WAITER TURNS TABLE ON GER- MAN FOE

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.)

Bordeaux, Sept. 13.—The scene is a village on the outskirts of Muel-hausen. A lieutenant of German scouts dashes up to the door of the only inn in the village, posts men at the doorway and, entering, seats
himself at a table.

He draws his saber and places it on the table at his side and orders
food in menacing tones.

The village waiter is equal to the occasion. He goes to the stables and fetches a hayfork and places it at the other side of the visitor.

"Stop, what does this mean?"
roared the lieutenant, furiously.

"Why," said the waiter, innocently,
pointing to the saber, "I thought that was your knife, so I brought you a fork to match."

THESE ARE PEARS TO DRAW TOO

George Taylor, one of the pioneer farmers of Spring Lake township believes that he produced in his fruit orchard this season some of the large est pears ever harvested in Michigan.
One pear, a Clapp's Favorite, measured 10 1/4 by 1 1/2 inches and weighed eleven ounces.

AWARD ROAD CONTRACTS TO JOHN VER HOEF OF HOLLAND

The County Road Commissioners
awarded four miles of road building Wednesday. John Ver Hoef of Holland was awarded the contract for building a mile of gravel road in Wright township, Henry Nykamp of Olive was awarded a mile of grading trenching and hauling on one mile of road in Wright township, and the Township Board of Chester received the contract for two miles in that township.

DEER IN OTTAWA COUNTY

The deer which has been seen by a number of people in this vicinity at different times this summer was seen by Mrs. Butrick and her little grandson Saturday afternoon just before sundown in the field near their barn. Robert went almost to the deer with an ear of corn before it turned and ran away.

That Headache of Yours

You may have tried a hundred remedies without relief, but have you ever had your eyes examined.

A large majority of headaches are caused by the eyes. And nothing in the world will stop them but the wearing of the right glasses.

That stops them almost at once,
and keeps them stopped.

We can tell you in five minutes
whether your headaches come from your eyes or not.

ITS THE SPIRIT IN THE AIR THAT'S MAKING THE HOLLAND FAIR

A Healthy Sign For This City

Reports have been coming in from all over the country that fairs
everywhere have been a failure,
from the stand point of entries, concessions, merchants' exhibits, attendance and finance generally, but there is one Fair that, if the weather man is going to give it a half a show will be one of the best fairs not alone in this state but in the United States. Never have the citizens been so imbued with the spirit to make an enterprise a success as this 30th anniversary of the Holland Fair.

It pervades the old gray heads as well as the small boys of our city.
The old grannies are talking it and the young lassies are planning for it.

This spirit does not exist in Holland alone, but it has extended to the rural districts. This has been demonstrated from the fact that nearly 2,700 entries have been made which is over 1,000 more than last year.

The spirit has extended to our neighboring cities also, you hear it on every hand when they voluntarily say, "We are coming to your Fair this year to see what you've got and to see that camel and horse race."

This spirit has reached the race horsesmen about the state. The speed committee finds that it has all classes filled and that they do not even have room enough to house
the horses which are being brought here by the kings of the turf.

This spirit has gone out even among the concession men, a hard bitten lot, who must see a dollar ahead before they take a chance.

It might be said right here that amongst concession men Holland Fairs in the past have not received a very high mark and in their talks among one another they were heard to say "Give that Dutch town the goby, its punk!" But even these have been struck by the spirit that Holland has got something and is going to have a great fair and that the people from far and near are coming to see it. Consequently the concession men are flocking here and Secretary Stephan has already banked over $1,000 in concession money which is again as much as any year before.

Space forbids at this time to give in detail what is to be seen at this greatest of all Holland Fairs. We might speak of the great Getz display which gives everything horticultural, agricultural and pomological on one hand, and on the other it might be likened unto the ark of Noah where they went in two by two, even Darwin's missing link between man and beast not excepted.

We might speak of our machinery
department where everything imaginable and of use to the farmer
can be viewed in running order.

Firms such as Jas. Kole, Gronewold and De Vries and Albert Scholten
have very able assistants, telling the men of agriculture the valuable advantages and intricacies of the different farm implements on exhibition.

But the real surprise will be when you enter the Industrial Hall
where the spirit of Holland's businessmen is everywhere in evidence. This large hall is a thing of beauty both in and out side and will be a great surprise to the fair visitors. As you enter from the left the first booth
you arrive at you will find that Henry Kraker the plumber has a lead pipe clench not alone but also a large display of everything that is up-to-date in the plumbing business.

Frank Smith is also very much in evidence.

The Citizens telephone comes next showing all the devices of the modern telephone with the exception of a two or three party line
which is not on exhibition.

Notter Van Ark and Winter the clothing and shoe dealers have a very attractive display and their booth will no doubt be paid a good deal of attention.

The Standard Grocery Co., has on display everything that its name implies. Here may be seen pyramids of flour and pyramids of canned goods which certainly does credit to Holland's only wholesale Grocery firm.

The next is a big display covering a large double booth and is one of the show places in the art hall. It constitutes a large living room in a fine home. A large center table occupies the middle of the room
around which are arranged beautiful easy chairs of the same color and design. Fine bookcases filled with the latest volumes, a beautiful lamp conveniently placed giving the whole an aspect of an evening at home. The color scheme in the furniture and draperies have been followed to the letter. This is the furniture display of Jas. A.
Brouwer and cannot help but receive considerable attention from the spectators.

"A stitch in time saves nine" this is the old adage, but if you get your stitch in time in the Boler guessing contest it may put you in, in time to get a $15.00 suit of clothes free.
They have on exhibition in their beautiful booth a suit in which they have received information from the firm from whom it was purchased how many stitches it took to make the suit. All Fair patrons will have a chance to guess and the person whose solution is the nearest correct will receive the suit or one of similar price to it. The beautiful clothing display has been created by John Van Tattenhoven.

"Tick tick the mouse ran up the clock." This is correct in the next booth occupied by the Geo. Huls-enga & Co., Jewelers with the exception that the mice have been transferred to the Getz Zoological department. But the "tick tick" remains. This enterprising firm has a beautiful display of jewelry, clocks,
and watches and if your watch happens to run down while attending the Fair ask Joe Koolker for the Standard time. He has it.

Don't pass the De Pree Hardware
booth its a clean cut and "Keen Cutter," affair and worth taking in.

"And the air will be filled with music especially around the Cook Bros booth. There are pianos, piano players, pianolas, victrolas, mouth-organs and jews harps. In fact if there is anything in the musical line
that we have not mentioned ask Herman or Barney Cook and they will bring it to light in short order.

When you look over the next booth you will find suspended from a large wire something that looks like a half of a foot ball. It might also be taken for a mud turtle but stop and rubber more closely because it is a large piece of rubber from the Congo Free States and shows the rubber before it is manufactured into rubber goods. After you get thru rubbering at this also take a rubber at the display that the Lokker and Rutgers firm is making. Handsome figures in wax are clothed in the latest cuts and nat-iest styles and after Fred Beeuwkes gets through telling you how rubber goods are created from the crude state to the finished article, he will incidentally also show and tell you what the latest styles in mens wearing apparel are.

Wm. Van Dyke has the most
"Simon" pure display we ever saw.
In order to appreciate this pun you must see his exhibit. Its worth while Next comes a President and a great General. Lincoln will be seen selling typewriters and Coster will not be seen shooting Indians, but
booth.

Imagine a beautiful moon light
night, a gate leading to the garden,
a leafy arbor dotted overhead with clusters of electric lights representing a starry heaven, and you have the stage setting of Du Mez Bros., which again shows the handy work
of Benjamin Du Mez of that enterprising firm. Figures draped in the latest fall and winter styles are artistically placed before this background of beauty.

Van Ark Furniture Co., occupies a large double space filled with the handy work of the wood craftsman.
Tables, chairs, davenports and book cases make up a large part of the beautiful display. Carpets and rugs are also in evidence and their stove department has not been neglected.
Their booth is certainly an attraction.

