Will Make Tests For New Water Supply for City

Council Favors BPW Recommendation to Try West of Holland

Common council Wednesday night approved a recommendation of the board of public works to proceed with tests and analyses for a new water supply west of the city to replace the present system which is deficient in storage and pumping capacity to supply high demands, aside from certain objectionable chemical properties which brought many objections from consumers this summer.

The sum of $6,000 was approved to make tests to determine if an adequate supply of soft water is available west of the city. If these tests prove unsatisfactory, the board is empowered to make similar tests in the vicinity of the present East Eighth St. wells, the additional expense not to exceed $6,800. The motion made by Ald. Herman Mooi and seconded by Ald. Bernard De Pree called for a total expenditure not to exceed $12,800.

These tests will be the first step in a program to supplement, replace or improve the present water supply. City Clerk Oscar Peterson read a 10-page report of the works board covering a study of the water situation made by the Burns and McDonnell Engineering Co. of Kansas City, Mo.

The report lists four potential sources of supply including:

1. Additional wells near East Eighth St. station.
2. New underground supply west of Holland.
3. Lake Macatawa supply.
4. Lake Michigan supply.

The report recommends development of the "west of Holland" supply without treatment as the least expensive of the four.

Estimated cost of new equipment at each source follows:

1. East Eighth St. including a softening plant, $481,000; additional annual expense of operation, $42,000.
2. West of Holland well supply (no treatment), $338,500; additional annual expense of operation, $6,600. West of Holland well supply (if purification plant is required), $583,500; additional expense of operation, $34,200. (Cost of property is not included.)
3. Lake Macatawa supply, $583,500; additional annual expense of operation, $33,000.
4. Lake Michigan supply, $783,500; additional annual expense of operation, $50,000.

The report pointed out that restrictions were placed on lawn sprinkling during the past two months because of inadequate supplies. "While it is true that this condition was of relatively short duration, it is an undesirable situation as the aim of every water department should be to supply all its consumers with all the water they want whenever they want it at satisfactory pressure."

All pumping stations were in operation for several hours on most week days in July and August. If a pump or motor had failed during these periods of high consumption, more drastic restrictions would have been necessary and in cases of a severe fire, the entire business district might have been threatened, the report said.

The report said consideration should be given to the recommendation of the Michigan department of health regarding the abandonment of the 19th St. and 28th St. stations. The state department does not consider the sources of supply from these stations as satisfactory for public use, due to the potential health hazards in the nature of sewers and long suction lines existing at these locations, unless the water from these wells is treated in a conditioning plant.

BPW Supt. Abe Nauta emphasized today that Holland's present water supply is absolutely safe. Tests at all wells are taken twice weekly, and reports of the analyses are sent to the state department. Water from the 19th and 28th St. wells are chlorinated but the rust and odor, while not harmful, is objectionable. All water is pumped into the storage tanks.

State authorities informed the board a couple of years ago that the 19th and 28th St. wells should be discontinued because the suction pipes leading to the Fifth St. reservoir pass through thickly populated residential sections. The request was made because the water supply might be contaminated by sewage, etc., should breaks appear in the lines. Water lines and sewers should be "250 feet apart," the state has decided.

Nauta said present facilities could continue to supply the city's needs, barring emergencies, for a long time to come if the 19th and 28th St. wells continue to operate.

Hanson Is Chest's Campaign Director

C. Neal Steketee, president of the Holland Community chest, announced today that Ervin D. Hanson, Holland high school teacher and past president of the Exchange club, has been appointed campaign manager for the annual chest and war fund drive.

Mr. Hanson is now mapping his campaign and selecting his committees. Dates for the drive, total budget and the date of the opening dinner are being determined. All requests for appropriations have been submitted to the Council of Social Agencies board which in turn made its recommendations to the Community chest board which will reach a final decision on the budget and appropriations for chest agencies this week.

All groups of last year will be included in the new budget and it is possible a new group will be added. Local agencies receiving aid last year from the chest were Boy scouts, Camp Fire girls, Salvation army, City mission, Civic Health committee, Michigan Children's Aid society, Goodfellows foundation, Crippled Children fund, blind and sight conservation and Underprivileged Children's committee. Added to these are the 17 war relief activities approved by the national war fund committee.

