Game Commission Approves Strip For Holland Park

Recreation Division
Chief Sees Completion
Before '54 Season

MILFORD, Mich. — Michigan's Conservation Commission Tuesday approved construction of a 3,100-foot trailer parking strip at Holland State Park.

The commission, meeting at nearby Haven Hill, approved transfer of $20,000 which has originally been earmarked for Interlochen State Park to cover cost of the Holland project.

Arthur G. Elmer, head of the department's parks and recreation division, told the commission improvements at Interlochen would cost about $57,000 instead of $77,500 originally appropriated.

Elmer said the Holland park has needed additional trailer facilities "for many years" and that construction of the strip would be a "partial solution" to the problem of providing space for campers and other park visitors.

Elmer said the project would be submitted to the State Administrative Board at an early date for final approval and that construction would be completed before the 1954 park season opens.

Park Manager Clare Broad said Tuesday that he had not received any formal notification of construction plans.

Broad said state engineers were at the park two months when they made a preliminary survey of the proposed trailer parking strip. The site selected is approximately 250 feet west of the park entrance.

He expected to learn more information about the trailer strip at a park manager's meeting in the Upper Peninsula starting Thursday.

Optimist Club Hears Brooks

Earnest C. Brooks, state commissioner of corrections, addressed the Holland Optimists at their regular meeting Monday noon at Eten House.

Mr. Brooks, introduced by Program Chairman Bernard Donnelly, told of his work in the Michigan prisons. It is the job of the prison officials, he said, to prepare prisoners to again enter society, and it is our responsibility to keep them out of prison.

Mr. Brooks illustrated with check forgers now in prison. After they serve their sentence, it is our responsibility to keep them from going back; but we continue to cash checks of persons we do not know and this encourages these forgers to continue their crimes with the result that they are again put in prison, he said.

In a special ceremony, Donnelly decorated Bud Raphael with the Award of Soggy Sponge with two Clusters for heroic actions known only to Donnelly and Raphael. John Vander Broek reported that 15 new gum ball machines were being installed in Holland. The Rev. Farm Animal Feed Will Be Discussed

Twenty years of practical study in the feeding of farm animals will form the basis of an address by Dr. L. A. Maynard of Cornell University before the opening session of a program on "Our Changing Food Supply" at Michigan State College, Oct. 12.

Dr. Maynard is professor of biochemistry and director of the school of nutrition at the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell. He also is chairman of the Food and Nutrition board of the National Research Council.

Sponsored by the Michigan Nutrition Council, the day's program is expected to bring between 600 and 1,000 Michigan people to the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education.

A nutritionist with a nationwide reputation, Dr. Maynard's research on fats and minerals in cattle feed have been of great value to dairymen. During the depression years, he worked with Dr. C. M. McKay at Cornell in determining that when rats ate less food they lived longer. The two men also studied the effects of light and temperature in regulating the amount of vitamin C in tomatoes.

Dr. Maynard's present major research is in finding inexpensive sources of plant protein to improve growth in young pigs. He also is a member of a team of American scientists working to improve the food supply of people in other countries.

Among the other authorities on the program are Dr. E. M. Nelson, of the U. S. Food and Drug Administration, Washington, D. C., and Dr. Lloyd M. Turk, director of the agricultural experiment station at Michigan State College.

Holland Represented At Red Cross Meeting

Mrs. W. S. Merriam, Mrs. J. Frank Duffy, Jr., and Mrs. Norris Van Duren of Holland attended the 100th meeting of the Red Cross Council Wednesday at Percy Jones Hospital in Battle Creek. It marked the last meeting to be held at the Percy Jones location since the hospital is scheduled to close the middle of October.

Mrs. Merriam, vice-chairman of Volunteer Services in charge of supply, was given special recognition for her faithful attendance since the council was organized in 1941. A special cake commemorated the 100th meeting.

Col. Norman H. Wiley, hospital commander, told the group the Red Cross had done a tremendous job for the patients at the hospital. He said the Army provides all the medical care needed but the Red Cross brings a touch of home to the boys, thus building morale and aiding physical progress.

The next meeting of the Council will be held Nov. 5 at Veterans Administration Hospital in Fort Custer. The Red Cross will continue its work there as well as at the Michigan Veterans Vocational Camp at Pine Lake.

Licensing System To Change Oct. 2 Throughout State

Permits Will Expire
On Driver's Birthday
Every Three Years

A new driver's licensing system will go into effect throughout Michigan Friday.

Effective Oct. 2, rates for driver's licenses will take a jump; the permits will expire on the owner's birthday three years after issuance, and the license appeal board will move from the State Police to the hands of the Secretary of State.

Persons taking out a license for the first time will have to pay a $3 fee instead of $1.25 charged in the past. Renewals will jump to $1.50 from $1.25. Fees for chauffeur and restricted minor permits will remain the same.

At the same time all licenses that would have expired after Oct. 2 are automatically extended until the licensee's next birthday.

In other words if your license is due to expire on Oct. 11 and your birthday is May 17 you have until May 17 to renew your license.

However, application for a renewal can be made at any time three months previous to the new extended date of expiration.

With the issuance of a new license on an individual's birthday, the license will then expire three years hence on that date.

Along with the change in regulations, the Holland police department has set up new hours to issue driver's licenses.

Effective on the Oct. 2 date, hours will be from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily except on Sundays and holidays. These are the only times that licenses will be issued by the police department. The Zeeland department also announced a similar set of hours and regulations.

Road tests in Holland remain the same as in the past with one day a week given over to the afternoon road tests.

The other change was in the matter of appeals from motorists. Any appeal or citations to revoke a license will be heard by a three man board. Sitting on the board will be representatives of the Secretary of State, Attorney General and Chief of Police or Sheriff's Department from which the person is appealing or was cited. In the past the State Police handled appeals and citations.

MR. AND MRS. MELVILLE STICKELS of Central Park were reunited with their son for the first time in a year Wednesday night at Grand Rapids airport. The 22-year-old airman was shot down in flames on a combat mission over North Korea last Jan. 17 and reported missing in action. Next word of his whereabouts was the good news that he had been released by the Communists in "Operation Big Switch" in Korea. Aug. 30. This stirring picture was taken as he met his parents after coming to Grand Rapids from Chicago. (Sentinel photo)

Lt. EDWARD "TED" STICKELS was welcomed home by several hundred friends Wednesday night. He rode in an open car from the depot to City Hall and spoke a few words before going home to do some "lamey relaxing". (Sentinel photo)

Ted's Back—Community And Friends Are Happy

Tears of thanks dampened the joy-filled faces of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Stickels of Central Park at Grand Rapids Airport Wednesday night when they welcomed their son, Lt. Edward L. "Ted" home from Korea.

It was a heart-warming scene as the young airman, who was shot down last Jan. 17 in Korea, ran down the plane ramp to the waiting arms of his parents. Stickels was reported missing in action by the Defense Department after his buddies saw him going down in flames in Korea, and his folks didn't hear of his whereabouts again until he was released in "Operation Big Switch" in Korea on Aug. 30. They never gave up hope and Wednesday's reunion was the answer to their prayers.

The 22-year-old airman was thinner than the 165 pounds he weighed when he enlisted in the Air Force, but some "good home cooking" is expected to fix that up.

Ted flew to Grand Rapids from Chicago with a sister, Mrs. Barbara Calero.

His first words were, "I'm all right," and as he hugged his parents he repeated over and over, "Isn't it wonderful?"

He then went the rounds shaking hands and exchanging greetings with many friends who had gathered for the 6 p.m. plane at the airport. The group included Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Brower, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Lohmann, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Van Lopik, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Adamaitis, Dr. and Mrs. Marion de Velder, Mr. and Mrs. Randall C. Bosch and others.

Ted and his family drove to Holland where a crowd was waiting at the depot. He was welcomed by Mayor Harry Harrington and climbed into an open car for a parade down Eighth St. to front lines on the east coast. The plane "sort of blew up" and went into a spin. Stickels was automatically ejected from the cockpit as the plane plummeted downward. He figured on hiding out until darkness and then try to make his way back to allied lines.

"I couldn't find a blue tree, though, to match my blue uniform," he said. He was half-way up the side of a hill and tried to hide in a hole but was captured in about a half-hour.

He spent three and a half months at interrogation centers and labor camps near the front, then was transferred to camp 2, annex, six miles from the Yalu River.

He subsisted on "starvation rations" the first three months and the men had to steal most of the food. However, things changed for the better when he reached the camp 2, annex.

Investigators Say Bolt Ran Along Wire Clothes Line

Rains Hamper Events
At Big Allegan Fair;
Telephones Stymied

FENNVILLE (Special) — Mrs. Helen Case, 35, route 3, Fennville, died at 2 a.m. Saturday in Douglas Hospital of shock from effects of lightning, according to Coroner William Ten Brink of Hamilton.

Mrs. Case, wife of Guy Case, went to the back door of her home to put a rug against the door to keep the rain out. As she stooped over she said to her 12-year-old son, "Look at this."

The son told Sheriff Louis A. Johnson and Ten Brink that "she never straightened up after that."

Johnson said a wire clothes line was connected to the door jam and it appeared that lightning ran along the line and struck the woman, who was standing in water.

There was just one thin little mark on the door jam where lightning had split it, Johnson said. But there was no fire.

There were no scars or burn marks on the body, Ten Brink said. She was barefoot at the time. She was admitted to Douglas Hospital at 12:35 a.m. and died at 2 a.m. She never regained consciousness. The body was taken to Chapel Funeral Home in Fennville.

Mrs. Case was employed at the Fennville Canning factory as was her husband. He was at work at the time. Visiting at the Case home was an aunt, Mrs. C. J. McCoy of Atlanta, Ga.

Surviving besides the husband and son are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clio Tromp of Fennville; two sisters, Mrs. Dale Nichols of South Haven and Mrs. Cecil Kleinbrink of Kalamazoo; a brother, Lyle Tromp of Fennville, and the grandmother, Mrs. Frances Slington.

The severe rain and hail storm which swept Fennville throughout the evening caused considerable damage to the apple crop.

Approximate cost of operating the shelter for one year is $2,000. More homes for dogs and cats are needed. The shelter hours are daily from 7 to 9 a.m., 1 to 2 and 5 to 6 p.m.

Zeeland Piles Up Lead, Conquers Grandville, 20-12

ZEELAND (Special) — Piling up a 13-0 halftime lead, the Zeeland Chix held off a desperate, last-quarter rally to overcome Grandville's Bulldogs, 20-12, and make Coach Jerry Groeters' debut successful.

Grandville opened the final period with a touchdown and recovered a fumble on the ensuing kick-off on Zeeland's 27-yard line. Milt Bement plunged over from the two to close the gap to 13-12.

Then it was time for Zeeland to take over. Capt. John Vandem Bosch and Ron Wetherbee started from Zeeland's 33 and rammed the ball all the way to Grandville's five, where Wetherbee went off tackle for the insurance tally. He also plunged for Zeeland's final point.

Wetherbee's booming punts kept the Chix out of trouble and the hard-running halfback was the star of the evening on offense. Taking a Grandville punt 20 yards to Zeeland's 13 early in the first quarter, he went off-guard for the first Chix touchdown.

Johnny Van Dam's kick for the extra point was blocked, but Zeeland had a lead it never relinquished.

