Public School Enrollment Is Trifle More

WILL HAVE TO BE TAUGHT
WITH A CURTAILED STAFF
OF 9 LESS TEACHERS

The Holland public schools started a week later than usual as advocated by the News some weeks ago, enabling teachers and pupils to arrange for the beginning of school in an orderly manner rather than spoiling Saturday, Sunday and Labor Day, preparing for the opening. On the whole it has been a pleasing change. Most of the cities and villages about us have done likewise and it should be made an annual change and should also be welcomed in every locality surrounded with a resort district.

Any way our public schools opened Monday, the bells in the ward schools clanged merrily and the avenues to the school building were filled with chattering, happy children, apparently eager to take up their studies again.

The large teaching staff was on hand, preliminary meetings were held arranging for the year's work and pupils were assigned to their duties on the first day.

While the teaching staff has been reduced from 116 to 107, enrollment in the entire school is 59 more and this number will be added to as the days advance.

All school activities are practically in full swing and the football squads in their togs can be seen at hard practice or coming home from the field nearby under the direction of Coach Breen.

Superintendent Feil and Principal Riemersma are busy men, getting the educational mill grinding smoothly.

The 1933-34 school year is now in full swing. The enrollment table is found below:

TEACHERS' CLUB ENJOYS PARTY AT LOCAL RESORT

The Teachers' club of Zeeland public schools enjoyed a very pleasant evening on Monday at Van Kley's cottage, at Buchanan Beach, when about thirty members were present. The committee in charge consisted of Misses Anna Huisenga, Lena Visser and Louise Wierenga. A very pleasant time was spent and refreshments were served.

RESOLUTION PASSED BY LOCAL EXCHANGE CLUB

To the Honorable Franklin Delano Roosevelt,
President of the United States of America.

PREAMBLE:

The Holland Exchange club assembled at its first noonday luncheon on September 13, 1933, after an able talk on the national recovery act by William M. Connolly, managing director of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, and desiring as a group to co-operate with the national administration and with the local measures for recovery, and feeling that the most vital factor in the community and in this state is the inability of the consumer to make purchase of goods because of the banking condition, more particularly the problem of impounded credits,

IT IS THEREFORE RESOLVED that to effect a completed end to the purposes of the national recovery act and the administration thereof, we respectfully direct your attention to the problem of impounded bank credits and recommend that the federal government make possible through such means as it may choose, to loosen these impounded credits to be used for the purpose of purchasing consumers' goods and to round out the full purpose of recovery efforts.

HOLLAND EXCHANGE CLUB COMMITTEE.

VERNON TEN CATE,
Chairman.

GAS COMPANY OFFICIALS TO BE GIVEN BANQUET

Arthur W. Wrieden, president of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, has announced that a dinner will be given Tuesday evening in Warm Friend Tavern for officials of the Michigan Gas and Electric company, which has moved its general offices from Lansing to Holland. All members of the Chamber are invited to attend. Reservations are being made with Miss Esther Oudman, secretary, in the lobby of the Tavern. The banquet will begin at 6:30 p. m.

LADIES! ANOTHER WAY TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

Rather an amusing incident was injected in the first Exchange club meeting of the year when Alex Van Zanten, one of the delegates to the Milwaukee national convention, told of one of the most wonderful speeches he had ever heard by Sherman Rogers of Liberty magazine.

He stated that Rogers spoke two and a half hours to attentive listening ears and said Alex: "When that man got through he had lost 15 pounds. Two days before he made five addresses in one day and lost 21 pounds." (Laughter.)

Holland, through a committee, is endeavoring to get that man here provided, of course, he does not make so many speeches that he vanishes in thin air before he arrives.

If talking is an anti-fat antidote it would seem that the ladies have the remedy at hand without resorting to more strenuous methods.

HOLLAND LEGION POST OFFICERS INSTALLED

Dr. A. E. Stickley of Coopersville, Fifth district committeeman for Kent and Ottawa counties, Wednesday evening officiated at the installation of officers of Willard G. Leenhouts post, American Legion, and the Zeeland post. Officers of the Holland post are: Commander, M. ## UNEMPLOYED TO REGISTER AT CITY HALL

A meeting was held Wednesday of the federal re-employment commission of Ottawa county. Plans were made to register every unemployed able-bodied male of 18 years of age and over and this will begin today, Friday, in the city hall in the council chambers on the third floor. Ten interviewers will be in charge of the registrations so that the index can be completed as soon as possible. The men will be registered not for welfare relief, but for jobs on public projects.

The local agency, a part of the county bureau, will list the names of Holland's unemployed. Through this medium only jobs be issued on projects financed by federal funds.

George A. Barnard was appointed director of the Ottawa and Allegan county departments of labor under the national re-employment service.

O. S. Cross, chairman, presided at the committee meeting. The remaining committee members are Marvin C. Lindeman of Holland and Carl Bowen and Gerrit Zaagman of Grand Haven.

Police disposed of more than 500 gallons of beer, wine and nonshine yesterday down the city sewers. This liquor was confiscated in raids during the past several years.

Projects Where Holland Does Not Pay Direct

PROPOSALS MENTIONED BY COMMITTEE OF FIVE ALL
SHOULDERED BY CITY

The committee of five appointed by the mayor, has suggested several meritorious projects. They have received the tentative approval of the common council and should by all means be a part of our reconstruction program in which Uncle Sam bears 30 per cent of the load and Holland 70 per cent, paid for over a period of 30 years at a very low interest rate.

We need those board of public works improvements, including a larger supply of our wonderful water, the elimination of the stench in the second ward at the sewage disposal plant, the building of a large warehouse so our wares are out of the weather and the board of public works can buy in large quantities at a tremendous saving, the building of sewer system preparatory to added street paving, etc.

But we understand that there is only little time left in which to file application and Holland should come under the wire as soon as possible or out "Reconstruction Home" will be discarded.

What the News would like to advocate besides these projects are some road projects. We understand there are some large road proposals to be let in the north end of the county and it is no more than fair that Holland gets its just proportion—knowing that it pays 27 per cent of the entire tax levy and is the county's largest business center where roads materially figure. Here the burden would not be directly on Holland on the 30-70 plan, but would be borne by the entire county but the entire county would and should benefit proportionately in the distribution of labor on these projects for welfare purposes as the government intended it to be.

The News has asked Mr. Connolly, who is thoroughly acquainted with new road possibilities, to give us some road projects that are feasible at this time and here is one of them. Mr. Connolly states as follows:

"The county road commission in concurrence with the county unemployment committee will probably submit to the board of supervisors at the September session a plan to improve the lake shore road north from Getz farm to Port Sheldon to Grand Haven. It is also suggested that this road be improved south from Getz farm to the Ottawa Beach road. A further recommendation has been made that the angling or Bee Line road from US-31, just north of the city, to Fort Sheldon be included. These projects all lie through the sand country, much of which can be worked throughout the winter months and would give a large amount of employment. I believe it is planned to construct the road first with gravel and after it is well compacted it would be further improved with a bituminous top. It would be my recommendation that as soon as the gravel is in place that the entire road be given a thorough treatment of chloride of calcium in order to hasten the packing and consolidation so that the permanent top could be put on at an early date. This county job would of course go on under the 70-30 plan, that is 30 per cent grant and 70 per cent loan, from the government."

The News sees particular merit in this road. This being a resort community, we must give the tourists what the tourists want, and what would be more desirable than a scenic road through the only wild country left in Ottawa county. It would be the last connecting highway along Lake Michigan, which would be the mecca for tourists and Ottawa county folks as well. Within a few years it will mean summer homes all along this highway. The beauty of it is hard to surpass. We rave about the Muskegon scenic road—there is no comparison between what we have here and the Muskegon project and it cost Muskegon county considerable more money than this proposed road will cost.

This project, it is said, will keep at least 75 Holland welfareers going. Whatever the number the proportion should be distributed equally over very city and township—not alone on this road project but all of them collectively. Welfare should be the first consideration.

If we do not take this money on the 30-70 basis and it is very problematical whether the 70 per cent will ever have to be paid directly, then other localities will "grab" off what little there is left, and Holland and Ottawa county will directly or indirectly have to pay their proportion of the projects of other cities while we have received none of the benefits.

There is doubt whether we will get another chance to build this road along beautiful Lake Michigan and its environs unless we do it now.

