CITY AND VICINITY.

A son was born Tuesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Milo De Vries.

Dr. W. H. Winter is building a handsome new residence on West Thirteenth street.

The DePree Chemical company have moved into their new brick block on Central avenue.

D. Sytzeina of Zeeland has left for the Netherlands where he will look after the estate of his father who died about three weeks ago.

Bernard Rosendahl, for the past three years employed at the meat market of W. VanderVeer, will take a position with J. Den Herder's on River street after a week's vacation.

The Holland day at the Fair this year will be made a greater success than it was last year. It will be on Friday of Fair week. All the stores will close at noon to give all the employees a chance to attend the Fair.

John W. Van Zanien, Mannes A. Stegeman, Philip Yonker and A. VanPeursem of last year's senior class of Hope college left Monday for New Brunswick, N. J., where they will continue their studies.

Isaac Kouw, who has been with John Weersing for the past year, has resigned his position and his purchased the office fixtures of Attorney L. Y. DeVries, where he will conduct a general real estate and insurance business. Mr. DeVries leaves for Seattle next month, where he will open up an office.

The half hour service on the G. R. & C. railway between here and Grand Rapids was discontinued Monday morning. Hourly service will be given now, the first car leaving here at 5:35 a. m., and every hour thereafter. On the Saugatuck division a two hour service will be maintained, the first car leaving at 5:30 a. m.

Rev. A. J. Luther who has for the past four years been pastor of the Methodist church here, has been appointed pastor of the church at Lake Odessa. He will be succeeded by Rev. N. F. Jenkins of Mason. Rev. Jenkins is a man about 60 years of age and is said to be a worthy successor to Rev. Luther who has become very popular here.

Gerrit Oudemolen, Albert Huiskien and Benjamin Ebbelink of this city who have made a three months' visit to the Netherlands, have just returned home. These gentlemen report a very fine trip and an enjoyable stay in the mother country. Mr. Oudemolen still has many relatives in the Netherlands, and his visit was a looking up of old acquaintances.

William Thomas, who has been playing at Jenison Park for the season, has now joined the battalion band at Grand Rapids, where he plays every evening.

The Holland High school football team will play the Muskegon High school team at that place Saturday. A week later Grand Haven High school team will play the local team here.

Henry Honderman, living at 25 East Tenth Street, has rented the east half of Miss Jennie R. Kanter's house on East Eighth street, and will take possession at once.

Prof. James Sutphen, of Hope college, has purchased a strip of property on College avenue between Tenth and Eleventh streets, comprising part of W. Brusse's lot and part of W. C. Walsh's lot.

Friends of Miss Anna Dutton have a chance to show their friendship in a substantial way by giving her their support in the contest offered by the Woman's Home Companion. The prize is a pony and cart. Miss Dutton has now over 100 counts in this contest and has a good chance to win before the contest closes on September 30. Each yearly subscription of $1.00 gives four counts.

Last month the superintendents of the poor in Allegan drew on the poor fund for $851.87, of which $632.68 was for house and farm expenses and $218.28 for local aid by township.

The Rev. Troost, to whom a call was extended from the Fourth Reformed church of this city, has given his answer. Rev. Troost, though he likes the field and church here, feels that at the present time his duty is in his present pastorate. His congregation is building a new church and taking several important steps, which, Mr. Troost believes, demands his presence there.

Olin Luther, the 14 year old son of the Rev. A. J. Luther of the M. L. church, was seriously injured this morning by a fall from a wagon on which he was riding, the wheels of which passed over his body, injuring his spine and badly bruising his entire right side and chest. Although the injuries are painful they are not dangerous.

Will Huyser will discontinue his work as carrier on the rural route and will study medicine at the University of Illinois. He will be accompanied by C. Boone who also intends to take a medical course. P. Vermeulen and Edw. Hunderman will also study medicine though not fully decided where they will enter. Zeeland Record. All of these young men are graduates of the preparatory department of Hope College and are well known here.

A very sad accident occurred in Trowbridge last week Wednesday night. The fifteen-year old son of Mrs. McLaws was cleaning his gun, a new one his mother had just purchased for him, and it was accidentally discharged, killing his thirteen-year-old sister, who stood a few feet away watching him. The two had been hunting during the day and reached home but a short time before. The charge struck the girl under one eye and death was instantaneous. The mother and son are frantic with grief. Mr. McLaws, who is step-father to the children, was working in Indiana, but arrived home last night. The funeral will be held Saturday from the home in charge of Undertaker Post.

H. A. Coucoulas, who lives on rural route No. 6, was in town this morning and brought with him an apple blossom from one of his trees which he presented to Richard H. Post. The tree from which the blossom was taken is in full bloom with a second crop of blossoms. Earlier in the year Mr. Coucoulas found the tree to be in a dying condition and he resolved to experiment by injecting medicine into it. Strangely enough the tree soon began to show results and now he has an apple tree in full September bloom and if the weather continues warm he may have a second crop of apples. Mr. Coucoulas is not the only one however who has wonders in his orchard. Last week B. Mulder south of Zeeland, discovered a tree in his beautiful orchard on which there was fruit and at the same time it was in full bloom, and all this by the regular process of nature without the aid of medicine.

A cement sidewalk is in the process of construction on the north side of the campus on Tenth street. Another will be laid on the east side, on Columbia avenue. The sand bank south of the De Hope printing office is being fully-graded so as to form a graceful slope to the street.

Luke Lugers and several others have purchased the summer home of Mrs. J. B. Humphrey, deceased, on the south side of Macatawa Bay. The place contains 20 acres and has some of the finest buildings on it in this locality.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week Rev. S. A. Manwell, president of the Michigan conference of the Wesleyan church delivers a course of three lectures on "The Bible Plan of the Ages," with special reference to Jewish history and prophecy and the general conditions of church and state. These lectures are illustrated by a large chart, 9 by 16 feet, showing the dispensations or ages from the creation of man to close of the millennial age.

One of the unique attractions at the Holland fair will be the performances of "Zella, the Frog Man." Zella is the wonder and talk of every city in which he has appeared. He gives the closest bending and most original acts of contortion in the world. The wonderful performances of Zella have never been surpassed, and the visitors at the fair will be able to see all this free of charge each day between the heats of the races.

The fog signal that will be installed in the harbor entrance at Macatawa Park, has arrived and will be put in as soon as possible. The fog signal has for a long time been felt to be a necessity, and by its aid the vessels will be enabled to make the harbor more safely.

The board of health is constantly making more preparations to successfully enforce their regulations that will go into effect September 22. Full power has been given to the board to enforce the regulations it has made, and it expects to make some sweeping changes in the backyard conditions of some places. Almost all the people are heartily in favor of any changes that the board may see fit to make, knowing as they do that it acts intelligently for the best interests of all.

Bert Slagh, formerly of North Holland but now living in Zeeland, has brought suit for $5,000 damages for malpractice against Dr. Van Den Berg of North Holland. It may be remembered by some that Bert Slagh broke his arm, and Dr. Vandenberg and some other doctors set it, and the arm is stiff. This is his right arm, and he cannot get his arm to his mouth, and is crippled for life. This was a suit commenced in the Circuit court for the County of Ottawa on the 14th day of September, 1907.

Mrs. W. D. Rottschaefer, 144 East Sixteenth street, died last Thursday afternoon after a ten days' illness with pleural pneumonia. The deceased was 50 years of age, and came here from the Netherlands several years ago. She is survived by a husband and five children, one daughter, Maggie, and four sons, Benjamin, William, Henry and Dick. The funeral was held Monday at 1:15 at the house, and 2 o'clock at the Ninth street Christian Reformed church, Rev. A. Keizer officiating.

More surf men are wanted in the life saving service of the United States and Captain Van Welden of the life saving station at Macatawa has received notice that in addition to the regular examination for surf men another examination will be held in this district, the receipt of applications to close October 5. Captain Van Welden is urged to use every influence to secure persons who are qualified for the service. To be qualified as a life saver, applicants must be citizens of the United States, not under 18 nor over 45 years of age. They must be at least 5 feet 6 inches in height, and not less than 135 nor more than 205 pounds in weight. They must be residents of the district in which they wish to serve, and must be able to read and write the English language. They must be good swimmers and have had at least three years experience as surf man, sailor or boat man.

The Holland Sugar company is ready for a large yield of beets. It expects to begin operations about October 15. Although the crops in this part of the country are late on account of the late spring, the beets don't seem to have suffered much. It is expected that there will be a larger yield of beets than ever before. Many improvements have been made during the summer in and around the sugar plant and the company will be enabled to take care of the beets without trouble or delay.

A significant result of the celebration is the suggestion which is meeting with universal approval that there should be some appropriate memorial to the two leaders in the colonization of Zeeland, Van der Meulen and Vander Luyster. The prevailing opinion seems to favor the erection of a memorial arch at the entrance to the Zeeland cemetery where both leaders are buried. This matter will come before the executive committee for final consideration and decision.—Zeeland Record.

In the Michigan exhibit at Jamestown the city of Holland has the largest number and the most complete exhibit of any city in the state. Three of Holland's distinctive industries are shown at the exposition while no other city has three exhibits. One exhibit shows the manufacture of wooden shoes from the tree to the finished article. Another shows the sugar industry from the beet to the table product. The third is the exhibit of the Holland Rusk company, which shows the process of the manufacture of rusk. To those people of Holland who have been to the exposition and have seen the three exhibits, they are a matter of the greatest pride. To the people of other cities it was a matter of comment that Holland led the state.

State Railroad Commissioner Glasgow was in Holland Monday with the officials of the Pere Marquette railway company. Here Mr. Glasgow was met by Mayor VanPutten, Alderman Stephan and City Clerk VanEyck and the crossings were examined so that Mr. Glasgow had had an opportunity to see how well the company had carried out his orders. The Allegan crossing was one which interested the city officials. They urged that the railroad company make the crossing wider and clear away all obstructions. This and the lowering of the hill by the brick company was agreed to by the railroad commissioner.

Zeeland people are very much interested in the encroachment case of Lage vs. Kuite that will come up in the next term of circuit court. Almost a year ago Mr. Lage started to build a brick building next to Thurston's barber shop. A few weeks later the east wall was up six feet. It is still six feet high after almost a year of lying idle. The roof of the barber shop over hung the wall a few inches. Lage declared Kuite was encroaching and should move back to give him a chance to put up his wall. Thurston declared Lage was encroaching and should build his wall farther back if he were going to build at all. Injunctions were secured and the whole proposition was tied up and has remained so ever since.

One of the earliest mail carriers in Michigan, a man who carried mail between Grand Haven and Manistee as early as 1851 is Henry A. Danville of Copenish. He came to Manistee in 1851 and that year started carrying the mail from there. He was the first overland mail carrier to go out of that place. His route was from Manistee to Grand Haven and he made the trip on foot taking about three days and the same length of time to come back. He carried the pouch on his back, stopping at every house and collecting his pay as he delivered. He gathered in the mail as he went along. This he left at Grand Haven and carried back whatever mail there was here. There was no road and he must keep within sight of Lake Michigan, going through the sand or over the ice banks. He had many experiences in the two years he carried the mails along this lonely lake shore through the then dense wilderness. Often he saw wolves, bears and panthers. Recently he and his wife celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.—Grand Haven Tribune.

CORRESPONDENCE

Beaverdam.
Miss Minnie Beldt spent Sunday with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Schut from Hudsonville spent Sunday with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Dalman from Zeeland visited with relatives here the past week.

Many farmers in this vicinity took a day off and went to the Grand Rapids fair.

Milan Coburn left for Texas last week, where he will be employed during a leave of absence at his former place.

Mrs. Joe Dalman and Mr. and Mrs. P. Winegarden and son visited with Mr. and Mrs. N. Dalman last Sunday.