In the second quarter, Vandem Bosch was injured and was removed until the third period. A 35-yard punt rumbled by Wetherbee plus a 15-yard penalty put the ball on Grandville's 20. Fullback John Broersma skirted left end to score. Van Dam kicked the extra point just as the half ended and the Chix led, 13-0.

Grandville started to move late in the third period, and a 65-yard drive put the ball on Zeeland's four at the end of the stanza. Bement bulled over from the one at the start of the first period, but the conversion was missed. This set the stage for the Zeeland fumble and Grandville's second tally.

The Bulldogs racked up 14 first downs, while the Chix were only able to manage 10. Forty-five yards in penalties hurt Grandville at a couple of crucial points.

Starting in the line for Zeeland was veteran tackle Jim Wyngarden, who was all over the field on both offense and defense. Left Half Bement and Quarterback Ron Morton were standouts for the Bulldogs.

Next week, the Chix have another non-conference game on the docket as they travel to Otego.

Divorce Granted

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — A divorce decree was granted in Ottawa Circuit Court Saturday to Lucretia Lillyblad from Robert Harry Lillyblad, both of Grand Haven. The parties have three children and custody of the two minor children will be held in abeyance until next summer.

An ordinary bottle cork may contain 750 million tiny air cells.

Michigan Normal Halfback Leroy Mawby (45) plunges for five yards midway through the second quarter Saturday night as Normal rolled over Hope College by a 21-6 margin. Making the tackle is Hope Halfback Bob Hoeksema (8) while End John Brannock (82) stands by with some ready assistance. Other Normal players are Halfback Thomas Fagan (24) and Quarterback Bob Middlekauff (19).

See-Saw Battle Marred by Vital Hope Mistakes

A pair of gift touchdowns altered an otherwise even contest Saturday night at Riverview Park as Michigan Normal romped to a 21-6 victory over Hope College in the season opener for both schools.

It was a bruising, battling ball game as Huron Coach Fred Trosko unveiled a balanced line operating in front of a quartet of hard running backs.

Neither team could score in the first quarter, with a backfield-in-motion penalty nullifying Hope Halfback Frank Talarico's 41-yard TD sprint late in the period. Forty-five yards of penalties pretty well shackled the Normal offense.

Hope was definitely off balance in this period as big holes were repeatedly ripped in the middle of the line. Offensively things went no better as lack of precision and timing netted them only 10 yards on the ground.

Shortly after opening of the second quarter an exchange of punts found Hope forced to punt from its own 25-yard marker. Talarico fumbled a bad center and the ball rolled into the Hope end zone.

Talarico picked it up but was run out of bounds on the three yard line. Normal took over and two plays later Halfback Leroy Mawby crashed over from the one yard line for the score.

Quarterback Bob Middlekauff scooted around left end for the extra point and the Hurons led 7-0. Touchdown No. 2 for the visitors was almost a repeat performance of the initial score. With fourth down and 16 yards to go Talarico stood on the Hope 20 yard marker to kick. The center was high and this time he piked it up and ran to the 10.

Four plays later Huron Halfback Thomas Fagan plunged through middle for another score. Badalow kicked the point and the score stood 14-0 as the half ended.

Hope looked like a different ball club in the third quarter as the defense tightened and the offense began to roll. With Talarico, Dave Kemper and Quarterback Harry Voss handling the chores, Hope started several nice drives.

But each time they got within the 25 yard stripe Normal's defense stiffened and the locals were unable to score. With the Huron offense sputtering the third quarter ended with Hope knocking at the door on the visitors 21 yard line.

The drive was halted on the very next play as Ypsilanti recovered a Hope fumble and started a march back down the field. This drive faltered and Huron punted out to bounds on the Hope 30.

Here Hope Quarterback Voss elected to try a flat pass which had worked effectively all night. But this time Normal linebacker

Oestrike was waiting as he stepped right in with a beautiful interception and raced for the goal.

He was finally run out of bounds on the three yard line after a return of 22 yards. Mawby scored standing up on the next play. Middlekauff kicked the extra point and the score stood 21-0.

An aroused Hope squad took over after the kickoff and Kemper and Talarico alternated in carrying the ball to the Huron 41 yard marker where Huron defenders threw the locals for two consecutive losses.

Then John Adams, who hadn't been expected to even suit up for the game because of a charliehorse, pitched a 20 yard pass to end Jim Van Hoven for a first down.

Kemper hit the middle for no gain and a pass was incomplete before Adams twisted and turned his way right through the entire Normal team to score. Bud Prins' try for extra point was wide and scoring for the evening ended with Hope trailing by the 21-6 margin.

Next contest for Hope is an MIAA encounter with Olivet Friday at Riverview Park.

Cars Receive Minor Damages in Accident

Two cars received minor damages Saturday at 7:45 p.m. when they collided near the intersection of M-21 and 88th Ave.

Involved were cars driven by Pedro Soliz, 23, of 375 North Division Ave., and John Brummer, 71, of route 2, Hudsonville. Both cars were heading east on M-21.

Damage to the '50 model Soliz car was estimated at $75 and at $25 to the '47 model Brummer car, police said. Soliz was ticketed for improper passing. Deputies Nelson Lucas and Ken De Jonge investigated.

TWELVE GOOD-SIZED NORTHERN PIKE are the prize catches of J. H. Grebel (left) of Grand Rapids, his son-in-law, Milo Meyers (right), and his son, Robert of Holland. They caught the mass recently while fishing in Lake Michigan near the north side just beyond Big Bayou. Biggest of the catch was 41 inches long and weighed 14 and three-quarters pounds, smallest measured 18 inches long. Grebel has a cottage on Ottawa Beach Rd., and spends summers here.

Gets Prison Term On Morals Count

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Earl Lee, 26, of Oxford, formerly of Ferrysburg, was sentenced to serve 18 months to 10 years at Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson when he appeared before Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith Saturday on a charge of taking indecent liberties with a seven-year-old girl. The alleged offense occurred June 24 and he pleaded guilty June 24 at which time he was released on his own recognizance.

In passing sentence, the court stated Lee had long record dating back to 1945 when he returned from serving in the armed forces.

Thomas Courtade, 18, route 1, Conklin, who pleaded guilty Aug. 13 to a charge of malicious destruction of property, was placed on probation for a year. He was ordered to pay $50 costs in 30 days, pay $5 a month oversight fees and leave intoxicating liquors alone. Courtade, together with two juveniles, allegedly caused considerable damage to newly graded roads the night of July 24. They had used two bulldozers and caused damage to the equipment as well as the roads. Parents of the boys had paid $380 restitution for the damage.

Courtade was to have appeared in court Aug. 26 for disposition of his case but got his dates mixed and reported a day late when court was not in session.

Francis C. Butts, 20, Ravenna, pleaded guilty to charges of larceny from a dwelling and was immediately placed on probation for two years. He was ordered to pay $5 a month oversight fees and $100 costs in 30 days. He must leave intoxicating liquors alone, must pay a reasonable amount of restitution and cannot leave the state without permission.

Butts, along with Harold Dirk Ver Meulen, 19, Muskegon, were charged with entering the apartment of Jean Mills Aug. 14 and taking a flat iron and hot plate.

Ver Meulen appeared earlier and also pleaded guilty. He will appear Sept. 23 for disposition.

Train Demolishes Car at Crossing

Two Holland youths miraculously escaped with only a few minor cuts after their car was completely demolished in a collision with a C and O train at the James St. crossing early Sunday night.

Delwyn Huyser, 16, of 68 West Eighth St., driver of the car, received only small cuts as did a passenger, Robert Helmink, 16, of 720 Myrtle Ave. The two were treated at Holland Hospital and released.

Police said the Huyser car, collided with the train engine at the crossing. The impact took the car along the tracks for several yards. The front of the car was forced into the ground flopping the entire vehicle over on its back.

The Huyser '40 model car, heading south, was judged a total loss, Ottawa County Chief Deputy Clayton Forry said.

Wustman Notches Overtime Victory At Legion Field

ZEELAND (Special) — Wustman Produce battled extra-inning tension and North Blendon pitching to squeeze out a 6-5 11-inning thriller over North Blendon at the Zeeland softball tournament at Legion field Thursday night.

The Drenthe girls whipped the Zeeland Bon Tons, 9-2, and North Holland swamped Bethel Christian Reformed Church of Grand Rapids 10-0.

Wustman collected 14 hits, and Blendon 11, one a two-run homer, as the two clubs tied it in the sixth and scored a run apiece in the tenth.

Drenthe notched 14 hits, including a two-run homer, while limiting Bon Tons to five.

North Holland pounded out 10 hits, with four for extra bases, while parceling out just three singles to Bethel.

North Blendon belted their homer in the fourth to break the ice and take a two-run lead. Wustman, after wasting three singles in the third, pulled ahead with a triple and two singles for three runs in the fifth.

Blendon moved a run ahead in the sixth when they combined a triple and two singles to score twice.

But Wustman evened it in their half the sixth, shoving a run across on a pair of singles.

In the tenth both teams scored once, on a double and single apiece, to send the game further into overtime.

In the next frame Blendon went out meekly, and Wustman put a double and single together to squeeze the big run home.

Drenthe scored three times in the second on a double, single, and error, and turned a single into a run in the third. In the fifth they smashed out five runs, with two singles and a triple following their two run homer.

Bon Tons countered with a triple and double good for one in the fourth, and a single and error that scored one in the sixth.

North Holland got right down to business in the first inning, with a big assist from Bethel pitching, as they tallied five times on four walks, an error, and a double. A triple brought a run home in the second.

In the fifth the winners combined two singles and a double for three more, and tripled the closing run home in the sixth.

Du Pont Manager Speaks to Rotary

"Our great standard of living flows from the fact that we Americans have unlocked the door to production," Paul R. Leach, Jr., Mid-West manager of Du Pont Company's extension division, told Rotary Club members Thursday noon at the Warm Friend Tavern.

The secret of this ability to produce is contained in four basic factors of production—raw materials, manpower, tools and motivation, he said.

Mr. Leach, a former newspaper man and Washington correspondent, gave a pre-view of chemical developments of the future as well as a demonstration of such Du Pont products as nylon, plastics, cellophane, titanium metal, cellulose sponge and "Mylar" polyester film.

The speaker explained that many people look suspiciously at profits because of mistaken notions about the size of corporate earnings. The 10 per cent they think fair is just about triple the profit of the average American company, he said, adding that the amount of profit contains the life-secret of all output because much of it constantly flows back into new tools to swell production.

He pointed out that within recent years about half his company's sales came from products unknown or in their commercial infancy just 20 years ago. "That is the fruit of research," he said. He illustrated with the story of the development of nylon, a "king-size venture in research."

Mr. Leach commented that possibly increasing knowledge of the molecule and atom will "bring us medicines and chemical formulas that will conquer disease, even cancer; that will eradicate the insect pests of the earth so that we may reap the full fruits of nature instead of only a portion as we do today."

Flower Show Guests Viewing Seedlings at Propagation Display in Carley Garage

Prize Winning Arrangement by Mrs. Jack A. Sorce

Lovely Autumn Flowers Displayed at Fall Show

Lovely autumn flowers were used in great varieties to produce an outstanding display of arrangements in the fall flower show presented by the Holland Tulip Garden Club Thursday afternoon.

