Dutchmen Lose Exciting 22-19 Contest to Wabash

By Leo Martonosi

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. — One of our colleagues Roger Kuiken was in East Lansing Saturday and another, Rich Wolters was in Ann Arbor watching Michigan State University and the University of Michigan register impressive victories.

But for sheer excitement you couldn't have topped the Hope-Wabash contest which was won by the Little Giants, 22-19.

For the second week in a row, it looked as if the Flying Dutchmen were going to pull out the win in the dying seconds. Unfortunately, John Bonnette, Hope's fine tailback coughed up the pigskin and Tom Dyer of Wabash recovered on the Little Giants 11-yard line.

Bonnette's mistake came with only 48 seconds left in the game. Just a week ago, he fumbled late in the tilt in Hope's 23-22 loss to DePauw on the 44-yard stripe of the Tigers. "You really can't blame Bonnette for our defeat because we had numerous chances to win the game," said assistant Coach Pete Semeyn to Coach Ray Smith.

The loss was the first time Hope has dropped back-to-back encounters since 1971 when Alma and Adrian turned the trick. In that same season, Wabash nipped the Dutchmen, 20-19.

Mark Boyce in his first start enjoyed a fine day for Hope, as he completed 13 of 18 passes for 252 yards including six to Duff DeZwaan, the brilliant end for 89 yards.

Wabash held Kurt Bennett to 40 yards in 17 carries. Mike Skelton led Hope with 57 yards in 14 tries.

Mick Martin, a freshman from Crawfordville turned out to be the Little Giants No. 1 hero. With 8:48 left in the game, Martin kicked a 23-yard field goal to give Wabash a 22-19 lead. The three points turned out to be the difference of the game.

The Dutchmen never gave up as they marched down field in hopes of winning the tilt. Smith's gamble on a fourth down pass play worked as Boyce found DeZwaan.

However, a 15-yard clipping infraction, the only penalty for the Dutchmen was "very costly" according to Smith, hurt Hope's chances before Bonnette's miscue.

Smith was delighted with Boyce's fine afternoon. He said, "Mark waited a long time for his chance to start and showed he wants to stay on as the No. 1 quarterback."

Martin outwrestled Bob Coleman for the ball on Wabash's second TD march. Ray Eaton eventually won in for the score from the one to cut Hope's lead to 13-12 early in the third stanza.

A field goal kick by Kevin Clark was wide from 27 yards out moments later.

Eaton's second TD plunge from the one gave Wabash a 18-13 lead which was increased to 19-13 on Martin's extra point kick.

Lightning struck for Hope on the kickoff as Rick McLouth dashed 89 yards for six points to tie the game at 19-19. Clark's point attempt which would have given Hope the lead was wide to the left.

After moving the ball at will and having nothing to show for it in the first period, the Dutch erupted for two touchdowns in the second half.

Boyce, a junior from East Grand Rapids, who replaced Jim Kenyon at quarterback, bulled his way 17 yards into the end zone on a keeper play. Clark's extra point kick gave Hope a 7-6 lead with 9:19 to play in the half.

Boyce hit DeZwaan for two long completions in the 57-yard drive. The first pass covered 16 yards and the second, a seldom seen jump pass, resulted in a nine-yard gain.

Clark showed his outstanding speed late in the quarter as he hauled in Boyce's 50-yard bomb on Wabash's 30-yard line and sprinted the remaining yards for the touchdown. With Clark out of breath from running 70 yards to complete the score, his kick was no good.

A great goal-line stand by the Little Giants prevented Hope from scoring at the outset of the game. After moving to the six-yard line of Wabash on a 24-yard pass from Boyce to freshman John VandeGuchte, the Little Giants looked more like "Big Giants." With Boyce picking up five yards on the first play from that point, Bennett was stopped at the one and Boyce was twice held back from scoring with the ball only inches away from the end zone.

One of Wabash's co-captain's Gary Nondorf dashed 52 yards on a draw play to Hope's 14-yard line. With the ball on the nine, Randy Mellinger scampered his way in for the score. Tim Lont and Tom Barks combined to block Martin's PAT attempt.

