BOY WANTS TREASURER TO PUT RAT IN CITY VAULT

City Clerk Has Only Received an Even Dozen.

The rats are not coming in very fast at the city clerk's office. No less than five heads can be brought in at one time. All Mr. Overweg has received thus far is an even dozen in one lot.

The other day one boy brought in a tail but only heads go, so the boy went away disappointed.

Another boy brought one lone rat in to City Treasurer Yanden Brink. But he was told to catch four more. The boy asked the treasurer to put the rat in the vault for safe keeping.

MEN PROVE UP SANITY; ARE ALLOWED THEIR FREEDOM

Gilday and Drisco, the Pair Held in the County Jail for Several Days Alleged Insane are Turned Loose Tuesday

SAVINGS CEASED SUDDENLY

John Gilday probably knew what he was about a few days ago when he refused to be served with a document charging insanity unless it was letter perfect. An investigating commission composed of Drs. W. S. Walkley and Edward Hofma appointed by Probate Judge E. P. Kirby pronounced him sane Tuesday morning and Gilday was released some time later.

Gilday was the man brought in from the county home as insane because he was counting tree leaves into the thousands of dollars. It is said that his ravings were of a temporary variety brought on by excessive drinking.

Frank Drisco, brought here from Holland early this week was also released after the commission, Drs. P. M. Vandenberg and S. L. De Witt, pronounced him sane. Drisco was not in the maniac stage when he came to the jail, although his ravings were far from those of a normal man. His condition is said to have been brought on by a chronic illness contracted many years ago, and that he is in danger of intermittent spells of insanity.

Both were allowed to go and they left Grand Haven Tuesday afternoon.

REV. J. W. ESVELD RECEPTION TONIGHT

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will hold a reception in the church parlors in honor of the return of their pastor, the Rev. J. W. Esveld, and family, this evening at 8 o'clock. All members and friends are invited to attend. The date for the reception was first given for Saturday evening but this was an error. It will be held this evening.

With But One Exception All Rain Records for Month of September Have Been Broken.

In the heavy showers of Saturday night and Sunday the rainfall amounted to 1.86 inches swelling the total for the month of September to date to 8.05 inches.

This total is the greatest in the history of the Grand Haven weather bureau for the month of September, with the exception of September 1872 when the total was 9.37 inches.

The mark for this September is far ahead of any precipitation records for September in recent years and makes this month one of the most remarkable in the weather bureau's history. Observer Schnurbusch's figures show that the months of August and September have been record breakers when rainfall is considered. The total for the two months, with September still a few days to run, amounts to 16.07 inches.

With but one exception in the history of Ottawa county weather bureau this is the wettest two months ever witnessed here. The one exception was the two months of June in 1883 when the rainfall here amounted to 17.20 inches.

That was the year the famous big boom of mill days, located up the river near Nortonville, came near going out. The June freshet of that year was unprecedented and the lumber concerns of the Grand river region stood chances for days of losing hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of lumber in the logs in the booms of the Grand River Lumber company.

The rains of the past two months here have raised Grand river to a higher level than has been noted in years, but there are no log booms to go out now. The old days of the river are over and only the farmers and fruit men of the region suffer from the remarkable rainfalls of the months of August and September.

Because of the rains and the fact that crops are rotting in the fields it is believed that potatoes particularly will be very high in price. Farmers coming to the city all report that the potato crop has been terribly injured. One farmer in the city Saturday stated that his entire crop of potatoes and carrots was rotting in the fields. This is the condition all over western Michigan and a shortage in the potato crop is a certainty, with attendant high prices.

Fruit, too, has suffered terribly from the rains. Oceana fruit growers assert that peaches are not being picked because the rains have been their quality poor. The big markets are glutted with the fruit and peaches bring no price.—G. H. Tribune.

$5,000 DAMAGE SUIT MUST BE RE-TRIED

HUGH BRADSHAW CASE REVERSED IN SUPREME COURT.

A New Trial Has Been Ordered

The sensational case that held sway in the Ottawa County Court last fall between Hugh Bradshaw of Holland township and Rose Mortensen in which the woman was given a verdict of $5,000 will be retried. Attorneys Vischer & Robinson asked for a retrial in the circuit court for their client Mr. Bradshaw but this was denied them.

They took their case to the Supreme court and this morning received information that their motion was sustained and a retrial has been ordered.

The Bradshaw-Mortensen case was one of the most sensational that has been tried in Ottawa county and no doubt the whole affair will be aired again in the very near future.

The firm of Diekema, Kollen & Ten Cate won the case for Rose Mortensen in circuit court.

The John Wesley Hill meeting has been called off for tonight at Carnegie hall. Mr. Hill cannot be here.

HEAVY FROST LAST TUESDAY EVENING

Observer Schnurbusch of the Ottawa County weather bureau is of the opinion that the heavy frost visiting this section Tuesday night is a damaging one to the late crops and tender plants of the surrounding farm community. The lowest registering of temperature was 37 degrees F., just 7 degrees above the lowest ever recorded in Grand Haven for the month of September.

There have been no reports of general damage on account of the frosts in the last two nights. It is probable that the next few days will reveal extensive injury to late crops however.

Charles H. McBride and City Engineer Bowen leave for Detroit today to confer with the Pere Marquette officials relative to the grade crossing at East 16th street. They will do their best to induce the P. The first meeting of the Maple Ave. Parent-Teachers' club for the year 1915-1916 will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30. The meeting is in charge of the executive committee. A program and an outline of the year's work will be given. Very extensive plans are being made for the coming year and a matter that will be of interest to all parents is to be taken up at this meeting. A good attendance is greatly desired.

Now that the price of sugar has gone down the people of this section can do a good turn to the peach growers by canning up a liberal supply of the fruit thereby furnishing a market for the local product. There is nothing better in winter than Grand Traverse peaches or the table and nothing now stands in the way of the people canning a large supply. Peaches are cheap and sugar is again back to a normal level which makes the inducement strong for the prudent housewife to get busy in the canning line.

