Leonard Knoll Of Holland Is Now On Trial

JURY FOR MEAT DEALER'S
CASE HAS BEEN SELECTED
WITH MUCH DIFFICULTY

About half of the throng in the Ottawa County Court House for the past two days came from Holland and vicinity. The spacious court room is filled to overflowing and already at 8:30 a. m. the crowd was storming at the big doors that led to the court house. Some were making breakfast of apples, sandwiches and doughnuts, waiting for the court house doors to open. Seats are at a premium both in the Leonard Knoll and Gillette robbery cases.

Judge Miles admitted many more to the court room than Judge Vandenberg had in the Gillette case, saying he believed it the right of the respondent to be heard by the public. He warned them against any disturbance saying the case was not a show or entertainment.

It was only an hour after Willis Gillette had been found guilty that the case of Leonard D. Knoll, Holland meat dealer and grocer, charged with the same offense in connection with the Hudsonville case.

DID NOT FINISH
KNOLL CASE TODAY: WILL GO TO JURY FRIDAY NOON

The Knoll case did not go to the jury this evening as was expected. Defence Atty. Hoffman stated he had one more witness who could not be brought until Friday morning. Prosecuting Attorney John Dethmers and Attorney Carl Hoffman each took up part of the afternoon in presenting their respective sides of the case and will finish Friday morning.

It is expected that the case will go to the jury by noon Friday. Thursday afternoon Under-Sheriff Marvin Den Herder was called and Attorney Hoffman asked him a few pointed questions relative to the search he made of the Knoll market for the $500 claimed had been given Knoll by Kraai for the use of his automobile. The money was not found.

Perry Knoll, son of the accused man proved rather a poor witness, contradicting many statements made and it seemed he was constantly being confused by the cross-fire of questions by the attorneys.

Both Kraai and Alderink were recalled to the witness stand during the afternoon for further questioning.

Judge Miles adjourned court today at 5:30 o'clock to resume the case at 9 o'clock Friday morning.

Bank robbery was called by Judge Fred T. Miles of Holland. It was then 11:55 and the drawing of the jury began.

After nearly two hours both attorneys became satisfied with the jury after having rejected over half the men drawn by the clerk. Jurymen were called from among the spectators as the balance of the panel had been used in the Gillette case.

At one time during the jury selection, after the panel had been exhausted, Bailiff Jake Spangler ran out of names and was ordered to pick talsmen from the crowd, even though he didn't know their names. "The woman with the green hat, then," he said, and the designated candidate took her place in the box, later to be excused.

Many Grand Haven men are on the jury which includes the following: Frank Mourik, Robinson; Jacob K. Poel, Grand Haven; Cornelius Hokebe, Grand Haven; Rudolph O. Tenraer, John Fisher, Norman T. Isaac, William Byl, Ollie Niering, Isaac Vanden Belt of Grand Haven; Frank Bares, Grand Haven township; and Edward Keas, Chester.

Knoll took his place beside his attorney, Carl Hoffman, seemingly but little concerned with the grave charge placed against him. He has been under heavy bonds since his arrest and has been obliged to turn his business over to another at Holland.

He has lived in Holland some 30 years. He is a widower, his wife having died five years ago. He has ten children, six surviving.

This is the first time the man has ever been under arrest and although he is bearing up well, he admitted that the past few months had been an ordeal. Two daughters and a son were in the court room to listen to the trial.

Prosecuting Attorney John R. Dethmers, in his opening statement outlined the case the state expected to make against the middle-aged merchant, accusing Knoll as a party to the plans made by Willis Gillette, Kraai and Peters for robbing the Hudsonville bank.

Miss Gladys Corey, teller of the bank, was the first witness called. She repeated the story of events of the afternoon of July 28, when Kraai and Peters forced her and B. P. Stegeman, assistant cashier into the vault and to hand over $4,150. She said $3,518 had been returned to the bank, leaving $632 unaccounted for.

Peters was the second witness. He said he had no knowledge of the ownership of the automobile used in the holdup, nor to whom Kraai gave the $500 which he (Peters) turned over to be paid the owner of the car. He said the name of Knoll was not mentioned; he did not see where Kraai went at the time which, according to Kraai's later testimony, the latter is supposed to have entered the meat market. He said he did not know the name of Knoll nor had he seen the respondent until Knoll's arrest. Peters under cross examination, said no license numbers were changed.

Peter and Kraai agreed that Willis Gillette took them to the place near the Knoll market where the car, alleged to belong to Knoll was parked, and that Kraai and Gillette pointed it out to Peters, who drove it away.

Kraai said Gillette told him pre-

COMMISSIONER OF SCHOOLS WANTS TO GO BACK TO REGULAR TIME

Ottawa County Commissioner of Schools, Gerrit Groenewoud, Holland, states that he hoped that this city would go back to Central Standard Time as it always has done. He says that Daylight Saving time is well and good in the summer but in the winter time it is another matter. Children in the country schools because of distances, must get up even earlier than pupils in the city. But regardless of what Holland does the country will go Central Standard time anyway, he says, in fact most of the farmers have already made the change.

The only thing that seems to bother those fostering Eastern Standard time the year around in Grand Rapids is whether the cities in the neighborhood will trail in behind. They know, if not, there will be a confusion in shopping hours with the outside trade, but Holland should worry about that. The thought that comes is whether Holland should not take that into consideration with a Saugatuck, Fennville and Douglas, already on Central Standard time, as well as the rural districts.

School authorities everywhere seem to want the old order of things—Daylight Savings time in the summer and regular time in the winter as has been in vogue since the World War.

SERUM USED IN 10 PARALYSIS CASES

Dr. Ralph Ten Have, Ottawa County health commissioner, reports that the health unit under his direction has treated 10 active cases of infantile paralysis and two suspected cases, with the new serum treatment. Good results have been secured in all of the active cases, he states. In some of the paralysis cases, the paralysis has been done away with by the serum and in those where the malady had not reached that stage, he feels certain that paralysis was forestalled.

MISSING YOUNGSTER IS FOUND AT HOME OF UNCLE IN GRAND HAVEN

Sheriff Cornelius Steketee of Grand Haven knew exactly where to look for Robert Swifney, 8, of 343 1/2 Division Ave., S., when he heard over the state police radio yesterday that the boy had been missing from his home since Friday.

The sheriff had picked the boy up on M-50 near Grand Haven and taken him to the home of an uncle in Grand Haven Friday night. Robert had hitch-hiked from Grand Rapids to within a few miles of Grand Haven.

Sheriff Steketee notified Grand Rapids police where Robert was, and last night the parents returned him to his home.

NEW METHODIST MINISTER NOW OCCUPIES LOCAL CHURCH PARSONAGE

Mr. Randall came to Holland from Traverse City, where he served as district superintendent of Grand Traverse district six years. He served a church in Benton Harbor while Mr. Willits was superintendent of that district. He also served churches in Chicago, Attleboro, Mass., and Providence, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall have just moved into the parsonage on West Tenth St.

ZEELAND DEBATORS GET TRY-OUT ON MONDAY

Next Monday at 3:30 p. m. the debate try-outs at the Zeeland school will be held. The question for debate this year is unemployment insurance.

Little can be predicted of the prospects for this year until the try-outs are held. The absence of the former third speaker will be greatly felt. Jean Van Hoven also graduated last year. Three of the five members of last year's squad are still in school however. They are Lester De Koster, Lester Wolterink and June Van Pusem.

An opportunity to make the squad is open to any others, however. Miss Katte, the wonder speaker for some years back has also graduated from the local school.

Holland Should Have Some Voice In Time Question

IT IS UNFAIR TO HAVE GRAND RAPIDS DICTATE AND WEST-ERN MICHIGAN JUST FOLLOW

Apparently the Grand Rapids City Commission or aldermen, whatever you want to call them, were thoroughly convinced a few weeks ago that Central Standard time was the time fitted for Grand Rapids and Michigan. With but one exception there was a unanimous vote for going back to the old time. It is perfectly proper that they should for in three previous elections the citizens had emphatically voted at the ballot box in favor of daylight savings time in the summer and Central Standard time in the winter. However, with every change of the season's time, some politician starts something in the "Furniture City" and confuses things just after the matter of time is running smoothly, and cities in this territory have given full cooperation which brought no confusion at all.

However, there are certain elements at Grand Rapids who through petitions and other methods are blundering this thing through and every one knows, who has had anything to do with petitions, that you could hang an innocent man if a petition with names would bring this about. Folks just sign, half of the time not knowing what they sign, or they are impatient about reading the petition, or they do not want to hurt the feelings of a friend who is presenting it, or a foreman in a shop who is favorable passes the petition around, to the employees.