How beneficial any resort improvement is to the county is evident from the number of picnics held at the new, practically isolated, Tunnel park. There is scarcely a community in all of Ottawa county that has not featured picnics at this lone little park, which the board of supervisors in their thoughtful way provided. There have been as high as five picnics in one day at that place and small parties of class and society were innumerable. From Zeeland alone more than 30 parties can be enumerated in one month. The opening of the resort tract by way of a suitable highway would be a

Metz's tannery on the north side has been purchased by Chicago parties. The new owners intend to enlarge the capacity and have purchased added yard room. They will not take possession until early next year. Note: The tannery is now the Mosser Leather Co. ### TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Prof. S. G. Jenks of Kalamazoo college has an original way of spending his vacation during the summer. He owns a peach farm south of the Arend Vischer place on what is called State street. Instead of going to a watering place he and his family live in a large tent in the orchard and spend most of the time working there. The orchard Mr. Jenks says will yield at least 1500 bushels of peaches this fall, so it is a profitable vacation for the professor of chemistry.

Miss Grace Rebecca Tennent, instructor in English in high school, was married to Dr. Samuel Ottmar Mast, formerly of Hope college, now of Baltimore, Md. The marriage was performed by Rev. J. M. Vander Meulen at Janesville, Wis. Prof. E. D. Dimmett and Prof. John Beardslee attended from Hope college.

The death of Mrs. James Koning took place at the home, 93 West 13th street. She was born in the Netherlands Nov. 8, 1833.

Dr. R. L. Anglemire, owner of the White Rock Farm near the electric line at Saugatuck, reports that he has been greatly annoyed with hawks stealing his chickens. They come at regular hours to raid his chicken flocks. Last Sunday however, the most persistent hawk met his Waterloo. It appears that a neighbor's cat was crossing the doctor's farm, when all of a sudden the hawk passed over the house skimming close to the ground. Quick as a flash the hawk darted down, pounced upon the cat, mistaking it for a "chick." The bird put its claws in the back of the cat and carried it overhead. When well in the air a battle royal began. In telling the story the doctor said, "Viewing the struggle drawing card for thousands and work for hundreds.

Mr. Connolly also stated that M-40, between Allegan and Holland via Hamilton, is eligible as a national recovery highway project and he is giving considerable attention to this. Said Mr. Connolly: "US-31 south from Holland is due for a relocation at Glen, and the federal government is urging the state highway department to make further improvements, but they are not yet ready to announce what the improvements are to be. M-21 should be reconstructed between Hudsonville and Vriesland and a request for this improvement was made by the county road commission early in the summer. A new trunk line east, to give Holland a direct road to Lansing and Detroit, is decidedly needed but the state highway commissioner announced on taking office that he was going to concentrate on completing the existing trunk line roads before taking on any new mileage. Therefore, this project is something to work on in the future."

Mr. Connolly says further: "Supplementing my letter of September 9 in regard to county NRA projects, I stated that the county could pledge its unencumbered portion of the weight and gas tax to secure the government for the loan needed on the lake shore road. I have been thinking the matter over and talked to Carl Bowen this morning and recommended that they give serious consideration to the pledging of delinquent taxes or both as I am inclined to think that it will be difficult to show that the weight and gas tax funds available will be sufficient."

from below I was thrilled by the maddened shrieks of the cat and the sonorous squawks of the hawk. Feathers were flying in every direction, the hawk making frantic efforts to shake off its 'prey,' but the cat was clinging and clawing with the ferocity of a tiger. Round and round the fighters went in mid-air then fell to earth with a dull thud. I ran to where they landed and there lay a dead and terribly mutilated hawk, with ragged gashes over its body and its eyes gouged out. Pusy, however, had fled to his home a little ruffled and only one of his nine lives gone."

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Henry Vegeter, local resident living on Central avenue, died at the age of 79 years.

A woman from Cleveland was sent to jail for 60 days, she having been caught with a local man near the water works station late at night. She pleaded guilty to a disorderly charge and the unusual feature of this case is the fact that she wore her hair cut like a man and dressed like a man and worked like a man. She claims to be 36 years old and rather good looking. She had been here some weeks and was taken for a man by everyone who knew and worked with her. Note: Undoubtedly a better disguise of womanhood than the "nothings" worn today. Holland streets have never shown so much nudity as this year. We are wondering how far the fad will go next year. In Allegan county at least they hide in shady nooks in the "oak grubs" miles from anywhere. We omit the names of the man and woman involved.

A war order given Thursday applying all over the country was that a car cannot be driven on Sunday to save gasoline, and Holland streets were as dull as a morgue. Police were stationed at intervals keeping tab of those violating the government order. There were 176 in all, mostly outsiders but a few were local violators. At least one motorist from out of town was stuck here until next morning because no garage would sell him gas when he found his tank empty. Monday morning he filled and left town cursing.

Zeeland people are thinking seriously of erecting a temporary monument in their park honoring two fallen heroes buried in France this week, namely Gilbert Karsten and John Lankheet. Note: Memorial services were held for them at the time and the Legion Post was named after hero Karsten later when the boys returned and the post was formed.

A. & P. VICE PRESIDENT DIES; JUST HONORED FOR MERIT

H. Lee Thompson of Grand Rapids, vice president, in charge of the western division of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company, and manager of the company's Grand Rapids' stores, died yesterday afternoon in his home at Cascade. He had been ill less than a week with pneumonia.

Mr. Thompson, who was 51 years old, was born in Meadville, Pa., and entered the employ of the A. & P. company twenty years ago in Oil City, Pa., as a clerk.

The twentieth anniversary of his connection with the company was celebrated by the entire western division the week of August 28 to September 2, which was dedicated to him as a mark of the high esteem in which he was held by his company.

He was a pioneer in the chain store movement, his first important work in this merchandising method being the development of the territory between Pittsburgh and Erie, Pa. In 1920 he was made superintendent in charge of the stores in Buffalo and in 1921 was transferred to Chicago as general superintendent of stores in seven states. A year and a half later he opened the Milwaukee unit; was transferred to Indianapolis in 1925, and the following year sent to Kansas City, where he stayed until 1927, when he came to Grand Rapids.

Mr. Thompson was essentially a business and a family man, almost his only outside interests being his riding horses and dogs.

Surviving are the widow, and a daughter, Mrs. Byron Boynton of 18 Benjamin avenue, southeast, and a sister, Miss Cassell Thompson, who lived with him and Mrs. Thompson.

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Boynton were prostrated yesterday and unable to see anyone.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 2 o'clock Friday.

MERCURY DROPS TO 45 DEGREES HERE

Weather temperatures here took a decided drop in the past few days and yesterday the low mark of 45 degrees was registered at the official thermometer. The high was 74 degrees. Many of the summer residents, still living at the local resorts, are hovering around fireplaces and oil and gas burners.

Prepare For Elaborate At Zeeland Meet

Foreign and Home Missionaries
Are Listed as Speakers; Large Gathering Expected.

The Ladies' Missionary Union of classis Holland and Zeeland and vicinity will have their fall meeting on Thursday, September 21, in the First Christian Reformed church of Zeeland, with both afternoon and evening session. The afternoon meeting will begin at 2 o'clock, the evening session at 7:30 p. m. There will also be a program during the supper hour for those who wish to stay, at which time Miss Marie Gezon of the Girls' Guidance Bureau of Grand Rapids will be the speaker. Miss Gezon has appeared before local audiences before, and no doubt many will take advantage of the opportunity to hear her again as she tells of the many problems which confront her and her co-workers as they strive to guide aright young girls whose problems are brought to their attention.

The afternoon and evening programs will also present several well-known speakers, among them being Rev. J. C. De Korne, missionary to China, now on furlough; also Mr. Mark Bouma, working among the Indians of New Mexico. Mr. Bouma is stationed at Crown Pointe and San Antonio, as assistant to Rev. J. C. Bolt.

Another well-known young lady who will appear on the program is Miss Gertrude Holkeboer from the "Way of Life Mission" of Grand Rapids which work is sponsored by the Franklin Street Christian Reformed church of Grand Rapids. Miss Holkeboer is well known here, being the daughter of Mrs. David Holkeboer of East Fifteenth street. Miss Johanna Timmer, dean of women of Calvin college, will also be on the program. Miss Timmer is also well known in Holland, having many friends and relatives here, and is a very influential speaker.

It goes without saying that a large band of women will be on hand next Thursday to take advantage of the opportunity to listen to the programs prepared. Several musical numbers are also listed for both afternoon and evening.

The Zeeland ladies have signified their intention to serve coffee to all those who wish to stay during the supper hour. However, folks are requested to bring their own lunch as has been the custom of recent years.

It is understood that each church will take care of their own transportation.

EXCHANGE CLUB ENDEAVORS TO GET BIG SPEAKER

President Andrew Klomprens of the Exchange club appointed Albert Lampen, Joe Geerds, Clarence Jalving and Ben Mulder as a committee to induce Sherman Rogers, one of the nation's ablest talkers, to come to Holland.

Mr. Rogers at Milwaukee recently gave a national recovery speech, which the delegates to the national convention and the national press are still commenting about.

