THIRTY CANS OF BLACK BASS PUT IN
HOLLAND WATERS*HOLLAND GAME AND FISH PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION INSTITUTIONAL IN SECURING THEM

A large number of black bass fingerlings have been planted in Holland waters during the past few weeks by the Holland Game and Fish Protective Association. Two shipments of thirty large cans were sent out from the state hatchery at Comstock Park near Grand Rapids, and Supt. Host of this hatchery states that the thousands of little fellows raised this season are in excellent condition.

Large mouth bass were planted in Pine Creek Bay and in Big Bayou. The small mouth variety were planted in Black River, at various places below the Sixteenth street bridge. By next year the club will have its nursery pond in operation, and it is estimated that from 20,000 to 30,000 bass and bluegills can be placed in our waters annually. The State conservation department is strongly urging the establishment of these rearing ponds, and the local game and fish boys are determined to keep Holland to the fore in this conservation measure, just as Holland is usually found way out in front in all matters of progress.

These ponds in which the newly hatched fish are raised to fingerling size—from June to October each year—will be of interest to tourists as well as our own people and the grounds will be beautified by trees, shrubs and walks. It is estimated that many tourists will stop to look over these ponds and carry away with them a favorable impression of Michigan's conservation work.

BOY IS HUMAN OSTRICH

Philip Jones, of Charter Oak, Iowa, age five years, went under the surgeon's knife today for a mysterious abdominal trouble. The surgeon recovered one penny, one button, two radio burs, and 33 plum, cherry and watermelon seeds. It is expected the child will recover. This little fellow seems to have an ostrich's habit.

Forest Grove
Wants Next Sunday School Convention

For several years now Forest Grove has made a bid for the Sunday School convention and it appears that their efforts are to be crowned with success.

Tuesday they made an excellent showing at the meeting here and all seem to feel that the next meeting should go to the rural district.

It is a matter however for the executive committee to decide and this will be definitely taken care of later in the year.

ASKS PEOPLE TO JOIN IN FIRE
PREVENTION WEEK

MAYOR KAMMERDAM ISSUES PROCLAMATION TO THIS EFFECT

Mayor Kammerdam, urging the people of Holland to take part in Fire Prevention Week, has issued the following proclamation:

Fellow Citizens:—Doubtless our city enjoys freedom from destructive fires equal to that of any city in Michigan, population considered. Yet in Michigan, last year, more than $17,000,000 worth of property was destroyed by fire. In some degree our city contributed to that loss. Removal from local tax rolls of the values lost in these fires shifts the assessments of exactly that much city taxes to other local properties which remain. Thus the evil strikes everywhere. Someone has to pay someone else's taxes. Statisticians say that 75% of all fires are preventable.

The governor of the state has proclaimed the week of October 8th to October 15th "Michigan Fire Prevention week." The people are urged to carefully dispose of waste accumulations and inspect and equip homes and business places against fire.

In agreement with this, as mayor, I suggest to residents of this city to observe Fire Prevention Week, thereby contributing mutually to the security of themselves and their properties.

NICK KAMMERDAM, Mayor, State of Michigan, October 7, 1927.

You'll never have to worry over the expense if you save a little each week through the year—it's a sensible idea.

SPRING LAKE IS REMEMBERED
BY WEALTHY MAN*DEEDS PARK OF 36 ACRES TO THE VILLAGE FOR RECREATIONAL PURPOSES

Wm. Thum of Pasadena, California Owns 1100 Feet of Lake Frontage

William Thum of Pasadena, Cal., who donated to Spring Lake the present tourist camp on the river, now generously has deeded the village his three-fourths interest in the 36 1/2 acre park with approximately 1,100 feet of lake frontage, known as Exmoor, located just across the lake from the village of Spring Lake, and extending from the lake to the main paved highway in the rear, including all the buildings, some of which are well furnished, yachts and all other personal property on the premises. He acted in compliance with the known wishes of his deceased brother, Hugo Thum, the former owner.

Spring Lake citizens are fortunate in acquiring the beauty spot without other consideration than that it be used for recreational or educational purposes. It is now up to the village authorities to effect a speedy division with the owner of the other one-quarter interest and have good care taken of the valuable property.

The larger portion of the land is primeval forest still in existence in this locality, and with its large shade trees and extensive beach for bathing and boating, will make a most ideal tourist camp.

Whether used for that purpose, a Boy Scout camp, a girl's camp, or for any other similar purpose, it will doubtless attract many people and become of material benefit to the community.

Some of the large buildings on the premises are already furnished with the caretakers home is partly furnished for a family. The larger steam yacht is well adapted for a ferry between the park and village, or excursions along the lake, and all in all the property can, with proper management, doubtless be made a source of revenue rather than expense to Spring Lake. Also it will become more and more valuable with time and a boon to succeeding generations.

A good family can doubtless secure a pleasant home there, free of rent, until a definite arrangement is made for its care next season, by applying promptly to David M. Cline, president of the village of Spring Lake.

Find Spring Lake
Woman Dead in Bed

The many friends of Mrs. Frances Ainsworth were shocked to hear of her sudden death at her home on Park street, Spring Lake, some time during the past two days. She was found on Tuesday night in her bed by John Dok and T. M. Anderson, two neighbors living near, who had missed her during the day and become apprehensive of her welfare.

Apparently she had been dead for several hours. Heart trouble was evidently the cause of death as she had not been feeling well and had complained to friends a few days ago. She was born in Rome, Wis., May 8, 1842, and married the late De Witt Ainsworth on Oct. 31, 1869. They lived in Grand Haven for a number of years in the old lumbering days, later moving to Spring Lake where Mr. Ainsworth was employed by the Cutler and Savidge Lumber Co.

ARE WEDDED LAST NIGHT

MISS LAONE RUTH HAYWARD BECOMES BRIDE OF CLYDE A. SANDY

Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sandy on 32nd street, the wedding took place of Miss Laone Ruth Hayward to Clyde A. Sandy. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only the immediate families and the ring service was used. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. J. Van Dyk, pastor of the Central Park Reformed church. The couple was attended by the bride's oldest sister, Mrs. Esther, and Dean Franz, of Grand Rapids. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding supper was served.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayward of Holland and until recently has been employed in Grand Rapids. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sandy. He is assistant engineer at the Bush & Lane Piano Co.

The newly married couple will make their home for the present at the bride's home, north-east of this city. Later they will take a honeymoon trip through Illinois and Pennsylvania and will be at home to their friends after Nov. 15.

New Pastor
Given Reception By Congregation

A reception was held in the Overseas Reformed church for their new pastor, Rev. Wm. Pyle and family. About 500 were present, Henry Koolker presided. Rev. J. A. Roggen led the devotions. Words of welcome were spoken by Mr. Martin Nienhuis, spoke for the consistory and congregation at large. Mrs. James Kleinknecht for the Ladies missionary society; Mrs. K. Koopman, for the Young Ladies missionary society; Jos. Schipper for the Sunday school and Justin Brink for the C. E. The choir rendered two beautiful selections. Rev. Pyle responded in a fitting manner. Then followed a social hour. The church has been vacant for about two years but is very happy in having secured their own pastor. It has done great things in the past, but in striving to do even more for the future. The pastor preached his inaugural sermon last Sunday and has already won the hearts of his people.

An Interesting Letter
From Russell Damstra
In Honolulu, T. H.

Below will be found an intensely interesting letter from Russell Damstra, graduate of Holland high school, written from Honolulu.

Washington Jr. High, HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 21, 1927.

Dear Friends:—Aloha to Holland from Honolulu, and once again, aloha! This pretty sounding word is the expression that is heard more often than any other in Hawaii; and why shouldn't it be since it means a greeting of good cheer? As a newcomer approaches the harbor of Honolulu where boats of all nations are coming and going, he hears large crowds of enthusiastic persons shouting out their "aloha's." Everybody seems to be wearing wreaths of beautiful flowers around his neck; and some wear so many of these fragrant leis that their eyes peak out from these fragrant floral decorations of love.

The first thing that every "malihini", or newcomer, must do on coming to Honolulu is to throw away certain false impressions that he is likely to have about Hawaii. Many people are actually surprised to find that the dark skinned lads who dive for coins in the harbor, wear bathing suits. They expected to find ignorant heathen running around dressed only in sunshine, or perhaps in one of these imaginary grass skirts. Hawaii is quite civilized. To prove it I will relate a personal incident.

While walking down a principle street in Honolulu one day, I approached a group of Japanese girls who were gaily singing. I was curious to hear a foreign song sung in a foreign way so I stopped to listen. To my surprise I heard this strain: "Show me the way to go home" etc. That proves that the much vaunted western civilization has come here "in toto."

Another common misconception about these islands is that most of the people living here are Hawaiians. As a matter of fact, the percentage of Hawaiians is very small. The Japanese comprise nearly half of the entire population; but there are in addition large numbers of Chinese, Portuguese, Filipinos and Anglo-Saxons. There is such a large mixture of races as here on "the crossroads of the Pacific." And, best

COUNCIL AGAIN
ANSWER NO TO
RECLASSIFICATION*PETITION OF OWNERS OF PROPERTY RUNS OFFICIAL GAUNTLET

Second Time In Two Weeks That Similar Action Is Taken

For a second time in two weeks the common council Wednesday night said by a vote of seven to five that the district between 9th and 10th street on Maple avenue is not to be reclassified. Two weeks ago the vote came on a petition entered by persons who wished to erect a laundry there; Wednesday night it came on a petition submitted by Sam and Bert Habing, owners of the ground. The question came officially before the council in the form of a recommendation from the appeal board that the reclassification be made and the vote was on the question of approval. The vote stood five for approval and seven against, as follows: Yes—Westing, Kleis, Brieve, Laeppe, Postma; No—Drinkwater, Hyma, McLean, Thompson, Van Zanten, Vandewater, and Visser.

The atmosphere in the council chamber was rather tense during the hearing. Every seat in the audience part of the chamber was occupied, many citizens having come to protest against changing the classification. There were also some speakers in favor of the change.

At one point in the debate there was a passage at arms that threatened to become a verbal squabble. One speaker charged that another was against the reclassification because of owners of the proposed laundry had turned down his property as a site for their institution. Denial was made and another speaker jumped in and offered to prove it. Mayor Kammerdam at this point suggested that the council room was no place for such personal squabbles and advised the speakers to stick to the main point.

A number of property owners in that section of the city protested against the change, pointing out that an institution of that kind would do no credit to their home property. One speaker called the council's attention to the fact that in the case of the fertilizer plant and again in the case of the T. N. Robinson property the council had refused to change a zoning classification because it was not in the public interest and refused this request also. To which Mayor Kammerdam replied that each petition is a case by itself and a refusal to change a classification must never be considered a precedent. Each case is judged on its own merits and has no connection with other cases; otherwise there would be no need for an appeal board, he pointed out. Then the zoning ordinance would be rigid and unalterable. Such a board was created purposely to consider each case by itself, said the mayor.

After everybody in the council room had been given a full opportunity to express himself on the subject and a vote was taken with a five to seven result.

Members of the Frosh are just being dragged to the center of the stream and are about to throw up the sponge.

At three o'clock this morning one tall and one stocky holdup man entered the rear door of the Wooden Shoe cafe on River Ave., and 10th street and told Walter Dykstra and Carl Hansen to stick them up.

Hansen was just coming out of the store room, paid no attention to the command, ducked through another door, but wasted some time in first calling up the proprietor Ben Vandenberg telling him of the holdup and then running to police headquarters for aid.

In the meantime, the robbers who were armed with rifles had taken the night's receipts amounting to $100 from the till, leaving a few nickels for change.

No one had seen any unusual characters or strangers in the vicinity, the robbers walked in, walked away again, but apparently had a car somewhere around the corner.

CONSERVATION DEPARTMENT HAS
A NEW HEAD*WM. LOUIT OF GRAND HAVEN
TAKES PLACE OF LEIGH
YOUNG

Of all the surprise to take place at Lansing was the letting out of Leigh J. Young head of the conservation department and the installing of Wm. H. Loutit of Grand Haven to that position.

It was noted that Young's resignation had been in the hands of Governor Fred Green for more than two weeks. The public, however, was not aware that Mr. Young had any intention of resigning.

Mr. Young states plainly that he did not resign willingly, but that his resignation was demanded by Governor Green giving as his reason that it appeared Young could not control the conservation commission.

The governor and members of the commission took the position that the director was not properly guiding the actions of the conservation. The commission appointed last January has altered many orders issued by former commissions, has changed its mind on some occasions after orders were issued and has otherwise interfered in its policies, according to those demanding the reorganization.

The director is supposed to recommend all orders.

It was known Director Young was not in accord with some of the actions of the commission. He frequently was opposed to proposals advocated by the late James Oliver Curwood. More recently he disapproved of the rescinding of orders prohibiting spears on inland lakes and streams. The fight to abolish the anti-spear regulations was led by Commissioner Harry H. Whitley, who succeeded Mr. Curwood. Young threatened not to sign the rescinding orders, but Whitley produced rulings compelling him to.

Commissioner Loutit is considered by his colleagues as an able conservationist, a two-faced executive and a fearless fighter. The members of the committee believe he will run the department and the meetings of the commission without fear or favor, and will insist on the adoption of steadfast policies.

Mr. Peterson had a communication from the state department of health calling attention to the new tuberculosis law passed by the 1927 legislature in which this provision is incorporated.

NO NEW NUMBERS FOR THIS CITY

A petition asking that the system of numbering houses in Holland be changed was denied by the common council Wednesday night on recommendation of the committee on streets and crosswalks. The committee pointed out that a new directory has just been published and that if the numbering system was changed this directory would become obsolete. The recommendation was that the houses be dropped for the present, at least, and this ruling was passed unanimously by the council.

The case against George Rud-speth, of Allegan, charged with issuing worthless checks, was dismissed by Judge Gross, while his wife entered a plea of guilty on the same charge and will be sentenced later. The case was passed on Plainville merchants.

CITY SUPERVISOR
RESIGNS PLACE ON THAT BOARD*EDWARD VANDENBERG TELLS COUNCIL HE WOULD SERVE IN ANOTHER WAY

Resignation Is Accepted; J. J. De Koeyer His Successor

Holland today has a new supervisor in the person of John J. De Koeyer, who was appointed Wednesday evening by the common council to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Edward Vandenberg. After Vandenberg's resignation had been accepted the aldermen took a ten minute recess to order again fixing. When called to order again they did not need a vote by ballot. The clerk was instructed to cast the unanimous vote of the council for Mr. De Koeyer, who will serve until the next election.

Mr. Vandenberg's resignation came as a surprise to nearly all of the aldermen. It was contained in a communication to the council in which Mr. Vandenberg stated that he has greatly enjoyed his period of service on the board of supervisors, that he considers the position an important one and that he felt grateful to have been allowed to serve on that body ever since 1914. He said his resignation was not caused by any dissatisfaction but that he believed he could serve the city and county to better advantage in another capacity. What this was he did not state in his communication.

It is said by some who claim to know that Vandenberg has his eye on the office of county superintendent of the poor, an office that cannot be held by a member of the board, and that he resigned his elective office to be eligible, when the time comes, for the appointive one. The supervisor himself has made no statement but it was the explanation given informally to the aldermen during their ten minute recess, when they asked for the reason for the resignation.

Mr. Vandenberg is one of the veteran members of the board of supervisors, having served on that body since 1914. He represented the city of Holland and has taken a prominent part in the work of the board. His successor, Mr. De Koeyer, once before was a member of the board of supervisors and the work will not be new to him.

FORMER ZEELAND MAN KILLS SELF WITH SHOT GUN

Louis De Jonge, until a few months ago a resident of Zeeland where he occupied a house on McKinley street, and his life at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning at his farm home in Blenden by blowing the top of his head off with a shotgun. The man's brains were scattered all over the porch and the front of the house when he was found by neighbors.

De Jonge was 40 years old and a bachelor. He arose at the usual time Wednesday morning and gathered his papers and money and other valuables together. All of them, including his Sunday clothes, he laid out neatly on the dining room table where they would instantly catch the eye of neighbors when they should find him. This done he seated himself on a chair on the front porch, placed the butt of his shotgun against the window sill and the muzzle against his head. When he pulled the trigger the shot took off the greater part of his head.

A little ten year old son of Lawrence Mulder, a neighbor, who had been to the store, passing the dead man's house, reported at home that a man was sitting on the porch without any head. When the boy's father went to investigate the tragedy of the morning revealed itself.

De Jonge lived in Zeeland until a few months ago when he moved to his farm in Blenden township, where he conducted a poultry farm, keeping a large flock of hens. He had been in despondent condition for some weeks, neighbors reported to Coroner C. J. VanderWater who was called to the scene of the suicide. He was guardian over six small children of his sister who died a year and a half ago and whose father, Philo Way, was taken to an asylum three weeks ago. This responsibility seems to have weighed on the man's mind. An auction on the Philo Way farm was to have been held Saturday, after which the six children were to have been taken to the home of De Jonge. De Jonge had built a new home on the Blenden farm and it is thought that he was worried over not being able to get this money out of the property again.