Rev. J. J. VanZanten is taking a two weeks' vacation. He will visit his mother and brothers at South Holland, Ill.

The following young people left for their respective schools Monday: John VanZanten to the seminary at New Brunswick, Peter VerMeulen to Ann Arbor and Cora VerMeulen to Hope.

The services at the Reformed church will be conducted by Rev. Henry DePree of Zeeland next Sunday. We feel that Rev. DePree is somewhat related to our church, being a near relative of Mrs. Johanna Borgards formerly of this place, now for many years gone to her eternal home. He was well known not only in this vicinity but also at North and South Blendon, having preached at North Blendon a whole summer and it was during that summer that the little church was first built and dedicated. Therefore we hope that as many as possible will come to hear him. We can thus show our appreciation by our presence. Mr. and Mrs. DePree will soon leave for China where they will be engaged in missionary work.

East Holland.

Cornelius Herdis visited friends relatives in this vicinity. He has been spending the summer in Burculo with his sister.

The large amount of rain last week delayed many a farmer from sowing his wheat. A few however have already finished.

Among those who had the pleasure of attending the Grand Rapids fair are: Mr. and Mrs. John Nykamp, Mr. and Mrs. William Veurink, Messrs. Benj. Nykamk, George De Haan and Herman Rooks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Weersing have returned from Cascade, Montana. They have been visiting with relatives for a few weeks and have now located in Grand Rapids where Mr. Weersing attends the Theological School.

A crowd of young people visited Mr. and Mrs. Earnest De Weerd in Hudsonville last week. They were the Misses Alyda Hartogh, Alice Nykamp, Helen Boeve and Ariana Boeve and the Messrs. Simon Sluyter, George Sluyter, Peter Prins, Fred Huisjen and Gerrit Boeve. They all reported a good time.

Our school has fully commenced again. About seventy-five pupils are enrolled in both rooms. We have the same teachers we had last year, namely, John V. D. Busch as principal and Hattie Masselink as assistant. The new law compelling all children between the ages of seven and sixteen to attend schools brings in quite a few who otherwise would not attend.

Crisp.

Wicher Brouwer is remodeling his house.

Born—to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Timmer, a boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry De Weerd spent Sunday in Holland.

Martin A. Nienhuis spend Sunday visiting relatives in Holland.

Jacob P. Brandsen spent a few days with friends in Grand Rapids.

Most farmers have sowed their wheat. The soil is in a good condition on account of the rain we had last week.

The silo agents had good luck in this vicinity. They induced several farmers to buy a silo.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Van der Meulen of Holland were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bazan Sunday.

The West Crisp school opened Monday, September 9, with Miss Gertrude Hietje of Grand Haven as teacher.

Treashing is just about finished. Several farmers from here visited the West Michigan State Fair at Grand Rapids.

Kidney Troubles May be Sapping Your Life Away. Holland People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Here is Holland Testimony to prove it.

Mrs. K. Lankhorst, of 11 E. Tenth Street, Holland, Mich. says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my family and have given most satisfactory results. Mr. Lankhorst suffered for some time from kidney trouble. His back was very weak and lame and gave him a great deal of pain. He also suffered from many of the accompanying symptoms of kidney trouble. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised and recommended by people in this vicinity, he procured a box and found great relief from the first. He continued taking them carefully as directed and in a very short time was cured. We both recommend Doan's Kidney Pills at every opportunity and will and will always do so.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole Agents for the United States.

MISS BLINK AND MRS. BLINKY

The Young Couple had spent the day looking for a house that would suit their desires and their Young Couple purse. At length they thought they had found it. It was an old house set in several acres of suburban orchard and grove land, held for speculative hope while the house itself was rented. But the young woman real estate agent who had accompanied them had surprised them by her truth and candor when she had showed how impossible it was for even a Young Couple to spend an entire year in a house only two of whose rooms had any connection with a furnace.

Their surprise was greater, however, when upon their return to the young woman's office they saw her abrupt treatment of two possible clients—also women—who were waiting there.

"Really, Miss Blink and Mrs. Blinky," she had said, "I don't think that I have anything today that would suit you or warrant my spending further time with you."

After Miss Blink and Mrs. Blinky had gone the Young Couple looked at the agent with very large eyes.

The young woman smiled.

"I know what you were thinking," she said.

"No, we weren't," said the Young Couple.

"But it's like this," resumed the young woman. "Every spring Miss Blink and Mrs. Blinky, the one an old maid and the other a widow, turn up regularly at all of the real estate offices. They are taken—that is, they were in the beginning—to all of the places on our books that are on sale. It doesn't seem to matter to them whether the house is large or small; they are equally interested in the $8,000 cottage and the $25,000 corner property."

"For a time I thought they were merely buyers in earnest who were very hard to suit. They showed the keenest interest in all details. At one place I remember Mrs. Blinky asked: 'Where do you keep the rags that you have used to oil the floors?'"

"The woman opened her door," she said.

"I thought so," Mrs. Blinky said.

"They ought to be buried and not left around to start spontaneous combustions. I always burn mine."

"Shall we go upstairs and see the bedrooms?" I asked.

"Miss Blink and Mrs. Blinky both frowned upon the poor woman of the house."

"I don't think that it is necessary for us to go upstairs," said Miss Blink.

"Mrs. Blinky added:

"We would never consider buying a house where the woman of the house—she didn't say 'lady'—leaves her oil rags like that."

"At the time I thought this manifestation was only a bit of odd prejudice. I determined to stick to Miss Blink and Mrs. Blinky, for I thought that when they did like a place they would like it good and hard and be willing to pay a good price."

"But another occasion soon gave me a glimmer. We were looking at a house much too pretentious for the people who were living in it, who were wild to sell. The woman came down and went with us through it. Everything seemed to be going well when there came a howl from a small deserted baby on the upper floor."

"Mrs. Blinky's maternal instinct asserted itself."

"Young woman," said she, 'get back to that baby. You are anxious to sell your house, but you shouldn't neglect your small duty upstairs.'"

"Some days later Miss Blink and Mrs. Blinky again appeared in my office. They wanted to see a mansion where a murder had been committed. Although I explained that the house, though vacant, wasn't yet on the market, they persisted. Then, in the light of my former experiences, I saw what they were."

"I said to them:

"Don't you think that it's rather rough on a young, hard-working woman to take up her time and effort with something that seems to constitute your sole amusement in life? You know that neither of you wants to buy; that you are merely amusing yourselves."

"It is amusing," Mrs. Blinky admitted.

"Yet, you see, they came again to day."

"Yes, and I suppose they will ever lastingly keep up such curiosity-satisfying adventures while their strength holds out."

Henry's Answer.

Senator Foraker was talking in Xenia, O., about a political opponent. "I shall answer him," said the Senator, smiling, "and I fear that my answer will be as satisfying, as unpleasantly satisfying, as the elderly husband's was. You know there was an elderly husband, to whom his wife said one day:

'Henry, it's a world of trouble, and life is very uncertain. But promise me, if I should be taken away, that you will never marry that horrid Mary Simmons.'

"I can easily promise you that," Henry replied. "She refused me three times when I was a good handsome man than I am today."

WANT WHIST PLAYER BACK.

Chaplain Had Been Banished to Monastery by Superior.

The Metropolitan of Petersburg, Archbishop Antoni, has succeeded in earning the hatred of the card players of all Russia.

Every one plays cards in Petersburg, man, woman and child. The chief game among the upper classes is vint, a word which means "screw."

It is whist with the screw on. Probably the most perfect vint player in the Russian capital was Fr. Komendantoff, the chaplain of one of the large grammar schools. His play was so admirable that he was often invited out to aristocratic gatherings, where he would play for the entertainment of the company.

The fame of this priest at length reached the ears of the metropolitan and as this dignitary was of opinion that a priest's fame should rest on some more solid foundation he sentenced him to banishment for ten years to a remote monastery on an island in the White sea.

The sensation in Petersburg may be imagined. A petition is now being circulated begging the metropolitan to be merciful and to allow Petersburg to retain its darling.

The petition has already been signed by three grand dukes, six grand duchesses and over 40 titled persons belonging to the aristocracy and the foreign diplomatic corps. A sentence in this curious petition runs as follows:

"Fr. Komendantoff has been an influence for good in society, and many have been attracted to the church by his polished bearing."

SNAKE'S CROWN OF THORNS.

Nature Story Told by the Man with a Reputation.

His friends sometimes called him a Nature faker, but he always strenuously denied the charge.

"Then," he resumed, "we went to Southern California, and in certain wild and lonely trails the rattler's crown of thorns strangely impressed us."

"Now, now!" they warned him. "The rattler's crown of thorns" has a steep sound. You know the charge that has been brought against you."

"The rattler's crown of thorns," he went on, quite unmoved. "It was the skeleton of a rattler lying curled up in the grass, with a circle of great, sharp thorns, a hedge of thorns, surrounding it. We found two or three of these odd and tragical things each day. The guide told us what they were."

"They were the signs of the vengeance of the bird called the road runner, a bird as big as a chicken. The rattlesnake eats this bird's eggs. The outraged bird, while the snake is asleep, softly, noiselessly surrounds it with a circle of the sharp and thorny leaves of the prickly pear."

"Awaking, the rattler tries to scale this barrier. In vain. The long thorns wound him sorely, he suffers maddening pain, he can't get out."

"And in the end he bites himself and dies. Then his skeleton remains there, surrounded with a ring of dried thorns, a proof of the vindictive intelligence of the road runner."

"The rattler's crown of thorns," said a listener; and he whistled, and looked about him dubiously.

How He Was Identified.

"There's a queer case," remarked an upper Broadway statue as a man passed and nodded to him. "That chap is a twin, and I've known him ten years, but I'm blessed if I can tell at this minute whether it's Jack or Jim. They're as alike as two peas—and they always dress alike."

The twin entered a nearby cafe, and some minutes later emerged and retraced his steps.

"Hello, Jack; how are you?" said the Broadway statue, grasping his hand. "Glad to see you. How's Jim?"

"Thought you couldn't tell 'em apart?" said the statue's companion.

"I couldn't then. But the minute he went through that door I knew him. Jim never drinks."—New York-Globe.

Where Man Is Gallant.

In many foreign cities there is a marked absence of the gallantry that in this country habitually characterizes the attitude of men toward women. Eleanor Gates, a young American writer, who has traveled widely in the United States, says that deference toward her sex decreases with the increasing density of population. In sparsely settled regions of the west woman stands upon a plane tactically superior. New York is the most ungallant city in the United States.

OIL TRUST CASE IS ON STANDARD COMPANY IN FIGHT FOR ITS LIFE.

Memory of Witness Benedict Proves Defective—Thorough Inquiry to Be Made.

New York, Sept. 18.—Testimony was heard Tuesday in the federal suit for dissolution of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

E. C. Benedict of Greenwich, Conn., was called as the first witness. Questioned by Mr. Kellogg Mr. Benedict said that he and Attorney M. Brady owned the Manhattan Oil company, which had an oil producing plant near Galatea, O. Mr. Benedict said that there was a pipe line connected with the company. Refreshing his memory from a slip of paper he said that in October, 1898, he sold 5,175 shares of Manhattan Oil stock at $100 a share. He could not recall who was the purchaser of the stock. At the time he disposed of the stock he sold $286,000 of the company's bonds. He had no negotiations with the officers of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey or any of its affiliated companies regarding the sale.

Mr. Benedict said he did not know whether the Manhattan Oil company went into the possession of the Solar Refining company. He had taken an interest in the Manhattan company because he was interested in several gas companies and desired to have a working connection between the gas companies and the oil companies. Later Mr. Benedict said he sold his interests in the gas company. Questioned by Mr. Kellogg, Mr. Benedict said that the Standard Oil company had furnished oil to the gas companies after the Manhattan Oil company had been disposed of.

