Second Annual Conference To Be Held Oct. 3

WILL BE HELD AFTERNOON AND EVENING IN FOREST GROVE CHURCH

The second annual conference of the Woman's Missionary union of Holland, which includes women's societies of approximately 30 Reformed churches of Holland, Zeeland and outlying districts, will be held on Friday, October 3. The meetings are to be held in the afternoon and evening in the Forest Grove Reformed church of which the Rev. Mr. Woltering is pastor, the afternoon session beginning at 2 o'clock and the evening session beginning at 7:30. During the recess period between the two sessions the ladies are invited to stay for the supper hour at which time there will be a social "get-together," and a short program.

The complete program of speakers was definitely decided upon at a meeting of the program committee at the home of Mr. George E. Kollen, president of the conference, on Tuesday afternoon.

In the afternoon speakers on the program will be Mrs. Sojiri Shimizu, native of Japan and now of the Japanese Christian Institute of New York City. It may be remembered by some that Mrs. Shimizu addressed the synod of the Reformed church when they met in Holland in June of 1926. At that time she was the house guest of Mrs. George Kollen. She will again be the guest of Mrs. Kollen when she attends the conference next week. Mrs. Raymond Drukker will also be on the afternoon program. Devotions in the afternoon will be conducted by Mrs. Margaret Dubbink. Mrs. Paul Hinkamp and Mrs. James Weyer will represent the domestic and foreign missions boards.

Speakers on the evening's program will include Miss Tena Holkeboer, missionary to Amoy, China, now on furlough. Miss Holkeboer is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Holkeboer of this city. She will give the main address of the evening. Mrs. Shimizu will also appear again on the evening's program. Other speakers will include Miss Jennie Pieters of Japan, now on furlough, and Dr. Mary Bruins, who is planning to leave for missionary work in Arabia within the year.

The meetings are to be presided over by Mrs. George Kollen, president, and she states that it is expected that the church auditorium will be well filled. The woman's missionary union of the Holland classis separated from the Grand Rapids classis two years ago because of the fact that it was generally found that hundreds had to be turned away from the conferences, and it was felt that the woman's missionary union of the Holland classis was large enough so they could have a conference by themselves. Last year the first of these annual conferences was held at First Reformed church at which time an overflow meeting was held.

Those who desire to stay for the supper hour which is to be at the Y.M.C.A. building, located near the church, are asked to bring their own lunch. Coffee will be served by the entertaining church.

DEAD HORSE CAUSES LONG DELIBERATION IN JUSTICE COURT

It seems there was a horse, in fact a dead horse, and it took the jury five hours to decide that Lambert Schultema couldn't collect on a dead horse. Zeeland brought action against Maurice Neinhuis of the same place to collect $175 from Neinhuis, after Neinhuis had collided with his milk wagon early last spring. A justice court jury in Zeeland said the horse was worth $145, but Neinhuis appealed the case to the circuit court at Grand Haven.

The jury was drawn and after receiving testimony there had been an accident and the horse had been killed, Schultema claimed that all the blame rested on Neinhuis, who, on the other hand, claimed Schultema had driven into his path and that he was unable to stop because of the slippery street.

The jury took the case at 4:30 p. m. went to lunch at 5, returned at 7. At 8 they reported an agreement was impossible, but the judge suggested the night was young and they retire for further deliberation. At 9 they reported an agreement might be possible, and at 9:45 brought a verdict of no cause for action.

Holland Park to Close Oct. 1st

After a busy season, several state parks will be closed after Oct. 1, including Ottawa Beach, Holland, Grand Haven, Allegan state park and a dozen others. Seventeen parks containing wild life will continue to be open.

HOLLAND COUPLE WEDS FRIDAY

Miss Kathryn Nienhuis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin P. Nienhuis, of rural route 8, Holland, and Herman Bos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bos, Sr., 514 Central avenue, were united in marriage Friday afternoon at the parsonage of Immanuel church. The Rev. J. Lansing, pastor of the church, performed the single ring ceremony.

The bride, gowned in transparent brown velvet, with matching accessories, was attended by Miss Ida Nienhuis, a sister, wearing a fall suit of blue wool with accessories to match. Mr. Elmer Kamphuis attended the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Bos made a short wedding tour through northern Michigan, and are now at home to their friends at 11 West Eighth street.

Mr. Bos has been employed at the Holland City News office for

HOUSE PARTY AT MACATAWA

Holland matrons are having an enjoyable time at a regular house party at Macatawa for four days. "Throwing all household cares to the winds, six of them started off around "Lake Macatawa," and are now deep in the woods in the hills at the "mouth." Yes, they appointed a chaperon, but that is a secret. The party is sponsored by Mrs. Henry Zwemer and those who are in the party are Mrs. Albert Kleis, Mrs. Albert Kuiper, Mrs. Albert Lugers, Mrs. Peter Oosting, Mrs. Toney Nienhuis and Mrs. H. P. Zwemer.

MRS. SHANNON MISSING FROM ALLEGAN, RETURNS AFTER DAY

Declaring she had been kidnapped by two men, taken into a thick woods and bound to a tree where she was forced to remain all night, Mrs. Hazel Shannon, 35, of 922 Elliott street, southeast, Grand Rapids, returned to Allegan tonight after having been sought for 24 hours.

Mrs. Shannon told Sheriff Fred W. Miller she was unable to identify the two men whom she said had seized her as she was going through a barn to the home of O. C. Smith, where she had been visiting. The two men, she said, forced her into a car and drove for some distance, in what direction she was unable to say.

SENATOR COUZENS SPEAKS AT PUBLIC MEETING

Senator James Couzens, senior senator of Michigan, was the guest speaker at two gatherings in Holland Tuesday night. He was invited by the Trinity Men's League, who first tendered Mr. Couzens a dinner at Trinity church parlors for members only. Rev. Henry Ter Keurst had charge of this meeting and called upon Mr. Nick Jonker to preside.

Mr. Couzens gave a short discourse at this gathering and then the guests adjourned to the Holland Armory which was comfortably filled to hear Mr. Couzens discuss present-day perplexing national questions.

He condemned the so-called Liberty League, which was organized, he claims, to keep wealth entrenched. He stated that President Roosevelt was doing his best, but the problems were greater than one man could cope with alone, and that co-operation by others, rather than opposition, was the good American way to help solve these problems.

He believes that Roosevelt has as his aim a more equal distribution of the wealth of the nation, so that all can share in the advantages of this country really affords. He said the time is coming, although progress may be slow, when there will be a proper and better distribution of wealth. He stated that we should not become restive, but display a little more patience; that big problems like these are not solved overnight; that every method applied brings opposition and has cross currents to contend with. It is all uphill work, for any method is liable to hurt someone, and that being the case, obstructions are laid in the way.

Mr. Couzens stated that he was not discussing politics today, that measures and men with him came before partisanship. He stated that he knew of no active congress who had as its purpose the curtailing of liberty and freedom, unless for the benefit of the many. "We have been compelled to restrict some of our so-called liberties for the benefit of the vast majority," said Mr. Couzens.

In an interview Mr. Couzens stated that he believed in the constitution as the foundation and ground work of our national well-being, but he did not believe in tampering with it or incalculating anything into it where it is known that public opinion sways forth and back at short intervals. He stated that all the necessities of life, whether on the farm or in the shop, did not take enough men and women so all could be employed. He, therefore, believed that we should be manufacturing the luxuries all could work, and that hours of labor should be cut down to such an extent that through the necessities, luxuries and shorter hours, there would be employment for all.

The meeting at the Armory was in charge of Attorney Nelson Miles and Mr. Nick Jonker introduced the guest of the evening, Dr. John R. Mulder of the local seminary, gave the invocation.

The American Legion band was kind enough to furnish the music for the

Bank Robber Weeps As He Goes To Prison

BENTZ RAILS AT JURY, PROTESTING HIS INNOCENCE

Theodore Bentz, alias Craig, is now locked up in Marquette prison after being convicted by an Ottawa county jury and sentenced for life by Judge Fred T. Miles of Holland.

