SPEAKER SEES HOLLAND AS AN AIRPLANE STATION

EXCHANGE CLUB HOLDS LUNCHEON AT NOON ON WEDNESDAY

The light and airy banquet hall on the third floor of the Masonic Temple was filled with laughter and song when seventy-five Exchangeites sat down to luncheon.

A collection box in the form of a sugar bowl was placed at the door to be used as a depository for those who came a minute or more late, and the China bank, when all had sat down contained quite a respectable number of ten cent pieces.

The speaker of the day was Lee H. Higgins of Grand Rapids who went into details showing the advantages derived by all communities because of the work done by the Western Michigan Tourist Association. Mr. Higgins pointed out how years ago only the well-to-do would travel, and they thought they had to go to Europe.

Since the war, these people have been fed up on Europe and are really finding out what this country has to show.

To this well-to-do traveling public have been added the every day folks who by virtue of the automobile can see scenery as beautiful as is found anywhere in the world.

Few would think that Michigan contains the third most beautiful lake on earth according to government statistics, and this lake Mr. Higgins pointed out was Glenn Lake near Traverse City.

Few people know that Western Michigan contains 22,000 inland lakes, almost as beautiful as Glenn Lake, and a bathing beach 500 miles long on the coast of Lake Michigan.

Mr. Higgins predicts that within five years Holland will have an airplane station for landing and "hopping off," for many resorters will come by the airline rather than by the automobile.

That the resort bureau has done a wonderful work in selling Michigan to the tourist public is evident from the fact that the travel thus far during 1923 into Michigan by outside tourists has made a gain of 35 per cent over 1922, and official figures show that this large influx of travelers have spent more than $60,000,000 in Western Michigan.

Mr. Higgins stated that he met with the secretary of the Colorado Tourist Bureau where approximately a half million dollars is spent in advertising annually, and he stated that Colorado would give millions if it had what Michigan has to show in the way of scenery.

After Mr. Higgins had through speaking it was decided to send a committee of four to the large tourist rally to be held in Grand Rapids on October 19 and 20.

Thus far eight delegates have been chosen to attend that meeting by the different local organizations. Four are sent by the merchants and four will be sent by the Exchange Club.

Possibly there will be other clubs who will realize the importance of the Western Michigan Tourist Association and will also send a delegation down to this very important meeting.

MAY BAR FROM SCHOOL PUPILS NOT YET VACCINATED

The board of health sent out a sharp warning Wednesday to the people of Holland that the small-pox situation in this city is beginning to get serious. During the past two days some eight or ten new cases have developed, making the total number of cases in the city just now 26. And some of these cases are very serious.

The board of health fears that there will be a general epidemic unless the people of Holland protect themselves by vaccination. It is feared that on account of the large number of cases many people in the city have been exposed and that the disease will crop out in many places unless there is general vaccination.

The board of education Wednesday took steps to protect the health of the children in the schools. The board is watching the situation closely and is appealing to the parents to have their children vaccinated voluntarily. The board has under consideration a plan to bar from the schools all pupils not vaccinated and may take this step in the near future if it seems desirable. In that case the health board would cause this rule to apply to all schools, public and parochial, and also to Hope College and the Sunday schools. The state supreme court has just given a decision giving this power to the health board and it will very likely be used if it becomes necessary.

A general small pox epidemic is looked upon as a disgrace and the board of health and board of education will do all in their power to prevent it. Moreover, the disease is increasing in virulence and a general epidemic would almost certainly result in some deaths. The health department points to the experience of Saginaw a year or two ago when seven persons died of small pox before general vaccination was resorted to. Since the general vaccination Saginaw has not had a case of small pox in spite of the fact that the disease has been prevalent in other towns in that section, showing how good a protection vaccination is.

Mayor Stephan being in Georgia on business, Ald. Frank Brive, president pro tem of the council, presided at the meeting of the aldermen Wednesday night.

The committee on claims and accounts announced claims to the council for the past two weeks amounting to $6,164.87. The committee on poor reported that $123 had been expended for temporary aid.

G. VAN SCHELVEN TALKS RIGHT UP IN MEETING

REBUKES SPEAKER IN HOPE CHURCH FOR MIS-STATEMENTS

It has just come to light that the quiet of Hope church meeting Sunday night was disturbed when Mr. Waltman, who represented the Anti-Saloon League of the state of Michigan, made statements that were entirely misleading, in fact so much so that G. Van Schelven, former postmaster and a present justice of peace, became so incensed at what he knew to be false, that he spoke right up in the meeting and hissed out the word "rotten."

There was a small stir in the audience, although nothing more was forthcoming until after the meeting, when "Van" heaved the speaker right on the spot, asking him where he had received his information and how he could make such false statements.