Mr. Steketee said he was enthusiastic over the appointment and acceptance of Mr. Hanson who has successfully served as chairman of various committees in former drives. "I am sure Holland will back him up in his efforts and we'll do our part in this united campaign for community needs and war relief," he said. Community chest board members are Mr. Steketee, president; Dick Miles, vice-president; Lavern C. Dalman, secretary and treasurer, and Directors Hanson, Edgar P. A-1 League Offer Made to Wenzel And Van Wieren Lefty Van Wieren and Loren Wenzel, flyer and catcher of the Holland Flying Dutchmen baseball team, were offered well paying contracts with Nashville of the Southern association after a try-out Monday with the Chicago Cubs at Wrigley field in Chicago. The Southern association is a class A-1 league.

Both of the boys brought their contracts home unsigned and are planning on taking a few days to think it over.

Ray Schalk, the scout who spotted Holland's outstanding battery in action and who was on hand to watch the boys work out in Chicago, said they looked good enough to make the big time after a year's conditioning. Schalk came here on a tip-off from Roy Paine, former semi-pro player who is a government inspector at the Holland-Racine Shoe Co.

Manager Benny Batema of the Flying Dutchmen, who made the trip with the boys talked with Schalk for some time, said Schalk was quite dismayed because Harry De Neff, the Dutchmen's second sacker, had not come along for the tryout. Schalk said he had planned to ask De Neff to try out and believed he had told him so, but, according to De Neff, he was not approached. He will probably receive a tryout in the future.

Some 30 to 40 men tried out Monday and only three were offered contracts. The other had given a contract was a pitcher from Fort Wayne, Ind.

According to Wenzel, the work-out began about 3 p.m. and lasted until dark with the players doing everything in the book and playing as if in a regular game.

Batema said the Holland boys really showed up the others and looked "snappy." The fact that they were the only boys offered contracts with a class A-1 team is proof enough that they must have looked good.

Nashville is presently on top in the Southern association, having won 47 games and lost 25. Other teams in that league are Atlanta, Memphis, New Orleans, Mobile, Little Rock, Birmingham and Chattanooga.

Writes Letter on Jap Stationery

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Grabowski, 210 East 16th St., have received a letter from their son, Pfc. Robert W. Grabowski, at present in a rest camp in the Pacific area, which was written on Japanese stationery.

The paper is thin, similar to air mail stationery, and in the upper right corner of each sheet is a palm tree design. Also on the bottom of the sheets are various pictures, including houses, natives picking fruit, palm trees being debarked by laborers and other scenes.

Pfc. Grabowski wrote "This stationery came from Tinian. The Jap that had it won't be writing letters for quite a while."

Pfc. Grabowski is with the fourth division of the 14th Marines and participated in the campaigns of Saipan and Tinian before being sent to the rest camp where he is at present.

Supplies of Gas Books Run Short; To Mail Coupons

Officials at the local war price and rationing office today instructed car operators who were unable to obtain their basic A gasoline ration books Wednesday due to shortages of supplies to mail in their applications together with the old A book cover and tire inspection sheets to the office at 25 West Eighth St. and the ration books will be mailed as soon as new supplies are received.

The local office estimated that no more than 300 or 400 throughout this section of the county failed to get the new books. No shortages were reported in Grand Haven.

The five rationing centers here issued all of the 3,950 books received. Supplies at one rural school in Park township ran far short and many residents were sent into the city for the books, causing a shortage here.

The local office said supplies were distributed according to county figures submitted by the secretary of state.

Grand Haven, Sept. 21 (Special)—A total of 2,636 ration books were issued in Grand Haven and Spring Lake Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. This area includes Grand Haven city, Grand Haven township, Robinson township and Spring Lake township. A total of 899 books were issued at Ferry school, 907 at the high school gymnasium and 830 at Spring Lake.

Ammunition Is Not Too Plentiful Here

Although supplies of shells in Holland have been better than last year, local hunters still have far from enough for their needs for duck season which opened Wednesday and the small game season which opens Oct. 15, local dealers said today. Conservation Officer Clayton W. Forry said there were few shells if any for sale throughout the county.

Local duck hunters will converge on the Grand river area in the northern part of the county and also will go to the Kalamazoo river in Saugatuck. The water level at the latter place is much lower than usual due to the drought. Forry said there have been "quite a few" ducks on Lake Macatawa and Black river but said hunters likely would find "better picking" in other areas.

Ducks in this area have been limited mostly to mallards and greenbacks and some black duck. Coos also have been plentiful.

Forry said the bag limit this year is 15 a day and not more than 10 of these may be other than mallard. "Other than mallards" include pintails or widgeons. The black duck is not a mallard. One of the ten may be a wood duck.

Hunters, applying for licenses have been able to buy from 10 to 25 shells in local stores. Although many licenses have been issued, dealers expect to issue the bulk before the small game season Oct. 15.

