RULING CLEARS MAYOR'S RIGHT TO SCHOOL JOB

Attorney General States
Geerlings May Serve
in Two Posts

Replies to Council Inquiry
That Followed Letter
by Brusse

City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker received Saturday an opinion from R. Glenn Dunn, deputy attorney general, to the effect that Mayor Henry Geerlings may hold the offices of mayor and school board trustee "simultaneously."

"We find nothing in the charter with respect to the duties of the mayor or the duties of the school trustees which would create any conflict of duty or interest and hence conclude that the two offices may be held simultaneously," the letter from Mr. Dunn, who signed it on behalf of Attorney General Herbert Rushton, read.

The communication also cited instances at law upon which the opinion was based.

The question of whether Mayor Geerlings had the legal right to hold two elective offices—that of mayor and school trustee—was placed before common council at its meeting Sept. 17 in a letter from Former Mayor William Brusse of Holland who contended that the two offices are incompatible.

Council referred the letter to City Attorney Lokker with a request that he obtain a legal ruling from the attorney general's office. Mr. Lokker wrote the department Sept. 24 in which he requested an opinion.

Louis Anderson of Grand Haven will be assistant secretary and together with Mr. Vyn will be in charge of activities in the northern section of the county. William Vander Laan of Hudsonville will be assistant secretary to cover the interests of the eastern part of the county.

If all efforts to return him to his original position fail a thorough attempt must be made to find other acceptable work.

POLICE SEEKING PROWLER HERE

Man Strikes Girl on Head
After Being Found in Bauman Home

An investigation into a break-in at a Holland home by an unidentified man, followed by an assault on a 15-year-old girl after he had been discovered, was being continued by Holland police.

The incident occurred about 12:40 a.m. Sunday at the home of Charles Bauman, 78 East 21st St., and the victim of the prowler was Joyce Van Lopik, 15, 9 East 21st St.

According to information obtained by police officers, the Baumans were out for the evening and had left Miss Van Lopik there to take care of their infant child. She was dozing in the front room of the home when she was awakened by the slamming of a door in the rear part of the house.

Miss Van Lopik got up to investigate and just as she was about to enter the room where the child was asleep, the man, his face partly covered by a handkerchief mask, emerged from the room and hit her on top of the head with his hand.

The blow partially dazed her and she fell to the floor. She told police her assailant then escaped through a rear door of the home to a car that was in front of the house.

Police said that a wallet containing about $100 which was lying on a dresser was not disturbed and as far as they could ascertain nothing in the home was touched.

Miss Van Lopik described the prowler as about six feet tall, black hair, black coat and trousers, no vest, white shirt and dark shoes.

His mask had a maroon border and, she stated, she could identify him if she saw him again.

Fifteen minutes later police picked up a suspect in the nearby vicinity as he answered the description given them. He was taken to the Bauman home but later released after police were assured he had nothing to do with the incident.

They are charged with the alleged theft of an automobile last July 16 from the Venhuizen Auto Co. ## WARNING IS ISSUED ABOUT SOLICITORS

The Holland Chamber of Commerce today warned that unauthorized solicitors have been at work in Holland and that local persons should be on the lookout for them.

"Whether these solicitors are seeking donations, money for advertising or whatever it may be for patriotic, religious or other uses, those solicited should first inquire from the solicitor if he or she has a permit from the Chamber of Commerce.

"If they have none, then the solicited should refer the solicitor to the Chamber of Commerce. In too many cases, these solicitors are nothing but frauds, a person contributes to their cause, then calls the Chamber of Commerce but it is too late for us to do anything as the solicitor probably has left the city."

Schulling Starts His 21st Term as Council Leader

Recognition Is Given to Vandersluis, Lehman
for Services

George Schulling of Holland today began his 21st year as president of the Ottawa County Council of Christian Education after being reelected to the position at the 54th annual convention of the county group Wednesday. Morning and afternoon sessions were held in Jamestown Reformed church and the evening session in Hudsonville high school auditorium.

All other officers were reelected including Henry Van Noord of Jamestown and Harold G. Laug of Coopersville, vice-presidents; Harry Kramer of Holland, secretary; H. K. Goodwin of Holland, treasurer; J. C. Lehman of Grand Haven, assistant secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Gerald Van Lente of Holland, youth representative.

Divisional superintendents re-elected include Mrs. Edith Walvoord, children; Prof. Clarence Kleis, young people; Rev. H. Dykhouse of Jamestown, adult; Prof. Clarence De Graaf, educational; David Damstra, administration; Miss Henrietta Warnush, missionary, and John Vandersluis, music. All are from Holland with the exception of Rev. Dykhouse. District presidents will be appointed later by the president.

A surprise feature at the evening session was the presentation of Bibles by the council to John Vandersluis of Holland who has been leading the convention choruses for more than 30 years and to J. C. Lehman of Grand Haven who served as secretary and treasurer for many years before taking the assistant post. Prof. Clarence De Graaf of Holland made the presentations on behalf of the council.

In presenting the Bible to Mr. Vandersluis, Prof. De Graaf said in part, "Besides the effort devoted to a busy career in business, civic and political activities and service within his own congregation, he has willingly given of his time and talent to the welfare and inspiration of our annual Sunday school convention. Each year his choruses and spirited group singing have served to set the mood and tone for a day of blessing to hundreds of teachers who have come and gone in the service of their Lord."

In speaking of Mr. Lehman as one who has given his effort in a less public and audible way, Prof. De Graaf said, "Mr. Lehman has not only been a good administrator of the organization funds, he has also been a wise counselor at the meetings of the executive committee." Both men responded.

The convention theme was "The Bible for Such a Time as This" and the closing address on "The Christ of the Bible, the Only Hope for the World" was given by Dr. W. D. Chamberlain, professor of Bible at Louisville Presbyterian seminary in Kentucky. In his introduction he said "Christ is not a sentimentalist; he probes to the depth of a man's thinking. He is a realist and a realist is one who looks at himself, the world and God honestly. When one looks honestly he finds discoveries and discoveries add zest to life. No man ever discovers the meaning of life until he adventures with God."

Dr. Chamberlain divided his theme into three parts termed as (1) significance, (2) catholicity, and (3) publication and application. He stressed that persons must not live in the shallows of life where things are tedious, boring, cruel, deceptive, confused and disappointed.

"Jesus died that you might have a new motive for living," Dr. Chamberlain said. He said that only by "losing your all for Him" could the Christian attain the highest ideals.

