THE AGE OF DIN

The noise nuisance is not peculiar to great cities. A complaint from a small town in Connecticut goes this way:

If the noisy birds would eat the noisy insects and the noisy cats would eat the birds and the barking dogs would kill the cats and the master of the dogs would be fined for playing his radio and the policeman who gave him the summons would be removed for starting his motorcycle beside our house - we might sleep.

The birds and insects, cats and dogs may be pardoned for presuming they know not what they do. The real complaint of the sleepless is against animals who know better and who should have more consideration for their fellowmen.

A certain amount of clutter and banging is inseparable from our mechanical civilization. But much of the noise that is put up with is neither necessary nor pardonable. The season of motorboat putt-putting on inland waters is succeeded by that of open cut-outs on motorcycles, aimless tooting of automobile horns and the grinding, shrieking of ungreased street car wheels in the cities.

The right to a night's sleep is implicit in the right to pursue happiness, if not in the right to life and liberty itself. The denial of that right calls for social restraint.

The church was decorated with candelabra, palms, ferns and baskets of gladioli.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock by Rev. M. Van Vessum of Cutlerville, assisted by Rev. James M. Martin. Preceding the ceremony Miss Elizabeth Karsten of Zeeland sang "O Promise Me" and "Because." Lo-hengrin's wedding march was played by Miss Jennie Karsten.

Wants Shore Land Bought

W. H. Loutit, Grand Haven, chairman of the Michigan Conservation Commission, says it is the duty of commission members to pay as much attention to buying lands surrounding public fishing waters as to land purchases for game refuges and public hunting grounds. Unless the state comes into ownership of trout streams and property surrounding inland lakes, the public will have little free fishing water, he says.

Clare Hoffman of Allegan Wednesday was elected chairman of the Allegan county Republican central committee. Glenn Easton, publisher of the Otsego Union, was named vice chairman, and Miss Lelia Boyce of Allegan, secretary. Duncan Weaver of Fennville was chosen treasurer. Hoffman was chosen without opposition, although he resigned a month ago after holding the chairmanship for ten years or more. He gave no reasons for his resignation.

$5,000 Home Destroyed

Near Grand Haven

A two story frame house belonging to Earl Suits of Grand Haven township was burned to the ground with all the entire contents. The loss, estimated at $5,000, was partially covered by insurance.

The family, including two small children, five and three years old, were sleeping on the upper floor. One of the children awakened coughing and asked for a drink of water. The mother arose and smelled smoke and roused the remainder of the family. They had no difficulty getting out but there was no time to recover even their clothing.

Mr. Suits rushed to the Grand Haven fire department but being out of the city limits Chief Pippel could not respond. Neighbors tried to assist but the fire gained such rapid headway it was impossible to get near.

It is believed the fire started in the basement as the smoke seemed to be coming from that direction, the family stated. There was no fire of any kind and no electric wiring. What started the blaze is not determined.

OTTAWA PRISONERS
NOW "MATRICULATED"
AT COUNTY'S BASTILE

Although prisoners still are being booked at the Ottawa county jail here rather than being matriculated and are released without the formality of a swing-out or commencement exercises, the local bastille rapidly is becoming an institution of learning. Or at least it would take on that aspect should Circuit Judge Fred T. Miles' plan prove a success.

All because Judge Miles is instituting a system whereby young men convicted of offenses punishable by jail terms, are being given certain books to read, ponder over thoroughly under the tutelage of Probation Officer Jack Spangler who helps them in their studies, and at the end of their sentence they must review them for the court.

Whether the "students" must take a post-graduate course should their reviews not pass muster has not yet been announced.

WIFE OF ZEELAND
PASTOR PASSES AWAY

(Zeeland Record)

This afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, the funeral services for Mrs. H. E. Oostendorp will be held at the parsonage on Main street next to the North Street Christian Reformed church, of which her husband has been pastor the last twelve years. Rev. J. Vanden Berg of Second Reformed church will here minister to the bereaved husband, family and relatives at a private service.

A public service will follow at the church at which Rev. William Kok of the First Christian Reformed church and Rev. A. Jabay of the Third Christian Reformed church will officiate. Rev. J. Van Porseum of First Reformed church will render the last service at Zeeland cemetery.

Mrs. Oostendorp died Monday morning about 6 o'clock, at the Dr. T. G. Huizenga Memorial hospital, quite unexpectedly, as she had been rallying quite satisfactorily from a major operation performed last week, Wednesday. She had attained the age of 50 years and the report of her sudden death shocked the city and community.

