Houses, Church Boost August's Building Permits

Forty-Six Applications Are Filed With Building Inspector During Month

Applications for seven new houses totaling $36,500 and a remodeling program at Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church for $28,000 accounted for most of the $95,080 total for 46 building permits during August, a check of Building Inspector George Zuverink's records revealed today.

Seven applications for industrial and commercial construction, including the church remodeling, totaled $47,450. Six applications for roofs totaled $1,565 and nine applications for exterior repairs totaled $2,700.

There also were nine applications for interior repairs totaling $4,900 and eight for garages totaling $1,965.

August's total of $95,080 is almost $20,000 more than July's total of $75,281.75 which represented 81 applications.

Ten applications for building permits totaling $9,710 were filed this week with Zuverink. They follow:

John Lemmen, 33 Cherry, build vestibule and install two large picture windows, $200; self, contractor.

John Galien, 276 West 25th St., enlarge garage, $150; Gordon Streur, contractor.

Henry De Goed, 41 East 18th St., enclose front porch and lay cement floors, $250; La Mar, contractor.

William L. Gerritson, 207 West 17th St., remodel kitchen and put in cupboards, $50; self, contractor.

W. De Leeuw and Sons, 140 East 20th St., build 1½-story house, 24 by 28 feet, of frame construction with asphalt roof, $5,500; self, contractor.

Ben Lemmen, 102 West Seventh St., super service station, 27 by 30 feet, frame and cement construction, $2,700; self, contractor.

Ben Kroeze, 236 East 13th St., re-roof part of house, $80; Ben Dirkse, contractor.

Marie Eusden and Ethyl Kleinheksel, 35 East Ninth St., extend porch two feet, lay cement floor and repair roof, $200; Ben Wassink, contractor.

Martin Van Dyke, 114 East 13th St., re-roof part of house, $80; self, contractor.

Gordon Zuverink, 287 West 15th St., build garage and breezeway, 14 by 20, and 12 by 18 feet, $500; self, contractor.

Problem Drivers Aren't Dopes, But Sometimes Act It

Chief Van Hoff Says Keeping Mind on Car Can Reduce Accidents

Failure to keep his mind on his driving accounts for most of Holland's problem drivers, Chief of Police Jacob Van Hoff said today. The fellow who causes the accidents and collects the traffic tickets is not an intentional outlaw and he isn't necessarily a dope, although he sometimes acts like it, Van Hoff said.

The Holland police department is currently pushing a "no speeding" campaign, aimed especially at 32nd St., where speeding has become an increasingly dangerous practice.

Usually the "problem driver"—one who collects three violations tickets in a year—is an ordinary man of fair intelligence and completely capable of being a good driver, if he tries.

There are 8,000 problem drivers in Michigan, according to Van Hoff, who quoted a survey made by Sgt. C. F. Van Blankensteyn of the Michigan state police.

To obtain a picture of the "problem driver," Van Blankensteyn selected 1,000 names at random from his files.

A breakdown showed that:

Not one failed to pass a road test upon re-examination.

Only 12 out of the 1,000 had a poor knowledge of traffic laws.

Only 16 were classed as mentally incompetent and only 23 were physically incapable of driving a car safely.

More than 900 had a good or fair attitude toward observance of traffic regulations.

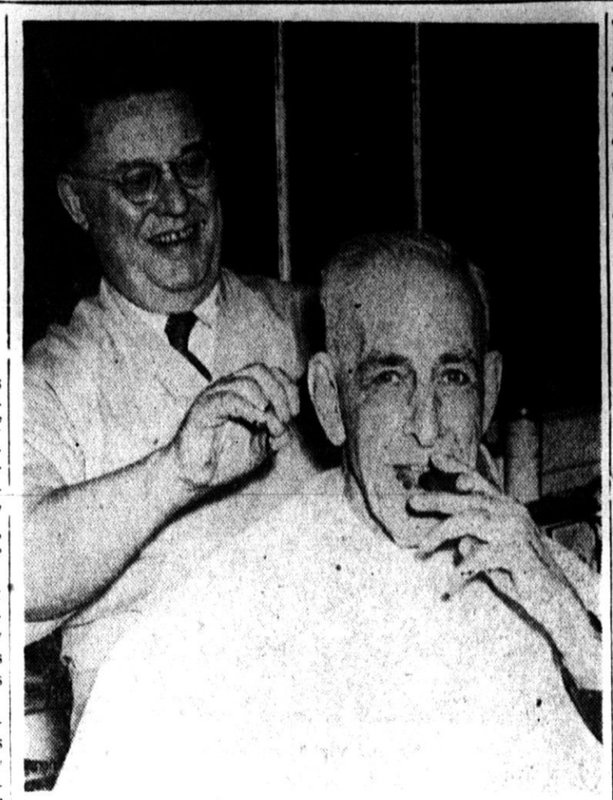
Nearly 700 maintained their cars in good or fair condition.

A heavy majority had more than two years' driving experience.

Of the 1,000 names checked, some 260 were unskilled laborers, 123 were skilled laborers and only 15 were professional people. Some 482 had a grade school education or less, 451 went to high school, 62 were graduated from college and five were unchecked. Only 26 could neither read nor write.

Some 553 of the "problem drivers" used automobiles regularly in connection with their work while 439 merely drove for pleasure.

A breakdown of violations by age groups showed 258 violators were under 20, 344 were between 20 and 29, 178 were between 30 and 39, 108 between 40 and 49, 66 between 50 and 59, and 56 were older than 60.



The man behind the cigar is John H. Raven, who might be called the Father of the Old Tower clock. At least Raven took an active part in the campaign in the 1890's to install the clock in its present lofty perch at River and Eighth Sts. Helping Raven to present a neatly shingled head is Earl Working. Raven, a newcomer to Holland in the early 90's, was a jeweler in those days.

Mercury Soared During August, Report Shows

Past Month Sets Five Year Records; Only Few Rainy Days

All those who longed for those summer days after the rainy spring certainly got what they asked for, according to the August weather report released here at the local station at Hope college. The report shows that the temperatures soared to a new 5-year high in addition to breaking 10 other totals over the period from 1943 through 1947.

August temperatures soared to a high of 101 degrees in comparison to the other records of 97 in 1944 and 92 in 1945. The lowest temperature of the month was 46 degrees while the 45 degrees recorded in 1943 was next on the chart. The average maximum temperature for the month also set a new 5-year high at 90.9 degrees compared to the 84.7 recorded in 1944. Also the minimum mercury drop reveals a new occurrence in the five year period with a 66.1 average. Its closest rival was a 62.3 in 1943. The average temperature for the sweltering month was 78.5 degrees, an average considerably higher than the preceding years.

There were only five rainy days to mar the otherwise "perfect" summer weather experienced here. There was also less precipitation during August than in preceding years with only .50 inches recorded compared with the high of 1.12 inches in 1946. The report indicates 16 clear days and 13 days cloudy and two partly cloudy days.

Four thunderstorms, however annoyed restless sleepers during the past 31 days. No violent damage was reported during the storms. To top off the month, a slight earth tremor also contributed to the record breaking weather.

Theologian Says Rural Sections Ignored by Church

Has denominational Protestantism "sidestepped, ignored and all but scorned the marginal rural sections of our country?" A rural authority, Prof. Charles M. McConnell of the Boston university school of theology, thinks this is the case. Many Protestant leaders looking around at their own churches, do not think so.

Nor do they agree that in rural areas are seen "tumbledown shack churches, dog eared songbooks, abandoned churches, scant religious educational literature and an almost total absence of theological seminary graduates in these fields."

Prof. McConnell's statements are "exaggerated," leaders said in a recent questionnaire. Except in some remote areas the condition of the rural church is "good," as far as attendance, financial support and church activities are concerned, they said. It has generally improved in the last 10 years.

But there is still a need for rural pastors. According to the Rev. H. A. Block of the Evangelical United Brethren church in Berlin, Wis., theological students are reticent about taking rural pastorates, because of lack of modern conveniences and lack of school advantages for their children.

"Seminary students hesitate to go to the rural churches," said the Rev. A. R. Achtemeier of the Evangelical and Reformed church of Monticello, Wis. "They still go with the thought in their minds that it is only a training period for a larger, more active parish in the city."

