Holland Held An Unusual City Primary

TOTAL VOTE CAST NEARLY FOUR THOUSAND; THREE FIFTHS OF POSSIBLE

Republicans name full ticket; Two Amendments also carry.

Holland and Ottawa County, in fact the state of Michigan held an unusual primary Tuesday, where United States Senators, Governors, Lieutenant Governors, representatives in congress, state representatives and county officers were named on different party tickets.

In Ottawa County there were only two ballots to be voted for, namely the Republican and Democratic ballots.

The Republicans had opposing candidates for every office including the county clerk, William Wilds having no opposition, drain commissioner, Fred Van Wieren of Park Township being unopposed.
Coroners, W. B. Bloemendal of Grand Haven and Gilbert Vandee Water of Holland having no opponents, and County Surveyor, Carl Bowen also having no opposition.

For the rest the battles were hard fought for months. Cards, announcements, and personal work was resorted to almost night and day, with the result that the following county officers were elected by greater or lesser majorities.

TOTAL PRIMARY VOTES
COVERING EIGHT
YEAR PERIOD

The total primary vote in Holland Tuesday was 3,974. Of this number 2,893 were republican, 1-081 democrats. The primary vote was considerably larger this time than in 1934, when the total vote cast was 2766.

In 1932, a presidential year, the total vote in Holland was 4,866, while in 1930 an off year so-called, the total vote was 3308.

A tremendous vote was cast in 1928 when the total vote was 5,039, within less than thousand of the total registered vote. This year the vote was about three fifths of the possible vote that could be cast if all registered voters came to the polls.

Haven, the treasurer, Atty. J.
Thomas Mahan of Holland and Attorney Jarrett N. Clark of Zeeland for circuit court commissioners and John R. Dethmers of Park Township for prosecuting attorney were the winning contenders, Judge Cora Vandee Water winning by an outstanding majority.

A tabulated vote of the entire county of the above named nominees as well as the vote of their opponents is given in a tabulated statement in this issue embracing Holland and the entire county.

The democrats had no county ballot since the candidates for the respective offices had no opposition and consequently are nominated. In that case the law provides that the names be not placed upon the primary ballot.

For governor the republican nominee for county state is Frank Fitzgerald who won with an overwhelming majority.

For United States senate Wilbur M. Brucker, former governor, won over James Couzens in Holland.
Ottawa County and in Michigan.
Faithful old Carl Mapes, representative for twenty-two years at Washington won the nomination overwhelmingly in Holland and Ottawa County as well as in Grand Rapids and Kent County.

Ed Brouwer of Holland for state senator also won overwhelmingly in Ottawa county and received fine recognition in Muskegon against the two candidates there. Mr.
Brouwer was former representative for Ottawa county from Holland.

Nelson A. Miles of Holland is the nominee on the republican ticket for state representative of Ot-

TWO AMENDMENTS CARRIED

The two amendments, the one a straw vote prohibiting the sale of liquor in the city of Holland on Sunday carried.

The second amendment which changes the charter so the mayor, and the city attorney will in the future be members of the board of supervisors also carried. This means that mayor Henry Geerlings and City Attorney Parsons will meet with the board after next April as will any other mayor or attorney elected in the future.

The vote was as follows:

Liquor Amendment—

	Yes	No
1st Ward	423	252
2nd Ward	96	73
3rd Ward	381	178
4th Ward	454	256

pital in Grand Rapids for treat-

Election Notes

It appears that Carl Mapes won the nomination for congressman of the fifth district by more than 9,000 plurality. McAllister won in the district on the democratic ticket by possibly 5,000 plurality.

The hardest worker in Ottawa County for a position was Benj.
Van Loo, candidate for register of deeds. Mr. Van Loo undoubtedly did more personal work, put out more cards and banners and circular letters than any other candidate. Mr. Van Loo phoned the Holland City News that altho' his defeat was a great disappointment, he nevertheless would back the republican ticket one hundred per cent and was going out to work for the party from now until election night.

George Caball of Zeeland, defeated candidate for state senator on the democratic ticket, is a politry man, but that does not say that he counted his chickens before they were hatched. Quite a coincidence that Earnest Brooks of Holland, who defeated this poultry man will have to try conclusions with another poultry expert on the republican ticket at the November election, namely Ed Brouwer. What Ed doesn't know about hens is something. He has been a poultry judge and was secretary of the Holland Poultry association for many years.

Rather an unusual vote is that of John H. Meyer, defeated candidate for treasurer who received 214 votes in the 4th ward and 214 votes in the 1st precinct of the 5th ward. The same can be said of John Den Herder, the winning candidate who received 111 votes in the 1st precinct of the 5th ward and also 111 votes in the 2nd precinct of the 5th ward. In the tabulation of Daniel F. Pagelsen, Circuit court commissioner, he received 88 votes in the 1st precinct of the 5th ward and also 88 votes in the 2nd precinct of the 5th ward.
William Beeve, defeated candidate for sheriff received 37 votes in the 4th ward and 37 in the 5th ward, 1st precinct. In some instances there are an even 100 votes and 222 votes, 111 appears often, 444 and 555 appear once. Such figures are always rather interesting when glancing over a tabulation.

Ottawa county voters stood by Rep. Carl E. Mapes for the Republican congressional nomination in yesterday's voting and accorded Garrett Heyns of Holland the largest margin in the Democrats' bid for the same office. Mr. Heyn's, however, ran behind in Kent county losing the race to Thomas F.
McAllister.

Among the other unusual things about election, Peter Lievens had no votes in Robinson; Jacobsen for Congress, had no votes in Geotown; Lionel Heap, for Congress, had no votes in Jamestown and Brown, for the U. S. Senate on the Democratic ticket, also had no votes in Jamestown. The figure 6 appears more often in the totals received by Democrats than any other figure.
21 candidates on that ballot received only six votes each, not enough to go around.

There are 13 candidates who each received 5 votes but there is no significance of it because the candidates only received a nickel's worth. Frank Van Etta of Holland had a majority of 99 votes for sheriff. It seems somebody ought to dig up one vote, then Frank would be 100 per cent.

In the circuit court commissioner's race two southern county men won the nominations. J. N. Clark with 4307 votes and Thomas Mahan, 3240; Daniel F. Pagelsen of Grand Haven was defeated with 3147 votes which places the two offices for circuit court commissioner in the southern half of the county.
This office demands the qualifications of an attorney, the only one in the entire list of national, state, and county officials.

Atty. Nelson Miles' majority of 1198 was gained in most of the Holland precincts and in many of the townships of the county. He has been a practicing attorney in Holland for several years. The Democratic opponent at the general election, Nov. 3, will be Fred Kamfer-beek of Holland, a former Ottawa county sheriff, who had no opposition at the primary.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Commenting on the outcome of Tuesday's primary in Michigan, Sen. James Couzens defeated for renomination on the Republican ticket, said: "Having given more than 20 years to official public service, I am sincerely pleased to be relieved of further responsibility.
It is too early to determine what my future occupation will be, but I am quite sure I will find something to do."

The tabulated statement on Page 2 gives the complete return on the Republican ticket in Ottawa County.
Holland included. It also gives the complete return of the Democratic ticket with the exception of Blendon. A phone call from County Clerk, Wilds, gives the information that there were only 9 Democratic votes polled in Blendon for the different candidates, and these few will not alter the results in the least.

From all appearances with the partial vote in, Governor Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge won a renomination for Governor over Fitch of Detroit by more than 300,000 votes.
Frank Murphy, democratic nominee for governor won over Geo. Welsh of Grand Rapids by at least 70, 000 votes, with three fifths of the returns in.

An election "upset" took place in the second ward, it is the first place if there are any Democratic wards in Holland, the "bloody" second is it, and has been so considered for fifty years. This how-

Lightning Renders Men Unconscious

TWO MEN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Four Holland men left this city for a golf game at the Holland country club Friday afternoon. It was a fine day to start, however, it was not so reassuring when black clouds gathered in the West. The men kept on playing and Jess Ridenour and Howard Lillard had finished the first 9 holes when rain began and had quickly gone to the club house.