Mr. Rogers stated that he was anxious to come to Michigan for he believed this state needed a little stirring up along many lines. Bill Connolly of the Chamber of Commerce gave a national recovery speech, already printed in the Holland City News when he spoke before a Hamilton audience on Labor Day. He gave some valuable pointers and stressed especially on getting impounded bank deposits to work. His suggestion brought out a resolution found elsewhere in this issue.

J. A. Vander Veen, who six months ago was seriously injured in an auto accident, was present for the first time and heartily thanked the members for their thoughtful remembrance during his illness.

HOLLAND CITY STATE BANK NEARLY READY TO REOPEN ITS DOORS

The officials of the Holland City State bank, backed by the "reorganization committee" composed of volunteers, are bending every effort to dispose of less than 500 shares of stock, a small block still remaining which will assure the reopening of the bank under the state plans very shortly.

It has been hard work combined with a great deal of patience to bring the institution on the basis exacted by the state and nation and that simply means a better and stronger bank. The committee in charge feels that within a very few days the few remaining shares of stock, that must be disposed of first, will be forthcoming.

The officials of the bank do not ask that cash be paid but that any depositors having money impounded can use the money they would get in either the fifth or fourth year, according to the state plan—for stock in the institution. This means that the first, second and third payments will be paid in cash to the depositor at intervals and only the belated payments four or five years hence would apply on new stock.

Prospects are indeed bright that before that time this stock will pay dividends emulating what has been done in the past in that institution covering a period of 40 years.

Elsewhere in this issue the Holland City State bank gives the plan in detail and what the stock subscription means to the individual, to the bank and to the community. Turn to the next page of this issue for details.

EDITORIAL WORK ENOUGH FOR WELFARE

For nearly two years Holland has been casting about to find work for welfare. It is evident that the committee of five has presented several projects upon which at least a start can be made.

These projects are entirely within the city, are very meritorious and while some are not immediately necessary the time for their urgent use would not be far distant, and considering conditions and the imperative necessity to put labor to work makes these projects doubly important.

In these proposals the city and the government carry the load jointly on a 30-70 basis over a period of several years. It seems now that these projects might be augmented by several road projects in the immediate vicinity. In this instance the United States government and the counties bordering Holland would go in partnership on payment and that would relieve at least the direct burden on the city taxpayers. Here again we could possibly get along for a little while with the roads we have but within a very few years resurfacing and new roads for the good of the community will be highly necessary.

That being the case, now is the time to complete these projects when a large share is underwritten by the government. "It has often been said that eventually the government will also pay the 70 per cent." Holland or Ottawa county or any part of the county has no guarantee of that; therefore, it is well to figure on the basis of what the government says it will do and not on the basis of what we hope it will do.

If we follow the first analysis we will not be disappointed and if our hopes come true we will be agreeably surprised—so that is worth something.

Anyway with a half dozen internal projects ready to go and at least two external projects at our door step and with our industrial situation more promising, our welfare outlook is more hopeful.

The NRA, we have positive proof, has put quite a sizable number to work, bringing still further relief. Surely enough has been mapped out to make a good start and it is practically impossible to fail on many of these projects.

City officials during the past two years have been at their wits' ends to put idle hands to work, but now we are assured of a program that will do just that which was impossible to do some months ago. Winter is just around the corner and undoubtedly those fostering these proposals are earnestly and energetically consummating the task given them to do.

YOU ARE INVITED

Chamber of Commerce members and their friends are invited to a reception dinner for the officers of the Michigan Gas & Electric company who recently located in our city. There are over 600 members in the Chamber of Commerce and as a matter of economy invitations cannot be mailed. Members will depend on newspaper announcements for information concerning affairs of this kind.

The dinner will be held at the Warm Friend Tavern Tuesday, September 19, at 6:30 p. m.

Tickets for the dinner and program will be 75c. Reservations should be made at the Chamber of Commerce not later than Monday noon.

All are requested to join in extending their hospitality to these officers in charge of this very valuable acquisition to the commercial life of our city.

A committee of Boy Scouts will assist in receiving in the lobby of the Tavern.

ARTHUR W. WRIEDEN, President.
WM. M. CONNELLY, Director.

DEADLINE FOR GRAND HAVEN TAX COLLECTION IS EXTENDED TO OCT. 20

The date of Grand Haven tax collections was extended to Oct. 20. The council is in favor of giving taxpayers as much time as possible and October 20 is the latest date that could be arranged.

City tax collections have been coming into William Byl, city treasurer, at a fair rate. Yesterday was one of the big days when $14,000 was collected. The total amount received up to today is $46,610.35.

DEER SEEN MUNCHING ON CITY GARDEN PLOT

Two deer, a buck and a doe, have been seen by employees at the Eagle Ottawa Leather company of Grand Haven, browsing on the cabbage and other vegetables to their liking on Johnson Island, where the municipal gardens are located. The gardeners have been worried about the loss of some of the garden stuff and believed at first that it was being stolen. Recently the animals were seen and later the footprints were checked and found to coincide with the story heard.

The animals were described as large beautiful ones and apparently have discovered the municipal gardens, where they were undisturbed in the night time. The same animals are believed to have been seen in Spring Lake and Crocker township. They perhaps swim across the channel of Grand river.

Keeping a Balance

It may be that man is better fitted to endure the misery of disappointment and despair than he is to withstand the shocks of success, or he may merely be more familiar with dissatisfaction. At any rate there is evidence for those who seek it which goes to show that, had as they have been, the last few years of depression have not had much effect upon the suicide and insanity rates in this country. There has been some increase "but not as much as most people think." And that increase becomes immaterial in considering the fact that the depression hit more people and hit them harder than prosperity ever did.

Those whose mental makeup predisposes them to insanity and suicide are as likely to become unbalanced "by the thrills, excitement, covetousness, excesses and ambitions of a period of world-wide prosperity as by the cares and anxieties of economic collapse," according to one alienist, while another explains that suicides "tend to be more dramatic" in periods of hard times, but do not greatly increase in number.

Men and women are most level-headed in the years when they experience no extremes of fortune, undoubtedly. But when the pendulum does swing violently one way or another, the effect of sudden riches or undeserved poverty is much the same.

ALLEGAN LAYING PLANS ANNUAL FAIR, SEPT. 19-22

Extensive Program Offers Entertainment Afternoons and Evenings

Allegan is anticipating the biggest fair in history from Sept. 19-22, with both day and night programs. Officials announce they are adding new features daily to make the exhibition outstanding. With the fair coming nearly a month later than usual agriculture and fruit exhibits are expected to be much more complete.

There will be no entry fee on exhibits but each exhibitor may purchase a membership ticket for $1 which entitles him to admission to the fair each day and give him the privilege of attending and voting at all meetings of the society.

In addition to the usual free acts, two mammoth musical revues will be staged. The first, "Palm Beach Revue" will be presented Wednesday and Thursday nights, and the second, "Harvest Moon Revue," on Friday and Saturday nights.

The Grand Rapids Sea Scout band, direct from its triumph at the Century of Progress exposition, will be another feature of Saturday, Boy Scout day, when also the Battle Creek drum and bugle corps, a Scout organization, will perform. The WLS radio frolics with Tom Owen, Mac and Bob, Winnie, Lou and Sally, will appear Tuesday night.

One of the outstanding showings among the exhibits will be the display of the Allegan Garden club. Arrangements were completed recently for the club to use the materials which made up one of the most interesting exhibits at the National Flower show in Detroit a short time ago.

Other entertainment numbers include horse racing, bicycle and pony races, a beauty show when the fair queen will be chosen, a double wedding, championship baseball tournament, Boy Scout jamboree, school exhibits, a parade of floats, and extensive horticultural, agricultural and livestock exhibits. Three automobiles will be given away on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Robbins and family, who spent their vacation at the Savage home in Spring Lake, have returned to their home in Holland.

The Title Is at the End

(By Walter F. Gries, Marquette County Commissioner of Schools in the Marquette County School News.)

I want to write this short article in the first person. I'll write the title when I have finished the article.

I am no longer afraid to speak of the depression because it appears to be weaker than I am. I believe, as my Cornish friends would say, we have it conquered. But whether it's gone or not, I have come to realize some very definite things. I realize I have a wealth of things to make me happy. I have less to live on than I had, but I have more to live for. Really, I'm rich. My friends seem to place a higher value on friendship than ever before. The real things in life are still worth while. My business associates work co-operatively with me; my neighbors greet me in a fashion which makes me believe they are glad I live near them. My little daughter seems to think I'm a great guy—she gets a big thrill out of my coming home, even if I'm gone only a few hours. My wife is as thoughtful as can be during these days of extra responsibilities. My parents enjoy my short visits with them. Their faith in me has been a veritable tower of strength. I have just returned from a Commissioners' "pow-wow," and I'm proud to belong to that gang.