Many seminaries, in the last few years, have put a greater emphasis on rural church work, said several of those questioned. Theological seminaries of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., said Dr. Irwin E. Bradfield, Waukesha, Wis., synodical executive, "are now putting in professors and courses to train our students for rural leadership. The demand of city churches for pastors, in these last few years of scarcity, has led a large number of theological students to take city pastorates."

Dr. Bradfield praised the "unrecognized and unsung" rural Protestant congregations "who continue to conduct Sunday schools for the children and youth of their communities, whether they have resident pastors or not."

The increased emphasis on the rural church field in the seminaries has helped to break down the feeling among students that the small town church offers very little. The Rev. Donald O. Mills, Two Rivers, Wis., a graduate, recently wrote in to the Chicago Theological Seminary Register that "the rural church offers an opportunity to build the community in the truest sense."

Corinth Minister Called To Grand Haven Church

Grand Haven, Sept. 11 (Special) —At a congregational meeting of the First Reformed church Monday night, an unanimous call was extended to the Rev. Raymond R. Van Heukelum, pastor of the Reformed church at Corinth. Rev. Heukelum, a graduate of Hope college and Western Theological seminary, has been pastor of the Corinth church for six years, during which time he was granted a leave of absence to serve as a chaplain in the European theater. He has a wife and a six-year-old daughter.

Approximately 225 attended the meeting. Dick Boone was chairman, and the Rev. Albert Hellenga of Second Reformed church served as moderator.

The Rev. J. R. Euwema, who served the church 12 years, left the first of the year to become pastor of the Reformed church at Cedar Grove, Wis.

Two Accidents Occur Near City

One person was slightly injured and three cars and two trucks were damaged in two accidents near Holland today.

Mrs. Marie Terpsma of Butternut drive was treated in Holland hospital for two deep lacerations over the right knee, abrasions to the left knee and abrasions above the right eye received in an accident at 11:30 a.m. today on US-31 near Butternut drive.

Mrs. Terpsma and her daughter were passengers in a car driven by Mrs. Luceile Fabiano of Butternut drive which crashed into the rear of a dump truck which was being towed by a car. Driving the car was Mrs. Vivian Brandsen and steering the truck was her husband, Walter. Mrs. Fabiano told sheriff's officers she misjudged her speed when she attempted to pass the slow-moving truck which she at first thought was stalled on the pavement. After she attempted to pass the truck, she withdrew because of an S-curve ahead.

Another car and a panel truck were damaged at 9:30 a.m. today on the Ottawa beach road a mile west of the airport. Sheriff's officers said the crash occurred as the truck, operated by Donald K. Van Ommen, route 3, Holland, drove onto the shoulder and without warning made a U-turn causing a car driven by Dorothy J. Barry of Grand Rapids to crash into the left rear fender. The Barry car was considerably damaged. Van Ommen was given a summons for an improper turn.

Body of Drowned Man Recovered At Eagle Crest

The body of Alexander Young Glennie, 54-year-old Grand Rapids man who was drowned Sunday morning while attempting to swim the channel, was recovered at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday from Lake Michigan at Eagle Crest park, about a mile north of the breakwaters.

The body was discovered floating in the water about 20 feet from shore by John Scanlan of Dayton, Ohio, who has been resorting in the Dr. Harold Damstra cottage at Eagle Crest. Scanlan brought the body to shore and notified sheriff's officers. With him at the time were Ann, Robert and Phyllis Kapstick, all of Dayton.

Assisting sheriff's officers and Coroner Gilbert Vande Water at the beach were Seaman 1 C Edward C. Nash and Seaman 1 C George Peterson of the Holland Coast Guard station and George A. Foote, Macatawa resident.

Officers said Glennie's face was badly bruised by contact with rocks and sand and his body showed marks of grappling hooks, indicating dragging operations had been carried on in the right area.

The body was identified Wednesday night by Robert Barnes of Grand Rapids, a fishing companion of Glennie Sunday morning, and by John T. Powers of Grand Rapids, a co-worker of Glennie.

After identification, the body was taken to the Hamilton funeral home, Cass Ave., Detroit.

Glennie, former Detroit golf professional, came to Grand Rapids two months ago. His wife, a son and two daughters live in Detroit, and a brother, Charles A. Glennie, lives at Spring Lake.

Weatherman Says More Rain; Mercury Will Drop

When it rains it pours—and it keeps pouring. Rain for two days in a row is something to talk about, but when the weatherman predicts a third rainy day, it's almost unbelievable. That's what he did, though, and tomorrow Holland may get another shower bath.

Local weather officials reported that 1.5 inches of rain fell on Holland since midnight last night. Mother Nature told the town "It's three o'clock in the morning" this morning as terrific thunder crashes roused many citizens out of bed.

Even warm weather lovers are beginning to wonder if there is no end to the stifling heat. No end is promised but a let up is predicted by the weatherman tomorrow when he says the mercury will drop

Inspectors Find Few Violations In Milk Tests

A checkup of various milk pasteurizing plants this week by City Inspector Ben Wiersema and E. J. Friar of the State Bureau of Dairying revealed a few violations of standard milk requirements, Wiersema said today.

The inspectors said no watered milk was found. Some samples of farmers' milk showed poor keeping qualities and sediment tests showed approximately 20 per cent sub-standard milk. This, the inspectors said, was due mainly to faulty handling and poor cooling at the farm. State law and city ordinances require prompt cooling to 60 degrees or lower.

A few cans of milk were condemned and returned to the farm because of excessive sediment. Several milk cans were condemned because of open seams and rusty interiors.

The inspectors plan a recheck at each pasteurizing plant soon and special attention will be given to those producers whose milk did not meet standard requirements in the survey. If no improvement is noted, it will be necessary to keep the sub-standard milk from entering Holland.

Inspector Friar said that if this milk is rejected, all nearby creameries will be notified and such plants cannot buy rejected milk until the farm and the milk show decided improvement and pass another inspection.

Tests made at each plant included a temperature reading, sediment determination, a test to ascertain if water content was normal, and a methylene blue examination to determine the keeping quality of each farmer's milk.

Coupons Boost Town Clock Fund

Tower Clock Fund
Needed	$425
Collected	83

Civic-minded Hollanders added $19 to the Old Tower clock fund Wednesday, Jaycees committeemen said today. The money was sent in with coupons from The Sentinel. One citizen, who signed himself "Lonesome" attached $1 to his coupon and included a poem in which he pointed out that he was often late to meals because he could no longer depend on the clock.

Sgt. Jerry Vanderbeek, who measures in miles the distance he has climbed to keep the old clock running, sent in $1 and commented, "There's more where that came from if it is needed to keep me from climbing the tower daily."

Meanwhile, committees were organized to canvass the business and industrial areas. Junior Chamber of Commerce committeemen Kenneth Hoffman and John Benson said the campaign was being conducted "the hard way."

"We could easily get the money from one or two sources, but since everybody in town has stake in the landmark, we feel everyone will want to contribute. No contribution is too small to be acceptable," they explained.

Largest contribution so far is $20; smallest $1.

"There are more $1 contributions than any other denomination," Hoffman said.

Exchangites Hear Lecture on Paper

Glenn Stewart, advertising manager of the Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment Co., addressed members of Exchange club at the first fall meeting Monday noon in the Warm Friend Tavern. His demonstration-lecture was entitled, "Paper and Its Uses—From the Cradle to the Grave."

The speaker made paper as he talked and presented each Exchangite with a durable paper washcloth. Mr. Stewart said there is no paper shortage but that more paper is being used than ever before. He said a hornet's nest is a perfect example of wood paper plus waterproofing. The Chinese made the first paper about 600 A.D., according to the speaker.

Dr. Nelson Clark and Albert Schaafsma won prizes in an experiment conducted by Mr. Stewart.

C. C. Wood introduced the speaker and Clarence Jalving led group singing. Retiring president, Eugene Ripley, handed the gavel to the president-elect, Dr. Lester Kuyper. Prof. Paul E. Hinkamp led opening devotions.

Peter Kroman was named delegate to the national Exchange convention to be held in Cincinnati.

Guests of the club were City Clerk Clarence Grevengoed, Harry Carroll of Chicago, Alvin Cook and Neal Steketee of Holland. Names of Grevengoed, Cook and Clifford E. Young were read for club membership.

Plans for entertaining football squads by the club were discussed.