Born in The Netherlands, she came to this country at the age of 11 years, settling with her parents in Chicago. Her father was the late Rev. Lubbert Van Dellen. She was married in 1909 and for the past 12 years had resided here. Her husband formerly had charges at Eastmanville and Grant.

Mrs. Oostendorp is survived by her husband, the Rev. H. E. Oostendorp; four sons, Elco, Stedus, Lubbertus, Harold and William at home, and two daughters, Margaret and Katherine, also at home; five brothers, Rev. I. Van Dellen of Denver, Col. Rev. Herman Van Dellen of Pella, Ia. Elco Van Dellen of Salinas, Cal. Dr. R. L. Van Dellen and Dr. A. L. Van Dellen, both of Chicago.

Friends are kindly requested to omit flowers.

The elders of the North Street Christian Reformed church will be pallbearers. The school for Christian Instruction will be closed on Thursday afternoon.

Dunn played consistent golf during the morning round to overshadow the long driving by Ingham and led at lunch, 2 up. He held his lead until the twenty-fifth hole when Ingham began his great drive that netted him the crown.

Jerome Hoek, 17, Holland, was found guilty of breaking and entering the Siozari Oil station at the junction of US-31 and M-50 on Aug. 12. Associated with Hoek was a young man whose case will be handled through the probate court.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Boylan of Detroit were week-end guests at the home of their mother, Mrs. Mary De Graaf; a younger daughter, Mrs. Martin Van Alsburg of Grand Rapids was also a guest for the week.

The annual concert at the American Legion and war veterans' hospitals in Battle Creek will be played Sunday afternoon, Oct. 2, by the Holland American Legion band, it was decided this week.

Marine Boshka of Macatawa Park has left for Ann Arbor to resume his studies in the University of Michigan.

A marriage license has been applied for by John W. Van Dyke, 25, of Holland, and Miss Ruth Car-gill, 22, Grand Rapids.

A head-on collision Sunday night necessitated taking three young men to the Zeeland hospital for head wounds that demanded immediate surgical attention. Time and redressing will probably work out for a complete restoration. The three badly hurt are Menno Dykstra, owner of the Ford coming from Borculo, Albert Boschma, both of Zeeland with him and Ollis Nienhuis of Holland, route No. 10, passenger with Louis Diepenhorst, also of Holland, who was the only fortunate one to escape serious injury.

He was driving north and met Dykstra head-on at the Janssen farm, about one and a half miles north of Zeeland. Both cars were driving without headlights, and from the wreckage left after the smash-up it was judged they must have been going a goodly pace to accomplish practically a complete loss.

In Detroit, the domestic cow is taken the rounds of the city schools to show pupils the origin of milk. In Hamilton, cows have long since been outlawed on the highways and now herd hold up auto traffic. Three citizens of Holland, John Baker, Gerrit Ver Burg and Bert Arendsen, narrowly avoided hitting a large doe that appeared in the road near the Oetman farm between Hamilton and Fennville. They were forced to stop to avoid hitting the animal. The three men were informed that deer are numerous in the Hamilton, New Richmond and Fennville vicinity since Sheriff Guy Teed, Allegan, imported a number of the animals a few years ago.

Because of the expense, the Stepping Stone, Zeeland high school annual, will not be published this year. The annual has been published since 1923, in that period it has won the National Scholastic Press association rating of All-American honors seven times. The junior class also will delay the purchasing of its class rings until next year as an economical measure.

Three business leaders of England were in Holland yesterday, inspecting machinery and processes at the W. E. Dunn Manufacturing company's plant. The three were O. A. Aisher of Lenham, Kent, and A. Blackman and Mrs. D. Blackman of Hastings, Sussex. Machinery for the manufacture and coloring of concrete brick and tile were viewed by the visitors who contemplated erection of plants in England.

The jack slipped and struck him in the head, inflicting a deep gash near his eye. Earlier this summer he suffered a sprained ankle while playing ball. After he discarded his crutches he was struck on the head by a harpoon while unloading hay in the barn.

DEN HERDER BACKS ROSEMA
I hereby wish to express my thanks for the large vote I received in my run for sheriff at the primary election, which enabled me to place second in a field of five candidates. I sincerely appreciate the confidence shown me and I expect to again be a candidate at some future time.