I have no money, so that financial crisis which I have heard about does not worry me. I am sure that folks are more confident and things are looking better. I have faith enough in the people of Michigan so that I just know they will not permit the schools to become cheap. I am encouraged every day by the fine qualities of good friends who have lost many years' savings—but they are still good friends and loved for what they are, not for what they had.

I still have a job, good health, and a new fly-rod. I'm going fishing this week end. I still have the great north woods, a garden, and I was going to say a pipe, but I'll leave that out. I still have a watch, too, and it's 1 a. m.

What's the reason for this bit of reflection? Well, I had some space available, and some one may be happier and richer because he has read it, and I wanted to write it anyhow. Now you write the title.

Some Things About Schools You Should Know

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION REFUTES FALSE OPTIMISM

(By Paul F. Voelker)

Because erroneous impressions have been given to the public in the last few weeks to the effect that the primary interest fund money will adequately relieve the financial distress facing the public schools, it is well to issue the following statement:

"While we are grateful that cash from the primary interest fund to be distributed in September exceeds earlier expectations, it must be remembered that this money can be used only for teachers' salaries for the ensuing year; it cannot be used generally for the payment of tuition, nor for the payment of unpaid salary or other accounts of last year. Nor can it be used for current operating expenses. It is quite useless to have teachers in the rooms if the plant cannot operate."

"It must be remembered further that the primary interest fund money estimate is $3,000,000 less than the sum received last year and that it will supply, especially in the cities, only a part of the salary budget. Because districts have not paid last year's high school tuition and have no credit for the coming year, thousands of boys and girls are facing the possibility of being deprived of the right to secondary education which is provided by law."

Referring to the statements that the sales tax will supply money for the schools and that the Governor has indicated $6,000,000 may be designated from the general fund, Dr. Voelker says:

"These assertions brighten the picture to be sure. But schools cannot operate upon the probability of receiving these aids. Specific provision must be made at once if the immediate situation is to be alleviated. School budgets must be constructed at the beginning of the school year. Should the Governor be able to release the $6,000,000 for school aid at once, it is possible that a special session of the legislature to guarantee the sales tax money might reasonably be deferred until January."

Plans are being made for revising the procedure in giving seventh and eighth grade state examinations, to conform with the resolution adopted by the state legislature. Paul F. Thompson, Assistant Superintendent in charge of rural and elementary education, states that there is a strong inclination to eliminate seventh grade examinations entirely and place the conducting of the eighth grade examinations in the hands of the teachers in the respective schools.

Mr. Thompson further states that the County Board of Examiners will still be the body to determine finally the question of granting the eighth grade diploma in each particular case. However, the diploma will not be granted on the evidence of the examination alone, but on the results of certain other examinations, instructional tests and other evidence that shall measure the child's ability. Instructional guides to be used as a basis for standards will be supplied by the Department to the county school commissioners.

The first of these units, already sent out, is known as the "Science of Living Things," covering subject matter in agriculture, nature study and hygiene.

Results of a survey of Michigan village and city school districts now carried on by the Department of Public Instruction reveal that out of the 141 thus far reporting, only seven expect to operate the entire 40 weeks, the normal school year. Two will run four weeks or less; three from four to nine weeks; seven from 10 to 14 weeks; eleven from 14 to 19 weeks; eleven from 20 to 24 weeks; thirty-two from 25 to 29 weeks; thirty-seven from 30 to 34 weeks; and seventeen from 35 to 39 weeks. Judging from this survey, approximately half of the districts will operate but little more than half the year.

There is a decrease of 380 teachers from the number employed last year in the 141 districts. These figures applied to the state as a whole indicate an approximate reduction of 1000 teachers from the number employed in 1932-33, making a total reduction of 3000 from the number employed in 1930-31.

A salary reduction for this year of approximately 50 per cent of the amounts paid in 1930-31 is indicated by the survey. The average will be $1084 for the year. Rural districts of the state are consistently reporting salarings ranging from $25 to $50 a month.

In the 141 districts reporting, the sum of $3,146,706 is in closed banks. This sum is generally due to teachers for salaries in 1932-33 and for unpaid operating costs and debt service.

The Zeeland W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. R. J. Vanden Berg, East Central avenue, Friday afternoon, September 15, at 2:30 o'clock. ### How Farmer Saved His Melon Patch

A Clinton County farmer saved a five acre melon patch from destruction with the aid of four ten-cent mirrors. The farmer, who claimed that last year ringneck pheasants destroyed $100 worth of his melons became desperate this summer and asked Clarence Wheeler, conservation officer at St. Johns, if there was any recourse. Wheeler suggested that the farmer purchase four cheap mirrors, suspend each from a frame work so that the wind could move the mirrors, and set them out in the melon patch. The pheasants abandoned the melon patch the first day the mirrors were hung out. The birds were more frightened by their own reflections than they had been by the farmer's dog.

Ask Lake Shore Road Estimate

County Road Commission Authorizes Plans for Submission to Board

Grand Haven Tribune — Estimates and plans for the Lake Shore road leading from the south limits of this city to a road just north of Holland was authorized by the Ottawa County Road commission which will be presented to the board of supervisors which will convene on Sept. 18. This plan has been under consideration for some time as work to employ welfare labor in the county.

The board also authorized the engineer to make plans for a road at Port Sheldon leading northeast of the Getz Zoo, and another road, three and one-half miles north of Jamestown, to connect with US-21, in Georgetown township.

This action was taken as the committee, sent to Lansing recently to find out the steps necessary to get the 30 per cent appropriation from the state, was told that nothing could be done until the set-up was made and approved by the board of supervisors, or body governing the improvement.

The board of supervisors considered the matter at the last session but tabled it until the September session as it was thought best to investigate all angles of the project. Those well qualified to judge believe the Lake Shore project is the best one that can be instituted for welfare relief. It is a long stretch demanding considerable labor and due to the location can be pushed during the winter months as well as the fall months. It lies in a district that has never received any permanent road improvement and opens up a vast resort area, besides providing traffic relief from US-31 between this city and Holland.

The Standard Oil Company was awarded the contract for a tank of 10,000 gallons of gasoline. The engineer was requested to prepare estimates on the cost of a siding and storage tank for gasoline at the Zeeland garage.

The Toncan Steel company was awarded the contract for $800 worth of pipe for culvert work. The award was made on the lowest bid. Bids will be taken on a quantity of lubricating oil which must be filed by Sept. 21, the next regular meeting of the board.

Plans for the new city hall are being pushed as fast as possible by Mayor John H. DePree and the city council in order that work may benefit local welfare. At a special meeting Tuesday, Robinson & Campau of Grand Rapids were selected as the architects. The plans submitted deal in a three-floor building in the modern classic design. Custodian Fred Klumper has not received an official order from the department of treasury that the buildings located on the site of the new post office may be removed. The council has received word that the post office building has been accepted by both the departments of treasury and post office. It now must be approved by the department of commerce.

Latest News About HOLLAND CITY STATE BANK

THE purpose of this message is to give all depositors and interested Holland citizens the true facts about the reorganization plans and progress of the bank.

We advertised the bank would reopen for normal business on July 1st. The ad was published in the middle of May and we thought six weeks would be ample time to collect stock assessments on the old stock.

WHY THE BANK DID NOT OPEN JULY 1ST

It was a tougher job than we expected. The same business conditions that prevented many borrowers of the bank from paying up their notes also made it impossible for some old stockholders to pay their assessments.

Holland City State Bank has been capitalized at $200,000 for a number of years. This amount of capital is needed to reopen the bank with the reorganization plans in mind.

Some of the former stockholders are still to be heard from, due to delays in settling estates and other unavoidable conditions, but it was clearly seen several weeks ago, even with all of the possible assessments collected, there would still be several hundred shares available for other Holland citizens.

An advertisement about this was published—the response was disappointing because depositors did not realize this was the quickest way to reopen the bank.

The Subscription Plan

Under the reorganization plan approved by the State authorities, half of the tied up deposits will be held in the form of a trust until Holland citizens repay the money they have borrowed from the bank. The other half will be paid out in five yearly installments. Any part or all of these installments can be used to purchase stock in the reorganized bank. Stock that is non-assessable under the new State law.

Since under the plan, payment of part of the funds is not promised for four or five years, it is suggested to depositors that they put these funds to work for them at once by subscribing for stock with their fifth and fourth-year installments. The steady dividends paid by the Holland City State Bank in the past is a matter of public record.

PROGRESS TO DATE

Lately we have been concentrating our attention on the largest depositors in the bank because we know that since they have more at stake, they are most interested in reopening the bank promptly, and because their deposits enable them to buy a greater number of shares per person and so the goal will be reached quicker.