Mr. Benedict could not recall if he had made any objection to Attorney N. Brady to selling out to the Standard Oil company.

The hearing here in the federal suit which was brought in St. Louis last December has twice been adjourned at the request of counsel for the defendants. In the meantime, however, Frank B. Kellogg, who is in charge of the government's case, has obtained many books and papers from the Standard Oil company which has enabled him to proceed expeditiously with the case.

Mr. Kellogg intimated that the government would also inquire into the character and nature of holdings of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, as well as its affiliations, if any, with railroads. The United States government has named not only the Standard Oil company of New Jersey as defendant, but also 70 subsidiary companies of the main corporation and the following individuals:

John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, Henry H. Rogers, Henry M. Flagler, Oliver H. Payne, Charles M. Pratt and John D. Archibald. Only William G. Rockefeller and Charles M. Pratt have been subpoenaed to appear before the hearing, though Mr. Kellogg may subpoena the others later.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in order to obtain a supersedeas staying execution on its property to satisfy the judgment of $29,240,000 imposed by Judge Landis, pending the hearing of the defendant company's appeal in the United States circuit court of appeals, must furnish bonds amounting to $6,000,000. Judge Peter S. Grosscup of the United States circuit court so decided.

Faces Death; Laughs at It.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 18.—The remarkable "nerve" of Charles Nicholson, the young man who was fatally injured by falling down a coal pit in the darkness near Ball Brothers' factory, is a source of wonder to his physicians and his friends alike. Although, he knows that the hemorrhages he is suffering as the result of his breast bone penetrating a lung will prove fatal, and he realizes that death is only two or three days away, he sits up in bed at his boarding house and laughs and talks with those about him much as if he were suffering from a slight indisposition.

High Masons in Conclave.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 18.—More than 300 Scottish Rites Masons of the thirty-third degree were present at the opening of the ninety-sixth annual meeting of the supreme council for the northern jurisdiction. Grand Commander Henry L. Palmer of Milwaukee opened the three-day conference. Fifty Masons, who have been elected to the thirty-third degree, were candidates for initiation.

Entire Navy Deserts Salvador. San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 18.—The officers, cook and the whole crew of the steam schooner President, which sailed from this port two months ago to be the navy of the Salvadorean government, returned on the City of Para, having abandoned the President at the wharf of Acajutla, Salvador.

PARKER SEES DANGER
IN CORPORATE POWER

WARNS THE PUBLIC AGAINST EFFORTS TO CONTROL LEGISLATION.

SPEAKS OF BIG CROWD
AT JAMESTOWN FAIR

Speaker Declares That United Commercial Interests Are Plotting to Undermine the Very Principle on Which the Government is Formed

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 18.—Former Judge Alton B. Parker of New York, former Democratic candidate for president of the United States, and Samuel W. McCall, member of congress from Massachusetts, made the principal addresses at the Constitution day celebration at the Jamestown exposition Tuesday. The ceremonies were in commemoration of the one hundred and twentieth anniversary of the adoption of the federal constitution by the constitutional convention of 1787, over which George Washington presided. The weather was ideal and the attendance at the exposition was large.

Judge Parker was at his best, and spoke with great force and earnestness. In the course of his speech Judge Parker said:

"It is not too much to say that it is proposed to-day here in our land merely with a view to attaining greater efficiency to substantially change the form of government of these United States of America by the creation of judicial commissions to deal with special subjects; by the conferring upon such commissions of legislative functions through delegation of power from congress, and by then committing to the executive the unrestricted power of appointment and removal of their members.

"This is actual substitution of another theory of government. This is annulment of the underlying doctrines upon which our existing government rests. These powers are to be exercised then by the executive to the exclusion of the legislative and judicial by an expansion beyond its terms; by an expansion beyond its spirit; by an expansion beyond its purpose, of the language of the constitution.

Names Cause of Evil.

"Some one has said: 'Oh, liberty! What crimes have been committed in thy name.' We might say to-day: 'Oh commerce! What theories are sought to be advanced under thy cloak.'

"The example which stands at the threshold is the interstate commerce clause of the constitution which covers in large measure the prospective field for federal expansion. That clause in the constitution was conceived in a spirit of fairness and equality between the states; that clause was embodied in the constitution for the purpose of protecting one state against another, and to prevent the exercise of arbitrary discrimination by any state against the citizens of another. Those were the aims and objects of the clause and they should and they do define its spirit and its purpose. But how is it proposed to expand it in application to-day, if we are to trust the open declarations which have been publicly advanced? Since the products of any industry may become the subject of interstate commerce; since a portion of the products of almost every industry actually enter into interstate commerce, it is argued that the national government under the interstate commerce clause can regulate within the states all production.

Constitution Being Attacked.

"None can deny that effort is afoot to enhance the powers of the federal government; that an opportune time for aggression in that direction has been chosen; that the people are aroused over abuses which have come to light, and that the moment has been seized upon to lead an assault upon a constitution as nearly ideal to-day as when the Fathers drafted it and the states and their people approved it. All the rascality which has been uncovered, say the leaders of the movement, would have been avoided had the federal government exercised the power that the states have been allowed to exercise. Strip the state governments of their control over all corporations, let the federal government create them or license them, let the federal government control production as well as transportation, and all will be well." Let congress by statute confer upon the executive the control of all the aspects of commercial life through bureaus and commissions of his own appointment. Then, and not till then, will corporate wrongdoing cease."

To Demand Early Thaw Trial.

New York, Sept. 18.—The criminal branch of the supreme court opens next month, and the case of Harry K. Thaw, charged with the murder of Stanford White, is called, Martin W. Littleton, senior counsel for the defense, will demand immediate trial for the prisoner.

TWENTY-FIVE DIE
IN RAILWAY WRECK

TERRIBLE HEAD-ON COLLISION OCCURS NEAR CANAAN STATION, VT.

The Injured Number 27—Passenger Trains on the Boston & Maine Crash Together—Confusion of Orders Blamed for the Disaster.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 16.—A fearful head-on collision between the south-bound Quebec express and a north-bound freight train on the Concord division of the Boston & Maine railroad occurred four miles north of Canaan Station early Sunday, due to a mistake in train dispatcher's orders, and from a demolished passenger coach there were taken out 25 dead and dying and 27 other passengers, most of them seriously wounded.

Nearly all those who were in the death car were returning from a fair at Sherbrooke, Quebec, 60 miles north.

The conductor of the freight train was given to understand that he had plenty of time to reach a siding by the night operator at Canaan Station, receiving, according to the superintendent of the division, a copy of a telegraph order from the train dispatcher at Concord which confused the train numbers 30 and 34.

The wreck occurred just after the express had rounded into a straight stretch of track, but owing to the early morning mist neither engineer saw the other's headlight until it was too late.

Names of Identified Dead.

Those identified up to six o'clock Sunday night were as follows:

Timothy Shaughnessy, Castle Bar, Quebec; Mrs. Shaughnessy; Miss Annie St. Pierre, Isle Verte, Quebec; Fred M. Phelps, Oshkosh, Wis.; Mrs. A. E. Warren, Haverhill, Mass.; Mrs. F. C. Blake, South Corinth, Vt.; Mrs. Margaret Larky, Manchester, N. H.; Miss Barrett, Manchester; Mrs. Philip Gagnon, Sherbrooke; Miss Alvina Giron, Nashua; Mrs. Webster, a dressmaker living in Massachusetts; J. L. CFongrot, Somerville, Mass.; infant child of Irving Gifford, Concord, N. H.; child of Irving Gifford, Concord, N. H.; Mrs. E. L. Briggs, West Canaan, N. H.; John G. Duncan, Bethel, Vt.

The freight train was on a straight piece of track, about a mile in length, and the Quebec express had rounded the curve into this stretch when each engineer saw the headlights of the opposite train burst out of the fog. Both set their brakes and then jumped, while the two great locomotives crashed into each other and, locked in a firm embrace, rolled into the ditch.

Crowded Car Telescoped.

The baggage car in the rear was hurled back into the passenger coach like a great ram, and tore it asunder from end to end. The ill-fated passenger coach was crowded with more than 50 people. Shortly before the accident a few of the men had gone back into the smoking car in the rear, leaving the women to get a little sleep in the straight seats. One of those who escaped said that as the train was rounding a curve some one in the front of the car began to sing, so that nearly everyone was awake when the crash came. Those who were in the other car hurried to the demolished passenger coach, where groans, cries and shrieks were rending the air.

Fortunately, with the engines off to one side, the wreckage did not take fire. The train hands, ably seconded by the passengers from the sleeping car, groped their way among the ruins and began to the work of rescue. Wounds were hastily bound up and cuts staunchly by strips of bedding from the sleepers. The little band worked diligently in the dawning light before the doctors came.

The neighborhood is a sparsely settled one, but the few farmers were aroused and lent every aid to the work of succor. In the meantime word had been dispatched to this place and to Concord and Hanover and within an hour a large force of physicians was on their way to the wreck.

Montreal Express Saved.

The accident was not without its heroes and one of these was Frank Ryan, a brakeman on the express. Ryan was caught in the wreck and had an artery severed. He was unconscious for nearly 15 minutes and when he regained his senses his first thought was of the Montreal express, which he knew was thundering down on the wreck, with no brakeman in the rear to wave a warning signal. In a few words Ryan told of the approaching danger and the Montreal express was stopped only a quarter of a mile from the rear of the wrecked train.

Farmer Finds Mother's Body.

Among the West Canaan farmers who aided was Benjamin Briggs, who was one of the first at the scene, and two hours later he drew out the body of a woman. On turning up the face Mr. Briggs looked into the features of his mother, and almost collapsed from grief. Mrs. Briggs had been visiting friends in the north and was on her way to Boston.

Lawyer Takes Too Much Chloroform.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 17.—Judge Terry M. Richardson was found dead in bed at a hotel at Luverne Monday, having been overcome by chloroform which he had taken to allay headache. He had gone to Luverne to appear in a murder case. He was a prominent attorney and for years served on the circuit bench of this state.

Boosts The Fair Without Pay. It Is A Public Enterprise.

The remark came secondhand to the publishers of the News some days ago that the publishers of the News, owing to the fact that they were officials of the Fair Association, had taken advantage of that fact to advertise in the News and De Groundwet to the exclusion of other papers. It was insinuated that the News and DeGroundwet did this for mercenary purposes, actuated by a desire to secure all the money appropriated for advertising.

The News will say that all other papers are welcome to the Fair advertising on the same terms under which the News does the work. The fact of the matter is that the News inserts it, as does the Groundwet, free, actuated only by the desire to help along a public enterprise. The News or DeGroundwet have never received one cent for advertising matter they have inserted about the Holland Fair. They have given their space freely to help along what they consider a public enterprise that is of value to every resident in the city and every farmer in the community surrounding. They proceed upon the same theory which each year the men proceed upon who go about the country advertising the Fair. These men hire rigs and with brush and paste, premium books and other advertising matter go over a good portion of Ottawa and Allegan counties bringing home to the people reasons why they should attend the Holland Fair. For this they have never received a cent; on the other hand, they pay for the rigs used in the work, they stand all expenses, the Fair Association never having been called upon to pay a nickel.

To advertisers of this paper who pay for space the News will say that it advertises the Holland Fair free of charge because the Holland Fair is a public enterprise, an enterprise that stands for the good of all. It helps the merchant, the farmer and the laboring man; helps every person who is interested in the development of his community. For these agricultural exhibits serve to stimulate progress and encourage all to attain that degree of success which the conditions warrant.

