Speaking of the Van Ry case, the Grand Haven Tribune says, which is puzzling the doctors, Peter Boet of this city suffered an accident years ago in which his skull was terribly fractured and the physicians attending him took out some of the gray matter of his brain. Peter still lives and is working hard every day.

Last Saturday Chas. Ter Beek was detected in the act of shooting a woodpecker and a brown thrasher. He was promptly arrested by game warden Cook and taken before Justice Kollen Monday morning. Ter Beek pleaded guilty and was assessed $10 and $5 costs, this ought to be a warning to those who have been cruelly and wantonly killing our song birds.

Messrs. C. L. and H. P. Streng and wives of Holland drove to this place and enjoyed a picnic dinner on the lake shore on Wednesday of this week. In the pioneer days of this section Mr. C. L. Streng owned and occupied what is now the Thomas McVea place on the lake shore, and this was his first visit since leaving here forty years ago.—Saugatuck Commercial.

Detectives are still laying around Holland in search for the train robbers. Geiser they claim is still located between Holland and the Kalamazoo river. There is money in it for those who find him. The description given is: About thirty-eight or forty years old; about 5 feet eleven inches or 6 feet tall; weight about 180 pounds; dark brown hair, sandy moustache and goatee colored black; swarthy complexion; sharp, dark eyes; has a nervous twitch to eye when excited; carries a dirk knife and a large roll of money.

Tom Savadge "the man with the stove pipe hat" and the owner of St. Clair figures that he has already carried away purses to exceed $10,000. He has not been outside the money yet this season and has won every race with the exception of one that he has entered in. At the beginning of this season he started in with a mark of 2:22. After getting third at Grand Rapids he won at Lansing in 2:12. The following week he won at Saginaw in 2:11, and the week following at Detroit in three heats of 2:10 each. At Buffalo he won in a six heat race, and later in the same meeting won another race in three straight.

Holland patronizes the Chicago & West Michigan Railway Co. to a considerable extent both in the freight and passenger traffic. Close to 1,000 tickets were sold from here to Grand Rapids last week. In return the city has the reputation of having a shanty depot with no prospects of a better one.

A correspondent from Saugatuck says: That the most severe electric storm of the season struck this place at 5 p. m. Tuesday, damaging telegraph and telephone lines. The house of Jacob Falze was struck by lightning and set on fire, the family in the house not being aware of it until alarmed by the neighbors. It cost Mr. De Kraker $7.50 for a return ticket and he had to telegraph to the First State Bank for the money. He has made up his mind that he will not go farther than Graafschap or Zeeland next time.

Officer Mincher of the Chicago Central Squad has made a record. He saved a woman from drowning in the lake at the Van Buren street pier last evening, says the Inter Ocean. He was aboard the boat Macatawa when it landed at the pier with a load of passengers from Manhattan Beach. When the gang plank was thrown out the rain was coming down in torrents, and there was a rush for shore. One woman made a mistake and fell into the lake. Officer Mincher heard the splash in the water and the cries of the other passengers. He pushed his way onto the plank and saw the woman floating near by. Leaping into the water, he succeeded in assisting her onto the pier. The crew of the boat then threw a rope and the officer was pulled out. The bystanders cheered the officer's brave act, but the woman was hurried away by friends before she could thank her preserver or give the police a chance to learn her name.

SATURDAY, Sept. 21

Two Wheels.

She sings by her wheel at the low cottage door
Which the long evening shadows are stretching before.
With music as sweet as the music which seems Breathed softly and faintly in the ear of our dreams.
—J. G. Whittier.

If the good Quaker poet could only come back.
And cast his mild eye over progress' hot track.
From the maidens that were to the maidens
that be,
Oh, weeping Jerusalem, what would he see?

The man on who sat by her wheel at the door,
Isn't running that kind of a wheel any more;
She spinseth not flax by the cottage door neat;
She straddles the wheel and goes forth on the street.

The girl on the wheel, in the good Quakers' day,
Calm, quiet and modest, was spinning away
Where the cool waters flowed and the light
zephyrs fair
Blew the tresses loose that had strayed
from her hair.

And her manner was tranquil, her skin lily
white,
And her gown it was clean, and her speech was polite,
In short th' fair maiden, the wheel who possessed,
Was a pattern of modesty, coolness and rest.

The girl with the wheel at the present goes out,
Without any weak hesitation or doubt,
And in dirt and in dust, perspiration and heat,
She pushes her way 'mong the teams on the street.

