Program of Community Service Is in Scout Plan

Seek Stronger Democracy Through Activities in Local Area

The Ottawa-Allegan Boy scout council is joining in a nation-wide plan of action to prepare local troops for many kinds of community service during the coming year. Members of the executive board of the local council pledged the following statement which by 16 organizations which are interested in strengthening and invigorating democracy:

"While recognizing the urgent necessity for military preparedness, we are deeply convinced that the paramount need in national defense is the strengthening and invigorating of democracy in the United States. This we propose to do through our respective programs of activity and education."

First efforts of the local council will be directed to a troop inventory and roll call of each of the council units which will reveal the training committee in deciding what training courses are needed at this time, as well as helping the program committee in outlining the activities in which all scouts are participating. The inventory and roll call will be conducted by members of the leadership and training committee, organization committee and members of the commissioner staff during October.

The scoutmasters, assistants and troop committeemen of each troop will be asked to make a troop pledge of cooperation which will include provision for minimum training of all leaders, adding leadership where it is needed, promotion of a year-round camping experience for every member of the troop, provision for a troop and patrol mobilization plan so that scouts may be quickly reached when calls for community service are received.

Each troop and sea scout ship is also being asked to form an emergency service corps composed of senior scouts, 15 years of age and up, and leaders of the troop. The corps members would be trained in first aid and rescue work such as will fit them for a type of service which has been rendered by various scouting groups in times of flood, hurricanes and like emergencies.

In order to be eligible for membership in this corps the senior scout or leader must qualify for merit badges in first aid, fireman, safety, pioneering, personal health, public health, life saving and rowing. He must be able to run a mile in eight and one-half minutes, ply an 18-foot rope hand over hand in 15 seconds, be able to tie a number of knots such as might be used in emergency service and must, of course, have passed a rigid physical examination.

Members of the executive board are determined to meet the objectives for 1940 of organizing a total of eight new troops. Five new units have already been organized, leaving three units yet to be formed. Other objectives to be completed are addition of 193 scouts, 115 cubes and three new cub packs.

Scoutmasters of the council, also have approved the plan of action, as well as outlining an achievement program to be entered into by all troops and Sea scout ships of the council. The plan involves the use of an attractive board on which the troop charter is mounted and around which are spaces for 10 seals which may be earned by the meeting of requirements decided upon by the scoutmasters. Seals are to be awarded troops who make application for the renewal of their annual charter on time, for making a net gain in their scout membership, for having one or more trained leaders who have completed the minimum training course in scout leadership, for use of the standard troop budget plan in conducting the troop's financial program, for performance of a community service or good turn to the sponsoring institution, for having an active troop committee which would be required to meet at least four times a year in addition to serving as an advancement committee for the troop and aid in the promotion of a minimum camping program.

The advancement seal is awarded the troops who have 100 per cent of the members advancing one or more ranks each year. The camping seal is given to troops who have 50 per cent or more of their members in a long term summer camp, while still another seal recognizes those troops who are represented by one or more patrols in the annual council camporee. The plan as originated by the scoutmasters will attempt to stimulate each troop to carry out a well-rounded program which will result in the maximum of satisfaction to the scouts and leaders involved.

Grand Haven, Sept. 26 (Special)—Judge Fred T. Miles ruled Wednesday afternoon that James Van Wessem, James S. Van Volkenburgh and Gerrit Zaagman, constituting the Ottawa county social welfare commission had no jurisdiction to make a settlement with Anton Hauptman, 68, of Grand Haven.

The commission had brought suit against Hauptman in which a judgment of $350 was due the commission on a bond given by the defendant in 1936 for the support of an illegitimate child. The court ruled that the bond "was given without consideration and that no action would lie."

Proofs were taken Wednesday in the case and the court held that it appeared the mother of the child was not an unmarried woman.

Hauptman, who was found guilty by a circuit court jury Sept. 17, of a charge of indecent liberties with a female child, was sentenced by Judge Fred T. Miles after disposition of the other case, to pay a fine of $175 and costs of $25, and serve not less than 15 months nor more than 10 years in Southern Michigan prison. If the fine and costs were not paid Hauptman would be required to serve not less than two years, but arrangements were immediately made for the fine and costs to be paid to the clerk of the court.

LONG DRILLS ON HHS SCHED FOR ST. JOE BATTLE

Friday's Game Will Mark First Home Contest Under Lights

Friday night will mark something like a new era in Holland sport history.

It will not be the first time night football games have been played here nor will it be the first time Holland high has met grid-iron foes under the arcs because Hope has played night football here in previous years and Holland high has played at night in previous years, but it will be the first time Holland high has ever played a night engagement here.

For high's initiatory night game here it will have as its opponents St. Joseph which last year proved itself one of the classiest teams seen here for several years but which, from all indications will be more equal this fall, mostly because of loss through graduation.

Play between the two schools was resumed last year after a lapse of several seasons. Since then, Carver, the passing spark-plug of the Bears, has graduated. Both teams lost openers last Friday night, St. Joseph losing to Western State high, 7-0, and Holland losing to G. R. Creston, 13-0, after they had taken command of the first half in each case.

