Jamestown Mishap Fatal for Woman; 8 Persons Hurt

Victim Thrown Out Of Car After Impact And Rolls Into Ditch

Jamestown, Sept. 29.—A Grand Rapids woman was killed and eight persons injured, one seriously, in a two car smash-up Sunday at 6 p.m., nine miles east of Zeeland and one mile south of Jamestown. The intersection is known as Hollis corners.

Mrs. Jane Hoffman, 71, of Delaney, Rd., route 5, Grand Rapids, was killed outright when she was thrown from the car and rolled down a 16-foot embankment.

Injured were: Benjamin Hoffman, 73, husband of the victim, reported in a "critical" condition today at St. Mary's hospital in Grand Rapids. He received a fractured shoulder, four broken ribs and a fractured left leg.

Louella Lee, 26, of 129 Jackson Ave., Grand Rapids, fractured arm. Condition "good."

Floyd Lee, 29, her husband, left arm abrasions.

Janice Lee, 18-months old, bad scalp laceration.

Mr. Carl Holmes, 35, of 1600 Bridge St., Grand Rapids, both legs and chest bruised.

Mrs. Holmes, 54, fractured right ankle.

Clare Highhouse, 32, of 2506 Kinwood Dr., Grand Rapids, wrist and eye lacerations.

Mrs. Highhouse, 28, right breast and left eye injuries.

All but Mrs. Lee and her daughter Janice, were released after treatment. All were reported "good" today.

Benjamin Hoffman was driving a car east on county road No. 452 out of Zeeland and the Lee car was traveling south toward Jamestown. Deputies believe the Lee car struck the side of the Hoffman car about the middle of the intersection. The impact pushed the Hoffman car to the north and threw both occupants out. Hoffman landed about 20 feet from the car and his wife landed about 20 feet from her husband, deputies said.

The Lee car landed in a ditch, against a telephone pole. Deputies said the pole stopped the car from rolling over and believe it prevented more serious injuries.

The Xentia ambulance from Zeeland, and the Vander Laan ambulance from Hudsonville, took the injured to St. Mary's hospital. Mrs. Hoffman was pronounced dead at the scene and the body was taken to the Joldersma funeral home at Grand Rapids.

Deputies Hilbert De Kleine and Ralph Heuselman of Jamestown investigated. Clayton Forry of Holland helped.

Zeeland Seeks Third Straight

Zeeland, Sept. 28.—Zeeland's bulky bid, with two victories under their belts, reach out for their third straight Friday night at Zeeland against Wyoming Park.

Coach Joe Newell was cheered this week by the return of his two injured regulars, Glen Schrotenboer and Tackle Ward. Ver Hage will be ready for action in Friday's game. Both were hurt in the opener against Grandville two weeks ago.

However, right Halfbacks Milt Meyard may miss the game because of a pulled leg muscle.

Wyoming Park invades Zeeland with a record of one tie and a loss in two starts this season. The Vikings tied Kelloggsville and lost to Lowell.

Newell is not satisfied with his team's blocking and ball handling. Both phases of football are getting attention this week.

Zeeland played strictly a defensive game against Sparta last week. The Chix broke away for three long runs in the game to win 21-13.

His Car Is Gone

Gerrit Swieringa of 368 Pine Ave., came out of his house as usual Tuesday morning to drive to work. However, his car was gone from the yard where he had parked it the previous evening. Today police are continuing their hunt for the stolen vehicle. It is a 1941 model, dark-green and the license number is KS-5827.

These four presidents of classes in Fennville senior and junior high schools have causes for satisfaction. They're reading about the game their football team won last week. Otherwise, they have even more in common. They are a family of presidents. Two of the boys are brothers and the third is a cousin. The girl is a more remote relative. Left to right are Richard Bale, 15, president of the ninth grade; Ned Bale, 15, president of the 10th grade; Jack Bale, 16, seated, president of the senior class; and Marilyn Hutchins, 13, president of the seventh and eighth grades. ## Zeeland Chamber Votes on Changes

The Zeeland Chamber of Commerce, in an effort to get closer co-operation with the city government, will vote on an amendment to its constitution Oct. 4.

The proposed amendment would change the make-up of the chamber executive committee to include two city officials, appointed by the mayor.

Five other members of the seven-man executive committee would be elected by the chamber board.

This marks the first move to get city funds to subsidize projects aimed at community welfare. It also is the first time that city officers have been asked to serve on the all-important chamber board.

According to Zeeland chamber officials, no city funds have been available for the chamber to work on community activities.

Marvin Lindeman, member of the Holland chamber executive board for many years, will talk at the Oct. 4 session. His subject will be "Your Chamber of Commerce."

Lindeman has been active in Holland chamber work for many years.

Another proposed amendment up for voting would change the power of appointing the secretary-manager from the chamber board to the executive board. The secretary would be appointed for a one-year term and his salary fixed by the executive group.

The two amendments were approved by the chamber board at its Sept. 13 meeting. The Oct. 4 meeting will be held at Bosch's restaurant.

Seven-year-old Billy Plum is recovering in Blodgett Memorial hospital, East Grand Rapids, following removal of his right eye a week ago.

The incident dates back to Labor day when he found a jack-knife and began whittling in the yard of his home at 252 East 14th St. The knife slipped and went into the eye and the youngster was taken to Holland hospital.

He was transferred immediately to Grand Rapids where he underwent surgery. Examination a week later revealed no sight and arrangements were made for removal of the eye. It is believed sight in the left eye will return to normal.

Fennville Looks to the Bales for Leadership

Fennville, Sept. 29 (Special).—Fennville will not want for civic leaders in case the Bale young people continue to live in this Allegan county village.

Displaying outstanding talents in leadership, three Bale youths head the ninth, 10th and 12th grades of Fennville high school as presidents. A more remote cousin, Marilyn Hutchins, who is a granddaughter of Fennville's mayor, Lawrence Bale, is president of the seventh and eighth grades.

Jack Bale, 16-year-old young giant of the Fennville football team, heads the 12th grade as president. His brother, Ned, 15, also interested in athletics, is president of the 10th grade. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Bale. Their father is president of the board of education.

Richard Bale, 15, president of the ninth grade, is a cousin of the other two youths. He is a son of Mrs. Cynthia Bale.

All three youths are active in sports. Ranga Jack, who is close to six feet four inches tall, uses his talents as end on the football team. It is his third year on the varsity. He plays center on the basketball team and usually catches in baseball. His brother Ned goes in for basketball and baseball after he was forced to quit football because of asthma.

Richard likes basketball and baseball. So far, he has had little chance at football.

Marilyn, 13, has occupied many positions in her brief career in Junior high school. Last year as a seventh grader, she was president of the 4-H club and the Melody Music club and secretary of the Girl Scouts. Of diminutive size with reddish blond hair, she has eight brothers and sisters, all reddish blonds.

Another relative of this quartet, Mary Lou Bale, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Bale, was runner-up in the junior class election. Philip Bale, brother of Jack and Ned, is a ninth grader.

Police said the bicycle didn't have a tail light or a reflector. The accident occurred at 9:48 p.m. Monday.

Reckless Driver Fined in Court

Joseph C. Forton, 30, of Muskegon, paid fine and costs totaling $50 in municipal court Wednesday afternoon after pleading guilty to a reckless driving charge.

The alleged offense occurred last week-end when a car going south on River Ave., driven by Forton, struck the rear of a parked car at Windmill park.

Police said the impact knocked a child out of the car but the boy was not hurt. There were other occupants in the parked vehicle. None were injured.

