OLD VETERAN OF HOLLAND RETURNS FROM G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

HAS ATTENDED EVERY ONE FOR THE PAST FORTY YEARS

The old gentleman, Lewie DeKraker, who is well in the 80's, still handles the cleaver and saw on the meat block in his market on River Avenue has just returned from Milwaukee where he attended the G. A. R. encampment.

Lewie has not missed an encampment in the last forty years and has practically been from coast to coast making his annual visit to whatever city might have been designated for the meet.

The most memorable G. A. R. encampment took place in Detroit 36 years ago. This is the time when the large Holland Drum Corps of sixty pieces took the entire A. C. VanRaalte Post of this city together with the Custer Post of six hundred from Grand Rapids.

This it was said was the largest encampment ever held for the reason that Detroit was centrally located. Lewie DeKraker was also present at this gathering.

This year he took with him two grandchildren, the Misses Kathryn and Dora De Kraker and he was further accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Wise of River Avenue.

Mrs. T. A. Boot past president of the State Department of the Women's Relief Corps and Mrs. Clara Elferdink, delegate from the local Woman's Relief Corps were also in the "Garden City."

The entire delegation returned on Saturday night.

GRAND RAPIDS COUPLE WALK TO HOLLAND AND SURROUNDING COUNTRY

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ten Hoor of Grand Rapids are hikers from way back. Recently instead of using the automobile they walked to Allegan, then to Saugatuck, from Saugatuck to Black Lake and Holland and from Holland to Port Sheldon, from Port Sheldon to Grand Haven and from Grand Haven to Grand Rapids by way of Coopersville.

On another occasion they made the trip from Allegan along the river to New Richmond and so on following the river's bends to Saugatuck. The trip took six days and the hiking speedometer showed 22 miles a day.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ten Hoor each carry their pack for camping. Mr. Ten Hoor carries with him a painter's outfit and does pictures whenever he sees a beautiful landscape worth painting.

SAUGATUCK RESORTER MUST STAND TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER

AT EXAMINATION OF FRED RILL JUDGE BINDS HIM OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT

Fred Rill, the Saugatuck resorter, of Chicago, must stand trial at the October term of the Allegan circuit court on the charge of manslaughter in connection with the drowning Sunday, July 29, of Miss Erma Orta of Woodville, Ill. Rill was bound over for hearing Oct. 8 at the conclusion of his examination Monday in Justice Brady's court. He was again released under $4,000 bail supplied by his stepfather, Alexander Scheschel.

Although it was expected the examination would require two days, only three of the 20 witnesses subpoenaed were called to the stand, and the hearing was completed about the middle of the afternoon. Those who took the stand were the defendant, himself and the other survivors of the ill-fated boating party. Rill's half-brother, Frank and Miss Peggy Proska, the dead girl's chum.

Fred Rill it will be remembered was in a canoe with three others and it is alleged he tried to make advances to the Proska girl who threatened to jump overboard if he continued the attempt of kissing her. The result was that in the commotion the boat tipped over and the Orta girl was drowned and Miss Proska was saved by two Holland boys.

ALL IS READY FOR THE COMMUNITY FAIR WHICH OPENS TODAY

FIFTY HORSES HAVE ALREADY BEEN ENTERED FOR THE THREE DAYS' RACES

According to Secretary Arendshorst, the entries to the Holland fair at the rate these are coming in, will be the largest in the history of the organization.

There will be a great many new things to see aside from the fair itself. The north and east of the grounds is now enclosed by a high steel fence and at intervals large concrete columns crowned with globes, hold the enclosure intact.

An addition to the grandstand, a new ticket office and large new bandstand on the midway, a baby clinic building, and a score of other new things in the way of buildings will be evident to the fair patron immediately.

Electric lights have been placed everywhere for the night fair and also the approaches to the fair grounds, have been supplied with lights. A large stage 75x75 feet contains 30 200candle power lights to be used at night when the 12 large special attractions are being staged. These attractions are also being staged in the afternoon as well as at night. Remember too a large display of fireworks will be put on every evening after the special attractions.

A big special additional attraction have into Holland late Saturday night on thirty cars constituting an entire circus with tents "n everything. Surely with this large aggregation which was not expected, the fair this year will be congested with concessions.

Fisher's wonderful orchestra from Kalamazoo is already here, and with the American Legion band of Holland, the Ottawa Band of Zeeland, and the big circus the Community fair will be a tuncful exhibition.

All the departments such as cattle, sheep, horticultural and such entries as are commonly seen at all fairs are well filled in all departments, and the school exhibit in the educational building will also be an attraction worth while.

The race card, speed chairman Seth Nibbelink states, will be the best ever. Early this morning nearly 50 horses had been entered and more are expected.

All that remains to make the fair a financial success is the weather. A fair without good weather means failure, and the weatherman has promised steadier weather this week than has been the case during the last ten days.

The race program follows below:—
Wednesday, Sept. 12
2:30 Trot.....Purse $300.00
2:30 Pace.....Purse $300.00
Thursday, Sept. 13

OTTAWA COUNTY HOMING DOVE MADE FINE RECORD

A homing pigeon belonging to E. C. Irwin of Spring Lake, recently made a record flight from Ottawa county to Stratford, Ont., its original home, after having been in captivity over six months. Last February, Mr. Irwin purchased a young pair of homing pigeons from E. Banks in Stratford, Ontario. Mr. Irwin keeps racing stock and is a breeder of prize winning racers.

The Spring Lake man kept the birds confined in his lofts until on August 19 when he left them out for a fly thinking it an opportune time inasmuch as there were young birds in the nest. Both birds immediately disappeared, but the next day the mother bird returned.

The male bird was given up as lost until Mr. Irwin received a letter from the breeder in Stratford saying that his pigeon had arrived there and that after being taken care of it would be shipped back to him. The pigeon went straight into the loft upon arrival, according to the letter. Homing pigeons are frequently shipped to some distant point and then released for a race back to the home lofts. This sometimes covers hundreds of miles. The exceptional part of the Irwin pigeon's performance was the fact that it had been kept in confinement for over six months and then straight to its home in Ontario thru some very severe storms which prevailed at the time. Mr. Irwin is justly proud of his plucky little bird and looks forward to its return in the near future. The addition of such a bird to his breeding stock is much desired in view of the pigeon's exceptional performance.

HOLLAND MAN TEACHES FERRYSBURG SCHOOLS

The Ferrysburg public schools opened Tuesday with the largest attendance in the history of the school. The total enrollment in the four rooms of the school is about 160. Besides this 20 Ferrysburg students applied for enrollment in the Grand Haven schools.

J. S. Van Dyke of Holland is the principal of the Ferrysburg schools this year, Miss Reka Balder is assistant principal; Mrs. Claribel De Witt and Miss Grace J. Schukel are the teachers in the grades. Ferrysburg is growing and is fast assuming the proportion of a live village. The school attendance indicates the growth of the town and preliminary steps have been taken to incorporate.

SAFE STREETS TO TAKE TO THE HOLLAND FAIR

SOME THOROUGHFARES ARE PRACTICALLY IMPASSABLE

The Holland Fair will open today and it is well to know that some highways are more safe to take than others because of the extensive paving program now in progress.

Three good highways lead from 8th street to 16th street, that are in fine condition, namely River Avenue, Central Avenue and College Avenue.

Columbia Avenue is in such poor condition, having been broken up constantly because of sewer laying, preparatory to paving, that it really should not be used since the other streets are available.

Lincoln Avenue is also in wretched condition and should only be taken in case of emergency.

College Avenue is now entirely paved up to 16th street and it seems that the 3 avenues will be ample to take care of the travel during the fair without using the other two practically impassable streets.