Robert Dolejsl was born in Chicago in the year 1892. Showing evidence of marked talent at an early age, he was put under local instructors and made rapid advancement. He achieved such success, winning the praise of all the critics at his debut when he played

After a year's private course with the great master Sevcik he was admitted into the master class of violin

The instrumental program, while including some Bohemian selections, is by no means restricted to them, but will cover a wide range of music.

POLICE OFFICERS ON A WILD GOOSE CHASE; ROBBERS ARE FOUND TO BE RESPECTABLE CITIZENS.

New Man Was Showing His Wife His New Job.

The police department was all astir one night last week when a quivering voice from a down-town phone, gave the startling information that there were robbers in the Crystal Creamery, owned by C. J. Lokker of this city.

Officers O'Connor and Speed Cop Bonetoe made all possible haste to bag the supposed marauders. With stealthy step, they entered the butter factory with club aloft and gun in hand. They saw two figures muffled in sweaters and caps standing in an obscurely lighted part of the creamery. To their surprise the robbers made no attempt to escape, but came walking to the officers, quite gingerly in fact, but with enough courage to expose their identity and to the surprise of the guardians of the law they found that the hold-up men were Clarence Lokker and "Jock" Riemersma, professor of mathematics in our High school.

The sequel to this story is that the Lokker family was without butter in the house, but had a lot in the factory. Clarence and the professor who was visiting were sent post haste to get the necessary spreading material. He soon arrived at the creamery with his auto and noticed that the factory was all lighted up. Upon investigation he found that a new man, who had been hired a few days before, was showing his wife the intricacies of butter-making. Guiding her thru the creamery he was telling her about his new position and the nice job that he now had. The new man was very much startled when he was approached by Lokker, whom he had never met and not being satisfied with the questions asked and the big sweaters and caps that were pulled over their eyes, the new man became very much peeved. Siding near the open door, through which the supposed robbers had entered the now thoroughly frightened man grabbed his wife by the hand and shot through that door like a streak of lightning. The two boys did not realize what was up until the police entered upon the scene followed by one of the Lokker, when all was explained to the satisfaction of the new man and his wife and the two supposed highwaymen. The new man is on the job making butter faster than ever today.

ALBERT HOPPENRATH SENTENCED TO 30 YEARS IN PRISON.

The third beast of recent months to stand before Judge Cross in the clothes of a man was sentenced to Jackson prison Monday to spend from 15 to 30 years. This was Albert Hoppenrath of Salem who in his hours of degeneracy, times when he lost all of the attributes of the human race and descended to the status of the lower animals, used his own daughter, his own flesh and blood, as though she, too, had been transformed into a beast like himself. Judge Cross said, as Hoppenrath stood sniveling before him: "Your crime is beyond the conception of the ordinary man. I can not understand how you could be guilty of such a horror upon your own daughter. What can a man be thinking of who will do what you have repeatedly done?" That is just the point. He who will commit such a gross violation of society's decency is not a human but is a degenerate, below the level of many animals that will not do what he did. Judge Cross was sickened by the matter and made brief comment in passing sentence. "There is nothing I can say to help you or your family whom you have so shamefully disgraced," he said in subdued tones, and told the sheriff to take him away. Hoppenrath blubbered his way back to jail while asking Sheriff Short if he could not go to see his family before starting for Jackson. It would seem as though he would wish never to see any of them again.

Albert Hoppenrath of Salem, sent this week to Jackson prison for from 15 to 30 years, because of his beastly element and the predominance of it, at times, is one whom some people pity, for aside from his terrible characteristic he has been a good man. He was some years ago attracted to farm life and took a lot of rather poor land in Salem to work. By reason of his industry he made money and lived among men a rather admirable life. He was known to be scrupulously honest. An Allegan attorney consulted him after he had been brought to jail and tried to get him to change his mind about pleading guilty by telling him that he would certainly go to prison for a long term of years. He hung to his confession, saying he would not tell a lie about it, to which the attorney replied: "My God, man, you might better tell ten thousand lies than do what you have confessed."—Allegan Gazette.

Fennville Post Office Service Cut Down To Three Routes.

Official announcement of the discontinuance of one of the four mail routes out of Fennville has been received by Postmaster M. J. Orr. According to the order, Route 9 which has been handled by Carrier Ray N. Wightman will be taken up. This change is the result of the reorganization of the rural mail service in Michigan.

The new order which becomes effective October 1, makes a complete rearrangement of the service out of Fennville.

Several Changes Will Go Into Effect on Pere Marquette Next Monday

Commencing Monday, Sept. 27, the Pere Marquette afternoon train for Allegan left Holland at 1:20 p. m. instead of 6 o'clock p. m. and arrive from Allegan at 3:45 p. m. instead of 8:20 p. m.

Train leaving at 1:20 p. m. for Muskegon will not run north of Muskegon. Other trains will be the same as at present, except on the Chicago division the resort special between Chicago and Bay View leaving Holland for the north at 10:48 p. m. and for Chicago at 3:05 a. m. are discontinued.

NO CAUSE FOR ACTION IN DOCTOR DROWNING CASE.

What Hole Did Young Doctor Fall In Is the Question

Possibly one of the hardest fought cases in circuit court and one in which the jury stayed out longer than in any other case that has been tried in the history of Ottawa county, was the case of Doctor vs. Rice. It will be remembered that young Doctor was drowned last winter by falling through a hole in the ice and his body was not recovered until in the spring when the ice left the bay.

The father of the unfortunate boy, brought suit against Elliot S. Rice, claiming that no danger signs had been placed around the open space where ice had been sawed for the Rice ice house.

Twenty witnesses testified in behalf of Mr. Rice while 9 testified in behalf of the Doctors. Little, Lillie & Lillie attorneys for the plaintiff. While the jury sympathized with the family of the young lad, whose mother had also died prematurely owing to the shock, the jury could not explain away this one fact, and that is that no one saw the boy fall in the hole where it was alleged that he had met his death. There were several other holes left unprotected where other cottage owners had been sawing ice. Besides, there were 75 to were the attorneys for the defendant while Mr. Diekema and Mr. Kollen were a 100 ice shanties stationed in that neighborhood which were moved from place to place leaving exposed holes large enough for a man's body to go through. The question therefore was which of all these holes did the lad fall through. And as this fact could not be explained away or proven beyond a reasonable doubt the jury could not see their way clear to give a verdict for the plaintiff, much as their sympathies went out to the stricken family.