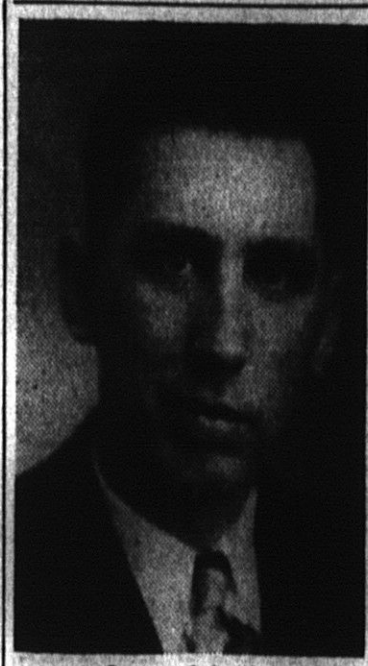

In speaking of the catholicity, Dr. Chamberlain said that while most discoveries are high exclusive, the great discovery of God and eternal life is universal. He said the Christian task is to tell of the grace of the infinite all-wise God who can transform men so that they are unrecognizable. He urged the Christians to apply the principle of self giving, to present Christ crucified with all of his winsome power and leave Him to win the men.

"The abundant life does not come with the acquisition of things," Dr. Chamberlain reiterated. "It comes when we give everything to Him."

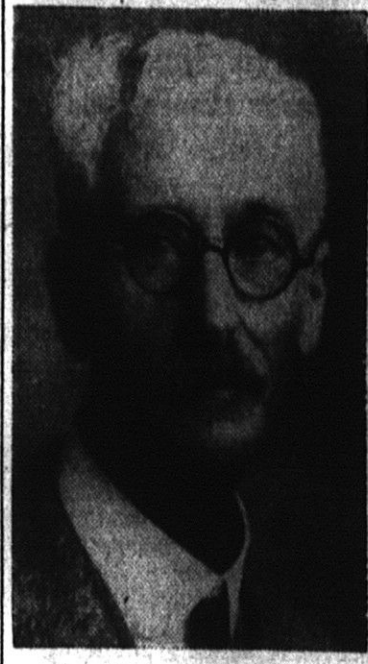

Mr. Vandersluis led his 75-voice chorus in the singing of "The Lord's Prayer," (composer unknown), "Great Is the Lord," Packard, "My God and I," Latvian folk song, "Remember Now Thy Creator," Adams, and "O Morn of Beauty," Sibelius. For offertory the chorus sang a medley of familiar hymns.

Dr. William H. Rutgers, pastor of the Cicero Christian Reformed church in Illinois, took charge of the devotional periods at all three sessions and gave a message at each time. Other addresses were given by the Rev. Richard C. Oudersluis of Chicago, the Rev. W. G. Floewerday of Holland and Dr. William Gouloze of Holland.

The Rev. J. Burt Bouwman of Lansing, executive secretary of the Michigan Council of Churches and Christian Education, spoke

George Schulling

John Vandersluis

briefly at the evening session regarding the state convention in Bay City Oct. 29 to 31. Mr. Schulling and Mrs. Edith Walvoord of Holland will take part in the state convention program.

HOLLAND BEATS ST. JOE, 6 TO 0, IN AERIAL ATTACK

Kraai Receives Pass and Scores Standing Up in Second Quarter

The Holland High Dutchmen took to the air in the middle of the second quarter to push across a touchdown and defeat a strong St. Joseph eleven, 6-0, in a game played under the lights on Wells field in St. Joseph Friday.

St. Joseph kicked off to Holland and the game developed into a punting duel. In the middle of the first quarter, with Brown and McTague carrying the mail, St. Joseph rushed from their own 49 to the Holland 26 where the attack was stopped by the hard-charging Dutch forwards.

Then came the spark that set Holland to moving. With the ball on the 18, DeWitt crashed through the St. Joe forward wall and romped to the opponent's 47. Ploegsma passed to Heneveld for 5 and DeWitt made it a first down on the 30. After one pass failed, Ken Rotman faded again, shot a bullet to Kraai who ran beautifully through a broken field to score standing up. Rotman's placekick failed and the score read, 6-0.

St. Joe came roaring back from their own 33. Two plays carried to the 40 and then Shaw, reserve back, raced 47 yards to the Holland 13. The threat was stopped when the Holland line rose up to stop the attack on the 4. Ploegsma punted out of danger and the half ended.

At the start of the second half, St. Joe again marched. Brown, Shaw, and McTague alternated in lugging the leather to the Holland 28 from their own 47. Here the attack was halted when Vande Bunte stepped in and intercepted a pass on his own 18. After an exchange of punts, St. Joe marched again, this time through the air. From the 35, McTague threw an aerial to Gittersonke, who romped to the Holland 30. Again the threat was stopped when DeWitt intercepted on the 6. The remainder of the game was played near midfield with the two lines completing stopping the running attack and the backfield breaking up all attempted passes.

The entire Holland line performed above par and conclusively proved that the line is one to be reckoned with in the Southwest conference. The standouts in the line were Groeters at tackle and Heneveld on the flank. In the backfield, DeWitt was a constant threat with his running, and Chuck Ploegsma's punting kept Holland out of serious holes.

For St. Joseph, Brown was the best ground-gainer, aided by Shaw and McTague. On the forward wall, Leuder, a reserve, made 50 per cent of the tackles.

The summary shows that Holland made five first downs to St. Joe's four, out-punted them consistently, and St. Joseph was penalized three times for 15 yards.

The lineup: Holland: Kraai, LE; Groeters, LT; Maatman, LG; Van Lente (C); C; Van Zyl, RG; Steur, RT; Heneveld, RE; Rotman, Q; DeWitt, LH; Ploegsma, RH; VandeBunte, F.

St. Joseph: Selent, LE; Boettcher, LT; Hoffman, LE; Cobb, C; Quackokus, RG; Grieve, RT; Felinger, RE; Gittersonke, Q; Fitchinger, LH; McTague, RH; Brown, F.

Holland ..... 0 6 0 0-6

YOUTH ADMITS HOUSE ENTRY

Denies He Struck Girl at Bauman Home; Held to Circuit Court

Arrest of a suspect about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at police headquarters after he had appeared there in response to orders from officers solved a break-in and assault on a 15-year-old Holland girl after he had been discovered in the home early Sunday morning.

The suspect is Alvin Overway, 26, 339 West 14th St., who admitted participation in the break-in after he had been identified by Miss Joyce Van Lopik, 9 East 21st St., police said.

Arraigned before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith on a charge of entering in the night-time with intent to commit a statutory offense Overway waived examination and was bound over to Ottawa circuit court for arraignment Oct. 11. He provided $500 bond and was released from custody.

The incident occurred at the home of Charles Bauman, 78 East 21st St. Miss Van Lopik was alone in the home with the Bauman child. Mr. and Mrs. Bauman had gone out for the evening. The girl was dozing in the front room when she was awakened by the slamming of a door.

As she started into the bedroom where the child was asleep a man with a handkerchief mask over his face rushed out of the bedroom and, after striking her on the head with his hand, knocking her to the floor, he escaped through the rear door.

Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff said Overway admitted he entered the home through an unlocked rear door after seeing the girl through the window. Overway confessed that he had gone into the bedroom to see if anybody else was in the home but had become frightened when the door slammed shut.

He denied to police officers that he had struck her, claiming that he had only shoved her aside in his attempt to escape.

Police records show that on March 17, 1939, Overway pleaded guilty to a charge of window peeping on arraignment before former Justice of Peace John Galien. He paid a fine and costs of $9 and was placed on probation for 90 days after a 90-day jail term had been suspended.

SOLONS REJECT DAMAGE CLAIM ARISING IN FALL

Woman of Kalamazoo Had Asked Three Hundred for Injured Foot

A claim for $300 from Jennie De Vries of Kalamazoo against the city of Holland for a fracture of a bone in her foot sustained Aug. 14 by a fall on the sidewalk near Ninth St. and River Ave. was rejected Wednesday night by common council upon recommendation of City Attorney Clarence A. Lokker.

In an affidavit filed with council, she claimed the fall was caused when the heel of her shoe dropped into a hole in the sidewalk.

Lokker said the claim had first been received by the city clerk who in turn submitted it to him. He said he and the city engineer had inspected the southeast corner of the intersection where the woman is alleged to have fallen and that they found only a small depression, apparently caused by deteriorating cement.

The city attorney reported he answered the letter advising the claimant that he failed to find anything dangerous about the sidewalk. He received a letter from her attorney at Kalamazoo which advised that the woman had fallen on the northeast corner of the intersection. Lokker said he and the city inspector inspected this intersection and found no dangerous condition.

He stated that he advised her attorney that it was not up to him to decide if his client was entitled to damages but was a matter for council to decide. Lokker said he wrote that council was entitled to receive his legal opinion.

The city attorney said the law requires the city to keep its sidewalks in a reasonable safe condition for travel. He cited a supreme court case in which the court had ruled that a two-inch depression was not considered as dangerous and refused to grant a claim for damages.

"Holland keeps its sidewalks and streets in as good a condition as any municipality I know of. In my opinion and under the law, I feel there is no condition in the sidewalk there that would be considered unsafe for travel and for anyone to suffer injury and recover damages."

His recommendation that council reject the claim was presented in a motion by Ald. Ben Stefens.

OPINION FILED IN SUIT AT G.H.

Refinery Organizer Held Indebted to G.H. Firm for $33,025

Grand Haven, Oct. 2 (Special) —John B. Ryan, Grand Rapids oil refinery promoter, who organized the General Refining Co., in Grand Haven two years ago, and operated it as manager until it closed a year ago, is held indebted to the company for $33,025, monies collected by him and not accounted for, in a decision filed today by Judge Fred T. Miles in Ottawa circuit court.

The decision was rendered in a suit for accounting brought by John Vander Broek of Holland and James T. Vander Zalm of Grand Haven, stockholders in the company who alleged the evidence showed Ryan received nearly $80,000. The opinion states that Ryan's testimony is of little assistance to the court and the amount he received is clearly in excess of $80,000 which is set by the court as the amount received.

"It is of little practical value to determine the amount with exactness as Mr. Ryan is insolvent and any amount found due from him is uncollectable," the court stated.

The $2,534.35 fire insurance check received for fire loss a year ago was held a part of the assets of the company and the claim of Miss Elizabeth Rydahl of Detroit that she is entitled to it to help compensate for an alleged claim on the company was disallowed as the court held she received $1,000 which was adequate.

The check, however, is subject to other liens among them one for $857.30 and costs of $67.90 for freight and land rental claimed by the Grand Trunk railroad in an injunction suit in which Judge Miles granted a decree today for collection of the amount.

Counsel for defendants in a letter to the court received this morning admitted they had no defense.

Ryan's $2,400 counter claim in the Vander Broek-Vander Zalm accounting suit alleging this amount due him for his services was disallowed. Plaintiff's attorney fees were allowed in a reasonable amount.

The opinion covered five pages and dealt with various persons interested in the organization of the company from the time it was organized Nov. 8, 1939, until after a fire a year ago when it was closed. Many Holland and Grand Haven people were stockholders and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Duga who claimed to have paid Ryan $1,000 for stock in the company recently obtained a judgment in Kent superior court at Grand Rapids and later obtained a capias.

Ryan was permitted to leave Kent county through special order of the court to testify in the accounting suit.

The opinion in the accounting suit alleged that the refinery equipment purchased in St. Louis, Mich., was worth only a fraction of the amount Ryan represented it to be worth when selling stock in the company to prospective customers.

When the Inquiring Reporter asked Dick Mars what he thought of a certain bill being discussed in the State Legislature, Dick was a little surprised. But, having read about it in his newspaper for several days, he was fairly well-informed on the subject and gave his opinion. He got quite a kick out of seeing his name and picture in the paper that night along with the names and pictures of several other people whose opinions, some of them, were sharply contrasted. It wasn't until he told a friend about it that he was reminded that only in an American newspaper could he express his opinion so freely.

Throughout the pages of a modern American newspaper, public opinion is clearly reflected in its editorials, its news columns, its cartoons, its letters to the editor and similar features. It mirrors the ideas of the American people on American problems and world situations. Its voice is obviously the Voice of a Free People.

SCORELESS TIE ENDS HOPE AND NORMAL CLASH

Hurons in 83-Yard Drive Are Stopped on Dutch Two-Yard Line

The Hope College Dutchmen and Michigan Normal Hurons pushed each other around the gridiron at Riverview park Friday night and ended up in a scoreless deadlock. The battle was climaxed when the Hurons were stopped on Hope's 2-yard line after a sustained drive of 83 yards.

Krawczak of Normal kicked off to Morgan on the Hope 31. The Dutch end returned to the Hope 41. Dick Higgs sliced off right tackle for 5, and DeFouw crashed center for 10 more and it appeared that the Dutch were really rolling. But Timmer lost a yard and Davis picked up 2 and DeFouw was forced to punt. Syrett returned the punt from his 11 to the 23. On the second play, Slabaugh fumbled and George Vander Hill recovered the pigskin on the Normal 29. However, a 15-yard clipping penalty set the Dutch back and DeFouw punted out on the 16. On the return punt, Hope again started from the Normal 44. Three plays failed to gain a first down and DeFouw again punted.

After another exchange of punts, the lads from Ypsilanti began a march from their own 35. Slabaugh circled right end for 4, Nemeth hit left tackle for 8 and a first down on the 47. Schram, a fullback with terrific drive, crashed center for 9 and followed up with a first down to the Hope 37. Here the attack bogged down and Nemeth punted out on the Hope 15.

After the usual exchange of punts, Hope came to life momentarily on their own 33. Higgs, on a cut-back, made 8. DeFouw smashed through center for 10 to the 47-yard Normal line. But at this point, the Normal line rushed through and spilled Higgs for a costly 9-yard loss and DeFouw punted out on the 17.

