CITY AND VICINITY.

J. Ver Hulst left Monday for St. Louis Mich., to take a position as timekeeper at the St. Louis Sugar factory.

It is expected that a large number will go from this city to Grand Rapids Tuesday, November 29 to hear Ysaye, the celebrated violinist, who will appear at the auditorium.

Under the lead of the Republican party nearly all of the time for over 40 years the United States, from being a third-class power among the nations, has become in every respect first.

Shortly after midnight Saturday a smoldering fire on the vacant premises east of the interurban freight depot on West Eighth street demanded the services of the fire department. The blaze was quickly extinguished but No. 1 was called out a second time to make the work complete, the sparks having started to burn again.

Prosecuting Attorney Mc Bride has notified the sheriff to get after the peddlars who are going through the country without a license. Complaints are coming in from Georgetown where the peddlars are working the hardest out of Grand Rapids. The merchants are complaining bitterly of the practice and county officers will stop it if possible.

Neil Ball, Holland's standby in it's palmy base ball days, has returned to the city after a successful season with the Cedar Rapids team of the Three-I league and will spend the greater part of the winter in the city. Ball's history for this season may be told in the pithy sentence modeled after Caesar of the Romans. He went to Cedar Rapids, he saw, and he conquered. There was nothing to it so far as Ball's being able to deliver the goods was concerned, as he had most of his team mates beaten by a furlong. After gaining all of the fielding and batting honors in sight he went after pitching honors and did so well that he will be one of the pitching staff next season.

In Justice McBride's court last Friday afternoon it took a jury consisting of E. P. Sephan, L. De-Vissers, B. Stekatee, John Hoffman, M. Witvliet and Peter Brusse less than ten minutes to find Louis Tuttle and Alfred Smith guilty of stealing potatoes from Martin Proos of Robinson township. Tuttle who appeared to be the brains of the combination was given 60 days in the Detroit House of Correction, and Smith was given 40 days in the county jail. Deputy Sheriff Andre, who made the arrest took Tuttle to Detroit. Sheriff Dyk-huis has warrants against the pair for the larceny of the crocks, jars and tubs from Crisp and New Holland and will serve them on the completion of their sentences.

"This talk about Fred M. Warner being at the beck and call of the railroad companies makes me tired," said a prominent politician to a representative of one of the Detroit papers. "Not an act of Warner's record warrants any man in reaching such a conclusion. As secretary of state Fred M. Warner is one of three members of the board of state auditors, the other members being the state treasurer and the land commissioner. It is the duty of that board to examine and adjust all claims against the state, and with them is lodged authority to allow or disallow any claim for compensation that is not specifically provided by statute. In providing the large expenses of the attorney general's office in prosecuting for suits against the Michigan Central railroad, the board might have found plausible excuse for refusing such expenditure as unnecessary, excessive or improper, if they had been so minded; but they have never done so, and Mr. Warner has always voted to uphold the hands of the attorney general, and to approve and pay those expenses, as right in principle, and demanded by the interests of the state. This does not support the slanderous accusation that he is controlled by the railroad interests."

Dr. J. W. Beardslee preached in the Reformed church at Constantine last Sunday.

William VanderWater of this city and Marie VanDuine of Gibson were married Saturday night by Justice Charles H. McBride in his offices.

Rev. R. L. Haan pastor of the Central Avenue Christian Reformed church, preached in the Hardwyk church on the north side last Sunday.

Bennie Hoffman has taken a four months lay off from the Interurban railway company and will work in the St. Louis Sugar factory during that time.

Persons desiring lithographs of Fred M. Warner, republican candidate for governor, can obtain them at the office of the Holland City News.

Philip Nieuwhuyzer, who came here from the Netherlands about three years ago, was declared insane last Monday and was taken to the Kalamazoo asylum. His age is 30 years.

The Goodrich line announces that their daily line from Grand Haven will be operated up to October 20 this year. The single boat will then remain on the run until December 15.

The old building on the corner of the lot upon which the life saving station stands, and which was used as the crew's quarters when they were off active duty, will be changed into a workshop and new quarters will be built for the crew east of the station.

A. L. Heath Monday found a bottle on the sands near Ottawa Beach that contained a manuscript written by the Marquette club and cast adrift on the west shore as the club members left Chicago on the steamer Charles McVea for their annual outing at Ottawa Beach last August. It took the bottle 44 days to drift across the lake.

A. J. Bolks died Saturday after a short illness at his home in Vriesland at the age of 66 years. He leaves a wife, and four children. Mr. Bolks was one of the most prominent and wealthy men in Vriesland. The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Vriesland church, Rev. G. DeJonge officiating.

Ex-Mayor C. J. DeRoo, for many years the manager of the Walsh-DeRoo Milling company of this city, has gone to Lansing to take a position as manager of the flouring mill business of F. Thoman & Bro. Mr. DeRoo's family remains here. The Lansing firm owns two large mills having a combined capacity of 450 barrels of flour daily.

Spring Lake resorters are complaining of the noise made by the auto boats on the lake. There are three of them operating on Spring Lake now and when all of them are running together at night sleep is almost impossible. With the open exhaust much is added to the speed of the boats and none of the speed launches have the muffled exhaust. The exhaust of the boats can be heard for over a mile.

Discussions indulged in at the meeting of the county school commissioners of the state at Lansing developed the fact that the compulsory attendance law is insufficient. The principal complaint is that it does not require attendance for more than four months a year in all cases. Legislative remedy will be sought. According to the reports of the commissioners, the value and popularity of the new county normal training classes have exceeded expectations.

Friends and acquaintances of Will DeBoe, son of Capt. DeBoe, will be glad to learn that the fair association has engaged him to give an exhibition at the Holland fair. Mr. DeBoe began his career here and has developed into one of the best men in the business when it comes to slack wire work, trapeze performances, head balancing feats etc. He is far different than the boy who appeared at the Holland fairs in early days and is now one of the most highly priced men in the profession. It is a stroke of luck that has secured him for the Holland fair. He is showing in Milwaukee this week after a trip that took him through most of the United States and to China and to Japan. He has not been home in seven years and being so near planned to visit his parents. Incidentally his services were secured for the fair and he will give exhibitions of his wonderful skill on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and will prove a big drawing card.

Members of the Methodist church certainly put in a long day of worship last Sunday. In the morning Rev. Luther assisted by three outside pastors opened the days services in the church at 10:30 followed by Sunday school at 1 o'clock. A street meeting was held in the afternoon on the corner of River and Eighth Sts. which a good crowd attended. The evening services lasted about three hours.

The members of the First Reformed church of Zeeland who petitioned the Classis of Holland to be set off and organized into an English speaking Reformed church has elected their consistory. Messrs. A QUESTION OF PRECEDENCE.

CHICAGO RECORD-HERALD
RALPH WILDER

BRUTALLY SLAIN BY ROBBER GANG

ITALIANS SLEEPING IN SHANTY
AT RIVERDALE, ILL., ARE SUDDENLY ATTACKED.

Two Instantly Killed and a Third Dies of His Wounds—Belief That Theft of Savings Was Motive of Murderers.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Bruno Vincenza died Tuesday at the county hospital, making the third death as a result of the raid by two masked men upon a section shanty in Riverdale Monday night. Vincenza was brought to the county hospital suffering from a wound in the abdomen. He made an ante-mortem statement in which he said that when the masked men entered the shanty they began shooting without warning. Vincenza's two companions, Giacinto Vincenza and Antonio Virruso, fell fatally wounded. Bruno Vincenza was then shot as the murderers backed out of the shanty.

All of the men were known to have the wages of months in their little trunks, which they carried about with them from one camp to another. They were planning to return to Italy and had been hoarding their savings for a long time. This information was known to other laborers employed in the construction work and it is thought that Italians who knew the men committed the robbery.

The bandits after robbing their victims set fire to the shanty, leaving the two bodies and the wounded man inside. Vincenza, badly wounded, managed to crawl out of reach of the flames and lay on the ground until help arrived.

It is believed by several Chicago detectives that robbery was not the motive for the crime, as $450 in currency was found in clothing in the shanty after the shooting and attempt to cremate the bodies by setting fire to the shanty. Whether they believed the Mafia to be associated with the crime the police would not say. The Riverdale police, it is said, are satisfied robbery was the motive. They believe that the robbers merely failed to find the $450. Fifty dollars, which one of the victims is supposed to have had in his clothing, cannot be accounted for.

Chicago Merchant Dead.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Robert S. Scott, of the firm of Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., died at his home in Lakeside at four o'clock Tuesday morning, after a short illness from liver complaint, which had not been considered serious. Mr. Scott was born in the north of Ireland 66 years ago. He came to the United States and to Illinois in 1856 and entered the firm of Carson & Pirie, which was then doing business in Amboy and Mendota, but later moved to Chicago. He began as a salesman, having started in the dry goods business at the age of 14. Thirty years ago the firm name changed to Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co.