The staff of life is handed out by the Beach Milling Co., and "Little Wonder" that their exhibition is attracting a great deal of attraction.

No one plays the second fiddle at this Fair and this can especially be said of A. H. Meyer's Music store.
Al's display is a thing of beauty in the musical line, and his stock of sheet music cannot be surpassed.

You can get anything from "He's a Devil in his own Home Town," to
"After the ball is over." Just try it and either "Dugan" or Nell Dornbos will trot it out for you.

L. Visser is not at the Fair to "paint the town red" but to show what he has in wall papers and paints don't fail to see his attractive display.

Are you out of money, get your check cashed at the Holland City State Bank where they have money galore.

Scott and Lugers Lumber Co., also have a creditable display of goods
made by them in the building line.

The Holland Furnace Co., is well represented in a booth filled with their popular furnaces. It certainly looks as if they might make warm friends.

What is that in the peak of the Art Hall? Not a Zeppelin, I'm sure-- don't be alarmed, spectators, we're not in Antwerp or Paris and no bombs will be thrown, not even a
"bum" cigar for this is a large
"Kum Bak" manufactured by Herman Van Tongeren.

As you leave the Art Hall by the north front door, lo and behold, you meet a Gibson who is waiting for you, not one with curly locks and a face of peaches and cream, which stares up at you from the front page of a magazine cover. No, you are mistaken in the girl, this Gibson is a genial Scotchman who can tell you more in five minutes about fruit and development of land than any man in seven states. He is the man behind the gun of the Western Michigan Development Co., and he has on the ground, one whole section of luscious fruit gathered from the lands he helped to develop. The proof of his ability is shown in the exhibit at the north front entrance to the Industrial Hall.

Besides these the art hall contains the floral department, the arts and paintings pomological department, fancy work and the household department, the latter consisting of baked goods, canned goods and dairy. This department is presided over by Mrs. Geo. Deur and Mrs.
Florence Boot.

We could write a book on what is to be seen at this great exhibition
but the best thing to do is to go and be surprised as we have been.
You will see an endless lot of things which you never expected to see there. One fact has been demonstrated and that is, it has been shown what this city can do with the right kind of a spirit, and that spirit has been dominant in making this Fair a success. It is like the measles, it has become contagious and it is hoped that it may lead to an epidemic in Holland which even Dr.
Godfrey can not stem. Here's to the success of the Holland Fair, not alone but to anything that Holland may undertake in the future and hoping also that this pulled together spirit may remain with us after the Fair.

PUBLIC MEETING IN BEHALF OF THE BOY SCOUTS FRIDAY

There will be a meeting of the Local Council of the Boy Scouts, on Friday evening, September 18th at the scout room, 101 the High School Building. The men behind this movement are very anxious that all interested be present at this meeting as they desire to make a report on what has been accomplished during the past summer by the Scout Commissioner and Scout Masters, and which will open the eyes of those not knowing the progress of the scout movement in Holland.
Plans for the coming year will be made at this meeting.

Hope college opened this morning.

NO MONEY FOR THE CREDITORS

In the bankruptcy case of Commercial Photo Equipment Co., of which J. C. Calhoun of Holland was the manager, the trustee has filed his final report and account and the final meeting of creditors will be called for within the next few days.
The account shows receipts aggregating the sum of $518.19, disbursements of $87.87 and a balance on hand for distribution of $430.32.
The preferred claims in this matter
are large and it is almost assured that there will be no dividend for the unsecured and general creditors.

Nick Randy, an Italian freelo
from Europe was brought before Justice Robinson yesterday charged with cruelly beating a horse, the property of Joe Fabiano & Son. Upon Randy's plea of guilty, he was assessed a fine of $5 and costs of $3.45, a total of $8.45 which he paid rather than spend ten days in the county jail.

M. Getz, manager of the crew putting in the new sewer pipes in Zeeland, is having his troubles in striking water at a depth of only thirteen feet. The trench gives way before the pipes can be laid and this necessitates boarding up both sides of the trench. The large digging machine digs only eight feet so the rest must be dug out by hand. This has cost quite a delay, but M. Getz still expects to complete the sewer by November.

SAUGATUCK

The "South American" has arrived at Saugatuck to go into winter quarters.

The "South American" which is 25 feet longer than the "City of Grand Rapids" came in drawing 15 feet of water.

This boat coming in demonstrates what large craft Saugatuck harbor can accommodate.

"The South American" is one of the finest boats on the lakes and a large number of people had the pleasure of inspecting her as she lay in the harbor.

It is expected that "The North American" will be in Sunday. She is a sister ship and is about the same size as the "South American."

The fruit shipments still continue to be large from Saugatuck and the "United States" takes out heavy loads every night and has not missed a trip to date on account of the weather.

This is saying a good deal for her for many boats running between the Michigan ports and Chicago have been handicapped greatly.

WOODROW WILSON SLAGH IS THE NAME OF ALDERMAN'S NEW BABY.

Alderman Bert Slagh of the First Ward believes in being not a bit backward in proclaiming to the world that he is a full-fledged democrat and that he believes Woodrow Wilson the greatest president these United States have ever had. To show the political faith that is in him, Mr. Slagh has decided to name the son that was born in the Slagh family Sunday "Woodrow Wilson" in honor of the president. Mr. Slagh considers it a lucky coincidence that the boy was born on the 13th day of the month. When Wilson was elected much was made of the part the number 13 had played in his life so that he looks upon it as his lucky instead of unlucky number. He was elected in the year 1913; there are 13 letters in his name; and in a number of other ways 13 has figured in his career.

Mr. Slagh believes in naming his children after great men, another son being named "Milton", in honor of the writer of "Paradise Lost."

Mr. Slagh has written the following letter to the president of the United States, apprising him of the fact that he has named his son "Woodrow Wilson."

Holland, Mich., Sept. 13, 1914
President Woodrow Wilson,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:—
I take great pleasure in announcing that a son that was born to Mrs. Slagh and myself this thirteenth day of September will be named "Woodrow Wilson" in your honor. I am a great admirer of you and your policies and I believe that I am conferring an honor on my son by naming him for you. Allfelong democrat and an officeholder in the local municipal government, I believe most heartily in what you stand for in American politics. I respectfully call your attention to the fact that the boy was born on the thirteenth day of the month—a rather peculiar coincidence in view of the part the number thirteen (your lucky number) has played in your life. I have another son who was named "Milton" in honor of the great English poet, so that your namesake will be in the company of the great, so far as names go. But though I believe I conferred an honor on the older child by naming him for the poet, I consider that it was not nearly so great an honor as I am conferring on my latest born, by naming him for you.

Respectfully yours,
BERT SLAGH,
Ald. of the 1st Ward,
Holland, Michigan.

HOLLAND POST OFFICE TO BE RUSHED THROUGH, IF PRESENT PLANS CARRY

Lowest Bidder In Several Thousand Dollars Lower Than The Amount Appropriated

In a letter to postmaster Van Schelven received Friday, Congressman Carl E. Mapes transmits a list of the bids that were opened Wednesday in Washington for the contract of building the Holland postoffice. Among other things Mr. Mapes says, "There were eleven bidders, an unusually large number. The supervising architect informs me that he will now check over the bids and that the contract ought to be ready to be signed in two weeks. There is available for the Holland postoffice the sum of $85,000. Out of that amount, the architect informs me, they set aside for lock boxes, lamp standards and other miscellaneous items, enough to reduce the amount available on the building itself to $79,400, so that the bids for the most part are well within the amount available."

As the list of bids shows the lowest figure $71,600, and when this figure became known suggestions were made by a few Holland citizens that it might be a good plan to follow the example of Cadillac. In that city a similar state of affairs existed, namely, the amount of the contractor's price was some few thousands of dollars lower than the appropriation, which is also the case here. In order to get every dollar possible out of the federal government the department at Washington was asked to cancel all bids and all plans and to make new plans bringing the building up to the appropriation in price.

