School Budget Up $190,000 From Last Year

An annual budget of $2,356,255.94 for the 1966-67 school year was adopted by the Board of Education Monday night.

It is roughly $190,000 over last year's budget of $2,165,059.37.

It had been under study since early in the year.

Board Member Harvey Buter explained the budget which he said was the result of considerable reevaluation of many programs in the school system. Most budget allotments for various programs are much the same as the past year with the exception of the music program which has been improved and increased.

Estimated revenue for the 1966-67 year is listed at $2,367,996.77 which would leave a balance of $11,740.83 at year's end.

The 1966-67 year also marks the close of the special voted 3 mills for school operations. Another millage election is expected to be held within the coming year.

Some 80 per cent of the new budget of $1,877,613.44 will go for instruction, a boost over last year's 76 per cent.

The instruction budget is broken down as follows: elementary, $874,788.77; junior high, $395,473.90; junior high extra pay and athletic expenses, $6,171.15; senior high, $471,868.74; senior high extra pay, $11,495; contingency for instruction, $6,855; special education, $110,960.88.

Other budget items list administration, $71,380; health services, $5,250; pupil transportation, $6,450; operation of plant, $274,500; maintenance of plant, $81,012.50; fixed charges, "insurance," $13,000; capital outlay, $24,750; community services, $2,300 (Jefferson cook and school forest).

Total estimated revenue for the new budget is $2,367,996.77.

On the basis of 4,775 students, state aid is listed at $880,138. State aid for special education including tuition and transportation is listed at $60,000.

Local taxes are expected to bring in $1,200,059 based on 13.77 mills on a state equalized valuation of $88,928,859 geared to 98 per cent tax collection.

Other revenues: county reimbursement for special education, $19,500; vocational education reimbursement, $7,000; driver education reimbursement, $11,500; delinquent taxes, $15,000; West Ottawa and Zeeland co-op program reimbursement, $17,000; tuition from other districts, $6,500; estimate of interest on investments, $17,000; National Defense Education Act reimbursement, $8,900.

All these figures total $2,242,597. Together with a balance on hand June 30 of $116,990.37 and a federal reimbursement on the summer reading program of $8,409.40, the total estimated revenue for 1966-67 is $2,367,996.77.

The salary schedule for 1966-67 for a teacher with an A.B. degree starts at $5,300 and in 12 steps goes to $7,720. Teachers with M.A. degrees start at $5,600 and in 13 steps reach $8,420. Credit for previous teaching experience is given on a corresponding year-to-year service not to exceed a maximum of eight years. Any teacher whose teaching experience in Holland has been interrupted by military service will be given full credit on the salary schedule for the time spent in service.

Fifteen days of sick leave are allowed each teacher during the first year in the school district, and 10 days per year thereafter, cumulative to 100 days. One day may be used each year for business leave. This day will be deducted from sick leave.

There were 10 persons in the audience, most of them teachers.

Quartet Convention Slated Here

The Holland chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., will play host to a Michigan District convention in Civic Center Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 and 2.

Main events are scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 1. There will be a quartet contest at 10 a.m., a chorus contest at 2 p.m., and a quartet show at 8 p.m. All will be open to the public but largest crowds are expected at the evening event.

So far, some 10 quartets are listed for quartet competition and five will be screened for appearances for the evening show. One will be chosen district champion and will compete in the international contest next spring in Los Angeles. Holland played host to the district convention in 1963, attracting 1,500 to 2,000 persons.

ers. None spoke in connection with the public hearing of the budget.

Members of the Board of Education are James O. Lamb, president; John Keuning, vice president; Mrs. Harriet Heneveld, secretary; Harvey J. Buter, treasurer; Dale Mossburg, Russel Fredricks and John Weeber.

Varied Items Processed By Council

In a meeting that lasted two hours and 15 minutes, City Council Wednesday night held several public hearings, set several more hearings, approved new ordinances and dealt with a variety of other subjects.

Following a public hearing, Council adopted an ordinance to rezone the northeast corner of 19th St. and Washington Ave. from residential to C-1 neighborhood commercial. It was understood a dry cleaning establishment would be housed in the building.

Council set Oct. 5 as date for a hearing on a petition to rezone a 100-foot lot on the south side of 32nd St. some distance west of Columbia Ave. to A-2 one and two-family residential. The property is adjacent to commercial property.

Oct. 5 also was set as date for hearings on eight water main special assessment rolls.

Tatad for study until the Oct. 5 meeting was an option to purchase property at 271 East 11th St. for $5,500. This property adjoins the street department garage.

Council accepted for first reading a lengthy ordinance providing for revenue bond issues for financing a new expansion to the city light plant. Final action is expected next week. This involves a bond issue for an estimated $5,575,000.

Council also approved an engineering agreement of the Board of Public Works with Black and Beach covering water works improvements in connection with an elevated tank and tower and high pressure pumps for the high service area in southern and eastern parts of the city.

A lengthy letter from Jon R. Sharpe, 32 West 32nd St., protesting the use of 32nd St. as a proposed truck route was read and placed on file.

Following public hearings, Council approved seven sanitary sewer special assessment rolls and three paving assessment rolls.

The only objection was offered by Herb Kammeraad, 555 Graafschap Rd., who protested a larger fee for a larger lot when the benefit is the same to any size lot. He was informed that the procedure Holland follows based on lot size is the accepted principle. Answering a question by Councilman Morris Peerbolt on possible alternatives, City Attorney Gordon Cunningham said Mr. Kammeraad could sue the city.

The sewer and paving assessments if not paid by Oct. 15 will be placed on the taxes, divided into five annual installments.

