meeting of that body and announced his resignation to take effect in about six weeks. Mr. Tate has accepted a charge in Memphis, Tenn., to serve as rector of Holy Trinity church of Memphis and to have charge of St. John's church of Buntyn, a suburb of Memphis. Recently while away on a vacation trip Mr. Tate paid a visit to Memphis and looked over the new field, meeting the people of the congregation and conducting a service for them.

Mr. Tate has made many friends in Holland outside of his church as well as in his own congregation and he declared today that he is leaving regretfully. However, he found the opportunity for work so much larger in Memphis that he felt it was the logical thing for him to do. The charge he will have in Memphis is in a growing community where there is much chance for church expansion, and the church is much larger than the one in this city.

Mr. Tate came to Holland in June, 1920 coming here from Waterloo, Ia. where he had served for a number of years. In addition to serving the local church he has given his services in missionary work in the diocese, conducting services frequently in such places as Saugatuck, Pentwater and other places. He also held services at intervals in St. Mark's Cathedral in Grand Rapids, where he is due to preach again next Sunday.

No definite date for leaving Holland has been fixed since Mr. Tate wished to give the vestry plenty of time to make plans for the future, but it is likely that rector and congregation will separate about October.

Holland drivers going to Grand Haven reported finding a wrecked Ford car in the ditch along the West Michigan pike, between the Beech Tree stone school house and Agnew. The car was very badly damaged with the top completely smashed and the wheels broken. To all appearances it had been crowded off the road and had overturned in the ditch. The car was a new one and carried a Grand Haven license No. 40. This license was issued to Albert Klemke, records show.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zweering of Flint were Holland visitors Labor day.

HOLLAND FURNITURE COMPANY ERECTS A NEW ADDITION

Work is in progress on the erection of an addition to the Holland Furniture factory to increase the shipping and stock room facilities so that these departments will be better able to keep up with the other department of the factory and thus increase production.

The addition will be 60x100 feet and will be four stories high. It will be of brick uniform with the rest of the building, but it will have steel window frames, making it fireproof, an improvement over the rest of the building. The factory for the past year or two has been adding much improved machinery and the new quarters are needed to make room for the increased output. It will be used as a finishing room, stock room and shipping room. The cost will be about $40,000. Van Dyke & Oosting are the contractors, and James Price the architect.

PALACE OF TOYS ON WHEELS TO COME TO HOLLAND

What promises to be one of the most interesting and entertaining exhibitions especially for children, is coming to Holland in the near future. The date is to be announced a little later.

The A. C. Gilbert Co. of New Haven is sending out a special railroad car on a three year tour of the country. It is on the first stage of its transcontinental tour. A railroad coach has been transformed into a veritable "palace of toys on wheels." Painted in bright yellow and red with a green roof, it carries two folding flag poles holding wireless antennae and suspended between the poles are strings of flags and bunting which gives the car much the appearance of Flag Ship of a battle fleet.

Entering the car is similar to entering a Pullman coach. The narrow aisle leads to the wonderful display of educational toys and games, with wonderful operating models. At one end is a Wireless Receiving Station with a large amplifier that picks up concerts from sending stations hundreds of miles away and broadcasts them so that everyone of the visitors to the car may hear them.

The car is complete in every detail. In addition to the large displays it has a completely fitted sleeping compartment for the men in charge of the car as well as an office and lounging room for visitors.

Included among the educational toys are outfits based on the science of physics from its most fundamental stages to some of its most complicated experiments developed and presented in such a way that they furnish an immense amount of fun to boys of all ages.

Besides the large variety of toys and games for both boys and girls which the car carries, it also contains a number of electrical specialties for household use of interest to both the men and women. No goods are sold on the car. The exhibit is free and tickets can be secured from local dealers.

NEW G. H. INSTRUCTOR IN THE HIGH SCHOOL HAS FAMED KIN

Miss Ellen Lardner of Niles, has been engaged as an instructor in the English department of the new Grand Haven high school. Miss Lardner is a graduate of the U. of M. where she also did newspaper and journalistic work. She also served on the staff of her home paper and comes highly recommended by the U. of M. faculty. It may be interesting to the admirers of one of the younger American humorists to know that Miss Lardner is a niece

A small announcement party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bird at Saugatuck, to announce the engagement of their daughter, Elita to Mr. Clyde C. Graves of So. Carolina. A doll groom and his bride occupied the center of the tea table. A tiny box of candy, with a cover of rice, stood by the side of each plate, and at the close of the meal the rice was used to shower the miniature couple, as well as the prospective bride and a merry time was enjoyed.