Mayo Hadden and Ted Baker had not quite finished the course of nine holes when the rain came down in torrents. As a partial shelter they hurried under a tree near by hoping that the shower would soon be over.

The down pour was accompanied by heavy thunder and vivid lightning. Suddenly a flash darted down from the sky and the bolt struck within 15 feet of the tree where Hadden and Baker were standing. After the flash the men were thrown at least 20 feet from the spot where they had stood.

Both men were unconscious.
However Mayo Hadden was although partially paralyzed he succeeded in crawling to Ted Baker and endeavored to help him. Howard Lillard and Jess Ridenour seeing what had occurred, rushed to the side of the prostrate men and resuscitation was begun. Hadden and Baker were partially conscious and responded quickly to this aid. Ted Baker, however was rushed to the Holland hospital where he was placed in the care of a physician and a nurse at that institution. After a bad night he felt somewhat better next morning although a rather numb. This feeling passed away as time went on and Mr. Baker was taken to his home. He is now back at his place of business, little the worse for his unusual experience.
Mr. Hadden too has fully recovered.

The lightning bolt where it struck the ground left a deep hole four by six feet. Another freak of the electricity is evident where it had burned the ground and left a groove from the hole toward the prostrated men. The ground shows that the lightning had gone to within a few yards of where the men lay.

Mr. Baker when asked how it felt to be struck by lightning stated that there was no feel to it—that he never knew what had occurred until he found himself in bed.
Mr. Hadden's experience was somewhat similar.

Man Struck by Lightning Tells Just What It's Like

(Grand Rapids Herald)
(By Hugh Lago)

There is absolutely no consciousness that anything has happened.
In an unexpected instant, everything goes blank.

Nothing is heard or seen and there is no awareness of a great shock or blow.

Consciousness, when it returns, brings numbness and a great deal of pain.

That is how it feels to be struck by lightning.

Ralph Kenney, age 48, near Grand Rapids, told a Herald reporter about it Saturday. Kenney was in Butterworth hospital where he was brought Friday night after having had the unusual experience of being struck by lightning—and living to tell about it.

What Happened
"I was in my barn milking, at about 6:15 o'clock," Kenney said.
"Paul Feutz and his father, who weren't touched by the lightning, were working in the other end of the barn. The last thing I can remember, I was emptying a pail of milk into the strainer. I was standing near the barn light switch. The next thing I knew I was in my house, half an hour later.

The lightning bolt apparently came from the light wire and through the switch box. It tossed me about six feet away from where I had been standing and knocked all but three of the 19 cows in the barn, off their feet. Paul Feutz and his father put out the fire in the switch with a pail of milk and took me into the house. The barn had recently been wired for lighting, but lights hadn't been installed yet. The whole wiring job was destroyed."

Numbness All Over

When he regained consciousness Friday evening, Kenney said, his feet and legs were so numb that he could not stand on them. The numbness was gone Saturday, he said, but he was experiencing a great deal of pain in his hands, arms and neck. The nerves extending from his thumbs and first two fingers on each hand and running up the arms to the neck ached; the fingernails and the skin on top of each arm were painful to touch. The two lower fingers on each hand felt perfectly normal.

Kenney also had a badly bruised and blackened left eye Saturday, the result of being thrown against the edge of a cow stall, rather than a direct result of the lightning, he thought. And a good thing, too, he remarked smiling, that the eye wasn't blackened on a Saturday night, or it might have looked bad for him.

ever, is not borne out by the election year since there are 123 Republican votes and 55 Democratic votes. The large Republican vote can be attributed in a measure to the Sheriffship fight since this is Van Etta's home ward and he got 87 out of the 123 Republican votes, the other candidates sharing the few remaining votes.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Miss Jennie Kanters left Holland for Rockford, Ill., to attend to her studies in the women's seminary there. Note: She was the daughter of the late Rokus Kanters, at one time a wealthy citizen, "a harbor builder," and mayor of Holland. Her home was the large house just east of the Holland Theatre. In the early days this was Holland's social center. For many years she was librarian at the Holland Library, first when it was located over Keefer's Cafe on West Eighth street and later nearly up to the time of her death in the present city Hall. She not only was a handsome woman but well read and cultured. She was never married.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fairbanks of the Township of Fillmore,

Last Monday 25 carloads of peaches of 24,150 baskets were shipped from Holland over the Chicago and West Michigan Rail Road to Chicago.

The Chicago and West Michigan Railroad is busy putting up a depot at West Olive and is laying three miles of road from new Richmond south on the "main line".
Five new baggage cars and four new coaches have also been built for the road. Note: The depot at West Olive is now 50 years old and it looks that old and more. The C and W M is now the Pere Marquette.

Last week Friday the Life Saving crew came to Holland for the first time with their surf boat to get a week's supplies of groceries and meats. They made the trip in forty minutes. The new station has recently been finished and a crew established at Holland with Capt.
Charles Norton as "skipper".

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

On August 30 the marriage of Mr. John Karreman of Holland and of Dagney H. Solosch of Grand Rapids, formerly of Holland, took place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Anthony Karreman, brother of the groom. Note: Mr.
Karreman was formerly a jeweler in this city, associated with his step-father, H. Wykhuisen a pioneer jeweler of Holland. Mr. Kar-reman later became city treasurer.
They are now living in Charlotte.

Sunday evening the death of Johannes Van Lente, occurred at the age of 76 years. He was a member of C. O. L. 25th Michigan infantry and served in the Civil War for three years. Surviving are the widow, three daughters, Mrs. John De Graaf, Mrs. James Vander Hill, Mrs. Anthony Van Ry and two sons, Frederick J. and Ralph Van Lente. Note: Mr. Van Lente was the founder of what was known as the "Old Van Lente choir". This was in the days of the old fashioned "Singing School" with practicing one night each week at "some-bodies" house, where there was an organ, generally an "Esty".

A man of 24 has married a woman of 96 in Missouri. In addition too hooking her waist he'll also have to look for her spectacles. Note: coming from Missouri it is presumed the young lady could "show him".

Socialist Berger of Milwaukee, of the House of representatives at Washington has introduced a bill providing a pension of $4.00 a week for every person, 60 years old and over. This would cost the government, $350,000,000 a year. Note: This was considered radical 25 years ago but, $200.00 for "Ma" and $200.00 for "Pa" each month paid for by him, Dick and Harry who make only $100 a month and work for it, is a different matter again. This today would make even Berger scratch his head, were he still living.

If jumping a fifty-cent board bill at a hotel or restaurant is an offense that calls for an imprisonment, what should the sentence be for one who buys $50 worth of groceries from a store and leaves the account unpaid? The boarder eats the provisions at the hotel and the grocery customers eats the provisions at the home. But in either case the provisions are unpaid for by the customer. Note: Possibly—Blackstone makes no provisions for cases of this kind—only a lawyer who knows the ramification of the law can put us wise. Undoubtedly John Mikula of the Holland service bureau has a solution—he generally does.

AFTERMATH OF BOSMA SHOOTING

Jay Lee Candiff, age 30, of Ionia, who was first arrested as a suspect in the shooting of Police Chief Fred Bosma of Zeeland was sentenced to six months in a Michigan penitentiary for a naval uniform.
Judge Fred Raymond of Federal court passed sentence yesterday afternoon.

The vote on this question was 96 to prohibit on Sunday and 73 to not prohibit the sale of beer.

The change of the charter having to do with the placing on the Board of Supervisors the Mayor of the city and the City Attorney, which passed in favor of the change by nearly 700 majority, was very little discussed and created no excitement or press comments, there was one circular against it, the newspapers printed the whole proposition or a part of it for the enlightenment of the voters. The liquor question was about the tamest campaign ever to come up in this city.
These liquor battles have always been bitter ones but this one surely has been dispassionate, without arguments or the remotest campaign from either side that anyone is aware of.