Surely the result of three majority votes at three different elections favoring Central Standard time for winter ought to count for more than a haphazard lot of petitions. The men fostering Eastern Standard time in Grand Rapids are not coming to Holland, Zeeland, Allegan, Fennville, Saugatuck, Grand Haven and other centers of population to see what views their neighbors have on the matter or how they might like or dislike the change. They are just "bulling" the thing through and all our neighboring cities are waiting to see what Grand Rapids does.

The editor of the News has very little selfish concern relative to change. His children are beyond the school age and they will not have to be gotten up in the dark for school. In some instances it would even be more convenient for the Holland City News to have Eastern Standard time, giving an hour longer to mail papers on publication day so the News will get along very well without much inconvenience on Eastern Standard time. But it is these thousands of children who must get up in the dark, if the present school schedule is maintained, that will bring an uncalled-for hardship on mothers who in many instances are already over-taxed with household duties.

The school authorities in Holland, the Postoffice department, the railroad organizations and many others want Central Standard time resumed for the winter months. But undoubtedly, unless we stand on our own feet, Holland will have to take what Grand Rapids dishes up. The East has its Daylight Savings time in the summer but goes back to its own time in the winter. Why cannot the Central Standard zone do likewise? The other two zones on the Pacific Coast, Mountain and Pacific time. You have not heard any one from there clamoring for Eastern Standard time for if they would they would have to hire night watchmen in their public schools instead of teachers. Those in our zone, the Central Standard time zone are in the same boat only in a lesser degree.

As we said before the Holland City News will get along very nicely no matter what time, but it is at least calling for us to see if we can get ahead with the clock without taking their neighbors into consideration or even asking their opinions. We must compliment the Grand Rapids Press folks for their sensible stand on this matter and they are not "out of step", as some would have it, nor out of time either. Chicago goes back to Central Standard time as does Milwaukee, nor are the cities in the East departing from their time and judging from an editorial in the Detroit Free Press neither is Detroit.

Under the caption of "Standard Time" this is what that paper says:

STANDARD TIME

Detroit Free Press:—The current issue of the Weekly News Bulletin of the Department of State of Michigan contains this announcement, with respect to legislation enacted by the last Legislature: The act which will have the greatest effect on a majority of Michigan citizens is that making Eastern time official in all parts of the State. After Sept. 18, railroads, courts and other public agencies in all parts of Michigan will operate on Eastern time.

As far as courts and other public agencies operating entirely within the state are concerned, a State law regulating the division of time presumably is valid; but has the Legislature of Michigan or any other state the power to declare how interstate railroads shall set their watches?

Standard time was adopted in this country by Congressional enactment. The boundaries of the four time zones—Eastern, Central, Mountain and Pacific—were fixed by Congress. Authority to restrict these boundaries is lodged in the Interstate Commerce Commission, a logical depository for it. Could anything but confusion result from the establishment of the right of individual states to rule on the "time" on which railroads and other public agencies serving more than one state should operate?

The western boundary of Eastern standard time is a line running

FENNVILLE AND SAUGATUCK GO CENTRAL STANDARD TIME

Fennville and Saugatuck have already gone Central Standard time. Zeeland is voting to see how the "cat jumps". Anyway these neighboring cities in a measure stand in the same relation to Holland as we do to Grand Rapids and it is well for Holland merchants to think about that and we are doing well not to tell our next door neighbor where they are going to set the hands of their clocks.

north and south through Toledo and Cincinnati, which leaves all but a narrow strip of Michigan in the Central time zone. What is to be gained by declaring the whole state to be on Eastern time is not clear. That the Legislature of Michigan can rise above Congress and the Interstate Commerce Commission and dictate to interstate railroads in this matter is even less clear.

Here is what the president of the Parent-Teachers' club of the city of Grand Rapids has to say. She knows the needs of children. She lives at 1127 Hermitage street, Grand Rapids, and publicly states she would not like the change and says it would compel the children to get up in the middle of the night. "I can see no reason for changing to eastern time during the school months inasmuch as the time has been established by the meridians," Mrs. Lillie asserted. "If uniform time is to be had all year then let us have uniform central standard time. I do not mind having daylight saving or fast time in the summer but I would not like this same schedule followed in the winter."

"Children expect to get up in daylight and do not want to go to bed until dark. So I say, we should have slow time during school months. I think what we need more than a change in our time schedules, as we have had them for years, is a city commission that can make a decision and stand by it."

Grand Rapids Commissioner, George Veltman, publishes a two column article in the Grand Rapids Press, deriding some of his own Commission and civic leaders for the stand they had taken on this matter of time.

Mr. Veltman says among other things: "If we do change to eastern time we certainly will be out of step with Chicago and Milwaukee, two of our greatest trade centers. It also is certain that many of the western Michigan cities will run on central standard time as in the past so that the time question would be a mess this winter."

"Perhaps the sane thing to do would be to extend fast time a few weeks longer this fall and start it a little earlier in the spring. The issue again could be submitted to the people in the spring and might carry. Until then it is doubtful whether we have a legal right to adopt eastern time. Surely there is a moral obligation that should not be ignored."

"I cannot understand how certain civic leaders dare tell their accredited representatives serving on the city commission to ignore the sacred rights of the citizens who have expressed themselves through the ballot box." Mr. Veltman asserted Monday. "Such a czaristic policy tends to germinate the seeds of discontent and dissatisfaction. We cannot ignore the peoples' expressed wishes without dire consequences."

is very doubtful whether the railroads will operate on eastern time."

The public pulse in the Grand Rapids Press gives the following pointed conception and his views on Eastern Standard time.

Editor of The Press. In answering point for point the arguments against use of central time here I submit the following:

1. Statistics prove that over half our city business is with the mid-west.

2. The day will not be shortened for business and any losses will be the fault of inefficiency.

3. However, our workers stand to lose one hour's pay on eastern time, as the hours would be cut from five to four on our five-hour factory day.

4. Railroad executives of at least two big systems here are unwilling to concede to operating on eastern time this winter.

5. Our citizens have voted.

6. Parents of school children would buy extra alarm clocks on eastern time—and maintain two times in the home—one for father and one for the school.

7. A few bus lines have conceded to using eastern time this winter, but only to equal a march on their competitors who won't.

8. The Grand Rapids workman is a taxpayer and entitled to consideration. He knows it will cost his factory more money for lights, also his home.

9. Automobile accidents occur at all times, in all places, and there is more danger of accidents of this nature in the morning on eastern time, on his way to work, than when he is fully awake and on his way home from a good day's work done.

William J. Gary.

Western Michigan and Holland may have to trail behind Grand Rapids if the Grand Rapids Commissioners see fit to rescind their action and go on Eastern Standard time to avoid any further confusion but it will be galling to do it. If the rest of Western Michigan would cooperate and run their clocks counter to Grand Rapids, those time meddlers in the "Furniture City" might "sing another tune," but the decision must be unanimous outside of Grand Rapids to do any good otherwise any time would be better than the hopeless confusion that the lack of cooperation would bring.

A dispatch from Lansing says:—"Michigan is not bound by the new law making eastern standard time the legal time for the state, save that the official time must be used in courts and public offices, according to an opinion Tuesday by Emerson R. Boyles, deputy attorney general. He held city governing bodies by resolution may designate central time and stated there is nothing to prevent municipalities operating on either time."

The ruling was made on request from Manistee for an opinion on the issue.

Local Company See Cloud With Silver Lining

RECEIVERSHIP PUTS DE PREE
COMPANY IN BETTER POSITION

Federal District Judge Fred M. Raymond has appointed Willis A. Diekema the receiver of the DePree Co. of Holland, manufacturers of the San-Tox preparations which have proved popular sellers for years throughout the United States.

Petition for this friendly receivership was filed by the Owen Illinois Glass Co., of Toledo, creditor. According to the petition the plant is worth $300,000 with mortgages of $147,000.

It is also shown that there are added assets that can quickly be realized on to the amount of $122,000 and that besides this the trade mark, picturing a nurse on every package and the trade name "San-Tox" are worth at least $200,000 more to any going concern using it. The face of this nurse has been peeping out from thousands of drug store shelves in every city in the Union for the past score of years and is so well advertised that the product it represents cannot help but be a good seller. It is estimated that with times revived the trade mark is worth even more than the figure given above.

The Holland firm, according to the bill of complaint, has a well developed and exclusive outlet for its products but because of the current depression and lack of capital has been operating in recent months at a loss.