SQUIRRELS INJURIOUS TO BIRD LIFE, IS CLAIM

HOLLAND TRAP SHOOT CLUB GETS LETTER TELLING OF THESE LITTLE DESTROYERS

Holland's parks are filled with the agile, graceful little red squirrel. We need them nuts and like to see them scamper about for their own amusement adjacent to our nature spots within the city limits.

Few in Holland know however, that the red squirrel is a destroyer of bird life.

The Holland Trap Shoot club has received a letter from E. R. Galvin, director of sales of the DuPont Powder company telling what destruction the red squirrel really brings about, quoting the best of authority from at least a dozen naturalists including several government men.

It is hard to believe that these little creatures loved by everyone when seen in the park, are inveterate destroyers of eggs and young of useful birds and spends much of its time in searching out nests among the trees. Such however are his habits and naturalists and sportsmen class him as one of the most vicious of all game destroying animals. In many places war has been declared on him by sportsmen who are particularly interested in rigging their neighborhood of "vermin," as the birds and animals are called which prey on useful species. A great amount of evidence has been collected against the red squirrel showing that his depredations are such as to make it necessary to keep down his number if insectivorous birds are to be allowed to flourish and help out in their useful work.

The late John Burroughs wrote of the red squirrel: "Nearly all the birds look upon it as their enemy and attack and annoy it when it appears near their breeding haunts. Thus I have seen the pewee the cuckoo, the robin and the wood thrush pursuing it with angry voice and gestures. If you wish the birds to breed and thrive in your orchards and groves, kill every red squirrel that infests the place."

A professor in one of the eastern colleges gives out the following:—"Prof. N. F. Davis, teacher in biology at Bucknell College, Lewisburg, Pa., had so much trouble with red squirrels killing nesting birds and eating their eggs about the lawn of the college campus where lots of large shade trees flourish, that he shot some 20 of the nimble little red-coated murderers to end their depredations. One day six of the squirrels attacked and pursued a large gray squirrel and before Prof. Davis could save it, the vicious creatures cornered their victim and literally cut it to pieces."

Secretary Dick Van Tatenhove of the Gun club has requested that this fact be made public leaving a ten page manuscript telling of the destruction brought by the squirrel and giving an abundance of authority showing that there can be no doubt as to the facts.

HOPE COLLEGE TO HAVE ENTIRE 1922 TEAM BACK

Coach Schouten of Hope college will have the entire team of last year on the gridiron next week when the first practice is called. The team last year was composed of many former high school stars. By Hidding will captain the team. He is a player of two years' experience on the high school team and two on the college squad. The athletic field has been entirely made over. Coach Schouten's squad is to number about 50 this year. Detroit will be played there Oct. 20.

Grand Haven harbor really took on the appearance of a bustling port when four ships were tied up at the various docks in addition to the fishing tugs and other harbor craft. The ferry Gen. Meade, the U. S. dredge Gen. Meade, the light house service boat, Sumac, and a small pleasure cruiser, the Gloria II of Racine were all in port. Later the Alabamas was tied up at the Goodrich dock for her final daylight trip to Chicago.—Grand Haven Tribune.

TO HAVE SEVEN SADDLE HORSE EVENTS AT COMMUNITY FAIR

A NEW FEATURE PUT ON FOR THE FIRST TIME THIS YEAR

Speed Chairman Seth Nibbelink and committee have something new aside from the big race card. There will be seven saddle horse events staged in front of the grandstand and the prettiest steppers from any bridle path will be brought to Holland.

Three beauties are coming from Chicago with their owners, two from Grand Rapids, several from Holland and not a few from other towns.

All the saddle horses will parade before the grandstand before the events open, and later the prize winners will be exhibited.

Some of the events will be children's classes, and three galter class for men and women and five galter class also for men and women.

There will also be a grand champion exhibition and a jumping class. Fancy stunts to be pulled off will be men standing in saddle while the horse is cantering.

This is one of the many side issues that is to be seen at the Community Fair and many of Holland equestrians among them many pretty ladies, will be found in the lineup.

Fair opens today and will close on Friday night of this week.

MAN ON PAROLE GOES BACK TO IONIA PRISON

STEALS TICKETS FROM HOLLAND INTERURBAN OFFICE

Peter Pelon, aged 20, who was on parole from Ionia prison where he was sent up sometime ago on another charge, violated his parole and will have to go back to serve out his sentence.

Pelon went to the Holland Interurban office at 6:45 Monday morning and when the agent was not looking he stuck his hand through the ticket window and took two Holland-Grand Rapids and return tickets out of the rack.

It was discovered that Pelon was hanging around the Interurban office attempting to sell the tickets at a reduced rate, claiming that he had changed his mind about going to Grand Rapids and wished to dispose of them.

The agent becoming suspicious checked up on his rack, found two tickets missing and he notified the police. Chief Van Ry had Pelon brought to his office where the man made a confession and the Ionia authorities were notified to take Pelon back.

The man's former offense was forgery.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN GOES TO NEW CHARGE

Rev. John A. Van Dyke, pastor of the Ninth Reformed church of Grand Rapids, has resigned his pastorate to answer a call to the Oakdale Park Reformed church. Mr. Van Dyke came to Grand Rapids from Lodi, N. J., five years ago. He is a native of North Holland and a graduate of Hope College.

It is announced that Rev. Gradus Vander Linden of Jamestown has accepted a call to the pulpit of the 7th Reformed church of Grand Rapids. He will succeed Rev. A. J. Van Lummel, who died several months ago.

THREE MONTHS IN COLLEGE $27.21 BACK IN 1839

All expenses in college for three months of $27.21! In 1839, not 1923. Tuition was $12, room rent was $3, and everything else in proportion. Just what it cost was shown in a document unearthed in the home of Dr. John Hunt here. Dr. Hunt entered Brown College in 1839, and for the first three months kept a close accounting.

Among the items listed were steward's salary, $1; servant's hire, printing, etc., $2; common bills, four weeks, $6.40; public fuel, 75c; and 6c for fines. The last item was for absences, once from prayer and once from class.

On page 2 and 3 of this issue fair pages will be found that are exceedingly interesting. It is worth while glancing them over.

The inauguration of a city league in baseball has been a splendid success and insures its permanency in athletics. Nine teams were eliminated after the loss of two games. The games were well attended and no admission was charged, but a collection was taken at each game to meet incidental expenses. The Holland Shoes were awarded the silver trophy offered by the Van Tongeren Cigar Co. in the city league Saturday when they trounced the South Ends 11 to 5. The Shoes finished the schedule with 1,000 per centage in six games played. The trophy was presented to the winners by Mayor E. P. Stephan.

ALLEGAN COUNTY MEN SHIP DIRECT TO CHICAGO BY TRUCK

William Bjork and Samuel Lindberg fruit growers living south of Holland in Allegan county, who established a truck line service between Gibson and Chicago this season, will reap more than double the prices of fruit last year through the elimination of the middleman. Lindberg began the truck service several weeks ago and is well satisfied with the venture. Bjork at first associated with Lindberg started his own line a few weeks later.

The men leave Gibson at midnight and reach Chicago at 6:30 in the morning with their fruit. They expect to handle their entire crop of fruit via the truck line. Two round trips are made each week.

Lindberg and Bjork are so well satisfied that they expect to make it a permanent line. Besides securing double prices for their fruit they figure the investment of the trucks will be realized the first season.

VAN APPELDOORN HEADS THE HATCHERS ASSOCIATION

The "chick" hatchers of lower Ottawa enjoyed themselves to the full extent at a picnic held at Jensen Park and business as well as pleasure constituted the day's program.