The duck population is normal, sportsmen say, but the recent dry weather left potholes, marshes and ponds without water and as a result hunters in many sections of the state will find their favorite hunting places duckless. Rivers and lakes likely will provide better hunting.

40TH ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY

Zeeland, Sept. 21 (Special) - On Sunday, Second Reformed church of Zeeland will celebrate its 40th anniversary with appropriate memorial services. Three former pastors will participate in the Sunday programs, Rev. Benjamin Hoffman in the morning and Rev. C. L. Austin and Rev. Richard J. Vanden Berg in the evening, with the pastor, Rev. William J. Hilbert, in charge of both services. At the evening service the regular choir, augmented by many visiting former choir members, under the direction of Harold Goerds, will sing several favorite numbers.

From 6 to 8 p.m. Monday an anniversary dinner, program and social hour will be given for the children of the church and Sunday school.

At 6:30 p.m. Tuesday the anniversary banquet for past and present members of the church will be held, to be followed by a program of addresses and music. John H. De Pree, vice-president of consistory, will be master of ceremonies and Rev. Hilbert will serve as toastmaster. Responses will be made by the three former pastors and by presidents of organizations and also by Isaac Van Dyke, the sole surviving member of the original consistory.

Stanley De Pree, baritone of Lansing, and son of one of the charter members of the church, will be guest soloist. Greetings from the mother church, First Reformed, will be brought by Rev. A. Rybrandt, pastor, and greetings from the Holland church by its president, Rev. L. Olgers.

The church was organized in September, 1904, by 104 charter members, most of whom came from the mother church, First Reformed of this city, who felt the need of an English-speaking church in Zeeland.

Dr. William Moerdyke, then pastor of the Reformed church at Roseland, Ill., was installed as first pastor Jan. 17, 1905. He had served as pastor of the mother church about 30 years before. He was pastor from 1905 to 1911, when he accepted a call to the Grandville Reformed church.

The first regular church services were held in a new, small church building erected on the present site at a cost of $2,600. This church was dedicated Feb. 14, 1905.

The first consistory included Dr. T. G. Huizinga, William De Pree, A. G. Van Hees, Henry De Kruij, elders; Henry De Pree, C. J. Den Herder, Albertus Veneklasen and Isaac Van Dyke, deacons. Only one of these is now living, Isaac Van Dyke, who continues active church work and is still a member of the consistory.

The church Sunday school was organized Dec. 18, 1904, and the late Albert Lahuis, superintendent, and 18 teachers began as leaders. Two months later the total enrollment of the Sunday school was 182.

Rev. Benjamin Hoffman became the second pastor and was installed March 7, 1912. He came to Zeeland from Fifth Reformed church Grand Rapids and served from 1912 to 1923 when he became pastor of the Morrison Illinois Reformed church. He is now retired and resides in Overisel.

Rev. Clarence L. Austin came to Zeeland in January, 1924, to become the third pastor. He had trim and carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid. Miss Jeanne Crump of New York city, her sister's only attendant, wore a gown of light blue chiffon and satin and carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill, Talsman and yellow roses.

Dr. and Mrs. Van Leeuwen left after the reception for the East where they plan to spend some time in New York city. Following their trip the couple will be at home at 905 Forest Ave. For traveling the bride wore a beige gabbardine suit, brown coat and matching accessories. As her corsage she wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a senior at the University of Michigan and Dr. Van Leeuwen is an instructor in the University school of Dentistry. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Van Leeuwen and daughter, Miss Etheleen Van Leeuwen, of Holland attended the ceremony.

Many hunters chose the Grand river section in the northern part of the county for their initial attempts.

Two local residents who bagged ducks yesterday as the season opened got a bit wet in the big bayou section near Chippewa beach.

City Clerk Oscar Peterson shot two teal and one mallard in a brief hunting expedition but in retrieving one in the dense swamps at that part of Lake Macatawa he hit a soft bottom and the water went over his boots. Bill Victor who shot two mallards in that locality had a similar experience, but both considered their hunting trips successful.

Car Keys Thief On the Loose

Police here are puzzling over the motive for the theft of car keys from at least four cars in the downtown area Thursday.

Keys were taken from three cars parked in the Warm Friend tavern lot and from one car in the parking lot at The Sentinel.

One person at the service station reported seeing a youngster "hanging around" and police are on the lookout for such a person.

Earlier last week a Castle park summer resident reported that his car was ransacked and keys, papers and a flashlight taken while parked near the Co-op parking lot. Another car in that locality was ransacked but nothing was missing.