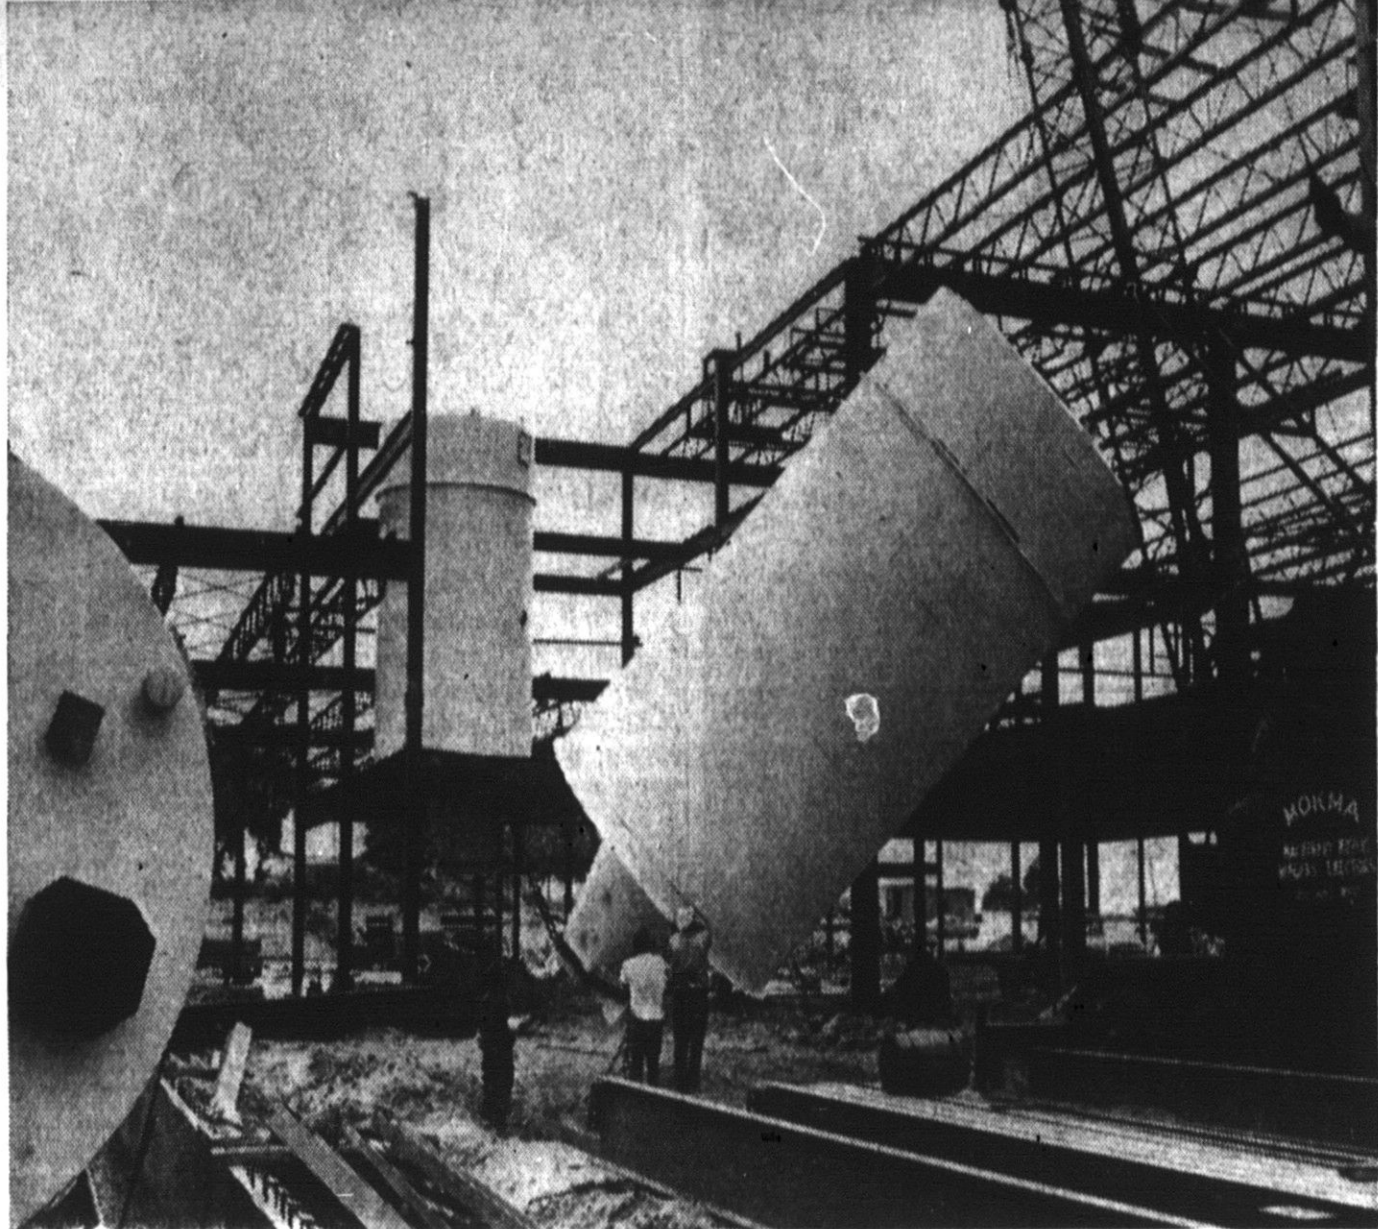

Council also scheduled a public hearing Oct. 5 on construction of parking lots west of River Ave. on both sides of Eighth St. The program calls for $35,000 to be assessed property owners in the special assessment district.

A letter from American Aerosols requesting sanitary sewer service to its new facilities in the southwest corner of 40th St. and Waverly Rd. was referred to the city manager for report. This company is in the city's new industrial park.

Council approved an application from William Koetje for a permit to move a garage from 86 West 21st St. to 130 East 14th St.

A letter from the Michigan Municipal Employees Retirement System informed Council that the city's account in the employees' accumulation has been credited with $19,558.66 as of June 30, 1966, due to an increase in interest rates.

