Red Cross Joins Community Chest In October Drive

The Red Cross will join the Community Chest in a single fund drive in Holland area Oct. 17 through 31, it was announced Monday in a joint statement of Community Chest and Red Cross officials.

The goal this year will be $52,143, or $12,806.41 more than last year's goal of $39,336.59. Consequently, persons who have regularly contributed to both funds will be asked to boost their contributions proportionately.

The following joint statement was made by Clarence Klaasen, president of the Ottawa County Red Cross chapter, and Riemer Van Til, president of the Community Chest board of directors:

"From year to year, more and more people have expressed concern over the multiplicity of fund campaigns for philanthropic and humanitarian purposes in the community. To meet this concern, the Community Chest and Red Cross join hands to conserve campaign energy, manpower and fund raising costs by eliminating duplication of effort.

"We hope the community will realize that we are eliminating a major individual drive, and having joined the fund needs into one larger budget, it will be necessary to give proportionately more to make this united campaign a success."

The merger was negotiated by a committee of Red Cross and Community Chest officials who discussed during the campaign efforts at times throughout the year. Representing the Red Cross were Clarence Klaasen, Dr. O. van der Velde, William De Long and Mrs. William Aldrich, executive secretary of Ottawa County. Representing the Community Chest were Bernard P. Donnelly and Robert Wolbrink, George Heeringa, a member of both boards, served as committee chairman.

The 1955 Community Chest quota of $52,143 is broken down as follows: Visiting Nurse, $3,600; Salvation Army, $5,500; Camp Fire Girls, $7,691; Muskegon clinic, $2,675; Boy Scouts of America, $8,500; Goodfellows (Exchange club), $1,000; Council of Social Agencies, $650; United Health and Welfare, $9,600; Mentally retarded children (new), $650; Red Cross, $12,277.

Eliminated from the Community Chest this year is Cancer which received $4,200 last year.

For areas in Ottawa county not covered by the Holland Community Chest, the Red Cross will hold its annual roll call in March. Grand Haven is considering possibilities of a like merger.

Although the Community Chest-Red Cross drive is scheduled Oct. 17 to 31, the Single Solicitation Plan will start its work earlier in October. The SSP covers 55 to 60 local firms which make periodic deductions for Community Chest, Red Cross, polio and other charities. These sums are matched by management. Persons making contributions to SSP will be given a sticker to be placed in their front windows indicating that canvassers are not to stop here. SSP representatives will have their first meeting Monday, Oct. 3, in the Warm Friend Tavern.

Community Chest headquarters are opening this week in an office over the Model Drug Co. Mrs. John Vander Werf again will serve as office secretary.

Safety Council Cites Need for More Policemen

The American people, and Michigan citizens in particular, are paying dearly for the habit of letting government take over responsibility in so many fields, Charles R. Sligh, immediate past president of the National Association of Manufacturers, told members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at their annual "Bosses Night" Tuesday.

"In 1953, Michigan individuals and industry sent to Washington some $5.5 billion," said Sligh. "We got back $130 million, a return of about 2.3 percent."

Sligh contrasted these figures with the return to some of the "poorer" states which get back as much as 50 percent of the money they send to the federal government.

In a solemn mood after a plane crash last week from which he miraculously escaped serious injury, Sligh used the tax figures as examples to show pitfalls of the socialist, welfare state which he termed "deodorized communism."

Pointing out that the plane crash reminded him vividly of the fact "our time on earth is a gift of God, not something we have created," Sligh urged members to make good use of that time.

One good use, he suggested, was to make clear to the people the values of a free, competitive, society based on an "enlightened selfishness" which results when a businessman strives for profits.

"Profits have become a misty, better quality, cheaper products, more employment and community welfare come automatically when the businessman seeks profit."

Sligh drew on his recent experiences in East and West Berlin, where the squalor of the eastern regimented government was contrasted with the prosperity of the free west.

Sligh cited instances where freedom was being hemmed in on various fronts by semi-trusts and misunderstandings. Included were:

Taxation — Despite "progressive" taxation, 84 percent of federal funds come from individuals in the average wage brackets. Only 16 percent come from brackets taxed "progressively."

Need for Capital — It costs $12,000 to create one job opportunity. With population increases, $14 billion in debt is invested just to keep persons working until 1970 in Michigan alone. "In the interest of freedom this must come from private sources," said Sligh.

Guaranteed Annual Wage — Unions have told the legislature how to run government, but when they find out that Michigan workers are subsidizing workers in other states, there's going to be some changed attitudes.

JCC President Mike Van Oort presided at the 2½ hour dinner meeting.

Holland Citizens Vote Decisively Against Proposal

The proposal to raise funds for improving roads in Ottawa county by levying one mill on equalized valuation lost in a special election Tuesday by 54 votes. The county was 1,426 yes, and 1,580 no.

It was the lightest county vote in many years, probably the lightest in history. Only a little more than 3,000 bothered to go to the polls. Morning rainstorms gave way to pleasant weather in the late afternoon, but even so the trickle of voters was so light most election boards had little to do.

The all-time high vote in Ottawa county was cast in the Eisenhower presidential election Nov. 4, 1952, when more than 33,000 trekked to the 36 precincts in the county. (See election figures on page 6.)

Holland city voted against the issue decisively, rejecting the one-mill levy 509 to 166, or a better than three-to-one majority. Grand Haven city favored the issue 390 to 324, and Zeeland city approved the measure 66 to 60.

Most townships favored the road tax. Only townships opposing the proposal were Allendale, Olive, Tallmadge and Wright. Holland township narrowly approved 126 to 122.

Assessment of one mill on the state equalized valuation would have raised $162,000 a year for maintenance and improvement of primary and secondary roads in Ottawa county.

Local observers said the decisive vote in Holland was probably due in part to the increased tax load during the summer. Many city taxpayers are still unhappy over the boost. Besides that, the city has had considerable paving and sidewalk construction.

Grand Haven voters had an added incentive to visit the polls Tuesday when they approved a commission to study a new charter for the city, 645 to 453. Serving on the commission will be Louis H. Brelts, Walter Draeger, James Ledinsky, Bryce Maddox, Herman Schaafsma, Mrs. George Schemper, Harvey L. Scholten, Marion Sherwood and Elmer Westerhof. These nine persons emerged victorious out of a field of 20.

Georgetown township voters also had another issue, and they approved a new fire station, 166 to 131.

Car-Truck Crash Injures Three

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Three persons were injured in a crash involving a car and pickup truck on US-16 in Coopersville at 4:45 p.m. Tuesday.

The crash occurred when a pickup truck driven by Charles Parrish, 65, Coopersville, was crossing the highway at the 60th Ave. intersection. The car was driven by Eugene Larson, 18, Ludington, who is in the armed forces. Larson's 1951 car was at total loss and the truck was considerably damaged.

Parrish was seriously injured suffering a fractured collar bone, shoulder blade and fractured pelvis. Larson received chest injuries and a passenger in the Larson's car, Fred Granger, 16, also of Ludington, received face lacerations. Parrish and Larson remained in Municipal Hospital.

Deputy Keith Averill is investigating.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Suit has been commenced in Ottawa Circuit Court by Gene Alma Rhinehart against Gilbert Roelofs, both of Holland. Plaintiff is seeking $30,000 judgement as result of injuries sustained in an auto accident on the divided M-21 highway two miles east of Holland Jan. 29, 1953.

Mrs. Rhinehart was riding in a car driven by her husband, Leon, when their car was struck by the Roelofs car. Mrs. Rhinehart claims permanent injuries by reason of fractures to her ribs and feet and also her back, which she claims will deprive her from performing her work and walking normally again. She also claims permanent injuries to her knee.

Man Bound Over

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — George William Randall, 29-year-old soil inspector for the conservation district of the United States government, was bound over to Ottawa Circuit court upon examination before Justice Fred J. De Haan of Hudsonville in Grand Haven late Monday afternoon on a charge of soliciting a minor male child for the purpose of committing an immoral act. The alleged offense occurred in Jamestown township Aug. 15 and involved an 11-year-old boy. Randall's bond of $250 was continued.

Donald J. Barkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barkel, 36 West 27th St., has left for Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, where he is a senior in mechanical engineering. His address is room 271, Douglass Houghton Hall, Houghton.

Holland Christian School Approves Record Budget

A record budget for the school year, 1955-56, was approved by the Holland Christian School Society at its annual meeting Monday night in Prospect Park Christian Reformed church. Five new board members were also elected at the business session.

The budget approved is for $380,224, amounting to an increase of $60,000 over last year's $320,223. Most of the increase is due to the raise in teachers' salaries throughout the system, Gerald Vande Vusse, chairman of the finance committee, reported.

This year's salary allotment in the budget is $250,800 compared to last year's $198,550. The biggest item in the new budget is the $270,377 for instructional purposes. The next biggest expense is the maintenance of $48,640, up $5,000 over last year. Another big budget allotment is the debt retirement of $40,000. This figure is the same as the 1954-55 amount. The administrative allotment has been set for $18,307, about $850 more than last year.

On the income side of the budget, the committee set an expected figure for tuition, of $240,000, compared to this year's $207,000.