Paid the Wager.

Sedalia, Mo., Sept. 21.—Charles E. Bliss, alias Barlow, aged 26, a painter from Peru, Ind., where his father is a seventh day adventist preacher, committed suicide Monday night by swallowing carbolic acid. At the coroner's inquest a woman testified that an hour before the suicide she and Bliss played a game of cards, the stake being his life against hers, and Bliss lost.

Long Campaigning Tour.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—The itinerary for Senator Fairbanks' campaign tour of the Pacific coast has been completed except for the last day or two of it. It covers 18 or 19 days. Speeches will be made in Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Wyoming, Nebraska and Iowa.

Confederate Veteran Dies.

St. Louis, Sept. 21.—George Washington Bradley, 97 years old, said to have been the oldest confederate veteran, died here Tuesday while on a visit to the world's fair. Mr. Bradley lived in Houston, Tex.

OFFICIAL SLAIN.

Mayor of Little Town of Thompson, Ill., Killed by Man He Had Arrested.

Savanna, Ill., Sept. 19.—President Wayland F. Bennett, of the village board of trustees of Thompson, ten miles south of this city, was shot and killed Saturday by a stranger, whom he was attempting to place in jail. The murderer, who gives the name of William Myers, of Chicago, was captured by the village marshal after a running fight of several blocks, in which Myers was slightly wounded. Myers and a companion, giving John Johnson as his name, were arrested on suspicion of being implicated in a burglary at Sedgewick, near Thompson. Bennett had started for the jail with his charge, when Myers turned on him, pulled a revolver and fired five shots into his body, killing him instantly. (The village became wild with excitement, and strong talk of lynching Myers was feared, but it subsided when the sheriff took charge of the man. Myers was held without bail, and with his companion, who had no hand in the shooting, is now in the county jail, at Mount Carroll.

END LIVES TOGETHER.

Man and Young Woman Commit Suicide at York, Pa.—Complain of Cruel World.

York, Pa., Sept. 20.—Michael Schall, head of the Keystone Foundry Machine company, of this city, and Miss Nettie Gattmatt, also of York, were found dead in the young woman's apartments here Monday. Three gas jets in the room were turned on and the apartment was full of gas. They had spent Sunday at Penmar, returning about nine o'clock at night. Both wrote notes in which they complained of the cruel world, sat down without removing their clothing and turned on the gas. Schall was a single man and had been drinking to excess lately. Both had been suffering from nervous afflictions and to this is attributed the tragedy. Both were well connected socially.

SLAIN BY HER SON.

Aged Widow in Virginia Shot Dead by One of Her Drunken Offspring.

Bristol, Va., Sept. 20.—Mrs. Minerva Greear, a widow 50 years of age, has been shot to death by one of her sons at her home near Fort Blackman, Scott county, Va. Of her two sons, Robert and Rover, it is not known which fired the shot which ended the woman's life, as each declares the other guilty of the murder. It is said the boys were drinking and in a room adjoining that occupied by their mother firing their pistols, when she entered and asked them to stop. One turned his pistol on his mother and sent a ball into her heart, causing instant death. An investigation is being held.

Was Once Wealthy.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 17.—Napoleon Shipley, a former postmaster at Washington, D. C., and for years one of the most successful and largest oil speculators of the country, died Thursday at the city poor farm, Marshalsea, aged 85 years. Although the possessor of a large fortune, it was lost through bad investments, over $200,000 being sunk in a single oil venture.

Death Caused by Hiccoughs.

Dover, Del., Sept. 19.—Dr. Henry Ridgely, president of the Farmers' bank of Delaware and one of the wealthiest and most prominent citizens of the state, died suddenly at his home here Saturday. His death was directly due to hiccoughs. He was 97 years of age.

Given Death Penalty.

Williamsburg, Ky., Sept. 19.—Floyd Hilton was Saturday sentenced to be hung for the murder of the two Bray boys at Jellico last August. The jury was out only 40 minutes.

Bride Is Killed.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 16.—Mrs. Henry Hoff, a bride of one day, was shot to death near Mead, by a rejected lover, Fred Hoffman, who then committed suicide.

Miss Whittaker, a prominent club woman of Savannah, Ga., tells how she was entirely cured of ovarian troubles by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a Uterine Tonic and Regulator. I suffered for four years with irregularities and Uterine troubles. No one but those who have experienced this dreadful agony can form any idea of the physical and mental misery those endure who are thus afflicted. Your Vegetable Compound cured me within three months. I was fully restored to health and strength, and now my periods are regular and painless. What a blessing it is to be able to obtain such a remedy when so many doctors fail to help you. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is better than any doctor or medicine I ever had. Very truly yours, Miss EASY WHITTAKER, 604 39th St., W. Savannah, Ga. —$2000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced. The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women prove beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

ATTEMPT TO CAPTURE DA PASS

SITUATION AT FRONT
REPORTED UNCHANGED

Detachments of Mikado's Troops Feeling Strength of the Enemy—Impression at Tokio That Battle at Mukden Is Near.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 21.—Gen. Kuropatkin, telegraphing under Tuesday's date, declares that the situation at the front is unchanged. He describes an outpost fight Tuesday at Da Pass, half way between Bentsiaputze and Sintsintin. A Japanese force, consisting of four companies, marched up from Dziantchian, 23 miles northeast of Salmadzi, and tried to capture the pass and turn the Russian left flank, but the Russians repulsed the attack and the turning movement was checked by Russian cavalry, supported by machine guns.

The receipt of the news at Tokio of the march of the Japanese from Dziantchian was the probable origin of the rumor that Kuropatkin had crossed the Hun river, which runs 20 miles north of Da Pass. The most reliable information does not indicate the resumption of the Japanese offensive for some days.

Feeling Russian Strength.

While the war office's advices do not indicate that Field Marshal Oyama's main armies have yet resumed their forward movement, advance detachments of Japanese are feeling out the strength and disposition of the Russian forces, and Japanese flanking columns are already pressing northward. The reports that a battle at Mukden is imminent are, however, regarded as premature. All that seems to be definitely established is that Oyama is again trying to flank Gen. Kuropatkin from the east. His advance forces are seeking to obtain command of the roads leading 20 to 30 miles east of Mukden. Tuesday they attempted to seize Da Pass, on the road to Fushun, in order to turn the Russian left, but they were repulsed.

The reports that Gen. Kuropatkin has crossed the Hun river at Fushun turn out to be false. The Russians strongly hold the road to Fushun and Bentsiaputze. It is pointed out that if the Japanese had occupied Fushun the Russians would have been compelled to evacuate Mukden, since Fushun is nearer to Tie Pass.

In addition to the two Russian corps already mobilizing, seven other corps are to be called to the colors.

The official returns issued up to date of the casualties among the Russian officers at the battle of Liaoyang show them to be 465 killed or wounded, including six generals and 39 field officers. Eighty officers were killed, 372 were wounded and 13 are missing.

Japs Pushing Northward.

Gen. Kuropatkin's Headquarters in the Field, via Fusan, Sept. 20 (delayed in transmission).—The Japanese are slowly pushing northward. The outposts are in touch near Yental and skirmishes between outposts and patrol parties occur daily. It is believed that the Russians are gathering a force at Lental preparatory to making a strong stand for the protection of the coal mines. The Japanese are rapidly changing the gauge of the railroad from Newchwang and probably will be in operation to Liaoyang in a fortnight. They are rushing forward supplies of ammunition.

Believe Battle Is Near.

Tokio, Sept. 21.—An impression is growing generally that an engagement will soon take place at Mukden. Gen. Kuropatkin is evidently preparing to make a determined resistance to any attempt to dispossess him, and is entrenching and constructing defenses. He has an immense force available, but the opinion is expressed that Tie Pass would be a more favorable location for defense. The Russians, however, are unwilling to suffer the loss of prestige which would be involved by the abandonment of Mukden. Both armies are now rested and have recovered from the effects of the fight at Liaoyang. They are in condition to fight and the weather is favorable for military operations. The roads are drying and the Japanese are speedily restoring the railway. A party of military attaches who recently came to Liaoyang from Tokio were dragged for 100 miles in open trucks by coolies. The army is now forwarding rolling stock with captured cars and engines and the service will soon be thoroughly organized. With the Liao river open the task of transporting men and supplies to the advanced base of operations at Liaoyang is simple.

Speculation at Tokio.

There is much speculation now as to the extent of the fall and winter campaign. It is generally thought that Field Marshal Oyama will continue pressing Kuropatkin back until the winter falls and will then strongly guard his advance line until spring. A renewal of the attack upon Port Arthur on newer and more aggressive lines is expected this week and it is predicted in well-informed quarters that the reduction of that fortress will be accomplished within ten days or a fortnight.

The authorities continue silent regarding operations there. The publication of a small list of casualties in the naval brigade operating on land is the only recent official utterance in reference to the siege.

