Road Project Brings Many To Council Meeting

COMMON COUNCIL DECIDES TO HAVE REPRESENTATIVE COMMITTEE DEAL WITH NEW ROAD PROBLEMS

Council Is Asked to Aid in Selling Lakewood Farm to the State

Wednesday night's Common Council session was marked by intensive discussion of the U. S. 31 re-routing project. Beginning at 7:30 o'clock, the aldermen and citizens from both Allegan and Ottawa counties talked pro and con about the proposed new road to run south of Holland from Michigan Avenue for four miles, then cutting over at an angle to meet the present U. S. 31 at the East Shore Garage near northern Saugatuck.

After an hour and a half of steady comment, the council decided to appoint a permanent "Good Roads Committee" to deal with all new road projects as to need and advisability. This committee was suggested to the council in a communication from B. A. Mulder of Holland, who intended that, if adopted, to have it take care of future problems, the communication reads. However the common council voted to have this committee appointed now, to deal with this current problem.

The council room was packed with a large crowd of attentive townspeople, several of whom joined actively in the discussion. The evening's action started when Alderman Kleis moved that regular business be set aside in favor of the new road problem. Immediately Alderman William C. Vandenberg secured the floor and discussed his stand opposing the rerouting, saying among other things that the scenic merits of the present road were reason enough for maintaining it as the main traffic route. His resolution as well as the one offered by Alderman Kleis appear together on page two, this section.

Austin Harrington, chairman of the Ottawa County Road Commission, spoke favoring the acceptance of the new road, stating that Holland's lack of a good road through the farming territory south of town was sufficient reason for the council to accept the proposed new route. He affirmed that the turning down of such a road was beyond his comprehension. He suggested setting the present road aside as a scenic route, the new road as a scenic route for those tourists who seek such roads. The resorts on Black Lake's south shore need relief from traffic congestion, concluded Mr. Harrington.

Alderman Prins asked whether the present road would eventually be abandoned by Allegan County if set aside as a scenic route, the new route being laid out. Mr. Harrington maintained that it would always be kept up and will be maintained.

Other people who talked during the evening, advancing admirable points on both sides of the question were Alderman Huyser, City Attorney Charles H. McBride, Swan Miller, S. Henkle, Mr. Boyce of Saugatuck, Charles Kirchen and B. P. Donnelly.

The new "Good Roads Committee" will take action as soon as Mayor Brooks selects its members. According to its provisions, the committee will include two aldermen, one member of the Chamber of Commerce, and one each from the Rotary and Exchange Clubs, with the Mayor chairman ex-officio. The move also provides that both Allegan and Ottawa County road commission men be called in on all problems affecting their territories.

There are many other interesting matters that transpired besides good roads as will be seen from the official council proceedings found below:

Holland, Mich., Sept. 2, 1931. The Common Council met in regular session and was called to order by the Mayor.

Present: Mayor Brooks, Ald. Prins, Kleis, Wolman, Brieve, Vandenberg, Hyma, Habing, Steffens, Huyser, Thomson, Veltman, and the clerk.

Resolutions led by Rev. H. D. Ter Kuurs.

Minutes considered read and are approved.

On motion of Ald. Kleis, seconded by Veltman.

RESOLVED that the regular order of business be suspended for the purpose of considering the proposed re-location of US31 from Holland and south to the new concrete pavement north of Saugatuck near the East Shore Garage.

Carried.

On motion of Ald. Kleis, seconded by Veltman.

RESOLVED that the City of Holland co-operate with the State Highway Dept. and approve of the relocation of US31 as proposed.

Ald. Vandenberg then presented a lengthy communication protesting against the proposed relocation and favoring the improvement of the present route. Mr. Vandenberg stressed the fact that at present we

SUGGESTION TO HAVE STANDING ROAD COMMITTEE TAKE CARE OF ROAD PROJECTS CARRIES

Because of the vexing road problems that constantly seem to beset Holland and the differences in opinions and the friction it brings deciding where good roads come from or should be laid out, it was suggested by B. A. Mulder that a permanent road committee be appointed by the mayor acting in the same capacity as harbor, health, bonus, or similar committees would. The suggestions as sent in to the common council explain all, and follows:

Holland, Michigan, September 2, 1931
TO THE HONORABLE THE MAYOR AND CHIEF OF POLICE OF THE CITY OF HOLLAND:
Gentlemen—
Having served frequently on several local committees appointed by different local civic organizations my experience in serving prompts this suggestion.

The committees in question have had under advisement the permanent road projects recently under discussion, one being the Holland-Saugatuck road, U. S. 31. During the past few days I have been thinking of the matter and I am convinced that a permanent road committee should be appointed to take up the matter of Tourist and pleasure travel in Holland and vicinity, and that it should be the duty of that committee. However, before the work of this committee was completed it resolved itself into another unofficial Good Roads Committee, several members of that committee, and I happen to be one of them, were already serving on three other committees, and I am sure that it is no confusion that may be of importance to you.

It was understood, however, by all those participating, that the much talked of Holland-Saugatuck road, U. S. 31, be surfaced and maintained, at least that was my understanding of the matter, and that the proposed new road, U. S. 31, be a new highway between Holland and Saugatuck, with intersections well marked showing where the scenic roads led to.

I sincerely believe that the work now being done in Holland is a great deal of confusion and misunderstanding that a half dozen committees working in different ways cannot help but bring about. The committee could get to work directly with the city. This committee could act as a "clearing house board" as it were to go into any future road projects suggested by civic organizations or individuals and decide on the merits of these proposals.

Such a committee, I believe, would be instrumental in disposing of a great deal of confusion and misunderstanding that a half dozen committees working in different ways cannot help but bring about. The committee could get to work directly with the city. This committee could act as a "clearing house board" as it were to go into any future road projects suggested by civic organizations or individuals and decide on the merits of these proposals.

Yours truly,
B. A. MULDER.

Harrington Is Questioned At Rotary Dinner

SPEAKS ON SUBJECT OF NEW ROAD AND IS ASKED MANY INDIRECT QUESTIONS BY MEMBERS OF CLUB

"I have taken such a firm stand supporting the new road south of Holland between here and Saugatuck because of two main reasons," said Austin Harrington at Thursday's Rotary Club luncheon at the Tavern. "My reasons are that the Merchants' Association, which is generally considered a most representative and influential body in Holland, has gone on record two years ago as being strongly in favor of the new route, and that the State of Michigan has a goal towards which it is working on this road question, that goal being a network of direct, mainline routes facilitating rapid transportation. Because I have worked with road engineers so many years, this last idea of theirs especially appealing, and this proposed direct route, to be constructed in the most modern manner, is a link in Michigan's greater highway system."

Austin Harrington made this statement in reply to a question put by the News asking for his personal viewpoint on the road matter. When questioned similarly during the luncheon by President of the Rotary Club, B. P. Donnelly, Mr. Harrington replied in approximately the same manner, adding that he would have preferred the Common Council had gone on record Wednesday night with a "Yes," or a "No" on the road matter.

President Donnelly arranged to have Mr. Harrington answer questions put by Rotary members. This brought out various views on the road project.

Charles Kirchen asked, "Assuming that the present road became US31-a, scenic route, wouldn't trucks still go over it, the distance being the same, thus defeating the argument of relieving traffic?"

To this Mr. Harrington replied that the distance was approximately the same on either route.

John Andrensthor asked about the chances of a shore route being built near the dunes. Mr. Harrington answered that present projects insured definitely that Holland would remain a hub of the road system, with no cut-offs occurring. He went on to picture the time, in the near future, when Holland in the wheel of good roads by having 32nd street become a direct main-line road from Lansing west.

Mr. Kirchen asked why state engineers expected to encounter expense in maintaining the present route. Mr. Harrington replied that modern road building called for the cutting of corners, wide right-of-ways, etc., which would have to be built into the present US31 to Saugatuck.

Carter Brown questioned whether Holland appreciated the chance of new Lake Michigan frontage opening up north of Castle Park, permitting additional revenue to enter Holland. He emphasized the fact that such real estate development depended upon the reasonable proximity of main roads. With the changing of the route, Mr. Brown feared isolation of valuable resort possibilities.

William Vandenberg read several letters from various officials, emphasizing the scenic values of the present route.

Before the road discussion commenced, E. E. Fall was appointed by President Donnelly, as chairman of the club's crippled children aid committee. Other committee members are Dr. R. H. Nichols, Charles Kirchen, Walter Groth and Rudy Brink. A letter from the Michigan Society for Crippled Children was read, thanking the club for its prompt support of the work.

HOLLAND POLICE CHIEF WILL BE NAMED SOON

Holland's new police chief will be named tentatively within the next two weeks, according to indications expressed by members of the board of police and fire commissioners, of which William Deit is chairman.

The board has a list of 12 applicants from which to select a successor to Frank VanRy, who held the office 17 years. He has relinquished the post although his resignation does not become effective until Oct. 1. Henry VanderSchel, member of the board, has served as acting chief since VanRy's resignation July 1.

HOLLAND MAYOR IN HAMILTON'S LABOR DAY FETE

Full Day of Music, Sports and Addresses to Mark Festival in Hamilton Monday

Mayor E. C. Brooks of Holland will be main speaker at Hamilton's Labor Day celebration Monday, talking on the topic of making the "Bee-line" road between Holland and Allegan a concrete highway. He will speak during the afternoon program, featuring Rev. Stanley Powell in an address. George Schutmaat of Hamilton is general chairman of the daytime celebration arrangements.

Hamilton's festivities begin at 8 o'clock in the morning, when the Merchants play the Benheim team in baseball. At 10 o'clock the Hamilton Independents will play the Holland Boosters' team. Another morning feature will be the greased pig race.

Starting at 1 o'clock, there will be a band concert by the Casco band, followed by quartette numbers and one of the special addresses. The Kronmeyer brothers will figure in musical selections. After a brief recess, Mayor Brooks will talk, preceded by another band concert. From four to six o'clock there will be a program of sports.

H. Brower, chairman of the evening program, has arranged for another band concert at 7 o'clock, with music by Mr. and Mrs. C. Lamm of Zeeland, Art Hoffman of Hamilton, the Kronmeyer Brothers, and Prof. T. T. Gordon. Ben East, nature editor of the Grand Rapids Press, will stage motion pictures of his work.

Sports prizes won during the afternoon will be awarded at night. These prizes are given by Holland, Zeeland, East Saugatuck and Hamilton merchants.

LAKEWOOD FARM CLOSES SEPT. 13

Lakewood farm and zoo, owned by George F. Getz, Chicago sportsman, will close for the season Sunday, Sept. 13.

Although the total number of visitors may fall slightly below the attendance of previous years, the place has kept its attractions for persons from all over the country, running into many thousands for a single day. New walks have been laid through the grounds and the zoo population was increased with lions, monkeys and birds.

Getz has made no intimation whether he will keep the place open to visitors next year in case the property is unsold.

Court Opens; No Change In Pleas Made

DATE FOR KNOLL CASE NOT YET FIXED; JUDGE FRED T. MILES PRESIDES

No change in the pleas of those arraigned before Judge Fred T. Miles on the opening day of circuit court were made by the defendants including Leonard D. Knoll of Holland accused of armed robbery in connection with the robbery of the Hudsonville bank and Willis Gillette, another Holland man, who is alleged to have been connected with the robbery of over $3,000 from the same bank.

Both men will be defended by Carl E. Hoffman of Holland. The date of trial has not yet been fixed but it is expected it will come up early next week. The sentence of the two confessed robbers is not expected to be given by Judge Miles until after the trial, when many circumstances may be cleared up in the matter.

In the criminal calendar Jacob Schraaf pleaded not guilty to liquor law violation as did John Keiviet. Arie Vos pleaded guilty to violation of the same law. Leonard Gillette of Holland and Clyde Raab of Holland both pleaded not guilty to rape. Attorney C. C. Lokker was appointed by the court to defend Raab.

John G. Turner of Muskegon pleaded not guilty to passing a check for $300 with no funds in the bank. Peter DeHamer pleaded guilty to liquor law violation.

The civil jury cases promise to be numerous with most of the attorneys ready to present their cases. Out of 15 cases listed 14 are ready to try.

Among them will be the case of Richard Karsen, pastor of the Second Christian Reformed church in connection with the automobile accident he and his family were involved in last spring.

Several non-jury cases have been transferred to the jury trial, including the case of the Grand Haven State Bank against Peter Kooiman of Grand Haven.

Six divorce suits are ready. It is expected the term will be a long one as this is the first session held since last May.

Through efforts of Mayor Fred Klumper, Zeeland has received permission from the state director of public safety to place a traffic light on the intersection of Washington and State sts. on the new M21 highway thru the city. The light was ordered for the safety of school children. It will be in operation only three periods a day in accordance to school time. Police officers will be stationed at other intersections to aid the children.

With the killing of one child and critically injuring of another recently the local council is taking all precautions to protect Zeeland children.

Former Holland Folks Travel Thru Europe

SPEND A SPLENDID WEEK IN GENEVA; GET FIRST-HAND INFORMATION ON KING CAROL

The letters to Mrs. Anna Van Drezer, E. Tenth Street, from her daughter traveling in Europe, continue to arrive. This week an interesting one arrived from Geneva and follows:

Geneva, Aug. 22, 1931.

Mother dear—

I suppose this will be my last letter home as we will just one week from today. It is just an opportunity to tell you the summer has been a wonderful one and I can hardly realize that all these marvelous experiences will soon be only a beautiful memory.

We have seen the beauty of Europe as never before. There has been time to absorb the loveliness as we have never done in the past. At times it seems as though we have not seen the things themselves so much as the very soul and spirit. I feel a kinship to Europeans as never before. We are so much alike, externally we differ, but at heart we are one. It is so silly trying to think we are not!

It is a tragedy though to realize that there is a growing Nationalism everywhere. Just when a few nations like Great Britain and the United States begin to think in world terms, the rest of the world says Nationalism first. Italy is growing a great pride in her nationality, Germany is prouder than ever to be the German. The Czechoslovaks are really cocky. The Hungarians are saying never, no never will they submit to their position, and France—France has simply lost her head.

We have had a splendid week at Geneva. It has rained a great deal but we have managed to get about. We have attended many of the lectures and conferences at the League of Nations. One meets many people of note there.

There was a reception and dance given the other evening. We attended the reception and met many people. All the world seems to come to Geneva. It is such a beautiful spot, I wish I could make you see it—the lovely lake first of all, amethyst blue, blending with emerald green at times, beautiful trees along its promenades, stately swans majestically sailing, gorgeous parks, and Geneva nestling close to the water's edge. Then one sees green hills dotted with magnificent villas and towers still higher, impressive mountains. Then there is Mont Blanc, so cozy, one sees her only now and then when the pearly clouds part and reveal her in all her loveliness.