The next biggest amount of income is the Sustaining Membership Plan. This total was set at $84,000. This plan is a relatively new one which provides for voluntary, unpledged contributions, aside from tuition, by supporters of the school. This past school year over $66,298.57 was contributed under the plan.

Churches and church societies were expected to contribute $40,000 compared to last year's $32,000. Other income items were $10,000 from school circles, Eunice and Monica Aids and special gifts, and $5,000 from rentals and sundry.

The new tuition schedule was also released at the meeting. Under the new schedule in grades kindergarten to eight, the rates are $180 for one child, $230 for two children and $285 for three or more children. In the high school, rates are $215 for one child, $290 for two children and $350 for three or more children. Then follow combination rates for parents having children in both grades and high school.

One interesting observation made from the annual report shows that the total budget, 10 years ago was $77,132. The tuition collected at that time was $52,500 and the instructional expenses were $58,130. The salary allotment for teachers was $55,000.

Supt. Bert P. Bos reviewed and gave some of the highlights of his ninth annual report which had been presented to the board in August. He reported with elaborate statistics on the tremendous growth of the schools and said, "the high school enrollment of 638 this year already exceeds the figure which we had estimated for 1960-61."

He looked into the future and outlined some of the problems which would face the society in the way of more buildings, curriculum planning and the acquisition of qualified teachers.

Gerald Appledorn presented the general fund report, Vande Vusse the building fund report and Russell Frericks, the sustaining membership fund report.

The new board members elected for a three-year term are Donald Blauw, Theodore Hoeksema, Dr. Walter Hoeksema, Jerry Jonker and Prof. Edward Wolters. Retiring members are George Brink, Garrett Potthoven, Appledorn, Fredricks, and Vande Vusse.

Cornelius Westbroek, president of the board, presided and Marvin Tinholt, secretary, read the minutes. The closing prayer was offered by the Rev. J.H. Brink, pastor of the Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church.

Drivers Should Watch for Buses

Sheriff's officers in the Holland area again caution drivers to watch for school buses.

It's required that cars come to a full stop at least 10 feet or more behind a stopped school bus. If no children are crossing the street the motorist may proceed with caution and slowly.

There's a red light on the back of all school buses that is on when the buses are stopped.

Drivers coming from the other direction must also use extreme caution and heed the yellow caution light on school buses.

Chief Van Hoff Opposes Driver License Proposal

Holland Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff Friday went on record opposing a plan to take driver license examinations from local officers and put them under state control.

Van Hoff said the licensing gives police the best public relations contact they have with the general public.

He cited other reasons such as knowledge of the local driver's capabilities and the revenue received from license fees which helps pay the cost of an office clerk.

Van Hoff said we are following the methods of examination as established by the state and if a change is needed it is doubtful if the state could do much better.

The chief's comments were made on a questionnaire sent him by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams has proposed that the state take over the driver license examinations and set up a 500-man state examiner system at an estimated cost of $2,100,000 a year.

In Grand Haven, Sheriff Jerry Vanderbeek echoed Van Hoff's comments and questioned the value of the new plan.

Vanderbeek said, "If the state would show how the new change would cut down accidents and fatalities I'm for it. But just to take over the present system, which is good, I'm against it."

He lashed out at the plan saying if the same effort was put forth by the state in improving our present system instead of bucking it everyone would benefit.

"Furthermore," Vanderbeek said, "nothing has been said how the new system would be an improvement."

Van Hoff felt that if the state took over it would probably be necessary for local motorists to go some distance to get a new license and everyone's taxes would go up to pay for the plan.

Police Arrest Third Escapee

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The last of three men who escaped from Ottawa County Jail last Saturday will be returned to Michigan from Minnesota if Minnesota authorities don't want him. Sheriff Gerald Vanderbeek said today.

Vanderbeek said the sheriff at Fairbault, Minn., notified him late Wednesday that he had arrested Larry Bouten, 27, Lansing.

Prosecutor James Bussard has authorized a warrant for the return of Bouten who told Minnesota authorities he would waive extradition.

Bouten was picked up when a storekeeper notified sheriff's officers that an unidentified man was attempting to sell several guns.

The Lansing man and two others, Vernon F. Hikeade, 34, Grand Rapids, and Marie Bowen, 39, Holland, escaped from jail by chipping through a 14-inch wall.

Hikeade and Bowen were captured by State Police Tuesday in a cabin near Camp Grayling and face charges of breaking and entering at Kalkaska.

Vanderbeek said Minnesota authorities told him Bouten was alone at the time of his arrest and was driving a car stolen by the trio at Cadillac. Vanderbeek said the Minnesota sheriff told him the car was "filled with loot."

Vanderbeek said Bouten, who was being held on a grand larceny charge at the time of his escape, may face federal prosecution for taking a stolen car across state lines.

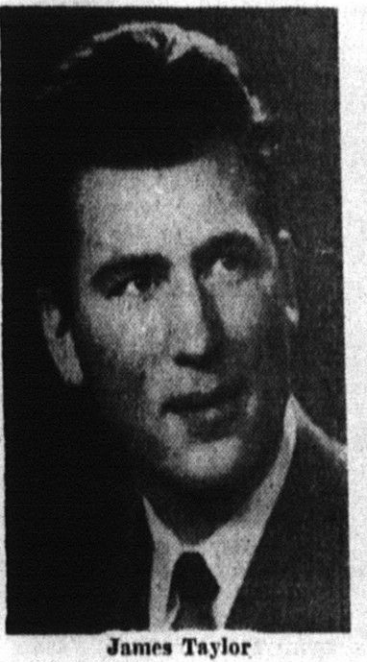

New Co-Chairman Named for Chest Campaign Here

The appointment of James Taylor to serve as co-chairman in the Holland Community Chest and Red Cross drive Oct. 17 through 31 was announced Wednesday by Campaign Chairman Edwin Raphael.

Taylor was born in Pennsylvania and has been working in Holland for the last three years associated with his father, Percy Taylor, who operates a shoe store and men's store on Eighth St. Young Taylor and his wife and four children have been living in Grand Rapids but moved to a home on East 26th St. here last month.

He was a Navy aviator during World War II for five years, spending four years overseas in the Pacific theater and participating in most of the campaigns there. division.

With the Red Cross working with the Community Chest, the goal this year will be $52,143, or $12,806.41 more than last year's goal of $39,336.59. This calls for more intensive organization and the need for more volunteers.

Chairman Raphael and co-chairman Taylor issued a call for volunteers today on all fronts, and asked such persons to call Mrs. John Vander Werf, secretary at Community Chest headquarters above the Model Drug Co. The telephone number is 7736.

Raphael also announced appointment of the following division chairmen: No. 1, industrial outside SSP, Webb Van Dukkumburg; No. 2, business and professional, Bill Venhuizen; No. 3, non-local business, Mayor Robert Visscher; No. 4, schools and colleges, Ed Donivan; No. 5, public employees, Ray Riedsma; No. 6, all home solicitation including the city and north and south suburbs, Mrs. Paul Jones, chairman, with Mrs. Jay C. Petter as co-chairman.

Persons who contribute to both Community Chest and the Red Cross are asked this year to make their pledges proportionately larger to meet the increased goal. By combining the drives, the leaders expect to conserve energy, manpower and fund raising costs by eliminating duplication of effort.

Vander Haar will begin his 13th year as head of the county organization. He succeeded George Schilling who served more than a quarter of a century.

First Church auditorium was jammed for the climactic mass meeting Tuesday night, featuring an address by Dr. Lee Roberson of Highland Park Baptist Church of Chattanooga, Tenn., with emphasis on the convention theme, "Home and Church... Teach Christ Now!"

Dr. Roberson, a dynamic speaker, whipped up enthusiasm among the Sunday School teachers and officers by use of some good old fashioned evangelism and some peppy singing on "Oldtime Religion." He listed seven essentials for building a great Sunday School: 1. Faith in the inspired word of God; 2. A concern for others; 3. Standards for Sunday School teachers; 4. Weekly visiting program; 5. A weekly teachers and officers meeting; 6. A consistent training program; 7. Definite goals.

The Chattanooga minister was well qualified to tell others how to organize a good Sunday School. His church operates 11 buses and 30 extension chapels. It also supports 125 missionaries, and during his 17 years as minister there have been some 10,000 converts.

"Nowhere in the Bible are you promised an easy time," he told his hundreds of listeners. "There will be heartaches and hardships, but if you read your Bible and give your best to your Sunday School class, something's sure to happen."

Tuesday night's devotional message was given by Dr. Bastian Kruijthof of Beverly Reformed Church in Grand Rapids, former minister of First Church in Holland. Speaking on "The Measure of Your Reach," Dr. Kruijthof said the reach must be both upward and outward. "First of all, look up," he said. "An atmosphere of worship is essential. We must have prayer and meditation. We all talk too much and we don't break the sound barrier when in silence God speaks to us."

He explained that if the upward reach is right, then the person has a real impulse for the outward reach, for God uses people to accomplish the good things in life by a compassionate and personal reach into hearts and minds.