She has large baggy trousers, no bothersome
skirt,
A manly cravat, and a coat and a shirt,
And her face becomes red as she onward doth plow,
And the hot perspiration stands forth on her brow.

Oh, shades of our grandmothers, look o'er the tide;
Think of your spinning, the cottage beside.
Then look at these bloomers, this shirt and crav-
at,
Shades of ancestors, "where are we at?"

CORA M. GOODENOW, Com'r.

Is Rain A Blessing.

SOME FACTS OF INTEREST THESE DAYS OF DROUGHTS.

It is well known that the arid lands occupy a considerable portion of the United States west of the Mississippi.
The land office reported some time ago that nearly all the good public lands in this country had been taken up, and that the bulk of the millions of acres still open to homestead entry were arid lands, with which the settler could do little or nothing, and which were not at all adapted to agriculture.

If, however, we accept the doctrines laid down by Mr. W. E. Smythe in the Century upon "Arid America," we will discover, to our surprise, that dry lands in a rainless region are the best after all, and that an abundant rainfall is a misfortune, instead of a blessing, as is popularly believed.

Thus Mr. Smythe calls attention to the fact, that these arid, rainless regions mean "freedom alike from the dangers of the drought and the floods"
two of the greatest curses of those regions where the rain unhappily falls.
The farmer there has an abundance of sunshine—far more of it than in those districts where there is rain,
and, consequently, clouds to obscure the sun; and the moisture for his crops being obtained by means of ditches, is "actually an improvement on nature, as the water can be turned either on or off with equal facility."

"Irrigation is not a substitute for rain," Mr. Smythe declares enthusiastically, "but rain is a substitute for irrigation, and a mighty poor one." And he arrives at the conclusion that in the absence of rain lies the basis of the most certain worldly prosperity
and the most scientific agriculture."

A failure of crops is impossible, and a farmer can even "control the size of the vegetables he produces." Taking the sugar beet for example, he shows how much superior its cultivation by irrigation is over the old system which prevails in Europe, as follows:
"It is important to grow sugar beets
of about a standard size to get the best results. Moisture is required to give the beet a vigorous growth at the beginning; but, when it is well started, weeks of uninterrupted sunshine are desirable in order to develop the saccharine qualities. Much sunshine at the wrong time dries up the crop, while much moisture at the wrong time produces a beet pleasing to look upon, but unprofitable at the factory."

Mr. Smythe further notes that irrigation allows the farmer to greatly diversify his crops. The trouble with farmers in countries where there is rain lies in the fact, that one crop
may need rain when another needs sunshine. Whatever the weather may be, therefore, it is injurious.

On the other hand, the farmer of the arid region, who cultivates by means of irrigation, avoids this difficulty. He lets water into the field that needs it, and keeps it out where none is required. The result is a greater diversity of production than in any part of the country. Mr.
Smythe says on this subject:

"A study of the ordinary bill of fare
even at the best hotels, will reveal the fact that nearly every item except coffee, tea, sugar and the spices, can be systematically produced on the small irrigated farm. The time is coming when the irrigated region will not import sugar, for it will be produced in every state of the arid West,
as it is already in three of them."

This is decidedly an American way of looking at the matter—that what appears to be a serious defect is really a blessing in disguise. What Mr.
Smythe says will naturally stagger
the Southern farmer, who is disposed to look upon the abundant rainfall of the South and the absence of droughts as one of its greatest advantages. Nor will he understand how it is that if the arid region is so blessed in being rainless an appeal comes from it each year for assistance for the farmers whose crops have failed. Why, it was only the other day, that the South was sending provisions by the train load to the dry region which we have been told was free from all crop failures or agricultural troubles.

The explanation is easily found.
What Mr. Smythe says is true only of a portion of the arid region, the greater part of which can never be cultivated. The figures of cost, moreover, show that even when cultivated only a few fruits and vegetables will pay to produce; staple crops cannot be grown for export or competition with those of other lands. The cost of ditches alone is $37.50 per acre, and of irrigating $24 yearly. It is unnecessary to tell any farmer that cotton, corn and wheat cannot be grown at these prices.
Oranges and fruits of all kinds have done well, but then the supply for these will soon be filled, and the farmer of the arid region will find it hard to determine what to plant his other acres in. The reason that irrigation has been so successful has been because the acreage thus cultivated has up to this time been very small.
If the arid region is opened to cultivation we will see an overproduction in these crops for which its lands are suited, and a big collapse.