While Mr. Waltman's discourse was on, k. in every particular, when he came to Ottawa county he not only upbraided the officers, the prosecutor and the judge for the few prosecutions among the liquor violators, but actually charged negligence and leniency in Ottawa county on the part of the public officials.

G. Van Schelven who possibly knows more about court matters as these pertain to Ottawa county, than any one else, immediately saw the injustice done to our public officials because of such misleading false statements, and it is not the first time in life that he "stood up in meeting," to defend a friend or public official, when these were unjustly accused.

Naturally Mr. Waltman was embarrassed when he saw the real figures which were immediately obtained by a Hope church committee by telephone from Prosecutor Miles.

Of course the gentleman had nothing to say, as he had nothing with which to verify his figures further than those from the Anti-Saloon League headquarters at Lansing.

Mr. Waltman left very much chagrined, stating that he would write in an apology should he find that his figures were incorrect.

Waltman's figures indicated only six prosecutions during the year 1922, and since the thing has been simmering it is found that a misunderstanding has crept in all around, and Mr. Waltman was really not to blame for his statements.

It seems that the Anti-Saloon League had asked Prosecutor Miles for the number of arrests and convictions made during 1922. The prosecutor understood that the list desired was from 1922 to March 1st, 1923.

Naturally in that short space of time, not many convictions or arrests could be made for circuit court had not been in session during that period.

The Anti-Saloon League, however, credited these convictions and arrests to cover the entire year of 1922.

Naturally Mr. Van Schelven and all those closely connected with court goings appreciate the fact that there isn't a prosecutor in Michigan who prosecutes cases so relentlessly, and secures so many convictions proportionately as does Mr. Miles, in fact he glories in these convictions, for his heart is in the work.

On the other hand it is well known that Judge Cross is the most severe judge in the state when it comes to meting out sentences to liquor violators.

Holland has had an example of this for they all go to jail, to which is added a heavy cash fine.

Knowing all this we admire Mr. Van Schelven's "spunk," even at the age of 82, to speak right up in meeting for what is right.

Mr. Miles takes all the blame upon his own shoulders stating that he misunderstood the period of time that was asked for, although he also states that he is being bombarded daily by different societies in this and other states with requests for information along these lines, and it is no wonder that he got his dates mixed.

The letter on file in the Anti-Saloon League office today covering the whole of the year 1922, tells a different story, and the league is going to use it as an example to those living in more lax counties, giving the prosecutor credit for his diligent work, rather than censuring him for the lack of it.

Instead of six convictions as was understood by Mr. Waltman, here is the real record given by Mr. Miles in his letter to the Anti-Saloon League: October 1, 1923.

Anti-Saloon League, Lansing, Michigan.

Mr. Waltman desires me to write you relative to the number of prosecutions, acquittals, convictions, etc., for violation of the Prohibition Law for the year 1922, in this county.

The total number prosecuted for 1922 was sixty-six; the number convicted was forty-seven; the number acquitted on trial, two; discharged on examination, five; nolle prossed, eight; escapes, four. The punishments were as follows:

19 six months imprisonment and $100 and costs; 4 six months imprisonment and $200 and costs; 1 six months imprisonment and $300 and costs; 1 six months imprisonment and $500 and costs; 1 six months imprisonment and $50 and costs; 1 six months imprisonment and $50 and costs; 1 thirty days and $100.00 and costs; 3 sixty days and $50 and costs; 1 sixty days and costs; 1 $150 and costs; 3 ten days and $50 and costs; 1 nine months imprisonment and $200 and costs; 1 thirty days and $50 and costs; 1 thirty days.

Yours very truly,

FRED T. MILES.

JACK KNOLL HAS BEEN ACTING UP AGAIN

HAS VIOLATED HIS PAROLE AND WILL NOW SPEND TWENTY DAYS IN JAIL

Jack Knoll who runs a barber shop on the West End and who has been in many difficulties before is again in the hands of the law.

Tuesday night he became gloriously drunk again and brought disturbance in the neighborhood tearing off practically all of his clothing and attempting to fight the officer when he came to arrest him.

Knoll was lodged in the city jail overnight, pleaded guilty to a drunk charge and was sentenced by Justice Van Schelven to twenty days in the county jail.

At a recent session of court when Knoll pleaded guilty to stealing money from the cash register of Casper Beit, his employer, who conducts a barber shop in Hotel Holland, at the request of his former boss and others who incited, Judge Cross put him under parole, and did not sentence him. He has now violated this parole repeatedly by getting drunk, and his last escapade will no doubt be reported to Judge Cross who will deal with Knoll after he serves his twenty day sentence at Grand Haven.

It is stated that Jack Knoll attempted to commit suicide while in his stupor taking the crystal of his watch with which he carved one of his wrists. When he saw the blood flow, however, he hollered for help and the officers bound up the minor scratches made by the glass.