A letter from Willard G. Leenhouts post 6 of the American Legion thanked Council for supporting the July 4 program for the Holland-Zeeland area.

SUGAR TANKS INSTALLED — The remaining two of four large sugar tanks were being installed at the new Beech-Nut plant in Holland today. The second of the gleaming white steel tanks is shown as it was being hoisted into position late Wednesday afternoon beside the first tank (background). Part of a third tank can be seen on a railroad flatcar at left. Each of the tanks is 28 feet long and 12 feet in diameter and has a capacity of approximately 50 tons. By a pneumatic process, sugar will be unloaded from railroad hopper cars and blown into the tanks for storage. From the tanks it will be blown into the batching area for use in the manufacture of confections. The epoxy-lined tanks were manufactured by Carter-Day Co. of Minneapolis, Minn. Moving was done by the William Mokma Co. of Holland. (Sentinel photo)

Maentz Named Vice President Of Works Board

Henry S. Maentz was elected vice president of the Board of Public Works Monday succeeding Adrian Klaasen who resigned recently for health reasons.

Appointment of a new member to the board is to be made by the mayor with approval of City Council.

The board also approved plans and specifications for a new elevated water tank and tower to be located on 48th St. just west of M-40 to serve the south and east sections of the city in the so-called heights.

Plans as drawn by Black and Veatch, engineering consultants, call for a tower 100 to 110 feet tall with a 500,000-gallon tank on top. This is the same size storage tank as the one on 28th St. Estimated cost will be $200,000 to $225,000.

Water to be pumped into the new tank will come from the reservoir on Waverly Rd. which has storage for 5,000,000 gallons.

The board expects to take bids in October and hope to have the project completed by July 1, 1967. This elevated water tank is part of the board's 10-year plan.

Christian Schools List 2,867 Pupils

Enrollment in the Holland Christian schools is listed at 2,867 pupils an increase of 44 over last year. Supt. Mark Vander Ark reported today.

The unit showing the biggest increase over last year was the junior high (grades seven and eight) while the high school now tops the 1,000 mark with 1,004 students in the upper four grades.

By schools, the enrollment shows 437 in Central Ave., 429 at Maplewood, 376 at South Side, 264 at Rose Park, 186 at West Side and 160 at East View. Both the Central Ave. and Maplewood schools also house the junior high grades, Vander Ark said.

The totals by grades are: kindergarten, 205; first, 176; second, 194; third, 201; fourth, 208; fifth, 199; sixth, 223; seventh, 244; eighth, 213; ninth, 224, 10th, 261; 11th, 267; 12th, 252.

Vander Ark said that the increase in enrollment continues to cause problems. He said that the Harderwyk Christian Reformed church on the north side is being used for two classes. He also reported that the large kindergarten enrollment at Rose Park is causing problems.

In addition, to alleviate a crowded kindergarten situation at Maplewood, a shuttle bus carries pupils to the West Side school.

He said the teacher situation is good, although the high school still needs a girls' physical education instructor.

Barbara Ambellas Ready For Retirement in 1967

Flashing brown eyes and a crop of premature white hair, cut short for convenience, mark Mrs. Barbara Ambellas in a crowd.

After 12 years as physical education instructor at Holland

Best known to Holland residents as the director of Dutch Dance, Mrs. Ambellas has worked with the Girls Athletic Club of about 100 girls, the Cheerleaders and the Athletic Sisters.

She has been escort and chaperone to girls during those years at clinics, workshops and camps transporting the girls in her own car much of the time. For several years she has been teaching the E.E. Fell Junior High Ladies Athletic Club which meets once a week for exercises.

An assistant this year is Miss Julie Kiefer, a Michigan State University graduate who did her practice teaching in Traverse City. Mrs. Ambellas is giving Miss Kiefer plenty of opportunities to run the show her way and to prepare her for Tulip Time with its extra duties.

With more time to relax in the phys ed teacher plans to join a badminton group and the athletic club, "just for fun." After attending many national conventions on physical education, the pert teacher says there is nothing to compare or outdo the wonderful recreation program and athletic system in the Holland schools. She has loved Tulip Times and working with the Klompers Dancers.

Expanding the dancers to include the West Ottawa High School groups for the past five years has made added responsibilities for Mrs. Ambellas who has a wonderful place in her memory and her heart for Holland and her Klompers Dancers.

$100,000 Program Set For Airport

ALLEGAN — City Council Monday approved plans and specifications for a $100,336 building program at Padgham Field, Allegan's newly expanded airport.

Airport committee recommendations for construction of a 6,000 square foot maintenance building and 16 T hangars were accepted by the council. Financing will be in the form of a revenue bond issue to be paid over a 20-year period. It was estimated that rental of the new buildings—already assured—will bring in sufficient revenue to meet annual bond payments.

Street department superintendent Clarence Brower told council that two of his best workmen had served notice they are leaving to accept higher paying jobs. Brower, noting it had been five years since his department had received any wage increases, said he would be hard pressed this winter to handle snow removal on streets and walks with a crew reduced to four men. Replacements, he commented, would be almost impossible to find at the present wages offered by the city.

Don Forster, city disposal plant manager, also appeared before the council requesting "at least a cost of living increase."

Mayor C. J. Smith asked Forster to consider the city's new retirement program as equal to a six per cent increase. Forster commended the council for inaugurating the plan but said it would be a hardship for employees to manage until retirement benefits could be realized.

Later, the council failed to adopt a motion by Robert Bergstrom for a five per cent across-the-board increase and cost of living adjustment for all city employees.

Bergstrom's motion was not withdrawn however, and indications are it will be acted upon after the council takes another look at the budget. Council also asked for salary recommendations from city manager Kenneth Bollinger before taking final action.

Bergstrom, elected to a four-year council term in April, 1965, announced he was accepting a new position as accountant for a Grand Haven firm. He requested that council appoint an interim member before Oct. 1.