Convention activities began in the afternoon with talks by both Dr. Kruijthof and Dr. Roberson, and a roundtable discussion on "The Role of the Home and Church in the Sunday School Program."

EXCELLENT PROGRESS—Engineers and contractors working on Holland's $3 million water supply project have beaming facts this week as progress goes forward at a good rate on many fronts. Crews laying the 36 inch transmission line from the filter plants near Tunnel Park to Holland City, have crossed Waukazoo Dr. just east of Park Township Airport, and are expected to reach the three mile point of the five mile pipeline within a week. The transmission line is being laid by the Charles F. Smith and Sons Co. of Kennett

Square, Pa. Meanwhile out at the Tunnel Park site, excavation for the low service pumping station is completed by the Getman Brothers company of South Haven. Working under a $228,470 contract, the company is building the pump which lifts the water to the filtration process plants. Within the city 12, 16, 18 and 24 inch pipe is being installed for the distribution lines, and contractors appear to be well on their way toward completion of the job by December of this year. Another crew will be added to the distribution line outfit later this week, to speed installation of pipe now arriving at a steady rate. Distribution line contract is held by the Omer Brandon and Son Co. of Wyandotte, Mich., on a $174,033.53 contract. Good progress is also being reported by contractors erecting the filtration and settling plants at the Lakeshore Road site, and on North River Ave. where a 220 foot suspension bridge will carry the pipeline over the river. Much of the work vital to completion of the water project is being done at fabrication plants.

Regional DAR Conference Attracts 100 to Holland

Rotarians Hear State Senator

State Senator Edward Hutchinson of the 8th Senatorial district spoke at a meeting of Holland Rotary Club Thursday at the Warm Friend Tavern. He discussed the problem of mentally retarded children in the state.

Answering recent criticisms of the legislature, Sen. Hutchinson pointed out that the legislature has been active for years in dealing with this problem. He said during the last session a joint House and Senate interim committee was appointed to study the situation and money was appropriated to develop plans for future needs of the mentally retarded.

Responsibility for carrying out the program rests with the executive branch, he said, and there have been delays in staffing structures already in existence.

The senator said there are about 1,000 mentally retarded children on the waiting lists of state institutions at the present time and they can be cared for only as the result of long range planning. Any attempt to find temporary housing for them in a three-day session would be a useless expenditure, he said.

The real solution, Sen. Hutchinson believes, is not in continually increasing the room capacity, but in research and rehabilitation to lessen the number of patients needing institutional care.

The speaker was introduced by Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings of Holland. Congratulations were extended to Rotarians George Heeringa and Andrew Sall, new president and vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, and to Carl Andrusen recently appointed to the school board.

Gives $50,000 To Hospital Drive

DOUGLAS (Special) — A new Saugatuck-Douglas hospital was a lot nearer reality Friday with the announcement that Lloyd J. Harris, Saugatuck businessman, had subscribed $50,000 for the construction of the new structure.

Mrs. C.C. Corkill, superintendent and administrator of the present Douglas hospital, said the 16-bed structure is inadequate and outmoded.

Although no plans have been drawn up, it is believed the new hospital would be about 30 beds and a one-story, cement block structure. Much of the labor would be from area volunteers.

No site has been decided for the new hospital, and it may be located either in Saugatuck or Douglas.

Push for a new hospital began in earnest last spring when a memorial fund was established in memory of Mrs. Corkill's husband, a well-known local physician.

The subscription by Harris will be added to other local funds, and application for federal aid will presumably be made. The money from Harris, owner of the Michigan Harris Pie Co. in Saugatuck, will be given in $5,000 installments over a 10-year period.

Henry Jager is president of the Douglas hospital board. A meeting has been called for Monday to discuss future plans.

WEATHER BALLOON — This little transistor radio is a key factor in weather observation by U.S. Weather Bureau officials. That's why it proved such a good lesson for members of Richard Hoodema's Zeeland High School science class. This is the second balloon found this year, the fourth in the last two years. Picked up on a Borculo farm by Gerald Essenberg, one of the students, the balloon is of rubber and inflates to about 10,000 feet in diameter. The balloon apparently exploded at about 10,000 feet, and drifted gently to the ground on a paper parachute. The radio sends back constant reports to the home station of an enclosed barometer, thermometer and hygrometer for registering humidity. Path of the balloon is followed from the ground by a theodolite, a complicated telescope-type instrument. Hoodema explained that these balloons are mass produced so cheaply they don't have to be sent back to the bureau. Pictured with the equipment, parachute and balloon is Florence Surink, a sophomore at Zeeland High.

OUR PRESIDENT

The weekend news that President Eisenhower was ill came as a shock to our nation's people and people all over the world. The sad tones of the American press were greeted by even more dire analyses, for example, the French newspapers.

Coronary thrombosis, the medical term for what we the people call a heart attack, happens to a great number of people. It seems to be even more prevalent in our day and age, and doesn't respect age or persons. Severe or mild, it is serious.

It is the hope of our people that the President will make a speedy recovery. No doubt there have been many prayers for his full recovery in order to continue as president of our great country.

Aside from the attention the President's attack focuses on the physical difficulties of the job, the political campaign—the appointments—the decisions—the travels, the illness brings up anew the much talked about 1956 campaign.

First, let's realize the impact of the President's warning, before the attack, that the Republican party should not hinge all its hopes on one man. Just two weeks ago he pointed out "Humans are frail—they are mortal."

Despite these warnings the party continued to talk as if he would run. A well-known Senator, when asked what the Republicans would do if the President didn't run, replied, "We'll jump off that bridge when we come to it."

This may not be the bridge. Dr. Paul Dudley White, eminent heart specialist, has said that barring complications the President should be able to run—if he so desires.

And there are many men now in Congress, Texas Senator Lyndon Johnson for one, who have recovered from serious heart attacks and resumed important roles in guiding the nation.

Washington politicians, however, seem to think a second term race is highly improbable.

In the meantime there is more than a full year in which our nation must have leadership. Fortunately, Mr. Eisenhower himself conceived of his job as a "team effort," and surrounded himself with an administration which should be able to continue effectively, even if the President is sidelined for a few weeks. Vice President Nixon has already called administration leaders into a conference to keep things going.

Now, let us place less emphasis on the next election, and do what we can to assure that the present administration may continue on the high levels the President charted for it.

This will be the greatest tribute to our president, and the best way of assuring his complete recovery.

Birth of Jesus
Luke 2:1-14

By Henry Geerlings

We wish we knew more about the first years of Jesus, but the record of His birth gives scant details. The writers of the gospel were interested with His work as a man, rather than in the story of His birth.

It takes but a few minutes to read the entire account. However, it makes it clear that from His birth Jesus was different. God and His angels were interested particularly in the advent of Jesus. Nature was brought into the story because of the star which guided the wise men. Humble shepherds got mention because to them first the birth of Jesus was made known.

The special significance of our lesson is that these wise men were the first Gentiles to seek, find and see Jesus. It was the showing of the love of God to others than Jews.

Herod was king, Jesus with His parents was in Bethlehem. Wise men came out of the East to pay tribute to a crown prince, who, they believed, had been lately born in Jerusalem. Custom made it advisable for them to make the journey as representatives of their people to give homage to this new son of royalty. They were strangely guided.

These men were students of the heavens and the discovery of a new star was interpreted as indicating that a king had been born. In some way they decided that this star pointed to the Jews and the advent of a child who was to be national king. That star directed them westward to Jerusalem, the place where a king's son would be looked for, since it was the king's residence.

But the star was not sufficient guide. It started them and led them, but definite instruction had to be gained from people who knew. The wise men might have concluded that they were misled, and that their journey was useless. They made known their purpose in coming to the capital city. Their words started the search for an answer to their inquiry.

The report of the wise men troubled Herod. Jealous of his throne he did not propose to lose it, and he was thrown into fear at the question of the wise men. He was determined to find the child, and get rid of him. He had the records searched and learned that prophecy designated Bethlehem as the birthplace of the Christ. The king's office was linked up with the Messiah, as Jews looked forward to His coming.

This report of the wise men needed investigation. There might be truth in it. Maybe Messiah had come as a little child. It was the Scripture that really guided the wise men to Jesus. The star was merely a suggester, a helper.

Herod went to the best place for the needed guidance. He imparted the truth to the wise men. They took it as truth, since the king of the people told them. They received it from him as his own directions to them, for he made no reference to the Scriptures in speaking to them. Had he done so it would have added nothing to their readiness to follow Herod's instruction to go to Bethlehem.

Herod's words betrayed his ignorance of details. He could not tell them where to find the child. But he showed special interest, as though he too wanted to pay tribute to the new king of Israel. Herod did not take the Scripture seriously. He depended on it merely to help him on his selfishness.

He deceived the wise men as to his real purpose for wanting to find the child they had come so far to see. He had no desire to find this child except to dispose of him in some way. To Herod the child was not the Messiah, at least he did not make any effort to treat him as such. Though he played his hypocritical part successfully, he at the same time helped the searchers to find Jesus. But Herod missed the joy of knowing Jesus as the Son of God, the promised Messiah.