The response from these far-sighted Holland citizens has been splendid. Of the 2,000 shares to be placed, less than 500 still remain to be subscribed. At the present time, the owners of the reorganized bank will be 122 responsible Holland people in addition to old stockholders who have paid—and the list grows stronger daily as additional men and women make their decisions.

The application for license to reopen could be on its way to Lansing by the end of the week, if every man and woman who has been asked to subscribe would make a favorable decision today.

NOTE TO HOLLAND BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN

It will be a fine thing for the community to have the Holland City State Bank operating normally again and releasing tied-up funds. Depositors, of course, have the first chance to invest in the reorganized bank. Our efforts will mean substantial benefits to every man, woman, child, store, business, and professional interest within a radius of many miles of Holland. Your unqualified co-operation with and support of the drive to re-open this bank is necessary!

How You Can Help to Complete the Job

The bank can reopen shortly after the remaining (less than 500) shares are subscribed. If you are a depositor with over $200 in tied-up deposits, you can obtain stock in the reorganized bank. With over 4,000 depositors on the list, you can see why it is impossible for us to call on every one personally to talk about it—why we will have to depend on you to come and see us here at the bank. If there is anything about the plan that is not clear to you, ask us about it. We know you want the bank reopened quickly and the subscription plan is the quickest and surest way to complete the job. Make arrangements now to come in tomorrow.

WHAT CHRISTINE VER HULST SAW OF MICHIGAN AT WORLD'S FAIR

Among the many interesting states' exhibits shown in the Federal building at the Century of Progress, Michigan's is one of the most outstanding. Striking oil paintings of pioneer days and Indian life hang near the entrance. The chief exhibit is in the form of a live forest with a beautiful waterfall in the background. Below the falls is a pool in which Michigan trout swim. In the center of the room is a large relief map of the state on which each city is represented by an electric light. If an activity designated on a table is found in a city, its light flashes on.

On the surrounding walls are many dioramas depicting the different industries and activities carried on in Michigan. Among them are celery planting, the Soo locks, hunting, Glen lake, a typical state park, motor boat racing, mountain solitude, a bird sanctuary, winter sports, trout fishing, Mackinac island, cherry picking, furniture making, automobile manufacturing and chemical works.

EXPOSITION HARBOR

By Christine VerHulst.

Here strange fantastic structures rise, flaunting gaudy colors to the skies. With new lines and novel shape, striving successfully to escape. The old type of architecture, with its dullness beyond conjecture. The transport building with its wings, flings out a beacon to new things. The federal building and court of states, a glorious national unity relates. Past the huge thermometer made by Havoline. Towers of the sky ride may be seen, where to and fro the sky cars ply like mammoth birds across the sky. From the enchanted isle, that playground where children's amusements are found. Now from the field a plane takes off. And a ferry boat with its cough makes its chugging, churning way with its passengers across the bay. And in the background looking down, old city sky scrapers seem to frown. At this bright, blazing, pulsing shore, so different from the scene of yore.

ZEELAND

The Tjepkema family reunion was held Labor Day at the home of Andrew Tjepkema in Zeeland. A social time was enjoyed and hymns and Dutch Psalms were sung. Forty-seven guests were present from Chicago, Byron Center, Holland and Zeeland.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S CLINIC

An orthopaedic clinic for crippled children will be conducted by Dr. J. Hodgson, orthopaedic surgeon of Grand Rapids, in Washington school at 9:00 o'clock Wednesday, September 20. Rural children are asked as well as children from the city.

HOLLAND ALL-STARS DISAPPOINT FANS

G. R. Press—A picked team of stars of the Holland City league was scheduled to play the Ramonas under the floodlights of Ramona Athletic park Thursday night, but the game was not played. After learning that several players figured on could not make the trip, the Holland management wired E. W. Dickerson at Ramona Athletic park asking a postponement. Dick was out of the city.

At least 1,000 fans were disappointed.

HAMILTON

Rev. James Rutgers and family of Wabasso, Minnesota, visited at the home of Mrs. G. Rutgers of Hamilton several days last week. Rev. J. Rutgers is pastor of the First Evangelical church of Wabasso, Minnesota. He described conditions in the state of Minnesota as fair. The crops are considerably shortened by lack of sufficient moisture and heat. When Rev. J. Rutgers and family return to their home in Minnesota they will have traveled through six states with a total mileage of about 2,400 miles.

Many people are attending the Gospel services which are held in the Community hall each evening this week and next. Rev. J. Rutgers of Holland is the speaker. Special music also features the program.

Local schools opened last Monday and the "happy days" for the youngsters are past again for a while. The new members on the faculty are Earl Mosier of Ganges and Anne Koeman of Holland. and Ben Brower went to Detroit Tuesday for some more Ford cars. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Meeuwse, John Meeuwse of Jenison visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Brink last week, Friday.

Hamilton folks are hoping that the state road commission at Lansing will do something to improve M-40 to Holland and Allegan. The road is a busy one and does not stand up under the heavy traffic. All summer it has been like the old-fashioned washboard. Monday after the rain, however, those who passed over the road reported the road as terrible. A great deal of work is being done to keep it in repair, but within a few hours it is almost as bad as ever. Hamilton folks are, therefore, pulling hard for pavement and if there are other communities which have a better right to do so, we are from Missouri—show us.

Wheat: U. S. Exports to Europe and Production in Europe

U. S. Exports to Europe
(Each boat carries
20 million bushels)

Production in Europe
(Each sack holds 100 million bu.)

WHEN Europe produces more wheat for herself she buys less from the United States. That is the feature of the world wheat problem that this chart shows. For instance, in 1921, when many wheat ships were busy carrying the bread grain to Europe, that continent produced only 1,200,000,000 bushels. Since 1927, European countries have been producing more and more of their own wheat and the wheat traffic across the Atlantic has slowed up. In fact, efforts of European countries to supply their needs, and their buying wheat from other countries has just about cut off our wheat exports, as the lone boat for 1933 represented in the chart indicates. The United States doesn't want to withdraw from the export trade, but rather than have grain pile up in the United States or be sold at less than cost, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has begun a wheat plan which will reduce acreage in the United States and bring production down to the point where it can all be marketed at a profit to the farmer.

UNITED STATES CARRYOVER OF WHEAT, 1920-1932

BURSTING wheat bins pictured above indicate how the carryover of wheat in the United States has increased since 1928. From 1920 to 1928 the carryover was about normal and a bin or grain elevator capacity of slightly more than 100 million bushels was sufficient for supplies from year to year. Since 1928 the carryover in the United States has increased rapidly. In 1929 it was nearly 250 million bushels, in 1930 it was nearly 300 million bushels, it was over 300 million bushels in 1931 and in 1932 it reached a new peak of more than 300 million bushels. Secretary Wallace has estimated that even with our short crop this year, the carryover will still be above normal a year from now because of the present large carryover, the lack of export demand and reduced feeding and, unless something is done to check it, the carryover is likely to jump again to around 350 million bushels in 1933.

Special committee appointed by the cost of $10,000.00. Mayor to look up and recommend work projects that could be put on by funds received from the NRA, reported he had several projects to present. The Mayor suggested that in presenting these projects, the Council should act upon them one at a time since there were several projects to be presented.

The first project brought up by Mr. De Young called for an extension of the 19th St. Water Supply System by building new wells, etc. Estimated cost of this project was $20,000.00.

Approved, all present voting Aye. Second Project:—This project called for the construction of an elevated Water Tank in the western part of the City. The proposed tank is to have a capacity of 500,000 gals., and the purpose of such a tank is to provide additional fire protection, and also to handle the peak load during the hot summer period. Estimated cost of this project is $35,000.00.

Approved, all present voting Aye. Third Project:—This calls for the extension of water mains in Michigan Ave., Lincoln Ave., and Washington Ave., at an estimated cost of $10,000.00.

Approved, all present voting Aye. Fourth Project:—This project calls for the erection of a warehouse near the 5th St. station, such as pipe, poles, transformers, etc. The plans also provide for hoists and other loading and unloading equipment. Estimated cost for the project complete is $50,000.00.

Approved, all present voting Aye. Fifth Project:—This is for the improvements at the Sewage Disposal Plant. This property includes covering over of Imhof Tanks and Sludge Beds, also the necessary apparatus for burning gases, and a small warehouse for the storage of chlorine. The purpose of this project is to eliminate odors from the Plant. Estimated cost—$65,000.00.