Regulations for the certification of baby chicks produced by members of the Michigan Chick Hatchers' association were adopted Friday afternoon by members of that organization at its annual meeting and picnic. The inspection service will be in charge of specialists approved by the Michigan Agricultural college.

The association voted to become a member of the International Chick Hatchers' association and participate in its national poultry program. Zealand hatchers won the base ball game from Holland by an 18 to 12 score.

Officers were re-elected as follows: President, Louis Van Appeldoorn; Vice-president, W. A. Downs; Washington, secretary-treasurer, C. J. De Koster, Zealand.

A SUPPOSED TRAGEDY AT OTTAWA BEACH PROVED TO BE A JOKE

Postmaster Van Rossum at Ottawa Beach got the scare of his life Saturday when among the many parcels he received there was one that appeared to be a baby chick time being over he knew that the sounds he heard could not come from that source.

Picking up a large package, the size and length of a small child, the government man distinctly heard issuing from within a cry for "Mamma." All the clerks gathered about while the package was being opened feeling certain that a gruesome sight awaited them. The contents revealed a large doll which mechanically could be made to cry the word "Mamma" and the moving of the Lunde set the mechanism in motion. The close of the season was not to be ended with a tragedy after all.

LETTERS HELD AS LAST WILL IN PROBATE

Letters written during the World War by Gilbert D. Karsten of Zealand, a soldier in the U. S. Army overseas, were admitted to probate as the last will and testament of Karsten at a recent hearing in probate court before Judge James J. Danhof.

Letters written at the front on February 1, 1918, and July 9, 1917, made Miss Martha Karsten of Zealand, an aunt of the soldier the sole beneficiary of his war risk insurance.

On July 17, Martha Karsten obtained a decree in the Ottawa County Circuit court adjudging her a trustee of the War Risk Insurance money against Jennie Skinner.

Since the circuit court decree, Miss Karsten filed a petition in the probate court of Ottawa county, praying that the court allow the two letters, mentioned previously, admitted as the nuncupative or holographic will of Gilbert D. Karsten, executor and signed by him while he was a soldier of the U. S. Army while engaged in the war against Germany. She also asked that said letters be admitted to probate and that Martha Karsten be designated as the beneficiary and sole legatee of the War Risk Insurance and all of his estate and that the administration of said estate be granted to Dirk F. Boonstra of Zealand, Mich.

The insurance money involved amounts to ten thousand dollars and was payable following the death of Gilbert D. Karsten which occurred in action near the village of Clerges, France, on August 1, 1918. The probate court allowed the letters to stand as the last will and testament of the dead soldier and also appointed Mr. Boonstra as the administrator of the estate.

Allegan milk men surely have been having a battle royal for the past three months, but it appears that the scrap is now over. The Allegan Co. Milk Producers' association decided at its meeting at Otsego Saturday to build a condensary in that city. The total number of votes cast was 570. Of this number 509 voted to equip the condensary in Otsego, 59 voted against the proposition and the remainder of votes were scattering.

The meeting was held in the new auditorium located in the new addition to Otsego's school building. The room was packed with milk men and eager citizens of Otsego who were anxious to acquire the condensary.

President W. J. Barnard outlined the fight the milk association has had with the Overton Creamery Co. of Allegan.

Otsego proposes to provide a cement block building beside the railroad track for the condensary which is to be 60x110 feet. Part of it will be two stories high with a boiler house adjoining. The equipment to be installed will cost $75,000, the cost for equipment being figured upon the figures furnished by C. E. Rogers, an expert from Detroit.

The building is to be erected and machinery installed in operation by January 1, 1924. Otsego is to give the association free use of the building for five years which it can purchase then for $30,000 if desired. It is proposed to sell stock to buy equipment for the condensary among the 800 members of the Milk association.

A meeting for members of the association only was held immediately following the public meeting at which about $10,000 was subscribed. The association is reported to have more than 800 members. It is estimated that more than 2,000 people attended the meeting.

A farewell luncheon in honor of Miss Marjorie Mc Bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McBride, was given by Miss Natalie Reed at her home in Saugatuck. Miss McBride left on Tuesday for Boston, Mass., where she will attend Simmons college.

After the delightful repast was served a handkerchief shower was given for the guest of honor. The afternoon's entertainment was completed by a launch ride on Kalamazoo river.

The guests present were the Misses McBride, Wilma Meyer, Adelaide Borgman, Janet Albers, Mary Pieters, Grace Gardel, Martha Gabbard, Ethel Ludens, Beatrice Tyner, Carol Van Hartesveld, Margaret Anderson, Kathryn Keppel, Ruth Nibbelink and Lucile Osborne of Holland; the Misses Nella DenHelder and Isla Pruim of Zealand; Miss Wilamena Schnoberger of South Haven; Miss Ruth Pellegrom of Grand Haven and the Misses Frances Comy and Elaine Pear of Saugatuck.

SHOW WINDOW GIVES SMACK OF FALL HUNTING

The show window of the Corner Hardware is attracting a great deal of attention. The whole picture has an atmosphere of fall hunting and game of all sorts abound in large numbers in order to give the picture a realistic effect.

Tucked away in some oak grubs is a miniature hunting lodge made of bark, and among the falling leaves and hanging foliage, game animals and birds are in evidence.

The slinking fox, the assy loon, the mammoth Canadian goose, the wily wild turkey, the quivering otter, the graceful mallard, the kingly rail and a score of other species of animals and birds that interest the hunters are to be seen.

Naturally the gun is also on display, in fact several makes are neatly arranged, for that's what the show window is for.

Anyway Arthur Smith the window artist has shown unusual skill in getting up a display that is really worth while.

This as an exhibit at the Holland fair would even be an attractive addition.

However the exhibition will remain in the show window of the Corner Hardware for the next two weeks.

The last Rifle shoot of the season, which was held Saturday proved very interesting, and a contest between the crack shots of the city which was a close one. With blood in his eye, each one tried to beat the other and very high scores were made, shooting ten shots from position and ten shots resting. Wm. Woldring captured all honors, both for the day and season. The score:—Wm. Woldring 92; Neal DeWaard 89; Dick De Waard 89; H. Koop 88; Shud Althuis 88; Frank Woldring 88; Sam Althuis 80; J. Buttles 75; A. Siersma 74.

Saturday's game between the Independents and the Kellogg Cornflakes was an interesting affair, the score resulting 5 to 3 in favor of the local team.

Anderson, Holland's star pitcher, did fine work on the mound allowing but five hits and getting three strikeouts.

There is no doubt that Anderson won his own game when he struck a home run with one man on base, bringing in two scores.

You can't ever tell the outcome of a baseball game, for Holland practically had the game won, when Dunne of the "Cornflakes" pushed one over the fence also for a home run bringing in Mitchell with him. Had it not been for the strenuous batting of Lefty" Anderson early in the game Holland would have been a score short.

Features of the game were the fielding of Japling and Garry Batema and the two home runs as mentioned above.

After glancing at her, he turned to Bartley and said apologetically, "Why, sir, I don't know if what I saw was anything out of the way. I would not have thought of it again if Mr. Slyke had not been found dead. When I got to bed, I began to wonder if I had locked the windows. We were rather fussy about them since the robbery."

The more I thought of it the less sure I was; so I got up and was starting to go down into the living room when I saw Miss Ruth, dressed in a long coat, going into her room."

Miss Potter gasped and asked the butler in great astonishment, "But, Robert, how can you say that! You know Miss Ruth was not at home last evening. She spent the night at Saratoga. She has not returned yet."

For a second no one spoke. Bartley's eyes went from the butler to the woman and back again. We all wondered what his next question would be, but we never found out. Suddenly, from above us, a girlish voice called, "Who is talking about me?"