The body was taken to the Wolbrink funeral home at Allendale. Interment took place Friday afternoon at Rusk.

Mrs. Champion Presented With Basket of Flowers

George Schulling, president of the Ottawa county Sunday School association, at the close of the meeting of the convention at Carnegie hall, took a few minutes to thank all those who had aided in making the convention a great success.

He thanked the Holland newspapers for their liberal publicity, besides aiding in other ways, the Shady Lawn Florists for the decorations, and Mrs. Roy B. Champion, who for several years has taken care of costumes, storing these costumes in her home from year to year, and has given other valuable assistance. She was called to the platform and was presented with a huge basket of flowers.

He especially wished to thank the citizens of Holland for their generous entertainment and said that he had been repeatedly asked by scores of delegates to make this known, for Holland hospitality could not be surpassed.

Allegan Rotary Club Want Paved Road to Holland

State Senator George Leland and Postmaster Charles E. Bassett, of Pennville were speakers at the meeting of the Allegan Rotary club Tuesday. Senator Leland talked on road conditions in Allegan county, stating he has assurances from Gov. Green and the state highway department that within two years Allegan will have a paved highway from Plainwell through Otsego, Allegan and Hamilton to Holland. He also expressed the belief work on this road would be started in 1928. Mr. Bassett talked on co-operation in civic affairs and compared Allegan 40 years ago and now.

World's Series Attendance

With enthusiasm aroused by the home run duel between Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, by the argument as to whether the Yankees are the greatest team of all times and by the sensational finish in the National League, a new record for attendance is expected at the 1927 World series.

When the 1923 series drew a record attendance of 301,420 for six games, it was thought that the mark would never be exceeded, even in a seven game series, but the battle last year between the St. Louis Cardinals and the New York Yanks made a new record of 328,051.

The figures for the games since 1903 are as follows:

Year	Games	Attend.
1903	8	100,429

Large Blaze Near Allegan; Three Barns Destroyed

Three large barns on the Thomas Crocker farm five miles northwest of Allegan burned late Tuesday afternoon. The buildings contained hay, wheat, oats, farm tools, etc. Origin of the blaze has not been learned. H. A. Wait and family, living on the farm, were Allegan at the time. Crocker estimated his loss at $10,000, insured for $5,000.

W. L. C. BEGINS THE YEAR'S WORK WITH LUNCHEON

Mrs. J. P. Oggel and her committee delightfully welcomed the Woman's Literary club members at the Warm Friend Tavern Tuesday at one o'clock. Everyone enjoyed the luncheon which followed. In fact, one lady asserted that it was the best meal she had ever eaten at a hotel of which all are proud. The dining-room was beautifully decorated with garden bouquets and lighted yellow candles.

Mrs. Sears R. McLean charmingly greeted the club as its new president and next introduced Mr. T. Paul Hickey of the Detroit Institute of Technology who spoke on "The Garden of the Forgotten."

The speaker endeavored to point out the worth-whileness of getting into this garden, citing Joan of Arc, John Huss, Napoleon, George Washington, Lincoln, Lieut. Scott, the explorer, and others who have earned a place there.

Mr. Hickey said that wealth never takes anyone into the garden. It is antipathy—we will never realize when we get there, yet we all feel it worth while to be remembered by those who follow us. He said we are remembered not for our abilities but for our characteristics. We want to be remembered as well-read, as calm under stress, as able to keep step without band music, and as loyal to our families and friends. But we want some characteristics forgotten, such as selfishness, temper, impatience, emphasis or wrong things, and remorse. Our lives are unavoidably influencing someone more powerfully than we realize, and it's not what folks think of us now, but twenty-five years from now, that will tell our story.

Mr. Hickey closed with the thought that oblivion is inaccessible. He quoted, "Death is a line; the line is the horizon; and the horizon is where ships disappear, but do not sink."

BENTON HARBOR COMES NEXT ON H. H. SCHEDULE

Another great battle is going to be staged at Riverview Park Saturday afternoon, when Benton Harbor and Holland are going to clash on the gridiron. Word from the down state city indicates that Holland is going to find the toughest opposition of the year and that means a tussle. Benton Harbor is making a great bid for a winning aggregation, and has Wally Webster, former University of Michigan Fullback, at the helm. Their only loss was to Grand Rapids Catholic Central and that was because the home club was penalized half the distance to the goal for an illegal substitution. The type of game played by Benton Harbor crowd is just as could be expected from their coach and the boys rip the line and hit hard. Whether the Dutchmen can stuff off these thrusts is a question, but with all credit to the opposition, it takes a good halfback to plough through Holland's forward wall very often. Veterans made up the Benton Harbor line and like Kalamazoo, the boys are heavy. Every one of the Hollanders is in good shape and they are working hard for the Harborites. Last year Holland was measured up considerably at Benton Harbor and it is a question whether it was just hard playing that accounted for all the injuries that Holland players came home with. Just a little bit of revenge is lurking around the Holland high men and the visitors will find a good hard hitting crowd of Dutchmen who are not going to be defeated by penalties.

Holland will be out-weighted again but that counted little against Kalamazoo Central. It will be another great afternoon for Holland fans as some fine playing is expected.

Students at Ann Arbor Retain Early Schedule

Due to the work of faculty and student advisors during freshman week at the University of Michigan, few changes have been made in the schedules of study this year than in any year in the past, according to Registrar Ira M. Smith. This result proves that advisors consulted with the freshmen in their groups, and the latter were fully decided regarding the subject they wished to elect. The system also eliminated confusion in classifying new students.

Hope Juniors Select Staff for Milestone

George W. Killey of Jersey City, N. J., has been elected business manager of the Milestone for 1928, an annual issued by the junior class of Hope college.

Miss Marjorie DuMux, of Holland, was elected associate editor. Irving Tucker, of East Saugatuck, humor editor, and Ida B. Townsend, of Berlin, N. J., typist.

SCHULLING AGAIN HEADS OTTAWA S. S. ASSOCIATION

The 40th annual Ottawa County Sunday school convention held in Holland Tuesday was an unusual success. In fact delegates claim it the largest and best up to this time.

Dr. M. S. Rice, in his address, incidentally said that he thought it was a state convention rather than a county convention, for in all his speaking tour of the county at similar conventions he had never attended a county meet that brought out so many and where such intense interest was shown.

Altogether 525 registrations were recorded. This banner meeting was in Carnegie hall where Dr. M. S. Rice and Dr. J. E. Kuizinga spoke, followed by the religious pageant. Every seat in Carnegie hall was filled, in all, more than 1500, and at least 500 persons were turned away because of lack of standing room.

George Schulling, the president of the association, presided at Carnegie hall and fittingly introduced the speakers. During the evening he thanked all those who made this meeting an unqualified success.

Dr. M. S. Rice, D. D., pastor of the Metropolitan M. E. church of Detroit, had his audience with him every minute under the subject, "The Unmatched," he expressed the idea that in this world we are beset with sorrows, aches and pains, trials and tribulations, all things of this world, and in a ringing voice he said, "But we see Jesus, and our little earthly trials are as nothing, in fact they are swept away."

Dr. Kuizinga gave an interesting address on "Consecration." He brought out the thought that if one forgets himself and consecrates himself to his religion, he will render a real service to his Master.

A chorus of 75 voices under the leadership of John Vandersluijs sang splendidly and were repeatedly encored.

The religious pageant, "America's Striking Hour," with its colorful costumes representing all nations, was indeed a success. It points out America's responsibility to the peoples of the earth in a religious way.

The pageant was given under the able leadership of Henrietta Warnshuis.

The presenting of loving cups was also a feature during the closing session of the Sunday school convention. The small Vase of Honor, Reform church, Sunday school was first presented with a loving cup which is now their permanent possession. For three years they have come to these conventions 100 per cent strong and consequently the cup is theirs to keep.

The Allendale Reformed Church Sunday school won a cup for the second time. If they attend 100 per cent strong next year the cup is theirs permanently.

Honorable mention was made of the Presbyterian church of Spring Lake. They also claimed to be 100 per cent strong but there was some mixup on the registration.

George Schulling of Holland was re-elected president and Anthony Nienshuis was again named secretary and treasurer.

The officers as named follow: Pres. George Schulling, Holland; First Vice Pres. J. C. Lehman, Grand Haven; Second Vice Pres. E. J. Walbrink, Coopersville; Sec. Treas. A. A. Nienshuis, Holland; Cradle Roll and Home Department, Miss Sarah De Maagd, Coopersville; Children Division, Mrs. E. Walvoord, Holland; Young People, (Girls), Mrs. J. Slingerland, Spring Lake; Young People, (Boys), D. H. Van der Bunt, James-town; Adult, Rev. H. Dykhouse, Eastmanville; Educational, Prof. E. Lubbers, Holland; Administration, David Damstra, Holland; Missionary, Mrs. H. Warnshuis, Holland; Music, John Vandersluijs, Holland.

GR. HAVEN MAN PLANS BIG LAKE FISH BREEDING

William H. Loutit of Grand Haven, member of the state conservation commission and chairman of the commission's committee on commercial fishing, was in Travers City Tuesday with Commissioner John Harold Titus and state wardens on plans for hatching the eggs of whitefish and Mackinaw trout this fall.

Next spring the Department of Conservation hopes to make the big, great planting of commercial fish ever attempted in the state and the success of this effort depends largely on activity of the next month.

Wardens, together with the commercial fishermen, will distribute the spawn of the whitefish and lake trout among state and federal hatcheries as rapidly as gathered and the hatcheries equipped to handle commercial fish fry will be taxed to capacity. It is believed that the capacity of these hatcheries has never been completely utilized before.

Federal hatcheries at Charlevoix and Northville are equipped for commercial fry as well as a large number of the state hatcheries.

Muskegon Man Hit, Dragged Block By Auto

William Hause, 54, was taken to Hackley hospital, at Muskegon, early Tuesday night following an accident on Hoyt street, Muskegon Heights, when he was run into and carried for more than a block by a car driven by John W. Boonstra, 396 Terrace street. Boonstra told Heights police that he was not aware that he had hit the man.

Two men, Theodore Laakowski, 902 Reynolds street, and Lem Sughan, 828 Hoyt street, witnessed the accident. Their testimony was weighed Wednesday morning before police action is taken. Hause sustained a fracture of the leg and severe bruises.

Scout Troop Plans Winter's Programs

Troop No. 7 of the Third Ref. church of Holland has organized for the winter months and a very fine program is to be carried out.

Three patrols have started and have elected their patrol leaders and assistant patrol leaders. Two new boys applied for membership in the troop.

The leaders for the year will be Mr. Al Van Lente, scout master, and Raymond Knotholzen, asst. scout master. Their testimony will be held every Monday from 7 to 9, followed by a patrol leader meeting.

Exploding Oil Stove Causes Black Lake Blaze

Damage of possibly a couple hundred dollars was caused by a fire in the cottage of Mrs. Chas. H. Springer, 157 Fountain street, SE, Grand Rapids, at Ottawa Beach Tuesday evening when a kerosene stove exploded in the kitchen.

Mrs. Springer, her brother, Milton Wagner, of Long Beach, Cal., and two friends were at the cottage late in the day. Toward evening Mrs. Springer, after turning the flames low, left the cottage. It was while they were absent the blaze started. The fire was soon extinguished, however, and did not spread to any other part of the structure.

A watchman was detailed in the cottage for the night.

H. H. Coach Thanks the Lions Club for Support

Milton Hinga, Holland high athletic coach, sent the following letter to the Lions club of this city, thanking it for the fine support which it gave the football team Saturday.

"Lions Club Members—I want to personally thank the members of the Lions club of Holland for the splendid support afforded the team in last week's contest against Kalamazoo Central high. Holland fans have always been loyal to the teams representing the high school but it means a great deal when an extra effort, such as your club put forth, is made to show its support. Holland eleven are like any other in the respect that they cannot always win, but you can always rely upon them to give the best that they have to offer. Saturday's game was a hard one to lose. Kalamazoo was a played most of the way and yet the local boys lost. No one except the players and the coach know the great effort that was made to win because loyal followers were pulling for them to be victorious. Night after night on the practice field we work hard that our city may have a reputation in athletic circles and in the games it is the enthusiasm given by fans such as you that makes us drive harder than ever. Your parade was wonderful and it not only gave us added pep but also proved my home town, Kalamazoo, that Holland fans are a team and anxious to support it. You gave your best for us and we gave our best for you and are going to continue even as we know that you are and always will give for the glory of Holland teams.

LIONS HEAR A HUMOROUS TALK

At this week's meeting of the local Lions club the members and visiting guests enjoyed a humorous talk by Mr. Alfred C. Jollesma of the Holland City State bank. As usual "Al" gave the crowd many laughs. He is prominent in many local activities and was called upon to fill his allotted time. Many will remember his Legion minstrel work in recent years.

During the course of the minutes devoted to business discussion, the playground equipment and Kollen Park brought forth a heated discussion. The situation at Kollen Park relative to the proximity of the garbage dump brought plenty of criticism. The subject had been previously taken up but it seems that some people continue to dump rubbish there. The city park board and police department insist that this must stop.

HOLLAND TO BE REPRESENTED AT LANSING MEET

City Attorney Charles H. McBride left for Lansing Wednesday to represent the city of Holland at the annual convention of the Michigan League of Municipalities. Holland is an active member of this league and a few years ago Holland's mayor, Mr. Stephen, was its president. At that time the convention was held in Holland.

Mayor Kammeraad and City Clerk Oscar Peterson would also have left for Lansing today if it had not been for the fact that there is an important council meeting tonight that demands their presence. They will go early tomorrow morning to be present at the second day's sessions. The convention is being held for two days at the Olds hotel. Questions of importance to all Michigan municipalities will be discussed.

Temperance Union To Meet Friday

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet Friday afternoon. The devotions will be in charge of Mrs. F. T. Miles. Mrs. E. J. Ledwith will give a review of recent legislation. There will be a symposium by four members on "My Duty As A Citizen." Music will be in charge of Mrs. Nell Vander Meulen and refreshments in charge of Mrs. N. Hofsteen and committee.

Morton Vander Berg, 19, died Wednesday morning at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mabel Vander Berg, 254 West 16th street. He is survived by his mother and two sisters, Mabel and Margaret. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the home, Rev. Jas. M. Martin officiating. Interment was in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Zuidewind, a son, Donald Jay.

Benton Harbor has two wins and one loss like Holland's record.

Holland had a fine passing game last Saturday. Time after time the boys snared passes and got away for long gains. True to expectation, Leetama took a big hand in this form of offense. His height will make him feared and he will develop more and more. He also is playing a fine game at the defensive position.

The less said about the officiating in the Holland-Kalamazoo game the better. The game is down in the record against Holland, but really there was little for Kalamazoo to crow about. Out-gained, out-passed and beaten, except for a technicality, Kalamazoo went home with victory. It is really too bad that Guy Houston was out looking for so many technicalities Saturday afternoon. Central has a good team and Holland will be glad

HOLLAND MAN IS ELECTED OFFICER AT FLINT MEETING

Charles Justin of Grand Rapids, representing the West Michigan Game and Fish Protective association, was elected president of the Michigan Conservation congress Tuesday at the annual session held at the Hotel Durant at Flint, Jacob N. Lievens, of Holland, secretary of the Holland Game Protective association, was elected vice president. While Justin succeeds O. A. Mitchell of Flint as president, he is one of the founders of the congress and its first president.

Sharp criticism of the latest orders of the state conservation commission, expected by many, failed to materialize at the session and instead of panning the commission, the delegates took a sympathetic attitude and turned their criticism into praise.

Justin voiced the sentiment of the delegates when he said, "the commission has been at it only a few months, and has done as much as any other commission could have done in that time."

Director of Conservation Leigh J. Young hinted to the delegates that he would soon introduce a scheme for competitive examinations for game wardens, terming the present system of selection as haphazard and unreliable.

"The written part of such an examination would be only a minor part," said Young. "Competitive examination would bring all the candidates out in the open where they could be sized up for ability, knowledge, and experience, and would enable the department to pick out men of higher calibre."

He also suggested the necessity of better pay for better wardens.

The congress went solidly on record in favor of a $10,000,000 bond issue for state forest purposes, payable partly from license fees. The resolution was born of the fact that game covers are rapidly being depleted, and unless prompt action is taken to secure public forests for the people of the state, they will soon have no place to go for their hunting and fishing. Several delegates pointed out that such a bond issue would be really a money-making proposition through its dividends, rather than requiring additional investment.

The congress elected the following directors: Floyd Marble of Gladstone; M. F. Blair, Owosso; F. W. Phillips, Dowagiac; Harry Ryan, Harbor Beach, and J. M. Lievens, Holland. Dues were reduced from 15 to 10 cents per capita, with $100 being the maximum dues for individual member clubs, and $200 for affiliated organizations.

Judge O. S. Cross of the Ottawa-Allegan circuit court, was called to Detroit, where he has been asked to hold court for the balance of the week in place of another judge.

to see the celery city lads sweep Grand Rapids union off the slate Friday afternoon.