Again we wish to emphasize the fact that the Fair Association has never paid the News or De Groundwet one cent for advertising. The News had two columns in last week, it has more in this week; it had column after column in last year and the year before. De Groundwet had nearly two columns in last week it had column after column in last year and the year before and previous years. Both have furnished this space free of charge, and instead of being criticized they ought to be commended.

The Fair is not a money gaining institution. It has made money the last three or four year, but every cent has been turned into improvements. The money received does not go into the pockets of any of the men; it goes into the development of the Society, on the theory that the development of the Society means the promotion of the public good. Remember, you who by the purchase of a ticket or otherwise give a cent into the coffers of the Holland Fair, you do not promote the interest of any individual; but aid an enterprise of a public nature. Now, in the future instead of criticizing, put your shoulder to the wheel and do some good.

Notes Of The Fair.

The concession men have been making applications for space in overwhelming numbers. All those who desire to secure a place for a lunch stand, a cane rack, for the sale of novelties, or for any other purpose, should be on the ground Monday, Sept. 23rd, as the concession committee will be on the ground all day to allot proper space to each.

The Holland Citizen Band, the Crisp Cornet Band, and the Ottawa Band of Zeeland have been engaged to furnish music the different days of the Fair.

Boone Bros.' stables will be represented by some of the best trotters and pacers in their string. Johnnie and Hub will both be in the sulkies to contend for victory.

What you Saw in this Paper 35 Years ago To-day.

We learn that the old and well known "National Hotel," Grand Rapids, was burned about 3 o'clock a. m., on Friday. No particulars.

On Saturday morning last as we had just commenced working off our paper, an accident occurred which piled our whole form and broke our press, hence the delay in issuing this number of our paper. We hope, however, to be out on time with our next number.

Hope college opens for instruction next week. The list of students will be fully as large as last year, with a probability that it will be increased. We have not learned of any change in the faculty.

Although we have not received a list of premiums awarded by the State Pomological society at Grand Rapids, we noticed that Hon. John Roost of this city was awarded the first premium for late Crawford peaches; Grand Traverse, first premium for Coolidge's Favorite, and South Haven Pomological society for a large number of varieties.

WHAT YOU SAW 30 YEARS AGO

Prof. Kollen left for the East on Wednesday last to resume his labors as endowment agent for Hope college.

A fire broke out on Wednesday at the residence of Peter Prins, in the rear of the Third Reformed church, destroying part of the roof and damaging the dwelling to the amount of thirty or forty dollars. The fire was put out before the engine could get there.

A son of Geo. S. Harrington displayed the skill of being a good shot. Almost two years ago he killed a deer at his first shot, and last week he killed another at his second attempt, in proof of which Mr. Harrington presented us with a choice piece of venison. We think very few young men can show such a record of shooting at that age, and if he keeps on improving he may some day participate at Creedmoor.

An effort is being made to get a bell in the tower of Hope church.

Ex Mayor Harrington and lady have returned from their eastern trip.

Master Abe Ledeboer, long since missing, returned home yesterday morning in good health.

"Bring on your witness," said the judge in a western murder trial. Clerk (looking up and whispering to judge): "There is a little game of pedro going on in the other room. Judge. Natcho or plain? Clerk: Sancho. Judge: This court is adjourned for an hour.

A man by the name of Grinnell, while attempting to enter the harbor of Kalamazoo river on Wednesday last with a boat, capsized it near the lighthouse, spilling himself out and about 900 pounds of sturgeon. It was blowing hard and a sea was washing over the pier. Notwithstanding this danger, Mrs. Underwood, the wife of the lighthouse keeper, went to his rescue with a rope in a gallant style and saved the man's life.

An entertainment will be given at Kenyon's hall on Tuesday evening next, by a number of young ladies and gentlemen of this city. The program will include recitations, tableaux, a character scene from the "Old Curiosity Shop" and vocal and instrumental music. The proceeds of the evening will be for the benefit of the Reform club. This is to be the first of a series of entertainments to be given during the winter. The public is cordially invited to attend. Admission fifteen cents.

As a fair indication of the price of real estate on Eighth street, we can mention a transaction of twenty feet, immediately east of P. & A. Steketee's store. P. Boot to E. Metz, 20 feet, $30 per foot. The intention is to build on this lot a store for millinery purposes. The brick has already been purchased and the building will be commenced in a few days. The building will have a stone basement throughout, two stories in height, 20 x 40 feet.

The following are the arrivals and clearances up to Friday morning.

Have you tried Charlie Harmon's new barber? The regular customers of the shop decide that he is the best barber of the two.

Circuit Court Commissioner A. Vischer was busy last Tuesday taking ing testimony in the suit of the First church. Both the complainants and defendant have finished submitting proof and are ready to try the case at the next term of court.

We are happy to announce that G. Landaal, our city treasurer, has purchased the meat market formerly owned by W. Batkau and we understand that he intends to make the market first class in all its appointments and will endeavor to suit all his patrons. We do not hesitate to recommend Mr. Landaal, and hope that our readers will do all in their power to assist him to establish an A. No. 1 market in the first ward.

A curiosity, not often seen in this part of the country, exists in the garden of D. Cutler of Grand Haven, in the shape of a banana tree in full blossom. If the fruit should ripen it will add another attraction to the Michigan fruit belt.

Today is just twelve hours and four minutes long—just long enough to subscribe for the News and to attend to your duties.

Plans have been completed for the new hotel which the Macatawa park association proposes building before the opening of next season.

If you have any curiosities or relics to exhibit at the Fair see the editor of the News or W. Russus who will take charge of your exhibits.

The steamer Queen of the Lakes left for winter quarters at Elk Rapids on Tuesday last. She took as part cargo an invoice of fanning mills for Messrs. Werkman & Lamoreaux.

One year hence and we may expect to see, and be in the midst of, another political battle. Torchlight processions and stump speaking will be the principal implements of warfare.

Mrs. John A. Becker left on Monday on an extended visit to relatives in Canada. John still runs the "Dutch local" out and will be kept busy for some time. The Kickapoo Indians need not be alarmed.

S. Lievense has cleared Centennial Park of the ruins of the old engine house this week. The committee on public buildings and grounds of the common council gave him the charred timber and lumber for clearing the grounds of the debris.

Rev. T. Romeyn Beck, for a number of years professor in Hope college, and who has spent the past two years on the Pacific coast in educational work, has accepted an appointment by the Japanese government to found a college on the American plan in one of the southern cities of the empire and has already entered upon his work there.

The new part of the City Hotel is finished and the rooms are fitted up for use. The furniture is elegant, and has been supplied by the West Michigan Furniture company of this city. The mechanics are at work now in remodeling the front of the old building. The boiler for the heating apparatus and the til arrived this week.

Married at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Teunis Van Dyk, Holland township, by Rev. H. E. Dosker on Wednesday, Sept. 21, Henry E. Elferdink and Miss Mary E. VanDyk.

The republicans of Holland will open the political campaign on Wednesday evening of next week. The addresses will be delivered by two Ex Speakers of the House of Representatives—Hon. D. P. Markey and Hon. G. J. Diekema. See posters.

Tuesday morning, after G. J. Diekema had awoke from his slumbers, which appear to have been extraordinary sound, he realized that during the night his friends the enemy had been making inroads upon his anticipations and ambition. As reported by him, and this is no campaign story, some unscrupulous partisan had misconstrued and misapplied the idea of reciprocity; the net result of which to Mr. Diekema was that upon a summary inventory, negligently taken, he found his assets reduced, in night by from $30 to $35, ad valorem. The particulars of the case are that at some hour after retiring the house had been entered through one of the kitchen windows, it being the only one thru which an entrance could have been obtained. From the burned matches on the floor the thief or thieves must have first taken a survey down stairs and from thence proceeded up stairs to the family bed room. Mr. D.'s clothes were relieved of his pocketbook and Mrs. D.'s purse was also missing, the two containing over $30 in money. Upon search it was found that nothing else had been taken, not even the watch which was in the vest on the same chair. No clue to the burglars thus far, and no suspicion upon the nearest neighbors.

Hope College Opens.

Cheer after cheer went up as the students met in Whinn's chapel this morning to begin the work of a new year. The enthusiasm ran high. Hearty greetings were exchanged. Those who returned after the summer's vacation, were glad to be back, and those who are here for the first time were welcomed.

Every year that passes marks a material advance in Hope college, and from present indications, the coming year will not only be no exception to the general rule, but the advance will be more marked than at any period in the history of the college.

The outlook is very bright. The enrollment already exceeds that of last year, and it is confidently expected that more will enter before many weeks pass.

Students are beginning to realize more and more that the material and moral advantages of Hope are great.

Hope offers the student an opportunity for frequent social intercourse with members of the faculty and their families, which often leads to firm and lasting friendship, and obtains that ease and polish of manner which only such association can give.

The professors are in constant touch with the student. They have a knowledge of their needs, and are in position to aid and assist them. Nor must it be forgotten that in Hope the president knows all the students personally, and feels for every one that personal responsibility which endears him to all with whom he comes into contact.

Hope furnishes and encourages an all around education. Its course of studies aims at developing and rounding off all the intellectual and moral powers of the student so as to fit him for a noble and useful life.

The Opening Exercises.

Promptly at 9 o'clock Dr. Kollen, Congressman Diekema, Rev. A. Oltman, D. D., John McLaren and the Rev. A. J. Luther took their places upon the platform. A good number of citizens were present, practically filling the audience room and Y. M. C. A. room. After reading of scripture by Dr. Kollen and prayer by Dr. Oltman of Japan, the president of the institution gave a heart to heart talk to the students. His remarks were in a happy vein, and he has the good will of the student body from the very beginning.

He was glad to welcome all the students who had returned, thanking them most heartily for the support and co-operation of the past, and urged them to consider it as part of their duty to be kind and helpful to those who have left the parental roof and for the first time come into their new surroundings.

He also advised the boys and girls to see him freely if they were lonely.

The keynote of his address was power. Power in the world is something worth working for, but it must be of the right kind. It becomes dangerous and is a curse when used in a wrong direction. The purpose of being educated here is that the student may help uplift mankind and glorify God, and with a Christian atmosphere and a determination to do their part, power for good can be secured. Heart culture is just as important as mind culture, and the student must always bear in mind that these two go together, and the individual can only reach success in the highest sense of that term by bearing this in mind.

He urged all to be faithful, whether they were watched or not. As Dr's they may look upon seniors with awe, but that need not frighten them. The performance of every duty conscientiously will bring them to that coveted station in due time. In the meantime each must do his and her daily task.

Honor to Mr. Diekema.

In introducing Congressman Diekema, Dr. Kollen paid him a high compliment.

Not only do our missionaries encircle the globe, our clergymen occupy prominent pulpits in large cities, but our graduates are also in high court.

Congressman Diekema delivered a splendid address. He was in fine form. His message was inspiring, and judging from the expression on the faces of his audience, was well received. He has high conceptions of life, duty, privilege and opportunity, and believes that the outlook for things in general and for Hope college in particular is bright. He considered it a high privilege to welcome the students to Hope college this year. He spoke as follows:

From the land of the Dakotas, from the fertile fields of Iowa, from the sun kissed prairies of Illinois, from the forests and farms of Wisconsin, from the vast Empire state, from the towns, villages and cities of Michigan, which like a gem is set in a diadem of water, from the great northwest territory, which is dedicated to religion, morality and education, you have come, some three hundred strong, with one object in your minds and with one desire in your hearts, namely, to search for and find knowledge.

You have done well to come here, where this great treasure can be found; where for more than half a century the earnest searchers for truth have found rarest gems and purest gold, which they have carried to the uttermost parts of the earth.