The prisoner, who was convicted on a charge of robbery armed in the People's bank, Grand Haven, was started on his way to Marquette at 6:15 p. m. on the day he was convicted, in the custody of Chief of Police Lawrence DeWitt, formerly of Holland, now of Grand Haven, and Deputies Edward Ryecza, William Boeve and Tony Van Horssen of the sheriff's department.

These men have now returned, stating that the prisoner was now safe behind state's prison bars.

Making the trip and following in a Michigan state police car, Troopers Carl Freeman and Eugene Deegan of the Grand Haven post, who went as far as Manistee, two troopers from the post there relieved the local troopers north.

Bentz, who before his conviction, smiled like a school boy, began weeping and railing at the jury who convicted him of robbing the Grand Haven bank when four local men were injured and Earl Doyle, who appeared Monday as a defense witness, was captured by bank employees and vigilantes, and seriously wounded.

Appears Moved.

The jury came out at 3:45 p. m. and after several minutes the defendant was brought in from the county jail. Bentz appeared nervous and greatly moved as he awaited the verdict and almost collapsed when the verdict was read by Foreman David DeBruyn of Zeeland.

Prosecutor J. R. Dethmers immediately arose and asked that the judge sentence the convicted man, to which Attorney Elbert Parsons, Holland, Bentz's counsel, did not object. Bentz asked if he could have a conference with the judge and the prisoner, the sheriff and Mr. Miles were closeted for several minutes.

The trio reappeared, Bentz weeping, and the convicted man was told to stand before the judge with the sheriff. He stepped up and was asked by Mr. Miles if he had anything to say on the record or why the sentence of the court should not be pronounced.

"What I have got to say is that I am innocent of this offense," he said, and turning to the jury he stated, "It will be on your consciences, boys, all your lives. I never robbed this bank and will be proven sooner or later. That is all I have to say."

Judge Miles then said:

"Well, of course, you have, as I stated to the jury, had an opportunity to testify in this case. You didn't have to, and the jury didn't have any right to use any presumption against you because you did not, and they probably didn't, but you saw fit to trust your case without denying that you were here. "Now, the law provides certain things for a man's protection. One is that the question of his guilt or innocence must be determined by twelve men, all of whom must agree upon your guilt or else you cannot be convicted. This case has been presented here to twelve men. Your witnesses have all testified. The witnesses for the people have testified."

"I believe you had a fair trial, by a jury of fair and honorable men. The testimony has convinced them, and it has convinced me of your guilt beyond any doubt whatever. If I had a doubt of your guilt I would set the verdict aside, but I haven't any doubt of your guilt. "And now as to what I should say to you I shall say very little. I do not believe that I ought to take advantage of you. You can't talk back. You have nothing to say here, and I shall not take advantage of you."

"I believe in being a good sport on these matters. You boys with guns that go out and hold people up, you had not ought to sob when you get caught and get convicted, you shouldn't sob, you shouldn't whine like a child, you should take your medicine like men. That is my viewpoint."

Bentz Interrupts.

"Judge, I never robbed this bank," Bentz interrupted. "That is what you say briefly," said the judge. "But you haven't sworn to it, and besides all that, I think we are justified in holding you did. The jury believes you did. Four people here looked you in the eye and tell you they saw you there without any doubt."

"Anyway, the sentence of this court is that you be imprisoned in the branch of the Michigan state prison at Marquette during the remainder of your life. That is all," he continued.

"Judge, couldn't you send me to Jackson?" Bentz urged.

"I am not going to," Miles answered.

"Now, gentlemen," Miles said to the jury, "I believe you have done your duty fairly and justly in this case. You stayed out a long time; that shows you have given earnest consideration to the testimony in this case. The testimony seemed to me to be very clear and convincing, but you went over every phase of it and considered every opportunity that there might be of a question of doubt, and you did the right thing."

"I do not think you need to worry a minute about this case. After the testimony was in, from the matters that were presented to me to the history of this man, I don't think you need to worry at all as to the probability of his being guilty in this case," he concluded.

Wants to See Wife.

After being sentenced Bentz was taken to the jail. When he entered the cell, he said:

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Manly D. Howard, an old and respected citizen, died at his residence on the north side of the bay. Note: Mr. Howard was a big man in stature and in his way played an important part in Holland. Hollanders and Americans were rather divided in how civic development should be handled. Anyway, Mr. Howard came some years after Dr. Van Raalte from Ann Arbor. He intended to do some lumbering here and did for several years. He owned a large tract of pine north of Holland and built a mill where the "Vac-a-Tap" washing machine-brick structure now stands. Your editor remembers swimming, at 15 years, from "steep point," now Kollen Park dock, across to what later was the Van Dyk-Bird mill built by Howard.

Mr. Howard was at one time secretary of the Harbor board and through a bond issue raised $35,000 to further the project. He was the recruiting officer enlisting Co. 1 for the Civil War in 1862; was elected to the Michigan legislature from Ottawa county and was a member also of the Board of Supervisors. He aided in building the first railroad from Holland to Allegan after the fire of 1871. When Holland was incorporated into a city, he had little to do with the city proper since he lived at what is now Peetichow. He was a "hard shelled" Democrat and attended several national conventions. He with the late Heber Walsh, local druggist and father of Walter Walsh, East Ninth street, founded Grace Episcopal church, at one time located on Pine avenue and Eleventh street, burning 45 years ago. You undoubtedly know that the north side is largely owned by John Dunton and Mrs. A. Vander Veen of Grand Haven, wife of the late doctor Vander Veen. Well, these were the daughters of Mr. Howard and the land is that pine tract upon which he lumbered before there was an inhabited north side or a Beechwood. Just a few weeks ago the youngest daughter of Mr. Howard died in Mobile, Ala. She was a beautiful girl named Sadie Howard. She married Gregg Luce, at one time prominent as a furniture manufacturer in Grand Rapids, who some 35 years ago moved to Mobile, where Mrs. Luce became a social favorite among the elite in the "Southland."

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Chris Becker—a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Abel Smeenge, a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wiedenfelder, a daughter.

John Kramer, commander of the A. C. Van Raalte post, states that the G.A.R. headstones have arrived and have been placed on the graves of departed soldiers of the Civil war.

A deal has been made whereby Bert Vander Poel and Leonard DeLoof of the Superior Cigar Co., have secured the old Roy Calkins stand on River St., recently occupied by Tony Spagnola's fruit store. Note: Mr. Calkins conducted an ice cream store and factory there. The Superior is still at the old stand, making cigars and doing a sporting goods business. The silver anniversary is now due for Bert. Mr. DeLoof retired from the firm some years ago.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

A lightning bolt struck the livery barn of Boone Bros. on Seventh and Central avenue, doing $2,000 worth of damage. There were 15 horses in the barn but all were saved. Note: The barn was built by the late Ed Harrington, who dealt in horses and conducted a livery. Later it was known as the Stratton livery. It was partly burned before and later was purchased by the Boone Bros. Some years ago the barn was torn down and for two years a "baby golf course" was installed but these went about as quickly as they arrived and the lot is now vacant.