They wrestled with the question from 3:30 Saturday afternoon, were at it all night until 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon and finally the jury came in with a verdict of "no cause for action" after a deliberation of 23 1/2 hours.

OIL IN SAUGATUCK Expect to Go Down Three Thousand Feet; The Cost Will Be Large

For the last two or three months oil experts have been prospecting in the vicinity of Saugatuck and have made a number of leases of land mostly two miles up the river and beyond that point.

In these places they have found oil seeping up through the ground. If that was all the proof required to locate oil the prospector would be out of a job. His work is very complicated, for the oil may be five or ten miles from where it appears on the surface. In its ascent it might strike solid rock and follow that for a number of miles before getting through. The expert, no matter how good he is, has to trust a good deal to luck when he decides on a place to drill and then when the drilling begins he will have to spend from $10,000 to $20,000 before he strikes oil or decides that he has guessed wrong.

Mr. De Genter and his associates have been to a good deal of expense already but the greatest expense is now about to begin for two car loads of drilling machinery is at New Richmond and in a short time they will probably be at work, although the sickness of one of the prospectors has been delaying the work somewhat.

The men who are interested here are determined to profit by the failures in Allegan and Fennville where they believe the drillers stopped before they had gone far enough to get oil if it had been there. They have come to the conclusion that if oil is here it is at least 3000 feet down and it will cost $2,000 to get it. In Ohio the same people are going 3900 feet to get oil and now have a number of paying wells the product of which they sell in a crude state.

FRESHMEN WIN TUG-OF-WAR AFTER MUSCLE WRENCHING CONTEST

Time Record of Last Year Is More Than Doubled Friday

One hour and twelve minutes—that was the time it took the Freshman class of Hope College to pull the Sophomore class through Black River Friday afternoon. It was by far the most strenuous pull ever witnessed by the people of Holland and as an endurance test it was a marvelous exhibition. Last year the annual tug of war lasted just 35 minutes, which up to that time was the record, but this year the record was not only smashed but the time was more than doubled.

There were 38 men on each side and for a long time neither side could budge the other. The Freshmen were a little superior in weight, their average weight being 156 while the average weight of the Sophomores was 145 pounds. Finally, after an hour and twelve minutes of the most strenuous work, the Sophomores weakened and were dragged into the water by their opponents.

The Sophomores were coached by R. H. Gilbert and George Veenker, and the freshmen were coached by Mayor Bosch, Principal Drew and Jack Moore.

Both teams were worn out when the hard struggle finally came to an end. Practically every man who took part in the contest had several patches of skin missing from the palms of his hands when the tug was over. A large number of people gathered on either bank of the river to encourage the teams.

Friday night the college classes celebrated the event with parties. The Freshmen, the winners, gathered in the K. of P. hall in the Visscher building; the Sophomores held a jollification meeting in the Woman's Literary club hall; the Juniors met in the old Woman's Literary club hall in the Visscher building; and the Seniors went to Macatawa Park. At the conclusion of their meeting the Freshmen indulged in a huge bon fire and a snake dance on the campus.

DOUGLAS T. EVELAND, BLIND- MAN, IS GOOD CRAFTSMAN AND ACCOMPLISHED MUSICIAN

Is a Graduate from the Batavian Blind School.

One of the most versatile and accomplished men in Allegan is Douglas T. Eveland, a man who has not been able to tell daylight from dark since he was 9 years old.

Born with weak eyes, and going totally blind at an age when most boys are getting a good start in school, Mr. Eveland has overcome his terrible handicap in a way that excites the constant admiration of all who know him.

He is a graduate of the school for the blind at Batavia, N. Y., and after completing his course of instruction at that place traveled to Allegan, a distance of 800 miles, alone. He has since that time made several long journeys alone and without accident, and travels with a confidence that is astonishing.

Mr. Eveland is by trade a piano tuner, and is a musician of ability and versatility. He plays proficiently the piano, cornet and violin. His musical memory is wonderful. He learns a selection by having the notes read to him, and rarely does he require a third reading for thorough mastery.

While attending school he was leading cornetist in the Batavia school orchestra and band, among the leading musical organization of that state. He has played many times in the Allegan band.

Mr. Eveland resided at Holland, for some time and was the head piano tuner at the Bush & Lane piano factory.

As a carpenter and architect, Mr. Eveland is the equal of any in Allegan. He lives in a two-story nine-room residence with a bath room and two screen porches which he designed and helped to build.

An amusing incident is told by Rev. Vickers of the Allegan M. E. church. While the house was being built the minister had occasion to call on Mr. Eveland and inquired of one of the workmen where he was. The man vouchsafed the information that he was somewhere around but he didn't know where. After looking all about the grounds in vain, the divine finally mounted a ladder and climbed up the scaffolding and located the blind man peacefully slumbering on the ridgepole with his back against the chimney.

Mr. Eveland nailed on the lat in all the upstairs rooms in the house, walking around on the beams before the flooring was laid. He has built a wood shed and a large chicken house on his place, and has constructed porches on both the ground and second floors of several houses in Allegan. Numerous bookcases, chairs, porch swings and many pieces of artistic cabinet-making testify to his skill with tools. He always figures out before-hand the exact amount of material he needs, and is never more than a foot or two out of the way.

He finds his way about Allegan with the greatest ease and recognized hundreds of his acquaintances before they speak to him. He can identify almost anyone he knows by their walk.

Mr. Eveland reads and writes, of course using the "point system", and can operate a typewriter rapidly and accurately. In addition to this, he writes a readable longhand, but this is a more slow and difficult matter.

He is a regular attendant at the Baptist church and Sunday school, and is one of the best versed bible students in the church. Before starting for Sunday school he has his lesson read to him and it needs but the one reading for him to learn it perfectly.