President Kollen and several members of the faculty, who found their knowledge here, have returned to these classic halls laden with wisdom to act as faithful guides upon familiar grounds, while the great universities of the east and west, and even ancient Oxford with its classic lore, have helped to equip with wondrous wisdom a splendid faculty for their life work.

You have done well to come here, because the knowledge which you will find is consecrated knowledge, knowledge dedicated to service. The pursuit of knowledge for its own sake is as vain as the pursuit of beauty, wealth, power, position and influence for their own sakes. It is as vain as was the pursuit of Jason and the Argonauts for the golden fleece, and the search for the fountain of perpetual youth. Knowledge is power only when it is in action; when it is dedicated to the service of God and humanity.

You have done well to come here where the atmosphere and environment are conducive to a healthy physical, mental, moral and spiritual growth and the development of a full orbited life.

You have done well to come here, where you will come in closest personal contact with men of great minds, strong characters and pure souls, whose very personalities you will absorb as material in the structure of your own lives. These splendid modern buildings which you see about you, so well adapted to the purposes for which they were constructed, these shady groves, and this beautiful campus, are not our chief attractions. We boast of men—high minded men. These—not bricks and mortar—are the real Hope college.

The Faculty.

Professor Sutphen thinks in Latin; Dimmett dreams in Greek; Brush speaks French and German to his automobile; Vander Meulen philosophizes and psychologizes whether spell-binding upon the platform, preaching in the pulpit or lecturing in the classroom; Kulzing, the polished rhetorician, has ample food for mind and soul; Kleinheksel walks, talks, argues and reasons with mathematical accuracy; Boers has more dates at his fingers' ends than a Burroughs adding machine has numbers; Nykerk has mastered the fine arts and speaks with an Oxford accent; Yntema, like Saul of old, stands head and shoulders above his fellows physically, and is blessed with a mind well proportioned to his body; Godfrey is our scientific young physician; Beardslee was born amid an atmosphere of books, and these are still his greatest delight; Raap is as full of Dutch literature as an egg is full of meat; Miss Krell teaches purest English with mind and heart, and Mrs. Gilmore imparts the graces which by heredity, environment and training are her own, while over and above them all, with large heart and clear vision, President Kollen safely guides the ship and supplies the fuel.

You will engage in a most exhilarating pursuit. What is the exhilaration of the fisherman who lands the sportive trout, the gamy bass, and the fighting muscalonge; of the mighty hunter who drops the buck or stag, compared with the exhilaration of the student who has just discovered a new truth which animates his whole soul?

Some people say that we are living in the age of steam, when the iron horse, on its tracks of steel, leaps over continents, goes whistling by the pyramids of Egypt and penetrates far into the heart of India; when our great steamers plow the ocean, interchanging people and commerce and bringing to the world peace and plenty; when the factory employs the millions and machinery performs the delicate tasks heretofore entrusted to the fingers of man.

Others say we are living in the electric age, when from the air, the mighty rivers, the great water falls, and even from old ocean's heaving, tide swollen bosom we obtain a power, which, being transmitted through the wire, transforms night into day, sends out the news on the wings of the lightning, operates our cars, furnishes our music, cooks our victuals, warms our bodies and looks through them with healing light and power.

Again, it is said we are living in the scientific age; in the age when the classical college course must give way to practical learning, when the object of an education is a search for knowledge which can be coined into dollars.

And still others say we are living in the age of the brotherhood of man; when narrow bigotry and intolerance, race passion and prejudice have given way to a feeling of universal brotherhood, as a result of Christian thought and effort promulgated from Mars Hill and illustrated by the parable of the Good Samaritan.

Age of College Bred Men.

Strong arguments can be made for each one of these propositions, for there is so much of truth in them. One thing, however, I think we can all agree upon, and that is that we are living in the age of the college-bred man. The great president of our country, who first received his LL. D. degree from this institution, and who rules over the destinies of our people with such marvelous wisdom, power and courage, his able secretaries of state and war, the leading pulpit and platform orators of the day, the editors of our magazines and metropolitan press, the men of the professions, the leaders in the world of thought and action, are college-bred men. They mould and shape public opinion and direct the current of events. They are our seers, our prophets and priests. They are the column of cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night, guiding us to the promised land.

Yet we should not forget that there come ringing down the ages the words of King Solomon, who preferred wisdom to gold and silver, to power, length of days, and the life of his enemies, saying: "He who increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow."

What a strange message! Is it consistent with such utterances as these: "Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore get wisdom, and with all thy getting, get understanding."

"He that getteth wisdom loveth his own soul."

"How much better is it to get wisdom than gold, yea, to get understanding is rather to be chosen than silver."

"Wisdom is better than rubies, and all things that may be desired are not to be compared to it."

Is this message not the product of a disordered mind, of a disappointed life, and of a pessimistic soul? No! These are healthy words of real wisdom, and embody the true philosophy of life. Knowledge brings sorrow, great knowledge brings great sorrow. Why? For the same reason that the electric light casts a darker, deeper shadow than the candle.

Because from the day that you enter the college until you speak your valedictory, and all through life, you are conscious of an ever-growing sense of your own limitations. You look upward through the telescope, and there, far beyond your vision, unknown worlds and systems of worlds roll on in limitless space. You look downward through the microscope, and again you are face to face with infinity. Everything in the world of art, science, literature and philosophy, in the world of mind and matter, is limitless. A little sphere of light and dark, impenetrable darkness and the dark, deep unknown and unknowable. Oh, the sorrow of a limited view into a limitless world!

Knowledge Brings Sorrow.

Again, knowledge brings sorrow because the educated mind sees the trail of the serpent everywhere. On the face of beauty, in the temple of justice, in the halls of legislation and of congress, in the executive chamber, down the aisles of the church, over the pulpit, around our own lives and within our own hearts, everywhere the trail of the slimy monster produces corruption, envy, hatred, lust, murder, death and decay. Oh, the sorrow that comes to the mind of the man who sees this sin-cursed world as it really is!

Again, knowledge brings sorrow because we see the iron heel of the oppressor placed with impunity upon the neck of the weak and helpless.

Because we see the vile and wicked man prosper and succeed where the meek and pure in heart meets failure and disappointment.

Because we see Right forever on the scaffold and Wrong forever on the throne, and it is only through faith, and in the dim distance, that we see God keeping watch above His own.

Because both nature and man, the whole animate and inanimate creation, cry out for redemption.

If this be true, why, then, is ignorance not bliss? Why, then, is it not folly to be wise? Why, then, is wisdom better than gold and silver, power, length of days, and the life of one's enemies? Why is it better than rubies and the greatest thing which any human being can desire? Because the sorrow which knowledge brings is an egg sorrow. It is the sorrow of the open eye, of the enlightened vision and of the chastened heart. No man can be either great, good or wise who has not sorrowed.

The Abraham Lincoln of the Black Hawk war, of the traveling circuit, of the legislature and congress, was not the Abraham Lincoln whose shoulders had been galled and bent by the weight of a nation's woe, and whose soul had been sanctified by the cry of the orphan and the tear of the widow until he cried out in his anguish: "Fondly do we hope, fervently do we pray that this fearful scourge of war may soon pass away. But if God will that it last until every drop of blood drawn by the lash shall have been paid for by one drawn by the sword, still shall we say, as it was said three thousand years ago, 'The judgments of the Lord are just and righteous altogether.'"

The young Prince of Nassau, who loved ease and luxury and the sound of revelry by night, did not become the "Father William" over whose death the children wept in the streets, until he had sacrificed his princely fortune, yea, his all, upon his country's altar in order that the song of freedom might ring out forever above the flaming sword, the fiery stake and the bloody ax.

David, the ruddy boy who slew the giant, David, the heroic young man for whom the women of Palestine sang

"Saul has slain his thousands, And David his ten thousands" was not the perfect man after God's own heart until he had sinned and suffered, and had triumphed over a greater giant, the Goliath of self.

The patriotic Jeremiah and the mighty Isaiah saw great visions of the far distant future revealed before their eyes because they sorrowed over the then present.

The great Son of David, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the world's Redeemer, was "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief."

The sunlight of knowledge must shine through our tears in order to produce the seven-colored rainbow of a beautiful life.

With these high ideals in mind, we welcome you to the pursuit of knowledge and into the paths of wisdom.

Now earth's greatest minds can only see in part, but even that is a rapturous vision, and some day the veil will be lifted and they will see even as they are seen. Some day the limitations will be removed, vision will be enlarged, Justice will mount the throne, the divine plan will be unfolded and every link in the golden chain of life stretching from the cradle to the grave, and passing through the deep, dark valleys of our sorrow and humiliation and over our sunlit mountain-tops of joy, will become visible. Some day every step in the ladder which reaches from the slums of earth to the gates of Paradise will be seen, and then the sunlight of knowledge will be the joy of Heaven.

Yells Greet New Professor.

After this magnificent and eloquent address, President Kollen introduced Dr. John D. McLaren, whose services have been secured in place of Prof. S. A. Mast, who takes a post graduate course at Johns Hopkins university this year.

He was greeted by a rousing college yell, which made his perfectly at home in his new surroundings.

The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. A. J. Luther of the M. E. church, and Hope college was formally opened.

John Penna Again in Trouble.

John Penna a boy whose home is on East Seventeenth street, but who has been touring the country on some tramping stunts, returned home last week only to be arrested by Deputy Sheriff Aris Zanting. The arrest was made on a year old charge. The charge was made by Jacob Van De Wege, who claims that Penna took $23.50 from his trunk.

He was arrested at the time, but when he admitted his guilt in Justice Mc Bride's court he was allowed to go on a suspended sentence. He was required to pay the stolen money in regular payments. Penna started in all right and found a job. He made payments to the justice regularly until he had paid about $13 of the required amount. Then he suddenly left the city leaving the remainder unpaid.

In Justice Miles court last week Penna entered a plea of not guilty. His trial was set for today. In the mean time he has been locked up at Grand Haven, because he could not furnish $200 bail.

Accidental Discoveries.

Chance or accident has played an important role in both discovery and invention. Nathaniel Hayward once noted that sulphur deprived rubber of stickiness. Goodyear came along, combined some rubber and sulphur by way of experiment, and, quite by accident, overturned some of the mixture upon a hot stove. He saw in a moment that heat was essential to making rubber impervious to vulcanization.

Good Roads Agitation.

By ANTHONY ROSBACH.

Good roads and civilization go hand in hand. Civilization is here taken in the generally accepted meaning of the term. True civilization is only possible where Christianity is embraced, but civilization in general denoting the progress of mankind in arts and science in commerce, agriculture and industry, is also found in pagan countries. Thus the old Greeks and Romans had attained to a high state of civilization, and modern Japan is classified among the civilized nations. And history tells us that whenever a people turned into the ways of civilization, they also busied themselves to construct roads for travel and communication. They traveled the highways of progress in a literal as well as a figurative sense.

The roads constructed by the ancient Roman emperors on which their legions went forth to conquer the world, are still used at the present day. I had almost made the statement that from the condition of their roads we would be able to determine the degree of civilization of a people. But upon reflection such a statement proves itself to be wrong. Indeed, if it were true, what a serious reflection it would be on the boasted civilization of our American people. If it were true, the condition of some of our roads right here in our own community would lead us to believe that we were just emerging from a state of deepest barbarism.

Rather, let us make this statement, that the age of a community or a people is in a large degree determined by its progress in the construction of its public roads. In the making of this statement the history of the nations will bear me out. The contrast between the highways of the old world and the new is striking evidence.

In European countries the country roads are paved or macadamized, as well as the streets in the cities. Here many of our city streets are mudholes. Back of the old country highways stand centuries of a continuous effort, back of our own only a few short years of battling against overwhelming odds. When our fathers came here to found for themselves a home in the new world, they did not find like the children of Israel entering Canaan, houses built for them and roads ready to travel, but a primeval forest peopled by savages, whose only means of communication was a trail through the wilderness.

