The Re-zoning At South Limits Vexing Matter

BECKMAN HOUSE NEAR DISPOSAL PLANT UP FOR DAMAGES AGAIN

Some months ago Egbert Beckman who lives near the sewage disposal plant, brought in a request for damages, but it seems the case has been lying dormant for some time. The matter was brought up again by one of the aldermen and the mayor stated that some months ago he felt that the man was entitled to at least some adjustment. He claimed that the grasses had raised havoc with the paint and rotted the woodwork.

Anyway, the question brought considerable discussion in which Aldermen Van Zoeren, De Cook, the city attorney, the mayor and others took part. The city attorney stated that he wasn't sure, but his understanding was that Beckman would be satisfied with some repairs and the repainting of his home. The attorney would not say definitely, but it was his impression.

This brought up the matter that if one house near the sewage disposal plant was painted by the city, that then there would be a tendency for other claims. It was understood, however, that most of the adjacent property changed hands since the plant was located there, which would let them out.

Alderman Peter Huyser, who often puts dry wit in his discourses before the council, said, "I would just as soon give the man a fair allowance, as long as in so doing we do not have to paint the entire north side." His remarks brought a gale of laughter.

Alderman Van Zoeren stated that the home owners got some remuneration because of a reduction in taxes, covering a period of years. The mayor felt that the taxes, because of the location, were none too low.

Another very important matter that is liable to bring up some discussion in the future, is the rezoning at the south end of town which will be brought about because of the new Saugatuck road entering the city on Michigan avenue, and thirty-second street. Already locations are being spoken of as suitable oil station sites.

In the official council proceedings, elsewhere in this issue, it is evident that an application of Simon De Boer, rural mail carrier, who applied for a permit to erect a gas station, came up before. The matter was held up until last night's meeting.

Mr. De Boer agreed to donate a 17-foot strip of his property to the state for highway purposes on the new Holland-Saugatuck highway, in exchange for the permit. There is a protesting petition signed by 57 property owners objecting to making that zone a commercial zone. When this petition was presented the aldermen were rather prone to make a decision and held the matter off until October 16, when a hearing on this entire matter of rezoning is to come up. At that time all property owners and the principles wanting the rezoning will come before the aldermen and the zoning board to give their reasons why or why not this rezoning should or should not take place.

City Attorney Parsons told the aldermen that any action they might take now would be illegal and that the matter should come up in an orderly way before the right bodies of a legally advised meeting having to do with this rezoning, and that is where the matter stands.

A request was also made by Alderman Van Zoeren that Austin Harrington be permitted to fill in a short part of Dock street, so-called, between the Goodrich dock and his coal yard. The place is nothing but a hole used by none. It is difficult of access and unsuitable for fishing since the water is only a foot deep. Mr. Harrington is willing to put in piling to the deep water and then fill in behind the piling on a level with the rest of the property. It will be a considerable expense, but Mr. Harrington will bear this expense provided the city give him a lease of five years on the grounds.

There seemed to be much objection to it, not alone from the audience, but from several of the aldermen. Alderman Art Drinkwater being the greatest objector. It seems to the News that this mudhole serves no purpose whatever as it is and hasn't for a quarter of a century, but would serve a commercial purpose, not alone for labor, but also to the city after the five years has expired and the city gets its property back fully improved.

The chief objection was that there would be a tendency to keep citizens from their own lake. That is about the biggest laugh, as far as the head of this lake is concerned. There is scarcely a foot of ground, public or private, not counting the streets, that does not give access to Black lake at this end.

In all the years of our newspaper work, we know of no private owners of property who have objected to any person or persons crossing their property to get to Black lake, and this privilege is augmented by docks, public streets along the lake shore and streets leading to the shore, as well as public property which the city owns.

It may not be known by many that there is a city street called Lake street that borders the south shore of Lake Macatawa. The matter was deferred for two weeks.

Representative Edward Brouwer is the principal speaker at the Farmers' Union meeting to be held in Vriesland town hall on tonight.

The ministers and their wives of Holland classes of the Reformed church met in a social gathering at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. Pyle in Overisel on last Monday afternoon.

Mrs. L. Van Dyke, West Ninth street, is visiting in Muskegon.

OUR REPRESENTATIVE NOT SUPERSTITIOUS

Last week, Friday, the 13th of September, known the world over as "halloween's day," Representative Ed Brouwer celebrated his forty-third birthday.

Superstition is not a word in Ed's vocabulary. He is chairman of the police and fire commissions and is not afraid to run under a fire ladder or any other kind of ladder. Breaking mirrors brings seven years of bad luck, means nothing to him and holding a birthday party on Friday the 13th, with 13 around the festive board, is just a laugh. Anyway, the event at his home on West Twelfth street, among family and friends, was quietly celebrated. Undoubtedly it would have been a chicken dinner for Ed is an expert on the chianti-cleer.

His years of experience with poultry and bunnies aside from his printing plant, he has been wide and varied. In other words, he knows his chickens. Those with feathers, we mean.

Ed has served two terms in the legislature and has made a good job of it. That was not luck or ill luck, but good, common horse sense. Ed Brouwer has developed into an excellent representative and Ottawa county has reason to be proud of him, and surely Holland.

The News extends to him the wish for "many returns of the day."

Adult Indigent Cases Problem In This County

JUDGE DOES NOT WANT TO DODGE RESPONSIBILITY; GOING INTO MATTER AT HER REQUEST, GOOD THING

Hospitalization of indigent adults of Ottawa county will continue to go through the probate judge of the county, Judge Cora Vande Water, who is co-operating with a special committee, named last April, to evolve a plan for this department of the probate court looking to the best interests of the county.

Prosecutor John R. Dethmers addressed the board, pointing out the 1933 law which designates that the probate court must investigate all cases sent through the supervisors of the townships after which the court can commit the patients to the state.

Maynard Mohr, chairman of the committee, pointed to Kent county, which had been confronted with the situation similar to that of which Judge Vande Water complained in Ottawa county, pointed out that the 50-50 method was employed there successfully. He said the attitude of the public would be entirely changed if it was realized that local units were responsible for local care.

Judge Cora Vande Water stated that she was not trying to dodge any of the duties of the office but she believed that a committee from the county appointed to make investigations would improve conditions and cut down the mounting expense and that after all was paramount and what she was striving for.

The report of the special committee was accepted and the members, including Maynard Mohr, Peter Damstra and Richard L. Cook, will continue until the October session to work in conjunction with Judge Vande Water, the direct work of which she will supervise. A fee schedule for the physicians is expected to be arrived at soon.

Whether Judge Cora Vande Water, probate judge of Ottawa county, must act in cases of adult hospitalization other than cases allocated to Ann Arbor was a question discussed at the special meeting of the board of supervisors this week following a request of the special committee that she appear and state her position.

John R. Dethmers, prosecutor, has given as his opinion that the matter is a part of her duties. The special committee, appointed last spring, made a brief report Monday stating that no definite action could be taken in the matter until it had been definitely determined whether the probate judge would act.

NICK WHELAN "CRACKED UP" BUT RECOVERING

Nicholas J. Whelan, editor of The Michigan Democrat of Benton Harbor, had himself all cracked up in an automobile accident north of Clare, Michigan. However, he was able to walk into the Hotel Doherty at Grand Rapids.

The hotel had a nice job of taking care of him and finally moved him to the McArthur and Strang Memorial hospital at Mt. Pleasant.

Joe Carry and Jim Kenney of Mt. Pleasant saw to it that the moving of Nick Whelan. From then on Dr. Stewart C. McArthur and Russell Strang had the rest.

Nick is sitting up, bandaged up, and when the Rambling Reporter came into his room, he perked up and then told him that good hands—namely McArthur and Strang—were in the hospital. He said that he will be out of the hospital in a few days. Again the same old Nick J. Whelan—Democrat.

Two Women With Forks and Guns Defend Property

WILL NOT ALLOW CONTRACTORS TO CUT TREE FOR ALLEGAN DAM

Two Allegan county women, using pitchforks and rifles, and threatening to shoot to kill, were served with injunction papers by the City of Allegan Saturday, thus bringing to an end a dispute that caused contractors to be driven off overland. The women are Teresa Kaurinsky and H. Anna Hitzsche, both of Valley township in our neighboring county.

Both women, armed with pitchforks and rifles, stationed themselves at the edge of their own land, which comes within the dam overflow area, and kept contractors and all employees off the land, thus preventing the cutting of timber which must be removed. The case was submitted to Judge Fred T. Miles in Allegan circuit court Saturday and a temporary injunction restraining the women from interfering with contractors was granted.

Workmen immediately moved into the area defended by the women and cutting of timber was well under way this week.