He specified that the youth, not his parents, must pay the fine at a rate of $5 per week and further imposed a probation. According to terms of the probation, the youth cannot apply for a driver's license until he is 18 years old.

Gordon Schrotenboer, 17, of 125 East 34th St., pleaded guilty to the charge.

The judge said there is too much "tearing around" by teen-agers in Holland and they endanger the lives of other drivers, pedestrians and passengers in their cars.

He warned, "Boys who drive like this just aren't going to drive cars."

In other local court action, Ralph Veenkant of Allegan, a foreman for the Goodwin Construction company of Allegan, paid a $50 fine and $4.40 costs in municipal court this morning.

According to the law, open fires must have "fire breaks."

Holland Policemen Presented Trophy By Gov. Williams

The Holland police department today added a new gold cup to its trophy case.

Sgt. Ernest Bear and Patrolman Ralph Woldring were presented the award by Gov. Williams Wednesday after topping all comers in class D, the 12th annual Michigan State police pistol shoot tournament at Jackson.

Besides winning the Governor's trophy, the two local teams completely dominated their class, which included 10 other police departments with less than 21 members.

Sgt. Isaac DeKraker and Patrolman Dennis Ende formed the other Holland team. They placed third in class D standings.

A total of 122 contestants from police and sheriff's departments throughout the state, braved a cold north wind on the 60-target range to compete for honors.

Woldring paced Holland's No. 1 team as he rolled up 376 points firing from each position of the four barrels—slow, timed, rapid and silhouette. Bear garnered 345 points to make the team total 721.

Woldring's feat won him gold medals for each position. He can receive just two under the rules, though. Bear won a silver second-place medal and a third-place bronze medal. Contestants were limited to two medals.

DeKraker and Ende each received bronze medals for their third place victory. DeKraker shot a 329 and Ende hit the targets for 307 to make the team total 636.

The local teams were selected after elimination shooting at the police range.

Gladstone placed between the two local teams in class D. The Detroit police department was first in class A, Grand Rapids second and state police third. Jackson won class B, with Kalamazoo and another Jackson team runners-up. Lincoln Park was tops in class C, River Rouge second, and Ecorse third.

The local woman died without regaining consciousness. She was riding with her nephew, Dr. Claire V. Kuiper, new medical director at Bethesda sanitarium, his wife and two children. The Kuipers are former Holland residents.

Dr. Kuiper received a broken back and his wife, the former Johanna Van Melle of Holland, received a compound skull fracture. Both are in serious condition in a Denver hospital where they underwent operations. Their son, Barry, 2, received minor cuts, and a baby, Peter, two months, was uninjured. Three other children were at home.

Dr. Kuiper had recently taken over his duties as director of Bethesda sanitarium of the Christian Reformed church. The institution was recently changed from a TB sanitarium to a psychopathic hospital.

Miss Kuiper had left Holland on Labor Day to attend the national convention of the American Federation of Reformed Young Women's societies at Forest Home near Redlands, Calif. She was national vice president of the federation.

On the return trip, she left the local delegation at Grand Canyon in order to visit her nephew in Denver. She also planned to visit relatives in Rock Valley, Ia.

The local woman was active in the work of Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church, working particularly with youth groups. She also was a mission teacher at North End Gospel hall and a member of synodical committees in the Christian Reformed denomination. She was president of the Monica society.

Surviving are five brothers, Barney of Grand Rapids who is father of the injured man; Henry, a teacher in Racine, Wis.; Dr. Herman, a minister at Rock Valley, Ia.; Dr. R. B. Kuiper, a professor at Westminster seminary in Philadelphia, Pa., and John of Chicago.

Where's Bubbles? Larry Misses Him

Four-year-old Larry Speck of Holland lets a tear trickle down his cheek now and then, but it isn't the suffering from poliomyelitis that does it.

When Larry was admitted to Blodgett hospital in Grand Rapids Sunday, he had to leave his pet black and white fox terrier, "Bubbles," behind.

"Bubbles" vanished after his little master was taken away, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Speck, 624 Michigan Ave., have unsuccessfully advertised for the dog's return.

The Sentinel ad, however, brought many responses — from well wishers who want to give him another dog. The Specks are keeping the offers in mind in case "Bubbles" fails to return.

Otherwise, Larry is doing all right. At first it was feared he would have to be an iron lung patient and a lung was kept outside the door. He is showing considerable improvement but appears to be homesick even though his parents appear outside his window whenever they can. His twin brother, Gerry, remains at home. He did not show any symptoms of polio.

But Larry still is unhappy — there is no substitute in his book for "Bubbles."

Kiwanis Club Endorses School Expansion Setup

School Board Members Explain Need for New Facilities in Holland

C. J. De Koster, president of the Board of Education, told local Kiwanians Monday night about the need of additional facilities for Holland's increasing school population.

De Koster pointed out the urgency for more rooms in the elementary grades, stating that with the present doubling up of a number of classes many teachers are handling more than the maximum number of 35 pupils per teacher.

All of Holland's schools are experiencing growing pains, De Koster said, with similar problems being confronted by school boards throughout the entire nation.

In a lively discussion which followed De Koster's talk, Supt. C. C. Crawford emphasized that Longfellow school, which is already doubling up on some of its classes, will need 12 class rooms in the 1951-52 school year, whereas there are only 10 rooms available at present in the 40-year-old structure.

Van Raalte school is faced with the same situation, Crawford said, and it is hoped that additions may be constructed for the two schools to take care of the expected increased enrollment. A new school to replace Lincoln and Froebel schools is also in the board's projected building program.

Ernest W. Hartman, chairman of the board's building committee, spoke briefly on the importance of providing Holland's youth with proper and necessary educational facilities.

Zeeland Eleven Defeats Sparta For Second Win

Zeeland, Sept. 29 (Special) — Zeeland's high school's football juggernaut stumbled to its second straight victory Friday night by taking Sparta into camp 21-13.

The bitterly fought contest was played under the lights at Sparta. All of Zeeland's scores were the result of long runs, with Bern Raterink totting the ball on two out of the three jaunts.

Raterink broke loose in the second quarter after smashing over tackle, he reversed his field and raced 53 yards to pay dirt. Herm Nienhuis plunged over right tackle for the conversion.

Later in the same period, Raterink took a punt on Zeeland's 50-yard line and zig-zagged his way for 52 yards to the Sparta 8-yard line before he was hauled down. After three downs, Nienhuis blasted through right tackle from the three and scored. Raterink ran for the point giving Zeeland a 14-0 lead.

Zeeland's other TD came in the third period when Kroll intercepted a Sparta pass on the home team's 40 and ran for a touchdown. Nienhuis again plunged for the point.

Sparta scored its two touchdowns in the second half on 60 and 45-yard sustained drives.

Sparta started the first drive on its own 40 and mixed reverses and off-tackle runs to hit pay dirt. Norton capped the drive when he went around his left end on a reverse for the score.

In the final quarter, Sparta marched 45 yards for its second score. Kik went off right tackle and across the double stripe. The extra point boot was wide.

Coach Joe Newell of Zeeland was pleased with the improvement over last week's win against Grandville. However, emphasized that blocking, ball handling and defensive play need brushing up.

Bern Raterink was the most valuable player on the field for Zeeland. Nienhuis, Paul Van Koeveering and Denny De Haan stood out on defense.

Kik in the backfield and Norton in the line were Sparta's stars.

Holland Stunned By Ottawa Upset At Grand Rapids

Ottawa Hils stung Holland with a stunning 10-9 upset Friday night at South field in Grand Rapids.