But before the Dutchman under their new coach make their first appearance on their own stamping grounds, they will have undergone several long practices like the one Monday and will have again started from the beginning as far as fundamentals are concerned.

As he approaches the last game before the conference grind begins, Mackay commended only Lokker, Thomas and Helrigel on their showing in the opening contest. He was disappointed with Holland's showing, he said.

Thirteen years ago there was also a 13-0 score between the Dutch and Creston but that time Holland was on top.

Hope college, victorious by a wide margin in its first game here, inaugurates MIAA competition at Adrian Saturday afternoon. Adrian lost, 19-0, on its home field to Findlay last Saturday after having worked the ball as far as Findlay's two-yard line in the opening period.

Well satisfied with Hope's showing against Ferris, Coach Bud Hinga scheduled tackling and blocking practice Monday, scrimmage Tuesday and an offense and defense passing practice for Wednesday, this week.

STATE CONSIDERING NEW COUNTY ROAD

Grand Haven, Sept. 26 — The state highway department is considering the construction of a new road between Hudsonville and Jenison, a distance of four miles. Van Wieren, county drain commissioner said he had been consulted by engineers on the proper placing of culverts.

Mr. Van Wieren reporting the new road will be laid about 100 feet south of the present highway, M-21 which connects Holland and Grand Rapids, eventually to be replaced by new paving. The four-mile stretch is in bad shape, the present pavement sagging due to the mud land over which it was laid. Efforts have been made for some time by residents of Holland to improve this highway.

The new road will be raised between three and four feet which will require a heavy fill and raise the road level to the railroad track to prevent flooded conditions.

They're Ardent Anglers

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Tromp

When warm weather sets in and the bass season opens, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Tromp of Montello park generally be found fishing in Lake Macatawa.

Mr. Tromp, 71, a man of many hobbies who can boast of a record of 47 years of continuous residence in this vicinity, has an outboard motor and boat and he and his wife spend many hours on the lake.

Mr. Tromp was born in Holland March 2, 1869, but when he was two years old, his father died and his mother was left to care for nine children. Following the 1871 fire which destroyed a large portion of Holland, the family moved to Grand Haven but later returned to Holland where the mother died, leaving the children alone.

The older children were able to care for themselves but the younger ones were given homes by families in Zeeland and Holland. Mr. Tromp was given a good home on a farm of a Mr. Poest, near Zeeland, on which he worked for his board and clothes while attending school in Zeeland.

He remained in Zeeland until he was 17 years old when he left the farm and went to Grand Rapids to earn his own living. He first took orders for portrait enlargements and at the same time made a study of the business, feeling that some day he would be able to make his own portraits which were being made at that time by a Chicago firm.

Three years later, Mr. Tromp opened his own office in Grand Rapids and before long he had salesmen working the territory and doing a good business.

When 23 years old, he married a Grand Rapids girl and they lived there until 1894 when they moved to Holland where Mr. Tromp opened an art store in which he sold all kinds of pictures, made portraits, frames and the like. He was a scenic as well as a portrait artist and many of his pictures are still in Holland and surrounding country.

He continued this store until 1910 when he sold out to Henry Van Der Ploeg. After deciding to go into the manufacturing business, Mr. Tromp bought a large building and had it moved on Sixth St. to the old School place which he had bought. Necessary machinery was installed, he began manufacturing pedestals, end tables, magazine racks and a number of other articles.

newly installed, he began manufacturing pedestals, end tables, magazine racks and a number of other articles.

In 1920, he was forced to give up the business because his health began to fail. Doctors told him he would have to get out of the shop and do more outside work. In January, 1922, he sold the business to his employees.

Being a great fisherman, Mr. Tromp decided to build a home near the lake so he could be outdoors and regain his health. He has lived at Montello park since April, 1922.

He has a pool table in the home at which he and his friends spend many hours in the winter. He also has a small work shop in the basement where he makes bird houses, large and small, two of which have been placed in Kollen park.

In late years, baseball has become one of Mr. and Mrs. Tromp's hobbies. Mrs. Tromp's hobbies in the winter are piecing quilts and crocheting rugs.

Mr. and Mrs. Tromp have three children, Reuben, residing on the north shore drive, Gladys (Mrs. Niel Stroop) and Margaret (Mrs. Mart Knapp). A daughter, Grace, died in 1925. They also have six grandchildren.

Mr. Tromp's father, Gerrit, was a fisherman in The Netherlands and continued the same business when he and his family moved to this locality. He and his two oldest sons had their fishing outfit about where the Donnelly-Kelley Glass Co. is located. Martin Tromp was born in a small house which still stands across the street from the glass company.

One of his paintings is a life-size picture of Mr. Van Putten, who was president of the Holland City State bank about 45 years ago, which still hangs in the former bank building here. Another painting is that of a Miss Cappon, a foreign missionary, which was placed in Hope college.

A sister-in-law of Mr. Tromp was drowned in Lake Macatawa. She and her husband, John Tromp, were on their way home from church in a fishing boat when a squall capsized the craft near Gold's point, then known as Point Superior. She lost her life when she became tangled in nets which were in the boat.

WRITES LOCAL PUPIL FROM RAID SHELTER

Writing letters to students in Holland is one way to pass the time while in air raid shelters, youngsters in England have discovered.