Mr. Smythe, in the article from which we have quoted, rejoices over the fact that there are 800,000,000 acres of arid land in the United States—nearly as much as in all the Southern States—of which 500,000,000 acres still remain the property of the Federal government—"a priceless heritage of the children of America."

We cannot take this roseate view of the matter. The greater portion of these lands can never be redeemed;
even if they could do so, the cost would be too great, and such lands are to expensive of cultivation to produce staple crops and anything but high-priced commodities, the market for which will soon be overstocked. We are not yet prepared to accept the doctrine that the people of Europe ought to move south to Sahara, or those of the United States to prefer the arid regions of the West to the rainbless districts of the southern states.

OSCEOLA MINE VICTIMS.

Twenty-Seven Bodies Are Recovered from the Deadly Pit.

CALUMET, Sept. 15.—It was decided Wednesday that the fire which started in the Osceola mine last Saturday must be out, and at 5 o'clock Wednesday night No. 4 shaft, where the fire started, was opened and left open all night. A searching party descended the shaft early Thursday morning, and at noon Friday twenty-seven bodies had been found. This leaves but three still in the mine.

CALUMET, Sept. 14.—Twenty victims of the Osceola mine were buried Saturday. The victims of the fire were of many nationalities, there being English, Irish, Poles, Austrians, Norwegians, Swedes and Finns among the number. Hence nearly every church had one or more of the sad ceremonies performed within its portals.

Subscription papers have been started in nearly every town in the copper district for the families of the men killed in the Osceola, and a large amount will probably be realized. It will be needed, for there are twenty-one widows and over sixty orphans resulting from the mine fire of a week ago.

CALUMET, Mich., Sept. 17.—The bodies of Peter Malstrom and Walter Dahl, the two remaining victims of the Osceola mine disaster, were found Monday morning in the eighteenth level south of No. 4 shaft. This ends the final chapter in this mining horror.

NEW DEER KILLING LAW.

Non-Residents as Well as Home People Must Have License.

DETROIT, Sept. 14.—The new law regarding the hunting of deer in this state passed by the last legislature provides an open season from November 1 to 25, inclusive, in all sections of the state. The killing of deer in the red coat or fawn in the spotted coat is prohibited, as is also the killing of deer while in the water or by the aid of pit, pitfall, traps, dogs, or artificial lights. Non-residents are required to secure a license from the clerk of the county in which they propose to pitch their camps, and residents in the county in which they reside. The fee for non-residents is $35 and for residents fifty cents. Such license will entitle the holder to kill no more than five deer in any one year. A coupon from the license must be attached to each deer or portion thereof in case of shipment and must be detached from the license in the presence of the shipping agent.

THREE THOUSAND EXPECTED.

Large Number of Students to Attend the University of Michigan.

ANN ARBOR, Sept. 16.—From present prospects it is very probable that the number of students of the University of Michigan will this year reach, if not pass, the 3,000 mark. Secretary Wade reports that the number of inquiries from intending students this summer has been unusually large. The secretary says that it would be impossible for the attendance to fall below the number of last year, 2,818, and, judging from the experience of former years, he expects that the number will stop somewhere near 3,000.

Indignant at a Christian Scientist.

AKRON, Sept. 17.—There is trouble and excitement in this village over the death of a 2-months-old child of H. K. Knowling. When the child was taken sick two weeks ago, with the summer complaint, the parents summoned a Christian scientist instead of a regular doctor. The people of the village who were cognizant of the fact were very much aroused and their indignation was greater when the child died without regular medical treatment. Complaints are heard of the parents and the alleged Christian scientist healer, a woman.

To Abolish Days of Grace.

DETROIT, Sept. 14.—At a meeting of the executive council of the Michigan Bankers' association a resolution recommending the granting of all notes and checks without days of grace was adopted. This association elected the following officers:

Lewis H. Witney, of Grand Rapids, president; W. J. Baker, of Adrian, and Mark Brewer, of Pontiac, vice presidents; John A. Corbett, of Grand Rapids, G. H. Morley, of Saginaw, George A. Ansell, of Muskegon and A. G. Bishop, of Flint, members of the executive board.

Insurance Men Meet.