He lives with his mother on the west side, 531 Academy street, his father, for 28 years, a Delaware & Hudson railway engineer, having died several years ago.

Mr. Eveland's wonderful accomplishments in the face of so many difficulties, his happy, optimistic disposition; his wonderful attainments, and, above all, his unassuming modesty, have won him a warm place in the hearts of his fellow-citizens and have been a source of wonder and amusement to those who see him for the first time.

FINE PROGRAM GIVEN IN M. E. CHURCH FRIDAY EVENING; 204 PRESENT.

A large and interesting gathering was held at M. E. church Friday evening when the Women's Federation of Bible Classes of the City of Holland met. In all there were 204 members present and a very interesting program was carried out.

The Rev. J. Van Peursem pastor of Trinity church gave an able discourse on the subject "The Bible Compared With Other Books." John Vandersluis had charge of the music for the occasion and conducted a chorus composed of members of the Federation.

This is the quarterly meeting of the organization which is making a rapid growth in the different church denominations of this city.

Decision of High State Tribunal Means That Maurice Atwood Will Have to Be Sentenced for Manslaughter

A dispatch received by Prosecutor Louis H. Osterhaus late Tuesday afternoon from the clerk of the court had affirmed the decision of state supreme court announced that the Ottawa county court in the case of the People vs. Maurice Atwood charged with manslaughter in connection with the murder of his wife, Selma Atwood. The murder, which occurred in Blendon was one of the most sensational in the county's criminal history.

The fact that the jury found Atwood guilty was a great surprise to many people. Atwood appealed to the supreme court through his attorney, C. O. Smedley, who made a great fight for his client.

Tuesday's decision indicates that the fight was a losing one.

LEAVES FOR CHICAGO TO ACCEPT SCHOLARSHIP IN MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Leon Cherest Bosch, son of Mayor and Mrs. Bosch of this city left for Rush Medical college, Chicago, to study medicine. Mr. Bosch realized that his father, owing to prolonged illness and operations on his throat to which he was put to great expense could not bear the burdens of sending his oldest boy to an expensive college like the Rush Medical college. But his sole ambition was to become a doctor and he bent all his energies towards obtaining a scholarship, which he succeeded in doing.

The work that brought him this reward was the investigation of the typhoid fever epidemic that raged here last winter. The investigation covered several months of hard work but after his arduous labors were completed he sent his findings to Rush Medical college and on the diagnosis, which the health authorities of Holland at that time claims solved the problem, he received the much sought-for scholarship.

There are three scholarships given by this college. The first for $180; the second for $120 and the third for $60. Between four and five hundred contestants all graduates from different colleges and schools and even some having their A. B. degree took part and the result was that Leon Bosch received the first scholarship of $180, which speaks well for our Holland boy.

In going to Chicago he will not be new at the work. He is a graduate from Hope College not alone but has also worked for a year and one-half in the office of Dr. Leenhouts assisting and receiving lectures on medical science and in operations that took place in the doctor's office. There is no doubt but that Leon Bosch will make good at Rush.

The Seagrave Fire truck that will be purchased by both Muskegon and Grand Rapids made the run between the two towns over country roads a distance of 51 miles in two hours flat. This is considered by the chief of both the Grand Rapids and Muskegon fire departments as wonderful work.

NOTORIOUS MAHAN - ALLISON CASE COMES TO AN END.

Sentence of Six Months to Three Years in Ionia Reformatory Is Big Surprise; Expected to Be Placed on Probation.

The last echo of the well remembered Mahan cases and all of their side issues sounded out in Ottawa circuit court Tuesday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock in the sentence of Fred (Turk) Allison to a period of from six months to three years in Ionia reformatory.

In his last words to Allison Judge Cross said he believed it was his duty to impose a punishment upon him, although he wished from a personal standpoint that he could not. The court informed the prisoner that he was receiving the minimum sentence.

Plainly the sentence was a great surprise to Allison, his father, Fred Allison, sr., and others who were in the court room. When the judge spoke the final words of his punishment Allison turned ashen pale and his father was deeply moved. A few minutes after sentence had been passed the elder Allison asked the court if his son could not remain at his home in Nunica over night. He was informed that Sheriff Dykhus would very likely allow the privilege.

"Turk" Allison was the lad upon whom Mahan made a criminal operation while Turk was tied to a chair. Allison was found by the husband in the Mahon home with Mrs. Mahon. Mrs. Mahon is now serving time in Detroit House of Correction and Mahan is on parole.

Stops were made at Bosman's vineyard on the north side of the bay, the park and at Scott's grove. On the return to the dock in this city, Mr. G. Van Schelven was appointed by those on board to thank the Captain for the ride. He performed this task in his usual happy manner.

LOCAL MAN WINS SECOND PRIZE IN NATIONAL CONTEST

George Cable of this city, who resides on the park road, Tuesday had a surprise when he received a letter notifying him that he had been awarded the 2nd prize in a contest put on by the National Squab Magazine, of Boston, Mass. The contest called for best written article on the caring, breeding, dressing, etc., on squabs and was open to all contestants in the United States. Mr. Cable can feel justly proud of this honor, inasmuch as he has only had a few years experience in the handling of these birds. For a number of years Mr. Cable has had charge of the large squab farm on the Fischer place on the park road—formerly the old Conkey summer home, and now has a squab farm of his own.

Mr. Cable has a large demand for these birds, they being considered a great delicacy. He enters to the resorts in the summer time and has a ready market at all times in Chicago.

P. M. WILL MAKE SPECIAL IN- DUCEMENTS TO EMPLOYEES WHO SHOW EFFICIENCY

Station Master Rich and Road Master McNabb are in line for some prizes which is the latest innovation the P. M. R'y is offering their employees for efficient service.

The railroad officials have informed all roadmasters, master-mechanics, station agents and section foremen that as an additional incentive this year to place their respective departments in the best of possible condition, prizes will be offered for the best showing made in conditions having to do with safety, service and good appearance of the right of way, the tracks and in and about the stations and shops.