A motion to adhere more strictly hereafter to state law regarding building permits was unanimously approved. Plans for any building, estimated at $2,000 or more and designed for use by the public, must be submitted in blueprint form by an engineer or architect before permits can be considered for approval in the future, it was decided.

Thieves Loot Country Club

SAUGATUCK — Several thousand dollars worth of loot was taken in a break-in at the Hamilton Lake Golf and Country Club on 135th Ave. near here Monday night or early Tuesday morning.

Allegan County sheriff's deputies said the loot included $1,000 worth of silverware, silver bowls and trays, $500 worth of alcoholic beverages, 40 sweaters, 20 watches, three sports coats, cut glass items, shoes and golf gloves. A small amount of money was also taken from a cash register.

The burglars entered the building by prying open a vent window on the south side of the dining room, and removing a screen window. The items were taken from the dining room, pro shop and office of the club, deputies said.

William Hamilton, owner of the club, told deputies the break-in occurred between 10 p.m. Monday night and 7 a.m. Tuesday.

The break-in was reported to the sheriff's department Tuesday morning.

D. Uildriks Falls Out Of Boat

42-Year-Old Man Is
Ottawa County's 7th
Drowning Victim of '66

A 42-year-old Holland man became Ottawa county's seventh drowning victim of the year Friday when he fell from a boat in Lake Macatawa near Grissens's Sport Shop, at about 5:38 p.m.

Dale Albert Uildriks, 42, of 180 East 27th St., was a passenger in a boat occupied by his brothers, Robert and Louis, when he fell into about nine feet of water.

Ottawa sheriff's deputies said that his brothers tried to save him but their attempts were to no avail.

Sheriff's deputies and U.S. Coast Guardsmen dragged the area and located the body at 7:55 p.m. in about the same spot where Uildriks was reported to have gone down.

The body was recovered by a boat occupied by Sheriff Marine deputy Gary Windemuller and Conservation Officer Dallas Bronson.

Boatswain Mate George Baum of the Coast Guard said the body was found about 100 yards off the east shore of Big Bay, in about nine feet of water.

Last night at this time Ottawa County had recorded six drownings while in 1964 the county had no drownings.

Dr. William Westraat Jr., served as medical examiner.

Uildriks was born in Grand Rapids and had lived here for the past 33 years. He was a carpenter and was in company with his brother in the Uildriks Brothers Contractors.

He was a member of the New Apostolic Church and of the choir. He was a veteran of World War II.

Surviving are his wife, Virginia; one son, William, at home; his father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Uildriks of Holland; two brothers, Louis G. Uildriks and Robert A. Uildriks, both of Holland; two sisters, Mrs. Everett (Lucille) Heideima of Billings, Mont.; and Mrs. John (Gladys) Uildriks of Chicago.

Funeral services were held Monday at 2 p.m. at the New Apostolic Church with the Rev. John Heideima officiating. Burial was in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Roth Prize Composition Honors Hope

Hope College is to be honored in an unusual way. The 1966 Roth prize-winning orchestral composition, "Hatikva" written by Nikola Ovanin, will be dedicated to Hope College according to word received by Dr. Morrette Rider.

"Hatikva", which took first place in the recent competition held at the ninth annual conference of the National School Orchestra Association held last month at Hope's campus, is the Hebrew word for "the hope", and is also used as the title of the national anthem of the State of Israel.

Ovanin, who based his composition's theme on the traditional folk melody brought to him by one of his students, decided to dedicate the published work to Hope because of the coincidence of the prize winning composition's having been entitled "Hope" in a year when the college is celebrating its 100th anniversary and for the college's contribution to orchestra music and its long association with the Roth contest.

The NSOA has, for the past three years, held its annual conventions on Hope's campus and plans to meet there again next year.

The Roth competition annually awards, as an encouragement to young composers, $1,000 in prizes for the three best original compositions for orchestra. Prize-winning compositions have been performed in concerts conducted by Dr. Thor Johnson of the Interlochen Arts Academy, Dr. James Christian Pfah of the Brevard Music Center, and Dr. Morette Rider of Hope College.

To date, some 11 compositions out of the hundreds submitted have been awarded prizes and have been published by leading music publishing houses throughout the United States. "Hatikva" will be published next spring.

Car Strikes Deer

A car driven by Ted L. Masters, 34, of 292 Elm St. struck a deer on Lakewood Blvd. about a half mile east of 160th Ave. at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Masters told Ottawa sheriff's deputies the buck was hit by the hood of the car, and was apparently not injured.

Council Tables Church's Offer to Open Avenue

The building committee of Providence Christian Reformed Church made a proposal to City Council Wednesday night for opening Ottawa Ave. south of 32nd St., but after discussing the subject for a full hour, Council tabled it until after next week's meeting.

Wednesday's meeting was the first meeting in four weeks. It was a three-week (something that happens every three months) and then the Sept. 7 meeting was postponed a week to allow members to attend the annual convention of the Michigan Municipal League in Detroit.

The church proposal to the city was to deed the 66-foot roadway for the Ottawa Ave. extension in exchange for one-half of all the special assessments including paving, sidewalk, curb and gutter, storm sewer, sanitary sewer and water.

Associated with the need for opening Ottawa Ave. is the new Christian High School, now under construction at Ottawa and 40th St. which is in need of light, water and sewer services. The most logical route for such services would be on Ottawa Ave. but the city is reluctant to install services on areas which are not public rights of way.

At Wednesday's meeting, a letter from the Schools for Christian Education requested that a water main be laid down 40th St. east from Graafschap Rd. The letter indicated the school would pay full costs for the main estimated at $8,600. Reimbursements would be made to the school as the area develops.

Hil Buurma, representing the school group, cited the urgent need for water at the new $15 million school where boilers already are installed and where water to the site has come through a plastic hose overland. Additional water is needed as builders prepare to pour gypsum roofs.