COMPROMISE ON CANDIDATE

HERRICK NAMED FOR GOVERNOR
OR BY NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

Agreement Reached by State Leaders
After Long Series of Conferences—The Platform.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 21.—By a unanimous vote Wednesday the democratic convention nominated the following: For governor, D. Cady Herrick, of Albany, at present justice of the state supreme court, and for lieutenant governor Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, now a representative in congress from the Thirtieth district.

The agreement upon Judge Herrick as the candidate came after a long series of conferences beginning just before midnight Tuesday night and continuing till nearly two a. m., resumed before seven a. m. and carried on up almost to the very moment of the presentation of Justice Herrick's name in the convention. He is essentially a compromise candidate between Edward M. Grout and Edward M. Shepard, both of Brooklyn, who practically drove each other from the field. When the nomination of either became plainly impossible, the rest of the available list was canvassed, and by a gradual process of elimination along a line of least resistance among the conflicting interests, the names of Palmer, McClellan and Stanchfield were dropped, and that of Herrick agreed upon.

The platform is chiefly devoted to state issues. It "arraigns before the bar of public judgment the one man power that to-day dominates the republican organization of New York state." The democratic national platform and resolutions adopted at St. Louis in July last are indorsed, as complete expositions of democratic principles and policies, upon all the living issues of the present time. The platform also indorses the democratic nominations for president and vice president of the United States.

ARMY OF THE CUMBERLAND.

Society Begins Its Annual Sessions
in Indianapolis—Officers Are Chosen.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 21.—To the bugle notes of "assembly," which 40 years ago was stirring music upon the battle field, the gray-haired veterans of the civil war, on whose memory are graven awful pictures of battle and carnage, and in whose ears linger the roll of musketry and the roar of cannon, assembled in the Claypool Auditorium Tuesday night for the public exercises which marked the closing of the first day's session of the thirty-fifth annual reunion of the Society of the Army of the Cumberland. Judge Daniel W. Howe welcomed the visitors. Gen. John T. Wilder, of Knoxville, Tenn., who, during the bloody campaigns of the Cumberland army, commanded the famous "Wilder Brigade," responded. Following the response, Gen. Boynton read letters from President Roosevelt, Whitelaw Reid and Judge Alton B. Parker. Private Orlando Somers, of Kokomo, Ind., delivered the annual oration, and addresses were made by Gen. Blackmar, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., and Gen. C. H. Grosvenor, of Ohio.

The appointment of committees and the consideration of resolutions closed the business session Wednesday. Col. John J. McCook was selected to deliver the next annual oration.

LIVES END SADLY.

Aged Sisters, Wishing to Die, Lie Down on Track and Are Cut to Pieces.

Bucyrus, O., Sept. 21.—Locked in each other's arms Mary and Lizzie Kehler lay down in front of the midnight express on the Ohio Central Monday night and were killed. A pitiful story accounts for the motive of the double suicide. The women lived in a little home, alone. Some time ago the elder sister was stricken with an incurable disease. Humiliation and the knowledge that she could not be cured preyed upon her mind until she became unbalanced. The sisters had been inseparable for half a century, and the younger woman grieved for her sister until her mind became affected.

Jealousy Causes Tragedy.

Philadelphia, Sept. 21.—Samuel Anthony (colored), a circus performer, murdered his wife Wednesday and then attempted suicide. Jealousy is said to have been the cause of the tragedy. The crime was discovered by the two children of the couple, who found their parents in bed covered with blood. It is supposed that Anthony cut his wife's throat while she slept and then gashed his own throat.

Elevator Burned.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 21.—The Rock Island elevator was destroyed by fire Wednesday. Loss on building, $25,000; on grain, $35,000. Insurance on building, $20,000; on grain, $40,000. Five box cars of the Rock Island Railroad company were burned. Loss, $6,000.

Fatal Stroke of Lightning.

Port Arthur, Tex., Sept. 21.—Lightning Wednesday struck an oil tank of the Texas oil refinery on which six men were at work. The oil ignited and an explosion followed. Five of the men were instantly killed and the other fatally wounded.

Pen Plant Looted.

Janesville, Wis., Sept. 21.—The plant of the Parker Pen company was looted by thieves Tuesday night. A thousand dollars' worth of pens and a large sum of money was obtained.

PETER IS CROWNED KING OF SERBIA

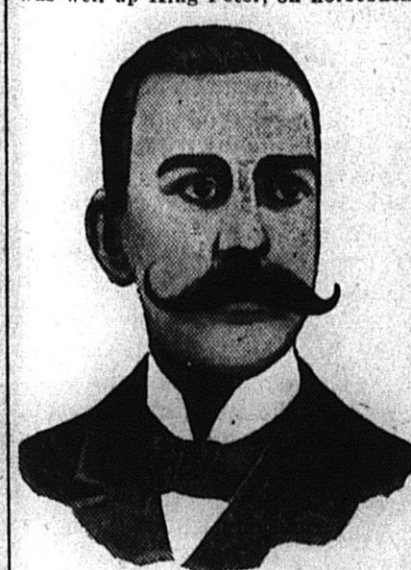

CEREMONIES AT BELGRADE CONDUCTED WITHOUT HOSTILE DEMONSTRATIONS.

CATHEDRAL SERVICE
LASTS THREE HOURS

Crowds Line Streets to Obtain View of Their New Sovereign—No Indication That Murder of Alexander Is Remembered.

Belgrade, Serbia, Sept. 21.—Peter Karageorgevitch was crowned king of Serbia Wednesday. There were no hostile demonstrations and no attempt to carry out the numerous threats against the new king's life. In the solemn ritual of the Greek church and in the elaborate state procession which preceded and followed the coronation the tragedy of Serbia's previous ruler found no echo. Amid the thunder of the saluting guns from the royal palace and the garrison King Alexander's murder was at least outwardly forgotten.

Here and in every garrison town of Serbia the dawn of day was marked by a salute of 21 guns, and before the sun was well up King Peter, on horseback, rode out from the palace. The brilliant procession then started for the cathedral through the troop-lined streets.

Crowds Line Streets.

Behind the soldiers were packed dense crowds who, in spite of the rainy weather, stood patiently waiting to see the king. The royal heralds, cavalry and life guards (the heralds bearing the royal standards), and carriages with the Montenegrin and Serbian princesses, preceded the monarch. Beside King Peter rode his two sons, George and Alexander. The cathedral was reached shortly after eight o'clock. There the representatives of the foreign powers, the cabinet ministers and others had already been waiting for some time. As King Peter entered the metropolitan consecrated him and more artillery salutes were fired. The king then took up his position under a canopy and the metropolitan, assisted by many bishops and other clergy, commenced the solemn service, the choir singing: "Thank Thee, Our Lord." After the prayer the premier and other ministers handed the crown and regalia to King Peter. He kissed the crown, placed it on his head and robed himself in the royal garments. An artillery salute of 101 guns then announced to the people of Belgrade that King Peter had been crowned.

Ceremony Is Long.

It was nearly three hours before the service was concluded and the ritual of the church complied with. King Peter afterwards signed the coronation document, which was witnessed by the metropolitan, the premier, the cabinet ministers and the other heads of state. Wearing the crown on his head and fully robed, the king left the cathedral, remounted his horse and rode through the crowded streets to the palace. There, in the grand festal hall, King Peter received the congratulations of the diplomatic corps and others, ascended the royal throne and once more took the scepter and orb in his hands. The ceremony of rendering homage was then performed.

Return Journey Safely Made.

The return journey from the cathedral to the palace was marked by frantic cheering. There had been a general fear that something might happen to mar the ceremony, and when the people saw King Peter crowned and riding safely back their relief found enthusiastic expression.

Though all the early morning was cloudy, when the king entered the cathedral the sun came out, but his standards were accidentally dropped in the mud.

When the king sat down on the throne he took off the crown, which weighs four kilos, but put it on again as the members of the skupshtina and of various corporations passed the throne in a long procession, though he was obliged now and again to lift his heavy crown and rest his head.

A partial amnesty decree has been promulgated and the general feeling is one of jubilation.

Foreigners Learning Too Much.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Because it is believed that foreign governments are learning entirely too much regarding the inside workings of the American navy and are picking from the annual reports of the bureau chiefs too much information which should be of a confidential character, a change will be made this year in the preparation of the annual reports and much that has hitherto been included in these papers will be omitted. It also has been decided to omit the unreviewed estimates of the bureau chiefs.

Diekema Tells Republican Facts.

Hon. G. J. Diekema of this city, chairman of the republican state central committee, told some facts about the present state campaign that are likely to cause those who are listening to democratic blandishments to take another guess before being led from their allegiance by empty promises.

