Youth Who Lived Here Is Missing After Air Assault

Haverkamp May Have Failed to Return From Air Attack on Berlin

Word has been received by Mrs. John Engelman, 25 East 22nd St., that her nephew, Lieut. Clifford M. Haverkamp, 21, who stayed in her home here for eight months in 1941, has been "missing in action" since Aug. 17. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Haverkamp of Orange City, Ia.

It is presumed that he failed to return from one of the raids over Berlin.

Lieut. Haverkamp was employed in defense work at Hart and Cooley Manufacturing Co. during the time he resided here and was rejected by the army air corps at Grand Rapids because he was only 19 years old at the time of his application. He returned home in the fall of 1941 and entered his second year at Iowa State college, Ames, Ia. He had previously attended junior college in Orange City, Ia. In January he was accepted for army service and received most of his training in various fields in California where he was graduated and commissioned as a navigator.

During his training he spent a month with his cousin, Corp. Henry Engelman, of Holland, who is stationed at Pyle, Tex., and later spent some time at Pueblo, Colo., and Salina, Kans., from where Mrs. Engelman received her last letter from him, dated May 14. Lieut. Haverkamp left the United States the latter part of May for England as navigator on a B-17 bomber.

His parents had received letters regularly. In a recent letter he told of participating in five combat missions on which they had very "rough going." Lieut. Haverkamp had received a medal and was given a 45-hour leave during which he visited London and had seen Westminster Abbey and other historic points.

Lieut. Haverkamp's father is a brother of Mrs. G. H. Hospers of New York.

'Invited' Tradesmen May Deliver at Macatawa

Lansing, Sept. 9.—"Invited" tradesmen may deliver groceries and other necessary supplies to residents of Macatawa park near Holland without paying a fee, although the operators control use of streets and alleys in the restricted resort section, the state supreme court ruled Tuesday in acting upon an appeal from Ottawa circuit court.

Presiding Circuit Judge Cornelius Hoffius ruled in the Ottawa court last February that tradesmen and peddlers had no right to use the thoroughfare unless they paid a fee.

The high court's opinion coincided with the lower court's ruling to the extent of barring peddlers and unauthorized tradesmen from using the private streets and alleys even though they were invited.

The ruling climaxes a suit which Irwin Unverzagt, a property owner, started against Georgia E. Miller, park operator.

The high court's ruling set forth that not any and all invitees of a cottage owner had the right to use the streets, as this would include possibly huge assemblies that would defeat the purpose as well as the desire of all parties.

It was brought out in the lower court decision that for the sake of privacy the park operators for about 30 years had been licensing a limited number of tradesmen upon payment of a uniform fee to serve the cottage occupants. The operators formerly maintained their own store on the property.

Lievense Lists Reasons For Buying War Bonds

Frank M. Lievense, local bond chairman, today listed five special reasons why the American people should buy war bonds in connection with the third Victory loan drive for fifteen billion dollars which opened today.

(1) We should buy war bonds to help our own, our native land. We can't win a war without equipment and the cost is great. It's up to us to raise the money and we get it all back with interest.

(2) We must back our fighting men. There are few people in America today who don't have a son, husband, father, mother, sister, brother or friend in the service. Who are we at home to talk of sacrifice when we think of what they are doing. They hold in their hands with our help the salvation of our country.

(3) Stop spending, hold prices down, invest everything over essential expenses or this country will be faced with a disastrous inflation and financial ruin.

(4) Save for ourselves when we can again buy the things we need and must or should do without today.

(5) Our buying power in the hands of the people will create industry after the war. This means jobs for our loyal fighting men. Should we allow them to go into a breadline when we now have it in our power to store up that buying power for the period of readjustment? All our boys will ask for after the war is a job—a job so that they may have homes and families, a decent normal living, even as you and I.

Mr. Lievense went on to explain that no one can perform miracles in this bond campaign. "Each one must examine his or her own conscience. We deserve our rich heritage or we don't. We are either loyal Americans or we are not. Mr. Churchill sounded the keynote in his address on Labor day. 'We are fighting and struggling for all humanity against tyranny.'"

"By the deeds of our fighting men let us measure our own in this September war effort we at home are only asked to lend our money—we get it all back with interest," Mr. Lievense concluded.

Judge Miles Attends Sessions in Lansing

Grand Haven, Sept. 9 (Special).—Hon. Fred T. Miles, circuit judge of Ottawa county, planned to return tonight from Lansing after attending a two-day meeting of circuit judges with the supreme court judges.