Ray Holwerda, high school principal and former city councilman, reminded city fathers that the school has been very patient over services which have been promised them, but the situation is getting desperate.

The subject was picked up again later in the agenda under communications from council members, and the results of negotiations between a special Council committee consisting of Donald Oosterbaan, Bertal Slagh and John Van Eerden and Providence Church authorities were explained more fully.

The church property is considerably larger than is needed for a new church site, and the additional 10 or more acres is held with view to subdividing into residential lots. Another factor is a 40-foot "devil strip" across Ottawa Ave. from the church site. The Council committee had proposed that this strip be included in negotiations with the city, but this proposal was turned down by the consistory.

Oosterbaan proposed that the case go to condemnation, with courts determining what is fair. City Attorney Gordon Cunningham felt that busy court dockets could not schedule such a civil case until close to the end of 1966 and that it might take 60 to 90 days. Since the property lies in the Allegan county section of Holland city, the case would be heard in Allegan Circuit Court.

Cunningham listed three alternatives (1) direct sale of the roadway in which cash consideration would be equal to part of the improvements, (2) condemnation through courts, or (3) a compromise of sorts in which the church could grant easements for the utility services and in no way prejudice later court considerations.

Eugene Vande Vusse said developers deed streets to the city without remuneration and assume all costs of improvements. He questioned whether the proposed "purchase" would set a precedent which could prove troublesome in the future. Christian School Supt. Mark Vander Kooi in summing up the problems said the school is not fighting the church... it is only interested in getting the services it needs. This led to other discussions and school leaders said they would by far prefer getting their utilities along Ottawa Ave. than through the alternate route from Graafschap Rd. They even concluded they could wait a week.

Oosterbaan's motion to instruct the city attorney to start condemnation procedures to open Ottawa Ave. as soon as possible was superseded by a substitute motion by Morris Peerbolt to accept the church's offer and pay an amount equal to half the assessments. City Manager Herb Holt figured such a figure in the neighborhood of $11,600. Henry Steffens felt all questions should be answered and objected to doing business under duress, and suggested a week's delay.

Peerbolt's substitute motion lost 5 to 3, with Clark, Peerbolt and Van Eerden favoring immediate sale. Instead of returning to Oosterbaan's original motion to institute condemnation proceedings, Council voted to table the subject until next week.

Mayor Pro Tem Bertal Slagh felt Council should have some type of an informal gathering before next week's meeting, and several Council members remained after adjournment to pursue the subject. Slagh presided in the absence of Mayor Nelson Bosman who is a patient in Butterworth Hospital.

Local Court Processes Many Cases

A huge number of court cases were processed in Holland Municipal Court the last few days.

Anna Mae Herron, 37, of 61 West 15th St., charged with writing a check with insufficient funds, has paid $4.10 costs and has made restitution. The alleged offense occurred Dec. 23, 1965, and the arrest was made Aug. 31. A 30-day jail sentence was suspended provided restitution was made by Sept. 12.

A 30-day jail sentence was suspended for Donald Ten Brink, 35, Wyoming, after he made restitution on Sept. 9 on an insufficient fund check charge. He also paid $4.10 costs.

Jose Luis Luna, 22, of 544 East Eight St., paid $59.10 on a charge of furnishing liquor to a minor. A 30-day jail sentence was suspended on condition there are no further violations of the liquor law.

Clinton Beck, 53, of 112 West 10th St., paid $20.60 on a disorderly-intoxicated charge. A 10-day jail sentence was suspended on condition no further violations of the liquor law.

Arraign 151 To Date in Saugatuck

SAUGATUCK — Justice Erv Kasten has put in a busy week processing court cases resulting from the busy Labor Day weekend in which thousands of young people converged on this resort town for one last fling before going back to school.

Through Saturday, Kasten arraigned 151 persons including 57 who had been in Allegan jail unable to post bond. True to his promise, minors in possession of intoxicants were fined $100.

Currently, Kasten is checking zoning regulations in dealing with seven arrests in connection with a "tent city" which sprang up near one of Saugatuck's motels and then moved to adjacent property.

So far, Kasten's court has collected over $4,000, taken under the Saugatuck ordinances, Douglas ordinances and state ordinances. "Although this looks like a lot of money to casual observers, it never comes near covering the costs of police work," Kasten said. He added that Saugatuck last year paid approximately $28,000 for police services and collected about $18,000 through courts.

He said running a justice court is a time-consuming service with lots of paper work and sometimes 16-hour days. He figures that together with other public service he might average $1 an hour or less over the entire year.

More than 75 per cent of the charges were directly associated with drinking over the Labor Day weekend, he said. Others ran to littering, abusive language and the like.

Presentation of evidence posed some new experiences this year. On one occasion, Police Officer Joe Brown asked for a wheelbarrow and then could not get it through the door with its load of beer cans topped with three liquor bottles. It was the evidence of a case involving a single youth since all others had fled the scene on the beach.

We've had liquor evidence brought to us in wastebaskets, boxes, bags and even washtubs, but never before in a wheelbarrow," Kasten said.

Then there was the case of the motorcyclist who insisted motorcycles cannot be quiet and adopted a "show me" attitude. Kasten had noted the youth had the muffler baffles in his pocket, so he put them into the muffler and took the youth on a ride to the Blue Star Highway and back, proving that motorcycles need not be noisy. It was the first time Kasten had been on a motorcycle since 1923.

He fined the youth $20 for excessive noise and said he was welcome to return to Saugatuck if he kept the noise down. Otherwise, the next fine will be much higher.

NEW RESIDENTS

In the last few days, Holland has received hundreds of new residents, many of whom will be with us for four years. We refer to the students who are coming to our city from all over the country, and from outside our country, to study at Hope College.

In the future these young people will become our engineers, doctors, educators, ministers, statesmen, and the many other professions that make up our civilization. Some will become leaders in their native countries, returning there with the skills and knowledge they have acquired.