A general inspection of the entire system will take place beginning on Monday, October 18, which will include a thorough scrutiny of every facility which enters into first class upkeep and good service. To win, the competitors must show that every detail incident to good railroading has been attended to in a manner which will provide for the best of operation and maintenance. Seven committees of Division officers, appointed by Chief Engineer Grandy will make the inspection and awards. One committee will judge the condition of the track, as to its line and surface; another roadbed and drainage; another ballast, another the general neatness of the sections, station grounds and buildings; another fences, cattleguards, telegraph and telephone lines, shop grounds, repair yards, engine houses, etc.

The roadmaster receiving the highest grade will receive a prize of $100; the section foreman having the best section in each roadmasters' division will receive a prize of $25; master-mechanics compete for a prize of $100, covering the condition of shops, grounds, repair yards and outlying terminals, while one station agent on each division will secure $25, the award made on the condition of station accounts, and the neatness of the station and ware house.

SOMETHING ABOUT SUGAR.

Sugar was not known as an article of commerce among the Greeks, and it is not mentioned in the Bible, showing that it was not known to the Hebrews. The sugar cane is believed to have grown wild in India, and while no reference to sugar can be found to 300 A. D. there is no doubt that the juice of the cane was in use long before that period. The art of the evaporation of the juice to a solid substance is an Indian invention of about the seventh century and was spread all over the then known world. The Arabs and Egyptians prepared candy at an early date by recrystallizing the sugar obtained from the pressed cane.

REV. J. I. FLES RETIRES FROM ACTIVE MINISTRY

Fles, of Pella, Ia., who for seven years was pastor of the Second Christian Reformed church at Zeeland, and for nearly 20 years pastor of the First Christian Reformed church of Muskegon has retired from the active ministry. ### ALLEGAN SHERIFF NABS HOBOES AT FENNVILLE

Sheriff Short went to Fennville to break up the camps of the hoboies that had become too thick of late. Every year the wanderers gather in the fruit-belt to work and they live in the open. West of Fennville there is a "jungle" where they live and there are such places south and north of the village. Of course more or less property is appropriated by these fellows, for their sustenance, and occasionally residents there have to ask the officers to do something. Seven of the summer boarders were arrested. Two or three paid fines, as many more were sent to jail, and the rest, being without money, were told to get out of the county as fast as they could.

Grand Haven To Discuss Insurance Fire Rate Classification.

President Wm. Hatton of the Chamber of Commerce of Grand Haven stated Saturday morning that probably in a coming meeting of the representatives' council, a move for reclassification of fire insurance rates would be started. This is regarded as one of the most necessary tasks of the body at present, since such a question has been under discussion for the past two years.

HAS PREPARED A SHROUD FOR HIS BODY AND HAS BUILT A SEPULCHER

Muskegon, Sept. 27.—When Henry Lyman, aged 69 years, of Twin Lakes, a village near here dies his body will be wrapped in a linen shroud and placed in a sepulcher, as was the body of Jesus Christ after the crucifixion on Mount Calvary.

"Our Lord," Lyman declares, "was not buried in the ground and my body shall not be."

Lyman has himself built a little brick sepulcher on a wooded hillside in a secluded portion of his 6 acre farm, in which his body will lie, he believes, until Gabriel's trumpet announces the Resurrection day. It is Lyman's belief, founded on an exhaustive study of the scriptures, that the soul, body and the spirit are three separate units. The spirit at death returns to its God; the body becomes dust, while the soul lingers near the last resting place of the body until Resurrection day.

The body should not be buried beneath the ground as are the bodies of animals and things without souls," says Lyman. "The soul, which must hover near its earthly shell until summoned before its Maker, should have easy access to the trees, the flowers and the other beauties of nature. It should not be forced to stay under the earth."

HOLLAND CLAIMS BUT 203 DOGS; PETE KILLS 3,000

According to VerWey's figures there are only 203 licensed dogs in the city. 15 years ago the dog population reached into four figures. During his incumbency as poundmaster Ver Wey has slaughtered more than 3,000 dogs.

MANY CASES ARE DISPOSED OF ALLEGAN CIRCUIT COURT BY JUDGE O. S. CROSS

Benjamin Sternberg of Laketown appeared before Judge Cross in the Allegan circuit court last week charged with being a drunkard under the disorderly act. He was placed on probation for two years.

Paul Mongrak of Otsego was sentenced to go to jail for thirty days and pay a fine of $50 and costs of $11.16 for selling liquor. If he does not pay the fine he must remain in jail sixty days more. It is thought some of his Polish friends will pay the fine and costs but he will have to stay in jail 30 days anyway.

David I. Adams of Plainwell and Otsego was sent to jail for forty days for violating the liquor law and he must pay a fine of $50 too, and in case he does not pay he must stay behind the bars sixty days more.

Judge Cross warned these fellows that he had given them the minimum sentence prescribed by the statutes. Adam's eyes opened widely when the judge said, "This is a light sentence and you must be very careful not to appear before me again. If you do I will give you a severe sentence." Adams is an elderly man, and 100 days in jail will be hard on him.

A divorce was granted Winnie Trudell of Pullman from Ethel Trudell on the ground of desertion. He must pay her $2.50 per week for three years and at the end of that time he must pay her $3 a week until their child is 14 years old. The child is seven now.

DISCOVERS A PARASITE

H. Van Tongeren Finds Worm On His Tobacco Plants.

"For a number of days there have been on exhibit in the window of the H. Van Tongeren Cigar Store two tobacco plants showing how this plant grows and what it looks like when green. Friday Mr. Van Tongeren discovered on one of the plants a worm that is known in the countries where tobacco grows as the tobacco worm. It is a long green worm and it feeds on the growing leaf of the tobacco plants in the same way as the more familiar tomato worm feeds on the tomato plant.

The Rebecca Lodge celebrated its sixty-third anniversary Friday evening. The Odd Fellows and their families and friends were the guests of the lodge and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The opening remarks were made by Noble Grand Mrs. Rose Harris, after which the following program was rendered: piano and violin duet by the Misses Gardi; vocal duet, Misses Clara McClellan and Stella Girard, "Bonnie Doon," and "Comin' Thro' the Rye"; piano solo, Miss Gardi; vocal solos, Miss Gladys Orr, "Little Bit of Heaven sure They Call it Ireland" and "Voices of the Woods"; vocal solos, Stella Girard, "Friend of Mine," and "Since You Went Away."