Each year the circuit judges are required to meet and elect a state presiding circuit judge. For many years Harry J. Dingeman of Detroit was presiding judge, but last year, as Judge Dingeman had retired, Joseph A. Moynihan of Detroit was elected.

The circuit judges are elected by the voters of their various circuits but they are paid by the state and the state presiding circuit judge apportions the work among them. If he finds the work of any particular circuit is light and some other circuit is heavy, he transfers the judge from the light circuit to the heavy one until the work is caught up in the busier circuit.

Dangerous Fire At Midnight Is Averted in Store

Passerby Turns in Alarm on Noticing Smoke From Basket

Prompt action by police and firemen shortly after midnight Wednesday prevented what might have been a disastrous fire in the Model drug store, corner of River Ave. and Eighth St.

The fire broke out in a waste basket in the prescription room and filled the store with smoke. A passerby, whose identity was not learned, notified police and turned in an alarm from box 21 at the Warm Fireman tavern. He stayed until the fire trucks from the No. 2 station drove up and directed them to the drug store.

Damage was negligible. The wastebasket was destroyed and the floor underneath was charred. The glass in one of the doors was broken to gain admittance into the store. Henry Wilson, owner of the store, commended the police and firemen for their efficient work.

Firemen departed from the scene within 20 minutes, according to Fire Chief Andrew Klomparsen. Had the fire gained more headway, the damage might have been disastrous since there are many solutions in the prescription room which are highly inflammable. A five-gallon can of benzine was within five feet of the wastebasket.

Albert Cyr, 60, Muskegon, also arraigned Tuesday on a negligent homicide charge, entered a plea of guilty. He will appear at 10 a.m. Sept. 13 for disposition of the case. ## Grounded Boats Still on Beach Near Saugatuck

Learn More Details of Hectic Cruise as Men Prepare for Refloating

Coast guardsmen of the Holland station planned to assist in refloating two grounded boats about four miles south of Saugatuck later today when the lake was expected to calm down, according to Chief Boatwain's Mate M. E. Rhea, commanding officer of the local station.

The Corky, 35-foot cruiser owned by Tony Starcevic of Waukegan, Ill., which was blown aground about 6 p.m. Tuesday after being tossed about by a heavy sea nearly 36 hours, was said to be considerably damaged by pounding waves and will require repairs before it can be refloated.

The patrol boat of the South Haven station which went aground near the Corky, was not damaged. Both boats are on shore and will be completely out of the water when the lake calms. According to Lieut. Gordon S. Disbury of Grand Haven, captain of the port in this area, the coast guard boat was driven ashore when a line fouled.

The cruiser with three men, two boys and a woman left Saugatuck harbor between 7 and 8 a.m. Monday for Waukegan. The boat could not make much headway and drifted southwest of South Haven. There the engine failed, a leak was sprung and the anchor would not hold.

Later the men succeeded in starting the engine and headed for Saugatuck, encountering more leaks and engine trouble. Some aboard became sea-sick.

Coast guard stations all along the shore were notified about 5 p.m. Tuesday and Holland sent out a shore patrol of two men each, in both directions of Saugatuck. The Holland guards were the first to find the "beached" boat.

The 13th annual Pearl homecoming at Pearl church and hall last Sunday was the usual pleasant occasion, although the attendance was not the customary large crowd of between 200 and 300. Places represented included Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Big Rapids, Alma, Omer, Bangor, Wiles, Hamilton, Allegan, South Haven and Soda. The church service at

New Geneva In Michigan

Classis Holland: Minutes, 1848-1888, translated by a Joint Committee of the Christian Reformed Church in America. Board of Publication, Reformed Church in America, 128 Fifth Avenue, New York, $1.50.

In February 1847 six men and one woman made the beginning in an unbroken forest, of what was to be Holland, Michigan. In April 1848 three ministers and four consistory members met five miles to the east, at Zeeland, to form the Classis of Holland. And that was the start of the western branch of the Reformed Church in America and of the Christian Reformed church.

The minutes of 1848-58 were, of course, written in Dutch. The first draft of the translation which is now given to the public was made by Dr. Albertus Pieters, father of newspaper evangelism on the mission field. Dr. Pieters has also contributed an excellent introduction, which traces the rise of the secessionist movement in the established Church of the Netherlands down to the coming of these pious Calvinists to America.