But all the education these young people receive will not come from the college. These students will be living in a community and they will be influenced in their thinking by what they observe. This gives us a great opportunity. We can show them a community committed to democracy, a democracy in which the citizen does not shun his duty to participate in government, either by direct involvement, or a discussion of issues. We can show them a community where principles take precedence over expediency. We can show them a community that understands something of the true values of life.

We can show them a community that is not afraid of new ideas, nor ashamed of old ones, realizing that both must stand some rigid testing. We can show them that we do understand young people and their aspirations.

We are quite sure that we have listed some ideals, and have some work ahead of us. But it is well for us to remember that if we do not influence young people with our eye on these goals we will influence them with goals that are of inferior quality.

Our welcome is extended to the hundreds of students who have come to join our community.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, Sept. 18
Temperance and the Ten Commandments
Luke 21:34a; Ephesians 5:15-18; Proverbs 23:31-33; Deuteronomy 5:16-21.

By C. P. Dame
Automobile manufacturers are told to make cars safer. Newspapers tell us that one-half of the traffic accidents are caused by liquor. This means that drivers are often to blame—not the cars. This lesson on temperance is most timely. Let us face the facts honestly.

Liquor subtracts from a person's efficiency. Jesus told His disciples that He is coming again and one day said to them, "Be on your guard—see to it that your minds are never clouded by dissipation or drunkenness or the worries of this life, or else that day may catch you like the springing of the trap"—so reads Phillips.

Note the three things Jesus warns against. The first is "Surfeiting"—that is giddiness and headaches caused by liquor, and drunkenness which unfits people for good work, and besides, worry which often causes ulcers. Liquor hurts unskilled and skilled workers.

Paul in his letter to the Ephesians urged believers who came from paganism to live "like sensible men, not like simpletons." This calls for a clear, sound mind. Liquor darkens the mind. The man with good sense lets liquor alone. Paul urges Christians to be filled with the Spirit—not with wine which gives a false kind of excitement.

Liquor deceives people who use it. Several vivid stories in the Bible tell about the sad results of the use of liquor. Can you recall any? Proverbs 23:29-35 gives us a vivid description of what liquor does to people and warns us, "Look not thou upon the wine when it is red," but people still do it. Liquor is advertised heavily and made to appear very attractive.

Social drinking leads to happy family living. Does it? Liquor dulls a person's moral sense, often promotes sexual freedom, infidelity and lust and lowers resistance to temptation and causes the inner fences to tumble down. Many young people have allowed liquor to ruin their lives.

Liquor often fosters lawlessness. Last week we studied the last commandment of the Decalogue.

In this lesson we are asked to look at the decalogue as a whole. The facts are that the use of liquor often leads to the violation of the Ten Commandments. The decalogue demands discipline, liquor often leads to lawless living.

The fifth commandment teaches children to obey their parents. Liquor stirs up disobedience and rebellion. The sixth commandment protects life. Liquor causes many fatal accidents on the highways. The seventh commandment protects the home.

Liquor often leads to immorality and faithlessness to the marriage vow. Some people violate the eighth commandment by stealing while under the influence of liquor. The ninth commandment protects a person's reputation and we know that liquor makes people talkative and say things about others which are not true. And liquor makes people covetous.

To sum it all up, liquor hurts the person and society. Why not let it alone?

Leslie Pandel Is Crowned Allegan's Harvest Queen

ALLEGAN — Miss Leslie Ann Pandel, Miss Fennville for 1966, was crowned the 1966 Harvest Queen Tuesday night at the Allegan County Fair.

In a "Fennville-all-the-way" atmosphere, Miss Pandel was crowned by last year's fair queen, Janice Hagger, also of Fennville. The new queen and her predecessor were Fennville High School classmates.

Runners-up in the 14th annual contest, a preliminary to the Miss Michigan Pageant, were Miss Plainwell, Melanie Ann Mc Bride, and Miss Wayland, Rita Marie Belka.

All three finalists presented their talent competitions before the grandstand audience of more than 5,000 persons. The new Harvest Queen sang a folk song, and accompanied herself on the guitar. Miss Mc Bride presented a modern jazz dance and Miss Belka did a baton twirling routine.

Miss Pandel, now eligible to represent Allegan County in next year's Miss Michigan contest, is a 1966 graduate of Fennville High School and is presently enrolled as a freshman at Western Michigan University. She likes to paint, play the guitar and design her own clothes.

At Fennville High School Miss Pandel was a four-year member of the National Honor Society, a student council member for three years, a cheerleader and member of the Science Club and newspaper staff. She is aiming at a career either in commercial art or retailing.

Nichols Wins 11 Trophies In Slot Car Competition

Jud Nichols, 19, of 661 Douglas Ave. recently won 11 drag racing trophies with cars he built and tested in the basement of his home.

The race cars are slot cars, 1-32nd and 1-24th actual size and Nichols won the trophies at the summer drag racing championship of the Miniature International Racing Association at an auto firm in Indianapolis, Ind.

Slot cars are battery-operated scale-models of autos, and the drag races are held over the scale equivalent of a quarter mile.

Nichols copped six first place trophies, a second place trophy and a trophy for having the best appearing dragsters in the 1-32nd size.

His biggest trophy is for turning in the fastest time of the day at the drag, one of his slot cars covered the scale quarter mile in the 1-32nd class in about 1.31 seconds.

Nichols' cars also set three world records for various classes of competition.

The actual speed of the top slot cars is about 70 miles per hour, Nichols said, but in scale speed they reach something like 1,400 miles per hour.

The championship drag races were timed with a special timing device which records to the 1-10,000th of a second.

Nichols has been interested in slot car racing for six years, and has been competing in drag races for two years. Last year his cars won four trophies.

He built his own track, a sports-car road racing course in his basement, and hopes to construct a drag strip this winter.

He builds the frames for his cars from scratch. The engines he purchases, but he does re-winding of the engines himself.