Decoration Given Navy Lieutenant

Navy Lt. Edgar James Dibble, a Hope college graduate who has been in the service since before Pearl Harbor, was presented with a Distinguished Flying cross and a permanent citation at ceremonies Aug. 16 at the Naval Air Test Center, Patuxent River, Md., where he is attached to the service test division of the test center with the position of senior special projects officer.

The citation, signed for the President by James Forrestal, former Secretary of the Navy, reads as follows:

"For heroism and extraordinary achievement in aerial flight as a patrol plane commander of a patrol bomber in bombing squadron 28, in action against enemy Japanese forces in the Southwest Pacific war area from Feb. 28 to June 16, 1945. Participating in 20 missions during this period, Lt. Dibble contributed materially to the success of his squadron. His devotion to duty was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Lt. Dibble and his wife, the former Charlene McCormick of Holland, and their two children live at the Patuxent River base. His mother lives in Palmyra, N. Y. Dibble joined the service immediately following his graduation from Hope college in June, 1941. He was married March 19, 1944, and left the following October for the Southwest Pacific.

Tower Club Opens Season For Holland Teen-Agers

The Tower club, youth center for Holland teen-agers, officially opened Monday afternoon under the direction of Mrs. J. G. Van Leuwen. The center will be open each afternoon from 3 to 6 p.m. also on week-end nights, Mrs. Van Leuwen said.

A large crowd participated in activities on opening day.

General housecleaning and repairs including recovering of some furniture, was done during the summer when the center was closed for the first time since its beginning in the summer of 1945.

All children who have reached the age of 13 are now eligible for memberships which can be purchased at the center. These expire Feb. 1. Mrs. Van Leuwen reported that more than 50 memberships were sold the first day and she expects a total of more than 400 members.

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff has learned that he has been appointed a member of the Youth Guidance committee of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police. Other members are Supt. Edwin Morgan of Detroit, Chief Tom Gillespie of St. Joseph, Chief L. C. Knox of Wayne, Chief Dan E. L. Patch of Ypsilanti, Chief Wilford Riley of Allen Park and Capt. Pine Creek School Votes Bond Issue

Voters of the Pine Creek school district No. 6 fractional Tuesday night voted a $5,000 bond issue to buy, equip and move the Beechwood chapel to the school to house the kindergarten and first graders.

According to Al Riemersma, director, the district voted to increase taxation to a total of 38 mills the first year and 20 mills for the next four years. He said 34 votes were cast in favor of the millage and 33 in favor of the bonding issue. There was no dissenting vote.

Riemersma explained that the move had been under consideration for the past year. The issue was passed in an election in June, but some technicality delayed approval in Lansing. He described the new election as a routine gesture.

After the chapel is moved, it will be remodeled to conform to the needs of a school.

Van Buren County Fair Features Horse Acts

Hartford, Sept. 11—Horses have been scheduled to play one of the most important roles in the annual Van Buren county fair at Hartford, Sept. 29 to Oct. 4.

One of the stellar attractions of the fair will feature the Hunneford family and their riding act including five horses. Five days of harness racing promise an outstanding field of horses.

Two $1,000 stake races have been arranged to attract some of the speediest trotters and pacers in the midwest.

State Accelerates Bonus Payments

Veterans are getting their state bonus checks at the rate of 20,000 per month, according to figures released by the adjutant General's office in Lansing.

At the end of 23 weeks of bonus payment, World War II veterans in Mason, Newaygo, Oceana and Ottawa counties have received a total of $2,275,070 in state bonus checks.

In the four counties, 5,996 former GI's have received their checks out of a total 11,986 eligible to apply. Muskegon county piled up an average of 7,207 out of 11,739 eligible veterans having been paid.

State officials calculate that all present payments will be processed by the end of October, or earlier.

Ottawa county shows 3,558 paid out of 6,488 eligible, for a total of $1,345,640.

Former Chaplain Plans Dutch Trip

The Rev. Anthony A. Tinklenberg, of 29 East 16th St., senior chaplain with the U.S. Navy for three years, was to leave Holland Tuesday for the East Coast and will sail Friday aboard the S. S. Westerdam for the Netherlands to engage in evangelical work in Dutch labor camps under sponsorship of the Church World Service.

The former chaplain will be a member of a team consisting of four ministers and one musician traveling from camp to camp to conduct meetings. The program was arranged by Church World Service at the request of Reformed churches in the Netherlands. It will continue for a year or more.

Rev. Tinklenberg's wife and two daughters will remain in Holland. He was discharged from Naval service in June, 1946, after three years, 20 months of which were spent at Area Heights Naval hospital at Pearl Harbor.

The labor camps which Tinklenberg's team will visit are government camps for construction purposes. They are not to be confused with concentration camps.

Nature's Motion Conforms to Climatic Variations

Birds have quit singing. Flowers are giving way to fruit and seed. Sandpipers and plovers are taking over the beaches. Fall is gradually coming and winter is only three pages down on the calendar.

Talk about fashions—the birds change their feathers for winter around this time of the year. The change is gradual and they begin by wearing off the ends of their present feathers. The feathered creatures change plumes three times a year, spring, summer and winter.

Birds don't sing much this time of the year because they are not breeding and their food supply is relatively plentiful, according to Teunis Vergeer, professor of biology at Hope college. During breeding season, spring, birds sing to keep other of the same species out of their feeding area. The singing is to declare a bird's food territory, he said.

Other signs of fall are several birds rendezvousing on wires, in trees and in fields for the long flight south. The exodus to warmer climates starts soon and continues through October, according to Prof. Vergeer.

Great lines of swallows and martins on telephone and telegraph wires over marshs and congregations of blackbirds in wood borders are September signs.

Sandpipers and plovers are evident in large numbers at the beaches this time of year. They take over the sands deserted by back-to-school vacationers.

Other signs of fall and the gradual approach of winter are in evidence on the sidewalks these days. The caterpillars ambling along the sidewalks this time of year are sure signs of approaching winter. The moth caterpillars are making cocoons in which to spend the winter.

Other animals will soon hole-down for their winter's hibernation.

In the flower world, daisies are prevalent during September. Goldenrod and asters now reach their prime. Blazing star or gay feather is one of the more conspicuous of September's blooms.

The world of nature is getting set for the winter.

Farm-to-Prosper Round-up Moved Ahead This Year

Trustees Enthusiastic Over 1947 Prospects; Annual Meal Dropped

The annual round-up climaxing the 1947 West Michigan Farm-to-Prosper contest will be held between Christmas and New Years. It was decided at a meeting of the contest association board of trustees in Muskegon Thursday night.

The definite date will be set after Gov. Sigler has been contacted and arrangements made for use of Muskegon High school facilities. Time of the round-up was advanced from late in January, when it previously had been held in view of the blizzard of last winter which forced abandonment of the big day. It was felt more dependence could be placed on the weather during the holiday season.

Because of the large number expected to attend the round-up from competing organizations in Mason, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana and Ottawa counties it was felt the dinner here-to-fore given would have to be eliminated. It was pointed out catering service is not available. The dining hall facilities at Muskegon High school building, most extensive in the five counties, were taxed to capacity by the 800 planned for last winter. It is expected this number will be far exceeded this year with about a dozen more organizations participating than in 1946.

It is planned, however, to arrange a light lunch following the afternoon program before those attending start for home.

Highlight of the program again will be the awarding of prizes to winners by Gov. Sigler. In view of the fact a dinner will not have to be financed more entertainment talent will be provided for the afternoon program.

The massed bands of the Muskegon county 4-H clubs will provide a concert for a half hour preceding the regular program.

Prizes for winning organizations will be the same as last year certificates of award and cash prize of $100 for the top winner of the five counties. This was won in 1946 by the North Chester Community Farm bureau of Ottawa county. Prize money is provided for winners in the respective counties by the business organizations in their counties.

All members of competing organizations which turn in reports of their activities to the county agricultural agents offices at end of the year are eligible to attend the round-up. In view of the advanced date of the round-up this year, the reports must be in by Dec. 1.

Those attending the meeting Thursday night were highly enthusiastic over the prospects this season. "I believe the contest is doing more for rural community organizations this year than ever before," said Dan Reed, of Pentwater, district representative of the Michigan State Farm bureau.

The contest is open to any rural community organization and is for the sole purpose of promoting community well-being through stimulus of friendly rivalry.

DAR Will Begin Fall Schedule

Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will open the fall schedule next Thursday with a meeting at 3 p.m. in the home of Mrs. J. J. Mikula, 516 Howard Ave. The afternoon meeting was planned instead of the usual fall luncheon because of the district meeting and luncheon to be held in Holland Sept. 22.