Hope will meet powerful Indiana Central Saturday in its first home game of the season. Game time is 1:30 p.m. at Riverview Park. Wabash visits Albion Saturday.

DAR Chapter Opens Season At Luncheon

Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, opened the fall season last Thursday with a luncheon at Clearbrook Country Club followed by a business and social meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Hopper of Saugatuck.

Mrs. George Willis, state DAR corresponding secretary, gave a program on the book "Washington Land 'Mark" published by the national DAR in honor of the Bicentennial. Mrs. Willis said that as America approached the 400th anniversary of its discovery by Columbus, patriotic societies were popular, but were for men only.

Spurred by Washington Post articles written by a Mrs. Mary Smith Lockwood, and aided by Sons of the Revolution, a group of 18 determined women launched the DAR on Oct. 11, 1890. In 1902, they purchased land for $50,000 and through the years, bought more land and erected buildings until today they have one of the largest concentrations in Washington, D.C.

There are administration buildings, library and museum period furnished rooms, Constitution Hall and others open to the public. The book which is beautifully illustrated, contains much history of both the DAR and America.

Mrs. Clarence Priebe, regent, announced that Mrs. Coleman Sanford will be a delegate to the state convention this month in Lansing. Guests were Miss Isabel Birkoff and Mrs. Elizabeth Moore.

CONFIDENTIAL IS VITAL.

The House Ethics Committee's attempt to force Daniel Schorr to tell how he obtained a copy of a House report on intelligence activities dramatizes more strikingly than ever a recurrent dispute between government and the Fourth Estate. The central question at issue, in the Schorr case and others of similar nature, has been whether newsmen can be required to disclose sources of information.

The courts, and now the House of Representatives, have claimed the right to be told where newsmen got certain information. This supposed right has been asserted as an aid to criminal investigation, or to help in tracing leaks. In spite of the risk of being held in contempt, journalists have declined to answer. Some have gone to jail rather than yield to this kind of pressure.

It is important that the public understand why newsmen are being so adamant on this point, for the public interest is decidedly involved in the outcome of such affairs. With this in mind we quote from Schorr's succinct opening statement before the House committee.

"For a journalist," he told the congressmen, "the most crucial kind of confidence is the identity of a source of information. To betray a confidential source would be to dry up many future sources for many future reporters. But, beyond all that, to betray a source would be to betray myself, my career and my life. It is not as simple as saying that I refuse to do it. I cannot do it."

That is only part of it, though.
More fundamentally, there is the First Amendment guarantee of freedom of the press. That guarantee would be gravely violated by forced disclosure of confidential sources — disclosure which would have the effect of crippling press freedom.

In light of this, the House Ethics Committee should resist whatever temptation there may be to recommend that the House cite Schorr for contempt.
If this were done, the stage would be set for a major confrontation which were better avoided. Congress should recognize that the confidentiality of news sources is vital to a free press, and let it go at that.

Japanese Home of H. F. Kellers, 682 Park Ave.

Japanese Influence Seen in Keller Home

By Carolyn Marquis
A feature of the Junior Welfare League Home Tour on Oct. 6 is the authentic Japanese architecture of the H.F. Keller home at 682 Park Ave.

It is because of the ingenuity and the love of authenticity of Hollis M. Baker, Jr., of Baker Furniture that on Lake Macatawa there stands this Japanese house which is strictly authentic even to the symbolic details.

After exhaustive research and two trips to New York to study the proportion and design of a famous Japanese house then being displayed at the Museum of Modern Art, Baker engaged the architectural firm of Obyon and Knapp of Grand Rapids, which had an associate arrangement with the architect Yama-saki of Detroit.

Baker supervised the meticulous craftsmanship and the many improvisations which were necessary to make the house suitable for the Michigan climate. Twenty-six sliding doors on the lakeside are shoji-covered in conventional rice paper and faced on the outside with clear glass.

To keep the Japanese spirit, only natural wood and plaster are used throughout the house; thus, the door frames are wood not metal, and the tracks must be kept heavily waxed. Through the exterior vertical siding is hinoki, Japanese cypress, most of the materials are American substitutes.

