Dr. W. M. Tappan Expires Suddenly

Health Officer Found Dead in Bed of Heart Attack; Rites Tuesday

Dr. William Manning Tappan, 53, Holland health officer for the past six years, was found dead in his bed Sunday morning at his home, 191 West 11th St., when he failed to answer an early professional telephone call. His wife made the discovery and immediately called a physician who pronounced death due to a heart attack sometime during the night.

Dr. William Tappan

Although Dr. Tappan had been informed of a severe heart condition last June, he had carried on his practice as usual, and was in his office Saturday. He suffered an illness two years ago, and took a leave of absence for one year from his city and private duties.

Dr. Tappan was elected health officer for a one-year term in 1936, was elected for a two-year term in 1937, and reelected in 1939 and 1941. Dr. Edwin Vander Berg was named temporary health officer Sept. 9, 1940, when Dr. Tappan took leave of absence, returning in Sept. 1941. His present term would have expired April 1, 1943.

Dr. Tappan was a member of the Ottawa County Medical society, and was a past commander of the local American Legion post. He was an active member, president of the Holland Pointer and Setter club for three years and served on the board of directors for one year after resigning as president. He was a member of Hope Reformed church and served on the consistory for many years. He also was a member of the Holland Century club.

Born in White Plains, Ga., Oct. 6, 1888, Dr. Tappan was graduated from Mercer university, and from the University of Michigan Medical school in 1916. He interned and was resident physician at Augusta University hospital for one year until he entered military service in World War I. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the medical corps, and served six months each at Camp Dodge and Camp Custer.

On June 18, 1918, he married Mary Christine Lokker of Holland, and in February, 1919, they located in Holland, where he established his practice. They have one son, William Manning, Jr., who will enter the University of Michigan Medical school this fall, having already been commissioned a second lieutenant in the reserve medical corps.

Besides the widow and son, Dr. Tappan leaves his mother, Mrs. George W. Tappan of White Plains, Ga.; two brothers, M. H. Tappan of White Plains and George Tappan of Rutland, Vt.; and three sisters, Miss Gladys Tappan of White Plains, Mrs. W. Brown Hayes and Mrs. R. S. Hayes of Atlanta, Ga.

Private funeral services were held Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the home, with Dr. John E. Kuizenga of Princeton Theological seminary and the Rev. Marion de Velder, pastor of Hope church, officiating. Burial was in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Pallbearers will be J. J. Riemersma, Henry Winter, Albert Van Zoeren, E. C. Brooks, Jay Den Herder and George Pelgrim.

Allegan Hunting Rules Clarified

Allegan, Sept. 17 — Archers need no special permit to hunt deer in Allegan county and their range within the county is not restricted, conservation department officials said today in an effort to make clear the distinctions between the county's two separate seasons.

Last year this county attracted more than a fifth of the entire state's bow and arrow hunters—215 of the 1,045 licensed—though all the northern deer counties were open to Indian-style hunting also. Besides being convenient to the heavily populated sections of the state, the Allegan area has the additional attraction of being open to hunting of deer of either sex, while in the north only bucks may be taken. Last season the archers in Allegan got six bucks, two does.

Dates of the Allegan archery season are the same as for the rest of the state, Nov. 1-14, and the standard bow and arrow license is all that is needed. During the regular buck season, Nov. 15-30, the Allegan area is closed to deer hunting.

Arrangements for gun hunting of antlerless deer Dec. 1-10 are quite different. The late antlerless hunting is restricted to 30,000 acres in Monterey, Heath and Manlius townships where crop damage by deer has been heavy. The 800 lucky sportsmen who will be permitted to hunt in this season will be chosen by lottery Nov. 4 from among applicants who have filed applications for permits, together with the $2.25 fee, in Lansing by Oct. 31. Exempted from the lottery are farmers living in the area, who may buy licenses directly.

Fritchen Has But Three-Vote Edge In Dem Contest

Lehman Is Nominated
For Sheriff, De Vries
For Surveyor Office

In a quiet primary Tuesday that attracted in the neighborhood of only 4,500 votes in Ottawa county, the alignment of candidates for the November election found Walter Lehman, Grand Haven, winning nomination for sheriff and Peter De Vries, winning nomination for surveyor on the Democratic ticket.

Creating an added interest to today's survey of the primary was the prospect of a recount in the Democratic race for county treasurer.

John D. Fritchen, Spring Lake, had a mere 3-vote margin over George Caball, Zeeland, according to unofficial returns from Ottawa's 30 precincts. Fritchen polled 317 votes to Caball's 314.

If Fritchen is officially declared the Democratic nominee, he will oppose Fred H. Den Herder, Grand Haven, Republican incumbent, in the November election. Den Herder had no opposition in the Republican primary.