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., Sept. 18.—The twenty-sixth national convention of insurance commissioners of the United States met here Tuesday morning, nineteen states being represented. President Bradford Dorrice, of Illinois, called the meeting to order and after an address of welcome, read his address. No other business was transacted.

Muskegon Valley Veterans.

NEWAYGO, Sept. 16.—The seventeenth annual reunion of the Muskegon Valley Soldiers' and Sailors' association will be held at Riverside park, near here, September 23 to 27, inclusive. Tuesday, September 24, will be "Pioneer day," and the main address will be made by Attorney General Fred A. Maynard, of Grand Rapids.

University Wants the Paintings.

ANN ARBOR, Sept. 16.—The board of regents of the University of Michigan has begun suit in chancery against Edward E. Root, of Coldwater, to force him to deliver to the university a part of the Lewis art collection given to the institution by H. C. Lewis. The paintings are worth $40,000.

Recaptured.

CROOKED LAKE, Sept. 13.—One Cruise, who recently escaped from Ionia prison, where he was serving a term for incest, was captured in a Crooked Lake store by prison officials. His term was nearly up.

Select Knights.

GRAND RAPIDS, Sept. 14.—The Michigan Grand Legion, Select Knights, Ancient Order of United Workmen, met in annual session in this city. J. F. C. Hollings, of Detroit, was elected G. C.

OLD-TIME TURFMAN DEAD.

Ezra R. King Dies Suddenly While Attending the Sturgis Fall Meeting.

PONTIAC, Sept. 16.—Ezra R. King, the oldest turfman in the state, died very suddenly at the Shepard house at Sturgis Sunday night, while attending the fall meeting of the Sturgis Trotting association. Uncle Ezra, as he was known from Maine to California, was born in New York state in 1825, and had followed the races ever since 1846. He had dabbled in the betting ring to a large extent during his later years, and was successful, even to the point of acquiring a fortune. He was noted also as being the leader of the famous King's orchestra, which had a state reputation, but laid aside the fiddle when his wife died twenty years ago and had never touched it since. He was a lifelong democrat, a mason of the royal arch degree and known to every turfman in the United States.

PLENTY OF ROOM.

Jackson Prison Has Accommodations for More Convicts.

LANSING, Sept. 17.—For over a year there has been so little work at the Michigan state prison at Jackson that several hundred convicts were in idleness. In addition, the prison was badly over-crowded. Because of this the circuit judges throughout the state were requested to send convicts to other prisons as far as possible. This request was withdrawn Monday, the judges being officially notified that there is plenty of room at the Jackson institution and that the prospect for plenty of work for an indefinite period is excellent, several contracts having recently been made.

HAULED DOWN THE FLAG.

The Government Formally Abandons Fort Mackinac, Mich.

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., Sept. 18.—The last step in the total abandonment of Fort Mackinac was carried into effect Monday in the transfer of the command of troops under Lieut. Geary to Fort Brady. The honor of hauling down the stars and stripes, which for more than 100 years have floated over the fort's historic walls, was awarded to Judge B. LaChance, a veteran of the late war. The fort and park are now under the supervision of the state, to which they have been transferred by the United States government.

VALUE OF THE NEW LOOK.

Crash of Boats at the Soo Is Relieved by Its Operation.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 17.—The great benefit of the new Canadian lock to vessel owners was shown Monday when there was a great crash of boats from both directions. Twenty-nine boats were looked through the Canadian canal between 10:30 a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m., relieving the pressure on the American locks that much, and preventing delays of from twelve to twenty-four hours on a good part of the fleet. From 11 o'clock Sunday night until 5:30 o'clock Monday afternoon seventy-eight boats passed the Soo.

Women Score a Victory.

DETROIT, Sept. 17.—The Detroit M. E. conference, comprising one-half of the state of Michigan, Monday evening voted, by an overwhelming majority, to give women representation in conference. The first vote taken was on the Hamilton amendment, which provides that only male delegates shall be admitted to the conferences. The result was: For the amendment, 3; against the amendment, 164; not voting, 36. The next vote was on the Baltimore amendment, providing for the admission of women to the general conference, and resulted: Yeas, 185; nays, 9.

An Infant Horse Thief.

JACKSON, Sept. 17.—In less than two weeks little Eddy Thayer, 7 years old, has stolen four different rigs from hitching posts, has been many times caught and has been locked in jail twice, but afterward given his liberty. He stole a rig Monday afternoon belonging to Mrs. Charles McCallum and was caught by Deputy Sheriff Smith at Parma, 10 miles west of this city. The common prosecutor has failed to find a law which provides for punishing so young a criminal.