According to those who are acquainted with the situation however this would be a very poor plan. It is well known that the department at Washington would jump eagerly at any excuse for delay and that is what the drawing up of a new plan mean—perhaps a delay of many months. Moreover it is pointed out that this course would not be fair to Congressman Mapes who has done his utmost to get the work under way. He has succeeded by much effort to get the Holland building advanced out of its regular order, and the plan suggested would practically undo the work he has been doing.

"I am unalterably opposed to any delay, even an unnecessary delay of twenty-four hours," said Postmaster Van Schelven when the matter was suggested to him Friday morning.

Following is the list of bids submitted, from which the department at Washington will select one:

ROW BOAT IS UPSET WHEN TOW LINE CATCHES IN PROPELLER OF A LAUNCH.

Chief Engineer and First Mate of the "Marigold" Come to the Rescue Just in Time.

What came very near being a fatal drowning accident was averted yesterday by the timely arrival on the scene of the yacht "Marigold," manned by Chief Engineer Emil Hansen and First Mate Fred Quist. Two girls, Miss Matilda Anderson and Miss Helen Anderson were out in a row boat on Black lake between Central Park and Waukazoo when the accident happened. The lake was rather rough and the girls were being towed in by a launch. The rope caught in the propeller of the launch upsetting the rowboat and throwing the girls into the water. They clung to the boat for a while and every possible attempt was made by the launch to come to the rescue, but they found it impossible. The water was bitterly cold and the girls went down exhausted.

The chief engineer and first mate of the "Marigold" noticed the plight of the boat and hurried to the rescue. They came just in time to save the drowning girls from going down for good. The girls were dragged into the boat and brought to safety to the Waukazoo shore.

The girls were completely exhausted and they were brought to safety just in time.

FUNNY WEATHER

The present weather breaks all records for a continued low temperature since the year 1891, according to recent reports of Observer Schnur busch of the Grand Haven Weather Bureau.

For eight days beginning with Sept. 4 to Sept. 11 there has been a deficiency of 59 degrees or a daily average deficiency of nearly 9 degrees. This breaks all records since 1891 for a similar period of continued low temperature.

The next nearest deficiency was the year following when a daily average of 9 degrees was maintained for a somewhat longer period. In both instances the deficiency was caused by uniformly low maximum and minimum temperatures, but no records were broken for registrations.

This is true of the recent cool spell when the lowest temperature reached was 41 degrees on Sept. 9, during the eight days. This is not the lowest on record for the corresponding time of year. The highest temperature during the period was 73 degrees on September 6th.

HOLLAND MAN PUT IN JAIL FOR DEBT

LOCAL CASE IS REMINDER OF OLD TIME ENGLISH DEBTOR'S PRISON

Holland Man Taken To County Lock Up Because He Can't Pay Bill of $58.88

Eighteenth Century English literature is full of instances of sending people to prison for debt, but it is popularly supposed that that old time barbaric custom has been done away with. From a case that came up in a local court however it appears that a man can still be sent to prison for debt. At least it amounts to that, whatever the legal procedure may make it appear. The story is a rather pathetic one and is the first time a case of this kind has come up in Holland.

Last year Henry Alderink, 151 E. Sixteenth street, rented a farm of Chas Ingham. The farm was rented on shares and a dispute arose over the payment to Ingham of his share. In April of this year Alderink was sued for the value of his share of potatoes and other farm products. But Alderink, who has a family of eight children and who is in very poor circumstances, was unable to pay for a lawyer and to pay witness fees. He therefore let the matter go uncontested and allowed Ingham to take a judgment.

This was on May 19, but the matter has been dragging on since that date, Alderink claiming that he did not have the money to pay the amount of the judgment, which with costs was $58.88. So a short time ago, to force the payment, Ingham invoked the aid of a statute very little used, and took out a body execution against Alderink. On this statute he was arrested Thursday and taken to the county jail, to remain there until the amount of the bill has been paid. During his stay in the county jail Ingham must pay his board.

This is supposed to be the first case of its kind in this city. If the amount of the bill had been large enough to take the matter to circuit court Alderink could not have been sent to jail. He claims to have no means of paying the bill, and it is so will have to stay in the county lockup as long as Ingham is willing to continue to pay his board. The large family of Alderink is soon to be increased and an eight year old daughter is the only help the mother has.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS HAVE MANY MORE PUPILS THIS YEAR

Senior Class Is Largest In History Of The Institution

Superintendent of Schools E. E. Fell has finished tabulating the number of enrolled students in the public schools this year. There is a total of 2,189 attending all grades. This is an increase in attendance over this time last year, and the attendance will very probably increase noticeably during the year. In some of the grades the attendance this year is about the same as last year while in others it has increased some.

A very noticeable increase took place in the Junior High where the attendance is now 314. This includes the seventh and eighth grades. The attendance in the other schools is as follows: High School, 309; Central School, 318; Columbia Avenue, 322; Maple Grove, 307; Van Raalte Avenue, 302; Maple Avenue 317. It is interesting to note how evenly the number of pupils are divided in the different grade schools located in different parts of the city. The number of pupils in each grade is as follows: Kindergarten, 190; 1st Grade, 261; 2nd Grade, 247; 3rd Grade, 240; 4th Grade, 215; 5th Grade, 214; 6th Grade, 199; 7th Grade, 154; 8th Grade, 160; 9th Grade, 95; 10th Grade, 95; 11th Grade, 63; 12th Grade, 55; post-graduate, 1. The Senior class this year is as large as last year's class, which was the largest in the history of the school.

All the grade schools have been classified and are now well on in the year's work. In High School things have started out nicely and all classes and study periods have been adjusted in their proper running order. Students have been given their regular seats in the assembly room and all High school activities are in full swing.

ENTERTAINMENT NETS SHAW $200 FOR OPERATION

The sum of fully $200 was realized with the benefit entertainment given in the Apollo Theatre Friday night for Motorman Shaw. The people of Holland were very generous in purchasing tickets and Mr. Shaw will be able to secure a very much needed operation as a result of the entertainment.

There was a packed house and many more tickets could have been sold if there had been more room. The program, under the direction of John Van Vyven, was a very excellent one, and all who took part acquitted themselves well.

The benefit was arranged for by the Modern Woodmen and the Royal Neighbors. Lacey's orchestra furnished the music.

"I feel very grateful to all who helped so generously," said Mr. Shaw Saturday, "and I wish you would convey my thanks to the people of Holland and to all who took part. I specially wish to thank the Woodmen and the Royal Neighbors and in particular C. H. Harmon who worked very hard for the event. I also wish to thank all the members of the committees, Mr. Van Vyven and those who took part in the program, Mr. Lacey and his orchestra, Mr. Newman of the Apollo for his share in making the entertainment a success, Mr. Martin Dykema and Mrs. Lena Pardee for their music and all who purchased tickets.

THE REV. J. KRUIDENIER, D. D., GIVES HOPE COLLEGE VALUABLE ARTICLES

Hope college Museum has been enriched by a rare and valuable collection of articles donated by the Rev. J. Kruidenier, D. D., of Cairo, Egypt, who is being detained on account of the war from returning to Cairo.

A small basket in the collection of curios came from the Una der Man, a city opposite Khartown and once the capitol of the Mohammedan Mahdi and his successor the Khalifa who ruled the Sudan for 13 years.

HOLLAND HIGH WINS THE FIRST GAME OF FOOTBALL 3 TO 0 FROM ALLEGAN

Holland High school came out victorious in the first game of the season by defeating Allegan 3 to 0 Saturday afternoon at Allegan. Bosman won the game for Holland in the last minute of play with a perfect field goal from the 30-yd. line. Although the score does not show it, the Holland boys outplayed Allegan throughout the game. Holland's goal was never threatened during the whole game. The locals played a strong defensive game and broke up the Allegan formations in fine shape. They were weak in offensive work however and Coach Drew held them to straight bucks and end runs which is the weakest attack of the locals. During the last five minutes Coach Drew let the locals use the forward pass and they worked nine out of ten.