The bill asks an accounting with the creditors, a listing of the debtors' assets and an injunction preventing any disbursements or collecting by members of the Holland firm, except as ordered by the court. Plaintiff firm states it furnished defendant with glass bottles for its preparations.

It is understood that Willis A. Diekema as receiver is to inaugurate an economic policy that will rigidly cut the expense corners thus bringing about a tremendous saving and with times reviving it would seem that the DePree Co. could work back into the enviable position it once held as the contributors of family remedies and toilet preparations coming under the well known San-Tox trade mark.

The Holland firm always has had a wonderful avenue of distribution through its thousands of San-Tox drug stores. This avenue is still well intact and with the upward trend of business, which is slowly apparent now, this large group of drug dispensers will be added to from time to time in different cities.

In an interview with Mr. Diekema he said that this receivership gives the DePree Co. a new lease of life, that the heaviest creditors are convinced that there is a wonderful opportunity for the company even now and these opportunities will be enhanced as business generally revives.

Mr. Diekema says further: "We have a fine line of merchandise. We have several thousand unusually loyal, regular customers. We have a well organized, capable sales force, a good selling program now and are being put into effect without delay. We have adequate manufacturing facilities, competent chemists and pharmacists, and many skilled employees, ready under the new management to pitch in and do their utmost to bring this institution back."

Mr. Diekema says that there is a "silver lining" to the DePree Co. cloud now that a chance is given the force to work it out of its financial difficulty and they are sure are making a good start.

DRIVER OF SPEED BOAT IS FORCED TO BEACH AS WAVES WASH OVER PASSENGERS

A speed boat owned by Clarence Sullivan of Grand Rapids narrowly missed being swamped in the Grand Haven Sunday afternoon, as the craft was caught in the sea and the beach was forced to run up on the beach to escape.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Falls, Spring Lake, their guests, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Neenes and three children of Grand Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan were in the boat. As the pilot swung from the river into the big lake the boat was caught in the swells and control was lost, said one member of the party. The boat was shipping water badly as it came in, the big combers rolling in over the occupants, who were badly frightened as the boat was hauled on shore.

The coast guards had observed the boat just down the river heavily loaded and were watching. The big power boat was sent around and the speed craft was towed to the station.

A large crowd on the beach watched the boat's struggles and the efforts of two men to get the speed boat off of the beach and out to the line on the coast guard boat also afforded thrills.

HITCHHIKER ROBS MOTORIST OF $38 NEAR ZEELAND

Andrew Felix, Grand Rapids, lost $38 Monday night playing the part of a good Samaritan, he reported to Sheriff Fred Kelley.

Felix said that while driving on M21 between Holland and Zeeland he was hailed for a ride by a young man of good appearance. Near the Grand Rapids Gravel Co. pit on Grandville Ave. the stranger said he had reached his destination. As he stepped from the car he swung about quickly and flashed a blue steel revolver, demanding his host's money.

Felix produced a purse containing $38. He had no change and asked for money to buy sufficient gasoline on which to get home. The robber gave him a dollar.

HOLLAND ELEVEN TO MEET KAZOO CENTRAL

Kalamazoo Central will play Holland here Saturday in one of the opening battles in the southwestern high school conference. Both teams won initial victories last week over smaller schools, Kalamazoo defeating Allegan and Holland beating Sparta.

Coach Gerald Breen's men have been showing up well in scrimmages this week. Earl Cook, 180-pound fullback, rejoined the team Monday and will probably start at his regular post against Kalamazoo. Breen has shifted Japinga to halfback and is grooming Verschure, a former guard, as a plunger and an understudy to Cook.

Mickey DeRidder and Del Mc Clure, who made the Holland touchdowns last week will probably be in the starting line-up along with Cook and Japinga. The line will undoubtedly remain the same as the last week selections. The Holland and Kalamazoo seconds will meet in a preliminary game.

Why Should We
"Borrow Trouble?"

When Abraham Lincoln was a young man, he ran for the legislature in Illinois and was badly swamped.

He next entered business, failed, and spent 17 years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner.

He was in love with a beautiful woman to whom he became engaged. Then she died.

Entering politics again, he ran for Congress and was badly defeated.

He then tried to get an appointment to the United States Land Office but failed.

He became a candidate for the United States Senate and was badly defeated.

In 1856, he became a candidate for the Vice-Presidency and was again defeated.

One failure after another—bad failures—great setbacks.

In the face of all this, he eventually became one of the country's greatest men, if not the greatest.

When you think of a series of setbacks like this, doesn't it make you feel small to become discouraged just because you think you are having a hard time in life?

"Buck up"—have confidence in yourself, in your city, in your state, and in your nation.

MAN SUFFERS A BROKEN ANKLE AS RESULT OF AN ACCIDENT

Burr L. Morris, 57 West Second street, was struck by an automobile Saturday night and sustained a fractured ankle.

The accident occurred at the corner of River Ave. and Seventh street while Morris was crossing the street with two children. An automobile driven by Milton Bittner, of Holland Route 8, was driving through the intersection at the same time and Burr was struck as he attempted to pass in front of the vehicle.

Morris was taken to the office of a physician by Arthur Feyen, 672 Central Avenue, where the injury was treated before he was taken to Holland hospital.

REROUTING M-21 MAKES ZEE-
LAND'S MAIN STREET SAFE

Zeeland Record—Zeeland city has taken down the traffic light at the intersection of Main and Elm streets during the past week and installed it at the intersection of M-21 and North State Street, where it is estimated the need to be much greater.

Since the trunkline traffic has been transferred from Main Street to Washington Street the need for traffic lights on Main Street has been greatly reduced and it is probable that little use will be required of them in the future.

With the opening of our public schools on next Tuesday morning there is some concern expressed about the new danger that has arisen to the children by this change in trunkline routing. Parents should also feel concern for safety.

To forego all danger possible, the city has provided the spotlight at State Street intersection and an officer will be stationed at the intersection of M-21 and Centennial St. This will give safety to crossings where special safety measures have been provided, and all parents are requested to instruct their children, who must cross the new state highway on their way to and from school, to cross at either State Street or Centennial Street in order to minimize the danger.

G. H. THEATER EMPLOYEE IS TAKEN FOR "RIDE," TOSSED IN LAKE, AND WALKS HOME
MINUS PANTS

John Buchanan, Grand Theater employee, went for a "ride" Wednesday night.

John emerged from the back door of the theater on First street after closing up for the night. He was seized, bound, and gagged before he could recognize his assailant. Pushed into a car, he was taken to a place he recognized as Fisher's pond, was forced to walk a plank to the pier, and then down the pier to the beach. There he was stripped of his clothing. His captors decided in favor of total immersion. Buchanan was pushed into the chilly waters and ducked. When he regained the beach his captors had disappeared. He found his clothing on the beach, only the trousers missing.

He followed a circuitous route to town. Bart Denman, a former fellow employee saw him and after getting him a pair of pants, took him to the police station where he told Chief Bill Andrews about his experience. Buchanan found his trousers on the beach in the morning, some distance from the spot where the rest of his clothes had been piled.

No motive for the ducking has been uncovered. Buchanan says his captors did not "rough" him, but they were firm.

Hughes Hutchinson, of Fennville, has received word that he is eligible to take civil service examination leading to a cadetship at West Point, July 1, 1932, on account of the retirement of a cadet previously appointed.

The cider mill, at Fennville, paying 15 cents per hundred weight for apples, expects to make about 300,000 gallons of vinegar this season—more if the apples can be secured.

Our weather man is here again with the information that the signs of the muskrats, caterpillars, corn husks, etc., etc., plainly show that we are to have a very mild winter. We will see the gentleman again April 1st.

Four of Fennville's men have been replaced on the Consumers Power Co.'s payroll by outside men. Shipping in outside help is not very popular just now at Fennville.

Miss Sarah Johanna Boven and Dr. William Clarence Kool were united in marriage last week Wednesday afternoon at the bride's home. Rev. M. Following the ceremony a reception dinner was served after which the couple left on a honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will make their home at 194 West Eleventh street.

A meeting of the Erutha Rebekah lodge will be held tonight, Friday, at 8 o'clock in the Odd Fellows hall. Fennville Now Raises
Fine Cranberries
and Celery

Fennville has just recently gone in the celery raising game and judging from this article has been very successful. However cranberry farms are also being developed according to an item in the Allegan Gazette.

"Home grown cranberries are in the market at Fennville and, while their color is not so bright as it will be later, they are of large size and retail for a shilling per quart. These berries are grown on the sour muck bogs east of town and there is a large acreage that is suitable for their growth. By damming Mann creek these bogs could be flooded at the proper time to protect the plants from frost and insects. Cranberries are one of the most profitable crops in all agriculture and our natural advantages should be developed.