At the start of the season Coach Chapman looked over his material and sighed. It was a sorry looking lot of candidates that reported to him, but he went to work and now the boys look formidable. At Muskegon, where the seconds are the best in the state, Holland was defeated by a small score, after a hard game. Then Kalamazoo seconds went under 13-0, and they were looking for easy victory. Zietlow and Van Zanden played a big part in the last victory and Lawler and Flanagan also helped. The reserves are working hard for their game Saturday and no doubt Chapman will come off with another win.

Grand Rapids considers the Grand Haven game with South the most tempting grid offering of the week end.

A Chicago lad playing football in a vacant lot was killed Monday.

Detroit led the American League in stolen bases with 138, one more than Washington. Taverne and Neun were the red hot lads. With 170 double plays the Tigers nosed out the Cards by one to top the major league. Heilmann led batters with Pothergill also in the top five.

Princeton and Harvard alumni will have a football game aimed to end the collegiate break.

Collett led the Canadian women's golf tournament, qualifying with 77. Van Wie was third with 82. Haney was fifth with 84.

Curtice Friday night meets Peterson at Grand Rapids. He was knocked out in the fourth round in his fight with Peterson.

BANDIT SUSPECTS BEING BROUGHT TO MICHIGAN

Two youths, believed to have committed all the drug store robberies in Holland, Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo, were brought to Grand Rapids. The Holland police will not doubt take a hand in the investigation and Russell Haight, the East End Drug Store proprietor, will be called as a witness to identify the suspects now in Kent county jail.

When the two youth faced Sheriff Patterson Tuesday forenoon at the Kent county jail, they confessed that they had committed the robberies in and around Grand Rapids. As a result of their confession they are facing a sentence for the crime of robbery while armed. Life sentences are frequently handed out for this crime and that is what the two youths will probably get.

At 3 o'clock p. m. Tuesday, Chief of Police Van Ry received a telephone message from the Kent county authorities stating that the boys had confessed, among other things, to have broken into the Hulsenga Jewelry store in Holland, breaking a window. The watches they secured there they disposed of later in Detroit, they confessed.

The young men were arrested in Penn. O. on a minor charge, and their automobile as security that they would return the next day to appear in court and pay a fine.

In the mean time word had come from Michigan asking that the youths be held, as their description tallied with the drug store bandits who terrorized this vicinity.

When they returned to claim their car and baggage Monday, they were promptly arrested by deputies Hiram Bouma and Martin King of Grand Rapids.

The youths who at first gave their names as V. C. Stearns and Robert Stearns and claimed to be brothers, were returned to Grand Rapids early Tuesday morning by deputies. Later they gave their names as Clarence Stearns and Russell Irwin.

They refused to talk concerning their alleged parts in the robberies here, in Grand Rapids and in Kalamazoo, Stearns warning his companion at the beginning of the journey to keep still.

The youths offered no resistance, either at the time of arrest or during the journey to Grand Rapids. They are both residents of Galewood, one of them residing there with an uncle.

Deputy Bouma expressed the belief that they returned to Bryan to regain possession of the sedan which was left there Friday.

Both deputies expressed complete confidence Tuesday that the youths are responsible for all of the holdups in Grand Rapids and the one in Kalamazoo.

A sedan, a Chrysler, which the youths were driving when taken into custody Friday at Bryan, after they are said to have attempted to hold up a woman motorist and take her car, was identified as belonging to Mrs. Louis Taylor, 1855 Lake dr., Grand Rapids, and was stolen from its parking place near Fulton st., and Barclay ave. NE, last Wednesday following three holdups the night before.

In the machine and baggage of the two youths, who answered in almost every detail the descriptions given by the robbed druggists, were two rifles, two shotguns and revolvers. These are believed to have been taken in some of the robberies.

When arrested Monday nights, one of the youths was believed of a reformed which had acquired since being released Friday by the Bryan authorities.

The youths were fined in Bryan Friday after having been taken into custody on complaint of the woman motorist. Lacking sufficient evidence to hold a charge of attempted robbery the Ohio officials charged them with assault and battery, reckless driving and illegal possession of firearms.

They were unable to pay fines imposed upon them, but left their car and baggage as security while they went to Toledo in an attempt to raise the money. Before leaving for Toledo they wired a woman residing in Galewood for funds which they said they had left in her care. She replied that the money had been stolen since they left, and they started for Toledo, 55 miles away.

A restaurant near Bryan was held up Friday and robbed of $100 in cash, and Bryan authorities believe that the pair took this method of obtaining funds, and may have perpetrated other robberies in Toledo over the week-end.

Sheriff Byron J. Patterson, of Kent county, learning of their attempt to obtain money at Grand Rapids and possessing a description of the youths, dispatched the deputies to their await the return of the bandits.

One of the youths who engaged in the holdups at Grand Rapids and Holland was noted by the druggists to have a pronounced stutter. Last week two youths entered a G. R. drug store and purchased two gold wrist watches for green gold wrist watches. They discarded at the shop two green gold straps, which were turned over to Police Supt. A. A. Carroll of Grand Rapids, Monday by the jeweler.

Both of the youths arrested wore gold wrist watches with white gold straps that tallied with the description given Supt. Carroll. The watches are believed to be a part of the loot stolen either at Grand Rapids or Holland, where a series of drug store holdups preceded those in Grand Rapids.

The jeweler also remarked that one of the youths who entered his store stuttered as he talked. He described the first youth as being about 20 years old, five feet and six inches tall, of slender build, light complexion, stuttering speech and wearing a light gray suit and hat. His companion was described as being about the same age, 5 feet and 10 inches tall, of slender build, dark complexion, dark wavy hair, and wearing a dark suit and cap.

The descriptions tallied exactly with those given by the druggists and with those of the pair arrested at Bryan.

One of the youths, who Sheriff Patterson is certain committed the robberies, is said to have been living with an uncle and aunt in Galewood, his parents residing in Pennsylvania.

The uncle is said to have reported to the sheriff that his nephew had not worked the week of the robberies and that he disappeared suddenly shortly after the last three were held.

Description of the youth, given by his uncle also checks with that of one of the bandits and with that of the one arrested in Bryan.

Within 10 minutes after the pair had appeared at the Bryan jail to face their charges, deputies Bouma and King had placed them under arrest and had started back for

Local Stores Sell Carload in Florida

Shipping stoves to Florida may sound like taking coals to Newcastle, but the Nies Hardware company is associated with the Brouwer Furniture company making up a carload shipment, part of which will be stoves. They are however gasoline stoves and so it is not so much of a mystery after all.

It is unusual, however, for local firms to make a carload shipment of goods to a point as far away as Florida. These two stores have made a carload sale of furniture and stoves for use in Florida and the shipment was being made today.

PROPERTY IN FLORIDA AGAIN ON THE MOVE

When a Tampa, Florida, property holder investigated a report that thieves were stealing rich men's property from one of his home sites he discovered the loss of a big two-story frame structure on the land.

The house was found by deputy sheriffs about 10 blocks from its original foundation. It was newly painted and beautified by fancy pillars, with flowers in the front.

P. G. Waldron, the property owner, identified the house and started action to effect its removal to its former location.

The family occupying the dwelling gave Waldron the name of the man to whom the rent was paid. This individual in turn said that the house was given to him a year ago by another man, now in Europe.

LEAVE HOLLAND FOR ARIZONA

Dr. and Mrs. F. N. Patterson and three children, Lloyd, Helen and Barbara, left Holland Tuesday for Phoenix, Arizona, where they are making the winter.

Dr. Patterson is making the journey by train while the other members of the family are driving through to their new home. Ill health prevented Dr. Patterson from doing his work during part of last year as head of the department of biology at Hope college and he has secured another year's leave of absence from that institution in the hope that he can build up his health to such an extent as to resume his position at the college a year from now.

Attorney General Urges Prosecution of Fight Film Men

Prosecution of managers of theaters in Grand Rapids and Holland have screened motion pictures of the recent Tunney-Dempsey championship fight, in Chicago, has been recommended by the Office of U. S. Atty. Gen. John Sargent in a telegram to Dist. Atty. E. J. Bowman at Grand Rapids.

Atty. Bowman was requested to investigate the matter and, if conditions warrant, to ask the indictment of the theater managers on a charge of conspiracy to violate the federal law governing interstate shipment of prize fight motion picture reels.

Pigeon Hill Sand Is Tested for Usefulness

Sand boring has been completed on the properties of the West Michigan Ore Sand Company at Muskegon, including Pigeon hill and the territory lying between the hill and the shore and samples will now be tested for their usefulness.

G. Eke, of the Crescent Sand company, who has been supervising the boring operations, left Tuesday for his home at Mt. Clemens, Mich. It will be sometime, it is expected, before the samples of sand taken at intervals of three feet to a maximum depth of 80 feet will have been tested and its possible use determined.

The list of places held up at Grand Rapids last week by the bandits consists of the C. J. Dunters drug store at Giddings ave. and Hall St., SE, the Loveland drug store at 1028 Franklin st., SE, the Menold drug store at 101 Kalamazoo ave., SE, the drug store at Wyoming Park, and the Grandville Pharmacy at Grandville.

CENTURY CLUB IN OPENING PROGRAM SETS YEAR'S PACE

Under the leadership of Arthur Visser, the new president, the Century club began the year's work Monday evening with a very successful meeting at the summer home of Dr. E. D. Diment, on the Park road. After the summer's recess the members were eager for the resumption of club activities and the attendance was large.

As usual, the program for the first meeting was of special interest. Through the efforts of Mrs. G. E. Kollen, the vice president, the committee was able to secure Miss Cora Mel Patten of Los Angeles, whose pupil Mrs. Kollen was at one time. Miss Patten is a reader of wide reputation and she chose as her subject one of the most vital pieces of literature produced in America the present year—Edna St. Vincent Millay's opera, "The King's Henchman." Miss Patten prefaced the reading of the opera by pointing out it is the first and only opera produced in America that can be regarded as of international importance and that can be compared with the operas produced abroad. She quoted Thomas Hardy as saying that there are only two genuinely great things in America, one of which is the poetry of Edna St. Vincent Millay.

"The King's Henchman" tells the story of a tenth century betrayal of friendship but there is a distinct modern flavor to it, even a "Younger Generation" flavor. In spite of the medieval setting, with a theme that is as old as the world itself and with a story that is almost bare in its simplicity, the genius of Miss Millay has made the opera a great work of art and the reader brought a new understanding value in her interpretation.

Walter Ritter, accompanied by Mrs. Edward De Pree, gave two series of violin solos: "Chanson Indoue," by Rimsky-Korsakow, and "Adoration," by Felix Korowak, "Madrigale," by Simonetti, "Ave Maria," by Franz Schubert, and "Meditation from Thais," by J. Massenet.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Brooks were elected as new members. Mrs. Albert Diekema, the secretary and treasurer, read the annual reports and the programs for the coming year.

STATE LIKELY TO CLAMP NEW TROUT ORDER

All of the trout streams and feeder streams in Michigan will be closed to spearing by the conservation commission at its meeting next Wednesday. It is being predicted at Lansing.

When the commission lifted the ban on spearing below line 20 at its meeting a few weeks ago, it was agreed among the commissioners that the trout would be protected from this form of "slaughter." However, further action was postponed.

Leigh J. Young, director of conservation, said he will ask the commissioners to close all of the important inland waters. He expects opposition because of the attitude of the body at the last meeting.

A number of lakes will remain closed to spearing no matter what the commission does. Spearing has been banned on them by special acts of the legislature.

The commission is also expected to discuss Governor Fred Green's proposal that the present system of raising trout be abandoned. Governor Green has asked the commissioners to visit the Turtle Lake club and adopt the method of that organization.

At the present time the state takes spawn from trout kept for that purpose. The spawn is hatched and the fingerlings raised in cement pools. The Turtle Lake club takes spawn from wild fish and raises the fingerlings in a running stream which has been dammed and screened.

FOLLOW BLACK RIVER TO ITS TWO SOURCES

The Michigan conservation department has been very active this year in studying streams and rivers with the intention of stocking all streams where game fish can thrive without wasting fish and effort on worthless water courses. Three representatives from the conservation department headed by Supt. Host of the Comstock Park hatchery, came to Holland recently at the request of the Holland Game and Fish club and made a detailed survey of the head waters of Black River. Members of the local club accompanied Mr. Host and his party to a point about four miles south of Zeeland on the road to Overisel where they began making observations. Searching out the deeper holes where fish would naturally congregate during hot weather, the party proceeded for more than two miles up the west branch and for an equal distance up the east branch of the river. To the surprise of the Holland men, adult bass were found in nearly every deep hole, and fingerlings were found in fairly large numbers. Thousands of minnows, crawfish were encountered, these being the natural food of black bass.

Old timers tell of catching the limit out of Black River, but during the last ten years it has been considered a waste of time to fish for bass in the river. Now it seems this once famous stream is coming back into its former glory. Beginning next season the Holland Game and Fish club plans to stock Black River systematically with small-mouth bass which they will raise in the new nursery ponds to be built this fall under state supervision. Since bass are living in the upper waters of the river, then as fast as the polluted condition of the lower waters is improved, they should thrive farther and farther down stream. At any rate sportsmen are looking forward to again taking nice catches all the way down stream to the River avenue bridge.

DECLINES FOR FAMOUS HEN

An offer of $1,000 for the famous hen No. 6, or $3,000 for a pen of 10 birds including this world record, layer was turned down by the University of British Columbia on account of the great value of the birds for breeding purposes.

Week-day Bible School Begins Work

The Hope church week day Bible school will be resumed on Thursday in the church parlors at 4 o'clock under the direction of Mr. J. Davidson. All former pupils are invited to meet the director and teachers on the day and at the hour named.

New pupils will be cordially welcomed.

TWO KILLED ON THE HIGHWAY AT MUSKEGON

Two more lives were added to the toll of speeding automobiles when Barney Outsuma, 48 years old, and his son, 17 years old, were killed outright and Mrs. Barney Outsuma and Mrs. Pearl Johnson, mother of the boy, and Mrs. Nick Outsuma were seriously injured in an automobile accident on the Bolt highway, Sunday about 200 W. M.

A west-bound Greyhound bus which had just passed a car coming in the same direction and was not quite in the traffic line, sideswiped the Outsuma car. It was said by Muskegon officials. The private car skidded for 200 feet and then rolled over onto the ditch on its side and killed or injured its five occupants.

The injured were taken to a hospital in Muskegon. Nick Outsuma was released Monday morning but the two women are in a serious condition. An inquest will be held soon.

Ray Hosmer, serving time in the county jail at Grand Haven, is a cousin to the dead man and was apprised of the accident by his wife Monday morning. She told him his man was going to their homes in Moorland, just north of Muskegon after attending a church meeting in Muskegon.

OTTAWA COUNTY IS NOT TAKING ITS RESPONSIBILITY

A convincing plea for American voters to accept the responsibility of citizenship and check the dangerous modern trend was made by William Hatton at the Grand Haven Community Club meeting in the Hotel Gildner, attended by a large number.

"The shame of American government, the best form ever devised," said Mr. Hatton, "is that we don't support it. Just 33 per cent of the registered citizens at the last election were present when we voted. There are 21,944 qualified electors but the county clerk reports only 7,277 of them went to the polls to exercise their sacred franchise."

One hour, once a year, is all America asks in return for the protection and privilege of citizenship but most of us are slackers," he continued. "It has been this same indifference of their citizens which brought about the downfall of the great civilizations of the past. The American people are not taking their responsibility."

Citing Ottawa County's vote Mr. Hatton pointed out that Grand Haven led the county with a 45 per cent vote. Pitiful in its lesson of lost opportunity to serve the nation is none the less stands out as an example among cities of the state and nation. Few can boast as good a record.

Holland only cast a 35 per cent vote, about the county average with the township runner up, Grand Haven, with 33 per cent of the vote. The cause of getting out a representative vote was offered to the Community Club as a worthy project. Mr. Hatton, as chairman of the Republican County Committee, has annually written all the presidents of the county urging a sermon on citizenship and the duty of voting, the Sunday before elections. This plan has been most effective and has been copied widely.

Speaking on the subject of "Government," Mr. Hatton melted at some length on the interesting change in the Italian form. He has gathered much first-hand information on conditions there, having made five trips over since the war. Mussolini is neither a man nor an ignorant man and Italy today is more law-abiding, orderly and progressive than ever, he finds.

An interesting sidelight on the lack of severity in the Fascist methods of disciplining was the description of punishments given under Mussolini. Two liters of castor oil is a customary sentence, Mr. Hatton said, adding he thought it would be a most successful form of treatment for American politicians.

But the plight of Europe merely shows America's good fortune. Italy and Spain have dictators and need one. The speaker pointed out the repeated declarations for that unhappy country in the Democratic platforms in this country and said Ireland under home rule today needs sympathy worse than ever. Mr. Hatton was there during the last election when eight parties struggled for power. France has been letting her cabinets sit a little over a week lately but the whole European fabric is on a touch and go basis.

The trouble with Americans when they go over there is their lack of taste and their uppish utterances which build anti-American sentiment, Mr. Hatton said.