In an exchange-letter written to Patty Eby of Holland Junior high school, an English pen friend said, "The siren has sounded and I am finishing this in the shelter."

The apparent calm with which the English are enduring the repeated Nazi air attacks is reflected in and other letters received by local students who have written to their pen friends in England.

The letter to Miss Eby gave no suggestion that anything out of the ordinary was happening. The author lives in Sussex, between Dover and London, and no doubt has made many trips to air raid shelters. But in one paragraph she apologized for not having written more promptly because "it has taken time to get used to all this."

De Boer Shows Pictures at Meeting of League

Charles De Boer of Northshore drive provided entertainment at the opening meeting of the Men's League of Third Reformed church Monday night by showing motion pictures and stereoscopic slides taken while on a trip through the Gaspé peninsula in Canada last July.

Mr. De Boer's pictorial tour started with scenes of the International Bridge and the 1,000 islands at the source of the St. Lawrence, the market in Montreal and numerous shots of large Catholic churches, shrines and cathedrals throughout the Canadian area.

He also showed some barracks containing German prisoners and barbed wire entanglement in Quebec and the soldiers in Toronto. Other scenes included the pulp paper mill, Montmorency falls, the small farms, pearl and cod fishing, lumbering, fishing fleets and rug weaving.

Mr. De Boer explained that civilization as a whole in the Gaspé peninsula is 100 to 150 years behind the United States. The people shear their own sheep, spin their own yarn, do their own knitting and weave many rugs which are sold to the tourists in the summer. A road through the area was completed some years ago and it is only during the last five years that the native people there have become accustomed to tourists and have learned to exhibit their wares for sale. He said that the majority of the people in the interior speak the French language and those on the western border the Scotch-Irish. He described the primitive method of baking bread in outdoor clay ovens.

Mr. De Boer's tour took him into the eastern part of Canada, down through the New England states and then home.

Seventy-five men were present at the meeting and were served a dinner by Mrs. De Kraker's division of the Ladies Aid society. Mr. De Boer, who is also president of the league, presided at the affair. Dr. W. J. Van Kersen pronounced the invocation and Dr. E. J. Blekkink gave the closing prayer. J. T. Mearns of the Hope College School of Music gave several piano selections. Mr. De Boer announced that his pictures are available for any school or church meetings.

WAR-TIME GRANDSTANDING

An airman bearing the name of Hubert Fauntleroy Julian, and the title of "black eagle of Harlem", has broken into the limelight for a moment with the announcement that he is to fight an "air duel"
with Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering of Germany. If Julian is to be believed, the arrangements have been made for an air battle between him and the head of the German air force at an altitude of 10,000 feet over the English channel. And just as an added touch, to make the incident still more picturesque, the challenger says that he is going to "machine gun
that lousy creature out of his life."

Not only does the Harlem man claim actually to have cabled the challenge to Goering but he asserts that Goering has accepted it.
He is so specific about it that he declares the battle will take place within 30 days.

It is not impossible that the challenge has been sent. The world is full of fools, and since free speech even by way of the telegraph is fundamental to the American way of life, there is nothing to prevent anyone from sending a message to Goering or anyone else
no matter how cock-eyed that message may be. It is even possible that this same Julian has received an answer that purports to come from Goering. In spite of everything that has happened, there is a sense of humor left in Germany, and it is not impossible that some secretarial wag has been pulling Julian's leg at the cost of a cable
bill.

But any one even slightly above the mental grade of a man who could concoct such a scheme will know that the air duel will not take place, in 30 days or in any other period. Mr. Julian may have plenty of reason for wanting to "machine gun that lousy creature
out of his life," but even "lousy creatures" are not without a sense of reality. A man who is making a life-and-death play for the conquest of a continent is not going to offer himself as a target for every airman who has a yen for taking a shot at him.

The whole thing boils down to a bit of personal grandstanding. The Harlem airman has succeeded in making the front pages and he has further succeeded in getting his picture in some papers. That's probably all he is after. When the 30-day period is up the public will have forgotten the incident and he will never be called upon to make good on his claim without the bare possibility that Goering might figure to have him met by one of his regular flyers. War psychology is responsible for a great deal of lunacy.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Emerson said, "And what greater calamity can fall on a nation
than the loss of worship. This certain that worship stands in some commanding relation to the health of man, and to his highest powers,
so as to be, in some manner, the source of intellect."

God set aside one day out of seven primarily for the purpose of worship. So why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Organize Registration
Drive for Convention

Bernard Arendshorst and Willam Wichers, co-chairmen of the committee on registration for the state Sunday school convention to be held in Holland Oct. 23, 24
and 25, are contacting superintendents of all the Sunday schools in this area affiliated with the state group requesting appointments of church committees.

The chairmen of the church
committees will meet in Third Reformed church Wednesday night to formulate plans for the registration in the individual churches. It is estimated by the general chairman, George Schull-ing, that more than 1,500 delegates from churches throughout the state will attend. Mr. Arend-shorst and Mr. Wichers expect to register about 400 people from the city.

It required 10 years to build the Suez canal. It was started in 1859
and was not opened for ship travel
until 1869.