"The very finest of celery is also being marketed from the 100 acres now being grown in the vicinity of Fennville and the price has been quite satisfactory. Golden Plume and Old Golden are the early varieties grown and the Fennville muck seems to produce a finer quality with better flavor. Celery will no doubt become one of our staple products with an increased acreage."

Keefer's Building Restriction Suit Tried in Circuit, Court

Judge John Vanderwerp of Muskegon occupied the Ottawa circuit court bench at Grand Haven, hearing the suit brought by Bernard E. and Anna E. Keefer of Holland against James and John Baerman of Holland. The suit involved lot lines, the defendants wishing to use their property for a milk station against the objection of the Keefers. Attorneys are now working on briefs to be submitted to the judge. Robinson & Parsons representing Keefer and the firm of Diekema, Cross and Ten Cate appearing for Baerman.

BUILDING OFFERED FOR HOSPITAL IN DOUGLAS;
AUTO ACCIDENT REASON

The Spencer homestead in Douglas has been offered as a donation for hospital purposes. The location is beautiful, the building sufficiently large, and in such a condition that carpenters and plumbers who have looked it over say that at a reasonable cost it can be made suitable for hospital purposes.

Should this proposition be accepted it is hoped to organize a hospital that in a short time will be nearly if not quite self-supporting. One reason for the hospital the Douglas people state is that at the travel and speed rate, especially on US31, has so increased in the last few years that serious automobile accidents have become rather common.

In many cases, apart from accidents, it is a great advantage to have near by a place where the sick can be cared for. For a number of years Mrs. Fride and Mrs. Whipple of Saugatuck village have furnished a home where many of the sick and injured have received care and nursing; because of failing health these nurses are unable to continue their work, which at times has been quite strenuous.

Mrs. Genber and family and Miss Spencer of Douglas on learning of these difficulties, generously offered as a donation the beautiful Spencer home in Douglas in this way supplying a building large enough to accommodate the hospital needs of both villages and adjacent country.

Say Ottawa County
Infirmary is One of Best

The Ottawa county infirmary, located near Eastmanville, has been characterized as one of the best in the state, according to the official inspection by state inspectors. The report covers cleanliness, wholesome food, living conditions, neatness and sanitation of buildings and grounds.

The home houses about 50 persons, and since the addition, completed a year ago, the accommodations for each person are most comfortable. The property represents a valuation of about $95,000 and the annual maintenance approximates $27,000. Religious services are maintained on Sunday afternoons by the Men's Bible classes of the county.

The board of supervisors of this county have always taken a great interest in the county home. Each year they visit there spending one day. They have provided a handsome addition costing over $25,000. The front entrance was improved some time ago and the whole institution a model of neatness and order. The inmates are happy and contented, those who are able doing small tasks about the place.

Mr. and Mrs. William Raak spent the week-end in Chicago.

Mrs. Martin Kammeraad is spending several weeks in Cambridge, Mass., visiting her sister.

Paul Pearson, boatswain (L), officer in charge of the Bois Blanc island coast guard station. Capt. Pearson's retirement will take effect Oct. 1. His successor has not yet been appointed.

Capt. Pearson has spent 30 years of continuous service in the coast guard, enlisting as a surfman at Big Point Sable station, June 24, 1901. He was later transferred to Pentwater and was made officer in charge at Beaver island, followed by the same posts at White River and Pentwater. Capt. Pearson went to Bois Blanc island in April, 1930. He was born in Norway. Capt. Pearson intends to make his future home in Holland.

Quail Leaving, But,
Why Not?

Investigation has proved that decreased numbers of quail in farming areas are due to grazing of wood-lots and the removal of hedges in the north central states, destruction of woodlots, and fewer farmers cutting corn and letting it remain in fields in shocks where it would offer some shelter and food during the winter. It is believed that conditions tending to maintain the numbers of Bob White are feeding in fields, the revival of shelter belt planting, and the practice of winter feeding.

ALLEGAN SPORTSMEN
WANT FISH DAM

At the regular meeting of the Allegan Rod and Gun club resolutions were passed endorsing the proposition to construct the proposed dam over Swan creek at Smith's mill pond, eight miles west of Allegan on M-89. The movement has been endorsed by Senator George Leland, Fennville. The Rod and Gun club will hold its next shooting contest at the fairgrounds on Sunday, Sept. 13.

IS PHOTOGRAPHED
MORE THAN THE REST OF MOVIE STARS

Do you know the most photographed man in Hollywood? Don't bother to guess. You will probably be all wrong.

As a matter of truth, this record doesn't belong to any handsome curly-haired young leading man, but to an aging character actor whose latest screen appearance is in Joan Crawford's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer "whoopie" picture, "This Modern Age" which will open Tuesday at the Regent Theatre. The gentleman is the gray-headed Hobart Bosworth. His "most-photographed" record is due to his long sustained daily habit of a 12-mile horseback ride, rain or shine, over the same route, the public bridge path which runs squarely through the center of Beverly Hills, California.

The East End Drugs of Holland Saturday afternoon by a score of 11 to 2. The game was a fitting climax to the splendid record of the youngsters. Lugten, local hurler, was in fine form and held the Hollanders hitless and scoreless until the eighth inning when two errors and a base on balls followed by a scratch hit and allowed two of the visitors to score. Not only holding the visitors to one hit, he also turned back 14 by the streakout route. His teammates also seemed to be determined to make the last game the best. With the exception of the eighth inning when two errors came in quick succession, the defense was perfect and the offense was bewildering to the Hollanders. Stoepke, the East End ace, was sent to the showers in the fourth inning with 4 doubles and three singles for six runs. Barkel who replaced him, also received rough treatment. The clicking bats unnerved him in the fifth and he allowed two of the firsts. Van Dyke then drove the first pitched ball out of sight for a home run. It was a mighty drive. Van Dyke needs about ten minutes to round the sacks and came home in plenty of time. Every member of the local team hit safely and strangely every one either doubled or singled twice. During the season Lugten who is a mere youngster, has pitched fifteen games and has lost only two games.

Legal papers have been served on the Fenwick school board as the commencement of the case of Arthur Dewey, former superintendent of our schools, for this year's salary. His attorney is Elwin Swartout of Grand Rapids and the board have retained Clara Hoffman of Allegan and Holland. Dewey's claim is that he had served two years of his three-year contract and was induced to resign upon the representation of a member of the board that the district did not wish him to remain. Later he claims that he found that this representation was not correct and he notified the board that his resignation was withdrawn; but in the meantime the board had hired Paul Kingman, the principal of the school as superintendent. Plans are being made in Coopersville to entertain the annual convention of the Ottawa County Sunday School Association Oct. 7. Among the speakers on the program are Rev. Hazen G. Werner of Detroit, Rev. John R. Mulder of Holland, Prof. Henry Schultze of Grand Rapids and Rev. Charles A. Bowler of Grand Haven.

THE LEGION BAND RETURNS FROM THE DETROIT CONVENTION

Members of the Holland American Legion band, who took part in the parade at the National Legion convention in Detroit this week, returned to Holland Wednesday evening. The local band was one of more than 350 bands which marched in the procession Tuesday.

Several members of the Willard G. Leenhouts Post, American Legion, also attended the convention.

The baked goods sale of the Monday society, which was to have been held Saturday, September 26, has been postponed to Saturday, October 3rd. The sale will be held in the DeVries & Dornbos store on E. Eighth street.

BOMBS NEXT MONDAY WILL ANNOUNCE THE ARRIVAL OF THE CHEVROLET CARAVAN

Bringing to Holland one of the most unusual exhibits of its kind ever shown in this city, the Chevrolet Truck Caravan, a pageant showing the complete line of the 40 Chevrolet commercial cars and numerous special bodies, is due to arrive here at 10:15 o'clock next Monday morning, Sept. 28.

Under special police escort, the caravan, after parading the downtown section, will halt at Holland Chevrolet Sales Company on West Seventh street, where the various units of the parade will be open for inspection. On this occasion Mr. Alvin Barnum will be master of ceremonies.

Fire engines, ambulances, buses, hearses, hydraulic hoists and many other special body mountings have been placed in the caravan through the cooperation of numerous special body manufacturers.

With a total of 40 units in the column, the first section of the parade will be made up of 16 six-cylinder trucks with Chevrolet bodies, immediately followed by the column of special body units.