I must tell you of a glorious afternoon we had. Mr. Holban's brother-in-law is president of the Yacht Club and he invited us for a sail on Lake Geneva. We went by train to Versoix where their villa is located. We met Madame Stetter, her husband and son in their charming villa. After a delightful chat in the garden we went for a sail. It was such a wonderful experience—the day so bright and lovely—the water gorgeously colored, the clouds like pearls, the vividly green hills, the towers and beautiful Mont Blanc in the distance. I shall never forget it. After the sail we returned to the villa for tea on the veranda, the lake in the distance, the garden just below, making a never-to-be-forgotten picture. It was such a gracious thing for the Stetters to do. Their delightful hospitality gave us so much pleasure.

I shall tell you more about Mr. Holban some day. As I told you previously, he is a Rumanian and we have learned to know him intimately. He belongs to the old Rumanian nobility—his father and grandfather in different legations—the old estate despoiled in part by peasants, and he, a thorough-going aristocrat, conducting a tour to try to save his estate. He has told us stories that would fill books. We have been kind to him and he has appreciated our friendship and repaid us a thousandfold in courtesy. He knows so well. Some day I shall tell you the part his brother and cousin played in King Carol's return. He says by the way, King Carol is too much maligned and Queen Helene made too much a martyr.

Well I shall soon see you and many are the tales I can tell. Love to every one of you. MAE.

Mrs. Karl F. Wyma has returned to her home in Platte, S.D. after spending two weeks in this city with friends and relatives. Mrs. Wyma was called here because of the serious illness of her brother, John Vandenberg.

Miss Susie Vandenschaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vander Schaaf, Jr., of Holland Route six, and Raymond Schaaf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Schaaf of 234 Michigan Avenue, Zeeland were united in marriage Thursday evening, September 3. The double ring ceremony was performed at the parsonage of Harderwijk Church by Rev. T. Van Der Ark. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vander Schaaf, Jr., a brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

The bride looked charming in a beautiful gown of blue crepe and carried a lovely bridal bouquet.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Route six, where the immediate relatives and friends were present.

Mrs. Schaaf is employed at the Lieveance Insurance office, while Mr. Schaaf is employed in the office of the Herman Miller Furniture Co., of Zeeland.

LEAPS FOR DRIFTING BOAT: HALF MILE SWIM HIS REWARD

"I'll give anyone advice not to jump in the lake and try to catch a drifting dinghy," a water-logged young yachtsman told Capt. William E. Preston of the United States coast guard at Grand Haven last night.

The young man and a group of yachting friends set out from Holland Sunday afternoon in their yawl, bound for White lake. Just south of here the dinghy broke loose and the one chap, Capt. Preston thought his name was Brown, jumped in to see if he could pick up the painter. The dory drifted in faster than he could swim and yawl continued on the shore. Brown swam the half mile to shore, was lucky in stumbling on friends who put the dinghy atop their car and drove Brown over to the coast guard station, where he waited for the yawl.

HOLD BOAT OVER FOR EXCURSION

The Sunday night Goodrich Boat is to be held only in Holland for the Sunday and Labor day excursion from this port. Passengers on Sunday night to Chicago, will be taken to Grand Haven on the 8:45 Greyhound, leaving the Eighth and River street station. On Sunday and Labor day excursions the steamer City of Holland will leave the Holland dock at 1:45 p. m. returning at 5 p. m.

Find Body of Robinson Man In Lately Woods

LETTER, NOW IN HANDS OF SHERIFF, SUGGESTS MARITAL ILLS CAUSED SUICIDE

Despondency, jealousy and revenge growing out of marital troubles, as revealed in a letter found in his pocket, is believed to have caused Frank Soltys to take his own life in a lonely woods in Robinson township, near where he and his divorced wife formerly lived.

The letter was addressed to Soltys' brother Jack, 1432 Fulton avenue, Grand Haven written in Polish, in which he declared he would kill Thomas Miednoski, because he is married to Soltys' wife who is divorced from him. He planned after that to kill himself.

According to the story of Mr. and Mrs. Miednoski, told to Sheriff Stoketok, Soltys appeared in their barn on Sunday about 9 a. m. when he ran up to Miednoski yelling "I kill you" and fired a gun. The shot missed and the attacked man ran around the barn. Soltys, according to the woman, then threatened to kill her but she picked up a club and went after the half crazed man and he ran off into the woods. Mr. and Mrs. Miednoski told the sheriff that later they heard another shot but did not investigate.

Soltys has been living with Paul Sakko of Agnew for the past few weeks but drove out from Grand Haven Saturday night with Adam Parcheta. He asked for Sakko's double barrel shotgun, which the owner demurred against giving him as one barrel did not work. Soltys disappeared later saying he was going to a friend's house in Robinson, who would help him fix the spring.

He was next seen in the barn of his old home which, according to the divorced decree, belonged to his former wife as she had paid him $6900 for the farm and automobile and home. In the letter to his brother Soltys said the sight of another man riding in his former car and living in his home was unbearable and he determined to kill him.

The body was found by Sheriff Stoketok after he and Undersheriff Marvin Den Herder had searched the vicinity since the report first came to the office. It was under some brush with a large hole near the heart. The man had removed his shoes and coat and the officers believe he fixed the gun in such a position that he could pull the trigger with his toes. Coroner Govert Van Zantwijk was called and decided death was due to suicide. He has the body here pending word from several brothers living in Newark, N. J.

Soltys was born in Poland and came to this country several years ago. He came here six years ago and was at one time employed by the Eagle Ottawa Leather Co.

Soltys left his wife May 15 and they were divorced in July. Mrs. Soltys and Miednoski were married by Justice C. E. Burr Monday. They applied for a marriage license about two weeks ago, the officers said.

As a result of the crowded condition of the Grand Haven high school, it has been decided to have pupils in the upper classes do their studying at home and go to school to attend classes only. The enrollment shows 610 pupils for next Tuesday or nearly 50 more than a year ago. The building was designed for 400. An extra teacher has been hired to assist in the 19 regular teachers. The increased enrollment, according to Glen Olsen, principal, is due to more rural pupils and the unemployment situation.

John Carlson, 40, of Coloma, Allegan county was assessed fine and costs of $75 in Justice John Galien's court Monday after pleading guilty to driving an automobile while intoxicated. Paul Ermos, age 40, of Muskegon Heights, village, was fined $10 and costs for being intoxicated. Unable to raise the money, the man went to the Ottawa county jail, Carlson for 30 days and Ernest for 15 days.

Doctors Keep Close Tab On Fatal Malady

OFFERS $10.00 APIECE FOR PEOPLE RECOVERED FROM DISEASE; SOURCES OF SERUM

Ottawa County Medical Association heads are concentrating efforts at stamping out the few current cases of infantile paralysis of which there are nine cases in the county. One of the nine cases is in Holland, with the remainder in the rural districts.

Dr. L. J. Scherhorn of Grand Rapids, district consultant for such diseases, spoke this week before the county medical association meeting held Tuesday in Holland. Dr. Ralph Ten Have of Grand Haven, head of the Ottawa County Health unit, is also keeping in close touch with the local cases. Authorities fear that there is no cause for undue alarm as long as people take ordinary health precautions and follow instructions. The disease is difficult to detect and seldom gets into advanced stages in healthy communities, according to the doctors. Young people and adults can contract infantile paralysis as well as "infants," as intimated by the malady's title.

Serum is being used to combat the spread of the disease. This serum is secured from persons recovered from infantile paralysis. This is the only possible aid at hand now to fight the dreaded effects of this scourge.

An offer of $10 per person has been arranged by the county health unit for individuals recovered who will offer their blood for serum purposes. A small amount is taken from the person recovered and no harm is felt. The use of this serum appears to be satisfactory and hundreds over the country this summer have enlisted without pay to aid in the collection of serum.

Unless the people still suffering from the disease, but able to be around, offer this serum, the further spread of the malady cannot be securely checked. The sum of $10 paid should figure in small proportion to the lives they can save. The people willing to submit to this generous sacrifice should get in touch immediately with the county health unit at Grand Haven. Only people recently recovered from an attack of infantile paralysis are of any use to the doctors for serum purposes.

POST OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED LABOR DAY

The local postoffice will be closed Labor Day, no city or rural deliveries will be made. The lobby will be open in the morning from 8 to 10 o'clock to accommodate the box holders.

Roads for Farm Relief

Since 1915 the number of automobiles in use in this country has increased at the rate of 1,000,000 a year. It is estimated that 28,000,000 cars are now in operation.

Vast sums have been spent for road building, with the result that fast, well paved highways carry us from city to city, from state to state. The average city dweller thinks that the United States is adequately provided with good roads.

As a matter of fact, however, only an infinitesimal fraction of roads in use have been extensively improved. Five million farmers, according to an authoritative survey, are cut off from their markets during a part of each year by impassable roads.

Good roads that keep the farmer in contact with his markets at all times and allow him to transport goods quickly and economically, are an essential factor giving agriculture a sound economic foundation.

Virgil Misner, age 32, former Holland resident now living in Chicago, was out on $1,000 bail, having been arrested by Deputy Sheriff Rufus Cramer on a desertion charge.

Marriage license applications have been received from Lynn Kuck, 23, of Grand Haven, and Susie De Boer, 19, of Perryburg, and from Florine Christenhal, 33, of Holland, and Eileen Hurler, 28, of Holland.

Allegan county is not nearly so badly off as most counties in the matter of non-payment of taxes. In a list of thirty-one counties only two show a lower percentage of delinquency than does Allegan which is .131. VanBuren is lowest with .101 and Ottawa next with .107.—Allegan News.

Jacob Zeeman, employed as a telegraph messenger at Grand Haven, was badly injured Friday when he was thrown off his bicycle while returning from a delivery. The wheel of his bicycle caught in a car track and he was thrown against an iron rail alongside the track, tearing the ligaments in his shoulder, fracturing his arm and bruising his body.

High waves Friday and Saturday swept over the beach at Ottawa Beach and destroyed playground equipment. Seas washed over the breakwaters, and the S. S. City of Holland reached her dock several hours late Saturday morning. Slides and other equipment at Grand Haven state park were overturned by waves that rolled high up the beach. It was one of these summer storms. Navigation was not interrupted.

have a scenic route along Black Lake and that it would be a mistake to re-route the traffic farther inland where motorists would miss this beautiful drive when coming into Holland.

Mr. Vandenberg also read a copy of a letter that Representative Wade of Saugatuck had written to Mr. Dillman, State Highway Commissioner, opposing the proposed relocation. Mr. Vandenberg also read other letters that he had received in opposition to the proposed relocation. There were several other persons present who presented their views in the matter, some for and some against the proposed new road.

Ald. Huyser and Kleis expressed themselves in favor of the new road while Ald. Prins was opposed to it. Clerk presented a petition signed by all the local members of the Board of Supervisors of Ottawa County requesting the Council to do all in their power to secure this new road for Holland.

Mr. Donnelly spoke in favor of going right on to Fenntville and continuing on to hook up with US12 in the southern part of the southeastern part of the state. Mr. Austin Harrington of the Ottawa County Road Commission stated that his position in the matter was to secure another road for Holland in addition to those we now have.

After a lengthy discussion on the matter, Ald. Vandenberg stated that he understood a communication to the Council had been prepared by Mr. Ben Mulder relative to the appointment by the Council of a road committee whose function would be to recommend desirable road projects, and suggested that Mr. Mulder's proposition be read by the clerk.

The proposition as presented by Mr. Ben Mulder would do away with the various road committees from the several civic organizations and have one committee to be appointed by the mayor, said committee to be composed of two aldermen and one representative from the Chamber of Commerce, one from the Merchant's Ass'n., and one each from the Exchange and Rotary Clubs. The mayor to be Chairman, ex-officio, of this committee.

It was moved by Ald. Vandenberg, seconded by Prins, That this controversy over the proposed relocation of US-31 be referred to such a committee with power to act. This committee to communicate to Mr. Dillman, their wishes in the matter as being representative of this community.

Carried by Ayes and nays as follows:

Ayes: Alds. Prins, Brieve, Wolman, Hyma, Vandenberg, Steffens, Hahing, Huyser and Veltman—9.

Nays—Kleis, Thomson—2.

The Council then resumed the regular order of business.

Petitions and Accounts
Clerk presented application of De Loof Drug Store for license to sell soft drinks.

Granted.

Clerk presented communication from E. P. Stephan requesting the Council to appoint a temporary inspector of oil burners until such a time as the city might pass an ordinance governing the installation and inspection of oil burners.

On motion of Ald. Vandenberg, seconded by Ald. Kleis, Ald. Thomson was appointed such temporary inspector with an inspection fee of $2 for each installation, to be paid Mr. Thompson by the city of Holland.

TENTED CITY AT GRAND HAVEN DISAPPEARING

With the last days of August in sight, the number of campers on the Grand Haven State Park has been reduced about 100. Custodian Ed Morse stated there were about 300 campers on the average at all times during the summer but last Monday with the approach of colder weather, the number of campers and lake water, about 100 dropped off the park population. The newcomers run about 15 or 20 a day at present but departures are in excess of this figure. Two weeks after Labor Day there will be few tents on the sands.

For and Against Newly Proposed Saugatuck Road

ALDERMAN KLEIS' RESOLUTION ON PROPOSED NEW ROAD

WHEREAS information has reached us from those who should be well informed in such matters that the State Highway Department desires to re-align between Holland and Saugatuck, and whereas we feel we should co-operate with the State Highway Department in their great program, although in this instance we wish it to be recorded that we have not been officially requested to do so, and whereas we feel that the best interests of Holland will be served by relocating this road between Holland and Saugatuck, particularly inasmuch as it calls for the building of an entirely new road several miles in length.

Therefore, be it resolved that the Common Council of the City of Holland do hereby formally approve of this relocation of US31 between Saugatuck and Holland.

WM. C. VANDENBERG PICTURE SCENIC HIGHWAY AS OUR RESORT SHOW WINDOW

Alderman Wm. C. Vandenberg in a resolution, read before the Common Council, tells why he is opposed to the re-location of US31 between Holland and Saugatuck. The resolution below is self-explanatory:

Holland, Michigan, September 2nd, 1931
To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council, City of Holland.

Gentlemen:

I am addressing you first of all as a citizen interested in the development and future welfare of Holland;

Secondly, as a business man and taxpayer;

And finally, as a member of this Council, sworn to perform the duties of my office honestly and fearlessly.

I am presenting my position in the matter about to be discussed in writing so that it will be up to me to defend what I say and in order that there may be no opportunity for others to misquote me or with propriety use but a part of what I say.

The subject I again wish to discuss is the proposed relocation of U. S. highway 31 between Holland and Saugatuck. Approval of this project by our Council was sought at the meeting held August 19th but the matter was deferred until tonight.