The Sylvian Literary Society of Holland college had a breakfast at the Warm Friend Tavern Thursday morning. Nearly all the members were present and plans for the coming year were discussed.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The late William T. Powers of Grand Rapids, father-in-law of Dr.
Ledeboer of Holland, erected the opera house on Pearl street bearing his name in 1870. While thus engaged he caused a well to be sunk which proved to be an arterian. It was right aside of the opera house in the "Arcade" also built by Mr. Powers, from Pearl to Lyon streets. The flow of water was continuous and the fountain is still playing after 41 years. Mr.
Powers, because of this well, also installed health baths in the basement of the theatre but these did not prove as popular as was expected. Note: There was a time when the Pearl street Arcade was a Grand Rapids "show place", with fountain and pyramid fruit stands, all drolled up in the center with small store booths in fine dress along side. Folks from Holland who didn't visit the Arcade, missed something and friends who were to meet generally said, "meet us at the "Arcade". Today it is a dirty hole in the wall used only as a quick exit from Pearl to Lyon streets. Powers Opera House in its day was a beautiful playhouse far ahead of the times in a city of that size. The great artists of yesterday "trod before the foot lights", when the illumination was still gas lights. Mansfield, Lillian Russell, Anna Held, Robert Mantell, Eddy Foy, Blanche Walsh, Denned Thompson, Thomas Jefferson, Viola Allen, Herman and Keller, John Drew, the Barrymores and scores of other celebrities were seen by the writer at beautiful Powers of years ago. Those were the days when fine horses and carriages with a footman brought the Grand Rapids elite to the theatre entrance.

The News devotes nearly a column to the marriage of Miss Della Hoppers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Hoppers, East 12th street and Harmon Den Herder of Zeeland, son of C. J. Den Herder the banker.

Lightning struck the spire of the Free Methodist church on Pine ave. and 17th street. The building, 10 minutes before, was filled with members attending services but these had been dismissed. The Steeple was badly shattered by the lightning bolt. Upon investigation it was found that painters who had recently painted the church had left a wire exposed at the very tip of the steeple and it is felt that this was a good conductor to invite the lightning from the heavens.

A glance at Holland's official thermometer, on September 1st, would convince anyone that the man who makes the weather did not take in consideration that this was the day to throw straw hats in the discards—it was 91 degrees.

Miss Cornelia Bazaan, has entered Butterworth Hospital, Grand Rapids, to take a course of training as a nurse.

The new rifles which arrived for the Holland Rifle club, proved very effective. Wm. Woldering scored 95 out of possible 100 with R. S.
Porter second with 93, Henry Koops 92, Charles Van Zyl 91, and Althuis 90.

The following delegates were chosen by the Women's Auxiliary to attend the state convention at Kalamazoo: Anna Whelan, Janet Von Tongeren, Mrs. G. J. Van Duren with Mrs. F. Girard and Mrs. Anna Vischer as alternates.

Dr. George E. Carrothers, director of the bureau of cooperation with educational institutions of the University of Michigan, is the first speaker on the program Friday morning. His subject will be "New Materials in Education."

Dr. Clifford Woody, professor of education and director of the bureau of educational reference and research at the state university, will be heard in a talk on "New Materials in Grade Supervision."

A panel discussion on the above topics will follow, the members of the panel being Supt. Benjamin Klager of Bay City, John Jelich of Bad Axe, Charles L. Poor of East on Rapids and H. A. Wood of Muskegon.

Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock there will be a conference banquet at which time awards will be made for the "best recreationists" of the afternoon. An address will be given by Dean J. B. Edmondson of the University of Michigan on "Educational Policies as They Govern the United States as a Whole."

Supt. L. C. Mohr of South Haven will open the program Saturday morning with a talk on "Teacher Tenure to Date," while Supt. Earl H. Babcock of Grand Haven, will follow with a talk on "Teacher Retirement."

The conference will hear a committee report on "Financing School Buildings" by Supt. Harold Steele of Jackson.

"Removal of the office of state superintendent from partisan politics" is the subject of a committee report to be given by Supt. Edgar F. Down of Ferndale.

A. J. Phillips, executive secretary of the M.E.A. will speak on "The Program of the M.E.A."

Holland Filled With Culture At End of Week

ONE HUNDRED FIFTY SUPER-INTENDENTS OF SCHOOLS,
GUESTS OF THIS CITY
TODAY AND SAT.

Holland has been accorded the honor of entertaining the annual conference of Superintendents of the Michigan Educational Association, which convenes here September 18th and 19th. A year ago, E. E. Fell, Superintendent of Holland Public Schools asked William M. Connelly, Manager of the Chamber of Commerce, if Holland would welcome this convention and do its part to entertain the visitors.
Immediately the many attractions of Holland as a convention city were laid before the officers of the Association, a tentative program was presented together with a pressing invitation, then followed the decision to hold the 1936 conference at Holland.

Many things are weighed when selecting the place for conventions of this type; among them are: hotel accommodations, out-door attractions such as golf, boating, fishing and scenic trips; industries of an interesting character; the standing

Mr. E. E. Fell, Holland's able superintendent of Public schools for a quarter of a century.

of the public schools and the record of the superintendent.

The faculty of Holland Public Schools will take a hand in planning the entertainment. The Teachers Club will provide a fleet of courtesy cars, the Chamber of Commerce will compliment the ladies with a luncheon at the Warm Friend Tavern and has arranged for boat trips, fishing guides and golf trophies. Many manufacturers are supplying quantities of attractive souvenirs. The Chamber of Commerce special committee is composed of Vaudie Vandenberg, Frank Lievens, Andrew Klompars, John Arendshorst and Henry Geerds.

About one hundred fifty superintendents are expected and many of them will be accompanied by their wives. The visiting educational men will open their conference Fri. morning in the Warm Friend Tavern with F. Roy Phillips, Alma superintendent and president of the organization, presiding.

Dr. George E. Carrothers, director of the bureau of cooperation

University of Michigan, is the first

Allegan County News

Last Monday marked the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bird of Saugatuck and they held a reception for their friends at their home that afternoon. Both have been residents of the village 70 years. They are the same age—81 years. Both take an active part in the life about them. Early each morning Mr. Bird goes to his drug store, putting in several hours work, which he thoroughly enjoys. Mrs. Bird is active with her home work and enjoys her church and club work also. For many years she sang in the Congregational church choir. Both she and Mr. Bird joined this church more than 60 years ago. Mr. Bird came to Saugatuck with his parents in 1866 from his birthplace, Wheaton, Ill. He was married to Miss Hattie Wright, a foster daughter of a pioneer doctor. Seven children were born to this couple, two are deceased. Harry and his wife were killed in an automobile accident in 1914. Two young sons were uninjured, and they were reared by the grandparents. A daughter, Helen, died in infancy. The remaining children are Carl and Cary of Saugatuck, John of Allegan, Mrs. Hazel Sullivan of Greenville, S. C., and

Mrs. Elita Graves of Royal Oak. There are eleven grandchildren. The three sons served in the World War, Cary and John going overseas. Mr. Bird always has been a staunch Republican and today is proud of the Landon badge he wears. He has the record of being the longest on the job in the town, as for more than 60 years he has been in the Corner drug store, in which he served his apprenticeship as a youth (the old wood building has been replaced by a modern brick structure). He bought the store in 1875 and three generations of Birds have served there.

Miss Ruth Van Appledorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Appledorn of this city, was awarded a scholarship at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music. She was graduated from Holland high in June.

HAMILTON

Mrs. Justin Schervink was taken to the Holland hospital Sunday morning and is in a critical condition.