Loss of the keys proved inconvenient to the car owners, some of whom made trips to their homes for duplicates.

81 Hundred From Ottawa, Allegan In Armed Forces

Approximately 4,700 men and women in Ottawa county and 3,400 in Allegan county — a total of 8,100 — have entered the armed forces since passage of the selective service law Sept. 16, 1940, draft boards in Holland and Grand Haven have reported following disclosure in Lansing by Brig. Gen. Le Roy Pearson, state selective service director, that more than 500,000 of Michigan are in service.

The county total represents about one out of 13 from Ottawa's population of 59,660.

Holland's board No. 1 listed approximately 1,600 inductees. The total for Grand Haven's board No. 2 is 3,100.

In Allegan county, figures show 3,400 have been inducted, a ratio of about one out of 12 from the county's population of 41,839.

Holland's 1,600 represents about one out of nine of the city's 14,616 population.

Registration in Holland totals exactly 3,800 and Allegan county listed a registration of 14,735. Grand Haven did not feel free to reveal its registration, but it was indicated it was near that of Allegan county.

The 3,100 inductees from the Grand Haven board (covering all Ottawa county outside Holland) included 572 enlisted personnel, those entering service on a volunteer basis. Allegan's figures showed 325 enlistments. Enlistment figures for the Holland board were not available.

Registration in the state totaled 1,925,374.

Commemorating the fourth anniversary of the act, Pearson praised Michigan's 5,000 volunteer board members and their assistants and called upon them for continued service in meeting replacement needs of the armed forces and providing assistance to veterans during demobilization.

Of the total number registered under the selective service act, 1-238,587 men under the age of 45 have been classified by local boards. Approximately 350,000 have been inducted while 130,000 have enlisted in the armed forces. One-third of these sent to induction centers were rejected for physical disabilities.

This withdrawal of a large percentage of our employable males of military age was accomplished, Pearson declared, "without hindering the efficiency of the huge war production program carried on in Michigan."

On an average, every Michigan community has contributed more than 10 per cent of its total population to meet the manpower needs of the armed forces, according to Pearson. This figure, however, represents almost one-third of the total employable population of each community.

"This should indicate to all communities the tremendous impact which demobilization will have upon their economic life and challenge their best efforts to meet this problem," the general asserted.

Pearson also revealed that approximately 52,000 Michigan men have been discharged from the armed forces thus far. Of this number, 17,000 were discharged for disability reasons. Army discharges total 43,659 and discharges by the navy, marine corps and coast guard 8,998.

The state draft director predicted that nearly 600,000 Michigan men will have attained the status of veterans before the termination of this war.

Reunited After 26 Years

Mrs. Edgar Lytle, 94 East 13th St., was reunited today with her sister Mrs. Wilbur Walk, of Tyrone, Pa., whom she had not seen for the past 26 years and of whose existence she had not known until nine weeks ago. Mrs. Lytle is the former Betty Whitener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Whitener, 18 West Ninth St.

During the flu epidemic of 1918, when Betty Richards was two years old and the youngest of six children, her parents died within four days of each other. Bertha Richards (Mrs. Walk), at that time 15 years old and the oldest in the family, returned to her home after attending the funeral of her father, after both parents had died, and found the five younger children gone.

She was taken into a private home and several weeks later found out that the other children had been placed in the Clearfield Pa. Children's home and when she went to see them learned that Betty had been adopted.

The Whitners, who at that time were living in Butler, Pa., had adopted Betty a few days after her entrance into the home, knew nothing about her except that her parents were dead and promised not to try to locate her relatives until she became 21 years old.

Two years ago, without the knowledge of Mrs. Lytle, the Whitners began writing to Harrisburg and Butler, Pa., trying to secure their daughter's birth certificate, but, not knowing her real parents' names, met with no success. Later they wrote to the superintendent of the Clearfield Children's home and learned that in 1928 she had received a letter from Mrs. Walk inquiring about her sister, Betty. The superintendent sent Mrs. Walk's address to the Whitners, who in turn gave it to their daughter, and the two sisters immediately corresponded and exchanged pictures.

When the Lytles met Mrs. Walk at the Union depot in Grand Rapids on Sept. 12, however, Mrs. Walk recognized Mr. Lytle, whose picture she had also seen, before she did her sister, Mrs. Wilbur Walk, Jr., accompanied her mother-in-law to Holland and will remain here with her until next week. Plans are being made for the brothers and sisters for a reunion at Christmas in Tyrone which both Mr. and Mrs. Lytle plan to attend. The Lytles have two children, Stewart and Freddy.