Astonished, we all turned and looked in the direction from which the voice had come. On the top of the stairway a young girl of nineteen years stood looking down at us.

For several seconds Miss Potter seemed unable to believe her eyes, then she half gasped, "Why, Ruth—"

The girl, surprised at the effect her simple question had made, clutched her blue silk dressing gown closer about her and started down the stairs. It was plain that she had just gotten out of bed and had not yet had time to dress. Her eyes went from one person to another questioningly. Who were we, and what were we doing here?

As she came slowly down the steps we watched her in silence. She was house had to be explained. Her unexpected presence here this morning seemed to add color to his statement. A glance at her dressing gown with her nightdress peeping beneath it showed that she had just come from her bed. Yet her aunt's surprise at her appearance had also seemed genuine.

"Your aunt told us," Bartley said to her, "that you were away, spending the night with a friend; but the butler says he saw you early this morning going into your own room."

The girl flushed, as if she realized the gravity of her position, and sank into a chair before she answered, "I did intend to spend the night with a friend in Saratoga. On our way home from a dance at the lake our machine lost a tire and it took so long to replace it that, as we were near the house I decided to come home. Not wishing to go through the woods alone at that hour, I got Uncle Richard to come with me."

Seeing that we were puzzled by the mention of her uncle, she explained that he was really a cousin of her stepfather whom she called uncle. He was a retired clergyman who, during the summer, lived on the estate in a little cottage facing the main road near the entrance to the driveway to the house. When asked if her uncle had come into the house with her she replied that he had not; that he had only waited long enough for her to unlock the front door. She herself had gone directly to her own room, passing the door of her stepfather's room, which had been closed. She had seen no one and heard nothing. She had slept until our voices had awakened her.

Her story, of course, would have to be checked up, but her actions were frank and her manner seemed truthful. She could evidently throw no light on our problem. She waited quietly for Bartley's next question, which, when it came, was a surprise even to me.

"Did you see the dog when you came in?"

"Oh, yes! He came to the door and walked to the foot of the stairs with me."

Bartley turned to the butler and asked, "Was the dog in this room when you came down this morning?"

"Yes, sir. He always sleeps here."

There was a long silence after this, broken at last by the girl asking if she might return to her room. Bartley smiled and assented. I could see that he was not satisfied at the way things had gone. His lips were shut tight and his eyes wandered restlessly around the room. He glanced moodily down at the woman in the chair, who had recovered her composure to some extent, and was now watching with keen eyes everything that was going on.

After a while, Bartley turned to the butler, "Did you see anyone near the door of Mr. Slyke's room while we were in there?"

"Why, I don't know, sir. I did see the chauffeur coming down the stairs. But I don't know if he had been up to the room."

"If you can find him, send him to me at once," Bartley commanded.

The butler took this order as a dismissal and left the room. Bartley turned to Miss Potter and asked her if she had returned to Slyke's room after she left us there. She shook her head. There was again a long silence. At length Bartley broke it by telling her that she need not remain any longer. She rose to her feet and started toward the stairway. Half way across the floor she paused, and said in a voice that hesitated more than once, "You asked me, Mr. Bartley, if, when I found Mr. Slyke was dead, I touched the bedclothes."

Bartley turned quickly. The tone of his voice as he answered her question showed that he knew something important was coming.

"Yes, I did."

With her hands playing nervously with a fold of her dress and her eyes

She was a Handsome Girl, With Beautiful Red Hair and the Creamy White Skin That Goes With It.

a handsome girl with beautiful red hair and the creamy white skin that goes with it. When she reached her aunt's side, Miss Potter was still too astonished to speak and the girl gave Roche an appealing look. She was beginning to realize that something was wrong.

"Have the burglars been here again?" she asked.

Not trusting herself to speak, Miss Potter shook her head. The girl knew nothing of the tragedy that had taken place, evidently, or she would not have been so carefree. She waited, and as her aunt did not seem able to tell her what had happened she turned again to Roche. After swallowing hard for a moment or two the chief stammered out, "Why, Miss Ruth, you see, we—that is—well, Mr. Slyke has been killed."

The laughing look in her eyes faded and one of surprise, blended with horror, took its place. For a second, that to me seemed an hour, she waited, standing herself by her hand on the table. Then she asked slowly, almost spelling out each word, "Dead—dead—why—how?"

Again a silence. No one wanted to tell her what had taken place. Her eyes sought each one of us in turn and then rested on Bartley, as if she recognized that he was in charge. A glance passed between the two, then he told her what we had found.

Though the girl had been startled, I noticed that she was not overwhelmed with grief. Neither had the older woman been. In fact we had yet to hear any word of regret that Slyke was dead. That the girl's astonishment at Bartley's story had been genuine there was no doubt; still the butler's assertion that he had seen her go into her room when she was supposed to have been away from his house had to be explained. Her unexpected presence here this morning seemed to add color to his statement. A glance at her dressing gown with her nightdress peeping beneath it showed that she had just come from her bed. Yet her aunt's surprise at her appearance had also seemed genuine.

house had to be explained. Her unexpected presence here this morning seemed to add color to his statement. A glance at her dressing gown with her nightdress peeping beneath it showed that she had just come from her bed. Yet her aunt's surprise at her appearance had also seemed genuine.

"Your aunt told us," Bartley said to her, "that you were away, spending the night with a friend; but the butler says he saw you early this morning going into your own room."

The girl flushed, as if she realized the gravity of her position, and sank into a chair before she answered, "I did intend to spend the night with a friend in Saratoga. On our way home from a dance at the lake our machine lost a tire and it took so long to replace it that, as we were near the house I decided to come home. Not wishing to go through the woods alone at that hour, I got Uncle Richard to come with me."

Seeing that we were puzzled by the mention of her uncle, she explained that he was really a cousin of her stepfather whom she called uncle. He was a retired clergyman who, during the summer, lived on the estate in a little cottage facing the main road near the entrance to the driveway to the house. When asked if her uncle had come into the house with her she replied that he had not; that he had only waited long enough for her to unlock the front door. She herself had gone directly to her own room, passing the door of her stepfather's room, which had been closed. She had seen no one and heard nothing. She had slept until our voices had awakened her.

Her story, of course, would have to be checked up, but her actions were frank and her manner seemed truthful. She could evidently throw no light on our problem. She waited quietly for Bartley's next question, which, when it came, was a surprise even to me.

"Did you see the dog when you came in?"

"Oh, yes! He came to the door and walked to the foot of the stairs with me."

Bartley turned to the butler and asked, "Was the dog in this room when you came down this morning?"

"Yes, sir. He always sleeps here."

There was a long silence after this, broken at last by the girl asking if she might return to her room. Bartley smiled and assented. I could see that he was not satisfied at the way things had gone. His lips were shut tight and his eyes wandered restlessly around the room. He glanced moodily down at the woman in the chair, who had recovered her composure to some extent, and was now watching with keen eyes everything that was going on.

After a while, Bartley turned to the butler, "Did you see anyone near the door of Mr. Slyke's room while we were in there?"

"Why, I don't know, sir. I did see the chauffeur coming down the stairs. But I don't know if he had been up to the room."

"If you can find him, send him to me at once," Bartley commanded.

The butler took this order as a dismissal and left the room. Bartley turned to Miss Potter and asked her if she had returned to Slyke's room after she left us there. She shook her head. There was again a long silence. At length Bartley broke it by telling her that she need not remain any longer. She rose to her feet and started toward the stairway. Half way across the floor she paused, and said in a voice that hesitated more than once, "You asked me, Mr. Bartley, if, when I found Mr. Slyke was dead, I touched the bedclothes."