The weird score came on a touchdown and extra point for each team, a safety for Holland, and a fourth quarter field goal for Ottawa.

Holland outplayed the Indians in every department, but the final score.

Ottawa was on the rebound from that 13-7 loss to class C East Grand Rapids one week ago. Coach Wendall Emery's Indians hit the warpath early in the game for a score and conversion, and came from behind with four minutes left in the game to boot the game winning field goal.

Coach Bob Stupka's charges were dealt a severe blow on the first play of the second half when ace Quarterback Bruce Van Voorst was injured while making a block. Van Voorst, signal caller and key man in the Dutch offense, suffered a "mild concussion."

Without Van Voorst to call signals and handle the ball, Holland fell apart at the seams on offense. Jim Hansen took Holland's opening kickoff from the Ottawa 11 to the 27-yard line. After that, Hansen and Don Eaddy alternated to advance the ball all the way to Holland's 21-yard line before they were stopped on fourth down. Two completed passes for a total 33 yards aided the Indian drive.

On the second play of the Holland series, the ball coozed out of Bob Tasma's hands and Bob Meeth recovered for Ottawa on Holland's 14. Three plays later, Eaddy took the ball over guard after a handoff for the score. Bob Prins split the uprights to give Ottawa seven points.

Tasma took the Ottawa kickoff back to Holland's 37-yard line. Twelve plays, and three first downs later, Tasma skirted his lift end for the Dutch TD. Joe Fendt took a handoff and crashed over the goal for the tying point.

Near the end of the second quarter, Hansen dropped back in punt formation from his own 19. The Holland forward wall charged in and shoved an Ottawa player in front of Hansen to block the punt. The ball rolled into the end zone and an Ottawa player raced back and landed on the loose pigskin. However, the ball squeezed away from him and rolled over the end zone for a safety and two points for Holland.

Holland opened the third quarter with a bang. Little Tom Carey took the kickoff from his own 10 to Holland's 47-yard line before he was stopped. One more block and Carey would have had clear sailing. Verne Hohl came in to call signals for the Dutch. With Tasma, Fendt and Carey alternating, Holland ran the ball to Ottawa's 15-yard line. Tasma rammed around end and was forced out of bounds on the one-foot line. On the next play, Hohl fumbled a handoff to Fendt and Ottawa recovered to end the threat on the Indian's three-yard line.

The game-winning boot came with four minutes left in the game. Ottawa had the ball on fourth down and four yards to go. Prins dropped back to his own 14, and from a slant, booted the ball from placement through the uprights for three points.

The Dutch struck back with a desperate passing attack that failed by inches to connect for a score. Dick Draper did the flinging. His aerials had the fans in a frenzy until the final whistle.

Holland's play was a far cry from one week ago when the Dutch breezed to a 24-6 win over Creston. However, the Dutch did block three Ottawa punts during the game.

Acting Captain Joe Fendt was the best man on the field for Holland, both on offense and defense. His rugged play saved many long offensive gains by Ottawa.

Students Back Team

Four busloads of Holland high school students, the pep band and pep club cheerleaders, traveled to Grand Rapids Friday night for the Ottawa-Holland game. The St. Bernard mascot went too.

tawa, and his running gave Holland many long gains. Draper also was a standout on defense and offense, along with Tasma. End Ivan Immink played stellar ball in the line. Nine of Holland's 11 starters played 60 minutes.

Ottawa's standout was Tackle Jon De Haan, who repeatedly spilled Holland runners before they could get started.

Fennville Meets Bulldogs Friday

Zeeland, Sept. 29—The Zeeland football team, fresh from a 24-0 win over the Zeeland reserves last Friday night, host the Byron Center Bulldogs Friday night.

Coach Burrell De Young's outfit will scrimmage this afternoon and work on its pass defenses. "We'll try to iron out a few of the rough spots this week," De Young said.

The Blackhawk mentor was pleased with the showing against Zeeland, but emphasized that the Little Chix didn't offer the opposition Byron Center promises.

Zeeland completed four out of eight passes against the Blackhaws last Friday night and two were intercepted. That means work on the pass defenses, according to De Young's book.

He was pleased with running by his backs, especially Bill Maciak and Jack Turner. Both scored two touchdowns each.

Fennville's first eleven includes Jack Bale and Tom Doyle at ends; Bob Knowlton and Chuck Palmer at tackles; Don Barnes and Ed Felker, guards; and John Kiss at the pivot post.

The backfield includes Turned and Maciak at the halves, Larry Symons at quarterback and Bill Sisson, fullback.

Byron Center whitewashed Martin 20-0 last week.

Grand Haven City Sued In $10,000 Damage Suit

Grand Haven, Sept. 27 (Special)—Elvin Peterson, 19, by his next friend, Alvin Peterson of Fruitport, has filed suit against the city of Grand Haven, seeking $10,000 damages or injuries allegedly received July 25 in a motorcycle accident, causing a skull fracture, contusions of the body and severe shock.

The declaration alleges there was a crack about 10 feet long running north and south in the pavement on Emmett St., which is on the five-mile hill at Harbor Ave., which allegedly caused the accident.

The declaration cites that a few days before the accident, a city police cruiser broke an axle over the same defect.

If a ship is too stable, that is, too little inclined to roll with the seas, the result is a short, quick roll often uncomfortable to passengers.

Hudsonville's main intersection is considerably torn up these days in preparation for the new divided trunkline and service road now under construction by Michigan State Highway department. To get this panoramic view, the Sentinel photographer climbed onto the roof of a two-story hardware store north of the railroad tracks. The brick building (in center background) is in process of being moved to a new location left of this picture.

The frame grocery store on the right also has been moved. Plans call for a divided highway of two 24-foot wide pavements with a center divider. A service drive for local use will be along the south side of the through highway. Completion of the road through Hudsonville village will link two four-mile stretches of divided highway for M-21 between Jenison and Vriesland.

Assault on Wife Brings Probation—Grand Haven, Sept. 27 (Special)—Among those who appeared before Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith Monday was Arthur Smith, 43, Grand Haven, who was placed on probation five years (as long as the present law provides) on a charge of felonious assault upon his former wife, Mildred, mother of his six children.

Smith, who spent 133 days in the county jail unable to furnish $2,500 bond, pleaded guilty to the charge Sept. 19. The alleged offense took place May 8 at his former wife's home in Crockerly township.

Three reasons prompted the Dutch government to devalue the guilder after England announced devaluation of the British pound sterling, according to information received by the mid-west division of the Netherlands Information bureau.

Reasons follow:

1. It is Holland's duty to produce an equilibrium in her balance of payments by 1952, particularly by her own efforts to increase her dollar income.

2. Faced with increasing competition, Holland cannot afford to sell her products at higher prices or risk the deflation which would be inevitable without devaluation.

3. It would be in Holland's interest to fix the exchange rate at the level which would enable her to take an active part in relieving the trade and payments traffic between Western European countries from the many restrictions of the past few years.

The readjustment puts the Dutch guilder at 3.80 to the dollar, compared with the former exchange of 2.67 guilders for the dollar, a devaluation of about 30 per cent.

The Dutch government made the decision with mixed feelings even though it was convinced of the necessity of the move. The shock caused by the devaluation of the pound and its reaction on the external monetary and economic relations and the internal economic and social structure of the various countries gave cause for anxiety.

Queen Juliana said devaluation will undoubtedly affect favorably the competitive power of the various countries. The Netherlands will experience in many respects a change in circumstances under which her foreign trade and clearing operations are transacted.