"I believe future historians will mention three great periods when writing our country's history" said Mr. Diekema. "They are the period of Washington, the period of Lincoln and the period of McKinley and Roosevelt. The period of revolution, the period of reconstruction and the period of expansion. The national fight is settled today and the Democrats have even stolen our platform and candidate. I have heard Mr. Ferris speak several times and not once have I heard him mention the name of Judge Parker. The Democrats are making the fight on state issues and on state issues alone. But we are ready to carry war into Africa. We will show them that the affairs of the state have been carefully administered and prudently cared for. We will show them that we have a worthy candidate and a man whom no voter need be ashamed to vote for.

"My friends," continued Mr. Diekema, "the Democrat campaign is exactly similar to the old story of the Greeks and the way they captured Troy by means of the wooden horse. Mr. Ferris talks all right now, but if once he gets to Lansing watch the cohorts of Democracy leap out of the wooden horse.

"But I'm not afraid Mr. Ferris will get there, though it is my duty to call your attention to the possibilities. Mr. Warner will be elected because he deserves the support of every Republican and will get that support. He is a man of independence in thinking and of sturdy personality. He has but one object if elected and that is to serve the people. He is tied up to no faction or interests and is free to do the right."

Directors Plan For Holland's Biggest Fair.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the South Ottawa and West Allegan Agricultural Society held last Saturday the final arrangements were made for Holland's biggest fair which will be held October 4, 5, 6 and 7. The meeting was largely attended and each director brought flattering reports from his section, reports indicating beyond doubt that the coming fair, in attendance, in exhibits, in interest and in fineness will surpass all previous fairs held in this city.

The secretary presented the report of Con De Pree, superintendent of speed, and it was a good one. From assurances already received from horseman Mr. De Pree was able to predict that the field of horses would be the largest ever seen in Holland, and that the races would beat all other speed contests to a whisper.

It was decided by the directors that four bands be engaged. The Crisp band will furnish music on Wednesday; the West Michigan band of Holland, and the Crescent band of Hamilton and Overisel on Thursday; and the Ottawa band of Zeeland on Friday. There will surely be music in the air at the Holland fair.

A committee was appointed to request H. Boone, sr., to have the celebrated McKinley trot an exhibition mile if the horse was anywhere near Holland during fair week.

President Bosman reported that the privilege of running the dining hall under the grandstand was rented to the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. church.

Con De Pree was authorized to get the race track in shape.

The secretary reported that he had secured Will De Boe, the world famous head balancer, trapeze performer and slack wire artist as one of the special free attractions at the fair.

James Westveer and John Douma were appointed gatekeepers at the main entrance and Michael Bos and O. D. Bottume were appointed gatekeepers at the big gate where teams are admitted.

Derk De Witt of Filmore was appointed night policeman.

J. H. Boone of Zeeland, Eugene Fellows of Holland, H. Kooiker of Hamilton and John Meeuwse of New Holland were appointed to look after the Farmers Novelty races. These three races will create unbounded interest and amusement. The first is a slow race. No man rides his own horse, but on the other hand rides the horse of one of his competitors. The last horse wins, therefore it is to the interests of each man to crowd the horse he happens to be driving to the limit. The slow race may after all be fast. In the second race the horses must be harnessed to buggies in front of the grandstand, driven around the track go-as-you-please and unharnessed in front of the stand. This race has been put on in previous years and has proved a good drawing card. In the third race the horses are made to walk the first half mile, trot the second half mile and run the third half mile, all in one heat. The committee has already received entries for these events and some good sport is assured.

Other routine arrangements were made and the meeting was adjourned until the forenoon of the first day of the fair.

Grand Haven

The milk dealers of Grand Haven had a meeting in the city hall Wednesday and decided to increase the retail price of milk from 5 to 6 cents per quart. The increase in the price of milk will take effect on the first of October.

During the street fair last week one of the freaks on exhibition was a so-called "leopard boy from the wilds of Siberia." It has been learned recently that the wild boy is an idiot named Wise, who was recently taken from the Branch county poor house by his father and turned over to the showmen, the father to receive $15 per month for the privilege of exhibiting the imbecile. The youth has spots on several places on his body, caused by a peculiar growth of hair. Governor Bliss is to be appealed to to prohibit the showmen from exhibiting the boy.

Mrs. Henry C. Peterline has brought suit for divorce against Henry C. Peterline in Grand Rapids. In the bill of complaint Mrs. Peterline alleges that she found love letters from another woman in her husband's pockets and upon that hinges the trouble. Mrs. Peterline asks a decree and an injunction restraining her husband from disposing of any of their effects. Mr. Peterline was manager of the Gildner Hotel in Grand Haven last winter and he and his wife lived in that city several months. His wife is the daughter of Henry Gildner, owner of the hotel.

At a meeting of the county school commissioners of the estate scarcity of school teachers and consequent increase of salaries was reported from all parts of the state.

General Items

The record of railroad shipment of fruit for the season was made at St. Joseph last Friday night, when 57 cars loaded mostly with peaches, left St. Joseph and Benton Harbor. The boats also carried mammoth loads. The railroad consignments go to 23 places, as far south as Alabama and west to Fargo.

The steamer Pentland, Capt. Thomas McCambridge, which arrived at Grand Haven Monday from Petoskey, when 17 miles west of Big Point au Sauble sighted the steamer Pewaukee, a stone barge, flying a signal of distress. When the Pentland succeeded in rescuing the crew of the Pewaukee there was 6 feet of water in her hold and she was sinking. The fires were out and the crew of eight men was about to make an attempt to reach land in a small boat. Owing to the heavy seas that were running the attempt would have been fatal. The barge was towed to Ludington by the Pentland.

The price of peppermint oil has reached the $3.66 a pound mark, says the Bangor Advance. The past few weeks one man drew a load to the station containing 2,460 pounds of the oil, for which he received $9,003. This is without doubt one of the most valuable loads of produce ever marketed in Michigan.

A Three Rivers clergyman thought to add interest to the exercises in his Sunday school, and thereby possibly increase the regular contribution by requiring the children to quote some well-known scriptural verse while dropping their pennies into the contribution box. On the first Sunday after the inauguration of the new plan the minister leaned back in his chair and watched the result, beaming anon as the youngsters contributed and recited. The first little shaver walked up and said, "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver," as he dropped his penny. "Charity covereth a multitude of sins," uttered the second as he offered his mite. "It is more blessed to give than to receive," mumbled the third, and so on until the last in the row, a mischievous looking lad, who, as he put in his money, bawled at the top of his voice, "A fool and his money are soon parted." The recitation part has been cut out of the contribution exercises.—Detroit Free Press.

A Battle Creek young man was recently playing golf with a young lady from Kalamazoo. He had heard so much about Kalamazoo "culture" that he was very circumspect in his conversation, so as not to shock her. What was his surprise to hear the cultured young lady from Celeryville exclaim, after making a poor strike, "Holy Moses! What a bum swat!" He fled.—Union City Register-Weekly.

A Dayton, Ohio, wholesale grocery firm (so styled) has had several carloads of merchandise on the sidetracks at Fennville this week for local delivery, mostly to farmers, orders for the goods having been taken by solicitors some weeks ago. The Fennville merchants are much wrought up over the affair. They claim that a large percent of the buyers are people who every winter ask the dealers to carry them over till spring work opens, and some of them have unpaid bills of long standing, on which they ask a farther extension, and use their money to buy large bills of goods from the foreign concern, in many instances, it is alleged, paying a higher price than at the home stores.

Demand Red Haired Girl Who Does Not Use Perfume
"Wanted, a red haired stenographer; one who does not wear long skirts nor use perfume."

The foregoing advertisement by a prominent firm is appearing in Sioux City papers. It is explained by one of the firm as follows:

"We want to test the experience of some large manufacturing concerns in the East who have claimed that red haired girls give the best satisfaction in office work. Personally, I have no choice, but we concluded that as long as we wanted a stenographer we might as well try a red haired one.

"As to not using perfume, we think this just as reasonable as to advertise for a man who does not use tobacco or whisky, which we do when we want one. Women engaged in business should not spend their time in looking pretty and smelling of perfume. They can be neat and attractive without overdoing the thing.

"A woman who has to use one hand constantly to carry her long skirts around the office has only one hand left for her employer's business, and she is not of much use. It is all right to wear swishing skirts after business hours, and use all the perfume she wants for social affairs, but it is not business to tolerate these in business hours. It is useless for a girl to try to transact business when her thoughts are on herself instead of her employer's interests. Long skirts and perfume do not mix with business in this firm."

Death of Miss Ruth Nyland.

After two weeks of suffering, little Ruth Nyland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Nyland, died at the family home in Grand Haven Wednesday evening, from peritonitis.

Ruth Cornelia Nyland was born in Grand Haven shortly over twelve years ago. She would have entered the eighth grade of the public schools this year had not her last illness prevented. In the Second Reformed church Sunday School she was also a favorite.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at three o'clock from the Nyland home on Washington Ave. the Rev. Vander Meulen officiating.

Girl Burned To Death.

Fannie Lemmon, the ten-year-old daughter of Ben Lemmon, living west of Allendale Center, met a tragic death Wednesday forenoon.

