Rotarians Hear About Conditions In Philippines

The Rev. Joseph Esther, missionary to the Philippines, spoke to Holland's Rotary Club Thursday afternoon about the "Sociological and Political Conditions of the Philippines." Rev. Esther spent a number of years in the Philippines and dealt mainly with the Chinese population. He went there early in 1950 when he was driven out of the mainland of China as were all other missionary workers.

Rev. Esther told the Rotary audience that the United States still has a great reservoir of goodwill in the Philippines in spite of all of the problems confronting the country.

The history of the Philippines goes back 450 years when the islands were colonized by Spain and held in a virtual state of poverty for all of that time. Under Spanish ties, they were terrorized, kept poor and only the rich were allowed to send their children to school.

During the last 50 years of their independence under rule of the U.S., they were allowed some freedom. The first great act of any significance allowed by the U.S. was the establishment of public schools.

The second largest ethnic population other than the native Filipinos are the Chinese with 500,000 people. The Chinese dominate the commercial interests of the islands. The Filipinos are involved primarily in agriculture and those who do not farm are fishermen.

There are 7,058 islands in the Philippine group. In the last four years, the islands have been plagued by floods, earthquakes and civil strife, which have caused the people to become demoralized and they place the blame on the government who can't seem to control the problems. On top of all the current problems, the Communists are trying to gain a foothold in the country.

It is becoming increasingly more difficult for the government to suppress the Communist movement, Rev. Esther said.

Inflation hasn't changed the price of ashes.

But it has changed the price of your home. For example, if you bought an $18,000 home in 1963—today it's worth about $24,200. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. See me about a State Farm Homeowners Policy that will cover your home for all it's worth... and keep it that way with automatic inflation coverage.

Dr. W.C. Brownson, Temple Time Pastor

The Rev. Ronald Geschwendt, pastor of First Reformed opened the meeting with the devotional service. The new members to the board were welcomed by president Lawrence Ver Sluis of Kalamazoo.

Radio Minister to Russia Rev. John Sergi reported on the work in the Russian field in which he stated that the word of Christ is being spread in spite of the difficulties and hardships placed on the Christians in that country. The attendance to the one church allowed the people in each city is still great, but a stronger watch is being kept on the people by authorities trying to check the growth of the faith.

David Vila, director - speaker of the Temple Time's Spanish Broadcast reported that the work of the Spanish broadcast is being accepted and growing in both Spain and South America. He has new outlets and stations that would broadcast the Temple Time ministry if the funds were made available. Thousands of pieces of Temple Time literature which includes printed sermons are being distributed throughout the Spanish speaking countries. The illuminating light of the situation is that young people have organized groups which distribute this literature each week.

The members of the board were presented with reports by treasurer Dr. Paul Van Eenennaam; Glenn Le Pard, executive vice president; Jerry Ritzema, field director; Rev. Jack Fairley, editor of Prayer Time and Ralph De Kock, Projects for '74. The dinner to which all area ministers and church agents of Zeeland and Holland were invited was addressed by Dr. Robert Bowman, president, Far East Broadcasting Company, Manila, The Philippines. Dr. Bowman opened his remarks by telling of his faith an $1,000 to open a station in Manila. Today the firm is operating 22 radio stations in the Far East to broadcast the Christian message.

The Temple Time 27th anniversary "Thanksgiving and Praise" Service held in the First Reformed church featured the address of Dr. Joel Nederhood, Radio Minister of the "Back to God Hour" of the Christian Reformed Church and the presentation of Dr. William C. Brownson of Holland by Dr. Henry Best, radio minister of Temple Time as the newly elected Temple Time radio minister.

Dr. Nederhood alluded to the 125 years of the founding of First Reformed church several times in his address as he compared work of the two radio ministries. He brought out the story of John 9, that the church through its radio work is opening the spiritual eyes of men. People are coming into a new creation through Christ. His three times table formula was 1, that only God knows what will come; 2, this is a day of opportunity; 3, the time table of our own lives. Dr. Nederhood elaborated on this point, giving ideas and facts for a better Christian outlook of people and religions working together.