MISS KUIPER DIES SAVING LIVES IN JAPAN

HAD BEEN VISITING IN THE COUNTRY; CAME TO TOKIO DAY TO EARLY

At the final meeting of the class at Third Reformed church last night an unusually interesting letter however also a very pathetic one, was read. The letter came from Miss Jennie Kuipers, sister of Rev. Albert Kuipers, who is laboring as a missionary in Japan.

The letter has to do with the death of Miss Adrianna Kuiper, better known as Jennie, who was principal of the Ferris Seminary school of Tokio.

It seems that Miss Kuiper had been visiting in the country at a resort named Hakone at the foot of the sacred mountain Fuji, which is also a volcano, although not active at this time. A missionary conference was being held there, and Miss Kuiper was being prevailed upon to remain for over the week-end. She had already visited the place for two weeks and felt that she could not prolong her stay for the reason that she had to prepare certain matters at the Seminary for Monday's school work.

She therefore returned late Friday to the school and the earthquake took place at three minutes after 12 Saturday noon.

Details of her actual death are meager and it is stated that her body was never found.

A Japanese servant of Miss Kuiper however, states that when the first shock came he left the building and also saw Miss Kuiper leave the school. That is the last he saw of her, but he imagines that at the last minute Miss Kuiper turned back for the purpose of seeing whether there were others in the school that had to be saved.

With the second and third heavier shocks, the servant states part of the roof of the building caved in, and that he believed Miss Kuiper was a victim in the ruins.

Miss Kuiper's friend, Miss Sarah Couch was more fortunate as she was on a visit to a country town at the time, and while the earthquake also visited this little town and the building in which they stayed was badly damaged, it so happened that Miss Couch went out to lunch at a Japanese restaurant at the time of the earthquake, and suffered no harm.

WILL PAVE 32ND ST. TO JENISON PARK

AUSTIN HARRINGTON TELLS OF CONTEMPLATED ROAD BUILDING

Holland is getting some wonderful streets. However a new boulevard may be added soon and this will be one stretching from Lincoln Avenue to the east of Holland over 32nd St. to Jenison Park.

The road will go through possibly under the Covert Act which requires a certain number of petitioners, and Mr. Harrington states that a large number of signers have been secured.

Under this act the property owners along the highway together with those north and south for a considerable distance back from the road pay for the road proportionately according to the benefits they receive.

Of course this will have nothing to do whatever with the improvement that is to be made on Macatawa drive from the ice houses to the east and Central Park to the West, which is to be resurfaced with an asphalt top, before the resort season opens next year.

It will mean however that Holland is to have two good highways to the resorts, and we are to be congratulated.

A survey has also been made to extend the road at Macatawa Park through that resort to the government pier, a road that has been under dispute for years. Road Commissioner Austin Harrington however contends that it is a public highway and a contemplated road will be shoved thru to the channel.

William Vander Belden of Holland has purchased the Van Norman lunch room on North 7th St. Grand Haven, immediately in the rear of the Grand Haven State Bank branch. Mr. Vander Belden's purchase included not only the restaurant business but the real estate too. He is conducting the place as a strictly up-to-date restaurant and is making a specialty of oysters both over the counter and retail.

WILL HOLLAND LOSE INTERURBAN CAR LINE?

THAT QUESTION IS SUGGESTED IN A LETTER FROM THE GENERAL MANAGER

That the Holland Interurban is not meeting operating expenses, just at present and that Holland may, "with in a short time be deprived of an interurban road"—these are two startling statements made in a letter written by J. F. Collins of Jackson, vice-president and general manager of the road, to City Attorney C. H. McBride, Mr. McBride, on behalf of the common council, had written to Mr. Collins asking him to place steel or iron poles on River avenue similar to those on Eighth street. This was made necessary because the big wooden poles of the telephone company are to be removed as a result of the consolidation and the city was anxious to improve the appearance of that street by having the interurban company substitute neat steel poles to carry their wires. And incidentally, while discussing this subject, Mr. Collins went into the troubles of the road as follows:

"Where the money is coming from for this expenditure is a problem, as the Holland road is not meeting operating expenses. Furthermore, a great deal of passenger business is going by bus between Holland and Grand Rapids, and we lost practically all the freight business out of Holland for Grand Rapids. It seems that within a short time, if the earnings continue as they have, that our patrons at Holland will be deprived of an interurban road. I am taking for granted that you are interested in knowing the true condition of our property, inasmuch as you are city attorney of Holland. The fly-by-night buses, freight motor truck operation, good roads and the development of automobiles have all put this interurban division in a bad way to make improvement. I hope, however, that something may be worked out satisfactorily to all concerned to take care of the trolley wire supports on River avenue."

Later Mr. McBride received word that the steel poles would be placed within the next thirty days.