Rev. Isaac Scherpenisse, Dr. G. H. Rietveld, Rev. J. A. Roggen and Albert Klokert attended the meeting of the classis of Holland which held its meeting at the Central Park Reformed church, Monday and Tuesday. The base ball season for the local Independents is over. It was one of the best seasons a local team has enjoyed. The boys won 13 games, lost 6 and tied 3. Lugten and Wentzel were the regular hurlers and pitched a splendid form in a nip and tuck contest between themselves. The rest of the team, however, gave them good support on defense and the fact that six of the men batted over 300, while two others were close to that mark shows that the team was also strong on offense. All the boys work hard during the day and it can easily be understood that often they would have preferred to remain at home to rest up instead of paying a strenuous game. They received "nary a penny" for their hard work, doing it with the purpose in mind to create a community spirit. Here is a vote of thanks to the team and manager, Wm. Ten Brink. To make it right, the boys should be treated to a big chicken dinner.

Margaret Roggen visited at the home of Ruth Van Anrooy of Holland Sunday.

A heavy vote was cast at the primary in this village, Tuesday. The Republican ballots outnumbered the Democrats 4 to 1. This vote, however, was largely due to the fact that Bert Voss, a local man, was running for sheriff on the Republican ticket easily winning by a 3 to 1 vote. Mary Lubbers, candidate for Register of Deeds, also from Hamilton, received a similar majority. Brower for sheriff and John Poppen for circuit court commissioner, won on the Democratic ticket. Brucker, Hoffman, Fitzgerald and Mosier were easily winners on the state ticket.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

September 20, 1936.

Christian Living—Romans 12:1-3, 9-21.

Henry Geerlings

In this lesson Paul is addressing the Roman Christians. They had already been converted and he is telling them what further work they should do. They had repented of their sins, professed belief in Christ and had been baptized. But the apostle evidently knew that they had not made a full consecration, and had not attained the state of grace that they should and so Paul is instructing them to that end.

Christians ought to relate their lives properly to God. That comes first. Such dedication of oneself to God ought to appeal to us as the sensible thing to do. If we do not consecrate our lives to God first of all, none of our relationships can be right. We must start there or we do not start at all. We ought to be willing to do it on the basis of our common judgment. If we consecrate our lives to God it will follow that our relationship to the family, to our neighbors, to the world, to business, to politics, to pleasure, and to everything else will begin to be right.

Christians must relate themselves properly to the world. We are in the world but not of it. Our conduct protests against the world. And by world we do not mean its mountains or its rivers or its cities or its business. What we mean is the ways of worldly-minded people. There is nothing evil in this world unless men have made it evil. To do as the world does is to fall in with its schemes and to accept its suggestions. If we think and talk and act as the world does we have not separated from its company.

Christians must be transformed in thought and heart. The word transformed is the same that is translated transfigured what happened to Jesus on the mount. It is a rich word and is descriptive of a transformation of the inner life. Instead of being brought into agreement with the world we will come out of it and be separate.

Christians will not think more highly of themselves than they ought to think. A proper self-appraisal of ourselves is very valuable. For every person who suffers from an inferiority complex there are ten at least who are suffering from a superiority complex. Just as soon as we overestimate our appearance and ability we have gone far toward destroying our influence with others.

Christians will relate themselves properly to the church. In a sense this is necessary to the completion of our relationships. The first is toward God, the second toward the world, the third toward oneself, and the fourth toward the church. The members of the human body are helpfully related the one to the other; and so are the members of the church. The church members have different gifts and offices. No one is able to do everything. The necessity of each doing his own work and of all working together in the church is vividly set forth.

Christians must be sincere. The word means without wax. In the olden days when a piece of marble had a flaw in it, the sculptor would often fill in those flaws with wax. When it was without wax it could be said to be sincere. Genuine is another word meaning the same thing. In our love and in our giving and in our sympathy we are to be whole and sound, to be what we pretend to be.

Christians are to be earnest and zealous. Here is the defect of most of our churches. They are not enthusiastic. There is so little fire in them. They are without that passion which indicates real earnestness for the salvation of souls and the edification of believers. We rarely go about our work as though we had hearty interest in it. There is nothing that dies so quickly as religion when the fires burn low. If the church in the next twenty-five years does not recover something of its lost radiance, and something of its abandoned spiritual purpose and passion, there will be a sad story to tell. Christians will need the assistance of the Holy Spirit. Many struggle with the difficulties in endeavoring to live up to the Christian standards as set forth in the New Testament, and forget or ignore the power that God offers us to enable to overcome the world, the flesh and the devil, and so many come to the conclusion that it is impossible to live up to New Testament standards. It is impossible for man in his own strength to do so, and that is why Christ came, to open in the house of David a fountain for sin and uncleanness of heart and life; and the Holy Spirit has been sent into the world not only to cleanse from all sin, but to endue us with power to overcome the world and all its forces.

said that they had remodeled the hotel, had put in new equipment, had spent a great deal of money, left it all in Holland and continued now to get their supplies here and she felt that the establishment was entitled to relief. Mayor Geerlings stated that he had been dealing with this vexing question for some months now. He saw the hotel's side of the question but said that a garage and service station was a business of such a nature that there would be more or less noise. The whole matter is to be left to the Police Department who will make further investigation and report to the Common Council at the next regular meeting. Many other matters of public interest are found in the official Common Council proceedings as compiled by City Clerk, Oscar Peterson.

OFFICIAL COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS
Holland, Mich., Sept. 16, 1936. The Common Council met in regular session and was called to order by the Mayor.

Present: Mayor Geerlings, Aldermen Vande Lune, Drinkwater, Kalkman, De Cook Oudemool, Stefens, Damson, Huyser, Bultman, Vogelzang, Smith and the Clerk. Devotions by Rev. Henry Van Dyke.

Minutes read and approved. Petitions and Accounts: Clerk Peterson presented several applications for building permits. Granted subject to approval of City Engineer and Fire Chief. Clerk presented application No. 159 by Harold C. White for building permit to erect a gasoline filling station at 261 E. 8th St. Referred to the city Appeal Board.

Clerk presented operating report of the Michigan Gas and Electric Co. for June.

Referred to the Board of Public Works.

Clerk presented communication from Clara M. Assenheim of the Hotel Netherlands complaining about the noise and disturbance from the Garage across the street at the southeast corner of River Ave. and 9th St. Mayor Geerlings reported that these complaints had come to him and he together with the Police Department have investigated the conditions at the garage. He further stated that he had conferred with the night patrolman who was on duty after midnight, and while it is true that there may be times when there is a certain amount of noise caused by trucks driving to this station for gas, he does not believe that conditions are as bad as outlined. Mrs. Assenheim who was in the audience addressed the Council and reported that on different occasions she has had guests leave the Hotel because they could not sleep on account of this noise.

After some discussion by the Aldermen.

It was moved by Alderman Bultman, seconded by Huyser, that the Clerk address a communication to the Police Department requesting them to keep in touch with the situation at this garage and report back to the Council at their next meeting.

Committee reported that according to Ordinance, the bond must be approved by the Council and for this reason was bringing it to their attention since there had been some complaint relative to the Council's action in granting Mr. Finch a license to hold his auction. After a brief discussion.

The bond was approved.

REPORTS OF SELECT COMMITTEES
City Clerk reported that if there were no objections, the canvass of the vote in the City at the special election held in connection with the Primary Election on Tuesday, September 15, 1936, which in accordance is required to be made on the Thursday following election, could be taken up at this time. It was so ordered by unanimous vote.

Mayor appointed a special committee composed of Aldermen Bultman, Damson and Oudemool to canvass such vote.

After a short recess, the special committee appointed to canvass the vote cast at the special election on Sept. 15th, 1936, on amending the City Charter so as to provide:—

1st: That the mayor and City attorney, together with the city assessor and two supervisors to be elected at large, shall represent the City of Holland on the Board of Supervisors of Ottawa County, Mich., and

2nd: That the Board of Review of the City of Holland shall consist of the mayor, city attorney, city assessor, city engineer, two supervisors and the chairman of the Ways and Means committee of the Common Council, and

3rd: That the term of office of the city treasurer, city attorney, health officer and the several constables be for two years instead of for GAL 18 NEWS respectfully report that they have made such canvass and that the result is embodied in the following vote:—

Yes—2538
No—1381.