Strike Not Ended.

ISHPEMING, Mich., Sept. 18.—The miners union voted Tuesday almost unanimously to continue the strike to the bitter end. The steam shovel operators will probably be called out again to-day and the men are grimly determined to carry on the war. It will be surprising if there is not serious trouble in the very near future unless the mine-owners make some movement toward a compromise.

Will Meet at the "Soo."

GRAND RAPIDS, Sept. 14.—The eighth annual session of the Michigan League of Building and Loan associations closed Friday. W. L. Jenks, of Port Huron, was elected president. The next convention will be held at Sault Ste. Marie. The session was occupied in reading papers and discussing regarding building and loan associations and their management.

Good Fortune Killed Him.

St. JOSEPH, Mich., Sept. 14.—Frank Meyers, a veteran of the late war, was notified Friday that he had been granted a pension of $10 a month. When he heard the news he fell over in his bed dead. He had been ill some time and leaves no relatives.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Sept. 14.—By a fall of ground in the fifteenth level in No. 1 shaft of the Tamarack mine Thursday afternoon two miners, John Voghina and Michael Benitch, were instantly killed. John Bokels and Joseph Varden were injured.

A Little Boy Drowned.

SAUGATUCK, Sept. 12.—Lloyd Hamner, a 7-year-old boy, was missing Tuesday night. Wednesday morning his mother found his clothes on the bank of the Kalamazoo river. It is supposed that he was drowned while bathing.

The "News" Medal.

Mulder Bro's. of the City News offers an eight dollar solid silver medal to the best fancy and trick bicycle rider. The contest will come off during one of the days of the fair. All entries must be made at the News office before October 1st. It is understood that any wheelman residing in Ottawa and Allegan counties can compete for this prize.

A Speed Contest.

Will Breyman the jeweler offers a six dollar medal to any young man in Ottawa and Allegan counties making the best three out of five mile heats at the fair grounds during the week of the fair beginning with October 1st. All non-professionals from these two counties are eligible.

Any one desiring to enter for this prize must register at Breyman's jewelry store. Mr. Breyman first contemplated giving this medal to lady competitors, but found that he could not obtain a sufficient number of entries.

Lost on His Schooner.

The News has from time to time kept its readers informed about the schooner Mary Ludwig. Last Monday she was sold under a mortgage of $400 held by Michael Meechigan of Milwaukee. He made a contract with the captain of the hooker Norma to carry the boat across the lake and the Ludwig was taken out with but one man to handle the canvass. The Chicago Inter Ocean says: The small schooner Mary Ludwig, the owner of which lives in Milwaukee, but whose name is unknown, is waterlogged and anchored three miles north of this place with no one on board. The boat changed hands at sheriff's sale a few days ago, and was manned by Captain Reynolds and one sailor. When the boat became waterlogged to-day Captain Reynolds anchored her and, accompanied by the sailor, put out for shore in the yawl. The little boat was overturned in the surf and Captain Reynolds was drowned. The sailor managed to reach land in an exhausted condition.

Arrested For Perjury.

Tuesday's Grand Haven Tribune says: It's an old saying that the law never lets up on a man when once in trouble. Yesterday Sheriff Keppel went down to Holland and arrested Bert Slagh, a younger brother of Tiemen Slagh who paid a fine of 1,000 in the circuit court here a few weeks ago for the crime of arson. At the trial of Slagh, Smith and Steffens for arson last spring, and also at the trial of Slagh this summer, Bert was a witness. Among other things he testified that he was at the office of Slagh & Smith on the night of December 8, last, the same night the Zwemer house was set on fire. He testified that he was at the office until a late hour playing cards and drinking beer with the three respondents and went home at about eleven o'clock with Cornelius Steffens. It was his testimony which the prosecution claims to be false. They have evidence that Bert was not there that night at all; that he did not meet them nor go home with C. Steffens as he testified. The young man is confronted with a serious crime, the maximum punishment for which could be 15 years imprisonment. Sheriff Keppel swore out the warrant and Slagh appeared before Judge Pagselson this morning, accompanied by his brother Tiemen Slagh, his father and an uncle. The warrant was read to him, Bert entered a plea of not guilty, and furnished the required bail $1,000 to appear at the November term of the circuit court. Slagh's father and uncle furnished the required bail.