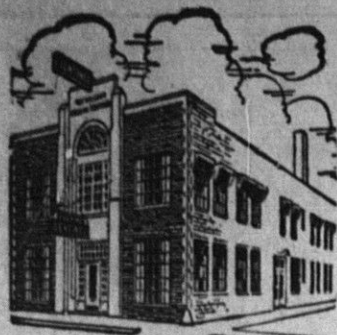

Tuesday morning's devotion was given by the Rev. John Hains of Faith Reformed church. The members of the meetings then discussed several topics relative to the production and advancement of the program. It was decided to take on another language, that of Czechoslovakia, and open a broadcast in South Africa in a few months. The placing of the ministry on cable television and satellite transmission was also discussed.

Frank Spitters of Kalamazoo was named president to succeed Lawrence Ver Sluis. Other new officers include Dr. Walter De Kock of Cedar Falls, Iowa, vice president; Ralk De Kock of De Motte, Ind., treasurer and Arnold Visser of Waupun, Wis., assistant treasurer.

The Rev. Dick Vriesman of Grace Reformed, Holland, was named to the executive board to succeed the Rev. Paul Colenbrander of Holland and Glenn Bowens of Zeeland to succeed Dr. Paul Van Eenennaam. Holland classis representatives on the board of direction are the Rev. Ellsworth Ten Clay and William H. Vande Water. Zeeland representatives are the Rev. William Hoogstra and Richard Machiele.

A PLETHORA OF FLIES

A curious scientific dispute has come to our attention, and we pass it on to readers as a matter of general interest. The question at issue is the depth to which flies would cover the earth by August were all the offspring of a pair reproducing in April to survive and reproduce, et cetera, et cetera.

Some entomologists, taking a conservative view of the matter, figure that the resultant layer of flies would be only two to five feet deep. Give or take a few billion on the wing, no doubt.

Arithmetic gets a different result for Dr. Milton Savos, Extension Service entomologist at the University of Connecticut. United Press International reports that Dr. Savos, for reasons best known to himself, has recently given some thought to the matter.

He estimates that the total fly population resulting from that April mating, granted all live and reproduce in turn, would be 191 quintillion, 10 quadrillion by August. Heaven knows what would happen were two pairs of flies to set such a process in motion. Dr. Savos' figures are bad enough: allowing one-eighth of a cubic inch per fly, averaging out for runts and giants, he comes up with a 47-foot layer over the entire earth.

Happily, August is past and it didn't happen. So far.

Sunday, Sept. 24
Social Change: Work and Leisure
Exodus 20: 8-11;
Ecclesiastes 2: 4-11, 24-25
By C. P. Dame

Work and leisure belong together in a satisfying life. The attitudes of people toward work and leisure are changing as many want less work and more leisure. God planned that both work and leisure should have a place in life.

I. God ordained a weekly rest day. The fourth commandment begins with the positive word, "Remember," and the command is to keep the seventh day holy, that is distinctive, even as God did who rested on the seventh day. We keep the first day of the week in commemoration of the resurrection of Christ, following the example of the early Christians. God founded the day; the Son fulfilled it. Man is told to work six days and rest one day. Rest does not mean to be indolent all day or be useless the whole day.

The rest day is a gift of God. Education, business, labor or politics did not found it. The day was used by the Jews for rest, worship, meditation and family festivities. The Pharisees made it a burdensome day but Jesus used the day wisely, worshiping and ministering to the needy. Today the day is sadly misused and profit and pleasure dominate the day for millions. Stores are kept open for the convenience of the public—mostly for profit just as the traders in the days of Amos (8:5).

II. God ordained work. The Bible says that God told Adam to tend the garden and the Bible denounces sloth but looks with favor upon all kinds of honorable work. Today workers face problems as workers on assembly lines get bored and automation puts some people out of work. Today some trained engineers, teachers and scientists seek work, and unfortunately some workers never seem to realize their dreams. The problems call for correction.

III. God planned leisure. The writer of Ecclesiastes had too much leisure and he was too concerned about himself. Life is made up of four kinds of activity: sleep, play, work, idleness. The idle time can be used for loafing but it can also be used creatively. Christians should consider how best to use the free time for God's glory and mankind's welfare. Vast sums of money are spent for recreation equipment, sports, travel and fun and at the same time less is given for missions. This is a pleasure-mad, materialistic, confused, restless world and it seems that a number of Christians are joining the parade. Are you?