The Use and Abuse of Wealth
Proverbs 11:24-31; Luke 16:11-13

By Henry Geerlings

Dr. Pierre Curie, husband of Madame Curie, both of whom did so much for humanity through the discovery of radium, was not interested in the accumulation of material things. Madame was frequently quite shabbily dressed and as for her husband, when very much against his will he attended fashionable dinners in his honor,
he used to amuse himself by looking at the over-dressed people
with all their jewelry and calculating in his own mind how many research laboratories could be built with the stones that the women were wearing around their necks. It is a mark of spiritual success when a man is as little interested in money as Curie was.
There is a tragic comment in the Bible on the death of the young king of Judah, Jehoram was his name. He was only thirty-two when he came to the throne and his reign lasted eight years. But what a lot of sinning and open idolatry was packed into those eight years! When he died we have this mournful summary of his life. "He departed without being desired." Could anything be more disastrous than that? No one missed him. People were glad when he passed out and that is the mournful commentary on every selfish life. Life means nothing at all if it does not mean service, and service and selfishness are mutually exclusive.

The scriptures of the Old and New Testaments were written in a time and for a kind of society so different from our own that sometimes it does not seem that they can have anything to say to us. In a world that meets so many people with closed doors of opportunity it may seem a kind of mockery to speak about working diligently,
saving money, and being generous to others. We must, of course, recognize that our circumstances are indeed different, and then inquire whether it may be that the scriptures still have guidance for us today.

Any discussion of money causes
one to think of earning, holding,
investing, giving and spending it.
A good rule to govern all is that one should be a partner with God in them. We cannot serve God and mammon. If God is our partner in our earning, holding, spending and giving we can rest assured that we will not make a mistake.
But partnership with God means more now than simply working for wages or a salary or as a manager or director of industry. It means working with God in the thing that God is working at,
and that is such a change on our world as shall make possible the sharing of all the gifts of God
among all people.

We must admit that money is a useful and necessary commodity
and that it enables us to gain
many desirable things. The writer of the Proverbs admitted that fact.
His warning was against the folly of hoarding money. He condemns niggardliness and praises the generous spirit, pointing out that the mere possession of wealth can bring no happiness unless it is judiciously spent in such a way as to bring the most help and joy to the most people. This leads us to the idea of stewardship. We often hear people say, "This is mine,"
and "that is mine." In one sense that is true. The home they have paid for and the automobile standing in the garage, and the money they may have in their pockets are theirs in a sense that they do not belong to the neighbors.
And yet the government has a way of coming in and telling us what belongs to us and what does not belong to us, so that we often have less than we thought.

But in our relation to God there is a sense in which we cannot say that anything is our own. We have nothing we have not received from Him. And the first mistake that we make is to think differ-ently. True, we have worked for what we have, but we worked with the strength that he gave us, and we would have nothing if He had not blessed our labors and caused them to prosper. And when we leave this world we shall take none of these material things with us.

It is for each of us to say then,
"I am the Lord's steward." That is where we ought to start, and if we do we shall understand what stewardship means.
In recent years there have been strenuous efforts to introduce into Christian thought the old Testament concept of giving one tenth of one's material income to the work of the Lord. This doctrine has been advanced upon the ground and authority that it is scriptural. The difficulty in applying at the present time this concept of the old covenant rests upon the fact that we live under a changed social and economic order from that in which tithing was advocated and practiced. Christians vary in their interpretation of the meaning of tithing for modern times.

The teachings of Christ as contained in the incident of the widow's mite and the parable of the talents would indicate that stewardship is a matter of spirit and attitude.

The fundamental Christian idea
is that we should be the servants of God, and put at His disposal that which we possess in the way of money, talents and spiritual traits.

miles of navigable streams in proportion to its area than any other

VIEWS ON GOLD GIVEN IN LOCAL ROTARY SPEECH

Banker of G.R. Discounts Fears of Big Deposits in Nation

"Gold" was the subject of an address given by Ira A. Moore, president of the Peoples National bank of Grand Rapids, at the last Thursday luncheon of the Holland Rotary club.

Although money and monetary problems are only a part of economic life, the use of gold for monetary or credit purposes, he said, cannot be separated from economic, financial and political considerations.

"Even now there are a lot of ideas and misconceptions existing about gold and the situation regarding it in this country," he stated before naming six of the most common misconceptions and attacking each briefly.

Those who contend that the government of the United States owns the 21 billion dollars in monetary gold in the country are wrong, he pointed out, because the United States treasury owns only a small part of the monetary gold stocks of the country. Eighteen billion dollars belong to Federal Reserve banks which are privately owned corporations, he stated.

In answer to the charge that with 11 billion dollars worth of gold coming here from outside countries it would seem that the United States has deprived other nations of their gold reserve, Moore emphasized that the real reason for this importation might well be the "flight" capital is taking from Europe together with large payments on trade balances for American goods and services of various kinds.

Another popular conception as selected by Mr. Moore was the idea that victorious Germany would abandon gold and "leave us with a cellar full of stuff we cannot use in international trade." He said he was quite doubtful if trade balances are going to be settled in bushels of potatoes or tons of steel or German reich marks.