Heralding the advancing column as it enters the city of Holland, is a special truck equipped with bombs and a microphone attachment, which will lead the parade through the streets. After the demonstration there is to be a luncheon at Warm Friend Tavern with all those participating in the parade and the Holland sales force joining at the festive board.

viously that "arrangements had been made for a car belonging to Leonard Knoll who ran a meat market on Eighth street, Holland." He added that Gillette, telling him the loot from the bank "might be $20,000," said that the money would have to "go for the use of the car and he (Willie Gillette) would have to get a split."

Kraai said Willie Gillette was in the market four or five minutes before he came out to point out the car to Peters, who had walked across a vacant lot to the appointed place.

Kraai then testified that after the robbery, which he described in detail, he went to the market and found Knoll waiting on customers. "I waited a while," he said, "until he was through. Then I asked him if it was all right to bring the car back, that everything went fine and I didn't think anybody got a description of the car or the license numbers. He said it was up to me, and asked about his money. I said five or six hundred dollars. He thought that wasn't enough, and I said we didn't get as much as we thought we would."

After that, Kraai said, he got the car from the place where it had been left south of Holland, and returned it, going into the market again and telling Knoll he would be back in about 15 minutes with the money.

"I gave the money to Leonard Knoll in the market," he said. "We shook hands and he said, 'Keep quiet and everything will be O. K.'"

Kraai testified that after that he returned to the Gillette wagon, on West 17th street, Holland, where Peters gave him $5 and then he got a haircut and had his mustache shaved off.

Atty Hoffman stressed the time element in his cross-examination, and Kraai fixed the time of the payment at just before 6 p. m. Carl Hoffman also hammered at the question of what automobile Kraai was using, and it was in this that Kraai and Peters differed in their stories. Kraai also became a bit flustered in explaining the various cars he drove the night after the robbery.

Kraai said that after the robbery he went to a factory where his brother was employed and borrowed his brother's car. His own car had been loaned to him, he said, so his claim could drive home from work to Borculo—also Kraai's home town. Hoffman wanted to know how Kraai happened to be driving his own car that evening.

ing if it had been taken to Borculo. Kraai said he had driven to Borculo in his brother's car, leaving it there and returning in his own car. That, he determined, was around 8:30 p. m. Then, according to his story, he returned to Borculo, where he left his car, driving his brother's back to Holland, leaving it at his brother's house and hitchhiking and walking back to Borculo where he arrived just before daylight.

Peters, however, upon being recalled to the stand, testified that Kraai was driving his own car between 6 p. m. and 7 p. m. They also disagreed on the time when Kraai got his $5 and his shave.

Carl Hoffman of Holland hammered relentlessly on the movements of the two bandits during the evening in an effort to trip them up.

The defense made no statement at the opening of the trial, but cross-examination indicated the trend of the defense, which so far has been devoted largely to an attack on the credibility of the witnesses, particularly Kraai. Stress on the time element also gave a hint to spectators that defense witnesses may be brought forward to refute Kraai's account of having been alone with Knoll in the meat market between 5:50 and 6 p. m., July 28.

This morning Leonard Knoll, the Holland meat dealer took the stand in his own behalf and denied absolutely that he received $500 from Henry Kraai for the use of his automobile. He denied having ever seen Kraai until he was placed on the witness stand. He said he did not recall the Alderink's girls as being in his store on the day in question, and who testified that they saw Knoll and Kraai talking together on the afternoon of the robbery. In explaining the absence of his car, he said he believed his son, Percy Knoll, was using it.

Knoll declared he never had known Henry Kraai, the confessed robber until he appeared as a witness against him. He denied that money had been hidden in a quarter of beef that disappeared from his store soon after his arrest, claiming the beef had gone to pay for costs in the trial to come.

Knoll also denied he ever had talked with Merlin Shanteau, private detective from Grand Rapids who aided in solution of the Hudsonville robbery. Shanteau previously testified as to a conversation with Knoll in which the latter is said to have claimed "a perfect right to rent his automobile."

Throughout his statements, Knoll denied having any knowledge of any arrangement for the use of the automobile in the holdup.

He explained that after his arrest his creditors and assigned Attorney he turned his business over to ney Hoffman to settle his accounts and to be in charge of the place.

In cross examination, it was brought out that a quarter of beef was taken from the market the Sunday after the hold up, and when closely questioned by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Clarence Lokker said that it went to pay part of his attorneys fee.

Knoll did admit talking to Officer Peter Bontekoe and that he had been urged to confess a part in the robbery plot.

When cross examined, Knoll admitted giving Joe Rowan, Holland salesman, money the day after the robbery as payment on an account. Undecided at first as to the amount he finally said about $70 had been paid. He also stated he paid a William Saunders, salesman, about $35. He said he did this for the release of a shipment of beef.

Then the prosecution rested and Knoll was called. A court stenographer, just before the noon recess today, was asked to read part of Kraai's testimony in the trial of Willis Gillette which preceded the present hearing. Gillette was convicted of aiding in the bank robbery.

Gillette Found Guilty by Jury in 20 Minutes

KNOLL'S TRIAL IS NOW ON WITH JUDGE FRED T. MILES PRESIDING

Two Self-confessed Robbers Turn on Gillette Showing he Was the Brains of the Hold-up

Willis Gillette the man who conducted a road-side stand on West Seventeenth street, Holland, for the last year was found guilty of being the brains in a hold-up of the Hudsonville bank on July 28. It took only a little over 20 minutes for the jury to bring in a verdict of guilty after Judge Vander Werp had charged the twelve men and told them to go into the jury room and deliberate. The eleven jury men and one woman, including some men from Holland were the following:

Albert Hinken, Allendale; Ralph Andrews, Polkton township; Otto Grunst, Grand Haven; Max X. Krueger, Spring Lake township; Frank A. Brieve, Sr., Holland; Henry Driesenga, Blendon; Rose Craven, Crooktown township; Gerrit Klomparsen, Holland; Fred Bakker, Olive; A. D. Fessenden, Wright; Albert Kronemeyer, Park township; and William Hyma, Talmadge township.

The trial of Willis Gillette, Holland, charged as an accomplice in the Hudsonville bank robbery was launched Monday afternoon in circuit court before Judge John Vanderwerp of Muskegon. Judge Fred T. Miles was prevented from sitting on the bench because of a case he was trying in Muskegon.

Olmar Peters, confessed bandit in the affair, was the principal witness at the first day of the trial and said Gillette furnished the car to do the job and also gave him the gun which he used in the hold-up. Miss Gladys Corey, self-possessed bank teller, also took the stand relating clearly the events which led up to the robbery of $37,000.

Prosecutor John Dethmers had assisting him the former prosecutor, Clarence Lokker, of Holland, while Carl Hoffman of Holland defended Gillette.

In Peters' testimony at the opening of the trial he said he was 24 years old and was born in Tennessee. He had known Gillette, who ran a lunch stand in Holland, but a few days, when the bank holdup was pulled.

He said Gillette furnished his car and handed him a .32 revolver, which he carried with him and his partner, Henry Kraai, made the raid. He told of plans that were formed at the lunch stand and in the tent, where the Gillettes lived. He described the meeting of Gillette, Kraai and himself on the day of the job and he told the jury how the raid was pulled.

"Did you go into the bank first?" he was queried.

"Yes, as I thought Kraai was getting cold feet," the witness said. Peters continued the story of sticking up the bank teller, Miss Gladys Corey and B. P. Stegeman, the cashier and said they got three packages of currency which he put in his pockets. He then described their get-away, the hiding of the money in the Gillette tent and his reporting to Gillette that he had pulled the job successfully.

He admitted placing the money in paper bags about the tent but said he kept $700 in his pocket. Upon hearing that Kraai had been arrested, Peters said he became alarmed and drove to Battle Creek where his father lived and then went on to Birmingham, where he was picked up by the officers.

Peters and Kraai, who pleaded guilty two months ago and are awaiting sentence after the trials of Gillette and Knoll, had testified Tuesday that all details of the robbery were discussed with Gillette, that Gillette handed the guns to Peters, that he arranged for the car, and planned to meet them that night in Muskegon to divide the money.

Insisting that he had signed statements implicating him in the robbery of the Hudsonville bank only under duress of the officers and to shield his wife from threatened arrest, Willis Gillette, star witness for the defense in the robbery armed case brought against him by the people in connection with the Hudsonville bank robbery, was on the stand the largest share of Tuesday morning.

Gillette denied the statements of Omar Peters and Henry Kraai, confessed robbers of the bank, who testified Tuesday that Gillette was the "brains" of the job denying that he had furnished a car or guns for the robbery, that he drove to Muskegon that night to meet the boys after the job was pulled, and that he went to the Heinz pickle factory that day to get Kraai and Peters in a Whippet car that was stationed near Kraai's home.