Holland had quite a River street fire 50 years ago when Squire Fairbanks' justice office and farm implement store, the A. Baert wagon shop and the Jan Heiler shoe store were destroyed by flames. The total loss was about $4,000 not including the stocks. Property saved was the Phoenix planing mill across the street and the M. Jonkman grocery store on the corner of River and Tenth streets. The new water works, just built, undoubtedly saved a great deal of property despite the terrible kicking when the building of it was suggested by the News. Note: The buildings were located on the sites of Ebbelink flower store, the Weller seed store, Uenema shoe shop and the Huizer market. The one-story brick buildings replaced the wooden buildings destroyed. The Baert wagon shop was never rebuilt.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

The News devotes nearly a column to a high school hazing episode that brought fifteen suspensions. It was a wild night and freshmen did not venture very far from their homes. The hazing party caught Herman Brouwer near his home and brought him to Centennial park and dumped him "head first" in the fish pond where he swam about among the gold fish. They then netted him out and proceeded to make an Indian of him by a liberal application of red ink. Ray Tuttle and also another young man who passed away a few years ago, were completely shorn of their hair, while Charles Villenger had his thick head of hair filled with a mixture of gum and pitch, necessitating a clipping at the hands of a barber. Superintendent Bishop was thoroughly incensed and expelled 15 hazers. Note: The first suspended were three "Eds" in a row, Ed Stephan,

Ed Van Ry and Ed Halligan

—rather edifying Eds—Homer Blom, Francis Deto (ring-leader) he would be; Tom Ten Houten, Stanley Curtis, Nelson and Richard Steketee, George and Jake Manting, Declan Whelan (bet "Dega" is laughing yet), "Heinie" Geerds and Frank Lieverse. Heinie, how could you do it, and Frank, you should have talked accident insurance to your subjects and these incidents wouldn't have happened. Well, your editor had some experience along these lines in school and college days. "Heinie" Geerds, when shown this article, stated that the suspension lasted for at least six weeks and in order to keep up with their studies the suspended students resided in small groups with some of the teachers of the school who had taken compassion on a penitent lot and coached them after school hours. Anyway, the boys were finally taken back and most of them graduated with honors and are today substantial business men and public spirited citizens.

Frank Lieverse added something to this article today by stating "You forgot to say that we were hauled before Judge Neal Vander Molen and he sternly told us to 'take of your hats!' We will wager that this austere (?) judge had a twinkle in his eye when he said it."

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Chris Becker—a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Abel Smeenge, a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Wiedenfelder, a daughter.

Otto Bajema of Hudsonville, the well known Ottawa county sheriff candidate, had quite an experience when he and the family motored to Lansing. He had $750 in U. S. Liberty bonds at home and fearing to leave these there, they took them along in the wife's hand bag. After leaving the state capital they found the bag missing and with heavy hearts they arrived home when Mrs. Bajema remembered she had placed the bag on the running board just before stepping into the car. They were much pleased an hour afterward when a telegram arrived from the chief of police at Lansing stating that the bag and bonds had been picked up and were being sent to the owner.

Holland has a new dentist in the person of Dr. J. J. Brower with offices in the Alberti block. He taught manual training in both the Detroit and Bessimer high schools. In 1917 he graduated from the College of Dental Surgery at University of Michigan.

While Peter Jongkrijgt and family were visiting in New Holland their large barn located in the country south on Michigan avenue was burned with all the summer crops besides two horses, three cows, seven pigs and 200 chickens. Included in the loss were 140 bushels of wheat, 200 of oats, ten loads of hay and a large consignment of farm implements. The loss is $4,000, partly insured.

Zeeland Stores Troubled With Check "Kiting"

PERSON STILL UNKNOWN WHO PASSES SMALL CHECK AND KEEPS CHANGE

Business men in Ottawa, Kent and Allegan counties are being "gipped" by a mysterious check "kiter," as was revealed by Police Officer Lester De Pree Wednesday morning.

The checks are all drawn on the Zeeland State bank, which turned the information over to Officer De Pree for investigation in the hope of apprehending the crook. The check turning up Wednesday morning was the third of the kind to make its appearance at the Zeeland State bank and was drawn by a Mr. Chapan in favor of a Mr. Van Der Vin, whoever that may be, in the sum of $6.42, and had been cashed by a Zeeland merchant.

According to the Zeeland Record, other checks have been issued in sums of ten dollars and under, one being cashed in Allegan and another in Grand Rapids. The manner employed by the swindler is to dress himself in badly worn working clothes. He enters a store and makes a small purchase and offers the check in payment, accepting the cash in change. In the instance at Zeeland he bought merchandise costing $1.25, which he probably needed, and accepted $5.17 in change.

The checks so far discovered are written on a regular stock check of the Zeeland State bank, used about four or five years ago. He is reported to be a man between 30 and 40 years of age and seems to be familiar with conditions in this section. He is adept at disguising his handwriting because the signature on the check's face cannot be identified as the same of the indorser, but the sums are too small to warrant having a confederate. The checks are all written in "typewriter" and signed in ink on the check form 3x8 1/2 inches on light yellow stock. The endorsement of the payee is made in pencil for the former to pick some name to correspond with some person carrying a checking account, in which case it would not be revealed until the person found the check had not been drawn by himself, unless the signature was familiar to the teller or the bookkeeper.

TWO HOLLAND PASTORS NAMED FOR NEW CHARGE

Rev. Lambertus VanLaar and Rev. Nicholas J. Monama, both of Holland, and Dr. Herman Kuiper of Chicago, constitute a trio nominated by Second Christian Reformed church at Sioux Center, Iowa. Rev. Lambert Ypma, pastor of the church since 1921, at his own request has become emeritus after a service of 30 years.

VanLaar has been pastor of Prospect Park church here since 1926. Monama has served Ninth Street church since 1929, coming here from Iowa, and Kuiper has served Fourth church, Roseland, Chicago, since 1928.

"OXFORD UNIVERSITY" IS SUBJECT OF PRESIDENT WYNAND WICHERS

"I think any man who is interested in education would naturally want to see some of the great universities of Europe when he travels in Europe," Dr. J. Wynand Wichers, president of Hope college, Wednesday morning in the Memorial chapel. Dr. Wichers plans to give a series of short talks, successive Wednesday mornings in the college chapel, concerning his experiences in Europe during the past summer.

In the few minutes the college president was before the students, he told them of Oxford, England, located 55 or 60 miles from London. Oxford, unlike many other college towns, is to be all in one city and colleges. No buildings belong to Oxford, but the university is composed of 21 incorporated colleges. At the head of each college or institution is a man called by various names, who corresponds to the American college president. Working under this executive are many distinguished graduates and tutors.

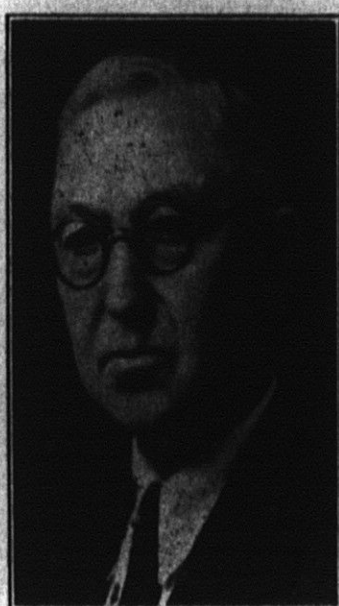

Undergraduates are admitted to Oxford usually by examination, and before granted a degree are required to take two public examinations. Much emphasis is placed on the social and physical life in the institution. To the Englishman, social life is a means that he uses for his education. Rowing is the predominating sport, there being about 40 organized crews in the university.

President Wichers described a few of the most interesting institutions, and placed Christ's Church college first. The buildings of this college are of medieval architecture and include the Tom tower which contains the great clock that strikes 101 times every evening at 9:05 o'clock, one strike for each of the original donors.

All of the colleges are richly endowed and each one contributes to the university. These endowments are made possible by the many rich friends of the institutions who want others to have the opportunity of an education.

Dr. Wichers concluded his talk by answering the question, "Why do you go to college anyway? do you go to escape a hard job or find hard job? One goes to college to acquire power and to think. Any college that fulfills that purpose, is of course, worthwhile."

WILL REMEMBER FAITHFUL SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKER MR. JOHN J. BOLT

The Ottawa county Sunday school convention to be held at Zeeland next week, Wednesday, will include in its program the honoring of Mr. John J. Bolt of Grand Haven, who passed away on April 10 this year. Part of the program will be devoted in his memory. Mr. Bolt had rendered a half century of faithful and active service to Sunday school work largely in the Second Christian Reformed church at Grand Haven. For 25 years he was a member of the Ottawa county Sunday school association. Find complete official program next page.