As Mr. Rosema received the nomination, I feel that it is my duty as a Republican to now give Mr. Rosema my support. He put on a clean campaign and I would ask all my friends to conscientiously think the matter over and if possible to support Mr. Rosema for sheriff at the coming election on November 8.

HOLLAND HOTEL MAN PAYS
$1000 FINE; MUST LEAVE

Julius Tennebaum, 74, proprietor of the Asselton hotel in Holland, paid a fine of $1000 and cost of $25 imposed by Circuit Judge Fred T. Miles here late Tuesday when Tennebaum entered a plea of guilty to a charge of operating a disorderly house. Tennebaum also agreed to leave the community at the request of Judge Miles.

An official vote of appreciation for work in connection with the arrest of Julius Tennebaum, proprietor of the Asselton hotel, on a charge of operating a house of ill fame, and in steps to padlock the hotel was given Chief of Police Peter Lievense and the police department by the police and fire commissioners at their meeting Monday.

Henry Van der Schel, chairman of the board, said the board welcomed the opportunity to thank the chief and the department because the police bore the brunt of much unwarranted criticism.

Chief Lievense told of the difficulties preceding the arrest, explaining that an over-supply of rumor was worthless in the investigation and that only by two affidavits was the inquiry brought to a successful conclusion.

Dr. Landrith Says Dry Law Vital Issue

DR. POHLING, WELL KNOWN HERE, IS HEAD OF ORGANIZATION WHICH LANDRITH REPRESENTS

Dr. Ira Landrith, representing the "Allied Forces," fostering the "Dry" cause, spoke in behalf of prohibition at a mass meeting for men, women and young people at the First Reformed church on Thursday evening. Dr. Landrith gave a frank discussion of what prohibition is accomplishing and what its friends must do to meet the attacks being made on the eighteenth amendment.

He stated that the prohibition cause has become one of the most vital issues of the day, and it is important that every voter has a well grounded knowledge of the facts before he goes to the polls in November. In the interests of the voters of today and for the benefit of the voters of tomorrow, namely the young people, one of the foremost champions of the prohibition cause will come to this city in the future, he stated.

The majority of the American people, Dr. Landrith and his associates believe, are in favor of the eighteenth amendment, but they believe also that the amendment stands in jeopardy unless its friends are roused and stimulated to make new organized effort in its support. Dr. Landrith stated that he and other speakers of the Allied Forces are attempting to do this and they have met with a large measure of success.

Rev. Landrith, who is a prominent dry worker of Nashville, Tenn., and one of the leading speakers of the Allied Forces, pointed out that 90 per cent of the women who seek repeal of the eighteenth amendment are active while many advocates for the retention of the amendment seem to remain passive and therefore of little worth in the fight to wipe out liquor. He stated that this apathy, it seems, is rapidly disappearing, however, and the vital issue is beginning to dawn upon the indifferent ones.

The wets argue, the speaker said, that when the eighteenth amendment is repealed, the thousands now out of work will be given employment and that the return of liquor will strike at the vitals of the depression.

Dr. Landrith quoted numerous instances in which the wets hold prohibition responsible for the depression. One of their contentions is that millions of workers would be given jobs if beer becomes a legal beverage again.

Michigan, he contended, cannot be such a wet state as wets claim, if autoists can drive at speeds of 50 and 60 miles an hour without accident. Increase in automobile accidents was predicted by the doctor if liquor returned.

The speaker pointed to the majority of states which must sanction a possible abandonment of prohibition. As in the Civil war when the north invaded the south and won, the south will "invade" the north to make prohibition nationwide, Dr. Landrith said.

He further touched on the disappearance of Colonel Raymond Robins, a close friend of his. He held the dry leader, hunted since he disappeared September 3 while on his way to visit President Hoover, was either a captive in the underworld or had been killed by that element.

Mr. Landrith said that enrollment in the cause and better organization have been their goals and through their efforts, under the leadership of Dr. Daniel A. Pohling, chairman of the Allied Forces, a great new body of supporters for 500,000 young people have pledged their active co-operation in preserving the eighteenth amendment, he stated. In each city which the Allied Forces have touched in their great campaign which included more than five hundred leading population centers from coast to coast, local organizations of Allied Citizens and Allied Youth have been formed to carry on the work. Similar local units may be formed here.

The Allied Forces, he declared, are not officially associated with any other group or organization, though they have, with all others, a common object in support of prohibition and law enforcement. The present movement, its sponsors hope, will supplement the work of the various organizations supporting the amendment and bringing together a united front of all citizens favoring prohibition, he concluded.