Mrs. John Rozeboom, regent, will preside at the meeting Thursday, and Mrs. F. E. DeWeese will speak on "DAR Approved Schools." On the social committee are Mrs. Merrick Hanchett, Mrs. Larry Geuder, Miss Maibelle Geiger, Mrs. O. S. Cross and Mrs. W. L. Eaton.

Other programs arranged for the year include a talk by Mrs. O. S. Cross on the history of the local chapter; a program of music arranged by Miss Florence Lazarski of the public schools; readings by Mrs. J. W. Curtis of Fennville; an explanation of the state DAR Americanism work by Mrs. Ralph Newman of St. Joseph, state chairman; a talk on social work in the county by Mrs. Mayo Hadden; a book review by Mrs. Bastian Kruithof and a spring luncheon and musical arranged by Mrs. M. L. Hinga.

Zeeland Names Engineer To Study Water Supply

Zeeland, Sept. 11 — Alfred E. Hansen, engineer of Muskegon, has been selected to study the water supply situation in the city of Zeeland.

Several difficulties have hampered water servicing to the eastern section of the city from the source at the northwest limits. To overcome these problems it is mandatory that either the capacity of the storage tanks or of the water mains be increased.

Hansen will make a complete survey of present water service, detail the water users and water use and make estimates of extension needs in all areas of the city.

The wet-cell battery was invented by an Englishman, John Frederick Daniell in 1836.

Now living in New Era after a wedding trip to Canada and New York, are Mr. and Mrs. Milan Meyers who were married Aug. 15 in New Era Christian Reformed church. The bride, the former Elaine Vannette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Avert Vannette, 199 West 15th St., Holland. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Meyers of New Era.

In the wedding party were Mrs. John Van Maastricht of Holland, matron of honor, Miss Eleanor Dykstra and Mrs. Eldon Postema, bridesmaids, Misses Clara Jean Vannette and Phyllis Ann Meyers, junior bridesmaids, Joane Kramer and Mary Ruth Lummen, flower girls, James Kramer and Leonard Earl Somers, ringbearers. Gerald Meyers was best man and Jack Yonkers, Stanley Kolk, Calvin Vannette and David Kolk were ushers.

Miss Caroline Kalman Wed to Claude Holcomb

In a double ring ceremony performed Saturday morning, Aug. 23, at St. Francis de Sales church, Miss Caroline Kalman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kalman, 12 North River Ave., became the bride of Claude M. Holcomb, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Toby Buikema of Zeeland.

The nuptial high mass was solemnized by the Rev. J. M. Westdorp at 9 a.m. before an altar decorated with white gladioli, snapdragons, ferns and lighted candelabra.

Albert Schwarz played traditional wedding music and members of the adult choir sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of traditional ivory satin fashioned with V-neckline edged in lace, fitted bodice and long tapered sleeves. The full hoop skirt, caught in bows at the waist, extended into a long train. Her fingertip veil was trimmed with chantilly lace and held in place by a seed pearl tiara. Her single strand of pearls was a gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and snapdragons.

Miss Alyce Kalman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a pale blue taffeta gown and carrying a mixed shower bouquet. Volleys From Ambush

DR. ARNOLD Mulder dropped in to talk to the Ambusher about the colm on Martin Van Buren. Dr. Mulder says that during the Van Buren administration many state papers received Van Buren's signature and the notation "Old Kinderhook." This was what the Van Buren estate was called in those days and the designation, "Old Kinderhook" simply meant that President Van Buren had signed the documents while on a visit to the family homestead.

In time political associates became so accustomed to the "Old Kinderhook" notation that it became a mark of authenticity. In other words, when a paper carried the mark, associates immediately knew President Van Buren had read the contents and approved.

Later "Old Kinderhook" was shortened—for even in those days writers liked to save themselves work—to "O. K." This was survived to this day as an expression of correctness.

The O. K. has also been ascribed to President Andrew Jackson, who was notoriously a poor speller. But Dr. Mulder says scholars have now generally discarded this idea of the origin of OK.

Some newspapers use the "OK" as is, some use "O. K.," some use "okeh" and some "okay." The Sentinel, incidentally, has a style of "okay," but they all mean the same and, according to Dr. Mulder, all come from Old Kinderhook as noted.

The visit of Dr Mulder, incidentally, set off another train of memories. The and Mrs. Ambusher (the artifices necessary to maintain semblances of anonymity) visited old Fort Crailo in Albany. This is where "Yankee Doodle" is supposed to have been written.

The spot hasn't too many visitors, and so the caretaker devoted his entire time to a recital of the history of the place. It was most interesting.

Perhaps you would like to know that plans call for completely furnishing the old manor house with Dutch furniture and furnishings. A number of beautiful pieces of historic furniture, not of Dutch origin, will be moved to some other shrine.

Echoes of Holland's wooden money came to this office a few days ago in a letter from Paul W. Wooden, former city editor, who during the decade he spent on the Sentinel force was admonished often not to take any wooden nickels.

In acknowledging receipt of the Centennial souvenir, Wooden spun a fantastic yarn, supposedly written from the Decatur county jail in Greensburg, Ind., where he is held after being arrested for allegedly jamming the wooden gulden in a slot machine.

"And so here I rot—condemned as a counterfeiter who direly plotted to set up his own dynasty and, on ascension day, decree the wooden gulden to be the official rootofallevil," he wrote. He said since his name was Wooden, he was accused of presidential aspirations, riding to power on a plank of wooden nickels.

Incidentally, wooden nickels (also twee gulden) are still available at Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

The Chamber of Commerce has received its first request for information for Tulip Time in 1948. The letter came from a Chicagoan who plans to be married next May and wants to come to Holland for his honeymoon. He asked how soon hotel reservations should be made. Chamber headquarters also received a request from Belgium for a wooden shoe booklet. The writer said he was planning a trip to the United States next year from May to November.

"Maybe those Lawndale court people should have prayed for a hail storm instead of shooting those starlings," a police officer remarked Friday after word came that a hail storm in Byron Center had killed 125 sparrows roosting in a single tree. Drastic measures to reduce the starling flocks in Lawndale court were taken two weeks ago when police and other marksmen shot birds for two days.

Clarence Grevengoed, city clerk, recalls an elaborate practical joke pulled by some of the Holland Furnace salesmen, whose names he has charitably forgotten.

It seems one of the group attending a sales convention was especially fond of seafood and all during the sessions having to do with increased sales quotas and selling the product and servicing and whatever else goes on at a convention designed at increasing popularity of a furnace, this individual kept thinking that soon he'd be able to eat a dinner of fresh seafood.

Finally the session came to an end and a group of the salesmen started out for their evening meal, with our victim mentally drooling over chicken lobster with drawn butter.

Two companions, knowing his appetite for lobster and drawn butter, lagged far enough behind to stage the joke. The larger of the pair was to represent himself as the guard at a mental hospital, while the slighter one would be the attending physician.

When a waitress appeared to take orders, she was taken aside and the situation explained carefully. Mr. X was a non-violent mental incompetent who thought he liked seafood, but certain allergies made it necessary to avoid this fare.

"All he can eat is ham and eggs," the bogus physician said. "No matter what he orders, just humor him by taking down the order but remember—ham and eggs."

The startled waitress followed directions to the letter.

(The Ambusher digresses to comment this must have been a very long time ago. Imagine a waitress following directions in this day and age. Also eggs, remember?)

So after ordering lobster and getting ham and eggs our hero started to assert his rights. But the waitress hurried out of earshot each time he protested.

Shall we charitably draw the curtain over the ensuing scenes? Especially when the joking pair took their victim between them and escorted him to the door while everybody in the restaurant stared?

The waitress, of course, had spread the news all over that she was feeding a nut!

Peach Farms Report Plenty to Go Around

Fennville, Sept. 11 (Special) — The peach harvest season is here. The Fennville Fruit exchange reports early brands of peaches are coming in and indications point to plenty of peaches to go around.

Early brands reported include Red Havens, Hail Havens, South Havens, Early Rochesters and Golden Jubilees. Farmers report a scarcity of peaches, but final pickings are likely to shatter the scarcity reports.

According to a farmer in the Fennville area, the first picked peaches are small because of insufficient moisture during the growing season.