The theme of "Autumn Music" was carried out beautifully in the five song title classes which were displayed in the homes of four Garden club members on East 26th St. Judging was done in the morning by four certified judges from Grand Rapids, Mrs. Herman Schoonbeek, Mrs. Thomas Stafford, Mrs. M. H. Sheffield and Mrs. H. Nellist.

Class 101 entitled "September Song" held at the home of Mrs. Fred Stanton with Mrs. Arthur Visscher as chairman were arrangements stressing rhythm with flowers and containers in shades of yellow to bronze. Prizes: first, Mrs. William G. Winter; second, Mrs. W. C. Kools; third, Mrs. C. M. Lamoreaux.

Class 102, "Autumn Nocturne," on the display at the home of Mrs. Henry Carley with Mrs. Dora Henter as chairman, were line arrangements in the modern manner. First, Mrs. C. M. Lamoreaux; second, Mrs. Jack Sorce; third, Mrs. Thaddeus Taft; honorable mention, Mrs. James Brooks.

Class 103, "Falling Leaves," also on display in the Carley home with Mrs. Harry Wetter as chairman, were naturalistic arrangements using live or dry foliage with other material. First, Mrs. Wetter; second, Mrs. Taft; third, Mrs. R. B. Champion; honorable mention, Miss Dena Muller.

Class 104, "September in the Rain," held at the home of Mrs. John F. Donnelly with Mrs. Robert Linn as chairman, were arrangements using the cool autumn colors; first, Mrs. Edward Brodin; second, Mrs. E. D. Schneider; third, Mrs. Champion; honorable mention, Mrs. Edward Herpolsheimer.

Class 105, "Shine on Harvest Moon," on display at the home of Mrs. W. A. Butler with Mrs. Sidney Tiesinga as chairman, were mass arrangements stressing light and dark colors. First, Mrs. Taft; second, Mrs. Robert Wolbrink; third, Mrs. Herpolsheimer; honorable mention, Mrs. Lawrence Towse and Mrs. C. M. Lamoreaux.

A lovely tea was held from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren, 574 Central Ave., with Mrs. Ralph Eash as tea chairman. Beautiful music was provided for the guests during the afternoon with Mrs. Harry Dunn at the piano accompanied by a background of recorded organ music.

The tea table and buffet had arrangements by Mrs. William Winter and Mrs. Paul Fredericksen. These were invitational arrangements. Other invitational arrangements throughout the house were done by Mrs. W. C. Kools, Mrs. L. G. Stallkamp, Mrs. R. B. Champion, Mrs. T. Fred Coleman, Mrs. Kenneth Peirce, Mrs. Fred J. Pickel, Mrs. Harry Wetter, Mrs. L. W. Lamb, Jr., and Mrs. Stuart B. Padnos.

The horticultural committee displayed a variety of propagation cases for use in rooting cuttings or starting seeds in early spring, along with individually potted plants which represented several methods of propagation. These were given to members and guests who attended the show.

Except for the house plants, these should be planted outside in a protected location and kept moist so they can continue to make some root growth during the fall.

After the ground freezes they should be protected by a four or five inch mulch of straw or excelsior, held down by branches or sticks.

People are still talking about the accident south of Holland on Labor Day morning when a truckload of transient Mexican workers turned over, landing 21 of the 32 travelers in Holland Hospital.

Actually, it was probably the biggest single "disaster" that ever confronted the local institution and in spite of the terrific confusion, things as a whole went far better than could possibly be expected. Only the driver could speak English and he was taken elsewhere for questioning, so the hospital personnel calmly put plasters with numbers on each forehead and made out their charts accordingly.

Holland people will be glad to know that provisions for the care of the injured in such a case are sharply defined, and the transients are given far more protection than would be evident from living conditions. The Mexican government is most particular that all people are insured. Consequently, there was no question as to payment of any hospital bills. In fact, the broker in St. Louis, Mo., who handles the entire operation called several times to check the welfare of the injured.

Of the 21 patients admitted, 13 were discharged the next day. To date, four still remain in the hospital and will be sent to Alabama when the attending physician signs a certificate they are able to travel on a bus.

The injured people will be met in Alabama by another physician who will look after them until they are able to work. Then another certificate must be signed.

All in all, the provisions on the higher level are much better than one could normally expect.

You rural folk...are your mail boxes in the right place?

Rural mail carriers perform a wonderful service in delivering mail to rural residents in all types of weather—yet they daily create a hazard to motorists.

Each time they stop their cars half on the highway and half off—either the left or the right side of the road—they endanger the lives of others riding the same highways.

The fault is possibly not with the rural mail carriers who pull up beside mail boxes wherever they are placed, but with the mail box owners who place their mail boxes too close to main thoroughfares.

Mail boxes should be placed five feet off the highways to allow safe delivery for mail carriers and safe driving or other motorists.

Advice to a Young Attorney... Their position on this matter reminds me of the story of the aged barrister who was asked by a young attorney for advice on how to handle his first jury case. If you don't have the facts or the law on your side, then you should attack the opposition." — from Rep. Bailey, D., West Virginia, in Congressional Record.

Coach Shearer Empties Bench In Lopsided Win

An estimated 3,000 fans sat through intermittent rains to see the inaugural of the 1953 football season at Riverview Park Friday night and came away pleased with the showing of Coach Dale Shearer's Holland High team.

The Dutch smothered Grand Rapids Creston, 28-6.

It was a good game for the first half and when the teams left the field the scoreboard read 7-6 in Holland's favor. But then the roof fell in as the Dutch made the Creston line look like a sieve and punched across three more touchdowns.

By the time the final horn sounded, Shearer had emptied the local bench and had a good chance to survey his squad.

It's difficult to single out any one Holland player for honors. But surely one must note such men as Delwin Grissen, who played a total of three different backfield positions during the fray, and Dick Yskes, who played a whale of a game at guard on both offense and defense.

However, hats off to the entire line of Carl Fehring, Dave Rogers, Blaine Timmer, Duane Grissen, Laverne Hoeksema and Ron Isaacs. They were the ones that opened holes sometimes big enough to get a good sized truck through.

Holland kicked off to open the game and Coach Don Black's team tried an ancient sleeper that fluked when the pass went awry on the first play from scrimmage. The teams traded punts and the first scoring drive started from Holland's 37 after a Creston punt was downed at that point.

By this time Quarterback Bob Van Dyke had detected a weakness in the Creston line and he exploited it to the hilt as he repeatedly sent the Holland backs through gaping holes.

With Erwin Ter Haar, Del Grissen and Van Dyke himself shouldering most of the running chores, the Dutch punched out five first downs to the Creston three. On the next play Ter Haar scooted through a wide hole at the right guard slot and scored. Van Dyke booted the point and Holland was ahead 7-0.

The score came with the second quarter one minute and 20 seconds old.

Holland practically handed-Creston its lone TD just before the half. A Creston punt had been downed on the Dutch 7. On the first play Quarterback Van Dyke called for a pitch-out to Grissen that was fumbled and Creston's Left Tackle Ralph Panches pounced on the ball on the 7. Dave Fleming was spilled for no gain on the first play but officials called a personal foul on Holland and the ball was moved to the one-yard line. John DeBlay gained about a foot on the first play and then Fred Shassberger broke through left tackle to score standing up. Fleming was spilled short on his attempt to run for the point and the half ended seconds later with the count 7-6.

Early in the third quarter Grissen intercepted a Fleming pass and ran it back to the Creston 22. Five plays later sophomore Ron Van Dyke cracked right tackle, cut toward the sidelines and outraced the secondary for a TD from nine yards out. After one good kick for point, a 15-yard penalty against Holland, an incomplete pass and a five-yard penalty against Creston, Bob Van Dyke finally missed the boot and it was 13-6.

Four minutes and 40 seconds had elapsed in the third quarter. On the first play after the kick-off, Bob Van Dyke plucked a Fleming pass out of the air on Holland's 40 and returned all the way to the Polar Bear 47. Holland was on the march again as the Creston line seemed to come apart at the seams. Grissen and Ron Van Dyke alternated to the one-foot line and from there Bob Van Dyke took it over on a quarterback sneak. His try for point was blocked and it was 19-6.

There were two minutes and 15 seconds left in the third quarter.

Early in the last quarter a Creston punt was downed on the Bear's 48. One play and a 15-yard penalty moved it down to the Creston 30. From there—with Grissen directing the team at quarterback—the Dutch moved to the Creston 2. A Grissen to Gerald Boeve pass for eight yards featured the series. Creston was penalized for offside and the ball was moved to the one from where Ron Van Dyke bulled through center for the score. This time Ron Van Dyke booted and it was good to end scoring for the game.

By this time Shearer was substituting freely and Black's Grand Rapids outfit was badly beaten.

It rained most of the first half, but most of the fans were sheltered under the grandstand. After brief showers at the start of the third quarter, the moon came out and it was clear sailing the rest of the way.

Despite the soggy field there were only five fumbles in the game, two by Holland and three by Creston.

It was a heartbreaking personal loss for Black who moved to the Creston helm from Otsego this season.

Grandstanding...

by Jack Kolo

Coach Dale Shearer was obviously pleased after his injury riddled squad came through with the impressive victory over the Polar Bears.

"They were sure fired up the first half," said Shearer, "but we didn't have much opposition during the second half. The entire Creston team seemed wilted."

Shearer had nothing but praise for the work of his line. "That Yskes was great, wasn't he," said Shearer. But he also gave Dave Rogers, Co-Capt. Blaine Timmer, Duane Grissen and Laverne Hoeksema a lot of credit. "They were all good," Shearer finally concluded.

One of the most pleasant surprises was the work of back Del Grissen and Ron Van Dyke. Grissen, a replacement for injured Co-Capt. Paul Mack, was as versatile as they come as he played three of the four backfield positions. "And he knows the fourth one, too," commented a Holland High official.

Grissen started at left half, and before the night was over had played both fullback and quarterback. In the last quarter he fired a couple of nifty complete passes to conclude a tremendous night.

Ripping off 29 yards on two beautiful runs, Grissen set up the first Holland touchdown early in the second quarter.

Van Dyke, a sophomore who is just up from the reserve team displayed some sparkling, broken-field running in scoring two touchdowns. Just to make it convincing he kicked the extra point after his tally in the fourth quarter. Ron, by the way, is the brother of Bob Van Dyke, starting quarterback for the Dutchmen.

Shearer was happy about another factor in the contest—he was able to clear his bench and use every player on the squad. Subtracting the injured players from the roster gives a total of 32 that saw action—not too many by modern standards.

Holland was completely fooled on the opening play from scrimmage when Creston attempted the old sleeper play. End Ar Beals was way out on the left sideline, and we went out in the clear with no one around, but Quarterback Dave Fleming threw over his end to save the Dutchmen.

Two Men Admit 11 Burglaries

ALLEGAN (Special) — A Dorr man and Muskegon resident waived examination in Municipal Court here Saturday on larceny charges involving 11 thefts in the area in the past two months.

Richard Pennell, Jr., 19, route 2, Dorr, and Bernie West, 20, of Muskegon were bound over to Circuit Court by Judge Irwin Andrews. They were remanded to county jail after failing to furnish $500 bonds.

After nearly 48 hours of questioning the pair late Friday signed statements admitting three break-ins in Hopkins, four in Wayland, one in Moline and another at the Avalon Tavern, Dunn Lake, in Barry County.

