Board Approves Extra Teacher For Kindergarten

295 Tots Are Enrolled In Elementary Schools To Set a New Record

With an all-time record enrollment of 295 in kindergartens in the Holland public schools, the Board of Education Monday night took action to hire an additional kindergarten teacher at Washington school and redistribute the overflow of kindergartners from some of the other elementary schools.

The kindergarten record of 295, about 100 more than in any other class in the first eight grades, is reflected in the all-time record total of 3,037 students in the public schools. In other years, the kindergarten enrollment listed 179 in 1951, 206 in 1950, 207 in 1949, 222 in 1948 and 201 in 1947.

Washington school enrolled 90 in the kindergarten; Van Raalte, 53; Longfellow, 70, and Lincoln, 82. Each school conducts two half-day sessions and should have no more than 60 pupils. The extra kindergarten teacher was authorized for Washington school since it has an extra room.

Because of the undesirability of having young pupils cross busy River Ave., the board is considering bus service for the youngsters who may be shifted.

Supt. Walter W. Scott pointed out that Holland is most fortunate in having a complete teaching staff for the school year. He said there are currently 1,400 classrooms on half-day sessions in Michigan and there are many rural schools which have not opened due to scarcity of teachers. He added that it is only the beginning of a growing problem of providing teachers and facilities for a growing enrollment which points to a new peak five or six years hence.

In other business, the board approved a recommendation of the buildings and grounds committee to offer $9,500 for the Louis Padnos home on East Eighth St. to be worked into an exchange deal for the Sam Miller property on East 10th St. needed to complete the site of the Lincoln school playground. Final details for the transaction were worked out by Edward Donovan, assistant to Supt. Scott.

The board also okayed recommendations to treat two shower rooms in the girls' gymnasium for termites and to complete repointing on Junior high school and to work on parts of Holland high school needing the repair work most urgently.

The building and grounds committee contracted with John Schaap to deliver approximately 500 yards of fill sand to the Lincoln playgrounds at 35 cents a yard. Shower stalls also were authorized for the girls' shower room in Junior high school.

The board approved a recommendation of the committee on schools to continue the informal discussions begun last year and adopted the following tentative program: Sept. 22, school planning; Vernon D. Ten Cate, chairman; Oct. 27, art and music, Mrs. John K. Winger, chairman; Nov. 24, athletic program, James Hallan, chairman; Jan. 26, Religion in the schools, Dr. Lester Kuyper, chairman; Feb. 16, written policies of the public schools, Mrs. Kenneth De Pree, chairman; March 23, Mathematics, E. V. Hartman, leader; April 27, foreign languages, Wendell Miles and Alvin Cook, leaders; May 25, evaluation of the year, President Jay De Koning, chairman.

Claims and accounts for August totaled $143,062.19 which included $36,443.77 for teachers' salaries and $59,570.45 for debt service.

Trustee Ten Cate gave the invocation and President De Koning presided.

Bar-B-Q Frolic Highly Successful In First Venture

The Chamber of Commerce Bar-B-Q frolic which attracted more than 700 persons to Legion Memorial park Wednesday afternoon and evening went down as one of the most successful ventures ever staged by the local Chamber.

With ideal summer weather prevailing, all activities outside of a few games took place outdoors on the spacious rolling lawns. Golfing, a ball game and other games and contests preceded the supper in which huge quantities of barbecued beef and ham, roast turkey, baked beans, ice cream, coffee and soft drinks and a wide variety of relishes were consumed.

Music throughout the supper hour was provided by the Holland high band under direction of Arthur C. Hills. Bob Greenhoe served as master of ceremonies for a brief program, famous for its lack of speeches. The Extension Chords, well known barbershop quartet of Grand Rapids, arrived late because of motor trouble, and appeared at the conclusion of the program. An impromptu quartet provided earlier harmony.

President Marvin C. Lindeman awarded framed certificates to past Chamber presidents who included William C. Vandenberg, Wynand Wichers, Dick Boter, Frank M. Lieverse, Arthur Wrieden, Vaudie Vandenberg, Charles R. Sligh, Jr., Clarence Jalving, A. C. Joldersma, Chet Van Tongeren, W. A. Diekmans, C. C. Andressen, C. B. McCormick, Henry S. Maentz and Arnold Hertel.

Among the out-of-town guests introduced were John Ryan, president of the St. Joseph Chamber; Ray Laufenberg, manager of the St. Joseph Chamber; Leon Leonard, president of the South Haven Chamber; Dick Gram, secretary-manager of the South Haven Chamber; Jack De Vette, assistant secretary of the Muskegon Chamber; Fred Bocks, manager of the Hastings Chamber; P. T. Whitsitt, president, and George Van Peursem, secretary-manager of the Zeeland Chamber, also were introduced.

There were too many newcomers to be introduced individually, and the big group of more than 100 took a collective bow.

The Jaycees defeated the Newcomers in the ball game, 10-8. Larry Geuder took low score in the golf tournament and Clarence Jalving had the least puts. Lew Hartzell had the least puts in the putting green contest, Ben Staal had the most holes-in-one, Virginia Borgman had low score in the women's tournament and Ethel Vander Heuvel had the least puts in the putting green contest with Tiny Bequette having the most holes-in-one.

Vandals Deliberately Set Fire in City Hall

A near disaster was averted early Wednesday afternoon when City Hall employees put out a fire deliberately touched off in the first floor men's room by vandals. The unknown youths had stuffed toilet tissue in cracks of the wooden partitions and then set the tissue on fire. Luckily the paper was wadded too tightly or the highly varnished wood might have started a serious fire. The vandals also littered the floor and bowls with tissue and set the rolls on fire.

City Manager Harold C. McClintock said city property belongs to the people and those using it should treat it as their own home.

McClintock said the littering of the men's room has happened frequently in the past and always seems to happen during the noon hour. This destruction, he said, has placed quite a strain on the employees who are trying to maintain the City Hall in a neat and clean condition.

ALLEGAN (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, route 1, Pullman, have a young female cat named "Butchie"—who takes her duties quite "litterly."

Butchie, only a year old this summer, last week gave birth to her third litter of kittens. In less than four months time she presented the Millers with: (1) five, (2) six, and (3) three kittens for a total of 14 within 125 days.

Butchie's family has grown so fast she now needs a kitten-sitter. Tommy, a member of the second litter, is now seen sitting in the nest, watching his younger sisters and brothers while the mother is away. Butchie deserted her second litter when they were nine days old and Tommy was the only survivor.

The Miller's three-year-old grandson, Gregory, has taken over the job of naming the kittens, but some of them have crossed him up. Tommy, for instance, turned out to be a she-cat.

Crash Injuries Prove Fatal for Mrs. E. H. Boldrey

Wife of Grand Haven Minister Second Victim Of Car-Bus Accident

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Mrs. E. H. Boldrey, 73, of 809 Sheldon Road, who was critically injured in an auto-school bus collision near New Buffalo Thursday afternoon, died at 10:30 p.m. Sunday in Municipal hospital here, the second fatality in the accident.

Her sister, Miss Sayde Barkley, 75, was killed outright in the accident in which a car driven by Dr. E. H. Boldrey, retired Methodist minister, crashed into the rear of a stopped school bus on US-12 seven miles north of New Buffalo at 4 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Boldrey, who received a crushed chest and brain concussion, was taken by ambulance to Grand Haven Municipal hospital Sunday afternoon arriving at 4 p.m. She was accompanied by her husband who received severe facial lacerations in the crash. He is considerably improved but is suffering from shock.

Mrs. Boldrey and her sister were riding in the back seat of the car. Miss Barkley was thrown through the windshield and died of a multiple skull fracture.

State police said the Boldrey car rammed into the stopped bus which was discharging children on US-12 between Harbert and Sawyer. It was believed Dr. Boldrey had glanced to the left just before the impact and when he slammed on the brakes it was too late. Mrs. Boldrey died without regaining consciousness.

Bert Stavenger, 56, Three Oaks, driver of the Three Oaks township school bus, was uninjured. The Boldrey car was demolished. Both vehicles were headed in a north-easterly direction.

The Boldreys and Miss Barkley were returning to Grand Haven from Chicago where they had taken the Boldreys' son, Dr. Edwin B. Boldrey, to get transportation back to his home in San Francisco where he is head of the neurology department of the University of California School of Medicine. He had come for the observance of his parents' 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday. The Boldreys had held open house a week ago Sunday.