Benefiting from the division of votes between two other strong Republican candidates, Rep. Bartel J. Jonkman of Grand Rapids was renominated congressman from the fifth congressional district, Kent and Ottawa counties. In the fourth district congressional race, Rep. Clare E. Hoffman of Allegan, most outspoken foe of the Roosevelt administration in Michigan's congressional delegation, appeared to have a large margin of victory over his nearest opponent, State Sen. J. T. Hammond of Benton Harbor, on the Republican ticket.

Other than the "sticker" campaigns that aroused unexpected interest in the Republican contest for coroner, the three Democratic races were the only ones in the county primary.

Gilbert Vande Water, incumbent of Holland, was renominated by a large vote of 3,407 for Republican coroner of southern Ottawa county. J. E. Kammeraad, Coopersville undertaker, ran as a "sticker" candidate for coroner of northern Ottawa county and polled an unofficial vote of 1,357. James Langeland, Holland undertaker, the second "sticker" candidate, gained 353 votes.

Kammeraad displayed strength in Polkton township, his home bailiwick, where he gained 241 votes while Vande Water gained but 129. Despite his late entry into the race, Kammeraad more than polled the necessary 15 per cent of the vote cast for the office to have his name placed on the November ballot.

Vande Water and Kammeraad will be opposed at the November election by Anthony Boongaard and William J. Duga, the Democratic nominees, who were without opposition at the primary election.

On the Democratic ballot, Lehman was nominated for sheriff over Henry Tuls. Lehman's majority was 253 votes, having gained 450 to Tuls' 197. The Republican nominee for sheriff is William M. Boeve, who was unopposed.

Democrats selected Peter De Vries as their nominee for county surveyor over John Bremer. De Vries' majority was 55 votes, having gained 326 votes to Bremer's 271.

Ottawa county Republicans supported Judge Homer Ferguson for U. S. senator and former Attorney General Thomas Reed for lieutenant governor, unofficial returns from Ottawa's 30 precincts revealed.

On the Democratic ballot, there was no opposition for U. S. senator, governor or lieutenant governor.

Unofficial vote for Ottawa's 30 precincts follow:
U. S. Senator — Republican, Ferguson, 1,752; Smith, 1,106; Eaton, 1,081; Ferguson's plurality, 646; Democrat, Brown, 647.

Governor—Republican, Kelly, 3,842; Democrat, Van Wagoner, 678. Lieutenant Governor — Republican, Read, 1,787; Keyes, 1,376; Brake, 870; Read's plurality, 411; Democrat, Frank Murphy, 624.

State Senator—Republican, McKee, 3,300; Democrat, Brooks, 635. State Representative—Republican, Miles, 3,812; Democrat, Anderson, 547.

Prosecutor—Republican, Fant, 3,706; Democrat, Ponstein, 556. Sheriff—Republican, Boeve, 3,949; Democrat, Lehman, 450; Tuls, 197; Lehman's majority, 252.

County Clerk — Republican, Wilds, 3,865; Democrat, Voshel, 547. Democrat, Murphy 209.

Register of Deeds—Republican, Bottje, 3,886; Democrat, Buis, 551. Drain Commissioner — Republican, Van Wieren, 3,702; Democrat, Teunis, 526.

Coroner — Republican, Vande Water, 3,407 (nominated); Kammeraad, 1,357 (nominated); Langeland, 353; Democrat, Boongaard, 422 (nominated); Duga, 308 (nominated).

Surveyor — Republican, Bowen, 3,651; Democrat, De Vries, 326; Bremer, 271; De Vries' majority, 55.

Degrees Given to Three as Tribute To Their Service

Science Structure Is Accepted by Synod at Impressive Ceremony

Likening Hope college's new science building to a weigh house at a Netherlands cheese market where true balances and accurate measurements are assured, Dr. Louis A. Hopkins of the University of Michigan, said in dedicatory services for the building at the annual opening convocation in Hope Memorial chapel Wednesday.

"The building which we have come to dedicate today is a weigh house where young men and women will learn to weigh accurately and deal impartially with the materials of the physical and biological worlds.

"The more we know the more there is to be known," he said, describing various instruments of modern research. "The students in the laboratories today will be the adventurers to conquer this jungle of the unknown."

"Through famine, pestilence and war, the human race emerges to a higher civilization. Science has advanced faster than man's ability to wisely use its results. This race will continue in the years ahead. Let us have faith in our youth in this weigh house and others of its kind."

The building was presented to the general synod of the Reformed church in America by the Rev. John A. Dykstra of Grand Rapids, president of the board of trustees.

"The strength of God is in this majestic science hall not only because it is constructed of the most enduring materials of our fathers' creation but chiefly, being the product of Christian work and idealism, it is to be the dwelling of the most high."

"Man alone, of all God's creatures, has the ability to discover and invent, to use tools and equipment," he said, adding that "Science alone is not enough."