The wise men took the words of Herod as worthy of following. They were gratified to have the star assume its place as their guide. It guided them well and brought them to the very place where the Christ child was. Their joy at being thus guided was nothing in comparison with their joy in seeing the Christ. It was in the house of Joseph Mary and Jesus lived that the wise men found Him and His mother. It was Jesus not Mary they worshipped. Their gifts were presented as tokens of their honor to the royal Child. They did not return to Herod to let him know where to find Jesus.

The geography of the county of the lesson should be studied. The astronomical interests and skill of the wise men is an interesting theme. How prophecy became the guide to reality might well be considered. The record of Herod is full of exceptional cruelties. His treatment of the people was often cruel. How God guides people to search for Christ and find Him is a timely discussion topic.

Youths Injured In Four Mishaps During Weekend

Teenager, 18, Suffers Broken Neck in One Car Accident Friday

Four accidents during the weekend, including three within the space of a few hours Friday night, kept Ottawa County deputies busy.

A two-car collision at 3:30 p.m. Saturday on Adams St., two miles east of Holland, sent Roger Vander Kolk, 18, route 2, Hudsonville to Zeeland Hospital.

Vander Kolk was treated for a severe head laceration, held overnight for observation, and released late Sunday.

His 1946 model car was demolished when it collided with one driven by Henry Ter Meer, 66, route 5. Deputies estimated damage to Ter Meer's 1954 model car at $500.

The first of the Friday night accident calls came in at 1:30 a.m. when a '47 model convertible went out of control on Eighth St. near Walnut Ave., east of Holland, and rolled over on its top.

The driver, Andrew Jalving Jr., 19 of 233 East 11th St., fled the scene but was later picked up by deputies. He was arraigned tonight before Park Township Justice C.C. Wood on three charges.

Jalving pleaded guilty to reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, and having liquor in his possession in a car. He paid a total of $117.90. Justice Wood said he would recommend that Jalving's license be revoked.

At 2:30 a.m. Friday, another '47 model car went out of control on South Shore Dr., in Virginia Park, dug up the terrace at the Verne C. Hohl home, catapulted through the air for 25 feet before landing in the middle of the lawn.

The impact knocked the air filter and carburetor off the engine. The damaged car rolled off the lawn onto the road where another car pushed it to the Windmill Station.

Deputies impounded the first car and are seeking the second vehicle through the license number which was obtained at the scene. Two hours later, at 4:30 a.m., deputies were routed out of bed to answer another accident call, this time on old US-31 on the S-curve, near Butternut Dr.

The driver, Henry Stegenga, 18, of 12875 James St., was found in a ditch alongside of his wrecked car. He was first taken to Holland Hospital and later transferred to Butternut Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Authorities said Stegenga received a broken neck and severe body bruises. His condition was listed as "fair" Monday.

Deputies said the car rolled and skidded for more than 130 feet before slamming into a ditch and throwing the driver out. Officers could not determine immediately whether Stegenga was riding alone.

Grandstanding...

By Randy Vandewater

Many Holland kids decided to get in a little sandlot football on a grassy turf during halftime of the Hope-Holland game Saturday night.

The field was cluttered the entire half. Some even brought their own footballs.

Riverview Park gets torn up enough by the full football schedule and frequent practices. Police should be placed at the four corners to keep the field clear during the half.

What we're hoping is that the Hope band will organize a marching unit and try a few formations.

An estimated 2,500 people attended the Hope-Heldberg game. Approximately 50 people from Tiffin, Ohio, location of the visiting school made the 250 mile trip. Some General Electric Co. personnel, former Tiffin residents and now living here, attended the game.

Heidelberg College came into Holland Friday night and remained over Saturday night. The team of 35 players, one statistician, three managers and four coaches left here Sunday morning. The team was housed at the Warm Friend Tavern. They traveled by bus.

Hope freshmen were sprinkled through the stands with their "pots." The girls, according to tradition must wear the pot from the first week.

De Gay Ernst, MIAA judge advocate, attended the game. His son, Dave, served as field judge.

Wilson Says 'One Worlders' Should Realize U.S. Has 'Best Everything'

(This is the last of four letters received from Matthew Wilson, local man who toured the Caribbean this summer with his family.—Editor)

Leaving Panama with regret, we flew to Costa Rica and were very much disappointed. Again we find a nation not ready for tourists. Supposed to have the world's prettiest women, I, of course, had to check this.

Taint so, folks. Our good old U.S. girls can win hands down.

Elsewhere there's not much to see. The Irazu volcano doesn't compare with those in Hawaii, or the large crater at Death Valley.

The hotel charges are high, food fair and service poor.

Spent almost two weeks in Managua, Nicaragua with our old friends, the Cabrerias. Cabrera was in Holland several years ago and returned as the Nicaraguan delegate to the International Red Cross meeting in Canada. The Sentinel did a feature on him. Next year he hopes to go to the meeting in India, but he should be in Holland this fall.

Managua, like all Central America, is still not ready for tourists. They want them, but don't know how or what to do about getting them. Again we encountered the extremes of wealth and poverty.

Visited Cabrera's coffee farm and were impressed with the amount of work in the process. The workers don't benefit on price raises here but the rich get richer. Cabrera and his son in law have coffee ranches and both are doing something to improve the living standards of their workers.

Often the workers don't want improvement and the new installations like washrooms, toilets, etc., are ignored. Modern dorms were built for workers' families with ventilation at the top. They were really like bunkhouses for the men. What did they do? They plugged up the openings because they were afraid of the night air.

Nicaragua is pretty and has interesting sights. Lake Managua, for instance, is the only fresh water lake in the world with man-killing sharks and other salt water fish. Originally a bay of the ocean it became landlocked by an earthquake centuries ago and the fish have acclimated themselves to it. It is not safe for swimming.

Flew to El Salvador after stopping in Honduras long enough to say we had been in all of the Central American countries. We had hoped to see the Mayan ruins at Copan but heard that it was quite a trip and with poor accommodations. There were no regular tours set up so we passed it up.

El Salvador is known as the "land of the trembling earth" because of frequent earthquake disturbances, minor quakes. We had some friends as guides and saw the famous volcano, known as the lighthouse of the sea because sailors have used it as a guide light for centuries.

As a Catholic country El Salvador (The Savior) has many fiestas and we watched them bring down the statue of El Salvador. People dress up and for a week stores close and everyone eats, drinks, attends boxing shows, dances and in general enjoy themselves. Lots of noise.

Flew the long jaunt from El Salvador to Havana, Cuba over rugged mountains of Honduras and Guatemala. Havana is one of the most beautiful cities I have seen. Clean, modern with good bus and taxi service.

Enjoyed the Morro Castle trip very much and got a few views of Havana across the bay. Toured the city and saw usual sights of battleship Maine memorial, capitol building, tobacco plants, rum factory and a country trip.

The night club tour was usual and unique pure juts jo jnos fans attended the Michigan-Missouri game Saturday afternoon. Everyone was impressed with the outstanding play of All-American end Ron Kramer. His deceptive-ness in getting out of the line of scrimmage without being blocked came in for mention along with his ability to fake, hook and swing out into the open. Missouri employed two and three men on Kramer after he scored the first touchdown. Kramer's uncanny ability to spring, a split second before the defense resulted in his catching the ball. He did everything in the game—kickoff, punt, kicked extra points and made 23 points of the 42 Michigan scored. He also adds an end round play to his repertoire. Michigan employed the T with the unbalanced line and balanced backfield with a flanker Jim Maddock, deceptive Wolverine quarterback, worked most effectively on a fake pitch and handoff to Terry Baar coming through on the trap. The same play is used with Maddock faking the pitch and trap and throwing a pass to Kramer. Michigan used its famous single wing mostly while the reserves were playing but used the T as the basic first string offense. Jim Pace, sophomore halfback, picked up a lot of plaudits with his terrific speed and shiftness.

Mike Rotunno, Kramer's replacement, also received a lot of mention with his speed and defensive sense. Missouri's Don Far-out, author of the split-T only used the famed offense on one play, a quarterback option lateral, and the play failed. Michigan's depth, with three strong lineups, brought much comment from pressmen and fans. This could be the key to the Rose Bowl.

Tropicana was unusual because of its outside show. I think the better class of shows in Paris top it. Gambling is a government monopoly and everywhere you see lottery tickets for sale. This is true throughout Latin America. Watchers, a Jai Alai game—fastest game of handball in the world. We like it.

Landed back in Miami, just 32 days after starting; covered 5,500 miles by air and 1,900 by car, not forgetting about two miles by dugout canoe.

Coming north we plan to see some of our own interesting national monuments and parks. So with over a hundred of our own national parks and monuments and 31 countries seen through our own eyes, we are ready for a rest.

BUT, and I mean a great big BUT, there is no place like our own United States. Best homes, best conveniences, best food, best schools, best everything. Long may it be that way! Let our One Worlders do Gooder live in other places for a while and they will find out how good it is to be an American.

Riverton, Conn. Residents Send Thanks to Holland

Emergency Committee Lauds Holland Firm For Sending Truck

Thanks to Holland area citizens for relief to flood-ravaged Riverton, Conn., recently were expressed in two letters read at City Council meeting Wednesday night. Text of the two letters follows:

Dear Mayor Visscher:

Today it is exactly four weeks since the flood hit Riverton and we hope you will forgive our delay in writing to the people of Holland.