H. Kuites Attend Farm Field Day—Mr. and Mrs. Marm Kuites, route 2, Holland, were in Runnels, Iowa, last week where they were guests at the National Soil Conservation field day and the National Farming match on Thursday.

An estimated 70,000 gathered at the site of the event to watch the nation's top plowmen compete for national championships in contour and level plowing contests. Iowa state contests were also conducted.

Among the speakers were some of the nation's top conservation authorities, including Dr. H. E. Bennett, chief of the United States soil conservation service.

The one-day show centered about the making over of a 240-acre farm which had been badly eroded after years of use. Projects included giving new life to pastures, filling gullies, building a gully control structure, building a dam, fertilizing, seeding and other chores to complete the face-lifting job.

The entire field day took place on four farms near Runnels.

He told the group that the true religion must not be a dead tradition, but a living reality.

Numbers also were sung by a quartet from Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church. William Brouwer was song leader and Robert Weener, organist.

"THE END"

Old-fashioned publishers were in the habit of printing "The End" or "Finis" on the last page
of a book. It meant, in contemporary slang, "That's all there is, there ain't no more." The publishers have for the most part discontinued that practice, on the assumption that readers can see
for themselves when they come to the end.

In the serial story of American aid to Europe, some of the countries receiving assistance seem to be under the impression that "The End" and "Finis" have gone out of existence both as words and as facts. The assumption appears to be that there will be no such thing as an end that the last page has gone out of business.
The story will just go on and on like an American comic strip or like the old-time Horatio Alger stories.

It is wholesome for both Europe
and America to be reminded that there will definitely be an end, that the day will come in the not too distant future when America will have to write "Finis" at the bottom of the page. Senator Vandenberg recently took occasion to announce to Europe that the practice of printing "The End" on the last page is still in fashion in America. "No matter
what our cooperative disposition or our self-interest, there are definite limits to the American resources which we can safely invest in foreign aid," he said.

It is quite as necessary for America to understand that as it is for Europe to be made aware of
it. There is a disposition on the part of a good many Americans to assume that Uncle Sam's money barrel is without a bottom, that this government can just go on taking out more and more, world without end. Or that the United States treasury is like the widow's cruse that always remained filled no matter how much was taken out of it. For obvious reasons the administration is disposed to play to that sentiment; the so-called "foreign votes," which means the votes
of citizens of foreign descent, can be harvested in that way.

But as Senator Vandenberg
pointed out, the time is inevitably coming when America will have to choose between maintaining its "unweakened strength" and dishing out billions to Europe. When that time comes there is no question what America will do. Even the boys who are all for giving away Uncle Sam's shirt will pull in their horns. All will insist on maintaining American solvency.
And that will mean writing "The End" at the bottom of the page of European relief. It isn't a matter of sentiment, but of hard fact.
The sooner both Europe and America understand this the better.

Sunday School

The Call of Isaiah

Isaiah 6:1-10

By Henry Geerlings

By common consent Isaiah was at least the greatest of all the writing prophets. He had a rare opportunity to study the life of his countrymen, and seemed to have ready access to royal circles.
But even more important was his knowledge of Jehovah, and his fellowship with the divine. His prophecies "are permeated with reference to the Messiah. His writings are better known by the average Bible student than those of any of the other prophets.

He lived in a time when the country was very prosperous and people were tempted to forget God. When we have said that we have accounted for the fact that genuine religion was at a low ebb, Isaiah labored to have the rulers
as well as the people put their confidence in the God of Abraham, and not in any great world
power like Egypt. He was a spiritual reformer and patriot, and endeavored to keep the nation
true to its best traditions.

It is now generally believed that this chapter records Isaiah's
initiation into the office of a prophet. Everything in the narrative suggests that it was an inaugural vision, the account of the experience by which he became a messenger of the Lord.
The consciousness of standing in a peculiar relation to God, of personal reconciliation to Him of being in His counsel, and bearing a definite commission straight from Him dates from the moment he saw the Lord high and lifted up.
The vision was undoubtedly an actual experience, and not the embodiment of an idea. It was in the death year of king Uzziah that Isaiah saw the Lord, not indeed with his bodily eyes, but in a prophetic trance, in which the ordinary operations of the mind
were suspended and spiritual realities assumed concrete and visible forms.

We may enact all the legislation we please, but if there is no
vision of God, there is not much hope for us. There is nothing save a vision of God that will keep our thoughts high, and our motives
pure, and our service unselfish.
Abraham had it when he decided to leave Ur of the Chaldees and move westward and become the father of a people of God. Jacob experienced it when he slept one night on a stone for a pillow
and saw in a vision a ladder stretched toward heaven, with angels ascending and descending.
Moses knew about it when he stood beside the burning bush and heard the call of God to holy living and worthy service. Paul experienced it when, while on the road to Damascus, he saw a vision of Jesus in the sky and fell to the ground in humility, rising in the power that Christ gave him. It may be in lesser measure, but in some such manner we must come to the consciousness of the presence of God in our lives, and to the certainty of the voice of God
in our hearts.

I am wondering if Isaiah had not been thinking pretty well of himself when he remembered
how much more conscious he was
of his God than were the people who went about with such little concern. We may acquire that idea when we look at others; but it will disappear as soon as we catch a glimpse of the pleading voice of God. It is sad to think that the most evil minded persons have little or no sense of sin. On the other hand, the holier people are more keenly conscious than are they that have sin on both hands and hearts.

There were several discoveries
which Isaiah made while he was in the presence of God. First of all he discovered that his own life was very sinful. The God he worshipped was holy and pure
and there was no sin in Him at all, but when the prophet looked at himself he began to see how far short he had come of being like God and of serving God in the way he should have done.

In the second place Isaiah realized that the people to whom he was being sent to preach were also sinful. At times they had almost entirely forgotten God.
They went their own way. They sometimes worshipped at heathen shrines. They acted as though the temple of God did not exist, and as the prophet thought of them
he realized that they were far from God and often very unwilling to serve Him.

In the third place the prophet discovered that his own life was being cleansed of sin and he was being prepared for a real service in the kingdom. The desire to do what was wrong went out of his life and he had one desire and that was to serve his God and to carry His message wherever it was possible.

The stirring, spectacular, unique experience of Isaiah as he worshipped in the temple was an exceptional condition particularly fitted to make him conscious of a call from God. It was a good place for a serious-minded young man to be. What he saw and heard there turned his life into the way of a prophet, but it all started by his being in his church
as a worshipper.

Vows Spoken in Church Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schrottenboer

Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church was the scene of a wedding Friday night when Miss Bernice Brinkman and Harold Schrottenboer were married.
The Rev. William Van Pusem
read the double ring service at 8 p.m. before a background of yellow gladioli, palms, ferns and candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Brinkman, 711 Central Ave., and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schrottenboer, 125 East 34th St.
Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Geraldine Walvoord, organist, who also accompanied Kenneth Bosman as he sang, "Through the Years" and
"Because," preceding the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer,"
as the couple knelt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a colonial gown
of white bridal satin fashioned with a net yoke outlined with a satin bertha collar, long sleeves
ending in points over the wrists and fitted bodice. The front of the full skirt was detailed with alternate rows of lace and satin ruffles which were caught up in scallops with satin rosebuds and extended into a long lace-edged train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a bead embroidered
tiara. She wore a single strand
pearl necklace, gift of the groom.

Her arm bouquet was of white
pom poms centered with a corsage
of yellow roses.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Norma Piers who wore a rose taffeta gown with a matching halo and white lace mitts. She carried a matching bouquet. Mary Damstra, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and carried a basket of rose petals.
Maynard Schrottenboer, ring
bearer, wore a navy blue suit.