After the program there was dancing. Punch and wafers were served in the dining room. Miss Mae Hiler and Miss Rose Clark presiding at the punch bowl. Out of town guests were from Allegan, Grand Rapids and Saugatuck. The Rebecca Lodge is in a flourishing condition and the anniversary celebration Friday night was a most happy one.

ALLEGAN BOY IS WITH MARINE CORPS ON WAR-TORN ISLAND.

With the United States Marine Corps Field Artillery Battalion, landed from the U. S. S. "Tennessee," to join the Marine Corps forces already in Hayti for the protection of American interests in that war-torn little isle, is Robert Teed of Allegan. Teed who is a brother of Richard Teed of Allegan, is a fighting unit of the highly efficient military arm of the government service—the U. S. Marine Corps. Marines wear a distinctively military uniform, and they perform a soldier's duty while roving the seas aboard ship. They are always first landed when trouble threatens and they bear the brunt of the initial fighting. Usually these "soldiers of the sea" are able to cope with any situation that may arise abroad without having to call in the army to assist. Young Teed enlisted in the United States Marine Corps at its Detroit recruiting station, March 23 last, and already has had many and varied experiences as a member of that gallant organization, "the oldest branch of the service."

AMERICAN RED CROSS PLANS TO BEAT RECORD SALE OF $550,000 IN 1914.

The growth of the seal sale in Michigan may be seen from the statement that in 1913, 1556,173 seals were sold in this state, in 1914, 2,053,607, while it is hoped that at least 3,000,000 seals will be sold this year. Seven million seals have been order for this state alone. Thirty agents have already been appointed, covering the whole of 29 counties, and parts of other counties. This is reported by the State association Secretary to be a record breaker for this early in the season and in her estimation presages well for a splendid increase in the per capita sales. If you are willing to help in the sealsale you should write at once to the secretary, Miss Carol Walton, Medical Building, Ann Arbor, Mich.

Mrs. George Van Duren of this city handles the Red Cross Christmas seals in Ottawa county. She is the chairman of the Civic Health committee of the Woman's Literary club and has done faithful work along this line.

TWO MORE HELD AS INSANE IN COUNTY JAIL PENDING EX- AMINATION TUESDAY

"Here, take 'em back, you might as well get these nut papers right," said Henry P. Gilday, Monday morning when served with papers charging him to be insane in the county jail. The man had been brought to the county farm because of his condition and because his first name or initials did not appear on the document he took exception. The names were supplied at his request.

Gilday's alleged dementia is a rather pleasant hallucination that he is now weighted down with money. In his pockets are wads of tree leaves. These he counts over and over with an occasional smack of his lips which says he is enjoying himself.

F. C. Drisco, wanderer was brought in from Holland last Saturday after picked up as insane by the authorities there. His case is a very serious one and his ravings are of the wildest type. At times he is solemnly quiet and refuses to speak to the keepers.

Proceedings have been started in probate court for both. An examination was held Tuesday.

WILL SOON BEGIN TO DIG FOR W. C. T. U. MEMBERS DISCUSS SUB- JECT "WHAT IS GOOD FOR HOLLAND?"

A very interesting meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Markham, East Eighth street. A large number of ladies were present and the meeting was helpful and interesting. The roll call response was to the question, "What is Good for Holland?" Mrs. Post and Mrs. Markham gave their reports of the district convention at Spring Lake, and Mrs. Osborn of Grand Rapids played two piano solos. Mrs. F. T. Miles then took charge of the program. She sang a solo and later gave an interesting talk on the two laws passed in regard to the saloon in the township and in regard to the smoking of cigars. Refreshments were served.

AND START LECTURE COURSE

The Dates Will Be January 31st, February 26th and March 29th.

In line with other schools and colleges the Holland High school will also put on a lecture course. This is a matter that has long been considered especially since the new High school contains the large commodious auditorium that will conveniently seat from six to seven hundred people.

The course has been selected from the C. W. Best Artists' Series and as the name implies, the series embraces some of the best artists on the American platform today.

The prices have also been placed at a very reasonable rate. The course tickets can be obtained at $1.00 each, including reserve seats. Children's season tickets can be secured at 50c each, while single admission tickets will sell at 25c to 50c.

That the high school course will be a success goes without saying as the personal back of the new enterprise are composed of hustling young men and besides the parents of the pupils are ever ready to advance the interests of their children, which they would be doing if they patronized the course.

SCREEN STARS MAKE TRIP ON STEAMER CITY OF ST. JOSEPH.

The "City of St. Joseph" of the Graham & Morton Line is again to appear on the moving picture screen, for Thursday Irving Washburn, one of the Essanay favorites with his leading lady Miss Laura Frankfield and their director and camera man, made the trip from Chicago to St. Joseph on the afternoon boat.

The opening scene and two other scenes of "The Inheritance" which will be released this fall, were staged on the steamer.

Miss Frankfield is making her debut on the screen in this picture. She has been well known on the legitimate stage for 12 years.

The company returned to Chicago on the afternoon train.

INSANE MAN PICKED UP

Was Obsessed With Idea That Holland Was Detroit.

There seems to be an epidemic of out-of-town insane people in Holland last week. In addition to two other cases that have been reported so far this week, there was another case today. Patrolman Jack Wagner picked up an insane man Friday morning who was under the impression that he was in the city of Detroit. Thursday he was ordered out of the city by the officers because he was causing a disturbance, but he returned Friday.

PRICES REDUCED FOR LECTURE
COURSE AT HOPE COLLEGE
THIS YEAR.

Third Class Seats Have Been Reduced In Price For This Reason.

To make the Hope College Lecture course still more democratic if possible than it has been in the past years—that is the plan that has been adopted this year by the management of the course. The Hope College Lecture course has always been for all the people and special efforts have been made to interest all classes of Holland's population in the opportunities for information and culture offered by the talent that this course brings to Holland each season. It was this course that a few years ago originated the plan of establishing a fund for a city Y. M. C. A. building and some of the proceeds of the lectures have been used to swell this fund. In this and other ways the managers have tried to show that he course is for all the people of Holland.