MAKES ANOTHER PLEA FOR LIGHT ON 32ND STREET

HERMAN DE NEUT PROVIDES SOME INTERESTING FIREWORKS AT COUNCIL SESSION

Herman De Neut, a resident of 32nd street, appeared before the common council Wednesday night to make a plea for electric lights for three residences on that street. This question has been before the council for some months, and a few weeks ago the aldermen, by a unanimous vote, decided to stand back of the board of public works in the conditions that board imposed for the extension of the lines to those houses. The board takes the position that the current used in the three houses will not be enough to begin to pay for the extension and that there is little prospect of making the extension pay for itself. Hence it is asking the three property owners to pay for the extension in accordance with a usual policy of not making extensions that do not pay for themselves.

Mr. DeNeut charged Wednesday night that the board had made other extensions to others that did not pay for themselves. He charged that Mayor Stephan had promised him early in the summer, "Mr. DeNeut, if you just keep your shirt on I'll see to it that you get the service; sure, you're entitled to this service," but that the mayor had not lived up to his word. There was also a direct question of veracity between the mayor and Mr. De Neut. Some weeks ago Mr. Stephan reported to the council that Mr. DeNeut had promised to meet with the board of public works and had failed to do so. Wednesday night Mr. DeNeut said that he had not made any such promise to the mayor. Mayor Stephan was absent and so the question could not be solved as to who was right and who was wrong.

Mr. Ne Neut also read a part of a letter from W. W. Potter, of the state public utilities commission, to whom he had appealed, in which Mr. Potter advised him that if it was a business institution he wished service for he should move to a more progressive city. Mr. De Neut read from newspaper clippings giving accounts of the council meetings at which this question came up before and took exception to a number of the statements made.

He insisted on getting action from the council and wanted it right away. The aldermen however took the position that since the mayor, who had been handling this matter as a committee of one, was absent, it would be unfair to settle the questions. Ald. Leapple moved that consideration of Mr. De Neut's appeal be postponed until the mayor could be present, and this was passed by a unanimous vote.

LEGION EXPRESSES APPRECIATION TO COMMON COUNCIL

The American Legion Wednesday night expressed its appreciation to the common council for the use of the city hall for Legion meetings. In a letter to the mayor and aldermen, Adjutant Benj. Lieveuse said: "We now have a meeting place and club rooms of our own which we hope to make permanent, but we do not want to leave our former headquarters in the city hall without first expressing to you our sincere appreciation for the kindness and courtesies shown us by the mayor and common council as representatives of the citizens of Holland."

"You placed at our disposal, when we needed it, a fine room which helped us very materially in getting organized and functioning, and we thank you for it, and it is our hope that we may be called upon to be of real service by the representatives of the people that have so helped us."

C. S. DUTTON TELLS OF THE BIG FIRE AT BERKELEY

Charles S. Dutton, former citizen of Holland, has contributed the following first hand account of the fire at Berkeley, California, of which city Mr. Dutton is now a resident:

Editor, Dear Sir:—

Thinking your readers might be interested in a first-hand account of the fire which has caused a $10,000,000 loss in Berkeley, I am writing this brief review.

A terrific wind, a most unusual thing in Berkeley, began Sunday evening and blew all day Monday, the day of the fire, which started in a blaze of dry grass, on the east side of the hills. Fanned by the fierce wind, it swept over the crest of the hills in a westerly direction finding in its path, wooden houses, with shingle roofs, all dry as tinder from the long rainless summer. Owing to the contour of the hills, one house rose above another, so that the roofs all caught first, from the blazing houses above; and in less than two hours from the time the fire swept over the hills, fifty blocks of one of Berkeley's finest residence districts, were laid in waste.

Fire companies from five or six neighboring cities worked heroically with the Berkeley department, to get the flames under control; but owing to conditions, it seemed a hopeless task, and it began to look as if the Berkeley and its neighbors, Oakland to the south were both doomed. Then came a change, which all Christian people here regarded as a miracle of God's providence and goodness. The wind suddenly died down, and changed its course, just as the firemen were making a desperate stand at Hearst Ave., which marks the northern boundary of the University campus, and also of the congested business district. And here the fire was stopped at the corner of Hearst avenue, and Shattuck Ave., a wide street which is the dividing line between the east and west parts of the city. No building or tree on the campus was damaged; but scores of professors' homes, and frat houses to the north were destroyed. Many of the professors, including the venerable president emeritus, Benjamin Ide Wheeler, lost their valuable libraries and manuscripts of books in preparation for the press.

Everyone in our neighborhood, as in many others in the path of the flames, had their valuables packed ready to leave at a moment's notice, but at 6 p. m. calm settled over the stricken city and a great thankfulness was felt that God had intervened to spare the rest of the city.