Our population in Riverton is a little under 250 persons and we are speaking for all of them when we say that the generosity and timeliness of what Holland did for Riverton will long be remembered here.

It is really difficult to put all of our thoughts into words. As you well understand, all of us are and will be so very busy with the many problems resulting from the flood.

We have a community of about 70 homes located five miles above Winsted and we took the brunt of the disaster which inundated nearly everyone. Sometimes people think of a flood as just water—it isn't. It is water and mud and trees and broken houses with debris askew everywhere. Gravesites from our little cemetery, which dated back to 1800, are scattered and broken through the lower valley for a mile. To realize that you folks so far away could understand our plight and get that wonderful Holland Furnace Company truckload of things to us so soon is really too much to try to put into words.

Perhaps some day some of you will visit us we hope so. Please tell your people that we would like to have them here at the factory or at The Inn and mention that they come from Holland.

With our most sincere appreciation, we are gratefully,

John T. Kenney, Chairman, Riverton Emergency Committee.

Dear Sir:

We were one of the flood victims of Riverton helped by the good people of Holland. I am employee of Mr. Kenney of the Hitchcock Chair Co. He has done so much for this small community and I know it was through him and Mr. LaBarge that you good people heard of us.

We are all very thankful for the help you sent and hope you will extend our sincere thanks to the people there.

In spite of the terrible disaster good has come from it all. It shows that the world is made up of fine people ready to help in time of trouble. Everyone here has pitched in to help each other and today everything is a much brighter than two short weeks ago. I have a husband and three fine daughters. We are very hopeful again that things will soon be back to normal. We had our losses but so many had far more than we did. We have much to thank God for.

Again we say thank you all so very much for everything.

Sincerely, Dorothy E. LaFranchise (Mrs. Charles H.)

Dutch Fall Before Visitors Powerful Running Attack

Heidelberg College gridders, featuring two of the hardest and speediest running backs ever seen here, were down a game Hope College team Saturday night to chalk up a 28-6 win at Riverview Park.

The winners were held to one touchdown in the first half, but the constant pounding of the Hope line by the well-oiled Heidelberg eleven began to tell and the Dutch gave up one touchdown in the third quarter and two more in the final period.

Walt Livingston, Little All-American halfback, and Roy King, fullback, were the Student Princes' power backs. Although both small for college backs, they exploded through the line with deadly speed and terrific force and were aided by a hard charging forward wall.

Livingston scored once and helped set up the others with runs of 67, 65 and 21 yards. King kept the ball moving with his smashes and scored twice. Livingston gained 204 yards on 17 carries.

The 163-pound junior scored the first touchdown after eight minutes of play on a five yard run. He started to sweep the end, pulled the defense out, and then cut back into the end zone.

Matt Rock, who made all the Heidelberg extra points, converted. Heidelberg received the opening kickoff and the touchdown culminated a 73-yard drive. But the Student Princes had to be helped by a Hope offside penalty to complete it.

Hope held the winners to eight yards on the first series of downs and Heidelberg booted. The Dutch were offside on the punt, giving the Princes five yards and a first down.

Heidelberg didn't relinquish the ball until the score King, 170-pound fullback, pounded out seven and nine yard gains and Livingston added a 15-yard scamper for the big gains.

Heidelberg threw a 4-4-3 defense at the Dutchmen and Hope blocking assignments were made more difficult.

With five and a half minutes left in the third quarter, the Student Princes scored again. The second quarter had been scoreless.

Livingston, this time aided by another speedy power back, Bill Demidovich, started a drive on the Heidelberg 38 and in eight plays pushed across the score.

The 160-pound Demidovich and Livingston made consecutive 21-yard off guard romps to pace the offense. Demidovich made the touchdown going off tackle from the three.

Livingston's two long runs set up the final Heidelberg scores in the fourth quarter.

He broke off guard early in the period from his own end, where a Hope drive had stopped, and galloped up the field to the Hope 30 before Hope safetyman John Holmlund dragged him down from behind.

The winners kept on the prowl and in six plays were in. King crashed over from the seven, knocking off tackle for the payoff.

Livingston's final gallop was just after the Hope touchdown. The little Negro slipped around the backfield on a double reverse and was again loose.

He was running for home when Hope center Ron De Graw caught him on the Hope 25. While the Dutch caught their breath, the winners pounded again and King rounded the end for 16 yards three plays later for the final score.

Zeeland freshman Jack Faber scored Hope's only touchdown. With four minutes to go in the game, Faber hauled down a Holm-lund pass on the Heidelberg seven and raced into the end zone. The play started on the Princes' 22.

John Adams' kick was blocked.

Co-captain Adams provided local fans some excitement with a 69-yard run in the last seconds of the third period. He got the ball on a reverse and headed for the south sidelines. The way was blocked and he reversed his field, ran the entire width, before starting ahead. He succeeded in picking up a couple blockers. Jack Faber came up and threw one on the visitors 20 that got the weary Adams down to the 10 before he tripped. In all he ran about 120 yards.

Adams stopped but the clock didn't and Hope had to start again on the opposite end of the field. Heidelberg got reorganized and held Hope on the five for three plays. Quarterback Harry Voss bootlegged the ball on fourth down to the one.

Voss sidled in the opener, handled the Hope quarter-backing and gave shades of his 1953 performance, when he led the Dutch to the MIAA championship.

His playing quarterback allowed Holm-lund, starting signal caller, to pass from the fullback spot. He connected four times including the touchdown pass.

Co-capt. end Lynn Post turned in an outstanding game. Post refused to be sucked in on end runs and often times broke up plays in the Heidelberg backfield. He received a bruised shoulder in the third period and his second half play was limited.

Jim Hilbert, filled in for the injured Paul Wiegierink and Post. Hilbert looked strong on defense and came close to scoring. He caught a fourth down desperation heave from Adams on the Princes' two but had the ball knocked from his hands before he could get complete possession. Wiegierink did play some.

Dick Gantos and Dave Kuyers, first string right guard and fullback respectively didn't play because of injuries. Blaine Timmer, Hank Doele and Dick Schulz filled in for Gantos and Dave Woodcock made a good account of himself at fullback picking up yardage on almost every carry.

Tom Carey, starting left half, injured a cartilage in his knee after a carry in the second quarter. He didn't return to the game. Ron Wetherbee who reported for drills Monday, turned in a couple good defensive stops.

Allegan Starts Pollution Survey

ALLEGAN (Special)—A long-range pollution survey of all major resort lakes in Allegan county has been undertaken by the sanitation division of the county health department, according to Robert B. LaBelle, chief of the division.

Four county lakes—Hutchins, Dumont, Littlejohn and Green—were surveyed this past summer and the department plans to check Baseline, Duck and Eagles lakes in 1956. Upper and Lower Scott lakes and Osterhout are scheduled for 1957, LaBelle said.

At Green Lake, most recently surveyed, 128 permanent homes or cottages were visited. Sanitarians found five sewage disposal systems and 16 sink and laundry drains entering the lake, which is located in Leighton township, just south of the Kent-Allegan county line.

Following the survey, representatives of the division spoke at a Green Lake community gathering to report on the results.

A follow-up survey two weeks later disclosed that all but one sewer and seven sink drains had been removed from the lake. The other offenders had promised removal of all but one of the other drains.

Dog Notes

by Peter Boggs The Carsick Dog

Most dogs are crazy about motoring when they have become accustomed to it. I never have been able to figure why they get such keen delight out of this, but they do. They will put up with many discomforts on the drive sooner than be left behind.

However, there are certain dogs as there are certain people—who get deathly carsick. For some obscure reason, they become actively nauseated by the time the car has been in motion for a few minutes. It is no fault of theirs.

Nobody but a born fool would scold or punish a dog for such an unavoidable weakness. It would be as wrong as to beat or berate a human child for becoming seasick during his first day of heavy weather on shipboard. It is something entirely beyond control.

If your dog has shown a tendency to carsickness on his first drive, let him sit or lie on the car's seat, not on his floor, on any future trip. Keep him free from all excitement, if you can, during the journey.

If, after a reasonable tryout, he still becomes carsick every time he goes motoring, there is only one remedy. Leave him at home. He is not physically geared to be a motor dog, but that does not mean he may not be a splendid pet and guard and line in every other way.

Color of Dog's Eyes

A reader wrote in recently asking if it is true that all dogs have brown eyes. The average dog has eyes that range in color from light yellow to darkest brown. But there are exceptions. Many light colored dogs have pale grayish eyes. Some dogs have one brown eye and one bluish eye or blue eyes flecked with brown.

A pure white dog with bright blue eyes is likely to be deaf. I can't tell you why, but I have found this to be true nine times out of ten. The average dog, as I said, has eyes from yellow to deep brown. But the blue or grayish-eyed dog is not a great rarity.

Don't Train Dog By Fear

In the past too many dog trainers and dog owners had the idea that a whip was one of the most necessary items in a dog's education. This is not so strange when you recall that in the past, too, beatings were common in schools for children. Thousands of youngsters were flogged unmercifully to induce them to master their lessons.