Minutes, even of contemporary proceedings, are likely to make dull reading. These minutes are different. They were written for the most part, by a great Christian builder, Dr. A. C. Van Ransle, more than any other man the founder of the Dutch church in the west. Here is no mere record of ecclesiastical actions, but often a setting forth in dramatic detail of ardent controversies, soul-racking cases of discipline, and bold schemes for the advancement of the knowledge of God. Here is writing which glows with evangelical fervor and is instinct with pity and indignation and vision.

These trail-blazers held to exacting educational standards. When the classis was but two years old, it was already laying plans for the founding of what was to be Hope College. The Zeeland dominie, Van der Meulen, urges on this handful of almost penniless backwoodsmen that without a church college they cannot "exercise such a Christian influence in this country as we ought. nor can we expect that our children shall be trained to spread the light of the gospel in the dark places of the earth."

This vision, extravagant as it seemed at the time, has come to measurable fulfillment. The more direct spiritual successors of these pioneers now number more than 130,000 communicant members, with approximately 600 churches and ministers. They have three colleges and two theological seminaries of their own. They have sent out scores of foreign missionaries, including such known men as Samuel M. Zwemer, A. L. Warnshuis and John Van Es.

Before the reader is half-way through these minutes of the first decade, he sees our doughty seceders (among whom I proudly number two kinsfolk) already producing their own crop of seceders. And later the elder-leader of that secession seceded from it! (M. V. Oggel in the Christian Century, an inter-denominational publication.)

THE MICHIGAN-
NEBRASKA "WAR"

The kind of war that has begun between Michigan and Nebraska is a good one to encourage.
If there are enough wars of that kind, we will not have to worry about the final outcome of the present global conflict.

The governor of Nebraska has challenged the governor of Michigan to engage in a war bond sale contest. Not the governor personally, but their respective states.
Every citizen of the two states will have an opportunity to serve as a private in this "war." Governor Kelly of Michigan has accepted the challenge with a confidence that is a good part of victory. He believes that the people of Michigan will not let him down.

If Michigan sells more bonds per capita than Nebraska the governor of Nebraska will put up a "beautiful big corn-fed hog"; if Nebraska sells more than we do, Michigan, to vindicate its honor as a good sport, will put up something equally "beautiful"— just what that is has not yet been decided, but Michigan has plenty of prizes to offer.

There is one practical difficulty.
How are the six or seven million citizens of Michigan going to divide the "beautiful" corn-fed hog so that each get at least half a porkchop? Of if Nebraska should win, how are the several million Nebraskans going to divide Michigan's prize?

But that can be settled later.
The important thing now is the spirit behind this new War Between the States. The declaration of war is really an excellent way to dramatize the coming war bond sale. It is natural for Americans to love a contest; they flock by the millions to football and baseball games. If this same spirit can be employed to make the coming bond sale the biggest thing in history it will serve a purpose that goes far beyond the money itself, valuable though that is.

For in that sale we will be speaking to the world, especially to the Axis world. We will be saying, "In this sale, we the American people are backing the horse that we are sure will win.
We are backing it with every dollar we can spare." If that backing is large enough it will serve to weaken the Axis will to win to a corresponding degree.

The "war" is between the two governors, in name only. In reality it is our war. Coming down to cases, it is also Holland's war.
Governor Kelly has pledged the honor of the state and Holland, along with all other communities, must redeem that pledge. It is an honor to engage in a war of this kind even if we should lose.

September 12, 1943
Israel Marches Toward Canaan—Numbers 10-11, 12, 29-36
By Henry Geerlings

At times we wonder what there is in some of these lessons, so far in the past and descriptive of such different circumstances, that can be of use to us. The habits of viewing things, the backwardness of the people, the literacy of the day, the hostility among races and the tribes, the lack of prominent leadership, the punitiveness of the approach to problems that perplexed them, all of these were so different from what they are in our time. Possibly we should not boast over-much. The differences were outward rather than inward. True, they did not have as much lying back of them as we do.

But to all appearances they were not so sure of their way and confident of their ability as we are of ours. For that reason they were more reliant upon God.
Without books, without long centuries of experience, without schools dotting every hill and street corner, they found it more necessary to look upward than outward and backward. Because history is such a great teacher we help admiring those who had little history to turn back to and to retreat.