So far as is known, no loss of life occurred. More than a thousand students, a large proportion of them working their way through the U. of C., were rendered homeless. Provision for them and for the other refugees is being made in homes that were spared.

Last Sunday according to the papers, the population of Berkeley for the day, was the largest of any city on the coast, from the crowds which came to see the ruins. It took the combined police forces of three cities to direct auto traffic.

Yours truly,

Charles S. Dutton.

CARRIER RESIGNS CAUSING VACANCY AT POSTOFFICE

William H. Vande Water, city mail carrier No. 10, has resigned his position to take up work at the Western State Normal School at Kalamazoo. John P. Smith, substitute carrier No. 1 has been appointed to take his place. This caused a promotion in all the substitutes leaving one vacancy. On October 19th an examination will be held at the local postoffice to fill that vacancy. All those interested may secure necessary information at the local postoffice.

GRAND HAVEN TO RESTORE GRAVE OF A HERO

In a tangled, forgotten corner of Lake Forest cemetery, Grand Haven, a small white shaft rises above the wild growth of tall grass and sprigs of golden rod. The shaft leans, about 40 feet, and the wooden posts which at one time marked off the little plot long ago, gave way.

In this tangled spot lie the remains of a hero whose deed is told by the simple inscription on the marker. It reads:

"Erected by the citizens of Grand Haven to the memory of Thomas Coffey, who lost his life by the capsizing of his lifeboat while trying to rescue the crew of the schooner J. H. Wharton, wrecked on Grand Haven bar, September 25, 1837."

Although the deed is long forgotten by Grand Haven citizens, steps are being taken today to obtain funds from public subscription to furnish perpetual care for the grave and once more place the marker erect.

The Grand Haven football eleven simply crushed the Fremont team at Grand Haven with a 61-0 score. More than 2,000 attended the game, many coming from Fremont.

SURPRISES FATHER AFTER ABSENCE OF 18 YEARS

John De Boer, Jr., of Colorado Springs, surprised his father, John De Boer of this city, by suddenly arriving home for a visit after an absence of 18 years. Mr. De Boer was born in Holland and spent his boyhood here but left for the west 18 years ago. He is spending a few days here on a visit.

One of these mornings we will wake up shivering and think regretfully that winter with its coal and snow shoveling will soon be here. But the small boys and girls of Holland will say "Goody, it's cold, soon it will be Christmas." However there are a few boys and girls in Holland who have no toys or Christmas feasts to anticipate. The Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has for several years given a Christmas supper to the children that Miss Churchford had selected from the city mission.

The year before last the number of children was limited but last year Miss Churchford was told to bring all that she wished and over 200 children were fed and entertained and it was a pleasant sight to see the children eat. In order to provide the funds with which to do this again this year the society is putting on a movie, "Crimson and Romance," at the Colonial, October 8 and 9. Remember your patronage will help give some youngster his or her Christmas supper.

LOCAL PUPILS ASKED TO JOIN IN ESSAY CONTEST

Pupils in the schools of Holland and the surrounding community are being invited by the Michigan Historical Commission to take part in an essay contest on the subject, "Adventures of the Pioneers."

In view of the fact that there is a great deal of interest locally in the story of the pioneers who founded the settlements in Western Michigan, there is a good chance for students in local schools to take a part in this contest. There are still many persons living who can give personal accounts of those early adventures, and the boys and girls of today have an opportunity to apply to them and get first-hand information for their essays.

The contest is open to all students of all the schools of Michigan. It is pointed out by the Historical Commission that the pupils in the smaller schools do not need to feel afraid to try for the prizes as in the past the contests have often been won by pupils in the smaller schools.

The announcement is signed by Thomas E. Johnson, state superintendent of public instruction; George N. Fuller, secretary of the Michigan Historical Commission; Mrs. Dorian Russell, president of the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs; and Mrs. Victor L. Seydel, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The contest will be conducted jointly in each community by the superintendent of schools, the regent of the D. A. R. Chapter, the president of the Woman's Club, and the secretary of the Civic or Business Association, or by any one of them, who shall also judge the essays.

First and second prizes will be given in two groups, to students in the Grades, in the High school. The local committee will determine the local prize to be awarded.

The judges should forward the prize essays to the Michigan Historical Commission on or before April 30, 1924 when they will be examined by the state committee. The essays selected by the state committee will be published by the Michigan Historical Commission.

The essays may be as long as the student desires but not less than 500 words. All essays must be typewritten. Pictures illustrating the essays should be included if possible.

ZEELAND LEGION NAMES CANDIDATES FOR ELECTION

The American Legion Post at Zeeland has nominated the following candidates for the annual election of officers which will be held next week. Commander, M. Barmore, G. J. Van Hoven; vice commanders, Henry Holsteg, Henry Boes Russell, Van Dyke, Simon Elhart; adjutant, Edward De Herder; Jack Boonstra, finance officer; Nelson Boonstra, Anthony Mulder; director, Cornelius Schermer, Jack De Jonge; chaplain, George Meene, David Van Ommen; sergeant, G. Mast, Albert Marling; mess sergeant, John Van Loo, John Berghorst.