As vigorously as I know how, I wish to protest the relocation of this road.

First—as a citizen of this community I am proud of our resorts; fate has not been altogether kind to them during the last few years but I believe in them and in the possibilities of their future development.

There can be no argument about their value to Holland in the days when it was largely up to the railroads and boat companies to advertise the summer resorts which were accessible by means of rail and water travel only. A very limited number of resorts were then popular and many beautiful spots in Western Michigan were undeveloped because there was no way to get to them.

The automobile and good roads have revolutionized the resort business; good roads up to and through our beauty spots have been the means of further developing old resorts and opening up new ones.

Where the railroads and steamboat companies were the means of advertising our resorts in the early days, today the State of Michigan is spending thousands of dollars each year to advertise her playground advantages to our summer visitors and resorters; the West Michigan Tourist & Resort Association seeks to emphasize Western Michigan's attractions and all up and down the east shore of Lake Michigan cities and communities in one way or another are attempting to get their share of the tourist and resort business.

The various advertising methods used by the various agencies and communities are all fine, but a show window is the merchant's best salesman, so I believe a glimpse of our beauty spots to the stranger coming this way is the best salesman we could possibly have in inducing our tourists to become our resorters.

Therefore, it seems to me that if Holland wishes to continue to capitalize upon its very great possibility of selling her resorts, she can do so to the best advantage by letting them look into our "show window"—beautiful Black Lake and the attractive summer homes and residences along its shores, all visible from our city. Resorts must have good roads leading to them or through them or near to them if their values are to be maintained to a community.

Secondly, as a business man and taxpayer, I want you all to know that the firm of which I am a part, appreciates and needs the trade we are securing from our resorters. We also appreciate and need the business we get from our tourists. Our firm—and I am sure the same may be said of all of our competitors—has spent considerable money on our properties because of our resort and tourist business and the city benefits because of the additional taxes we are thus able to pay.

Our resorters have heavy investments in their summer homes; our resort hotels have heavy investments in their properties; many of our business men have additional investments because of the tourist and resort business. Through proper advertising, tourists become summer dwellers; after that it is up to our business men and townspeople

Cooking by Electricity

Read what Wilcox says in his recent book on "Electric Heating" published by McGraw-Hill Book Co., on the subject—"COOKING BY ELECTRICITY"

"Superior results are obtained with properly designed electric cooking apparatus. Electric ovens afford maximum uniformity in heat distribution and insure even baking and browning. The temperature can be accurately controlled, thus eliminating the possibility of underbaking, burning or overbaking. Bread, cake, cookies, pies, etc., are prepared under the most favorable conditions. Other conditions being equal, they are uniform and attractive in appearance, and remain fresh longer. Roasts are browned uniformly on top, bottom and sides, open pans are employed, no moisture is added, and basting is not necessary. Sufficient grease and moisture from the meat collects in the pan to provide ample gravy stock. In both roasting and broiling, the meat is evenly seared (without burning), thereby retaining its natural juices and food values, and making it more delicious, nutritious and attractive to serve.

"Food prepared on cooking surfaces in open or closed utensils will not burn as long as any moisture is present, because heat is applied only at the bottom. All food experts agree that the use of a minimum amount of water insures better cooking. Otherwise, the food is parboiled and the minerals and food values are dissolved and lost when the vessels are drained."

The users of Electric Ranges on the lines of the City Power Plant were asked to read Mr. Wilcox's opinion and advise if they could indorse his statement. The replies indicate their unanimous approval. Among the users are the following:

LOCAL NEWS

Funeral services for Mrs. Nancy White, age 62, who was found dead on the floor Monday at the home of Charles Jackson of Hopkins was held Wednesday at Allegan, burial in Oakwood cemetery.

Naturalization class was held at the court house Sept. 2 by the examining officer out of Detroit. Those to attend were Adolph A. Hoecker, West Olive; Albertus Geerling, Holland; Miss Anna C. Berendschot, Holland; Egbert J. Laurs, Holland; Kees Laman, Grand Haven; Reinder Israel, Holland; Cornelius Israel, Holland; Hans DeYoung, Grand Haven, and Desire Heyden, Holland.

Ten lodges were represented at the picnic held by Odd Fellows lodges of Allegan county at the Allegan fairgrounds Sunday. An excellent time was enjoyed by the Odd Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah. An association was formed and the following officers elected: President, L. W. Looyengood, Wayland; vice president, Clare Adams, Allegan; secretary, Mrs. Floyd Stephens, Allegan; treasurer, John Kolvoord, Jr., Hamilton. It was decided to meet annually.

Mrs. G. Schruer of Grand Rapids, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhoda the past ten days, is now visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Hofstee, at Jamestown.

The Faithful Workers of Central Avenue Christian Reformed church will meet tonight, Friday, at the home of Miss Julia Riemersma, on Rural Route ten.

News has been received here of the death at Port Jervis, N.Y., of Rev. Sheldon Vandenburg, Hope college graduate in 1896. Death was due to apoplexy. Mr. Vandenburg had spent 30 years as minister in the Reformed Church in America.

Michigan's first annual fruit market under the auspices of the Michigan State Horticultural society will start Sept. 10 from the Fennville Fruit exchange, H. D. Footman of East Lansing, secretary of the society, announced here Wednesday after completing arrangements for the inspection trip. Several hundred orchardists are expected to make the tour which has been timed to take the tourists to the markets while the apple, peach, pear, plum and grape crops are moving in large volume. The Fennville exchange will be packing apples, peaches and pears next week. The apple washing machines and grading equipment will be in operation, and the visitors will see fruit being stored in the new 40,000-bushel cold storage plant to await shipment. A short stop will be made at the South Haven Fruit exchange enroute to the Benton Harbor cash fruit market, where the equivalent of more than 7,000 cars of fruit and vegetables are sold annually. Footman reported the peak of the apple, peach, pear, plum, grape, melon, tomato and celery movements will be near in the Benton Harbor section next week.

An application for a marriage license has been received by the county clerk from Raymond G. Schaap, 21, Zeeland, and Susie Vander Schaaf, 22, Holland.

Miss Ruth Glerum of Zeeland will leave today for Rapid River, a town in the Upper Peninsula of the state, where she will spend the coming school year as teacher in the high school, her subjects being English and Latin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Den Herder of Grand Haven attend a family reunion of the Den Herder family at Pine Lodge, Holland, last night attended. Marvin Den Herder, deputy sheriff was also present.

Explaining the charge of lack of co-operation on the part of the Holland police department for releasing a suspect two hours before Under Sheriff William Core of Traverse City reach Holland to claim his man, as reported in a dispatch from Traverse City, Acting Chief Henry Vander Schel issued the following statement: Frank Chigam, an Indian, approached Officer Frank VanEtta Saturday morning at 1 o'clock and asked for a night's lodging. An hour later Van Etta received a radio message from Traverse City, asking for the arrest of an Indian wearing khaki trousers and shirt, and carrying a knapsack. The Indian suspect only partly answered the description. We called Traverse City at two o'clock and received a reply to hold him but no officer came. Another message was received at seven o'clock Saturday night that an officer would be after him Saturday night or Sunday. The officer reached Holland Sunday afternoon at 3:30. One of our officers released him at 9:30 Sunday morning. Vander Schel admitted the prisoner might have been held longer and it might have been considered an error on the part of the officer to have released him. Nevertheless the vagueness of the time when the officer was to reach Holland and the apparent disinterestedness and lapse of time before the officer reached Holland were considered reasonable causes for release. Chigam stated he had not been in Traverse City, but was on the way from Mt. Pleasant to attend a mission meeting at Bradley. Vander Schel emphasized the fact the Holland police department stood ready at all time to co-operate with police departments of other cities."

TUESDAY WILL BE OPENING DAY OF HOLLAND SCHOOLS

The fall term of school in both the public and Christian schools of Holland will begin on Tuesday morning, September 8th.

It is expected that approximately 3,000 pupils will enter classes in the public schools next Tuesday. There will be 117 teachers. The instructors will meet Monday, September 7, for active sessions to complete organization for the next day of classes.

Only three new instructors will be listed on the public school faculty this year. They are Gerald Breen of Holland, graduate of Holland High school and Michigan State College, who will coach and teach history.

Miss Margaret Van Vyven of Holland, graduate of Holland High school and Western State Teachers College, who will have early elementary instruction. Miss Van Vyven has had three years of experience as a teacher in Coopersville.

Miss Hattie J. Wassenaar of Grand Rapids, graduate of Western State Teachers college with several years experience as a teacher, will have a fourth grade.

ONE MAN DIES IN AUTO CRASH AT HUDSONVILLE

One of the most serious automobile accidents, causing the fatal injury of Jacob Vander Laan of Georgetown township, occurred at about six o'clock Friday morning when two automobiles met head-on on M-21, about one mile east of Hudsonville, damaging both cars badly and severely injuring James Walker, the driver of the other car. Vander Laan, who lives on the old M-21 route about a mile west of Jenison, was on his way to Hudsonville, driving a Chevrolet sedan, when he met a large car belonging to A. McDonald, who is resorting at Waukazoo, and driven by a colored chauffeur named James Walker.

Mr. Vander Laan was so badly injured that he died one and one-half hours later at St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids, where he was taken after the accident. He was so badly cut about the head and body by broken glass and bruised that he suffered much loss of blood, but the immediate cause of death was given as skull fracture.

Walker, who is at home in Cincinnati, where he is employed by McDonald, was taken to Butterworth Hospital, where it was found that he had been severely cut about the head, face and chin, and on the left wrist, besides being badly bruised about the body.

Coroner Gil Vande Water and the sheriff's office have taken charge of the investigation and will thoroughly probe the affair to determine the cause of the collision.

The coroner's jury, consisting of George M. Hubbard, foreman; Orin Edson, W. Charles Covey, Elmer Gillett and Herman Telgenhof, all of Hudsonville, viewed the body, cars and other links in the accident and adjourned awaiting the recovery of the driver of the other car, James Walker, negro, of Cincinnati.

Birds Starting Flight for the Sunny South

SWALLOWS ARE THE FIRST TO LEAVE FOR WINTERING GROUNDS IN CENTRAL SOUTH AMERICA

This is the time of year when you see the Michigan birds a-flooding. The martins are sitting on the wires in long rows. The grackles forage in great bands in the open oak groves, while the red-winged blackbirds pour into the cat-tail marshes at sundown in great brooding flights that whirl and eddie noisily.

The fleet, long winged and twittering swallows really have left us. Every spring these airy tourists come to us from their wintering grounds in Central and South America, but they are the first to leave and need only a suggestion of the falling summer to pack up bag and baggage and hie to warmer climes.

Six of the North American swallows may be found in Michigan, during the summer. They are highly beneficial, and we might wish they would stay longer. Of course, the purple martin is the best known as well as the largest of all the swallows. Then there is the beautiful barn swallow with the beautiful colors of the bluebird. His address is always R.F.D. and he becomes quite tame among the farm buildings.

The cliff swallow is well known, while the tree swallow is among the first to arrive in the springtime, as well as among the first to journey southward. The bank and rough winged swallows are inhabitants of the river banks and cliffs. While the former is found all over Michigan, the latter confines his residence to the southern part of the state near the Ohio-Indiana line.

With the swallow family flocking and getting ready to say goodbye, watch the beaches and observe the arctic wanderers on their way to the southland. Sandpipers bob along the windward shores. Sanderlings dash nervously hither and thither, never still for a minute. Yellowlegs, down from the north, sweep in smooth flight over the level tawny marshes.

The southern migration is much more leisurely than the flight which brings the birds northward in the spring. The birds start earlier and they take much more time in getting south. For that reason it is difficult to fix any particular dates for the migration to start. It is interesting to learn science has determined there is a general southern trend in the upper air currents in the fall, and therefore, the birds fly high to take advantage of it. This may explain why only small flocks of birds are seen each fall actually passing overhead in their southern flight.

YOUNGEST MAKES IRRIGATION SYSTEM FOR FARM

A home made irrigation system, devised by a seventeen-year-old school boy, is being demonstrated as a successful device for keeping the crops moist at Michigan State College. An electric pump draws water from a stream or well and it is carried to the fields through hoses of long strips of eight-ounce duck. The water oozes from these hoses in a sufficient quantity to irrigate the soil. It is found to be a very efficient substitute for the overhead system of irrigation in light soils. If no deep wells have to be drilled, the system may be installed for $300 to $500 and costs from 30 cents to 50 cents a week to operate.

MARRIAGE INCREASES, BUT SO DOES DIVORCE

Marriage is increasing in the United States, and so is divorce. Of the male population of 43,881,021 in 1920, 26,327,102 or 60 per cent, married; 14,959,712 or 34.1 per cent, single; 4,895,78, or 1.1 per cent, divorced, and 2,024,936, or 4.6 per cent widowed. Ratios for the female population of 42,837,149 were: Married, 26,170,756, or 61.1 per cent; single, 11,306,654, or 26.4 per cent; divorced, 573,148, or 1.3 per cent, and widowed, 4,734,207, or 11.1 per cent. In 1920 59.2 per cent of the men were married, 35.1 per cent single, and six-tenths of one per cent were divorced. 60.6 per cent single, 27.3 per cent, and divorced, eight-tenths of one per cent.

Played a Shrewd Trick

A stranger walked into a Marcus, Iowa, cafe and told the proprietor he was almost starved. The cafe man said he wasn't in the free lunch business, but the visitor hung around the place and continued to beg until he took pity on him and fed him. The stranger departed after showing his appreciation but in doing so his wallet dropped to the floor. He went out on the street and stood around. The cafe man found the wallet, and saw it contained a $20 bill and darted out and demanded that the man pay for his lunch. The visitor did so, took his $19 and some cents in change and departed. Later the cafe owner discovered the $20 was counterfeit.

INFANT DROWNS IN WATER TANK AT HOME

Edna, two year old twin daughter of Thomas Curtis, of Sand Lake, on the Ottawa County line, drowned Saturday in a water tank on the farm of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bundy. The child fell into the water while at play with her twin sister Ella.

The Rev. and Mrs. Cornelius Nicholas Bakker with their two children "Heidi Ann" and Cornelius Jr., have returned to Lima, Ohio, after spending a part of July driving through the east and the month of August staying in Saugatuck. They also were guests at the home of Mrs. Mersen, Tenth and Central.

CLARENCE EVANS, AGE 12, CRUSHED AS SWING BRIDGE OPENS

Clarence Evans, age 12, son of Ben Evans of Boyne City, was fatally crushed Tuesday when caught by the swing bridge of the Grand Trunk railway bridge over the junction of Spring Lake and Grand River while playing under approaches of the span. He was taken to Hutton hospital, but died in twenty minutes.