Assisting with the serving were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Alice Brechenridge, and Mr. and Mrs. John Brechenridge, uncle and aunt of the bride.

ported that there are 7,000 AAUW women in Michigan, each having her own opinion and point of view and daring to express it. However, because AAUW is a democratically run group the majority vote gets the final say and the minority accepts it.

She reported that AAUW has not always been study - action oriented. Klomp Dancers Enjoy Wyoming

The Holland klomp dancers were they were part of the Dutch had a ball in Wyoming.

They salute this year to the annual "One Shot Antelope Hunt" which originated in 1939 with 100 leading sportsmen taking part in a mass hunt with only one shot in their rifles.

The 12 West Ottawa dancers who left Wednesday have had their share of adventure, starting with royal treatment by KLM officials in Chicago and Denver airports, plus a tour of the Denver area where they saw an urban renewal program in which the downtown is being restored to what it was 100 years ago.

After that, adventures started. The Frontier Airlines plane on which they life Denver developed engine trouble at Cheyenne, Wyo., and there was quite a delay until another plane was obtained. That gave the dancers an opportunity to provide some impromptu entertainment in Cheyenne Airport which provided a welcome change of pace in airport functions.

But this delay brought them to Riverton, Wyo., about 1 a.m. and to Lander at 1:30 a.m., missing the royal welcome which had been planned for them. It was late when the girls were taken to the homes to which they had been assigned. And some luggage was missing, including the Dutch costumes of the two chaperones, Mrs. Leonard Dick and Mrs. Gerald Van Den Berg. Part of the tools for wooden shoe carver Marvin Freestone also were missing. All these things were expected to be cleared up today.

The girls performed in the shooting range of one of the canyons Thursday afternoon and at the big Past Shooters dinner Thursday night.

The klomp dancers met Astronaut Wally Schirra and Robert Fuller of tv medical fame. Getting autographs on their wooden shoes from celebrities has been one of the leading activities.

Friday the dancers are performing at the Wyoming State Training School for the mentally retarded, at the junior high school where they are having lunch and at a couple of elementary schools. Tonight they perform at big ceremonies, displaying relative skills with the Indians of the Wind River reservation.

Saturday marks the big hunt with victory dinner and more dancing by Holland Klomp dancers. They returned home Sunday.

Severe Storm Hits Local Area

Ottawa County Civic Defense personnel believe toronado-like winds damaged the trees along Zeeland's northern boundary during a severe electrical and rain storm Sunday night and early today.

CD director Glenn Timmer said the tops of about 30 trees south of Roosevelt St. were damaged, indicating strong turbulance. Timmer said no tornado touchdowns were reported in Ottawa county but he said the indications were that a toronado may have attempted to spawn over the Zeeland area.

High winds were blamed for leveling a 500-foot long turkey barn along Russcher Rd. near 144th Ave. north of Fillmore in Allegan county. Damage to the turkey coop of Smith's Turkey Farm was estimated at $70,000. The structure was being completed and was not in use when the winds ripped the building apart. A similar structure nearby escaped damage.

Winds upset a box containing weather instruments at Radio Station WJBL which maintains official weather statistics for the Holland area.

Weather observer Lynn Wheaton reported 1.20 inches of rain fell during the storm.

Several streets were reported flooded in Holland, many of them where heavy rains usually cause flooding conditions.

In Zeeland, winds felled a large tree at 10425 Chicago Dr., toppling it on a car of Randy Brower.

Consumers Power Co. reported about 1,200 customers in Ottawa County were affected by power outages during the storm. Some 200 customers in the Castle Park area were without power at noon today but Consumers expected to have it restored this afternoon.

The Holland Board of Public Works reported a substation in Waukazoo was hit by lightning, interrupting power to about 250 customers in the area.

Allegan county deputies said trees fell across M-89 east of Fennville, blocking traffic until the debris was cleared this morning.