PEDDLERS SEEK RICHEST FIELDS IN TRADE QUEST

When sections of the country show extraordinary prosperity, peddlers gather and ply their business. When drought strikes or floods come and cause pinching times, itinerant vendors of goods are somewhere else. They go where good fortune smiles and where money is plentiful. While they are harvesting favored fields, fixtures in trade accept prevailing conditions whether they be good or bad. They suffer the ills of their communities. Appearances of an unprosperous season prompts them to go to hunt more fortunate fields. There is every reason why people should deal with those who are permanently located, have investments and have known responsibility.

The double male quartet of the Sixth Reformed church will furnish music at this church next Sunday morning.

TOURIST HOSTS OPEN CONVENTION IN HOLLAND TODAY

The Western Michigan Tourist and Resort Association opened its annual convention at Warm Friend Tavern today with 400 delegates present. The association of commerce at Grand Rapids sent 50 from that city alone, and Muskegon, Benton Harbor, Traverse City and practically every big Lake Michigan coast town is represented and not a few inland towns also sent representatives.

Holland has 30 delegates present, 15 appointed by the merchants association and 15 by the Holland chamber of commerce.

The Holland delegates are: Isaac Kous, John Arendshorst, Henry Kraker, Andrew Klomparsa, Peter Lieveense, John Van Tatenhove, Fred Beeuwkes, Wm. Deur, Austin Harrington, Wm. Vandenberg, Dick Boter, John Rutgers, Jr., Geo. Woldring, Ben Mulder, Joe White, Drew, Wm. G. J. Diekema, Milo DeVries, Frank Lieveense, W. Olive, Jack Knell, Dr. A. Leenhouts, A. H. Landwehr, Henry Winter, Otto Kramer, Bill Wagenaar, George Pelgrim, Arthur Wrieden and Thos. N. Robinson.

Seven proposals in the 1928 program of work will be submitted. Members will be asked to vote on four. The proposals are: Improvement of trunkline and county highways and the establishment of county boulevard systems; state and county park systems; commercial development of western Michigan; advertising and publicity campaigns; improvement of Michigan airport and airway development; and extension of the tourist season and winter sports.

Some of the work accomplished includes the distribution of 35,000 vacation directories, 50,000 road maps and 5,000 courtesy booklets. Secretary Gray's report also shows an increase of 10,867 pleasure cars over 1926 for the four months ending Aug. 31, according to the state ferry coast.

An illustrated brochure, which will be distributed at the convention, shows every branch of work shows gains over the preceding year. This includes a 20 per cent increase in tourist visitors; development of resort property is adding large amounts to the assessed valuation of Michigan communities and is helping to pay its share for public improvements, education and local government; the radio is being used to familiarize the public with western Michigan's resort delights; western Michigan has been discovered by the travel and automobile editors and editorial writers of a score or more of the big daily newspapers in the field from which it draws heavily and the advertising campaign is being conducted economically and efficiently and is giving positive results.

The banquet this evening begins at 6:30 at Warm Friend Tavern, with A. H. Landwehr as toastmaster.

Wm. Stokes of the Indianapolis News, Kellogg Patterson of the Cincinnati Times, Earl Linn, advertising manager of the Leonard Refrigerator Company of Grand Rapids, and G. J. Diekema of Holland are to be the principal speakers. Moving pictures of the Michigan resorts, including flashes of our own show places, will be featured.

Wynand Wichers in welcoming the delegates at the opening of the convention this afternoon said:

"In behalf of the city of Holland, in behalf of the chamber of commerce of this city, I wish to welcome the delegates here assembled attending the convention of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association. It is a great work that this organization is performing in which a community such as ours greatly benefits."

"It is a mutual proposition. Your coming is a chapter in the epic in our local history."

"It will give us a new estimate of the wealth that lies at our doors."

"It will help to dispel some of the prejudice that hampers our activity."

"It will help to give us a new appreciation of our recreational opportunity."

"It will help us to increase the circle of those whom we call friends."

"I therefore welcome you as guests to the city of Holland."

MILLION DOLLARS IN NEW BUILDING HERE EACH YEAR

Oscar Peterson, city clerk, has released some figures to feel proud of. Holland City has been tremendously progressive during the past 5 years. To prove this to you all we have to do is glance for a moment at the great value of new buildings and take notice of our steady building growth each year.

Our record shows a healthy progress, not just a fast boom, for each year, starting with 1923, we have built more buildings and more homes. It is a noteworthy fact too that practically all of these homes are built and owned by the families living in them.

In 1923 our building permits exceeded $950,000, in 1924 our building permits exceeded $1,140,000, in 1925 our building permits exceeded $750,000, in 1926 our building permits exceeded $1,095,000. And in 1927 we have either completed or have under construction to date more than $900,000, worth of homes and buildings.

This is a condition we can justly feel proud of. For five years we have averaged nearly a million dollars worth of improvements each year, to say nothing of what has been done by the city itself in a municipal way.

We built over $310,000 in dwellings in 1923, over $450,000 in 1924, over $535,000 in 1925, and over $600,000 in 1926, showing a steady and prosperous condition among our citizens.

Right now Holland is doing much building, for during the past 4 months we have finished or started 12 new buildings totalling nearly $500,000 in building value alone.

Our surrounding resort territory and outside properties, if included in greater Holland, would add more than another million dollars to our building program. So in spite of tremendous losses from resort fires we can safely predict that before long our lake attractions will be larger, greater, and more extensive than ever. In this connection it is worthy of notice that our new modern township schools completed and under construction around Holland just outside the city are important factors in building up permanent homes not far distant from the city proper.

The double male quartet of the Sixth Reformed church will furnish music at this church next Sunday morning.

FARM HOUSE, BARN BURN

Lightning struck the barn and the farm of Gerrit Wiers, at Jamestown, resulting in the destruction of both barn and structure. The cattle were out in the field and no harm came to them. The summer crop of hay and straw, a tractor, a gasoline tank and other farm implements were destroyed. The Jamestown fire department endeavored to save the property but the flames made short work of the building filled with combustible material.

The farm house of K. Vanden Bosch at Noordeloos, two and one-half miles northwest of Zeeland, was also destroyed. Mr. Vanden Bosch had recently built the house for his son. The cries from a baby, in a crib, brought the fire to the attention of the family. The blaze was caused by a defective chimney. The fire was discovered at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning.

MAKE MORE PLANS FOR NAVY BAND CONCERT

The American Legion is continuing its preparation for the two big concerts of the United States Navy band, known as the "President's own band." The Legion is bringing this band to Holland as a community service, its members feeling that Holland has a right to the best band in America. The Legion is spending a very large sum on bringing this band to Holland, the largest amount save one that has ever been paid locally for a concert, and it will be one of the musical events of the season.

The date is October 31, when two concerts will be given. The place has not yet been decided on.

Ottawa Judge of Probate To Address State Meet

Judge James J. Danhof and Mrs. Danhof, of Grand Haven, are in Flint attending the annual meeting of the probate judges of Michigan. The body will hold a three-day session where questions of interest and discussions will be combined with addresses by well known men to make an interesting session.

Harry S. Hulbert, of Detroit, at one time the warden of Jackson prison, will talk on "The Wayward Minor."

It will be an interesting talk judged by one he presented in G. H. several years ago in addressing the Community club. Dr. A. M. Barrett of the Psychopathic hospital at Ann Arbor will be another interesting speaker.

Judge Danhof, Ottawa county judge of probate, will address some of the meetings answering some assigned questions pertaining to the duties of the probate office.

Wants To Erect $100,000 Community Building in 1928

At Monday's city council meeting at Allegan Mayor Joseph F. Mosier recommended a committee be appointed to see whether the Marilla Griswold $100,000 community building could not be erected in 1928 under direction of a council committee.

Mrs. Griswold bequeathed the city $100,000 for the erection of the building and the interest has increased the fund by $6,000. A site has cost $4,000.

Mayor Mosier instructed the city attorney to investigate to determine if the city could not take steps to erect the building if the trustees of the fund do not act and report at the next meeting of the council Oct. 17.

DOG SAVES MAN FROM SNAKE, BUT LIVES OWN

A pet dog's sense of responsibility to her master's aged friends saved the friend from a rattlesnake attack, but at the cost of the dog's own life.

William Duffield, 70, had borrowed the dog from Fred de Pender, his neighbor, for a stroll through the woods near Auburn, Ill. They were several miles from home when a rattler, springing from behind a rock struck at Duffield.

The reptile's fangs first sank into the cuffs of the old man's trousers but it was withdrawn, ing to strike again when

SPEED UP WORK ON CONSTRUCTION NEW G. H. PLANT

Grand Haven Tribune—The last big pouring of cement for the filtration plant was being made Tuesday. It started Monday at 7:00 a. m. and ran thru until Tuesday night. A 36-hour stretch of work will complete the big wall which is 350 running feet, 15 feet high and 12 inches thick, making in all about 150 cubic yards of concrete.

Several shifts of men were put on the 36 hour run, and all night long the grinding of the cement mixer and the trundling of the carriers was heard likening the place to a cement mill or steel factory with lights glowing in the hum of all night activity.

About 12 men in a shift were on the job and Monday night a group of high school boys were on, working with a vim that made them sleepy in the class rooms Tuesday.

The rain about 7:00 p. m. made it look for a time as if the operations would be delayed. If it had settled into an all night pour things would have been bad for the contractor. As it was, the rain did no damage and the men resumed work after the 20 minute lay-off to complete the last big pouring.

One other smaller one will be put in under the head house. The forms for this are to be started on Wednesday and in a few weeks the final pouring is due.

Next week the brick work for the super-structure will begin and soon the walls will loom up and the size of the project will be better realized by passers by.

The location of the new civic station on Sherman street is a beautiful one, high up on a hill overlooking Lake Michigan and the river. The street as yet has not been cut thru but when it is completed will open up many fine lots for development. The terracing necessary at the big plant will make it a place of beauty as well as utility.

The big coagulating and filter basins are all in giving some idea of the size and construction of the interesting plant.

STOLEN CENT RETURNED "WITH FULL INTEREST"

A conscience troubled over a theft of a penny 23 years ago was relieved when a letter signed by Marcel Krauss, New Orleans, was received by the Chicago chief of police recently, and included a check for $4.61, says The Chicago Daily News.

"Twenty-nine years ago," read the letter, "I was in a Chicago street car. A baby held by its mother dropped a penny on the floor. I picked it up and kept it. I also stole 50 cents from my mother when I was a boy. The check inclosed is for the money and interest. Please see that it is put to some worthy use."

The check was turned over to the "conscience fund" in the city comptroller's office for use in charity work.

NATION DEMANDS MORE SAFETY ON COUNTRY'S ROADS

This nation is just beginning to realize the fact that highways must be made more safe. This was brought out at the thirteenth annual convention of the American Association of Highway Officials.

Michigan men are prominent at the convention in Colorado and one of the principal speakers is G. C. Dillman, deputy commissioner and chief engineer of the Mich. Highway department. The Michigan man ranks high as one of the nation's leading road planners and his talk convinced the large delegation that America now knows its responsibility and if they didn't it was up to them as delegates to point it out.

All civic organizations, common councils, resort organizations, and especially the press will be urged to take up this matter.

The Western Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, meeting in Holland, will also stress safety on highways as one of the essentials that will make Western Michigan the playground of America.

Mr. Dillman of Michigan at Denver made this statement:

"America was stunned at the attribution to the World War yet to paying loss of life given at its cost a greater annual toll is exacted through traffic accidents."

Dillman stressed the point that each state highway department should make an active field study of all accidents, at the same time paying special attention to the railroad crossing problem and important highway intersections.

It also should be remembered that anything which impedes continuous and uniform movement of traffic adds an element of danger and increases cost of transportation."

A set of 13 safety rules were suggested by Dillman. They proposed:

1. Assume unusually good sight distance on all horizontal and vertical curves.
2. Better maintenance once road completed and extraordinary maintenance on curves, steep road crowns, narrow grades, bridges, ice or slippery pavements and loose dusty gravel.
3. Adopt better detour systems.
4. Main highway minimum and standard width of 20 feet, increases only of ten foot intervals.
5. Rural highways with shoulders sufficient to turn-out traffic and handle parked vehicles. Latter mandatory.
6. Produce stands, loading platforms and gas stations not tolerated at road sides.
7. Guard fences on all steep embankments.
8. Footpaths with bridge sidewalks along roadside where large volume of long distance traffic moves through well populated or growing districts.
9. Check overloading and prohibit unreasonable use of highways.
10. Adequate snow removal plans (two-third of registered vehicles are in 36 snow states).
11. Best of protection on railroad crossings.
12. Point out existing dangers by standardized signs and signals.
13. Study cause of each accident and remedy from road construction viewpoint.

MOTHER FOX CUTS OFF AND CURES SON'S LEG

A fox on the ranch of Stanley M. Southworth near Monticello, N. Y., has had an unusual experience. It caught its leg in the fire fence surrounding the pen and was unable to release itself. When the mother fox saw her son in this predicament she promptly chewed off the foot and when found by Mr. Southworth was tenderly caring for her son. A veterinarian was called but he reported the amputation as neatly performed as if he could have done it.

The cub is being cared for in the house and is now as gentle as a lamb.

WELL TO KNOW WHAT CHANGES IN HUNTING LAWS

If there exists in the minds of Michigan sportsmen any doubt as to the attitude of the members of the Conservation Commission on the future administration of the Discretionary Power Law, that has upset all legislative traditions and mandates governing fishing and hunting, this most certainly was removed at the meeting held this month. Up until that time no one knew what was going to happen. No one could forestall just what they could or could not hunt and when they could hunt it. This is all removed now and the recent edition of digests of the game laws for 1927 and 1928 are essentially scraps of paper.

So that sportsmen may know just what the laws and regulations are, a tabulation has been made of those enacted by the Legislature for the next two years and this checked against the orders issued and rescinded and then checked against the Federal regulations governing the taking of migratory birds. A new edition of the digest will be issued shortly and until such time sportsmen can adhere to the regulations set forth in this article with no fear of law violations.

Important Regulations

Of major importance are the regulations covering the taking of migratory wild fowl and shore birds for this season opened September 16. Federal laws govern here except when the State laws either reduce the bag limit or cut down the open season. The season runs until December 31. All ducks, except woodducks, are limited to 15 in one day, 30 in possession at one time and 50 during one calendar week; geese and brant, five in one day, 15 in one season and eight in possession; Wilson or Jack snipe, 15 in one day, 25 in possession or during the entire season; rails 15 of one species in one day or combined, 50 in possession; coots and gallinules, 25 in one day and 35 in one season, combined. All of these may be taken from September 16 to December 31.

Woodcock are limited to four in one day by Federal Law, 10 in possession and 20 during the season, which in Michigan runs from October 25 to 31.

Greater and lesser yellowlegs, black bellied and golden plover and all other migratory shore birds cannot be hunted. They are under Federal protection.

How Long in Possession

In Michigan migratory wildfowl and shore birds may be kept in the possession of the hunter for only 10 days after the season closes. As to upland game birds. There is no open season upon spruce hens, ruffed grouse, quail or homing pigeons. Mallard ducks, ring-necked pheasants may be hunted from Oct. 25 to 31, two in one day, four in possession and for the entire season. Prairie chickens may be hunted at the same time with the daily limit placed at five, 10 in possession and 25 during the entire season. This winds up the upland bird shooting.

Now to the game animals. From all indications there will be no change in the deer law. The spike horn proposal seems to be sidetracked. The season runs from November 15 to 30, and calls for one male with antlers three inches above the scalp. One bear may also be killed during this period. The rabbit law is the same as was by the Legislature; from October 25 to January 31 inclusive for cottontails and October 25 to February 15 for jack rabbits in the Lower Peninsula. In the upper Peninsula, jack rabbits may be killed from Oct. 1 to Feb. 1. The limit on all is five in one day and five in possession.

Fox Squirrel Dates

Fox squirrel may be hunted from October 25 to 31 inclusive with five in one day and 15 in the season. Moose and caribou are protected. Otter, fisher, marten, mink and muskrat can not be trapped until March 1, 1929. Skunk can be taken from November 15 to January 31. There is no limit as to numbers. Coyote, wolf, lynx, wildcat, fox, weasel, woodchucks, crows, hawks and owls can be killed at any time.

This sums up all of the laws governing the taking of game birds and animals. The license fees are $1.25 for resident hunters; $10 for non-residents for small game; $2.50 for resident deer and $50 for non-resident entitling the holder to a bear also.

The biggest and best marine railway between Chicago and the Straits of Mackinac has been built on Macatawa Bay. Jesiek Brothers, better known as "Otto" and "Joe" and long recognized over the state for exceptional boat workmanship, are the builders and owners of Black Lake's latest boating improvement.

Boatmen throughout western Michigan are most enthusiastic over this news. Heretofore the larger pleasure craft was forced to Chicago or elsewhere when work was needed which required the vessel to be taken from the water.