An Electric Line.

The question of establishing an electric system along this shore connecting Saugatuck, Holland and Grand Rapids is being agitated very freely. Hon. W. P. Sutton, ex-counsel general to Mexico and well known among the fruit growers south of here is one of the promoters of the scheme. The plan is to build a railway from Allegan to Saugatuck, extending along the lake shore to Holland. The C. & W. M. Mr. Sutton claims gives this region a very unsatisfactory outlet, as produce has to be carted miles to a depot and then the train service is very unsatisfactory.

The region through which the proposed line passes is fertile and recognized as one of the prettiest resort sections in the state.

Work on the Harbor.

Col. D. C. Wickham government Inspector arrived in Holland Wednesday, and work will be pushed forward on the harbor at once. A portion of the material is already here and more is expected early in the week. The plans now are to place 250 feet of pile sheeting on the north side and 150 feet on the south side. Some new crib work will also be done at the north side. Orders have been given for the U. S. dredge Parquhar and the tug

General Gilmore to return here next week from South Haven and the pile driver is already here. Next year it is expected that Holland will have a good sized appropriation when the piers will be extended. As it is this is looked upon as being one of the best ports on the east shore of Lake Michigan.

Boat owners have their eyes on it and the rumors are that we may not only have some new boats on the Chicago route next season but also a line to Milwaukee.

Founded in the Channel.

The News received a telegram Thursday afternoon stating that the steam-Edam of the Netherlands-American Line bound from New York to Amsterdam was sunk in the English channel near Start Point by coming in collision with the steamer Turkistan. The captain, crew and passengers, who had taken to the boats immediately after the collision, were picked up by the Vulture on the fishing grounds fifteen miles from the Eddystone lighthouse. The night had been clear but a thick fog came up. Those on board the Vulture heard a great blowing of whistles and then a terrific crash.

This is the line represented by Mulder & Verwey of this city and many Holland citizens have traveled back and forth on her between New York and Amsterdam.

Baskets by the Bushel.

Chas. L. Kling & Co. of this city are having about all the business they can attend to these days. There is a constant demand for their fruit packages and since the first of July they have put out 1,000,000 Climax baskets alone to say nothing of the 1,000,000 bushels and half bushels that they have handled.

The volume of trade that this firm is receiving is surprisingly large and far beyond the expectations of those who invested their capital in the plant.

Blue Rock Gun Club.

Henry Harmon now wears the Raven medal and George Bender carries the Thomas medal. They both won these at the shoot on Tuesday when the following score was made: C. Harmon 17, Dulyea 13, Arieth 16, Johnson 14, G. Bender 18, De Roo 15, Baumgartel 9, Thomas 12, Harrington 11, H. Harmon 19.

The School Law.

There is liable to be some comment legally over the enforcement of the new school law. The dispute seems to be over section one which says: The people of the state of Michigan enact, that every parent, guardian or other person in the state of Michigan having control or charge of any child or children between the ages of 8 and 14 years and in cities between the ages of 7 and 16 years, shall be required to send such child or children to the public school for a period of at least four months in each school year, except that in cities having a duly constituted police force, the attendance at school shall not be limited to four months, beginning on the first Monday of the first term commencing in his or her district after September 1, 1895, and of each year thereafter. Such attendance shall be consecutive and each and every pupil between the ages specified shall have attended school the entire four months previous to the 30th day of June in each school year."

The Grand Rapids Herald says: The act is not plain to the general public. In the case of children 15 years old who are learning a trade and are the main support of invalid or indigent parents. The wording of the act is not clear on one essential point. The question seemed to hinge on the sentence, "Except in cities having a duly constituted police force, the attendance at school shall not be limited to four months." The question seemed to be whether one day more than four months or whether a whole year's attendance is implied by the act.