Completed in 1955 as a summer place and weekend retreat for the Baker family, the double pavilion design, providing separate living and sleeping areas, embraces the principles of Japanese architecture; rigorous simplicity, post and beam construction, an intimate tie with the outdoors, and a generous use of natural wood finishes. Shortly after its completion, the home was featured in House and Garden and in Interiors. In 1973 the Kellers of Valparaiso, Ind., purchased the "Tea House" and many of the original low, small-scale furnishings, which were custom-crafted at Baker Furniture to make the rather small rooms seem larger. The Kellers have followed the Japanese art of living by maintaining the house and garden as an organic whole.

From the road the true openness of the house is concealed behind walls with few windows, assuring complete privacy. The authentic contour of the roof was achieved by building up the lower portion with multiple layers of shingles. The entrance or "genkan" with three Fusuma screens leads to a roofed open passageway which separates the living and the sleeping pavilions. A ribbon of deck or "wet verandah" encircling the house is on customary stilts, mounted on rocks.

The entrance to the living space is especially noteworthy with its Ramma overhead, the delicate, lace-like fretwork, and the post of honor, the Nakashibire — an unplanned, highly polished timber with its knots protruding.

The living-dining room has two glass and shoji walls — one opening to the garden, the other commanding a view of the lake. Sparse furniture and the black buildings of the Tatami Goza matting make the 18 x 21 foot room seem much larger. Characteristic of Japanese design are the slender beams crossing the ceiling of "Sugi" wood. The solid walls are white plaster trimmed with natural Hinoki wood finished only with a single coat of oil.

Points of interest in the kitchen, designed for modern living, are cupboards faced with teakwood and the Far East pewter hardware. Beyond this functional kitchen are the maid's quarters. The sleeping pavilion is compact and functional, but the open plan with its simple natural lines welds the house and site together and gives the illusion of spacious rooms. The corridor, as in many Japanese buildings, is the heart of this house, for through the Shoji screens to the left is the Oriental garden and to the right are the bedrooms. The floor is highly figured walnut, and the ceiling is satinwood supported by delicate squared bamboo beams. The children's rooms, not much larger than alcoves, are furnished identically with Tatami matting, a ceiling of woven cedar, a low custom designed bed, and an antique Japanese Tansu chest.

At the end of the corridor is the master bedroom, a mere 12 x 14 feet, although it appears much larger because of the proportions of the furniture. It has a beautiful mahogany ceiling, and twin beds rest on one low walnut platform which swings apart in the middle to allow for easy bedmaking. The master bath is not an exact reproduction of a Japanese one, but it is typical. The floor is natural limestone, and the partially sunken tub is surrounded by unfinished white ash.

To follow the principles of Japanese design, the Bakers, like the Japanese, planned to take years to develop an Oriental garden with a small pool and carefully chosen and placed rocks. The Kellers too, are adding details to the landscape little by little.

The Autumn Home Tour, scheduled for Oct. 6, from 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. includes six distinctive Holland area homes and a dessert-tea at the Van Wylen residence. People are invited to begin the tour at any of the homes and to stop for refreshments at their convenience during the tour hours. Only a limited number of reservations are available. To receive a program-ticket and map send $5 to Mrs. Janet Kemp, 625 South Shore Dr.

Panthers Tie Series At 4 Apiece

By Leo Martonosi
John Witkowski? They ought to call him the "Great White Shark."

Witkowski gave a demonstration as deadly as "Jaws" Friday night at Riverview Park as the West Ottawa Panthers defeated rival Holland, 12-7.

It was ideal football weather in the season opener before almost 5,000 fans, as Witkowski showed the Panthers have another outstanding back in 1976. Last year it was all-state tailback Scott Tubergan who paced West Ottawa to its 14-0 victory. Many of Holland's supporters were sitting in the new bleachers purchased just before Tulip Time.

The win by the Panthers was their third in a row over Holland and tied the all-time series at four games apiece. Nolan is 4-1 against the Dutch.

The 5'10" Witkowski, a darting type of runner, picked up 170 yards in 30 carries. The hard running Panther senior, also tallied both touchdowns on runs of one and 10 yards.