They also told State Detective William Menzies and Deputy Sheriff Robert Whitcomb they had stolen a pickup truck from the Ford garage in Wayland which was used in most of their forays. They admitted the theft of a car in Grand Rapids as well. West also admitted three burglaries in the Muskegon area in which Pennell was not implicated.

Holland didn't try a pass play until the second quarter, when Bob Van Dyke and Del Grissen fired. Neither team completed a pass until the fourth quarter when Creston connected for two and the Dutchmen for three. Both of Creston's aeriels in the third quarter were intercepted.

The Dutchmen had the honor of completing the first pass. Ron Van Dyke pitched to Carroll Nienhuis for 15 yards, but it was still to no avail as Nienhuis fumbled and Creston recovered.

In the third quarter, right after Holland's second touchdown, the teams did a little waiting for the extra-point try. Bob Van Dyke's first kick was good, but a personal foul cost 15 yards. Trying again, Van Dyke missed, and Creston was offside. This time Van Dyke tried a pass, but it failed and the whole affair was finally over.

Brief Reviews Given for New Library Books

In recent weeks, well-known authors have again produced some memorable novels. Among these is James Hilton's "Time and Time Again," the story of Charles Anderson, diplomat of the old school. In fluent narrative style Hilton tells of the parallel lives of a father and son and how each fell in love with a girl not "right" for them. Set in modern-day England, with the interest centered in the character of the diplomat, Anderson, this novel is said to be the most thoughtful one James Hilton has written in years.

A great many books are being written for the layman on the subject of happy living and solving of personal problems. Albert E. Cliffe has revised an earlier edition of "Lessons in Living" and now gives us this book on practical faith in practice, entitled, "Lessons in Successful Living." The author is a layman—a consulting chemist—and writes out of person experiences in adult religious education in Montreal, Quebec. He seems to be primarily concerned with the faith healing aspect of religion but nevertheless has made some very good suggestions on putting faith into practice in everyday living.

"In Miss Armstrong's Room" by Elizabeth F. Corbett is a humorous and appealing novel concerned with Emily Armstrong, a strong-minded New England school-teacher who accepts the position of critic teacher in the Milwaukee normal school after being jilted. Her life with a young widow and an attempt to forget love is complicated by the attentions of the local doctor. It is in the complications that attend her new life in Milwaukee that the main interest of the book is centered.

Comparable in theme to Nevil Shute's "No Highway," Ernest K. Gann's latest novel, "The High and Mighty" describes the reactions of 20 people on an Honolulu-San Francisco airliner who are unwittingly approaching the climactic moment of their lives. These people are casual companions until they must face the possibility of a crash at sea; this harsh situation and their response make engrossing reading.

William O. Douglas has written his fourth travel book, currently dealing with a corner of Asia which has become the tinder box of the East and the center of much interest. In "North From Malaya," Douglas relates the story of the battle between Russian Communism and the varying ideologies opposing it, and estimate it a challenging and necessary book to read.

The Dutchmen had the honor of completing the first pass. Ron Van Dyke pitched to Carroll Nienhuis for 15 yards, but it was still to no avail as Nienhuis fumbled and Creston recovered.

Catholic Central apparently believes in getting a complete line on opponents—three scouts were in the press box. Catholic, a lopsided favorite to win the Grand Rapids City League championship, plays Creston next week, and hosts Holland three weeks from now.

In the third quarter, right after Holland's second touchdown, the teams did a little waiting for the extra-point try. Bob Van Dyke's first kick was good, but a personal foul cost 15 yards. Trying again, Van Dyke missed, and Creston was offside. This time Van Dyke tried a pass, but it failed and the whole affair was finally over.

Trust Art Hills to come up with an answer.

Toward the end of the Holland-Creston game Friday night, most band members had left in order to protect their instruments from the rain. When the possibility of a touchdown in the last minute presented itself, somebody asked Art who would play the after-touchdown victory song.

"Till whistle it loud," Art said.

BERNARD P. DONNELLY

Chest Assistant Named for Drive

Bernard P. Donnelly, vice president and sales manager of the Donnelly-Kelly Glass Co., has been named co-chairman for the coming Community Chest campaign. It was announced Friday by Riemer Van Til, campaign director for this year.

The new appointment will effect continuity in the campaign from year to year with the understanding that Donnelly will become campaign director next year. This procedure will assure good background and make organizational work less difficult and more efficient in succeeding campaigns.

Donnelly will assume responsibility for the industrial, business and professional divisions. He is past president of the Optimist Club and is now serving on the Holland Council of Social Agencies.

Van Til said that campaign organization is progressing satisfactorily and that most divisions now have chairmen.

250 Attend Open House at Hope Church Parsonage

Open house was held Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Hope Church parsonage. About 250 people inspected the parsonage first floor, second floor, and basement, and in some cases, members saw it for the first time.

Special reason for the open house was to exhibit the new carpeting which has been laid in all the downstairs rooms and on the staircase. This was a gift from the Women's Aid Society. Visitors admired its soft green color and slightly ribbed texture.

The basement has also been newly-decorated and the kitchen rearranged to give more counter space.

Throughout the house were beautiful and unusual flower arrangements including one of gladioli mixed with fruit. Members of the Aid Society responsible for these were Mrs. J. D. Jencks, Mrs. Irwin J. Lubbers, Mrs. W. C. Kools, Mrs. Arthur Vischer and Mrs. William Schrier.

Pouring in the afternoon were Mesdames Adrian Bort, Charles E. Drew, William Filkins and Henry Carley, and in the evening, Miss Elsie Stryker, Mesdames James Wayer, Clyde Geerlings and Robert Vanderham.

Dr. and Mrs. Marion de Velder received. Mrs. J. D. Jencks was in charge of the guest book.

Ambassador Tells AAUW Of Summer in Austria

Bruce Van Voorst, Holland's Community Ambassador to Europe this summer, gave an effective analysis of Austria's role in international relations before a large audience of Holland Branch members of American Association of University Women. Members and guests met in Durfee Hall at Hope College Thursday evening to open activities for the 1953-54 season.

Van Voorst, introduced by Mrs. C. B. Hopkins, vice president and program chairman, went to Europe under the Experiment in International Living. He stayed with an "adopted family" in a small Austria town. The father was a Protestant minister, with two pastorate, and the family included the mother, two daughters, 18 and 23, and a son, 20.

He told of courses given aboard the ship to prepare him and the others for the "cultural shock" upon reaching their destinations. The complete change in customs and living was graphically portrayed by the speaker, who compared Austrian and American automobiles, roads, food, dress, housework and entertainment among other things. He displayed a "dirndl" dress, popular costume for the women, and described the men's attire consisting of leather shorts and Alpine jackets.

A dim picture of the European situation was given in the young speaker's analysis of Austria's role in international relations. The prime factor which will determine that country's role, he said, is the economic consideration. The people must have enough to eat, among other things, and this economic problem must be solved before any success can be achieved there.

The problem of occupations is a contributing factor toward friction. The tangled occupation situation, in which, for example, Germany occupies part of Poland and Poland is partly occupied by Russia, provides ready-made fuses for world conflict. Van Voorst pointed out Trieste as a key factor in the situation.

On the asset side are several factors in favor of world peace, he said. He emphasized that although the United Nations is not considered by most Europeans to be an effective force, the UN has maintained a certain stability and remains a definite asset in the fight for balance of power.

A prevailing factor toward world peace is the United States. Although we have made many mistakes, Van Voorst said, the United States has given the moral leadership lacking in the past. His prevailing thought was that American prestige is very high in Austria, which is situated so near and partly behind the Iron Curtain. Another saving factor is the psychological fear of war. The speaker told how war is a very personal thing in Europe and almost everyone can tell tragic war stories involving members of his own family.

The "ambassador" said he returned to this country very depressed about Europe, where the people themselves feel that unless there is some kind of a change, there'll be trouble. However, he expressed the hope that the United States may continue its leadership in helping to find solutions to the many problems.

Mrs. Orle Bishop, president, introduced the board to members and guests. Highlight of the business meeting was a brief report on the national AAUW convention at Minneapolis by the four local delegates. Mrs. Henry Steffens, past president, gave general impressions; Miss Mildred Singleton told of the business meetings; Mrs. Prins, social aspects, and Mrs. Bishop, speakers.

George Lumsden of Holland High School briefly explained the Oct. 4 school bond issue, emphasizing that the new bond issue would provide for a one-third expansion without any increase in taxes. He was introduced by Mrs. Ted Boeve, legislative chairman.

Miss Laura Boyd gave a tribute to the late Carolyn Hawes, a member of the branch.

Dessert was served preceding the program.

Fennville

Plans are completed for the opening of the 32nd year of the Woman's Club next Wednesday, Sept. 23. The opening meeting will be a potluck luncheon and each member is entitled to bring a guest. The program will be "Yesterday in Fennville" and will be presented by Mrs. Richard Jonathas. Mrs. Wayne Woody is president. The membership is 85, including 12 associate members, two honorary members and 71 active members.

Lynn Chappell returned home last week from Canada where he spent three weeks during the height of the hay fever season.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles King were her mother and sister, Mrs. C. J. Cartenson and Mrs. Lloyd Jorgenson of Kalamazoo.

Mrs. Peter Berggren of Two Harbor, Minn., is spending an indefinite time with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Climie.

The Rev. and Mrs. Garth Smith had as their week-end guests his two sisters and a friend, the Misses Iris and Lenna Vay Smith of Essexville and Mrs. Mary Knapp of Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hamilton and son, Jimmy of Lansing spent the week-end here. They were accompanied by her mother, Mrs. George Sheard, who had spent a week at Lansing.

Miss Judy Holmes of Otsego spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. David Campbell.

Mrs. Clara Martin of Victoria, Ill., formerly of Fennville, left Tuesday for Lansing to visit Mrs. Adam Etagh, also a former resident here. Mrs. Martin visited a few days with Mrs. Ross Haney, Mrs. Seymour Wuis and Mrs. Harry Streithof.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gregerson observed their 40th wedding anniversary by entertaining the Danish Club. Among the guests were Andrew Anderson, who is nearing his 92nd birthday and who entertained by singing some Danish folk songs.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hazel of Flint were week-end visitors of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. James Smeed.

Mrs. Ben Scheerhorn of Holland spent the week here with her son, Bernard and family. Saturday Mrs. Bernard Scheerhorn, who had been ill a week, was taken to Allegan Health Center for observation and treatment. Her condition, which started with a streptococcus throat infection is improving.

The Fennville fire department was called to the farm house of Mrs. Augusta Hoover on Hutchins Lake Tuesday afternoon. The strong wind blew down through the chimney causing the blaze in her oil type cook stove to ignite a wall in the kitchen. Damage was negligible.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jonathas went to Grand Rapids Tuesday evening where Mrs. Jonathas was invited to pour at a coffee given by the Grand Rapids Teachers club for new members of the faculty. Mrs. Jonathas was a former Grand Rapids teacher.

The Fennville band was asked to play at the Allegan County fair Thursday afternoon and evening. They headed the float bearing the Harvest queen and her court of which Miss Lu Ann Bryant is a member.

M/Sgt. and Mrs. Paul Newnam and two children of Seidridge Field spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keag, also Mr. and Mrs. Richard Newnam of Saugatuck. Saturday evening the Keags observed their wedding anniversary with the Paul Newnams with a dinner

Teachers Have Annual Banquet

Holland Public School teachers, wives, husbands and friends enjoyed a social and inspirational evening with members of the Board of Education, their wives and husbands, at the annual banquet Wednesday evening. The event was held at Third Reformed Church Fellowship Hall.