"Man's capacity of achievement must be exercised under God."

Taking part in the dedication of the structure was the audience which read part of the responsive dedicatory service led by Dr. Dykstra. The building was accepted by Dr. Clarence P. Dame of Grand Rapids, vice-president of the general synod, who also spoke briefly on "Christ, the Victor."

"It is the hope and prayer of us all that the building will always be a blessing to mankind," he said.

The troubled world today is paying the price for forgetting Jesus Christ, he pointed out in warning students to resist the everywhere existent temptations. "Don't become cynical and sour. Don't let life get you. Remember the victorious Jesus Christ, the only one sufficient for a day such as this."

Honorary degrees for outstanding service in the science building campaign and other achievements were presented to three Hope college graduates.

They were Dr. S. M. Zwemer, '87, doctor of letters; Dr. Anthony Luidens, '12, doctor of divinity; and Dr. H. William Pyle, '21, doctor of divinity.

The men were presented for their degrees by Dr. Dykstra and Dr. Wynand Wichers, college president, read the citations. Also assisting in the ceremonies was Prof. Thomas E. Welmers. A special tribute to Dr. Wichers for his untiring efforts and vision culminating in the magnificent new science hall was also given by Dr. Dykstra.

An inspiring patriotic feature of the service was the advancement of the colors by a color guard at the head of the academic procession including members of the board of education of the Reformed church, board of trustees, college and seminary faculties, local educators and the chapel choir. The singing of the national anthem by the audience and choir opened the program. Patriotic red, white and blue bouquets graced the platform.

The hymn "God of Our Fathers" by Roberts-Warren was used as a processional with Mrs. W. Curtis Snow presiding at the organ. Dr. John R. Mulder, president of Western Theological seminary offered the prayer of blessing and Dr. Willard Dayton Brown, secretary of the board of education of the Reformed church, read the scripture. Under the direction of Robert W. Cavanaugh the chapel choir sang the anthem "Onward, Ye Peoples!" by Sibelius. Dr. Zwemer gave the prayer of benediction at the close of the service.

High Work Call Is Faced in City By End of Year

Labor Shortage May Develop If Women Don't Start Training

Jacob Barendse, manager of the local U. S. Employment service, has reported that he anticipates his office will be called upon by Jan. 1, 1943, to supply 1,800 workers in war production plants in Holland.

He anticipates that about 600 of these will be women and the remaining 1,000 will be men. Anyone who is looking for or is willing to accept work in war production plants are urged by Mr. Barendse to register at the employment office in the Mass building, 10th St. and River Ave.

He reported that a survey has not been finished to determine the possibility of a future labor shortage in Holland. There may be a possible labor shortage unless women begin training for war work in the factories, he said.

Responsibility in Scrap Drive Up to Residents

As plans go forward for the county-wide scrap collection Friday, Sept. 25, the Ottawa county salvage committee today informed all county residents that "this is your campaign as much as anybody's."

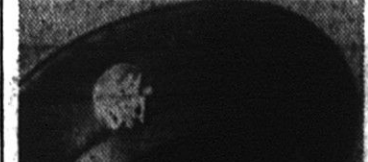

"It's your responsibility to get the scrap on your premises collected and placed where it can easily be picked up by the county trucks on that date. It's not the truck driver's job to gather the scrap that is scattered about on your premises."

"This is your war as much as theirs. If our nation loses it, then it will be your hard luck as much as theirs."

Council Sets Ballot Form After Debate on Proposed Personnel

In approving the form of ballot to be voted on at the Nov. 3 election which provides for the amending of the city charter to abolish the police and fire board, common council proposes in its place a commission of public safety to be composed of three council members who would be appointed annually by the mayor and whose duties would be the same as those now imposed upon the present board.

Council approved the form of ballot Wednesday night and instructed City Clerk Oscar Peterson to forward it to Governor Van Wagoner for his approval as provided for by state law on charter amendments.

The aldermen rejected a suggestion of Mayor Henry Geerlings that the proposed amendment be submitted to the voters since the aldermen and two members from the city-at-large. He pointed out that if all three aldermen who comprise the commission should decline to run for reelection in the same year it would necessitate the appointment of an entirely new commission.

To end the discussions, Ald. John Emmick, supported by Ald. Bruce Raymond, moved that the proposed amendment be changed to provide for the appointment of two aldermen and one member from the city-at-large to comprise the commission. This motion lost by a vote of 9-2. Ald. John Bontekoe was absent.

Those voting against its adoption were Bernard Arendshorst, L. Philip Van Hartsveldt, Ben Steffens, Bernard De Pree, Bertal Slaght, Herman Mooi, Gordon Streu, George Damson and Elmer J. Schepers. While Raymond pondered how to cast his vote, City Clerk Oscar Peterson declared the motion lost and recorded Raymond and Emmick as "yes" votes since they made and seconded the motion.