Grand Haven, Sept. 11 (UP) — George Courtade, 27-year-old Conklin truck driver whose vehicle was involved in a Labor week-end accident that killed five members of a Detroit family, was free on $2,500 bond today, pending examination on manslaughter charges.

The five killed when the family car collided with Courtade's truck near Coopersville last Sunday were Robert Moylan, 28, of Detroit, his three children, Robert, Jr., 7, Kathleen, 5, Dennis, 3, and Moylan's father-in-law, Earl Mixter, 55, of near Oxford.

Moylan's wife, Betty, 28, is recovering satisfactorily in St. Mary's hospital at Grand Rapids.

Courtade and his companion, Harvey Umlor, 29, route 1, Conklin, received only minor bruises.

Bond Cashing Rush Subsides

Reports from the two local banks list $63,298.05 as paid out to 315 World War II veterans on terminal leave bonds in Holland. The figure includes the first three days.

A few of the former servicemen are depositing the bond money in savings accounts, according to officials at one of the banks. No rush was in evidence for Saturday, according to bank officials.

Several had to wait in small lines Tuesday, but since then the rush has slackened.

Over the entire nation 9,000,000 former servicemen are eligible to cash a total of $1,800,000,000 in bonds. Economists were keeping a sharp eye on bond cashing and some merchants looked for a business spurt.

Veterans are continuing to exchange their securities for paid up premiums in national service life insurance, it was said.

President Truman urged all veterans who do not need the money to keep the bonds which carry 2½ per cent interest, as a nest egg.

PRESS AGENT BY ANY NAME

A press agent is a press agent, no matter what name he goes by. Of late years the members of this tribe have rather favored some such name as "public relations secretary." But no matter what the title, he is still a press agent.

At this moment said press agent is under fire again. A legislative committee on budgetary control is out gunning for the press agents. The committee wants to know how many of the breed are employed by the departments of the state government, how much money they are taking from the Michigan tax payer, how much they are getting in salaries, how much they spend for paper and typewriter ribbons and duplicating machines.

One estimate has it that last year the press agents cost the Michigan tax payer about $250,000 in salaries alone. But that was only part of the cost. One investigator has asserted that nearly $700,000 was spent last year for paper, binding equipment and all the other devices that are needed by the press agent tribe to do their job properly. If those figures are correct the people of Michigan spent in round numbers a million dollars last year — and every other year — for press agents.

Now it would be foolish to argue that the press agent, whatever his title may be, should be abolished. Most commercial concerns and private institutions recognize the value of the press agent. Nearly every college and university or big manufacturing institution has a press agent. Such a person can be of great service in keeping the public acquainted with the complicated affairs of an organization. They can serve as valuable liaison officers between the organization and the newspapers.

But the trouble is that old human nature usually steps in. In the case of a private organization the press agent is controlled by the organization itself. In the case of state departments the press agent usually finds it to his advantage to become propagandist for his boss. His salary depends on the boss' favor and so the press agent cannily toots the boss' horn, either directly, or indirectly by telling the people what a wonderful department or bureau his boss has developed. Also, of course, if he is wise, he does his best to cover up the mistakes of his boss or to whitewash the inefficiencies of the department he is tooting.

And all that stuff is produced at the expense of the tax payers. The press agents send that material to the newspaper and radio offices by tons each year. Most newspaper editors don't even open the familiar envelopes that contain the releases; those documents, paid for by the tax payer, go into the waste basket without so much as a glance.

It is good to have a little light thrown upon the press agent as an institution.

Sunday School Lesson

September 14, 1947
Harmonious Living
Proverbs 3:30, 31; 15:1, 18; Proverbs 22:24, 25; Matthew 5:9
By Henry Geerlings

The clatter and jargon that predominates American life may have a detrimental effect on us spiritually. Quiet hours and places, so essential to contemplative experience, are hard to find. In fact, a recently made study reveals that city ministers on the average spend just ten minutes a day in private prayer. It is not in our hearts to censure them for indifference to their own devotional needs, but rather to appreciate their power of concentration which can silence the ringing of telephones for even that long a time. In rural areas, according to the same study, ministers pray 15 minutes a day in spite of telephone interruptions. If we were able to secure a set of figures on the devotional habits of laymen, it probably would not make the picture look any brighter.

This is a major problem that religion and education must face. America has gone a long way toward becoming a land of jangled nerves. The scene is one that makes conflicting claims upon the emotional interests of all of us. A fire truck roars by the church to break upon the hush of a communion service. The college boy who was accustomed to sit on a log in the woods to study his lessons has a great grandson who rides to class in his father's car or more likely in his own jalopy. And he studies in a frat house where the radio is never silent.

This cannot be considered a new problem. The apostle Paul lived in a world that fell apart because of the same incentives that plague us today. He apparently had developed an ability to keep devotional fires burning in spite of every wind that blew. The Roman world was rapidly becoming urbanized and mechanized to the extent that people who lived in the country were thought of as barbarians. Because of this, the great apostle saw fit to caution his friends of Thessalonica, a typical Roman metropolis, that they study to be quiet.

Now it is impossible to convey to others that which we do not possess ourselves. Unless one's heart is pure, unless one's own heart is possessed of quiet and peace it will be impossible to shed any peace and quiet among men. Unless we have been soundly converted to Christ and unless we have that peace and quiet which comes from a fully consecrated and dedicated life to Christ, we cannot possibly be a peacemaker among men. The pure in heart alone have a vision of God and this purity of heart and vision of God enables us to emphasize quietness.

Some people seem to go about in life hunting reasons for quarreling. A man bought a farm. While he was moving in, the man on the next farm called to him in a belligerent tone, "I want you to know that your fence is a foot over on my property." The other man replied, "I am very sorry. I will have it changed as soon as I can. I would rather have it a foot on my side than to take your land." The other man was decidedly taken back. "Well if that is the way you feel about it we will let it be as it is." The fine spirit of the new neighbor quite overcame him. The one man who chose not to strive about so small a matter prevented a quarrel and made a friend. The best way to stop a fight is not to let it start.

The other day a speaker told about the various blights which destroy fruits and vegetables. He said, "Now is the time to spray before the blight gets started . . ." That is true of life. It takes a lot more brains, purpose and skill to produce harmony, than it does to produce discord.

The Christian approach to the problem of living harmoniously together is positive rather than negative. Missionary history is full of examples in which love was able to conquer hate, good will was able to turn suspicion into confidence, and fear into trust. If missionaries hd followed an eye-for-an-eye policy, the missionary story would not be the glorious chapter it is in world history. Because they, like their Master, when they were reviled, reviled not again; when they suffered they did not threaten . . . They committed themselves to him who judges righteously, they have turned savage tribes into peace-loving peoples, and have made Christ real to people who had never heard of Him before. Men need to see love in action, in order to understand the love of Christ that constrains us.

But we will not be able to follow this doctrine unless we see something good in every man. Our American democracy is based on the belief that in every man, regardless of race, creed, or color, there is something of inherent worth which every other person is bound to respect. But that idea grows directly out of the Christian teaching that potentially every man is a child of God, and therefore precious in His sight.

Plan County Meeting In Local Church

Chinese Woman Visiting Home Of Local Friend

"She is an old friend of China," says Carol Chen of Tena Holkeboer, daughter of Mrs. Ann Holkeboer, 34 East 15th St.

Miss Chen paused a few days in Holland as guest of Mrs. Holkeboer before leaving for Columbia university, where she will study education courses for one year.

Principal of Amoy Girl's High school in Amoy, China, Miss Chen plans to return to her position after the year at Columbia.

Miss Chen met Tena Holkeboer at the Amoy school when the Holland girl went to China as a missionary, 27 years ago. Tena replaces Miss Chen as principal while she studies at Columbia.

Miss Holkeboer taught Miss Chen Bible in 1927-28. That began a friendship which has lasted through the years.

Miss Chen described Japanese occupation of Amoy as "difficult." The Japs took over the city and their school in 1941. They established school authority but allowed the Chinese instructors to remain.

The Japanese language was a "must" in the schools during enemy occupation. Children would quarrel with their language teachers because they did not want to learn the enemy tongue, said Miss Chen.

The girls at the school continued the fight against the Japs by refusing to co-operate at their many public assemblies. The Japs would call an assembly of over 1,000 students to celebrate a victory. When required to sing at the assembly, the girl students would only let out a whisper, said Miss Chen.