John Brinkman, Jr., brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers
were Delwyn, Gordon and Ivan Schrottenboer, brothers of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. William Postma were master and mistress of ceremonies.

A reception for 90 guests was held in the church parlors. Mr.
and Mrs. Kenneth Oosterbaan
were in charge of the gift room.
Presiding at the punch bowl were Miss Irene Jacobs and Mrs. Gerald Klein. Assisting were Misses Sylvia Blystra, Mary Jane Dyk-
stra, Myra Lambers, Frances Pott
and Marcia Van Tatenhove. Mrs.
Alvin Doezeman, Mrs. Harold Kap-enga and Mrs. Carl Petroelje.

Mr. and Mrs. Schrottenboer left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and New York. For traveling, the bride wore a brown crepe
dress with brown accessories, a white coat and a corsage of yellow roses.

National Guards
Seeking Recruits

National Guard Co. D of Holland is joining a nation-wide drive
to recruit 45,000 members into
state units.

Although the local unit is second highest in Michigan in actual strength compared with allowed strength, it still needs six members and two officers.

All units that reach their allowed strength before the two-month
campaign ends in November, will receive a $100 gift.

Co. D now has 108 members.
Capt. Russell Kemper, commanding officer, announced today

Hard Work Is On Menu for Holland
High School Gridders During Week

With Quarterback Bruce Van
Voorst a question mark this week,
Coach Bob Stupka of Holland
high has started to mould a new signal caller out of reserve back Ron Bekius.

Holland opens its Southwestern conference campaign Friday night
at Riverview park against defending champion Muskegon Heights.

Although Van Voorst was on the sidelines for Monday's drill,
he did not attend school. However, he reported for classes today and expects to get in uniform
this afternoon.

Van Voorst received a "slight concussion" in last Friday's game
with Ottawa Hills.

Bekius steered the second team
against the third team in a scrimmage Monday.

"He looks good on his first try,"
Stupka said.

Toward the end of the season
the second team opened many holes in the opposite line and backs were able to rip off several long gains.

The first team watched the scrimmage session from the sidelines.

"We'll work on everything this week, including blocking and tackling," Stupka said. "They'll get a workout this week."

Two Local Games
Feature Gridiron
Fare This Week

There's no dieting for local football teams this week. Holland high, Hope college and the Hurricanes all see action.

Holland high opens its Southwestern conference schedule Friday night at Riverview park
against the defending champion Muskegon Heights Tigers. Hope
bites into a toughie Saturday afternoon at the local ball park when the Dutch entertain outstate Monmouth. The Holland Hurri-
cans travel to Ypsilanti Saturday night for a Michigan Football league contest.

Work, work, work and more work is in store for Coach Bob Stupka's charges this week. After the Ottawa debacle, Stupka
wants to concentrate on his conference foes.

X-rays were taken of Bruce Van Voorst's head Saturday afternoon and a preliminary investigation of the plates showed no serious injury. However, he may be limited to offensive play this week, if he plays at all.

Stupka plans to convert Ron Bekius, second string back, into a signal caller and quarterback
to replace Van Voorst.

After just a so-so opener
against Grand Rapids Junior college, Coach Al Vanderbush's Hope eleven faces an acid test
against the Monmouth Fighting Scots.

The Illinois team is still smarting from that 13-7 defeat at the hands of Hope last season at Monmouth.

The Dutch will work hard this week in an effort to bolster their running attack and pass defenses.

Coaches Jay Van Hoven and Ed
Danson will layoff Tuesday along with their team to attend Norm
Baggett's funeral at Grand Haven.

The Cane haven't won a game
in three starts so far this season.

nounced that the amount will be raised at the benefit on Oct. 7
beginning at 2 p.m. at the club house. Reservations may be made with any auxiliary member.

place following a potluck dinner

trict reports. Mr. Dalman was

member of the Past Presidents
club.

Southwest Teams
Open Campaigns

Southwestern conference football teams slice into the meaty parts of their schedules this week as all six teams are involved in conference contests. Although the Benton Harbor-Grand Haven 6-6 tie last Friday officially opened the schedule, the other teams met outsiders.

This week's schedule is head-
lined by the Holland-Muskegon Heights game at Riverview park.
Coach Okie Johnson brings a twice beaten Tiger team to Holland for his first defense of the conference title. Holland goes into the Heights trail with a one
and one record.

mazoo Central's Maroons travel to Benton Harbor and Grand Haven
invades Muskegon.

end, Holland lost to Ottawa 10-9;

16-0, and Kalamazoo walloped

Hope Eleven Wins Opening Contest By Lopsided Tally

Dutch Line Stands Out In GR Jaysee Rout; Pass Defenses Weak

Hope college opened the 1949 football season with an easy 34-0 victory over the Raiders of Grand Rapids Junior college. A disappointingly small crowd, estimated at 3,500 watched the Dutchmen outclass a game but inexperienced Jaysee outfit.

As predicted, Hope's linemen provided the class of the contest. The Orangemen sparkled, particularly on defense, bottling up some pretty classy backfield men. Coach Al Vanderbush experimented with various combinations after it was evident the Dutch would win in a breeze. Tangible results are that he has linemen in depth, but must develop greater talent in backs if the Dutch fulfill their pre-season promise to be the scourge of the MIAA this autumn.

Particular weakness was in aerial defense. Unable to produce a sustained running attack, the Raiders took to the air in the second half and completed a respectable three out of six passes. Two other passes were missed because of buttery fingers. The three passes were good for 26 yards.

To the credit of the Dutch backs, there were several nifty runs. But longest run of the game was by a lineman. Quarterback Nick Yonker rifled a pass to Claire De Mull on the Hope 48 and the ranga end ran 52 yards to score.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Dutch tried a pass, Yonker to Jim Pfingst, and the speedy half back ran 10 yards to cross the Jaysee line standing up. Moose Holwerda booted the extra point. And another pass, Yonker to Tom Van Wingen was good for the second touchdown in closing minutes of the second half. This score was set up by a Jaysee fumble on their own 29, which was recovered by Holwerda. Roy Zwemer kicked the extra point. Score: Hope 14, Jaycees 0.

Three plays later the half ended.

Hope kicked off to the juniors in the second half and after some conclusive ground attacks, De Mull loped down field for the third touchdown. Holwerda converted a place kick. Score 21-0.

In the fourth Roy Zwemer and Claus Holtrop carried the mail after the Dutch halted a mild Jaysee threat on their own 40. Zwemer skirted end, gathered in a lateral pass and scooted 20 yards to the 33. On the next play, a delayed hand off to Leverte, the little back raced across the Jaysee goal, but the play was nullified by a clipping penalty. That brought the ball back to the Jaycees 20. Yonker passed to Zwemer who ran to the 12. And with second down and two to go, Zwemer took a handoff and scored. Zwemer's kick was good. A few plays later Don Van Ingen took a fake handoff from Yonker and broke off tackle to run 37 yards to a touchdown. Ken Bauman's kick was wide.

That played the score, although Bill Hinga started a passing show with Frank Breen on the receiving end that brought a few exciting moments. The game ended with the Dutch nearing the goal line again.

It would be hard to hand accolades to any star linemen. They played well. Perhaps the best show was put on by De Mull and Fred Yonkman. Less spectacular, but equally useful was the work of Abe Moorland, Gene Campbell and Rip Collins. Nor should the bullying tactics of Fullback Ted Ryeanga go unnoticed. He made some excellent runs when yards were needed.