And this year still another effort in this direction will be made. Owing to a desire to place the lectures within the reach of practically all, the price of the so-called third-class tickets has been reduced to one dollar. The price of the first and second-class tickets will not be changed. But with the reduction of third class tickets the price for each number will be less than 17 cents, which is within reach of most people.

The change in price for third class seats will not affect the quality of the numbers offered. In fact the talent this year is considered the best ever offered in Carnegie Hall. The two lecturers on the course, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman and Edward Amherst Ott, have both appeared in Holland before and they are among the best lyceum speakers before the public today. There will be three big musical numbers, Dolejsi Bohemian Orchestra, Frances Ingham, Prima Donna Contralto of the Chicago and Montreal Grand Opera company, and the Weatherwax Bros. Quartet, the last named organization well known in Holland. The remaining number of the course will be a big entertainment feature. It will consist of an evening's entertainment by Eugene Laurant, "Man of Many Mysteries."

NOTED LECTURER WILL APPEAR IN HOLLAND THURSDAY EVENING
SEPTEMBER 30, EIGHT O'CLOCK SHARP.

Under the auspices of the local branch of the World's Peace Court, recently organized in this city, with Hon. G. J. Diekema as president, Dr. J. Wesley Hill, of New York, will deliver his great lecture, entitled "The Reign of the Brain," in Carnegie hall tonight.

To this lecture the public is cordially invited. The admission is free. Let no one fail to attend.

The Doctor comes here at the invitation of the President of the Local Branch, who was urged to do so by the many who were deprived of the privilege of listening to the Doctor on his recent visit to this city, when in his usual forcible manner he presented to his audience the noble object of the organization with which he is identified and to which he is devoting his life efforts.

As an orator of national reputation, Dr. Hill needs no further introduction to our people. Remember the date and the place.

MR. DEACON COMES FROM CHICAGO MUSICAL COLLEGE.

Is New Instructor of Voice at Hope College.

Monday night in the presence of a large and appreciative audience in Winants chapel, Mr. Stanley Deacon of the Chicago Musical College, made his debut as instructor of voice and singing in the local College School of Music, in a most artistically pleasant song recital. The program included a large range of selections from both lyric and opera. Altho Mr. Deacon was handicapped by a severe cold, his renditions were so refined and artistic, that the audience seldom was aware of the vocal limitations of the singer. If any numbers proved more successful than others, we might say that he reached the very climax of possibility in Rossini's "Barber of Seville," from which he sang the great "Barbieri" solo, "Largo al Factotum," in which Mr. Deacon proved his power of character portrayal. The other specially worthy of mention is the rendering of Kiplings "Danny Deever," set to music by Damrosch, in which the weirdness of situation was perfectly reproduced by the singer's skill in tone color.

Indeed, the College and city are fortunate to secure such a strong addition to the faculty of the College School of Music.

The program follows:—

Classical—
Plaisir d'Amour.....Martin
Serenade "Don Giovanni".....Mozart
German—
Gebet.....Wolff
Sappho Ode.....Brahms
"Still wie die Nacht".....Bohm
Italian—
Visioni Veneziane.....Broggi
Largo al Factotum "Barbieri".....Rossini
English—
Banjo Song.....Homer
"Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal".....Quilter
"Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes".....Old English
Danny Deever.....Damrosch
Mr. Arthur Heusinkveld presided at the piano as accompanist. His work was very satisfactory, considering that he scarcely had opportunity to study the scores before the recital.

(Expires Oct. 16, 1915)

HOLLAND'S GREAT WORK IN HELPING THE BELGIANS

Dutch Have Shown Themselves a Nation of Good Neighbors by Caring So Efficiently for Refugees From Sister Country

By MARY CHAMBERLAIN
In Detroit Saturday Night

We Americans are justly proud of feeding Belgium. But it was with pride tempered with humility that I came away from the concentration camps which little Holland has built for her suffering neighbors from Belgium. We are a great prosperous nation contributing a tiny quota of our wealth to relief. But here is a pigmy country, herself part paralyzed by the nearness of war, suddenly burdened with the care of more than half a million refugees and 35,000 interned soldiers. Imagine, for instance, the population of our own state of Illinois—almost the same as that of Holland—suddenly increased ten per cent by people without money or homes. The cost has been so great that the Dutch government has had to issue bonds to handle it.

They were like driven beasts, the Dutch tell you, dazed and numb with grief and terror. "Most touching of all were the children," said the superintendent of an orphan asylum in Amsterdam, who has had more than 30,000 stray Belgian children under her charge. "They cowered when you looked at them, like dogs that had been lashed and kicked."

Private homes were thrown open and local committees, with headquarters at Amsterdam, were formed to raise funds and collect clothing. It soon became evident, however, that private resources could not meet such a demand, and the Dutch government itself has shouldered the greater part of the burden by creating large concentration camps under government control.

Although 400,000 refugees have joined relatives in England or gone back to Belgium, fully 160,000 are left in the camps—the poorer classes who are still a complete charge on Dutch generosity.

The refugee camp, at Ede is counted the best. Ede is lucky in its surrounding of rolling sandy country, in having new, clean barracks built purposely for the refugees, in having as director in charge, Major J. B. Plas, an ex-officer in the Dutch army.

Like our Klondike towns, Ede sprang up in a night. But it was hard to imagine this as we surveyed the fifty or more buildings, the complete electric lighting system, the central machinery plant, and the well-drained and graded grounds. There are four distinct villages, each having its own hospital, school, communal kitchen, dining hall, laundry, etc. At the central clothing station in the camps, the clothes provisioned by the Commission for Relief in Belgium are stocked and given out to needy applicants.

The detail of the camp is perfect—wire waste baskets stand along the walks, tuberculosis warning signs are posted in the schools, fire extinguishers are placed on the buildings, sanitary fountains bubble and a miniature freight railway runs from one "village" to another. Everything is scrubbed clean with Dutch thoroughness, until it is like an advertisement for Spotless Town.