Fannie had been picking pickles all morning and at eleven o'clock was sent home to prepare dinner. While doing so a spark caught on the sleeve of her dress. She did not notice it at first and went out doors after a load of wood. There the spark fanned into a blaze and she ran first into the house and then towards the corn field for help. Her parents were alarmed by the cries of her five-year-old brother who shouted "Fannie is on fire," and they ran to meet her. The father was the first to reach her and found that all of her clothing excepting a couple of bands around her waist and the shoes upon her feet, were burned off. Her father took her in his arms and in an effort to save her was burned upon the hands, and his clothing caught fire. His injuries are not serious. Two physicians were called but in spite of all their efforts the girl died at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

Four uncles of Fannie, John D. Vander Meulen, Remp Zeerip, John Zeerip, Charley Zeerip and Peter Zeerip, reside in this city. They will attend the funeral, which will be held Saturday.

Citizens Company Will Raise Rates

That the rates of the Citizens Telephone Company will be raised to $2.00 per month or $24.00 per year beginning October 1 is the substance of an announcement issued by the company yesterday. The rate now is $18.00 per year. The increase does not affect residence or rural phones.

The announcement of the raise has caused an abundance of comment, the contention being that the franchise of the company does not permit a raise and that if it did there is no occasion for it. The company contends that they are justified in making the change and advance their reasons in the notice issued, part of which follows:

"When this Company bought the Holland Exchange there were 129 telephones in service. The growth since then has been so rapid that we now have about 700 telephones in service. This rapid growth has necessitated a rebuilding of the Exchange two or three times and we have recently been compelled to go to considerable expense installing new cables, and changing our present lines from grounded and common return circuits to metallic circuits so as to be able to give first-class service. The cost of operating with the larger exchange is a great deal more per telephone than it was in the small one, and the investment per telephone with the construction we now have is more than twice what it was when the Exchange was purchased by us."

What is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in Constipation, Headache or Liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly readjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at W. C. Walsh's Drug Store.

Hope College Opens Under Very Favorable Circumstances

Not in years have prospects been brighter for Hope College. The opening this week was simply a prelude to what is expected to be the brightest year in the history of the institution. The people have learned to appreciate the grand work that is being done at this institution and the steady increase of the student list shows that they are taking advantage of the opportunities offered for an advanced education. This year will be a banner year.

The opening services were held in Winants Chapel Wednesday forenoon and were attended by a large number of citizens besides alumni and students.

Dr. G. J. Kollen, president of the college, read scripture, and prayer was offered by Dr. J. T. Bergen. Dr. G. J. Dubbink delivered a brief but inspiring address, after which Dr. Kollen spoke a few admonitory words. Both struck a responsive chord and were liberally applauded. Prof. S. O. Mast, who has resumed his duties after a years post-graduate work in Harvard, was liberally applauded by the students as was Rev. Paul Schulke, who is filling the chair of modern languages in place of Prof. Henry Vegte, who is unable to attend to his duties on account of ill health.

When the students and faculty assembled for the first time Wednesday there were 82 new stud.nts. Of these 60 enter the preparatory department and 22 the college proper. The total enrollment of students this year will be considerably over 200.

The department of music is especially promising this year. Prof. H. C. Post of Grand Rapids was obliged to begin his classes before the regular opening of school. His number of pupils in piano instruction has greatly increased, so that now he is obliged to devote two days a week to Holland. The department of voice culture, in charge of Prof. J. B. Nykerk, also far exceeds in numbers all previous years. The department of violin will this year be in charge of Prof. Josef Bistline of Germany.

The fire department was called out Tuesday evening to extinguish a fire in the house of H. Misener, 64 West Twelfth street. The fire, which was caused by a defective chimney was extinguished before serious damage was done.

The G. R. H. and C. interurban railway has sold its equipment of local cars which are operated on the Park division and have bought six large open cars with much greater seating capacity and a greater speed rate to take care of the heavy summer traffic next summer.

A bedroom suit at 12.95 is the "Fair" offer Jas A. Brouwer makes this week in his large advertisement. Mr. Brouwer has made himself notorious in the past by selling bedroom suits at phenomenally low prices, and this fair week he is going to surpass any previous efforts. Read his add in this issue, throw out some of the old beds you've had for years, and refurbish your bedroom with an up to date suit, at the price that you would pay for a good bed elsewhere.

Among the attractions secured by Messrs. Bosman and Whelan at the Grand Rapids fair, was the most amusing of the lot—namely the Curries great stilt act. In this act the two who take part are mounted on high stilts, and arrayed as Uncle Sam and Miss Columbia they do a series of spectacular tricks in front of the grand stand, such as cakewalks etc. The Curries also run a good tent show in which the younger one of them plays several musical instruments at once, among them being a cornet, two violins a piano and a drum. The stilt act will prove to be one of the good drawing cards of the fair.

Fruit For The Poor and Needy

"As ye have received freely so minister to them who have not" is a maxim and law which noble souls from time immemorial have obeyed and have testified to the double joy which a blessing should bring.

A work is going on in the country around Holland of donating fruit to be divided with people who can not have it. Little children and old helpless people whose sad fortune it is to be robbed of what was meant to be theirs as well as others. Baskets or packages of fresh fruit or jars of canned fruit or glasses of jelly or vegetables can be brought or sent to Holland Interurban freight office "In care of A. D. Floyd for poor" and it will be cared for and sent to destination.

Dissolution of Partnership.

Our immense stock of Dry Goods, notions, ladies and gents furnishings, cloaks, tailored suits, skirts, shoes, etc., will be sold owing to the retirement of a member of the firm. To avoid the labor of invoicing and to reduce stock, we will for the next 60 days slaughter our entire immense stock of Merchandise at a reduction of 20 to 50 per cent of former prices. This is an entirely new and up to date stock, every item purchased within the past year; this taken into consideration with our extremely low prices for reliable merchandise, makes a very interesting money saving event for those seeking fall and winter dry goods, shoes, etc. The purchasing power of a dollar being almost doubled. Remember, every item of our mammoth stock is included in this great sale, absolutely nothing held back. We would advise an early call as at the prices placed on goods the choice items will soon be picked out.

Sale begins Monday September, 26. Store will be open evenings for accommodation of those who cannot come during the day.

THE FAIR

Wonderful Work.

Lots Like it Being Done Right Here in Holland.

Holland people are surprised at the work being done by "The Little Conqueror." Public expression on the subject were many doubters; and why not? So many claims of a similar nature have been made with little or no backing, excepting the word of some stranger residing in a far-away place; this evidence was accepted for lack of better. Not necessary to accept it any longer. All sufferers from any kidney ill can find plenty of local endorsement for a remedy that will cure them. Surely the wonderful work of Doan's Kidney Pills right here at home is proof sufficient to satisfy any skeptic. Read the expression of one citizen on the subject:

F. Brieve, of 67 West First street, employed at Moore's soap factory, says: "I suffered from kidney trouble ten or twelve years and until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at J. O. Deoburg's drug store I never found a remedy which gave me any effectual relief. I had constant aching pain in my loins and soreness over the kidneys. The kidney secretions became irregular and I suffered from headache and attacks of dizziness. I took Doan's Kidney Pills but a few days when I felt they were doing me good and I continued their use until the trouble left me entirely."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., Sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Two million Americans suffer the torturing pains of dyspepsia. No need to Burdock Blood Bitters cures. At any drug store.

Fearful Odds Against Him

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. CYRIL'S FIND.

Cyril Thornton was absolutely broke to the world. Not the ordinary want of a "dime" brokenness, but the real down-right thing, for he had not a penny in the world.

More than that, he had no belongings which he could deposit with his avuncular relative for a valuable consideration. More than that, he had not even an attic to sleep in.

Neither wine nor cards had brought him to this stage, but pure, unadulterated bad luck. A gentleman by birth, and with a luxurious bringing up, he had found himself suddenly thrown on his own resources.

It was a beautiful morning in June, London was filled with fashionable people, and from some feeling of "cussedness," Cyril went to church parade in the park. His shabby clothes did not worry him, for he had no false sense of pride.

The crowd was thinning away when he saw ahead of him an elderly man of aristocratic appearance. By his side walked a young girl with the loveliest face that he had ever seen. The man signaled to a coachman, and a victoria pulled up near the curb.

As the girl was entering the carriage, Cyril saw something glitter from her wrist and fall into the road. He was just hurrying to pick it up when the carriage rapidly drove away.

He quickly stooped down and saw a magnificent diamond bracelet in the center of which was a big black pearl.

He slept in the park that night and wrestled with a mighty temptation. His better thoughts were vanquished, and the following morning he pawned the bracelet with a confiding pawnbroker for £50.

In a few days he sailed for the Cape. These were the early days of mines, and good luck followed him right through. Within three months he had redeemed the bracelet. His next step was to advertise in the Times.

Will the lady who lost a diamond bracelet set with a black pearl in June last in the park kindly communicate with C. T. box X?