The rally at the First Reformed church was under the auspices of the Holland Ministers' Association. Rev. James M. Martin, pastor of Third Reformed church, presided and read from the Scriptures. Prayer was offered by Dr. E. J. Blekkink of the Western Theological seminary. Benediction was spoken by Rev. James Weyer, pastor of First Reformed church.

Mrs. Lora S. LaMance, author, traveler and lecturer, who spoke at a meeting of the W.C.T.U. earlier, was also present and gave numerous figures in defense of prohibition in an address preceding the talk by Rev. Landrith.

The First Reformed church was filled to capacity to listen to these prominent speakers. Dr. Daniel Pohling mentioned in this article is well known in Holland. He is a staunch friend of Hope college and his children came here from New York city to study. He is also a prominent figure in the Reformed church synod.

ABSOLVES MARTIN OF BEDBUG CHARGE

The belief of some persons that the martin brings bedbugs to its nesting place is disproved by Barrows, well known authority on Michigan bird life. Apparently the foundation for this tradition lies in the fact that a bug closely resembling the same family as this dreaded household pest, does frequent the nests of martins. But, according to Barrows, this bug cannot live except on swallows and therefore there is no danger of its infesting dwelling houses.

FORMER HOLLAND WOMAN DIES IN CHICAGO

Late last week Miss Lalla McKay of this city received a message that her sister, Mrs. Lovanah Calhoun, wife of Joseph Calhoun, for many years a resident of this city, had died suddenly of apoplexy.

The Calhoun family were well known in Holland and for many years lived on West Tenth street. Mr. Calhoun, where here, was a commercial photographer, taking pictures of furniture pieces, machinery and the like to be used in catalogs by Holland and Grand Rapids manufacturers.

They left Holland about 15 years ago for Rochester, N. Y., and later moved to Chicago.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Nibbelink Notter Funeral home. Rev. Thomas W. Davidson, pastor of Hope Reformed church, officiated. Burial took place in the family plot in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

The pallbearers were Henry Boersma, Walter Probst, Stanley Curtis, Harris Westrate, H. Ingham and L. Combe. Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Louise Raymond of Chicago; three sons, Laverne Petrie of Elizabeth, N. J., Louis Petrie of Rahway, N. Y., and Dewey Calhoun of Brooklyn, N. Y.; two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Bingham of Mason and Miss Lalla E. McKay of 231 West Ninth street, Holland; four brothers, Frank N. McKay of Buffalo, N. Y., Charles P. McKay of St. Paul, Minn., J. N. McKay of Lima, O., and Louis P. McKay of Grand Rapids.

"PALESTINE SPEAKS" BRINGS OUT LARGE AUDIENCES; PICTURES ARE VERY WORTHWHILE

The first two stereoscopic lectures of a series of six, entitled "Palestine Speaks," were given at Ninth street church with large sized audiences attending. The pictures are for the most part replicas of master paintings, and are beautiful to say the least. They must be seen to be appreciated.

The first two numbers, including pictures portraying "Creation's Dawn to the Death of Moses," have thus far been shown, accompanied by the lectures. Mr. Fales, however, gives a five-minute review each evening for the benefit of those who could not attend the previous programs. Both the pictures and the lecturing are very much worthwhile. On next Thursday evening the program will include the "Birth of Christ" to the end of the second year of His ministry.

The programs, sponsored by Eufronia Society, are being shown each Thursday evening up to and including Oct. 20, at Ninth Street Christian Reformed church. The public

Bert Gebben, Bert Vander Poel, Dick Schaffner, Gerrit Vandenberg and George Glupker were in Chicago Tuesday to attend the baseball games between the Chicago Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

IT WILL SHOCK POULTRY MEN TO LEARN THAT IT STANDS NINTH IN LIST

Commercial Poultry Farms in Michigan Increase; All Near Larger Cities

Folks in this vicinity, especially those who are poultry minded, will receive a shock to hear that our boast to being the poultry center of Michigan is far from being a fact. This paper has repeatedly but innocently made that claim but it appears from a survey just made that Ottawa county stands ninth and our neighbor, Allegan county, is nearer the top. The survey given out by Michigan State College shows that larger commercial flocks of poultry are on the increase in this state.

H. L. Schrader, poultry specialist in the United States Department of Agriculture, has given Prof. J. A. Hannah of the Michigan State College many interesting poultry facts in a statistical report showing the density and importance of the chicken business in this state.