Witkowski admitted after the game that his offensive line that consisted of center Greg Ferrell, guards Rick Brink and Brian Driesenga and tackles Scott Vander Meulen and Ron Allen, along with fullback Jamie Bloemendaal were devastating throughout the entire evening.

"John did a nice job but we have a long way to come," said Panther mentor Deb Nolan.

Nolan pointed out that seven of his starters on defense are new this year but Bo Schmebecher at Michigan would love to gobble up a Vander Meulen or Bill Strauss.

"I was very pleased with the way we hit out there," continued Nolan. "We made too many mistakes but you have to give Holland credit for hanging in there."

Holland mentor Ray Backus offered, "It was a hard hitting football game and even though we didn't win, our guys never gave up. We showed what we were made of by stopping them four times when they got close to scoring."

The Dutch did receive a big break at the outset as tackle Jamie Hinojosa recovered a fumble on the first play from scrimmage. However, as they did numerous times, West Ottawa stopped Holland cold.

With the score 0-0 at the end of the first period, West Ottawa moved 79 yards in 16 plays to take a 6-0 lead on Witkowski's first touchdown. The TD came at the 9:08 mark. Jeff Van Dyke's extra point attempt was no good.

Witkowski legged the ball on 11 of those occasions for 52 yards. It was almost like last year when No. 41-Tubergan was handed the ball on almost every play.

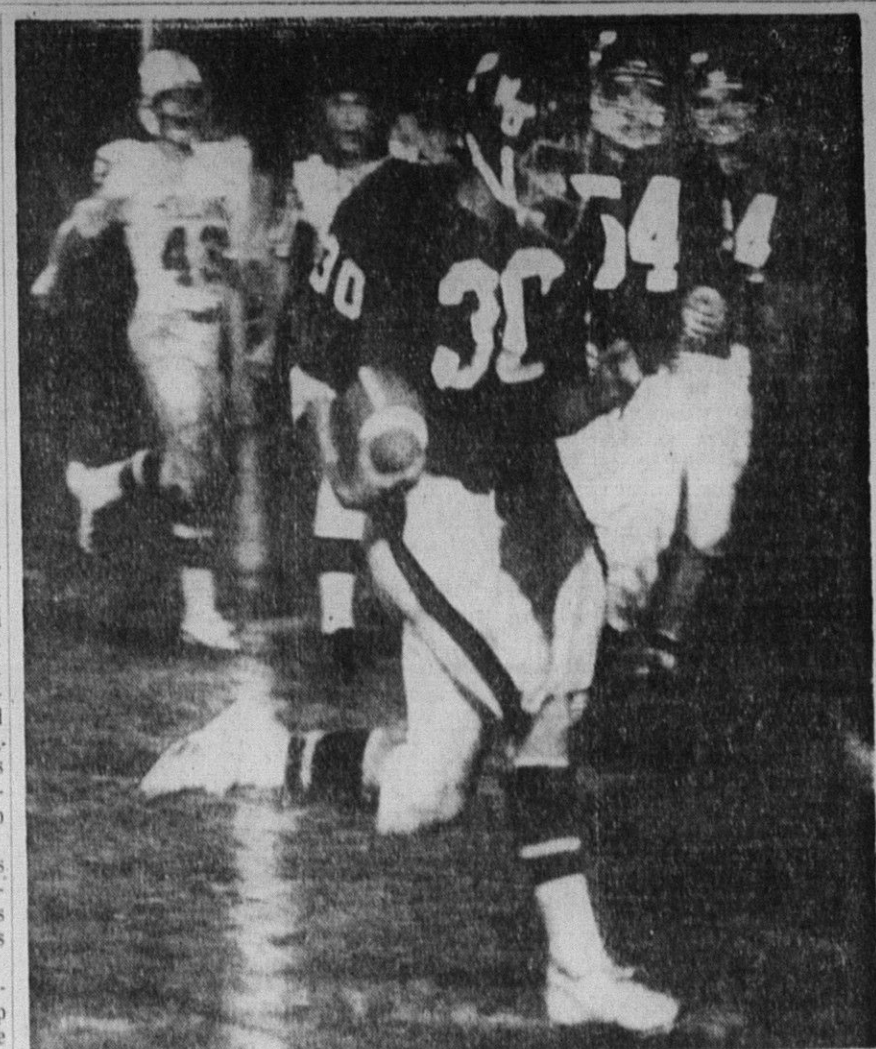

The first West Ottawa tally of the season was set up on a nine-yard pass from Dave Conklin to Bloemendaal that carried to the Dutch two-yard line.