Nemeth punted back to Timmer who returned 16 yards to his own 35. On the first play, Dick Higgs threw a 10-yard flat pass to Timmy who caught it on his 45 and raced 26 yards to the Normal 29. With the half nearing a close, Roy Davis stepped back and attempted a field goal. His direction was right but the ball fell 5 yards short and the half ended, scoreless.

Early in the second half, Normal received a break when DeFouw punted only 6 yards and the ball sailed out of bounds on the Hope 19. In three plays, the Hurons advanced to the 11 and then Osbourne attempted a field goal which sailed low and wide of its mark and the Hope fans were delirious. After exchanging punts, in which Hope gained, the Hurons found themselves on their own 15. An 8-yard loss threw them back to the 7 and Timmer returned the following punt to the Normal 37. Two incomplete passes and an unsuccessful line buck forced DeFouw to kick out on the 15.

Then Normal started its brilliant march. Slabaugh rammed through tackle for 25 yards to the 40, Palmer, a colored lad with a lot of drive, ripped off 13 yards in 3 plays to the Hope 47. Palmer again hit tackle for 7, Slabaugh followed with 8 yards over the same spot and a first down on the 52. The steamroller continued as Nemeth and Palmer combined to bring the ball to the 19. Nemeth tossed a bullet pass to Beach on the 2 and the climax came. The Hope line rose up to toss Palmer for a yard loss and then Slabaugh fumbled and the alert Bud Morgan pounced on the ball on the Hope 5 and the 83-yard march was stopped. A few minutes later the game ended with Normal desperately tossing passes from the Hope 40.

Statistics show Michigan Normal made 8 first downs to the Dutchmen's 4, completed 1 of 4 passes to Hope's 3 out of 8, averaged 34 yards on punts to Hope's 38 yards, and fumbled 4 times while the Dutchmen didn't fumble at all.

The entire right side of Hope line played brilliantly, especially Marty Bekken and Bud Morgan. Marty was in on almost every play and tackled like an All-American, while Morgan performed at end like a seasoned veteran by making tackles and refusing to allow anyone to circle his side of the line. In the backfield, the running was mostly bottled up with Higgs and DeFouw being the only ones to gain consistently.

Normal had two fighting guards in Maschke and Apple and Tremper did a grand job of backing up the line. Schram, besides his great defensive work, proved to have exceptional ability as a line backer. His understudy, Palmer also proved to be a great plunger. Slabaugh rounded out this backfield with his constant gains off the tackles.

The line-ups:
Hope: Slager, LE; Vanderhill, LT; White, LG; Tappan, C; Halken, RG; Bekken, RT; Morgan, RE; Davis, C; Timmer, LH; Higgs, RH; DeFouw, F.

Michigan Normal: Standen, LE; Grant, LT; Apple, LG; Tremper, C; Maschke, C; RG; Krawczak, RT; Beach, RE; Syrett, C; Slabaugh, LH; Nemeth, RH; Schram, F.

Officials: Spurgeon, referee; Eren, umpire; Waters, head linesman.

Total U.S. exports for the first half of 1941 amounted to $2,093,000,000 as compared with $2,064,000,000 for the corresponding period in 1940.

TIMMER WINS CLUB TOURNEY

Ben Timmer has become Holland's No. 1 golfer for the 1941 season as the result of his new course record of 66 at the Holland Country club sometime ago and his climax to his season's play Saturday afternoon by winning the club championship tourney.

He won club honors by defeating Vern Tuls in a 36-hole match, 3 and 2. Timmer replaces Ade Slikkers as club champion, Slikkers, the defending champion, having defaulted in a tourney match to his opponent because his duties at Coopersville high school prevented him from playing his scheduled match.

Several golfers were on hand to watch the close match between Timmer and Tuls as they made two rounds of the 18-hole course during the afternoon. The match was close throughout with the lead changing hands several times.

At the end of the first nine holes, Tuls was three up on the new champion but at the end of the first 18 holes Timmer had reduced this lead to a one-hole advantage.

Timmer went two up over Tuls at the end of the 27 holes and maintained his advantage for the remaining holes.

On the first 18 holes, Timmer shot a 77 and Tuls scored a 76. Although the match ended on the 34th hole, the two golfers played the remaining two holes with Timmer shooting a 73, two strokes over the par 71 and Tuls had a 77.

Individual scores and par of the two golfers in the championship match follow:

The improvised altar was composed of palms, ferns, white lilies and gladioli. Candelabra of seven lighted white tapers, flanking each side of the altar, furnished light for the ceremony.

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father, the bride wore a white embroidered net gown made with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists, and a long train. The bride wore a two-strand necklace of pearls, a gift from the groom. A tiara of white rosebuds adorned her hair. She carried a bouquet of white roses, mums, carnations and lilies.

FACTS ARE ELOQUENT

A Democratic congressman, Rep.
Thad F. Wasieleski of Wisconsin, has spoken some revealing words
about the recently passed tax bill
—and incidentally also about future tax bills that are certain to be still more drastic. The congressman's party is mentioned because what he has to say is not said in criticism of the New Deal but in explanation of his own party followers of the necessity for these high taxes.

The Wisconsin congressman pointed out that the bulk of the taxes must of necessity be paid by the citizens with small incomes.
This is a truth that people who have any common sense have always known. But for years now, while Washington has been engaged in its unrestrained spending spree, the millions of citizens with small incomes who have maintained the spenders in power have been doing so on the assumption that the rich were going to be made to foot the bill.

The simple fact is that there aren't enough rich men in America to make so much as a dent in the government's bill. During the fiscal year some 19 billion dollars will be spent. If all the men with an income of more than $100,000 should be forced to pay every cent into the United States treasury in the form of taxes, only one billion dollars would be raised. Who would pay the other 18 billion? Why, the little fellows of course, of whom there are millions.

For eight years the administration has been spending without restraint—to the applause of millions of "little fellows." Up until a little more than a year ago that spending was not for national defense, it was to maintain the thousands of fantastic Utopias that made up the New Deal. Millions said, "Good, spend some more!"
under the impression that they would be the beneficiaries of that unrestrained spending, that the money would come out of the pockets of the rich.

But beginning next March they will learn to understand that that was a misconception. The rich of course will be squeezed, but there is, relatively speaking, so little to squeeze that what they yield will hardly be a drop in the bucket.
Those dupes who shouted for more spending will have to produce the cash if the government is to remain solvent. They have not believed that up until now. They will be forced to believe it beginning next March—and increasingly so during the months and years that follow.