SEVENTH ANNUAL OX ROAST — With ideal weather prevailing, the city of Holland and Hope College played host to the annual ox roast on Windmill Island Saturday. A large number of senior citizens attended, most of them coming in early afternoon before the crowds descended after the Hope-Manchester game, also a feature of the ox roast. Many saw the updated Windmill Island film entitled "The Graceful Bird." City and college officials helped serve the hungry people.

OUT FOR SEASON — Greg Voss (30), Hope College's sensational junior running back, carries the football here Saturday for a gain early in the first period before he suffered a knee injury which will sideline him for the season. Up to the time of his injury, Voss ran the ball five times for 17 yards and caught one pass for five-yards, as he was involved in every play. The Dutchmen beat Manchester, 21-14.

1st Opening Win for Hope Since 1962

Saturday was a happy and sad day for Hope College, as they opened the 1972 football season on Community Day at River-view Park before 4,200 fans.

Coach Ray Smith was happy, as the Flying Dutchmen won their first season opener since 1962 by defeating Manchester, 21-14.

However, Smith and the Dutchmen fans were sad as they lost not only star running back Greg Voss of Muskegon for the season but they also lost talented back Barry Brugger of Grand Haven as well.

Both suffered knee injuries and were operated on Sunday by Dr. Robert Mahaney, team physician.

"They will definitely be out for the season," said a dejected Mahaney.

Voss, who set many Hope rushing marks and was sixth in the nation among college ball players last season was injured with only 2:58 played in the opening quarter.

"It's too early to tell if we will have to change our offense somewhat," said Smith after the game. "It's just a shame that we had to lose two outstanding players in one game so early in the year."

Smith had to be pleased with the performance of ex-Zeeland standout Bob Lamer, who replaced Voss in the line-up and scored all Hope touchdowns and led in rushing as well with 139 yards in 29 carries which is around what Voss usually gets.

However, with Lamer on offense, quarterback Steve Bryant was able to find a leak in Hope's defense which would have been stronger with Lamer in his usual defensive safety spot.

Hope took a 7-0 lead on the first of Lamer's TDs with 3:51 to play in the opening period when Lamer bulled his way in from the two. Freshman Darry Brown bolted the first of three extra points to give Hope its early lead.

Bryant's quarterback sneak from the one and Dan Butler's kick made the count, 7-7, early in the second quarter, as Manchester battled back to tie the game.

Jim Wojcicki, who was fighting for the starting quarterback berth with Bob Carlson, recovered a Spartan fumble on the enemy's 30 to set up Lamer's second score from the two moments later. Brown's kick made it 14-7.

Roland Jones rolled his way four yards into the end zone to cut Hope's lead to 14-13 with 6:53 to play in the half. Butler's PAT tied the game once again at 14-14.

The last Hope season opening victory came over Ashland 21-14 in 1962 and the Dutchmen gridders were determined to win this one for Voss and Bruggs, as they battled their way into Spartan territory early in the final stanza behind the passing of Carlson and running of Brown and Lamer.

Lamer, who runs somewhat like Voss, went over for the deciding TD with 12:31 left. Brown's kick closed out the scoring for the day at 21-14.

During one stretch in the fourth quarter, the Dutchmen ate up nine minutes before giving up the ball, as their offensive line showed why its probably one of the best in the MIAA by opening large holes for Hope backs to run through.

With Bryant forced to go to the air, Carlson was put into

Club. He is a recipient of the Silver Buffalo Award of the Boy Scouts, the highest honor bestowed upon an individual by the Scouts.

The kickoff dessert is planned for 7:30 p.m. and is open to all campaign workers and interested citizens. Reservations may be made by contacting the United Fund office at 35 1/2 West Eighth St.

Following the dessert, a training session is planned for campaign workers. The campaign goal this year is $221,636.

Mystical Indian Music Brings Mixed Reactions

Mystical Indian music filled Civic Center Monday night for the first concert of the season of the Holland Convert Association which featured the renowned Indian sitarist, Ravi Shankar, and assisting artists.

Civic Center was filled, mostly with college students, many of them from Western Michigan University and Grand Valley State College as well as Hope College. It was one concert among seven attractions designed for the young people, many of whom have been embracing the ingenious blend of Indian music for the past decade.