Is Not Known Whether Dog Was Poisoned Or Run Over By Auto

A valuable hunting dog owned by A. Pierce, plumber, was found dying either from poison or internal injuries, on the corner of Eighth Street and Central Avenue early Friday morning. The dog shortly after was discovered by the side of the road. At first it was thought it had been poisoned but as no one saw the dog before it was injured it is possible that it was run down by an automobile.

Minutes Mean Dollars IN TREATING ANIMALS

Doubtless you know the danger of delayed treatment of colic and other diseases. You also realize that wrongly applied remedies are often worse than no treatment at all. In other words, not to diagnose a disease accurately may prove fatal. Every owner should be able to recognize an ailment and give correct treatment at the first symptoms. Prompt action is the great secret of treating horses. Minutes mean dollars. Of course proper treatment is always necessary. That is just how Humphreys' 500 page Veterinary Manual will prove so valuable to you. It is by F. Humphreys, M.D., V.M., and teaches how to diagnose and give proper treatment. This book will save you hundreds of dollars and costs you nothing. It will be sent absolutely free on request to any farmer in order to introduce Humphreys' Veterinary Remedies. Remember, it is absolutely free. You do not have to order any remedies to secure the book. Address, Humphreys' Homeopathic Medicine Company, 124 William Street, New York City. This is a splendid opportunity to obtain a veterinary treatise that you should have in your library. As a reference work you will find it invaluable. To have it in the time of need will save you many dollars, whereas it will cost you but a post card by writing for it now.

and also to show their desire to offer no competition to this worthy attraction of the week. A feature attraction is being offered for the first half of next week in the form of a Nameless Play. A prize of $5 is to be offered for the most appropriate name submitted by any patron having witnessed the performance. A more detailed account of the plan will be printed later.

SENATOR BURTON OPPOSED TO HARBOR BILL BUT GIVES HOLLAND A BOOST

In the state senate yesterday a fine compliment was paid to the city of Holland by Senator Burton. The occasion was a discussion of the river and harbor appropriation against which the senator was opposed.

Great lake traffic is falling off owing to the development of interurban roads and other transportation facilities, according to Senator Burton. He said that despite superabundance of boats established lines and growing cities this was the inevitable conclusion.

"You would think that with steamship lines of long standing," said Senator Burton, "between Chicago and Muskegon, Manistee, Holland, Grand Haven and South Haven traffic would show a healthy growth. But in nine out of fourteen of these Michigan cities there has been a marked decrease in the last ten or twelve years. Take the prosperous city of Muskegon. The quantity of miscellaneous merchandise and high grade freight handled there by water is barely one-sixth of what it was in 1902. There are five towns in which it has increased but the explanation is easy. One is the favorite of Senator Smith, Arcadia.

"Ludington has held its own. It is now the leading port on the west side of Lake Michigan because of a ferry. Holland has held its own because it has an energetic population from the country for which it was name."

GRAND HAVEN HAS 1300 PUPILS

A total of 1,300 pupils have entered the Grand Haven public schools according to the preliminary figures given out by John C. Hoekje, superintendent of the Grand Haven schools. This is an increase of 101 over last year's enrollment. The kindergarten has increased from 70 to 134; the high school has 208 students as against 190 last year and the grade departments have increased from 939 to 958.

PEOPLE FROM HOLLAND IN A ZEELAND AUTO ACCIDENT

Zeeland Record.—An automobile accident occurred on east Main street near the home of A. G. Van Hoven, between nine and ten o'clock on Sunday evening, when the machine collided with a buggy. The rig, driven by Harm Schipper, a young man from New Groningen, with him self and a young man from Holland and two young ladies as occupants, was going east when the auto came up from the rear. The rig turned out to the proper side of the street, but the machine turned to the same side causing the accident. The front wheel of the buggy on the off side was demolished and the thills were broken. The four occupants were thrown from the buggy but escaped injury, as did also the horse. The autoist stopped long enough to give his name as Fred Rowe of Grand Rapids and also his number. He also told the boys when they had repairs made to call on him for settlement. Mr. Schipper and his partner came to town and after borrowing buggy parts for the broken ones at the City Livery continued on their way home.

HUDSONVILLE MAN'S BROTHER IS KILLED IN WEST BY BANDIT

Hudsonville, Sept. 15.—William Boldt one of the directors of the Hudsonville State bank, received a telegram this morning from North Yakima, Wash., stating that his brother, Charles Boldt, was shot and killed by a highwayman Monday morning. The news was a shock to the community, as Charles was well known here from his early boyhood. He has lived in Washington for the last 18 years. He leaves a wife and ten children to mourn their loss in Washington, and a father and mother, two brothers and a sister here.

PROCEEDS WILL BE USED TO FURNISH REST ROOM IN SCHOOL.

The Maple Grove Parent-Teachers Club gave an Ice cream Social Friday in the school building. There was good attendance and a fine sum was netted, the proceeds to be used in helping to furnish a rest room at the fair.

The room is being decorated and will be furnished soon. Those appointed on the committee on furnishing the room were Miss Ewald, Mrs. Dykstra and Mrs. Gowdy.

Mr. Fell was one of the speakers of the afternoon. A free discussion of the subject of the rest room was held and plans for the work of the coming year were made.

The serving was in charge of Mrs. George Elferdink, chairman of the Refreshment committee, and Mrs. Charles Dykstra, chairman of the Social committee and their efficient workers.

APPLE EXHIBITS OF GREAT VALUE

John I. Gibson Makes New Ones at Cadillac and Holland

John I. Gibson, secretary of the Western Michigan Development bureau has returned to this city after having arranged exhibits at the fairs at Cadillac and Holland. Speaking of the work, last evening, he said:

"At Cadillac and Holland the bureau has two elegant displays of western Michigan apples. The exhibits while much smaller than the one we had here are really better, for the fruit was more developed and the people attending those fairs are delighted with what we were able to show them. The exhibit we had here we sold to Wisconsin parties and is now being shown at three large fairs in that state. The bureau feels that it has done a good bit of advertising for Western Michigan this season with the apple exhibits, and I know that it has been worth while.

"Incidentally, I might say that Holland has the greater county fair that I have ever seen. It is wonderful what they have there as coming from the farm and in the way of amusement. A camel and a running horse will race there one day this week."—G. R. Herald.

SPECIAL BULLETIN FROM SUPT. HOEKJE

Urges Instructors to Use European Wars as Means to Further History and Geography But Refrain from Partisanship

Supt. J. C. Hoekje of the Grand Haven Public schools has issued a special bulletin to the instructors of all departments that they use the present European wars as a means to give added impetus to the furtherance of history and geography among the pupils but refrain from the slightest partisanship. In this connection Supt. Hoekje has ordered that all geography classes in the grades take up the study of Europe, with the beginning of the school year, and especially the war zone of Europe.

The action of Supt. Hoekje regarding any partisanship is not because of any concrete feeling in Grand Haven of conflicting views of parent and child but as a guard against such conditions. Other cities have already experienced such situations in public schools and have made every effort to maintain an attitude of neutrality among pupils.

PASTOR SOUNDS PRACTICAL MEANING FROM WARS

No Time For Millenium Idea In Discourse

Grand Haven Tribune.—Aside from the various fanatics whose statements have gotten into print, and a side from the big class of folk whose idle remarks mean little in that regard, there are many people in the country who really believe the end of the world is at hand or more accurately stating, there are many who have a notion that the present European war means the coming of the time heralded millenium and are keeping their theories up their sleeves until someone speaks up.

And many of these whose misgivings have not as yet been spoken are men of practical living, men of intelligence generally. They whisper it seriously to their friends and sometimes their friends are beset with a greater fear than their leaders.