About October 16 the steel cabled hoist will pull ashore at Jesiek's one of Lake Michigan's finest yachts. The boat will move up by her own power over the 7 foot gauge steel rail tracks and onto the truck carrier in about 15 feet of water and 200 feet out from shore. When fast the cables will be winding her up the tracks another 300 feet in over the shore.

The boat carrier which runs on 8 large wheels weighs nearly a ton and is constructed that it can be lengthened from ten to forty feet in short order. Boats which are 80 feet long can be properly handled while it is said other west Michigan builders can service only boats half that length.

Already Jesiek's have orders for special work on more than a dozen large boats. By spring they expect to employ an extra crew of men; for repairs and refinishing jobs, sometimes run from $500 to $1,500 on the better boats, especially when engines are being rebuilt or changed.

An additional building is being put up making the present inside storage capacity about 75 boats. This building is being equipped with a small machine railway of its own. A new machine shop building has been planned for early spring erection. The outside boat yard will take care of about 100 boats and is used of course for the larger craft.

These improvements represent an investment of close to $10,000, and are located near the old Macatawa Yacht club.

Such facilities do much toward advancing Black Lake boating and our resorts in general. Many strange boats will now come to Holland harbor for work and lots of them will remain here during the resort season as well as while in storage.

HAMILTON

Henry Klein, living northeast of the village, is on the sick list.

Henry Verhulst, who has been ill for several days is back at the bench in his harness shop.

B. Ter Haar of Holland visited his children, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lohman Sunday.

The Ladies Missionary society of the First Reformed church held a sale in the exhibition room of the Biding garage. About $100 was received by the ladies.

John Kronmeyer, Henry D. Strabbing and Marvin Kookier motored to Paw Paw last Saturday afternoon to attend a mail carriers' meeting which was held at that place.

Jack Nieboer who recently came to the village to take charge of the local telephone lines, has already made extensive improvements and the community is assured of real service in the future. He is on the job at all times and knows his business. We hope that the community may also be able to use his knowledge of electricity and that the light service may also be improved since this might be considerably better.

Last week Thursday evening the Danglemond hall was the scene of festivities. Henry Kemper and Wm. Ten Brink with the aid of several others had arranged for a banquet and music-meeting in honor of the champion base ball team, Sipe's Tigers. Promptly at 6 o'clock the boys with a few fans sat down at a table fit for a king. To say that the boys enjoyed the spread would be putting it altogether too mildly. After the banquet the village gathered in a mass meeting. Although the weather was inclement a good sized crowd came out to show their appreciation for the work of the team and its manager, Roy Sipple.

Rev. J. A. Roggen called the meeting to order and introduced Marvin Brower, the handsome and honest banker, as chairman for the evening's program. Mr. Brower ably filled the role. The following program was given: male quartet selection, A. J. Klompans, E. Danglemond, Gerrit Lampen and M. Kookier. The members of the team were introduced by the chairman in the order of the position on the team and as various players stood the crowd sang songs in their praises. Mrs. M. Brower read "Casey at the Bat." The crowd then sang "Take Me to the Ball Game." This was followed with talks. The fastest game of the season, John Brink; The slowest game of the season, Jacob Drenten; The longest hit of the season, Henry Strabbing. Miss Anne Voorhorst rendered a piano solo and the quartet sang another selection. Chester Voorhorst, the captain of the team, responded for the team. It was a fine evening, an honor that was well deserved by the boys. They are all young chaps and have made an enviable record winning 25 of the thirty games played. It is not merely winning so many of the games which is the outstanding fact, however, but rather the clean spirit in every game played which is appreciated by the community.

As a result of the recent rains the celery which by many was considered to be a slim crop, is promising a large yield and of the very best quality. Fields that seemed to be beyond hope, are again as green as ever seen in this neighborhood.

Rev. A. Roggen motored to Overisel last Friday evening to take part at the installation of Rev. Wm. Pyle. Five of an evening service destroyed the Zalsman barn south of Wall street in the south end of town last Monday evening at about 3 A. M. the Zalsman family became aware of the fact that one of their buildings was on fire. A general alarm was immediately sent out, but the whole interior was aflame so that the firefighters were useless except in saving the surrounding buildings that were very close to the burning barn. Fortunately this was entirely successful, since the barn stood in the midst of several houses. A sedan, a new Ford truck and considerable furniture which Mr. Zalsman had stored in the building a short time before with other material were lost. The loss, however, is partially covered by insurance. Thus we have one more reason to get busy in regard to fire protection.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Tatenhove of Fremont were visitors at the Ten Brink home last Monday.

The Sunday school teachers of the Overisel Reformed church staged a surprise on Rev. J. A. Roggen last week Wednesday evening. Rev. Roggen has had charge of the Teachers' meetings during the vacancy of their church and they planned to show their appreciation. Informing him that he was not expected at the Overisel church that evening, they quietly slipped into the parsonage while he was in his study. Completely taken by surprise, it was explained that the teachers desired to save him the trip for the last meeting. After the regular meeting, however, the teachers remained for a social hour and the ladies hauled forth baskets to prepare a delicious lunch. But they seemed to have in mind a surprise, so before departing they once more surprised him by presenting him with a beautiful fountain pen on which was engraved "Overisel S. Teachers."

It was a good meeting and no doubt will bring about greater cooperation in school work.

SAYS INFANTILE PARALYSIS IS CONTAGIOUS

County Nurse Miss Lammar is warning Ottawa county against infantile paralysis. She states that the county welfare committee has appointed Dr. Addison of Grand Haven chairman for a committee to warn the public against infantile paralysis. The committee report the following suggestions for combating this dreaded disease.

A glance over the statistics of the census bureau, life insurance companies and health departments shows that this generation has received much benefit from public health. Within the last 50 years typhoid fever, malaria, diphtheria and small-pox are so uncommon that we rarely see them. Much has been done also for the prevention of scarlet fever and tuberculosis, a disease that needs attention at this time is infantile paralysis.

A number of diseases may be followed by some form of muscle paralysis: diphtheria, typhoid, meningitis, brain diseases, etc., and that this generation becomes the most prominent symptom of infantile paralysis. It is not, however, the only symptom and about half the patients having infantile paralysis recover without any sign of muscle wasting or paralysis.

This disease shows itself first as a rather mild disturbance with fever, aches, loss of appetite, a tendency to vomit and constipation. A little later the patient becomes irritable and feels soreness and pain especially on being handled. These symptoms come from the infection of the nose and throat and are much like those of a common cold. The next symptom comes from the involvement of the spinal cord showing as muscle twitching through various degrees of muscle weakness to complete paralysis. Most of the muscles affected may regain their normal use but some will be permanently weakened.

The disease is spread by the discharge from the nose, throat and bowels. It is most common in children but may occur at any age. The following steps have proved valuable in controlling its spread: 1. Recognize the disease. 2. Isolate the patient. 3. Quarantine all who have been exposed. 4. Disinfect by burning chemicals all discharges from nose, throat and bowels. 5. Isolate all children with fever as far as possible from other children.

REV. KLINGBEIL GIVES INTERESTING SERMON SUNDAY

SERVICES EVERY SUNDAY MORNING, ENGLISH, EVENING HOLLAND LANGUAGE

On Sunday night, Oct. 2, Rev. Klingbeil delivered an important sermon of the series of the Great Prophecies of the Bible. The topic this evening was: "Prophecy and the Peace Cry." May we expect a permanent peace in this world was the question? Men may build peace palaces (as the Hague); they may hold peace conferences; sign peace compacts; but will all these things bring the desired peace? There was never a time in the history of the world when people spoke of a millennium of peace. Scripture calls it a sign of the times. In Thess. 5:1-6 we read: For when they shall say, Peace and Safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them. Some speak about world-peace; others talk of a millennium of peace, but the word of God tells us that there will be no peace until the Prince of Peace shall come and establish his everlasting kingdom, the Kingdom of God.

God's prophetic word predicts strife, war and trouble, for the last days of this world's history. See Joel 3:9-14; Rev. 11:18; 16:12-16.

God's children however, may have personal peace amidst all strife and war. The Apostle Paul writes: "There fore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." Rom. 5:1. Justification brings peace to the soul through our Lord Jesus Christ. The (Christ) is our Peace." (Eph. 2:14)

This peace can be kept up, by coming to the obedience of God's commandments. The Lord said by the mouth of the prophet Isaiah: "O that ye had hearkened to my commandments! Then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea." Is. 48:18.

Peoples are drifting away from God and His commandments and instead of love, hatred is ruling in their lives. Let us return to our God and Maker and have peace. Having peace in our own hearts, we shall be peace-makers and some day when Christ will set up his kingdom of peace we will have a place in that heavenly kingdom of peace.

It was announced that the sermon topic for Sunday night, 7:30, Oct. 9, would be: "Prophecy and the crash of empires." This sermon will be delivered in the Holland language. All lovers of the word of God cordially invited to the church building, 12 East Thirteenth street, Holland.

The cucumber crop in this vicinity was only about twenty-five per cent the average of a few years ago and this is the case throughout the state. A hopeful incident to the season was the almost entire absence of weather, which has caused serious loss in recent seasons. The shortage is due to unfavorable weather of which we had plenty this season and not alone as to the cucumbers.—Allegan Gazette.

WARM FRIEND HALL AT TAVERN IS A BUSY PLACE

TOURIST CONVENTION OPENS WITH 200 PRESENT

Newspaper Clipping Feature In Hall Is Unique

The annual convention of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association was called to order at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon by vice president Archie E. Mc Cray, who was delayed a half hour coming from Grand Rapids.

Mr. Mc Cray called the convention to order and introduced Wynand Wickens, president of the Holland chamber of commerce and he in a concerning way told the visitors they were welcome, and when he had finished the applause that followed showed to the speaker that the visitors knew they were welcome. A telegram was read sent by Governor Fred Green stating that it was impossible for him to be present but that his heart was with the association, knowing the excellent work they had performed making Michigan a recreational state for the United States.

King Scott representative of the state highway department was one of the speakers during the afternoon and with a state map he pointed out the new roads that had been built and the projects that were in prospect along Lake Michigan for the coming year.

Mr. Scott took in New Buffalo to the South then worked his way to Benton Harbor through Ottawa county to the Straits, and when he had completed his speech with map illustrations those present were convinced that western Michigan is being well taken care of as far as State roads are concerned.

Dr. Carr of the State Board of Health told the convention that health measures were very essential to a successful resort. Lack of contamination, curbing preventable diseases, annual inspection of water are great essentials, and it is well to tell the public about the good health of a community and also of the fine water that a community has to offer.

One unique feature was the posting on the walls of Warm Friend hall the amount of publicity received from more than 1000 newspapers. Side by side, page to page, the publicity received stretched completely around the hall and there were at least 50 pages more for which no room could be found. That publicity could never be paid for, with the appropriation received if it were not for the generosity of newspapermen generally who believe in recreational development. It surely is a wonderful showing as these thousands of columns are displayed at Warm Friend Tavern.

At this juncture Carol F. Sweet, the chairman of the association, gave his message of what had been accomplished during the year and what might be expected the coming year.

He said in part: "The policies of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association have been this year the same as in previous years. We are organized to service Michigan. We spend the money which the membership subscribes primarily for that purpose with an underlying fund or operating expense for putting before the membership the concrete results of this advertising in the form of inquiry bulletins. Use these bulletins. They have been proven to be more than 80 per cent actual visitors. With the same amount of operating expense we can do more advertising if we have more money. Those of you who limit your sales expense to your subscription to the Michigan Tourist and Resort association through using their bulletins as your market, sell your product too cheaply. You ought to be ashamed to sell it so cheaply, because it is worth more. You can avoid this shame by increasing your membership to a substantial number to the Michigan Tourist and Resort association.

"A very definite program for this coming year has been worked out and is before you. I bespeak for it your thorough consideration and urge upon you to mail to our office your vote upon it. To such extent as our finances will permit we will go through with it. To what extent our finances permit depends upon you and the communities in which you exercise such influence. Man power and greater financial means are the needs of this association, and in the order named. They are both your jobs as much as mine.

"The opportunity lies before us. We have but scratched the surface and yet when we think back over the ten years' life of the association and we see today the changes that have occurred in that ten years in the tourist and resort realizations of this State, we must say to ourselves—to this organization which is you and we—well done, thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make you ruler over many things."

GROUNDS OF HOSPITAL TO BE BEAUTIFIED

PARK BOARD WILL DEVELOP THEM AT COUNCIL'S REQUEST

The new Holland hospital grounds have been officially placed under the jurisdiction and care of the board of parks and cemeteries by the common council. The plan is to give the hospital parkline surroundings and the park board will be asked to beautify the grounds, and develop them into the equivalent to a city park.

The council, at the suggestion of Mayor Kammeraad, also voted to convert a little flatiron shaped parcel of ground at the corner of 23rd and Michigan avenue into a park. It is a tiny piece of ground that the city has owned since 1912, and no small city has owned anything else. It will be converted into a little beauty spot by the park board.

GRAND HAVEN MAN IS FOUND DEAD IN HIS HOUSE BOAT

Harm Mulder, tender of the Grand Trunk bridge, between Grand Haven and Ferrysburg, was found dead in his home in a house boat near the big swing bridge, where he lived alone. The dead man was found by his brother, Fred Mulder, about 7:45 p. m. Friday.

Mr. Mulder had been at work as usual, but failed, as was his custom, to go over to the home of his brother, who also lives alone a short distance away, to spend the evening. Fearing something was wrong, Mr. Mulder went to his brother's home and found him sitting at the table. His body slumped forward. The man evidently was having his meal when death came. Physicians say that Mulder died as the result of a stroke. There was no sign of a struggle investigation shows.

Mr. Mulder was born at Grand Haven 66 years ago and had lived there all his life. He was for years associated in business with Peter Koopman and was well known. He also worked for the city on the electric light circuit and was a fireman for a number of years. For the past five years he had been the bridge tender at the Grand Trunk swing bridge.

He lived alone in a house boat situated near his post and was never married. His brother, Fred, lived not far distant and the brothers were constant companions. He is also survived by another brother, John Mulder of Harbor Springs.

Funeral services were held from the home of his nephew, William Mulder, 930 Franklin street, Grand Haven, Monday with Rev. J. DeKraaker officiating.

Burial was in Lake Forest cemetery.

SATURDAY'S GAME IS MARKED BY MANY PENALTIES

Although Holland high stands defeated by Kalamazoo by a 14 to 12 count, the score does not tell the story of the game, which was marked by brilliant passing and end running on both sides, Holland completing the greater number of passes. The game was of the kind that keeps the crowds on their feet.

In the first play of the game Kostas, of Holland, was laid low, but he came back for much good work. Soon after the start of play Holland had possession of the pigskin on the Kazoo 30 yard line, when a double pass, Tyse to Elenbas to Bonnett, netted the first touchdown. There was no point made and the game continued with Wynga and Tyse going for long plunges. The next attempt at a double pass resulted in a 12 yard loss for Holland and then the penalties against the locals began with 1 yard and 15 yard setbacks for players offside. Wynga punted 60 yards, putting Kazoo to work on their own 20 yard stripe, while Holland threw them back for losses.

The second quarter began with Green of Kazoo kicking to Holland's 10 yard line. Elenbas fumbled in a play Kazoo had possession with but a short distance to go. Cook of Kazoo struck a stonewall on his line plunge however, and it took a pass from Veenhuis Enehardes to net Kazoo's first score. Enehardes also scored the extra point and things began to be more exciting. Holland was bothered by the muddy condition of its field and several times the backfield was thrown for losses due to faulty footing.

Tyse made a 30 yard run thru left end in the same quarter, advancing the oval to Kazoo's 31 yard line. Another successful pass, Elenbas to Letisma, made possible by Letisma's height, gave Holland another six points, the extra point being lost. The half ended with Holland holding the better end of a 12-7 count.

The third quarter saw much hard work between two hard fighting eleven, but there was no gain in score. In the final period Enehardes again took the ball on a double pass from the 15 stripe and stepped across the goal. With Kazoo getting the extra point, Holland was the under party. The remainder of the period saw splendid fighting on two tied teams, each still determined to score again. Holland lost its best chance during the third quarter when a pretty end run by Tyse brought the ball across Kazoo's goal. They did not count due to an offside player and the locals were penalized instead.

The substitutes were: Clark, Dorsey and Meade for Kalamazoo; Dolman, Van Raalte, Norlan, Cote and Japinga for Holland.

The reserve squad came out victorious after an interesting battle, the final score being 13-0 for Holland.

The Holland fire department quickly extinguished a fire on East Eighth street that had developed in a truck loaded with celery, late Friday. An overflow of gasoline that had just been taken on from a nearby gas station ignited and caused a burst of flames. Charles Wickham, a driver from South Haven, endeavored to put out the blaze with fire extinguishers but failed. The Holland fire department soon had the fire under control. The driver lost some of his clothing.

PROF. TAYLOR IS TO BUILD A SKATING POND

Prof. Taylor the "hamburger king" is already making plans for the winter on the Macatawa Park road a round skating pond will be built, 100 feet in diameter. This is to be flooded during the winter and the place kept in shape for a rink.