The sitar is a 20-stringed instrument four feet long which dates back hundreds of years. Strings which are plucked cause other strings to vibrate as variations of the theme are developed.

Sitarist Shankar was assisted by two musicians, one playing the tabla, a two-piece drum, and the other a tamboura, a four or five-stringed instrument which provides an essential drone background to all Indian music.

The three musicians sat cross-legged on a raised platform covered with lush oriental rugs. All Shankar's selections were night ragas, mood pieces with basic themes in which improvisations are developed from slow rhythms to intensifying speeds. In India, a raga can continue for hours but Shankar wisely tailored his selections for American audiences, the first taking 10 minutes and the second, just before intermission, 30 minutes.

Introducing the second half of the program, Shankar made voice tones which his drummer reproduced on the twin drums. Then the drummer emitted voice tones reminiscent of an early day Danny Kaye git-gattle which he then reproduced on drums.

To some Indians in the audience, the music was entrancing with its folklore and familiar tunes, much of it deeply religious. To the unaccus-

FAMILY PARTNERSHIP — Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dernberger, owners of Dernberger's Bakery in Port Sheldon, are retiring when they close their summer bakery for the season this week. Dernberger also was baker for Hope College from 1961- to 1962, and since 1962 has provided baked goods for the West Ottawa schools. (Sentinel photo)

Dernbergers Retire After 28 Years

A 28-year second career by a baker and pastry chef will end this week when Albert Dernberger closes his summer bakery on Butternut Dr. for the last time. He also will retire as baker for the West Ottawa school system.

The Dernbergers opened their summer bakery in 1945, coming from Chicago, where Dernberger had also worked as a baker and pastry chef, earning a life membership in the pastry chef's and baker's unions. From 1951 to 1962, he also provided bread and pastries for Hope College during the school year. A highlight of this period was preparing pastries for Queen Juliana's visit to the college.

Cottagers from Port Sheldon north and south depended on the bakery during the summer and local permanent residents began patronizing the little shop as soon as it opened in the spring until its late September closing.

In 1962, he began his work of providing bread and rolls for West Ottawa, endearing himself to hundreds of students who enjoyed and still remember "Mr. Dernberger's good buns."

While retirement will bring some changes for the couple, it won't change their interest and concern for their community and Holland Elks Lodge 1350, which Dernberger was instrumental in organizing and for which he served as organizer for many years.

The Dernbergers will be traveling to Florida this winter for a vacation. They plan to stay in their home back of the bakery, even though they have sold the bakery to a new owner. In their 28 years in this area, the Dernbergers raised three children, a son, Albert Jr., now living in Lincoln, Neb. and two daughters, Mrs. Herman (Eleanor) De Vries of 385 Marquette and Mary, who recently moved to an apartment here. There are 10 grandchildren and a great-grandchild in the family, also.

Mrs. Dernberger has always helped her husband in his business, a smiling presence in the summer store, busy, but never too busy to visit with her customers. They are both looking forward to a companionable retirement.

Falcons Jolt Holton, 18-0

HOLTON — Holton suffered their first defeat of the season in front of a home-town audience, as they were beaten by Allendale, by the score of 18 to 0 Friday evening.

The scoring of the game was strictly in the hands of Allendale, as in the first quarter Tim Baker scored on a 12 yard run, putting Allendale out in front by the score of 6-0.

Allendale scored for the second time in the game, as Dave Thurkettle scored on a 55-yard off-tackle play during the second quarter. The extra point attempt failed, so the score was Allendale 12, and Holten 0.

The final score of the game came in the third quarter as Dan Jonge ran 35 yards around end, thus making the final score Allendale 18, Holten 0.

Allendale with a 1-0 record will travel to Saugatuck next Saturday for a 1:30 p.m. tilt.

Holland's Guard To Make Water Tests

Holland's National Guard will take part in a statewide program of water sampling designed to determine whether Michigan waters need more ecological protection than they are now getting.

Sgt. Ray Naber said his unit will be responsible for taking water samples from 11 locations on a monthly basis and sending the samples to Lansing for testing.

Fennville Rips Gobles In Opener

FENNVILLE — Fennville started its football season on a high note by blitzing Gobles, 32-6 Friday night.