They had a stupendous task before them, and the struggle to transform the wilderness into a habitable country was a strenuous one. One of the serious problems confronting the early pioneers was the lack of roads. The Indian trail was inadequate to their needs, for the social structure of a civilized people rests upon free means of communication. So the trail was widened to a road, and the rude lumbering ox wagon awakening the echoes of the forest became the forerunner of the multitudinous traffic of the present day. Our fathers laid the foundation of our road system, and the question of road improvement has been an important one ever since.

Indeed, the road question will be a vital one to the very life of our nation until the time comes that every man owns his own private airship, and the chief concern of our people will be to study the direction of air currents.

Now the question comes to us, has the work of road improvement in our country kept pace with the development in other lines of industry? And the answer must be emphatically, No. A study of the conditions in different parts of the Union show that only a small per cent of our country roads have been made permanent. Even the oldest communities are casting about for means to make their dirt roads passable. The great state of Ohio, one hundred years old, with unlimited quantities of stone, has only a small per cent of hard road. A speaker in Iowa declared that they would have reached the height of their ambition in that state if they could have 15 per cent of their roads covered with stone surface. And right years old, I dare say we have not built one mile of hard, permanent road.

It is true, we are blessed with many miles of good gravelled roads, but it is not also true that many of them are at certain times of the year almost impassable. The truth of the matter is that throughout the length and breadth of our land the roads have been neglected. For this the national government is partly responsible. While it has been appropriating millions of dollars, and donating large tracts of land to the wagon roads. While with lavish hand it has promoted the improvement of harbors and waterways, it has steadfastly refused to raise a finger for the improvement of the highways. The state governments also bear a share of the blame. While little or nothing has been done in the way of appropriations, the road laws have been, in many instances, drawn in such a crude manner and so defective and inadequate has been their application, that the progress of road making has been sadly retarded. Yet the bulk of the onus for the condition of things rests upon the people themselves.

In a government like ours the source of development lies with the people, and if the people are alive to a question the governing power will surely respond. But on the road question we have been asleep. We have been moving along in the ruts. It is high time we were getting out of the ruts and getting the ruts out of the roads, and I am glad to say that the country is awakening. Our people are beginning to realize what a tremendous loss is occasioned by neglect of the highways. All over the land meetings are being held and associations are being formed for road improvement. During the Louisiana Purchase exposition at St. Louis a good roads convention was held at which representatives were present from 35 states, and the influence of that convention is still felt.

A National Good Roads association has been organized, and the different states are falling into line, many of the states, including Michigan, being organized. The establishment of rural free mail delivery is also a mighty factor in the working out of the road problem. The United States government has undertaken to deliver practically every farmer's mail at his door. It sends out its carriers every working day in the year to make the delivery, and in return it expects the farmer to make the highways fit for the carriers to travel.

Notes of Sport.

The Hollands played at Fennville last Saturday and defeated them by a score of 8 to 7. The game was a fast one and the victory was repeatedly endangered for Holland, but Kerkhoff's fine pitching saved the day. The Hollands are now looking for a game with the Independents.

The Holland Independents did not fare so well at Zeeland. Karsten, the great Zeeland pitcher, practically held them in the hollow of his hand, striking out seventeen men in the course of the game. The Zeeland team had been strengthened by several players from out of town, but the plucky little Independents were undaunted and put up a good fight in spite of the odds. The score was 10 to 2 in favor of Zeeland. On Saturday afternoon a return game will be played on the Nineteenth street grounds, when the Independents expect to do others as they were done. A large crowd is expected to watch the game.

The Holland high school eleven was defeated by Allegan Saturday by a score of 33 to 0. It was the first game of the season and practically the first game the high school team ever played, since it is mostly made up of new material; and besides, the different players have not yet become used to each other. The Allegan team out weighed the visitors man for man, and by this means made long gains by heavy plays through the line. In the first half Holland fought hard and held the heavy opponents to 11 points. The weight constantly thrown against the lighter men, however, wore them down until in the second half Allegan ran thru them just twice as fast. Following was the high school's line up: center, James Williams; left guard, Earl Luther; right guard, Frank Smith; right tackle, E. Van Ry; left tackle, R. Van Ry; left end, Lacey; right end, Frank Price; quarter back, Homer Blom; left half, Francis Deto; right half, Chas. Berg; full back, John Rigaud; substitute, R. Stanton.

Come to Holland's Finest Fair Next Week.

Again the officers of the S. O. & W. A. Agricultural society call attention to the annual fair which will be held this year at Holland Sept. 24th to Sept. 27th. It is the confident prediction of all who have been engaged in making this enterprise a success, that the fair this year will overshadow all previous exhibitions given by the society. No expense has been spared liberality being the watch word for the races, for the attractions and for the premiums.

Substantial increases have been made in the premium list, and the entries already received indicate that there will not be a foot of available space left when the doors open for the big fair next week.

$2000 will be offered for the races, and this liberal sum of money has resulted in securing some of the best trotters, pacers and runners on the circuit. "Every heat will be a race this year," is the prediction of the speed committee as they have the goods and will deliver them in a manner that will satisfy the most fastidious lovers of horse flesh.

It will be a medley of interest from Tuesday until the sun goes down Friday night, for unexcelled attractions have been secured. There is the usual tent shows, side shows, etc., and in addition the free acts to be given in front of the grand stand each afternoon between the heats of the races are the best that can be secured, including performances on the high wire, the contortions of Zello, the Frog Man and acrobatic stunts of a thrilling nature.

The events for amateur horemenn will prove interesting and amusing. For instance, there will be the trotting race for horses driven to buggy by the owners. Then there will be a green race for horses which have never before been entered on any track. Novelty races will be given, such as the slow race in which the last horse wins; the race in which the horses trot a half mile, walk a half mile and run a half mile; the race in which the horses are taken in front of the grand stand, unhitched, driven around the track go as you please, and then harnessed.

Although considerable time and money is devoted for races and for a few amusements, the fact is not overlooked that the Fair is really for the purpose of exhibiting all that is best from the farm and garden, the workshop and the home; and liberal premiums have been offered. For the last two years every stable has been filled, every department has been crowded with entries. Over $1000.00 was paid out last year in premiums and this sum will be exceeded this year according to present indication; for already entries have been made, and Campaign Against Parcels Post.

The Holland Merchants' association is taking an active interest in subjects of prime importance and efforts will be instituted to secure favorable legislation to protect their interests. The merchants are a unit in opposing the adoption of a parcels post on the ground that it will give mail order concerns easy access to territory in which the merchants sell their wares. Congressman Diekema and Senator Smith will be asked to assist in defeating the measure when it is revived in congress. The fight against auction stores who cater to the holiday trade will be renewed as these fly-by night concerns have seriously cut the trade in previous years. The council will be asked to assist the movement by the passing of an unusually high license fee and thus abolish the evil. The discount fee in favor of college professors, students and clergymen will also receive consideration.

The poultry department will be crowded judging from the number of entries received, as will also the Art Hall; while the Flower Exhibit will, as usual, be one of the features of the Big Fair.

CZAR AND FAMILY NEAR DEATH.

Imperial Yacht Standart Has Blown Up by Floating Mine.

London, Sept. 17.—Facts in confirmation of the reported attempt when the royal family was on board to assassinate Czar Nicholas of Russia by blowing up his private yacht were received Monday. It is learned that instead of the royal yacht Standart accidentally going aground off the shore of Finland, she was stove in by the explosion of a floating dynamite mine. Her commander ran her ashore to save the lives of the imperial family on board.

The substantiation of the attempted assassination report was received by way of Copenhagen in a private message from St. Petersburg. In addition to this it is also reported from St. Petersburg that the reign of terror is starting in Russia anew and that Russian troubles are steadily increasing, far beyond those of recent years.

RHEUMATISM

Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Kidney Trouble and Kindred Diseases.

GIVES QUICK RELIEF

Applied externally it affords almost instant relief from pain, while permanent results are being effected by taking it internally, purifying the blood, dissolving the poisonous substance and removing it from the system.

DR. S. D. BLAND

Of Brewton, Ga., writes: "I had been a sufferer for a number of years with Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Kidney Trouble and kindred diseases, and after trying all the remedies that I could gather from medical works, and also consulting with a number of the best physicians, but found nothing that gave the relief obtained from '5-DROPS.' I shall prescribe it in my practice for rheumatism and kindred diseases."

DR. C. L. GATES

Hancock, Minn., writes: "A little girl here had such a weak back caused by Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble that she could not stand on her feet. The moment they put her down on the floor she would scream with pain. I treated her with '5-DROPS' and today she runs around as well and happy as can be. I prescribe '5-DROPS' for my patients and use it in my practice."

PEOPLE OF PARIS ENRAGED

SAVING OF SOLEILLANT FROM GUILLOTINE STIRS WRATH.

Curious Demonstrations to Express Indignation of the Populace Are Led by Women.

Paris, Sept. 16.—The increasing indignation of the masses against the escape from the guillotine of Soleillant, known as the "monstrous violator and murderer," whose sentence to death for the atrocious murder of a 12-year-old girl was commuted last week by President Fallieres to life imprisonment, was expressed Sunday in a series of the most curious public manifestations that have occurred in France for a long time.

The demonstration, despite the fact that several arrests were made, was almost entirely an orderly one. Many women participated. It was organized not so much against Soleillant, as to express the voice of the populace against the wave of unspeakable crimes committed on little girls which lately has increased to an alarming degree and which it is feared the commutation of the sentence of Soleillant will only stimulate.

Several thousand persons were engaged in demonstrations at various points of the city, and especially large was the crowd in the Place St. Ambroise near which lived little Martha Fberding, the victim of Soleillant. The rage of the women of this district has been great since President Fallieres showed clemency to Soleillant. They assembled Sunday afternoon with their husbands and sympathizers and were augmented in numbers by crowds of curious persons. Their orderly cries for justice were quickly changed to cries of "Death to Soleillant!" and "Down with Fallieres!" as the procession, led by a woman who carried a little girl on her shoulders with the purpose of indicating the object of the manifestation, moved toward the Place de La Republique.

Soon the streets were choked by a vast mob, and the police reserves were called out to disperse it. The parade, however, assembled again, and several of the more violent demonstrators were arrested.

Meantime other parades had been organized in different quarters of the city, one in the Place Vendome, at the ministry of justice. This, also, was led by a woman with a babe on her shoulders. The crowd shouted "Death to violators." At nightfall this parade was dispersed by the police, who feared that with darkness disorder would break out. Smaller processions traversed the grand boulevards of the city.

STUDENTS BEATEN BY TOUGHS.

Purdue University Boys Suffer at Hands of City Hoodlums.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 14.—In a riot between Purdue university students and city toughs here Friday, six students were seriously injured and 15 others were badly beaten.

Students were returning to the university from a dance in this city when they were attacked by a score of toughs. They were being badly beaten when one of the students ran to West Lafayette and gave the alarm. A large crowd of students and citizens responded and ran to the levee, where the six students were found unconscious. After a hot fight, during which students and toughs alike were badly beaten, five of the latter were arrested. The most seriously injured are John Miller and M. J. McChesney, of Charleston, W. Va., students.

G. A. R. ELECTS C. G. BURTON.

Missouri Man Chosen Commander-in-Chief by Veterans.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Charles G. Burton, of Nevada, Mo., a former member of congress, was elected Thursday commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, which is holding its forty-first annual encampment here.

Other officers elected by the encampment were as follows: Lewis C. Griffith, Troy, N. Y., senior vice commander; William M. Scott, Atlanta, Ga., junior vice commander; Dr. Lane Taneyhill, Baltimore, Md., surgeon general; Bishop Samuel Fallows, Chicago, chaplain-in-chief.