The Jap commanders would call the principals to explain the silence of the pupils. Miss Chen said it took quick thinking to make an excuse before the irate Jap commanders.

Religious instruction was banned under Jap orders, but small groups of girls met regularly for their Bible class, according to Miss Chen.

The invaders took pianos, desks, tables and other furniture from the schools for their private use, but Amoy school was luckily spared, said Miss Chen.

Miss Chen arrived in San Francisco Aug. 25. She relates that 140 Chinese students were aboard the boat. They will attend colleges all over the United States.

"In America, you have everything convenient, new and plentiful," was Miss Chen's impression of her first visit to this country.

Miss Chen visited the University of California and the University of Chicago and was surprised at the size and complete equipment at both schols.

She said there is plenty of food in China but prices are beyond reach of the ordinary pocketbook. There is enough rice, much more than the two pounds a month per person under the Japanese occupation.

Local Couple Hears of Conditions In Japan

Mr. and Mrs. M. De Boer of 136 East 16th St. received a letter from Tokyo, Japan, written by their daughter-in-law, Camilla Warren De Boer, wife of their son, Capt. C. M. De Boer.

An interesting excerpt from her letter reads, "C.C.S. (censor department) gave a party for about 70 war orphans. A Japanese woman here has collected and cares for that many war orphans. Arnold Cautions Against Fumigants

County Agent L.R. Arnold warns farmers to be extremely careful when using flammable insectides to spray barns, corn cribs and grain storages. "Carbon bisulfide or 'high life,' as it is commonly called, is one of the most dangerous sprays," he says. This insectide is more explosive than gasoline and it can ignite from the heat of a steam pipe.

If flammable fumigants and insectides must be used, the county agent pointed out, they should never be kept inside of a building housing persons or animals. "Never, under any circumstances, should anyone strike a match within 10 feet of a building which is being fumigated. "When using these flammable insectides" Mr. Arnold says, 'Be sure there is an approved fire extinguisher handy. There are extinguishers especially designed to put out chemical fires quickly and effectively."

The county agent cautions against using insectides which produce harmful fumes. He explains that the gases or fumes set up by some fumigants can cause a serious lung condition that often results in death.

Sprays which have a fire hazard less than kerosene are considered safe. Nevertheless a fire extinguisher nearby provides necessary protection. Be prepared for fire.

Grand Rapids Man Drowns in Attempt To Swim Channel

Heart Attack Believed Responsible; Dragging Operations Continue

Dragging operations continued today in an effort to recover the body of Alexander Young Glennie, 54, of Grand Rapids, former Detroiter who disappeared while swimming in the channel early Sunday morning.

Since Glennie went down without any call for help, it is believed he died of a heart attack. Coast Guardsmen had a boat at the spot within five minutes, but were unble to locate the body.

Glennie was a member of a Grand Rapids fishing party which arrived at Ottawa Beach at 6:30 a.m. and crossed by boat to the Macatawa side for fishing, despite information that fish were not biting at the time.

Some time later, according to sheriff's officers, Glennie decided to swim the channel and, against the advice of others in the party, dived off the south pier. When he got to the middle of the channel, the current started moving east and forced him off his course 120 feet. When he got within 30 feet of the north pier, he went down without any call for help or commotion.

Assisting the Coast Guard with dragging were sheriff's officers, conservation department officers, Harbormaster Henry Vander Schel and John Klingenberg. Fire Chief Andrew Klomparens offered the use of air helmets for underwater purposes and two volunteers, Marene Bosnka and Harold Westrate, made two attempts, but the apparatus could not be properly adjusted and sheriff's officers would not allow the men to get to the bottom.

Sheriff's officers said dragging operations were not particularly effective since the area in which the vicitm went under is strewn with boulders, with openings two to four feet in depth. Sheriff William M. Boeve came from Grand Haven to be present.

It was believed this was Glennie's first fishing trip to Holland. He moved to Grand Rapids two months ago from Detroit where he had been a golf pro at two clubs and associated in the golf department of a department store.

With him in the fishing party were Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barnes and Dominic Malizia, all of Gand Rapids.

City police, co-operating with the sheriff's department and other officers, notified members of the family and learned Glennie is survived by the wife and a son, Richard, of Detroit, and two daughters, Mrs. George B. Lowrie of Detroit and Mrs. H. T. Bannister of Royal Oak.

Hope Grid Team Shows Progress

With grid drills scheduled twice daily, Coach Al Vanderbush said today that although there were still many weak spots, the Hope squad was beginning to show promise. The center spot, however received a setback Monday, when Bob Van Zanten, center from Muskegon, was seized with an attack of appendicitis. Vanderbush said he couldn't say definitely, but the lad may be lost for the remainder of the season.

Also assisting with the grid chores, are Dick Higgs, Jack Yeomans and Milton (Bud) Hinga.

Yeomans is working with the linemen while Higgs assists in the backfield. Hinga is instructing the kickers throughout the drills.

Youth Waives on Car Theft Count

Grand Haven, Sept. 8 (Special) —Erwin Slack, 18, of Grand Haven, waived examination on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile without intent to steal when he was arraigned today before Justice George Hoffer.

Unable to provide $500 bond for his appearance in Circuit Court Sept. 11, he is held in the county jail.

He is charged with taking the car belonging to his aunt, Mrs. Florence Bonneau of Grand Haven, who was visiting in Pontiac, Saturday night. He returned the car to the home about 5:45 a.m. Sunday and as he was parking it he ran into a tree resulting in slight damage to the car.

Sheriff's officers found a Mexican in the car who was in a state of intoxication. The Mexican informed them it was Slack who took the car.

Two Cars Damaged

Cars driven by Gordon Sharphorn, 17, of 40 West 21st St., and Clarence Zoerman, 34, route 6, were damaged in an accident at 12:20 a.m. today on Eighth St. 100 feet west of Fairbanks Ave. The crash occurred as Sharphorn was making a right turn into a driveway. He was given a ticket for failure to stop within an assured clear distance ahead. Sharphorn's car was damaged on the right front and Zoerman's car on the right rear.

Holland Mentor Trims Grid Squad

"Our first scrimmage Saturday revealed both our good and bad points," Coach Robert Stupka of Holland High said today. He hinted that the boys have come a long way since the opening of practice, but still needed plenty of hard work. "The scrimmage also allowed me to see all the boys in action, giving an opportunity to cut the squad," he said. He trimmed the squad to 32 men at Monday's practice.

The grid mentor, said however that the first was by no means final, because any boy on the second squad, who shows any promise, will be taken on the first squad. Monday's drills were devoted to blocking, passing and tackling drills.

Linemen on the first squad after the cut are: Fuzz Bauman, Jack vander Velde, Gerrit Israels, Paul Van Eck, Ken Van Wieren, Roger Beckman, Spence Van Alburg, Charles Van Duren, Harold Harrington, Lyn Post, Don Piersma, Junior Bussies, Roger Kramer, Clayton Ter Haar, Roger Northuis, Rex Young, Bob Adams, Earl Lubbers, Paul Becker, Ed Borr, Fred Lindsay, Bill Bocks, and Howard Van Voorst.

Stupka said that Bocks and Van Alsburg had shown a great deal of promise in the first week of practice, along with everal other linemen.

The varsity backfield now includes, Ron Appledorn, Don Van Hekken, Don Lokker, Charles Zwemer, Dave Kempker, Bernard Velthouse, Richard Malchow, Roger Prin and Frank Wlodarczyck. Among the backs who have shown well, Stupka mentioned Appledorn, Kempker, Wlodarczyck and Van Hekken. "All the boys have shown plenty of pirit", the coach said, "and I look for a good scrappy ball club".

Holland High opens its season at Grand Rapids Creston on Sept. 19. The first home game will be played here Sept. 27 against the strong Catholic Central aggregation also of Grand Rapids.

Rookies To Give Vets Battle for Starting Posts, Says Coach

With less than two weeks remaining before the first Hope gridiron contest, Coach Al Vanderbush is holding hard scrimmages in order to round his outfit into shape. The Hope squad now has over 60 candidates and more are still expected to appear.

Vanderbush has had a full week to study his gridders and has discovered some promising talent which will be new to the local fans this year. Campbell a center has been showing some indications of a tough ball player and appears certain to make the squad. At Tuesday morning's practice, Len Dick, regular guard from last years' squad reported. He is expected to bolster the line a great deal.