Mrs. Boldrey was born Florence Bell Barkley at Sparta, Ind. She and Dr. Boldrey were classmates at Monroes Hill college from which both were graduated in 1901. That fall she taught in the public schools and her husband-to-be entered Boston University School of Theology in preparation for the Methodist ministry. Following their marriage in 1902, Mrs. Boldrey studied in the university for two years.

They returned to Indiana in 1904 when Dr. Boldrey was admitted to the Indiana conference of the Methodist church. He served churches in New Albany, Rockport, Petersburg and Centenary before becoming a chaplain for the U. S. Army during World War I. Later he served churches in Shelbyville, Bloomington, Mt. Vernon and another pastorate in New Albany before transferring to the Michigan conference in 1938.

He served a church in Big Rapids before coming to Grand Haven. He retired from active work in 1950. Devoted to Grand Haven, the couple purchased a home on Sheldon Rd. and there hoped to fill out their years.

Besides the husband and the son in California, Mrs. Boldrey is survived by another son, William D. Boldrey, an auditor for the Bureau of Internal Revenue at Detroit, and five grandchildren.

Surviving are the wife, the former Marie Scott of Nunica; a son, Donald, 4, and daughter, Susan, 2; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fritz of Grand Haven, and two sisters, Dorothy of Grand Haven and Alice of Fort Worth, Tex.

Rites Scheduled For Third Victim Of Fatal Crash

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Funeral services will be held Thursday for Glenn Leo Herremann, 29, route 1, Grand Haven, who died Monday morning from injuries received in a two-car collision Saturday night on US-31 seven miles north of Benton Harbor.

Herremann was the third victim in the crash. Killed instantly were Clarence Bease, 34, of 214 Clinton St., Grand Haven, and Benjamin Brothers, 60, Grandville.

Berrien county sheriff's officers and the coroner Tuesday continued their investigation into the crash which took three lives and brought serious injuries to three other passengers, one of whom is in critical condition.

It was hours before officers could determine who was driving and in which cars the passengers were riding, and even now could not be sure since the three hospitalized survivors were in no condition to be questioned.

Officers believe Herremann was the driver of one car with Bease and Earl Van Heest, 26, South Second St., Grand Haven, as passengers. Bease was killed by the impact and Van Heest remained in critical condition today with a fractured skull and jaw.

The other car was believed driven by Clayton Van Slyke, 47, Grandville. The car was owned by Robert McDonald, 42, Grandville, who also was injured in the crash. Brothers, also in the car, was killed instantly.

A witness, Thomas Hardt, route 2, Coloma, told officers that the McDonald car passed him on the right, lost control and then crashed head-on with the other coming car at a point a considerable distance away. Both cars were demolished.

Herremann was born in Plymouth, Wis., May 12, 1923. For six years he has been employed by the Story and Clark Piano Co. During World War II he spent three years overseas in Germany and was discharged as a sergeant. He attended Scottville high school for two years and was a member of the Methodist church, Eagles lodge and VFW.

Surviving are the wife, the former Marie Scott of Nunica; a son, Donald, 4, and daughter, Susan, 2; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fritz of Grand Haven, and two sisters, Dorothy of Grand Haven and Alice of Fort Worth, Tex.

Children's Day Attracts Record Crowd to Fair

ALLEGAN (Special)—Children's day plus a "real wedding" attracted the largest single day's crowd in the fair's history to Allegan Tuesday. Attendance was unofficially estimated at 14,000 throughout the day.

The grandstand with a daytime capacity of 3,400 was nearly full for the special Children's Day events in the afternoon. In the evening with 600 seats added, fair officials were forced to turn hundreds away from a centennial wedding and a first showing of the musical revue.

These 4,500 guests viewed the wedding of Wanda Kleinbrink of Monterey to Thomas Clark of Allegan. The bride arrived in a survey to be met by her father who gave her in marriage, Wayne Warren, Allegan baritone, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alan Stansfeld, pastor of Allegan's Episcopal church.

Following the ceremony, Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a surprise visitor, presented the couple with a $1,000 wedding present on behalf of the fair board, and Centennial Chairman H. D. Tripp presented them with a list of gifts.

It was the largest participation in Children's Day events in the history of the fair. Several contests were run two at a time to keep the program on schedule.

Thursday will be "Mayors and Village Presidents Day" featuring a parade of floats from downtown to the fairgrounds. The floats will represent several communities. Bands from all the communities will be on hand.

Zeeland Group Again Opposes Parking Meters

ZEELAND (Special)—Petitions requesting Common Council to halt further action on the proposed installation of parking meters until after a referendum can be held are again being circulated. The group previously had obtained signatures on a similar petition but council rejected them on the basis that petitions could only be legally effective on matters covered in city ordinance.

With the passing of a parking meter ordinance by council at last week's meeting it is presumed that the council will accept the new petitions if they are correct in other respects. On the previous petitions numerous names of persons ineligible to sign were found and this time the committee is being particularly careful to make them correct in every detail.

It was the unofficial intention of several members of the council to pass the ordinance with the purpose of making new petitions legal thereby making a referendum possible to obtain an expression by voters.

All of Mrs. Ida Steininger's family was together during the week-end for the first time in 29 years. The long separation, which included a horrible chain of war, concentration camps and escape, was ended when the mother arrived here recently from Yugoslavia. Other members of the family had been held by the Russians and escaped to make their way to America where their two

A family split for many years by the Atlantic ocean, World War II and concentration camps was reunited for the first time during the week-end at the John Steininger home, route 1, Castle Park area.

Five weeks ago Mrs. Ida Steininger, the mother, arrived in Chicago after a long journey that included stints in concentration camps, etc. She had a meager cardboard suitcase that contained all her worldly possessions.

When her two sons met her in Chicago, it marked the first time Joe has seen his mother in 29 years and the first time John had seen his mother in 25 years.

The two sons and a daughter, Ann, was born in St. Louis, Mo. Another daughter, Maria, was born back in Yugoslavia before the family came to America. The family moved back to Yugoslavia while the children were very young. The two sons, however, returned to America when they were about 16.

The daughters, Ann Habermuller, and Maria Baumgartner, and the parents stayed in Yugoslavia. A nightmare of escape camps, hiding out and escape back in 1944 for Mrs. Habermuller her daughter, Gertrude, Mrs. Baumgartner and her son, Richard, and the mother. It occurred when the Russians invaded Yugoslavia and interned all persons of German descent.

They were forced to leave their homes and Richard, then 12, was taken away for schooling. He was farmed out to the French zone of Germany and his mother didn't get him back until he was 20 years old. She saw him once for a two-hour visit at the German-Austrian border when he was 16, but the family hardly recognized each other at first sight.

Ann and her daughter and Maria escaped the concentration camp one rainy night in 1947 and went to Germany. They eventually came to America after getting Richard back. Gertrude married a Hungarian, Frank Olah, in America. The mother, meanwhile, was kept in the concentration camp until til a couple of years ago when she was let out because "they didn't seem to care anymore." The Steiningers here in America then began a long effort to get her to the United States and the dream was realized five weeks ago.

Son Joe and family live in Des Plaines, Ill.

The mother is staying at the Steininger home for at least a week or more.

Daughters, children and mother all agree that those stories of atrocities in concentration camps "are all true."

Religious Service Opens Allegan Fair

ALLEGAN (Special) — Allegan County Centennial fair which opened officially today got off to a head start Sunday when thousands thronged the grounds to watch the midway go up, enter exhibits and participate in religious services.

For more than an hour activities on the ground quieted down while hundreds in the grandstand took part in services sponsored by the Allegan City Ministerial association.

Dr. Harry J. Hager, pastor of First Reformed church of Chicago and one of the nation's best known ministers, preached the sermon. Dr. Hager said that his audience representing dozens of churches was a good indication that all churches are working toward the same goal. If the attendance Sunday was any indication fair officials won't be disappointed in their hopes for a record-breaking crowd. It was estimated 5,000 were on hand during the day.

The fair itself is shaping up into the "biggest ever." In virtually every department, exhibits are overflowing available space. Judging in some divisions gets underway today, but probably will not be completed as soon as in past years because of the size of the job.