The city obtained a temporary injunction on the grounds that the women were holding up work for which several hundred thousand dollars have been spent, that they were awarded by jury a true value of their land and that money in payment of condemned land had been offered and refused by the women who own the land.

The city specifically charged the women with making assaults and threatened to shoot to kill all who came upon the land in dispute which they refused to sell.

Date for hearing of the city's petition for a permanent injunction has not been set but both women will be ordered into court to show cause why a permanent injunction should not be granted.

SEMINARY 35 STUDENTS

Western Theological seminary opened the new school year Thursday morning with an address on "The Finality of the Christian Gospel" by Dr. John R. Mulder of the chair of practical theology. To-day's enrollment of students is 35, made up of 16 seniors, 16 juniors, graduates of Hope and Central colleges and one from Michigan State, are entered. Classes are: Seniors, 7; middle, 16; juniors, 12.

OTTAWA BOARD GUESTS TOURIST ASSOCIATION

The Ottawa board of supervisors accepted an invitation of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association to attend the annual meeting at the Pauline Hotel October 10. The board adjourned until October 14, the opening of the regular October session.

The board adopted the report early in the week of the reforestation committee recommending that efforts be made through PWA for a $69,000 project in this county for which the county would have to supply about $27,000.

Following a request for extra clerk hire made by the county clerk the board referred the matter to the committee on county officers with power to act. Mr. Wilds stated that due to the increased work of the office the services of an extra clerk were very necessary at this time.

HOLLAND PERSONNEL MENTIONED IN RESORT "WHO'S WHO"

The Democrat of Benton Harbor in a two-column editorial printed on "Who's Who" in different cities from the Indiana line to the straits has the following about Holland and vicinity.

"The late Dave Reid, also of South Haven never missed an opportunity to co-operate with those in the vicinity of Holland, Grand Rapids, South Haven and Benton Harbor. In Holland, they very often took the advantage of assisting the tourist association with money. Benjamin A. Mulder, publisher of the Holland City News, John A. Hendrick, Ernest Brooks, former mayor of Holland; Nicodemus Bosch, present mayor of Holland; ex-Senator William F. Connelly, formerly of Spring Lake and now secretary of the chamber of commerce, and a host of others from that section raised money for the purpose when money was most needed. These standard bearers did their work well as is evidenced by records which show that Michigan, ere it is through, will stand side by side with the states of California, Florida and the New England group."

The News might add that Jack Bailey, often an after-dinner speaker at Holland, is responsible for this article and that many more could be added to the list who have given a full measure of support, including our contemporary, the Holland Evening Sentinel, and many business men and manufacturers in this city and vicinity.

The whole set-up means co-operation from every community in the resort area, advertising western Michigan as the "playground of America." Those communities who individually set off their town and their resort possibilities to the best advantage, to the motorcade of tourists, are the places of the future, through courtesy, fair dealing and facilities for recreation, including fishing, are the ones who will get their share of a $900,000,000 summer enterprise.

We can truthfully say that Holland has done its part and we can also emphatically say that they are reaping their reward which will be enhanced from year to year. There is nothing in the middle west like western Michigan in the summer time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Vander Hoop, 91 West Twelfth street, had as their guest for a week Mrs. Ben Vander Hoop of Redlands, California.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Veale are visiting in Chicago for a few days.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Burglars entered the jewelry store of H. Wykhuizen, which is located in his large home on 9th and Cedar street. The burglars removed a large panel of glass, doing this so quietly that the owners, sleeping right off the jewelry department, heard nothing. At least $60.00 in jewelry was taken. The city marshal, Ed Vaupell, was advised but no clue to the robbers' whereabouts was available. Note: The home was located on the northwest corner of College and 9th street. He was a jeweler and watchmaker of the old school and Mrs. Wykhuizen was a woman doctor. The names of cross streets were largely to the owners, this was "Cedar" and because Hope college was located on this street the name was changed to College avenue. We still have left our Pine and Maple avenues, formerly called streets. All cross streets were designated as avenues some 30 years ago.

Peter Steketee & Co. expected to occupy the new store of H. D. Post in course of construction but delay was brought about since a change in plans made necessary the building of an added department to the rear with a store entrance on River street where the grocery will be located. The dry goods, crockery, lamps and general store "miscellaneous" will be in the store with entrance on "Main" street (8th street). Note: The store in question is the Model Drug Store building; the east wing being occupied by Bastian Steketee's dry goods store with groceries in the rear of the building. Later the entire building was converted into a drug store when Mr. Steketee retired after having occupied it for nearly 40 years. The building was called the Post block, Henry D. Post, justice, and John C. Post, attorney, occupying the front offices on the second floor and the Holland Masonic order the large rear room. The recent rebuilding has brought about such transformation in and outside that the old structure is not recognizable. The corner has always been a drug store, first under Dr. O. E. Yates and Peter Kane, then George Huizenga; still later Henry Wilson and Co. De Pree, now Walgreen system. Of all the names mentioned in this article Messrs. Haan, De Pree and Wilson are the only ones now living.

The cornerstone of the new city hall at Grand Rapids will be laid Wednesday under the auspices of the Grand Lodge of F. & A. M. of Holland. The building on Lyon and Ottawa is still an imposing structure. It has been the scene of many rotten political battles from time to time but today that city seems to have a highly respectable body of administrators.

Miss Mary Van Putten is visiting friends in Grand Rapids.

A few weeks ago the News gave a "Fifty Years Ago" squib that Bert Barnes had resigned as manager of the Bell telephone exchange which at that time had some 60 phones and that Miss Bright took his place. We forgot to say in our notes that Miss Bright today is Mrs. John Oggel, 126 East 12th street. Mr. Oggel is one of the oldest traveling men in the state.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Today a deal has been closed by John J. Kinsella who sells his interest in the Kinsella Glass Co. to B. P. Donnelly and John Kelley of Chicago. The plant was erected some five years ago and employs some fifty men. Note: The name of the plant has been changed to Donnelly-Kelley Glass Co. and is still under that name although Mr. Kelley withdrew from the firm some eight years ago and has long since left the city. Mr. Donnelly passed away suddenly some three years ago while attending a directors meeting at the Holland Furniture Co. The plant is now being conducted by members of the Donnelly family with the son, John Donnelly, Jr., in charge.

The body of Mrs. M. Mawick of Grand Rapids was found at the mouth of Holland harbor where the life saving crew noticed it.

NETHERLANDS TO STAY ON GOLD STANDARD

Queen Wilhelmina, opening a new session of parliament yesterday, announced that devaluation of the guilder and abandonment of the gold standard could not be considered as a means which would benefit The Netherlands.

She said, in her speech from the throne, that it would be impossible to avoid increases in taxation and new taxation.

FORMER HOLLAND GAS MAN DIES

Charles B. Kelsey of Grand Rapids died Tuesday of apoplexy at the age of 72 years. He had many public utility interests in his day, and was at one time one of the big men in the Holland Gas company when it was one of the American Public Utilities Co. in which Joseph Brewer was also interested. Both Mr. Kelsey and Mr. Brewer appeared before the common council at different times years ago on matters pertaining to the local plant.

They were also interested in the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power Co. where Nicholas J. Whelan, former representative of Holland, also had a connection.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Veale are visiting in Chicago for a few days.

Terrible Lake Disaster Of Yesteryear

LADY ELGIN WRECKED 75 YEARS AGO

This is the time of the year when wreck history is repeated. The Holland City News has from time to time given a review of different shipwrecks on Lake Michigan. The best copy in the parlance of a newspaper, has always been the foundering of the steamer Alpena, a sidewheeler which left Grand Haven on a night when the lake was as smooth as glass, but with a rapidly falling barometer.

Last fall the Holland City News, on the anniversary of the sinking of this steamer, gave the full details from its files, telling of the wreckage, and the filling the beach that was later called Alpena Beach at the end of Lakewood boulevard.

The News told that it had the ventilators from the grand salon and that this newspaper still possessed them, also the Alpena signboard from the wheelhouse, now owned by George Getz, and the concert grand piano, a three-legged affair, being washed right side up with the stool in front, in position for playing. Chief Frank Van Rye, a cabin boy at the time, was the last man to see the steamer aloft.

The News has recorded the loss of the Cheora of the Grey & Morton fleet out of Benton Harbor, the Pere-Marquette No. 18 Ferry, wrecked 25 years ago, with 28 lives lost, and the sinking of the old insides, crushed between icebergs near Fort Sheldon, the crew making its way to Holland over the icebergs as the ship went down.

An unusual marine disaster occurred when the steamer Eastland of South Haven, a beautiful ship but top heavy, turned turtle in the harbor of Chicago just as the boat with 1,000 on board was about to leave on a pleasure trip. At least 800 lives were snuffed out.