Facts are, extremely eloquent.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

Jean, Millikan, Eddington, Carrel and other leaders of scientific thought have come to the conclusion of the Psalmist: "The heavens declare the glory of God." Science does not and cannot answer life's final questions. It reveals the facts of the material world, but the orderliness which it reveals forces us to believe that back of it all there must be a Person. Back of it all there must be something. The greatest modern scientists recognize that it is more reasonable to trust Supreme Mind than dead matter, and are ready to say, "In the beginning God."

The church is the interpreter of the Supreme Mind as revealed in the word of God. Why not accept the invitation and come to church
next Sunday?

God Our Heavenly Father

Genesis 1:26-28; Matthew 6:24-33

By Henry Geerlings

There are three principal steps
in the revelation of God to the human race. The first is that which may be seen in the world about us and in the heavens above. The second is to be found in the Old Testament. God spoke to Adam and Noah and Abraham and Moses and multitudes of people before Christ came. The third is to be seen in the New Testament, which is the record we have through Christ.
Each is an advance upon the other.
The fatherhood of God may be glimpsed in the material world. He created all things. It is seen much more clearly in the Old Testament. While He is not spoken of very often as Father there, at the same time the attributes of a father are ascribed to Him very often. Israel is addressed as His son. But it is not till we come to the New Testament that we find a complete and final and absolute revelation of God as Father.
This came through Christ. He spoke of God as His Father and our Father. To Him God is loving, merciful, forgiving. The revelation of God as our Father is a progressive revelation, coming to its climax and perfection in Christ.

The fatherhood of God implies creation. He is the maker of heaven and earth. He spoke and it was done. He commanded and it stood fast. Indeed, the one thing all religions ascribe to God is power.
The display of power in the universe is attributed to God by whatever name He may be known. He created us, placing upon us his image and endowing us with conscience and a free will.

The fatherhood of God is implied in the infinite care that surrounds us. All things come from Him. Christ used as illustrations of the providence that superintends
our lives the Father's care as seen in the beauty of the lilies of the field and in the table that is spread daily for the sparrows.

The fatherhood of God is seen in the redemption He has prepared for us. It was He who so loved the world and gave His Son to save us.
It was He who commanded His love to us in lifting us out of our sinful condition. We see His hand in Bethlehem's manger, and Na-zareth's carpenter shop, and Calvary's cross and the empty tomb,
and the Pentecost gift, and the whole of redemption's story in history.

Personality can be revealed adequately only through personality.
I may correspond with some person regularly for years. I may tell him all I possibly can of myself by means of the written page, but that person will know very little about me until he meets me in person. Talks with me, works with me, and lives with me. That is what makes it impossible for nature to reveal God as Father fully to us. Nature is little more than the handwriting of God.

It is also true that God could not reveal Himself to the world through someone less than Himself, and morally imperfect at that. The ocean cannot be put into a bucket. God could not crowd His infinitely great and infinitely perfect personality into a human being, limited and imperfect. Even an Abraham, a Moses, an Isaiah could give to the world only scattered hints and gleams of who God is and what He is like. That is why the Old Testament is a very limited and imperfect revelation of the fatherhood of God. In the New Testament it is different.

Christ was God manifest in flesh.
Those who make Him less than God limit the New Testament as a revelation of God. But if we grant that in Him dwelt all the fullness of the Godhead bodily or visibly, then we have a complete representation of God, hence God
as Father.

Now if God is our Father we should be His obedient children. It is no, enough to know that He is our creator and preserver. We should also know Him as our redeemer. Not all who are His children by creation are His children through faith in the salvation He has provided. Our first duty toward Him is that of love and obedience. Indeed it may be questioned if the New Testament has much to say about God's children except those who are His children through Christ. The highest son-ship is brought about by the new birth. Only the obedient son is a true son. It is our privilege to own Him as our Father and to become a member of His family.

HOLLAND
IN 1912

After having been disappointed several times in speakers who were unable to appear on the program the Board of Trade was for a while last night threatened with being disappointed again at the last minute, began an article in the Tuesday, February 27 issue of the Holland Daily Sentinel published in 1912. In a car somewhere between Holland and Grand Rapids was President G. E. Kollen, Justice W. Stone and Lee Hutchens.
The committee waited as long as they possibly could but finally were compelled to start the banquet. It was not until 11 o'clock that the party of speakers finally fled into the dining room of the hotel after the program had begun. But from that minute on until 1 o'clock everything went smoothly and the banquet which so often threatened to fall proved a great success.

Unless the coal dealers of this city receive a supply of coal in the near future it is very probable that Holland will suffer a coal famine and the black diamonds will be worth their weight in gold.
Each one of the dealers has coal somewhere on the road but that does not help just now as the freight trains are stalled in snow
banks all along the road.

last night and help celebrate the birthday anniversaries of those born on the extra day in the year,
began a news item in the Friday,

BILLING PLAN IS APPROVED HEREMethod to Affect Payment of Electric and Water
Bills in City

The board of public works
Monday night approved a new method of billing electric and water service to local consumers
in order to give better service.

The new method is expected to relieve the rush to the city treasurer's office which has resulted in the past on or about the 15th of each month.

Whereas electric meters are read and billed monthly, under the new method the reading will be continuous. It is planned to divide the city into three districts with each district having a different reading date for meters and different discount date.

Payment of water bills will be continued on a quarterly basis
but the board's plan is to divide the city into three districts with each district having a different reading date of meters and different discount dates. Under this plan, one third of the city's water consumers will pay their bills one month, another third will pay bills another month
the final third will pay on a third month.

The new method is expected to be placed into effect with the November billings.

Mrs. Wells has accompanied her husband on a number of his expeditions and was co-author with him on his four recent books of travel and adventure. She has visited Iceland, Lapland, Soviet Russia, Panama and Mexico, as well as many other foreign countries. Born in Virginia and educated at private schools, she then went to Paris to study commercial art and upon her return to this country joined the art department of Paramount pictures.

Her work there threw her into constant contact with celebrities and before long she left the motion picture industry to manage the affairs of such world renowned figures as the man who was later to become her husband, Carveth Wells, and of Lowell Thomas, Sir Hubert Wilkins, Roy Chapman Andrews and others.

MRS. BANNELL 86 ON FRIDAY

Saugatuck, Oct. 2 (Special)—Mrs. Elizabeth Bannell of 233 Maple St. will observe the 86th anniversary of her birth Friday. She was born in Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 3, 1855, to Jacob and Sarah Dates, and is now the sole survivor of a family of six children.

At the age of 17 she taught in a "district" school. In those days, one term of school began in the spring, continuing throughout the summer, until sometime in the fall when at the discretion of the one-man school board school was dismissed in order that the children might aid in the gathering of the fall and winter crops. Another term then began and was likewise dismissed in the spring so that crops could be planted and other work done.

Mrs. Bannell recalls that for her first term of teaching she received $3 weekly and "boarded around the district." After about five years of teaching in various districts, she became teacher in a district where she received $8 weekly and boarded herself.