Children's Day Tuesday will see about 10,000 school children on the grounds. Midway prices will be reduced. Children will get into the grounds free and there will be prizes for such things as cracker eating contest and a search for "a needle in the haystack." The latter event is a new one, 12 bales of hay will be piled on the race track and while contestants' backs are turned a wooden needle will be hidden in it. The finder gets a cash prize. Pony and foot races are also scheduled.

FRONT FOR A GANG

A forgotten career that has a moral figured in the news the other day. Announcement is made that a New Jersey writer, Crosswell Bowens, is writing the life of A. Oakley Hall, mayor of New York under the Tweed Ring. Tweed and his confederates were perhaps the most brazen thieves that ever robbed an American public treasury. They made no particular secret about it. Tweed said sneeringly, when confronted with charges of his misdoings, "Well, what are you going to do about it?"

The voters did plenty. They crushed the ring and sent its leaders to jail. Tweed himself died there, completely impoverished. Hall, socially prominent, was a useful front for the gang, which could draw on many other prominent persons as cover for their crimes. They persuaded John Jacob Astor, one of our earliest millionaires, to examine the city's books and report that they were in excellent shape.

Hall himself was tried for theft from the treasury. He conducted his own defense and was acquitted. Later he became prominent in the New York newspaper world, and wrote many novels. He died in 1898, largely forgotten.

Even if technically innocent of the crime with which he was charged, Hall deserves blame for his willingness to be a cover-up man. Every city with a corrupt machine knows that some citizens of high reputation are always willing, for one reason or another, to lend responsibility to the gang, while not improving its operations. It is time that this kind of activity were treated as it deserves.

We think that this is the year that everyone must get busy and see that they are properly registered. They then need to enlighten themselves on how important it is to VOTE. November will be with us before we are aware.

There are many things that need our attention. Think how many wonderful projects that could be started and finished if there was not so much of our tax dollars wasted. We need a good house cleaning all the way from the top to the bottom, or if you like from the bottom to the top. How do we get these things done. Well we think that everyone that has any interest in our government and how we run it should all so want to take part in the wedding of the groom when we sweep out all the old worn out and dead trash that seems to be around.

Just remember it is our government—our tax dollars—in fact we all are part of the government and we all own a part of it. We just have a sneaking feeling that you wouldn't stand for all of this waste in your own business. Why not start doing something about it tax waste of our government.

David's Religious Contribution

2 Samuel 6:7; 23:1-7

1 Chronicles 15:16; 17: 25:1-8

By Henry Geerlings

David made a remarkable contribution to the religious life of Israel. He established worship at Jerusalem. He prepared materials for the building of the temple. He left a rich spiritual legacy to Christians in the psalms which he wrote.

During the wanderings of Israel before and even after entering the Promised Land, the center of Israel's worship was the ark of the covenant. Here God was especially present to His people. Then, when David's house was built in Jerusalem and the kingdom seemed well settled, he felt as though he should build a permanent temple in which the ark might rest safely and permanently. God, however, did not permit him to carry out his will in this matter. However, he gathered materials from far and near which were used later by Solomon to complete the temple.

We may draw several practical lessons from this concern of the king to establish a permanent house of worship to Jehovah. First, note the need and value of a visible church building in the worship of God. There are people who say that they can worship God out in the open, under the sky, and so they may; but all too frequently they worship nature not the Creator. Or they think of the great out of doors as a place for recreation, having little room for God. People who say that they can be as good without the local church, do not prove it by their lives.

A second lesson to stress is that the local church is not really God's house unless God dwells in the hearts of its worshippers. It is not the building which makes the church, but the presence of God. That which is vital in the church of God is not the form of architecture, not the ritual, but the sense of the spiritual presence of God in the soul.

A third lesson is that we must abide God's time. David showed a fine spirit in wanting God's house to be better than his own house, but God said not yet. The delays of God are always a mystery to men. There are many examples. A faithful minister saw the need of a better church building. He worked hard to gather funds for it and have plans made. But although he and a few others did almost all the work of preparation, he never had the joy and satisfaction of completing the church which was in his heart.

Arthur Jackson went out to China to serve the sick. In six months he was dead of the fever he had worked so hard to ally. But as a result of his heroic service, a large wing was added in his memory to the hospital, Edward Judson once said, "If you work without succeeding, it is in order that some one may succeed after you."

David regarded worship as very important to spiritual development. He realized the value of orderliness in a public service of praise, and he planned, directed, and carried out a pattern of worship that appropriately honored God and definitely blessed the people who participated.

David was especially interested in the place of vocal and instrumental music in connection with public worship. His orchestra is described as consisting of 4,000 who praised the Lord with the instruments. His choir was composed of 288 singers instructed in the songs of the Lord.

David made the contribution to religion that many song writers since his day have made. The Psalms David wrote have helped the people in many ways. The people could make their own. They could use their words to express their feelings of praise, prayer, thanksgiving or aspiration. The Psalms reflect a wide variety of spiritual experience and cover many subjects. The devout believer can find in them a rich field for exploration and use.

There are Psalms of thanksgiving, of praise, prayer and instruction. No matter in whatever spiritual state a person may be, he can find immediate help in the Psalms. There are Psalms of instruction which show the way of life and duty and privilege. There are penitential Psalms that can adequately express our feelings when we have been overcome of evil. There are exultant Psalms of praise that tell of the saving grace and mercy of God. And there are Psalms like the 23rd which tell of the abiding care of God of His children from the cradle to the grave. It is not without reason that David is called the sweet singer of Israel.

David is called by the Lord "A man after His own heart." Because he is called this and because he sinned so notoriously, many wonder why the Lord could so call him. But God called him a man. He did not call him an angel. He was a man, a member of a sinful, fallen human race. Human nature was the same in him as it was in Saul or in any of the other kings who did not walk in the ways of the Lord. The list of sins which is latent in the human heart were all latent in David as they are in us all. He was not a man after God's heart because he sinned.

God did not excuse or condone David's sin. He condemned him in the most severe terms. God called David a man after His own heart because of his reactions to the divine will. It is significant that there is more related about David and his experiences than any other Bible character. David made many mistakes but when called to account he repented,

Faculty Returns Home After Varied Summer Activities

Sixteen Take Graduate Study; Several Others Take Extensive Travels

The opening of the new academic year at Hope college brings together a faculty that has been widely scattered throughout the summer in a variety of professional activities. Research and graduate study head the list in popularity.

Sixteen members of the Hope staff spent a portion of their summer in graduate study at nine universities or special schools in this country. Four attended the University of Michigan: Robert Cavanaugh, Henry Ten Hoor, Alvin Vanderbush, and Kenneth Weller. Three were enrolled at the University of Chicago: Lars Granberg, William Hilmert, and Garrett Vander Borgh. Two attended Michigan State College: Jay Folkert and Robert Vanderham; two University of Iowa, Lawrence Green and John Visser; and two the University of Wisconsin: Jantina Holleman and James Unger.

Miss Eleanor De Pree continued her graduate study at the University of Indiana and Anthony Koolker at the Eastman School of Music. Morrette Rider returned to the Domine school in Maine where he studied conducting under Pierre Montoux.

During the early part of the summer, Ella Hawkins took some language study at the University of Minnesota, and then left to take up her Fulbright Lectureship at the Laerhogskule, Trondheim, Norway.