But here is a disaster that occurred when steamships were few. During the past week occurred the seventy-fifth anniversary of the sinking of the Lady Elgin, a disheveled schooner, but the world is shocked at the time but the world is not so shocked now.

According to the files of the News, which repeated the story more than 60 years ago, the information comes that on Sept. 8, 1860, there occurred the greatest marine disaster in the history of navigation on the great lakes up to that time. In fact, then it was considered the greatest in the history of the world. The steamer Lady Elgin went down with her passengers and crew numbering 283. The then beautiful pleasure steamer collided with the schooner Evans, III. It was to have been an outstanding pleasure party with music and everything that goes with this party.

The Holland City News states that the Lady Elgin left Chicago about 11 o'clock in the evening of September 7, on her regular run for Lake Superior. On board were 300 excursionists that she had brought over that morning from Milwaukee, 50 passengers from Chicago and her crew of 35, making a total of 385.

As she was steaming northward with lights all set, the schooner Augusta, with no light, swept out of the gloom and crashed into the midship gangway on the steamer's port side.

Most of the Lady Elgin's passengers had retired; others were dancing to the strains of sweet music in the cabin forward, all unconscious of the impending danger and death soon to overtake them and panic seized them.

A lifeboat lowered to investigate the extent of the steamer's damage dropped astern and was lost in the night. Meantime the steamer was going by filling. As she began to sink many of the passengers threw themselves overboard.

Before the wrecked vessel took her final plunge within 20 minutes after she was struck, a heavy sea swept away most of her upper works and a number of passengers were killed. Of the 385 passengers on board only 98 reached shore alive, 18 in her two lifeboats, 14 on a raft and others on pieces of wreckage.

A large raft so heavily loaded with human beings that it was almost wholly submerged, was broken up by the waves before it reached the shore. Most of those who had sought escape on it, including Capt. Wilson, master of the steamer, were lost.

Following the collision, the Augusta drifted away in the darkness. So bitter was the sentiment against her as a result of the frightful tragedy, that her owners, in the effort to disguise her identity, soon after changed her name to Colonel Clinton. Later she was sent down to the Atlantic coast and was lost.

In commemoration of the tragic anniversary and of the heroism of a former student, there was hung in the halls of the Northwestern university, Chicago, an oil portrait of Edward Spencer, who, at the risk of his own life, unaided and alone, rescued 16 persons from the wreck. Mr. Spencer was a member of the sophomore class at the time. The portrait was bestowed upon the university by his friends, that students of the future might have a reminder of the heroic deed.

DR. VANDER MEULEN HASTENS AWAY

Dr. John Vander Meulen left Hope Memorial chapel yesterday directly after his convocation address had been delivered by him. He had to motor to Chicago in time for an address at 3 o'clock p. m. there. From there he expects to go to Louisville, Ky., his home.

Rev. H. J. Potter of Ackley, Ia., has returned to Holland after retiring from his pulpit to live on West Ninth street. Rev. Mr. Potter and family resided in the city for some time until a year ago when he accepted a call to the Iowa pastorate.

Faithful Case Kalkman, who never misses a meeting, was absent.

Mrs. Minnie Easing visited relatives for a few days in Hesperia and Muskegon.

WISE MINK STEALS ANGLER'S CATCH

Underized fish thrown back into the water and fish left on a stringer are furnishing easy meals for a family of mink which has made its home beneath the concrete south pier of the Lake Michigan harbor entrance at Charlevoix.

While one mink attracts the attention of the angler, another steals his catch.

Accustomed to the anglers on the pier, the mink are bold in presenting themselves.

COUNCIL NOTES

Alderman Peter Huyser led the members of the council and the audience in prayer.

Tony Dozeman made the following inspections: 179 East Twenty-seventh street, 200 East Twenty-sixth street, 60 Madison place, 157 East Fourth street, and 23 West Twenty-eighth street. The proprietors of these residences plan to come under the compulsory sewer act.

The committee later stated that they were unable to get satisfactory action from residences as follows: 185 East Twenty-sixth street, Bay View Furniture Co., Jacob N. Lieveens, Columbia avenue, 190 West Twenty-second street, 350 West Avenue, 354 Pine avenue, 15 West Twenty-eighth street, 36 East Twenty-seventh street, 44 East Twenty-sixth street, and 672 Central avenue.

Relative to the Bay View Furniture, the committee is to wait for them, Alderman De Cook stating that the company has been having a hard time through this depression and that the kind of a sewer they required was a tremendous expense and since winter was coming on, there was no more health problem, but nevertheless steps should be taken to have this work done by the first of the year. The danger in winter time is allayed nearly altogether, but the work must be completed before the winter is over.

A petition was brought in asking that Twenty-eighth street be sprinkled between Washington and Michigan avenues. It was left to the street committee.

At this juncture Alderman Bultman, who has not only been an excellent street commissioner, but had much to do with the early part of the laying of our side walks, stated, "If we go into the street sprinkling business, remember that we must have the sprinkling equipment, for I know of several other streets where the citizens would very much like to have the dust laid. It is doubtful whether more equipment will be purchased this year, with snow just around the corner."

Charlie Van Lente asked that he be given the privilege of opening a refreshment stand near the sugar company, the same as last year, and also a gasoline pump during the sugar beet campaign, for the convenience of the factory and the truckers. There was no objection to the stand but some objections were made about the pump. The matter is to come up at the next meeting.

The name of the Hotel Kraker is to be changed to Hotel Kraker is, that is, if Clare M. Asselheim is to get a permit to open it up. Some of the aldermen wanted the place inspected to see whether the hotel came under the rules of safety in the way of exits, fire protection and fire regulations. These inspections are to be made and the license committee with Ben Stefens as chairman, will report back at the next meeting.

Blanche Rogers asks for a permit to open an eating house on East Ninth street. Referred to the license committee.

Art Drinkwater states that the section for one of the boilers in the city hall is here ready to be installed. The boiler inspector had found one of the flues split, which is apt to give difficulty, and he ordered it replaced. Now there will be no blowout.

City Attorney Parsons has been ordered to draw up a contract that should the city have to pay to welfare indigents, they sign an agreement to reimburse the city. It is apparent that a rigid and not a promiscuously giving policy is to be followed should it get to that stage. It is a foregone conclusion that Holland or any other community could not possibly stand the load heaped upon it three years ago before the government took hold.

Relative to the filling of the city mudhole of about 75 feet at the Goodrich dock, Alderman Bultman, Alderman De Cook and Alderman Van Zoeren favored the improvement of this property. One said that the hole was impassable. Mr. Van Zoeren says that the place has not been used for years so that it will take considerable expense to repair that spot and Mr. Bultman says that it will take considerable piling at a great expense, with only the use of the ground for a short period of time. Herman Van Neut, who was a visitor, made strong objections, stating that by and by we would be fenced out of the entire lake. Alderman Ben Stefens wanted to see the city make its own improvement. Alderman Van Lente asked that the matter be deferred for two weeks and that is where it stands.

ALLEGAN FAIR ATTRACTS 15,000 CHILDREN DAY

Allegan county schools closed today to allow students and teachers to visit the county fair which opened yesterday and will be concluded Saturday. A vast throng of 15,000 persons passed through the turnstiles today.

Airport For This Vicinity Nearly A Fact

THE LOCATION IS IDEAL FOR BOTH THIS RESORT DISTRICT AND THE CITY OF HOLLAND

An airport for the Holland area, despite the outcome of the recent election, seems assured. Park township officials advise that they have options on a site near Waukazoo and are preparing an application for WPA funds for its improvement. The state department of aeronautics advises that an amount up to $24,500 will be available if the application is accepted as to be favored projects in general seem to be carried out and no doubt this one will be carried out to a successful conclusion. Park township is alert to provide employment for its citizens and realizes the great financial burden that will be thrust upon them in a few weeks if sufficient work relief projects are not provided. The airport site under consideration is of a sandy nature and will admit of considerable winter work. Col. Floyd Evans said when inspecting this proposed site, "It like this location because of its proximity to the resort region. Many resorts are now traveling by air."

Park Township took their stand on the proposal during the last ten days when the township board met with George Heneveld presiding. The township, we believe, has made a good business move, since a large part of their taxable property is from the resorts and air accommodations are bound to stimulate the coming of more visitors and the building of many more beautiful summer homes which will mean more roofs to tax.

Resorters who fly are also able to build fine homes and, too, are in a position to spend money while they are here. The flying field is centrally located. It is directly north and west of the road diverging from Lakewood boulevard to Waukazoo and turning towards Otawa Beach. In that curve, where there is plenty available and adaptable land for a wonderful airport.