On motion of Slaght, supported by Mooi, council adopted the form of ballot as it had originally been presented to council by the city clerk and city attorney.

The proposed charter amendment provides that all powers and duties connected with and incident to the government, maintenance and discipline of the police and fire departments will be vested in and exercised by the board of three commissioners. Their terms would be for one year each from the first Monday of May of the year when so appointed, provided, that the persons who are now serving as members of the public safety committee of common council shall constitute the commission of public safety until their successors were appointed in May, 1943.

The city clerk would be ex-officio clerk of the commission but would not have a vote although he would have charge of all their books, records and papers, exercise a general supervision over their accounts and keep a separate account of the financial affairs of each department.

The only other change in the present charter provisions, governing the police and fire board, provides that the police chief and fire chief would be appointed or dismissed, subject to council confirmation. Under the present charter provisions, council approves the appointment of either chief but has no jurisdiction over their dismissal, this being an exclusive power of the police and fire board.

Other sections of title IX, governing the police and fire board, would remain unchanged except in various places where the word "commission" would be substituted for "police and fire board" and "municipal judge" would replace "justice of peace" since there is no longer the justice of peace court system in Holland.

If the voter favors the charter amendment to abolish the police and fire board and create the commission of public safety, he is instructed to place a mark (X) in the square opposite the word "yes" but if he desires to vote against it, to place a mark (X) opposite the word "no."

City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker explained the provisions of the proposed charter amendment and Raymond pointed out the provisions, concerning the appointment and dismissal of the chief of police and fire chief.

However, the city attorney said he had drawn up the proposed charter amendment as he had been instructed to do so but that he could not endorse its adoption by the electorate as he was not in accord with the move "since it is not a step towards good government."

Lokker said the three aldermen who would comprise the commission should not be required, along with their many other aldermanic duties, to spend their time in conducting the affairs of the police and fire department. He expressed belief that those who had prepared the original charter had exercised good judgment in providing for a police and fire board, although the members were first appointed by council but later the charter amended to provide for their election by the voters.

"It is a known fact in every municipality that one of the most difficult problems is the management of the police department. This is sometimes due to personnel but it is the sincere duty of every citizen to interest themselves in the affairs of a police and fire department and to assume the full responsibility of electing proper men to the board."

"If this is done, then this eternal trouble within the police department would be done away with. The people have been given the right to elect the men of their choice to the police and fire board and they should not be deprived of this right. However, we should respect the wishes of the people and if they desire to vote for a change they should be given the privilege to do so," he said.

In answer to Mayor Geerlings' proposal, Emmick said the majority of the members on the proposed commission should be council members. His motion sought to end the discussions.

Replying to Lokker's remarks, De Pree expressed belief that the citizens "are demanding action" and they should be given opportunity to express their sentiments on this controversial question.

He asked whether two propositions could be submitted to the voters, one which would provide for the appointment of a five-man commission and the one which finally was adopted. Lokker said he believed this could be done.

Mooi said the council should decide which proposal should be submitted to the voters since the aldermen were better acquainted with the setup.

Slaght, recalling the Junior Chamber of Commerce letter to council, requesting that the proposed charter amendment be submitted to the voters, did not favor members on the commission other than those from council.

Van Hartsveldt called council's attention to the fact that the J. C. C. letter requested that all powers and duties of the police and fire board be vested to council's jurisdiction. To take any other action would be ignoring their request, he said.

Those voting against its adoption were Bernard Arendshorst, L. Philip Van Hartsveldt, Ben Steffens, Bernard De Pree, Bertal Slaght, Herman Mooi, Gordon Streu, George Damson and Elmer J. Schepers. While Raymond pondered how to cast his vote, City Clerk Oscar Peterson declared the motion lost and recorded Raymond and Emmick as "yes" votes since they made and seconded the motion.

Staff Officers of Local Air Patrol Named by Sligh

Nine New Members Added to Squadron As Interest Mounts

Squadron Comdr. Charles R. Sligh, Jr., of Holland's recently chartered civil air patrol has announced appointment of his staff officers, subject to confirmation by Group Comdr. Frederick H. Mueller and State Wing Comdr. S. B. Steers.

The appointments follow: Executive officer, William P. Telling; adjutant, J. J. Rezelman; personnel and medical, Dr. O. Vander Velde; intelligence and public relations, L. H. Anyone over 16 years of age may join, and the ranks show members of varied ages. The nine young women of the squadron are showing an interest equal that of the men members.

It is not necessary that all members become pilots in order to join the squadron as there are numerous other activities in which members may participate as part of the patrol's civil defense aims.

The squadron meets twice weekly at the airport for drill and instruction, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Monday and Thursday. New recruits are given separate preliminary instruction to equip them for regular squadron activity.