The bodies of the cars are put together from special kits. Nichols emphasized that the slot cars that compete in the championships are not the ordinary type one can purchase in a store. He has to build them to race at as high as 36 volts whereas the standard voltage for slot cars is 12. The average car would burn out at the high voltages of championship competition.

The championship cars develop approximately 100,000 r.p.m.s while the average slot cars develop between 20,000 and 40,000. "Slot car racing is becoming one of the top American pastimes," Nichols said.

There are slot car clubs throughout the United States as

Exchange Club Members Hear M. G. Burdick

Murel G. Burdick of the Muskegon School system was guest speaker at the Monday noon luncheon meeting of the Holland Exchange Club in the Warm Friend Hotel.

Burdick who was one of a group of educators that toured Russia this past year showed slides and presented a picture of Soviet life, paying special attention to the school system of the communist - controlled nations.

Burdick said in Moscow there have been large apartment buildings that look imposing but a close inspection reveals mortar that is already crumbling. Even the large stadium built for the Olympic contests two years ago is beginning to crumble, he said.

Rooms in the apartment houses are pro-rated, Burdick added, and three people get only a two-room apartment. Foreigners are not invited into the homes because records are kept as to the number of visitors, who they are, where they are from and where they work. A family playing host to someone under suspicion by the government is also placed on the suspicious list, Burdick said.

The educator said the group was allowed to visit the best schools and found them very much below standard. The rooms are small, he said, and equipment is poor and extremely limited. Classes are large and the salary for the teachers averages around $75 a month.

Burdick said the visitors were impressed by the University of Moscow and felt that it constituted the biggest threat to communism.

Louis Vande Bunte, president of the Holland Exchange Club, welcomed the members and presided at the short business meeting. Burdick, one-time district director of Exchange, was introduced by St. Voogd, vice president in charge of program.

Larry Kozal, new district director of Michigan Exchange, and Dick Hammer, president of the Muskegon Exchange Club, were visitors.

Delightful Garden Tour Opens Holland Club Year

The gardens viewed by the more than 100 members of the Holland Garden Club on Thursday afternoon were enhanced by the delightful weather that prevailed throughout the tour. The fall tour and tea opened the club season.

The theme for the tour was "Our Search Leads", with Mrs. Garrell Adler serving as the general chairman. The first stop was "The River's Edge" where the gardens of Mrs. Harold Taylor, 3416 Riverside Dr., Saugatuck, were seen.

A lacy hemlock screen covered the front of the yard, with a clipped boxwood hedge leading to the front door. A flowering crab tree with brilliant fruit and a front border of flowers completed the yard. A shaded walk led to the back of the house where the landscaped yard led to a terrace which overlooked the Kalamazoo river, with its steep bank and natural beauty left untouched.

A cedar fence with lanterns enclosed one side of the yard, with ground covers and flowering hosta planted with a variety of rhododendron. Illuminated cherub statues graced the lawn and a scalloped border of English ivy complemented the scene. Hostesses here were Mrs. Donald Van Kampen, Mrs. Frank Fleischer, Mrs. Ronald J. Boven and Miss Ruth Keppel.

"Merry Acres" the home of Mrs. Paul Bruck, Lakeshore Dr., Fennville, inspired the theme of "View From the Top", and a most magnificent view it was. A white fence with hanging lanterns at the entrance extended across the front of the acres of green landscaped lawn. Rose of Sharon planted in clusters of three followed the circle drive of white crushed stone, which led past the guest house with its hedge of alpine currant.

A variety of trees and assorted shrubs were to be seen in unusual settings. Among those were a huge horse chestnut tree, surrounded by myrtle ground cover, the sugar maple, a real Michigan native, mulberry, basswood, ash, willow, birch, tulip tree, pine, maple, dogwood, locust and some spectacular trumpet vines.

Directly in front of the terrace was a flower border with marigolds, viburnum and European larch. English ivy clung to the stone terrace walls and potted assorted plants added color. The back yard overlooked Lake Michigan with many more acres of well groomed grass and shade trees, and a rear border of blooming hosta. Members were invited to tour the house, which proved to be an artistic experience. Hostesses here were Mrs. Frederick W. Stanton, Mrs. William H. Venhuizen, Mrs. Harold Thornhill, Mrs. Robert Wolbrink and Mrs. Stuart Padnos.

Arriving at the home of W. Russell Button, Center St., Douglas, members were greeted by Mrs. Paul McIlwain, president of the Garden Club, and served tea from a white covered table with an arrangement of yellow and gold mums and asters in a compote as the centerpiece done by Mrs. Stuart Padnos.

Mrs. J. Donald Jencks served as tea chairman and her committee of Mrs. Will J. Scott, Mrs. Theodore Baker, Mrs. William Murdoch, Mrs. Harold Boles and Mrs. Ronald Robinson assisted. Mrs. Sidney H. Johnson distributed the handbooks.

The Button gardens are indeed "An Artist's Dream", which was the theme here. They are perfect examples of landscape design executed by a master, who was Charles Man of Saugatuck and Mr. Button. The side garden is a formal English garden with clipped boxwood hedges planted in a double wedding ring effect, with stately maples spreading their branches letting the sun come through giving the garden a cathedral glow.

In sections of the garden are rhododendron, azaleas, mahonia, holly and mountain ash which were invitations to a great many species of birds. The walk through the gardens are of New York blue stone and led from the side garden to the larger garden behind the galleries. Here the walk led to a pool of natural beauty made of weathered lime stone with a statue of St. Francis surrounded by dwarf fern and a weeping cherry tree.

The entire back yard was terraced with walls of weathered limestone, out of which grew chicken and hens, spider and lemon thyme, giving the wall the effect that it had always been there. Directly in back of the gallery were assorted ground covers grouped together. Pachysandra, English ivy and myrtle were interspersed between masses of geraniums and petunias. Along the back wall were many varieties of flowers showing a profusion of color. Some of these were bleeding hearts, all colors of petunias, feverfew, seedum, pussystoes, coarse leaf saxifrag, plumbago, phlox, and maiden hair fern. Behind these were the taller planting of flowering crab and cherry, many holly's, Japanese dwarf pine, red Japanese maple, and a rare perpendicular English oak.