In 1878 she was married to Ernest Bannell in Dryden, N. Y., where the family resided for several years. To this union four children were born; the first daughter dying in infancy, and the others being two sons, Austin, at home, and Sidney of Galesburg, Pa., and a daughter, Mrs. Fred J. Walz, of Saugatuck.

Mr. Bannell died in 1924, and since the death of her daughter-in-law two years ago, Mrs. Bannell and her son, Austin, continue their home together. Despite a broken thigh which she suffered two years ago last June, and deafness which has afflicted her since lightning struck and demolished an electric light meter above the table at which she was working a few years ago, Mrs. Bannell performs all of her household duties herself, makes garments for herself, and this fall canned more than 50 quarts of fruit and preserves. She is an avid reader, and is keenly interested in affairs of her community and of the world at large, although she is unable, because of her lameness and deafness, to continue active memberships in church, club and lodge in which she has in past years been a loyal worker.

No special plans have been made for the observance of her anniversary date, other than the spending of a part of the day in the home of her daughter.

P.O. CONSIDERS LOCAL PROTEST ON MAIL CURBS

Issue of Early Morning Delivery to Plants Is Viewed

A telegram was received Sept. 25 by the Holland Chamber of Commerce from Bartel J. Jonkman, fifth district representative in congress, which advises that the post office department will give "earnest consideration" to any protests over the discontinuance of early morning delivery of mail by truck to the smaller establishments in Holland.

Congressman Jonkman advised that the post office department had received a report from its inspectors together with recommendations on postal service. He stated that he will advise the Chamber of Commerce of the final action of the post office department in this matter "which I trust will be satisfactory."

Upon recommendation of inspectors, the early morning delivery was discontinued last Monday although deliveries will still be made to larger establishments. Advised of the contemplated action, the Chamber of Commerce contended that mail for these smaller industrial places was just as important although they did not receive as large a volume of mail as the larger firms.

A letter of protest was sent to the post office department and copies of it were sent to Congressman Jonkman and U. S. Senators Vandenberg and Brown.

The Holland Chamber of Commerce is urging all concerns which are affected by the discontinuance of this early morning delivery of mail to write letters to First Assistant Postmaster General Ambrose Connell at Washington and send copies of their letters to Jonkman, Brown and Vandenberg. The Chamber of Commerce feels that the more pressure which is put to bear in this matter, the better are the chances of having this early morning service restored.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

Trips to markets these days leave one doubting that summer is really over. Fresh fruits and vegetables are in abundance at modest prices. Today's housewife certainly has none of the menu-planning problems that confronted her mother as soon as fall arrived.

In making up your Sunday menu, cast a glance toward fall's specialties, cauliflower, watercress, peppers, lima beans, broccoli, cabbage, squash, onions, late cantaloupes, apples, plums, grapefruit, avocados, pears and grapes.

This week you'll find that meat prices, particularly on rib and shoulder chops of lamb and loins of pork, have been lowered again. Special buys are sirloin and top round steaks, chuck steaks, and chuck pot roasts. The best poultry buys of the week are ducklings, broilers and fryers.

These suggested Sunday dinner menus have been prepared by Marlon Rouse Budd, director of the Kitchen, for three budget plans:

Low Cost Dinner
Meat Loaf with Mustard Sauce
Spinach in Macaroni Ring
Cucumber, Lettuce and Green
Pepper Salad
Bread and Butter
Apple Gingerbread Upside-Down
Tea or Coffee

Moderate Cost Dinner
Cream of Tomato Soup
Broiled Lamb Shoulder Chops
Potato Puffs
Buttered Lima Beans
Bread and Butter
Stewed Fresh Prunes with Hermit Cookies
Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner
Oyster Cocktail
Standing Rib Roast of Beef
Roasted Potatoes with Brown Gravy
Broccoli with Hollandaise Sauce
Watercress and Avocado Salad

DRESSINGS TO BE MADE HERE

Under the supervision of Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, route 1, Holland, the Ottawa County Red Cross chapter will launch a project here Friday, Oct. 3, to fill its quota of 25,000 surgical dressings for war relief.

A room has been obtained in the Temple building and all women interested in taking part in making these dressings are asked to report at this room at 2 p.m. next Friday. Thereafter, the project will be carried out each Monday and Friday from 10 a.m. until noon and from 3 to 5 p.m. until the quota is filled.

Mrs. Campbell recently received instructions at Grand Rapids in making such dressings and her samples were approved by the St. Louis Red Cross office which makes her an authorized instructor.

Assistants to Mrs. Campbell will be Mrs. O. W. Lowry, Mrs. Warren S. Merriam, Mrs. Ervin Hansen, and Mrs. H. P. Harms with Mrs. Henry Maentz, Mrs. Willis Diekema and Mrs. W. C. Kools as alternate assistant instructors.

In making these surgical dressings, it is planned to train other persons in order that the project may be expanded throughout the county should the occasion arise. Mrs. J. E. Holmes, executive Red Cross chapter secretary, said today.

Jury Favors Plaintiff in Damage Suit Here

After deliberating an hour, a six-man municipal court jury returned a judgment Sept. 25 of $481.95 in favor of the Michigan Fire and Marine Insurance Co., assignee of Rooks Transfer Lines, against Albert Ver Beek, 268 East Eighth St.

The suit resulted from an accident April 4, 1940, on US-31 near Anchor inn when an automobile, driven by Ver Beek, cut in front of a Rooks truck, loaded with steel, causing the load to shift and the truck to overturn. Both vehicles were north bound and Ver Beek was driving into a nearby driveway.

Police Probe Damage to De Koster Garden

Holland Police reported having been called to the James De Koster home, 236 East 10th St., Sept. 25 to investigate damage done to his garden by three minor boys. Mr. De Koster told police that in the absence of the family the three boys entered his garden, took most of his tomatoes and ruined some of his dahlias. He said a neighbor ordered the boys from his garden.

ONE CASE PROBED BY JACK SPANGLER JUST LIKE FICTION

Grand Haven, Oct. 2 — Cases that reveal human relationships and entail heartaches and distress are frequently brought before Jack Spangler, Ottawa county welfare officer, yet the solution of these problems sometimes require the law and a good judgment to decide for the benefit of all parties concerned.

Among the chief duties of the officer is investigation for all cases of adoption. Recently Mr. Spangler ran into a case which he cites as one for the "story book."

A child was born in this county 16 years ago to an unmarried mother. It was placed for adoption and was soon received into a home where the baby was given good care for three years when the foster mother died. Later complaint was made that the foster father was not caring for the child properly and the court took her away and placed her in a juvenile home.

During the three years the real mother had kept track of her baby but after it was placed in the home and later adopted by a family in Grand Rapids that was very well to do, she lost track of her.