Mr. Taylor says there is no chance for wet feet or be drowned and the skaters will be in close proximity to hot coffee and celebrated hamburgs near his hamburger stand.

HOBOES ROUTED
BY THE GRAND
HAVEN POLICE

The city police of Grand Haven routed a nest of hoboes from their cozy roost in the Dykhouse property near the Grand Trunk yards on Tuesday evening and saw to it that they hit the trail.

There was no particular reason for their removal other than the fact they were a nuisance to many there bothered by them begging from house to house. Chief Pippel has warned this gang that they are to keep away from private homes begging for food and money and praying upon the sympathies of the people and annoying many by their presence about their premises.

The "hoboes" become intoxicated some time and are run in by the Grand Haven police but as a rule they molest no one and are contented to stay in this out of the way place, where they lead rather care free and useless lives.

The chief has warned them to keep away from private homes, assuring them they would not be molested but when they became a nuisance they would be ousted. He had made good his word.

There is no provision for these tramps to be made to work if they are arrested in Grand Haven.

In some localities the hoboies are met by the officers as they land on the outskirts of a town and are sent to the city jail or over 150,000,000 times a year, says Popular Mechanics magazine. The hair-spring makes a similar number of vibrations and an equal number of ticks come from the escapement. This is a marvelous record, considering the small quantity of "food" that has been consumed by its constant action. Experts say "food" because whatever larvae must be fed, and the watch "lives" on about 16 inches of mainspring every 24 hours.

LIFETIME OF WATCH IS
50 YEARS, EXPERTS SAY

Experts say that the lifetime of a good watch is 50 years. In its daily duties, the balance vibrates 18,000 times every hour, or over 157,000,000 times a year, says Popular Mechanics magazine. The hair-spring makes a similar number of vibrations and an equal number of ticks come from the escapement. This is a marvelous record, considering the small quantity of "food" that has been consumed by its constant action. DUTCH GIRL FROM
GRAND HAVEN IN OLYMPIC GAMES

Miss Virginia Pfeil, who has been coming to the Ottawa County resorts ever since she was a small child with her parents and family and who learned the art of swimming and diving in Lake Michigan around Grand Haven, will go to either Chicago or New York this winter to join one of the teams leaving next summer for the Olympic games to be held in Amsterdam, Holland.

Miss Pfeil was in New York this summer taking some work with Willis Collins, coach of P. D. Jarvis, the world's champion diver, and spent some time at the Oriental Beach Club, where she came in contact with the finest divers in the country.

This summer Miss Pfeil won the championship of the Middle West at Aurora, Ill. Her work is remarkable in both high broad and low board work and all who have seen her predict future for the young lady now 18 years old.

For years Miss Pfeil has been seen at Grand Haven at the life saving station where she really first learned swimming. The beauty of her diving has been an attraction to many who visit this popular resort.

HOPE SOPHS WIN
IN ANNUAL PULL
BY HARD FIGHT

Hundreds of eager folks tramped and drove their way thru the fields Friday afternoon to the customary site of Hope's annual tug-of-war between the Soph and Frosh classes. The Sophs showed superior teamwork which caught the Frosh off guard and broke the green team's pulling rhythm. A few minutes after the teams stood up to begin the real tugging, the Frosh felt the water.

The Frosh pull-captain was Mr. Earl Van Eenam of Zeeland, and the Sophs were headed by Mr. Henry Van Wezel of Holland. The Frosh were thought to have an even chance at least, until the experience of the upper class told the story.

The Sophomore class banner was stolen by the Freshmen last Thursday by means of a clever ruse. However a new banner evidently was hastily prepared, the Sophs would duplicate from their side of the bank, while the original met a terrible end, each Frosh getting a piece. The tug marks the height of the interclass rivalry for the season, although the pots and ribbons will be worn until Thanksgiving.

WOULD BUILD A
HIGHWAY FROM LOOP TO LOOP

About four years ago former senator Bill Connelly of Spring Lake, dreamed of a highway to be laid along the coast of Lake Michigan extending from Holland's resorts to Grand Haven. The idea at that time was to continue the West Michigan pike, now US-31 from Macatawa over a swing bridge across Holland harbor, a $300,000 project, continue the road along the beach to Highland Park Grand Haven, connecting up with the pike at Grand Haven again.

The project at that time did not meet with much favor in Holland for it would have diverted the traffic that now comes thru the city over US-31 towards Macatawa Park and so on to Grand Haven. That would have made Holland the appendage of this main trunk line.

Nothing more has been heard of this project and engineers immediately discouraged concrete construction on the shores of Lake Michigan, since a highway could never hold up on the shifting sand and changing shore.

It was found that every spring it would require a large force of men to dig out the road. The Grand Haven Tribune in Thursday's issue seems to think that there is still a great deal of sentiment in the town in favor of extending from loop to loop, which is not a bad idea as long as the road is placed far enough east, to avoid the shores of Lake Michigan and prevent a highway from being placed in front of the beautiful homes on the Michigan front, where folks go for quiet and safety of their children which a well traveled road would not permit.

Anyway, the following article in the Grand Haven Tribune will be of interest to Holland. "There has been much sentiment in the southern part of the county to construct permanent concrete roads in sections other than the state and U. S. trunk lines, the residents realizing that roads of this type are the best for travel and upkeep.

"Due to the recent action of the County Road Commission that all such roads must be constructed under the Covert Act, the residents of several sections are getting together with the idea of having estimates made and to signify willingness to have assessments spread against their properties.

"The Covert Act, named for the Oakland County judge who decided a road case, is much the same as the street paving in cities, the assessments being made on the basis of situation rather than on feet frontage.

"Carl Bowen, county engineer, says added to this activity in the southern end of the county is a strong demand for a cement highway from The Oval at Grand Haven to the Holland dock," now under construction, the state party, which if linked would make an excellent scenic drive.

"The plan would be to build it along the sand dunes continuing from Grand Haven over Sheldon Road. This would put the resort property on either side of a highway of extreme beauty as it travels in the heart of some of the loveliest country in Michigan and by its protection in the hills would be of little upkeep cost as compared with a road laid along the beach.

Mr. Bowen is of the opinion that a highway along the beach would be impracticable. It would cost a big sum to clear it every year, would take away much privacy wanted by the cottage resident, and tap property on one side only on which assessments could be made.

"This road has long been the dream of those living in that section, realizing as they do the beauty which it would disclose to the average tourist, the properties it would develop and the relief it would be to the trunk line US-31."

PHEASANTS EAT CUT WORMS
A farmer in Ontario thought that the pheasants were eating his corn. The game department killed two of the birds and examined their crops, in which were found 200 cut worms and no corn. It is a well known fact that pheasants prefer insects to grain food whenever they can get them.

FORMER SHERIFF WAS ONCE
HARDWARE DEALER

The first democratic sheriff, Jose Ver Planke who 50 years ago was elected from Holland on a visit here, stated that at one time he was a hardware dealer at Cooperville. He had as his partner the late Jacob Vander Veen of Grand Rapids whose funeral was held Friday.

In 1878 fire burned the main street of Cooperville, including the hardware store and the partners never rebuilt, fire dissolving the partnership.

OTTAWA MAN
RUNS DOWN A SMALL CHILD

For the third time in two days a child suffered a skull fracture in Grand Rapids today, when a machine driven by Raymond Leestma, 20, of Hildenville, struck and seriously injured Elaine Lumsden, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lumsden of 323 Grandville avenue, SW, and also injured her sister, Evelyn, 16, a student at South high school.

The accident occurred at Grandville avenue and Wealthy street SW, Grand Rapids.

The girls were crossing at the intersection when the car bore down upon them, running over Elaine and dragging Evelyn several feet. The younger girl was under the machine when Leestma brought it to a stop, and her sister immediately attempted to drag her from beneath it.

As soon as the car was rescued Leestma is said to have climbed back into the machine and driven away without offering to take the injured children to the hospital or leaving his name and address. Later he reported the accident at police headquarters and is said to have declared he was not aware he had struck anyone.

The girls whose parents were at church at the time of the accident, were taken to St. Mary's hospital.

Elaine suffered a fractured skull, deep cuts about the head and inside of the mouth and severe bruises about the body. Thick vomit was ejected from her mouth and she remained unconscious after the accident. Evelyn was bruised about the legs and body.

HOPE TEAM
BADLY BEATEN
ON SATURDAY

A fighting Hope team went down today before a powerful Albion football team. Coach Schouten's boys however put up a fine band of football in spite of the heavy odds against them. The first half found Albion with a 6-0 advantage the result of a lucky kick towards the end of the first quarter. The second half found Hope's three yard line in remarkable fashion, but the strain began to tell in the second half, when Albion put over four more touchdowns.

On the quarter opened with Albion kicking off to Kleis on his 15 yd. line. After failing to gain, Hope punted to Albion, Goldberg fumbled and Nettinga of Hope recovered. Hope again punted and Nettinga was injured on the play, which later netted his removal from the game. A series of end runs Albion carried the ball to the Hope 39 yd. line when they were stopped. On an exchange of punts Hope lost 3 yards but gained 15 yards a moment later when Albion was penalized for tripping.

In possession of the ball on its own 225 yard line, Russ Japinga's punt was blocked by an Albion man who fell on the ball on the 3 yard line. Goldberg scored a touchdown for Albion after two attempts. Schuler failed at a plankline for the extra point.

On the kickoff, John Winter was injured and was removed from the game. The remainder of the quarter found the ball seessing up and down in the middle of the field without any side showing a marked advantage.

The second half opened with Hope kicking off to Albion. It was here that Hope began to gain. A Hope man blocked an Albion punt and fell on the ball on Albion's 35 yard line. An end run by Kleis and some fine work by Russ Japinga found Hope on the 11 yard line, trying for a touchdown. The return of the Albion first string men to the game meant the failure of Hope to further penetrate the line. Albion punted out of danger. On the exchange of punts Albion launched an offensive drive that opened with 40 yard pass and a touchdown, but the try for the extra point failed. Shortly before the end of the quarter Albion scored again and added the extra point.

The fourth quarter was a repetition of the third. The Albion outfit filled the air with passes a large percentage of which were successful. On a series of passes Albion scored another touchdown but again failed at the try for the extra point. Albion's last touchdown was the result of two end runs and another pass after which they again failed to kick the goal for the additional point.

WOMAN WEARS
TEETH 62 YEARS

Hub Harrington and daughter, Miss Lula, have just returned from Water Town, New York, where they attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. M. Worthington who died at the ripe old age of 82.

Mr. Harrington in speaking of his mother's sister stated that she started to sing in the M. E. church choir there when she was a girl of sweet sixteen. She was a good singer in her day and continued her singing in the choir until she was 81 years old. She was compelled to get a set of false teeth early in life and her first and only set was purchased 62 years ago and when Mrs. Worthington was buried a week ago, she wore the false teeth.

HOLLAND COLONY PLAYS PART IN STATE AFFAIRS

Immigration to America has become a great problem at present but it appears that in the earlier days the question was not so vexing as now.

Restrictive immigration laws have had the attention of Congress these later years. Laws for the admission of only selective aliens, and the number to be admitted annually from each country specifically designated. In the early days of Michigan's statehood, every Governor, in messages to the legislature, stressed the advisability of encouraging immigration and none suggested restrictions.

It appears that Dr. Van Raalte and his little band were very welcome in Michigan.

The first reference of a Michigan governor to emigrants of a particular European country was by Epaphrodite Hanson according to Mr. Fitzgibbon of the Detroit News. According to old documents at the state capitol at Lansing Governor Ransom in a message Jan. 3, 1848, made special reference to immigration of the Dutch.

The reference was to the colony of Hollanders who had settled in the county of Ottawa, near Lake Michigan, remote from the inhabited parts of the country. Their language is the low Dutch, they are ignorant of our venacular tongue, and few persons in our state can act as interpreters for them. They are known in a thickly timbered region, without roads, without mills, without mails, without magistrates or police regulations of any kind, and, indeed, without most of the facilities and conveniences of our civilization. It is possibly necessary to civilized life, even in its humblest condition.

Ask No Charity
"Still they ask not private charity, nor do they solicit appropriation from the public treasury. But they do invoke the interposition of state legislation so far as to extend to them the benefits of an organized township government, and of such organization and construction as will afford them access to mills, merchants, mechanics and postoffices.

"They are a hardy, industrious, frugal, moral and religious people of what is denominated the Free Church of Holland, and like the Pilgrims of 1620, came to this country to escape intolerance of their own religion and in quest of liberty of conscience, where no alliance exists between the church and state and where the church may be permitted to worship God in their own way. This colony now numbers 2,000 souls; and it is believed, will be increased annually by thousands of their countrymen should they receive the fostering care of our government and tokens of welcome and encouragement from our people. I recommend the organization of a township which shall embrace the principal purchases made by these colonists. They have never no government save the laws of religion and the rules of their church."

ZEELAND BEATEN BY HEAVY SCORE

Zeeland high school was defeated by the heavy Allegan eleven Saturday 40-7. Forward passes and crossbacks featured the contest. In the opening frame Allegan received the kickoff on a series of plays. Allegan worked the ball over in the first quarter was 18-0 for Allegan.

In the second quarter both teams tried to outdo the other in offside penalties. Allegan again marched forward for a touchdown.

With the opening of the 3rd quarter both teams battled for supremacy. Allegan took the kickoff. Zeeland received the ball on downs. Allegan took the ball, tried a forward pass.

"Like" Van Hastina, left half back, snared a pass, ran 30 yards for Zeeland's only touchdown. In the same period Capt. Meanty of Albion took a kickoff from Bernie Bouwman of Zeeland, captured the oval on the twenty yard line. Meanty straight armed, dodged and twisted himself clear of tacklers, scoring a touchdown.

In the closing frame of the game both teams were battling on a par. Neither could score. Captain Moeke and Shorty De Young featured for Zeeland with heavy games for the Zeelanders. Gulick and Tripp were the heavy ground gainers for the Hornets.

Friday Zeeland will meet the strong Ottawa Hills eleven at Grand Rapids. This will be the first time this season that the locals will meet a team in their class.

Prof. Albert Raap, Miami, Fla., has declined the offer to become principal of Northwestern Classical academy at Orange City, Ia. Mr. Raap had been connected with the faculty of Hope college as professor of Dutch language and literature and later as educational agent for 22 years. He resigned two years ago.

ALLEGAN COUNTY
MURDERER GIVES
FULL CONFESSION

Prosecutor Pell of Allegan County has in his possession a written confession from Geo. Broadhurst, the man who clubbed to death Geo. Garrett, who, he claims, stole his wife's love and openly associated with her in public places, even taking her to dances in Pullman.

In his confession Broadhurst goes into the details of the killing. He says:

"My name is George Broadhurst. I am 30 years old. I have been informed of my constitutional rights and that I need make no statement and that anything I say may be used against me in court. I make this statement without promise of reward or inducement of any kind whatever. I have known George Garrett for several years. I used to live near Pullman, Allegan county, Michigan. He has been taking my wife around for several months and she has been at his place several times. I told him to leave her alone and he promised me several times that he would keep away from her and would avoid her as much as he could. About a month ago my wife was supposed to come home about six o'clock one night and she didn't come. ELIJAH HEARS GOD'S VOICE

LESSON TEXT—1 Kings 19.
GOLDEN TEXT—Wait on the Lord, be of good courage, and He shall strengthen thine heart.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Elijah Hears God's Voice.
JUNIOR TOPIC—God Encourages Elijah.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Listening to God's Voice.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How God Speaks to Men.

1. Elijah's Flight (vv. 1-14).
Upon Ahab's return from the excitement on Mount Carmel, he told his wife all that Elijah had done, that even all his prophets had been hewn to pieces by the sword. This so enraged her that she sent a message of death to Elijah, who seems to have been waiting at the gate (vv. 1, 2). Though Elijah had courageously stood before the king and the priests of Baal, he now cowered before this woman, and fled for his life. Let us beware when we think we stand, we fall (1 Cor. 10:12).

2. Elijah under the juniper tree (vv. 3-7). The juniper tree was a shrub of the desert which afforded shelter and protection to travelers from the burning sun by day and the cold wind by night.
(1) His request (v. 4): This was that he might die. This was no doubt a foolish thing for him to say, but let us be as considerate toward him as was God. The discouragements, and even despondency, of Elijah, was due to the nervous strain of about four years of unusual service for God, which culminated on Mount Carmel. Such nervous reaction is to be expected, and surely the heart of this lesson will be missed unless we see it in that light, and see God's tenderness toward His overworked servant.

(2) God's tender treatment (vv. 5-7). a. He gave him sleep (v. 5). "He giveth His beloved sleep" (Ps. 127:2). b. He sent an angel to cook Elijah's meal (v. 7). The angel of the Lord is usually understood to be the second member of the Holy Trinity. If this be correct, then we see Jehovah-Jesus preparing food for His servant Elijah, as He afterward did for His discouraged disciples by Galilee (John 21:19).