A membership of 60 or 70 is the immediate goal. Membership is entirely voluntary and has no connection with the country's armed forces, being wholly civil in its character.

Commander Mueller of Grand Rapids, group commander for western Michigan, has sent word that he expects to be present at an early meeting of the local squadron.

May Discontinue Priority Service

If Holland manufacturers, merchants and others continue to show a lack of interest, the visit of a consultant analyst of the war production board to Holland to clarify various priority orders will be discontinued, the Chamber of Commerce said today.

The chamber must be informed before Sept. 19 that this free service is desired if it is to be continued, it was announced.

E. A. Sackerman, WPA analyst on priorities problems, has been coming to the Chamber of Commerce office every two weeks on Wednesdays, with office hours usually from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Although Mr. Sackerman has found interested groups in other western Michigan cities he visits, the response here has been discouraging.

Recent amendments apply to manufacturers, the building industry, plumbing and heating business, electric appliance business and public utilities, it was explained.

The Army and Navy are doing their part to ease the Long Distance load . . .

ARE YOU?

Our Army and Navy have issued orders to their personnel to restrict the use of Long Distance telephone lines — to call only if absolutely necessary — to be brief — and to stay close to the telephone on calls not immediately completed.

Officers and men are doing their part. They know the necessity of keeping the lines and central office apparatus clear for vital military and war production calls.

Today, many lines — especially those to the places listed at the left — are crowded with war calls. Adding enough new equipment to handle all the increased load is impossible because of material shortages. So it's up to all of us to make the most efficient use of what we have. Here are some of the ways you and every other civilian can help:

ROMANTICS OF THE WAR

Out in Olympia, Washington, Harold Robbins was waiting his turn in the barber shop. To pass away the time he idly paged through the back number of a dog-eared magazine, and as a result he had the thrill of his life.
For one of the pictures showed his own son surrendering on Corregidor—the son who he had not heard from since early in the year and whom he had mourned as "lost in action" or "missing" or something else of that nature.
The months old picture was visual proof to the father that his boy is in all probability still alive, a prisoner of the Japs.

It wouldn't take much of a short story writer to work this little real life incident up into a dramatic scene that would make readers gasp with suspense.
Thousands of things of that sort are happening. Now and then a few of those incidents actually achieve print in factual news stories, but as yet anything of that kind is so much dwarfed by the drama of the war as a whole that they get little attention.
And the war as a whole is so tremendous that the fiction writers appear to be discouraged by it.
Although the war has been in progress now for three years, so little of it has been transmuted into fiction that the product is almost negligible.

In fact there has so far been astonishingly little exploitation of the human dramas of war in the magazines and novels. At least little as compared with the activities of the fiction writers during the first World war. At that time it was usually the yarn of the soldier who had lost his memory as a result of shell shock and hence had been given up for dead.
How he made a comeback when his family had long since observed his funeral was the stock device of thousands of those stories.

There has been very little of the sort in this war up until now.
At least there is no one single plot pattern that can be compared with that of the shell-shocked soldier who had lost his memory. Up until now fiction has taken less advantage of the numerous war situations such as the one in which the Olympia, Washington, citizen figured, than the writers of a quarter of a century ago took of similar episodes of that time.

The reason may be that a quarter of a century of stark realism in fiction has made the average American reader less susceptible to romantics. Whatever the reason, there are plenty of scenes of that sort ready for exploitation. Real life is always chuckful of romanticism. Many of the things that happen in real life would not be believed if they should be transferred to the story books.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Dean Inge says, "If we spend sixteen hours a day dealing with material things and five minutes dealing with God, it is any wonder that material things are two hundred times more real than God."

Beyond question God is as real as any material thing one may contact. To realize God is of such great significance that men are making the mistake of their lives not to contact Him and know Him as God, their Father.

Sabbath and the Sunday public service of worship are means for the realization of God. Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Sunday School
LessonTHE SUNDAY SCHOOL
September 20, 1942Judah the True Brother—Genesis 44:18-34

By Henry Geerlings

The Judah of today's lesson is quite different from the Judah of the time of selling of Joseph to the traveling merchants. Then he was the hard Judah, the unfeeling Judah, the Judah governed and guided by his prejudices and hatred. And yet at that he was better than his other brethren. He does try to save the life of young Joseph. Maybe he did the best that could be done under the circumstances. Selling him to the merchants was a means of saving his life. It was an improvement over putting him to death in cold-blooded fashion. It does show some brotherly feeling. Even the best of us are sometimes shut up to the doing of something that is far below what we would like to do and what our hearts prompt us to do, but it is far above a proposed method that has no heart in it. At any rate Judah appears to very much greater advantage now than he did then.
Now he is willing to sacrifice his very life, if that is necessary. He counts himself as nothing as over the life of Benjamin, who in this present instance is everything.