PIONEER DIES AT AGE OF 91 IN NORTH HOLLAND

Mrs. J. G. Van Dyke, aged 91 years, died at her home in North Holland Friday evening, and with her passing this community loses one of its oldest residents. She was born in the Netherlands and came to America with her parents in 1847, the year when the settlement was founded here by Dr. A. C. Van Raalte. The family came to Holland to live and were among the earliest settlers.

In 1863 she was united in marriage to Jacob G. Van Dyke, who died 31 years ago. Most of Mrs. Van Dyke's life was spent in North Holland. She is survived by three children: Mrs. Henry Pelgrim of Holland; Jacob Van Dyke and Mrs. J. W. Bosman of North Holland; two brothers, Sybille Stegenga, 90 years old, and Ale P. Stegenga, 81 years old.

The funeral was held on Tuesday at 1 o'clock at the home and at 1:30 at the Reformed church at North Holland.

HOLLAND MAID PRIZE AWARDED IN LETTER WRITING CONTEST

No doubt many people noticed in passing the Holland Maid booth at the Fair, their offer to boys and girls under 14, of a liberal prize for the best letter giving the writer's idea of why "Holland Maid" is a good name for high grade electric washing machines and ironing machines.

Out of the numerous replies received, all excellent considering the ages of the participants in this contest, the following have been selected by the judges as entitled to first and second prizes: 1st prize, Jeane Genevieve, R. R. 1 1/2; 2nd prize, Geneva Dogger, 650 Lincoln Ave. 3/5; honorable mention, Bernada Blocker, 526 Central Ave.

The committee says it is noteworthy that out of all the replies received, none were from boys. Evidently the boys' interest in Holland maids is not as well developed as it possibly will be later.

POOR OUTSIDE ADVERTISING FOR A STARTER—BUT OTHER GAMES ARE COMING

Grand Rapids Herald—Rockford surprised the Michigan football world by scoring a 6-0 victory over Holland high Saturday. Holland accepted the game merely for a practice tilt, but as soon as the referee's whistle blew found they were in a real battle. They were unable to score while Rockford counted its winning touchdown in the second quarter when Wilkenson ran 75 yards to the goal after recovering a fumble.

L. T. Schaddelee has opened a new grocery store Saturday morning at 394 Pine avenue. His phone number will be 2321.

Zeeland was swamped by the Otsego high football team the score being 34 to 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oosting of near Paw Paw, were Holland visitors Sunday, driving here in their car.

WARNINGS ARE ISSUED FIRST FIRE LIGHTERS

Although these September days are more like those we should have had in August the time will soon be here when fires will have to be kindled. A few words of advice from the Fire Chief will not be out of place just now.

The early fire builders of this city and also those who would prepare to build their winter fires in safety are given a little sound reasoning in regard to getting ready for the cold chill.

As a rule the first cold weather is accompanied by an avalanche of small fires and still alarms which keep the department on the run from daylight to darkness. Aside from wearing out tires on the fire truck and burning the city's gasoline, they often inflict loss upon the person having the fire. Fires of this kind sometimes result in serious consequences.

In preparing for the winter, says the chief, chimneys should be thoroughly gone over in a search for loose mortar and bricks. If the chimney is in need of it, a cleaning will also give added protection against the "burning out" and the fires which sometimes follow when a part of the chimney is defective.

Stove pipes are often a source of trouble during the winter season, especially when soft coal is burned, the pipe is coated with carbon which causes it to corrode during the summer. Small holes appear in the pipe and when the first fire is lighted it usually ignites material not intended for burning.

Live coals these days have a tendency to be drawn up the chimney because of certain coal used, and fall over the edge upon the roof. This makes it dangerous where wooden shingles are still found. With asphalt shingles there is no danger from these coals. However all of the roof fires can be traced to homes still having the old wood shingles.

PAPER PATS THE HOLLAND CHIEF ON THE BACK

In an editorial entitled "Drastic Methods" the Grand Haven Tribune commends Chief of Police Van Ry of Holland for his treatment of offenders against the traffic laws. The editorial says in part:

"Chief of Police Van Ry of Holland has taken drastic measures toward the punishment of a motor driver in Holland who ran down a young woman at a street intersection and injured her severely. It is charged that the driver, who was piloting an ice wagon turned the corner in a careless manner and trapped a girl who was trying to get across. Besides paying a stiff fine for his lapse the driver is likely to lose his driver's license. Application has been made to the secretary of state for revocation of the license by the chief. It was announced some time ago that such action would be taken in case of similar driving."