The baby grew into a beautiful young girl, the idol of her foster parents who regarded her as their own and gave her everything that a girl would want. She was to go to college and was to have been the direct heir to all the parents' had.

Last summer the girl, who has her own car, was involved in an accident with another car driven by a woman. As there was considerable damage it required the two to be in contact over the loss with the result the woman found out the child was an adopted daughter and traced the history of the girl until she substantiated that she was the girl's real mother.

Confronted with the facts, the daughter was shocked and grieved to such an extent she could not sleep, failed to eat and was on the verge of a nervous breakdown in trying to make a decision as to whether she would return to her real mother who was eager to adopt her, or remain in the only home she knows about.

Realizing the turmoil in the girl's mind and willing to do anything for her real happiness, the foster parents signed a release in order that the real mother could claim her own daughter, take her to live with her on her farm home as she had since remarried.

Now this is where the welfare officer comes in. Will he sanction the adoption by the real mother, or will he determine she should continue to live with her foster parents? He must weigh the circumstances carefully, balancing the girl's present opportunities with what the mother can do and giving the mother and daughter the chance to be joined after so many years separation.

The officer says he will not act hurriedly and will probably wait a year before he decides. In the meantime, he says, the girl may get over her emotional upset to such an extent that she realizes she owes her foster parents a great deal as well as her own mother. He hopes some happy solution may be found wherein all are made happier and one that entails no particular sacrifice on the part of any of the parties concerned.

NAME LEADER FOR ROLL CALL

Appointment of Mrs. J. J. Brower, route 3, Holland, as roll call chairman for Ottawa county was announced here Friday by Mrs. J. E. Holmes, executive secretary of the county Red Cross chapter.

Mrs. Holmes said the chapter's quota has been increased from 6,200 members for last year to 9,300 members this year because of the increase in responsibilities of the Red Cross in national defense work in the army camps and hospitals. ## Masselink Says Germans Will Lose and Yanks Will Foot Bill

Dr. B. H. Masselink, a dentist of Grand Rapids who is a worldwide traveler and lecturer on foreign affairs, in an address before the Holland Rotary club last Thursday at the Holland Country club, said that "God won't listen to our prayer for peace until we really want peace and are ready to sacrifice for it."

Dr. Masselink has visited nearly every country in Europe and Asia and has lived five years in eastern, central and western Africa. He is chairman of the National Foreign Affairs committee of Grand Rapids and a member of the Grand Rapids Kiwanis club. He was introduced to the group by Dick Miles.

Speaking on the status of the United States in the present world conflict, Dr. Masselink recalled that in an address before the Holland Rotary club four years ago, before the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, he had stated that in event of war this country would be at least 51 per cent to blame for it. He reiterated this assertion and declared that the United States could stop any of the foreign wars now being waged overnight if she wished. "But we have too big financial stakes in all of them," he added.

"War is because church people do not care for peace. To be sure we don't want war here, but we do like to see the other countries fight. We didn't join the League of Nations after the last war, not because we were afraid of being drawn into the next war, but because we were afraid of being deprived of the profits of the next war. We love war more than we do peace."

"We are inevitably drawing closer to the big conflict," he continued. He stated that as this test is unavoidable, now is the time for all Americans to forget their individual differences and to join in the common cause. "Let's all stick together, in rain or stormy weather. Some day the war will be over, Hitler will be defeated and America will foot the bill."

Between the main course and the dessert of the luncheon, President Randall Bosch introduced Ken Wallis who is president of the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor Rotary club. Mr. Wallis is with the Cooper-Wells Hosiery Co. of Benton Harbor. He conveyed greetings from his club and gave two of his original poems. Upon the request of the group he also told of the difficulties which his firm has encountered in obtaining silk since the president of the United States froze all orders of raw silk from Japan.

Michigan Beef for Michigan Brawn

A barnyard full of Hereford steers. The "white-faces" are among the most popular of beef cattle breeds.

SYNTHETIC foods may have their place in the war-time economy of some nations. But Michigan workers who are arming America for defense want meat that will "stick to their ribs"—good roasts, steaks and stew.

The farms of Michigan will sell more than $27,000,000 worth of beef cattle and calves this year. Wherever there's a surplus of corn and other grains, steers are fattened for market.

Farmers who specialize in beef cattle use the telephone to buy young steers, order feed, and keep in touch with the market price of beef on the hoof. The meat packer does much of his buying and selling by telephone. And the amazing efficiency of the system that keeps every neighborhood store supplied with fresh, wholesome meat would be impossible without complete and dependable telephone service.

Shorter cows and calves have the typical lines of the beef breeds—long, straight back, short legs and broad, chunky body.

TWENTY SIGNED BY CITY IOOF AS BLOOD DONORS

Typing of Group to Start Soon; Method Shown by Bulthuis

At a meeting in the Odd Fellow hall Tuesday night 20 members of the various branches of the lodge in Holland volunteered to become donors in the local blood-donor unit.

Local hospital and medical authorities are cooperating with the unit and typing of the members will begin as soon as it can be arranged. Herbert Bulthuis, laboratory technician, attended the meeting and gave a short talk on the method of typing.

The Odd Fellow blood-donor program is not new. It was originated in Detroit by Benevolence lodge No. 551. The first chairman of the program in that lodge was Francis M. Dodge, a Detroit attorney. In the fall of 1938, Francis Dodge presented to the grand lodge of Michigan a proposition that they adopt the blood-donors program as a state activity. The suggestion was accepted and since that time some 65 separate units have been organized in both the upper and lower peninsulas. Some are sponsored by an individual lodge and have only a few donors, while others are formed by a union of several lodges. At the present time more than 9,500 blood transfusions have been given in the state.

This program as well as the hospital bed program, which originated in Holland and has now spread into 28 different towns, is part of a community service program sponsored by the lodge. Last week Orla Frazier of Detroit, warden of the grand lodge of Michigan and chairman of the blood-donor program, accompanied by Russell Haight of Holland, traveled to the upper peninsula where they spoke on these two subjects.

The principal speaker here Tuesday was Mr. Frazier. Other speakers were Glenn K. Hammel, deputy grand master of Kalamazoo; Dora Haight, warden of the Rebekah assembly; and George Vander Hill, marshal of the grand encampment. Mr. Haight was chairman of the meeting, with Leonard Rummeler playing the piano accompaniment. Donna Haight played a number of selections on a piano accordion. John Klock of Chicago gave an exhibition with his dog, Queen.

Will Sail in October for Mission Work in Africa

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Newhouse

Couple Will Be Supported by Immanuel Church in Sudan

While hundreds of American citizens in Africa are eagerly seeking passage home, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Newhouse of Holland will sail into the danger zone in a few weeks and will do missionary work under the Sudan Interior Mission in Africa.