Statistics show the Dutch domination:

	Hope	Jaycees
First Downs	16	4
Yards Rushing	264	104
Yards passing	149	26
Passes tried	15	7
Passes completed	9	3
Penalties	50	10
Fumbles	4	5
Fumbles recovered	3	3

Court Costs Hiked For Warrant Cases

Better steer clear of the law. Municipal court costs went up Friday.

In cases where a warrant is issued, court costs now are $3.90 instead of the former rate of $3.10.

It costs 60 cents each for taking and filing complaint, issuing a warrant, entering the cause of a crime in the docket, and a certificate of conviction. And $1.50 for arraignment brings the new total up to $3.90.

Body Identified As Chicago Victim

Grand Haven, Sept. 29 (Special)—The body of a woman washed ashore five miles south of here Thursday was positively identified at noon Friday as Mrs. Clarence DeMaeyer Maquessan, 22, of Chicago, Ill.

Identity was confirmed after a Chicago jeweler checked engagement and wedding rings found on the body. Tentative identification was made early today by her father, Frank Geldmeyer, who arrived in Grand Haven at 5 a.m. today, accompanied by an uncle of the victim.

Mrs. Maquessan was one of four lost on the sailing yawl Lorelei Sept. 4 en route from Chicago to Michigan City. Others aboard were her husband, Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Neitzel. Mrs. Neitzel was found lashed to the yawl. All four victims were "only children" in their families.

The case shifted to Chicago after Mrs. Agnes Van Landeizen and Mrs. Bernadine Blaine of Flint viewed the body Thursday night and said it was not that of their sister, Mrs. Robert Jobs, 26, Milwaukee, who disappeared in a plane piloted by John Rice, Flint en route to Milwaukee from Grand Rapids Sept. 11.

Twin City Colts Beat Hurricanes At Benton Harbor

Bud Wright Scores With Field Goal; Offense Improved

The dispirited Holland Hurricanes dropped a 6-3 decision to the Twin City Colts Saturday night at Filstrup field in Benton Harbor.

The story was a littledifferent in Saturday's game. The Colts had eight first downs to five for the Hurricanes and outscored the home team 124 yards to 117.

However, it was the local defenses that bogged down. Colt backs repeatedly ripped through the center of the Holland line for sizeable gains. The locals missed Jason DeVries, Jim Schurman and other defensive standouts.

Holland's offense was improved, but lacked the final punch in the clutch.

It was the third straight defeat for Holland.

Early in the first quarter, Hartman dropped back into his own end zone for a quick kick. The ball barely cleared the charging Holland linemen and Red Hulst took it on the Colt 13 and returned it to the nine.

On the first play, Hulst was spilled back on the Benton Harbor 15. Quarterback Howie Peterson sneaked through the line to the 10. Peterson's third down pass fell incomplete.

With fourth down and 10 to go, Bud Wright dropped back and split the uprights with a placement boot to give Holland three points. It was the first time Holland has scored this season.

McPike returned the kickoff from his own 20 to Holland's 34-yard marker. Weatherly, McPike and Mucia combined to drive the ball to Holland's 20 yard line. On the next play Mucia took the pigskin and ran around end to score standing up. Hartman's conversion kick was wide.

Those six points proved the margin of victory as both teams threatened the rest of the second quarter and throughout the second half, but neither was able to score.

Holland had a golden opportunity midway in the third period after Don Leeuw broke away for the longest gain of the game and faked the ball all the way to Benton Harbor's three-yard line where it was first down and goal to go. However, the local offense couldn't punch pay dirt and gave the ball over after four tries.

Leeuw's run started through the right guard. The fleet Cane back cut back and raced from Benton Harbor's 31 all the way to the three before he was pulled down.

Both teams fought savagely throughout the second half, but after Holland had failed on the three, the local's didn't go too far into Colt territory.

Ed Boeve played almost 60 minutes for the Cane and was outstanding on defense and offense. Red Hulst carried the brunt of backfield duties and played good ball. George Botis also stood out on the Cane forward wall.

Decline in Egg Quality Rapid, Survey Shows

Price Spread Between Consumers, Producers Prompted Research

An average of two-thirds of the eggs are "A" quality (grades A or AA) when received direct from producers at country buying stations or by truckers, but only about 56 per cent are A quality by the time they reach central plants for shipments to markets. These facts were indicated by findings of a recently completed regional study of egg quality in 13 major egg producing states.

The study was the first large scale field survey of changes in egg quality during marketing ever attempted. It was carried on by agricultural economists and poultry marketing research people of Michigan State college, 12 other state agricultural experiment stations, and the United States Department of Agriculture. In all, about 727,000 eggs were graded at more than 1,000 buying and assembling plants.

"Egg producers have long been disturbed at the price spread between producers and consumers," the researchers said, "and the egg trade has been concerned with the uncertainty as to the quality of eggs bought. The decline in quality which occurs as the eggs move through market channels is an important explanation of the reasons for these problems."

It was found that about 800 per cent of the decline in quality between country buying stations and central assembly plants was due to interior quality change, with shell damage accounting for 20 per cent. This one step in the marketing process took an average of two days, with an estimated loss in value of the eggs of about 1.7 per cent.

On the basis of 1948 prices, this would mean $6 lost from shell breakage and $22.50 lost because of interior quality change for each 100 cases of eggs moved. The lapse of time between gradings at the two stations was the most important factor associated with the rate of decline in quality. Temperature at which eggs were held was also an important factor. The economists say the quality change and economic loss would be considerably larger if the entire marketing process was considered.

In general, eggs used in the study were found to be cleaner, and of higher quality when purchased on a grade basis. Retail stores buying eggs from producers received a higher average quality than did other types of country buying stations. No differences in quality were found between eggs of different shell colors.

The report of this study indicates much room for improvement in producer practices which will bring quality closer to the ideal 100 per cent grade A's when farmers deliver the eggs, as well as in improved marketing from that point to the consumer. A complete report of this marketing research project may be obtained from the Michigan State college bulletin office. Ask for special bulletin 361, "Changes in Egg Quality During Marketing."

Look Around for Storage Space

Farmers who claim that they haven't enough corn storage space on the farm may not have looked around the place enough, say Michigan State college agricultural engineers.

A bumper crop of corn will soon be harvested. Many farmers still have corn left from last year. Though the storage situation will be tight, the engineers believe that farmers may actually have more corn storage space than they realize.

Farm buildings can often be used for corn storage with little change. At least four types of ordinary farm buildings can be used if they're empty or nearly so. Barns, garages, poultry houses, machine sheds, can be used with a few minor adaptations.

If little air ventilation is available in the proposed storage, the corn must be quite dry before mold and spoilage. Allowing the air to circulate through the corn as much as possible will help to dry it out.

In large buildings, temporary walls can be erected. Emergency storage is easily constructed from snow fence and heavy paper material.

The key to the whole problem, the engineers believe, is doing something before harvest time is at hand. The farmer who thinks he has enough storage and then finds he has an extra thousand bushels of corn with no place to go has a big problem on his hands.

An inventory of storage possibilities on the farm and preparing suitable storage will prevent loss of corn at harvest time.

"Mush," the Alaskan term, is a contraction of the French "marchons," meaning to go on.

Red Danish Cattle Breed May Become Popular

Much publicity has been given to the Red Danish cattle. This breed was brought into Michigan in 1939. The project was successful, but not enough so that breeders of other types of cattle are going to turn at once to the Red Danish.