"Without gold it would be impossible for stabilization funds to operate for no major country would be willing to accumulate indefinitely the paper currencies of other nations which it might receive by way of settled trade balance. Someone has to produce a medium of exchange having a definite value. To do otherwise we would have to reduce world trade to a primitive basis. This we may have to do as a result of the terrific disorganization resulting from the war and its yet unknown effects on currencies of nations, but to me it seems indeed to talk of barter as a permanent substitute for gold."

Germany, he pointed out, has been getting along without gold from necessity rather than from choice and it knows the hindering limitations of the barter system. They are already figuring what they will do with the South Africa gold mines when they get them, he said.

To keep gold as a medium of exchange it will not be necessary to "give" back part of that held in this country to European and other countries because most countries already have plenty of gold, he stated in attacking another popular misconception.

Some students of the monetary situation advocate that we should grant loans and transfer gold to South American nations to rehabilitate their currencies, he stated as a fifth topic heading, but the one fact about South American trade which most government students or economic affairs overlook is that South America in the main produces the same raw materials that our own country has in super-abundance, no way has been advised, Moore said, whereby a profit can be made to both sides of the transaction wherein one nation trades another beef for beef cotton for cotton and so on down the line.

The sixth misconception as outlined by Moore was the idea that gold is a menace because of potential inflation and of the possibility that these funds may abruptly leave the country.

"At present gold balances in the Federal Reserve bank are two and one-half times what they were so we can now stand a tremendous expansion before we need to worry about our credit base or gold reserve base. Should we get an expansion or should there be an abrupt outward flow of gold to meet foreign calls, our present excess reserves are 7 billion dollars and even that could be increased by changing reserve requirements, so to me, the menace certainly at present, seems quite remote."

DETROIT MOTORIST FINED AFTER CHASE

William G. Freestone, 25, Detroit, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving on his arraignment Monday before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith.

He was assessed a fine and costs of $81.50 or 90 days in the county jail, placed on probation for one year and his driver's license was confiscated by the court.

Freestone was arrested Saturday night by Deputy Sheriff William Van Etta on US-31 near Anchor inn after the officer had chased him from Seventh St. and River Ave. Van Etta reported Freestone was driving his car with the headlights turned off, with 1939 license plates and without the left rear tire.

Bosman Home Is Scene of Charming Wedding

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bosman, 99 East Tenth St., was the setting for the charming wedding of their daughter, Miss Kathryn Jean Bosman and Frank Evert Viischer, son of Mrs. J. W. Viischer, of West Lafayette, Ind., formerly of this city, which took place Saturday night.

The Rev. Marion de Velder, pastor of Hope Reformed church, performed the single ring ceremony at eight o'clock before immediate relatives and close friends of the couple. Vows were exchanged before a bank of palms and ferns arranged in front of the living room fireplace. Lighted candelabra, entwined with smilax, and baskets of white gladioli added to the beauty of the decoration. Bows of the white gladioli were used throughout the home.

Festive wedding music was provided by Mrs. W. C. Snow, pianist, of the Hope college music department. She played "Liebestraum," Liszt, "Intermezzo" from "Cavalleria Rusticana," by Mascagni, and "Barcarolle," by Tosti, in addition to the traditional Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches.

Miss Helen Sprietama of Evanston, Ill., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor.

Henry Kleinheksel of this city acted as best man.

The mother of the bride was gowned in antique amethyst velvet and wore a corsage of rubrum lilies. The groom's mother was in royal blue, and her corsage was of roses and sweet alyssum.

The gift room was in charge of Miss Catharine Mersen and Miss Kathryn Leer of South Bend, Ind., presided at the punch bowl.

Present: Mayor Geerlings, Aids, Kleis, Arendshorst, Drinkwater, Kalkman, Vandenberg, Faasen, Steffens, Ketel, Menken, Raymond, Smith, Mool and the Clerk.

Devotions by Mayor Geerlings. Minutes read and approved.

Petitions and Accounts
Clerk presented several applications for building permits.

Granted, subject to approval of City Engineer and Fire Chief with the exception of application No. 430 of J. A. Brieve for a new stone front at 200 River Ave. and application No. 434 of R. Brink for an apartment building at 65 East 10th St. Mr. Brieve's application was referred to Fire Chief Blom and City Attorney Lokker with power to act, and Mr. Brink's referring to Appeal Board with power to act.

Clerk presented oath of office of Dr. E. Vanderberg as temporary health officer to fill vacancy until the return of Dr. Tappen who is away on sick leave.

Accepted and filed.

Clerk presented report from the Hartford Steam Boiler Inspection and Insurance Co. covering a recent inspection of the boiler at Holland hospital. Report states that no conditions were observed that require attention at this time.

Accepted and filed.
Clerk presented petition from property owners living on 19th and 20th Sts. between Columbia and College Aves. requesting the closing of alley in rear of their premises located in Block G, Bosman's Add.

Referred to Street Committee.
Clerk presented application and bond on Ben Lieverse for license to operate bowling alley at 211 Central Ave.

Bond approved and license granted.

Clerk presented a petition with approximately 650 signatures in which the Women's Relief Corps and other patriotic organizations are requesting the Council to grant themselves and other patriotic organizations exclusive permission to use the so-called G. A. R. room in the City hall.