It took veteran Coach Gus Charles' Blackhaws a while to warm up but when they did, Gobles probably wished they hadn't, as Fennville tallied 20 of its points in the final quarter.

Quarterback Ron Mellon hit on seven of 10 passes for 138 yards, including two TDs and also scored one and had one called back.

Mellon hit Keith Onken and Rick Gee for touchdowns. Onken's TD covered 53 yards while Gee's was four.

Fennville's fine signal caller also ran 40-yards for a TD on a keeper play.

Brian Babbitt completed the Hawks scoring with a four yard jaunt.

The Hawks will host Hopkins next Friday.

Rainfall 7.21 Inches In August

Holland had 7.21 inches of rain during 16 days in August, which was 4.10 inches above normal, a review of weather statistics by Lynn P. Wheaton revealed today.

The August rainfall was not a record. Back in June, 1967, an incredible 10.66 inches of rain fell, of which 4.16 inches fell on June 7. Another 1.25 inches fell on June 8, 1.02 inches June 11, 1.05 inches on June 12 and 1.20 inches on June 24.

Other high rain months in Holland listed 9.60 inches in October, 1954; 7.92 inches in July, 1949; 7.61 inches in June, 1951; 7.06 inches in April, 1947; 7.81 inches in October, 1959; 9.23 inches in September, 1961.

Maximum temperature was 88 degrees on Aug. 21 and 22 and the minimum was 41 Aug. 10. Average maximum temperature was 78.8 and average minimum 55.2.

The average temperature was 67 which was 1.2 degrees below normal.

During 24-hour periods, 1.85 inches of rain fell Aug. 7 and 1.50 inches Aug. 2. Another 1.25 inches fell Aug. 26.

Fog was noted on many occasions. There were severe thunderstorms on four occasions around the latter part of the month.

Naber said the test locations have not been determined. He envisions the use of two two-man teams to collect the samples, stabilize them and prepare them for shipment to Lansing.

A representative of the program is expected in Holland next month to train the men in the collection and preparation of the samples.

The new program was announced Thursday by the Michigan Water Resources Commission and the National Guard in cooperation with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

Under the program, guardsmen will collect an estimated 2,200 monthly water samples at 171 stations along Michigan rivers and streams which feed selected water bodies.

The samples will be used to identify nutrient sources and to determine if any additional control measures are needed beyond the state's current phosphate removal requirements of city waste water treatment plants and industries.

When nutrients are fed into the water either by natural or industrial processes, an overabundance of plant life occurs which in turn damages the fishing, swimming, boating and aesthetic value of the water. Nutrients also accelerate the aging process of lakes and streams and ultimately turn them into swamps.

Year Reviewed at Annual Day Care Center Meeting

Mrs. James Brooks presided at the seventh annual meeting of the Holland Day Care Center, Inc., held Monday evening in the Hope Church Fellowship Hall. Fifteen churches and organizations from the community were represented as well as staff from the Center.

The annual report of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Frego, indicated a continuing contribution this year of goods, service and money from people and organizations in the community.

In her annual report, Mrs. Brooks stated that this past year had been another one of growth and success. The U.S. Department of Agriculture had provided a grant for food this year. The local United Fund has also approved a fund for scholarships for two children who do not qualify for day care funds, but who need the resources the Center provides.

Landscaping at both playgrounds, at the Third Church Center and the Hope Church Center, have been completed, however, the playground equipment must still be finished.

This year has seen a cooperative effort with several other day care centers in the community. The proposal of the local center for career development was one of two state projects to be approved, so that 12 people from the staff and families will be attending Grand Valley State College for credit courses this term.

Citizens Alerted To Sales Tactics

Holland police today alerted citizens to tactics of a group of salesmen and saleswomen using allegedly misleading and overly strong sales efforts in attempting to obtain orders for magazine subscriptions.

Police said they have received reports that the sales persons claim to represent some types of charitable and social welfare organizations.

Officers said preliminary investigation indicates a lack of evidence to support the claim of representing legitimate charitable organizations.

Police asked citizens to report any such claims or questionable tactics and in particular refusal on the part of the sales persons to leave the premises or use of strong armed tactics.

Federal law exempts magazine salesmen from being licensed by the city to do business in that city, police said.