Commercial flocks, however, still are in the minority as the so-called farm flocks of 25 to 100 hens each are greatly in the majority. Of the 146,254 poultry flocks in Michigan, 67,908 have less than 50 birds per flock while 46,560 flocks are in the 50 to 100-bird class. In all, 71 per cent of the poultry flocks in the state are in the farm flock class. Flocks of more than 100 hens each usually are considered as commercial, and 29 per cent of flocks in the state are in this group.

Using Schrader's report as a basis, Prof. Hannah pointed out that poultry raising is more general in Michigan than any other type of farming. He observed that 86 out of every 100 farms in the state have poultry. It is true, he said, that most of the flocks are small, but there are enough hens in them to arouse interest in poultry husbandry.

OTTAWA COUNTY NINTH

The last census report shows there are 162,372 farms in Michigan and Schrader finds that 146,254 keep chickens. Prof. Hannah uses these figures to prove that most farmers who specialize in other branches of agriculture also raise chickens.

Until Schrader's report was received, it was generally supposed that Ottawa county, self-styled the Petaluma of the Middle West, because of its large baby chick hatchery interests, had the largest number of poultry flocks of any county in the state. The Federal statistics indicate that Ottawa county ranks ninth in number of flocks.

Berrien county, with 4,503 flocks, is in first position. Saginaw county, with 4,421 flocks, is the runner-up. Allegan is third and Sanilac fourth. Fifth place goes to Tuscola county and sixth to Lenawee. Huron ranks seventh and Kent eighth. Ottawa is ninth and Monroe tenth. The next five high in their order are Van Buren, Montcalm, St. Clair, Hillsdale and Gratiot.

Prof. Hannah said there is an industrial story in connection with the development of the poultry industry in each of these counties. They are in leading positions because of their proximity to large consuming markets like Detroit, Chicago, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Jackson, Flint, Saginaw and Bay City.

NEAR LARGE CITIES

Most of the large commercial flocks of 500 to 5,000 birds each are located in counties nearest to the large consuming markets. Schrader's report shows there are 12 flocks of more than 2,500 hens each in the state. Three are in St. Clair county and their eggs are sold largely in Detroit. Shiawassee county has two and they are producing eggs for Detroit, Lansing and Flint consumers. Cass, Genesee, Huron, Oakland, Oscoda, Otsego and Saginaw counties have one each.

Virtually every county within short hauling distance of the large cities in the state have one or more flocks of 1,000 to 2,500 hens. Van Buren and Ottawa counties each have eight of this size. Kent, Lenawee, Oakland and St. Clair each have seven. Van Buren county has 17 flocks of 700 to 1,000 hens. These farms produce eggs for Kalamazoo and Chicago. Berrien county has 12 of this size. It also ships to Chicago.

Commercial poultry raising in all counties within 50 and 75 miles of Detroit has expanded greatly within the last two decades, according to Michigan State College specialists.

New Driver's License Need of Many

Before Nov. 1, 1932, approximately 250,000 motor vehicle operators must secure new drivers' licenses.

The new license law, adopted by the 1931 legislature, ordered motorists who secured their old licenses between Jan. 1, 1928, and Nov. 1, 1929, to secure new licenses before Nov. 1 of this year.

Department of State records show that during 1928 and 1929 a total of 436,000 drivers' licenses were issued. But because many of these motorists have already secured new licenses, it is estimated that only about 250,000 licenses will expire in about six weeks.

Old drivers' licenses, secured after Nov. 1, 1929, expire, according to the 1931 law, three years after date of issue. Applications for new licenses should be made to the police or sheriff of the municipality or county in which the motorist resides. Of the $1 fee charged the driver for license, 15 cents is returned to the municipality or county receiving the application and the balance is turned over to the Department of Public Safety after cost of administering the law has been deducted.

NEW ELECTION LAW SAVES ALLEGAN $45

The new election law providing for canvassing of the vote by the county clerk, county treasurer and probate judge saved the county $45 this year. In the past a board of canvassers, composed of three members, in performing this task took three days or more.

This year County Clerk William G. Tisdale and Howard Tanner, deputy county treasurer, canvassed the vote in five hours. More candidates were on the election returns than in several years, increasing the work to be done.—Grand Rapids Press.

OTTAWA COUNTY FARM NOTES

By C. P. Milham.