As the months passed Cyril's success increased with great strides. All his investments turned out well; and people began to look upon him as a coming man.

Then came the big booms. Mines which were worth comparatively little were raised to enormous prices. Cyril realized when the excitement was highest, and returned to England a millionaire.

But Cyril was not a happy man. The bracelet still weighed on his conscience. It was to try and find its owner that he accepted the invitation which society pressed upon him. For a while season he searched for her, but without success. He got tired of the adoration which was flung at him—or rather his millions; so he, one day, packed up his portmanteau and went into the country.

His destination was a quiet little inn near Dartmoor, which he had known in the days of his youth.

One afternoon he was casting a fly along one of the streams that abound on the moors. He turned a corner and a slight greeted him which made his pulse throb madly.

Huge bowlders studded with blooming heather formed a background. At their foot a piece of green, and lying asleep with her head on a cushion and a rod by her side, was the girl for whom he had been in search.

He approached closer. She was sleeping soundly. Quickly he drew the bracelet from his pocket, where he always carried it. With gentle touch he placed it round her wrist and snapped it. She moved in her sleep, and he hastened away. He looked around, and she was again sleeping peacefully.

Cyril had restored the bracelet to its owner, but with the bauble he had given his heart.

It did not take him long to discover that she was Lady Alicia Doversford, and that she lived with her father at Doversford Court. He was also pleased to hear that the earl was exceedingly poor.

Again he chanced to meet her when she was fishing.

She approached him at once.

"Can you lend me a 'black cat'?" she asked him in a sweet voice that thrilled him.

Cyril was not in the mood to make haste slowly. They met again, and he flattered himself she was pleased to see him.

Next he wrote to the earl and asked permission to inspect the famous pictures (they were heirlooms and could not be sold) at the castle.

He chanced to be walking through the grounds of the castle after seeing the pictures. He took a seat at the foot of a bowlder, and was startled to hear two voices speaking.

One was Lady Alicia's; the other that of a man.

"I can never marry you, darling."

"You don't love me, Alicia."

"Heaven knows I do, Norman. But you have no money. You are as poor as we are. It isn't the money I want, dearest. You know that. I must marry money, though. The dad expects it, and—"

The sound of a kiss, and Cyril turned sadly away, stricken to the heart.

"It is £20,000," the earl said. "Some one placed it to my credit at the bank. No information will be given as to its source. It is an absolute mystery."

"God bless him, whoever it is," she whispered, tenderly.

Among the wedding presents was a magnificent suite of jewelry. Each article was of diamonds, with a setting of a large black pearl, and the donor was Mr. Cyril Thornton, the well-known South African millionaire.—Illustrated Bits.

ANTS' NOSES.

There Are Five of Them, and Each Has Its Own Duty.

In their antennae, or feelers, ants have five noses, each of which has its own duties to perform.

One nose tells the ant whether it is in its own nest or that of an enemy; another nose discriminates between odors of ants of the same species, but of different colonies; a third nasal organ serves the purpose of discerning the scent laid down by the ant's own feet, so that it may be able to retrace the way quite easily; a fourth nose smells the larvae and pupae, and the fifth nose detects the presence of an enemy.

If an ant be deprived of a certain nose, it will live peacefully with enemies, but if it retains its fifth nose it will fight the alien to the death. There is a difference in the functions of nose one and nose five, although they appear to be somewhat alike.

This sense of smell does not come till the ants are three days old. If, therefore, ants only twelve hours old are placed among others belonging to different colonies, they will grow up quite amicably and not understand that they are a mixed lot, because they will have grown up with ideas of scent in accordance with their surroundings. The sense of smell to them is as important as the sense of sight to human beings.

EARTH LIGHT.

Evidences That Our Planet Possesses a Luminous Quality.

In proof that the earth does emit light Humboldt (1808) points to the aurora borealis. The light produced by this luminous arch is distinct from that received from the sun, and its intensity slightly exceeds that of the moon's light in her first quarter. At the poles this glow continues with scarcely a break, reminding us of the planet Venus, whose side turned away from the sun often gives forth a feeble phosphorescent light.

Humboldt goes on to argue that other planets also may possess a similar luminous quality, and in our atmosphere there are other evidences of this emission of light from the earth itself. Such were the famous dry fogs of 1783 and of 1831, which gave forth light perceptible at night, and such is that diffused glimmer which guides our steps in the nights of autumn and winter, when clouds hide the stars and the earth is not covered with snow.

It is therefore not entirely true that, as Sir Norman Lockyer puts it, "the earth cannot give out more light than a cold poker can."

GENIUS AT WORK.

Curious Postures of Some Men to Woo a Flow of Ideas.

Lombroso says that some men of genius in order to give themselves up to meditation even put themselves artificially into a state of cerebral congestion. Schiller worked best with his feet plunged into ice. Descartes buried his head in a sofa while meditating, while Milton composed with his head leaning over his easy chair.

Paisiello composed beneath a mountain of bedclothes, and Rossini found bed the best place for his best works. Cujas worked lying prone on the carpet, and Liebnitz is said to have been obliged to assume the horizontal to meditate at all satisfactorily. Rousseau worked with his head in the full glare of the sun, Shelley on the hearth rug with his head close to the fire, and Bossuet, retiring to a cold room, wrapped his head in hot cloths.

It is possible that some of these devices increased the flow of arterial blood to the head, just as many can think best when exhilarated by rapid exercise or by walking up and down a room.

Whistler and His Tailor.

"Curious enough," wrote Mortimer Menpes, "whenever one came in contact with Whistler one entirely forgot one's own affairs and became completely occupied with his. The fit of the master's coat was far more important to me than my own artistic work. At the tailor's Whistler would give an elaborate description of how a certain coat was to be made, and the tailor would carry out his directions literally. But no sooner had the man accomplished the work than Whistler would say: 'This is all wrong. How dare you say that it is what I told you to do? I am a painter. It is not my business to make coats. That is your province. Therefore you should have led me to do what you knew to be right.'"

Right to the Point.

To do even the most humble work worthily and well something more than blind mechanical service must be given. A young mistress once asked her cook about a certain recipe. "Just how much flour do you put in, Mary?" "Law, mum, you don't follow any rule; you just use your judgment!" "But suppose you don't have any 'judgment,'" returned the puzzled mistress. "Then don't cook!" was the reply, succinct and to the point.

Bunching It.

"How long have you been married?" asked the prima donna. "Only six months this time," replied the beautiful soubrette; "but, putting them all together, I suppose I've been a wife for three or four years at least."—Exchange.

CARE OF THE UDDER.

How It Should Be Treated When Caked and Congested.

The following extracts from the address of Dr. A. T. Peters, veterinarian of the Nebraska experiment station, before the Wisconsin dairymen's convention, are reprinted from Hoad's Dairyman:

The udder is to be considered something like a sponge. It is very porous, full of holes, and for that reason it is a very delicate member, and it wants to be treated in that way. I am not a dairymen, but I am told that some milkers have a less gentle touch than others, and there is an irritation caused, and this irritation will produce serious results by clogging up these little tubes, and the result is that the quarter will be gone, if not the entire udder.

Now, then, the question is what to do. You have probably tried a great many things, but I have found this the best remedy, and it is something that farmers can do. I have here an ordinary milk tube with a little bib at the end of it. I use a rubber tube something like an ordinary hand bicycle pump. Now, I insert this tube carefully into the quarter that is affected, and I fill it up with air. I do not probe in there with darning needles and other kinds of instruments, but I fill up this spongy organ with air, and it is like filling a sponge with water. If the udder is caked, you put in as much air as you can. Then you massage or work with your hand and work that air all through the quarter, and you will hear the bursting of these little vesicles, these little tubes. You can burst all of them in two or three applications of that kind, and you will generally restore the udder. I have treated several hundred very bad cases, and I know it works all right, and any one of you can easily do it.

Now, where the entire udder soon after calving has become caked we use what is known as the compress. We take a piece of heavy cloth and put it on so that it lifts up the entire udder and tie it on top. We usually use straw with it, so that we do not chafe the back of the animal. That is to relieve the pressure. You will notice that the udder is very heavy and that the pressure must be relieved before anything else is done. If you want to assist take several small five or ten pound bags and fill them with bran, keep them hot and apply them to the udder. That is the treatment that we use where there is a very great amount of congestion. Now, those are about the simplest methods of treating diseases of the udder that I can explain—the massage for the diseased quarter and the compress for the whole udder.

How Prize Butter Was Made.

Mr. Barrett, the buttermaker who sent the prize winning tub of butter to the Ohio state dairymen's meeting, when asked how he made the butter that won said:

"I tried to get the best milk I could; told the patrons that I wanted to make a tub of butter for the contest and urged them to bring the milk in in good shape. Pasteurized the whole milk at 170 degrees, cooled down to 58, then put in vat and heated to 65; put in 20 per cent starter, with 6 per cent acidity. I had heavy cream—40 per cent fat—and I thought I would use a strong starter. After starter had been added I had 31 per cent cream; ripened cream at 65 degrees. About 10 o'clock that night I cooled it down to 54 and the next morning churned at 54; used one and a half ounces salt to the pound of butter; worked three times and packed in good tub. There were 138 pounds of butter in that churning."