On motion of Alderman Bultman, seconded by Damson, RESOLVED, that the two above propositions as set forth having received a majority of the votes cast therefore, be and the same are hereby declared CARRIED.

Said resolution prevailed all voting Aye.

Mayor Geerlings reported that he had met with the Public Building Committee together with the Playground Commission and members of the School Board relative to installing a heating plant in the grandstand at Riverview Park. The Mayor stated that since football games will start very soon, a heating plant should be installed immediately. There was considerable discussion by the Aldermen relative to the City obligating itself for any further expense in connection with Riverview Park. It was reported that the different organizations using the Park were to pay 5% of the gross receipts and if this were done, it would be enough to take care of the heating plant without any further expense to the City. Mayor recommended that committee of five be appointed to have supervision over the activities and improvements at Riverview Park, this committee to work with the Playground Commission in looking after the City's interests.

Recommendation adopted. Mayor Geerlings stated he would appoint his committee later.

AQUARIUM OCTOPUS BEGINS
4th MONTH IN CAPTIVITY

The octopus in the Shedd aquarium, on Chicago Lake Front, began its fourth month in captivity yesterday and, according to aquarium officials, is in better health than the day it arrived from Florida waters. The octopus has far surpassed in longevity the captivity record of northern aquariums and is matching the records of the California seashore aquariums where an octopus lives three to four months. It remains a favorite attraction among A Century of Progress visitors.

At the end of the morning 18, Smith was 3 down and at the end of the first nine in the afternoon was 6 down and 9 to go. He then gave a display of tournament play that might have won the title for him had he started earlier. He carried the fight to the 16th hole where he was eliminated 3 and 2.

KENNETH OSBORNE DR. JAMES E. WARNER ELIZABETH E. LICHTY

ORGANIST

Kenneth Osborne will succeed the late W. Curtis Snow as head of Hope's Music Department. Mr. Osborne, who received his B. M. and M. A. at the University of Michigan, comes to us from Detroit where he was organist and choir director of the Brewster Pilgrim Congregational Church. Mr. Osborne announces monthly organ recitals to be given the first Sunday of each month at four o'clock. He says that he expects the Chapel Choir to be one of the most alive organizations on the campus. It will supply musical training for the students and act as a "mother organization" for other musical activities. He plans to have the Choir sing special music frequently in Chapel. The group will present a concert in the spring.

PROFESSOR

Dr. James H. Warner, new English prof., comes to Hope college from Monticello, Ark. where he has served as head of the English department for the past three years. Formerly an instructor in English at the University of Iowa, he also taught in the Manila high school on the Philippine Islands and at Tusculum college in Tennessee.

This new instructor received his doctor's degree at Duke university in 1933 after having studied at the University of Chicago. He also holds a master's degree from Northwestern university and a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Indiana.

DEAN

Miss Elizabeth E. Lichty, of Madison, Wisconsin, comes to Hope college this fall to fill the chair formerly held by Mrs. Winifred H. Duffee. Miss Lichty will assume official duties today as Dean of Women and professor of French.

Miss Lichty comes to Hope directly from the University of Wisconsin where she earned her doctor's degree last spring. She has had experience at the same university as an advisor to girls' groups.

Besides her study at the university, Miss Lichty spent some time in France. She has been a teacher at Wesleyan college, Iowa for three years, and at Mount Union college, Ohio for six years.

CONVOCATION EXERCISES
OFFICIALLY OPEN SCHOOL

Dr. Simon Blocker, a graduate of Hope college who has been called to join the faculty of the Western Theological Seminary here this year, officially opened Hope college for the fall term by addressing the students at the convocation exercises at the Hope Memorial chapel this morning at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Blocker, who took a church in Paterson, N. J. for 18 years following his graduation here at Hope, took preparatory work at the seminary to which he now returns as an instructor.

The speaker's subject was, "The Student in the Modern World." The aim of the address was to show how college students of today can contribute to the solution of world problems.

A plea was made for a positive and constructive Christian faith, expressed in practical consecration to Christian ideals. Religious indifference and unbelief of the student world was decried, but the speaker felt that Christian colleges were in a position to render service of special value in bringing in a more ideal social order.

As an alumnus of 1901, he recalled men and influences of his student days, which served to illustrate the theme of his convocation speech.

A view of world conditions were afforded in the address. The speaker is aware of movements and forces operative in the world today which are calculated to destroy civilization. He endeavored to show a clear grasp of the Christian solution of these conditions.

Kenneth Osborne, new director of music at the college, was in charge of the organ during the exercises.

A mild epidemic of whooping-cough in Holland, was reported by the city health department this week, eight new cases having developed during the past week. Three cases of mumps were also reported. The houses placarded with whooping-cough signs numbered 36, which does not indicate the number of individual cases since there may be more than one whooping-cough patient in a home. The health department has issued instructions to parents in an effort to check the spread of the disease.

Drunken drivers arrested in Holland will face a term in jail besides the fine imposed by justices, it was ruled at a meeting of the police and fire commissioners, Monday afternoon, in the city hall. The fine rate is set by the state therefore the minimum fine of $50 could not be doubled as suggested by Henry Ketel, chairman of the board. The commissioners then agreed to request local justices to impose the jail sentence.

A crew of 27 WPA workers reported at the Holland state park, Tuesday, for work on the improvement project reinstated by state officials, which provides for additional parking area, a walk for pedestrians and improved toilet and bathhouse facilities. Two trail-ers were reported still at the park on Tuesday although the park was closed after Labor Day.

$4,500 PROJECT AND $2,200 PAVING JOB O.K'D.

Approval from the WPA for the $4,500 project to raze the old city hall at Grand Haven was received by City Manager Seymour Justema who announced work would begin as soon as the fire and police department are able to occupy their new building at Columbus and Fifth street. The opening date for the new building has been set for Sept. 26.

Razing the old building built in 1878 will include grading and seeding as the site of the old building will become part of court house square. It had been occupied by the city through an agreement with the county.

Mr. Justema was also notified of WPA approval for the $2,200 paving job for the driveway around the light and power plant. The drive will be paved with concrete. That city of Grand Haven can sure get WPA jobs and not alone that, but get them finished.

SHERIFF A GRANDPA

Sheriff Ben Rosema at the Ottawa county jail entered the ranks of a grandparent last night when a six and one-half pound son was born to his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rosema at the Rosema farm home on the North Shore drive. TEN WOMEN WILL BE EM-PLOYED ON WPA AT GRAND HAVEN IN NEW PROJECT

(Grand Haven Tribune)

Ten women will be employed in Grand Haven starting Monday on a WPA sewing project, headquarters in Holland have been notified. The women will make covers, dresses for women and girls, men's jackets, boys suits, shirts, jackets and other articles requested by the county ERA, which is responsible for the distribution of 75 per cent of the garments to needy persons of Ottawa county.

The women, as in a former project of the same nature, work 16 days a month, seven and a half hours a day and are paid 40 cents an hour, the notice reads.

Ottawa county's force of 26 WPA women workers engaged in making garments for families in relief have moved from their old quarters in the Pieper building and have established their activities on the third floor of the city hall at Holland.

Under the supervision of Miss Gertrude Steketee, the project is being carried out in the new location the same as before, with workers occupying the room used by the American Legion post and band, and the cutters and ironers working in the east half of the room where the county ERA offices are situated.

In addition to the 26 employed on the sewing project, five more are employed on a book binding project at the old freight depot at Holland.

Scraps from the garments are saved and used as material for making rugs. The project has 14 sewing machines, six of which are owned by the government and the others rented. Two machines have been provided for in Grand Haven for the start of the sewing project here next week.