Toledo, O., was selected as the place of meeting for the next encampment. The date will be fixed by the national council of administration.

DYNAMITE IN GRAIN BUNDLES.

Five Threshing Hands Badly Injured on Wisconsin Farm.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 14.—An explosion of dynamite placed in a bundle of grain injured five men and wrecked a threshing machine Friday on the farm of Peter Peterson, near here. Investigation developed the fact that sticks of dynamite had been placed in several bundles of grain. The miscreant has not been located.

Break in Operators' Strike.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 14.—There was a decisive break in the local telegraphers' strike Friday when eight former striking operators, including the vice president of the local telegraphers' union, returned to work with the Postal Telegraph & Cable company.

Navy Goes to Wales for Coal.

London, Sept. 17.—The United States navy department has contracted with Welsh firms for 100,000 tons of the best steam coal, the delivery to extend over 1908. The price agreed upon has been kept secret.

WELLMAN STARTS; IS DRIVEN BACK

ARCTIC EXPLORER'S AIRSHIP AMERICA LANDS ON A GLACIER.

Storm Is Encountered — Machinery Worked Well, But Gale Was Too Strong—Attempt to Reach Pole Abandoned for Year.

Tromsø, Norway, Sept. 14.—Walter Wellman and his party, composing the Wellman-Chicago Record-Herald polar expedition, arrived here Thursday evening on the steamer Frithjof from Spitzbergen.

Mr. Wellman says the airship America left her shed September 2 and made an ascent in bad weather, but she proved so strong and behaved so well that a start north was immediately made. The airship, however, encountered a storm, was driven back and landed on top of a glacier. Everything was saved.

Airship Beats Steamer.

When the airship left the shed it was anchored to a steamer, the Express, which helped to tow it to Vogel Bay island, two miles northward to Camp Wellman. Reisenberg and Vandman occupied the car. The motor was found to work splendidly and, when it was started, drove the America ahead of the steamer. It was found that the airship answered her helm well.

Beaten Back Over Mainland.

Off Vogel Bay island the America was freed from her anchor ropes, but an increasing gale and a driving snowstorm beat her backward over the mainland of Spitzbergen. Seeing the hopelessness of attempting to battle with the gale, the valves were opened and the balloon quickly descended on a glacier.

The occupants of the car secured the balloon. A rescue party from the steamer reached the glacier an hour and a half later and had considerable difficulty in saving the airship. The balloon portion had to be cut in two and the car was taken to pieces in order to enable the rescuers to transport it over the ice hills and fissures to the sea. After two days' work this was successfully accomplished and on the evening of September 4 the members of the expedition got back to Dane's island, whence they sailed for Tromsø September 8. Maj. Hersey is returning in a fishing boat.

Abandoned for a Year.

Trondhjem, Norway, Sept. 14.—Walter Wellman on arriving at Tromsø announced that he had definitely abandoned for this year, after a disastrous trial of his airship, the proposed attempt to reach the north pole.

The airship ascent September 2 was in a strong northwesterly wind, which drove her southeastward over the land. It was found necessary to cut the balloon adrift from the other parts of the airship, but it was recovered after two days' search.

Mr. Wellman says he will make another attempt, with a new airship, in 1908.

RICH YOUNG MAN IS KILLED.

C. Berry Winship, of Washington, Thrown from His Horse.

Washington, Sept. 16.—C. Berry Winship, 21 years old, a member of a prominent family of this city, was almost instantly killed in Rock Creek Park Sunday by being thrown from his horse while shied at an object in the road. One foot of the rider was held fast in the stirrup, and he was dragged for some distance and kicked into insensibility. Dr. Glennon, of the public health and marine hospital service, who came along in an automobile immediately after the accident, picked up the prostrate man and started for a hospital, but Mr. Winship lived only a few moments. The young man had just come into a large inheritance.

Fred G. McNally Is Dead.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Frederick G. McNally, for three years president of the publishing firm of Rand, McNally & Co., died Monday.

A TALE OF TWO CITIES.

SAVING OF SOLEILLANT FROM GUILLOTINE STIRS WRATH.

NEGRO BAPTISTS IN A ROW

BROWNSVILLE AFFAIR NEARLY DISRUPTS CONVENTION.

Resolutions Severely Criticizing Roosevelt Replaced by Milder Set After Stormy Discussion.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Despite the efforts of some of the leaders to keep out of its discussions all matters political, the national negro Baptists' convention Monday, after a stormy session in the course of which President Officer Morris threatened to leave the chamber, hotly debated the Brownsville affair.

The committee on the state of the union had refused to eliminate from its report all reference to the question and had prepared resolutions on the subject which, it was learned, severely criticized President Roosevelt and strongly praised Senator Foraker for the stand he had taken. It was only through fear of disrupting the convention that the delegates, after supporting the purpose of the committee to submit the report, reconsidered and consented to a milder set of resolutions offered by the presiding officer.

The resolutions are as follows:

"In common with all good citizens, we deplore what has come to be known as the Brownsville affair, and we trust that time will yet reveal the real perpetrators of the crime.

"The entire country is under a debt of gratitude to the Hon. J. B. Foraker and others who secured for the soldiers the right to be heard in their own defense."

ADMIRAL WALKER IS DEAD.

Distinguished Retired Naval Officer Succumbs to Heart Disease.

York Beach, Me., Sept. 17.—Rear Admiral John G. Walker, U. S. N., retired, died here Monday. He had been ill for some time, but his death was quite unexpected. He had been spending several weeks with his family at the cottage of Miss S. A. Pickering of Salem, Mass. Death was due to heart disease.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Aside from his generally distinguished service in the navy, Rear Admiral Walker, who died Monday at York Beach, Me., had held several important assignments, the most conspicuous of which was chairman of the Isthmian canal commission, which office he held from 1899 to 1901. Admiral Walker was 72 years of age and was retired with the rank of rear admiral after 49 years on the active list. He saw distinguished service during the civil war and commanded several important squadrons during his naval career.

MURDERED IN MEXICO.

George Rose, of Michigan, Slain by Bandits in Quanaajato.

Laport, Ind., Sept. 16.—A telegram received Sunday from Dwight Furness of Furnessville, Ind., who is United States consul at Guanajuato, Mexico, tells of the murder there by Mexican bandits of George Rose, an American, and the injury to his wife.

The murdered man was a son of W. A. D. Rose, of Benton Harbor, Mich., and was 34 years old. He was graduated from the Michigan Agricultural college in 1896, and in 1900 was married to Miss Winifred McGrath, of Salt Lake City.

Mr. Rose was connected with a Mexican mining and transportation company, of Guanajuato, Mex., in the capacity of a mining engineer. According to the telegram from Consul Furness Rose was shot by robbers. Whether he died instantly or lived some time after the attack is not stated. Mrs. Rose was also shot, but it is believed that she will recover.

$15,000,000 Damages Awarded.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 17.—Justice Langley, of the supreme court of Nova Scotia, Monday night delivered a decision in favor of the plaintiff in the action brought by the Dominion Iron and Steel company against the Dominion Coal company for the recovery of $15,000,000 damages for breach of contract in not supplying coal suitable for metallurgical purposes.

Physicians Indicted as Trust.

Dubuque, Ia., Sept. 14.—The grand jury of Bremer county Friday returned indictments against 14 physicians for violation of the state anti-trust law, the medical society having raised fees some time ago.

H. H. ROGERS IS IN CRIP OF PARALYSIS

STANDARD OIL AND COPPER MAGNATE HAS SUFFERED SEVERE STROKE.

Due to Business Worry—His Retirement from Active Life Probable—Relatives Reveal His Condition in Boston Law Court.

New York, Sept. 17.—Information came from a sound source Monday that H. H. Rogers has suffered a stroke of paralysis. The president of the Amalgamated Copper company has been reported "ill" for about a fortnight, following his recent return from Europe, where he went some months ago for his health.

But despite the trip abroad and the temporary retirement from all business affairs, the Rockefeller chieftain grew worse, an illness which culminated in the stroke of helplessness.

It is said that the magnate has been generally incommunicado for a fortnight, only his near relatives and intimate friends being permitted to his bedside. One of these in a Boston court Monday afternoon confirmed the story, and gave details of the financier's breakdown.

The recent order to close the Montana mines of the Amalgamated Copper company is supposed to have been given by William G. Rockefeller, who will take the position formerly occupied by Rogers as the field general of the Standard Oil party.

Will Retire, Anyway.

Even should Rogers recover, it is believed that he will not return to his place in the directorates of the various corporations with which he has been identified.

It develops that the sensational slumps in all of the securities controlled by the Standard Oil clique were due largely to the indoor knowledge of what had happened to Rogers. A few friends, knowing what had occurred, took advantage of their information to sell stocks. Amalgamated Copper in these two weeks dropped some 15 points, Anaconda ten, St. Paul eight and the rest of the Rockefeller properties proportionately.

The decisions against the Standard Oil company and the failure of the Rockefellers to stem the tremendous slumps in their companies are supposed to have been contributory causes to Rogers' condition.

Condition Revealed in Court.

Boston, Sept. 17.—Upon the evidence of members of the family of Henry H. Rogers and the family physician that Mr. Rogers suffered a stroke last July, and has since been unable to transact any business, Judge Hammond, in the supreme court Monday, announced that it would be cruel to compel his attendance in court, and dismissed a motion to that effect.

The condition of Mr. Rogers was disclosed in the course of a hearing on a motion to show that he was capable of attending the trial of a suit against him for $50,000 brought by C. M. Raymond, of Somerville, for alleged conversion of certain royalties in connection with the production of petroleum.

The hearing began last week, with the testimony of Dr. Charles P. Pratt, of New Bedford, who stated that Mr. Rogers had suffered from a stroke last July, and was unable to attend to his business.

Has Been Ill Since July 22.

In support of the claim that Mr. Rogers was too ill to appear, four witnesses were heard Monday. The first was Urban H. Broughton, the son-in-law of Mr. Rogers. He said that since July 22, when Mr. Rogers was taken ill in New York, his father-in-law had been unable to transact any business, and that soon after that date Mr. Rogers told him that Broughton must pick up all his business and carry on the affairs to the best of his ability and knowledge and that he would not hold Mr. Broughton responsible for any mistakes. At this time, Mr. Broughton testified, the physicians had refused to allow Mr. Rogers to see any members of the family, not excepting his wife.

Face and Body Distorted.

At present, he testified, Mr. Rogers' face is distorted on the right side, the left side of his body is out of its natural position and his speech is affected.

Henry H. Rogers, Jr., corroborated his brother-in-law in many respects. He said that there had been only a slight improvement in his father's condition since July and that the only business he had done was to sign three blank checks and give a power of attorney to open a safe deposit vault in New York.

Norman W. Nesbit, a New Bedford dentist testified that he had attended Mr. Rogers twice within the last six weeks and on both occasions he noticed that he had not changed and was very nervous.

The last witness was Dr. Pratt, who told the court that he could not state exactly what would be the ultimate result of the attack of last July, nor to what it was due. He thought it might be apoplexy, or perhaps a clot on the brain or a slight paralytic shock.

LOCAL.

Miss Anna Schrottenboer of East Saugatuck and John Mulder of Overijssel will be married tonight by Rev. Keizer at the parsonage at 8 o'clock.

The best advertisement that any store can put up is to have it lighted up properly. The gas arc lamps that the Holland Gas company is fitting out furnishes all the light that any store can desire.

Robert Moore was relieved of $345 last week on the train from Detroit to Grand Rapids. Moore just got married recently to a Chicago girl and is well known in these parts. He is one of the wealthy citizens of Allegan. Special railroad detectives have been sent on the trail of the thieves.