He did go to Muskegon that day, Gillette said, stopping at the Doublet oil station to see a Mrs. Martin and then driving on to Muskegon where he went to a picture show. He returned at night, he said, stopped at the Doublet again and went to his home. Here he said he met Peters, who told him a robbery job had been pulled. He said Peters did not tell him the money was hidden in the tent and he did not know of it until after the officers had arrested him and he was told.

He testified that it was only after the "sweating" by county officers, Sheriff Stokette and Marvin Den Herder, and threats that his wife would be held if he did not plead guilty, that he weakened, he said and signed the statement admitting that he had assisted in the plans.

He stated that Jack Spangler, another officer said, "stick to your story boy, I don't believe you are guilty."

He testified that the officers kept him from seeing his attorney, Carl Hoffman, whom he had employed before on legal matters. Gillette testified that Sheriff Stokette ignored an order from Judge Miles allowing Hoffman to see the man and said Stokette said, "This is not Miles' job, this is ours."

Gillette told the jury the officers sweated him every hour from the time of his arrest through the following night and was told, "now you come clean or we'll lock up your wife in the morning." One officer, he said, accused him of another crime, although he had been acquitted of the crime some time before.

Gillette was brought up in the state school at Coldwater. He was married in Charlevoix when 17 years old. He testified that he had had a hard life and had lived in Zeeland, worked in two factories in Holland before running the lunch counter.

He said Kraai whispered to him after the arrest, after trying to get the message to him on paper "You can't get out of it, it's no use for the money is all in your tent." This, Gillette testified, was the first time he knew the money was in

Fennville is Having a Bad Time With Apples and Peaches

The present Elberta peach market (?) is one of the most disastrous in the history of Fennville's main industry. The marketing machinery seemed to completely break down and thousands of packed bushels waited for a market at any price. Hundreds of bushels became too soft for any market and were drawn out on the plains near Fennville and dumped, to be sorted over all night long by the poor. The market price went down to 30 cents per bushel, which would just about pay the cost of packing and packaging. In this dilemma the canning factory started buying Elbertas at 30 cents per bushel, without any package, and took care of about 5,000 bushels; but, in caring for their Elbertas at a loss, many farmers have neglected their better varieties for which the canning factory pays 40 cents per bushel and it is feared that they may become soft before they can be brought to the factory.

On account of the low prices for fruit, the fruitgrowers have cut labor prices to $1.75 per day or $1 and board. Even then the laborers are doing better than the growers in most instances. Several cars came from Holland and took back all the peaches they could draw for the use of the Salvation Army without cost to the people doing that work.

William Hawley of Lewis institute, Chicago, has been in Fennville for his peach harvest but will return to work soon, so as to earn money to keep the farm running. Mr. Hawley has been on the faculty of the institute, in the engineering department, nearly thirty years. He is a fine draughtsman, in that respect taking after his father and uncle.

It is feared that the crop of winter apples will be very unsatisfactory, on account of the many stings made by codling moths, in spite of the almost continuous spraying program that has been followed by the growers. No orchard is immune to have been equally ineffective. One of the college field men this week took 58 codling moths from one trap in an apple tree, which proves that there has been an almost continuous breeding. It is up to the college to make some radical changes in their spray schedule. The present one is too expensive and without satisfactory results.

At the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, held in Grand Rapids last week, the Rev. J. O. Randall, D.D., received the appointment to the Saugatuck-Holland charge. Dr. Randall expects to be at Saugatuck Sunday morning and preach at the usual hour, 11:30. However, if he is unable to come, Dr. Willis will deliver the message. — Saugatuck Commercial Record.

Theatre Folks "Come Clean" on Sunday Movies

MR. BUTTERFIELD GRACEFULLY RECEDES AND ABIDES BY THE WILL OF THE VAST MAJORITY

Head of Large Organization Says He Was Misinformed as to Holland's Possible Attitude

The Sunday theatre battle, which might have proved a nasty mess, had hardly started before it was over and upon this Holland may well be congratulated. The editor of this paper has been through two "blue law" fights in his day and believe us when we say these battles are damaging to the extreme and create "bad blood" for months to follow.

There were two reasons for this quick and amicable settlement of the theatre controversy.

The first was the fair-minded manner—without rancor, in which the opposition forces to Sunday theatres, including the city officials as well as the Ministers' committee, presented their case to the theatre folks and the general public. All was done in an orderly way by men who did not threaten, but told honestly, firmly and fearlessly why the Sunday theatre program should not prevail in Holland. The overwhelming sentiment unfavorable to Sunday theatres from citizens in all walks of life was soon apparent. A vast majority had religious scruples in the matter and this element was augmented by quite a large number of others who wanted to keep Holland a quiet orderly town with Sunday different from the regular week day.

In the second place some fine things can also be said relative to the theatre folks. There is no doubt but that the Butterfield organization had received some encouragement from sources where it was not expected, who stated that since the Sunday automobile ride was not frowned upon by thousands, the open theatre undoubtedly would also become a part of our community life. For a time there was considerable surface indications and off-hand favorable advice given, much of it thoughtlessly no doubt, that brought encouragement to the theatre men who had invested a great deal of money here.

Well—what happened is now history. However, in behalf of Mr. Butterfield and Mr. Carley it can be said that their attitude was clean, gentlemanly and respectful. They retired from their position gracefully, without bitterness, respecting the wishes of the majority of Holland's citizenry. Even those who are not fully in accord with the theatre and theatre-going cannot help but admire the attitude taken by the theatre folks.

Mr. Butterfield makes his position clear in a letter to the public found below:

The communication is as follows:

"Under existing conditions we believe that an explanation is due the people of Holland from our organization.

"Two years ago we were encouraged to come into Holland to build a new theatre, and in looking over the city, we were convinced that Holland deserved a new theatre but felt the investment could only be made providing we were permitted to operate the theatres on Sunday, the same as we do in all of the cities of the size of Holland in the State of Michigan. In discussing this with the promoters we were somewhat assured that if we would make this investment, Holland would grant us the privilege of operating on Sunday. During the two years' investigation of the mental attitude of the people of Holland, we discovered that about 50 percent of the people were either in favor of Sunday shows or were in favor of the theatres being opened although they themselves would not patronize them. Therefore, we proceeded with the idea of a new theatre and looked over several pieces of property. However, upon further investigation, the suggestion was made by Henry Carley, who was president of the company then owning the three theatres in Holland, that we purchase a half interest in his business, repair the present theatres and operate them until we were positive we would have the privilege of opening the theatres on Sunday. We, in our negotiations, learned that Mr. Carley was a capable theatre manager, and well liked in the city. We accepted Mr. Carley's proposition with the understanding that he cooperate with us in securing the opening of the theatres on Sunday with the idea in view that, as soon as we did secure this privilege, the new company, which would be formed, in which Mr. Carley and his associates owned 50 percent of the stock and our organization the other 50 percent would then promote the building of the new theatre.

"As soon as this purchase was completed and we were partners with Mr. Carley, I personally, made six trips to Holland and, in all my interviews with merchants, manufacturers and citizens, about 75 percent of the people either were in favor of Sunday theatres or expressed the opinion that they could see no reason why the theatres should not function on that day. I was led to believe that, in the event we opened the theatres on Sunday, we could convince those in opposition to the class of pictures which we planned for Holland on Sundays were high grade and worthwhile and that the people of Holland would come to the showing of such pictures at our Sunday performance.

"During my investigation I was appraised with the fact that Holland has 25 churches and was a very sincere religious community, but I was not so fully aware of the fact that the churches, as a whole, were so thoroughly against moving picture theatres being operated on Sunday, for, in my investigations found that certain places of business including stores, gasoline stations and other forms of amusement were allowed to remain open and carry on their business on the Sabbath. No one was more surprised than myself to learn of the opposition that was created against the opening of the theatres last Sunday.

"Mr. Carley, our local manager, and his family live and vote in the city of Holland. We have other employees to the number of approximately 20 in the theatres in your city. The Carley Amusement company is purely a local organization and our money is invested in property located in Holland. All purchases are made in Holland where it is possible for us to do so, and we only purchase and book pictures, and other forms of amusement, in a manner to assist Mr. Carley in giving the people of Holland the best in the amusement field.

"I wish my position to be clearly understood by the people of Holland, to this end that we will not attempt the operating of our theatres on the Sabbath in the city of Holland until the people of Holland, or the greater majority of them, desire that the theatres be operated at such times.

"In making this statement I have endeavored to place before the citizens of Holland a proper and logical reason for our desire to open the theatres on Sunday. It is my desire, and that of my associates, to have each and everyone of you understand that we will not make any effort to give you something in the amusement line which you do not want nor do we desire to enter into litigation over the situation, even though we may feel that we are right in asking for Sunday amusement."