In good hands this breed seems to be a good dairy breed. As to type it seems to become uniform after the third cross. The American Red Danish Cattle association is started on a sound program. It is succeeding in eastern Michigan. Semen from bulls goes out into 16 counties.

The red color of the Danish stock seems to predominate after a few crosses. The Red Dane is a large, strong, animal and may in time become popular.

L. R. Arnold feels that breeders of other animals need not become unduly alarmed as yet, despite glowing accounts about this new animal to American farmers. Arnold feels that Ottawa dairy men have some of the finest dairy cows to be found anywhere.

Pasture Cuts Swine Costs

Pasture helps to make economical pork production — and that's what Harry Moxley, Michigan State college extension swine specialist, is advising these days.

A saving of from 15 to 18 bushels of corn and about 550 pounds of protein can come from one acre of good pasture, carrying 20 market hogs through the season.

Rye, planted at this season, makes a good fall, early winter and early spring pasture when other pastures are not available, the specialist states. When planted for a hog pasture, from six to eight pecks are planted per acre.

In dry lot feeding and feeding during the winter months, a good quality legume hay, either ground and mixed with the grain ration, or fed in the rack, should be given to all hogs. Up to 10 per cent of the fattening hogs' ration can be made up of a high quality legume hay. At least 15 per cent and up to 40 per cent of the ration of the brood sow may be made up of a high quality legume.

During this time of year, a sufficient amount of second cutting alfalfa—fine, leafy, well cured—should be put aside for use in the winter swine ration. Coarse, stemmy, poor quality hay should not be fed to hogs.

Moxley cites the use of good pastures over a long season as one of the best ways to insure economical production. High quality legume hays are advised for winter feeding of all swine, whether they are to be fattened for market or kept for breeding stock.

Graafschap

(From Monday's Sentinel)

The Graafschap Civic club held its monthly meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. J. Wallace. During the business discussion it was decided not to hold any more Community auctions this season. After the business meeting, refreshments were served by Mesdames Richard Strabbing, Herman Tien and Theodore Verhulst.

Harold and Gladys Knoll spent Tuesday and Wednesday at Lake City where they attended the Michigan State Blood testing school, conducted by the Michigan Turkey Improvement association. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reimink have named their new son, James Curtis.

The Ladies Aid of the Graafschap Christian Reformed church held their first meeting Thursday afternoon.

Ray Knoll, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Knoll is confined to his home with the measles.

Chipper, Sissy, and Ed Wallace, children of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace returned home after spending ten days in Battle Creek.

Chess Comes from Seed. County Agent Asserts

Every year this question of chess in wheat arises, states L. R. Arnold. Some still believe in the erroneous idea that wheat turns to chess.

Chess comes only from chess seed. The important thing is to plant wheat seed free from chess seed. Next, keep all fence rows mowed off to prevent chess from going to seed.

The next preventive is to be careful not to top dress with manure which may contain chess seed. If a farmer were to follow such steps every year he would not be bothered with chess seeds.

BULB PLANTING TIME

Get a copy of your garden supply dealer's bulb catalog and select varieties you will want to plant late this month and in October. During this planning session keep in mind the color, height, and blooming season. Make your bulb beds and borders with a plan in mind that will assure harmony and beauty.

OXALIS BULBS

These bulbs can be potted in September. Use a loose, porous and fertile soil. Give the plant plenty of sunlight and water during the growing season. When blooming is over, reduce the water gradually and store in a dry place in cellar, leaving the bulbs in the pot.

Good Feeding Practices Keep Milk Profits Up

What can Michigan dairy farmers do to help keep profits from milk production from falling?

Part of the answer is in improved feeding practices, believes C. R. Hoglund of the agricultural economics department at Michigan State college.

One of the first things to look at, Hoglund says, is the price you are getting for milk, compared with the price you have to pay for feed grains and concentrate. He cautions that you may be feeding too much concentrate for best returns, especially in the case of low producers.

For example, in 1945, 100 pounds of milk would buy 138 pounds of feed in the Detroit milk shed. In 1947 it would buy only 114 pounds of feed.

A study in that area showed that with the less favorable price relationship in 1947 many farmers were feeding too much grain. Farmers who fed one pound of grain to four pounds of milk actually had $30 more net return per cow than those feeding at a heavier level—one pound of grain for every two pounds of milk.

Farmers often feed about the same amount of grain to each cow. Hoglund says this is a costly mistake because some cows have a natural ability to produce more than others. As a rule the higher producers should get the most grain.

Recent studies at several state agricultural experiment stations showed that a cow which could produce about 6,000 pounds of milk a year made the best net return with about one pound of grain to seven pounds of milk produced.

A 10,000 pound producer made good use of one pound of grain to three or four pounds of milk.

The best feeding rate must be changed to best fit the milk-feed price relationships at the time, Hoglund points out.

Legion Auxiliary Has District Meet

Officers were installed at a meeting of the fifth district American Legion auxiliary Thursday evening in Grand Rapids. Installation ceremonies were conducted following dinner in East Congregational church.

Installing officer was Mrs. Effie Campbell of the Daniel Cussard unit of Grand Rapids and former district president. Mrs. Mary Butler of the East Grand Rapids unit was installed as president and Mrs. Edith Cornell of the Grand Rapids Earl Stewart unit was appointed secretary-treasurer.

Yearly reports were given during the business session by committee chairmen. Mrs. Louis B. Dalman of Holland was appointed chairman of the national security committee and Mrs. Marvin Ver Hoeft, also of Holland, was named to the radio committee.

It was announced that Holland and Lowell veterans at the Kent County Sunshine hospital who have birthdays this month will be presented gifts from the respective units next week.

A prize for the largest membership was awarded to the Carl Johnson unit of Grand Rapids. The East Grand Rapids unit was awarded a prize for exceeding its membership quota.

Holland women present were Mrs. Dalman, Mrs. Ver Hoeft, Mrs. Henry Brower, Mrs. Alden Stoner and Mrs. Henry Poppen. The next district meeting will be held in November at the Carl Johnson unit club house.

The local auxiliary will meet Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Legion club house for a potluck supper and installation of officers.

Divorce Granted

Grand Haven, Sept. 29 (Special) — A divorce decree was granted in Circuit Court on Monday to Elsie May Hyma from Lawrence Robert Hyma, both of Holland. Custody of the minor child was awarded to the mother.

PERENNIALS

Inspect your perennial bed and borders. If some of them produced small blooms this past summer or if the stems are crowded, they probably need dividing. Cut off and burn all top growth as soon as they die down. This will prevent wintering over of many insects and disease in the plant stalks and leaves.

GREEN MANURE

Sow winter rye (2 pounds per 100 square feet) in the vegetable plot and other bare areas this fall. Spade the rye under next spring, thus adding to the humus supply of the soil and improving the structure. Feed the rye liberally at planting time, you will not lose this plant food. It will merely be stored in the tissues of the rye plants until next summer, when decay will release the valuable nutrients slowly.

Allegan Youngsters Can Boast 14 Grandparents

Allegan, Sept. 26 (Special) — Little Brad and Brenda Sue Kibby of Allegan may have a record number of living grandparents. On both sides of the family, they have 14, including two great-grandmothers.

The children's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Kibby of Allegan. The family tree on the father's side includes grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Basil Kibby, great-grandparents Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kibby of Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dostie, Allegan; and great - great - grandmother, Mrs. Maurice Thorpe, Allegan.

On their mother's side, grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harley Cook, Allegan, great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cook, Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. George Ellis of Buckhannon, W. Va., and great - great - grandmother, Mrs. Phoebe Cook, Togue, W. Va.