HOLLAND MAN SHOOT HIMSELF THROUGH BREAST

Harold Bosch, a young salesman 27 years old, living on route 10, Holland, went to the barnyard near his home, placed a shot gun against his breast, pulled the trigger and was instantly killed at noon today. Coroner Gilbert Grande Water arrived quickly and the parents stated that the young man had been in ill health for some months and that he constantly paced the floor. He ate little for dinner, arose nervously and left the house. They thought nothing of this since he often acted that way. Members of the family thought they heard a shot and Alfred, a brother, looking through the window saw Harold lying near the house. The young man, it is thought, had hidden the gun in some bushes nearby. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bosch, and is survived by four brothers, Benjamin of Big Rapids, George of Holland, Davis and Alfred at home, and Mrs. John A. Nienhuis at Waverly.

The body was taken to the Langeland funeral home at Zeeland.

Funeral services will be held on Monday at 1:30 o'clock from the home, private, and 2 o'clock from the North Holland Reformed church, Rev. H. Massen, the pastor, and Rev. Arthur A. Maatman of Grand Rapids, former pastor, officiating.

TRAVELS FROM HAWAII BY AUTOMOBILE

Mr. Albert Doesburg, formerly of Holland, now of Honolulu, has been in this city with his son, Alben, visiting his aunt, Mrs. George Van Duren, 66 East Twelfth street. The Doesburgs left the Sandwich Islands by auto, placing it on the steamer, and when they arrived in San Francisco they motored across country to Michigan to visit friends and relatives. They left again Tuesday, and will take a swing through the eastern states, visiting Washington, D. C., then through the "southland," where they will go to Florida, New Orleans, taking the southern route back to Los Angeles, then north to San Francisco taking the steamer back to America's Pacific possessions, where Mr. Doesburg is in the motor car business. For some years he was a Grand Rapids mail man.

AUXILIARY HONORS DECEASED MEMBERS AT IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

A feature of the meeting of the American Legion auxiliary held in G.A.R. rooms Monday evening was an impressive memorial service, honoring Mrs. Sena Maatman, gold star mother, who recently passed away, and also Mrs. Jennie Huntley, recently deceased mother of a world war soldier. The memorial services were in charge of Mrs. G. J. Van Duren, for many years head of Red Cross work in the city, who was ably assisted by Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren and Mrs. Everett Spaulding. Mrs. Charles Miller fittingly sang "There Is No Night There."

The evening also brought forth many pleasing incidents which indicate that Holland's auxiliary members are on the job 100 per cent. The first of these was the presentation to the auxiliary of a beautiful silver loving cup, given by the state in recognition of the many years of faithful service and zealous labors of Mrs. G. J. Van Duren, known to her friends as "Grandma" Van Duren. Inscribed on the loving cup is "Lida F. Murphy—1934—to the unit doing the most gratuitous work in behalf of the Red Cross," and as was stated before this unit was the auxiliary of the Willard G. Leenhouts post, American Legion post.

Because of her outstanding efforts, Mrs. Van Duren was given the cup for one year. The cup is on exhibition at Williams Jewelry store, and was given at the state convention at Traverse City, where the auxiliary met during the Legion convention.

Only one cup is given in the entire state, so that speaks well for Holland.

The Holland auxiliary was also awarded four citations, one for meritorious work, two for membership and one for the poppy poster contest.

Representative Brouwer Will Aid Truckers

EXEMPTIONS TO BE SECURED FOR THOSE WHO HAUL SUGAR BEETS

Representative Ed Brouwer is not only aiding the Lake Shore Sugar company during their fall campaign by facilitating transportation, but a new arrangement started last year will also be beneficial to the truckers who haul the beets to the factory.

Unlike years ago when the farmers brought their beets by wagon, today truckers visit the farms and gather up the piles of sugar beets as these are dug.

The Michigan Public Utilities commission passes on all trucking licenses. However a large number of these truckers are not in the business regularly, but in order to put them in a position to truck and not violate the law, last year a temporary permit was granted through the efforts of Mr. Brouwer.

This year he is again making arrangements with the utilities commission for trucking applications, in fact these are now in his possession. The local sugar company officials are calling a meeting for 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon, October 1, to meet with the truckers, and Mr. Brouwer is availing himself of this opportunity to work in conjunction with the officials and also truckers who wish to make application for a license of this kind. The local company is mailing out notices to truckers advising them of the meeting.

Mr. Brouwer will aid in the filling out of these blanks and give the necessary information as to the necessary requirements.

All truckers must fill out these exemption application blanks and those blanks must be sent to the Michigan utilities commission. The commission passes upon them to see whether a trucker is eligible, and then a hearing will be held.

Mr. Brouwer is now endeavoring to have representatives from the Michigan public utilities commission come to Holland to pass upon these matters, thus saving the truckers and many others concerned a great deal of time and money by obviating the going to Lansing.

The final decision after the applications have all been signed will be made at least ten days after these have arrived at the state capital.

This helpful service given by Mr. Brouwer last year was indeed appreciated by the truckers and by the sugar mill officials as

Bank Robber Weeping As He Goes To Prison

tered the court room he appeared to look around the room for his wife, known as Christina Craig, who was a defense witness yesterday morning.

As soon as he got to the jail Bentz wanted his wife who was at her apartment on Washington street. Two deputies were sent by the sheriff to get Mrs. Craig. The officers did not tell her of the fate of her husband but informed her that "Ted" wanted to see her.

Bentz is the second of the five men who entered the Grand Haven bank a year ago, to go behind the bars. Doyle is serving time in Jackson. It is not known whether South Bend police will press the charges of robbery armed there. Federal men in Indiana have a warrant charging him with murder and bank robbery.

Bentz was at one time a respected business man in Portland, Me., and was arrested on charges of bank robbery that later were dismissed. He then was extradited to Michigan to stand trial in Ottawa county. While in the jail here department of justice agents indicated that they desired to question Bentz on a possible connection with the John Dillinger gang.

Jury Deliberates Following Charge By Judge Miles: Returns for Instructions—Mrs. Craig on Stand.

One of the most interesting cases tried in Ottawa county circuit court was concluded Tuesday when a jury of twelve men convicted Theodore Bentz of robbing the People's bank of Grand Haven. The case lasted nearly two days, and every seat in the large court room was filled. In commenting on the case the Grand Haven Tribune says as follows:

Following a brief conference with the judge Theodore Bentz was sentenced to Marquette prison for life for participation in robbery of the People's Savings bank on August 18, 1933. When he returned to the courtroom he was weeping and said brokenly to the jury:

"I never robbed this bank and it will be proven sooner or later. This will never be out of your conscience."

Theodore Bentz was found guilty of robbery of the People's Savings bank of Grand Haven in a verdict returned by the jury at 3:50 p. m. Tuesday. Upon announcement of the verdict Prosecutor John R. Dethmers moved that the prisoner be sentenced at once. Defense Attorney Parsons did not object to this but the prisoner, trembling with emotion, did object and asked for a conference with the judge which was granted. Judge Miles, Bentz and the sheriff were closeted together as this was written.

Mrs. Craig, wife of the convicted man, was not in the room at the time of the verdict. The jury was out from 1:15 p. m. to 3:50 p. m. on Tuesday.

In his charge to the jury Judge Fred T. Miles emphasized the testimony of the bank employees and an employee of the McLellan store who positively identified the defendant as one of those who took part in the robbery, and that the Grand Haven chief of police testified in substance that the defendant told him that his brother was in the bank and was one of the robbers and that his brother was indebted to him and in order to pay him off turned over some $1,900 or $2,000 in cash of the People's Savings bank as travelers' checks.

The judge cautioned the jury not to give too much weight to the testimony of Earl Doyle, confessed robber of the bank, now in Jackson prison, since Doyle, while denying that Bentz was one who participated in the crime, refused to name his confederates.

Mrs. Craig testified as to renting the apartment in Chicago, where her husband, being tried here as Theodore Bentz, claimed to have been during the time of the robbery.