Game Licenses Now Available In Holland

SEVERAL PLACES IN OTTAWA COUNTY ARE DESIGNATED BY THE STATE

During the past month the state department of conservation has greatly enlarged the number of dealers who will handle the sale of fish and game licenses, and the department believes the licenses will be more readily available to the public this year than ever before.

In the past the state has paid the dealers a commission ranging from 10 to 25 cents per license. This fee has been eliminated by the 1931 legislation and the game protection fund will get the fee. This will result in an additional revenue of about $60,000 annually available for fish and game protection and development.

Other Ottawa dealers are: Floyd Lowing, West Olive, R. No. 3; Maurice Kuite, Holland; Albert Zagers, R. No. 4, Hudsonville; Geo. W. Naard, R. SEVERAL ROBBERIES ARE REPORTED AT FENNVILLE FIVE HOMES ENTERED

Several minor robberies have been reported at Fennville lately, the most recent and daring occurring Wednesday night, when someone entered the home of William Whitbeck, and took a purse from Mr. Whitbeck's trouser pocket. The robber removed the contents, including about $31 in cash, and then threw the empty wallet on the floor. Some papers, taken from Johnny Whitbeck's pocket, were also found on the floor torn in little pieces. The robbery was pulled so quietly that no one heard a sound.

Other places also reported visited Wednesday night, were Ed Mantheys, Laurence Bales, Vern Phillips, and Willis Birkholz. From the latter a watch and fountain pen was taken.

Clothes line robberies have also been reported frequently during the past week or two, one at the Frye house, where some underwear was taken, and another at Scarlett's, where some silk stockings were removed but later were returned to the clothesline—showing evidences of having been worn by someone who found they were too small. The stockings were very much stretched out of shape.

NEW PUMP HOUSE AT FENNVILLE

The contract for building the new pump house for the pump recently installed near the city park was awarded by the council at an adjourned regular meeting last Thursday night, to James Michen, whose bid was $641.75. The building will be of brick and tile, 18 by 12 feet and ten feet high.

CORN STALKS 15 FT. HIGH MAY BE SEEN AT FRED BRAMER FARM

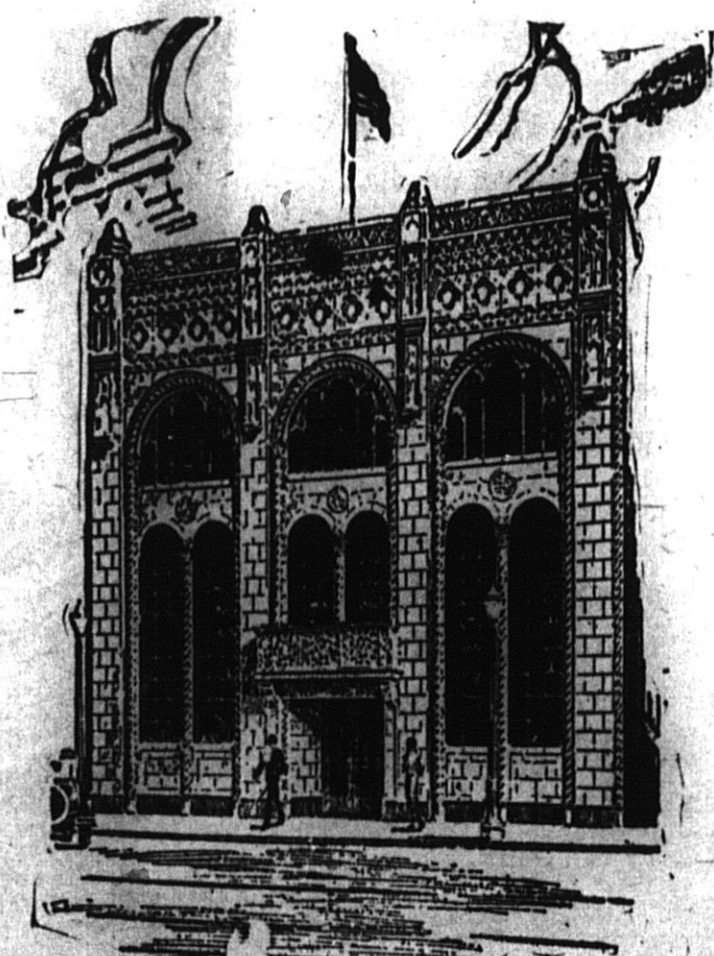

Stalks of corn 15 feet tall are being grown on the dairy farm of Fred Bramer in Spring Lake township north of Ferrysburg just off US-31. Some of the stalks are on display at the Blue Moon lunch stand on US-31 in Ferrysburg, and are drawing much attention. Tourists from Iowa and other western states, noted for tall corn, comment that they have never seen corn stalks so tall as those on the Bramer farm. An unusual feature of the stalks is that the ears of corn grow so far up on the stalks that it is impossible for a man whose height is six feet to reach them.

HOLLAND FOLKS ELABORATE SOCIAL FUNCTION

The Misses Alice and Margaret Boter of Holland were among the many guests at a social function announcing the engagement of Miss Anne Boter, daughter of John S. Boter of Jefferson-dr., Grand Rapids to Herman J. Hoek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hoek of Giddings-av., Grand Rapids. The coming marriage was made known on Saturday at Cascade Hills Country club at a luncheon which Miss Boter and her sister, Miss Margaret Boter, gave for a group of friends. Decorations for the party were favors which Miss Boter brought with her on her return from a recent trip to The Netherlands. The marriage date has been set for Nov. 13. Local Teachers Well Received at Zeeland

MANY ZEELAND GRADUATES ARE NOW ATTENDING HOPE AND HOLLAND BUSINESS COLLEGE

Last week Tuesday was reception night for the Zeeland teachers when old and new ones met and the parents of many pupils were also present.

The new teachers were given a unique reception in fact the whole affair had a gypsy setting including a camp filled with beautiful gypsy girls—however close scrutiny brought to light even through the tanned features and "fortune telling" embellishment that these were the high school glee club girls. The young ladies even furnished appropriate music for the occasion and were adept at bringing about the proper presentation of the new "school mams" to the rest of the folks present.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Kievit and Mrs. H. Van Dragt acted as host and hostesses. While Mrs. John Veneklasen, president, called the meeting to order. One by one the new teachers were brought in to be introduced by Mr. Ralph Muller, one of the faculty. Among them were Miss Lenora Nykamp, a graduate from Hope college, who takes the position vacated by Mr. Bowman in Junior High School. Miss Naida Burdick of Boyne City is a graduate of Western State Teachers' College, and is also in the Junior high school as a teacher of home economics and arithmetic. Miss Mae Plewes has returned to her home city to take her place as third grade teacher. She is a graduate of Ypsilanti Teachers' College. Two men have also found their way into the faculty. Mr. Justin Vander

GRAND HAVEN FIRE WHISTLE LOUD ONE

Grand Haven's new compressed air coding fire alarm signal was tested yesterday afternoon. Its shrill note was reported to have been heard in Spring Lake, four miles away. The whistle contains four horns, pointing in all directions and mounted on top of the city hall which also serves as a fire engine house. When a box is pulled, the signal automatically codes, informing the members of Grand Haven's volunteer fire department where the fire is located.

Kolk and Mr. Leon Kleis. Both are graduates of Hope College. Mr. Vander Kolk comes with a fine record of speaking ability and is in charge of the speech department of the high school as well as acting principal of the Junior High. His home is in Vriesland. While Mr. Kleis comes originally from Holland, he has been teaching in the schools at St. Johns, Michigan. Dr. Ralph Ten Have, Ottawa county health director, was present to give the association some timely facts on infantile paralysis. He spoke of the symptoms of the disease and told of the present successful treatment in a large percentage of the cases. The fact was emphasized that while the disease does warrant considerable attention at the present time, the public should not become unduly alarmed.

A feature of the program was community singing led by Miss Gladys Moeke, accompanied by Ruth Van Kersen and Mr. Henry Baron.

Quite a few Zeeland school graduates of '31 are now attending Hope college, among them are Gerard Bouma, Kenneth De Jonge, Earl Goozen, Gerald Plasman, and Marjorie Van Koeving. Myrtle Meyer is taking a full course at Holland Business College. Superintendent Clark spoke a few words of hearty welcome to the teachers, assuring them of the interest that Zeeland had in them and in their organization.

After the program, refreshments were served by the committee, and time was given wherein "old friendships were renewed and new ones were made."