Clarence was visiting at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Solley, and had gone fishing with two companions, Robert Nuville and Ray Hittman of Perryburg.

When a tug whistled for an open bridge, Clarence suggested jumping on the movable portion of the span and go for a ride. The others refused, but Clarence leaped on it just as it started to swing. He was pinned against the bridge approach and when the span swung open he was dropped onto an abutment.

C. W. Peterson, bridge tender, was not aware of the tragedy until the bridge was closed again. State police and Coroner Govett Van Zantwick investigated and announced death was accidental.

The boy will be taken to Boyne City for burial.

SAUGATUCK'S FLOWER SHOW WINNERS NAMED

The flower show put on Saturday by the Garden club of Saugatuck, was the most successful in its career, being attended by approximately 400.

First prizes were won by: Gladys, Mrs. Swett, Illinois, R. L. Newman; asters, Mrs. Johns; zinnias, Mrs. Swett; marigolds, Mrs. Swett; phlox, Mrs. John Doran; roses, R. L. Newman; bowl bouquet, Mrs. R. J. Walker; basket bouquet, Mrs. Charles Boos; vase bouquet, Mrs. Swett; dahlias, Mrs. Swett.

Miscellaneous prizes were won by Mesdames Frank Comstock, H. Hirner, N. Naughtin, R. Sewers, Alaine Pear, B. Horswell, H. Dick, F. Owens, N. Edgcomb and Gus Jesiek.

HOW TO TREAT SEED CORN

Seed corn treated with mercury dust compound yielded 10 per cent more than untreated seed on the farm of C. L. McNitt, Conklin, writes agricultural agent Milham. At a meeting held at the McNitt farm Saturday the farmers attending husked out some of the corn to prove the value of the treatment. Corn that was fertilized yielded more corn by 30 per cent than unfertilized area. Mr. McNitt said that he never produced more corn than he could feed. In fact few Ottawa farmers produce more, oats or barley than they can feed on their own farms. Most farmers purchase large quantities of feed every year.

The demonstration proves that seed treatment and fertilizer can give profitable results even in a dry season. Mr. McNitt reported that the treated seed came up two to three days earlier than the untreated seed.

FISHING NEAR HERE IS REPORTED TO BE POOR

Grand Haven Tribune: Commercial fishing out of this port continues to be very slow, said one of the fishermen recently. The whitefish catch, which is made in pound nets along shore, is almost at an end and local fishermen are pulling up the stakes and bringing the nets in for storage for another season.

Trout and herring fishing farther out in the lake is very poor and has been so for many months. Pole fishing from the piers, docks, bridges and boats both at the harbor mouth, river and Spring Lake has been fairly good with some fine catches reported during the season.

FRUIT SHOW NOT TO BE HELD THIS YEAR

The Fennville Fruit Show that has been held annually for the past four years under the auspices of the Agricultural Club will not be held this year, due to financial conditions, as thought best by the superintendent and the board of education.

While the decision to abandon the Fruit Show for this year will be a disappointment to many, Keith B. Landsburg, head of the Agricultural department, says that plans will be made for a bigger and better fruit show next year.

MISSIONARY FROM ZUNI INDIANS TO BE HERE

A mission assembly, sponsored by the Muskegon Mission syndicate, will be held Sept. 7 at Pine lodge, with afternoon and evening sessions. P. Henry Sliyster of Grand Rapids will direct community singing.

Speakers include Rev. Calvin G. Hayenga, missionary among the Zuni Indians in New Mexico; Rev. Clarence Bouma of Calvin, Minn.; Grand Rapids, and Rev. Harry J. Hager, pastor of Bethany Reformed church, Chicago.

NON-GAME FISH TAKEN FROM INLAND WATERS MAY BE SOLD WITHOUT PERMIT

No license is now required to sell non-game fish taken from inland waters of the state. The provision requiring a license was eliminated from the inland fish law by the 1931 legislature. The new law does not change the provisions necessitating a commercial fishing license for selling fish taken from the Great Lakes.

Persons taking fish to sell from any of the inland waters must comply with all of the regulations for taking of non-game fish. The list of non-game fish which may be taken and sold from inland waters without license are:

Grass pike, calico bass, strawberry bass, rock bass, crappies, bullheads, carp, catfish, ciscoes, dogfish, garfish, mullet, pilchard (Menominee whitefish), whitefish, roach, sheepshead, smelt, suckers and lake trout.

SCOW SINKS OFF GRAND HAVEN HARBOR

A scow with pile driver mounted on it, sank some distance from the Grand Haven piers. The scow was overloaded with piling, causing her to sink below her normal water line. The outfit belonged to a Grand Haven commercial fisherman, Menno Outman. Capt. William E. Preston and his coast guards towed the scow into port and this morning helped pump the craft out.

Ice Plant Case at Spring Lake Comes to Head

SPRING LAKE COMPANY MAY CONTINUE ITS OPERATIONS, JUDGE VANDERWERP RULES

The Spring Lake Ice and Coal company may continue operating its artificial ice plant on Savidge street, according to an opinion filed with the county clerk by Circuit Judge John Vanderwerp of Muskegon. Judge Vanderwerp sat in the injunction and damage suit proceedings instituted by Samuel Falls and wife against Tony Ver Plank and wife, owners of the ice and coal firm. Mr. Falls stated that the plant next door to his residence had made it unfit for dwelling purposes and had impaired its value more than $1,000. He asked a temporary injunction restraining the plant in his bill asking for the permanent closing of the plant and the award of damages.

In the absence of Judge Fred T. Miles, Judge Vanderwerp sat in the first hearing on the temporary injunction in July and denied Mr. Falls' request. Hearing of the case was set for Aug. 12. Testimony of engineers, contractors, home builders, residents and real estate men was taken and Judge Vanderwerp himself visited the scene of the controversy. He took over a week in which to prepare his finding that the artificial ice plant, located downtown in a business district did not constitute a nuisance.

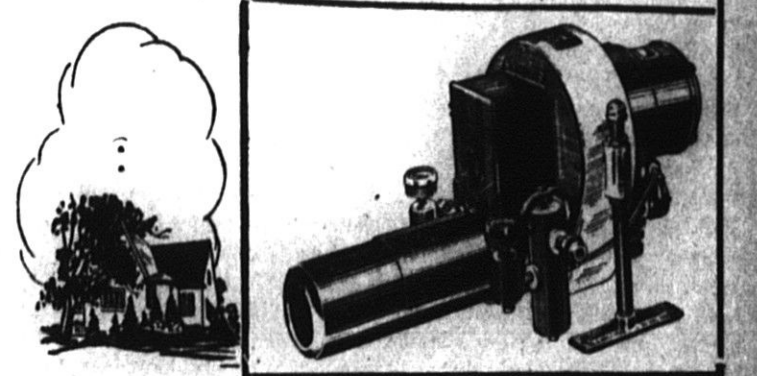

Judge Vanderwerp thought conditions as described by the plaintiff were largely overdrawn. He called attention to the fact that the plaintiff was the only party complaining of the ice plant and that heavy trucks going by on the route of US-16 and railway trains on the Grand Trunk right of way in the rear of the plaintiff's house, might have caused loosening of the plaster as charged. He points to the fact that Mrs. Falls, due to a nervous condition, may be more sensitive to the vibration than the ordinary individual. The judge finds that no undue damage was caused by smoke, soot or fumes from the Diesel engine which is in operation. Very little trace of soot was present, he said. Two conditions were imposed on the ice company, namely the construction of a trench, eight feet deep and four feet across on the east side of their ice plant, the trench to be filled with shavings, cork or other insulating material, to prevent tremors from the operation of the plant reaching the Falls residence and the erection of a stack for the engine exhaust which would muffle the exhaust noise.

HOLLAND MAN CONDUCTS SCOUT HONOR COURT

Boy Scouts of the southeast district of the Allegan-Ottawa council held their August court of honor at Base Line lake, Allegan county, awarding 35 merit badges after tests conducted by Scout Executive Peter Norg and Deputy Commissioner C. Clay Benson. The next court of honor will be held Sept. 20, when members of Troop 24 will be hosts at the M. E. church. Four Allegan troops are working toward 100 per cent representation at the state jamboree at Lansing, when they will attend the Michigan State-Alma football game.

HOLLAND FURNACE COMPANY OFFICE BUILDING CROWNS
TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF UNPRECEDENTED
DEVELOPMENT

Slogan "Warm Friend" Has Proven Trade Mark of Exceptional Merit and Indicative of the Friendly Feeling Existing Between the Public and the Holland Furnace Company and Its Manufactured Product as Well

The Holland City News feels that it is altogether fitting and proper, in fact a very auspicious occasion, to devote a page to the Holland Furnace Co., Holland's leading manufacturing plant and an industrial mainstay for a quarter of a century. The time is auspicious since this "Warm Friend" organization has crowned 25 years of unprecedented prosperity and tremendous growth with the erection of an office building which is the last word in establishments of that kind.

On August 7, 1930, Mr. Charles Landwehr, manager of the plant, gave out the welcome news that pleased Holland greatly for it more homes and mean a larger trade all around. "Since I was privileged to sit in on some of the conferences when this project was under discussion I knew that other localities were considered as being more advantageous for a great central office for the Holland Furnace Company. Some are nearer the central point of their distribution, others appear to offer advantages in the matter of employment. Many attractive offers were made by some of these cities. "However, I feel sure that the people of Holland are anxious to show the executives of the Holland brought a "silver lining" to a cloud of industrial stress that hovered over Holland as well as elsewhere. The announcement made by Mr. Landwehr was that the Holland Furnace Co. was to erect a $350,000 administration building. The company promised at that time that it would employ Holland labor and buy Holland materials and have the job superintended by a Holland contractor.

Main Entrance Administration Building

Arthur W. Wrieden, secretary of the company, at that time stated that the Holland Furnace Co. would use to it that a model office building was erected that would be most convenient and modern in every detail and would be a credit to the company and to Holland as well, all of which has been lived up to.

The importance of the erection of the building is evident from a proclamation given out by Holland's mayor, Mr. Ernest Brooks, who in the issue of August 7, 1930, said as follows.

"There seemed to be every prospect of a hard winter ahead, but this news in a very large way removes that prospect. Industrially this is the biggest happening in years. It may well be the beginning of a new era of prosperity for Holland through industrial expansion.

"The decision of John P. Kolla and his associates on the Board of Directors of the Furnace Company to build right here shows their confidence in the future of our city. Coming at this particular time, when the building trades are quiet, when employment is slack, it is going to be a real boon to everyone who is at all dependent upon a pick-up in business for their livelihood. It offers encouragement to others who employ labor to go ahead with their expansion plans to take care of the business that is coming.

"Undoubtedly this determination to continue their headquarters in Holland on the part of the Furnace company will also mean the bringing of many more families to Holland, the families of the new employees that will be needed in the big central office, and that will eventually require the building of Furnace Company that their staying right here is mightily appreciated. The prestige which the Holland Furnace Company has won nationally has brought prestige to us as a city. Holland goes ahead with them."

Shortly after these announcements were made excavation was started on the elevation on Columbia Ave. between 20th and 21st streets and Contractor Frank Dyke with a large force of artisans and laboring men kept steadily at work with concrete, steel and stone until the massive frame-work of this pretentious structure was up and under roof and the finishing touches began.

According to the Holland City News, Saturday, May 16, was "moving day for the Warm Friends" and what a home the office force moved into. The company has now had three months in which to try out the beautiful new building—through one of the most torrid summers Holland has experienced in years.

In a recent issue of the Grand Rapids Press, that publication called the new office building "a dream" in the following language.

"The office girl's dream has come true. Everything she possibly could wish for in a place to work is found in the new administration building of the Holland Furnace Co., recently completed.

"The offices are virtually as cool in summer as they are warm in winter. The air always is as fresh and invigorating as on a balmy spring day following a warm rain. The ventilation is so perfect that the smoke from the boss' cigar or cigarette is not the least offensive. The building is comparatively noiseless, even when 100 or more stenographers are busily hammering their typewriters. And the lighting arrangements, drapes and decorations are so perfectly carried out that no shadows are cast.

"Money has not been spared to make this building a model in office construction and efficiency. Yet the company's funds have not been used extravagantly to gain this objective. Wherever possible its own products have been used in the heating and ventilation system. Some of these features appear for the first time in an office in this building. They promise to revolutionize office heating and ventilation.

"The cool, fresh, humid air supplied by this system is perhaps the first thing that impresses visitors upon entering the building. They are greeted in the luxurious lobby with a breath of atmospheric wholesomeness. Stepping from the street where the broiling rays of a July sun have run the temperature to 90 and 100 degrees, it is a pleasant relief to enter a room where the refreshed, washed air has been tempered at 70 to 78 degrees.

"As visitors begin to express their approval of the building in general and the ventilating system in particular, the company's executives explain that President A. H. Landwehr and his staff had two main objectives in mind when they planned the structure. First, they wanted a building which would supply a comfortable place to work, and second the structure was required to give a maximum of office efficiency.

"If the air is good, office efficiency is better," explained A. W. Wrieden, treasurer of the company. "Before we moved in here our office efficiency was not of the best. "For 25 years our offices were located over the foundry. The air was bad. The place was noisy. Our business was growing and our administrative quarters were congested badly. We had to have more room and we took advantage of the times to build this building. We have built primarily to gain greater office efficiency."

On entering the new office building, one is immediately impressed with the richness of the construction. One is admitted through massive steel and metal doors over which are suspended two gigantic opalescent fixtures, show a richness solidly indicative of this progressive nationally known organization that has given our city unlimited advertising and has made Holland known over the entire continent.

The next big surprise comes after one has entered the portals of this substantial building. The mammoth stairway that leads to the lobby is a dream in construction with heavy brass rails, specially prepared tile floor, onyx side walls, a ceiling in raised rosettes in blending colors such as only an artist can paint.

One must see these offices in order to appreciate them. Everything is rich, but not flashy. The colors are subdued, but blend in perfect harmony. Office furniture, rugs, side walls, electric fixtures, all harmonize in a color scheme that is pleasing but not loud.