The brothers had pledged to their aged father a safe conduct of Benjamin. They had guaranteed his safe return, upon which his elder sons to take his youngest with them to Egypt on their combining journey. Now Judah proposes to make good that pledge.
If anything should happen to Benjamin it would be the death of Jacob, the father. Every father can understand this. To Jacob his beloved Joseph was dead. His heart was still sore over his disappearance and, as he supposed, death. Parents do not lose children easily. One of the saddest things in this world is the death of a promising son, his early going hence when he showed so much promise and when so many hopes had been built upon him.
The tragic death of Absalom nearly broke David's heart. Giving up a son is an experience which only the parent heart can know in the fullness of its pain. It is like a sword piercing the heart.

Now Judah comes forth in the trying emergency with a noble speech saturated with the deepest feelings of his own torn and troubled heart. He is determined to prevent a second tragedy, if such prevention lies in his power. His speech is tactful, diplomatic, moving, but with the emotions that the situation creates. It is even dramatic. He uses all his powers to impress upon the mind of this ruler of Egypt the home scene, the old father and his sufferings, if Benjamin does not come back to him. He little knows how eloquent and moving and powerful his speech is. Judah little knows that its sincerity and honesty and eloquence and the vicarious offering of himself he makes through his speech prove to his brother Joseph what a changed man he has become. Joseph sees a different brother standing before him.
He must have called to mind that terrible day when Judah said to his brother, "Come, let us sell him to the Ishmaelites."

What a heartening and striking contrast his present attitude presents. Joseph is convinced that a great and radical change has taken place in that man. The years have done a great work in him. Possibly Judah could never forget the cries of poor young Joseph as these traveling merchants roughly hurried him off from his brothers and started on their way to Egypt. Maybe that sad face of his brother haunted Judah across all the intervening years. Maybe he determined that he would seek some means to make atonement for the great wrong he and his brothers did to Joseph. And now when another brother seems to be in jeopardy Judah steps forth and throws his very soul into the task of making such an atonement, and of saving poor young Benjamin from a fate that would bring his father to his grave through grief.

Sometimes great emergencies bring out the best that is in us.
Sometimes we are greater than we know and only great necessities for action reveal the good of which we are capable—the good that might not have come to the surface otherwise. Judah's offer to become a bondman for Benjamin has the noblest spirit back of it. It has that great force of vicarious suffering in it, that spirit of laying down one's life for another. It is the kind of sacrifice that sweetens and saves the world. It is that spirit that finds its glorious fulfillment and its most beautiful expression in the cross of Christ. We need that spirit in all ages and in all places wherever men live together.
Society is but a mere aggregation of selfishness without it.

We ought also to Judah honor for his determination to keep faith with his father. He had given him his word that Benjamin should be brought back to him from Egypt. When a man is willing to stake his own life for the keeping and integrity of his pledged word there is something more than the ordinary about that man.
Here is a man whose word is better than his bond.

Associated Press dispatches say that Musselman will win the nomination for governor by 10,000 majority. The tabulated account is very incomplete. As has been expected the fight for the Republican nomination for probate judge was very close from the very start. Judge Edward Kirby made a splendid run on his record while in office and his opponent James J. Danhof, crowded close right along running ahead in a number of the townships and also getting a good voice in the city of Holland. The result was in doubt till this noon, when the last precinct was heard from and Kirby had a majority of 62.

There was a merry race on for

Carl Mapes Huntley Russell and the nomination and so far Mapes is 147 ahead.

Scrap Roundup in County ArrangedOttawa Divided Into Sections to Speed Up
Collections Sept. 25

The Ottawa county salvage committee held a meeting Monday night in the county civilian defense office in the former Holland City State bank building to discuss arrangements for the county-wide scrap collection Friday, Sept. 25.
The matter of handling the scrap as well as the collection was the subject of much discussion. Various groups were added to those already appointed to handle the collection and supervise the "Get-Out-the-Scrap" movement in order that all scrap materials will be at the designated roadside locations when county trucks cover the county Sept. 25.

Carl Bowen, county road engineer, will supervise the pickup as well as the weighing of the trucks when they return with their loads so that an accurate record will be had of the amount of scrap collected. Weight slips will be secured when the weighing is completed and the scrap will be disposed of on these weights.

All money derived from the sale of the scrap will be donated to the United Service organization (USO), the official agency for the armed forces' service centers.

The drive will be nation-wide and is being conducted by the entire population of the United States to get the scrap into the proper channels so that it will be sorted and moved to the furnaces.
All scrap will be sold to scrap dealers who have the equipment and facilities to handle the sorting and grading.

Ottawa county has been divided into sections and scrap dealers designated so that the county road trucks will not have to make long hauls to dump their loads after the collection has been made.
Newspapers throughout the county are cooperating in the scrap collection campaign.