Conclusion of today's testimony wound up one phase of the effort to bring to just a group of bandits who terrorized western Michigan in one of its most spectacular bank holdups. One bandit was caught and Bentz was brought from Portland, Maine, to answer to charges that he had a part in the robbery. Police had been working on the various angles to the case for many months.

The high-light of the defense testimony was reached yesterday afternoon when Earl Doyle, confessed member of the bandit gang that robbed the People's Savings bank, was brought into the court room about 5 p. m. and in a few crisp statements said that Theodore Bentz was not a member of the gang and that he had never seen the respondent before.

Doyle was heavily guarded as he was brought from the county jail accompanied by Sheriff Ben Rose, chief Lawrence DeWitt, and four other deputies and state police. He was handcuffed until he was sworn in for testimony.

"You were one of the men in the robbery of the People's bank on August 18, 1933?" queried Attorney Parsons, counsel for Bentz.

"Yes, sir."

"Did you know all of your associates that day?"

"Yes, sir."

"Can you identify this man as one of the gang?"

"He is not."

"Have you any personal interest in this man?"

"No, sir."

John Dethmers, prosecutor, on the cross examination, put the following questions:

"Have you ever seen this man before?"

"No, sir."

"There were four or five in the party that day?"

"There were five, sir."

"Will you give the names of the other men?"

"I refuse to reveal any of those names."

"Were you one of the gang captured?"

"Yes."

"Would you say that Ed Bentz was one of the crew?"

"I would not say so, sir."

Returned to Prison.

Doyle was taken back to the jail and within a half hour was back on his way to Jackson prison, where he is serving a life sentence for the bank robbery here. He has grown heavier and looks very well. Sheriff Rose said he was told from his men that they had Doyle safely back behind the prison gates at 9:15 p. m.

Chief Lawrence DeWitt furnished an interesting link in the story when he testified that Bentz had told him he had received $2,000 in American Express Travelers' Checks and Mellon National bank travelers' checks from his brother, Edward Bentz, in payment of a debt.

F. C. Bolt, cashier of the People's Savings bank, testified that the canceled vouchers produced were those stolen from the bank on August 18 and he could not identify them by number. He could not identify Bentz as he had not seen him. He said he was standing at the telephone when two men walked into his office and one put a gun to his waist as he said "hands up." He then told the remaining story and how he was made to go to the safe to unlock it; the position of the other employees as he was forced to walk over them on his way to the vault; and the actions of the bandits up until the time he grappled with Doyle at the rear of the bank.

George Hirsch, employed at Rothchild & Hirsch, Hammond, Indiana, testified that he had sold Bentz a $3.50 hat about the last of August, 1933, and in payment had accepted one of the traveler's checks for $20. He said he had never seen the man until faced with him in the court room as Theodore Bentz.

Welling Testifies.

Arthur Welling, teller, testified early in the afternoon that two men had come to his window about closing time. One asked for $2 in nickels and $2 in dimes. As the short man put the questions, the other smiled in such a way that Welling became suspicious and cautiously felt for the trip of the burglar alarm. In another second he was covered with the gun of the first man and the other man had gone down the lobby and covered Miss Meschke.

It was then that he stepped on the alarm that brought Edward Kinkema out onto the street with a gun.

He told of being made to open the safe and missing the combination once. He said he had a good look at Bentz at the window and while he was trying to open the safe. He said he had picked out Bentz's picture from a portfolio of criminal pictures submitted to him by police.

Charles Bugelski, employed at the McLellan store, told the court he was looking down the street when he saw Ed Kinkema run out of the Addison Pellegrom Colson store with a gun.

He asked: "Hi, Kink, going to shoot a dog?"

Kinkema said "No, bank robbers."

With that he dashed into the store, got a gun and went to the rear of the store. He said he saw a strange car parked in the alley with the motor running and he believed that someone was in the car with a gun. He slid down a chute into the basement and then returned to the rear of the store and began firing. He said he saw Bentz in a gray suit and straw hat. He had a machine gun and shot toward the McLellan store.

He graphically described how a woman fainted as she was passing and the shooting began. He said he identified Bentz by pictures and also at the county jail when he was lined up with two other men. He said he had never discussed the identification with the bank employees.

MISS MESCHKE AND PELLEGROM POSITIVE PRISONER ON TRIAL HAD PART IN ROBBERY AT G.D. HAVEN

One Holland man was drawn on the jury hearing the Grand Haven bank robbery case at the Ottawa county court house. He is Peter De Kraker. Others are David De Bruyn from Zeeland; Francis Wolbrink, Allendale; Edward Veldman, Blenden; Arthur Umloer, Chester; Thomas Spencer, Crocker; William Ulberg, Georgetown; Henry Cook, Jamestown; Earl Trip, Robinson township; John Bremer, Jr., Spring Lake township; Floyd Gavin, Wright, and George A. Schreur, Zeeland township.

The case was called by Judge Miles of Holland promptly at 9:00 o'clock Monday.

Attorney Elbert Parsons of Holland, in his opening statement, said the defense would show Bentz was in Chicago on the day in question and would prove Bentz was not a member of the gang.

John R. Dethmers, prosecuting attorney, who is in charge of the case for the people, made the opening statement, describing the bank robbery. He submitted a plan of the People's bank and the actions of the robbers, and their proximity to the bank employees was traced before the jury. He also submitted pictures of the interior to show just where the bank employees were at the time of the robbery.

Earl Doyle, the one robber who was caught at Grand Haven after a running gun fight and who is serving a life sentence at Jackson prison, arrived at 2 p. m. Deputy Edward Ryerson, Ferdinand Kinkema, Grand Haven police officer, and Deputy Tony Van Hossen left Monday morning at 6 a. m. and got back with the prisoner in the early afternoon. Doyle has been brought here as one of the defendant's witnesses.

State police and sheriff's officers guarded the door to the court room and one or two who were not known were "frisked." Nothing was found on the men and they were allowed to enter the court room. Judge Fred T. Miles has ordered officers to limit the spectators to the seating capacity of the court room.

Mrs. Craig was seated with Lonnie Bailey, colored, from Chicago, who stated to a reporter that he would testify that he knew that Bentz was in Chicago on August 18, 1933, as he had cleaned the apartment, 7905 Luella street, Chicago, where the Bentzs were living. He said he was a church news reporter, a decorator and a house cleaner. He said he was positive of the date as there were records kept by the owner of the apartment.

Earl Doyle, in a conversation with Sergeant Mulder of the state police and Mrs. Craig at Jackson a few weeks ago, stated that Bentz was not one of the gang that robbed the bank, that he did not know Bentz and had never seen him. He is expected to testify.

The alibi witnesses and Doyle will apparently build up "mistaken identity" testimony as defense for Bentz.

Mrs. Craig talked with her husband during recess. Tears were apparent on her face. She was dressed in a dark brown coat and hat. Bentz, smilingly talked with her and his demeanor carried with it his happy attitude which has characterized his every public appearance since he was brought here from Portland, Maine, on extradition papers signed by the governor of that state several weeks ago.

Both Mr. William Pellegrom and Miss Martha Meschke as early witnesses were positive that the prisoner was one of two men who entered the bank about 3 p. m. that day and that Bentz walked to the rear of the lobby and covered Miss Meschke.

Miss Meschke stated that she had been posting and was going to a desk to spindle some work and was opposite the vault door when Bentz stepped in front of her and pointed a gun through the grill work and told her to lie down. She stated that Bentz had said: "Lie down, don't yell or touch a button or I'll shoot."

She said she laid with her face down on the floor and did not even "take a peek" until told to get up and march out of the rear door. She said the bandits were on either side of her but when she heard the shooting in the street she dodged behind the rear door and never got out of the building.

Mr. Pellegrom stated that two men went into the cashier's office and covered F. C. Bolt. They immediately came in behind the cages and covered the other employees and they all lay down with their faces on the floor. He stated that he turned his head slightly and saw the bandits scoop up the bonds, checks, currency and coin that was within reach.