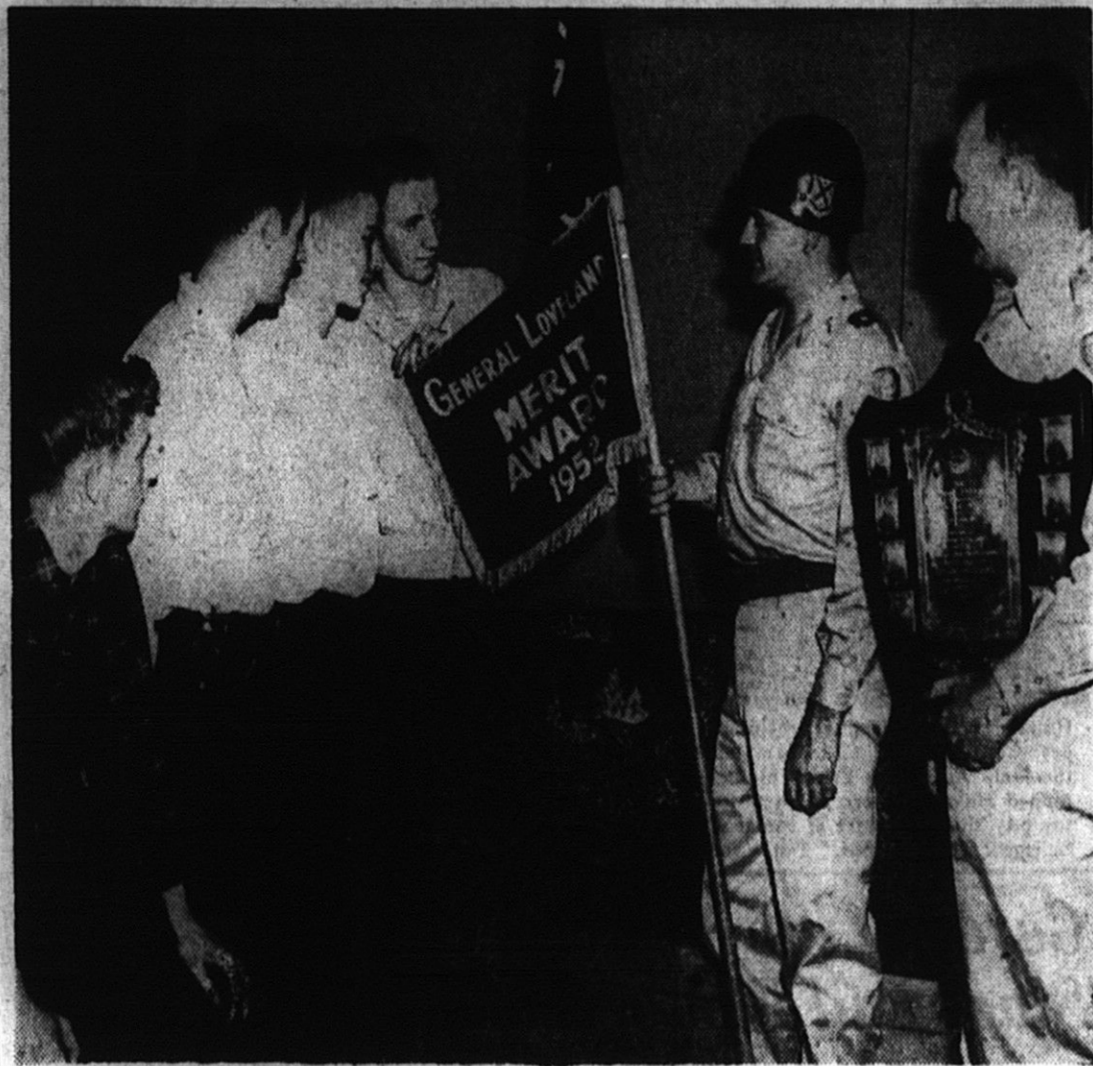

Two of the faculty members combined foreign travel and study. Mrs. Peter Prins and her daughter, during their European travel, spent several weeks at the Sorbonne. During the visit of Mr. and Mrs. A. James Prins to England, Mr. Prins was enrolled in a course in Shakespeare at the University at Stratford-on-Avon.

Dr. and Mrs. Donald Brown conducted their own school in Spanish, French, Italian, and German, as they toured Europe this summer. Their class was made up of their five children as they toured Europe this summer.

During the course of the summer, Dr. Gerrit Van Zyl was busy in his laboratory conducting chemical research under a Frederick Gardner Cottrell research corporation grant. Working with him were three of his present or former chemistry majors, George Zuidema, Paul Kromann, and John Zack.

Teaching occupied the attention of 13 of the staff. In addition to the 10 staff members who taught courses in the Hope College summer school, three others were on the staff at other colleges and universities. Howard Zandbergen was reference librarian at Western Michigan College of Education. J. Dyke Van Putten was on the history staff at the State Teachers College at New Paltz, N. Y. But winning proficiency awards is nothing new for Co. D. WOJG Oscar Van Anroy (extreme right) waits to explain the Badger trophy to the four recruits. The Badger trophy was presented by division staff officers from Wisconsin to the Michigan unit displaying the best soldiering at camp about 20 years ago. Co. D won the award the first three years in a row—1928, 1929 and 1930—and thus retired what was meant to be a rotating trophy. Van Anroy is the only man now active in the company who was a member at that time. (Sentinel photo)

Holland's National Guard Co. D held its first regular drill session Monday night since returning home from Camp Grayling, and the talk around the Armory centered about the many honors that the Holland unit has garnered throughout the past year.

These honors include winning the first presentation of the General Loveland Merit Award for the best unit in the division at camp; capturing the camp volleyball championship for the fourth year in a row; placing one man—Corp. Roy Strengholt—on the division rifle team for national competition at Fort Benning, Ga.; winning of a "superior" rating at the annual federal inspection at the Armory last fall, one of only seven issued in the 46th division; and winning of the regimental small bore rifle competition in shoots held through the year.

Members of the company also are proud of their attendance record at Camp Grayling, when 100 per cent of the company strength of 111 officers and men were present for the training.

The local unit at present is making plans for an open house at the Armory in about a month, at which time the public will be invited to inspect the company and see how it works and what it does.

For the fifth year in a row, Co. D will be represented at the associated basic school for infantry officers at Fort Benning, Lt. Donald Klaassen was slated to leave for the 17-week school today, leaving only one officer in the company who has not received this regular Army training.

Company commander Capt. Russell R. Kempker pointed out to young men in the Holland area that there are vacancies at present for about 12 men who wish to enlist. If enlisted before reaching 18½ years of age, recruits are exempt from Selective service during satisfactory Guard service.

Car, Pickup Collide

A car driven by Fred Slikkers, 669, of 685 Butternut Dr., collided with the rear of a pickup truck driven by Jacob Breuker, 29, of 181 East 35th St., at 2:15 p.m. Monday on Butternut Dr., about 3/4 mile north of old US-31. Damage to the front of the 1951 model Slikkers car was estimated at $400 and to the rear of the 1947 model pickup truck at $75. Both vehicles were headed north on Butternut Dr. at the time of the collision. Ottawa Deputy Clayton Forry investigated.

Sirens Open Way

The downtown section and people living on US-31 were alerted by an ambulance with sirens which passed through Holland shortly after 10:30 a.m. Tuesday. Since the ambulance was not a local vehicle and did not stop at Holland hospital, it was presumed a police patrol was being rushed to Grand Rapids.

Koopman, 315 West 18th St.; Jerry Herveyer, route 6; Mrs. Henry Ronger, 200 East 16th St. Discharged Monday were Mrs. Charles Reimink and baby, route 6; Mrs. George Walters and baby, route 6; Mrs. Clarence Walters and baby, 175 West 17th St.; Steven John Overway, route 1; Zeeland; Mrs. Julian Brown, 162 West 19th St.

Two Little Girls Injured in Crash At Local Corner

Two little girls were injured, two cars damaged rather extensively and a young Kalamazoo driver ticketed for drunken driving after a two-car collision at the corner of 17th St. and Washington Ave. at 8:14 p.m. Sunday.

The two girls, both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit H. Swieringa, 368 Pine Ave. were taken to Holland hospital. Judith K. Swieringa, 9, remains a patient Monday being examined for possible hip injuries. She also received facial lacerations. Her sister, Myra Lou, 5, was released after treatment for facial lacerations.

Cars involved were driven by Mrs. Swieringa, headed east on 17th St., and Egon Ebers, 21, of Kalamazoo, headed north on Washington Ave. Damage to the front of the 1947 model Ebers car was estimated at $300 and to the right side of the 1949 model Swieringa car at $1,000.

Ebers was ticketed for driving while under the influence of intoxicants. He pleaded guilty to the charge in Municipal Court today, and was ordered to pay $100 fine, $10.30 costs and spend five days in jail. Alternate sentence is an added 30 days in jail.

Listed as a witness to the crash was police Officer Marinus Smeenge, who was nearby in a police cruiser at the time. Police request that other witnesses to the accident contact police headquarters.

At about the same time, another collision was reported at the corner of Eighth St. and Central Ave. Drivers involved were Joseph K. Goodman, 29, of Toledo, Ohio, and William Van Brocklin, 42, of Benton Harbor. Both were headed west on Eighth St. The collision occurred when Van Brocklin stopped in the line of traffic and Goodman didn't.