Following the walk around, day lilies were seen, as were yellow and orange tall marigolds, dwarf viburnum, a euonymus tree, multi-colored dwarf dahlias and shocking pink lily heather. The masses of petunia are planted for late fall enjoyment and cottage tulips and crocus can be seen in early spring. The gardens are among the most exquisite in this area and from planner to caretakers they are a delicate work of art.

Board members serving as hostesses at the tea and the galleries were Mrs. Jack Glupker, Mrs. Leonard Dick, Mrs. William Vandenberg Jr., Mrs. Donald G. Kingsley, Mrs. J.J. Brower, Mrs. Raymond Kuiper, Mrs. Verne J. Schipper, Mrs. Huger Burnham, and Mrs. J. M. Van Alsborg.

Set Grand Jury Slaughter Probe

GRAND RAPIDS — A grand jury investigation was to be ordered Tuesday by Kent County Circuit Court into a butchering operation which allegedly processed and sold meat from diseased cattle.

The court agreed to the investigation Monday at the request of Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley after police and Agricultural Department authorities raided three meat handling plants in the county and arrested five men.

Circuit Judge Stuart Hoffius was to be named grand juror.

The raids climaxed a probe which traced the tainted meat by injecting cattle carcasses with a harmless chemical that appeared under ultraviolet light.

Kelley said the operation processed and sold 250,000 pounds of beef last year in the form of sausage, luncheon meats and other meat products.

No illness or deaths were reported from consumption of the meat, Kelley said, but he called the operation "a shocking assault on the health of the citizens of Michigan."

Kelley requested the probe to determine how widespread the illegal meat slaughtering operation was and if other com-

Hotel Leases Rooms to Hope College

The burgeoning enrollment of men students at Hope College, together with the shortage of residence halls, has necessitated the college to seek accommodations for junior and senior male students at Warm Friend Hotel.

Mrs. Jan Hoebeke, resident manager of Warm Friend Hotel, said while the hotel is primarily to serve as a residential apartment building, the contract was entered into with the college for the first semester only. If both parties agree, the contract may be renewed for the second semester.

A total of 24 rooms on the fifth floor will accommodate 54 students who will be under the same rules and regulations as Hope College dormitory occupants.

Mrs. Hoebeke said the regulations include the fact that the students will remain on the fifth floor only and not be allowed on the other floors.

Two senior students, John Huisman of Grand Haven and Robert Woodger of North Bergen, N. J., will serve as resident advisors, according to Robert De Young, dean of men. Of the men's residence halls, the largest, Kollen Hall, will be housing 298 students while Zwemer Hall will accommodate 75. Each of the five fraternity houses will have room for 50 students. Mandeville and Crispell cottages can serve 12 students each.

$500,000 Dornbos Suit To Continue

GRAND HAVEN — An opinion was filed in Ottawa Circuit Court Monday by Judge Raymond L. Smith in connection with the $500,000 damage suit started June 2, 1965 against several firms by the H. J. Dornbos Bros. fishing firm of Grand Haven.

Harold Dornbos and his wife Beverly seek damages against the Kroger Co. and four trucking firms following the alleged botulism outbreak that resulted in several deaths in Tennessee in 1963.

The trucking firms listed as co-defendants in the case are Rooks Transfer of Holland and Adkins Transfer Co., Adkins Cargo Express, Inc., and Tennessee Catage Co. of Tennessee.

Judge Smith Monday denied a motion by the Tennessee firms, who sought to have the complaint dismissed for lack of jurisdiction.

Pre-trial hearings have not been heard in the case and no date for the trial, before a jury, has been set. The case may be heard during the October term of Circuit Court, which opens Oct. 10.

The Dornbos firm cited loss of business and personal health as results of alleged negligence by the defendants in handling smoked "chubs" processed at Grand Haven and shipped in September of 1963 to the Kroger Co. warehouse at Nashville, Tenn.

Dornbos charges the defendants were negligent in hauling the fish without proper refrigeration and that Kroger was negligent in offering the fish for sale.

School Millage Needs Studied

Along with studying the 1966-67 school budget, the Board of Education is ever mindful of the year to follow, particularly as it concerns operating millage.

The special issue in 1963 calling for 3 mills for 3 years for school operations expired this year. The next question is how much millage is needed and for how long.

Board President James O. Lamb said at a Board of Education meeting Monday night that the school program has been very fortunate the last three years because in addition to the extra voted millage, tax collections have been good, increased assessments brought more taxes, and state aid increased. Delinquent tax collections were up and a good economy generally reflected increased school revenues.

"Looking ahead to next year, however, the picture is not rosy," he explained. "If we are just to maintain our present program and provide for the normal salary increments, but no salary increases, we expect next year's budget will run $2,385,630. Estimated revenues for the year run $2,003,914. The difference amounts to $381,716, and this would require 4.5 mills just to meet minimum needs.

"Any salary improvements or program improvements would require more than 4.25 mills," he added.

As yet, the Board of Education has made no decision on how much millage or how long it should run.

There is growing interest on limiting the millage issue to a single year since teacher salary negotiations are on an annual basis. School boards have traditionally kept their elections separate in the belief that important school issues should not be swallowed up in political elections which cover many fronts. Economy minded people, however, have expressed interest in coupling the millage election with the Nov. 8 general election.

Mrs. Robert Cecil, speaking for the PTA Council, asked board members to attend the October PTA meetings and explain millage needs early to the parents. She said Charles Bradford has been appointed public relations chairman on this matter for the PTA Council.

Board President Lamb said the board will continue its study on this front and he was hopeful a decision would be made within a month.