We know as little and perhaps less of what lies ahead of us than those people did. They had never traveled that way before.
They did not have as much of an idea of the number and the nature of the tribes they would encounter and of the problems they would have to solve as we might suspect. There can be no doubt they took advantage of everything they could discover.
They made inquiry of others who may have had a broader experience.

They must have sought knowledge wherever it was available.
But we are sure of the fact that they had God near them. He had started them on this journey to ward a strange land. It was His business that made them feel they wanted to be a free people.
They could not be the servants of cruel taskmasters and at the same time carve out for themselves such a destiny as they were reasonably sure God had in store for them. They would have preferred remaining along the Nile unless they had believed their call was a unique one.

God did not appear to be in a hurry to get this nation of slaves into the Holy Land. Indeed it would seem that God is in a hurry about only a limited number of things. How often we would run ahead of him! How often He appears to be slow and indifferent! The lifetime of a generation passed from the hour the Israelites left Egypt until they set foot on the land God had promised them. There are those who avow that the Christian church is making rapid strides.
There are those who are quite as sure that she is making no progress at all. There are those who say that we are more willing to add new names to the church roll than we are to remove the names of those who do not attend and do not contribute and who manifest no interest in the work of the kingdom. Patience ofdinarly is a virtue, but the time comes when it is not a virtue.
And still, Jesus seemed to hold fast to Judas until the very last.

It is the belief of scholars that Hobab and Jethro were the same person, one name probably being the proper name and the other the official title. However, we are not so much interested in clearly identifying these individuals as we are in the promise of Jehovah.
This journey had significance, and it lay in the good intention and gracious will of God. Moses did not seem to be unwilling to call to his help to those who had a knowledge of the desert and could for that reason be of assistance to him. It is full of interest to observe that this same promise had been given to Abraham. It was repeated to Jacob, and now reaffirmed to Moses, and this repetition was to be continued until the hour of its fulfillment.

For the time it must have seemed that Hobab could not decline the invitation extended him by Moses, for that invitation had in it the richest of promises. The land in itself was a good land, and the promise of God was extended to all those who would hear his call and obey it. But Hobab was unwilling to leave his own people and to risk his fortune by joining this restless and confused host that knew not what lay before them. A bird in the hand was worth two in the bush.

The Scriptures represent the cloud of Jehovah, whatever form that cloud might assume, as holding various positions in relation to the people. Sometimes it was at their head, sometimes in their midst, sometimes over them. But whatever its position, its function was always the same. It did seem necessary for the safety and the comfort of the people that it be visible. It was of the nature of fire by night and of cloud by day. It was as God Himself to them.

Allegan Women's Camp
Closes at Fair Grounds

Allegan, Sept. 9.—The Allegan Women's farm labor camp located in the 4-H building at the fair grounds came to a close Friday.
The camp which at one time had more than 50 girls and women has dropped in enrollment to 18 and the camp cannot operate successfully with so small an enrollment.
The women and girls stayed at the camp while picking fruit and as-ity.

Holland
In 1913

Mrs. E. J. Blekkink, president of the Ottawa County Women's Christian Temperance union, circulated petitions among some of the Men's Bible classes of the city yesterday, asking the state legislature to present the question of state-wide prohibition to the voters, began a story in the Monday, March 3, issue of the Holland Daily Sentinel published in 1913.

On Wednesday at their home at 40 West First St., Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Arensma will celebrate the 50th anniversary of their marriage. They had 13 children, six of whom survive. The children include Mrs. E. Grootis, West Olive, Mrs. A. Kleyn, Holland, Adrian Arensma, Holland, Peter John Arensma and Mrs. J.
Kollen, all of Holland and Peter Arensma, South Bend, Ind.

The residence of C. Rietsma, 307 East Eighth St., was badly damaged by fire this afternoon.
The fire was first noticed in the pantry. The estimated loss is about $300.

William Benjamin, a pioneer of 1847, the oldest and for years the best known printer in Holland and one of western Michigan's most vigorous octogenarians, will tomorrow celebrate the 81st anniversary of his birth at his home, 185 East Eighth St. Mr.
Benjamin has followed the printer's trade for more than 50 years.
He started in as "printer's devil" in the office of the Grand Rapids Enquirer in 1851 and founded "De Hollander" the first newspaper published in this city.

At the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. William Keizer, Mon-tello park, yesterday afternoon the marriage took place of Miss Mary Eliza Oakes and John Thomas Sweeney. Miss Oakes' home is in Fennville and Mr. Sweeney is a moulder in Chicago. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. P. E. Whitman, pastor of the M. E. church.