Dairy Farm Pointers

You can't judge the value of a cow as a milk producer by external appearances any more than you can tell how fast a horse can trot by his appearance in the stall. The test must be applied.—Dairy and Creamery.

Massage of the Udder.

If one of your helpers is developing an unevenly balanced udder, massage the undeveloped quarter daily and notice the improvement, says an old dairymen.

Difficult Churning.

During cold weather our cream began to get hard to churn. It would foam in the churn and would not gather, writes a correspondent of National Stockman and Farm. We nearly failed to get any butter from one or two churnings, so we began to experiment by getting a box of condition powders and feeding each cow morning and evening from one to two tablespoonfuls of the powders in a handful of wheat bran. The first time we churned after commencing to use powders the butter gathered somewhat better, and the next time we churned the butter came in about one-half hour.

How to Select a Dairy Cow.

In buying a cow we always look well to the head. A clear, bright eye; delicate, gentle head; well developed milk veins and udder, supplemented by a good digestive capacity, usually center in the cow that is a good milker, says a farmer in Dairy and Creamery. Well placed teats and an udder that extends well in front are other details the dairy breeder looks for. A little practice will enable one to select the good cows in every herd.

Individuality of Cows.

The same feed will not necessarily produce milk of the same quality from different cows. Two cows may be fed exactly the same ration, and one will give milk rich in butter fat, while the milk of the other will contain a comparatively low per cent of butter fat. This is one of the decrees of nature to which we must submit and which no system of feeding will change.

The New Method Treatment Cured Him after Drugs, Mercury, Hot Springs, &c., all failed.

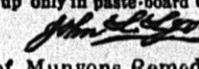

Wm. H. Patterson, of Saginaw, Mich., relates his experience: "I do not like to relate and especially of this kind, but I feel I owe this much to Dr. K. & K. for the great good they have done me. I had a serious blood disease when 24 years of age. The skin and blood symptoms gradually developed. Pimples and ulcers formed, running sores broke out, hair became loose, pains in the bones and joints, dyspeptic stomach, foul breath, itchy skin, etc. It is needless for me to say I tried doctors. I grew to hate the looks of one. I visited Hot Springs twice for four months each time. It helped me temporarily, but in six months after returning home I was as bad as ever. Finally a Doctor friend of mine advised me to see Dr. Kennedy & Kergan. He said he had known of them for over 30 years, and as they made a specialty of these diseases and treated the worst cases by the hundred they ought to be expert in curing them. I was afraid of advertising doctors, but I took his advice. They agreed to treat me under a guarantee or no pay. I investigated their financial standing and found they were perfectly responsible, so I commenced the new method treatment. The eruptions disappeared in two weeks, the bone pains in four weeks and in four months I was entirely cured. Yes, sir, I can recommend the New Method Treatment for Blood and Skin Diseases." BISMARCK'S SON CALLED BY DEATH

AFTER ILLNESS AT FRIEDRICH-SRUHE CAREER OF PRINCE HERBERT BISMARCK ENDS.

Leaves Estate Valued at More Than $4,000,000—Title of Prince and Vast Fortune Go to His Seven-Year-old Son Otto.

Friedrichsruhe, Sept. 19.—Prince Herbert Bismarck died Sunday morning at 10:15 o'clock. The end was painless. Since he ceased to be foreign minister on the retirement of his father in 1890, Prince Herbert Bismarck had taken part in public affairs only as a member of the reichstag.

The title of Prince Bismarck and the large fortune of the deceased will go to his seven-year-old son, Otto. The late Emperor Frederick gave to Chancellor Bismarck extensive forests at Friedrichsruhe, which have since increased in value, and the chancellor gave to Prince Herbert $2,400,000 in securities and cash. The estate is now estimated to be worth $4,000,000, exclusive of the lands.

Prince Bismarck was born in 1849, and was the oldest son of the late Prince Otto Bismarck, the great chancellor of the German empire. He studied law in the Berlin and Bonn universities, served in the Prussian army as a lieutenant of reserves during the Franco-German war of 1870-71, and was severely wounded at the battle of Mars-la-Tour. In 1873 Herbert became an official of the department of foreign affairs and was assistant to his father, then chancellor. He was attached to the German legations at Bern and at Vienna from 1874 to 1877. Later on the deceased became councillor of the German embassy in London and subsequently occupied the same position at St. Petersburg. In 1884 he was appointed minister extraordinary at The Hague, and in 1885 he became under secretary of state in the department of foreign affairs. This post Herbert held until the dismissal of his father from the chancellorship, when he left the service of the empire. From 1884 to 1887 the deceased was a member of the German reichstag, and also from 1893 until the time of his death. He was married in 1892 to Countess Margaret Hoyes, of the Hungarian nobility, and after the death of his father he inherited the title of prince.

TRADE REVIEW.

Progress in Industrial and Commercial Lines Is Slow But Definite.

New York, Sept. 17.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "Industrial and commercial progress is slow, but none the less definite. Low temperature and some injury to crops provided the only adverse influence of the week, and this has little effect upon manufacturers and traders, who have started to prepare for increased business. Buyers of dry goods, clothing and millinery are notably active in placing orders, and other stable lines also feel the effect of gradually expanding confidence. Even if the official crop estimates of September have to be moderately reduced because of bad weather since that date, there is full compensation to growers in the enhanced prices and the strength of securities indicates the faith of the financial world. Many mills and turnaces have resumed because of new orders or adjustment of wage scales, and prices are steadier in most cases. "Failures this week amounted to 224, in the United States, against 219 last year, and 21 in Canada, compared with 19 a year ago."

Bradstreet's says: "While there are diverse movements in domestic and foreign trade, the tendency as a whole is for improvement along conservative lines. Buoyancy in the stock market, possibly larger manipulated, and the strength of cereal prices are factors stimulating to trade, but the advance of the fall season, with cooler weather in some sections, and the prospect of good returns to the agricultural interests, despite the heavy shortage in the wheat yield, are all elements tending to encourage buying."

Filipinos Going Home.

St. Louis, Sept. 21.—It is announced at the Philippine reservation on the world's fair grounds that 50 Filipino scouts, accompanied by some of the officers of the scout battalion, will leave on Sunday for Manila. As their three years' term expires Friday, September 30, they will be honorably discharged. The men who will return to the islands are those who have families there.

Russia's Position.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 21.—Russia's position on the matter of contraband has been authoritatively stated to be as follows: Russia does not desire to interfere with the United States' legitimate commerce with Japan, but she has the right to, and must protect herself as far as possible against shipments which may aid the enemy in prosecuting the war.

CROP CONDITION.

Tender Vegetation and Unmatured Corn in Some States Suffer from Frosts.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions is as follows: While the weather conditions of the week ending September 19 were generally favorable for gathering crops in nearly all districts, low night temperatures in the more northerly portions have delayed the maturity of late crops, and some suffering from drought is reported from the Ohio and lower Missouri valleys and portions of the southern states. Frosts occurred as far south as Oklahoma and Tennessee, but little or no damage resulted, except to tender vegetation in the central valleys and to unmatured crops in Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana.

Spring wheat harvest is practically completed, except in the northern portion of North Dakota, and thrashing is well advanced in Minnesota and South Dakota.

Good progress has been made in cutting, housing and curing tobacco, and a large portion of the crop has been secured in good condition.

A light and inferior crop of apples is indicated in a majority of the states of the central valleys, but in Michigan and Ohio and the northern portion of the middle Atlantic states, as well as in New England, this fruit is plentiful.

Plowing for fall seeding has been delayed by dry soil in the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys, Nebraska, Indian territory and Georgia, and rain is needed in Michigan for germination.

MASSACRE OF JEWS.

Rioters Attack Hebrew Quarters in Sassenovitch Germany—Fifty Are Killed.

Berlin, Sept. 20.—Rioters at Sassenovitch, a city in Germany, near the Russian border, have perpetrated a massacre on the Jews, which rivals in its horrors the atrocities at Kishineff. Fifty Jews were killed by the maddened mob and at least 100 were injured. The bodies of the slain were dismembered and profaned, portions being thrown to the dogs. The police, it is said, as at Kishineff, connived with the infuriated horde. The riot occurred a week ago. News of the outbreak evidently has been successfully suppressed by the German officials.

Sassenovitch, where the riot is reported to have occurred, is a small city in the province of Prisen, in Germany, near the Russian border. The population of the place is made up of Jews, Germans and Russians. The riots began at sunrise on Sunday one week ago and continued until the rioters were exhausted. Bodies of victims were dismembered. The rioters used axes and knives to chop off arms and legs, the severed members being tossed to the dogs in the streets. In one instance, it is reported, the arms of a sexton of a synagogue were twisted from his body by his assailants, and the wounded who were carried to hospitals were maltreated after reaching the institutions.