Bartley turned quickly. The tone of his voice as he answered her question showed that he knew something important was coming.

"Yes, I did."

GLUPKER RETURNS FROM TEXAS OIL FIELDS

After a stay of eleven weeks in Texas John Glupker has returned and the smile that won't come off is with him as usual. He reports that the field which he has been developing looks better to him than ever. A sand carrying oil has been found in the first well at about 2800 feet but it is not near enough to the center of the field to make a big producer but nevertheless it has proven the opinion that there is oil in the fields held by the Zee-Tex Co. A second well located about six miles to the east of the first is now down approximately 2200 feet and the company is considering driving a third well about half way between the other two.

Already the large oil companies are looking towards Tiooga with the hopes of buying acreage as soon as production is found but this is a Holland and Zeeland scheme and he feels that the local people who carried the burden should get the entire benefits.

A meeting in which a full report will be made will be held in the P. S. Boter and Co., shoe store on next Tuesday evening, Sept. 11th at 8 o'clock and all stockholders in the Zee-Tex Company interested in the report are urged to come.

NOW THE KLUX ARE KLUCKING IN ALLEGAN

The "better than thou" Americans have arrived in Allegan according to the Allegan News. Here is what that paper has to say:

Organization of the Ku Klux Klan in Allegan was indicated by the burning of a fiery cross on the dam hill late the other night.

The cross, fully 8 feet high, made of iron piping, wrapped with gunny sacks and saturated with gasoline could be seen from many places. A crowd gathered about, but there was no indication of clan members being present.

It is reported that a pistol shot from a car as it crossed the south side bridge was signal for lighting the cross.

It is also reported a cross was burning on depot hill and on Monterey road. These could not be verified.

Burning of a cross is said to indicate signing of 100 members. During the week the cross was removed but a sign appeared asking the person who took it to return it.

GRAND HAVEN BRIDGE MUST BE FINISHED IN 1924

The bid for the superstructure work on the Grand Haven-Ferrisburg bridge was awarded to the Wisconsin Bridge and Iron Co. of Milwaukee on Friday after a conference. The electrical work was cut out from the contract and will be done by force account by the city. The bid made by the Milwaukee concern for the rest of the work amounted to $129,056.51.

According to announcement made by Austin Harrington, chairman of the Ottawa County Road commission, the three miles stretch of concrete paving which has been put in by the Hoxie Construction Co. east of Coopersville on M16, will be opened on Saturday for the use of the motoring public. The road is a reroute which will eliminate railroad crossings and curves when all of the work is done although some short detours are necessary for an approach at present. The roadway cuts off considerable distance which was formerly traversed over a gravel road that angled off only to return to the main highway again.

GET-TOGETHER BANQUET HELD BY THE TEACHERS

The teachers of the schools, members of the board of education and their wives, presidents of the P-T clubs and a few other guests gathered in the beautiful dining hall of the Ottawa Beach Hotel Friday evening for a get-together banquet. There were 106 seated at the tables and the banquet served was a most delicious as well as an elaborate one. The banquet marked the close of the Ottawa Beach Hotel for the season and the management had done its best to make it specially good.

After the banquet Supt. E. E. Fell, acting as toastmaster, made a short address in which he welcomed the old teachers back, welcomed the new for the first time and made a plea for the continuance of the co-operation between teachers and board, teachers and parents, and parents and board that has existed for many years in Holland and that has proved of great benefit to the schools.

Miss Susanna Hamelink played a piano solo, and Henry Geerlings spoke on behalf of the board of education. He declared that only in so far as we live for others do we fulfill the real purpose of life, and he paid a high compliment to the teachers of the Holland schools for their loyalty and their sense of public service.

Prin. J. J. Riemersma pointed out that all the teachers need one another: the high school faculty needs the support and co-operation of the grade teachers and vice versa. He asked that the whole teaching force be closely knitted together the coming year for the welfare of the schools. Mrs. Etta Whitman also made a plea for genuine co-operation between teachers and board and parents. Miss Lida Rogers, president of the Holland Teachers' club, stated the aims and ideals of that club and invited all the teachers to become members. Mr. Chapman, a new teacher in the high school, gave a brief, witty address as the representative of all the new teachers, after which Miss Ruth Keppel played two violin solos.

The program closed with an interesting and thoughtful address by Prof. O. McCann, head of the department of music education in the Northwestern University. He declared that music education must be an integral part of a school's curriculum and must follow the same pedagogical laws that are followed in any other branch of study.

Curbing is now being placed along Columbia avenue, preparatory to the paving which is to follow.

NO GAMBLING DEVICES OF ANY KIND AT THE FAIR

The Holland fair this year is to be without anything that has the remotest resemblance to gambling devices. All such affairs have been rigidly barred by the board of directors and there will be nothing that even the most rigid Puritan can take exception to, it is announced by the association.

During the past few years there have been criticisms each year by certain persons, especially by one man in Zeeland who represented a group of people. Now that the fair association has made an honest effort to meet the strict demands of these people, it is hoped that such persons will come and show by their patronage that such efforts are appreciated, one of the officials of the fair declared today.

APPOINTED PROFESSOR OF CHEMISTRY AT HOPE

President E. D. Dimment of Hope college announced Friday that Dr. Gerrit Van Zyl, University of Michigan, had accepted the chair of chemistry made vacant thru the recent death of Prof. Almond T. Godfrey. Other additions to the faculty include Irwin J. Lubbers, who will teach English and public speaking; Albert Timmer, A. B., English and history; Miss Jeanette Vanderwerf of Muskegon, Latin; Garrit Vanderboigh, who has served three years as instructor in India, mathematics.

GRAND HAVEN COM- COM COUNCIL GET- TING LIBERAL

At the regular meeting of the Grand Haven common council two expenditures were voted upon and for the city by that body. One of the purchases authorized was for a turbo generator and the other was for an addition to the city light plant.

The turbo generator whose purchase was authorized is manufactured by the Ridgeway Dynamo and Engine Co. of Ridgeway, Pa. The bid given by them was $22,045 for a turbine and generator and an Elliot jet condenser. The acquisition of this machinery will greatly add to the generating power of the Grand Haven light plant.

An addition to cost $16,696 was let to George Snyder and Son of Spring Lake, for the Grand Haven light plant. This addition will house the addition to the equipment and will be constructed to add beauty to the city plant which has been something of an eyesore in the past. Every attempt possible will be made to beautify the city plant and its environs.

Two new plats were accepted for the city by the council. The Duncan Plat was accepted, it being located on Sheldon road north of the Sheldon Heights plat. The addition was petitioned by Louis H. Osterhaus. Poel Bros. addition on Franklin St. west of Despelier was also accepted by the council of our neighboring city.

MAJOR EMERY PULLING BALLOON ASCENSIONS WITH REAL ESTATE

Grand Haven Tribune—John G. Emery of Grand Rapids who was in Grand Haven last week end, conducting the sale of the lots in Sheldon Heights was so pleased with results that he came again to finish the sale.

To furnish additional entertainment for the Grand Haven people, he brought Phelps, the dare-devil aviator who made a balloon ascension at 5 o'clock. Phelps is known far and wide throughout Michigan for his thrilling work as an air man. Preceding the balloon ascension, from 3 to 5, the Grand Haven Concert band rendered a concert of popular airs.

TEMPERANCE EDUCATION THEME OF MEETING

The work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union opened auspiciously on Friday afternoon after their vacation of the summer. The meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Van Weelden was largely attended and the program on education of the children on temperance well carried out.