The Newhouses, who have completed a missionary and general Bible course at the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, are tentatively scheduled to sail from New York Oct. 4 aboard the American boat Acadia, the first passenger boat released by President Roosevelt in connection with his new sea-freedom policy. The primary purpose of the boat's release is to pick up hundreds of American citizens in Africa who are anxious to return to this country.

Although the boat can accommodate 700 passengers, the only persons taking the trip to Africa will be 21 missionaries. Accommodations are expected to be at a premium on the return trip. The first port of call will be Lagos, Nigeria, British West Africa. The boat will stop at several ports along the coast of Nigeria to pick up passengers before returning home. Although no specific information has been given, it is expected that the Acadia will have a naval convoy. Lagos, Nigeria, is not far from Dakar, scene of recent hostilities.

Just where the Newhouses will be stationed is not certain. Some of the Sudan missionaries are being sent into Ethiopia. It is quite certain that the couple will spend the first year studying the Hausa language, the trade language for all Sudan. Mr. and Mrs. Newhouse had no African language study at Moody although they did study phonetics, science of speech sounds.

Mr. Newhouse received the missionary "call" about five years ago when he heard a Sudan missionary speak at Lake Harbor near Muskegon. Three years ago he and his wife sold their home, car and business and entered Moody Bible Institute for missionary training.

Mr. Newhouse is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newhouse of 244 East 15th St. His parents are holding open house in their home this afternoon and tonight for the couple. Mrs. Newhouse is the former Jeanette Kleis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kleis, 144 East 14th St. Before her marriage to Mr. Newhouse about nine years ago, she was employed in the Holland Furnace office.

Mr. and Mrs. Newhouse, members of Immanuel church, are the fifth and sixth missionaries to be fully supported by the local church. Three of the missionaries already are located in Africa, two under the Sudan Interior mission.

The Sudan Interior mission is an effort of Christians of all evangelical denominations to meet the spiritual needs of the Sudan. The pioneer effort in Nigeria was made in 1893 by Messrs. Gowans, Kent and Bingham. The Sudan mission also has been pioneering since 1923 in French West Africa (Niger colony) and in Ethiopia from 1927 to 1938. An advance was made last year into a fourth field, the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. There are now over 400 missionaries working on 60 stations, and these are increasing every year.

A large unevangelized section of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan is open and ready for occupation as men and means are supplied. In French West Africa a gap of 600 miles between stations requires to be filled in. In Nigeria four Moslem provinces, hitherto closed and containing 7,000,000 men are now thrown open. The government also is turning over leper camps to the Sudan Interior Mission with subsidies to care for the native expenses if the mission will provide a missionary staff including a doctor and a nurse for each camp.

They worked their way through school and managed to pay their own passage to Africa. They will be supported by the Immanuel church of Holland through the Sudan Interior mission. The course at Moody lasted two years and eight months. After graduation, the Newhouses spent a month at the Sudan Interior mission Bible conference at Monterey, Mass., after which they were accepted by the Sudan Interior mission.

VOTES LIMITED PARKING ALONG SIXTEENTH ST.

Police Board Rule Affects South Side of Block at Schools

In an attempt to eliminate congestion of cars on 16th St. between River and Pine Aves., the police and fire board voted Monday afternoon to limit parking to one hour on the south side of the street in that particular block.

The traffic condition is caused by parking of automobiles in the vicinity of Holland high and Junior high school. Parking at a 45-degree angle is now permitted on the north side of the street and will be continued without limitation.

Commissioner James Borr, seconded by Commissioner William H. Deur, moved to limit the parking on the south side of the street. Borr placed the issue before the board, reporting that residents on the south side of the street were complaining. Borr suggested that the angle degree be reduced while the police chief Jacob Van Hoff proposed no parking on the south side of the street with the angle remaining the same on the north side.

The board suggested to Mayor Henry Geerlings that he place the matter of moving the curbing back to the sidewalk, to provide additional parking space for cars, before the board of education for its consideration.

Police Chief Van Hoff reported that he had conferred with Tony Dozeman regarding parking conditions in front of a store and gasoline filling station at 27th St. and Michigan Ave. and that "no parking from here to corner" signs had been installed in front of the property.

Commissioner Fred Kamferbeek inquired as to when the overhead door would be installed at the No. 1 engine house. It was understood the door is ready for hanging but that the motor has not arrived. City Clerk Oscar Peterson was instructed to write the manufacturer's representative at Grand Rapids and request him to continue the work without the motor, making it necessary to operate it by hand until it arrives.

Deur advised the board that Fred Zigerman, one of the drivers at the No. 2 engine house, fell last Wednesday at his home and had sprained his ankle. He has been unable to work and will be off duty for another week. He reported the other drivers have been filling in and that they had inquired whether Zigerman would be paid during the time he was off duty and whether they would receive extra pay for the additional hours of work.

It was pointed out that no sick leave is permitted firemen and Fire Chief Cornelius Blom, Jr., said that in the past the drivers "had filled in" to help out one another. The commissioners allowed Zigerman a full pay but no extra pay for the other drivers and left the matter up to Fire Chief Blom. The board felt it would be up to Zigerman's discretion if he paid the drivers himself for working in his place.

Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith reported the collection of $16.10 as officers' fees for August.

WAREHOUSE OF CITY APPROVED

Construction of a warehouse at Pilgrim Home cemetery for the storing of mowing machines, lawnmowers and tents that are used at the cemetery was approved Wednesday night by common council upon recommendation of the ways and means committee.

The proposal had been placed before council previously and had been referred to the ways and means committee which in turn conferred with the park and cemetery board.

The committee recommended that $3,500 be authorized for the construction of the warehouse and that it be financed from the general fund at this time with the understanding that such an item will be placed in the cemetery budget for next year.

"In view of the fact that it is getting to be more and more difficult to secure materials, your committee feels that this would be a good time to order the materials and start the work. The board of park and cemetery trustees informs us that a good deal of this labor can be done by the cemetery employees," the report stated.

Motion to accept the report was made by Ald. Ben Steffens, chairman of council's ways and means committee, and was supported by Ald. Bruce Raymond.

TIME TO CLEAN FALL CLOTHING

The Ideal Dry cleaners recommend sending your fall clothes in now before a rush begins. There is nothing too delicate that cannot be taken care of at the Ideal cleaners—lace curtains, drapes, quilts, furs, upholstery and anything else that can be dry cleaned.

The Ideal Dry cleaners has been operated by Herman Beukema and Garret Alderink for the past 20 years at their present address, 148 College Ave. They have seven persons in their employ who have been with them for a number of years. Their years of experience assure the public of the best and highest quality cleaning and pressing. It is essential to use only the highest grade of cleaning fluids in any cleaning process. Mr. Beukema states that there are a lot of cleaning fluids on the market which are detrimental and harmful to any kind of clothing, causing them to wear out much more quickly.

The Ideal cleaner trucks and drivers maintain an efficient and prompt service at all times.