He said he was later ordered to get up and was marched through the rear door. He stated he saw Bentz with a machine gun, fire towards the McLellan building. He said he got some lead in his foot and sought the protection of the building nearby and later saw Doyle and Bolt grapple and then saw Doyle rushed into the Addison Pellegrom store. He said he saw Bentz fleeing with the other three men toward Franklin street.

They both stated that they had clear views of Bentz, Miss Meschke as he covered her within a short distance and Mr. Pellegrom through the grill work behind the teller's window. They had ample time to receive a strong mental picture of him and later identified him after they had examined many pictures submitted to them by detectives and police. Miss Meschke said she believed she looked at the pictures before she identified the prisoner. Mr. Pellegrom and she did not confer together over the pictures, she said.

They stated that they had identified him again at the county jail. Basing his entire defense on a claim of mistaken identity, Elbert Parsons, attorney appointed by Judge Miles for Theodore Bentz, alias Craig, called to the stand Earl Doyle, captured member of the bandit group, now serving a life sentence in Jackson prison.

Asked by Parsons if he knew his associates on the bank job, Doyle said he did.

"Was Bentz one of your associates in the robbery on August 18, 1933?" Parsons asked.

"He was not," Doyle replied. He continued that he had never seen Bentz before today. Although he stated there were five men on the job, on being asked who the others were, he replied, "I refuse to answer."

The code of the underworld still held when he was asked if Edward Bentz, a half-brother of Theodore Bentz, was a member of the gang. "I will not say," was the answer.

Attorney Parsons attempted to show that the length of time in which Mr. Pellegrom had to see the man who walked to the rear of the lobby would have been pretty short to make a firm mental picture of the man.

Bentz, or Craig, as the defense attorney refers to him, is dressed in a dark suit. He is clean-shaven, dressed neatly and does not appear nervous or disturbed. He smiled broadly at one point when he turned around and saw his wife, seated in the rear, with several alibi witnesses who were brought from Chicago.

It is important that you should know what your bank cannot do for you as well as what it can do for you in the way of service.

Your bank under certain circumstances, can lend you funds upon the basis of future contracts or delivery. By means of various credit forms your bank can help you to get immediate payment for goods sold, or advance you money on suitable collateral.

Won't Let "Bill" Hatton Go As County Chairman

HOLLAND MEN SELECTED ON REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

William Hatton was re-elected chairman of the Republican county committee at a meeting of the successful candidates at the primary election, which was held in the court house at Grand Haven. Mr. Hatton has served the Republicans of this county for the past 15 years as head of the county committee, and has contributed much to the success of the party in this section of the state.

Although Mr. Hatton has announced several times that he was unable to continue longer as the head of the committee, he has always been prevailed upon to accept the chairmanship. At the recent convention he asked that a younger man be chosen but at the meeting candidates would not hear of it. He urged the ward and township committee members to be instructed to make a great effort to get out the vote at the November election. Although the Republican vote at the primary was gratifying, he pointed out that the vote was far less in the Republican ranks than at the election two years ago.

William Wilds, county clerk, who has been the secretary for many years, was re-elected to that office and John Dethmers was re-elected treasurer.

The executive committee includes Edward Brouwer, Ben Mulder, William C. Vandenburg, Angus De Kruij, Holland; Lawrence Dornbos, John F. Van Anrooy, Grand Haven; D. M. Cline, Spring Lake; Fred F. McEachron, Hudsonville, and Henry N. Lynn, Coopersville.

The Holland ward committees consist of the following: Holland city: Henry Prins and Herman Bekker, first ward; George Mooney and Arthur Drinkwater, second; Ben Mulder, third; J. Thomas Mahon and Ernest Bedell, fourth; Raymond L. Smith, John Bultman and Henry Van Wieren, fifth; John Galien, Leonard Vogel-sang and Gilbert Vander Water, sixth.

Fourteen Hope college students will receive aid from the board of benevolence of the Reformed church in America, according to Prof. A. E. Lampen, secretary of the board. Ten girls and four boys made application to the board at its semi-annual meeting yesterday.

Former County Farm Agent Killed

Berny O. Hagerman, agricultural expert noted for his studies of sand land utilization, died late Saturday in Mercy hospital, Jackson, of injuries suffered when his automobile struck a gravel truck 8 miles north of that city.

He was well known throughout western Michigan, having been assistant county agent of Ottawa county, and county agent of Charlevoix before taking up his work with the Pennsylvania railroad, in which his work in sand land farming and in club work carried him all over the territory.

He taught agriculture a year in Litchfield, and then entered the federal extension service as assistant to his brother, D. L. Hagerman, who then was county agent for Ottawa county.

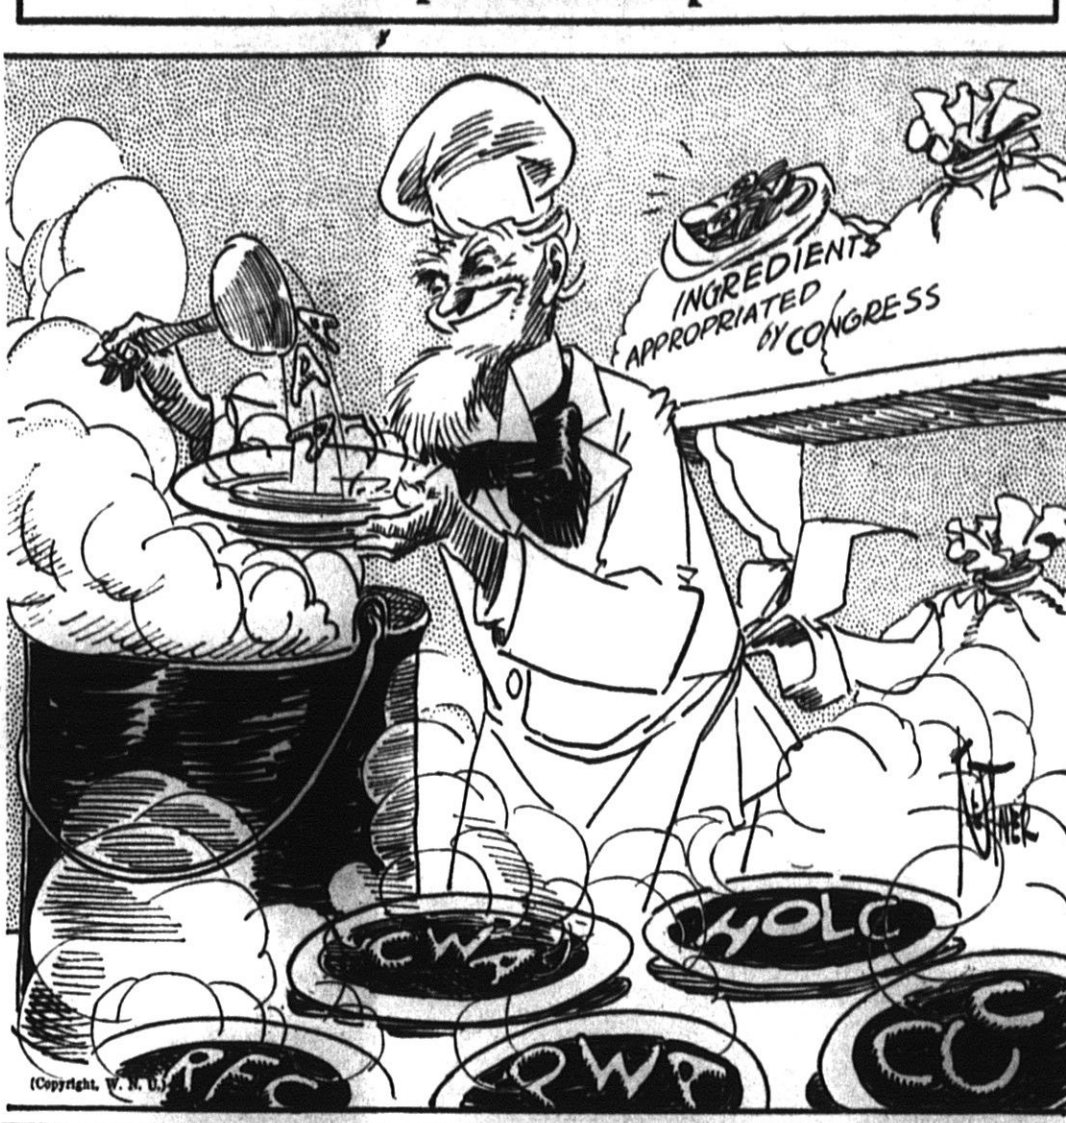

The body was taken to his home in Grand Rapids.