BLACK RIVER IS TO BE STOCKED WITH MANY BLACK BASS

Mr. James McGilvray of the department of education of the state conservation department was in Holland a few months ago and made a personal survey of Black river to determine whether it is suitable for the black bass. He did this work at the request of the Holland Game and Fish Protective association, which wanted to stock the stream if conditions warranted.

Taking into consideration the removal of pollution resulting from the installation of the city sewerage disposal plant, Mr. McGilvray was of the opinion that Black river can support thousands of small mouth bass. He recommended that land owners along the river plant willows at the water's edge for shade and protection. Some planting has already been done and it is hoped that every farmer will stick a few willow branches into the bank of the river this fall. The rearing pond fostered by the local club will turn out several thousands of young bass next season and the members are endeavoring to interest all local fishermen and non-fishermen as well in the value of good fishing in Black River.

If a stream has the reputation of 'good fishing,' visitors come from far and near. Lucky is the community which owns such a stream, for fishing visitors are free spenders. With an expert such as Mr. McGilvray giving a favorable opinion on Black river and with a rearing pond capable of restocking the stream every year, Holland fishermen should be jubilant.

Work will start on the first pond in a couple of weeks and it is planned to complete the necessary rearing pond to build at least one dam before weather sets in. The actual construction work is quite simple and can be done with road scrapers and a small force of men. A small amount of concrete work is necessary and the conservation department has furnished blue prints and instructions for all the details concerning the placing of drainage valves, cover flow boxes, etc.

BECOMES BRIDE OF ZEELAND MAN

Miss Gertrude Geerling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Geerling, 17th St., became the bride of Henry Lokers of Zeeland, at an impressive ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. John Minnema of Vriesland, brother-in-law of the bride, performed the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of beaded white georgette over white satin and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Janet Geerling attended her sister, wearing pink georgette trimmed with gold lace and carrying a bouquet of pink and white asters and maidenhair fern.

Mr. Gerrit Lokers attended his brother as best man. A lap supper was served to about 50 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Lokers will reside on West 14th Street.

Well Known Holland Woman Passes

Mrs. Agnes St. Clair died at Bledgett hospital, Grand Rapids early Saturday morning after an illness of some duration.

Mrs. St. Clair was born December 4, 1863, and departed from this life on October 1, 1927.

Mrs. St. Clair has been a resident of this city for the past thirty years and has been a very active member of the local and national W. C. T. U. and other organizations. She was a very devout Christian lady having united in early life with the M. E. church in which she has served very faithfully.

Two daughters survive, Mrs. R. T. Hayden and Mrs. Carl Shaw, both residing in Holland; a sister, Mrs. Maggie Revenaugh, and one brother Mr. Orrin Curtis.

The funeral took place from the late home 282 Van Raalte Ave. Monday, Oct. 1, 1927, at 2:30 p. m. Rev. J. C. Willis, pastor of the local M. E. church officiating.

Gathering at the dining rooms of the Hotel Macatawa, Hope's class of 31 held one of the peopliest parties on record Friday night, when 130 wearers of the gown enjoyed a supper and program together, a happy occasion begun at the annual turn-out of the members awakened considerable comment and praise, there being only a small percent absent from the supper.

An impromptu program was presented after the Frosh had partaken of a generous supper prepared by Mrs. Hub Boone's Division of the Ladies Aid of 3rd church. The menu which the ladies offered consisted of mashed potatoes, veal birds, scalloped corn, celery, and jelly. Buttered rolls and coffee were followed by peach shortcake with whipped cream, a supper that whetted the appetite of every Frosh present.

Mr. George Damson, a popular Hope graduate, who holds a position in the Peoples State Bank, started things off right with songs and yells. Mr. Damson has quite a reputation as a song leader, the Lions Club claiming him for their own at present. A style show of exquisite old-fashioned gowns, and also of gowns not yet designed, was won by Mr. Lester Ego, with his unbeatable version of "Tillie, the Toiler." The menu and programs showed a huge owl which quoth, "The Frosh may be green, but so is the governor."

Stellema Yarn Does a Lindy Across Atlantic

The Stellema story has done a Lindy across the Atlantic and has arrived safely in Paris. A Holland man, who is in Europe at present, sends the Sentinel a copy of a Paris newspaper in which, under a Holland, Michigan, dateline, the Stellema incident is narrated. The Holland citizen bought a paper soon after he had settled back in his seat on the boat train in Paris and the first item he caught his eye was a story with a Holland dateline.

Federated Bible Classes Hold Meeting

The attendant members of the eight federated adult bible classes, 232 in number, were welcomed by the president of the entertaining class, Mrs. Hovings, after Mrs. Gertrude Boer had led in the devotions. Mrs. Peter Clagh, the presiding officer introduced the speaker for the evening, Rev. E. Tanis, who had for his subject "Worthy of the Word."

He spoke of the great value of the printed and the written word and the storm center it had created in the past. Of its beauties along its poetry, eloquence, history, science, ethics and doctrine. He further spoke of the persecution believers of this word suffered in the early church and the death at the stake of Lyndall for its translation in the English language, and its distribution among the common people.

The question for us is are we worthy of that Word whose sacrifice for? Do we practice it freely, are we sincere, do we send it to others? Special music was furnished by Mrs. P. Lieverse and Miss Spoelstra who sang "Seek Ye the Lord" and a duet by Mrs. Gravenge and Mrs. Van Vliet.

A social hour followed enjoying ice cream and cake.

LAKE SUICIDE MAY BE HUSBAND OF N. Y. WOMAN

Mrs. A. J. Kuhn of New York City was in Holland Friday investigating the death of the man found on the beach at Zeeland, Oct. 14th. Mrs. Kuhn stated that her husband left her and her small son, three years ago in Baltimore, where he was employed as a meat packer. About two months ago she received word from relatives in Chicago that they had seen Kuhn in that city.

The man found dead had a note in his pocket indicating that he committed suicide and a ticket on his person showed that he had left Chicago on a Goodrich boat.

Handwriting and a picture seem to prove that the man buried here are those of A. J. Kuhn.

Coroner Gilbert Vander Water and Deputy Beckman are awaiting further reports from Mrs. Kuhn before the remains are exhumed.

FORMER HOLLAND MAN IS HONORED IN THE SOUTH

Jackson, Miss., Daily News: Rev. Henry K. Pasma, who came to Charleston five years ago from Lynden, Washington, and has occupied the post of Presbyterian minister in Charleston for the past five years, has departed by automobile for Rockville, Md., where he has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church of that city.

The church people of Charleston of all denominations regret to give up Mr. Pasma, as he was considered one of the leading preachers in this community. His sermons were orthodox, yet revealed scientific and scholarly preparation, and he fought in whatever form it appeared and whenever it was found. His departure from Charleston represents a great loss in the forces of righteousness.

A farewell party was given at the local A. H. S. Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. Pasma and his family, which was attended by practically the entire Presbyterian congregation and many other friends. On the occasion music was furnished by Messrs. Leon Wilson and Phil Pontor and Messrs. L. A. Alworth and W. V. Taber, with Mrs. S. R. Evans at the piano. Short talks of appreciation were made by Messrs. Jim Mount, John Eykendaal, John K. Kuitert, Mrs. J. R. Fawell and Miss Kenneth Sayles.

The minister himself, expressed regret over this departure from his congregation, but this call to Rockville, he explained, offers a splendid opportunity for taking a post graduate course at George Washington University, Rockville being only a short distance from the city of Washington and its great university.

GOOD SHOWING IS MADE BY THE HOLLAND FAIR

Secretary Arendshorst, at a directors' meeting of the Holland fair, made a tentative statement to the members of the board giving some idea as to the financial condition, the building program during 1927, and the gain made over 1926. The gross receipts were $23,150.42. There has been a gain made over expenses of $2,613.42. During the year there have been in the way of permanent improvements new horse barns, new floral department, a ladies rest room, remodeling underneath the grandstand, addition to the cattle barns at the total cost of $8,095.90.

The track has also been relaid and resealed, making the best half mile track in the state. There were 85 new horse entries this year and not all owner or a driver made a kick on the better quarters that have been provided for this speedy horse flesh. The location of the stables is ideal, away from the mad rush of the public and fair concessions in a shady grove.

The track too was the cause of much praise. However, with the Community fair joining the big association as it did the past year, such improvements were imperative. The annual meeting of the Community fair association is to be held early in November when many things of interest are to be brought up and a detailed report is to be issued.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Fay Portney, 12 W. 16th St., a nine pound boy, Paul Eugene.

A FORMER HOPE STUDENT DIES IN TOKYO, JAPAN

From the far east word has been received by Mr. A. Oltman, a former resident of Holland, but for years a missionary in Japan, that his oldest son Harvey died suddenly, the cause of his death being heart failure. It is stated that the son was unexpectedly stricken. All was done that was possible to save the young man but he succumbed to the severe attack.

Harvey Oltman was 39 years old. He had been a student at Hope college at one time and completed his education at the University of Michigan, where he distinguished himself in his career as an athlete on the football squad. Returning to Japan, he joined the staff of the American embassy and was for many years, during the ambassadorship of Mr. Morris, Mr. Warren and Mr. Woods, connected with the chancellery of the embassy, after which he joined the Japan Times staff.

For some time he acted as an interpreter in official circles. He was well versed in both the Japanese and English languages. Complete accounts of Mr. Oltman's life appeared in various Japanese newspapers, as well as an article by Demaree C. Bess, of the general headquarters of the International News service of New York city, who speaks of the deceased as having been the best known newspaper man in Tokyo.

He was a well known figure in athletic circles and on the courts of the Tokyo Tennis club he had held for many years the doubles championship at the T. T. C. while at Karuzawa he was many times in charge of the tennis matches and umpired the games.

He is survived by both his father and mother and two sisters in Tokyo, as well as three brothers in America. One of the brothers is Gordon Oltman, who, when here, was one of the most popular students at both Holland high and Hope college. Gordon Oltman also was an athlete in his school and college days in Holland.

Overisel Pastor Installed Friday Night

The installation of Rev. W. Fyle took place at Overisel Friday night. On request Rev. Vandenberg of Zeeland presided and read the form and Rev. Harry Hager of Hope college delivered the sermon.

Rev. John Van Persum of Zeeland gave the pastors charge, while Rev. Roggen of Hamilton charged the congregation.

The church was well filled and the congregation is overly pleased that they now have a new pastor after considerable wait.

Mr. Fyle will speak his first sermon next Sunday. The former pastor was Rev. Morris Stegeman, now in Iowa.

Coopersville Man Elected President of Kennel Club

Timmer of Grand Rapids, secretary, and Dr. H. A. Dengler of this city treasurer. Two directors, W. A. Ring of Ada and Fred C. Sanford of Grand Rapids, were chosen.

The event of next spring will be a bona fide American Kennel club show, and will bring to Grand Rapids all of the leading breeders on the big time circuit.

It was said last night that the local club will extend an invitation to Alfred Payson Terhune, author and outstanding dog fancier, to act as a judge in the April show.

SKILL OF DOGS TO BE SHOWN AT ALLEGAN

The eighth annual field trials of the Wolverine Beagle club will be held in Allegan the week of October 10 to 15. The Kennels will be located at the fairgrounds, as usual, and the bench show will be held in one of the buildings there, Wednesday evening.

The show is free to the public. It is invited to attend not only the bench show but the field trials as well.

From advance entries it is expected that the trials will exceed all past records. Entries may be made up to the time of drawing, so that it is impossible to tell the exact number of dogs which will compete.

The trials are all under the American Kennel club. No game is killed, nor is any shooting permitted. The trials are merely contests showing the skill of the dogs in running the rabbits.

Mounted judges and owners of the dogs competing follow as close as possible. Winners of each event will be given prizes according to their class.

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN FOSTER FISH NURSE BY PROJECT

Supervisor of Rearing Ponds Henry Schull of Grand Rapids explained to a group of Holland fishermen recently, the policy of the State Conservation Dept. as regards the raising of game fish, and stocking the streams and lakes of Michigan. For years it has been the custom to take the newly hatched fish, or fry, direct to the water which is to be stocked. Careful checking of results proved to the commissioner that an alarming percentage of these tiny fish fall prey to natural enemies at a time when they were unable to protect themselves.

Facilities at the state hatcheries allow for the hatching of millions and millions of eggs, but it would be manifestly impossible to keep the fry at the hatcheries for several months until they could grow to fighting size. As they grow, more and more water is needed, and the hatcheries would have to be increased to many times their present size.

A few local sportsmen's clubs were interested, and ponds were constructed where the fry could grow unmolested throughout the summer months. From the first, the plan was successful, and now these rearing ponds are being built all over the state.

Mrs. Henry Schull of Grand Rapids is supervising this work of the Conservation Dept., and has looked over the property to be developed by the Holland Game and Fish Protective Association, located between Holland and Zeeland on M-21. About four acres can be utilized for raising bass and blue gills and Mr. Schull is very enthusiastic about the site. The State Geologist, Mr. George Smith, has also been called on and has viewed the property. He O. E'd it 100 per cent.

This means that Holland and vicinity will soon be raising tens of thousands of game fish each year for use in stocking out lakes and rivers.

Mrs. Meyer, Red Cross Nurse Inspects School Children

The West Drenthe school was inspected Friday by the Red Cross nurse, Mrs. Marjorie H. Meyer. She reports that the school building is unusually attractive, built of gray stone and with nicely finished woodwork inside. The two rooms are separated with a hollid door that can be raised to make the two rooms one. The lighting is good in both rooms. Adjustable seats are needed, and also a sing where the children can wash their hands before eating. The teacher, Miss Dena Horlings and Mr. Manuel Huyser, supervise the children's play and join with them, and are thus able to come closer to the pupils and be more helpful to them in their every day problems.

The result of the inspection showed 29 percent, 20 with decayed teeth, 7 with tonsils that look bad, 8 with nose obstruction, 3 show eye strain and 15 are 10 per cent or more underweight. Only 2 are in apparently perfect condition.

Mrs. Meyer gave a health talk and urged them especially to keep their fingers out of their mouths. She advised them to avoid their fingers and even to slap them when they caught them at such tricks. "And it is quite as bad," she said, "to eat food with unwashed hands. For the food that is touched, of course, becomes soiled from the fingers. No one knows how many head troubles come to us through the germs and dirt we feed ourselves from our fingers."

Miss Elizabeth Lindsey of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller at Jenison Park returned to her home in the west Friday.

Apple Crop Is Smallest In Past Six Years

Prospects that the apple crop this year will be the smallest since 1921, and, excepting that year, the smallest in 30 years, are reported by the bureau of agricultural economics, in a special summary of the situation.

Early fall frosts are endangering the crop in some districts, and from an expected total of 26,200,000 barrels on July 1, estimates of the commercial crop have been reduced to 23,400,000 barrels, or scarcely similar reductions have been made for the commercial crop in Canada, where less than 3,000,000 barrels are expected.

Total apple production in the United States was forecast in September at 123,600,000 bushels, or more than half of last year's bumper crop.

MANUFACTURING GRAND HAVEN ALSO LOOKING UP

The Sentinel a few days ago pointed out that Holland has considerable activities in the factories, that some are working 12 hours a day and one manufacturer could boost of a large volume of business than at any time in the history of the establishment.

It appears now that Grand Haven is also industrially active.

The Grand Haven Tribune talks of the strumming of hammers and the singing of tauntly drawn wires in the Story and Clark Piano Company, where more than 100 men have been added to the force.

Mr. J. W. Eaton says the only trouble is to find enough trained men for skilled positions.

The Eagle Ottawa Tannery is also spoken of as busy place with an increase of output and labor of 25 per cent over three months ago.

The paper goes on to say that there is an upper trend of business in Grand Haven in nearly every line but it seems to be most marked in leather and pianos.

Relative to pianos the Tribune says: "This week pianos have been going out at the rate of 21 a day. The capacity is 30 and the management is eager to bring out the put to that rate, with an aim of 40."

"Dozens of telegrams a day are asking for merchandise, and the wires are kept humming with frantic efforts to get materials here to supply the eager demand for pianos of dealers from Texas to New York City."

"Few people realize perhaps that Grand Haven is manufacturing a product high up in the piano trade of the country. There are two kinds of pianos made here ranging in price from the beautiful handpainted French style costing $2,800 to the plain upright at $450."

Not only are manufacturing plants in Holland and Grand Haven more active but there seems to be a trend upward in other cities according to the State papers.

It has been rather slow in coming but a start has been made and trust surely is very encouraging, for the United States never stops with a start.

RAIN WILL NOT HURT THE BEAN HARVEST

Serious doses from rains during bean harvest may be avoided by the use of the McNaughton system of curing the beans, according to an announcement by the farm crops department at Michigan State college. The system is being tried in Allegan County.

This system provides for the stacking of the beans from eight windrows around posts placed at such intervals that there will be from eight to twelve of the small stacks per acre. A pad of straw is placed on the ground at the base of each post before the beans are piled about the post.

Four men can stack 12 to 20 acres of beans a day and the beans can remain in these stacks until it is convenient to move them.