But those who heard the address of Dr. Blekkink in the recent Classis of Michigan Reformed Churches held in Grand Haven heard a discourse from a different angle. As he reasoned his hearers through the divisions of his address, there was nothing but the practical thought of the historian and economist. His last touch upon the war was the meaning of the great conflict of nations. And in these remarks he said it most probably meant a world's peace, which is not contradictory to the belief of the general public and a happy thought withal.

Dr. Blekkink traced the war from the first incident of its beginning when the Serbian Arch Duke was assassinated, to the present time when more than half the world is at war with each other because a half dozen men declared it. The idea of world's peace was not any extension toward Godliness among nations but that all must needs rest after a time. Then, in a slightly far fetched conclusion, the powers might be stripped of their one voiced right to throw millions of people into a death struggle. All of this, of course was the view of one man, Dr. Blekkink, but it coincides in many places with the opinion of the general public.

The fact of the matter is that his story contains a lot of just such instances when people took wars and great calamities for beginnings of the world's end. A few comets have appeared in the sky with the same result as far as millenium apprehensions are concerned. Many believe the reports of European war to be greatly exaggerated while many can conceive disasters in advance, and refuse to be comforted by the former. Nevertheless, the audience is susceptible to more or less of the millenium idea and become infested in spite of themselves, no matter who says it.

The local chapter of the O. E. S. will visit Oriental chapter at Grand Rapids next Tuesday. All who can should attend as a good time is assured, and all should notify the master or secretary if they intend to be present at this meeting.

COMMITTEE MAKES FINAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR AUTO EVENT AT HOLLAND FAIR

People of Holland Will See About Half a Mile of Automobiles

A string of automobiles a half mile long—that is the ambition of those who are in charge of the auto parade that will pass along the streets of Holland this afternoon, beginning at 1:30 sharp.

About a hundred automobilists have already signified their desire to join in the big parade, and many others are expected to join in. The committee has sent return cards to as many auto owners as they knew, but if any have been overlooked they are cordially welcome to join in the lineup.

The parade will start promptly at 1:30. All six cylinder automobiles are to gather on River avenue north of 12th street some time before 1:30 and they are to station themselves facing south. All larger cars are to station themselves on Eleventh street near the city hall, facing the east.

The procession will be headed by the Holland Band in George F. Getz's big automobile truck. The line of march will start at the city hall, thence to 12th street, to Central to Eighth to Lincoln, back again along Eighth to First avenue, thence to Twelfth, to Lincoln and thence to Sixteenth street and the fair grounds.

Today the inside of the race track has been reserved for the autos that join in the parade. Before the parade starts reservation tickets will be handed out to auto owners and only those in the procession will be allowed to drive inside of the race track. There they will be able to see all the sports of the day comfortably from their machines. Auto owners are requested to have the tops of their machines down.

At The Knickerbocker

"The Troubles of Henry" which opened for a three day run at the Knickerbocker last night proved a highly amusing vehicle for the Husted Players.

"The Troubles of Henry" was a scream from the rise of the curtain to the fall, concerning itself with the complications which "Henry" gets himself into by becoming engaged to three widows at once. "Henry" is very capably played by Mr. Willard Collins, who brings out all the funny situations to their fullest extent. Mr. Collins' work is to be further praised when it is realized that he prepared his exceedingly long part on a two days' notice as did all the members of the company, owing to a delay in the mail which prevented the manuscript of the play arriving in time, to give the usual number of rehearsals. Miss Marguerite Matthison, as "Mrs. Marvin", showed herself very clever in a light comedy role, and Miss Addis added to the merriment as the widow "Mrs. Hapgood." Mr. Thomas deserved especial mention in his part of "Prof. Smithson" Mr. Thomas making a rather insignificant part stand out strongly and winning many laughs. Mr. O'Meara as "Henry's" corny, showed himself to be very versatile, this being the first time he has been seen here in an old man part in which he proved very capable. Mr. Husted was seen as "Dr. Campbell" and did his usual pleasing work. Mr. Long and Miss Lake as the two young people who were trying to elope, had several amusing little love scenes, and won the sympathy of their audience, as do most young people in such circumstances. "The Troubles of Henry" will be repeated tonight and tomorrow night the usual Wednesday matinee being eliminated this week on account of the Holland fair.

"CURFEW SHALL NOT RING TO-NIGHT"

BELL RINGING TO BE REGULATED NOW BY CITY HEALTH LAWS.

Other Important Changes Are Decided Upon By the Board of Health

The Board of Health met in special session Monday night and passed a new set of health rules for the city. These rules will now be presented to the council for the consideration of the aldermen and to be passed on by them. The old health rules have been in force a number of years and it was found that they no longer fully covered the changed conditions. They had not kept pace with the growth of the city. For that reason the health department has been working for some time past on the new set of rules and last night they formally passed them.

There are thirty-three rules in all, but all except five are practically the same as in the former set of rules. In the five new ones are embodied most of the changes in the present set. One of them refers to the ringing of church and school bells. The rule referring to this reads as follows: "The ringing of church bells, or any school bell, in this city for a time exceeding two minutes or 50 strokes of such bell, during any hour is hereby forbidden. And upon the request of any physician, the ring of such bell or bells, shall be dispensed with, in case of sickness in any family living near such church or school, and where such ringing may unfavorably affect such sick person."

One of the members of the board said this morning that there was no desire to suppress the ringing of the bells, but that the measure was merely to keep the practice within reasonable bounds.

Another important new rule is rule 19, which reads as follows: "No teacher, principal, professor, or superintendent of any day school, college, or Sunday school, shall knowingly permit any child, pupil, or student, with any communicable disease or any child, or person residing in a house where there is a case of scarlet fever, diphtheria, small pox, measles, epidemic cerebro, spinal meningitis, infantile paralysis, or tuberculosis, to attend school, class or service, under his or her charge, until such time as the Health Officer certifies to such teacher, principal, professor or superintendent, that the said child or person may attend without danger of communicating the disease to others."

Other new rules provide for the reporting by physicians of all cases of tuberculosis under their care to the health officer, the reporting by veterinarians to the health officers of cases of diseased cattle from which the city milk supply is secured, the furnishing of proof on the part of milk dealers that the milk they sell is from cattle free from disease.

MILES MAY NOW BE PROGRESSIVE

Bull Moosers Nominate Him For Prosecutor—Lost On Republican Ticket

Attorney F. T. Miles, who was defeated by Prosecuting Attorney L. Osterhaus of Grand Haven for the nomination for prosecuting attorney of Ottawa County on the Republican ticket, at the primaries a short time ago, has been nominated for that office by the county Progressives.

When interviewed, Mr. Miles would not give out a statement as to whether or not he would accept the nomination, but it is probable he will. Mr. Miles made a close run in the race with Osterhaus and he has a large following in the county. With the Progressive backing and his Republican friends, he can make an interesting fight against Osterhaus on the Republican ticket and Misner on the Democratic ticket.

ZEELAND PARTIES FIGURE IN A WHITE SLAVERY CASE IN INDIANA

When W. B. Potter and Roland Martin of Chicago were brought before U. S. Commissioner Talbot, at South Bend, Indiana, on a charge of white slavery, together with two young women, giving their names as Ethel and Francis Clark of Grand Rapids, as witnesses, it was learned that the older woman is Mrs. Emma Korstanye of Zeeland, Mich., and the younger one her sister, Miss Fannie Klineberger of Holland, Mich.

The men were held to the federal grand jury in $500 bond and the women in $250. All four were taken to Indianapolis to await trial.

MULTI MILLIONAIRES VISIT HOLLAND FAIR

Four multi-millionaires are to come to Holland on September 17 and 18 and are to spend those two days here and at the Holland fair. These money men are well known figures in financial circles in New York and Chicago and this will perhaps be the first time in Holland's history that the city has entertained at one time men representing as much wealth as they do. The men who will come here to take in the fair on the last two days next week are:

Thomas L. Chadburne, Jr., of Chadburne & Shores of 14 Wall Street, New York. This is a corporation law firm of the very first rank in New York. The firm does the legal work for George L. Gould and others of that class.