STOLE BIG SUM.

Three Men Hold Up Cashier of Distillery at Peoria, Ill., and Rob Him of $2,700.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 19.—B. F. Cassell, cashier of the Great Western distillery, was held up on one of the principal streets of the city at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon by three unknown men, who struck him over the head with a club and made away with a satchel containing $2,700, which was to have been used to pay off the employees of the company. Cassell was returning to the office with the money when the affair occurred. The men are supposed to have made their escape across the river, the country there being thick with timber.

Touring the World.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 21.—Charles J. Glidden, who is making a tour of the world in an automobile, has arrived here from Boston via Minneapolis, having made an average of 23 miles an hour. From Boston to Minneapolis he traveled upon the highways and from Minneapolis to Vancouver on the tracks of the Soo Pacific and Canadian Pacific railroads. His average on the highways was 18.13 miles an hour and by rail 30 miles. He was 28 days in making the run from Minneapolis to Vancouver.

Quarrel Results in Killing.

Marshall, Mich., Sept. 20.—Henry Devonshire, a farmer living near Duck Lake, 16 miles northeast of here, was shot and killed Sunday night by J. C. Mitchell, of Springfield. Mitchell gave himself up to the officers. The men quarreled over reports that Devonshire was alleged to have circulated about Mitchell's wife, and Mitchell says that after hot words Devonshire attempted to stab him and that he then shot him.

Bribers Fined.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 19.—In the superior court Saturday Judge Newnam sentenced James McCool and Clark E. Slocum, who pleaded guilty to bribery in the Lake Michigan water deal at the last term of court, fining them $500 each. This is the amount of the bribe they were charged with taking.

Supervising Architect Taylor has opened proposals for the construction of a public building at Grand Haven as follows: Clark & Blakeslee, Grand Haven, $60,870; George J. O'Toole, Toledo, $58,458; Northern Construction company, Milwaukee, $52,952. The original appropriation for this building was $50,000, of which there is an available balance of about $45,000. As all bids are in excess of this amount it is probable that they will be rejected.

A. B. Bosman, president of the Holland fair, and N. J. Whelan, the secretary, were at the West Michigan State fair in Grand Rapids this week obtaining attractions for the Holland fair. They were successful beyond expectations and people who go to the fair to be held the first week in October will be greatly pleased with the novel attractions offered. Next week Messrs. Bosman and Whelan will look for attractions at the Berlin fair.

John Schouten has returned from Thompsonville where he and Karsten left a record of glory on the base ball diamond. Out of 34 games Thompsonville won 27 and Jack and the Kid were responsible for most of the victories, as Schouten caught nearly every game and Karsten pitched all but a few. This record is unequalled in this years annals of Michigan baseball. Thompsonville is not one of the largest towns in Michigan but it has more base ball fans and more thoroughbred sports than any city three times its size in the United States. Schouten and Karsten have made no plans for next year but Thompsonville would like to have them return.

The High school foot ball squad is practicing daily on the 18th street grounds putting in two solid hours from 4 to 6. At present the squad numbers 16 men, eight of last years team and the rest new men. The team will line up for the first game at South Haven on October 1st. The state association governs all high school contests, under its schedule games are played every two weeks. This year the season opens with about forty teams in the race for championship honors. Twenty of these teams will be thrown out after losing the first game and so on until there remains but two teams, one from the upper peninsula and one from the lower to settle the state championship on Thanksgiving day. Holland this year has a better team in the field than ever before. Altho the men are light they do not lack such qualities as grit and perseverance. Their training will be better than ever before and they promise to come home from South Haven on Oct. 1st with smiling faces and a pleasing story to tell.

Johnnie Boone drove two winners at the Grand Rapids fair Wednesday. He won with George R. in 2:30 pace and drove C. Crawford's horse, Camellia, in the 2:30 trot, winning each race in straight heats. Coming—A treat for the Bible-loving people of Holland. The Rev. M. Kolyn of Grand Rapids, latelo a delegate to the "World's Sunday School Convention" held at Jerusalem, will in October give an illustrated lecture on "Sights and Scenes on Sacred Soil." Rev. Kolyn is an able speaker and this lecture promises to be interesting as well as instructive.

H. Boone, sr., spent Sunday with his family in this city. To his friends he spoke highly of the excellent work being done by McKinley and said that people in arriving at an estimate of the work of the horse should not fail to remember that he is pitted against the best trotters in competition in the world today and is more than holding his own. He said that the gamey gelding has been a little off his stride since winning the heat made in 2:06 1/4, and charged it to the condition of the tracks, but he expects that McKinley will strike his stride soon and will spring further surprises. In reference to the request of the board of directors of the S. O. & W. A. A. S. that McKinley be driven an exhibition mile at the Holland fair he said that nothing would please him better if the horse was anywhere near Holland on that date, but he is of the opinion that the horse will be too far away and cannot make the trip and be ready for the bruising contests that await him on the Kentucky tracks. "But" said Mr. Boone, "if I can get him here you bet I would like it."

The children attending school in the Central school building are enjoying enforced vacations on account of the failure of the Howden company of Muskegon to install in time for cold weather the new boiler. It became so cold Wednesday forenoon that rather than risk the health of the 500 pupils they were dismissed and are still taking a vacation. It is expected that a way to solve the heat problem will be found before Monday. During the vacation the teachers of the Central building went to the Grand Rapids schools to visit the grades corresponding to the ones they are teaching.

Tony VanderHill, for a number of years Holland's star backstop must certainly have done great work on the Joplin club of the Missouri Valley League according to the papers there. The Joplin Daily Globe for instance devotes a half of a page to cartoons of VanderHill in action. Under one of the cartoons are the words, "It's hear nothing, do nothing, see nothing—but the ball—with Vander Hill." The following article is under the half page of cartoons: "Merely some impressions of Catcher Tony VanderHill, of the Joplin Miners, who is considered by President Shively the best in the Valley, and in this instance as in many others the president's judgment is not at all bad. Van is a man and one of the most sincere ball players in the business. He will be the manager of the Miners next season in case Johnny Filfman 'sticks' with the Kansas City Blues, and that seems reasonably certain. Filfman established an enviable reputation as the most popular manager in the Valley league. In the humble opinion of the Globe's Sport Dope, Merchant VanderHill will equal that record, and in addition he is apt to carry off Don Shively's pennant in '05."

Muskegon Chronicle: Suel A. Sheldon of Berlin, republican candidate for state senator from this district, comprising Ottawa and Muskegon counties, was here to day attending to some of the formalities connected with certifying his nomination to the proper officers. He also spent some time mixing with the people and looking after politics. He has his ear pretty close to the ground listening to the reports coming from the people with regard to primary reform. "Over in Ottawa county," said Mr. Sheldon, "I find some localities are hot for primary reform, while in others I hear little or nothing about it. I am in favor of primary reform, meaning by that anything that will be a real improvement in our present system. We are watching closely to see how the new system is working in Kent and Muskegon counties. I notice both the Herald and Press at Grand Rapids are suggesting changes in the present law, which they claim is defective or objectionable in some important respects."

Guarantee for the Future

The President points out numerous reasons for supporting the Republican party and continuing it in power. In every instance he pleads for a continuance of the well known policies of the party. They have worked well and should not be changed. Candidate and party are in accord. The candidate can therefore speak authoritatively for the party, and does so. He speaks strongly, but conservatively. His statements as to past and present policies are in the best spirit and form.

As to the future, who can tell what new issues will arise? This much is sure. With Roosevelt as President, the future will be met in the same hopeful, confident, courageous spirit that has characterized the actions of the party in the past. The past and present are guarantors of the future. "We are content to stand or to fall by the record which we have made and are making." — Keene (N. H.) "Sentinel."

His Farewell Meeting.

From all that can be learned on the outside it would be difficult to find more attentive or more interested audiences than those who have listened to Mr. Thos. N. Doughty the noted temperance speaker and worker in Maccabee hall, since his advent in Holland. He labored under disadvantages but seems to have overcome them all. Mr. Doughty is classed as a forcible convincing and dramatic speaker and full of enthusiasm. There can be no doubt concerning his ability to handle an audience successfully. Regarding the saloon and license and prohibition as well as local option together with his past life as a victim of the drink habit he talks from the book of experience, and nothing counts like experience. He is a good singer. He always has something to say and he says it well. He vigorously opposes prohibition and local option for as he says, "neither one is one of practical or expedient and both of them are breeders of vice and crime, proven by authenticated records. He will deliver his farewell lectures in Holland in the Maccabee Hall Sunday the 25th at 3 and 7:45 p. m. These addresses will be free. A special vocal and instrumental program is promised for each occasion. These meetings are free. All are invited to attend. AD.-T. N. D.