The Kibbys are an old Allegan family, starting from George Washington Kibby who moved here shortly after his marriage in 1839. They settled in Monterey Center and many years operated Kibby hotel which was the center of social life of the community.

Volleys From Ambush

SOMETIMES one of these nice examples of the inherent goodness of man crops up and makes people feel just plumb good. Something like that happened at Holland hospital about a week ago.

A summer visitor, Mrs. Horatio A. Burr of New York City, was taken ill while in Western, Michigan and became a patient at the hospital. Mrs. Burr liked orange juice, but the glass bowl of the juicer on her floor was broken. So her husband went shopping. Unable to locate an electric appliance suitable for just such purposes, he purchased a superior hand model and presented it to the first floor kitchen. And Mrs. Burr had her orange juice.

When she was discharged from the hospital, an extra $100 was attached to the bill "in appreciation." Mr. and Mrs. Burr said both had had occasion to be patients in several hospitals but nowhere found the service and general atmosphere as good as in Holland.

Director Fred Burd put the sum temporarily in the Hospital Gift and Bequest fund, and will purchase some piece of equipment to benefit hospital employees.

Attention, Billy Lowry!

That little walking jaunt to Grand Rapids last spring was peanuts compared to what goes on in the Netherlands.

Last week at Nijmegen near Arnhem, more than 7,000 persons joined in a four-day march, an outgrowth of an endurance march for soldiers and sailors scheduled 33 years ago. So many civilians joined the march, just for the fun of it, that it was decided to make it an annual event.

Now, all walkers must cover a certain distance, returning the same evening to Nijmegen. There are different routes each day and mileage varies—30 miles for men walking alone or in groups, 25 for soldiers with packs and for women, and 20 for boys and girls under 16 and women over 60. Maximum time allowed all entrants is 11 hours. Besides Dutch there were British, French, Belgians, Danes, Swedes and Italians. In all, only 316 persons fell out, setting another record!

Can anybody top this? John H. Meyering, route 1, Holland, believes he has a record in a single ear of corn which has 1,253 kernels in its 24 rows. It's variety was Crow's hybrid. This season has been particularly good for corn growing be-

Check Thoroughly When Buying Herd Additions

Farmers who are buying heifers for dairy herd replacements this fall should have an eye out for big growthy, roomy animals that have the ability to produce well.

County agricultural agents and DHIA testers often know where good heifers may be offered for sale.

Bangs Disease Poses Questions

The Bangs disease control program now in operation causes various questions to arise. According to L. R. Arnold, Ottawa agricultural agent, one of these is "do cattle recover from this disease?"

Arnold quotes authorities in the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture, as follows: "Although some brucella-infected cattle may overcome the disease spontaneously, the number of such cases—possibly 10 per cent—is far too low to consider in a positive control program. Generally speaking, experience shows that brucellosis in cattle, unlike undulant fever in man, becomes chronic or permanently established."

Another common question is "What percentage of infected cows abort more than once." Records show only about 10 per cent do so, even though they remain infected and constitute a hazard as spreaders.

A third question "Does the bull spread the disease?" Only occasionally. The dangers of bulls becoming infected carriers is remote. As a rule the bull is quite resistant to the disease therefore it is not considered necessary to vaccinate bull calves with strain 19.

Although the old one has been a bit "chewed" for some time, councilmen at the last meeting decided something should be done about it.

Somebody explained the old one came to grief when it was caught in one of the new electric fans.

City Inspector Ben Wiersma wanted to know if council carried wind insurance.

City Clerk Clarence Greven-good assured him the flag was in bad shape even before the losing fight with the fan.

LAWN TIME

Fall is nature's chosen lawn making time. If you don't have the dense heavy sod you would like in your lawn, now is the time to get to work. The secret to lawn success is early fall seeding and liberal feeding of complete plant food.

September Is Planting Time For Peonies

By The Master Gardener

There is a place in every home garden for the peony, popular garden perennial. In spite of the fact that the peony shoots off its display of blooms in a relatively short number of weeks, it's perfection of dark green and arching foliage makes it a valuable plant for planting in the middle range of perennial borders or in beds by themselves. Among garden perennials peonies rank high, with giant blooms rivaling the largest chrysanthemums in size and cutting quality.

The herbaceous type of peonies, that die down in the autumn, are the sort most commonly grown. They offer a wide range of colors, from dazzling white to deep maroon with various types of blooms. Peonies make an excellent companion flower with tall-bearded iris.

Planting

Roots may be planted from the first of September until hard frost. Prepare the ground one or two weeks ahead of planting by spading deep (12 to 14 inches). Incorporate complete plant food throughout this depth at the rate of one pound (one pint) per 25 square feet of area, or one tablespoonful under each plant.

Select root divisions with at least three eyes and set so that the buds are two or three inches below the surface of the soil, and three to four feet apart.

Planting can either be in full sun or in partial shade, but not too close to trees or shrubs unless both peonies and trees are fed liberally. Mulching the first winter is advisable.

Spring Care

Start cultivation early. Feed complete food soon after growth starts. Use one rounded tablespoonful around each plant and cultivate it into the soil around the plant. This feeding is important since the peony plant makes a very rapid early growth and needs this feeding to produce foliage and blooms.

For larger blooms, disbud the plant, allowing only the terminal buds to develop. For a quantity of flowers and a noticeable longer flowering period leave some of the lateral buds.

Dividing

Dividing is not necessary until the flowers grow small and the stems crowded. In some cases this may be for 10 years or more. Three-year-old plants can be divided for securing roots to increase stock.

In digging, loosen the soil 18 to 20 inches around the plant and at least 12 inches deep, lift the clump carefully. Let the root clump dry in the sun and then shake off the soil, wash the roots free of dirt and cut stems to two inches.

Start working the roots until they show where they easily separate, then cut at these points with a knife. Leave at least three eye per division.

Diseases

Root knot, blight and leaf spot are common peony diseases. As a preventive measure cut off stalks and burn all of the top growth in the fall. The use of an all purpose insecticide and fungicide during the spring and summer will prevent most peony insect and disease troubles. In case of a bad infestation of root knot, lift the clump and place in a 30-minute bath of water at 120 degrees F. Avoid applications of manure around stems and crown. Remove any mulch early in the spring. These conditions are favorable for fungus growth.

A gardener must be familiar with the various kinds of peonies in order to use them effectively. Get out your garden catalog or other reference books and plan your plantings before buying roots.

Compare Broilers With 4-H Chickens

The objective of the 4-H "Chicken-of-Tomorrow" program is to teach boys and girls fundamentals of good poultry management. If you've kept adequate records on your own broiler production program you can check against the winners in the Michigan contest, who did a fine job.

The three winners were Allen Seyfried, Galien; Jerry Sietsma, Grand Rapids; and Bruce Bergy, Alto. Seyfried's 12 white rocks weighed an average of 4.6 pounds at 14 weeks of age. Sietsma's put on 5.8 pounds per bird. They were a red rock cross. Bergy's New Hampshire made the best gain with 5.86 pounds in 12 weeks. How about profit? Young Bergy raised 500 chickens at a cost of 19.2 cents per pound of gain and made a net profit of $200.50.

Such 4-H projects as these teach the value of keeping good records in livestock production and can well be copied by farmers all over the state in making their own enterprises more profitable.

LAWN WEEDS The fall rains and the cooler weather may have brought a new growth of weeds into your lawn. If so, get out your sprayer and selective lawn weed chemicals (2, 4-D) and control them to make room for fall seeded grass.