B. D. Keppel, G. T. Haan, F.
Hadden and John J. Cappon will return from their Panama trip Wednesday night. H. Bos who accompanied them will go to Washington to attend the inauguration.

The Social Progress club will meet this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vander Hart.
Mr. Vander Hart will read a paper on "How the World Squanders Our Money."

To elect the board of police and fire commissioners by popular vote; to change the number of commissioners from three to five; to elect one member each year—these are three propositions that the charter revision commission will vote on at its next regular meeting, began a story in the Tuesday, March 4, issue.
The question was thoroughly discussed last evening and the commissioners present were for the most part in favor of the changes.

G. Van Schelven last night handed in his resignation to the charter revision commission as a member of that body and Attorney Ten Cate was appointed to fill the vacancy. To the Sentinel this morning, however, Mr. Ten Cate said that it would be impossible for him to accept the position.

The Social Progress club, through a committee has been making efforts to have the Home Rule bill that is now being considered by the state legislature include a provision for the establishment of a juvenile court in Holland.

Washington—Woodrow Wilson was today inaugurated as president of the United States, with Thomas R. Marshall as vice-president with impressive ceremonies, marked in the main by simplicity.
Holland has at least one representative in Washington today to attend the inauguration of President Woodrow Wilson. Supt.
E. J. Fell is the lucky one who can see the 28th president of the United States inducted into office. He has been in Philadelphia to attend a national teachers' convention and took the opportunity to see the greatest show in the world.

The senior class of the high school enjoyed a sleigh ride party to the home of one of its class mates, Henry Boeve.

Fred Gordon of Crockerly who has been supervisor from his township for 12 years will not be a candidate for re-election this year. Among the candidates to succeed him are John Major, Fred Douch, Ned Spencer and Lou Moore.

Henry Wabble who has been employed at the Pere Marquette freight depot for some time has resigned his position and will leave Friday for St. Louis. He will remain there a short time and then go to Arkansas where he will take up some homestead land.

Cornelius Stroop who has been visiting at his home in this city over Sunday returned to Chicago today.

The annual business meeting of the Woman's Literary club was held Tuesday afternoon, according to a story in the Wednesday, March 5, issue. Following are the officers elected: President, Mrs.
J. P. Oggle; first vice-president, Mrs. G. E. Kollen; second vice-president, Mrs. C. H. McBride; for 1913-15, Mrs. Post, Mrs.

Blekkink, Mrs. Garrod.

Although the polls will be open until 8 o'clock this evening, the indications are that the vote on county road commissioners will be light. Following are the names of candidates on three tickets:

Famous Racing Craft Visits Here

Tales of adventure and fun aboard the famous, large 56-foot racing boat "Nahma" during a two-month trip on United States waters were told to George F.
Herr of Waukazo Friday night by weatherbeaten, sunburned Harry Gardner, owner of the craft, who visited Mr. Herr while his boat was anchored in Lake Macatawa.

Mr. Gardner, with a three-man crew, pulled into the local harbor Friday night from Marblehead, Mass. after a trip down the east coast to Boston and New York, then inland up the Hudson river, on Lakes Erie, Huron, and Michigan. The sailors left the local harbor shortly after noon Saturday for St. Joseph where they planned to participate in week-end races to Michigan City.

According to Mr. Herr, the voyagers' interesting experiences included sighting a sub off the Atlantic coast and seeing a large shark. The shark followed their craft, rolling its eyes but doing no damage. The crew saw the large fish rear out of the water and grab a lone seagull in its jaws at the water's surface.

The "Nahma" is well known in yachting circles as a fast craft.
She has never lost a race in which she has participated, according to Mr. Herr. "Nahma" is an Indian name. Mr. Gardner, skipper of the craft, plans to enter the "Nahma" in many races on various lakes next season. He is president of Consolidated Instruments Corp., a firm engaged in war production, at Michigan City, Ind.

Mr. Herr, for many years a member of the Detroit Yacht club, moved to Waukazo several years ago and maintains his home there.

Double Wedding At Saugatuck

At Saints' Episcopal church in Saugatuck was the scene of a double wedding on Friday at 2:30 p.m., the ceremony attracting approximately 100 guests, most of them Shorewood summer residents.

The Rev. J. Ethan Allen, church rector, performed the service which united Miss Nancy Reel and Ensign Charles Dixon Hamilton, U.S.N.R., and Miss Margaret Lee Durrell and Ensign Richard Harrison Reel, U.S.N.R.