After dinner, served by women of Third Church, new teachers were introduced by principals of the various schools. Mrs. John Winter, president of the Board of Education, presented members of the board.

Dr. Lester Kuyper of the school board offered invocation and Arthur C. Hills, band director, led group singing. Marcella Gearhart and Sheridan Shaffer provided entertainment with piano solos.

Guest speaker for the evening, Dr. Donald Bouma of Calvin College, proved to be at once amusing and thought-provoking in his address entitled "Schools and Contemporary Culture." Dr. Bouma, a sociologist, attempted to show trends in modern-day culture and the implication which these trends have for teachers in America's schools.

He cited the moving habits of modern America as one cause for many social problems. With 20 per cent of the population moving each year, ties of the community and moral controls are weakened and culture becomes an interstate rather than local problem.

The speaker cited as other problems, specialization and interdependence in vocations and culture; the shift in age-level, necessitating different sorts of interests for aging people, and the decline of religion. Educators must help provide moral and spiritual leadership in today's culture, he said.

The increase in employment of women offers a serious problem, Dr. Bouma said, as 25 per cent of employed women are mothers and structure of home and family life is weakened in this respect. America's system of values should be inspected carefully by all in our attempt to provide a worthwhile culture today, was Dr. Bouma's final theme and challenge.

The annual banquet was provided by the Board of Education and dinner and program arrangements were made by Miss Jane Lampen, Earl Borlace and the Holland Teachers Club social and program committees. Miss Barbara Lampen, Teachers Club president, presided.

WHAT EVERYBODY ALREADY KNEW

After exhaustive investigations over a period of many months, scientists of the Brookings Institute have reported to the American Political Science association that the American people choose their presidents under conditions of "intolerable confusion."

In making this report the political researchers are merely putting into more or less formal words what everybody already knew. More people became conscious of the "intolerable confusion" during the 1932 campaign and during the convention sessions themselves and the presidential race that followed than had ever been the case before,
because of television and radio.
Many developed the conviction that the methods used to select a president of the United States would be more appropriate to the selection of a dog catcher.

The Brookings Institute investigators have merely documented what the average citizen already knew. There are as many ways of choosing a candidate as there are sections or states. In some states the voter has no part in the selection at all; in some the primaries are so rigged that the average voter might just as well be living in another country. The conglomeration of methods results in that same "intolerable confusion" that the Brookings scientists refer to.

At one time every boy baby in America was supposed to have a chance to grow up to be president. As things actually stand, if the average boy and girl could be certain to have a chance to vote for a candidate for president, they would be much better off than most of them are today.

But apparently the people love this "intolerable confusion." To the majority of American citizens it is not intolerable at all, because they put up with it year after year and decade after decade without anything more than feeble protests. The Brookings people see no chance that things will be any different in the choice of a president in 1936. The most they seem to expect is that there may be some slight improvement by 1960, but they are not very sanguine even about that.

But some day, it seems reasonable to expect, all the states will choose the presidential candidates in the same way. And it seems reasonable to expect that every legal voter will have a chance to express his wishes on who shall be the nominees of the political parties. The "intolerable confusion" will continue for years to come, but the fact that the general public is becoming conscious of the political chaos seems to indicate that it will some day be brought to an end. Write us

Brotherhood in Christ
Philemon 1:8-21

By Henry Geerlings

A letter well written and filled with rich thought is a work of art and a joy that angels might well covet. Paul's letter to Philemon is that kind of a letter.

It is the sincere expression of a great heart. It is delicately and tactfully done. It is the loving plea of an unselfish man. It reveals no axes to grind. It is for another's sake from beginning to end. It takes such a high level of social relationships as to make it an altogether unique document.
It speaks on behalf of a runaway slave and we can only appreciate the beauty and high moral tone when we think of the letter as over against the background of slavery in that day and men's attitude toward it.

The letter comes from one Christian to another. Indeed only a Christian could write such a letter. Only the love of Jesus could inspire it. Christianity soon began to be the death knell of slavery. It is impossible for men to be real Christians and look with favor and satisfaction upon slavery.

Christianity can no more endorse slavery than it can approve of stealing. Indeed slavery is a species of stealing. It is stealing men's rights from him, his right of freedom in Christ, his right to develop his own manhood in normal and just social relations, his right to self respect and his right to seek to justify Jesus, evaluation of a human personality. Christianity can no more approve of slavery than it can approve of cheating. It cheats the slave out of his right to be himself in the world, the right to stand up and say, "I know that I am a man and I want to prove it to you."

With Christianity's doctrine of the brotherhood of man there could not be a condition that brings some men within the sacred circle of brotherhood and forces others out and compels them to stay out. One man is as good as another so far as his inherent rights are concerned. All men are the children of God by creation. All men may come to their fullness in and through Christ. Where does man get the authority for saying that one man shall be free and another shall be a slave. Only man himself can enslave himself and then he does it through sinning. Sin binds shackles around the souls of men.

Now Paul recognized all this.
He did not write outright against slavery, but no single document has had more influence than his letter to Philemon in making slavery an outlaw in our civilization. As one has put it, "The letter to Philemon is the trunk of the tree whose branches were Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation." How true this is.
It is a far cry from this letter to Lincoln's immortal document, but great ideas work slowly in the human mind and vast social changes come by slow stages.

It is a very significant fact that Paul did more for Onesimus and had more influence upon Philemon
by his tactful and gracious letter than if he had taken Philemon to task for having slaves and demanded the immediate release of the runaway slave. Where men are deeply conscious of Christian fraternity they cannot long remain far apart in their recognition of their individual rights. No doubt Onesimus remained a slave in the household of Philemon, but what a difference in the master's ruling and what a difference in the slave's service.

Onesimus could have refused to return on the ground of absolute fear of what would happen to him at the hands of a hurt master.
Having his slave back, Philemon could have visited any punishment upon him he pleased and the law could have been protected the slave. Paul knew this. But he does not proceed on the basis of rights and guarantees.

He appeals to Philemon on the ground of his goodness and so he asks him to show his great goodness in dealing with Onesimus.
He sends Onesimus back on the basis of Christian love and he expects him to be received on the same basis. What a cold letter Paul would have been compelled to write if he had written it on the mere basis of one man's ordinary relation to another. He could have expected nothing from Philemon. He could not have asked wisely anything of Onesimus.

The spirit of this beautiful and tender letter has a wider application than to mere slavery. It emphasizes for us in these modern days that a Christian is expected to treat his fellowmen with more consideration and greater kindness than the mere man of the world is—the mere man of the world who has no philosophy and no fine impulses in his nature. He goes on the principle that every man for himself and the other fellows must take care of himself. It would be well if every man could read this letter to Philemon carefully and thoughtfully about once a month. If its spirit could be made to dominate the spirit of man what a different world we would have. The way to get that spirit is to let Christ rule.

THE CORNERSTONE OF NEW Grace Episcopal Church at Michigan Ave. and Cherry St. was placed by the Rev. C. Warner, rector, and assistants in rites Sunday afternoon. The new church, being constructed of limestone, Kasota and crab orchard stone with Indiana limestone trim, is scheduled for completion in next spring or early summer. The church will be of English gothic design.

Episcopal Parish Places New Church Cornerstone

Ceremonies for laying the cornerstone of the new Grace Episcopal Church at Michigan Ave. and Cherry St. were conducted at 4 p.m. Sunday before a congregation of more than 200.

The Rev. William C. Warner, rector, officiated at the impressive rites, assisted by Otto P. Kramer, senior warden emeritus; Alex
Avery, junior warden; Arthur R.
Visser, chairman of the building committee; members of the vestry and acolytes Lambert Van Dis, Kenneth Taylor, Sr., Jack
Sawle, Kenneth Taylor, Jr., John
Himes, Kent Rowder and Billy Lang.

A brief history of the parish was read by Verne C. Hohl, secretary of the vestry. The history was compiled by Mrs. James Price on the occasion of the parish's 75th anniversary in 1942.

John G. Eaton, senior warden of the church, was unable to be present for the rites. He is in Phoenix, Ariz., for the winter. The Rt. Rev. Dudley B. McNeil, new bishop of the Diocese of Western Michigan, and Mr. and Mrs. O. W.
Lowry, who were unable to be present, sent congratulatory telegrams.

Foundation symbols placed in the cornerstone included a cross,
the Bible, Book of Common Prayer,
a list of donors and members,
a brochure used in connection with the building fund campaign
last year, a copy of the late Canon Franklin Smith's "History of the Diocese of Western Michigan," service folders used at the 60th and 75th anniversaries of the parish, pictures of the ceremony and other documents of special interest.

The new church, expected to be ready for use next spring or early summer, is being built at a cost of $150,000 to $175,000. It is the fourth building built by the local parish, which first held services in 1866. The building, at the site of the present Temple building, was destroyed in the great fire of 1871, the second, at the corner of Pine and 11th St., was burned in 1876.
The building now in use, on Ninth St., was finished and consecrated March 11, 1889, and was remodeled in about 1925.

Rev. Warner is the 19th rector of the church, which now numbers more than 450 baptized members including over 320 communicants.

Large Summer Home Destroyed by Fire

FENNVILLE (Special)—Fenn-ville fire department was called at 8 p.m. Friday to fight a fire in a large summer home on the lake shore near Allegan County park.
The home owned by Bruce Arden Smith of Grand Rapids was a total loss.

The fire started from lightning and was noticed first by Edward Stream who lives about a half mile away. Since his telephone ment. By the time the firemen arrived, the interior was all ablaze. Firemen were unsuccessful in rescuing a boat from the basement too.

'Man Called Peter' Heads Requested Books at Library

"A Man Called Peter" by Catherine Marshall headed the list of six most frequently reserved books in Holland Public Library for the year ended June 30, the annual library report compiled by Librarian Dora Schermer revealed today.

Others in the "most wanted"
books were "Desiree" Selinke;
"The Power of Positive Thinking," Peale; "Witness," Chambers; "The Silver Chalice," Costain, and "Caine Mutiny," Wouk.
In all 2,110 volumes were reserved during the year and patrons were notified via card or telephone.

The report listed an increase in circulation of 2,615 volumes over last year's total. Of the total number of volumes loaned for home use 72.6 per cent were fiction and 27.5 per cent were non-fiction, or 55,352 to 21,508.

A total of 292 reference questions were answered. These covered many subjects including the number of islands in the Bermudas and how long it takes a turtle egg to hatch.

Although over 1,000 volumes were added by purchase, gift or binding, the weeding out of old and outdated volumes resulted in the withdrawal of 1,329 volumes.
Total number of volumes at the end of the year was 24,662.
Through a rental service, the library has the use of many popular fiction and other books it does not care to buy.

Of the 6,104 card holders in the library 2,237 are juvenile borrowers who checked out 37,252 books and magazines during the year. An incentive for reading comes during the summer months
when a reading club is sponsored.
The theme this year was "To the West by Railroad" and 116 members were enrolled from the fourth through the eighth grade.
Sixty members who read 10 were awarded certificates. A story hour on Saturday mornings for 24 weeks attracted a total of 1,115.

During the summer, many persons who have summer reading cards or temporary transient cards under the deposit system used library facilities. Among personalities of note who called were Richard Morenus, author of "Crazy White Man."