Approved, all present voting Aye. Sixth Project:—This is for the development of a new Cemetery on E. 18th St., which was formerly the old Fairgrounds property. Mr. De Young estimated the cost of such a project at $50,000.00. He stated, however, that he was not very familiar with this project, and called upon Mr. Van Bragt who was present to give the Aldermen more detailed information on it. The project, as proposed, calls for the grading of the land, laying out of drives, planting trees and shrubbery, a suitable entrance, and a sprinkling system for a part of the grounds. Mr. Van Bragt contended that if the entire 35 acres would be improved, that an amount of $100,000 would be needed for the project. There was considerable discussion by the Aldermen as to the advisability of improving the entire grounds.

It was moved by Ald. Kleis, 2nd by Prins, that action on this project be deferred for two weeks. Said motion was lost by a 7 to 4 vote.

John Vander Ploeg and Simon Henkle, being present, spoke in favor of developing the entire grounds. However, on motion of Ald. Habing, 2nd by Huyser, it was recommended that a loan of $50,000 be requested for this project.

This motion was also lost by a vote of 6 Ayes to 5 Nays.

Seventh Project:—Mr. De Young then presented the Harbor Improvement Project which includes the improvement of the water front from a point approximately 100 ft. East of the present Goodrich Docks and west as far as the Georgian Bay & Duluth Transit Co. docks. The improvements proposed call for a seaplane ramp, dockage for passenger and pleasure craft, warehouse for dockage—freight, a dock for bulk storage and a railway dry dock. It was proposed to use steel sheet piling in a straight line from Kollen Park east, also steel sheet piling from a point west of Kollen Park and over to the Heinz Co. point. The project also proposes a yacht harbor in the bay east of Kollen Park. The estimated cost of the project complete is $350,000.00.

Both Mr. Wm. M. Connelly and Mr. Jacob Zuidema gave a detailed description of this proposed project.

After some discussion, it was moved by Ald. Prins, 2nd by Jonkman, that the plan as submitted be approved with the provision that the money would be loaned to the City of Holland on a self-liquidating basis.

Lost by a vote of 8 to 3. Adjourned.

OSCAR PETERSON, City Clerk.

ZEELAND RETAINS FOOTBALL DESPITE MONEY SHORTAGE

(Grand Rapids Press) Although football was stricken from the list of sports in the Zeeland High school last June because of lack of financial means, the sport will be resumed this fall. The letter men of last year wanted to play football again. With this idea in mind several of the players solicited persons about the city for aid. The goal was set at $200. After much work the lads secured enough money and pledges to make it possible to carry out the plan for football. They again secured T. A. Dewey, former coach, to work with them. When the call was sounded for men Monday 42 reported. Without new equipment but with some borrowed material the local school is entering into the fall sport once more.

Coach Dewey will build his team around veterans of two and three years' experience, these being Wellington, VanHoven, Bouma, VanKley, Borr and Korstanje. DeJonge and Ensfield, former players at East Grand Rapids High school, are seeking positions with the local team. A revised schedule is being worked upon as the previous schedule was canceled when football was dropped. The schedule as far as completed is: Sept. 22, Martin at Zeeland; Sept. 30, Rockford at Zeeland; Oct. 6, East Grand Rapids at Zeeland; Oct. 20, Allegan at Zeeland; Nov. 4, Osego at Zeeland. Games with Hudsonville and Coopersville are pending.

Bank Bandit Taken To Prison Unexpectedly

identity of the three other men who got away will ever be learned from Doyle, the officers say. That is a sealed matter as far as Doyle is concerned.

Doyle was to have been tried Monday morning at 8 o'clock. He waived a jury and the case was to have come up before Judge Fred T. Miles. The officers convinced Doyle of his certain sentence and he consented to change his plea on Saturday afternoon.

Utmost secrecy was maintained and only the officers, the judge and prisoner were in the courtroom when he appeared there for the second time. The plan avoided a crowded courtroom, no doubt, and the danger of an attempted delivery.

The officers are relieved that Doyle is out of their custody. Heavily armed guards have watched over Doyle night and day since he was arraigned a few days after August 18. Last week a double guard was put on following a warning that an armed car with four men in it had been seen at St. Joseph and was headed this way.

State detectives are still working on the robbery case. The currency and bonds totaling about $4,000 which were stolen have not been identified nor the three men who escaped so spectacularly from the bank entrance, when they found they were trapped as the car, which was to have been parked at the rear door of the bank failed to appear, due to the firing which was being done by Edward Kinkema, who was the first to get the alarm that evening day.

Officers and detectives have been on the watch constantly for any attempted break on the part of Doyle and his gang. It was believed in official circles that Doyle was stalling for time when he pleaded not guilty and then again refused to change his plea on the opening day of court September 5, when he had indicated that he would do so.

Had the case come to trial there would have been but little to it as Doyle had no counsel and could offer no defense. He was caught while in the act of robbery and told the officers something about what went on inside the bank, but he refused to give out any information as to who his pals were or where they came from.

The big Buick car is still held here by the police as it is believed it may belong to one of the gang. The sale from the time the car left the factory until it reached the hands of the owner in whose name the plates were registered is being carefully checked. Harold Mulbar, detective in charge, has refused to give out any information regarding the case.

The sentence of Judge Miles to the bank robber follows in full: "You are convicted on your plea of guilty of the crime of bank robbery and of robbery armed."

"In passing sentence the court must consider not only the crime you have committed but your prior conduct and your present attitude. Your crime is not one of courage and bravery, but rather of cowardice; there was no fair fight and you do not have the consolation that comes to a man of courage. You were captured by brave men. You with others came armed into a peaceful community and ruthlessly attacked unarmed and defenseless women and men and your use of weapons makes you every inch a murderer in everything except the accomplished fact."

"Your prior conduct that has come to my attention indicates that you have been a criminal for a long time and that this bank robbery is but an incident in your career; you have put at defiance the laws of the country and are now a dangerous man to society."

"Since your arrest you have made no attempt to assist the officers to make society safe against your criminal companions; you have taken the attitude that there is honor among thieves; honor that protects the criminal and permits the lives of innocent and unoffensive members of society together with their savings of a life-time to be destroyed.

"Some time ago I sentenced two bank robbers to ten years each in the state prison at Jackson; they had made a clean breast of the whole matter, taken the stand and testified to the facts, so that the whole gang was removed from society. I felt they were entitled to such consideration. But you claim no such favor; you have told nothing but what the officers knew without your assistance. My information leads to the conclusion that you have given no assistance whatever."

"Since your arrest you have been accorded every right and privilege of an accused man presumed under our laws to be innocent; a kindly and Christian sheriff has given you every consideration; you have been accorded the advice of counsel and an opportunity to enjoy the consolations of a religion that you seem to have abandoned, and I believe that you have not lacked proper medical attention and other comforts. These humane considerations have been furnished you by the society that you have wronged in every way possible; I hope this thought has made some favorable impression on you; if it has not you are indeed a hardened man."

"Your case illustrates a fact well known to law enforcing officers: That the career of a criminal is always short and ends in disaster; your companions in this crime will no doubt be overtaken and either killed or imprisoned within a short time; you are to be congratulated that you are overtaken before your hands and heart are stained further."

"The sentence of the court is that you be imprisoned in Michigan state prison at Jackson, at hard labor, during the remainder of your life."

Tribute Brings Tears To Host Nick Hoffman

FAREWELL IS GIVEN TO LOCAL RESTAURANTER AT THE CLOSING OF ENTERPRISE

The silver anniversary of the Boston restaurant, conducted for a quarter of a century by the genial Nick Hoffman has come and gone. With the closing of this anniversary this popular establishment was also closed and the key was turned for the first time during these many years.

The occasion brought a spontaneous gathering of friends, mostly "Koffie Kletzers," who gathered around the festive board to not only celebrate the anniversary but to say farewell to their business associate on the street and the man who has been their genial host for so long.

A banquet was held last Friday at 6 o'clock with Henry Vining as toastmaster. Mr. Vining was a surprise to his friends and as he introduced the different speakers with tact he interspersed his remarks with some comic rallery at the expense of the speakers.

The first man to be introduced was John Van Tatenhove of the French Cloak store, who spoke in glowing terms of "big hearted Nick" and his intimate relations with him during his membership in the "Kletzer" and many "aside" stories of fishing trips and the dinner parties after the catch at Nick's hospitable cafe. Johnny's review of these incidents covering many years brought ripples of laughter as well as thoughtful reflections.

Mr. Vining introduced the next speaker, Ben Mulder, your editor, as the man who knew everything in the past, present and future, but that he is largely capitalizing on the past and that he knew the past of restaurants as well as the past of anything else in or about Holland. Mr. Mulder thanked the speaker for the elaborate introduction and said that it paid to capitalize on the past since like old wine the historic value grew better with age.