Mrs. H. W. Smith exhibited posters which will be placed in the public schools illustrating the education of youth along physical, moral and religious lines. Miss Miles spoke on the same subject noting the effect of scientific temperance instruction for the last decade in the schools and the need of further education, especially with the foreign people, or the Poles and Italians.

The Union is planning advanced work in Americanization and temperance education the coming year. They will distribute literature and have a small exhibit at the fair. Their effort will be to uphold the temperance amendment by every means possible. On Tuesday morning the members of the Union placed a bouquet of flowers on every teacher's desk. Due to the generosity of the Weller Bros., and Ebelink's Nurseries, the bouquets were unusually large and beautiful.

NEW AMBULANCE PURCHASED BY JOHN S. DYKSTRA CO

John S. Dykstra returned Thursday night from Piquette, Ohio, where he went to purchase a new ambulance. The ambulance that was brought to Holland Thursday night is the most up to date vehicle of that kind that is to be had anywhere. It is a motor sedan style with all the equipment and all the newest arrangements for comfort and convenience, and has a capacity of eight passengers.

The Commercial club of Fennville, has indorsed unanimously the $50,000 bonding proposition for the purpose of erecting a new school building. It also indorsed a 3-day Harvest festival to be given Sept. 20-22. Merchants will offer trading inducements and $100 in gold will be given away in prizes. The event will close with a free dance on the pavement. The band and woman's club will share equally in responsibility and profits.

The steamer Willmette carrying 350 Jackies to the regatta Saturday was the old steamer Eastland that formerly sailed between South Haven and Chicago. It will be remembered that some ten years ago the Eastland was captured in Chicago harbor and more than 500 excursionists were drowned. The steamer was towed heavy at that time, but the government buying the craft tore off most of the upper works and converted it into a training ship.

BANKS OFFER PRIZES FOR THE BEST BABIES

The baby contest at the Holland fair Wednesday and Thursday is attracting so much attention and the indications are that the competition will be so great that it has been found necessary to restrict the hours for making entries. Mrs. George Albers, the chairman of the civic health committee of the Woman's Literary club, putting on the contest, and Miss Alma Koertge, city nurse, announced today that entries must be made between the hours of 1 and 2:30 in the afternoon of Wednesday and Thursday. Parents are to take their babies to the "Health Center," at the fair. There will be a nurse in attendance at all times for first aid.

The civic health committee believes that the best possible prize for a baby winning in the contest will be a bank book with a bank account in it that the child can build up when it grows older. So the committee went to the three banks of Holland and each of them cheerfully and even enthusiastically offered to donate three bank books with first, second and third prizes.

There will be three classes in the contest: 1. Babies from one to six months old; 2. Babies from six months to one year old; 3. Babies from one to two years old. In each of these classes there will be three prizes—first, a bank book with $3 deposit; second, a bank book with $2 deposit; third, a bank book with $1 deposit. In addition to this Miss Jones, of the Jones studio, has offered a photograph of each baby that wins a first, second, or third prize.

CHERRY PACK WAS THREE TIMES THAT OF LAST YEAR

The cherry pack of the Holland Canning Co. this summer was three times as large as that of last year. A year ago the pack amounted to 358,022 pounds of cherries. This year the company packed 1,058,012 pounds.

The large pack was made possible through the installation of a new belting system that was put in at the suggestion and under the supervision of Manager C. L. Corey. By this new system the machinery could do the same work formerly done by sixty women, and so the amount of cherries that could be handled was materially increased.

GRAND HAVEN SCHOOLS ARE FILLED UP

G. H. Tribune—Conditions in the Grand Haven Public schools are described as being much different than was anticipated with an attendance in both the grade schools and high school which has broken all previous records. Last year the high school had a trifle under 345 students and this year there are more than 400 enrolled.

The school is said to be a bit overcrowded at present due to the fact that no system for taking care of such a large number of students had been worked out. Principal Courmyer said that the congestion would soon be relieved by a different arrangement and there will be no need for transferring freshmen to Junior high as was reported.

Counting the high school students over sixteen hundred students are enrolled in the public schools of the city. Nearly 1200 are in the grades and in Junior High school. This is quite a gain over last year's attendance. Classes all the way up to the graduating class in the high school are much larger than last year. The number in the class of 1924 is said to be eighty.

In the high school the classes are said to include a larger number of well grown boys than usual. Many boys and young men have worked for a year or two after leaving grades and have returned to finish their education now that work is apparently slackening up and conditions are a bit different.

MUSKEGON WOMAN GETS $37,500 AFTER MAKING APOLOGIES TO BROTHER

Mrs. Bertha Linderman Gilmore has received her share of the first distribution of the estate of Mrs. Ella Linderman, her mother. Mrs. Gilmore's share amounts to $37,500 and was to be given to her, the mother's will stipulated only upon condition that apologies to her brother, B. A. Linderman, Washington and New York clubman, for an alleged quarrel which occurred at the time of their father's death.

The apology was not filed in probate court and apparently was presented to the brother in person. Mrs. Gilmore declared some time ago that she had been done a great wrong. Under the will the four children were to share equally in $150,000 at once and the remainder of the $300,000 estate is to be held in trust for ten years.

CHICAGO WRITER TELLS ABOUT LOCAL MEN

In the Chicago Evening American of Thursday appeared some comments on local characters in a column headed "Heard and Seen" and written by William H. Stuart. Following is the part of the column that relates to Black Lake and Holland:

Fred Z. Pantlind
I found that Fred Z. Pantlind, son of my old friend Boyd Pantlind of Grand Rapids, who died a year ago, is now the president and operating manager of the Ottawa Beach Hotel. Nuff sed. The name of Pantlind is known throughout the whole hotel world.

So successful has the Ottawa Beach hotel been this season that Fred is considering extending its year far into the Fall, possibly long enough to take care of the duck hunters.

The day should come when it could be an all-year hotel.

In the Day of Real Sport

As a boy the writer often swam from the beautiful point in Black lake on which is now built the handsome home of Egbert Gold. No bathing suits were necessary in those days, for there was no habitation on this whole shore, practically nothing on Black lake save at Macatawa Park and Ottawa Beach, down at the Lake Michigan harbor entrance.

Holland's Mayor

With us, too, at the Ottawa Beach week-end was the mayor of Holland—sorry I have forgotten his name. He is a fine executive, they say; draws $100 a year for running this prosperous city of 15,000 population and has a five-man police force which is seldom called upon to make an arrest.

HOPE COLLEGE TO

HAVE A $3,000.00

LECTURE COURSE

Hope College is to have a three thousand dollar lecture course the coming season, the most expensive course ever put on here, according to an announcement made Friday by Dr. J. B. Nykerk, manager of the course. Another interesting fact about the course is that it will be completed before January first. By having the numbers early in the school year conflicts in dates with class and society plays and entertainments are avoided as these are usually held the latter part of the year.

There will be three numbers in the course. The first date is October 16 when Marshall & Co. will appear here. Mr. Marshall is perhaps America's greatest dramatic tenor and a member of the Chicago Opera company. He will be assisted by a noted soprano, a fine violinist and a first-class pianist. This number alone will cost nearly $1500 and will be probably the finest musical treat that Holland has ever enjoyed.

The second number in the regular course will be on November 13 when the New York Players organized by the Redpath company, will give a popular stage success, "The Climax." December 3 is the date of the last number of the course when Prof. Amshary, of Armour Institute, one of the finest interpreters of literature on the platform today, will give an interpretative lecture with readings.

In addition to these regular numbers, included in the season ticket, there will be a special number on the evening of Oct. 30 when Raymond Robins will give an address on "The Outlawry of War." Dr. Nykerk has been trying for nine years to secure Mr. Robins and he has finally succeeded. The announcement that he is coming here is one of the biggest lumen announcements of several years.