The office of Dr. Henry Masselink was robbed of scrap gold and gold fillings valued at from $50 to $75, last Friday night. A check of the doors to offices in the building across the street on River avenue revealed that the door to Dr. Sterenberg's office and a door to a beauty parlor in the same hallway had been "gymied" but not opened. No clues were reported by police. Dr. Masselink said he believed the looters were frightened from the scene since they failed to get all the gold in the office.

PRISONERS HE SENT TO THE "BIG HOUSE"

Judge Fred T. Miles in a series of visits to the prisons in southern Michigan where men are sentenced from the Ottawa-Allegan circuit, gives the following report on his observations while at the prisons, talking with the men and those in charge and with members of the parole commission.

Judge Miles draws one conclusion: that if every boy between the ages of 15 and 21 were to make his habits of rest and work as regular outside of the prison as they are required to do inside, prisoners would be reduced 25 per cent.

He says: "It is my personal opinion that more delinquency is the result of irregular hours and lack of sleep than any other single cause, not excepting the use of intoxicants."

Observation shows the Judge that men past 40 in prison do not generally seek to improve themselves. Either they believe it is too late or they assume a resigned or cynical attitude.

48 Are Interviewed

At Jackson prison he interviewed 48 persons sentenced from this court, to determine the health and progress toward reform, the reading or study that may have been done and the attitude toward the rights of others of the inmates.

Judge Miles says, "I have found that generally young men are taking to some sort of study either in the vocational school or mental training. In almost every case the regular hours and the steady habits, which are compelled, bring an improvement which can be seen in both the health and mental attitude of inmates of a year or more. The educational director and the vocational guide are both capable and anxious to assist any man desiring to improve himself."

"A number of men are interested in music and are proud of their connection with the chapel choir, the band or orchestra. I am informed that some of the men have made fine progress in music."

"A number of men have accepted the Christian gospel and find comfort in the religion made so real to them. They are guided by two chaplains, sincere religious men."

Reports Observations

"After visiting the men in prison I have made a report of my observations to the parole commissioner. This is in the hope that I may have observed something that has escaped the notice of those in daily contact with the prisoner. While in Lansing I discussed a number of cases with Commissioner Armstrong. As far as I can learn it is his purpose to give every man in prison a square deal; but also to deal fairly with the public. Much harm has been done in the past by being sentimental and weak regarding men who have been sent to prison for crime. It results in a longer re-sentence of the prisoner, a crime against the public and a general disregard for law enforcement."

"It is of importance to the officers to know what the result of a term in prison will probably be; what the associations will be; what opportunities will be presented for improvement, physically, mentally and morally. On the other hand it is of considerable value to a man sent to prison to know that his progress is being observed by those who were representing the public in sending him there. It gives him a different outlook and interest. The fact alone, that his prison record is being looked over by officers, gives him ground for pride or regret."

"Many people are of the impression that the judge visits the prison with a view to reducing the term of some one's imprisonment. This the judge has no power to do. However, before an inmate is released the parole commissioner does consult the judge. Occasionally a person has shown himself so worthy of exceptional favor that the circumstances are presented to the judge and if he agrees that the circumstances merit some reduction of sentence, he so recommends it."

Judge Miles was accompanied on some of the visits by Prosecutor John Dehmers and local Justice John Galen.

The Rev. B. D. Hakken, missionary to Arabia, was the speaker at the public meeting at the Central Park Reformed church, Monday night, of the fall session of the Reformed church classis, of Holland. A business meeting concluded the session of ministers and other church representatives of this classis, on Tuesday, at the Central Park church.

The engagement of Miss Edna Van Ark, daughter of Henry Van Ark, of this city and James M. Gray III, son of Mrs. J. M. Gray of Holland, formerly of Chicago, was announced at a birthday party given Saturday evening in honor of Miss Van Ark, at the Gray residence. The guests presented the couple with a beautiful electric clock. A social evening was spent and a midnight lunch was served. The wedding will take place next spring.

Travelogue on Interesting European Trip

By Mrs. Mae Van Drezer Dush

July 19, Geneva.
Dear Ones:
This is such a wonderful place to rest — far from all maddening crowds, noise and confusion. I almost wish we were staying here, but we leave tomorrow for Vienna via Innsbruck, where we spend a day and night.
Last night we listened to the Geneva Symphony Orchestra under the stars. All around the lake tiny lights outlined the shore. Skillfully placed lights in trees and gardens revealed bright flower beds and delicately graceful trees. In the distance in "Old Geneva" the cathedral glowed like an amber jewel. The jetto, or fountain, almost touched the heavens with a sparkling finger of silvery light. Soft music made one dream. It was like fairyland.

It is a joy to find once more all the things I love, just as if they were waiting for me to rediscover them. Quaint London, Paris, Chartres — now Geneva, her lovely lake, majestic swans, gardens, promenades, green hills; Mont Blanc as coy as ever, pink in the sunrise, draped in gossamer scarfs at sunset. How I long to share this beauty with all those I love. Something lovely must be shared.
We made a pilgrimage to Ferney this afternoon. This little French village is located about six miles from Geneva, and it is here that Voltaire lived and thought and wrote. It is a sleepy little town. Our street car bumped and swayed slowly through the country. People sauntered leisurely about or indolently sipped their wines or ate their ices. We walked through the village until we came to an avenue of old trees that led to the chateau. The ancient elms, ivy twined and lichen covered, formed a great arch above us, and led directly to the beautiful chateau.

We wandered about the old place where Voltaire had dreamed his dreams of freedom. And there, near the iron gates, was Voltaire's chapel — deserted, or so it seemed. You remember the story of the chapel. Voltaire, the revolutionist, the skeptic, the foe of the Church, felt as Hendrich Heine said, "a homesickness for God." So in that quiet spot he built this chapel. Over the door one can still see the inscription (although partially hidden by vines) "Deo Exerit Voltaire."

After our return to Geneva we decided to ride about the lake shore in a carriage. I regret to say there are very few left. It is the only way to see a city. Motors take you so fast that everything becomes kaleidoscopic. So we jaunted past parks and gardens, over bridges, in a leisurely fashion.
Tomorrow we leave this beautiful city. After a few days in Vienna we go to Berlin, then Russia. We ought to really see Russia, going from Moscow to Leningrad, and then back to Moscow and then south to the Black Sea and out of Russia through Kiev. I am sure by that time, America will seem very dear and precious to us all. So farewell. Wouldn't it be fine if we could have a reunion in Vienna?
Lovingly,
MAE.
July 19, Vienna.

Dear Ones:
Only four days since I last wrote you, but we seem to have crowded a lifetime into those hours.

Everyone left Geneva reluctantly. We enjoyed nearly five days of perfect weather, from early morning until the last rays of the sun we saw Mont Blanc. We had a fine seminar and met many people of interest. Our hotel and food were perfect. We ate out on the terrace overlooking the Lake, the Jetto and Mont Blanc.

We left Geneva about eleven and that day had the most beautiful journey I have ever taken. We followed the shore of Lake Geneva almost to Vevey. Then we turned northeast to Bern and Zurich, riding through agricultural country for hours. Our previous visits to Switzerland have always included the lake, Zermatt and Murren, so this great farming area was a surprise to us. From Zurich we followed the lovely shore line of Zurich Lake and later Wallen Lake. We soon were riding through Tyrol; gigantic mountains soaring above us, dizzy depths below. Roaring mountain streams dashed through the valleys or fell a thousand feet over some precipice. Trim farm homes dotted the landscape, bright gardens and gay window boxes added color. It was all so breath-takingly (is there such a word?) beautiful.