What will they live on?

A MAN who has been improvident need not expect that his family can get along after he is gone, on "nothing a year." You do not expect your family, like the moths, to "eat nothing but holes." It is up to you to provide a sufficient income.

An income is not accomplished by property or insurance money left haphazard. The record is that about five out of every six dollars turned over to widows, has totally disappeared within a very few years.

Make this thing certain as far as you are concerned, by appointing permanent trustees. No one else can do it for you. Make your will read that way.

Fred T. Miles
Prosecuting Attorney
Candidate for Renomination
He Answers the Arguments Made Against Him

There are two principal arguments made against me by my opponents: First: I have held the position six years. In other words, I offer to the people of this county the result of 17 years experience as a practicing attorney and six years experience as prosecuting attorney of the county. If you were to employ an attorney for your own private affairs would you refuse to do so upon the ground that he had experience in the business and knew how? Or, rather would you not employ him for that very reason? Just to state the proposition shows how ridiculous is the argument.

Second: An argument is made in the north part of the county in the negative and by reference: I do not live in the city of Grand Haven, and do not keep the office in the Court House open every day. For six years I have been prosecuting attorney of Ottawa county and not of Grand Haven, nor any other particular spot. As nearly as possible I have divided my time equally between the North and South halves of the county. This is only a fair and square deal to all the people. My motto is: The greatest possible service to all the people. It is not a question of "keeping the office in the court house open" but of "handling the county's business successfully."

If the conservative, thoughtful men and women of the county will go and vote September 12th I do not believe there will be any question as to the stand they will take.

The "liberals" will vote; the lawbreakers will vote; the whiskey people will vote. All I ask is that the sober, industrious thinking people will vote also, as the government is always in their hands.

If my attitude in the past meets with your approval I sincerely hope you will attend the primaries September 12th.

Sincerely yours,
FRED T. MILES,
Pol. Adv. Prosecuting Attorney.

Unless a pig is fed so that it develops a big sturdy frame early, just as sure as two and two are four that pig will cost you more to raise than you'll get for it.

It pays to feed your young growing shots, a feed that will make them grow fast, develop big strong frames quick—give them the proper foundation for the extra pounds of meat at fattening time. That's just what

It is the feed that makes pigs grow BIG fast—helps get them to market before "they eat their heads off." It's a combination of nutritive grain products, finely ground and SWEETENED. THREE OTTAWA CREAMERY MANAGERS ARE ARRESTED

Charles Bush, manager of the Forest Grove Creamery, Julius Dykstra, manager of the Hudsonville Creamery, and Gerrit J. Boerman, manager of the Drenthe Creamery Company, were arrested by the state officials on the charge of failing to comply with the law that requires creameries to pasteurize all the skim milk and other by-products sent back to the farmers to be fed to stock. This law was passed to curb the spread of tuberculosis among Michigan cattle.

All three admitted the offense when they were admitted before Justice Van Schelven Friday. Boerman and Dykstra each paid a fine of $25 and costs, while Mr. Bush took an appeal. He based his appeal on the argument that the law is a discrimination between the creameries that fail to pasteurize their milk and the individual who separates his own milk and feeds it to his own cattle. The latter is not required to pasteurize the skim milk and Mr. Bush thinks that is discrimination. Hence he will test out the law.

Last April the state department of agriculture sent out notices to all creameries in Kent, Ottawa and Allegan counties that this law would be enforced. Thursday two representatives of the department, Cory Dykwell and Wm. L. Waltman, of Lansing, made an investigation and found these three violations, in Ottawa county, which resulted in the arrests. The three creameries had continued to return the skim milk to the farmers without pasteurization.

It is claimed by Mr. Bush that the law works a hardship upon the type of creamery which he manages. He claims that the pasteurized skim milk rots and that it poisons the cattle. The other two men admitted that the law was a good one and that it helped to protect cattle against tuberculosis. The matter will now be fought out in circuit court.

LOOSE GRAVEL CAUSES A SPILL ON HIGHWAY

While Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Powers of Grand Rapids were motoring to Saugatuck with a party of guests, the car skidded as Mr. Powers was turning out to give room to a passing motor south of Hudsonville. His car, a seven-passenger sedan, was thrown into the ditch turning over on its side.