Subscriptions for season tickets will be taken in the near future.

LEAVES ZEELAND TO TAKE CHARGE OF A WISCONSIN PLANT

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Page, who have resided at Zeeland for several years while Mr. Page was manager of the Phenix Cheese Co. plant there, will soon move to Milwaukee, where the Pages will live while Mr. Page has charge of the Plymouth, Wis. plant. Mr. Fred Van Sytzama will succeed him as manager of the Zeeland plant.

THREAT OF WAR KEEPS LOCAL MAN FROM GOING ABROAD

While the controversy between Italy and Greece is very unwelcome to most of the world, to no other person in this country was it probably more unwelcome than to Bill Davis, Holland business man, who was to have left for Athens on Labor Day. Davis had been looking forward to this trip and to seeing his wife and son after an absence of 13 years. But the international situation prevented his going and he is still here uncertain when he will leave.

Davis had his ticket bought and had secured his passport. But he was advised by officials in Detroit that it would not be desirable to go to Greece now. So he is waiting for the international situation to clear up before making the journey.

LOCAL PASTOR MAY BE SERVING HIS LAST SUNDAY

It is possible that Rev. G. B. Fleming, pastor of the Methodist church in Holland for the past four years, will be serving his last Sunday here next Sunday. It is the last Sunday before the annual conference that is to be held in Grand Rapids, and it is possible that Mr. Fleming may be assigned to another field. The local congregation has invited him to stay here and is anxious that he shall remain, but there are said to be other congregations interested in his work. What the conference will do about the local appointment is not known.

Holland and Grand Haven schools as reported are overcrowded and it seems that this condition prevails everywhere.

Allegan schools showed a marked increase over former years. The high school has an enrollment of 370, an increase of 20 over last year. The total enrollment of the five schools in that city totals 1,020, an increase of 30 over 1922. The senior class of the high school numbers 74, making it the largest class in the history of the school.

Overcrowded conditions in the Zeeland school may necessitate half day sessions. Every schoolroom is congested and two teachers have been employed for second, fourth and 8th grades where the congestion is most acute.

HARDING STAMPS ALREADY FOUND HERE

Stamp collectors and others interested in the Harding Memorial postage stamp have been inquiring at the stamp window in the Holland postoffice for one of the new stamps gotten out by the postoffice department at Washington in commemoration of the late president, Warren G. Harding.

A few of the new issue have arrived in Holland, the Holland City News receiving a small consignment from Marion, Ohio.

The postoffice department at Holland gives out the information that the stamps may be expected any day. Several cities already have them but Ottawa county apparently is not so fortunate.

Grand Haven citizens are also looking for the new stamp, however judging from their local paper, these have not yet arrived, but are expected daily.

First placed on sale at Marion, Ohio the home of the late president and at the Platonic Agency, Division of stamps at the Post Office department in Washington last Saturday, the stamps were sold at no other place until the present week.

The new stamp is of the customary cent size and shape and bears the portrait of Warren G. Harding within an oval and partly enclosed in a panel, which is supported on either side by acanthus scrolls. Above the portrait within a curved panel appear the words "United States Postage" in white Roman capital letters. On a ribbon below the oval is the name "Harding," and under this at the bottom of the stamp appears the word "cents." In both lower corners within ovals with dark backgrounds is the white numeral "2". In the upper left hand corner, appears the year of birth 1865, and in the upper right hand corner the year of death, 1923. The entire stamp is enclosed with a plain black border. The stamp is printed in black ink.

The Memorial stamps can be used the same as the regular two cent stamp and does not affect the use of the latter in any way. Memorial stamp can be used in business, official and private correspondence.

FAREWELL RECEPTION IS HELD FOR MISSIONARIES

A farewell reception for Rev. and Mrs. A. Westmaas was held Thursday evening in Trinity Reformed church and a good sized audience gathered there to bid Godspeed to the missionaries, who will soon leave for the foreign field.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Westmaas gave short addresses of farewell. Miss Helene Vande Linde sang a solo. Mrs. Dame, on behalf of the Woman's Missionary society, presented Mrs. Westmaas with an appropriate gift, and Miss Helene Vande Linde did the same for the Young Peoples League for Service, of which she is president.

After the singing, of a farewell hymn, opportunity was given to all to bid farewell to the missionary and his wife.

THIS DINNER REACHED FROM CLEVELAND AVE. TO COLLEGE AVENUE

Wednesday night a group of girls enjoyed a progressive dinner party. They visited six different homes, hiking all the way from Cleveland Ave. to College avenue. The dinner began at 6:00 P. M. with chicken soup and ended at 11:30 with cantaloupe sundae. At one home they ate fudge and listened to a radio concert. Lollypops served to keep them occupied while going from house to house. Now they are ready, like the bears, to crawl into their holes and sleep until spring. The party was made up of Mildred Westrate, Marie Tien, Carrie Tien, Helen Hamm, Julia Lemon, Lois De Weerd, Frances De Weerd, Mrs. J. Van Der Hill, Mrs. Jack Vandenberg, Cornelia Steketee and Ruth Hoekstra.

WAS FIRST WEDDING IN THE SIXTH REFORMED CHURCH

The first church wedding to be solemnized in the Sixth Reformed church was held Thursday evening in the presence of an audience of about 250, when Miss Mabel Newhouse became the bride of Peter Wiersum. Rev. J. H. Bruggers performed the ceremony and it was the first church wedding at which he presided. The church was beautifully decorated with green and white streamers leading from all corners to an arch in front, and with sweet peas, ferns, and other flowers and plants.

Miss Minnie Vande Water played the wedding march and also played soft music during the ceremony. "O Promise Me," was sung by Bastian Van Woerkum.

The wedding procession was headed by Rev. Bruggers followed by the groom and his best man, Wm. Edling. The ushers were Harold Barkel and C. Westrate. The bridesmaids were Mrs. C. Westrate and Dorothy Newhouse. The matron of honor was Mrs. Wm. Edling and the flower girl was Lucile Butler. Little Ruth De Witt acted as ringbearer.

The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Frank Newhouse. She wore a white georgette gown trimmed with white lace and a tulle veil trimmed with orange blossoms. Mrs. C. Westrate, one of the bridesmaids, wore blue georgette and carried a bouquet of blue asters; Dorothy Newhouse, the other bridesmaid, was dressed in orchid crepe de Chine and carried purple asters. Both had hats to match. The matron of honor was gowned in green crepe de chine with hat to match and carried pink asters.

The South End base ball team, of which the groom was a member, attended in a body. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the young couple. ## The Earle Sisters

THE EARL SISTERS

When the Earle Sisters appear at the fair they will present the same remarkable flying ladder act which has been given by them at hundreds of fairs throughout the United States, with circuses and on vaudeville circuits. It is only in conjunction with other worthy acts to be presented at the fair that the management was able to secure a feature of such national importance.

These sisters are more than that; they are twins, looking remarkably alike and equals in grace and athletic ability. They present new and daring feats on the flying ladders and their wardrobe is a gorgeous or changingly day throughout the fair. Swinging at great height they perform with ease various stunts that even men would not attempt and their entire performance is punctuated with shouts of astonishment from the crowds wherever they appear.

The heavy rains during the last few days have virtually eliminated the danger of serious damage from forest fires in the state, it is announced. The claim made earlier in the year that with a sufficient legislative appropriation this result could be accomplished is thus shown to have been no vain boast.

QUEEN WILHELMINA WAS TAUGHT TO RULE EARLY

YOUNG DAUGHTER MAY BE MARRIED TO PRINCE GEORGE OF ENGLAND

Queen Wilhelmina and the entire Dutch nation have been celebrating the 25th anniversary of her coronation, which occurred Thursday, September 6.