INDUSTRY IS MOVING WEST IT APPEARS

In January 1908, the center of industry in the United States was in the northern boundary of Indiana, about 110 miles east of Chicago. In January 1918, it was still on the northern boundary of Indiana but had moved about 53 miles nearer to Chicago. In January, 1926, it had moved 25 miles to the southwest of its position in 1918 and was about 10 miles southwest of Chicago. The total movement in the 18 years from 1908 to 1926 was about 75 miles in a west by south direction. This slow movement of the center of industry during a period when the capacity of prime movers in central states and manufacturing plants increased about 140 per cent indicates that industrial development in the United States is proceeding at about the same rate in all sections but a trifle more rapidly in the western and southern parts of the country.

These determinations of the center of industry, which have been made by the Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, are based on the capacity of steam engines, steam turbines, water wheels, and internal combustion engines installed in manufacturing plants and in public utility power plants, as it is used twice as much as power equipment in manufacturing plants. Previous determinations of the center of industry have been based on the installed capacity of prime movers in manufacturing plants only. It is believed that more representative results are obtained by using the capacity of power equipment in both manufacturing and public-utility plants.

The geographic center of the United States is near the center of the northern boundary of Kansas, and the center of population is in Owen County, southwestern Indiana. The center of industry of the United States in 1926 was therefore 60 miles east by north of the geographic center and about 170 miles due north of the center of population.

Among the first to be mentioned in the "Who's Who" in Saugatuck would be Jay D. Myers, veteran woodsman, lumberjack and riverman who for the past 25 years has run the old chain ferry across Kalamazoo river.

Especially popular is Mr. Myers during the summer season and the hundreds of visitors who ride back and forth soon become acquainted with the genial pilot. He entertains the passengers with many a true historic story of the early Indians and pioneer days of Michigan; the children love him and call him Grand Jay.

Mr. Myers was born in Rochester, N. Y., in 1856. His father owned boats on the canal so his love of the river is unborn. He is the soul of jollity and courtesy and Saugatuck would lose much of its charm should Mr. Myers not be found at the ferry each summer to extend greeting to his many friends.

Dr. Davidson Tells of a Visit To Haunts of Thomas Moore, The Irish Poet, In the Bermudas

(From The Brooklyn Eagle)

By The Rev. Thomas W. Davidson

Bermuda! Beautiful by night, or day, any skies and sunshine are most wondrous fair;

Soft are thy breezes borne from far away

Laden with perfumes that are rich and rare.

Islands of Oleaner! Isles of Rest! Thy loveliness can never be fully told;

To thee this pilgrim turns with eager quest

That he may find Romance like those of old;

Thy flowers, thy trees, thy walks, awake the past.

The Poet-Lover lives his life anew: Moore is not dead, but lives while Time shall last,

And Nea wanders still through paths of dew.

Bermuda! Coral Islands of the Sea, My thoughts and dreams shall oft-times turn to thee.

It was in the Gulf Stream on the good ship Fort St. George of the furthest Bermuda Line after spending a delightful eight days in Bermuda that almost semi-unconsciously I wrote the sonnet with which this article begins. Sunny memories of the entire trip, covering a period of 12 days, were crowding upon me and it seemed rather to be thinking about than writing of set purpose.

Everyone has heard of Bermuda, but few know its beauty and romantic story. The Bermudas—all told—are only 20 square miles in area, that is about one-fourth the size of Staten Island. It is said that there are 365 islands in the group—one for every day in the year—but only some five or six are of interest and importance. These are strung together most fittingly in the form of a fishhook, with the stem pointed northeast and the curve to southwest. They are situated almost 700 miles from New York, 800 miles from the nearest of the West Indies and some 300 miles from the southern edge of the Gulf stream.

The Bermudas are isolated in the Atlantic and, with the single exception of St. Helena, are perhaps the most remote islands from any country to do their work in the world. They are built by coral insects on the peaks of submerged mountains the relic of some pre-historic upheaval. The peaks though submerged, were near enough to the surface to permit the coral insects to do their work of building.

It is of interest to know that Bermuda is the most northerly point at which the coral insect is known to carry on its work and survive.

What is Bermuda like? Bermuda is picturesque charming, fairytale. It is a country of cedars, oleaners, lilies, while under its cliffs the winds and waves have worn out wonderful caves that are decorated by nature with a lavish yet artistic hand. The blue of the sky, the blue of the water and the white houses built of coral at first almost dazzle one, but relief comes in the glorious background of green found all over the island. The late John Collins Rose—who loved Bermuda—has written of it as follows:

Here cactus over cedar crawls, And maidenhair makes coral walls, And candles in glory drest, Blaze sunlight from their secret nest. Here ocean's frowns change into smiles, And wanton waves kiss countless isles, And fish of rainbow color stray, Chameleons-changers, in each bay.

It was on Wednesday morning, August 3, that our party of more than 300 left New York for "The Oleaner Isles." New York harbor and the Manhattan skyline both looked their best.

One of the pleasures of travel is the friendships that are formed on board the ship. There were some half dozen clergymen of various denominations on the vessel and at least three of us became a little more than "ships that pass in the night." One of the three was a scholarly Catholic priest, the second a gifted Jewish rabbi and the third a writer of the story a minister of the Dutch Reformed church. We told college stories, discussed English literature and compared our methods of parish work until in the end it became a small conference on the lines of the larger one a week later at Lausanne. It is simply amazing how much we had in common.

First Glimpse of Bermuda

Early on Friday morning Bermuda was first seen by us some 20 miles away, rising out of the waters on every side. The islands—all connected—looked lovely in the early morning sun. Even our ship's doctor admitted that only once before had he seen them to better advantage. As we looked at the vision of beauty, one could only murmur the lines written by a poet of the past century whose early home was in Brooklyn—Herbert Wolcott Bowen:

Bermuda thou dost seem to be A Venus rising from the sea, With peerless power in every part To charm the mind and thrill the heart.

If Nature could her thoughts convey In human speech, she'd surely say: The beauty that to thee is given Combines the best of earth and heaven.

Bermuda is indeed worthy of being celebrated in song and story. Nor has the island missed its destiny. The poet thought of most frequently in connection with Bermuda is Thomas Moore, the national bard of Ireland. It is of interest to know that one of the smaller islands of the Bermudas is named Ireland, or Little Ireland, which is known as the base of Great Britain's North Atlantic fleet. Moore lived in Bermuda for four or five months in the first decade of the 19th Century and while there in a letter to his mother, said that he had never felt better or happier in his life than in the Bermudas and that it was "almost impossible for one to be ill in these delicious islands."

Haunts of Thomas Moore

One of the most delightful of experiences is to follow the haunts of Moore in the island and to visit the house he lived in. It is still a charming old residence and some day in the near future I hope it will be purchased by the Bermudian government and opened freely to all lovers of the poet's memory. The romantic scenery near St. George kindled the poet's fancy but there seems to have been a touch of real romance in Moore's life during his residence there. The lovely and fascinating Nea, it would appear, captured his affections, and in one of his "Odes to Nea" he pleads: Nay, tempt me not to love again, There was a time when love was sweet; Dear Nea! Had I known thee then Our souls had not been slow to meet.

The old manor house in which Nea lived may be seen in St. George at the head of "Old Maid's Lane" now also, tumbling into ruin and decay. But Moore has immortalized the entire district, including the Nea of his early dreams. The old walks are as fresh and a snail as ever.

Communion Service Gift of King

The city of St. George is fascinating to the lover of the past. Here is buried the heart of the gallant admiral, Sir George Somers, whose widow may enterprise the first settlement of Bermuda is due. Here also may be seen an obelisk to his memory in the public gardens in which he is worthily commemorated. Here may be visited the old Parish Church, with its rich solid silver communion service presented by King William III of England and Queen Mary, and which is shown daily by the courteous rector to all visitors. St. George used to be the seat of government, but in recent years this has been transferred to the City of Hamilton, now the largest city on the island.

It was on the other side the bay from the City of Hamilton at Faverly (Head of the Waters) I stayed while on the island. It is a good center from which to visit all the places of interest, and the latter are manifold. One of our early trips was to the Marine Gardens, which were indeed an enriching experience. It is impossible to paint in words the beauty of the sea flowers and corals one may see through the glass-bottomed boat which glides slowly over the surface. Who could ever imagine such hidden glory? There may be seen the flowers of the sea with their exquisite sprays of many colored hues, stirred as if by a gentle breeze. Scarlet and green sponges pass in view, while coral in endless variety may be seen. To heighten this beauty fishes streaked with blue and gold glide gracefully through the water, or seek to hide their brilliancy in some nearby cave. Occasionally we glimpsed the bottom of a cave, fully forty feet below the surface, so limpid is the water.

Birds Eye View

John Ruskin was accustomed to tell his students that nature abhors a straight line. One would imagine that whoever laid out the Bermuda roads had this dictum in mind. They are very picturesque, but never straight more than a few dozen rods. There are no fences, but stone walls on every side all covered with some sort of foliage or flowers.

These houses are built of coral rock. I have watched the workmen saw out the coral in large blocks, and occasionally been permitted to take a hand at the task. The coral is precious, yet it packs firmly and makes a most comfortable home. Mark Twain in one of his graphic strokes said that the houses when completed resembled being on a cake. Indeed, the coral cottages look like little miniature Greek Temples.

No Autos to Dodge

There are no trains, no street cars, no buses, no automobiles. The roads are not wide enough for the latter and there are too many curves for safety. The popular mode of travel is the bicycle and horse carriage which has an ample awning to preserve the occupants from the direct rays of the sun. As for the people, they are very English both in their traditions and their descent. It is amazing with what facility the colored folk pick up the English accent and it must be amusing to English visitors, as it certainly is to Americans, to hear their very tones reproduced.

There is no poverty to be seen anywhere, no squalor, nothing suggestive of the slum. All the inhabitants look happy and well cared for. They are very proud of their lovely island, and indeed they well may be. Nowhere in the world are the taxes lighter than in these islands. There is no income tax. The land owners in the nine parishes pay with regularity some small parish dues.

Many Links

One of the peculiar features in Bermuda is that it seems to rain out of a clear sky. One must watch the sea if he desires to avoid the showers. There is a hot sun, but no humidity, and the air is cooled, even at the height of summer, by the breezes that blow from far away and the showers that are so welcome on every hand. One feels on the island as if he were on the deck of an ocean liner with the winds blowing over him from all points of the compass. As for the golf links, they are found in all parts of the island and it was with resolute pleasure I had the opportunity of playing on at least one of them.

It may not be unfitting to close these sunny memories with a brief quotation from one whose writings are highly esteemed in Bermuda, the late Charles Kingsley. He tells us that "Beauty is God's handwriting; a way-side sacrament. Welcome it in every fair face, fair sky fair flower and thank him for it, who is the author of all loveliness."

HISTORY OF ST. FRANCIS CHURCH IS TOLD IN A QUARTERLY

A quarterly just issued by Father Fred Ryan of St. Francis de Sales church a very interesting history of the foundation of this church in Holland is the one of the features. The resume was gotten out by Attorney Thomas N. Robinson, and Catholic priest who came to Holland when Father Marquette in a frail Dr. Van Raalte with a prayer on his lips wished the Indians God Speed Michigan. He relates the story of the first other hunting grounds.

ST. FRANCIS DE SALES CHURCH AND SCHOOL

The history of the Catholic church in Holland begins with the year 1670 when Father James Marquette first visited the shores of Black Lake. Later the early missionaries converted the Indians to the Catholic faith, and when the Dutch settlers arrived in 1847 they found the Ottawa Indians, then here, predominantly Catholic. Father Visoski, with headquarters at Grand Rapids, came on foot once or oftener to the "Old Mission" to say mass and administer the sacrament to his Indian charges. Two years later, when the success of the colony was assured, the hundred Indians then here left "en masse" taking from their cemetery on the side of the H. J. Heinz Company's plant the remains of their dead, loading them on a fleet of Mackinaws and setting sail for the North. There was no animosity, feud or trouble between the natives and the Dutch settlers, and on the day of their departure Dr. A. C. Van Raalte, the leader of the colony, and all the settlers, gathered on the shore and offered one solemn prayer giving the Indians God Speed.

Thereafter for many years the growth of the Catholic Church in Holland was invisible. Among the early arrivals was the family of James Ryder who came in 1870. The families of Fred Nye and Michael Seery were then here. Later the Doyle family came and shortly afterward came Mr and Mrs Ed O'Leary. Father George Nye, the first resident pastor of the parish, who died on May 19, 1924, was one of the sons of Fred Nye who was probably the first resident Catholic of the white race in Holland. Mr Nye took a prominent part in the civic life of this community.

Michael Seery was a very devout man. His home became the center of Catholic activity and for years Fathers Dalton, Murphy, Maus, and Eickelman, in turn, came here to say Mass and administer the sacraments. This occurred only three or four times a year and often the Catholic residents of Holland traveled by team to Grand Haven or Douglas to attend services.

With the arrival of the Whelans, the Halleys, the Fritches, the Detos and a few more families and the development of the local resorts the need for more regular services and for a church building became manifest. On August 7, 1903, a site on Twentieth street, west of the Van Raalte school, was selected and approved by Bishop Richter by reason of its nearness to the Interurban line, then serving the city and resorts. James S. Whelan, then manager of the Hotel Holland, and brother Nicholas J. Whelan, were the moving spirits in this enterprise. Father Eickelman was appointed by Bishop Richter to conduct weekly services which, while money was being raised and the church constructed, were held in De Grondwet hall.

On October 11, 1903, the cornerstone of the church was laid with impressive ceremony in the presence of nearly two thousand people. Bishop Schrembs, then the Very Rev. Joseph Schrembs, Vicar General of the Grand Rapids diocese, preached an eloquent sermon. On July 1, 1904, Rt. Rev. Joseph Richter conducted the dedication services. Father Schmidt of St. Mary's parish, Grand Rapids, now deceased, Fathers Gallagher and Schrembs, both now Bishops of the church, and Father Eickelman, also now deceased, all assisted in the ceremonies.

After several years many reasons manifested themselves for changing the location of the church to a more central point. At one time serious consideration was given to the erection of a church at Jenison Park for the convenience and accommodation of the summer visitors. This project was abandoned, however, afterwards the present location at the corner of 13th street and Maple Avenue was selected. This progressive move was made during the pastorate of Rev. George O. De Quoy, now pastor of the church at Bay City, Michigan, and the portion of the building now occupied for school purposes was then built and used as the church proper.

This change was not carried out without great hardship and sacrifice. To the qualities of leadership and perseverance of Bernard P. Donnelly can be attributed much that was accomplished at that time, but in calling the roll of the faithful and loyal who labored incessantly for the general good of the parish there is no safe place to stop: the list must include, besides those already mentioned, the names of Hamel, Paulus, O'Leary, Morelock, Damveld, Kelly, Van Braght and many others. Nor must it be forgotten that the Catholic people of Holland have always been favored by the generosity and good will of their non-Catholic neighbors in all of their endeavors for parish advancement. Instances of help and encouragement from their non-Catholic friends are too many to enumerate here. Father John Ruba, who succeeded Father De Quoy, was whole-souled in his energetic activities and has left a lasting impression on the spiritual and temporal affairs of the parish. The marked result of his labors in Holland produced parish unity in the best sense of the word.

The fourth year of the parish school has just closed. Under the leadership of Father George Nye the addition now used for chapel purposes was divided into four school rooms. School attendance of one hundred thirty-three for the past year proves the necessity for the school and justifies the splendid efforts of the Sisters of Mercy who have carried on the work of instruction with gratifying results.

The parish, under the direction of Rev. F. W. Ryan, may well, as it does, look forward to additional growth and expansion. As the needs arise they will be met through the carrying out of a program that far seeing eyes already visualize. No past sacrifice has been in vain and with the coming in to the parish of additional families whose members have sensed the conditions and needs of the Church in Holland, there is no room to imagine that the future will not be bright with achievement.

BURGLARS ROB SPRING LAKE BUSI- NESS PLACE

The Potter Garage in Spring Lake owned by Harry Potter was entered by thieves Thursday morning, some time after midnight and a quantity of tires, tubes and automobile accessories was taken.

Entrance was made through a side window on the unexposed west side of the building, which was broken, the thieves crawling through the broken pane.

They also attempted to break open the safe. Hack saws were used to remove the hinges, and an electric drill also came into play to get the big door off. The robbers were evidently not experienced yegmen or they would have known that a safe door cannot be removed by taking off the hinges, said an officer of the sheriff's department, who was called to the scene this morning.

They made their getaway through the side door, taking their plunder into a car it is thought. There were no special marks, the rain wiping out any tracks that might have helped some clue.

Another attempted robbery was discovered at the rear door of the Van Toll hardware store on East Washington street, Grand Haven, Thursday morning. Four large holes were bored in the door but due to the steel sheeting used between the wood construction the thieves became discouraged with the prospect.

Chief Pippel and his force are keeping an eye on the jewelry, drug and hardware stores that seem to be claiming the special attention of robbers just now.

This is the fourth robbery at Grand Haven with the last ten days. One jewelry store was robbed with the burglars forcing thru the roof and stealing $2,600 in jewelry. The police in all cases have no clues.