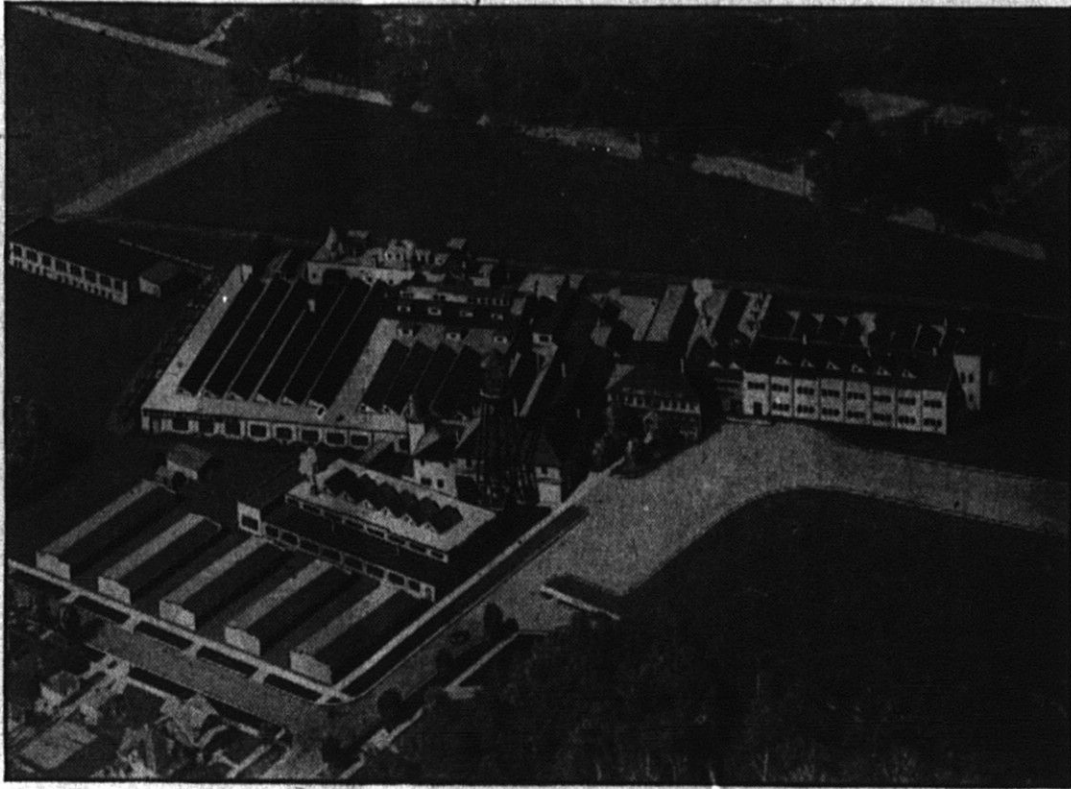

There are conference rooms respective offices for the heads of every department, there is a hospital for first aid, a large accounting room for the clerical forces and an imposing directors' room for "across the table" talks. A spacious well-lighted room on the top floor is to serve as a rest room with plenty of lounging chairs and cozy corners for comfort of the employees after the repast.

One large department indicating the tremendous volume of business done by the Holland Furnace Company is noticeable in the filing room where hundreds upon hundreds of steel files hold the correspondence sent in from the different branch offices from day to day. A peep into that filing room convinces one that the "Warm Friends" sure do some business. The mass of reports and detail in this extensive department staggers one to think of it and Secretary Wrieden says that this represents the filing of only one year's business, since at the end of the year winter months. Radiation comes from the ceiling and what is more, the air in the entire building is automatically changed every few minutes and is washed in a large cooling and washing room, passing through a water spray installed in the basement before it is forced through the ducts that connect company upon the branch agency basis. This policy has been reflected in a steady growth in sales. Starting as a $50,000 corporation 25 years ago, it has grown until today it is a $10,000,000 corporation doing a gross annual business of more than $17,000,000 a year. By exercising full control over its

the files are emptied, the correspondence placed elsewhere and the cases filled with the next year's business.

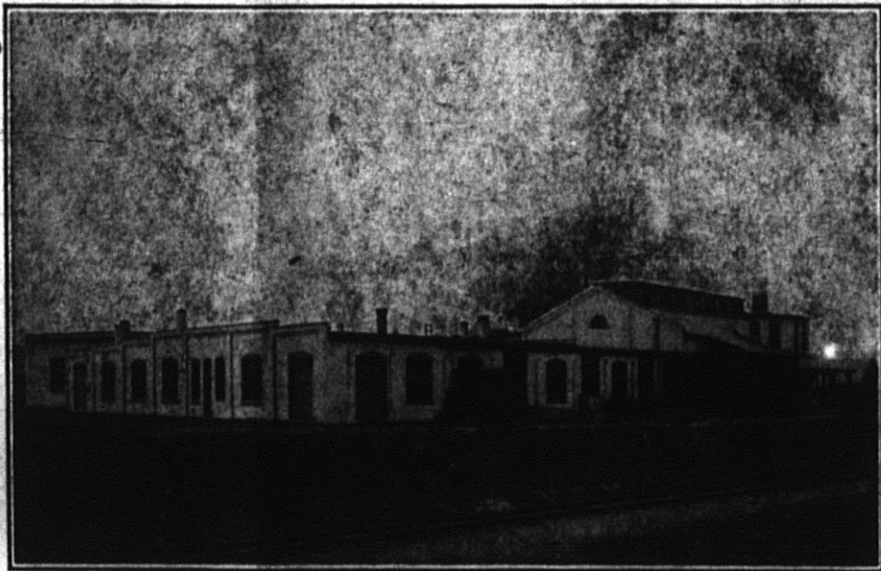

The large office building is naturally heated by a battery of eight large furnaces built in the company's plant. These heat units have been so regulated that there is an even temperature with very little variation during the entire every part of the building.

The construction and equipment of this modern administration building is considered by the people of Holland as a monument to the foresight of the founders of the Holland Furnace Co.—A. H. Landwehr and John P. Kolla. They foresaw the need of maintaining control of their business from production to final distribution. They built the 576 branch agencies and designating sales quotas for each branch the company has developed into a "depressionless" corporation. Its sales in 1930 were $17,325,655—almost as large as in the super-prosperous year of 1929 when sales shot to $18,671,828.

The company has three factories. The main plant is in Holland. The (Continued on page three)

The Holland Furnace Co. of Twenty-five years ago

The above cut pictures the Holland Furnace Company plant of 25 years ago. In the files of the Holland City News of August, a quarter of a century before, this item appears: "Stockholders of the Holland Furnace Company, met at the office of Attorney Arend Visscher, when the following board of directors was chosen: G. C. Bowman, A. H. Landwehr, John P. Kolla, Arend Visscher, Jacob G. Van Putten, C. M. McLean, W. H. Beach. The directors organized as follows: President, A. Visscher; vice president, W. H. Beach; secretary, C. M. McLean; treasurer and manager, G. C. Bowman."

There is no better evidence as to the growth of this institution than is shown in the "bird's eye view" of the Holland Furnace Company plant today as pictured on this page. This view gives all but the recently built $350,000 office building which would be in the foreground of this picture. However, even the "bird's eye view" does not tell the whole story since within recent years a large auxiliary plant has been built at Cedar Rapids, Ia., as a base for western distribution, and another at Bethlehem, Pa., to facilitate eastern distribution.

G. C. Bowman, mentioned in this article, as manager, withdrew from that position a few years afterwards, going to Columbus, Ohio, where he established another heating plant.

Great development has taken place during the 25 years in this Holland Furnace Company project, backed by the Kolla and Landwehr families together with other enterprising citizens. Mr. Bowman, Mr. Kolla and Mr. Landwehr came here in the early summer, saw the advantages of Holland and were impressed with the beauties of the city. Local capital was interested and the first unit as pictured above was built. Mr. Bowman remained here as manager; however Mr. Landwehr and Mr. Kolla returned to their homes in Akron, Ohio.

The beginning was up-hill work, for patterns had to be made, patents had to be secured, a system of distribution was necessary, a fire visited the plant starting in the smelting works that was costly, but through it all the company survived.

Late in the fall of 1906, Mr. Kolla moved to Holland from Akron, Ohio, coming with a freight car which was divided 50-50 with household goods and patterns for furnace making. The patterns were stored until the first factory building was built. The original unit was 50x200 feet, one-story. This building is still intact to which several other units have been built as is evident in the "bird's eye view."

When the factory was completed 25 years ago, 12 employees, headed by Mr. Kolla, started Holland furnace making and the Holland product immediately seemed to become "warm friends" with the home owners, and by the way, not so many years later this slogan became the trade mark of the company and today is a very valuable asset.

The dozen or more Holland stockholders, who came in on the "ground floor" with $1,000 each when the factory was built, find today, if they still hold that stock, that it is worth more than a quarter million of dollars, plus the dividends paid out during that time.

The Holland Furnace Company was originally capitalized at $50,000.00 but the growth has been tremendous and from 12 men, who constituted the entire working staff, the company today in all its plants and branch offices, has more than 7,000 employed.

The Holland City News published in August the results of a recently held annual meeting as follows:—"A. H. Landwehr was elected chairman of the board of the Holland Furnace Co. at the regular meeting of directors Tuesday. He succeeds the late C. M. McLean. Mr. Landwehr has been president of the company since its organization in 1906. Charles H. Landwehr, his brother, was elevated from vice-president and general manager to president. Edgar G. Landwehr was elected first vice-president; John P. Kolla, second vice-president, and Ernest H. Sulkers and Arthur W. Wrieden were re-elected to their respective positions of secretary and treasurer."

Mr. Charles H. Landwehr, general manager of the company, in a recent interview, stated that they are well settled in their new quarters and that it has been a pleasant change. He stated that it marked the realization of a step contemplated a decade ago. He stated that if business was to grow it was apparent that the central office had to be moved from the original office established 25 years before. The old office had been added to almost every year to accommodate increasing business. In the past ten years we have been faced with the needs of more efficient offices, continually making new additions to take care of our expanding business has made it necessary to scatter our forces upstairs over a large part of our factory space, making working conditions anything but ideal for efficiency, Mr. Landwehr stated. We had a total of 40,000 square feet of office space in our old quarters, and a total of 44,320 square feet of office space in the new building. With a very small increase in floor space, the arrangements in the new quarters will allow for an expansion of fifty per cent additional business, Mr. Landwehr said.

A year ago the Holland Furnace Company board of directors voted to build the building into which we moved recently. Our first steps were to employ the services of W. H. Leffingwell of Leffingwell Incorporated, New York City to draw the preliminary sketches, which has today culminated into one of the most efficient office buildings in the state. Mr. Frank Davidson as architect, drew the final plans for the building and superintended its construction until his untimely death, at which time it was necessary for his assistant, Mr. J. Johnson, to finish the work so ably executed by Mr. Davidson. General contract for the building was awarded to Mr. Frank Dyke, one of the local builders. At the time the contract was entered into with Mr. Dyke, we stressed the desire that all materials should be purchased from local concerns whenever possible, and that our own local men be at all times given preference for all construction work. We believe we have saved considerable money by building at this time on account of the low material cost, but we were chiefly interested in giving employment to as many men as possible when conditions were such as to cause more or less unemployment. We have not attempted to build anything elaborate or expensive in this, our workshop for our offices, Mr. Landwehr stated, but I believe the equipment such as indirect lighting, sound-proof and sound-deadened ceilings and floors and a complete Holland air conditioning system, giving us humidified circulated warmth in winter and cool circulated air in summer, has given us increased efficiency from our employees. Ideal health conditions should result from these improvements. This new structure in the opinion of our organization symbolizes our faith in the future of our business, and our confidence in the city of Holland. We thank our many friends for the splendid words of encouragement and congratulations they have extended to us since the building's completion, Mr. Landwehr concluded.

DRY HEAT DRAINS WORKERS' HEALTH FIGURES SHOW

Loss From Common Colds Reaches 500 Million Dollars Annually

Detroit Free Press—An immense fortune is lost by American workers each year because of colds and other respiratory diseases. According to the Holland Institute of Thermology of Holland, Mich., there is an average loss of six and one-half days' work each year by every person gainfully employed because of common colds alone. The Institute conservatively estimates the loss to wage-earners caused by colds alone at $500,000,000 annually. This, of course, does not include the heavy losses incident to influenza, bronchitis, the flu and pneumonia.

As is to be noted, colds and other respiratory diseases usually become epidemic with the commencement of the annual heating season, and reach their highest point in the cold months of January and February. Because of the concurrence of these epidemics with the shut-in life of winter, it is the consensus of authorities that the excessive heating of American homes and places of work, and the almost utter absence of moisture in indoor air constitute a contributing factor of weighty importance to the incipency and development of respiratory disease epidemics.

Two reasons may be ascribed for the lack of moisture in the home air. One is the natural phenomenon that cold air does not have the capacity for, nor does it contain as much moisture as the warm air of summer. The second reason is that old style heating systems, with which most homes are heated, not only supply too much heat, but they are not properly equipped to supply sufficient moisture to overcome the lack of moisture in winter air. The water pans in old style furnaces and the so-called humidifiers for attachment to radiators have proved wholly inadequate.

However, air-conditioning experts affiliated with the heating and ventilating industry have perfected and built into modern warm air heating systems humidifiers of ample capacity to meet all house requirements. These humidifiers are of special design. They receive their water supply direct from the house water main, and have ample capacity for evaporating and injecting into the home air the water vapor from as much as 25 gallons of water per day.

TREMENDOUS CONTRACT IS HANDLED BY FRIS BOOK STORE

The Holland Furnace Co. awarded all the contract for material for their new office building where this was possible to Holland contractors and builders and Holland labor also was taken care of.

The firm however went still farther and awarded the contract of office furniture and filing equipment to the Fris Book store, the very large contract being handled and was ably completed by Jake Fris of the local store and John Millar of the Macey Company. No figures were given by Mr. Fris, but a look at these installments makes it self-evident that thousands of dollars were spent to equip these offices with the "last word" in office furnishings.

The most enduring thing in American business

It makes a very great difference what sort of thinking guides a man when he lays the foundation of a business.

From the very start — a quarter of a century ago — it has been the conviction of those who have been entrusted with the direction of this business that no American manufacturer need fear that his labor will go unrewarded, if he makes a genuine contribution to people's welfare, and if his business is unreservedly dedicated to the public service.

Careful, individual service has been an enduring principle of this business. It is a principle that no business institution can ignore — and survive. Quality has never been sacrificed to mass production. Pains-taking, unhurried workmanship, test and inspection, and sound, conservation production practices and processes have always been given first consideration. Any production schedule that might preclude prompt, cheerful, conscientious attention to every present owner and each new patron has never been tolerated.

So that it may accord every patron this personal, individual service, Holland maintains 575 direct factory branches—in the United States alone—all in charge of factory trained heating engineers—all directly responsible to those who supervise the conduct of this business. This is one of the reasons Holland is able to give every patron a written bond guaranteeing comfort and satisfaction.

These principles and these policies — complete confidence in the intelligence and insight of the American people and in the soundness of American institutions — have been rewarded by an ever-increasing patronage that has resulted in constant and continuous expansion.

We take advantage of this occasion—which marks not only the opening of our new administration building, but also the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of this business—to restate and re-emphasize the principles and policies on which this business was founded; and publicly to pledge ourselves and our resources to a continuance of, and enduring loyalty to, those principles and policies which have made the patrons of this business its warm, enthusiastic and abiding friends.