Damage to the front of the 1950 model Goodman car was estimated at $150 and to the rear of the 1940 model Van Brocklin car at $75. Mrs. Van Brocklin complained of a possible neck injury after the collision, and received first aid. Goodman was ticketed for failure to observe assured clear distance.

Allegan Circuit Verdicts Upheld

ALLEGAN (Special)—Michigan Supreme Court has sustained Allegan Circuit Court in two matters in opinions handed down during the present term.

The first concerned the case of the estate of Gustave A. Stahl, deceased, in which the local court ruled that real estate located in Chicago, Ill., was not to be taxed under the Michigan State Inheritance tax. The Michigan attorney general had appealed from the local Circuit Court.

The second was the case of Vernon Ten Cate, Rose Stizler and the VFW National Home versus John Kanera and Lemuel R. Brady, the latter administrator of the estate of James J. Kanera, deceased. The local court had refused to set aside a jury verdict sustaining plaintiff's claim that the deceased had left a will leaving his property to Rose Stizler and the VFW National Home. The Supreme Court found no error in the local court's decision not to set aside the verdict, thereby not granting another trial.

Earlier this year, the Supreme Court had affirmed the Allegan Circuit Court in Allegan-Barry Inter-County Drainage board versus the Ottawa and Allegan Electric Co-operative, Inc. Both courts held that the Electric Co-op's right of way was subject to that of the drainage board.

In the appeal of Harry R. Denny versus Garavaglia et al, the Supreme Court affirmed a judgment of "no cause of action" on the ground of the plaintiff's contributory negligence. In a companion case, the local Circuit Court was upheld in its verdict and judgment of $11,031 in favor of Geneva Van Houten versus Garavaglia et al.

Summer Vacation Reading Program Results Listed

West Side Christian School Places First; Certificates Slated

Miss Dora Schermer, librarian, has announced that the West Side Christian school takes top honors in the 1952 Summer Vacation Reading club program of the Holland Public Library. Eighteen of the students are to receive Certificates of Award for having read and reported on 10 books this summer.

Theme of the club this summer was "Covered Wagon Trails to the West."

A large map of the United States was painted on a wall in the library. The 10 states through which the children passed on their way to the West were filled in on this map.

Each child was given a card on which the outline of a covered wagon appeared. These cards were placed under the map and as each report was made a star was placed on the child's individual card.

These cards may be called for at the library within the next three weeks.

A total of 255 children signed up for the club, 63 of these children made no reports and 192 read and reported. Of this 192, Certificates will be awarded to 111 students.

This is the same number of Certificates which were awarded last year, however, the Library reports a definite increase in interest with many more than last year's number having reported on six, seven or more books but not having completed the 10.

A total of 1,413 books were read by club members.

The number of children receiving Certificates according to schools: Central Christian 15; Holland Junior high 12; South Side Christian 11; Longfellow 9; Washington 8; Christian Junior high 7; St. Francis De Sales 6; Lincoln-Froebel 5 and Van Raalte 5.

Schools from the surrounding districts participating in the club and receiving Certificates are: Harrington 4; Hamilton 3; Beechwood 2; Lakeview 2; Maplewood 2 and Waverly 1.

Certificates will be presented to the students in the near future.

Here's really a fish story where the fish is so large the angler can't hold his arms wide enough to describe it. The 23-pound sturgeon being held by its owner, 10-year-old Glenn Van Wieren, 729 Lugers Rd., measures just under 48 inches in length. Glenn caught the fish using a night crawler with only a 12 pound test line on a fiber glass rod. The sturgeon was one of six pulled from the Mississauga river near Iron Bridge, Ontario, where Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Van Wieren took the family for a vacation. Hulst Team Bows In Nine Innings In Final Contest

Main Auto is the 1952 champion of the Holland City Softball league.

The Autos won the third and deciding game of a season's end playoff for the city league crown from Hulst Brothers Friday night 2-1 before a large and enthusiastic crowd at Van Tongeren field.

The 1952 city crown climaxed a story of always a bridesmaid, never a bride for the Main Auto crew. For the last three years, the Autos have been involved in the championship playoff but victory was denied them before Friday night.

However, the fighting Hulst outfit made it tough to decide all the way. Behind 1-0 going into the seventh inning Friday, Hulst pushed home the tying run to send the game into overtime, and it was the ninth innig before the issue finally was decided.

The Autos scored first Friday when Hank Prince led off the fifth inning by lining Don Knoper' first pitch over the right field fence for a home run. Hulst tied it up in the seventh as Bud Hulst sent a three-bagger to right center and scored on a wild pitch.

The two teams remained scoreless until the ninth. Mel Koenes led off for the Autos with a single to right, and only a barehanded stab by outfielder Jake Bakker kept the hit from going for extra bases.

With Herb Maatman at bat with instructions to sacrifice, Knoper uncorked a couple of wild pitches allowing Koenes to go to third and Maatman eventually walked. Ernie Prince bounced one to shortstop and Koenes held third on the throw to first. But the Hulst first sacker dropped the ball and Koenes then streaked home with the championship-winning tally.

Like the previous three games in the playoff series, Friday's contest could be classed as a pitchers' duel between winning hurler Jason Ebels and Knoper, each of whom gave up four hits. Each pitcher struck out six, and walks were scarce.

Bud Hulst was top batsman for the night with his triple and an infield sacrifice, while Kearny Zoerhoff and Bakker each had a single for the losers. The other two Main Auto hits were a double by How Glupker and a safe bunt by Jerry Prince.

Thus the new champions ended the playoff after four games. The Autos won first and then Hulst tied the series before the eventual winners took the next two in a row.

Although the victory was a long awaited one for Main Auto, defeat was a bitter ending to the last-half surge by Hulst Brothers, who ended the first half of the season in a tie for fourth spot and came back to win the second half title. After finishing out in front the first half, the Autos wound up tied for third in second half play.

And that ends softball in Holland for 1952.

Sentinel Begins High-Speed Plan To Produce Type

Innovation Includes United Press Wire And Automatic Setter

The Holland Evening Sentinel entered into a new phase of operations this week — automatic type setting.

Teletypes still continue to pour news into the Sentinel newroom from all over the world, but in addition to the reams of regular copy, the machines also spew out yards and yards of punched tape to be fed into a new typesetter which automatically produces galley after galley of type.

The new equipment, which has been installed in the newroom and composing room over a period of several weeks, consists of four separate pieces.

It includes two new teletypes which produce copy in lines the same length as appears in newspaper columns, a reperforator which reproduces the punched tape identical in every detail with the original type sent from United Press headquarters, a standard perforator on which tape for local copy is produced, and the Blue Streak Comet, the automatic linotype machine into which the perforated tape is fed to produce galley after galley of type.

The letter machine is technically known as a teletypesetter and linotype, and has a productive capacity of 540 operations per minute, equivalent to 12 lines per minute of single-column straight matter.

The new program went into effect Tuesday, necessitating a few changes in local styles to conform with teletype prototypes. Local readers may have noticed that datelines have been appearing in capital letters.

At present, the United Press teletypesetter service originates in Chicago, but a Michigan service is expected to be inaugurated Sept. 15 or 22.

Meanwhile, the newroom staff has adopted the necessary changes which always arise in a new program. The city editor has a set of bright colored plastic clothespins to keep taped stories in neat little rolls. Green pins are for inside stories, yellow for sports, blue for page one, red for "must" and wooden clothespins for local copy.

The Sentinel is one of several newspapers in this region now operating under the new teletype-setting program.