Most wonderful of all, however, is the spirit of the camp. From the minute we were saluted at the gates by Belgian Boy Scouts who offered any assistance, till an hour later, when we came to the end of our walk and found a group of Belgian carpenters busy with portable houses, I was struck by the usefulness and cheerfulness of the 6,000 campers. The men were laying out garden plots or completing the drainage system of the camp; the women were feeding the clothes to well-guarded mangles in the up-to-date laundry, sewing under supervision in a Rockefeller sewing class, or peeling potatoes in a party of one hundred or more in a big kitchen shed.

There are also tailoring shops for the men, plenty of carpentry work, and Major Plas is establishing a shoe-making shop after having trained two men for overseers in Dutch factories. No work is compulsory except personal tasks such as caring for rooms, washing clothes, etc., but it is eagerly seized both for the interest it brings and for the gulden and a half a week (80 cents in American money) which the Dutch government pays for such labor.

"They don't kill themselves working," said Major Plas, pointing to a man leaning on a shovel, "but it improves the morals and health of the place."

As for the children, we saw them running errands, playing games and waiting for shower-baths in the well-equipped bathhouse.

When the inhabitants of the camp are not at work there is plenty of play. There is a theater where dramas and entertainment are given (the camp boasts a band and a chorus, a library stocked with Flemish and French books, and cafes for both men and women where soft drinks and beer are sold. Children are not permitted to enter cafe unless accompanied by an adult. For those who wish to spend their time more profitably there are night classes for adults in the schools. Finally, there is a chapel with a pretty altar and a niche for the Virgin—a sanctuary erected by the Protestant Dutch for their Catholic neighbors.

Leaving Ede, I felt not so much sympathy for the refugees as admiration for those sturdy Hollanders who have planned and created this orderly, self-sufficient town. And I wondered if these people, so safe and well cared for in temporary communities, would ever be willing to return to devastated Belgium for the long and trying process of rebuilding a wrecked country. At this point I recalled the statement of the Rev. Dr. John A. Van Schaick, Jr., pastor of the Universalist church in Washington, D. C. Dr. Van Schaick has charge of the central office at Rotterdam of the Rockefeller Foundation War Relief Commission whose function is to distribute clothing sent from all parts of the world both to the destitute Belgians in Belgium and to those in the Dutch camps.

"This problem of caring for the Belgians is more than one of relief," Dr. Van Schaick said to me earnestly. "First of all we must make them feel that the relief is temporary. We must make them understand that their home is in Belgium, that every effort will be made when the war is over to send them back to their native country and to discourage their entering Dutch industry or settling on Dutch soil. It is a problem of how to care for them adequately, but not to care too well."

FARM MORTGAGES ARE IN DEMAND

Since the War in Europe Investors Seek This Class of Securities.

Since the war in Europe there has probably never been such an appreciation for and a demand for mortgages by individual investors, both large and small. The first cause of this was the closing of the exchanges the world over at the beginning of the war, which made it necessary for anyone dealing in listed securities of any kind to do it blindly, not knowing what they were worth, except as an estimate through his idea of their intrinsic value, says the Michigan Investor.

In addition to this, it is obvious that it looked to the average investor that if this war among nations was to continue the question of getting a safe kind of an investment for his money, or as nearly as possible a safe investment, and some income, was in the earth. The purchaser of securities, as well as the original investor has plainly seen that this war, together with the development of the country is and will continue to create a great demand for the products of the soil and probably at a continued higher level of prices. Reference is made at present to the daily market quotations for wheat, oats, rye, corn and barley.

This has had a somewhat unfavorable effect on too rapid a stimulation of land values, but if any of the suggestions above are correct, these values may have come to stay. This appreciation in values has been more marked since the first of August, 1914, and perhaps has been greater within the last ten months than in a period of three to five years previous. Obviously it suggests care and caution in the investment of money because of these contributing causes to the increase, in selling price of lands and then if, on the other hand, events occur that tend to reduce these values or reduce the demand of farm products, the investor will be left with a farm of depreciated value and corresponding danger to his mortgage.

It is an old rule in farm loan business that, regret it as you may, the demand of the farmer continues to increase and he has to have a larger amount per acre.

MICHIGAN'S SLOGAN GOES TO EVERY CORNER

Dr. De Kleine Decides on "Health First" War Cry in Tuberculosis Campaign.

That the "Health First" idea is spreading and is becoming not only a state movement but a national movement as well is evidenced by the fact that on the back cover of this month's American Magazine appears a full page advertisement in which the "Health First" idea is featured. It is a Postum advertisement and it displays the "Health First" idea prominently. This magazine has a circulation of several hundred thousand copies a month and goes to all parts of the United States.

The slogan "Health First" was originated about a year ago by Dr. A. T. Godfrey in an article in the "Bulletin of Public Health," published by the State Board of health. Since that time it has been used by the Western Michigan Pike association and by other organizations. Now it seems to be spreading throughout the nation.

This slogan will probably soon become one of the best known slogans throughout Michigan. Dr. Wm. De Kleine, director of the division of tuberculosis of the state board of health, has decided on it as the official slogan of Michigan's $100,000 war on tuberculosis. It will appear on all the stationery used by that department and on all the documents that go out from that office. During the next two years hundreds of thousands of people in Michigan will see the slogan often.

Short Termers in Ann Arbor Jail Attempt Jail Delivery by Digging a Hole in Wall Which Leads To Kitchen.

Ann Arbor, Sept. 30—Tony Lorello, serving a short term sentence in the county jail attempted a wholesale jail delivery but was discovered while at work at about 3 o'clock in the morning. In the same cell room with Lorello were eight other prisoners, all short termers.

When discovered Lorello had dug a hole as big around as a man's body, 18 inches deep in the wall between the cell room and the kitchen. As the wall is but two feet thick, his job would have been completed in a short time.

Only the fact that Sheriff Lindenschmitt was passing a sleepless night and heard the noise, kept Lorello's plans from successful completion.