Ald. Menken, chairman of the Welfare Committee, to whom the use of this room had previously been referred, reported that Mr. Peter Van Ark, city assessor, had made quite a search of the City hall records to determine just what the records show for what use this room was intended to be used for at the time the City hall was built.

Mr. Van Ark then read an article from the Holland Sentinel of January, 1909, in which it called attention to the dedication ceremonies held at that time. In this article was also a list of the documents that were placed in the corner stone. From this list, however, no information is obtained that would tend to show that this particular room was dedicated to these organizations. Mr. Van Ark also read a letter just recently received from the State Welfare Commission at Lansing in which they report that they were satisfied with the present quarters on the third floor of the City hall providing certain changes are made as previously outlined. One of these changes was to cut down the height of the petitions in the rooms and the other was to install glass window breakers in the windows.

This work can be done at a very nominal cost.
It was brought out in the discussion that followed that inasmuch as the State Welfare Commission is satisfied with the present quarters, that there was no immediate necessity for using the G. A. R. room for other purposes than what it is now being used for. There was some further discussion on the use of this room by representatives from the Women's Relief Corps and other patriotic organizations.

A motion was made by Ald. Kleis, seconded by Mool.
That the petition of the women be granted.
Several of the aldermen, however, felt that it was not necessary to take any particular action on this petition inasmuch as there is no call for making a change at the present time.

City Attorney Lokker also stated that any resolution councils might make would not be binding on future councils, and even if a room had been dedicated for a certain purpose, it would not necessarily be legal and binding on any future councils.

After some further discussion, a substitute motion was offered by Ald. Raymond, seconded by Vandenberg.

That these petitions be filed and that the women organizations be permitted to continue the use of the room the same as they are now doing.

Carried unanimously.

Reports of Standing Committees
Claims and Accounts Committee reported having examined claims in the sum of $6,858.01, and recommended payment thereof.

Allowed.

Public Buildings Committee reported progress on the matter of repairing and painting the several city-owned properties.

Ordinance Committee to whom had been referred the matter of amending the Zoning Ordinance reported that to date they have made no progress on this work.

Mr. Raymond, chairman of the Ordinance Committee, stated that due to the fact that Mr. George Pelgrim, chairman of the Appeal Board, had moved out of the City and resigned, they have been unable to get together in discussing the proposed changes.

Civic Improvement Committee to whom had been referred quite sometime ago a complaint about the Louis Padnos junk yard, reported having met but had no definite recommendation to the Council at this time and therefore just reported progress.

Reports of Special Committees
City Attorney Lokker presented a report in regard to the proposition of amending the City Charter so as to provide for the election of school trustees in conjunction with the regular City election in the spring. Mr. Lokker stated that he was sorry to have been absent at the last regular Council meeting when this matter came up, but upon his return his law partner, Mr. Den Herder, had reported to him on the matter.

Mr. Lokker stated that inasmuch as it was such a controversial and important matter, he took it upon himself together with Attorney Van Duren, to go to Lansing and present the matter in person to the attorney general.

Mr. Lokker stated that after this interview, they were unanimous in the opinion that the charter could not be amended in the manner that it had been proposed.

He then read an opinion he had received that morning from Attorney General Read. This was quite a lengthy document and stated substantially that the state retains control of the school system and that it is not a matter for the legislative body or even the electors to say what shall be done.

After the reading of the opinion, several questions were put to the city attorney on what procedure is necessary in order to have the election date changed. Mr. Lokker stated he could not answer this definitely except to state that it was a matter for the legislature and not a matter for the Council.

Accepted and filed.

HINGAMEN PILE UP 35-0 SCORE TO DROP FERRIS

Hope Sophs Play Most of One Half; Scores Made in Each Quarter

Not since their relations began back in 1919 when Hope handed Ferris a 71-6 defeat have the Dutchmen given them such a beating as the 35-0 one they administered in Riverview park Friday night in the traditional opener of the 1940 football season.

Coach "Red" Money's men were unable to hold Hope's starting gunners who scored after only five minutes of play or even the sophomore squad which Coach Hinga used for nearly an entire half. He sent in 33 men before the whitewashing finally came to an end.

Bob Montgomery's punts, every one of which was a beautiful plus superb blocking and spectacular maneuvers by Don De Fouw, Whitey Riemersma and Art Timmer, sophomores and Bob Idema, senior, added up to seven touchdowns in each of the first three quarters and 14 in the last.

Even reserve strength which before the season looked questionable kept the game well in hand. Much of the time a complete new all-soph team with the exception of two ends—Ed De Pree, junior, and Phil Waalkes, senior—was picking up first downs for Hope and rating itself as the "team-to-come" in the MIAA.

Hope counted 11 first downs as compared with Ferris' one.

Bern Shashagay, Holland sophomore at Ferris played the entire game.

On Ferris' kickoff, Marv Den Herder received the ball on his 20 and brought it back up to the 43-yard line. Montgomery's attempted pass to him on Hope's first play was incomplete and taking the ball on the next play, he was stopped at center. Montgomery kicked down to the Ferris 24-yard line and on Le Seney's last of a double exchange of punts, Den Herder crossed the 50-yard marker for a gain of seven yards. It was at this time from Ferris' 47-yard line that Bob Idema went off tackle and behind Capt. George Heneveld's blocking, scored the first touchdown after only five minutes of play. Montgomery's kick was good.