Democrats Hold State Meet At Rapids Today

OTTAWA "DEMS" FAVOR AN EARLIER CLOSING OF BEER GARDENS IN OTTAWA

Democrats of Ottawa county assembled in the supervisors room to elect delegates to the state convention to be held in Grand Rapids today (Friday); pass resolutions, among them recommending the closing of beer gardens at midnight and raising the age limit of patrons to 21 years; receive instructions as to unit vote at the state meet and discuss programs for the coming Democratic campaign to end Nov. 6.

Gerrit Van Coevering of Grand Haven was selected permanent chairman over Roy Lowing of Georgetown by a vote of 34 to 17. This was the only indication of lack of harmony in the convention.

Mr. Van Coevering was also elected chairman of the Ottawa county delegates at the state convention.

Louis J. Vanderberg of Holland was elected unanimously as secretary of the convention.

Charles E. Misner made the keynote speech, pointing the Democratic party as the political party having its origin in the beginning of this country under the leadership of Thomas Jefferson. As that great patriot pledged himself never to turn the party over to a gang for personal gain, he urged the present party to purge it from self-seekers.

Attorney Louis J. Stempfly of Holland stated he supported the New Deal as the one way to lead this nation out of the doldrums and create fair living for all. The Democratic party is big enough for all and is just as fine as the members make it, he stated.

The convention pledged its support to Frank A. Picard for U. S. senator; Arthur J. Lacy for governor; Allen E. Stebbins for lieutenant governor; Thomas F. McAllister for congress and endorsed and pledged full support to the county ticket as nominated at the recent primaries.

Theodore I. Fry, state treasurer, was pointed to with special reference to support him as a unit at the state convention as nominee for re-election to that office. The resolutions stated "He has achieved signal distinction in the conduct of the state treasury during the most trying period in the history of that department."

It was also recommended that the Democratic party of this county go on record as favoring the closing of all beer gardens and liquor dispensaries at midnight and raising the age limit of patrons to 21 years and that the Ottawa county delegation to the state convention be instructed to present this recommendation to the resolutions committee of the state convention.

Commendation was made to the Democratic administration under the leadership of Wm. A. Comstock as governor and pointed to the following achievements: payment of $30,000,000 on deficit left by Republican administrations; reduction of state expenses by more than nineteen million; restoration of soundness to the banking system; removal of the state Public Utilities Commission out of control of Public Utility companies; made available funds for schools in distress; and contributed a million a month to welfare; elimination of state tax on realty with the exception of an insignificant amount.

In conclusion the resolutions pointed that harmony and loyalty are essential to the success of the Democratic candidates, state and county, in the present campaign and the continuance of the Democratic party in power to the end that it may continue its great work in behalf of all the people. It urged "to bury all personal differences and other petty matters in favor of a united effort toward the success of the mission which has been entrusted to the Democratic party."

Pheasants Flush at Auto Approach

While Vaudie Vanden Berg and your editor were motoring to Grand Haven two pheasants at different points flew up over US-31, showing that there are not a few of these birds in the wilds around West Olive. One was a hen and the other was a cock with beautiful plumage—the hens are never so colorful. Deputy Dick Homkes and yours truly had the privilege of liberating nearly a hundred of these birds in this vicinity some 15 years ago. These must be the great grandchildren "Vaudie," dispute this if you dare!

Charles E. Misner, Grand Haven, and Kenneth J. Foldertsma, Zeeland, Resolutions, Gil Van Hooven, Holland, Lionel Heap, Grand Haven, and Roy Lowing, Georgetown. Credentials, Marvin W. Turner, Grand Haven; Herman Bittner, Holland; and W. C. Ames, Spring Lake.

Gerrit Van Coevering, acting Ottawa county chairman, and permanent chairman of the convention, pointed to the harmony of the convention as indicative of the future campaign and urged united effort in a battle which he stated was to be a hard fought one. He asked that township and city committees organize their campaigns and notify the county committee in ample time to secure good speakers.

The following delegates and alternates were chosen: Delegates, Dennis Allen, Spring Lake, George Caball, Zeeland, Peter Damstra, Holland, Frank Slater, Coopersville, Roy Lowing, Georgetown; Tony Vandenberg, John F. Donnelly, Russell Haight, L. J. Vandenburg, Holland. Alternates: Homer Fisher, M. W. Turner, Charles E. Misner, Edward Broekema, Niel Donker, Grand Haven; W. C. Ames, Spring Lake; Bert Wiersma, Zeeland; Herman Bittner, Nick Spriestma, Bert Hibern, B. E. Slagh, Al Wierengo, Holland; Peter Cook, Holland township; and Kenneth Folkertsma, Zeeland.

A resolution was passed at the meeting of the Young Democrats of Ottawa county, held in Holland recently, whereby the board of supervisors, will be asked to make an investigation of the mailing of marked Democratic instruction ballots under cover of stationery from the county clerk's office, which were circulated in the county before the primary election.

The resolution was brought before the meeting by Marinus Barense of Zeeland and he moved the resolution be passed. The matter brought the meeting up to a lively tempo but was finally passed on a yea and nay vote. Copies of the resolution have been widely scattered throughout the county convincing the use of marked instruction ballots and petitioning the board of supervisors to make an investigation.

The matter was introduced to the board of supervisors at the last meeting when it was brought up by John De Pree of Zeeland and William Wilds, clerk of the committee, stated that he had nothing to do with the matter and was at a loss to know how the stationery was obtained. It was obsolete, he stated, and might have been held by some one who is entitled to use county stationery, although for regular purposes the envelopes required an extra stamp. The stationery had been printed years before and even carried a two-cent stamp instead of a three-cent stamp as has been required in recent years.

Neither the board nor any fair-minded Democrat or Republican held the county clerk responsible, and said so.

Delegates from Grand Haven selected to attend the state convention include: Charles Kohoff, Russell Ver Mullen, Robert Wierenger, and Edward Broekema.

Holland: Ed Slagh, George Manning, Mrs. Clare McNaughton, Louis Stempfly, Willard Elferink, E. Stegerda and Bertal Slagh.

William Emerick Takes Own Life

William Emerick, 82, resident at the Allegan county farm for the past five years, committed suicide recently by cutting his throat and wrists with a razor. His body was found early in the morning where it lay beside the road along the township line of Clyde and Lee.

When he was found it was discovered that he had taken off his coat, folded it neatly, taken off his hat and placed his glasses on it, and a note that was found on him declared that he had been suffering from his head and eyes. The note also was in the form of a will and left his last possessions, a watch and trunk, to relatives.

Emerick had been complaining for some time about his head and eyes and it is believed that he had become despondent over his condition which finally led him to suicide.

Time of Emerick's death was placed at about nine hours prior to the time the body was discovered. He had been seen walking along the road at a fairly late hour and it is believed that he was at that time searching for a spot to take his own life.

DR. WICHERS OF HOPE ON BOARD

Mrs. Smith B. Taylor of Spring Lake was appointed one of three members of an Ottawa county educational committee which will sit in with the county FERA commission in discussions and plans for the educational plan to become effective throughout the state during the winter to absorb unemployment in the educational and professional classes.

President Wynand Wichers of Hope college and Dr. Wenger of Coopersville were other representatives from the county appointee to act on the same committee.

Mrs. Taylor was recommended by Mayor Lionel Heap as a person who is interested in handicraft work, music and all forms of modern education. The committee was selected by the county commission at a meeting held in Holland.