Those present at the meeting included John Van Dam, secretary and also acting chairman for William Vander Laan of Hudsonville who was unable to be present; George Van Koeveling of Zeeland; Martin Van Schelven of Grand Haven; L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent; L. Philip Van Hartswel, local salvage chairman; Henry Boersma of the Holland Furnace Co., representing a part of the manufacturers; Simon Borr, chairman of the Ottawa county civilian defense council; and W. A. Butler of The Holland Evening Sentinel.

A motion was made by Mr. Van Koeveling and seconded by Mr.
Van Schelven that Mr. Van Dam act as chairman whenever Mr.
Vander Laan is unable to be present at meetings. Clyde and Eugene Ten Brink also were absent Monday night.

Mr. Arnold is making an appel to all rural residents who have agreed to donate metal in the final salvage drive to place the metal by the road side by the morning of Sept. 25. The county road commission has agreed to supply trucks. It is necessary that metal be at road sides so that time will not be lost. Hundreds of miles of roads must be covered.

"Here is a chance for rural residents to display patriotism through cooperation in this program," Mr. Arnold stated, adding that the county salvage committee is pleased over the fine cooperation of rural people in this final drive. They have responded in previous drives. This campaign should clean up all metal left on farms."

Local Shoe Firm Reaches Goal of 10 Per Cent Pay Deduction for Bonds

Frank M. Lievesse, Sr., executive chairman of the committee to promote the sale of U. S. war bonds and stamps in Holland, reported here that Holland-Racine Shoes, Inc., not only became the first firm here to report more than 90 per cent of its employees enrolled in the salary allotment plan but also is the first to report that its employees are permitting deductions of 10 per cent from their income.

September has been designated as "10 per cent month" by the federal treasury department, he said.

The company received its treasury department's "Minute Man" flag last June in attaining the 90 per cent goal and by reaching the 10 per cent deduction goal it becomes eligible to fly the department's "special bullseye" flag over its plant, Mr. Lievesse said.

The company employs 337 workers and only four are not subscribing for war bonds. Carl Andreesen is general manager.

Mr. Lievesse said Holland fell short by $21,213.95 of reaching its $119,800 goal in the sale of bonds for August. Sales of bonds last month here amounted in issue price to $98,586.05.

Commenting on its recent achievement, Peter Kromann, Holland-Racine company controller, said:

"This part of the country has not awakened to the fact that we are at war; and people will not start realizing it until we begin getting the wires back that this boy and that boy has been killed in action. Then they can blame themselves that they have not done their duty in helping to give these boys enough to fight with, or enough airplane protection, or whatever else it is the boys need to win this war.

"I am anxious to have everyone realize now, before it is too late, that now is the time to help, not next year, not after the mortgage on the house is paid off, or after the car is paid for, but now, right now.

"I find that the great majority of our people are in hearty agreement with the 10 per cent plan, and when approached are ready to sacrifice and serve in this national emergency. It was really heartening to observe our employees' understanding of this serious situation, and their willingness to cooperate with the government's plan. I am certain that other employers will have the same experience."

Mr. Lievesse pointed out that the national income has been estimated at 120 billion dollars and that the government wants "the democratic voluntary subscription of 12 billion dollars for war bonds.

"This being 10 per cent of the national income, it is up to each individual to ask himself, 'Do I deserve my democracy?' Will I do what I am asked by my leaders to win this war? Will I invest 10 per cent of my income in the soundest security in the world?"

"Some will do more than asked to do and very few are asked to do less. It is cheaper to win this war than lose it. Our enemies are all out for this war and we will have to if we want to win and preserve our freedom," Mr. Lievesse said.

Third Church Arranges Anniversary Program

Third Reformed church will mark its 75th anniversary with a special celebration during the week of Oct. 11. It was announced today by the special anniversary committee headed by Dr. Wynand Wichers. Plans being arranged by the committee include special events on Sunday, Oct. 11, Tuesday, Oct. 13 and Thursday, Oct. 15.

The service on Sunday morning will include besides the sermon by the pastor, the Rev. William Van't Hof, an anniversary address by Dr. Wichers. At the evening service members and delegates representing Reformed churches of the Holland classis will gather to hear Dr. Simon Blocker deliver the anniversary sermon.

A dinner and evening of fellowship for the membership of Third church is being arranged for Tuesday. The celebration will be climaxed on Thursday evening with an impressive inspirational meeting.

Third church is one of the city's oldest institutions of worship, having been organized Sept. 9, 1867. The organization of Third church was a natural development with the rapidly growing community. Reasons for chartering Third church are an interesting contrast to Hope church which was organized in July, 1862, to provide English services for those who did not understand the Dutch still being used at all services in First church at that time. Third church, on the other hand, became the church home for many of the people living west of Central Ave. This street was established as a boundary by agreement of the consistory of the older bodies.