Mrs. Celia Bertrand of the Hotel Browning, Grand Rapids was bruised slightly and her mother, Mrs. F. Netzarg also of the Browning, caught three fingers in the door after the car had overturned. The car was badly damaged.

Loose gravel, known to have been responsible for many accidents, has taken a heavy toll at this particular point near Hudsonville, where the road is narrow and at the foot of a hill. Mr. Powers was informed that his accident was the ninth this summer at that particular place. He was told also, that this was the place where early in the summer one woman broke her back dying in a hospital the day after the accident. That accident also was caused by loose gravel.

MUCH OUTSIDE TALENT TO APPEAR ON THE W. L. C. PROGRAMS

The Woman's Literary club this year is to have an unusual array of outside talent on its weekly programs. Some of the best known thinkers and speakers in the state are to appear from time to time, and these numbers in addition to the programs given by the members of the club will make the year's work of unusual interest.

Mrs. Dorian Russell, vice president at large of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs, will be a speaker early in the club year which opens on the first Tuesday in October. Dean Mary E. Sweney, of M. A. C., is another one who will give an address some time during the fall. C. L. Thompson, of Muskegon, is scheduled to deliver an address on "Citizenship." "Appreciation of Sculpture" will be the theme of Prof. Herbert S. Cross, of the Fine Arts Department of the University of Michigan. Edgar A. Guest, of Detroit, will entertain the club at an evening meeting with a lecture and readings from his own verse. Prof. J. L. Brunn, of the English Department of the University of Michigan, will give an address on "Education and Life."

In addition to these addresses by speakers from out of town, addresses will be given by Supt. E. E. Fell, Prof. Wynand Wichers, Dr. J. E. Kuizenga, Hon. G. J. Diekema, and Rev. Jas. M. Martin.

The club during the year will study modern history, art and literature. The officers for this year are: President, Mrs. C. J. Dregman; first vice-president, Mrs. G. J. Diekema; second vice president, Mrs. J. C. Post; recording secretary, Mrs. Arnold Mulder; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. H. Den Herder; treasurer, Mrs. James Ossewaarde.

The Trinity Church choir enjoyed an outing to Fruitport Friday night. Six automobiles conveyed the members to the little resort city where sumptuous refreshments were served. The entertainment was provided by the conservatory of the church and was enjoyed by all. The outing brings a closer union between the church and the choir which was tendered them in appreciation of the splendid services rendered by them during the past year. A special significance of the party was the presence of the organist, Miss Sue Hamelink, for the last time, by reason of the fact that she left for Breckenridge Saturday to begin teaching.

OTTAWA COUNTY JAIL BIRD PASSES AT MUSKEGON

Death has ended the career of the champion jailbird of Michigan. The body of Albert Radley, 57, who had spent more than 35 years behind the bars of Grand Haven, county and state institutions was found near the Muskegon Boiler Works Sunday.

Son of an old English family, Radley, at 21, received a small fortune and this helped him to start on the path that led downward to the most humiliating depths. While his money lasted he had many friends who deserted him when it was gone. Radley's longest sentence was 20 years for shooting an arm off Hovey Brown, a police sergeant, when the latter attempted to arrest him for fighting. At another time he served five years for throwing a bottle thru a restaurant window at a woman. He also served for arson.

Bradley's most frequent offense was drunkenness. During the past six years he has spent practically all his time in county jails serving fifteen to 90 day sentences. Last winter he came near dying in jail at Muskegon county when, as a trusty, he found his way to the store room where considerable confiscated mash was kept. The mash was fermented and Radley was thirsty, so he ate and was in a serious condition when found.

For a time during the war, Albert worked hard and remained sober. He was as patriotic as any one but he could not leave liquor alone as soon as the demand for guns and airplane motors diminished.

Radley has been a frequent visitor to the Grand Haven jail, and has been a guest of Ottawa county for periods of varying lengths.

A SAND PILE IN EVERY BATH TUB

Muskegon children do not have to go to Lake Michigan to play in the sand. Mothers now can place them in the bath tubs and they will have plenty of pure Lake Michigan sand has even been chlorinated.

It is all because the great intake pipe from Lake Michigan that furnishes the water supply to the city is half filled with sand. During the hot weather the pumps drew the sand out of the intake and it is now coming into the mains in great quantities. There is often two inches of sand in the bathtubs. Engineers are trying to remedy the trouble.