Since then it has been proved that a child can be taught better by less brutal methods. Well, it is the same with dogs.

Gentle firmness takes the place of thrashings. This has happened largely because wise trainers realize that a dog does his best only when that work is a pleasure to him, not when he knows that failure will be followed by a whipping.

Citizen 'Arrests' Reckless Driver

ALLEGAN (Special)—In one of the first "citizen's arrest" cases heard here within the memory of local law enforcement officers, a justice court jury Friday found Thomas McAlpine, 18, of Fennville, guilty of reckless driving.

Justice of the Peace Winfield Adams, of Douglas, ordered McAlpine to pay a $50 fine and costs or serve 25 days in jail. He was released upon payment of the fine.

Prosecuting Attorney Dwight M. Cheever also indicated that he would request a re-examination of McAlpine by the secretary of state's office on his eligibility for a driver's license. It was brought out during the trial that McAlpine could not read and had the sight of only one eye.

McAlpine was arrested on the signed complaint of Frank Lloyd, of route 2, Fennville, who testified that, on the morning of June 30, the youth had speeded up and swerved back and forth to prevent Lloyd's car from passing him. Both cars were on M-89 driving east toward Fennville. McAlpine denied attempting to prevent the Lloyd car from passing him and said he "didn't even know there was a car behind me."

Milwaukee Men Held by Police

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Federal authorities today continued their questioning of two men about their three-week cross-country spree in a rented car when they allegedly transported stolen guns across a state line.

State Police said the men, Carl Reams, 26, and George Milligan, 29, both of Milwaukee, Wis., admitted renting a car in Milwaukee, Aug. 31, for one day and driving it to Florida, Mexico, California and then to Michigan.

Authorities said the men are wanted in Levi County, Fla., on a burglary charge and by Milwaukee police.

Federal agents questioned them about a story that they stole six guns from a store in Modesto, Calif., and transported them across state lines.

Police said an attractive 19-year-old girl hitch-hiker was with the men when they were arrested. They said the girl was picked up in Reno, Nev. early last week.

The girl who has been married twice and is the mother of twins, probably will be released later.

School Board Discusses Annexation Possibilities

C. W. Lubbers, superintendent of schools at Plainwell, explained the school annexation at Plainwell which became effective two years ago before an informal meeting of the Board of Education Monday night in E. E. Fell Junior High School.

Lubbers, brother of Dr. I. J. Lubbers who is president of Hope College, said the move increased enrollment in Plainwell schools from some 1,100 to 1,600, and the board operates nine rural schools. None of the annexed districts had any bonded indebtedness, although Plainwell had built a new elementary school and had bonds outstanding. Besides that, Plainwell has a 45-acre plot just outside the city for future development of an elementary school and the first part of a new high school.

Lubbers explained that some high school students report at 8 a.m. and leave at 3 p.m. while others report at 9 a.m. and leave at 4 p.m. Noon hours also are staggered, allowing maximum use of facilities.

Some local board members felt there were more differences than similarities in the cases of Plainwell and Holland. There is considerable bonded indebtedness in many sending districts near Holland, plus a desperate shortage of class rooms.

The main question confronting the Holland board is how long it can continue to take secondary school students without expanding facilities. In view of the fact that more than 50 percent of students in the upper four grades are from outside Holland, the main question is a matter of settling on a fair basis the matter of building a new high school which may cost up to $3.5 million.

Since 1951, the board has set aside $50 per pupil (city as well as outside) for a special secondary school fund. Through last April 30, a total of $301,975 has been allocated for the fund, with dividends over that period boosting the total to $312,730.15. Purchase of property and other expenses totaled $75,859.20, leaving a balance July 30 of $236,870.95.

Sending districts this year are paying the highest tuition fees in history amounting to $252.04 per student, much of which is reimbursed by state funds. With state officials encouraging annexation or consolidation, there is a question how long this reimbursement will continue.

The School Administrators Association of Michigan passed the following resolution at a meeting in Traverse City a few weeks ago: "Be it resolved that further study be made of the non-resident tuition problem to the end that more effective school districts may be organized so that within two years each district may bear its fair share of the cost of the educational program."

Holland Supt. Walter W. Scott said the Board of Education along with officials of sending districts are earnestly seeking a solution to the problems, a solution that can be approved by the taxpayers of Holland as well as the taxpayers in the 40 sending districts surrounding Holland. "To assure good educational opportunity for all boys and girls in Holland area, everyone must share responsibility on this acute problem," he said.

Lattimore Regains University Chair As Predicted Here

A prediction made in Holland last month came true Thursday when Johns Hopkins University announced it has reinstated Far Eastern Expert Owen Lattimore as lecturer.

The prediction was made by Owen's brother, Richard A. Lattimore who stopped at Holland State Park during a summer vacation tour.

Terming the reinstatement as "final vindication," Richard had asserted that it would represent the final chapter in the three-year battle to clear Owen's name.

At that time the government had just abandoned the legal fight after Federal Judge Luther W. Youngdahl twice threw the charges out of court as "too vague" and as "formless and obscure."

Owen, a master of seven languages and former advisor to Chiang Kai Shek's Nationalist regime, was put on continuing leave with full pay by Johns Hopkins in December, 1952, after Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy charged he was the top Soviet agent in America.

Indicted on charges he lied to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, Owen denied he ever was a "sympathizer" with communism. Judge Youngdahl first threw out a seven-count perjury indictment, and then a new indictment claiming Owen lied when he denied he was a "follower" or "promoter" of communism.

Both times Youngdahl was upheld by the U.S. Court of Appeals. The last five less serious perjury charges were finally dropped June 30.

As a former editor of the magazine "Pacific Affairs," Owen figured prominently in the 1952 investigations of the Institute of Pacific Relations by the Internal Security subcommittee.

The subcommittee claimed the institute, which published the magazine, was pro-Communist and had influenced U.S. policy in the Far East. The charges were never substantiated.

Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana, former chairman of the Senate subcommittee, also played a big role in the attack on Owen.

Dropping of the government charges, and reinstatement by Johns Hopkins apparently, according to Richard, would be interpreted nationally as vindication of Owen.

Railroad Bridge Near Completion

WEST OLIVE (Special) — The new C&O railroad bridge over Pigeon River is nearing completion as the last of 58 pilings went in this week.

Costing an estimated $10,000, the bridge replaces the old structure erected in 1922.

According to bridge and building Supt. George Higgins, the old structure is being entirely replaced with new, creosoted pine planking. There is no basic change in the bridge design.

Foreman Charles Avery and his 10-man crew have been working about four weeks, and estimate it will take another three weeks to finish the structure.

Progress is hampered by the need to keep up continuous train service, and frequently temporary material must be put down and removed after the train has gone through. All trains stop before crossing the bridge at 10 miles an hour.

Bridge crews are living in facilities alongside the track.

This confession led officers to closer examination since Bernice West, 22, of Muskegon, had been arrested in Omaha, Neb., and returned to Michigan to face trial in this case. West pleaded guilty in federal court Friday and was taken to the Kalamazoo county jail to await sentencing.

Although police are still seeking West's accomplice or accomplices in the case, they indicated they were convinced that Courtwright was not involved.

Telephones Cops To Give Self Up

ALLEGAN (Special) — An 18-year-old Dorr youth who called sheriff's officers by telephone to ask them to "come and get me, I stole a car," pleaded guilty in Circuit Court Tuesday to unlawfully driving away a motor vehicle, without intent to steal.

Robert Courtwright, 18, of route 2, Dorr, was out on $250 bond awaiting sentencing Tuesday, Oct. 4, by Judge Raymond L. Smith.

Sheriff's officers said Courtwright called them last Friday from a telephone booth in Hopkins to confess to the theft of a car. After his arrest, deputies said he confessed to "just about every unsolved breaking and entering in Allegan county within the last two years."