Charter members numbered 97 communicants and 170 baptized members. Nine pastors have served during the 75 years.

Committees for the anniversary include: Sunday services, Prof. G. Vander Borgh, chairman, Fred Beeuwkes, G. John Koelker, Prof. A. E. Lampen and Mrs. G. H. Dubink; fellowship evening, Prof. Paul Brouwer, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bosman, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Knooihuizen, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Van Dyke, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Van Dahn, Mr. and Mrs. P. N. N. and Miss Clara Reevera.

Directory and historical booklet, "Jy De Koning, chairman, Charles De Boer, Albert Faassen, Chester Ver Meulen and W. E. Van Dyke; publicity, Bernard Arendshorst, chairman, W. C. Wichers, Miss Hanna Hoekje and Bert Nabehuis.

Board Approves New Truck Route Through Holland

Proposals Referred to Common Council for Its Consideration

A proposed truck route through Holland to take heavy trucks off Eighth St. in the downtown business district was approved Monday afternoon by the board of police and fire commissioners who referred the proposal to common council for its consideration Wednesday night.

The matter was brought up at the board's Aug. 31 meeting and referred to its committee on traffic and marking with a suggestion that it hold a joint meeting with council's street committee. William Meengs, committee chairman, reported the meeting was held last week during which time the proposed route was worked out.

The proposal calls for truck traffic from the east to continue west on Eighth St. to Columbia Ave., south on Columbia Ave., to 17th St., then west on 17th St. to River Ave.

umbia Ave., south on Columbia Ave., to 17th St., then west on 17th St. to River Ave.

It is proposed, according to Meengs' report, to move the present traffic light at 14th St. and River Ave. to 17th St. and River Ave. to aid trucks in crossing River Ave. and continuing west to the marine base of the Globe Oil and Refining Co. or turning south on River Ave. for US-31 or M-40. Trucks traveling from the south and west would follow this route in reverse order.

Meengs said it is proposed to make 17th St. between Columbia and River Aves. a through street. Trucks from the east and bound for the north would follow west on Eighth St. to Columbia Ave., north on Columbia Ave. to Seventh St., thence west on Seventh St. to River Ave. and north on River Ave. It is proposed to make College Ave. a street at Seventh St.

Truck traffic from the north which is bound for the marine base or other destinations in the west part of the city would travel south on River Ave. to Seventh St., west on Seventh St. to Pine Ave., south to Eighth St., west to Van Raalte Ave. and thence south to 17th St.

To aid the movement of truck traffic, it is proposed to make Eighth St., west of Pine Ave., and Van Raalte Ave. to 17th St., a through street, Meengs said.

Through truck traffic from the north or south on US-31 would follow the present route through the city, he said.

On motion of Commissioner William Deur and seconded by Meengs, the proposed routes were approved and sent to common council for its consideration.

As another safety measure in Holland, it is proposed to make 16th St. and Central Ave., a four-way stop, Meengs reported.

As another safety measure considered by the board, Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff recommended that only three school traffic officers be used during the 1942-43 school year because one of the officers has obtained private employment and the chief expressed doubt if a suitable man could be obtained.

These officers would be located at 15th St. and River Ave., 16th St. and River Ave. and the five corners at Michigan and River Ave., 19th and State Sts. The traffic "dumple" would be used at 24th and State Sts. Feeling that the hazards of school pedestrians would be minimized if schools closed 10 minutes earlier at the noon hour, the board approved the motion of Meengs and Commissioner John Donnelly, that the board of education be requested to adopt an earlier closing noon hour. (The board of education Monday night referred the matter to its committee on schools with power to act although the school board felt the dangerous condition was not at noon but at 1 p.m.)

The police and fire board authorized its committee on personnel to arrange for an examination to be held at an early date among applications for the position of special officer, the vacancy being caused by the promotion of William Bouman to a regular special officer, replacing William Van Etta who resigned recently.

Only five have applied for the job but any other interested parties may make application with Police Chief Van Hoff to take the examination. The date for the examination will be announced later.

Fire Chief Andrew Klomparsen reported 500 feet of fire hose had been received and he was given authority to obtain another 500 if it is available.

Contending that Saturday night dances on the second floor of the building at Eighth St. and Central Ave. is a "nuisance," Mayor Henry Geerlings urged the board to take action to halt them. He said the Warm Friend tavern had complained of the noise caused by the dances. It was brought out that no license had been obtained to operate the dance hall but Van Hoff questioned that a license was necessary since admission is not charged.

Van Hoff said he is willing to have officers close up the dance but felt he should be given proper authority. The matter was referred to the police chief and City Attorney Clarence Lokker.

Mayor Geerlings also reported having received complaints of youth loitering on Eighth St. and River Ave. late at night and he felt police officers should curtail this practice.