As for location, it would be difficult to excel, since Lakewood boulevard, the new scenic drive to Otawa Beach and the newly traveled road through Beechwood all connect at that corner. The Beechwood road to Waukazoo will be given a "black top" next year. The location and accessibility are all that can be asked.

MEN FROM HOLLAND WILL GO AO G.O.P. "ROAST OF" POW-WOW

Michigan Republicans will gather at Johnson park, Grandville, Saturday afternoon of next week for a state-wide rally sponsored by members of the party residing in the Fifth congressional district.

Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, heading the list of speakers, will talk on state affairs. Nine members of the U. S. house of representatives will be present and will discuss national affairs.

In addition to Rep. Carl E. Mapes, in whose district the meeting will be held, congressmen who will attend are Albert J. Engel, Ninth district; Roy O. Woodruff, Bay City, Tenth district; Clarence J. McLeod, Detroit, Thirteenth district; Earl C. McInerney, Adrian, Second district; Joseph P. Wolcott, Port Huron, Seventh district; Geo. A. Dondero, Royal Oak, Eleventh district; William H. Blackney, Flint, Sixth district. Rep. Harry M. Kimball, Kalamazoo, is ill and will not be able to attend the rally as planned.

The meeting of the Michigan congressional delegation at Grandville is believed to be the first time such a gathering has been held and is indicative of the esteem in which Rep. Mapes is held by his colleagues after 24 years of service in the house.

Other events on the day's program include a baseball game, field day events and a barbecue "roast of."

Among those from Holland expecting to go are William C. Vandenberg, Republican state central committee; Attorney Charles V. McBride; Representative Ed Brouwer; Justice John Gallen; Attorney Art and Charles Van Duren, former Mayor E. P. Stephens; Van Duren; John A. Amdur; Attorney Nelson Miles; Attorney Orlan S. Cross; Attorney Vernon Ten Cate; William Connelly; Judge Fred T. Miles; Attorney Raymond Smith; "Andy" Klompers; John Vogelzang; Leonard Vogelzang; Mayor Nicodemus Bosch; Randall and Manatou Bosch; Howard Lillard; Art Wrieden; Ben Mulder and scores of others.

HOLLAND POST OFFICE TO START WITH SHORTER HOURS

Postmaster Louis J. ### Think It Over

As he signed the so-called neutrality bill, Mr. Roosevelt remarked that "it is the policy of the Government by every peaceful means and without entanglement to co-operate with other similarly-minded governments to promote peace."

The World War has already cost the United States more than $50,000,000,000 in cash, without counting upwards of $12,000,000,000 of war debts that Europe is not likely ever to pay, and the end is not yet.

It also cost this Country 50,000 men killed and more than 180,000 wounded.

The utter dislocation of the world's economic structure caused by the war has cost us billions upon billions of dollars and its evil effects will be felt for generations to come.

And from the misery to which it reduced many countries in Europe have sprung those desperate adventures in Communism and Fascism which are influencing many minds within our own borders.

Anyone in this Country who is toying with the idea that we ought to mix in another European war to bolster up "the high moral purposes" of any European power whatsoever, will do well to ponder what it cost Americans to do that in 1917.

A Crude Monkeyshine

If men want to get drunk and make monkeys out of themselves, that's one thing.

When they try to recapture escaped monkeys by inducing them to become inebriated, that is another and, according to the S. F. C. A., quite different thing.

A dozen or so of the simians which recently escaped from a private zoo on Long Island sampled the bourbon whiskey that was set out as a "trap" for them and the next day were observed staggering about in a drunken daze. Only three of them returned to the zoo. A fourth one died.

Confining wild animals for the amusement of human beings would seem to be sufficient interference with their natural life, without introducing them to one of the least estimable of human failings.

Radio's Moments of Pathos

Probably the greatest unheard heart throbs ever broadcast was during one of Maj. Bowes' Sunday hours some months ago. The major remarked that one of the greatest showman of the country had just stepped into the studio and, although he had not secured his permission, he was going to ask him to the microphone. The late Charles Dillingham responded and told of a vibrant young girl coming to him one time about a stage career. She had been in a high school play in native Illinois. Dillingham said she became one of the greatest dramatic actresses and wound up: "That girl was the fine artist you all know as Margaret Hillington." There was a great lapse—perhaps 50 seconds, enormous in broadcasting. Finally an announcer calmly said: "The next number will be so and so." But every listener knew that Maj. Bowes, hearing the unexpected tribute to his wife, had been completely overcome.—McIntire in his New York column.

CHANGE IN CLOSING AT ZEELAND POST OFFICE

Beginning October 1, 1935, a change in the closing hours of the United States post office at Zeeland will go into effect.

At that time the new ruling by the post office department that all employees now working 48 hours per week will be reduced to 40 hours per week will take effect.

This will permit the postal clerks and other helpers now out of employment to be put to work.

The new closing hours will be at 6 o'clock p. m. week days except Saturdays, and at 2 o'clock p. m. every Saturday.

Miss Beatrice Kinney, a Grand Rapids nurse, will be in Holland this week to conduct Red Cross home hygiene classes. Notices for the meetings have been posted in all factories where female help is employed. Officials of Kent county have been anxious to re-engage Miss Kinney, but through the efforts of Ernest C. Brooks of Holland the nurse will continue her classes.

DR. JOHN M. VANDER MEULEN OF LOUISVILLE, KY., PUNCTUATES LIFE

Hope college formally opened its school year yesterday morning with convocation exercises in Hope chapel.

Dr. De Boer, president of the Scripture lesson and led in prayer. Jack Bos and the Hope college chapel choir provided music for the session.

New Members of the faculty who were introduced by President Wichers were Miss Martha Gibbs, librarian; Otto Yntema, professor of history; Oscar Bale, professor of Latin; Dr. Roland Shackson, instructor in English and speech.

Friday morning regular class-work will begin at the college. Dr. John M. Vander Meulen of Louisville, Ky., former professor at Hope college, spoke to the students. His subject was "The Punctuation Marks of Life."

He stressed that college is not a preparation for life, but rather it is life, in which the punctuation marks play an all-important part. He asked that the students of Hope college never forget that life is a question mark, and that they ask questions freely throughout their years in college.

Mr. Vander Meulen said that comas were for pause and continuity. "Look at your life in its perspective and you will find God. Continuity in life," he said, "is ability to take it on the chin, and stagger on in face of trouble."

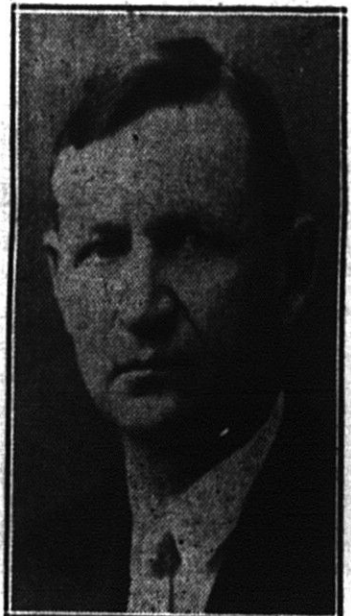

The explanation mark, he pointed out as the enjoyment in life; not only for oneself, but for others. In this respect he has asked the students to let the professors know when they had done them some good, and also show appreciation of life and out of doors by thanks to God.

Periods should be used frequently in life. He urged that college students acquire the habit of finishing tasks, and making complete preparations; not trusting to inspiration or luck to carry them to a successful end. He said that there was a tendency to cling to the past, but advised that students employ the period in his respect, and let the past be a great remembrance rather than a bitter reality.

HOFFMAN SUPPORTS "ROOSEVELT OF 1930"

Representative Clare E. Hoffman of the Fourth district added his views on the constitution Wednesday to those of numerous leaders of both parties, expressing the belief that the country will soon face a choice between a strong federal government or one in which rights and privileges are reserved for the states.

"There is no room for political partisanship in the determination of this question," Hoffman said in an interview Wednesday. "I believe as did Franklin D. Roosevelt when in 1930 as governor of New York he said: "The preservation of home rule by the states is a fundamental necessity if we are to remain a truly united country."

Attorney Hoffman of Allegan said the present administration has brought this problem into sharp focus and that the legislation enacted by the seventy-fourth congress had the sole purpose of centralizing the power of federal government.

LIGHTNING LAST MONDAY EVENING DESTROYED BARN

Fire by lightning resulted in the destruction of the barn on the farm of Mr. Alfred Wiggers, three miles south of Forest Grove Station, Monday night at about 10:30 o'clock. The place was under the process of construction and is to be occupied by Mr. Wiggers who is still a single man. There was also a partially constructed house on the place but this was not damaged by the fire. There was no one at the place at the time of the fire, but neighbors saw the bolt strike the barn, and almost instantly the blaze enveloped the building.