THREE-YEAR-OLD CHILD FALLS FROM SECOND STORY; SUFFERS BRUISES

An unusual accident, causing considerable excitement on Eighth street, occurred Saturday afternoon when Roger Van Liere, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Van Liere of R. R. 2, Holland, fell from a second-story window of the Du Mez Bros. department store.

Fortunately the child landed on the awning before striking the cement walk below, and this, no doubt, broke his fall to a great extent. The boy was taken to Holland hospital where examination revealed that he was not injured except for a few body bruises.

Mr. John Hafner, formerly clerk at the Warm Friend Tavern, has secured a civil position with the Four Flags hotel, Niles, Michigan.

Stempfly, Edward Poest and Broekema served as the resolutions committee of last night's convention while Bertal Slagh, Wierenger and Dekker were appointed to the committee on delegates.

Chairman McNaughton read a call from William Dorn, state chairman, calling for cooperation to the fullest extent among Young Democrats, and a resolution was passed as follows: "We hereby resolve that each member of the organization work at all times for the advancement of the New Deal, the ideals of the Young Democratic organization and its membership."

The following committees were appointed: committee on delegates, Dean Dekker, Zeeland; Bert Slagh, Holland; and Robert Wierenger, Grand Haven; resolutions, Louis J. Stempfly, Holland, Edward Poest, Zeeland, and Edward Broekema, Grand Haven.

17½ Minutes of Sunlight Are Fatal to Rattlesnake

Exposure to the sun's rays for 17½ minutes caused the death of a rattlesnake under observation by members of the Yosemite Field School recently. Ann Hunt, one of their number, reported. The students had come upon the snake in the course of a hike and, determined to take it to the Yosemite National Park Museum, sentenced it to death by the sun's heat.

"After 13 minutes of exposure to the sunlight under the watchful eyes of the party it rolled over once or twice, then righting itself it remained writhing somewhat for a few seconds before repeating the action," said Ann. "This it did four or five times. In 17½ minutes it was apparently dead, and remained, belly upward, stretched full length."

"Then a reflex action in the head and about two inches of the body was observed, the mouth opening wide, and showing the fangs and trachea clearly. During this post-mortem action the fangs were relaxed, whereas they had been shown in rigid fighting position before. The body after 18 minutes of exposure to the sunlight felt very warm to the touch."

The clerk presented a petition from citizens and electors requesting council to present to the voters at the next general election in November an amendment to city charter whereby the board of police and fire commissioners would be appointed by the council instead of elected by the people.

Granted by a 10 to 1 vote (Alderman Kalkman voting nay), and the city attorney was instructed to draw up necessary amendment to be presented to the governor for his approval and submitted to the electorate at the next general election on November 6.

Alderman Kleis presented an application from H. P. Zwemer for permission to erect an oil station at 283-291 East Eighth street at estimated cost of $2,500.

Mayor Bosch also reported for the information of the council that he had accompanied the sidewalk committee and the city engineer on a trip to Lansing in which this matter was taken up with Mr. Nims, and that the city had just recently received a letter from Lansing stating that the project had now been approved as a regular works division project.

The street committee reported having been approached in regard to the matter of discontinuing the boulevard lights on West Eighth street, but felt that this was a matter for the lighting committee instead, and upon the suggestion of the mayor, the matter was referred to the public lighting committee with recommendation that they take the matter up with the board of public works.

The public buildings committee requested authority to get a figure on replacing several curtains throughout the city hall.

in greenhouse the cost would be approximately $2,000. The committee further reported that it was estimated that the saving per year if these were installed would be approximately $680; this saving would be accomplished by using a less expensive grade of coal and also a lower consumption.

After some discussion the committee was authorized to get more information and bids to be submitted to the council at their next regular meeting.

Alderman De Cook reported for the information of the council that the building committee had done the necessary repairs to four of the city-owned houses, and that only such work was done as was absolutely necessary and the cost was very nominal.

The public buildings committee further reported recommending that the room on the second floor of the city hall formerly occupied by the city engineer, be turned over to the city assessor for his use. # GROUP WILL STUDY SECTIONS ADAPTED TO RAISING BERRIES

A tour of the county will be made this week by Don Hootman, agriculturist from Michigan State college; L. W. Arnold, county agricultural agent; J. Johnson, in charge of the experimental station at South Haven; Mayor Lionel Heap and Ray Nies of Holland, to examine sections adapted to raising cultivated blueberries. There are many sections in this county which it is believed could be turned over to this profitable crop.

The cultivation of the blueberry is one which has been growing in this state. C. P. Milham, former agent here, was intensely interested in this fruit culture and promoted it when he was here. The fruit yield from the cultivated bush is large and the culture on this type of soil is not difficult. Experiments, which have been carried on for some time at South Haven, show that much land which seems practically worthless in western Michigan can be turned to good use through the cultivation of this popular berry.

Holland succeeded in keeping the ball in Creston's territory almost all of the time. Only once did Creston threaten, near the close of the fourth period, when it succeeded in completing four consecutive forward passes. The first quarter ended without a score. Holland scored twice in the second period on line smashes, followed by forward passes from Plannan to Marcus. Holland missed a third and fourth touchdown when passes were fumbled. Vandewater scored the third marker in the fourth quarter. He intercepted a forward pass from Meinke and carried the ball to Creston's 8-yard line, and on the next play took the ball over the goal. Holland's line held well against Creston. There was little fumbling by either eleven.

Sixty-seven years ago Friday Henry E. Van Kampen of 210 East Sixteenth street, arrived in Holland from The Netherlands. The wooden shoes which he wore upon his arrival in the city had to be worn the entire year, Mr. Van Kampen said, as he recalled the fact that poverty had to be dealt with at that time and help was not forthcoming as it is today. Mr. Van Kampen, last surviving member of the family of seven children, visited The Netherlands 31 years ago. At that time he slept again in the same house in which he was born. Mr. Van Kampen has lived in Holland city and the township since his arrival in this country.

Mrs. Henry Breuker, age 73, died Thursday afternoon at her home, 194 West Eighteenth street, following a prolonged illness. She had been a resident in Holland for the past 18 years, before which time she made her home in the vicinity of Holland. Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home and at 2 o'clock at Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church with Rev. Peter Jonker officiating. Burial was in Graafschap cemetery. Surviving besides her husband are a daughter, Mrs. Herman Jacobs; five sons, Ben, John, Fred, Bert and Henry, all residing in the vicinity of Holland; one sister, Mrs. John Beukema of Holland; a brother, Ben Lemmen of Allendale; 25 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Boylan motored in from Detroit to spend Sunday with Mrs. Boylan's mother, Mrs. Mary de Graaf, 75 West Fifteenth street.

Application for a marriage license has been received at the county clerk's office from Andrew Bakker, 29, Saugatuck, and Gertrude J. Keel, 26, Holland.

Approximately 72 per cent of Holland's taxes of the summer roll has been collected. City Treasurer John Stegenga reported as he prepared to close his books to turn them over to the city assessor. A total of $254,903.99 has been collected, he said. The total due is $353,339.02. Collections this year are more than the year before when approximately 70 per cent was remitted. Unpaid taxes will be assessed on the winter tax roll by the assessor. Of the uncollected balance considerable taxes will still be collected before the close of the year, which will indeed be a gratifying showing.

The Holland Eagles are making extensive repairs on their East Eighth street building and lodge rooms.

The Holland Civic chorus, which is under the direction of Prof. W. Curtis Snow, will hold its first meeting of the year on Monday evening, Oct. 1, in the Hope memorial chapel.

Charles McLean, Andrew Dallman and Peter Boter are in Ann Arbor where they have entered the University of Michigan law school.

Sixth Reformed church on Lincoln avenue, has filed application for permission to place stained shingles on the sides of the building at a cost of $300. Dick Harmen, 634 Lincoln avenue, has filed an application for a building permit to erect a double garage at a cost of $135.

Rev. Jay Wabeke has returned to Marshfield Hills, Mass., after spending a few weeks' vacation with his parents and friends in Holland. He is a graduate of Hope college.