The Gas Flame

Symbol of Woman's Victory
Over an Age-old Foe

Every day, in the home, woman goes to battle. Housework is her adversary against whom she matches her strength, her wits and her courage.

The struggle between these two will go on forever. Woman always wins, but Work is never beaten, bobbing up fresh every morning, ready anew for the fray.

For ages, Woman had only the crudest weapons to aid her, until during the last century gas-making was invented and gas applied to household use. Since then, other inventions have come along to help out, but Gas was the first great modern invention to enter the lists in the service of Woman against Work. Gas still maintains that leadership.

The greatest weapon in the service of Woman today is the Modern Gas Range. More than any other household appliance, it saves Woman's time and strength. And it is supreme in its field. Pretentious rivals may assert claims of equality, but their boasts are not supported by performance.

Woman knows this. Nine out of ten women in the market for a new cooking appliance choose the Modern Gas Range.

Modern Gas Appliances for every purpose are always on display in our showrooms. We invite you to come in and examine them at your leisure.

LOCAL NEWS

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Eagles will hold a meeting tonight, Friday at 8 o'clock in the Eagle hall. After the business session a social time will be enjoyed.

The Holland W. C. T. U. will open its fall season of activities with a meeting Sept. 10 in the Literary club rooms. Mrs. Lottie Woodford, national temperance lecturer, will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Edith Walvoord, president of the local organization announced that a special dedicatory service in honor of the late Mrs. Anna A. Gordon for nine years' work will be in charge. The year book also has been dedicated to Mrs. Gordon. Beginning Sept. 10 the meetings of the organization will be held every second Friday during the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. John Asman, who were married at Kalamazoo Friday spent their honeymoon here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit De Vries. Mrs. Asman was formerly Miss Jean Vander Slik, who is well known here. Both are graduates of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, and plan to sail in October for Egypt, where they will do mission work.

A successful season of bridge-luncheon closed last week Tuesday at the Holland Country club with the party at which Mrs. William Tappan and Mrs. S. R. McLean were joint hostesses. Covers were laid for 55. In the bridge competition which followed Mrs. H. L. Ingham won first honors and second prize was awarded Mrs. E. P. Donnelly. The tables and rooms were attractively decorated with autumn flowers and wood grasses. Hostesses during the summer season who helped make the bridge luncheons a success were Miss Anna Visscher, Mrs. J. J. Riemersma, Mrs. H. Den Herder, Mrs. M. Lindemann, Mrs. Edwin Dodge, Mrs. William Eaton, Mrs. C. M. Selby, Mrs. H. Dunn, Mrs. T. Marstijle, Mrs. Ray Hoek, Mrs. P. Van Dornen, Mrs. J. Klomprens, Mrs. J. Frank Duffy, Mrs. Vance Mape and the two hostesses of Tuesday's luncheon, Mrs. Arthur Wrieden, social chairman of the club, was in charge of the season's parties and appointed the hostesses. Attendance at the luncheons this summer have been good and at some parties the attendance has been greater than last year.

A group of relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Meengs, 150 East Fifteenth street, Monday evening, the occasion being Mr. Meeng's birthday anniversary. A social time was enjoyed throughout the evening and delicious refreshments were served. About 35 relatives were present. The out-of-town guests were Rev. John G. Meengs and son, John, of Schenectady, N. Y.; Rev. and Mrs. A. Meengs of Franklin, Indiana; Rev. and Mrs. Anthony Luidens of Rochester, N. Y.; Dr. Anthony Smith of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. J. H. Meengs of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. H. Van Westenburg and daughter of Grand Rapids.

PAUL BABCOCK WINS U. OF M. SCHOLARSHIP

Paul Babcock, graduate of the Grand Haven high school this year and son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Babcock, has been awarded an alumni scholarship at the University of Michigan along with 36 others in the state. Mr. Babcock took the examination for the scholarship this summer while his parents were in the east.

Saugatuck, Douglas, Fennville and Vicinity

Mrs. Myrtle McGuigan of Ganges spent the week end in Holland with Mrs. Geo. Van Landegend, West 9th street.

Mrs. Gertrude Krakow, 39, of Davenport, Ia., was fatally injured when she was struck by an automobile on the highway at Ganges. She had stopped to pick up something from the pavement, and was struck by a car driven by Clark Wilson, Chicago. Mrs. Krakow died of hour later in the office of Dr. Eugene Brunson, at Ganges. Coroner C. Clay Benson and Deputy Sheriff Ed Clock of Allegan county investigated the accident and exonerated Wilson. Mrs. Krakow's husband was notified by wire, and arrived at South Haven, by airplane, three hours later. The body of the unfortunate woman was taken back to Davenport.

Fennville changed back to central standard time Monday morning as eastern time had been voted only until Sept. 1.

Harry V. Olson, who ran a restaurant in Coloma, again has become a resident of Saugatuck and has taken over the garden service departments and landscaping of the Force florists.

Playing errorless ball, and hitting well behind Roy Henshaw's tight pitching, Fennville won from the strong East End Drug team of Holland at City park Saturday by a score of 5 to 0. Fennville's "Lefty Grove" struck out 18 of his last 33 innings against them, an average of over two an inning; in one 9-inning game they did not get a hit. Score by innings: R H E. Ends.....000000000-0 4 3. Fennville.....02002010x-5 11 0. Batteries: Holland, Stoepeke and Wolters; Fennville, Henshaw.

A little daughter was born last Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman who moved to Ganges from Holland a few weeks ago and are living in the tenant house on the W. H. Lamb farm, where Mr. Hoffman is employed.

Dell Goodeve of Saugatuck township was convicted by a justice court jury at Douglas Friday afternoon of a charge of using obscene language in the presence of women and children. Two previous juries had disagreed in the case which was started Feb. 20. Complaint was made by Mrs. George Kupres. Justice Thor Schriber assessed fine and costs of $75. Goodeve appealed to circuit court.

Joe Markel and his stepmother, Mrs. K. Markel of Allegan, were injured when their automobile turned over twice in a collision near Round lake. Both were unconscious for some time, although their injuries were confined to cuts and bruises. Sheriff Teed has been investigating.

Cora Bliss Taylor will open an art gallery at the Taylor studio and Saugatuck Art Gallery on Holland st., Sunday. The first exhibition will be by two Chicago artists, Wellington J. Reynolds, painter, and Walter P. Williams, sculptor. The exhibit will continue all week.

A new and larger mail box has been placed in front of the Fennville post office, but it isn't very likely that it was necessitated by the increase in postal business resulting from the merging of the Pearle postoffice with ours.

It isn't the sunset's crimson glow—that lurid glare on yonder hill—

It's only the gorgeous new red paint on Steffens' cider mill. Manager G. G. Burleigh of the Steffens cider mill recently had the buildings repainted by Willis Birkholz, and is beginning to receive apples from growers.—Fennville Herald.

OCEANA MAN ACCUSED OF RAISING $1 BILL TO $5

Alex Carson, aged 55, of Oceana county, was arraigned before United States Com. Arthur Van Duren, Holland, on a charge of altering currency.

Carson is alleged to have used figures cut from a magazine advertisement to change a $1 bill to a $5. The bill was presented at the Izaak Walton league zoo in Oceana county.

Unable to furnish $3,000 bail, he was placed in Kent county jail to await the September term of federal court.

HAMILTON

A great deal of interest was shown last week in the gasoline mileage contest staged by the local Ford garage. 38 contestants entered. John Branderhorst obtained the highest mileage, 29 miles per gallon and took the first prize of $10; the second prize, $5.00, was won by Fred Fokkert of Holland with a mileage of 28.2. Clarence Belden of Dunningville and Henry A. Lampen of Hamilton were tied for third place. All the tests were made south of Hamilton on a rough gravel road and the cars were driven by the owners in each case. The winning cars had from 9,000 to 25,000 on the car. Jake can now give a definite answer to questions which every prospect asks and is able to show facts when his answers are doubted.

John Tanis and family motored to the Oxbow dam last week Tuesday.

Dora and Hazel Rankens are back on the job after enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Howard Yeakey of Santa Monica, Calif., is visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Rigerink for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lampen and daughter, Evelyn, attended the Lampen family reunion at Tunnel Park Saturday afternoon.

Among the visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Slotman were: Mr. and Mrs. Earle Gordon and family of Bay City; Rev. and Mrs. George Dangremont of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rice; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rice, Robert Rice of Kalamazoo; Mrs. Margaret McGuire, Mr. S. Johnson and son, Robert of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bertsch of Holland and Mr. and Mrs. Maren Mulder and family of Overisel.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schutmaat and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schutmaat and Mrs. Harley Schutmaat and family visited relatives in Fremont Sunday.

H. Lodenstein of Muskegon, is visiting his children, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Eding for several days.

Andrew Lohman was in Lansing on business Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rankens celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary last week Friday. They were given a pleasant surprise in the evening by the children and grandchildren. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rankens and Mr. and Mrs. Garret Sale and family; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rankens and family; Mr. and Mrs. John Kalmink and family; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Michmershuizen; Mr. and Mrs. Justin Schievink and daughter, Gertrude; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Klein; Janet Klein; Dora Rankens; Mae Rankens; Harold Rankens, Martin Groenheid, Miller Dannenberg, and Julius Kempker. The pleasant evening was spent in playing of games and closed with a delicious luncheon.

Janet H. Tanis, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Slotman and Frank Derkse of Holland visited Rev. and Mrs. Edward Tanis of Grand Rapids Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Ten Brink was in Grand Rapids, Lowell and Holland last week visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Bauman and family of Holland were guests at the Andrew Lubbers home Sunday.

The Hamilton Fire Department has done very efficient work during the two years since its organization. The men have been called out a great many times. On several occasions they have prevented very serious fires from spreading and thus saving a great deal of property, not only in the village but in the vicinity, as well. It has proven to be a great thing. We are glad to hear that a new and large truck has been obtained and that new equipment has also been added. However, we believe that the men are deserving of greater support by the village and community. Up to this time the expense has been taken care of by the men themselves and a few others, while the rest of us have enjoyed the protection, but have gone no farther than helping them with a few words of praise. We wonder if it is not about time that the folks of the village and community to take up some definite action to help this department.

But thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, peace, meekness. Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.—1 Timothy 6:11-12.

Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God and keep His commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.—Ecclesiastes 12:13-14.

man of Detroit were supper guests Sunday at the home of Mrs. G. H. Slotman and L. D. Slotman.

Gertrude Kaper of Zeeland was at Janet Kaper's home for a few days last week.

An interesting meeting of the C. E. Society was held Sunday evening at the First Reformed Church. Josephine Kaper had charge of the devotional service. A piano solo was rendered by Ella Roggen. Then followed a Biblical Spell-down in which several members took part. During the last part of the meeting several problems which young folks are facing today were presented and frankly discussed. The meeting was attended by about forty young people.

Rev. and Mrs. George Dangremont of New York visited at the Ed Dangremont home Monday evening.

Was Teacher in Ottawa County For 50 Years

CALLS LONG DRESS OF YESTERYEARS "WOMEN'S SLAVERY"

Taught in Rural School Near Holland When a Girl—Got Homesick

Miss Phebe Clark is the name of a sweet faced old lady who has taught school in Ottawa county now for a half century.

In fact she is the only person who has taught school in this county anywhere near that long.

A few days ago a deserved reception was held in her honor at the school in which she did the greater part of her teaching. Robinson School, district No. 3, was crowded when pupils from near and far, friends and neighbors got together to do honor to Miss Phebe Clark, bright-eyed little woman who is still actively engaged in her chosen profession.

This reception did not mark the end of Miss Clark's teaching; for she has signed a contract for another year and was offered a two-year contract.

"I would not presume upon the taxpayers of the community to that extent," she told the directors. "One year at a time, and when I find my mind not quite so clear or a pain in my body, then I wish to step out of the ranks and continue my life in some other niche."

Throughout the 50 years of teaching Miss Clark has never lost a day for ill health. Sickness and death in the family have occasionally occurred to keep her out for a few days during these 50 years, but bodily illness has never kept her from her post. There have been times, however, when only her determination arose over physical disabilities. For 20 years she suffered with asthma, contracted, she believes, from wearing wet, and mud bedraggled skirts during her early teaching days, when in trailing skirts, she walked miles in bad weather to and from the country school.

"Will women ever submit to such slavery? I think not, at least not business women. I thoroughly approve of modern dress and in fact all modern ideas that are intelligent, broadening and within the laws of decency, honesty and truth."

Miss Clark keeps pace with the younger teachers by close study of present day teaching methods. She is a subscriber to the latest and best in educational magazines. She attends all teachers' institutes county normals and takes teachers examination regularly and has for 50 years. For many years she held a second grade certificate, but this spring when the superintendent of public instruction sent her, unolicited, a first grade certificate, Miss Clark was greatly pleased.

"When I was a young girl," she said, "just beginning to have ambitions to earn money I quite preferred to clerk in a store. I was handy with ribbons and laces and had visions of becoming a milliner. But father always urged schooling and so at an early age I began to teach in the same school I had attended."

"Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers, a woman of rare culture and beauty of character, was one of the first teachers of the district. She was secured at what was then a good salary, $30 a month. It was her influence which has remained with me always and has had a large part in shaping my life."

In the winter of 1879, Mrs. Rogers decided to retire and recommended that her star pupil, Phebe Clark, be appointed to take her place and this slip of a girl, 18 years old, began her life's work at $20 a month. The terms were only for the spring and fall for in the winter-time a man was needed as grown men and boys would fill the school houses for lack of other things to do. And many times some vigorous methods were used to make the grown students realize what they had come to the little log school for.

With the exception of two years when Miss Clark taught in a district near Holland, and several years in the Bignell school in Grand Haven township, she has taught in the school which her father helped organize and where she also began her education.

The district was organized in 1864 at the home of her father, Charles H. Clark, who was later elected as register of deeds of Ottawa county and supervisor of the township. An old log house in a clearing, about one mile south of Clark's corner was selected for the first school which was opened July 11, 1864. Miss Sophronia Angell of Lamont was the first teacher who received $12 a month.

"It is the home ties that have ever kept me in touch with young people in an intimate way," Miss Clark stated. "Coming from a

EXTRA! EXTRA! CORNSTALK FIFTEEN FEET TALL

Fennville Herald.—This "Colossal Cornstalk Competition" is becoming interesting. The newest exhibits in the Herald Window almost rival Jack's famous Beanstalk. They were brought in by P. D. Fenn, and were grown on his Bellevue farm at Lake Hutchins by Raymond Ridden. The taller is 15 feet high, the other fourteen, surpassing previous entries by a couple of feet. They were planted on May 26. Other entries for the cornstalk championship are those of Clifton Bates, with a stalk twelve feet 4 inches tall, and Matt Hanson of Bravo, who brought one to the Herald office that was just an even 12 feet. Mr. Hansen's exhibit, had two big well filled ears of corn on it. If this keeps on, the Herald may have to build a silo in which to put the cornstalks.