A disease causing a rotting of the roots, crown and nodes of corn forcing early maturity and shrunk ears is prevalent in Ottawa county this year. This fact has been disclosed by Agricultural Agent Milham in a series of 32 field meetings held during the past two weeks. Infection was found to run from 5 to 90 per cent of the stalks in a field. Every field visited showed evidence of the disease.

Mr. Milham advises farmers who select seed at husking time to make an effort to select clean seed. A healthy ear, he claims, will be fully mature, including the tip kernels and will carry a bright clear color. Healthy ears will have a good sized attachment at the butt and will break from the shank cleanly and show a white butt. Diseased ears usually have a small weak shank, break away roughly, have discolored cobs and immature tip kernels. The disease is easily found by cutting across nodes at the base of the stalk. Unless farmers are more careful in seed selection serious losses to the corn crop will be the result.

The same thing holds true with potatoes. Many fields show high percentages of fusarium wilt, curly dwarf, spindle sprout, black scurf and other potato diseases that may be easily reduced by selecting healthy seed.

The following potato growers of Chester township have had their potato fields inspected for seed purposes to ship seed into areas in northern Michigan, where yellow dwarf ruined the potato crop this year:

N. J. Arends, Will Arends, P. J. Van Dyke, Charles Finkler and Edward Arends.

North Michigan will require a thousand carloads of seed next year in their efforts to replace diseased seed stock. All the above growers are large producers of quality Russet Rural potatoes excepting Mr. Finkler, who grows White Rurals.

Over a hundred celery growers from Ottawa county met at Hudsonville High school last Friday evening to discuss the quarantine imposed on Michigan celery by Illinois and several other states and to talk over organization work.

The speakers representing the state department of agriculture were Director A. C. Carlton and E. C. Mandenberg. They explained the methods and costs of inspection work. George Lampen from Zeeland and Seth Coburn from Hudsonville asked a number of questions and explained conditions faced by the celery growers.

Jacob Elling, president and manager of the Decatur Celery Growers' association, told the group of the work, benefits and problems facing them at Decatur. He spoke in the Holland language and made a very forceful presentation of his subject. Arthur Howland, representing the economics department of Michigan State college, spoke briefly on methods of organization and contracts.

Agricultural Agent Johnston from Van Buren county, who came with Mr. Elling, expressed the interests of the agricultural agents in helping growers with their marketing problems as well as their production problems. Agricultural Agent Milham, who arranged the meeting, presided and told the growers that it was up to them to co-operate in helping themselves, that the agents and the college would assist in organizing them when they were ready.

A new thought was injected into the meeting by all the speakers, that co-operative organizations should not encourage everyone to join, and that if a member was dissatisfied with the organization to put dissatisfied ones out and keep in the organization only men who would work together for mutual benefit.

Another meeting will be held when demanded by the celery growers.

E. Ryenga, director of the city health department at Zeeland, reports that one case of contagious disease is registered in the city, that of scarlet fever. Two cases of whooping cough have been reported.

Two young Michigan pupils, Armina Bouck of Cornuna High school and Jarius De Koster of Zeeland High school have been rewarded by Cleanliness Institute of New York for services in promoting cleanliness through their school papers. The right to use their published contributions has been purchased by the institute, which devotes itself to raising standards of cleanliness throughout the country. For the purpose of collecting the best student expressions on this subject the institute last February invited all the high school publications of the United States to submit contributions appearing in their pages during the last school semester. Entries came from every state in the Union and in almost every form of literature and art. They included editorials, essays, fiction, verse, cartoons and photographs. Twenty-five were adjudged most suitable for the institute's use and the authors of these received checks through their school principals at the opening of the school year. Ten of the successful young writers and artists are boys, and fifteen are girls.

Agricultural classes of Zeeland High school, under direction of Otto Fino, will hold their second annual fair in the school gymnasium Sept. 30. More than 800

The executive committee of Gibson Parent-Teacher association will meet tonight, Friday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Ebbe-son to conclude business of the past year and arrange a program for the coming meeting to be held on Friday evening, Oct. 7. Mr. Ebbe-son is able to be about the farm once again after several weeks of illness.

Guests at McAllister farm the past week-end were Mrs. Betsey McAllister, Mrs. D. E. Pendleton, Edmund and David Pendleton of Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Bush and daughters, Betty, Evelyn and Ellen of Grand Rapids and Alice Mr. Allister of Detroit. Application for a marriage license has been received at the county clerk's office from Walter Smilak, 41, Holland, and Mary Postawa, 43, Muskegon.