Signs are being painted on the telephone poles through Holland indicating the West Michigan Pike, which is officially known as "M11" and the former Central Michigan Pike to Grand Rapids and thence to Port Huron, the official number of which is "M51".

This work is being done by the Ottawa County Road Commission and is for the convenience of tourists who pass through this city. In many cities these signs are wanting and as a result the strangers gets lost. In the rural districts he can easily find his way without asking questions, merely by following the signs, but when he comes to a city the signs, in many cases, stop, and he has to inquire his way to the other side of town.

By putting these signs on the telephone poles the road commission makes it possible for a tourist to find his way easily through the city by merely watching for the painted posts. Usually it is much more satisfactory and reassuring than to get verbal directions which give rise to confusion.

LOCALS

Airplanes are so common about here these days that they are scarcely noticed. Last evening however a party of night riders took a skim in the moonlight. The plane was heard to over the city and some claim to have seen it "shooting" across the moon. As long as lofty "sparking" isn't done over the city which might bring dire results to the sleeping citizens if the ship came down no one cares. But riding plane by moonlight is rather a new one around Holland.

The column of "What you saw in this paper 50 years ago is omitted this week for the reason that Mr. Wm. O. an Eyck contributes another historic continued story on the "Burning of the Phoenix" and we felt that we should not be top heavy with historic data. Next week the column will appear again as usual in the accustomed place.

WILLIAM O. VAN EYCK
WRITES A FOURTH
HISTORIC STORYTELLS MORE ABOUT THE BURN-ING OF STEAMER PHOENIX
IN LAKE MICHIGANDigs Up Conflicting Statements As to Drunkenness of Some of the Crew

Postmaster Wm. O. Van Eyck, who has been doing some research work relating to the burning of the steamer Phoenix on Lake Michigan more than sixty years ago has brought to light some more facts that are of interest.

It will be remembered that several hundred Holland settlers, who were bound for the Van Raalte colony and also colonies in Wisconsin, perished in this early lake disaster.

Further information on the subject dug up by the postmaster follows below:

In response to a letter of inquiry to Mr. H. J. Meengs of Cedar Grove, Wis., the following reply, dictated to, and reduced to writing by, John H. Meengs, principal of the Wisconsin Memorial Academy, at Cedar Grove, was received. Mr. Meengs' story raises several important questions, and particularly that of the drunkenness of the crew of the Phoenix. Of course, in those days, drunkenness was not generally considered a state's prison offense, and especially not in Wisconsin. But Mr. Meengs insists that liquor was the cause of the Phoenix disaster. And without doubt, the carelessness of at least part of the crew, of which all reports contain some evidence, and which may have caused the burning of the ship, may be accounted for by some such fact as drunkenness. The heinousness of such offense, if committed in this case, is not lessened one whit by the death of several of the crew; and while we must often draw a veil over the acts of those who have perished, nevertheless the sacrifice of one hundred and fifty lives, if caused by the drunkenness of the few responsible for the safety of the boat, speaks in thunder tones against the combination of alcohol with locomotives and steamboats in action. The statement of Capt. Sweet, to be published later, however, totally denies the charge of drunkenness.

Mr. Meengs, whose wife was one of the few survivors, is seventy-six years old, and is still hale and hearty at his home in Cedar Grove. His letter, which follows, contains several additional facts of importance about the loss of the Phoenix.

An Incident in the Early Settlement of Sheboygan County. The Burning of the Phoenix

"The perspective of time will do the pioneer justice," said one of the authors of our day. But with the lapse of time we are getting further away from the day of the pioneer. Because of the fact that we are so likely to lose a truthful picture of the pioneer life, I desire to give an account of at least one incident in the history of the early settlement of Sheboygan county, which will recall, no doubt, to the minds of those who are somewhat older, some of the trials and sufferings of the early settlers. I wish to relate the story of the burning of the Phoenix, an incident which holds first place in my recollections of the early days. Although not an actual witness of the incident I am here relating, I have

There is wonderful rivalry among the bronc busters and lariat throwers and cowboy entertainers, but this big happy family skims the cream of the game and stages a show that is never forgotten by any of the spectators. Tommy Kirnan is the kind of a trick and fancy rider that brings home all the trophies, while remaining the modest cowboy. He has participated in many famous contests and reproduced in his exhibition the things that have gained his titles and a multitude of prizes.