Receipts for the year totaled $22,352.38 which included $7,535
by city appropriation and $13,394

Symphony Group to Open Concert Series at Hope

Hope College will present five outstanding musical performances
this year in its annual concert series featuring "a world of entertainment from all over the world." Each performance in the series will be one of outstanding merit by nationally-acclaimed artists.

The series will open Oct. 1 with a concert by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra String Ensemble. All programs will be held in Hope Memorial Chapel at 8:15 p.m.

Because the series is presented by the music department of Hope College as a community service, it is possible to present these personalities at low cost. Season tickets, now available, not only will be less expensive than single tickets, but also will entitle holders to a reserved seat section.

The first program by the symphony ensemble promises to be "an enjoyable evening's listening," with selections of widely varied appeal conducted by Rudolph Reiners.

On Nov. 24, the world famous Trapp Family Singers, acclaimed by critics as one of the best ensembles in the world, will appear at the Chapel. This Bavarian family has entertained audiences throughout the nation and their performance is hailed as "a musical event wholly out of the beaten path."

Argentine pianist Raul Spivak, famous on four continents for his interpretations of Latin American music, will give a concert on Jan.
16.

In February, Thomas L. Thomas, distinguished Welsh baritone of concert stage, radio and television fame, will be the guest artist. His concert is scheduled Saturday, Feb. 6. Mr. Thomas is heard frequently as guest star on
"Voice of Firestone" and the Chicago "Theater of the Air."

The Stanley String Quartet will return for a request engagement on March 11. This ensemble was so enthusiastically received last spring that the concert committee responded to numerous requests for a return engagement.
Anthony Koolker of the Hope College Music faculty will appear at the piano with the quartet playing the Franck "Quintet for Strings and Piano."

I have not read Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey's much publicized book, "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female." One good reason, of course is that the book has just been published within the last few days. Another reason is that this column is intended to be concerned as much as possible with what may legitimately be called "literature," and not even the author of the new "Sexual Behavior" book would make the claim of "literature" for his volume.

The only reason I am mentioning the book at all is that the president of the Indiana University found it necessary to assure reporters that the university was strongly in back of Dr. Kinsey in publishing the volume. He considered it necessary to give this assurance because there had been attempts to get the book suppressed.

There was nothing else the head of the university could do, unless he and his institution were ready to shoulder the contempt of all true liberals. The mere hint at suppression is enough not only to cause alarm but to arouse iron opposition.

What anyone wishes to think about Dr. Kinsey's earlier volume of some five years ago "Sexual Behavior of the Human Male," or of the present volume, any attempt to prevent him from publishing his findings is pure tyranny.

For one thing, the author and his associates are scientists, engaged in a scientific project. The book is not issued for personal profit; the royalties will go to the Institute of Sex Research, Inc., of Indiana University. It may be taken for granted therefore that the book is not issued for pornographic purposes but purports to give the facts on the subject with which it deals.

No one is under obligation to accept those facts; anyone is entitled to refute them and to call the author any name he pleases to attach to him. Some of us read may consider him a fool and an ignoramus and nothing prevents us from saying so. But any attempt to prevent him from giving us the data that he believes he has uncovered is in a class with Hitler's book burning operations.

After all, Dr. Kinsey and his associates have spent 15 years in gathering their information. They have interviewed 5,940 persons. Moreover they have drawn on information contained in a 16,000-volume library built up by anthropologists, gynecologists, psychiatrists, and other experts.

Experts are of course often wrong. There is no reason whatsoever why anyone should uncritically swallow the data given in the Kinsey books. But even though Dr. Kinsey's batting average in statement of facts should be far lower than his critics say it is, suppression would be out of place. After all, every American should have the right to be wrong.

It isn't often that the suppressors attack a book that is purely factual, even though there may be doubt about the validity of some of the facts. For the most part, the day has passed when scientists couldn't discuss freely the facts they have discovered about the human body or about anything else.

Attacks usually develop when such facts are transmitted into literature. When a Theodore Dreiser or a John Dos Passos or a John Steinbeck treats such material in fiction from the censors of ten get into action. It was just 53 years ago that Dreiser's "Sister Carrie" was suppressed. Since then that battle has largely been won. But it won't stay won unless all such attempts as the suppression of the Kinsey book meet with determined opposition.

Zeeland Coliseum Keeps Tri-County Softball Crown

ZEELAND (Special)—Defending champion Zeeland Coliseum retained the crown in Tri-County softball league Monday night with an impressive 4-1 win over Wustman Produce.

Both teams played one of the finest games seen at Legion field this season with no errors being recorded.

Pacing the winners at the plate was Terry Kraai who bagged three of the six Zeeland hits off losing pitcher Jerry Wustman. Kraai clouted a triple and two singles.

Winning pitcher was Roger Lamar who allowed only three hits while striking out six men. Two of the hits, a home run and double, were collected by Wustman first sacker Buck Driese.

In a Girls tournament game the Drenthe nine battled to an eight inning 2-1 win over the Grand Rapids Cardinals in a minor upset. Babe Rinks gave up seven hits in winning while Arlene Vander Kolk allowed five hits in losing.

The win puts Drenthe in the finals of the tournament as they sport the only undefeated record in the league.

A seventh inning record in the league.

A seventh inning home run by VFW fielder Jay Hoffman put the game on ice for the locals at Holland City League Champs edged Reinhardt of Coloma 2-1 in a class "B" tilt.

Coloma opened scoring in the third inning, with the locals tying it up in the fifth. Both teams were held scoreless from then until top of the seventh when Hoffman sent one over right center field.

Terrific support in the infield was a big factor in aiding Roger Schut to notch the win. Schut gave up only two hits while striking out none.

Grandstanding...

By Bruce Van Voorst

Holland got quite a boost in the recent issue of "Fight" magazine in an article about heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano. The layout includes eight photos with the Holland Furnace Co. picnic grounds much in evidence.

It's titled "First Title Defense" and in the article author Al Silverman follows a full day of Rocky's training camp for the Jersey Joe Walcott fight.

Prominently mentioned are Holland, P.T. Chef, president of Holland Furnace Co., the Warm Friend Tavern and many other local details.

Pictures include Rocky, Manager Al Weill, Trainer Charlie Goldman and Allie Colombo. They also show Rocky sparring, getting instructions from Weill and Goldman, punching the bag—all at the Holland Furnace Co. pavilion.

Rocky has been training at Grossingers, N.Y., for his Thursday night title defense against Roland LaStarza. A few local people are planning to attend the fight.

Decatur and Mattawan High Schools had a tough time opening their seasons in a game at Mattawan Friday night. A power failure reduced the lighting at the field to a semi-dark glow that wasn't powerful enough for the teams to play.

Fans and players waited around after the first play of the game for about two hours, then finally it was decided to try again Saturday night. It was believed lightning preceding the game was the cause.

The entire Hope coaching staff was down to Olivet Saturday afternoon to scout the Olivet-Adrian MIAA opener. What they saw gives determination to this week of practice.

Reportedly the Olivet offense is a scale model of the University of Michigan single wing attack. They come out of the huddle into the "T" formation and then usually shift. Operating behind the unbalanced line they run the same series of spins, bucks, and buck laterals that the University uses.

In fact, the local coaches referred to Olivet as "Little Michigan."

What adds authority to Olivet's offense is the big Fullback Bob Twitty, who plays the key position in that type attack. Twitty is a 200 pounder that really gets around in a hurry. One of Hope's main defensive problems will be to bottle this fellow up.

Russ Hornbaker really did a top-flight job in his first attempt at taking moving pictures of a football game. The high school faculty man who coaches the golf squad in the spring did a lot of experimenting and trying out new methods but all the pictures turned out clear.

A lot of tips were picked up from the first try. Now they have a pretty good idea what lenses to use where and how to get the best results. They even have a telephoto lens but hope to get an even better one.

According to athletic director Joe Moran shooting an entire game costs between $50 and $60.

Members of the High School squad had a great time watching the movies. Peals of laughter rung out from the gym as they saw things that the referee missed during the game.

On the serious side, they also had a good example of why every play didn't go for a touchdown. Practically all the time someone was loafing or making a bad mistake. There was a lot of fast excuse making on the part of the guilty parties.

Homers Galore In Chix Tourney

ZEELAND (Special) — Two home runs off the bat of Carl Aukema gave West Hudsonville a 4-1 decision over Derby Merchants Tuesday night in the Zeeland Softball tournament.

On the mound for the winners was Perk Hamming who allowed only three hits while striking out 11 batters. In addition to the two Aukema homers, West Hudsonville batters collected seven hits off Merchant pitcher Sam Lamont.

In the second contest Brodie's girls team of Kalamazoo put Zeeland Bon Ton out of the tournament with a 6-2 defeat. Eva Pierce was winning pitcher, giving up five hits. Cel Yntema was charged with the loss, allowing 11 hits.

In the final game Drenthe banged out 10 hits but couldn't bunch them as Sanitary Dairies of Fremont took a 9-2 victory. Fremont was practically a one man squad as Herman Weaver garnered four hits in four trips to the plate including two home runs and a pair of singles.

Winning pitcher was Bill Overkamp while Herb Dozeman and Howard Albers shared mound duty for the losers allowing eight hits.

Several cases were heard in Ottawa Circuit Court Saturday. In most cases, those arraigned will appear for trial during the October court term.

Harold Dirk Ver Meulen, 19, Muskegon, arraigned on charges of larceny from a dwelling, pleaded guilty and will appear for disposition the afternoon of Sept. 23. Bond of $1,000 was not furnished.

Glen Paynter, 38, route 1, Spring Lake, appeared for disposition on a charge of non-support of his wife and their six minor children. However, the court said Paynter "must show further opportunity of his good faith" and will return for disposition Oct. 12.

Charged with sodomy, Udel Mead, 48, of route 1, Jenison, waived reading of the information and stood mute. A plea of not guilty was entered and the case was adjourned until the October term.

William Paul Lawson, 37, Adrian, who was brought to Grand Haven from Flint by state police, was charged with non-support of his wife. He waived reading of the information and stood mute. Bond of $500 was furnished and case adjourned until the October term for trial.

Ernest H. Wingard, 22, Holland, had been charged with felonious driving. His charge was reduced to excessive speed and improper passing. Upon plea of guilty to the latter charges, he paid $25 fine on each count for a total of $50. Earlier in the morning, he had stood mute and a plea of not guilty had been entered to the felonious driving charge.

Neglected Kids Turned Over To Probate Court

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — After a half hour's deliberation, a Probate Court jury Monday awarded custody of only one child to Mrs. Lenora Michele Hoover, Hiel Rd., Muskegon County, who was charged with failing to provide proper care for seven of her nine children.

A 7½-year-old daughter, now living with the mother, will continue to do so. Three older boys, 17, 15½ and 14, and three younger children, 10, 9 and 4½, were all turned over to Probate Court for jurisdiction.

The case was heard before Judge Harold F. Weston of Allegan Probate Court. Judge Frederick T. Miles of Ottawa County had disqualified himself to hear the case. Prosecutor James Bussard represented the county.

The respondent was divorced from her former husband in 1948. At that time they had eight children and the father was ordered to pay $25 a week for the care and support of the children. Last April he was sentenced to serve 2 to 14 years in Southern Michigan prison on a forgery charge.