Jessie L. Eddie of the Dickson & Eddie company. This is one of the very large fuel companies in New York city representing many millions of dollars.

Alfred H. Smith, President of the New York Central and Hudson railroad, one of the big figures in American railroading.

The fourth member of the party of millionaires to be here Thursday and Friday is William H. Leyden of Chicago. Leyden is the owner of the beautiful yacht "Lydenia," that in itself is worth a fortune. The "Lydenia" has frequently come into Holland harbor and many local people have seen it. It will be here again next week and will bring a party of ten Chicago business men and newspaper men.

This party of millionaires will be the guests of George F. Getz at the Lakewood Farm next week. Mr. Getz has interested them in the Holland fair and they will put in two days seeing the sights there.

EUROPEAN WAR PRACTICALLY DESTROYS BUSINESS OF A. W. GUMERS OF HOLLAND

W. GUMERS OF HOLLAND

May Have To Visit Warring Nations To Secure Supply Of Willows

A. W. Gumser of this city is one man who has perhaps more at stake in the European war than anyone else here. And he is losing no matter who wins. Mr. Gumser's business has been practically wiped out by the hostilities in Europe. He has been making his living importing willows from Germany, Austria, France and other countries. He has worked up a large market for these willows in all parts of the United States, having customers in many parts of the country. Many a factory manufacturing willow work gets all or part of its supply from Mr. Gumser.

But the war has put a stop to the business. There were three carloads of willows in midcoast when the war broke out and for some time Mr. Gumser was considerably concerned about them, but they reached their destination safely. But since that consignment came Mr. Gumser has been unable to get more. Just now the market is exceptionally good since the manufacturers are willing to pay almost any price. One manufacturer in Georgia asked for half a carload. Not anxious to supply to this particular concern because it was not a regular customer Mr. Gumser put what he considered a prohibitive price on the willows, thinking they would refuse. But the concern immediately wired to send the willows on.

Mr. Gumser is now in communication with an express company in Rotterdam with a view of finding out if the willows can at all be secured.

If he finds there is a possibility to get them he will make a trip to Europe. In that event he will visit Germany, Austria and other countries now at war. The company has not assured him the willows can be secured but it has stated that even if they are to be had Mr. Gumser will have to take the shipments on his own responsibility, hence the trip to Europe will be necessary.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SPEND A PLEASANT SOCIAL EVENING IN M. E. CHURCH PARLORS

The reception tendered the city teachers by the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church Monday night was a most delightful affair.

The reception committee made all feel that they were welcome guests. On entering the church parlors, each one received a neat blank booklet with instruction to secure the names of all strangers. This gave opportunity for general introduction and afforded much pleasure.

The evening's program opened with prayer by the pastor, the Rev. J. W. Esveld, who also spoke words of welcome and cheer. Supt. E. E. Fell responded. Miss Keppel's playing received hearty applause. The warmest greeting was given Mrs. M. Klassen in vocal solos, Mr. M. Dykema, leader of the choir, sang in his usual good voice and with true interpretation "Good Bye Summer."

WHAT YOU SAW IN THIS PAPER THIRTY FIVE YEARS AGO

President Hayes is making political speeches in Ohio, is not this equivalent to Andy Johnson's "swinging round the circle?"

We are informed by near relatives of one of the contracting parties, that Dr. Moon, of Salem, is shortly going to be married to Miss Minnie Van Zee. Compliments of the season.

A practical joke was played on one of our city fathers this week, who, on seeing a skinned quater of a hog hanging on a hook in a meat market, took it for bear's meat, and purchased some of it.

Early on Monday morning the tug, Sea Birn was discovered to be on fire, while lying alongside of the dock at Saugatuck, Mich. She burned to the water's edge, is a total loss and was owned by Mr. C. Heath. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The first news item we found on Thursday morning was that burglars had broken into M. Jonkman's store the night before, and took some wearing apparel etc., from the store, broke the money drawer out of the counter, but found nothing therein. The entrance was effected by cutting a panel out of the back door.

Miss Kate Sooter, whose limb was fractured at the schoolhouse mishap, last week, is improving nicely.

On Saturday night last, while the coaster Alice was running into the harbor a high sea was running north west, which took her between the piers and threw her against the south pier with such force that her side was stove in, and she filled and sank immediately. No lives were lost, but the escape was narrow. The hands lost all their personal effects, and the captain lost some money.

Our thanks are due Mr. Gerrit Hekhuis for some fine specimens of peaches, of the variety known as Hill's Chilli.

John De Graaf and Jake De Vries of this city, have entered into a co-partnership and will manufacture Apple and Flour barrels for the market. Shippers will do well to order barrels from them.

Last Wednesday morning at 1:30 our citizens were startled by the tapping of the fire bell. It was a difficult matter, apparently for our people to realize that out city was again visited by fire but it was soon apparent that it would take the united efforts of all to suppress a terrible conflagration. The fire, according to the statement of those earliest at the scene, originated in the agriculture implement depot of R. Fairbanks, and was fanned by a right brisk breeze so that the lurid light extended high into the air. The flames extended to the adjoining building of J. Den Helder, occupied as a boot and shoe store, and to the building of A. Baert, occupied by two families as residences. The flames at this time shot high into the air and scattered smoking, seething fire brands for two or three blocks with the prevailing wind, and if it had not been for the precaution of the people living in the track of the fire, they would have burned nearly the whole eastern portion of our beautiful city. At one period the flames leaped fairly across the street and threatened to destroy the Phoenix Planing Mill and Lumber Yard and if it had not been for the persistent efforts of our firemen, who stood in the midst of this sea of flames, until in some instances, their clothing took fire from the heat, that valuable acquisition to our city's industries would have been in ashes. During all this combat to save property it must be understood that our system of water works, even in their incomplete condition, performed a most important part and it was through the service rendered by it that M. Jonkman's grocery store and the Planing Mills, some $25,000 worth of property, was saved. Of course the system did not give entire satisfaction, but the work has not been accepted and those of our citizens who are the "largest kickers" should but at least give the "devil his due" and give the Water Works credit for what they did perform and not condemn them for what they did not do. The loss by this fire is about $3,500; insured for $1,400.

Early last Saturday morning Manly D. Howard, an old and respected citizen of this place, died at his residence on the north side of Macatawa Bay.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Hon. G. J. Diekema has purchased the residence now occupied by Prof. G. P. Hummer, on Twelfth Street. Mr. Chas. H. Jacobus has purchased the Phoenix hotel property. He took possession of the hotel Thursday. Mr. Jacobus has many friends in this city, and all unite in wishing him success in his new venture. It is certain that Mr. and Mrs. Jacobus will make a first class house of the Phoenix.

River Street Victorious
The long talked of baseball game between the businessmen of Eighth street and those of River street, was played at the fairgrounds last Monday afternoon. The River street nine succeeded in conquering their opponents, the score being 13 to 7, at the close of the seventh inning:

Over on the Wolverine shore of Lake Michigan is a well known resort called Ottawa Beach, and up Black River some distance is a place called Macatawa Beach, and back of this is a lake of almost 50 acres in area that is creation some consternation. Wells B. Sizor, the stationery and newsman has a cottage at Ottawa Beach, and he says there is great excitement over the happenings at this lake. Mr. Sizor says it is called Kelley's Lake, and that there is no bottom to it, or, at least, none has ever been found, and no one has ever seen or caught a fish there. This has appeared so odd that every one who goes there takes a "try" and all meet with the same startling result. The bait is always eaten off the hook, and not infrequently is the hook itself taken. Mr. Sizor vouches for this story, for he says he has tried and failed himself.—Chicago Herald.