Myrtle Richards, a sister, died in 1925. The other surviving brothers and sister are Robert Richards, New York city; Chris Richards, Tyrone, Pa.; and Mrs. Grace Phillips Blueball, Pa. Mrs. Lytle has received two letters from her brother, Richard, and has also heard from her nephew, Pvt. Wilbur Walk, Jr., in France, which tells how often he remembers his mother trying to locate her sister and of how many times she was disappointed before the present reunion occurred.

The Rose O. D. Garden club will be held with Mrs. Trevor Nichols Sept. 29. The lesson will be presented by Mrs. Ned Bale on the composition family.

The Baptist Missionary society will meet with Mrs. Abner Miller next Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Harry Kiernan will present the lesson.

Pvt. and Mrs. Clifford Kiernan arrived this week from Fort Sill, Okla., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kiernan and to see his brother, Floyd, and wife, who have been here on a ten day leave and who left Thursday for Fort Devens, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Benson are receiving this week a visit from their son, Rev. Glendon Benson, and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Dalley, and two sons of Wyandotte are also visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McKown have received word that their son, Pvt. Eldon McKown, has arrived safely in England. Robert Cunningham has also reached England safely.

Maj. Franklin J. Fazakerley, 48, of Muskegon, formerly attached to Co. D of Holland, now serving in France, will be retired from active service and expects to return home in October.

Veteran of the first war, Fazakerley joined Holland's company as a private many years ago. As a sergeant here, he passed his examinations for a commission and as a second lieutenant was transferred to Muskegon, his former home, where there was an opening for an officer. He left Holland seven or eight years ago.

The major has been working in communications in France. He went with the national guard to Louisiana in 1940, was released but was recalled to active duty in February, 1942. His son, Arthur, 20, has been in the Pacific war zone for three years. He was seriously wounded during the Pearl Harbor attack but resumed his duties after recovering.

Flier of Ganges Killed in Action

Ganges, Sept. 21 (Special) — Mrs. Orrey Repp received a telegram Sept. 7 from the war department stating that her son, S/Sgt. John Hutchins, 22, had been killed in action April 29 when his plane crashed over Germany.

He was chief radio operator aboard a Flying Fortress and had been awarded an Oak leaf cluster in February of this year. He was formerly reported missing in action.

Sgt. Hutchins had spent his entire life in this vicinity and was graduated from South Haven High school. He joined the army air corps in October, 1943. Besides his mother, he is survived by three brothers, Gerald in the marines, Donald and Halden at home.

Other classes are divided as follows: Seniors, 70; juniors, 91, and sophomores, 64.

The Junior High school has an enrollment of 80 and the grade schools have 310.

Saugatuck Boat Finally Raised

Saugatuck, Sept. 21 (Special) — After more than nine months of work, Ray Swartz' salvage crew has finally raised the 64-foot all-steel fishing tug Gotham which foundered and sank in a severe gale last Dec. 11 with the loss of five men whose bodies were recovered, the first early in February and the last in July.

Workmen say the boat does not leak, evidence which eliminates the theory that the boat had rammed into the pier before it sank. Tentative plans are to cut out the enclosure on the top of the boat, raise the deck and build a new cabin. Part of the work will be done here and the Gotham then will be taken to Holland.

Salvage operations had been delayed many times due to ice, bad weather, breaking cables, inadequate equipment and the like.

Red Cross Camp, Hospital Committee to Meet in G.H.

Grand Haven, Sept. 21 (Special) — A meeting of the Ottawa county camp and hospital committee of the Red Cross will be held in the Grand Haven lifeboat station Saturday at 2:30 p.m. The committee which was instrumental in furnishing the recreation room at the station will be guests of Chief William T. Clemmons of the training station also will be present as well as a group of Grand Haven and Muskegon. Walter C. Studds, field director of the Red Cross at Port Custer and his staff also will be present.

SWEDEN'S DILEMMA

The government of Sweden has let it be known that it will not offer itself as an asylum for war criminals. Minister of Social Affairs, Gustav Moeller, points out that Sweden has given asylum to refugees and that 61,000 of them are now in the country. But the government makes a distinction between refugees and war criminal-als. Sweden will close its frontiers to the latter, "and should anyone slip through he will be returned to his own country."

No exception can be taken to the theory as thus enunciated by the government of this neutral country. Although each neutral has a right to establish its own policy, world public opinion will bring strong pressure to bear on all neutrals to follow a similar course. There have been terrible crimes, as the Swedish minister of social affairs points out, and criminals deserve to be punished.