HARRY J. KELLEY

Holland Jaycees Entertain Bosses

More than 50 Junior Chamber of Commerce members and guests were present Tuesday night in Durfee Hall for the annual Bosses' and Dad's Night.

Keynote speaker Harry J. Kelley, manager of industrial relations at American Seating Company in Grand Rapids, discussed the employer-employee relationship system in his organization.

Kelley outlined a six point plan explaining "what the bosses stand for and believe."

He said his company "believes that you should (1) Treat employees as human beings and with dignity and respect. (2) Furnish steady employment. (3) Give a good day's pay for a good day's work. (4) Have an incentive plan for all employees from management on down. (5) Establish job security through research and development of new products. (6) Have a strong company through profitable and efficient management."

Kelley said, "Being in business is a trusteeship. It is up to management to run a company profitably for the men and women who do the work."

Kelley called on employers' to allow their employees to give freely of their time in civic and community affairs. He recalled one instance when a charitable organization called upon him for assistance.

He told his boss about the request for him to assume the chairmanship of the charity drive as he had for many years. Kelley told his boss he didn't think he would take the job saying, "I think we've done our share."

His employer looked at him and said, "How do we know when we've done our share?" Kelley said he never forgot those words and asked the group to remember those same words.

Kelley, who has been a summer resident of Holland for the past 31 years, was presented with a pair of wooden shoes at the conclusion of his talk by Art Schwartz. President Les Deridder opened the session with a short business meeting.

The survey, which costs approximately $1,000, was authorized by supervisors earlier this year. Ottawa county is the seventh of 83 counties in Michigan, to have this survey made. Muskegon city employees are currently surveyed and it was reported Holland city will be surveyed shortly. Grand Haven city was completed earlier this week.

Let's Plant Beauty--New Species Make Old Garden Favorites Useful in Home

Members of the Holland Garden Club made use of new varieties of old garden favorites in arrangements in their Fall Flower Show this week, showing what the plant breeder has done to make flowers more beautiful and more acceptable for use in the home. Cockscomb (celosia) has acquired grace, the marigold has become elegant, and even the sun flower has come into the parlor!

Mrs. Jerena Rooks' garden, 764 Columbia Ave., yielded plum-like Golden Fleece celosia in clear, golden yellow. Shades of bronze, copper, and gold are found in a recently developed celosia named Pampa Plume, and another flower arranger's favorite is the magenta red. Celosia is of tropical origin so it resists hot, dry weather well, thriving in sandy soil with little fertilizer. The flowers are long lasting when cut and placed in water, or they may be dried for winter use after their leaves have been stripped.

The marigold has been refined by removing its strong pungency, by softening its color, and giving it a full, narrow-petaled bloom to produce the chrysanthemum type, Glitters, which Mrs. Rooks grows as well as a number of other newer types.

Mrs. Harry Wetter, Waukazoo, used from her garden a glorified sunflower, Sun Gold, whose fine full, pom-pom-like blossom, measuring four inches across, one would never suspect of belonging to the sunflower family. She grows the thionia, Torch, also for the striking effects of its henna colored blossom.

The graceful, branching stems of Bells of Ireland, laden with bell shaped green flowers, always arouse the interest of those who like to create pictures with flowers. This seed is sown where they are to be grown in mid May. They too may be dried for winter, though they lose much of their color.

We noticed also richer hues spikes of the perennial physostegia (false dragon head) than we had seen before—long spikes, thick with deep lavender blossoms. This plant is so easy to grow that one must take care that it does not take over too much of one's garden.

Many of the newer dahlias, too, can be arranged more artistically than those we used to struggle with. Though always stiff stemmed, the blossom head is carried more gracefully, and a lovely blending of colors is possible with the many varieties.

For interesting foliage effects Garden Club members went to their gardens for the bronze leaves of canna for autumn touched blueberry and Virginia creeper, for red-veined chard, and for the beautifully crinkled leaves of kale.

Harding Verdict Expected Friday

ALLEGAN (Special)—Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith is expected to deliver a verdict Friday in the trial of Mrs. Helen Harding of Douglas charged with violation of the bottle club section of state liquor laws. The trial ended Tuesday afternoon after two days of testimony from 14 witnesses.

Detective William Menzies of Paw Paw was one of the prosecution's principal witnesses. Menzies who participated in the raid which resulted in Mrs. Harding's arrest Aug. 8 told of 72 liquor bottles on tables in the resort on one occasion.

During his testimony Sheriff L. A. Johnson revealed that he had asked for the resignation of Ralph Cartwright, Douglas police chief, as a deputy sheriff because of Cartwright's failure to act on complaints against activities in the resort. Later the defense called the entire Douglas village board and Cartwright who testified they had never seen liquor served in public rooms in the resort, nor had they heard complaints about activities there.

The defense waived its right to trial by jury and the case was heard by Judge Smith who earlier had issued a restraining injunction against law officers. The injunction which since has been modified restrained officers from continuing their investigation of alleged liquor law violations at the resort.

Allegan Township Officers Form New Organization

Township officials in Allegan County fell in step with officials in Ottawa and other Michigan counties Monday night when they organized an Allegan County Township Officers chapter of the Michigan Association of Township Officers.

Approximately 120 township officers, representing 24 Allegan townships, were present at the meeting at Griswold Auditorium along with State Sen. Edward Hutchinson of Farmington, and Rep. Ben E. Lohman of Hamilton.

Kalamazoo Township Clerk Joseph A. Parisi, Jr., executive director of the Michigan Association, who is making a state-wide tour to assist townships in such organization work, spoke and charged that there are "forces in this state who are out to destroy those principles of local government guaranteed to us by the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of Michigan."

Parisi hurled additional charges at the Michigan Municipal League, the Magazine, "Inside Michigan," and the Little Hoover Commission of the Michigan legislature when he stated that "the reason why township government has been attacked is because it presented the weakest link in the chain of lobbying which takes place in Lansing. He told the audience that many people throughout the state are apprehensive and fearful that big centralized government is about to be forced on the people of the state. He reminded the audience that big government is like "a big monster with many heads" and that once it is forced upon us it will be difficult to correct or remove.

Hutchinson and Lohman also spoke briefly.

John Tien, Fillmore clerk, was elected president of the group. Other officers named were: Howard R. Bisfield, Cheshire supervisor, first vice president; Edward D. Lyman, Casco supervisor, second vice president; Marion J. Sherwood, Gunglup supervisor, secretary, and Clifton N. Wicks, Martin treasurer.

The other 19 townships will each have one representative on the executive committee which is to meet once a month.

The four Allegan delegates to the first meeting of the Michigan Association at the Olds Hotel in Lansing Oct. 6, are: Frank Mosher, Ganges supervisor; Marion J. Sherwood, John Tien and Edward D. Lyman.

Writer's Club Members Discuss Story at Informal Meeting

Writer's Club Is Small But Stimulating Group

Very few people in Holland know of the existence of the Writer's Club. It doesn't seek publicity. In fact, it isn't even a club in the accepted sense of the word. It has no dues, no rules and no formal meetings.

It was formed in 1948 when a few people who shared an interest in writing, got together in their homes once a month to read aloud what they had written, discuss what they would like to write and to comment on current market trends, etc. Then they had coffee and doughnuts and went home feeling that comfortable glow which comes of an evening well spent.

The three charter members were Mrs. Milton Johnston, Dr. E. E. Brand, and Dirk Gringhuis. The first two are still members, but Mr. Gringhuis has left the district. He is well known for his illustrated children's books.

At the present time the group has 10 members. Marvin De Vries who started by writing boy's adventure stories part time, is now a full time professional, writing westerns for top-notch magazines.

Mrs. Johnston, pianist by profession, is also a wife and mother. She writes charming prose; whimsical stories full of warmth. Mrs. Preston Shaffer is a teacher and the mother of a family. She has a talent for poetry, and an instinct for dramatic and powerful love stories, and has been successful in both.

Mrs. Kenneth Vanderheul, who has two little daughters, was formerly with the United Press, specializing in feature articles on fine furniture and glass. She has now turned to adventure stories, and has a strong masculine style which contrasts strangely with her feminine appearance.

Mrs. Peter Yonker, long a member, has now left Holland, but she still keeps in touch with the club where she obtained her first writing success. Dr. Brand, the third charter member, is professor of creative writing at Hope College. Considering his job is to talk, he is an excellent listener, the group says.

Dr. J. J. Brower, another former member, was chiefly interested in Michigan history, and has read papers before the Michigan Historical Society. He is a dentist.

Mrs. Vincent O. Martineau, who formerly owned the "Book Nook" much frequented by book lovers, has contributed a good deal of educational publications and has a great flair for poetry and prose in a subtly humorous vein.

Mrs. Henry J. Engelsman, an Englishwoman who has resided in Holland for six years, did a good deal of free lance journalism and book reviewing in England, and is now engaged in trying to break into the American women's magazines. She says, however, that so far the slant and idiom of American stories eludes her. British writers start their stories at the beginning, and go on to the end, but Americans seem to like to jump with both feet right into the middle of the story. "I just can't seem to get used to it," she says.

A fairly recent addition is Edner Slagh, who operates a gift shop. He worked for some time on the Grand Rapids Herald, and on a Washington, D. C., paper. He has written two complete novels.

Other members of the writer's group are Mrs. Robert Kamphuis (nee Beatrice Vander Vlies) who was assistant at the City Library. Mrs. Leonard Swartz, Duane Vander Yacht and Mrs. Raymond Klomparens.

The Writers' group are not unfriendly people nor at all exclusive, but they have to keep their membership within bounds in order to accommodate their meetings to the house or apartment of every member. Their one unwritten rule is "honest criticism and no hard feelings." Any tension which might arise is dispelled by good coffee and delicious "special" recipes. They all agree that they learn much more than how to write better.

There must be many aspiring writers in Holland who would like to form a similar group.

Youth Investigate Safety Hazards

ALLEGAN (Special) — Michigan young people have joined forces to eliminate farm safety hazards.

David G. Steinicke, extension farm safety specialist at Michigan State college, says the youths represent 4-H clubs, Future Farmers of America, Future Homemakers of America and the Grange youth. They are being led by Junior Farm Bureau members. Dick Arnold of Plainwell is chairman of the committee.

Plans call for teams of farm youths of the five organizations to inspect farms with the consent of the farmer and leave reports with him of the safety hazards they found. They also will give recommendations on how the hazards may be eliminated. They will return later to check on whether safety hazards have been removed.

East Saugatuck Home Destroyed

SAUGATUCK (Special) — A widow and her two teen-age children were left homeless after a lightning caused fire completely demolished their East Saugatuck home and possessions during Friday night's electrical storm.

The Hattie Johnson home on route 1, East Saugatuck, burned to the ground shortly after 10 p.m. when a bolt of lightning crashed into the house.

Mrs. Johnson and her two children were not at home at the time. They were just returning from the Allegan fair when they noticed smoke pouring out the house.

Dense, clouds of smoke and flames drove the family back as they tried to enter. Adding further to the unfortunate set of circumstances were cut telephone lines that made it necessary for Mrs. Johnson to drive two miles to call a fire department.

Eighteen men from the Saugatuck fire department and seven from Hamilton answered the alarm. Saugatuck Chief Bill Wilson said all they could do when they arrived was save nearby buildings. The fire was completely out of control.

The men arrived at 10:10 p.m. and were on the scene until 1 a.m. Saturday.