A Grand Haven veteran, Ted Ryzenga, has been proving himself valuable at a guard spot. When playing for Grand Haven High school several years ago, Ryzenga was an All-State guard. Although he has been present at only a few practices Vanderbush has already said, "He looks very good on that line and will give our letter winners a tough battle."

Another Grand Haven boy on the squad is Mike Kromp who went to war after spending his first year at Hope several years ago. Kromp will definitely make the squad. Kalsbeek from "Tiny" Redmond's Muskegon High is showing up well at the tackle post.

Van Zoeren, a high school star from Grand Rapids South, appears to have the makings of a good running fullback according to Vanderbush. It's a battle between Ernie Post, Vern Kraal, Eddie Leverette, Ted Barret and several others for the halfback spots while husky Bob Emery will again bring strength and drive to the fullback positin.

All-MIAA Nick Yonker with his natural athletic ability will be tough to beat out at the quarterback spot. This seems to be one of the weakest spots as far as reserve power is concerned, with no outstanding reserve quarter in sight, Vanderbush said.

The Dutchmen have been rehearsing under the blistering sun twice daily since last Tuesday. The Hollanders will hold a full scrimmage at Riverview park Saturday morning under game conditions .The locals meet Ferris at Big Rapids Sept. 19.

Dutchmen Edge Jittery Zeeland In Ninth Inning

Chix Errors Hurt; Jones and Zuverink Hurl Effective Ball

A 2-run error on the part of the Zeeland Chix enabled the Holland Flying Dutchmen to come from behind in the ninth to gain a 4-3 decision, Mondy night at Riverview park. After a pitchers' duel between Al Jones and George Zuverink, the Dutchmen came to bat in the ninth trailing 3-2, and scored two runs on two misplays, and a hit.

The Zeelanders jumped on Zuverink right from the start and connected for three hits in the initial inning to give them a 1-0 lead. Derks led off with a single into left field and Schrotenboer sacrificed him to second. Roelofs then poked a single to center scoring Derks with the game's first run. Then with Roelofs on second, Kornoelje beat out a high hopper to the short stop who threw to first too late to get the batter. Rotman however wheeled and caught Roelofs at home to end the first.

Jones then took over the mound and toyed with the locals for two innings without allowing them a hit. Zuverink also settled down and retired the next six men in order to end the third. The locals had a chance to tie it up in the third when Lloyd Driscoll bounced a double into center field but, in an attempt to stretch it to a triple, was caught sliding into third. A moment later Zuverink, the pitcher, hit a clean single to right which would have scored Driscoll easily.

The Hollanders finally did even the count in the fourth when Don Van Lente led off with a double between the outfielders. Wenzel fouled out to the first baseman and Van Lente took third after the catch. Russ Woldring then poled a high long fly deep into center field scoring Van Lente from third.

A walk, two hits and an error gave the Chix two more runs in the sixth inning to make the score 3-1. Derks walked, stole second and scored when Walters bounced a drive into the left field bleachers for a long double. Kornoelje then hit a sharp single to left field with Walters scoring from second when the left fielder juggled the ball.

In the seventh the Dutchmen made the count 3-2 on two hits. Pinch hitter Juke Van Huis grounded a single to left which scored Driscoll from second after he poled his second double of the game. Both Jones and Zuverink were pitching effective ball with Jones retiring the locals on three strike outs in the eighth.

Then came the exciting ninth inning for the Hollanders. Harry De Neff flied out to center field for the first out. Rotman then singled to left and Driscoll was safe when the second baseman threw wide to first. The runners advanced to second and third. Juke Van Huis then hit a weak grounder to the first baseman and Rotman streaked home. The first baseman elected to try to cut the run off at the plate, but his throw to the catcher went wide allowing both Rotman and Driscoll to score, ending the game.

Both Jones and Zuverink pitched good ball with Jones striking out nine Hollanders and Zuverink retiring 13 Chix by the same route. The Chix collected seven hits and Holland netted eight safeties. It was victory No. 13 for Zuverink with no defeats and the 29th win for the Dutchmen. Leading hitter was Lloyd Driscoll who contributed two doubles and a single in three trips to the plate. Walters and Kornoelje each got two hits for the Chix as the Zeelanders bowed for the third straight time to the locals.

Real Estate Terminology Should Be Clear to Potential Purchaser

When the buyer of a home sits down with the real estate broker and the seller of the property to close the transaction he will be handed several legal documents to sign.

The average buyer of realty does not understand many of the terms used in these various legal papers. For that reason, he should employ a competent attorney to sit in with him at the time the deal is closed.

In an effort to standardize definitions and make them understandable to everyone, the National Bureau of Standards has issued a glossary of terms used in ordinary real estate transactions. The most common ones follow:

Abstract of Title—A summary of all conveyance.. to show continuity of ownership, such as deeds or wills and legal proceedings, giving the names of parties, full description of the land, and any agreements that have been made through the various ownerships.

Accrual—Sums of money which have accumulated in a regularly recurring period, such as taxes.

Amortization — The scheduled payment of a fixed amount at regular intervals to cover interest on the mortgage and a payment on the principal, and figured so the mortgage will be paid in full at the end of 10, 15, 17, 20 or 25 years.

Debenture—Virtually a promissory note which is not a specific lien upon any of the real property of the issued and can be collected only by action at law.

Depreciation — Loss in value due to all causes. Accrued depreciation is that which has taken place during a given period. In appraising, it is usually the difference between the valuation at the date of valuation and the estimated replacement cost of the property in new condition.

Easement—A vested or acquired right to use land without payment for a specific purpose, such as a utility pole line.

Equity — The interest, usually expressed in money, of the owner of a property above all liens against the property.

Escheat—Reversion of property to the state, usually by reason of lack of heirs.

Grant—A conveyance of an interest in real property.

Lien—A charge against property whereby the property is made security for payment of a debt.

Mortgagee — One who lends money on a mortgage.

Mortgagor—One who borrows money on a mortgage.

Lecturer Cites Miracle as Proof Of Bible Truths

Christian Scientist Emphasises Necessity Of Present Reality

Arthur C. Whitney, C. S. spoke at the Women's Literary club Friday at 8:45 p.m. on "A Religion of Answered Prayer."

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

"It is natural for you who come here in need of healing to find it during this hour, whether it is relief from fear, frustration, loss, hate, depression, lack, sin, or disease. How can you be healed? By your simple act of accepting and knowing the Bible truths about God and man. You can also be healed by earnestly reading and studying the lecture.

"Let me tell you of a healing that took place during a lecture a short time ago. At the close of one lecture, a man came up to me and put out his hand. I gave him mine and he really took it. I haven't had a handshake like that since I was in college, and you remember how we used to do it there. He looked me right in the eye. He had a twinkle in his eye. He said, "I did that purposely."

"Well, it didn't make any sense to me at that point. But then he went on to say: "When I came in here tonight, I came in with a useless and helpless right arm and hand. I just wanted you to see and feel what the power of God did for me during this hour." He raised his hand and arm over his head and he said: "Do you see that? I can't remember when I've been able to do that."

"Christian Science teaches you to pray simply by just knowing the truth—by just realizing, as the Bible teaches, that the divine presence is right here now. You pray, too, when you expel the belief from your thinking that there is any other or opposite presence. You can know that wherever your boy or other boys may be tonight, that right there is the presence of God, infinite spiritual consciousness, the realm of the actual and real. Know that they live, move, and have their existence in God, and God alone. Reject the mental concept that would see them in a material realm of war, danger, destruction, and death. Repudiate such a concept as a counterfeit belief of the carnal mind."

Kitchen Offers Opportunity for Modern Layouts

Step-Saving Changes, Added Attractiveness Available at Low Cost

There probably is more opportunity for modernization of the kitchen than any other room in the house which was built ten or more years ago as a result of the many improvements which have taken place in kitchen equipment and step-saving layout since the majority of American homes were erected.

Usually a complete transformation that will add enormously to the efficiency and comfort of the housewife can be accomplished by spending less than $500 and it is easy to finance such modernization through FHA insured loans.

In the older houses kitchen cabinets are too shallow, work surfaces are inadequate and subject to staining, sinks are too low for comfort and artificial light is usually supplied by a lone fixture in the center of the ceiling which puts the stove, sink and other work surfaces in shadow.