It is not the policy that raises questions but its application. It is so easy to speak of "refugees" and of "criminals"; it is sometimes terribly hard to say offhand, without a complicated legal investigation, which is which. In 1918 the government of Holland ruled that the Kaiser was a "refugee" and gave him asylum, whereas the people of the Allied countries considered him a "war criminal." Historians have been quarreling ever since as to whether Wilhelm II was a criminal or initiated the crimes of Germany.

There are certainly many cases in this war that are far more on the borderline than was the case of the Kaiser in the first World war. Also many cases about which there can be no doubt. The members of the Nazi high command, for instance—Hitler, Goering, Goebbels, Himmler, Hess, and so on—may be considered in the criminal class without too much halting. A neutral government would not be in great danger of committing an injustice by handing such people over to the authorities designated to execute justice.

But there must be many, many others who carried out orders as members of a disciplined army but whose acts are interpreted as "crimes" by those who suffered from them. How is a neutral government to distinguish between "refugees" and "criminals"? Some neutrals, Switzerland for instance, have publicly resented the demand of the United Nations to shut their borders to "war criminals." Before such countries are condemned, it is well to remember that in practice it is not always easy to define the term, "war criminals."

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

M. J. Cameron of the Ford Motor Co. says, "No nation can be rightly judged by its power to make war; war is one of the easiest tasks a government can undertake. It is the oldest of public acts and we know how to go about it. Building a righteous economy is a much harder task and less is known about that; besides economy requires character. The glory of our fathers is that here they erected a way of life that offers fewer obstacles to the coming of these things, than any other system does; and the failure of us, their sons, is that we have not produced the character to carry these things through." The church is the outstanding character-producing institution of our country.
Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Officer Turns Fireman,
Puts Out Arning Blaze

Police Officer Ralph (Moose) Wolring extinguished a blaze downtown in short order. Cruising on the three-wheeler checking parked cars, he noticed the checking at the Penny Co. on fire, rushed back to the police station for a fire extinguisher and put out the fire shortly before 11 a.m.
The fire was probably caused by the cigarette of a passerby.

Two round holes, one about six inches in diameter and another about three inches, remain as evidence. Clerks in the store were unaware of the fire. No alarms have been turned into the local fire station so far this month.

Religion in the Life of a Nation
2 Samuel 7: 17-29
By Henry Geerlings
Religion is universal. Some kind of religion obtains wherever people live. Even the anti-God people have a religion. They make a religion of their avowed denial of religion. It is according to this tenet they think and plan and work and live. Something to which they are devoted and by which they are influenced is their religion. They write down its principles and live out its rules.
They set up an organization to promote what they advocate.

It is common practice in all religions to have a place for assembly. People get together in the name of their religion, and because of it. There they worship together. Whatever God they believe in is held as deserving to be worshipped in a place set apart for the purpose. There is always some kind of praying to the God worshipped, and there is a response to that prayer. With all this arises the elevation of chosen persons to lead the worship, persons who speak for God to the people and to God for the people.

Religion in the life of Israel held a position of prominence. It determined their government and affected the daily life. This place of religion has not been lost. In the coronation of England's latest king it was by a ceremony of the church. The state had an incidental part. This coronation was held in a church, a place set apart for worship.

It is not a whim of man that we have church buildings. God authorized a place of worship for Israel. It was to meet a requirement for man's highest good. To stimulate their appreciation of a place of worship, the people were to supply the materials and erect the tabernacle. Their willingness was emphasized as a major factor.
They were not taxed. The opportunity was afforded them to make their gifts. We are conscious of the effect of place on our conception of God. A place of meeting together in worship indicates that there we expect to get into closer, fuller communion with him. For this reason we dedicate a building to God. We call it the house of God.

The tabernacle was to be the product of cooperative enterprise, so that, as a nation and as individuals, they could call it their own, though it was set apart for God. In like manner we say "my church," though it belongs to the congregation and is dedicated to God. The place of worship was to meet a recognized need of individuals and of the nation.

If the church is the house of God then he is present when we worship in it. Though the tabernacle was not the only place where God was, yet he specially manifested his presence there. It was to be a meeting place not only for the people but also for the people with God. He is never absent, though many of the people are,
and so they miss him. At the place of worship where God meets his people they are progressively learning of him, both what he has done and what he promises to do. Besides they are instructed in what God expects of them.