The loss was only partially covered by insurance. Total damages are expected to exceed $8,000 with approximately $2,900 insurance.

The distraught widow and children are staying at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Hank Van Huis in East Saugatuck.

Township Officers Form Chapter of State Association

Speaker Urges Fight For Preservation Of Local Government

Some 100 officials representing all 17 townships attended an Ottawa County organization meeting of township officers Friday night at the Grand Haven Court House.

Speaker of the evening was Kal-amazoo Township clerk, Joseph A. Parisi, Jr., executive director of the Michigan Association of Township Officers, who charged that tampering with constitutional government is a betrayal of the faith reposing in elected public officials in this state.

Parisi, who is making a state-wide tour to assist townships in organizing in the fight for preservation of local government, hurried additional charges at the Michigan Municipal League, the magazine "Inside Michigan" and the Little Hoover Commission of the Michigan State Legislature when he said that much unjustified criticism, without basis in fact, had been heaped on township government in the last several years.

He told the township officials that many residents in the state are fearful that big centralized government is about to be forced on people of the state. He was emphatic in his denunciation of big centralized government and reminded his audience that "the bigger we create government, the more and more control we lose over it." The more dependent we become on big government, the more of our personal freedoms and independence we must sacrifice, he said.

During a business session, which served to make Ottawa County Township officers a chapter of Michigan Association of Township Officers, Walter Vander Haar, Holland township clerk, was elected president; Clarence Reenders, supervisor of Grand Haven township, first vice president; Anton Wolf, trustee of Robinson township, second vice president; Henry Vermeer, supervisor of Jamestown township, secretary, and William Kennedy, supervisor of Allendale township, treasurer.

The other 12 townships have representatives on the executive committee which will meet the fourth Monday of each month. The first session will be held at Allendale Township Hall.

First meeting of the Michigan Association of Township Officers will be held at Lansing on Oct. 6 with Charles Lautenbach of Tallmadge, Vermeer and Vander Haar as Ottawa delegates.

Water Level Controls Await Engineer Survey

"Further action in fighting current problems of water level control on Lake Michigan now awaits completion of the Army Engineer's survey," United States Rep. Jerry Ford told a group of local leaders Thursday following a look at erosion damage.

Ford said the engineers have completed about half of a three years study, started by a resolution he submitted to Congress in 1952.

His comments followed a cruise around Macatawa Bay and up and down both sides of the harbor entrance on Lake Michigan. The tour was sponsored by Henry "Dutch" Vander Schel to show local, state and national authorities extent of damage and need for immediate action.

Ford said he has been in constant touch with progress made by the engineers in their study. "Our shoreline, the longest of any state in the nation, are one of our most valuable assets and must be protected," he said.

Included in the proposals being studied by the group are plans to increase drainage through the Chicago and Detroit rivers. Most promising solution would be control structures in the Detroit river, principle outlet for Lakes Michigan, Superior and Huron.

But these structures, consisting of locks and dams, may prove too costly to justify their construction. "We must be sure the cure doesn't cost more than the losses," Ford said.

Result of the lake survey also directly is connected with considerations for improving facilities at Holland harbor. Ford said the survey of the harbor, has been completed. This was made following passage of a resolution submitted by him in 1949.

Under the plans submitted to the Bureau of Budget for approval, the channel entrance would be straightened and dredging extended to include Holland's power plant and Brewer's city coal dock.

If approved by the bureau, Ford feels "sure Congress will pass the appropriation."

Third problem investigated on the tour concerned the Coast Guard station. Harbor improvement plans completed by the Army engineers call for moving it to the north side of the channel.

The result is Coast Guard officials hesitate to invest more money in improving the local station when it may be abandoned under future plans. After almost falling in the lake when rotten timbers gave way, Ford agreed something must be done at the local

Hopkins Trounces Fennville Eleven

FENNVILLE (Special)—Hopkins High School's 1953 football squad broke a traditional opening game jinx Friday night by trouncing Fennville 25-14 on the Blackhawk home field.

With both offenses hampered by intermittent rain, Hopkins finally put together a series of successful rushing plays to drive for 80 yards and their first score. Right Halfback Hazen climaxed the drive, scooting over from 10 yards out.

Running try for extra point was good and the visitors led 7-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Hopkins quarterback Bob Arnsman ran wild in the second quarter as he scampered 48 yards right through the middle of the Fennville line to score and then plunged five yards to count his second TD of the quarter.

Both attempts at running the extra point failed, and Hopkins led 19-0 at halftime.

Arnsman continued his scoring ways in the third quarter as he again climaxed a long drive with a five yard run to score touchdown number four.

Fennville came to life in the fourth quarter with Left Halfback Bill Root intercepting a pass and returning 35 yards for the initial Blackhawk score. Coxford's try for extra point was good.

Fennville's line held following the kickoff and took on the Hopkins' 35 yard marker. A series of running plays brought the ball to the five where substitute Fullback Junior Gunder carried it over for the score.

Coxford's kick was good ending scoring with Hopkins out front 25-14.

Blackhawk coach Bob McElreth expressed disappointment in his offense, although Fullback Bob Thompson, Guard Johnny Cramin and Linebacker Ed Eiet played nice defensive ball.

Fennville travels to Martin Sept. 25 for a BarkenAll league tilt.

Touring Holland Girl Describes Italy, Its Customs and People

By Joan Andriessen
ITALY—At first and last glances Italy is just a big, dirty poverty-stricken country filled with people you can't quite trust. But beneath this outer crust is an undeniable charm of the happy-go-lucky life led by masses of simple, open and friendly people.

They burst into song at a moment's notice. Almost everyone knows several of the great operatic arias. You hear them all over, sung in street Italian or in the beautiful Italian of the old masters. Color in every form runs rampant over the country and art is given a high pedestal.

We spent 11 days here, visiting all the important cities and many of the small ones if they had a large cathedral, which it seems every tourist must see.

First was a brief stop at Milan, mainly to see Leonardo da Vinci's "Last Supper," one of the finest paintings man has ever done. It is painted on the wall of a building that was heavily bombed during the war. Miraculously, this wall escaped damage.

From Milan we went to Venice, the city built on top of the waves. There are no streets, just canals, no cars—taxis, buses, fire trucks and ambulances are gondolas, motorboats and barges. Really a most fascinating place if you can overlook the horrible stench of the canals and the layers of dirt covering almost everything.

The things I enjoyed most about Venice were two trips away from it. On one we went to the nearby island of Yurano where some of the most beautiful glass in the world is made. Really fantastic the way they can get so many designs just by blowing and shaping, and the colors are right from mother nature herself.

The second water-bus jaunt was over to another island and Lido Beach, a famous resort. I swam in the Adriatic Sea and sunned on a wide beach. I realize I could do this at home, but it certainly was a pleasant break from the endless sightseeing.

Leaving Venice with no regrets we drove through the scenic Apennine mountains to Florence, a cleaner city with a more prosperous look. Here are two of the most fabulous centers of art, the Uffizi and Petti Palace. They are filled with works of art bearing such names as Dante, Boccaccio, Machiavelli, Michelangelo and da Vinci. I was most impressed by the elegant mosaic work in the chapel of the old Medici family.

Thousands of fine precious and semi-precious stones fitted together to make beautiful pictures and designs. Florence is also known for its leather goods and Florentine silver. The latter is very elaborate and what we would call dirt cheap.

The leather is among the finest found anywhere—all hand tooled and engraved in intricate designs. The only trouble is that American spells millionaire and the moment you walk into a shop the prices advance 20 to 50 per cent so that it takes some fancy bargaining to get them down again. This sort of thing is characteristic of all Italy.

Rome, one of the world's leading cities, gives you the feeling of being in a place long ago that the modern age is trying to invade. Its life among excavated ruins back from Nero's days, rebuilt buildings and ruins from after the burning. I walked through pages of history and looked at things that had always seemed more like fiction than reality—the Pantheon or Temple of the Gods, built 400 years B.C., the Coliseum, scene of gladiator games and plays, the place where Caesar was killed, and catacombs outside of the Roman wall where the Christians were buried, the Arch of Titus, the Arch of Constantine and many, many more. I went to the opera which was held outside on the site of the old opera house. It has one of the largest stages in the world.

During one act of "Aida" the stage was a mass of people and trotting horses, all moving at once so you can imagine how large it is. Situated on a hill on the west bank of the Tiber River and separated from Rome and Italy is Vatican City—Pope Pius XII is absolute monarch, the postal system, police force. Buildings and property are owned by the state. There are no taxes and the sale of merchandise here is a government monopoly.

Within the walls are a post office, tribunal, barracks, observatory, railway station, power plant, television station and a radio station that broadcasts the Pope's messages to six continents. However, all of this and the other buildings go unnoticed for in the middle, dominating all, is the church of St. Peter, largest in the world. Its grandeur is breathtaking. The dome is almost as high as the tallest Egyptian pyramid and from doorway to altar you could place several large towers with room to spare.

Beautiful paintings, carvings and statues are among the finest of Italian art in the church. The Pope was at his summer home so we had an audience with him there.

No matter what your religion is, this man claims high esteem for his greatness. He is very human and kindly in voice and appearance, with a marvelous sense of humor. His beautiful hands immediately claim your attention and then the clear, distinct voice which rings out in eight languages. His message to us directed mainly to the servicemen there, about the building of peace and harmony for the whole world.

The audience lasted 30 minutes after which he appeared briefly several times to answer the cheers of the people. It was interesting to note how reserved the Americans were, compared with the very demonstrative expression of feeling displayed by peoples of other countries.

From Rome we headed toward Naples and fortunately breezed through, for to most people it's a case of "see Naples and drop dead." It's one of the dirtiest and corrupt cities to be found. The people are miserable and poverty stricken and they cheat for fun as well as profit. No place to spend a vacation.

But in order to get to places of interest you must pass through Naples. We left on the Amalfi Drive. This is a curving road out of the mountains high above the Mediterranean Sea. To call this road curving is really an understatement for it's like a twisting, turning, wriggling ribbon.

If you can ignore the constant noises of honking horns and fight the feeling of car-sickness, it's a beautiful drive. Waiting at the end is the gay, bright town of Sorrento. The people are poor but the atmosphere and life here are full of fun. In the evening the natives don colorful costumes and perform lively dances. During the day they make and sell beautiful laces, linens and inlaid wooden boxes or go out in their small fishing boats.

One day we took a boat from Sorrento to the Island of Capri, a rough ride over the choppy sea but such a green, flower laden piece of land lies waiting at the end.

My days in Italy ended by boarding the USS Independence which took us to Nice, France. Such a contrast to step from this hot, lazy Latin country for a small piece of U.S.A. We practiced speaking real American and ate roast beef and ice cream for one and a half wonderful days.

The Spanish Armada, which attacked England in 1588, was composed of 132 vessels.

KATIE KOLB OF HOLLAND really did herself proud last week-end at the Fort Wayne, Ind. Horse Show, held at the beautiful and rolling Berghoff estate. She won the Horsemanship for riders 18 and under over fences, placed second in the Working Hunter Stake and took two other seconds and one third. It is an exceptional feat since some of the finest horses in the Midwest were entered. Katie was riding her favorite—The Saint, whom she took with her to Tudor Hall, where she is attending school. The Berghoff estate presents one of the most picturesque outside courses in this section of the nation.