Mrs. Hamilton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Reel of Pasadena, Calif., who have summered near Saugatuck on Lake Michigan for the past 17 years, and Ensign Hamilton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton of St. Joseph, Mo. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Anita Reel as maid of honor, and Miss Priscilla Ullman of River Forest, Ill., bridesmaid. The groom's father served as his best man.

The second bride, Mrs. Reel, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton E. Durrell of South Pasadena, Calif., and the groom is a brother of Mrs. Hamilton, other participant in the double wedding.

Meengs' Station In Business 9 Years

Meengs' Standard Service station at 381 River Ave., operated by William J. Meengs, offers a complete all-around service for local motorists. In addition to greasing, washing and simonizing services, the station still carries a line of pre-war tires.

Mr. Meengs, a local alderman, has operated his present station for nine years and for two years previous operated a station on North River Ave. Prior to entering the gasoline station business, he was a bricklayer.

A pre-war feature of the station for seven years was its 24-hour service, with no night closing. OPA regulations have forced the station to operate on a 72-hour basis for the last two years.

Mr. Meengs describes his station as offering a "Good general business." His regular assistant is Boyd De Boer.

War-time restrictions, except for night closing, have not affected the business to a major extent. In proportion to the number of hours worked, business has held its own. Transient business is much lighter than in pre-war days, Mr. Meengs says, but local and rural customers have taken the place of tourists.

Allegan, Sept. 9 — E. W. De Lano, president and secretary of the County Agricultural society, announced last week that plans are being rushed for a 1943 Allegan county fair to be held Sept. 14 through 18.

Plans for a fair had been abandoned early this spring, but since 4-H club work requires an achievement day during the fall period and the regular 4-H exhibit had definitely been planned, it was decided to stage the regular fair along with the 4-H exhibits.

Although plans are not complete, there will be the usual carnival and all of the midway attractions, free acts and other features.

Mrs. Ida E. Hoyt Succumbs in East

Word was received here of the death Saturday in Washington, D. C., of Mrs. Ida E. Hoyt, 88, a resident of Holland some years ago. She was the widow of Edwin T. Hoyt, a Civil war veteran who died in 1889 of wounds received in the battle of Cold Harbor near Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Hoyt whose 88th birthday was celebrated July 6, was born on a farm near Hudsonville. She moved to Holland in 1896 where she purchased a residence at 328 River Ave. Her home was a popular boarding house for Hope college students for many years.

She later lived with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. William De Kleine in Grand Haven from 1906 to 1914, when he left to accept important positions in various parts of the country. Mrs. Hoyt went with the De Kleines to Washington in 1928, where Dr. De Kleine has served as medical director of the American Red Cross.

Besides Mrs. De Kleine, Mrs. Hoyt is survived by a grandson, Dr. E. Hoyt De Kleine of Buffalo, N. Y., and two great grandsons. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. from the Wolbrink funeral home in Hudsonville with the Rev. Marion De Velder of Hope church, Holland, officiating. Burial will be in Georgetown cemetery at Hudsonville.

Large Consignment of Coal Arrives for City

The Steamer Dow Chemical loaded to capacity with about 9,000 tons of coal steamed into Holland about 7 p.m. Saturday, unloaded more than 7,000 tons for the city at the municipal light plant and the remainder at the Harrington Coal Co.

Since the water is 18 inches higher this year than normally, the Holland-bound freighters are able to load up to full capacity without danger of running aground. The Steamer Dow Chemical is about 550 feet long.

Officials of the board of public works said this coal will last between three and four months.

Former Hope Student Charged in Draft Case

Grand Rapids, Sept. 9 — Howard K. Zandbergen, 22, of Grandville, former student at Hope college, Holland, is at liberty under $1,500 bond to await action of a federal grand jury this week after waiving examination Thursday afternoon on a charge of violating the selective service law.

Zandbergen was arrested on a warrant on complaint of local draft board No. 2 that he had failed to report for induction July 13. Employed as an orderly at St. Mary's hospital, Zandbergen had told the draft board that he would go to the army only if the board would guarantee him assignment to the medical corps. Since the board was unable to do this, Zandbergen appealed for 4E (conscientious objector) classification. After a hearing the appeal board classified him as 1A0 (available for noncombatant military service.)