Great preparations were made, in fact the celebration is still on in the Netherlands.

The Dutch queen was crowned when William McKinley, the married president was in office.

During her reign she has seen nearly all the great rulers of Europe shorn of their power including Kaiser Wilhelm.

Queen Victoria of England died during these 25 years.

The population of the Netherlands has grown from five million to seven million, during that time while the population of the West Indies has grown from 40,000 to 50,000, and from a poverty stricken colony ruled by tribesmen, the islands have become the richest possession in the entire world.

Some interesting history is told how Queen Wilhelmina was always impressed by her mother that sooner or later she was to become queen of Holland.

An analysis of the various back-bones of these progressive situations reveals the inevitable fact that Queen Wilhelmina was taught to rule. She took her role seriously from the cradle up. Confronted with professorial countenances in high rooms made to bow until her little neck was stiff, she was early impressed with the lofty and utter seriousness of her environment succumbed to it and proceeded from that given point.

The queen mother kept telling her that she was going to be queen. The child was impressed by it. She played at being queen, learned it with all the little voice intonations and turns and twists that make a conventionally successful monarch. She, like many another youngster, was moulded into her place in the set scheme of things while too young to object.

And so she became queen.

But Queen Wilhelmina has had more than that to make her serious. The Dutch are a demanding people. There were anxious moments for the little queen during the first years of her reign, moments that, when written out in their full English assume the aspect of rather incongruous humor. For instance her staunch countrymen demanded that she have a baby. Not only did they demand that she have a baby but they demanded that she have a particular kind of a baby, a baby made to order, so to speak. It was to be a son, of course, the personification of that threadbare title "heir to the throne." And he was to show as little as possible his German blood.

After a long time of disappointment the baby came. True that it was not the baby that the Dutch had ordered. It was a girl baby and there were only 61 bells rung instead of the 101 as planned. But it was a baby, nevertheless, and after the first shock of its femininity the Ministers of the Cabinet, as well as the workmen that were let out to enjoy the jubilee, began to forgive the Queen and to include that after all, she was their own monarch and she had done her best.

And when she would ride out with her baby in her arms the people adored the situation. They stood admiringly by, awake to the fact that their great queen, the queen whose mind stood behind the security of their very existences, the queen who had moved great affairs and who studied every inch of a document before she signed it, in brief, their Queen Wilhelmina had a mother heart.

Queen Wilhelmina has held the admiration of her people through her wisdom. She has changed from the youthful personality that won the love of the Dutch when she was crowned 25 years ago. She has endured thru 25 strenuous years her nation has maintained its neutrality and its independence. Her 25th anniversary is a happy one.

Now on the eve of the celebration it appears that the great house of England may become amalgamated thru marriage to the Grand House of William of Orange.

Dispatches say European gossips in their business of "arranging" royal romances and marriages, have turned temporarily from the Prince of Wales to his younger brother, Prince George and now comes the report that an engagement is being arranged between Prince George and Princess Juliana, heir apparent to the throne of Holland.

The prince is only 20 and the Princess has just turned 15, but it is whispered that her royal mother, Queen Wilhelmina, realizes its so hard to catch a royal husband nowadays that she must begin the campaign early.

It is no secret that the Dutch people would like the young princess to marry early, being always afraid to see extinct the direct line of the Nassau dynasty, which might mean that an unfavorable German prince, one of the Welmar ones, would one day reign in the old palace of The Hague.

Holland's "Skyscraper" on Piles

Rotterdam has the highest house in the country. It is known as the American skyscraper and is actually seven stories high. It is built of porcelain tiles and stands upon piles. Amsterdam has the Queen's palace, the foundation of which is 13,600 piles and there are so many other buildings there supported that way that the town really roosts on tree trunks.

SPOONING AND DRIVING DO NOT GO WELL TOGETHER

Driving without a driver's license and driving with one hand while the other arm is encircling a girl have already been tabooed but the county officers are now out to force this law to the limit. Sunday night Deputy Sheriff Vander West made an arrest that was a sort of combination of the two offenses, and Roy W. Sinker, of Nebraska, but working in Holland, was given a fine of $10 and costs of $3.80 Monday morning in Justice Van Scheven's court on the charge of driving without a license.

Sinker acted the good Samaritan for a pal by taking the wheel of the car so that his friend who had the driver's license could occupy the back seat with a girl. But the minions of the law pay no attention to sentimental considerations of that kind and they were just as harsh with the Nebraska man as if there had been no man and girl in the affair.

Sinker was caught when he tried to avoid a wreck on the Grand Haven road six miles north of Holland and ran into a ditch. The wreck was the car of John Honnau of Muskegon which ran into the rear bumper of a car owned by R. W. Ott of Grand Haven. The Ott car was only slightly injured but the Honnau car was badly wrecked.

Officer Vander West was on the scene of the accident when the car driven by Sinker came along at a stiff rate of speed. It was a case of either running into the wrecked car or into the ditch. Sinker chose the ditch and later it was discovered that he had no driver's license, so he was placed under arrest.

One-arm driving will also be stopped on local roads if possible. Mr. Vander West announced Monday. The county officers are on the lookout for young men who give most of their attention and one of their arms to a girl while driving. The penalty for such an offense may be a revocation of the driver's license.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zweeping of Flint have returned home after visiting relatives and friends in Holland.

A meeting of the superintendents of the Sunday schools of Holland was held Wednesday evening in the 14th Street Christian Reformed church for the purpose of making plans for the Ottawa County Sunday school convention that is to be held in Holland October 9 and 10. Gerrit Wanrooy was elected president of the local committee on arrangements and David Damstra was named secretary. The forenoon and afternoon meetings of the convention will be held in Trinity Reformed church and the evening meeting in Carnegie hall. A feature of the convention will be a missionary pageant called "Search for Light." This is claimed to be more spectacular and more interesting than the pageant given last year and it has never before been given in this part of the country.

Two speakers have already been secured, Rev. J. Willits of St. Joseph, and E. K. Mohr, state superintendent of the adult divisions of the Sunday Schools of Michigan. The program committee is in communication with other well known speakers.

No Pain Like That of Rheumatism

Health Talk No. 38

JOHN DE JONGE,

The man or woman who suffers from chronic rheumatism knows the full meaning of pain from center to circumference.

There are the hours and the days of continuous dull pain, broken only by the sharp spasms when the agony becomes so severe as to be almost unendurable.

When chiropractic spinal adjustments are given normal nerve action is restored and disease disappears. The chiropractic spinal adjustment for all forms of rheumatism is kidney place in combination with local adjustments to normalize the nerves leading to the affected parts. The chiropractor brings the rheumatic back to health, by eliminating the cause.

Well After Ten Years Suffering

"My daughter, Violet, was ill ten years with rheumatism. During her last attack she was bed fast seven months suffering unspeakable pain. Medical doctors said her case was hopeless. We tried chiropractic and she experienced some relief after the first few adjustments. After four months of adjustments she was able to walk. This seemed a miracle to us."

There is a man in a small village on the mountainside of northern Italy who carves from marble wonderfully natural fruits and puts them so skillfully and naturally that even horticulturists must inspect them closely to determine their artificiality.

Interior fittings are of choice material and the arrangement of the deeply cushioned seat has been effected so that at the rear there is small recess shelf for carrying parcels. The rear vision window is much larger and oblong in shape. Door windows have been equipped with revolving type window regulators and door locks are provided. Slide windows are equipped with lever type window lifters.

Marked, too is the improvement in the four door sedan. Highly popular since its introduction a year ago, because of its low, graceful lines, the car now presents even much better lines and a sturdier appearance.