"Chief Van Ry's stand is right. If the driver in question is guilty of reckless driving, he should be subjected to harsh treatment. Any person who drives without consideration for the safety of others deserves to be barred from the roads as a menace. Fast driving thru the city streets is dangerous to public safety, and it calls for punishment. That must be admitted. It is true that the fast driver is not always a reckless driver but reckless drivers are usually fast drivers. That is the unfortunate part of it. Sometimes it is difficult to discriminate as to the various degrees of recklessness. The safest course for the driver of automobiles is to watch the speedometers and drive at moderate speeds through the city streets, slowing down at intersections to protect the lives of any persons who may be crossing."

MANY NOTED S. S. WORKERS ARE TO BE HERE

The program for the Ottawa County Sunday School convention that is to be held in Holland on October 3 and 10 has been completed. In the list of speakers are included some men who usually are found only at programs of state conventions, and one feature of the convention will be a pageant, "Search for Light," in which 165 characters will take part. This is said to be the biggest pageant ever attempted in this part of the state.

The morning and afternoon sessions of the convention will be held in Trinity Reformed church and the evening sessions in Carnegie Hall. The program will consist of many conferences and round table discussions, as well as reports of work done and plans for work to come. The addresses will include the following: Tuesday—Welcome by Rev. C. P. Dame; response by J. C. Lehman, first vice president of the Ottawa association; address, "Our Debt to Childhood" by Rev. George Goris; "The Bible School and Its Educational Program for Tomorrow," by Rev. Wm. Samuel Hess, D. D.; "Leadership for the Task," by Rev. J. C. Willis, D. D.; pageant, "Search for Light," in charge of Miss Henrietta Waghuis.

Wednesday—Ten minute papers: "The Pastor and His Place of Privilege in the Church School," David Damstra; "The Superintendent: An Honor or a Responsibility," Rev. J. C. De Vinney; "Making the Secretaryship Count," J. C. Lehman; "The Monthly Workers' Council: Its Value and Its Program," Wm. Westover; address, "A Great Task and a Great Field," E. K. Mohr; address, "The Personal Devotional Life of the Church School Teacher or Worker," Rev. J. W. Ghysele; address, "The Educational Task of the Church," Rev. S. C. Nettinga, D. D.; address, "Youth and the Church," Rev. M. E. Anderson, D. D.

A large number of local and county workers will take part in the various conferences during the two days of the convention and the programs will be filled with interesting events.

PROGRESS MADE ON HOLLAND'S NEW DEPOT

The committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to handle Holland's new depot project with President Alfred of the Pere Marquette road has been working diligently into the problem.

Several telegrams were sent Mr. Alfred asking for a meeting in Grand Rapids and also in Detroit.

Mr. Alfred turned down these invitations but further wires brought a promise that he would be in Holland with his inspection train in a few weeks and the whole matter would be gone over.

No doubt the committee will have plenty of data on hand telling the reasons why Holland is entitled to a decent place as a passenger station, at the head of Holland's main street.

First impressions of a town to the strangers are lasting impressions, and surely to have strangers introduced to this city through a ramshackle, ill-smelling depot, virtually the portal to the town, isn't very reassuring.

The committee appointed to take up the new depot project are: Mayor E. P. Stephan, G. J. Diekmann, A. H. Landwehr, Arthur Vischer and Con De Pree.

COURT UPHOLDS COMPULSORY VACCINATION

The state supreme court ruled Monday that the local health boards have the power to require school children to be vaccinated when there is danger of an epidemic of small pox. This decision is of great interest to Holland just now.

The decision settled a controversy between the Lansing health board and the board of education. Last winter the health board issued an order that all children must be vaccinated. The board of health issued a writ of mandamus in the circuit court to compel the health board to comply with the order. The board of education appealed.

In its ruling Monday the supreme court held that when small pox is threatening a community the health board under the authority of act 5081 (compiled statutes of 1915) has the necessary power to take steps to prevent the spread of the disease. There were 17 cases of small pox when the Lansing health board issued its order, the opinion said. The Lansing case was contrary to a Kalamazoo case which was cited the opinion declared, because there were no cases of small pox there. In the Kalamazoo case it was decided that the health board could not require vaccination when there was no danger from small pox.

Justices Moore, Bird and Sharpe dissented from the majority opinion. They held that the legislature has never given health boards the power to compel vaccination.

"It may be of interest," their opinion said, "that the president of the Lansing school board is a leading physician."

a number of speakers and musicians from out of the city.

The main part of the program on Monday night was filled with a reading of the play, "Enter Madame," written by Gilda Varese and read by Miss Mildred Tanis, of the department of expression of the Western State Normal School. Miss Tanis has appeared in Holland before and she was given an enthusiastic reception by those who had heard her. And long before she was through all the members of the Century club were just as enthusiastic as those who had previously heard her read. Her characterization of Madame Lisa Della Robia of the play was delightful and she seemed to live the part. All the other characters were also well portrayed and Miss Tanis established herself in the affections of the Century club members as one of the finest readers in Western Michigan.