Allegan County News

Fennville-grown celery of fine quality is now on the market. With all of this inspection that has been going on, there has not been one particle of evidence of the presence of the corn borer in any vegetables. A lot of excitement over nothing.

Rev. and Mrs. Meredith of Holland were guests in the George Rayle home last Friday at Ganges.

The summer school of painting at the Ox Bow, Saugatuck, has closed a successful season, having had 55 registered students and 132 guests at the inn. They represented the states of Illinois, Florida, Tennessee, Oregon, Wisconsin, Missouri, Kentucky, North Dakota, Wyoming, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Iowa and Canada.

The peach, plum and crabapple harvest is just now furnishing work for a large number. The streets of Fennville are filled with great trucks from all over the country loading the fruit for distant markets. Some of the trucks with trailers carry as many as 500 bushels at a load—as much as one and a quarter car loads. The Bartlett pear crop was the largest this section has ever harvested and the price ran from 75 to 90 cents per bushel.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Burgh and son Richard of Ann Arbor spent the week-end in the Albert Nye home, Mrs. Burgh's parents, at Ganges. Miss Vivian Nye accompanied them back Monday night to resume her work as head nurse of the men's surgical and orthopedic ward in the University hospital.

The Fennville canning factory is busy with peaches—Kalamazoo, Barnard, New Prolific, Elberta—and have started the pack of crabapples. The latter is one of their specialties, being quite popular in city restaurants, being served with meats.

A double wedding anniversary was observed at Saugatuck when Mr. and Mrs. Cary Bird reached their twelfth year of married life and Mr. Bird's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bird, rounded out their fifty-sixth year of wedded life. The senior Birds, who have resided here since 1866, were married in 1876, two years after Mr. Bird started a drug store which he operated for 55 years. Besides Cary, they have two other sons and two daughters.

The Saugatuck Fruit exchange, which has been working day and night shifts to handle the heavy daily receipts of Elberta peaches, expects to conclude the pack of this fruit this week and then will start packing fall apples and pears. Peaches have been trucked out of here this season to points all over the middle west. The crop was of excellent quality and prices averaged above last year.

The thousands of persons who have been benefited by his professional services and have enjoyed his fine personality will be pained to learn of the serious affliction suffered by the fine old Ganges doctor, E. E. Brunson. His sight is seriously affected and he suffers great pain from a pressure on the eye-ball for which there is little prohibition has been developed.

A million and a half adults and relief. Dr. Brunson was eighty-one years of age last Sunday and holds the very remarkable record of having practiced his profession in Ganges continuously for fifty-seven years. During those many years he traveled through storm and night to relieve his patients in the western half of Allegan county and carried sunshine into every home he visited. Sunday he united with H. C. Dow and William Dunn in celebrating their advance birthdays. Mr. Dow being eighty-six and Mr. Dunn being eighty-seven. It truly can be recorded of these three friends that the world is better, much better, because of their having lived in our community.

STILL SUFFERING FROM ATTACK

Allegan Gazette—Mrs. Guy Bracelin is still suffering from the effects of her unfortunate encounter with a thug on Trowbridge St. early last spring. The blow on her head caused a fan-shaped wound, which in healing has left a nerve exposed and those just under the scalp are out of normal alignment. This has caused an extremely nervous condition. Physicians inform Mrs. Bracelin that before she can hope to regain her normal health it will be necessary for her to submit to an operation which will entail the opening of the wound and replacing the jangled nerves in their original position. This she contemplates having done. So far the man who made this cowardly attack upon Mrs. Bracelin has not been apprehended.

They are also placed on probation to Officer Jack Spangler for three years. They must pay court costs of $25 at the rate of $1.00 per month and probation fees of $1.00 per month. They were warned by the judge to keep away from tobacco and liquor and to strictly adhere to the rules of probation as laid down by the court. During their stay in jail they are to read certain books and make reports and to become thoroughly acquainted with the probation officer that he may treat their cases with individual interest.

K. A. Kellisy of Grand Haven received the sad news Wednesday from his family who still live in Damascus in the Holy Land that is son, Abdo, nearly three years old, had passed away. The letter, which was written August 27, stated that the boy had received the best of medical attention but that even with the best of care they were unable to bring about a recovery from a sickness that was contracted on the trip from here to Damascus.

Mrs. Kellisy and her two children, Abdo and a baby sister, left Grand Haven early in the summer for an extended visit with relatives in the old country. The sad news was a considerable shock to the father, who has remained in this country alone while the family has been away.