Mr. Mulder related the history of restaurant business in Holland and who started the first one more than 60 years ago; who made restaurant business a real asset, how the restaurant business has grown from a beginning on River avenue to the large proportions it now holds since Holland now has some things like a score of restaurants and he then gave incidents and happenings that he had personally witnessed in these restaurants. Many were extremely laughable, some rather interesting and others pathetic, in fact the happenings were of greater import and interest than the restaurants themselves.

It is possible that within the near future, with the elimination of several personal features the history of restaurants and what happened there will be published in a feature story.

The next speaker introduced by Mr. Vining was former Mayor E. P. Stephan, who gave a history of the founding of the "Koffie Kletzer" thirty-five years ago in Ed Van Drezer's restaurant on West Eighth street. Mr. Stephan vividly pictured the personnel of the "Kletzer" when it began and most of those who "sipped and supped" between arguments, sometimes in idle banter, but more often in heated discussion. Most of these have passed to their reward.

When you go over that list it is replete with contrary natures, positive, passive and negative. There were about a dozen of them but amalgamated, if such a thing were possible, it would be a conglomerate of contraries. Where could you find a better complex for a "Koffie Kletzer" than that?

Mr. Stephan then gradually unfolded the development of this "Koffie Kletzer," how it rolled up like a snowball until in recent years there was a veritable congregation of them and how on the appointed hour of 9:30 and 3 o'clock the "Kletzers" would wend their way to the "Kletzer," magnetically drawn, which even a good sale could not stop. Folks got the "Kletzer fever" at the appointed hour.

Mr. Stephan dwelt at some length on the personality of Ed Van Drezer of the first "Koffie Kletzer" and Nick Hoffman of the last. He paralleled their similarity in many ways—their political affiliations, etc. There is much to be said here, which space forbids. In closing Mr. Stephan told of the whole-hearted nature, the sterling qualities and the honest convictions of the host of the "Koffie Kletzers."

He dwelt vaguely on Nick's recent illness and with the bravery and fortitude and religious conviction that brought him through such an ordeal. He showed that through adversities, through disappointments, through trials, Nick was the same as when fortune smiled.

Dick Boter, the last speaker on the program, had as his subject "The Visible and Invisible Nick." Dick has been a member of the "Koffie Kletzer" as long as he has been a citizen of this city. He always sat at the same table, "dunked" in the same cup and generally "dunked" in someone else's cup and they were not always "sinkers" either. Dick has been the "Koffie Kletzer" for a long time and salt, pepper and vinegar, with the coffee combination have often figured in his "waggings." But Dick can be mighty serious sometimes and it was a thoughtful audience who listened to him extol the personnel and fine attributes of the host of the "Koffie Kletzer" rather than the "Koffie Kletzer" itself. He pointed out where the

To Inspect the Inspectors

We need some more inspectors. In this grand old state of ours, we want some more inspectors. With unlimited powers. We have enough inspectors. To inspect our 3 point 2. And plenty of inspectors. To watch what barbers do. Enough inspectors have we.

To test the grocer's weights, inspectors for the honey bees. Beside the garden gates. Inspectors for the factories. Inspectors for our meat. And the hotels where we eat. Inspectors for most everything. But not enough as yet. For we are scarcely satisfied. With the service that we get. So now we need a few more men. To be the state's protectors. Men we can send about the state. To inspect the state's inspectors.

members of this organization came largely to gather with Nick to see his beaming face and to feel his presence, knowing that he was a friend with a great heart; that under the rough exterior the invisible, kindly, thoughtful, likable Nick was concealed. He pictured the hard-working Nick, who climbed up from a menial laborer to a position in the business world and everyone knew how hard the struggle was, not having had the opportunity for a business and educational training like most of us, and in spite of this fact he has for 25 years conducted a business that was an asset to this community, financially and otherwise. It was the center where men meet and discuss matters, where many ideas were born and worthwhile projects had their inception.

At the closing he personally directed his remarks to the man in whose honor this gathering was held and the spontaneity that brought such an outpouring of real friends was a tribute that spoke more forcefully than any word picture he might give.

Mr. Vining in closing stated that the evening would not be complete without a few words from the man in whose honor this banquet was given, and when he mentioned the name of Nick Hoffman every guest arose in deference to "Nick of the Koffie Kletzer."

Mr. Hoffman began to speak and in trembling voice partially brought out a heart-felt thank you, but the rest of the talk would not come and with tears coursing down his cheeks, he asked to be excused, that it was impossible for him to continue. It was a moment that few business men will ever forget and spoke in greater volume than flowery platitudes and it portrayed both the "visible and invisible Nick" as nothing else could.

The poem below is from Johnny Hyma, the Hyma Highlight columnist in the Holland City News. It was read by former Mayor Stephan during the evening. It follows:

THE KOFFIE KLETZ

By Johnny Hyma.

Who's going to miss a certain place
Where we would come to fill our face
And talk about some current case
The Koffie Kletzer.Who's going to miss that good old Nick
Who argues with "E. P." or Dick
Whose memory in our hearts will stick?
The Koffie Kletzer.Who took a table in the back
To talk about the business slack—
Klein Nederland, or welfare Jack?
The Koffie Kletzer.Who started in Van Drezer's here
To Kletzer on topic, wine and beer
And moved to Hoffman's since that year?
The Koffie Kletzer.Who takes a rap at Connolly
And talks about the Comstock fee
And dills the star of Liveness?
The Koffie Kletzer.Who talks about the city's pay
Who tells the counsel what to say?
Who understands the N. R. A.?
The Koffie Kletzer.Who's going to tell the government
Where needy money should be spent;
Who'll make the city folks content?
The Koffie Kletzer.Who's going to be the city's friend
And make the sewage odors blend
Like Hoffman's coffee in our North End?
The Koffie Kletzer.But after all is said and done
Who'll always think about the fun
We had with one good Holland son?
The Koffie Kletzer.Who's going to be a friend who'll stick
To this good son—whose name is Nick
And wish him well, although he's sick?
The Koffie Kletzer.Who'll drink to him with lots of pride
When other coffee they have tried
Without a doughnut on the side?
The Koffie Kletzer.Who wishes him a lot of cheer
Extolling Nick's well-known career
And hopes he'll open up next year?
The Koffie Kletzer.

The singing was in charge of William Brouwer, who got all the boys started on "Pack Up Your Troubles," "Smile, Smile, Smile," and kindred songs that put pep into such a gathering. But the climax of the song fest was when he sang the chorus of "Auf Wieder-

Reemployment Group in This County Named

JUDGE CROSS, GERRIT ZAAGMAN, CARL BOWEN APPOINTED ON COMMISSION

Appointments to the Reemployment Commission of Ottawa county, a parallel group to the Emergency Relief commission, has been made by C. E. Weiss, state director of the National Reemployment department. The members, according to the rules of the organization, call for a member of the poor commission, a member who has had experience in former employment work and a man at large. The appointments are former Judge Orion S. Cross, Holland, at large; Gerrit Zaagman, poor commissioner, and Carl O. Bowen, engineer of the Ottawa county road commission who is chairman of the Ottawa county welfare committee of the board of supervisors.

The commission met at the court house at Grand Haven and elected Judge Cross chairman. The committee will hold off hiring a manager, which is prescribed by the state, until such time as the duties are fully outlined and the group can definitely select someone well qualified for the position. The manager is to act in an administrative capacity and will be paid. He will be given an assistant if the work is too heavy for one individual.

The business of the manager, as outlined to one of the state committee several weeks ago, will be to place individuals for reemployment and make contacts with business men, industrial plants and state and federal departments looking to the proper placement of those out of employment.

Registration for those seeking reemployment can be made in the hall of the lower floor of the court house and the number of appointments received there will influence the activity of the committee.

The operation of the department will be along the lines dictated by the National Reemployment Service.

The home houses 66 persons, the oldest being Mrs. Marie Kuhlman, formerly of Holland, now in her one hundred and second year. The home has been in charge of L. H. Peck and his sister, Mrs. John Schipper, for nearly a quarter of a century.

LABOR DAY IS OF LONG STANDING

Labor day seems probably to most people a new sort of holiday but in fact it is perhaps the oldest of the lot though the present observance was established by the Knights of Labor. But the originator of it was a particularly wise Greek, Solon, "the lawgiver of Athens." He dedicated it to the moon and so moon's day became Monday. The emblem of the Knights of Labor bears this inscription which is quoted from the writings of Solon: "That is the most perfect government in which an injury to one is the concern of all." This sentiment has been since that time expressed by many more philosophers but never more tersely. It expresses well the underlying idea of labor organizations, that oppression or neglect of labor is directly opposed to welfare of the whole body of citizenship. Selfishness, however, crops out in labor organizations as much as in those of any other sort, also disregard of the rights of other citizens; but the motivating idea is noble and worthy of universal acceptance.