HOME EXTENSION WORK IN ALLEGAN COUNTY

The Allegan County Extension picnic held at the County Park on Friday, August 28th, was a decided success in spite of the weather. Five of the eight groups in extension work were represented and the leaders received their pins after a discussion of the project to be carried on this winter by Miss Edna V. Smith, State Leader. A motion was made to appoint one woman in each township to act as Home Economic chairman in that locality. A committee of women were appointed to act with Mrs. Breidstein, the County Chairman and A. D. Morley, County Agr'l Agent, in the selection of township chairmen and the formation of local groups before the extension schools start the 29th and 30th of September this year. Committee members are as follows:

Mrs. A. W. Fiske, Douglas.
Mrs. Fitts, Glenn.
Mrs. Wm. Oliver, Plainwell.
Mrs. J. D. Campbell, Hopkins.
Mrs. Albert Nye, Bravo.
Mrs. Robt. Smith, Leighton.

family of seven children, associations in the old days were very close. As my brothers married I became deeply interested in their children and have almost always had some of their families living with me.

"I love children," she declared and the glow in her eyes and fervency with which she spoke sounded the keynote of her success in teaching.

"There is never a question of discipline," she observed, "outside of the routine demanded for every child. I try to instill a love for education, and the great need for it in this world, for I have seen many a bitter struggle of men and women later, who were without this priceless asset."

Children have not changed in the 50 years, she believes. Modern life has not altered the fundamentals of human nature.

One thing Miss Clark firmly believes, that prohibition has given to her boys and girls a better chance in the world and wives of the farmers greater happiness than almost any modern change. "Many times," she recalled, "I have seen five and six big oxen teams leave the community loaded high with wood, driven into the town and frequently these same teams returned at night with the wood gone and a driver dead drunk, brought to his home by the faithful beasts with nothing, his money having been spent in the village saloon. And the little children suffered. Bits of blanket stuffed in the shoe packs, rags and tatters and half-filled little stomachs, was the price for that kind of action."

"No matter how the question is presented I am strongly for prohibition and I teach my pupils to face the question in all its phases and remember the days when women wept with disappointment and children went hungry."

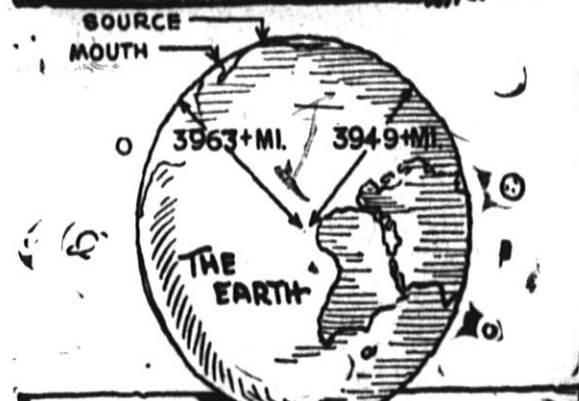

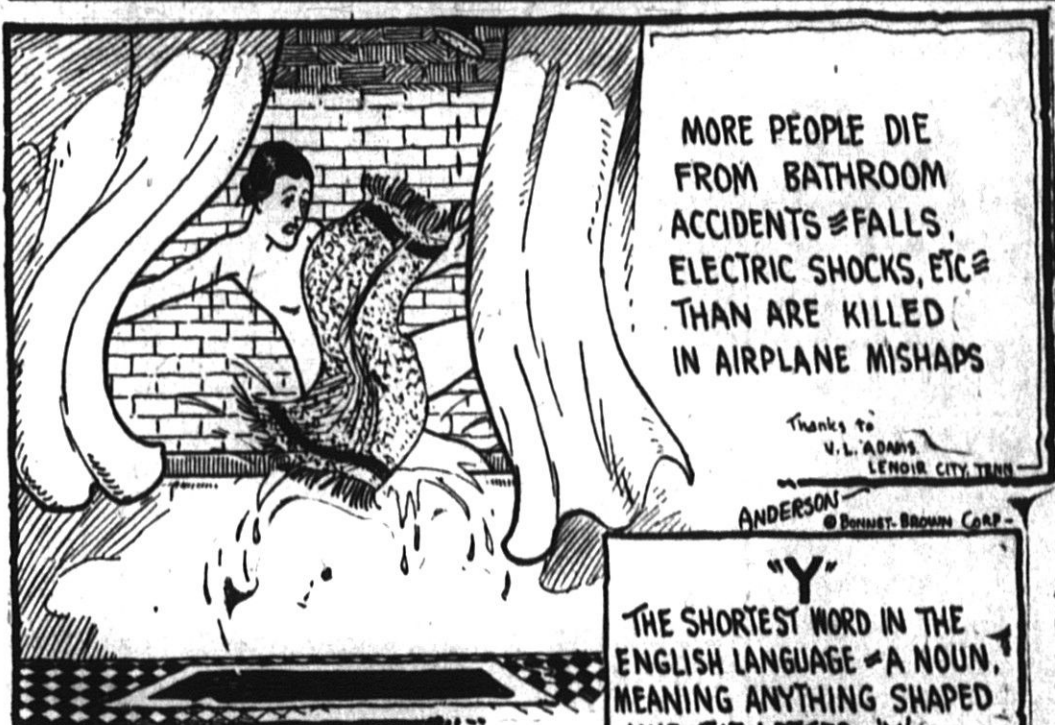

"Home sickness" of the kind that lives with one for months and disrupts life almost completely was recalled by Miss Clark as she spoke of her first months away from home, teaching in the rural school near Holland. The experience made her realize just how close the homes ties had always been and how attached she was to Grand River and the beautiful locality where she had spent her childhood. "I love the country and prefer it always to city life," she stated emphatically.

"It was probably this experience and the need for assisting in my father's home, as my mother died when she was only 39, that brought me back to the home fireside and to the life work of teaching. Here in this little niche in the country I have remained, but the years have been full and happy ones and the contacts with growing boys and girls an inspiration."

"To my mother, born and reared in the east, a woman of culture and education, who pioneered to the wilderness with my father, I owe much of my early training," this teacher says. "Gathered around in the evenings to study, ever having before us ideals of the fine things of life, seeking the levels of education and refinement, which no matter how crude the living quarters were never lowered in daily living."

Telling stories of this kind, reciting hardships of pioneer days, and reciting poetry is one of the fascinations of Miss Clark and settles many a question of discipline when children get restless. For Miss Clark has a gift of story telling which extends far beyond her school room, and former pupils, now grown men and women, delight to hear her repeat the old tales.

BORER CALLED WORST FOE OF PEACH TREES

September Best Month for Control Work in Checking Pest in Michigan

September is the best month for control work in checking the peach tree borer, a pest which does more preventable damage to the Michigan peach crop than any other insect, according to entomologists at the Michigan State College.

Thousands of peach trees are said to be lost in the state each year as the result of the work of the borer, which is known to scientists as Sannioidea exitiosa. The pest is a native one which many years ago transferred its attention from wild cherry and wild plum to the cultivated stone fruits, noticeably the peach. The presence of the borers is first indicated by brownish borings on the bark, but later the gummy mixture of sawdust which one associates with the work of this insect begins to accumulate.

The old control method of digging the borers from the peach trees has largely been supplanted in recent years by a newly developed treatment which involves the use of a substance known as paradichlorobenzene. It is applied in a ring around the tree, from one to three inches from it, and in amounts which are regulated by the size of the tree trunk. Definite recommendations for dosage and certain necessary precautions in the application to prevent tree injury are given orchard men by county agricultural agents or the entomology department at M. S. C.

The paradichlorobenzene which forms the ring is covered with a few shovels full of earth. When applied in this way, it volatilizes into a gas which kills the borers.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rankens were pleasantly surprised by their children and grandchildren last Friday, the occasion being their 40th wedding anniversary. Games were played and a delicious lunch was served. The couple were presented with a beautiful gift. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rankens and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Kalmink and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Michmershuizen, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Schievin and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jenjam Rankens and children, Mr. and Mrs. Merrit Sale and children, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kline, Harold, Miss Dora, Miss Mae and Miss Hazel Rankens, Miss Janet Kline, Millard Dannenberg, Julius Kempfers and Martin Groenheide.

Miss Kay Kienstra, who will be September bride, was the honored guest at a miscellaneous shower on Friday evening at 322 West Fifteenth street. Games were played and prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. Vissers, Mrs. Ben Stegink and Mrs. Ed Stegink. The bride-to-be was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. Those present were: Mrs. L. MOSSER LEATHERS COP HOLLAND TITLE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Before one of the largest crowds of the season, the Mosser Leather company team defeated the Holland Boosters, 5 to 3, to win the city championship of Holland and the series, three games to one. The game was a pitchers' battle until the fifth inning when Vandenberg of the Boosters weakened and the Mosser team scored three runs on four hits.

The Mosser nine collected two more runs in the eighth on a walk, a hit batsman and one hit. Larry Hyma, was in fine form, winning his eleventh game since returning from the Mississippi Valley league. He was in command of the situation all the way.

The Boosters scored one run in the sixth and two errors and scored two more in the ninth on two hits and two errors. A strong wind caused ordinary flies to fall for safe hits. The Boosters got only two hits while four high infield flies fell safe. The Mossers got seven hits off Vandenberg.

Favorite Bible Passages of Robert Dollar

This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success. Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.—Joshua 1:8-9.

But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season: his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.—Psalm 123.

ZEELAND SCHOOLS WILL PUT ON A REAL FAIR

The first annual Zeeland school fair will take place Oct. 2 in the High school gymnasium. The fair is sponsored by the Future Farmers of America and is open to all the rural and city pupils who entered the garden and pet clubs last spring. More than 200 entries are expected. Rural schools will exhibit produce as a school unit. It is planned to stage a small fair in each rural school and let the winners represent the school against other schools at the local fair. The farm animals exhibit is open to all students.

The high school pupils will stage a Smith-Hughes fair at the same time. Twenty-six Smith-Hughes projects are being carried on by the Zeeland high school pupils. In the afternoon the pupils will be guests of the athletic department at the football game between Zeeland and Martin. An informal dinner will be served at the school in the evening with County Agent C. P. Milham and County Demonstration Agent Miss Esther Lott as speakers.

The fair will be staged under the direction of the Future Farmers president, Russell Bouws and Otto Pino, high school agricultural instructor.

Miss Margaret Van Wert has returned from Chicago where she spent a week at the home of Mrs. George Yore.—Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Roos have returned from a two-weeks' trip to Austinville, Iowa.—Mrs. J. F. Dryden and granddaughter have returned from a two weeks' visit in Hartford, Connecticut.—Mr. and Mrs. Amos McCain spent the week-end in Grand Rapids.

Miss Agnes Hienstra has recently returned from a trip to the Yellowstone, the Pacific Northwest and the Canadian Rockies. She went on the Michigan Farmer tour. There were 72 typical Michigan farmers in the group. All along the way interesting sight-seeing trips had been arranged which were thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. It was indeed a wonderful two weeks' vacation and each member of the jolly "family" were sorry to say "Good-bye" when it came to an end.

Miss Minnie K. Smith, principal of Junior High school, will be in her office all day Friday and Saturday to enroll new students.

Holland Schools will open their doors for the fall semester on Tuesday morning, September 8. No doubt most of Holland's young folks are anxious to resume their studies.

Carp Outlives Most All of Our Fish

CREATURES LIVE LONGER THAN MAN; METHUSELAHS FOUND IN NATURE

In Nature's school of wisdom, according to accumulated facts in the Library of Congress:

The parrot may talk too much, the goose may be a high-flyer, the raven a pessimist and the elder duck a lover of downy comfort, but their normal life is equally as long as that of the poised, slow-moving, silent and hardy giant tortoise—and all live three times as long as a man. Their life span is between 200 and 300 years.

The falcon is a pirate of the air but lives to an old age of 162, while the orthodox dromedary struggles to his limit of years at 50. The swan is the epitome of speed, but outlives the slow and thorough yet old-at-40 hippo by more than 60 years.

The worker bee is a marvel of constant application, but reaches the end of his career in six weeks, while the lazy salamander is only starting on his dozen years of sleepiness. And the fox, with all his wily cunning, can escape death no longer than the earthworm.

The ant reaches within 5 years of the tiger's 20. The stern old owl lies down at 70, with the sentimental dove, and the lion, "king of beasts," abdicates his throne at 20—twice as soon as the toad hops from his humble nook.

The carp, that fish scorned for its abundance and bad habits, lives as long as the mighty elephant, more than 150 years, and the vulture outstrips the golden eagle's century mark by a decade or two. And the canary lives more than twice as long as the cat, reaching 24—unless the cat takes unfair advantage in the race.

Trout Fish May Diet To Reduce—Expenses

Hatchery-reared fish of Michigan may go on a diet, not to reduce their own girth, but that of the expense budget of the department of conservation's fish division, says a bulletin of the American Game Association.

By converting its trout to vegetarianism or even to tolerance of dried meats the department can save on refrigeration and transportation expenses, especially as to isolated feeding stations. The usual food for trout in the past has been beef and sheep liver, beef hearts and other fresh meats ground up, costing about $30.00 annually. Now hatcheries are experimenting with oat meal, clam, fish and shrimp meal, dried salmon eggs and dried meats, including horse flesh.

This is part of the economy program forced upon most state conservation departments by slashes in their budgets for the coming year.

Wisconsin, after failing to obtain passage of a resident fishing law, has cut all conservation activities except that of forestry from 30 to 55 per cent. Nine fish hatcheries will be closed entirely and two more practically closed.

MAHATMA GANDHI DECIDES HE WILL WEAR PANTS

Mahatma Gandhi, making plans for his forthcoming visit to London for the second round table conference on an Indian constitutional status, said he had decided to wear pants in the British capital after all.

Disregarding his first intention of appearing there attired only in a gossamer loin cloth and shawl, he said that if the weather is sufficiently cool he will wear ordinary European trousers.

He indicated that it was even possible that he would appear at the round table sessions with his pigtail, or chutia, shaved off. The chutia is a long tuft of hair worn religiously by Hindus, whose popular interpretation of the mode is that it enables friends, when the wearer dies, to pull him out of hell. Gandhi wears a chutia habitually although otherwise he is bald.

Gandhi declared that he would not submit to a white starched shirt and would decline to attend any formal public banquets. Neither will he wear the silk knee breeches which are de rigueur for appearance at Buckingham palace.

"No, thanks," he said. "I am ugly enough without such foppery. I was never made to be ornamental."