35 CHICKENS STOLEN FROM QUINLAN COOP

A large chicken house in Polkton, Ottawa county, belonging to Senator James Quinlan, recent candidate for governor on the Republican ticket, was raided last night and 35 chickens reported stolen. Mr. Quinlan has a large country place in Polkton township. The chicken coop of F. E. White in Tallmadge was also robbed of about 35 birds. The reports were brought to the sheriff's office this morning. Last year a number of arrests were made and heavy sentences were given out for chicken thieving.

FIRE EXIT PERMITS
ADDING CLASS IN THE
SPRING LAKE SCHOOL

By making some changes in the building and adding an outside fire exit the Spring Lake schools have enabled all classes to be taken care of in the consolidated building. Last year kindergarten classes were held in the basement of the Reformed church, but with the change in the building this is no longer necessary.

SALVAGES SUNKEN
CRAFT BY MEANS OF
HOME-MADE HELMET

Marine Boshka of Macatawa Park, while exploring the depths of the bay near the Macatawa hotel in a self-devised helmet, ran across a submerged 28-foot launch. With the aid of others he succeeded in raising the craft. After much mud had been removed it was found that the boat was in comparatively good condition. It is said to have broken from its mooring at the park several years ago and went to the bottom in a storm.

The diving helmet Boshka used was devised from a 5-gallon oil can in order to repair a Sea Scout boat. He arranged a glass front through which to see, connected a garden hose with it and weighted the apparatus with ash weights. The hose was attached to a tire pump on the shore.

KEEP ON WITH ROAD
BUILDING IN ALLEGAN CO.

Marsman & Tabor, Grand Rapids contractors, are unloading several cars of paving machinery here and have commenced the work of paving US31 from the south line of Douglas to the intersection with M99. The road is being torn up and the paving will follow as fast as possible, so as to get that part of the road finished this fall. The route of the road through Douglas and Saugatuck and further north seems to be an undecided problem. —Allegan Gazette.

FENNVILLE BURGLARY
ATTRIBUTED TO TRAMPS

Sunday night burglars who knew the store construction gained an entrance to the Moskowitz novelty store, Fennville, by prying in a back window. Quite a quantity of clothing, shoes, and novelties, as well as $5 in cash, were taken. Finding some of the small articles and the paper in which the larger articles were wrapped near the tracks of the Pere Marquette, led to the conclusion that it was the work of tramps, but there is other evidence that may locate the trouble nearer home. One tramp who ran when officers followed him was taken to Allegan.

FORMER HOLLAND WOMAN IS OVERCOME WITH GAS

Mrs. N. F. Yonkman of Grand Haven was partially overcome with monoxide gas poisoning as she was working in her home on Friday morning. She is recuperating satisfactorily.

Mrs. Yonkman had been in the basement for some time washing and canning. Mrs. Yonkman is the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Yonkman of Holland and like his father, the son also is an alderman.

Grand Haven Gets Milk
Welfare Contract

A contract for all the milk to be purchased by the Welfare board for the needy of Grand Haven and the school children who are supplied with milk was let to Al Miller, owner of the Sanitary Dairy, by the Board of Education. There were only two bidders and the bid made by Mr. Miller was the lower of the two.

The Welfare board supplies milk to about 250 families and to many school children who are given milk in the schools.

The new cards, which have been secured by Chief Pippel to check the amounts given to each individual, are expected to be of great assistance in determining the amount of aid to be given when old cases come before the board for more help.

The Grand Haven city taxes, according to Arthur Van Woerkom, city treasurer, collected before Sept. 14, are $8,192.40 behind the collections of 1931. The total amount paid by Sept. 14 this year was $95,291.46. The total amount for 1931 was $103,483.86. The four per cent penalty is now in force until Sept. 26, the limit of time in which the taxes will be received at the city hall. The total amount of the summer city tax unpaid this year is $30,887.91. After Sept. 26 the rolls are returned to the city assessor and the deficit re-spreading on the winter tax lists.

Clocks stopped, meals remained uneaten, women folks were hung up with the wash, business men were helpless, milk became sour, footstuffs spoiled, central became frantic and everybody was in the dark. Some of the wise husbands and other subordinates at first thought it was a miracle of good fortune since it meant a holiday from the wash and work, but their faces fell when they found no lunch at home at noon. It will go hard with anyone in this neighborhood who dares to speak of the "good old days" and the "good old ways" of the past.