The Bulldogs made their major gain after a timeout later in the quarter when Kokenakas standing on his own 24 smashed through the center of the line for a gain of 17 yards just before the quarter whistle.

It was for the second quarter that Hinga first put in his sophomores who got off to a slow start with Ferris holding the ball but recovered soon after they took possession.

Trailing 7-0 going into the second quarter, Kokenakas again took the ball for the Bulldogs and gained about six yards coming up to his own 47. Le Seney went over the half-way marker and Hope was penalized five yards for being offside. Bearing down then, the sophs stopped Kokenakas behind the line of scrimmage. Le Seney's pass was incomplete and he was thrown for a loss on the next play before he barely got off a kick which Whitey Riemersma carried from the Hope 15 to the 45 where Le Seney came up to meet him.

Although the fourth touchdown was scored in the last quarter, the march to the goal line began late in the third when Montgomery completed a 34-yard pass to Bekken. With Bekken blocking, Idema cut over and back to the 15 where Den Herder again drove through for seven yards at the quarter end.

With the ball resting on Ferris' eight, Hinga yanked the whole team for the all-soph combination again. Riemersma immediately went over the right side of the line for a first down on the three and Timmer went over standing up. De Fouw's kick for the second time, was successful.

COMPLIMENTS CLUB ON RAISING OF FISH

Claude Lydell, superintendent of the state fish hatcheries in this district which includes Holland, paid a high compliment to the Holland Fish and Game club officials last week while superintending the drainage of the local club's ponds and the planting of fingerlings in Lake Macatawa and Rabbit river at Hamilton.

Mr. Lydell told the club officials that the 25,000 three-month-old bluegills which were taken from the ponds this week were the largest he has ever handled at that age. Usually bluegills of that age run from 300 to 500 per pound but those taken from the local club's pond weighed one and three-fourths pounds per 100 bluegills.

In addition to the bluegills, 3,500 small mouth bass and 4,500 large mouth bass were planted in the lake and river.

The ponds this season have been under the supervision of Shud Althuis, Sam Althuis and George Tubergen.

MAN ARRESTED FOR CAR THEFT

A 21-year-old Ludington man who identified himself as James Howard was transferred to Grand Haven on Friday afternoon by Grand Haven police as a suspect in the theft of an automobile there early Friday.

Howard was picked up for questioning by Police Officer Leonard Sketeket near the Holland State bank building. Sketeket who was patrolling alleys in the business district became suspicious of the young man and took him to police headquarters.

Upon arriving there, he learned the police had received a report that the car in which Howard had been seated when arrested had been stolen in Grand Haven. The car was the property of John Naerebout, Jr., route 1, Spring Lake.

Acting Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff said Howard possessed a fountain pen bearing the name of Dr. Ernest D. Alcorn of Muskegon. Muskegon police were asked by Van Hoff to determine whether the fountain pen had been stolen.

Howard denied he had stolen the automobile. He said he had been hitchhiking and was picked up in Grand Haven Friday night by another person who parked the car near the bank building.

Holland police issued a warning to the local merchants to be on the lookout for an alleged forger after a forged check had been passed here last Thursday night at the Fris Book store.

The check, dated Sept. 18, 1940, with a rubber stamp was made payable to Ira Ferguson and was drawn on the Allegan State bank at Allegan. It was for $23.85 and marked with a check protector.

It was signed by Louis Ederle, city clerk, and Charles W. Gibson, city treasurer. Investigation revealed no such officials in Allegan, police said. The check was made to represent a legal check and was filled in with a typewriter except the signatures of the non-existing city officials.

In endorsing the check, Ferguson gave his address as 318 Locust St. but no such address exists in Allegan. The check set out that it was for purchase order 74, August, 1940, for supplies furnished, the money to be drawn from the general fund.

The check was presented at the local store in payment for a fountain pen. Police described the alleged forger as being about 45 years old, five feet, 10 inches tall and weighing about 190 pounds. He was wearing a brownish gray suit and was "fairly neat" in his dress. The alleged forger also presented a fake social security number in attempting to identify himself, police said.

Grand Rapids, Sept. 26—George W. Trotter, superintendent of the City mission in Holland, will receive $5,000. Allegan county lots in Macatawa park and furnishings and an automobile, it was revealed Friday with the filing of the will of his brother, Mel Trotter, well known evangelist and founder of the Mel Trotter Rescue mission here who died of a heart attack at his Macatawa park cottage Sept. 11.

Other family bequests included $2,000 and his residence in Grand Rapids to his adopted daughter, Thelma May Trotter Fortuin, and $500 to a niece, Miss Inez Bracken of Chicago.

Miss Ruth M. Hartman, secretary to Mr. Trotter since 1919, will receive $3,000. Mr. Trotter's cottage at Macatawa park and furnishings and an automobile, Miss Marguerite Melvin of Philadelphia who years ago copied Mr. Trotter's Biblical notes in an interleaf New Testament when the original copy he used in preaching wore out, was left $500. The annotated Bible which she prepared also was bequeathed to her.

Other small bequests were made to various mission workers.