About ten o'clock we arrived at Innsbruck and retired at once in order to have a long morning in that quaint city. We awoke early, hastily dressed and wandered about the town before breakfast. Mountains surrounded the town and made you feel you were very far away from the world indeed. Girls, gaily dressed in bright colors, passed us on the streets. Many of the men wore short suede trousers (like shorts), embroidered belts and suspenders and cocky hats with the inevitable feather at a rakish angle. It was fun visiting the fruit and flower market and I returned to the hotel with an armful of roses. I can't tell you more about Innsbruck now as I want to tell you a little about Vienna before we leave, which will be tomorrow.

The days have been filled to overflowing — a fine seminar and many wonderful experiences. I'll tell you only a few things; the rest will have to wait. Dr. and Mrs. Dengler again invited us to their home to dinner. It is always a joy to see them. They are typically Viennese — cultured, charming, gracious. A few of us were asked to have dinner in their home which is now an apartment in an old palace. Of course we enjoyed their dinner — hotel meals at best do pale on one after a month away from home. Then it was such a privilege being in a Viennese home. One never knows a people unless one sees them in their homes. We stood on the balcony amid a mass of plants and flowers and looked across the street to the house where Schubert wrote his "Unfinished Symphony." If those old walls could only speak!

Yesterday Austria proclaimed amnesty to 10,000 political prisoners — 2,000 in prison and 8,000 under surveillance of the police. No doubt you have read about this in your papers. What you do not sense, probably, is the tension that exists here and in many other European countries today such as France, Germany, etc. I cannot express to you the atmosphere of apprehension in which people are living. It can hardly be described — it is so intangible. But we are asked not to quote speakers and their names. For example, Messer Smith, the American Minister to Austria, received us yesterday. He talked to us nearly an hour with the understanding he would not be quoted. So I can only tell you a very well known and famous correspondent told us yesterday that this amnesty was related to Austria's and Germany's new agreement. Hitler would not make an agreement unless Nazi political prisoners were released. And to make it appear to be a general amnesty, "Red" and Socialist political prisoners were also released.

We thought it would be interesting to see these prisoners released, so we drove to the Landes Gericht — a huge prison in the heart of Vienna. A large group of silent people stood in a semicircle before the entrance. There was no disorder, no confusion, no sound. They just waited in silence before that door. Lawyers with their brief cases passed in and out. Sometimes the huge doors would open and an armored car, guarded with soldiers, would drive several prisoners away to special courts.

The people stood with their eyes fixed upon that door, waiting for some loved one. Suddenly a man would appear before the door with his bundle. He invariably paused and gazed into the crowd for someone waiting for him. Then his face would light up and quietly they would meet, clasp each other's hands; no demonstration, no tears, no laughter, no cheers. They knew no well spies surrounded them in every guise. It was the most pathetic spectacle I have ever seen — these boys — nearly all were young men who had gone to prison for their convictions. It made me very sad. Our freedom has been so dearly bought and we seem to be losing our democratic liberties.

Yesterday was the second anniversary of the death of Dolfuss. The city was in mourning. Great streamers of black cloth hung from tall buildings and black flags fluttered everywhere. But the impressive demonstration was at night. As darkness came upon the city, candles of remembrance burned in almost every window. They flickered in the soft breeze and cast shadows upon old buildings. What a beautiful way to honor a hero.

We asked a Viennese to take us where we might hear his native music, and so our last night there was truly filled with music. All the old masters came back to us in matchless harmony. The players knew we loved their music, so they poured out their souls to us. After they had finished the Blue Danube and had come to the door to bow us out of the cafe, we left. So with the memory of that beautiful waltz and their gracious Auf Wiedersehen, we are leaving Vienna. Can you suggest a better exit?

All our love to you,
MAE.

INDIAN AFFAIRS

(The Banner)

Our readers know about the great difficulties which our missionaries among the Indians have encountered as a result of the policies of Mr. Collier, Commissioner of Indian Affairs. One of our readers sent us a quotation from the "Congressional Record" in which Congressman Mapes, from our district, mentioned the Christian Reformed Church in connection with an amendment in the House of Representatives the purpose of which was to take a slap at Mr. Collier. The amendment was to reduce the appropriation for the office of commissioner of Indian Affairs from $490,000 to $25,000. Mr. Mapes at the close of the debate admitted that the amendment was extreme, but he added: "It seems to me that the Bureau of Indian Affairs might well take notice that it (the amendment) expresses a sentiment of criticism and disapproval of some of the activities of the Bureau" Mr. Mapes went on to say: "the gentlemen from Oklahoma speak about paralyzing some of the activities of the Bureau on these Indian reservations. I may say to the gentleman that certain church organizations feel that the Bureau of Indian Affairs has already paralyzed some of the activities of the churches, and has undone a great deal of the good which it has taken those churches years and years to do among the Indians on some of the Indian reservations" As far as I am individually concerned, I am not in sympathy with the extremes to which the amendment went, but I am in sympathy with the criticisms of some of the church organizations, notably the Christian Reformed Church, which centers very largely in my own district, against some of the activities and doings of the Bureau of Indian Affairs."

It is not at all our purpose to engage in a bit of indirect political propaganda for Mr. Mapes. But it is no more than fair that we recognize the fact that Congressman Mapes has rendered good service to our cause of Indian missions in New Mexico by lifting up his voice against the radical tendencies of the present Bureau of Indian Affairs.

CONCRETE

Traffic on busy streets is measured in millions of car-miles annually—and millions of car stops. Can you make these stops swiftly, surely, with least possible skidding? You can if your streets are concrete. Concrete's gritty surface grips and holds tires, offers maximum traction in any weather. Its uniform riding surface gives you driving confidence—a further safety aid. And at night, concrete's light-gray, highly visible color makes your streets safer for motorist and pedestrian alike.

For economy, for good appearance—and for safety—insist on concrete.

OTTAWA COUNTY GIRL LEFT FOR CHINA LABOR DAY

Miss Sadie Custer, who for the last five years has been a member of the Open Bible church left Labor Day morning for Vancouver, B. C., where today Friday she will sail for China as a missionary under auspices of the China Inland mission. She is a native of Alameda, Mich., where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Custer, two brothers William and Dick, and one sister, Grace, now live. In August, 1935, she was graduated from Moody Bible institute after spending three years there taking a special missionary course. Because last year the China Inland mission spent no women missionaries to the field she was forced to remain at home until September, 1936, when she shall be one of 80 new missionaries to go to the field.

On the liner she is taking at least 20 of these recruits will be accompanied by 3 veteran returning missionaries. Her first occupation on entering China will be to attend the language school in Yangchow. After a time spent there she will be assigned to a specific field of labor in one of the large and populous provinces. Her first term of service is for a duration of seven years. By chance she may be assigned to the remote province of Gansu where her friend, Faith Lewenberg, another Grand Rapids girl, already has completed her fifth year.

A farewell service for Miss Custer was held at the Open Bible church last Sunday evening.

Fish Swimming to Cool Water

What effect did the record breaking hot weather in July have on the fish in Michigan? That is the question that is being asked. Due to the hot weather night and day the water in some of the trout streams became extremely warm, almost hot, and fishermen say that the streams entering into Lake Michigan suffered a great loss of fish. The fish they say entered Lake Michigan to escape the heat.

In addition to the heat, the lack of rain has brought most streams in the state to a new low level. This has been especially true on streams in the Upper Peninsula according to the reports. The trout fishing dropped off as soon as the hot weather arrived, and the water started to dwindle from the streams.

In recent weeks the weather has been unusually cold in Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula, and there has been little or no rain. Many of the streams are almost dry.

THERE ARE FISHERMEN AND FISHERMEN

The secret of why certain fishermen in this district have been making limit catches of bluegills while others fishing nearby have caught only two or three has leaked out. A conservation officer has decided to pass the information along for the benefit of all fishermen.

"Select a black-gnat fly, preferably one on a No. 10 hook, and weigh it with a lead shot or small sinker," he says. "Then collect a supply of the small white grubs which can be obtained easily in any pasture around here. Fasten one of these grubs on the sharp point of your hook and you're ready to start fishing."