A clear understanding of the services of each local agency and definite procedures for referral will prevent confusion and promote effective service when this time comes. ## Wounded During Offensive on Sicily

First Lieut. Clarence "Shike" Vande Water of Holland is recovering in a North African hospital from wounds suffered in the Sicilian campaign, according to a letter received Thursday afternoon by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vande Water, 297 Lincoln Ave.

Lieut. Vande Water in the letter, dated Aug. 17, said his injuries were not serious, he is getting along nicely, and has the best of medical care. The family assumed that he was wounded a week or two before he wrote the letter.

The local officer, who entered service more than two years ago, arrived in Africa Nov. 7, 1942, with the infantry as a member of the invasion force and served in the front lines during the entire African campaign. He was present when President Roosevelt reviewed the troops at Casablanca.

Lieut. Vande Water is a graduate of Holland high school and attended the University of Michigan for two years and played on the university football team. Following his induction in June, 1941, he served in Camp Wolters, Tex., and Fort Ord, Calif., before being sent to officers' training school at Fort Benning, Ga. He received his commission as second lieutenant in July, 1942. He was promoted to first lieutenant while in Africa last April.

The fact that the family here had received no official notice from the war department regarding Lieut. Vande Water's wounds indicated that his injuries were not serious.

Vande Water was a sergeant when the photo was taken.

Need More Volunteers To Issue Ration Books

The latter group include "B" books with future expiration dates but have to be replaced because the old "B" coupons were declared invalid Sept. 1. Besides this, there are thousands of applications to be filed.

The office is particularly anxious to clear this work so that car drivers will not be too inconvenienced and also because all truck rations must be renewed by Oct. 1.

Visits Inmates at Jackson Prison

Judge Fred T. Miles of the Ottawa-Allegan circuit spent last Wednesday interviewing 28 of 58 prisoners of this area serving sentences in Southern Michigan prison at Jackson, it was learned today.

The 28 men whom Judge Miles interviewed were those who had requested it. Most of them were interested in the application of the law to their cases and some wished the judge to contact some members of the family outside. Others wished advice for their sons, parents or wives. Only two asked to have their sentences limited to a shorter term, but all know that this is not the purpose of the judge's periodic visits.

Judge Miles keeps in close touch with the men he has sentenced since the parole board always writes the parole for his views on the advisability of parole before an inmate is released. In making these reports, Judge Miles feels that he should check with the men each year to discover changes in attitude. Most of them appreciate it, the judge said. Parents often consult the judge concerning progress of sons serving sentences.

Dutch Win Over Bierleys Twice Through Rallies

Van Wieren Credited With Both Victories; Long Home Runs Hit

Coming from behind in both games here, the Holland Flying Dutchmen swept a double-header from the Muskegon Bierleys Monday, winning 7-4 in a morning game and 5-2 in a night game. Lefty Van Wieren received credit for both victories although he did not start either contest.

Successive home-runs by Wenzel and H. De Neff pulled the nightcap out of the fire after being tied 2-2 in the eighth. In the first game, a single by W. De Neff with the bases full and a single by Wenzel with runners on second and third gave the Dutch a 6-4 lead after trailing 4-2 in the seventh inning.

In the morning game, Muskegon jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the fourth when F. Ludwig, catching for Bierleys, smacked a home run over the left-field grandstand and Balaske and Moore accounted for the other run with base hits. Muskegon added two more in the fifth and the Dutch followed suit with two runs in the fifth making the score 4-2 in favor of Muskegon.

In the big seventh inning for Holland, B. Breuker, hurling for Muskegon, developed a wild streak and walked Van Huis, Bagladi and Van Wieren. W. De Neff then singled, driving in Van Huis and Bagladi and Wenzel singled later, driving in Van Wieren and De Neff. The Dutchmen added the seventh run in the eighth on a double by Vande Water and a single by Van Huis.

The Muskegon Bierleys snatched a one-run lead in the second game from two Holland errors and a single by Balaske. Holland tied it up in the fourth as H. De Neff drove in Wenzel with a double after Wenzel had forced W. De Neff at second after he had singled. The Bierleys added one in the fifth and the Dutch one in the sixth to keep the game even until the eighth when Humbert singled and came home on a long home run over the right field fence by Wenzel. H. De Neff then homered in almost the same spot making the score 5-2, the score with which the game ended.

Hively, who pitched the second game for Muskegon, left today for the United States army after being home recovering from a leg wound received in North Africa.