Our dedication of a building to God is matched by his presence in it. So our work is not in vain when we provide a place of worship.
Israel needed a visible symbol of the presence of God. He met them there by setting upon and around the cloud which Israel had learned was the assurance that he was with them. But within the tabernacle was the glory of the Lord.
It filled Israel with reverence for the holy place.

Religion played an important part in the life of Israel. We are in need of it today. It is just as necessary today as it was centuries ago. Nations need religious leadership. As individuals know God they raise the level of the spiritual life and unity of the nation. A nation that believes in God and obeys his commandments and observes his laws is sustained by him. As Israel of old was supported by God through all her crises, so God willingly leads a nation, which is willing to be led. As a nation we have been honored and highly favored.

One of the most stimulating experiences is that of viewing the towers and spires of the church structures. There is always something reassuring on resting one's eyes upon them. They speak a message to which we cannot close our ears, nor would we if we could. They are identified with a spiritual message, the word of redemption, a cause behind and within which Christ has placed all the resources at his command.

YOUTHS RECOVERING

Robert Stille and Gerald Van Dyke, two 13-year-old youths residing on route 2, both suffered two-inch lacerations over their right eyes in an accident Sunday night at Eighth St. and Fairbanks Ave. in which a car driven by Stille's brother, George, 16, sideswiped a parked coal car.
However, it was Robert Stille who suffered the additional lacerations to the chin and elbow instead of Van Dyke as had been pointed in Monday's Sentinel. The possibility of a fracture of the right forearm to Stille had not been determined today at Holland hospital.

Washington, D. C.—David F.
Houston, secretary of agriculture, within the next few days will address a letter to the women members of 50,000 farm households throughout the United States, requesting them to give him information as to how the department of agriculture can best serve the needs of the farm women. These letters will be addressed "To Housewives in the Home of the Official Crop Correspondents" and will be sent to the full list of crop correspondents for transmission to the women members of their households. This inquiry results from the receipt of a letter addressed to the secretary in which the writer said: "The farm woman has been the most neglected factor in the rural problem and she has been especially neglected by the national department of agriculture."

This morning at 9 o'clock the

The board of police and fire commissioners decided at their meeting last night that it was all right for the boys to use their gocarts on the sidewalks. They will now be allowed to use their "go-devils" on any of the walks in the city without interference by the police except in the business section. They are not allowed on Eight or River St. near the stores. This action of the board followed an order by the chief of police that the go-devils would not be tolerated. The board claimed they were the same as roller skates and boys should be allowed to use them in the same way.

Police Commissioner Kuizenga last night provided a sensation in the council room when he asked for the council and the audience in a formal letter to the council that that body do one of two things, either rebuke the police board for its failure to enforce its laws of the city or that they accept his resignation as member of the police board, began a story in the Thursday, Sept. 18, issue. He declared that if the one was not done, he having given his oath to enforce the laws of the city, could not continue as a member of the board. After a wrangle that lasted about two hours the aldermen decided to do neither the one nor the other. They filed Mr. Kuiz-

$86,000 worth of smoke

You don't do it with hay, brother!

It costs 86,000 good hard American dollars to lay a smoke screen on a 20-mile beachhead for a single hour.

Worth it?

What would you think if you knew your life depended on reaching that beach without being spotted by the enemy?

You'd be mighty glad that — in this war — everything is being done to give the American soldier the best possible chance to live and win . . . money no object.

You wouldn't have it otherwise, would you?

Then remember — you've got to do your part by buying and holding War Bonds. Your dollars are needed to help lay the smoke screen . . . provide the "softening up" bombardment . . . flatten the deadly pill-boxes.

That's what your War Bond money does right now.

And in the future it will do still more . . . both for you and for your Country. War Bonds are your safest, and smartest, investment. In ten years, they'll bring you back four dollars for every three you put in. And that money will mean purchasing power . . . for you. It'll mean jobs and a healthier economy in America.

So buy more Bonds than you've been buying. Buy more than you think you can afford.

They help toward a quicker Victory . . . and a happier peace-time for you.

War Bonds — to have and to hold

Rev. P. Hinkamp Named Mission Committee Head

Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp of Holland has been named as one of more than 3,000 resident city chairmen throughout the United States promoting Men and Missions Sunday scheduled for Nov. 12.

The nationwide observance, now in its fourteenth year and interdenominational in character, is sponsored by the Laymen's Missionary movement. The theme for this year will be "Rebuilding with Christ the Hope of the World."