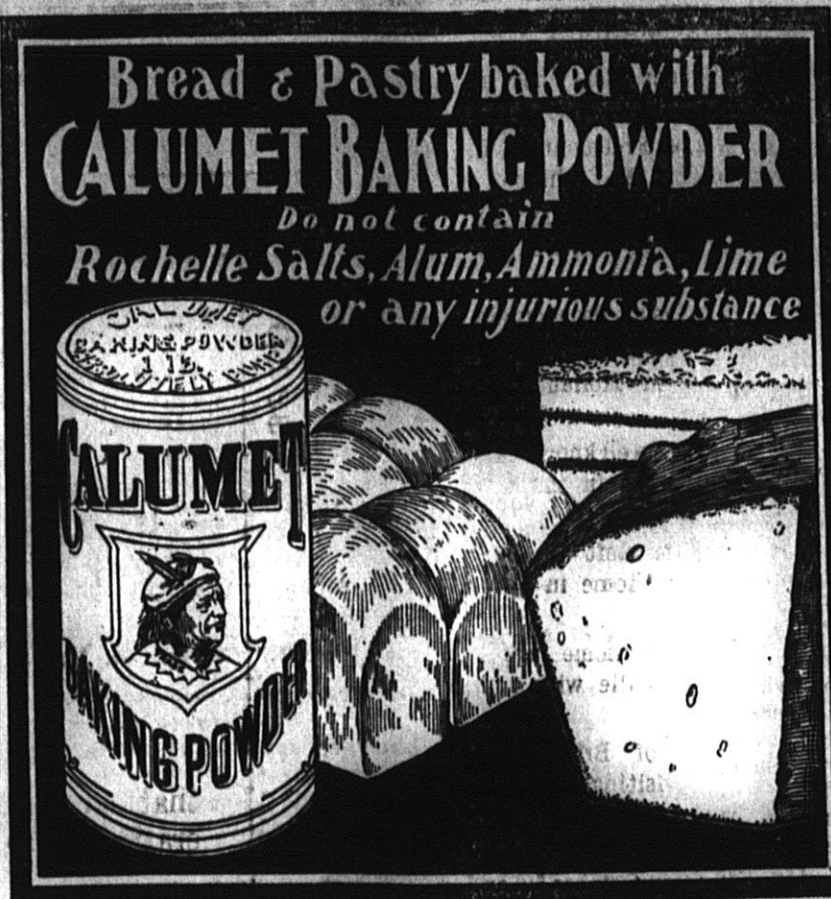

Hope College Opens.

This has been one of the exciting weeks in Holland on account of the opening of Hope College, and the prospects seem brighter than ever for the institution. The attendance for the fall and winter term is larger than on any previous year. Over 30 are enrolled in the freshman class which makes it the largest class starting the collegiate year in the institution. Many of the students come from the academy at Orange City and other points in the west. Rev. J. T. Bergen is the new professor in ethics, and the News learns that other instructors will be added to the faculty during the next year.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Holland & Chicago Transportation Co., the following resolutions on the death of Capt. George Crawford were adopted, and ordered spread upon the minutes, and a copy ordered to be engrossed and presented to Mrs. Crawford.

Whereas: It has pleased Divine Providence to take suddenly from our midst Capt. George Crawford while in the active discharge of his official duties, and,

Whereas: We recognize in him a courageous and efficient seaman, a most worthy and enterprising citizen, and a kind and devoted husband, therefore,

Resolved, That in his sudden and untimely death we recognize keenly a severe loss to the community, and to this company of which he was so valued and efficient a member and officer, and we hereby tender our heartfelt sympathies to his sorrowing wife in this hour of her bereavement and great loss.

We Must Repeat

When Everybody Tells the Same Story. How Can It Be Otherwise?

It is hard to say new things about Doan's Kidney Pills. They cure the lame and aching back, the sufferer from kidney disorders, and troubles of him or her whose urinary organism is wrong in its action. That they do this is so easy to prove that not a vestige of doubt should remain in the mind of anyone. Surely one can believe one's neighbor more quickly than a stranger; therefore, one should believe a citizen of Holland before one in Chicago. At any rate, 'tis easy to find out the correctness of this statement. Listen to what a Holland man says. Our representative called on Mr. N. D. Askins and this is what he said:

"I had that form of kidney disorder which the doctors have said was lumbago. I have suffered very much from it for the past year. The pain was seated in the small of my back and would run down into my hips. During last year I was frequently so bad I had to discontinue my work and lay up for days at a time. The pain would be so intense I could hardly move, and did not seem to be able to get in any position that I was easy. I was in this condition when I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills; was unable to work at the time, and I thought they might possibly do me good, so I got a box at Doan's drug store and commenced to take them right away. It was not long before I was able to be at work again; the pain was all removed from my back and has not reappeared since. I feel that I cannot speak of Doan's Kidney Pills in terms any stronger than they deserve."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers—price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.