The building was of moderate size, and was insured for $500, and it contained about five tons of hay besides some farm machinery. The total loss has not been determined, but it is estimated that the insurance recovered will run about $750.

Lightning also struck the barn on the farm belonging to Sietse Baron, located three miles east of Borculo, Monday evening. The damage is slight.

Polite Warden Aids Visitors

Visiting fishermen from Ohio and other states enjoyed a new experience with conservation officers when Roy Lamoreaux made his rounds just before the bass season opened.

Instead of the usual warning they were told where the best bass waters could be found, given suggestions as to bait, told a few good fishing stories and provided with a copy of Michigan fish and game laws, if not already in possession of one.

When Lamoreaux covered his district a few days ago he was met with welcome and the assurance that the fishermen would return next season.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Prins and children of Holland spent Sunday afternoon visiting their mother, Mrs. Minnie Langhuis, at her home on East Cherry street.—Zeeland Record.

How Many Fish Caught in 1934?

If 16.3 fish were caught per acre during 1934 in Fife lake near Traverse City, how many fish were taken from all of the inland lakes of Michigan?

Just about 13,000,000, estimates the Institute for Fisheries Research of the department of conservation. And if laid end-to-end they'd reach from Detroit to Spokane or from southeastern Michigan to Los Angeles, distances of approximately 1,800 miles.

In arriving at these figures, the institute used several sources of information. From various data used it estimated that all of Michigan's inland lakes have an area totaling approximately 830,000 acres.

Through a census conducted by CCC men it learned early this year that Fife lake near Traverse City, which probably is more productive of fish than the average upper Michigan lake and less productive than the average lower Michigan, produced 16.3 fish per acre that averaged 8.5 inches during 1934.

Assuming that the production of Fife lake is equal to the average production of Michigan's inland lakes and that the estimate on total acreage is near correct, the institute calculated that the inland lakes of Michigan produced about 13,500,000 fish during the year.

It also was estimated that the average fisherman took approximately 27 fish during the year.

Baby Flicker Feeds on Ants

MOTHER'S TONGUE IS FOOD GATHERER

Ants may not sound like the best of baby food, but if you were a baby flicker there is nothing you would rather have. In fact there is probably little else that your mother flicker would give you, for she is especially built for gathering ants and pumping her little ones full of them.

As an ant-gathering machine, the adult flicker is really a marvel. He or she does not get them up one by one. This would be far too tedious a process of collecting as many as 5,000 ants for a single stomach-full. The flicker picks out an anthill on the lawn or perhaps in the field and probes down with its bill to get the ants all excited.

Then the bird sticks out its two-inch tongue and plunges it down into the ant nest. The tongue is sticky as flypaper, and once the ants are attached to it, they can't get loose. The flicker merely draws the tongue inside its bill to get a nice meal, or carries the ants back to her babies and feeds them.

Of course, the flicker eats a great many things besides ants, but they are the easiest to get all summer. Grasshoppers and crickets, cutworms and chinch-bugs are all welcome in the flicker's bill of fare.

The flicker babies stay in their nest, which is a hole in a tree or a deep nesting box, scarcely two weeks. Often one of the youngsters may refuse to leave the nest with the others, which introduces the parent flickers to the complex problem of feeding her wandering tribe and caring for the less daring of her offspring. Often the youngsters will follow the parents around for over a month, and usually keep together in family groups until fall.

While "flicker" is the most common name, this bird has over 100 different names. Most common are such names as high holder, golden-winged woodpecker, yellow hammer and pigeon woodpecker. It is a large bird, fully as large as the well known redheaded woodpecker. It has considerable yellow under the wings, which especially may be seen in flight. The best distinguishing mark is the conspicuous white rump, and it is the best field mark at a distance. It is the only woodpecker with a brown back.

COMMON COUNCIL

Holland, Mich., Sept. 12, 1935. The common council met pursuant to charter provisions to canvass the vote cast at the special election held on Monday, Sept. 9, 1935.

Present — Mayor Bosch, Aldermen Vande Lune, Drinkwater, De Cook, Damson, Huyser, Bultman, Van Lente, Vogelzang and the clerk.

Absent — Aldermen Prins, Kalkman, Van Zoeren and Steffens.

The clerk stated that the charter provides for a meeting on Thursday following an election to canvass the vote.

The mayor appointed as a special committee to canvass the vote Aldermen Vande Lune, Vogelzang and Damson.

After a brief recess the committee reported as follows:

Proposition No. 1 — Loan for Municipal Airport:

Yes, 657; no, 544.

Since a three-fifths vote was required to carry the proposition, which in this case would be 721,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the proposition be declared LOST.

Proposition No. 2 — Loan for park and cemetery improvements:

Yes, 936; no, 258.

Since a three-fifths vote was necessary to carry the proposition, which in this case would be 717,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the proposition be declared CARRIED.

Proposition No. 3 — Loan for playground improvements:

Yes, 864; no, 314.

Since a three-fifths vote was necessary to carry the proposition, which in this case would be 707,

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the proposition be declared CARRIED.

Adopted.

Mayor Bosch called on Alderman Drinkwater, chairman of public buildings committee, for a report in regard to repairs to the boilers in the city hall. Alderman Drinkwater reported that since this matter had been referred to his committee with power to act, they had gone ahead and received bids, and reported for the information of the council that Ray Lighthart was the low bidder and the committee had awarded the contract to him for this work.

Mr. Drinkwater then called upon Alderman Huyser to report in regard to the necessary improvements to the boiler at the old hospital building, now occupied by the Knickerbocker society. Mr. Huyser reported that their committee had also received bids on the necessary repairs to this boiler and to the heating system in general; further, that Ray Lighthart was also the low bidder for this work, and recommended that the contract be awarded to him.

Adopted.

Alderman Van Lente brought up the matter relative to traffic officers at the intersections near the schools. It was the mayor's contention that no time should be lost in arranging for guards, the same as last year, to protect children in crossing the streets. In the discussion that followed, it was brought out that this matter could no longer be handled by the county welfare organization, and if the city wished to employ these guards, they would have to finance the expense.

After considerable discussion, and on motion of Alderman Van Lente,

The clerk was instructed to inform the police department to arrange for the necessary guards, same as last year, such guards to be under supervision of the police department and the council to arrange for the necessary expense.

The clerk presented application by Simon De Boer for a building permit to erect a gasoline filling station on the northeast corner of Michigan avenue and Thirty-second streets. In this connection, the clerk also presented a communication from the appeal board to the effect that they are unanimously approving of the application, and further that same also had the approval of the fire chief as required by ordinance.

In the discussion that followed, it was brought out that this territory is now zone das "residential," and in order to change the classification, it would be necessary to have a public hearing on the matter, and for this reason the council was reluctant to approve of the application of Mr. DeBoer at this time. In the discussion following, it was brought out that the request was made by Mr. De Boer at this time due to the fact that the state highway department was asking him to deed a strip of his property to the state for right-of-way purposes. This strip that the highway department desires, fronts on Michigan avenue and is of a depth of from 17 to 25 feet.

Mr. De Boer, who was present, stated that if he deeded this strip of property to the state, it would spoil it for residential purposes, but if the council was agreeable to giving him permission to erect a filling station, he had no objection to the request of the highway department for this strip of land. After considering the matter from several angles, it was moved by Alderman Huyser, seconded by Van Lente,

That the application of Simon De Boer be granted.

When the vote was taken, there was a tie of 4 to 4, and the mayor called for another vote. The result of this vote was also a tie of 4 to 4. Thereupon, mayor stated that he would give the aldermen 6 days to look into the matter and would call for another vote at a regular meeting on September 18.

A GREAT CHRISTIAN LEADER
(James 1:1-17)
Henry Gerlings

It appears from our records that Jesus had four brothers, and at least two sisters, all younger than he. Two of his brothers, James and Jude, became influential leaders in the early church.

But it is a curious fact that, during the lifetime of the Master, James stood aloof from his brother. Like the rest of Joseph's family he did not believe on him. Apparently he maintained his skeptical attitude to the end of Jesus' life, even after many hailed him as a prophet, a teacher sent from God.

He knew his brother too well to share the belief of the Jewish leaders that he was an impostor. Their intimate companionship in Mary's pious household saved him from that blasphemous folly. But he regarded him as an idealistic dreamer, a religious enthusiast who was beside himself and whose unjust and untimely death fulfilled his fear that his zeal would lead to disaster.

Accordingly, James gave no sanction or support to Jesus' public ministry. Even in the tragic events of the last week, his name does not appear. He did not stand, sorrowing, beneath the cross, nor hasten to the tomb with the tokens of love and mourning.