Season at Camp Geneva Closes This Week-End

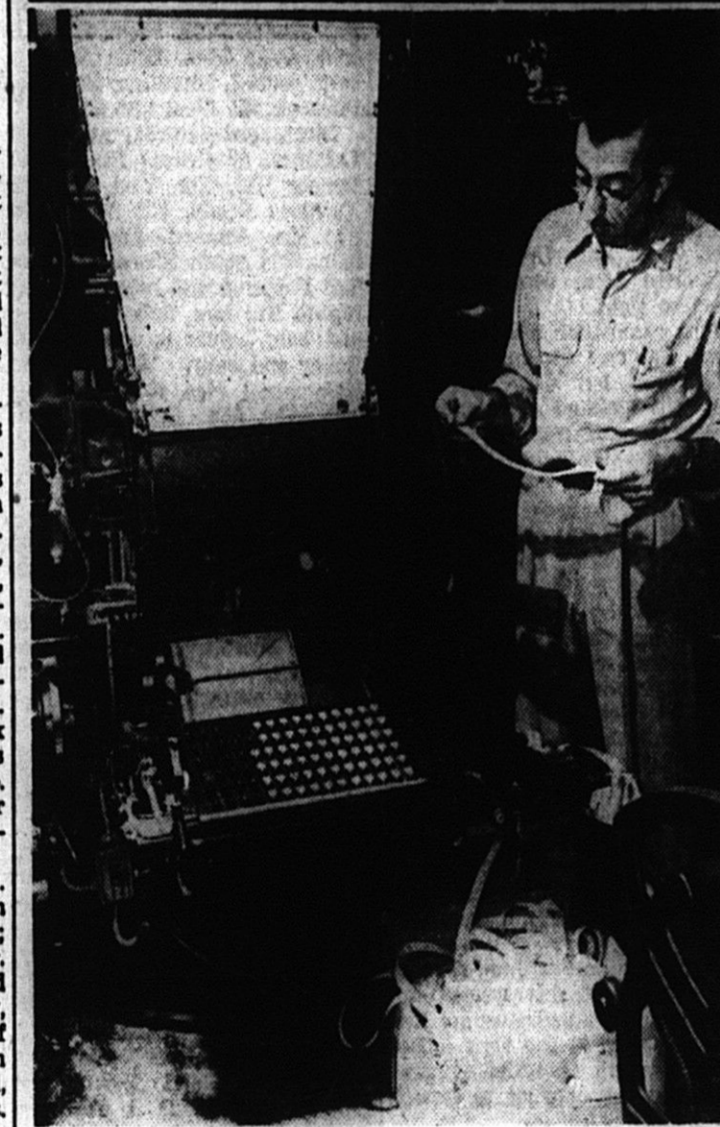

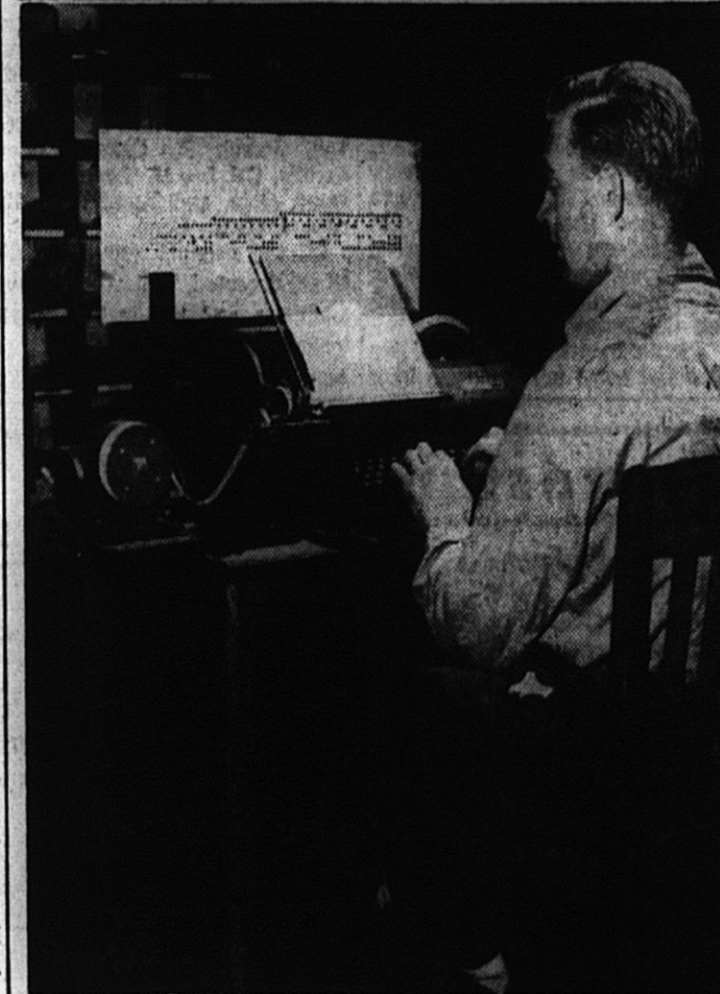

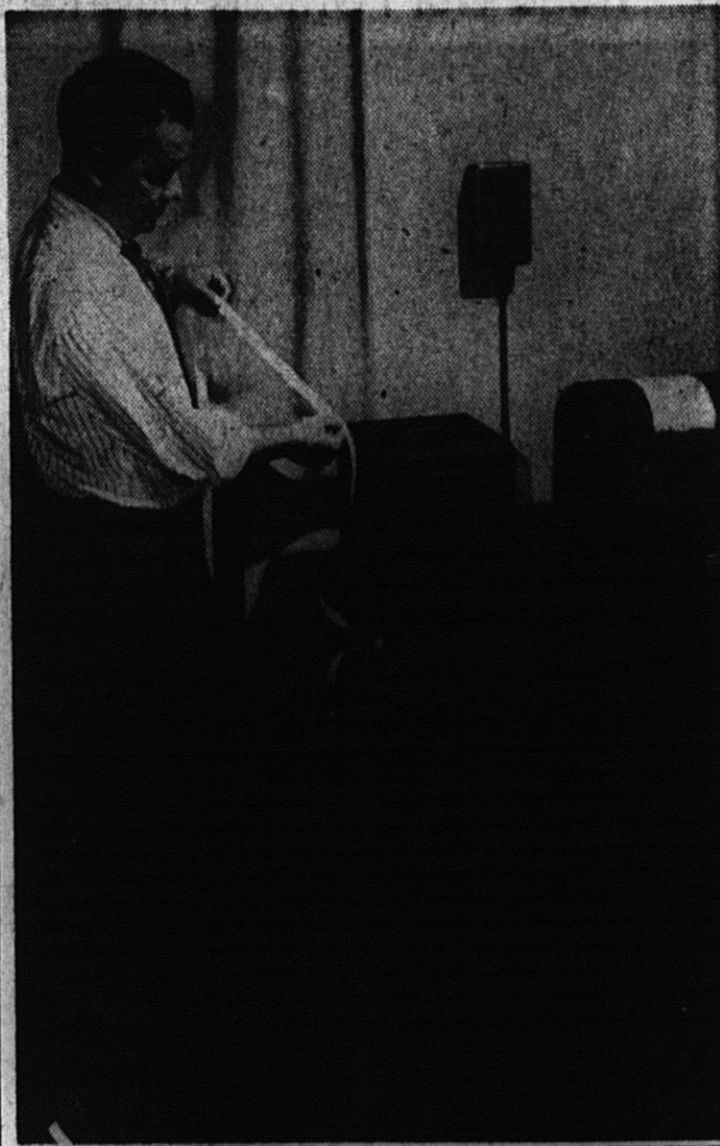

The conference season at Camp Geneva, Bible conference grounds and summer camp of the Reformed Church in America, closes this week-end with the last of a series of adult Bible conferences.

Tonight Dr. John Gerstner, theological professor of the Pittsburgh-Kenia Theological seminary of the United Presbyterian church at Pittsburgh, will speak at the public meeting in the chapel.

On Thursday night the speaker is Dr. Henry Poppen, famed Reformed church missionary to China who was publicly tried and denounced by Communist authorities before his expulsion from China. Dr. Poppen is currently president of General Synod of the Reformed Church.

More than 1,700 Michigan children and young people attended the weekly Bible conferences this season. After their completion the camp was the scene of three week-end adult conferences. Last week's conference drew 180 week-end guests besides evening visitors at the public meetings.

The camp, now in its fifth season, added to its equipment this year a 500-seat chapel with an educational wing, a clinic, and an addition to the dining hall.