Nolan Bests Porretta In Debut

West Ottawa played an inspired game in defeating Holland for the first time ever in football Friday night at Riverview Park before over 4,000 fans, 6-0.

The Panthers of first year Coach Deb Nolan were higher than a kite, as they held the Dutch completely in check in the second half, after Holland threatened to score early in the game.

Nolan was the first to congratulate his players after West Ottawa's first win in four tries against Holland, as he leaped high into a mob of happy Panther players.

"They just played super," said a jubilant Nolan. "It had to be my biggest coaching win ever and I just can't say enough about the way we played."

On the other side of the ledger, it was a disappointing and heartbreaking loss for Dan Porretta, who is also in his first year as head mentor.

He told the players in a huddle after the game that "we can't give up. We have to face the townspeople as a team and we aren't going to give up. West Ottawa beat us but we will bounce back."

Scott Tolliver, the Panthers' burly back, scored the game's only touchdown with 31 seconds to play in the first quarter as he broke loose to run around his left end for six points.

The game's only touchdown was set up on the first of several Holland mistakes.

After Holland moved the ball without any trouble on some fine running by Clark Kuipers, Kirby Howard and Dick Wood, the first of six fumbles by the Dutch gave the ball to West Ottawa on the Panthers 11.

It looked like the packed crowd was in for a lot of scoring, as Con Zomermaand and Tolliver were picking up yardage left and right after the Panthers took over.

Zomermaand, who wears No. 22 jersey, dashed 22 yards around the right side before Bruce Harrington saved a touchdown for Holland with a diving tackle.

A booming 47-yard punt by Doug Vork put Holland deep in the hole on its own five-yard line.

On fourth down with Holland in a punting situation, their kicker dropped a low pass from center and when he got up to kick it, big Dave Bilek and Co. were right in to block it on the Holland five. Linebacker Terry Craycraft recovered the pigskin.

Tolliver showed powerful running on the next play, as he broke a tackle to go in for the night's only TD.

It wasn't Christmas but Holland gave the Panthers three tries at making the extra point but West Ottawa didn't capitalize, as all PATS failed. One of them was a kick and the other two were on runs.

West Ottawa's band was just as "super" on the field as the Panther football players at the half, as they put on a startling halftime performance.

The second half was all West Ottawa, as they held Holland at bay, as their defense was tougher than steel.

Defensive back Scott Vanden Brink saved a couple of Holland scoring threats for the Panthers by knocking the ball away from the attempted receivers.

Behind the powerful running of Tolliver, Zomermaand, Harry Leeuw and Jeff Haltenhoff, the Panthers were marching in for another score with time running out.

The Dutch had their work cut out, as they not only had to worry about West Ottawa scoring but time was on the Panthers side also.

As the gun was about to sound and it was apparent that the Panthers were going to win, this writer dashed down to congratulate Nolan for his great win, but before he could do so, the referee in charge gave us the game ball and Nolan jumped wildly into his pack of players.

Before we could check out our passing arm to hit Ray Backus and Ron Wetherbee and Co. in the press box, Roger Borr, athletic director for West Ottawa said beaming "I have room for that ball in our trophy case."

Borr also said the he was looking forward to getting the Water Cooler in the W.O. trophy case.

The Water Cooler is like the Brown Jug played between Michigan and Minnesota. The winner of the Holland-West Ottawa game gets to keep it for the year. This will be the first time West Ottawa has ever had it.

Two players, one for each school, tackle Larry Arizmendez of Holland and tackle-end Mike McLarty were injured. Arizmendez suffered a sprained ankle early in the game and never came back in while McLarty played mostly offense in the second half after his injury.

Tolliver and Zomermaand rushed for 69 and 80 yards respectively for the Panthers while Kuipers of Holland led both teams with 82 yards.

West Ottawa held Holland to negative 10 yards rushing in the fourth stanza, as Craycraft was not only doing an excellent job of calling the plays but had his nose wherever the ball was on most occasions.

The Panthers will journey to powerful Kentwood next Friday while Holland will travel to equally tough Niles.

Defensive end Chuck Modders intercepted an option pitchout and ran 55-yards for Holland's only marker.