With West Ottawa moving in for what looked like another touchdown, Kurt Droger intercepted in the end zone.

On the first play after Droger's grab, Duane Berkompas gave Holland something to cheer at the TD with his diving tackle. Rick Schutt sacked Conklin trying to pass and Van Dyke's 33-yard field goal attempt wouldn't have been good even if he had put it through the uprights, as the Panthers were called for illegal procedure.

With Holland lined up in a fourth down kicking situation, Hernandez and others probably felt that Levi Johnson of the Detroit Lions was wearing No. 77 for West Ottawa. Vander Meulen prevented Hernandez from getting off the punt. A high snap from center didn't help the cause either.

With the ball on the 10-yard line of Holland, Witkowski made a nice cut back to run for the GAME'S TOP PLAYER — If the fans who attended the opening football game Friday night at Riverview Park had a chance to vote for the game's No. 1 star, West Ottawa's John Witkowski (30) would have won in a landslide. Witkowski, who scored his second touchdown here on a 10-yard run, rushed for 170 yards in leading the Panthers past the Holland High Dutch, 12-7. Greg Ferrell and Mike George ran interference for the talented Panther tailback Duane Berkompas (43) of Holland is pictured in background. (Sentinel photo) score from that spot on the second play after the big break. Neither team scored after that but the Panthers did move the ball at will and one time went 94 yards before losing the ball on a fumble at the Dutch goal-line.

Two Indians Gain Over 100 Yards

MARTIN — With two backs rushing for more than 100 yards each, Saugatuck's football team opened its season by beating Martin, 12-0 Friday evening.

Steve Onken picked up 126 yards in 26 carries and Bill Sparks rushed for 100 yards in 20 tries for Coach Jack Lampen's Indians.

Karl Burkett passed for 33 yards to Joel White for Saugatuck's first touchdown in the second period. The TD march covered 98 yards. The Indians missed on a run for the PAT.

In the fourth stanza, Burkett went 20 yards on a keeper play for the score. The pass for two points failed.

"Our offensive line of Rick Nowak, Steve Thompson, Larry Kelly, Cary Masters, Doot Ballow and Jim Umburger were just tremendous," said Lampen. Sparks and Tom Kacor were extra tough on defense."

Next Friday, the Indians entertain Michigan Lutheran.

Panther Girls Upend Holland

Patti Ebels poured in 30 points in a losing effort as West Ottawa's girls' basketball team defeated Holland, 59 - 46 in the season opener Thursday night in the Holland fieldhouse.

Ebels tallied 21 of her points in the third period as the Dutch cut West Ottawa's commanding 29 - 16 halftime lead to 42 - 41 heading into the final eight minutes.

The victory was the first for Coach Mary Tietje's Panthers over Coach Virginia Borgman's Dutch.

West Ottawa rushed out to a quick 16 - 4 first quarter lead in the typical first game of mistakes which saw the Panthers lose the ball 30 times and Holland 33.

Sophomore Terri MacFarland scored seven fielders for 14 points, Kristi Bekker mustered 16 markers; Jane Lokers 10 points and Cindy Lee nine for the winners.

Lonna VandenOver led all teams in rebounding with 11. Lee and Bekker added 10 apiece for West Ottawa. West Ottawa managed 45 team caroms and Holland 25.

L. Smeenge threw in 10 points as Marty Colenbrander's Dutch reserves bombed Bonnie Hindert's Panthers, 44 - 16. V. Nienhuis scored five points for West Ottawa.

West Ottawa — Stevenson, 2-0-4; McFarland, 7-0-14; Lee, 3-3-9; Bekker, 4-8-16; Vanden Over, 2-0-4; Lokers, 4-2-10; Wooten, 1-0-2. Totals 23-13-59.
Holland — Ebels, 9-12-30; Hilton, 1-0-2; Vliem, 3-0-6; K. Israel, 2-0-4; S. Israel, 2-0-4. Totals 17-12-46.