Miss Etta Groveene Buss of Grand Rapids, and M. Everett Dick were married last Thursday afternoon in that city. Miss Buss formerly lived here, and Mr. Dick is now employed as book keeper at Buss' Machine works in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Dick will be at home to their friends after October 15 in the Slagh block on East Eighth street.

Two well known young people of East Saugatuck, Miss Ida Siebding and Mr. Gerard Schutt, were married at the county home of the bride's parents, last Saturday. A large number of guests from Grand Rapids and Holland were present, and some fine presents were received. Mr. and Mrs. Schutt left for Grand Rapids, where Mr. Schutt is employed in the grocery business.

The Merchants' Association went after the auction stores last Tuesday night at their regular monthly meeting. The legislative committee has taken it in hand and will try to have the license made so high that it will be impossible for the auction stores to operate. The regular business men have been greatly harmed in their business by these birds of passage concerns and they think they ought to be protected against them.

Congressman G. J. Diekema is putting in some of his best licks to secure a breakwater for the city of Grand Haven. The board of trade of Grand Haven asked him to do something for the construction of the breakwater. Mr. Diekema immediately wrote a letter to the secretary of war, in which he recommended that an appropriation be made for the purpose. Senator Smith has also been asked to give this matter his attention.

The father of J. M. VanderMeulen and Attorney C. VanderMeulen, who has held a charge in the Reformed church at Hales Corners, Wisconsin, has decided to give up pastoral work. Rev. VanderMeulen will make his home in this city, having bought a house of M. Van Putten at Montello Park. Mr. VanderMeulen is 69 years old and has been in the ministry for forty-five years. His reason for leaving the work is failing powers and ill health.

Two hundred and fifty seats are to be added to the seating capacity of Carnegie Hall. The management of the lecture course has not only secured a stronger series of lectures than ever before but has lowered the price of season tickets. This has had its effect upon the number of those who will attend the lectures to such an extent that the seating capacity had to be increased. The Holkeboer company, which is now working on the chemical laboratory in Van Raalte Hall will do the work.

The museum at Hope College has been enriched with a new curiosity in the shape of a doll dressed in the provincial garb of Axel, Zeeland. The waxen figure presents a quaint appearance with its heavy full skirts and waists of bright colors, the beads around the neck and other adornments, showing the style of dress worn in the mother country. The curiosity was picked up by Prof. Herbert G. Keppel of Zeeland during his recent trip to the Netherlands and he made the donation to his alma mater.

A well known citizen who gets up about four each morning in order that he may be down when the boats arrive, saw two dark figures lurking back of the trees across from his flat this morning. He at once arrived at the conclusion that they were robbers and at once telephoned a fellow employee of his who was already at the docks and had him come down to his house after him. Then he telephoned the night watchman and had him come down and with this formidable escort took his wife to a neighbor's and departed for his own work. The formidable bandits across the road lurking in the shadows to rob and slay were later discovered to be a neighbor and his boy who got up early to see the comet.—Grand Haven Tribune.

The new water system has been installed at a cost of over $300; but the improvement is well worth the money and will prove a great convenience to patrons of the Fair.

Mr. C. Vinke was in town yesterday. He used to be a resident of Holland but has not been here for 10 years. He expressed great surprise at the size the city has become since he left it.

Mrs. Mary E. King reached Holland last week on her return from her extended European trip. Mrs. King has opened her home on East 13th street and will spend the coming winter in Holland.

William O'Malley, drunk, was arrested by Patrolman Steketee Tuesday noon. Justice VanDuren taxed him $5 to cover fine and costs. O'Malley had a load of Chicago booze and claims he did not get drunk in Holland.

The farm residence of J. W. Edwards on the lake shore was struck by lightning during the storm Tuesday night and damaged to the extent of about $50. It was covered by insurance. No one was in the building at the time. The farm is known as the George Smith place.

John B. Steketee, who graduated from the seminray last June has been extended an invitation to preach in the Arcadia church at Newark, N. J. He has also been asked to take the principleship in the Academy at Harrison, S. D. Mr. Steketee has not yet accepted either one of these.

Arrangements are being made for work of considerable consequence at the Cappon & Bertch tannery in this city. The plan is understood to be for utilizing the waste steam for heating purposes in the plant. About fifteen thousand feet of pipe will probably be used in the work.

Cards are out announcing the approaching marriage of Otto G. Kan, chief chemist for the Holland Sugar company and Miss Shoukje Piepenpaal of Velp, Netherlands. Mr. Kan has been residing in this city for several years and has made a host of friends. He is one of the popular young men of the town and all wish him luck in his matrimonial venture.

The Holland Fair boosters went on a trip North of the city last Monday. They did the work as thoroughly as it could be done, putting up bills all along the way. The nice feature about the trip came on the return. The weary boosters arrived at the farm house of Geert Riemersma 6 miles from town at about 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Riemersma gave them the glad hand, and what was perhaps more pleasing to them, also a fine chicken supper. Thoroughly refreshed by this supper they took the trip home.

Miss Mary Chilton, who came to Macatawa several days ago from Campbellsville, Ky., to spend a few days with friends, died early Tuesday morning of typhoid fever. When first taken sick her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chilton, were notified at Kentucky, and immediately came here. The deceased was 21 years of age and is survived by her parents and one brother at Cincinnati, O. The remains were taken away on the evening train, and the parents were accompanied home by Dr. F. M. Gillespie.

The good roads question was brought up before the Merchants' association and an active campaign will be started to improve the roads that lead to Holland. It was decided to ask Mr. Earle to speak to the association. It was decided that when Mr. Earle did come, the representative of the rural mail carriers, the farmers, and all interested citizens, should be invited to attend the meeting so that interest could be aroused throughout the district in which it is proposed to improve the roads. After Mr. Earle has been here to thoroughly explain the law, and look over the situation, a regular campaign for good roads will be conducted, so that next spring everything will be in readiness to begin work on the good roads as soon as weather condition will permit.

News has been received by relatives in this city of the death of Mrs. Marie Stella Scott, wife of the third president of Hope college, who died at the home of her daughter in North Plainfield, N. J., September 5. Mrs. Scott was born at Piscataway, N. J., November 13 1826 and was married to Dr. Scott at Raritan Landing, N. J., July 25, 1850. They came to Holland from the east in 1868 and Dr. Scott taught in Hope college for a number of years finally becoming president of Hope College then small compared to its size now, the result of its encouraging growth. Doctor Scott died in this city in 1893 and his widow has lived much of the time since back in her native state of New Jersey.

Born to Paul R. Coster, last night a son.

Cards have been received announcing the approaching marriage of Elizabeth Caroline Kleaver of Nicholas Sprietsma. The wedding of this popular young couple will take place Wednesday, October 2, at the home of the bride's father, 265 West Twelfth street.

In a severe electrical storm yesterday afternoon a barn belonging to Charles Vanduvelder near Zeeland was struck by lightning. The loss is $2,500, partly covered by insurance. Several barns in the southern part of the county were visited by lightning during the day's storm.

Mrs. Henry Baumgartel of Land street appeared in court Tuesday charged with assault upon a young daughter of her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Bosma. In a neighborhood quarrel Mrs. Baumgartel tore the dress of the child and bruised her. She pleaded guilty and was ordered to pay for the dress.

Gil Van Hooven is one of the most enthusiastic members of the speed committee. He has been to several of the Fairs near Holland during the last few weeks, and has been instrumental in securing some of the best known horses in the Michigan circuit. Gil will also have a horse or two of his own in the races.

All the ladies of Holland and vicinity who do fine needle work, knitting, or crocheting, are urged to exhibit the same at the Fair next week. The directors have made improvements in the Art Hall so that most of the work can be protected from the dust, and the superintendents will attend carefully to all articles left in their charge. Secure premium list from N. Whelan, Sec. of Fair Asso.

Geo. P. Hummer has brought suit against Henry DeKruif and Albert Labuis of Zeeland for $1500 damages. The suit grows out of the recent failure of the National Supply company of Lansing. In his bill Mr. Hummer charges that he bought $10,000 worth of stock on the statement of Mr. DeKruif that the company was solvent, and a great money maker. He claims that at that time the company was practically bankrupt, and that the stock he secured for his money was worthless. He therefore sues to recover what he invested.

The officers of the Fair and the public spirited men who devoted their time going to different parts of both counties on advertising trips for the Fair, find that the feeling towards the Association is very friendly. On every side they have received assurances that the attendance will be great. The universal expression seems to be "Sure, we are going to the Holland Fair. We meet old friends there, we have a good time, and we also see a Fair worth seeing."

Friday has been selected as Holland Day at the Fair. Last year for the first time the merchants made an organized effort to make Holland Day a success; and they certainly did make it a success, for it was one of the largest Fridays in the history of the Association. With the experience of last year to guide them, Holland Day this year will be a hummer. The merchants are laying plans to close their places of business, and, as usual, will be joined by some of the factories.

John DeBoer has made an answer to the charges of Capitola DeBoer, his wife, who has sued him for divorce. He states all his troubles arose from his wife's craze for joining lodges and taking insurances in them in favor of her son by a former marriage. In answer to another of her charges he says that she did not need to wait in the dark for him to bring home oil for lighting purposes. All she had to do was to turn on the electric light. And as to his furnishing the table with meat in 10 cent quantities, he says she had the use of the best markets and groceries in town. The alleged trouble over the purchase of a few oranges for the lodge was really over the practice she had of baking cakes for the lodge and refusing to bake them for him. In reply to her charge that he refused her medical aid, he says that she was welcome to the care of six doctors and a Christian scientist.

Private Sale.

A private sale will be held next Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 23 and 24, at the home of Mrs. A. L. Shepard, 577 Mich. Ave. Following articles will be sold: Farm implements and household goods, including piano, cabinet, two piano stools, and an angulus with 150 pieces of music.

WANTED — Second-hand safe. Must be fire proof and at least 12x18 inches inside. Hardie, the jeweler.

John Van Diest of Manhatta, Montana, will have an exhibit in the Agricultural Hall at the Fair which will prove of great interest to the farmers. He will show samples of grain and potatoes grown on the irrigated lands in that section of the country. William Overbeek, living north of the city, returned Friday from a trip to Montana where he inspected the lands of the Manhatta company and he will be present to vouch for the genuineness of the exhibit. Mr. Overbeek is enthusiastic over the fine crops he saw there.

A few peaches are moving each night to the Chicago market and returns from the sales are most pleasing to those who have peaches to ship. Small sixth bushel baskets of good yellow fruit are selling readily at from 50 to 60 cents each and such fruit is netting nearly $3 per bushel here at Fennville. Elbertas will be the bulk of this year's crop and will commence to move next week. Several local growers are planning to unite in loading a few cars of this large variety and expect to secure not less than $3 per bushel, delivered in bushel baskets here at the car. The very short crop and active demand for peaches all over the country certainly warrant such prices or even higher for fancy grades.—Allegan News.

Election is over with, what there was of it, and the men who will write the new constitution for Michigan have been chosen. Nowhere in the state did anybody seem to care who was elected delegate to the constitutional convention, and but very few voters appeared at the polls. In addition to the general lethargy on the part of the people, the rain, which was general throughout the state, kept away from the polls a large number of others who might have gone had the weather been fair.

Age a Relative Question.

At what age is a man considered an old man? This cannot be answered in years. It depends on his mental and physical condition. Some men are older at 40 than others are at 70. It has been said, with a degree of truth, that a man is as old as he feels.

Another Chance for Rest Gone.

Sales of real estate have been made by wireless telegraphy from steamships far out in the Atlantic. It is possible this marvel of science may soon be used by speculators for stock gambling all the way from shore to shore.