Rev. Hinkamp will supply local churches with copies of a manual which gives inspirational and factual suggestions regarding the observance. Contributors to the manual include Admiral Chester W. Nimitz; Dr. Robert E. Speer, former president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America; Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church; Hon. Francis B. Sayre of the United States Department of State; Rev. E. Stanley Jones, well-known missionary to India; Gov. Ellis of Georgia; Col. George F. Ruxey and 17 other well-known laymen and ministers.

"Christian missionary endeavor is becoming more and more conspicuous in a world at war," Rev. Hinkamp said in discussing Men and Missions Sunday. "Some of the theme titles in the manual illustrate the growing importance of our far-flung missionary front."

he added, calling attention to the contributions entitled God's Priority Right, China's Hospitals, A Lost World, Soldiers as Missionaries and The New Order of Redemption.

Churches in Canada, Mexico and Cuba are also being enlisted to participate in this year's observance.

Ernie Victor

Ernie Victor became the third Holland baseball player to win a tryout with a big league club this season when it was learned that Wish Egan, head Detroit Tiger scout, has invited the 17-year-old southpaw to Detroit for a tryout Tuesday, Sept. 26. Lefty Van Wieren and Loren Wenzel tried out with the Chicago Cubs at Wrigley field this week.

Victor gained the right to a tryout by hurling five no-hit games this season and doing some masterful work from the hill in Holland's American Legion league.

He first started pitching for Holland High school under Coach Carl Van Lente and Fred Weiss last year and this season did the majority of the twirling for HHS for the second straight season. He still has one more season with Holland High school.

The tryouts themselves, especially for Van Wieren and Wenzel, do not mean that the players will be offered contracts. Many players from all over the country receive similar tests every day. And even if the Holland stars do beat the big odds against them, they might not be satisfied with contracts offered them and thus not sign. The chances, however, do mean that the players have attracted the attention of the big leagues and that alone is a distinction.

The last Holland player to undergo such a tryout was Evert De Noff, former Holland Flying Dutchmen third baseman now with the army in the southwest Pacific. He was placed under option to the New York Giants and played for a couple of days in Wrigley field. Later he was signed by the Chicago White Sox to the Midland club of the West Texas-New Mexico league.

Won't Legislate Beet Trade Out of Business: Dewey

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Aboard Dewey Train, Sheridan, Wyoming, Sept. 21 (Special) — Gov. Thomas Dewey last Thursday promised some 15 sugar beet representatives from almost as many states that the American sugar beet industry will not be legislated out of business if he has his way about it.

Pulling a favorite Rooseveltian surprise, the GOP presidential nominee didn't wait to have the overall situation explained to him. He told the representatives with an understanding born out of a one-time money loss in the sugar beet plant in his home town of Owosso where he had worked. From the beet field to the plant he knew the business. The Owosso plant is not operating this season.

"He made no commitment, but we feel he will be in sympathy with this industry which is threatened with extinction under the New Deal," agreed the two Michigan men at the conference. J. B. Smith of Alma, vice-president of the Farmers Manufacturers Beet Sugar association, and P. V. Goldsmith of Saginaw, of the growers field section. Without complaint against the present sugar act itself, Smith said, "The industry in Michigan has been hampered by belated crop announcements. The promised labor was too little and too late. The conviction is growing against expansion in order to favor off-shore sugar quotas."

Operating under a wartime controlled acreage policy the Michigan growers could have planted 134,000 acres but the total was only 78,000 acres because, said Smith, the growers have no faith in Washington administering policies.

Most of the sugar men, he said, have more faith in Dewey especially after the conference here.

Regret was expressed that plants in Holland, Lansing, Saginaw and Owosso were not operating.

(The Holland plant has been leased to the Doughnut Corp. of America. Beets ordinarily raised for processing at the local sugar plant are processed at the St. Louis, Mich., factory.)

G. J. Lemmen Has Heat Regulators

The Lemmen Coal Co., East Eighth St., is local agent for the Master Heat Regulator with mercury switch, a heat regulator which saves fuel.

The War Production board in its 1944 manual for "winterizing" the home asks that fuel saving equipment be installed to conserve fuel during the coming winter. As a part of the government program G. J. Lemmen offers the people of Holland this piece of equipment reasonably priced. These regulators are a saving of heating equipment and also have automatic controlled heat. Unless the generation of heat in the heating system is regulated or controlled to correspond to the constantly changing weather conditions, fuel loss will occur. The famous Master Heat Regulator will save considerably on fuel bills.

Install an automatic temperature control and draft regulator, which are made for both commercial and domestic buildings.

G. J. Lemmen is also an agent for Warm Morning Heatrola stoves, the latest improved stove on the market.