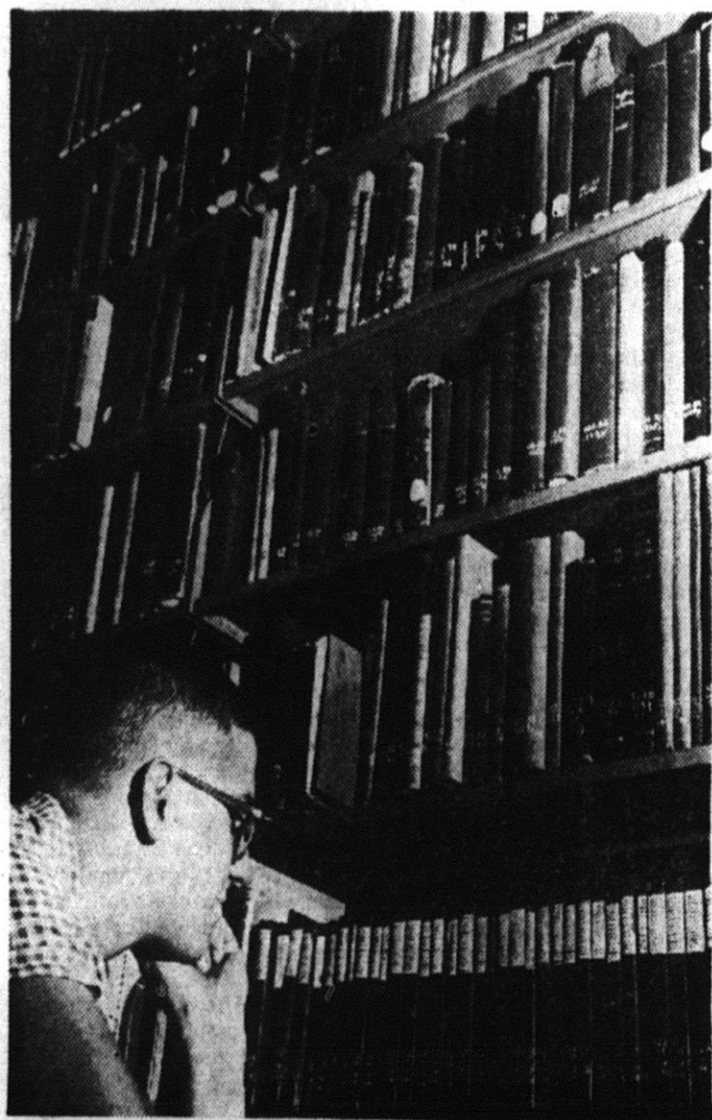

Deputy Robert Whitcomb said "we had more trouble proving he didn't do all the things he admitted than in getting a statement in the car case." Whitcomb said the youth even "confessed" to the breaking and entering of the Hopkins bank and Punches Market, Aug. 17.

This confession led officers to closer examination since Bernice West, 22, of Muskegon, had been arrested in Omaha, Neb., and returned to Michigan to face trial in this case. West pleaded guilty in federal court Friday and was taken to the Kalamazoo county jail to await sentencing.

Orientation Week: Introduction to College Life

A SEMESTER'S SUPPLY — Book Store Manager Duffy Wade wonders (above) where to put the last book Carl will need during his freshman year. Both Carl and Sandra will read a lot more pages than these during the year. And if they want more, there are always stacks and stacks in the library (below).

Last week children of a New York minister, a Syrian farmer, a missionary to Arabia, an Iowa car salesman, a Wisconsin school teacher, a Kalamazoo doctor, a Freeport livestock dealer and a Traverse City truck driver arrived in Holland for the opening of the Hope College year.

They represented only a part of the 900 students who pranced through a whirlwind experience aptly called "Orientation Week" by college officials.

Typical of the 200 plus from Holland were Sandra Dressel and Carl Ver Beek. Like many others, Sandra and Carl had outstanding high school records — Carl serving as Holland High School mayor.

But like others they are entering a rough and tumble period unlike anything they've ever seen. For out-of-town students, and for the hundreds of Holland students attending colleges and universities throughout the world, the transition is even more difficult.

One out of every three of Sandra and Carl's classmates will drop out of school without getting a degree. Some of them will give as reasons the average $1,400 annual cost of college life, or the difficulty of studies.

Most of them, however, will have fallen to difficulties centered around the personal psychological adjustments which must be made. Many will be extremely lonely, others depressed by the whirl of college life.

That's the reason for Orientation Week.

In a few well organized days, before upperclassmen arrive, they get "oriented" to the college atmosphere, to the curriculum, to college organizations, to the library, to the faculty, and—most important—to their fellow students.

They rush from welcoming dinners to get-acquainted parties to formal receptions. Everywhere, new faces and new personalities are encountered. And they're tested and interviewed to make sure they really should be in college.

Success in making a large number of these new faces into friends will be one of the keys to their successful stay in college.