Ben Van Putten, Ben Bosman, R. A. Sackett, K. Kanter, L. T. Kanter, A. Goldman, A. Brondyk, C. Blom Jr., and A. Balgooyen were the delegates from Holland at the Democratic county convention. G. J. Messeink was the only delegate from Holland township.

Friday evening late the schooner Laura Miller attempted to make this harbor, but missed it. The wind was rather squally and just as the schooner was fairly between the piers the wind slackened down, and the current took her out again. She got beached about 600 yards north of the north pier. The Laura was engaged in carrying saw dust from C. L. King & Co's Mill to South Chicago. While the crew, assisted by the tug Pup, of Saugatuck, were trying to release the vessel Sunday morning, Geo. Naughton got his foot entangled in the tow line so as to have the flesh peeled off and both bones broken above the ankle. He was taken to the city and placed in charge of Dr. O. E. Yates. It was hoped at first to save the limb, but on Thursday amputation was decided upon. The injured man is being taken care of at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kruijsing. On Wednesday evening the schr. Laura Miller was taken off the beach. After numerous efforts Martin Beukema, of the Lizzie Walsh, agreed to get her off for a half interest and, with the assistance of the stmr. Glenn he succeeded. The Laura left for Muskegon the next day to go into dry dock.

The plans and specifications for the new brick block soon to be erected by Druggist Doesburg have been prepared by Architect Johnson, and the contract for the building will be awarded tomorrow night. The building will be two stories. Mr. Doesburg will occupy the first floor with his drug business and the second floor will be arranged for the carrying on of mercantile business.

Last Monday morning at about 7 o'clock, Henry Top entered the quiet home of Peter Sakker, Sr., on Main Street in Zeeland and found the aged gentleman lying dead upon the floor near the stove. The cause of his death was heart disease.

The work of improving the resort property south of the Castle will be begun in earnest this fall by the promoters. The ground will be platted into lots and plans will be considered for the erection of a hotel and several cottages. The company is organized under the name of the Green Mountain Beach company and is capitalized at $10,000. The capital stock is divided into 400 shares $25 each. The stockholders are Luke Lugers, Ulike De Vries, Charles S. Bertsch, John Koolker, Louis C. Mastenbrook, Leonard J. De Vries Holland; Fred S. Bertsch, S. A. Miller; Chicago; John R. Starken Grand Rapids.

Speaking of McKinley, the Holland horse that is doing so well on the Grand Circuit, Henry Ten Eyck White says: "The two fastest trotter of the year, when work done in races is considered, are Sweet Marie and Mc Kinley, each having trotted a mile in contests in 2:06 1-4 and otherwise shown in the class that is essential to a first class race horse. By reason of what they have accomplished these two horses must be given the palm over all the other race trotters of a season that has been remarkably prolific of extra good harness horses.

W. H. Wing's house on West Thirteenth street was burglarized last Sunday evening, presumably after midnight, and $45 was taken from the pockets of Mr. Wing's trousers. Evidence showed that the burglar entered through the rear door, passed through the kitchen, dining room and hall and went up stairs. The trousers were hanging over the head of the bed. In the morning they were found in the hall, where the thief dropped them after rifling the pockets. A gold watch was overlooked, it was in one of the watch pockets, but as the trousers had two watch pockets, and two dollars obstructed from one, it is evident that the burglar was under the impression that the pocket containing the two silver dollars was the only watch pocket in the trousers. A writing desk in the setting room down stairs was also searched and ten cents was taken from a pocket book there belonging to Mrs. Wing. The same night, some one presumably the same person, broke into the refrigerator on attorney Geo. E. Kolien's back porch and took some cream and some edibles. The cream can was found on the back lot the next morning and indications pointed at a midnight picnic.

A. J. Van Lummel, formerly editor of the "Ons Vaandel," has moved his family from Grand Rapids to this city and will take a course in theology at the Western Theological seminary.

McKinley won third money in the 2:06 trot at Readville Mass., Tuesday. The best time was made in the third heat which was won by McKinley in 2:08 1/4.

CHIEF VAN RY HAS A NEWS PAPER 100 YEARS OLD

Contains Sizable Advertising

Chief of Police Frank Van Ry has in his keeping an original copy of the Ulster County Gazette, published by Samuel Freee and Son at Kingston, Ulster county, New York, which bears the date, January 4, 1800. The paper was given to the Holland police, for safe keeping, by his sister Mrs. C. M. Wilder of Chicago. The paper became the property of Mrs. Wilder's husband after the death of his father, the Rev. C. M. Wilder, who was a pastor in New York state. The paper is now much the worse for wear and must be fitted together like a puzzle picture.

The front page of the paper (which consists of four pages about the size of the Saturday Evening Post) is given up to informing the public on the doings in Congress. John Adams was then president of the United States and some of his speeches to congress are printed. Much of the front page is also taken up by news of the war then raging in Europe with Napoleon occupying a position similar to Kaiser Wilhelm at the present time. The accounts lack the lurid headlines and snappy sentences of present day accounts of the war. People today certainly should not kick on receiving news from the war zone 24 hours late or, because they are not informed as to the real positions of the armies. In this paper of January 4th, 1800, appear war items bearing the date of Oct. 20, 1799. They were taken from European papers. Under one heading, "The Latest Foreign" appears a letter from "His Royal Highness, the Archduke Charles" with the date, Oct. 7. There were no ocean greyhounds in those days and the Atlantic cable has not even entered into the dreams of the most farsighted inventors.

An account of the death of Washington as received in Congress is given under the date, December 19. A half inch black border divides the columns of reading matter. In the house of representatives Mr. Marman speaks of the event in part as follows: "The melancholy event which was yesterday announced without doubt, has been rendered but too certain. Our Washington is no more! The hero, the sage and patriot of America; the man on whom in time of danger every eye was turned and all hopes were placed, lives now only in his own great actions and in the hearts of his affectionate and afflicted people." Later on he says, "More than any other individual and as much as to one individual was possible has he contributed to found this widespread empire, and to give the Western World its independence and its freedom." He then proposed resolutions to the effect that the House wait on the President of the United States in condolence of this mournful event; that the speaker's chair be shrouded in black and that the members and officers of this house wear black during the session; that a committee in conjunction with one from the senate be appointed to consider the most suitable manner in paying honor to the memory of the man, first in peace, first in war and first in the hearts of his countrymen." Other items of correspondence between the House, the Senate and the President are given. A vivid description is also given of Washington's funeral and burial. A solemn bit of verse also pays homage to the memory of Washington.

The rest of the paper is mostly given up to advertisements. These are sometimes humorous. All advertisements by merchants and grocers call for cash payments or exchange of other produce. One reads, "The following articles will be received in payment: wheat, rye, buckwheat, oats, corn, butter, flax, ashes and raw hides. These articles will be taken in at the Esopus prices. Cash will not be refused." If one wished to purchase butter he could give wheat or any of the other things mentioned in payment.

That the newspapers of those days did not depend entirely upon the proceeds of the paper sales is shown by a prominent advertisement which reads: "Cash given at Printing office for rags."

That domestic relations between man and wife were not all of the best sort in that early day is shown by several advertisements in which men refuse to be responsible for any debts contracted by their wives after date. One of these reads, "Second Notice—Of my wife, Hannah, is hereby given, forbidding all persons whatever from harboring or keeping her, and from trusting her on my account, as I am determined to pay no debts of her contracting."

The sheriff, Peter Ten Broeck of that day was a very busy man is shown by his signatures to advertisements of some fifteen different forced sale.

Slavery also was in full swing in those days. The following advertisement, given a prominent place on the back page speaks for itself:

FOR SALE

The one-half of a Saw Mill
With a convenient place for building lying in the town of Rochester. By the Mill is an inexhaustible quantity of Pine-wood.....And also

A STOUT, HEALTHY, ACTIVE NEGRO WENCH

Any person inclined to purchase may know the particulars by applying to John Schoonmaker, etc.