Volunteers Coach Chix Over Fired Up Hawks

HAMILTON — With volunteers coaching the team, Zeeland defeated a determined Hamilton football squad in its season opener Friday night, 23-14.

Dr. Alfred Vande Waa, Gary Wabeke and two Kraai brothers coached the team, according to Hamilton mentor Bob Stael.

Zeeland only mustered five first downs but got this, rushed for 235 yards. However, the Chix turned the ball over seven times on fumbles and once on an interception.

"I'm very proud of our kids," said Stael. "Tom Kievit did a fine job at quarterback and everyone gave his best. You really can't ask for more than that."

Hamilton trailed 7-0 at the end of the first period on a 39-yard by Tom Busscher and the first of four consecutive boots by Ken Auwerda.

Busscher tallied on a 40-yard TD sprint in the second quarter and the Chix on a three-yard run by Carol Alfarez in the third stanza. Brad Kraai went three yards for a score in the fourth period.

Kievit passed three and 54 yards to Bill Wunder for Hamilton six-pointers. Kievit also ran in one two-pointer.

Tim Schipper hauled in three of Kievit's passes for 42 yards. Stael said that Jeff Boyce and Wunder were tough on defense.

Fennville Downs Gobles In Opener

FENNVILLE — Fennville downed a strong Gobles football team here Friday night, 24-14.

The Tigers scored the first and last touchdowns of the game. But in between that it was all Fennville.

Doug Scudder passed 43 yards to George Thompson for Fennville's first TD of the year. Gary Morse tallied the PAT on an end-around with 12 seconds to play in the first period.

With the score 8-8 at the half, Noel Martinez went three yards for Fennville's second six-pointer. Martinez also ran in the conversion to cap a 96-yard drive.

Morse locked up the contest with a one-yard plunge with 6:52 to play in the contest. The Fennville back picked up 122 yards in 27 attempts while standing out on defense were Bill Bushee and Ed Bale, who intercepted two passes.

Hopkins visits Fennville next Friday.

Seminar Is Slated At Hope

Hope College has received a $6,715 matching grant from the Michigan Council for the Humanities (MCH) to support a series entitled "Does knowledge lead to Power? — Perspectives on the Spanish Speaking Americans of Holland, Michigan."

The MCH is a state-based program sponsored and funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities, which in turn is part of the National Foundation on the Arts and Humanities created by an Act of Congress in 1965. The award to Hope College is a regrant of federal funds and will be matched by a similar sum from the College.

This is the second such grant from MCH to Hope College within the past year. Last year the MCH supported a series on humanistic perspectives on aging and the elderly. Projects funded by the MCH this year must illuminate some aspect of the state theme: "Knowledge and Power; Humanistic Values in the Shaping of Public Policy." All projects must focus on one or more public policy issues and must explore ways in which the humanities can contribute to an understanding of these issues.

The project will consist of a series of six weekly sessions, from Oct. 19 to Nov. 30. The discussion will treat such subjects as the history and current position of the Spanish-American Community in Holland, their role in the economy, housing and education in Holland, and their relation to other citizens in the community.

Project director is Dr. Jacob E. Nyenhuis, Dean of the Humanities at Hope. Dr. Nyenhuis also served as project director for last year's series.

The project co-director is Dr. Renze L. Hoeksema, professor of political science at Hope. Dr. Hoeksema was the recipient of a summer fellowship to New York University in 1976 from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Dean Nyenhuis and Dr. Hoeksema are being assisted for the planning in this series by a committee comprised of Hope faculty and community leaders, both from the Spanish-American community and the Human Relations Commission.

Discussion leaders for each session will include Spanish-American community leaders, as well as academic humanists and technical specialists. Spanish-American leaders from other communities will be asked to address the symposium. The academic humanists who will contribute from their knowledge and their experience of other communities include historians, English and Spanish professors, writers, theologians and classicists. Technical specialists will come from the fields of economics, political science, sociology, and psychology.

The forum is open to all citizens in the Holland area over the age of 18. Further information is available from the Office of the Dean for the Humanities.