But then a great change occurred in the life of James. The only keep to his transformation is furnished by Paul. In his summary of the appearances of the risen Christ, he says "then he was seen of James."

The precise circumstances of this event are unknown to us, through the apocryphal gospel, according to the Hebrews relates some of its details. We do not know the time, place or manner of this appearance of Jesus to his brother, but it was a decisive event in the life of Jesus. It made him a wholehearted disciple, who took an important part in the history of the apostolic age.

He is the author of an epistle and it bears a strong resemblance to the Sermon on the Mount, and shows an intimate acquaintance with the mind of the Master.

In general, the letter is a treatise on practical Christian conduct.

It affirms that faith without works is dead, and it couches its moral teachings in proverbs and parables, after the Jewish manner. Obviously, such teaching is a vital matter to religion. It was greatly needed in apostolic times, and it is equally pertinent and important today.

And there is no contradiction whatsoever between Paul's emphasis on justification by faith, and James' stress on works. The two are complementary aspects of full-orbed Christianity. They maintain that faith in Christ, without a corresponding character and conduct, is without value. It is a mockery of God, and a scandal before men.

The brief section printed for our study is taken from the first chapter. Trials are sent to perfect the Christian character. Patiently endured, they help us to achieve the crown of life promised to all that love God.

He also tells us how we should receive the word in Christ, not as rash and bold speakers. It is not enough to listen to this word of truth; we must translate it into action.

He next speaks of the blessing vouchsafed to one who patiently hears and ponders the perfect law, the law of liberty, and orders his life in accordance with its precepts and promises. Finally, he frames a famous definition of pure religion: The rites and ceremonies of religion have no value at all, unless they help us to bridle our tongue and practice brotherly love and unworldliness.

These sententious moral teachings require no further commentary. Their practical wisdom is self-evident. Each verse, almost, is a separate pearl. Together they form a necklace that should adorn the heart of every sincere Christian. Yet, how the reading of these sayings convicts us of sins of omission and commission. One and all, they reflect the mind of the Master.

Agnes before Christ, Micah had told Israel what the Lord requires of men—to do justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with God. But it still remains a counsel of perfection for all of us. When the lives of those who profess the name of Christ are filled with justice, mercy and humility, we shall manifest his glory to men, and establish his kingdom.

TOWNSEND IN VERSE

The Christian Herald gives the Townsend plan in verse as follows:

Cheer up, Grandma, don't you cry,
You'll wear diamonds by and by;
When the Townsend plan goes through
How we all shall envy you.
No more worry over bills,
Butchers' duns or doctors' bills,
No more panic over rent—
Leave that to the government.
You can soar away full fledged
With the over-privileged.
Lead a life on pleasure bent,
But you must spend every cent.
Whoopie! Grandma! Keep alive—
Life begins at sixty-five.

Adult Indigent Cases Problem In This County

Water appeared before the board to ask that the board investigate adult hospitalization in this county in order to cut the number of cases which she stated had greatly increased in the past two years, due to the ease with which they could secure treatment. She declared it was getting to be a "racket," taking up an undue proportion of the probate court's time and an added expense to the county for stationary and files which were necessary.

She declared that information based on the attorney general's office was that she was not obliged to act on any cases other than those designated to Ann Arbor, the state hospital, for treatment.

She stated that in order to assist the local hospitals in the county to receive a share of the cases which had formerly all been sent to Ann Arbor she consented to act in the matter, assigning the cases to the local hospitals and investigating and keeping the record of all of which she declared was considerable work and which was increasing at a lively rate.

She pointed to the fact that supervisors would frequently recommend patients to her who had been designated to county hospitals, before being properly investigated, and many were finding it an easy way to get assistance, and were taking advantage of the situation.

Asks for Committee.—She suggested that a committee be appointed to investigate the situation and to possibly appoint a permanent committee before whom all cases must come before being sent to hospitals.

She said in regard to the state hospital the county probate court must act, but that she did not have to give service for the local hospitals and notified the board that after May 1 she would no longer act. Due to the special committee that was appointed not having sufficient data at that time she continued the work longer.

In August a special session of the board of supervisors was called to receive the report of the special committee. At this time the committee wanted to contact the probate judge as to her stand on the matter, which in view of the prosecutor's opinion was contrary to her statements. The judge was not in the city, however, and there was no report made at that time.

Request Judge to Meet Board.—Peter Damstra, member of the committee, moved today that the judge be requested to come before the board, to explain her stand. He said that in surrounding counties the work was handled through the physicians and the probate court in satisfactory manner but until they had some definite statement from the judge, they could give the board no advice, although they had spent months in trying to make a report that would adequately suggest some measures to care for adult indigent hospitalization in this county.

Mr. Damstra also pointed out the futility of attempting to secure PWA or WPA funds for projects in this county unless the county was willing to share at least 30 per cent of the cost.

Not one project has been put through for Ottawa county thus far, he stated. He cited the drain commissioner's projects wherein the county was willing to spend but $1,000 on a $50,000 project.

Reforestation Committee.—The report of the reforestation committee was received wherein the committee suggested reforestation of barren areas in this county to cost $69,630.25. In order to secure any federal funds the committee suggested that between $25,000 and $27,000 be appropriated by the county, if this county is to receive any consideration from the federal government. The reforestation committee includes Peter Damstra, Frank Garbrecht and Frank Hendrych.

The decision of Cora Vande Water came after this report of Monday's session and that decision is foregoing in this article.

TREASURER BEGS TIME

Those who have sent tax money through the mail to County Treasurer Den Herder, should not be alarmed about not receiving receipts for same at once.

Since the law allowed the payment of taxes on the ten-year installment plan, the mail that has been coming into the office has been so heavy that the office force is working night and day to get out receipts to all those who sent money in this way. The treasurer asks that these people be a little patient as the receipts will be mailed to them as soon as they can be made out.

The following figures have been tabulated by the county treasurer and will give the public some idea of the money that has been coming in:

Taxes collected August 1 to 15, $22,837.14; taxes collected August 15 to 31, $29,502.65; taxes collected August 31 through September 15 from the mail, $25,807.91; taxes collected August 1, through September 15, including mail.

Olivet Man Proves Car's Reliability

While 1935 automobile models are undoubtedly the best that manufacturers in Michigan and other states have ever put on the market, no better example of the long life of the American automobile can be found than in the records of the Department of State, where it is commonplace to find cars 15 years old being re-licensed year after year. Original owners seldom keep them for any such periods though. A 1918 model touring car, however, has been registered continuously since that year in the name of Harry W. Sine, Route 1, Olivet. The title number is 229,663, and as titles have been numbered consecutively since the title law was enacted, this means that only about a quarter of a million automobiles had been registered in Michigan when the Olivet man bought his car.

Water-Villages Holland Thrill

(By Edwin Robert Petre)

No traveler knows Holland unless he has seen at least one water-village. It was told that one of the loveliest was Aalsmeer, so I took the train from Haarlem and had a most fascinating experience. Aalsmeer consists of one long, straight village street; in fact, no more than a narrow towing path with a canal on either side. Small swing bridges connect the houses with this towing path, and many of them are entirely encircled by water. Each one solitary, picturesque and prosperous.

The villagers propel their barges by means of a pole, to take to market the strawberries and box trees for which Aalsmeer is famous. The box tree nurseries are the most curious I've ever seen. For here the industry has existed for 200 years. In the rich peaty soil, the box trees are trained into every conceivable shape, balls, men, dogs, lions, sofas, chairs, ships and birds.

It all looked as if some enchantment had waved his wand over a menagerie and turned all living things into box trees. At the November flower show, which I attended, the chrysanthemums were as fine as I've seen anywhere.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerit Brink at South Blenden was the scene of a pretty wedding last week Thursday evening when their daughter, Miss Henrietta Brink, became the bride of Mr. Arthur Vander Beek, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. Vander Beek of Holland. The single ring ceremony was performed by the groom's father assisted by Rev. J. A. Stegeman, uncle of the bride of Muskegon Heights. In the presence of sixty guests. The vows were spoken before an improvised altar of ferns, hydrangeas and gladioli. Prior to the ceremony, Manley Stegeman, uncle of the bride, played Camille's "Nuptial March," and Mr. John Vander Wal sang "Until" and "Promise." The bride entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride wore a dress of pink georgette and carried a shower bouquet of white roses, lily and sweet peas. The bridesmaid, Miss Alma Van Der Reek, sister of the groom, wore a dress of blue organdie and carried a bouquet of tea roses and scabiosa. Mr. Harvey Brink, a brother of the bride, was best man. ## AMERICAN LEGION

The next post meeting will be held on October 9, the installation on the wrong Wednesday throw the program off. So keep it in mind, October 9.