Here are some of the steps in the Sentinel's new system of automatic typesetting. Top picture shows City Editor Dick Collins examining the punched tape as it comes from the reperforator which operates simultaneously with the teletype at right. Middle picture shows Rich Wolters operating the standard perforator in the composing room. On this machine he punches tape for local stories. Bottom picture shows Ernie Penna examining a tape before putting it into teletypesetter which automatically turns out slugs at speeds never before possible in manual operation. Penna is in charge of linotype machines in the composing room. (Sentinel photos)

The public convocation is part of a three-day convocation conference which opens today at 2 p.m. at Camp Geneva for ministers and seminary students. Dr. Youngdahl and Dr. Willem F. Zuurdeeg, a native of Rotterdam who is professor of philosophy of religion and Christian ethics at McCormick seminary in Chicago, are speakers for this series of meetings.

A total of 97 students have enrolled at the seminary this year with young men coming from many states spread from New York to California.

Dr. Elton M. Eenigenberg, who left his pastorate at First Englewood, Chicago, will begin his work as a new professor at the seminary, bringing the faculty personnel to seven full-time teachers.

One new student, Reinhard Koster, will enter the seminary as an exchange student from Germany. A student from Korea is expected to arrive in time to begin the new year's work. One also is coming from Formosa. A Chinese student whose papers are all in order is delayed, but he is expected later.

The two conference speakers, Dr. Youngdahl and Dr. Zuurdeeg, are well known in their fields of theology. Dr. Youngdahl, 40 years old, is pastor of one of the largest congregations in the country. His church in Minneapolis has grown from 331 members in 1938 to over 5,000 at the present time. Mount Olivet church, under his ministry, believes in an "All-Member, All-Year Evangelism" and his three addresses for the conference and convocation all have an evangelistic emphasis.

Dr. Zuurdeeg was born in Rotterdam and holds doctor's degrees from universities in Amsterdam and Leiden. He served as pastor in Netherlands churches from 1934 to 1946. In 1947 he came to America and taught first at Elmhurst college and since 1948 at McCormick. He returned to the Netherlands this summer to be married.

His three addresses are concerned with Communism. The titles are "Communist Justice and Christian Justice," "Communist Hope and Christian Hope" and "Communist Community and Christian Community."

The seminary committee on reception of new students met Tuesday afternoon to interview applicants for admission. To date, the seminary lists 97 students—33 in the junior class, 25 in the middle class, 37 in the senior class and two special students.

Gasoline Propelled Plane Models Hit 100 Miles Per Hour in Tests

Model airplane enthusiasts turned out Saturday despite overcast skies and put on an afternoon demonstration of speed and stunt flying with their precision built models.

An area off 32nd St., just past the railroad tracks, was the site of the exhibition. Each of the gasoline driven models was flown at the end of 52-foot wires. The steel lines are held in a metal device by the ground "pilot" who can manipulate the controls to make the plane dive, climb, or stunt.

This method of control flying is known as U-line control because of the U-shape the lines make in the hand-held container. The models run to practically every design and shape imaginable. Planes from the common place to a radical flying wing design were flown.

The model builders have formed a club and it is open to anyone interested in building and flying models. The public is invited to attend a meeting at Reliable Cycle Shop at 7 p.m. tonight, at which time future activities will be planned.

Children Subject Of Safety Drive

With the reopening of schools and nearly 14 million Michigan children crossing streets and highways on their way to and from classrooms, Sgt. Carl Kamhout, commander of the Grand Haven state police post, is urging all persons to take part in the current statewide child safety campaign.

Last year, Kamhout points out, 8,247 children under 15 were killed or injured in Michigan traffic, an average of about 160 casualties per week.

"More often than not the children were victims of their own carelessness," Kamhout said. "But many of the tragedies could have been avoided if drivers had been more alert and expecting the unexpected."

Drivers should take special precautions, the state police claim, not only in school and playground areas but in all areas where children are likely to be. Likewise, adult pedestrians, parents especially, can help prevent accidents involving children by practicing safe walking habits.

Slogan of the safety campaign, sponsored by the state safety commission, is "Watch Out for Kids."

Citizens Invited To See Progress At School Site

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—On Saturday, Sept. 20, from 1 to 7 p.m. there will be a public showing of the new Grand Haven high school and civic center. The community is invited by the school board, the general contractor and the citizens committee, to visit the new school site.

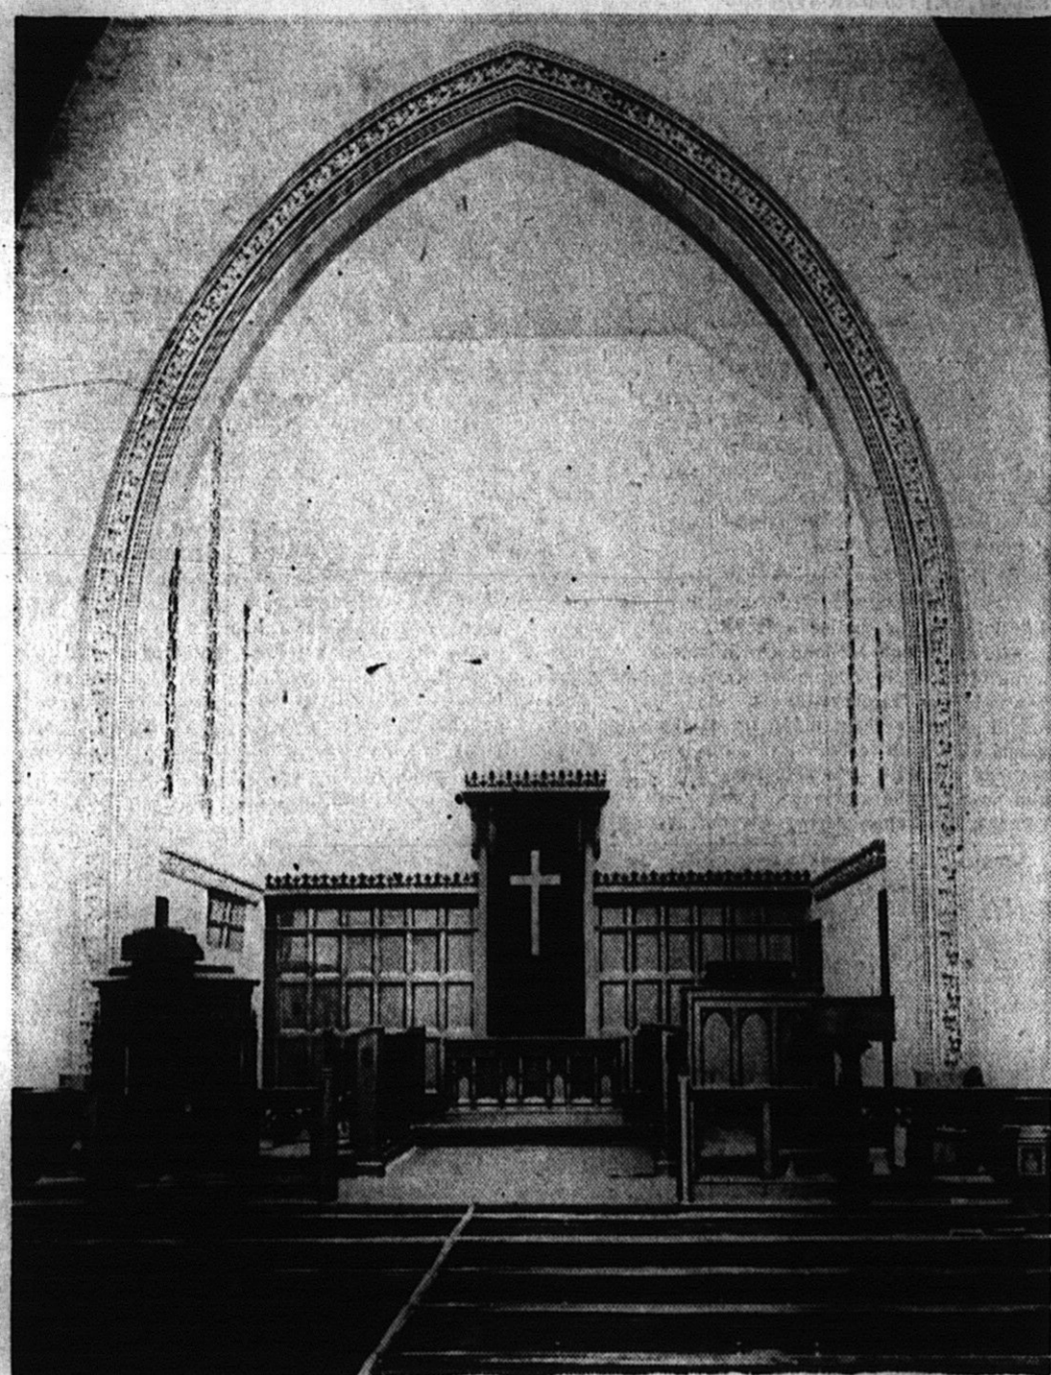

A year ago construction of the civic auditorium, 30-classroom senior high school and gymnasium, was begun. Completion of the new educational center on Cutler St. is scheduled for a year from this fall.