His estate was valued at approximately $30,000. Terms of the will returned either to the mission or to mission workers almost 75 percent of the total estate.

All real and personal property is left to the mission with the provision that library and pictures in Mr. Trotter's private office be left intact. The will, dated June 26, 1940, was witnessed by John Lanting of Zeeland and Mrs. Ann Fischer of Grand Haven.

For the past 12 years Mr. Trotter had received no salary from the mission. Friends knew that most of his earnings on his evangelistic trips were turned into the mission. Four years ago, Miss Hartman said, he spent $21,000 of his own funds in renovating the building.

FETE POINTERS TO BE GIVEN AT RESORT SESSION

Houtman and Geerlings to Join in Roundup at G.R. Meet

Holland will have a prominent part in the "festival roundup" which will be one of the features of the annual meeting of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association in the Pantlind hotel in Grand Rapids Thursday and Friday, Oct. 3 and 4.

Cedar Springs, Wayland and Newaygo will have representatives at the roundup on the Thursday afternoon program to learn from the "old festival heads" how to improve their programs of tourist entertainment which they launched this year.

Tips on how Holland conducts its Tulip Time festival will be explained by Festival Manager Sipp H. Houtman and Festival Photographer Clyde H. Geerlings. A display board on which are mounted clippings of festival publicity will be used as part of the instruction from Holland.

Others to give the "baby" festivals the benefit of their experience will be delegates from the Blossom time, Cherry festival, Show boat, Peach festival and Water carnival towns.

Two full days, packed with subjects of importance to the tourist and resort interest of western Michigan but without a speech on the program, are expected to attract a number of persons from Holland. C. C. Wood of the Chamber of Commerce's resort committee and Secretary-Manager E. P. Stephan and John Arendshorst are expected to attend.

In announcing the detailed program, Hugh J. Gray of Grand Rapids, secretary-manager of the association, pointed out that it is not necessary to be a member of the association to attend its sessions and that women are especially invited.

With few exceptions all the subjects on the program will be covered in the form of a round table discussion, with from two to 10 "experts" participating.

At the Thursday morning session, following routine reports, two "success" discussions will be held. Exploitation of the sand dunes, as carried on at Silver Lake dune and at Sleeping Bear, with the result of publicity for the region, will be discussed; and several of the resort operators who have done an exceptionally good business this year, will let the people in on their secret.

Problems of community interest will take up most of the Thursday afternoon program. First of these will be a winter sports roundup with delegates of Petoskey, Cadillac, Ludington, Traverse City and White Cloud already scheduled to take part. Representatives of Newaygo will head the list of those on the program to discuss color tours, with others from Manistee, Cadillac, Traverse City and Ludington. The festival roundup will follow.

The Grand Rapids Association of Commerce has arranged to entertain all those registered for the Thursday afternoon meeting at the theater party from 7 to 9 p.m. From 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. the Pantlind hotel will present a floor show and dance.

Friday, Oct. 4, sessions will get under way at 9:30 a.m., with a quiz on information booths and tourist service, with "experts" of Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, Cadillac, Traverse City, Sodus, Petoskey, New Buffalo and Lansing to take the lead in the discussion. J. J. Bachanas, general chairman of Know Michigan week, will lead a review of the activities.

The afternoon session will begin at 1:30 p.m. with a discussion of the out-state offices in which the problems of servicing the Michigan prospect will be outlined. This will be followed by a discussion of the cooperative advertising plan. Gray will discuss pending legislation that will affect the tourist and resort business.

Richard E. Verner of Chicago, manager of the fire prevention department of the Western Actuarial bureau, a Michigan resort all his life, will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet. Carl Saunders, editor of the Jackson Citizen Patriot, will be the toastmaster.

Also on the banquet program will be George W. Welsh, mayor of Grand Rapids; John Collins, mayor of East Grand Rapids; R. L. Cook, mayor of Grand Haven; and George Little, city manager of Muskegon.

No 'Snakes' on Paper Flags That Cause Concern to Local Drivers

Holland motorists who have pasted certain paper American flags on windshields of their cars to show their patriotism have no need to fear that they are fifth columnists.

In the past week or so, Holland police have received calls from various persons inquiring whether one type of American flag is a symbol of the fifth columnists. Due to an optical illusion, the shadow of the flag's folds looks like a snake, said to be the fifth column emblem. By another illusion, it appears there are three arrows running from the stars.

Local police stated that these flags, which are being distributed by a gasoline company, were placed in circulation long before the fifth column was ever heard of. Police reported the national American legion has investigated and approved the flags as not being a fifth column emblem.

One motorist reported having been stopped in Chicago by a policeman who asked the motorist to remove the flag from the windshield as it was a fifth column emblem.

The sticker-flags, it was believed, bore the so-called "snakes" and "arrows" to represent light reflected from the folds in the flag and by shadows cast from other parts to make the emblem appear to be unfolded to the breeze.

Preparedness

The mechanism behind your telephone is so intricate that it cannot possibly be assembled hastily. It must be planned ahead and built ahead. That is why preparedness is a long-time policy with us—almost as old as the telephone itself. It is due to preparations made yesterday that Michigan's telephone service is so fine and dependable today. Today's preparedness makes us ready to meet tomorrow's unpredictable demands.