Probably more research has gone into the improvement of kitchen equipment than into any other part of the house. As a result, cabinets are now available in both wood and metal that are deep enough—16 to 18 inches instead of 12—so that even the largest utensils can be stored within easy reach. Hard-to-clean handles do not protrude, and for the corners, cabinets have revolving shelves.

Plastics which will not absorb stains and are easy to clean have been developed for covering work surfaces. Sharp corners, often the cause of painful accidents, are eliminated from the newer equipment. Sinks are being made higher and can be equipped with an automatic garbage disposal machine that takes much of the distasteful work out of the kitchen.

Fluorescent lighting fixtures around the room at ceiling height is recommended to put light on every work surface.

Color should not be overlooked in a kitchen remodeling job. There is no particular reason that kitchens should be all laboratory white. Walls can be painted in pastel shades and the floors and plastic work surfaces can carry a bright harmonizing color to make the room far more interesting and attractive.

Virginia Bilkert (left) seems to be having a hard time deciding whether she likes the new longer length dress modeled by her twin, Mrs. Don Mulder. But the identical twins finally came up with identical opinions. "We've lowered our hemlines a little, but we don't like the extremely long lines." Store Manager E. M. Parrott obligingly supplied the dress for photographic purposes.

Hemline Battle Rages As Milady Buys 'em Longer

Ripples from the Battle of the Hemline were apparent in Holland today where autumn shoppers generally agreed, "We don't like 'em longer but we're buying 'em to stay in the fashion picture."

Some shoppers are rebellious, according to dress shop personnel who say that many women insist on alterations to bring the hemline nearer to their accustomed lengths. "I'll wear them a little longer, but this extreme stuff is too much," they agree.

Most local shops concluded that it's the fashion-minded younger set who are putting on the pressure to bring out the diving hemlines. The sloppy-joe bobby soxers are now striving for the sleek sophisticated look, according to one clerk.

The clerks of another shop conferred and finally agreed that it's always the younger set that accepts the new styles more willingly and the long skirts are no exception. Some of them are even going for the "ultra-long" dresses, but not because they really like them, the clerks said. In general though, no one likes the extreme new length, and they won't wear them. The accepted length seems to be 14 or 15 inches from the floor, bringing the hem three or four inches below the knee.

A department manager averred there would be no hemline battle if women would stick to the clothes most flattering to their figures and personalities. "Clothes make the woman," he said, inferring that short plump gals and long lean ones just can't wear the same types of garb.

The type of dress makes a difference, too, he said. Business clothes and sport clothes should definitely be of the moderate length, although longer than many of the skirts in the past. The really dressy things should be the longer ones, he claimed.

The man-about-town doesn't have much to say about the whole affair, but he holds his opinions. The below-the-knee lengths seem to please most of the watchers of the fashion parade, but there's a limit, they agree. "We're glad they're coming down, but the skirts that hug the ankles need a hoist job," one of them said.

Lumberjacks Win Playoff Game For Loop Crown

Northern Wood today ruled the American Legion league for the second successive year by virtue of its 6-4 playoff win over Hart and Cooley at Riverview Park Tuesday night. The Lumberjacks had taken the first round and Hart and Cooley, the second. Tuesday's tilt was a playoff for the championship of both rounds. Bob Altena was the winning pitcher, allowing nine hits while George Czerkies, of the losers, permitted just four scattered blows.

The Woodsmen took an early 2-run lead in the first inning on a hit batsman, two walks, an error, and a double by Sloothaak. Hart and Cooley netted a single tally in the fourth on two singles and an error.

Although they had narrowed the margin to one run, HC couldn't come any closer, because the winners "put the tilt on ice" with a four run uprising of their own in the fourth. There was only one Northern Wood hit during the rally while four HC errors accounted for most of the runs. This ended the scoring for the Lumberjacks who seemed content to coast in on a 6-1 lead.

HC offered a mild threat in the sixth when they combined two hits for three runs. The feature blow of the outburst was a double by Witteveen and a timely single by Van Eck.

Kearney Zoerhof relieved Bob Altena in the seventh and retired the HC batters with little difficulty. Van Voorst had opened the inning with a single. He also led all hitters with three hits in four times at bat.

In a softball prelim to the championship tilt, the Holland police edged the firemen, 11-9. John Piers was the winning hurler while Henry Dokter was the loser for the firemen.

Holland Faces Tough Schedule

Facing one of the toughest grid schedules in the history of the school, the Holland High gridders worked long and hard this week, under the direction of Coach Robert Stupka. With the first scrimmage scheduled for Saturday afternoon, a good deal of the practice sessions have been devoted to blocking drills, Stupka said He also mentioned that he would cut the squad after Saturday's scrimmage.

Holland's schedule this year includes the regular "toughies" in the Southwestern conference in addition to three strong elevens from Grand Rapids. The Grand Rapids goes are Grand Rapids Creston, which ranks about fourth in the City League, Central, rated just above Creston, and Catholic Central, for years a football powerhouse in the Grand Rapids area. Another non-conference game is listed with St. Joseph.

As usual, the power of the Southwestern conference seems to lie in Muskegon and Muskegon Heights, with Kalamazoo also showing indications of a strong eleven. Grand Haven is slated to be stronger with the return of several key backs.

The complete Holland High grid schedule follows; Sept. 19, Grand Rapids Creston, there; Sept. 27, Grand Rapids Catholic Central, here; Oct. 3, Muskegon Heights here; Oct. 10, Grand Rapids Central, here; Oct. 17, Muskegon, here; Oct. 24, St. Joseph, there; Oct. 31, Kalamazoo, there; Nov. 8, Benton Harbor, here; Nov. 14, Grand Haven, there.

Dutchmen Edge Battle Creek With Late Rally

With the squeeze play on, Harold Mouse Van Wieren streaked home in the ninth inning to beat the Battle Creek Clark Trucktractors 6-5 Thursday night. The Dutchmen led through most of the game, and not until the eighth inning did the Clarks knot the count at five-all.

It was the ninth inning and the bases were chucked for the Hollanders. Brockelbank began his wind up on the mound and Van Wieren streaked for home. Wenzel, who was batting, poked a bunt down the first base line, just as Van Wieren scored to win the contest 6-5.

Fans were engaging in lively discussion today about the play that ended the game. With Wenzel, the catcher and the umpire all crowded about home plate, few fans were able to see Wenzel's successful bunt. Argument centered around the scoring play. Did Van Wieren get home before the bunt? Did Wenzel get credit for a hit, a sacrifice or was he out on a fielder's choice.

Umpire John Wyngarden said the batter should be credited with a sacrifice and not charged with a time at bat. The scorer tentatively scored the play as a hit.

Three local hurlers went to the hill with Skaalen starting and lasting through the seventh. Lefty Van Wieren hurled the eighth inning and pitched to one man in the ninth. George Zuverink who was playing right field for most of the game pitched the ninth to win the game for his 12th victory of the year.

The Dutchmen pulled ahead 1-0 in the first inning on two doubles by Ev De Neff and Loren Wenzel. The locals made the count 3-0 in the second on a long home run into the left field stands by "Mouse" Van Wieren. Zuverink was on first and scored ahead of Van Wieren on the circuit blow.

In the sixth the Trucktractors began their bid for a win when they tallied two runs on two hits to make the score 3-2. Then in the first of the seventh they evened the count at 3-all on two hits and an error.

But in the Dutchmen half of the seventh inning the locals pulled out in front 5-3. Zuverink walked, took second on Skaalen's single and scored on a single by Don Van Lente. Wenzel then connected for a single to score Skaalen from second.

To begin the eighth inning Batema removed Skaalen and sent Lefty Van Wieren to twirl in an attempt to hold the two run lead for two innings. But a terrific home run blast that bounced on top of the grandstand in left field with one man on base tied the count at 5-all. The locals went down in order in their half of the eighth.

First man to bat in the ninth walked and Batema again halted the contest and called Zuverink in from right field to finish the pitching job. He retired the next three batters on a ground ball and two strike outs.

Van Wieren led off the ninth and was hit by a pitched ball. Lefty Van Wieren then was safe on a scratch hit putting runners on first and second. Ev De Neff then was safe on a fielder's choice when the short stop attempted to force Mouse Van Wieren at third. Then after Van Lente popped up Loren Wenzel came to bat in an effort to send the runner home. In a second it was all over, Van Wieren had crossed the plate and the ball was rolling toward the pitcher. It was victory No. 28 for the Dutchmen.