Two years ago local citizens voted to build the school, when a $1,600,000 bond issue was approved. A month later the Korean war started and sent prices up so high that the original bond issue is not large enough to complete the job. Therefore, a second bond issue of $650,000 will be placed before the voters on Sept. 22 to provide the necessary funds to complete the project.

School board members, the citizens committee, and the high school faculty, will be stationed along the tour route to explain the layout, including the auditorium features, music rooms, general shop, classrooms, cafeteria, gymnasium, and the location for the swimming pool which can be built when additional funds are provided.

At a meeting Wednesday, plans for the public showing of the school building were discussed by members of the publicity section of the citizens committee, of which J. Watson McCall is chairman, and which includes 10 other members: Kirk Bloesser, Ernie Caetli, Ray Fisher, Katherine Headley, A. W. McCall, Mrs. P. H. Murdock, Clarence Poel, Al Reus, Herman Schaafsma and Alden Spencer.

Plans for presenting information to the public for the need of a second bond issue to supply funds to finish the job at the new school were also discussed.

When the congregation of Third Reformed church returned to its own sanctuary Sunday after an absence of almost a year, members will face an attractively designed open chancel with the richly carved furniture which came as a gift from

Third Church Returns To Remodeled Sanctuary

Third Reformed church parishioners returned to their newly remodeled sanctuary Sunday after an absence of about a year during which services were held in Hope Memorial chapel.

It is exactly 17 years to the Sunday that the congregation returned to the church. An extensive remodeling and redecorating program also had been carried out in 1935.

Principal change in the current remodeling program is the newly designed chancel with a new gothic arch and the richly carved chancel furniture from the razed St. Nicholas Collegiate church of New York City. The rare old furniture consisting of pulpit, lectern, communion table, and paneling had provided a worshipful setting for many, many years in the historic old St. Nicholas church on the corner of Fifth Ave. and 48th St. The furniture which was presented to the church as a gift from the Consistory of the Collegiate church is estimated to be worth $30,000 to $40,000.

The furniture was accepted after the Third church congregation approved plans for an open chancel in which constant attention is drawn to the communion table at center rear and where the Bible is read from the lectern on the right and explained from the pulpit at left. This arrangement symbolizes the three functions of the ministry.

In the new chancel are three memorials to former Third church ministers, all of whom left Third church to become instructors at Western Theological seminary. A new Bible has been placed in memory of Dr. G. H. Dubbink, a dossal cloth for Dr. H. E. Dosker and choir stalls for Dr. E. J. Biekkink.

New carpeting has been laid and church pews were refinished. The new chancel and auditorium improvements are part of an extensive building program at Third church where work is rapidly being completed on the new religious education building involving an outlay of more than $200,000. Dedication of the new addition will be held in about a month.

Three Cars Damaged In Accident on Bridge

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Three cars were involved in an accident at the swing bridge on US-31 about 3 p.m. Thursday as the bridge was closing after a boat had gone through. A car driven by David Socha, 22, of Ionia, who was apparently watching the boat instead of traffic, ran into the rear of one driven by George Ridderman, 43, Grand Haven, which in turn struck a car ahead driven by Henry S. Arcan, 43, Kalamazoo. Ridderman's car was badly damaged.

Philip Zaagman, 19, Grand Rapids, a passenger in the Socha car, was treated in Municipal hospital for cuts on the forehead which required several stitches. City police charged Socha with failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

Craiser Needs Aid

Holland Coast Guardsmen went to the assistance of the 24-foot cruiser Old Faecal when the boat ran out of gas while returning to Holland harbor at about 4:30 p.m. Sunday. The cruiser was hauled in from about a quarter-mile past the arrowhead. Five persons were aboard; the boat owned by Van Daalen of Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Den Uyl of Macatawa and Detroit opened their summer home Friday night to 75 men and their wives, preceding the annual dinner.

Of the original group of 200, 48 are deceased, 27 have no known addresses and the rest have attended reunions. Al Staeb of Ann Arbor has never missed a reunion and many others have missed only one or two.

Plans are being made at this meeting for the 35th anniversary celebration in 1953. Preliminary events listed include a ceremony at the grave of Capt. Tom Thoits in Grand Rapids. The company took the name of the "75ers" from Capt. Thoits' initials, which looked like 75. Plans are for live roses to be placed on the grave with signatures of the 142 remaining members.

Arrangements for the reunions

Grandstanding...

Besides the flying pigskins around the Holland area practice fields the last few days, one other thing has appeared lately to remind sports fans that the season is at the switching stage.

On Thursday's sports page appeared the first of what will turn out to be hundreds of similar items — the first bowling scores of the 1952-53 season.

Thursday's report was from a girls' league, several of which have been starting up this week, getting the jump on the men's leagues which in general will swing into action next week.

At the recent meeting of the Bowling association, Foster Mack was elected president to succeed Jim Crozier, who has held the office for three years. Art Lappinga was named secretary to succeed John Vos, who has been the pencil-pushing chief for the past two years. Both Crozier and Vos withdrew from consideration at election time.

The association also decided to have the city tournament again this year, but dates were not set. The Holland group also renewed its membership in the ABC.

If organization means anything, Holland high should have a good football club this season.

New Coach Dale Shearer brought with him a highly-integrated and comprehensive system of practice when he moved to Holland from Quincy this fall.

The practice sessions at the 22nd St. field are run off like clockwork. A specified time is allotted for a certain phase of the conditioning program, which is laid out well in advance by Shearer and his aides. If the schedule calls for two-on-one blocking at 3:47, then the boys all begin that phase of practice at precisely that time.

Not only are all the coaches made aware of this system, but the entire day's activities are listed and posted in the boys' locker rooms before practice begins. Then they know what to expect.

One new football coach will be active in the MIAA this season. He is Henry W. Fallon who takes over the job left by Irv Wisniewski at Hillsdale.

Fallon is 41 and comes to Hillsdale after two years as athletic director for Indiana Technical college at Fort Wayne, Ind. Fallon will coach both football and basketball at Hillsdale.

The new Dale mentor is a graduate of the University of Illinois, and has coached and taught in both high school and college for more than 15 years.

Wisniewski resigned at Hillsdale to join the staff at the University of Delaware.

The volleyball team of the 126th Infantry regiment, which won the division trophy at Camp Grayling for the fourth straight year, is made up entirely of National Guardsmen from Holland's Co. D.

And no wonder they win! Take a look at this tall line-up: Duane Rosendahl and Roland Prins both 6-5, John Naber 6-4, Ken Schippers 6-2, and Harold Valkema and Clayton Ter Haar both six feet.

Turpentine Ignites

Some turpentine thrown in back of the Vogelzang Hardware store on Washington Square ignited itself somehow Saturday morning, the resultant blaze blistered part of the back of the store but otherwise did no damage. City firemen answered the alarm at 9:45 a.m. Saturday.

Police Outline Student Safety

With the school year in Holland entering its second week, city police today outlined pedestrian safety practices for students.

Chief Jacob Van Hoff urged parents to insist that children cross main streets only at posted corners and where intersections are guarded by officers.

Best places to cross River Ave. are at the 15th and 17th St. intersections where lights are in operation, police pointed out. At the 15th St. corner, "No Turn" signs have been installed.

Stop signs and corner crossing markings have been installed at several places near various grade schools. One is at 11th St. and Pine Ave., for Washington school students, and another is at 25th St. and Central Ave. for Longfellow students. Officers have been posted at 24th and State Sts., and at 19th St. and River Ave. The corner at 11th St. and Columbia Ave. is the safest place for Lincoln school students to cross, police said.

The outlying Christian schools have the same crossing points as last year—at 20th St. and Ottawa Ave., and at 32nd St. and Central Ave.

School custodians are assisting the safety plan by putting out the signs before school rush hours.