When the Zeeland school students returned to their studies this fall, they found improvements which add much to the utility and attractiveness of the school.

The floors of the corridors were painted a light gray. The library had been redecorated and the girls' shower room retiled. Out-of-doors a new coat of green paint covered the playground equipment.

The home economics room and the industrial arts room have new cupboards. The kitchen, too, had been remodeled and equipped with a new cupboard.

WHITE CHAUFFEUR HELD FOR COURT TRIAL IN CIRCUIT COURT

James Walker, Cincinnati chauffeur, who is not a Negro, as was reported, driver of the car that crashed into Jacob Vanderlaan's car on M21 east of Hudsonville on August 28, causing the death of Vander Laan, was bound over to the September term of the Ottawa circuit court Saturday on a charge of negligent homicide. He was released under bond of $1,000.

Walker is said to have been on the wrong side of the road. Vander Laan was widely known in this section as a rural meat dealer. The examination Saturday was held before Justice E. Parsons in the city hall at Holland. Walker is a driver for a Waukegan resort.

FISH PROPAGATION PROVES SUCCESSFUL AND WILL BE CONTINUED

Rearing ponds of the Holland Fish and Game club, located on M21 near New Groningen, will be emptied within a few weeks and bass and bluegill fingerlings will be planted in local streams. Fry in both ponds are developing satisfactorily.

The bass pond will be emptied Oct. 1 and bluegill pond Oct. 8. Both ponds will be restocked next spring.

Since the annual planting of these varieties in Black lake and other local streams, fishing has shown a marked improvement. Stocking of local streams will be continued.

POISON in Your bowels!

Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels, cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for over forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. It's natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste commend it to everyone. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the most popular laxative drugstore sell.

THIS COUNTY IS NINTH IN WHEAT

Milham Releases Figures Announcing That Ottawa Produced 503,000 Bushels

Ottawa County stands ninth in the state as a wheat producing county according to figures just released by the U. S. Crop reporting service. This year according to the figures received by Agricultural Agent Milham, Ottawa produced 503,000 bushels. This amount will mostly be consumed within the county as poultrymen, dairymen and swine breeders feed large quantities of this grain to their own livestock.

Ottawa county does not produce a surplus of corn, oats, barley, wheat or alfalfa but ships in tremendous quantities of these feeds in addition to cottonseed and oil-meal to feed poultry and livestock. Mr. Milham is advising farmers to try and grow more of their own grains and protein feeds such as alfalfa and soy beans in order to make less necessary the spending of so many dollars each year for feed.

Wheat may be safely sown after Sept. 18 to avoid Hessian fly injury. This year there has been much smut in wheat so treating with formaldehyde or with one of the mercury dusts on the market is advisable. A 2-12-6 fertilizer is recommended for sandy soil and a 4-16-4 for clay soil. Fertilizer is advised because of the better quality of grain and straw produced and because costs per bushel are lowered.

ALLEGAN COUNTY FARM NOTES

Don't forget the Electrical demonstration meeting on the afternoon of Sept. 30th which will be held at the farm of Conrad Schwartz at 2:30 P. M., one half mile west of Hopkins, and the evening meeting at the same place, at 8:00 P. M. All people interested in farm electrification are invited to attend one of these meetings.

The Home Economics meeting which was scheduled to take place in Allegan on Sept. 29th and 30th, has been changed to a one-day meeting which will be held on Friday Oct. 2nd. Miss Oona Stautz, Home Management Specialist from the Michigan State College will be here and all project leaders will meet with her at 10:00 A. M. to receive the first lesson. Members of the different groups are invited to attend the afternoon session.

ALLEGAN SOON TO BOAST 52 MILES OF TAR PAVING

According to Fred I. McOmber, chairman of the Allegan county road commission, work now is under way upon completion of the last stretch of tar pavement east of Shelbyville. When this road is completed the latter part of next week Allegan county will have 52 miles of this type of pavement.

NEWSPAPER MEN INSPECT TIRE

"An interesting incident at Akron, Ohio, was recently called to my attention," said Mr. Charles Van Zyl of Holland Vulcanizing Co., local Goodyear dealer today.

"A small knot of newspaper men, standing in the driveway of one of the several heavily traveled trucking entrances to the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company factories in that city, soon drew a crowd to see what it was all about.

"The gentlemen of the press were interrogating some Goodyear men about a section of rubber block paving which has been in service since 1923 on East Market street, not only a heavily traveled city and state artery but at the shipping entrance where trucks haul heavily laden trailer trains of tires and other rubber products and materials.

It was found that the blocks showed scarcely any wear and that they had "battered put" through the years of staying put through the years of passing over them. These blocks, made by Goodyear, are the size of an ordinary paving brick, are laid in asphalt, and have interlocking joints," Mr. Van Zyl stated.

REUNION HELD BY GROENEWOUD-SCHOOL COMMISSIONER ATTENDS

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Groenewoud at Hudsonville was the scene of a happy family reunion recently when about thirty children and grandchildren gathered there with their aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Groenewoud of Zeeland.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit G. Groenewoud and family of Holland; Mrs. Cornelia Groenewoud and son, Gordon, of Holland; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Van Den Bosch and family of Zeeland; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Groenewoud of Olive center; and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Groenewoud and family.

After having enjoyed themselves in different ways a bountiful dinner was served. The guests departed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Groenewoud many returns of the happy occasion.

HILL SOUTH OF ZEELAND IS NOW BEING PAVED

The improvement of Shoemaker's hill, so-called, located south of Zeeland, in compliance with the county road commissioners several months ago, is well under way, and within another week will be all completed. The work is being done by Peter Brill, a Zeeland contractor, and Zeeland labor under the supervision of the county engineer and the Zeeland city superintendent, is being employed.

The work to be done was the placing of a concrete curb and gutter on each side of the street, forty feet apart, the full length of the hill. This is done to prevent the gravel roadbed from washing off the sides, and is in preparation for black surfacing of the roadway a year or two from now, at which time it is believed the county will put an oil-treated gravel surfacing on the South State street road. The road in question goes south to Overisel connecting up with Holland's East 16th street road.

ONLY TRUE SPORTSMEN OR PERJURED LIARS TO HUNT

Before hunters can procure a license to shoot deer in Michigan this fall, they must go before a notary and swear they have not violated a deer law of the state in the past three years nor shot a person while hunting during the past five years, says a bulletin of the American Game Association. This requirement was adopted by the 1931 legislature to make the sport safer.

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

GOLDEN ROD AND WILD ASTERS

Presently, after golden rod grows old, the wild asters will appear along roadsides and in swampy places. The flowers range from white through blues to purple and are highly decorative. They are many kinds and sizes of plant and flower. Some are rather insignificant in size and color while others are quite the opposite. Some kinds have been developed by florists into large, handsome plants with flowers of considerable size and rich colors.

HOLLAND ELEVEN DEFEATS SPARTA; SCORE 13-0 VICTORY IN SEASON'S OPENER

Coach Jerry Breen's Holland's high school eleven defeated Sparta in the opening game of the season, 13-0, Saturday at Riverview Park, using straight football during the entire game. Holland pushed across a touchdown in the first period and added a second counter in the last quarter.

Mickey DeRidder scored the first touchdown of the year for the Breen men when he slid off tackle for a 5-yard gain in the first quarter. Four successive first downs and a poor Sparta punt paced the ball into scoring position. Japinga kicked for the extra point.

Not until the last period did Holland threaten seriously and then Del McClure, freshman star, carried the ball from the 3-yard line across the goal. A third touchdown was prevented by the final gun, when Holland was 4 yards from the line.

Holland clearly outplayed Sparta, gaining 12 first downs to 2 for Sparta, but the breaks of the game also favored the Holland boys. A light rain fell during the game, making the field slippery and preventing much open running.

$50,000 SUIT STARTED BY WIDOW OF DRIVER WHO WAS KILLED AT CROSSING

Suit seeking judgment of $50,000 against the Pennsylvania railroad was filed in United States district court at Grand Rapids by Mrs. Fannie Johnston of Allegan county as administratrix of the estate of her husband, Charles Johnston, who Oct. 18, 1930, as the result of injuries suffered when the truck he was driving was struck by a train at the crossing of M-114 near Martin.

In her bill Mrs. Johnston charges the railroad with negligence in that the train was not sounding a warning bell; that it was traveling at an excessive rate of speed; that the engineer failed to maintain a lookout for crossing traffic; that the train had inefficient brakes, and that speed was not reduced as the train approached the crossing.

LAW OFFICE OF JAMES MONROE

FREDERICKSBURG, VIRGINIA

In this quaint building James Monroe planned a quiet career in the practice of law.