The fishing technique is to manipulate the rod so that the fly and grub move up and down in the water, attracting the fish. "This combination has been producing limit catches of bluegills near here while others using different methods haven't seemed to have much luck," the officer says.

WHAT DOES A CO-ED EAT?

When the school year begins at Ohio State University this fall, the home economics department will continue its six-year study of the college woman's food habits. The survey, ending in 1941, will be compared with earlier tests.

Research at the University of Chicago showed that co-eds in 1894 ate twice as much as those of 1924. Similar studies at Vassar in 1917 and at Iowa State in 1928 indicated that the girls of those years had hearty appetites. In two Oklahoma universities in 1930 it was learned that the co-eds ate less than their predecessors of a generation.

What is important in food habits is the selection, not the amount of food consumed. In spite of the universal feminine desire for a slim figure, sensible women know that milk and eggs and green vegetables will do more for their general health and good condition than fadish dieting. It may be assumed that the modern co-ed acts up on the knowledge that there is as much, not more, genuine beauty in health as there is in slenderness of line.

Kills Eagle Diving to Snatch Baby

With his father's shotgun, 14-year-old John Naglich yesterday killed a 50-pound Mexican eagle as it swooped toward a baby girl in the yard of his father's farm at 110th st. and Calumet Lake near Chicago.

The bird had a wing spread of seven feet, and would have been able to injure seriously, if not carry away, little Jean O'Neill, 13 months old, target of its swoop. The eagle had been carrying away poultry and small pigs in the vicinity, and the gun had been kept in readiness.

The girl was feeding chickens from a pan of corn when the eagle appeared. She fled screaming, and John ran for the gun.

John took the eagle to Sgt. John O'Connor of the East Side police and asked if there were a bounty, but perusal of statute books showed none.

John is the son of Joseph Naglich, Jean is the child of Mrs. Naglich by a previous marriage.

OTTAWA COUNTY ALSO HAS ITS BAD LANDS

Work on the new soils conservation program has progressed quite satisfactorily in Ottawa County. A total of 4699 work sheets were recorded. All listing is completed. This data has been reviewed by the county committee and representative from the state office. Compiled data is now in the state office. Some further work is required in removal of those farms on which farming is not being done. The data worked out compares quite well with census figures.

When corrections are made it is expected the state office will accept the figures finally submitted and allow bases to stand as worked out in the agricultural agent's office.

The 4699 work sheets show a total of 298,655 acres. Of this number 122,712 are depleting, that is, are in such crops as corn, oats, wheat, potatoes, beans, etc. Over 50,000 acres are in pasture and native range. Other non crop land totals 52,000 acres. Records show that about 15,000 acres lay idle. This land which has been farmed but for some reason was not used in 1935. Much of this land was found in Robinson, Port Sheldon, Tallmadge and Grand Haven townships. Polkton shows only 203 acres whereas Robinson shows 2585 acres. About 1200 acres were recorded as cultivated fallow land. This land was fitted for crops in 1935 but not planted for a current crop during that year. Some townships have practically no such acres while others had between 100 and 200 fallow acres. Georgetown leads with 210 acres while Spring Lake was low with only one half acre.

ZEELAND FARMER DOUBLES ON LIVESTOCK

Although this section has been getting along for a month without any appreciable rains and serious drought is staring our farmers in the face, Dick Elenbaas, Jr., of Zeeland, does not believe in curtailment of live stock because with in the past few weeks he has been presented two sets of twin calves and he intends to keep every one of them because they are even more frisky than the ordinary calf.

However, Dick is in a quandary because he had two names picked for the calves, but when the first pair arrived on Saturday he had the names used in one lick, and Sunday coming in between, he was up a stump when the other pair put in their appearance on Monday morning. Since that time the late arrivals have been going about incognito.

At any rate if Dick keeps his calves coming that way he will soon be unable to grow enough feed for them.

Miss Gertrude Orr, of Fennville, was united in marriage to Fred Fredericks, of Muskegon, Monday morning at Kalamazoo. The attendants were Miss Grace Lang, a cousin of Miss Orr, and Louis Turner. A wedding breakfast was served at the Hotel Columbia in Kalamazoo for the immediate relatives. In the afternoon a reception was given for relatives and friends. The couple will make their home in Muskegon and Florida after a wedding trip to New York and Washington.

State Parks Including Holland Stay Open For Hayfever Sufferers

Hayfever sufferers who visit the state parks in northern Michigan each year for relief need not look for other places to stay as a result of the official closing of the parks Sept. 15.

"We have arranged for special accommodations for hayfever victims at a score or more of our state parks in the northern part of the state," announced Walter J. Kingscott, superintendent of State parks. "While most of the outdoor equipment at these parks will be knocked down and placed in winter storage or under repair soon after the closing date, facilities will be maintained for all tourist campers who desire to remain, even though they plan to stay until mid-October."

The parks where hayfever sufferers will be invited to remain are those where resident superintendents remain the year around. Certain other parks that do not have resident superintendents but are in locations favorable for hayfever relief will be kept open from 15 days to a month longer. Magnus Kingscott, superintendent of State parks, said that the following State parks north of Holland and Zeeland will remain open to and including Oct. 15: Brimley on Whitefish Bay, Straits state park near St. Ignace, Otsego Lake north of Grayling, Grand Haven and Holland state parks will be kept open until Oct. 1.

Other state parks where there are resident superintendents, many of which are in the northern forest areas where many tourists obtain relief from hayfever, are: East Tawas, P. H. Hoelt, Bay City, Onaway, Walter J. Hayes, Fort Wilkins, Burt Lake, Muskegon, Muskegon, Dodge No. 5 and Dodge No. 3, Island Lake, J. W. Wells, Gogebic, Hartwick Pines, Wilderness, Ludington, Monroe and Interlochen.

Bonaparte Gulls Visit Muskegon, Michigan

The Bonaparte gulls, which stopped off by the thousands for two weeks on their way north this spring attracted much interest. Hundreds of persons visited Muskegon Lake and Lake Michigan to watch the birds feed on minnows.

An unusual condition, which many observed for the first time, prevailed during the visit of the gulls. The waters of Lake Michigan and also Muskegon Lake seemed alive with minnows, and the gulls by the thousands spent their time swooping down to feed on the fish. Old timers say they never saw a time when the water seemed so thick with minnows. It seemed as though they were so thick that they crowded themselves out of the water.

The Bonaparte gulls were a novelty for most people, which together with the unusual conditions prevailing as to the minnows, created much interest. The gulls departed for the north as unexpectedly as they arrived. Apparently, they arrived within a few hours of the time they were expected to arrive. Considerably smaller and of a different color, they differ much in appearance from the regular gull that makes its home here.

POLITICAL SIGNS NOT ALLOWED ON ROAD

In each political campaign much unnecessary expense and chagrin is experienced by candidates running for office when they put up road signs and then find them pulled down the same or the next day. This is due to the fact that political candidates are not familiar with highway regulations and they place their signs on the highway right of way, which is prohibited by law.

Although those violating these rules might be prosecuted for the offense, this has never been done to our knowledge, but road employees have standing instructions to remove every sign on the highway right-of-way upon discovery, and since most roads are covered nearly every day by some road employee there is little chance of any sign remaining up any length of time in violation of the rules. Neglect by the employee might cause his dismissal, which is a chance they are not likely to take.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

WITH cooler weather, even cookery is again more popular, particularly cookie making for school children and quick luncheon dishes. Fruits and vegetables in variety are still plentiful and reasonable. Apples and grapes are becoming more important daily, peaches, pears, fresh prunes, cantaloupes and honeydew melons are all inexpensive.

Sweet potatoes, and yams as well, are now cheap and plentiful. White potatoes are lower and so is cabbage. Green and lima beans, onions and tomatoes continue to be cheap. Meats and eggs are higher. Beef chuck and young chickens are still reasonable.

Here are three menus planned for different budget levels.