A crowd of about 150 legionnaires from the four county posts attended the installation at the Log Cabin tavern on September 18. Everybody had a good time and a good lunch.

Two teams of ten men each are now working on membership. This campaign will run for at least a month, so if any of the boys ask for your $3 hand it over and get your receipt.

The losing team will have to pay for some sort of a treat, but such a minor point has not yet been decided, it may be just ice cream cones.

John Althuis did a tap dance out at the Log Cabin last night. The Grand Haven band played such a hot number for an accompaniment that John scorched a hole in his coat.

And Al Joldersma had Miller's convention bell on his car. Charlie pulled the cord all the way up and back and attracted no little attention. Even the engineer on one of the freights going through West Olive looked around to see if he was running on a double track.

Commander Bos believes in getting started on time. He has the crowd working on the Christmas toy drive. If you run across any discarded or outgrown toy while doing your fall cleaning call Doc, or somebody, it will be called for.

The auxiliary is still making plans for their installation. That bunch is like the national election—elect one year and install the next. Maybe they are going to make a Christmas party out of it and invite the Legion boys in.

LEGION OFFICERS INSTALLED AT "LOG CABIN"

Dr. Gilbert D. Bos assumed his office as commander of the Willard G. Leenhouts post of the American Legion at a joint installation of county posts at the Log Cabin, near the intersection of US-31 and M-50 last night.

He succeeds Henry Cook, who was presented with a past commander's button by Cliff Lomnie of Sparta, district committeeman, presiding officer.

Sam Elhart was installed as commander of the Zeeland Legion post, and Harry Matter, who has served in the past year, received a button from his post.

Officers of Grand Haven and Coopersville posts also took office in the meeting attended by 150 World war veterans, more than 50 of whom were from Holland.

PROJECTS ALLOWED BY GOVERNMENT

The president Thursday approved an allotment of $2,384,000 in federal funds to be used in carrying out the works progress administration program in Michigan. It was announced by the division of applications.

In the list Ottawa county came in for $26,918; Allegan county gets $22,111.

The state works progress administrator will designate certain projects, totaling $2,384,000, for which the funds will be used so that the program may be expedited. The allocations by counties for supervision of school playgrounds and athletic fields, city play areas and parks, swimming on public beaches, summer camps and other recreational programs are included.

William Denny, 45, was found guilty on a charge of turning in a false alarm. Witnesses were Officer Ernest Bear, who arrested Denny Sept. 10 near River avenue at Eighteenth street; William Stokete and Ted Wyma.

"Kazoo" Mayor Bears Great Bard's Name

HIS IS WM. SHAKESPEARE, BUT SPOKE BEFORE HOLLAND EXCHANGE CLUB THREE YEARS AGO

Bearing the name of the immortal bard of Avon is not nearly so important to Mayor William Shakespeare, Jr., as being known as the mayor of Kalamazoo. Study the works of the great Englishman, holds only small interest as compared with the study of economics and its application to the administration of a municipality's business. And when it comes to claiming relationship to the great writer, the mayor simply states: "William Shakespeare had but one daughter, and she died without issue. So if I were to attempt to trace back my relationship it would have to be through some of his less-accent relatives, and that doesn't interest me."

As a matter of fact Mayor Shakespeare seems just a little bored with his name. "It takes a good bit of patience to receive with courtesy and calm all the facetious remarks that are offered by way of intended pleasantry when I meet strangers," he says. "But I always try to remember that they are entirely unaware of the hundreds of predecessors who have tried to be equally facetious. And we get over that part of the business as quickly as possible."

"My family never paid any attention to its name," says the mayor, "and I've made no effort to find others by the same name. However, I did meet a factory worker in the Waltham Watch factory whose name was William Shakespeare, and I know that at one time a man by the name of Shakespeare was mayor of New Orleans. I don't know what his first name was."

Forbear Was an Editor
The Shakespeare from whom Kalamazoo's mayor is descended were early settlers in Michigan. His father, William Shakespeare, was a lawyer. His grandfather, John, was a building contractor, and his great-grandfather, whose name the mayor does not recall, was a blacksmith. His uncle, Andrew Shakespeare, was at one time owner and editor of the Kalamazoo Gazette.

The mayor did not pass on the first name of the bard of Avon to either of his sons, the elder of whom was named Monroe for his mother's family, and the younger, Henry, "for Henry George, the single taxer," Mayor Shakespeare explains.

Nothing holds for the mayor the keen interest that he finds in the study of economics. Mayor Shakespeare visited Holland nearly 3 years ago, during the deepest gloom of the depression and gave a timely lecture on money credits and nations economics "set-up". The "Merchant of Venice" and his "pound of flesh" did not enter in the money talk at the Warm Friend Tavern at that time.

HOLLAND STRETCH ALL THAT IS SLATED FOR COUNTY ROAD BUILDING

Berand Kamps, county road commissioner and Carl T. Bowen, county engineer, were in Lansing a few days conferring with road officials as to the probability of receiving state or federal aid for road building in Ottawa county.

According to information they received it looks as if there will be no road building under state or federal funds other than the stretch south of Holland, or the Saugatuck cut-off.

There is a crying need for widening US-16, declared the county officers, as several bad accidents and two deaths this summer have demonstrated, and US-21 in Ottawa county is one of the worst stretches in the county for that type of road. There probably will be some work in the county done under WPA, stated Mr. Bowen, but that will depend on the action at Washington, D. C., where the county projects are on file.

SAUGATUCK WOMEN PLAN ACTIVE YEAR

Saugatuck Women's club is looking forward to a year filled with activity. The programs for the year as arranged by Mrs. D. A. Heath, Mrs. C. H. Sekell and Mrs. P. D. Knold are: Oct. 4, reception to the school faculty; Oct. 18, book review by Mrs. James C. Parker of Grand Rapids; Nov. 23, Dr. J. Arthur Brock of Saranac, lecture on "Michigan Sugar Industry."

Members of the board of directors of the Women's Literary club held their initial business meeting of the year following a one o'clock luncheon Tuesday at the home of the president, Mrs. J. D. French. On October 1 the opening of the club season will take place in the form of a luncheon at the Warm Friend Tavern.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bosman were honored at a farewell party Saturday night at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Bralley at Idlewood Beach. The Bosmans left Monday for Miami, Florida, where they will make their home. Eight tables of bridge were in progress with Mrs. William Lokker and Dr. William Westrate winning first prizes. Mrs. Gerrit Geerts and John Kammeraad took second honors.

Experience in the Florida Hurricane

News of the first harrowing experience of being in a tropical storm was received by a friend from Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Wright of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of Saugatuck.

Lights out, water shut off, a ferocious gale of 75 miles per hour, torrents of rain pouring into their apartment from a part of the roof had been taken by the storm. Great damage to their building with debris strewn throughout the city which residents claim to be the worst storm St. Petersburg has ever gone through. Also crops badly damaged; but they are very thankful to have escaped injury.

After all, our good old state of Michigan is well protected from severe calamities, and we would be delighted to welcome back our friends for safe keeping, and thankful for their escape. Saugatuck Commercial-Record. The news might add that many Holland folks winter in St. Petersburg, among them Hub Harrington and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Blekkink, Mr. and Mrs. Charles French and others.

ZEELAND DOESN'T VOTE ON PROJECTS

The Zeeland city council passed the appropriation of $27,500 for the annual budget for the fiscal year of 1936 for current operations and fixed debts at the regular meeting Monday evening.

All sidewalks on Main street between Elm street and Church street will be repaired. The city will make the repairs, caused by the widening of the street, and assess the property owners 5 cents a foot.

Rev. H. E. Ostendorp and Rev. A. Jabaay, representing the ministers' conference of the city, appeared before the council in regard to the entertainment and concessions to be staged at the homecoming. City Attorney J. N. Clark said all concessions were regulated by charter provisions.

GUARDS AT THE SCHOOL

The board of police and fire commissioners at its bimonthly session Monday authorized the police chief to appoint guards in the school zones for the safety of children, for which the council ordered the necessary appropriation. The wage of the guards was raised to 40 cents per hour, with competent welfare labor preferred.

HOLLAND BOYS THINK OF THANKSGIVING TO THEIR SORROW

Lyle Rau and Mennon DeVries, both of Holland, were arraigned before Justice Cook Monday charged with stealing turkeys. The theft took place three weeks ago. Rau is spending 25 days in the county jail and must spend 45 days more if he does not pay $16.75 fine and costs and half the value of the turkeys. Mennon is serving 15 days. He must pay costs of $11.75 and half the value of the turkeys or serve an additional 15 days. Allegan News.