LEARN ABOUT STARLING

William J. Runyan of Coopersville shot at a flock of starlings that roosting in the shade trees in front of his home, and killed one that was banded. He wrote to Washington to get information regarding the bird and received the following reply: "No. 226,500 was an immature starling banded by Norman O. Sibley, Whittemore, Mich., June 26, 1931."

REGULAR BLACK BASS CAUGHT

Charles Wolf, Allegan, employed at the Hollis Baker plant, made what is believed by many of the fishing fraternity, the record catch of the year, when he took a black bass, weighing six pounds and ten ounces, while fishing on Mud Lake, west of Allegan, early Thursday morning. Surely a fish dinner.

FAIR CROP WINTER APPLES AT HOLLAND

Prospects are for a good crop of winter apples in this section. G. J. Deur, prominent grower estimates about two-thirds of a normal yield for orchards having extra good care. Neglected orchards will produce little or nothing. Fall apples were a medium crop and the peach and pear crops small.

HOLLAND SENDS 89 BOY SCOUTS TO CAMP

Peter H. Norg, area Scout executive, today announced the August court of honor. He gave the following data: First class badges awarded, 469; second class, 48; promoted to first class rank, 32; second rank, 47; star rank, 23; life rank, 14; eagle rank, 4; bronze palms, 3.

Reports show that 252 Scouts and 30 leaders attended Camp Wilderness in Newway county, official Scout camp, this summer. The central west district, in which Holland is located, sent 89 Scouts and 12 leaders. Other districts were represented as follows: Grand Haven, 96 Scouts and 11 leaders; Coopersville, 16 Scouts and 2 leaders; Zeeland, 21 Scouts and 5 leaders.

SAY HE STOLE SACKS

Alderman A. P. Kleis has discovered he has been bled by a local youth. The youth, according to local police, stole a quantity of grain sacks from Mr. Kleis, disposing them to the Holland cooperative association for 5 cents each. Mr. Kleis, in turn, has been buying the sacks from the co-op for 7 cents each.

The youth admitted the theft to local police.

Tuber Prices Bring Cheer To Many Growers

HALF CROP FINDS POTATO BRINGS THREE TIMES THE REVENUE OF LAST YEAR

Michigan farmers are in line to receive more money for their "half crop" of potatoes this year than they received for their nearly normal production in 1932, in the opinion of tuber dealers here.

This is one of those seasons when practically every late potato producing section in the country has suffered more or less alike, members of the vegetable trade explain. The tuber crop in nearly all states is smaller than a year ago. The per capita production of 23 bushels is the smallest since 1887, while the national crop is the smallest since 1916.

Reports from Maine, the leading tuber producing state, indicate the 1933 crop will be at least 5 per cent smaller than last year's production, and the 1932 output was considerably below normal.

Other States Short

Other reports indicate potato supplies in eastern cities will be less plentiful than last year. New York's crop is estimated to be 31 per cent short of the 1932 production and Pennsylvania's crop is 15 per cent smaller. New Jersey and Virginia harvested small crops.

Michigan's prospective crop is estimated to be 36 per cent smaller than the 1932 production, while Wisconsin's is 15 per cent under a year ago. Idaho expects to harvest 11 per cent fewer spuds than in 1932, and last year's production was considerably below normal.

Potato prospects in Minnesota and the Dakotas are far from promising, and the crop outlook in the far West is reported to be spotted.

Unless growing conditions in all these states improve greatly within the next 30 days, potato dealers in this state believe present tuber estimates will be subject to further downward revisions. Prices to the growers and consumers will be influenced accordingly.

Prices Triple

Growers in most producing areas in the state now are receiving $1 or more per bushel for potatoes. Producers in some downstate sections have been getting $1.25 to $1.50 a bushel. These prices are about triple those being paid a year ago.

The outlook for the future continues bright for all growers who have prospects of harvesting fair crops of tubers. Such competing crops as sweet potatoes, rice and wheat also are short, and higher prices for these commodities are expected to sustain the demand for white potatoes.

Although yields per acre are disappointingly light, growers are reported to be in a cheerful mood as a result of the price situation. Farmers had a good crop last year, but received only 15 to 20 cents a bushel. They welcome a half crop to sell at $1 a bushel.

ALLEGAN COURT HOUSE CLOSING ON AFTERNOONS SATURDAYS

Beginning on last Saturday the court house in Allegan went on the NRA plan and in order to fulfill the conditions of hours of work closed its doors at noon.

In the future, the same policy will be followed until hours of opening and closing are designated by the board of supervisors at the next session of the board.

The decision to close Saturday afternoons was made last week when county officers agreed to cooperate—Allegan News.

Sort of holiday for the court house but not much extra labor it would appear for recovery.

KUIKEN-WICKS NUPTIALS

'How Is Business?' Sales Manager Asks 194 Agents by Telephone

L. H. Thompson, vice president in charge of domestic sales, National Cash Register Company, at left, conversing with one of the 194 sales agents with whom he talked.

When L. H. Thompson, vice president in charge of domestic sales of the National Cash Register Company, recently wanted to talk personally with all his sales agents in the United States and Canada, to stimulate a sales contest, he did not have time to visit each one. Nor was it necessary to call the men to the home office from their territories.

Instead, seated in his office in Dayton, O., Vice President Thompson talked, over 153,190 miles of telephone wire, with his 194 sales agents. Each man had been advised a week in advance of the hour and minute when Mr. Thompson would call him. The talks were three minutes each, and the connections were completed without loss of time and without operating error.

The results were satisfactory to Mr. Thompson. Incidentally he was able to obtain for his Board of Directors opinions as to business and industrial conditions in every section of this country and Canada.

In another raid on Grand Rapids beer gardens, Detroit racketeers carried away four more slot machines and made their escape. Within a few minutes after two men had walked into the Hob and Nob beer garden at 748 Grandville avenue, southwest, and had walked out with two machines, a second report came that the Grapewood beer garden at Chicago drive and Wyoming avenue had been entered in a similar manner. The slot machine musclemen, according to reports, operated in the same manner in each place. They merely walked in, picked up the slot machines they wanted, and walked out again, loading them into an automobile that carried Detroit license plates.

BURGRAAFF TO TEACH MISSION BIBLE CLASS IN GRAND RAPIDS

G. R. Press—The fall Bible classes of the City Mission at Grand Rapids will open formally Sept. 21 and 22. On Thursday evening the Business Girls council will open with a special inspirational meeting, and on Friday night the Bible class will open.

This year the class will be taught by Dr. Winfield Burggraaf, who teaches theology in the Western Theological seminary, Holland. Dr. Burggraaf was born in Grand Rapids, beginning his education in the parochial school on the west side. Then he went through Hope college, graduating from there in 1922 and from Western Theological seminary in 1925, following which he spent three years in the Netherlands and Stockholm, receiving his degree from the Free University at Amsterdam in 1928.

On his return to America he accepted the pastorate of the First Reformed Church in Milwaukee, after three years taking up his present work in Western Theological seminary.

He has written several books. It is expected the Glee club of Hope college will accompany Dr. Burggraaf at the opening night.

Monday at 4 p. m. Rev. Harrison Stillman of the Moline congregational church will speak at the mission. Supt. Melvin E. Trotter will preach in the evening.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

RETURNING to cool days give this business of feeding a family added importance. Children's meals must be carefully planned in order to make up for the decreased amounts of sunlight and fresh air. That means giving them not only enough food for energy and growth but foods which are rich in health protecting elements. Of these foods butter and milk are most important. In addition egg yolk, liver, leafy green vegetables, yellow and red vegetables, all fruits, whole grain cereals and bread are especially important. In addition children may have the foods they like such as peanut butter, preserves, hermit cookies and gingerbread.

There are plenty of fruits and vegetables available for canning, pickling and preserving. Chief among these are tomatoes, pears, crab apples, cucumbers, green peppers and fresh plums.

Here are the menus from the Quaker Maid Kitchen.

Allegan County News

Plans are forming for the reopening of the Fruit Growers State bank, and if the cooperation of the federal banking authorities with the state banking department is obtained the bank should be open for business around October 15. The plan for reopening is to remain in the federal reserve system so depositors may receive the benefit of the federal guaranty of bank deposits which goes into effect January 1. A stock assessment of $100 per share has been made on all stockholders and subscriptions already are coming in. Under this plan the bank will be able to pay 50 per cent of its deposits to depositors, subject to the regulations of the United States treasury department. Lemuel R. Brady is conservator of the bank.

Rev. Seth Vander Werf, secretary of the Reformed church here; Rev. G. Tyse, stated clerk of the Holland classic, and Rev. Henry Van Dyke, pastor of Fourth Reformed church, attended a meeting of the church extension committee in Allegan Monday.