ROBINS ALL GOING SOUTH

Thousands of Them Flying Across Lake Michigan Vesselsmen Say

Lake steamer men report that thousands of robins have been seen within the past few days flying across Lake Michigan. Every year in mid-fall the autumnal flight of the robin is noticed by lake sailors. This year the flight is earlier than usual which leads the weather sharps among the sailors to predict that winter is coming early this year and that it will be severe.

MORE THAN ONE WAY TO SKIN A CAT

Foreigners Save on Hunting Licenses By Taking Out Naturalization Papers

Foreigners who like to hunt are killing two birds with one stone and saving $8 thereby throughout the state. Hundreds of foreigners are securing naturalization papers and hunters' licenses simultaneously throughout the state. They are securing the declarations of intention so that they will not be forced to go back to assist their fatherlands in the European struggle. They then secure the hunting licenses at a reduced rate. The law passed at the last session provides that aliens shall pay $10 per hunting license. Residents of the state are only compelled to pay $1. Thus the hunting aliens save $8 and secure both papers.

Former friends of the well known "professor" have received word from him that he and his family have arrived safely on Netherlands soil. Mr. Brouwer left Zeeland about two years ago to take a position with a land company in Miami, Florida. After spending some time there he moved to Hoboken, New Jersey from which place he left for the Netherlands.

After a vacation the Woman's Missionary society of the M. E. church resumed meetings for the coming year. The opening meeting was held Friday night at the home of Mrs. Ray Nies with a good attendance. Impressive devotionals were conducted by Mrs. Whitman the main thought of which was "Faith and Work." The president, Miss Clara McClellan presided at the meeting and plans were discussed for the year's work. A playlet, entitled, "A Pageant of Home Missionaries" was given in costume by the young ladies of Queen Ester Circle. An interesting letter from Miss Emily Riley, formerly of Bellaire, Mich., now a missionary in India was read and postcards of scenes taken by her were exhibited. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

State Game Department Does Not

Want Refuse Thrown In Water After Sugar Company

The State Game department is keeping a close watch on various sugar beet plants to see that they do not dump poisonous refuse into the streams on which they stand. The sugar beet pulp is very injurious. As the companies are cleaning their plants in anticipation of their fall campaigns, they are apt to have much refuse on hand.

Tells Horrors of the War

French Soldier Says The Whiz Of Bullets Is Like Fever Attack Tells How It Feels To Be In The Middle Of The Fight

MEN DROP LIKE THE RAIN

Sept. 13.—One of the most vivid stories of fighting that has been received during the war has reached here in a letter from a wounded Frenchman to a friend in London this was before Germans were so hopelessly beaten by the English and French.

"I am in the field hospital now with a nice little hole in my left shoulder," he wrote. "My shoulder feels much as if some play joker had touched it with a lighted cigar."

Regarding the fighting in which he was wounded, the Frenchman said:

trical performance without having added anything to the play itself. "Volley after volley we sent in the direction of the enemy. The German shells and bullets passed over our heads. The Germans may be, and are, our superiors in executing parade steps, but they are internally bad shots.

"A rain of hostile bullets passed over our heads. Instinctively we stooped, although when one hears the bullet it has passed already. It is a queer sensation which comes over us the first time we are met with a hail of bullets. We suddenly feel as if attacked by fever, but this very soon leaves us.

"The earth was shaken by the incessant cannonading and the air was torn by continuous rattling rifle fire. A comrade on my right stumbled, dropped forward without uttering a sound, killed by a shot in the breast. A man in front of me threw his arm casualties is very large and our position seems to become critical. We are retreating. Our men display a remarkable self-control. Notwithstanding the appalling scenes around me, I, too, feel perfectly calm now. Terrible though it may seem, I confess that without a moment's tremble I aim at my living targets, shoot, and watch the effect of my bullet.

"The retreat is carried out splendidly. I have just reached the crest of a hill when I feel a slight shock in the left shoulder, nothing else. I do not heed it, but some moments I perceive that I am wounded and afterward I feel a burning pain and that the weight of my arm seems to increase. Some time afterward I find myself neatly installed in a field hospital."

Cavalry Charge Described

The Evening News prints a lengthy dispatch from a correspondent

DEAD AND WOUNDED IN THE LIEGE TRENCHES

This photograph in the trenches was made during a brief lull in the fighting around Liege.

"On the way to battle the rattling of volleys is audible. Then at a distant a heavy detonation of a gun is heard. Arriving at the crest we drop of us on the opposite hills and making for the plain between them, are the enemy, engaged in a fight with a division of the allied troops.

Soldiers Watch German Shells

"I can distinctly see the German artillery men moving about the guns on the hilltops and slopes. I see a mighty flash from one of the guns, the heavy report is re-echoed by the surrounding hills. It is strange, but in the face of death and destruction I catch myself trying to make out where the shell has fallen, as if I am an interested spectator at a rifle competition. I am not the only one. I see many curious faces around me, bearing expressions full of illumination, just as if the owners of the respective faces filled the auditorium of a highly entertaining thea-up, fell, struggled to his feet and fell again.

Man Hurt, Shot by Officer

"A shell exploded near us followed by a terrible cry. Five were lying dead in a little square. One man had both legs blown away and was still alive, conscious and imploring us to kill him. An officer ran past, stopped, and after a short look at the man, shot him through the heart. Just as he uttered a command, a bullet struck him in the open mouth. He turned around twice and fell to the ground, dead.

"At a good distance behind us Red Cross soldiers and Red Cross friars, carrying the red flag, were stooping over the wounded and removing them to ambulance vans. A shell exploded over their heads, and only a couple of the Red Cross men were left.

More hostile troops have been advancing. They have suffered heavy losses, but on our side the number of at Crecy describing a phase of the fighting in the Marne valley. British and French cavalry united in a charge, it is stated, which completely overwhelmed the German cavalry which had been moving in force to attack the allied lines. A single battery of the Royal Horse artillery, although half of its men and horses were gone, held and finally broke a German charge. The gunners cut down a number of trees and built a barricade from behind which the guns wrought fearful execution.

The correspondent says that while the Germans fought splendidly they admitted, when captured that it was impossible to withstand the British cavalry or bayonet charges. Part of the fight, the correspondent says, was fought in a thunderstorm. For a brief period this checked the fighting and the French and British, taking advantage of the heavy down pour, pulled off their clothing and enjoyed their first bath in many days.

WHAT ONE GERMAN SHELL DID AT BATTLE OF HAELEN

This photograph of one bit of the battlefield of Haelen, Belgium, gives a vivid idea of the destruction wrought by the German shells.

GOOD SOLDIERS, BUT NOT TALL ENOUGH!

An Appropriate Story About The Holland Dykes

Last week Friday a dispatch from New York stated that arrangements to send Dutch reservists back to the old country to preserve the neutrality of the Netherlands were begun by Count Beaufort, the Netherlands' minister to the United States.

"While our country is absolutely neutral," said the minister, "we have mobilized our army as a measure of precaution. We do not wish to be dragged into the war and our army will be used only if our neutrality is violated. Then we shall act, not only with arms, but with our natural defenses—the dykes which hold back the sea. We can flood strategic portions of our country in a few hours."

The minister's remarks reminds us of an interesting story, how Frederick the Great was anxious to conquer Holland and make it a part of his possessions; so one day he invited the Dutch ambassador to witness a review of his army, and after one large body of troops had marched by he said to the Dutch ambassador, "What do you think of those men?" "Good soldiers," replied the ambassador, "but not tall enough." Another large body of troops passed by and Frederick again asked, "What do you think of those men?" and received the same reply, "Good soldiers, but not tall enough." Then came Frederick's great body guard, composed of giants, which the king had brought together from all parts of his kingdom, and with a triumphant air the king asked the ambassador, "What do you think of those men?" and again the ambassador made the same reply, "Not tall enough." "What do you mean?" said Frederick. "I mean," said the ambassador, "that we can flood Holland eight feet deep." The king concluded not to attempt the conquest of a country which could be flooded eight feet deep.