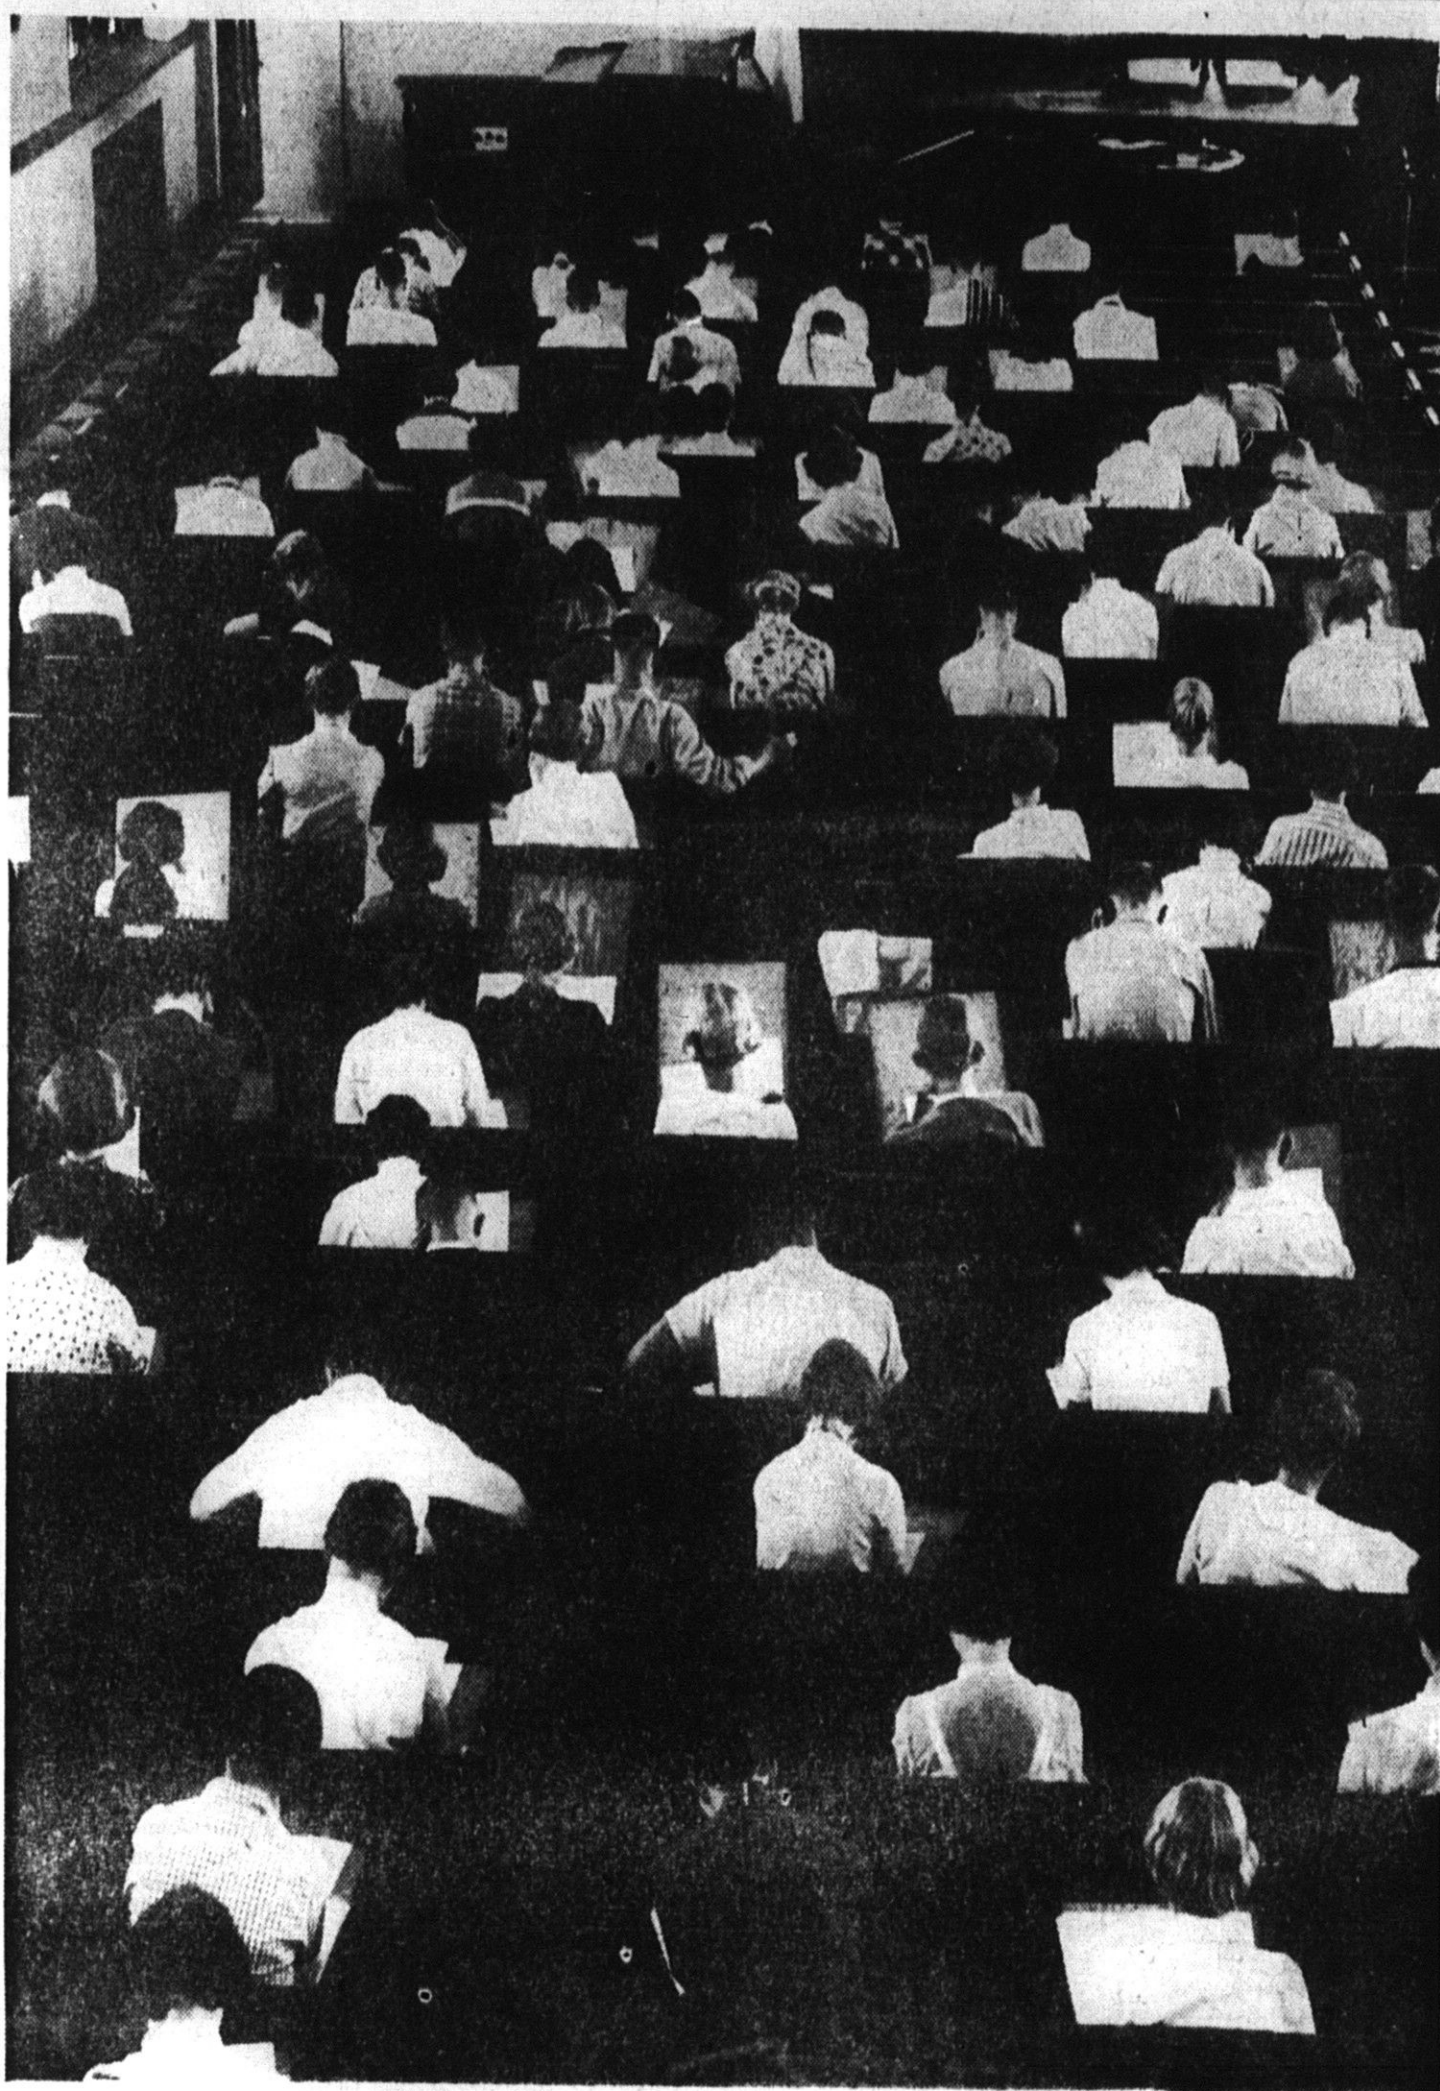

And there are now more faces than ever before. Enrollment at Hope College made a substantial jump, and records at Holland and Christian High Schools show that 40 percent of the graduating classes are attending college. College is no longer merely for the rich or the favored.

Nation-wide, 34 percent of the persons in the eligible college age bracket — 18 to 21 — are attending college. An annual enrollment increase of 100,000 is expected until 1960 when an even bigger jump will occur.

The attractions are varied. Experts say a college degree is worth an average of $100,000 in actual increased earnings over a life time. In a different vein is the attraction singled out by Dean William Vander Lugt in his convocation speech, the "invitation to enter upon fuller understanding and greater exploration."

DAILY CHAPEL SERVICES—A special feature of Hope College life is the morning chapel service, also a chance to meet new friends. Pictured are Carl, Sandra, Beth Bremer of Birmingham and Paul Northuis of Holland.

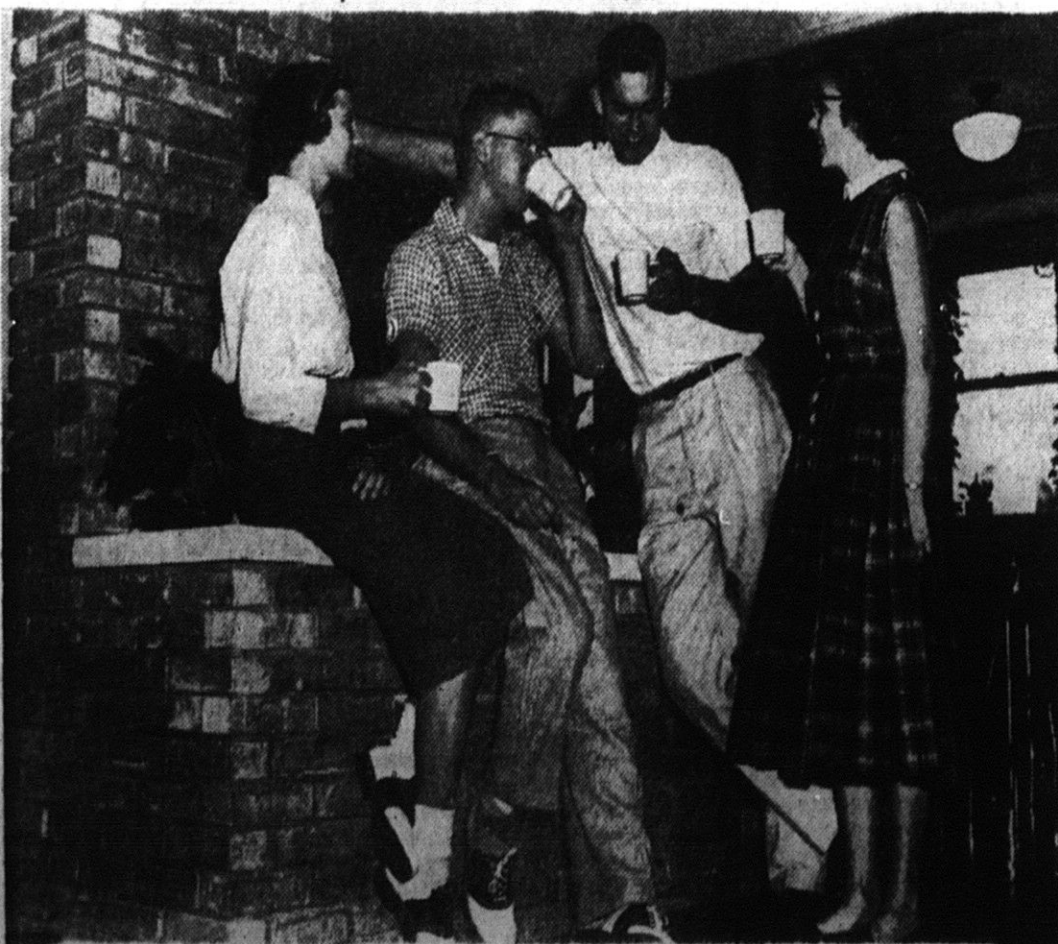

FROM 300 FRESHMEN, 200 WILL GET DEGREES AS MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF '59

PEOPLE, PEOPLE, PEOPLE—Monday Carl and Sandra met just people. But after a round of mixers, get-acquainted parties, and formal receptions these "people" took shape as new found friends. A highlight of the orientation week events was the beach party at Holland State Park — with the temperatures in the cool 50's. The get-acquainted business started right from the beginning as the 300-odd freshmen were loaded into semi-trucks for transportation to the park. There between hamburgers, hotdogs and chocolate milk the pair had yet another look at what college life will unfold to them.

MAIN UNIT — Center of a freshman's early days at college is the counseling group. Here Sandra and Carl get their first chance to meet other students from throughout the world. Working closely with counselors like Dr. Paul Fried, lower right, the new students set up schedules and get an inside look at the life they're going to be living for the next four years.

SOON THEY'LL BE AS EDUCATED AS UPPERCLASSMAN GEORGE PELGRIM, JR.