PICKLE STATION DOING A RUSHING BUSINESS

(Coopersville Observer)
Among the busy places in this and surrounding communities have been the pickle stations. Production has perhaps passed its peak. Many times during the past weeks cars and trucks have been lined up for some distance, waiting their turn at the plant.

H. Veldehor of North Holland, has been in charge of the H. J. Hein station in Coopersville and he reports that pickles were received from more than 50 acres. Many of the growers had to replant several times this year, but in spite of the season, the crop has been fairly good and of an excellent quality. The percentage of crooks and nubs has been unusually low. Allan Cook has been assisting Mr. Veldehor at the local station.

As one sees the hundreds of bushels of pickles arrive at the station, the question arises, "What becomes of them?" Mr. Veldehor informs that with new equipment installed recently at the Holland plant cared for 5500 bushels in one day, of the No. 4 grade, which consists of the larger pickles which are used for slicing, relishes, etc. This "care" included washing, slicing, cooking and bottling.

Vance Mape of the West Michigan Furniture Co. has returned from a business trip to New York.

The board of police and fire commissioners ruled Monday at its regular meeting that relief clients will be given preference in the selection of traffic watchmen at intersections near Holland schools. They are to be paid 40 cents an hour. Chief Van Ry pointed out what he termed was a newboy nuisance at the corner of River avenue and Eighth street, and declared that the boys are darting in and out of traffic in a dangerous manner. It was suggested that the age of newboys be established at 16 and on Henry Ketel's motion the problem was sent to committee for additional study.

Miss Katharine De Witt was placed back in the Detroit house of correction Tuesday to complete her parole period while awaiting trial in circuit court on a shoplifting charge.

Oscar Petersen, A. J. Westover and Dr. G. A. Stegeman, all members of the Grand Castle lodge of the Knights of Pythias, attended the grand lodge meeting in Ypsilanti Wednesday.

City Engineer Jacob Zuidema attended a dinner meeting of city and county engineers held in Muskegon. R. J. Moson, regional WPA official, addressed the group.

Thirteen men from the Quartermaster Corp Subsistence school made a tour of inspection of the H. J. Hein Co. plant Tuesday night. Capt. Paul P. Logan headed the group.

LOCATE CULTIVATOR BELIEVED STOLEN

A John Deere 2-horse cultivator believed to have been stolen, is now awaiting its rightful owner, Sheriff Fred Miller of Allegan county declared today. The cultivator was located recently and is believed to be part of the loot of an unknown thief. Sheriff Miller is holding the implement until its owner is known.

Little Known Facts About Banking

What Happens When You Deposit Money

Well informed depositors know that a bank does not hold their money in its vaults and pay back the same dollars they deposited. No bank could do this and be of any real use to its community. Dollars are not put in the bank to loaf or sleep, but to work.

The bank lends money to manufacturers for raw materials; to merchants to buy goods; to farmers to carry crops to market, and so on.

So when you deposit money in the bank you do not store it selfishly away. You add it temporarily to the active working fund used to make business better, and living conditions happier and more prosperous for everyone in your community.

JULY SHOWS NICE INSURANCE GAINS

The agents of the Hastings Windstorm Insurance Company during July added $5,690.24 to the new insurance to the growing volume of that company's insurance risks. When it is considered that July is ordinarily a dull month for getting new policies, it can be seen that this is a splendid record. Farmers were very busy during July; and it is among the farmers that the great bulk of the windstorm company's insurance is secured.

This splendid increase in volume of business of this big and successful insurance company during one of the business seasons of the year, speaks more eloquently than words of the standing of the company throughout the state.—The Lowell Ledger.

Common Council

Holland, Mich. Sept. 4, 1935.

Common Council met in regular session and was called to order by the Mayor.

Present: Mayor Bosch, Alds. Prins, Vande Lune, Drinkwater, Kalkman, Van Zoeren, De Cook, Steffens, Damson, Huyser, Bultman, Van Lente, Vogelzang and the Clerk.

Devotions by Ald. Van Zoeren. Minutes read and approved.

Regular order of business was suspended and the Mayor gave his message.

Messages from the Mayor

Mayor presented a message to the Council and citizens of Holland calling attention to the Special Election on Monday, Sept. 9, 1935, for the purpose of voting on a proposed bond issue of $23,000. This being the amount required as the city's contribution to finance three W. P. A. projects. The Mayor further states that the U. S. government will contribute in labor and material an amount of approximately $70,000 for these three projects providing the voters approve of these bond issues.

The message further states that during the past year an amount of $146,981.76 was spent to provide for Holland's welfare and for this reason urges the people to approve of the bond issue in order to provide work instead of dole for the needy and thereby greatly reduce the cost to the City of Holland. The message further states that these are worthwhile projects and provide a large amount of labor in comparison to the material cost, and when completed will be of lasting benefit to the city. The Mayor states further that as a taxpayer he will vote for the bond issue.

Accepted and filed.

The regular order of business was then resumed.

Petitions and Accounts

Clerk presented several applications for building permits.

Granted subject to the approval of City Engineer and Building Inspector.

The City Engineer recommended that Mr. Schutten transfer at least one foot of property from the adjoining lot to this one in order to make the required five feet.

Recommendation of City Engineer adopted and building permit held up pending such action by Mr. Schutten.

Clerk presented operating report of the Mich. Gas & Electric Co. for June.

Referred to Board of Public Works.

Clerk presented report from Hartford S. B. Insp. & Ins. Co. covering an inspection of the City Hall boilers. The report recommends certain repairs before the beginning of the coming heating season.

Granted unananimously.

Reports of Standing Committees

Committee on Ways and Means to whom had been referred the matter of selling the city-owned residence at 29 West Third street and 218 East 16th street, reported having received three offers, but in their judgment none of these bids were high enough, and recommended that they be rejected.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

THERE is better news for the week-end shopper this week. Meat prices have eased a trifle — fish prices are lower and fruits and vegetables are back to normal both in supply and price.

Good eggs are very moderate in price, the best fresh eggs have probably come close to their peak for this season. Butter is advancing slowly.

McIntosh and Jonathan apples, Niagara and Concord grapes as well as seedless, Malaga and Tokays are now available. Grapefruit are more plentiful now that Florida has started to ship her new crop. Peaches, pears, plums and fresh prunes are plentiful and very moderate in price. Melons continue to be inexpensive.

Here are three menus suitable for Sunday dinner.

SCHOOL—DRIVE SLOW

4000 of Holland's young people are again crowding our school facilities to the limit. Twice each morning and twice each afternoon they are also crowding our streets to capacity—all at the same time. This mass hazard puts real meaning to the sign: "SCHOOL, DRIVE SLOW."

As they dash across the street, their minds filled with their lessons and their games, we must be more than ever careful that no child will be hurt.

Western seminary preached at the American Reformed church Sunday.

A large representation of Hamilton attended the Hope college opening Wednesday morning. Those attending Hope are Mildred Strabbing, Margaret Roggen and Ivan. The George Chalmers Paving Co. is making rapid progress in the paving of M-40. Weather conditions have been favorable so far. Last week, Wednesday, was a record day when 1,050 feet of pavement 20 feet wide was laid. The road through town is being kept open and the heavy traffic interferes with the workmen a good deal. One-half of the 36-foot strip through town is being finished and it is expected that as soon as this part can be opened to traffic, the last part will be rushed to completion. The company has placed about a mile of drains; the entire street has been leveled and widened, compelling the removing of trees and sidewalks. Hamilton is thus undergoing a real job of face lifting and it promises to be a very great job indeed. Furthermore the operation is a painless and profitable one. Very little inconvenience is experienced by the residents. Local material and men are used as much as possible. Mr. Chalmers is driving a new Chevrolet coupe, which was purchased at the local garage and is considering the purchase of two others. Taking it all in all, it is rather a striking fact that the new pavement is not only an improvement but it has also brought several thousand dollars worth of business to the town.

Earl Monroe of Chicago and Walter Roblyer of Ganges were the guests of Justice W. B. Monroe during past week-end.

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Roggen attended the Ministers' Social circle at the parsonage of the Overseer Reformed church last Monday.

Miss Rita Nells was honored at a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Marian Paulus, 154 East 21st street. Bridge was played and the prize was awarded to Miss Ruth Collins. Guests were: Miss Mary Glass, Mrs. Pete Paulus, Mrs. Fred Nells, Miss Mildred Rummier of Holland, Miss Hazel Schaer of Chicago, Miss Ruth Collins, Misses Marian and Vivian Paulus, Miss Billy Nells, Mrs. Catherine Bush of Grand Rapids, Misses Irene and Agnes Sheehan of West Olive and the honored guest.