COBALT GLASS COLORING

The use of cobalt in coloring glass in ancient times has been proved by recent experiments of a German scientist. Upon analysis of some fragments of Babylonian artificial lapis lazuli, taken from the excavations at Nippur and dating from approximately 1400 B. C., the use of both cobalt and copper was demonstrated.

Growing Family

The population of a muskrat farm has a yearly increase of about 500 per cent. These animals are singularly free from disease and their sustenance is naturally provided for in the summer and winter and there is little difficulty in raising them. The value of the pelts has bounded upward enormously in the past decade.

Tar Keeps Rats Away

A small quantity of tar of the sort that is used by roofers for closing seams will effectively drive rats away from their lairs under porches and similar projections. The tar is simply coated on the inside of the holes done by the rats, and if periodically applied will result in the disappearance of the pests.

City in Itself

The Vatican in Rome covers, with its open courts, about 13½ acres and has over 1,100 rooms. The pope's residence is in the southeast part, and besides this there are chapels, libraries and museums, art collections, offices and dwelling apartments.

Nature's Way

Let us a little permit Nature to take her own way; she better understands her own affairs than we.—Montaigne.

Earliest Form of "Pie"

The name pie probably was evolved from the French "pain," meaning bread, and from "pied," meaning feet, for the early method of cooking a fowl was to cover it with a dough and bake, leaving the feet sticking out through the crust to serve as a handle.

Vicious Habits

Vicious habits are so great a strain to human nature, and so odious in themselves, that every person actuated by right reason would avoid them, though he were sure they would be always concealed, both from God and man, and had no future punishment entailed upon them.—Cicero.

UPRIGHT SWING PRODUCES STRAIGHT BALL

THE beginner should cultivate the upright swing if he intends to be a stylist at golf. It also produces the best results day in and day out. When we use a flat swing, that is, one that comes more around the body, we are constantly in danger of hooking. Again, if we fear a hook and let up the least bit the chances are that the ball will be pushed off to the right.

Hitting the ball with an upright swing and permitting the clubhead to continue on through will produce a straight ball. There may be some danger in topping, but this fault cannot be chronic, nor even serious enough to be considered. Topping is a fault that comes from lifting the head, and among stars it is only an occasional occurrence.

ALLEY RATS MAKING VICTORY HABIT

Zeeland Record: The North End Alley Rats, making victory a habit, defeated the Peoples' State Bank team of Holland at the 23rd Street park in that city on Monday evening. The count was still 0-0 at the end of the nine innings, but the tenth saw both sides score, the Banks making a single tally while the Rats made two to win the game 2 to 1.

The Rats' battery was composed of Boschma and De Weerd while the Banks featured Wayne and Beltman. The Peoples' State Bank team is rated as the best in the Holland city league and this victory puts the Alley Rats up another notch. They expect to go up for the Ottawa County championship in the near future.

FOREST FIRE MENACE GROWS WITH DROUGHT IN OTTAWA COUNTY

The brush fire menace in Ottawa county and Western Michigan grows serious as the prolonged drought of the past 45 days continues. There is little prospect for heavy rain according to W. J. Rice, meteorologist at the Ottawa county weather bureau. Mr. Rice reports that a third of an inch of rainfall has been recorded at the bureau since July 15, when an equal amount fell in one rain. Postponement of outdoor events because of rain has been practically unnecessary this summer.

Several brush fires, the most serious one in Tallmadge township, were reported to William H. Louit, conservation director, over the week-end. None of the blazes got a start. Extra caution is being used in the county to watch for fires. There were two calls to the fire department in Grand Haven and one at Spring Lake over the week-end.

Idea of Thermos Bottle

Sir James Dewar, an English scientist, realized that if a vessel could be contrived that would prevent liquid air from rapidly absorbing the heat of its surroundings, the air could be kept longer in a liquid state. His efforts to invent such a vessel were successful and resulted in the Dewar flask, which has had a much wider commercial use as the well-known thermos bottle.

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company since 1875.

Weight Should Be on Left Foot at Finish of Swing

THE finish of the golf swing can best be described by the wooden figure shown here. The body is shown as it has pulled away from the shot either causing a slice or greatly checking the follow through, an important thing to remember in golf.

The weight of the body should be more than two-thirds on the left foot when the swing is completed. This proves that the club has gone through after the ball. Notice the picture of all the leading golfers and you will observe that they finish on the left foot. This is a very good form and sound fundamental golf.

The Rat Menace

It is conservatively estimated that an average levy of two dollars per year is made by rats upon every man, woman and child in the United States.

In view of the fact that thousands of families are so situated they pay no tribute to rats, it is reasonable to assume that others of us who are contributing to help the rats make a good living, pay much more than two dollars.

We know of no particular advantage of saving rats around the place, therefore, we know of no particular reason why farm buildings should not be made rat proof nor why rat-killing campaigns should not take place wherever rats live, eat, spread disease and levy toll upon those who permit them to do so.

There is considerable evidence accumulating that several serious poultry diseases may be spread by rats. Even if you, yourself, do not mind keeping and feeding rats, you owe it to your neighbors to exterminate these disease carriers.—Modern Poultry Breeder.

Rule of the Sea

If a ship in midocean sends out an S O S call and is towed to shore by a relief ship, compensation is due the ship giving the service, unless it is done by the United States navy. The exact amount of compensation depends upon the value of the cargo and the cost to the ship providing assistance.

AFTER 40 bowel trouble

Constipation may very easily become chronic after forty. And any continued constipation at that time of life may bring attacks of piles and a host of other unpleasant disorders.

Watch your bowels at any age. Guard them with particular care after forty. Whenever they need any help, remember a doctor should know what is best for them.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" is a doctor's prescription for the bowels. Tested by 47 years' practice, it has been found thoroughly effective in relieving constipation and its ills for men, women and children of all ages. It has proven perfectly safe even for babies. Made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients, it cannot gripe; will not sicken you or weaken you; can be used without harm as often as your bowels are bad, or when your tongue is coated; whenever a headachy, bilious, gassy condition warrants its use.

CARLYLE HOUSE
ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA

Far down the road to Yesterday Carlyle House stands out as a momentous sign post in American history for here it was in 1753 that colonial taxation was first proposed, culminating in the Declaration of Independence 21 years later. Here also was planned the ill-fated Braddock campaign against the French at Fort Duquesne.

gen. They also called on friends in Holland. Many years ago Mr. Pyle was with the old Walsh Drug Co.

Chester E. Schillman of Flint, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schillman of Holland township, was married to Miss Leota Smith of Flint on June 19, at Ottawa Hills, Ohio. Mrs. Schillman is a graduate of Flint High school and was employed in the main office of the Buick Company at Flint until shortly before her marriage. Mr. Schillman graduated from the Zeeland High School in 1922, spent three years at Hope College and then attended the General Motor Institute of Technology, receiving his degree in industrial engineering in 1929. Since then he has been in the employ of the Buick Motor company at Flint. Mr. and Mrs. Schillman are spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schillman in Holland Township and will then vacation in Northern Michigan. They will make their home in Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Russell of Chicago are visiting at the home of Mrs. Russell's mother, Mrs. Leola La Caff of 20 East Twenty-third street. Mrs. Russell was formerly Miss Maurine La Caff before her marriage last Friday.

The annual reunion of the Den Herder family was held last week Thursday afternoon and evening at Pine Lodge. Games and contests were part of the afternoon's entertainment. A picnic supper was served in the evening after which games and a social time was enjoyed.

Mrs. H. Coth entertained with a bridge-luncheon Friday at her cottage at Carden Beach. Covers were laid for eight. The guests were Miss Faith McCormick of Erie, Pennsylvania, Mrs. H. Den Herder and Mrs. E. Den Herder of Zeeland; Mrs. Otto Vander Velde; Mrs. Carl Van Raalte; Mrs. J. Den Herder; Mrs. J. Ossewaarde, all of Holland.

A group of friends enjoyed a beach party at Tunnel Park last week Thursday evening. A wiener roast was held after which games were played. Those present were Miss Lillian Heltschel, Miss Henrietta Bredeweg, John Lobuis, Irwin Heltschel, George Heltschel, Gerald Riemersma and Wallace Riemersma.

Charles Veldhuis, superintendent of Coopersville schools, critically injured while shingling a barn on the TerKeurst farm at Overisel early this summer, was removed to his home in Coopersville Wednesday. Veldhuis will be unable to attend to his school duties at the opening of the present year. He is slowly recovering the use of the injured members of his body.

ALLEGAN OIL WELL GIVES OUT; TRY FURTHER DOWN

G. C. Irwin, who is sinking the oil well in Allegan, has been engaged this week in placing large oil tanks in position at the well and is making connections and expected to begin pumping operations some time Thursday. When the well is pumped dry it will be sunk deeper and then shot with nitroglycerine, then cleaned out and pumped again. This will determine the amount of oil the well will produce. Irwin, who has leased several thousand acres in and around Allegan, soon will put down a deep test well on his holdings.

LIFE'S COMFORTS, JOYS ENHANCED BY MOHAIR FLEECE

USE MUCH MOHAIR IN RAILROAD CARS

Rates as a Fabric to Withstand Wear and Tear of Continuous Service.

PERHAPS you have sometimes wondered why all railway seats are upholstered in the same material, the familiar mohair velvet that in our childhood days was invariably a bright red or green and always of one or two standard patterns. Today even train interiors have become color-conscious and soft greens and taupes and warm blues are seen but are still of the same mohair velvet to the extent, it has been estimated, of twelve million yards in the trains of the country.

Made from the fleece of the angora goat, mohair velvet or velmo, is one of the most popular and serviceable of fabric materials. One hundred million yards are in use on automobiles alone and many more on motor buses and for the interiors of airplanes.

In addition to this, velmo is also used for upholstering furniture, for draperies and even for rugs and is especially in favor with the housewife because it is chemically moth-proofed in manufacture. It is also used for theatre curtains and chair coverings, because of the sound absorption the deep pile fabric affords, which is an important consideration in talking picture theatres. Like everything else, mohair velvet has "fashions" and can be had in an endless variety of colors and patterns and weaves. Over five hundred shades of green alone are reported by one New England mill.

But an upholstering fabric is by no means the only service the mohair fleece renders. The finest indoor golf courses are made of a rich, deep pile mohair velvet. Lap robes and steamer rugs, little stuffed animals, trimmings for house slippers and even wigs and transformations are made from the snowy fleece which more closely resembles hair than any other known fibre.

Each fibre is much stronger than wool and due to its unique physical structure takes a fadeless dye. Because of its sleek surface, it does not readily retain dust and dirt and, in fact, the pile surface acts as a brush and makes the traveler's clothing actually cleaner at the end of the trip than it was before!

So great has the demand been for this fleece that within a comparatively few years, the industry of angora goat raising has been transferred from Turkey and South Africa to the United States, which now leads the world both in the production and manufacture of mohair fleece.

MOths WILL DIE RATHER THAN EAT TREATED MOHAIR

AT LAST science is making headway against the moth, that harmless looking little insect that causes damage to household effects to the tune of $400,000,000 annually. In regard to at least one important fabric, mohair velvet, victory has been achieved.

All fabrics made from animal fiber, which is largely protein, are normally attractive to moths. Exceptional cleanliness, exposure to sunlight and the use of moth deterrents applied at home are sometimes helpful, but the thorough and scientific way to thwart the enemy is for the material to be permanently mothproofed with chemicals at the mill when it is being made. So successful is this process that mohair velvet, or velmo as the rich pile fabric made from the hair of the angora goat is called, once considered by housewives as the moths' heaven is now recognized as their Waterloo. It has indisputably been proved that moths will starve themselves to death rather than eat mohair velvet that has been so treated. This feature alone, aside from the long-wearing qualities, easy cleaning and luxurious appearance of velmo, recommends it as the ideal fabric for furniture upholstery.

For other furnishings, frequent airing and plenty of sunlight will tend to reduce the breeding haunts of the house moth. Killing the moth on the wing will not do any good as by the time it has reached the flying stage it has already deposited its eggs and is ready for death. It is these eggs or larvae which, hatching out, seize the animal fibers which have not been chemically treated and eat them.

DEAD PHEASANTS, QUAIL WANTED BY STATE

Each year the department of conservation at Lansing receives reports of pheasants and quail which have been found dead, apparently from lack of food or from exposure to severe cold, sleet storms, and deep snows.

Without doubt a half-fed bird suffers more from the cold than does a bird which goes to roost each night with a well-filled crop, but it is not definitely known whether it is cold alone, cold plus starvation, or a combination of these and other factors which kills the birds.

Since ordinarily the actual cause of death can be determined only by a pathologist who is skilled in making such examinations, and since it is essential to find out what kills these birds, the conservation department has asked that any pheasants, quail, etc., which are found dead this winter be sent in for examination.

TIP TO B. P. O. E.— HERE'S CHANCE TO DO A GOOD DEED

"Do not buy elk teeth for ornaments" is the plea of naturalists and those who have the interests of the elk at heart, for each pair of such teeth costs the life of an diminishing herd. For years elk's teeth have been used by Indians, especially the squaws, as ornaments, but the difference is that red men used the teeth from elk slaughtered only for food and their skins, while white men killed the elk, extracted the

Two teeth and wasted the rest. Large numbers of bull elk have been sacrificed in various sections of the northwest by hunters who poached upon government preserves and shot down animals in all seasons for their teeth, leaving the bodies to rot. The fashion of wearing elk's teeth as ornaments has been growing as the animals decrease in numbers.

In one instance in Yakima county, Washington, it was reported that of 450 elk killed by hunters more than half the carcasses were left to rot, after horns and teeth had been removed. The horns constituted the trophy. The teeth were sold. Here was more than 100,000 pounds of meat wasted in decay by hunters who style themselves sportsmen.

In Alaska the graying crowd the streams as they come up the tributaries to spawn but no one kills in excess of his immediate needs. To do so would bring on reproach of others who might need food in the future. Most states provide appropriate penalties for the wanton waste of fish and game. In Oregon if a hunter were to kill a deer for the mere lust of slaughter, and leave its flesh to the elements and carnivores, he could be prosecuted under the law and heavily fined.

When salmon run in western waters and storm their way up the rivers to spawn the Indians take only enough to insure their needs for the winter. Once the flights of passenger pigeons darkened the heavens of all Michigan. Now there is a standing offer of $1500 for a living specimen of this species. Wanton waste did away with the millions that weighted down the tropics. Elk teeth may be made of porcelain or some other similar substance and be as worth while as the genuine article so far as social use is concerned. It is feared the demand for genuine teeth will mean the death of the elk as a species though there are small herds in Pennsylvania and Michigan which so far have not been molested for their teeth alone though a few excited deer hunters have plugged a bull elk now and then in the belief it was a big buck deer.