Mrs. J. E. Telling delightfully sang a number of solos during the evening, accompanied by Mrs. Martha Robbins.

Miss Katherine Post and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. K. Van Raalte were elected as members of the club.

ANOTHER MAN'S DRIVING LICENSE IS REVOKED

Carl Buchanan was arrested for reckless driving on River avenue. On Thursday night he was going at such a tremendous speed that Mat Witvliet living on River avenue could not get out of his way in time, and was slightly injured.

The man then jumped the curb ran into a wooden guide wire pole belonging to the city and broke it off at the base. The fall of the large timber just grazed Jacob VanPutten, sr., living on South River avenue who would have been instantly killed and he been on the spot a fraction of a second later.

Buchanan was arraigned before Justice Den Herder, where he pleaded guilty to reckless driving and he was fined $20.20 to which was added a cost of $20.

The wreck will cost Buchanan a pretty penny after he gets his car repaired, and after this is done, some one else will have to drive it, for Buchanan's license is going to be revoked.

Chief Van Ry is following an excellent policy in the revocation of all licenses where reckless driving and drunkenness while driving, has been charged.

Nothing will make an auto driver come to time quicker than knowing that possibly the privilege of driving his auto will be taken away.

A man who has driven a car once finds it impossible to get along without one. A motorist simply feels lost without his "buzz wagon," consequently the punishment is more severe than the fine would be.

WAR Foe WHO SPOKE HERE A "NATION" WRITER

In this week's issue of the New York Nation appears an interesting article on the subject, "Selling Us Another War." The article is of local interest because it was written by Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for the Prevention of War. Mr. Libby came to Holland a few months ago and gave one of the most eloquent addresses ever heard here on the prevention of war at a meeting of a large number of citizens held at the home of Mrs. G. E. Kollen. He is one of the best informed men in America on this subject and he made a very strong impression here. The Nation article this week is made up of information Mr. Libby has collected on the subject since his appearance here.

TWO LADS FROM CHICAGO PICKED UP BY POLICE

Officers Steketee and Zweeringa picked up two young boys found on a "blind baggage" of the Pere Marquette Thursday night, and when questioned, the lads stated that they had run away from home, and that they lived in Chicago.

They stated that they wanted to see Michigan, having heard so much regarding it. The boys are George Kendall, 13 years old and a brother Sam Kendall, 15 years old.

Chief Van Ry notified the parents and in the meantime had them confined in the detention room at the city hall.

KLAN SPEAKS IN SHADOW OF Mc KIN- LEY MONUMENT

Within the shadow of a statue of President William McKinley at Muskegon, a klansman stood Thursday night and addressed a throng of 8,000 curious Muskegon people.

For an hour this gathering of citizens stood, close together about the stone pedestal which forms the base about the statue on the west of the Hackley grade school building. They heard an explanation of the creed and purpose of the Klan, and many applauded as if they approved.

Just who the speaker was could not be learned, altho he admitted his name was Claude Lewis and he came from Detroit to substitute for the speaker who was scheduled to deliver the address. Newspaper men pressed him for information about himself but he refused to tell what his business is in Detroit, and only divulged his name by accident.

There was no one accompanying the speaker to identify him with any Muskegon citizens. He merely mounted a large dry goods box, called for quiet and asked his audience to join in repeating the Lord's prayer. He then called for one verse of "America" by the crowd and proceeded with his talk.

In answer to a question from the audience as to why klansmen wear a mask, the speaker said:

"It is our purpose and sworn promise to help authorities enforce the law. If we unmask and declare to the world that we are klansmen we immediately tell the bootlegger, the political grafter and all other lawbreakers that we are watching them and they better watch out. If nobody knows whether or not his neighbor is a klansman we are able to help authorities, land the lawbreakers."

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE WERE WED- DED SATURDAY

At a quiet wedding at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Meyer, Miss Marguerite Anna Meyer was given in marriage by her father, to Mr. Peter Nicholas Prins, son of Mrs. Teunis Prins of this city. Before an altar of banked cosmos and sweet alyssum the service was read by the Rev. James A. Martin of the Third Reformed church, at six o'clock, Saturday, September 29th.

The bride was gowned in white frosted crepe and lace, and her bridegroom wore a suit of silver and silver. She carried a showy bouquet of bride's roses and anthurus. She was attended by her sister, Miss Helene Meyer, who wore a gown of orchid canton trimmed with silver and carried primroses and Lutton Chrysanthemums. The groom was attended by Mr. Cornelius Dosker of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Harris Meyer sang beautifully before the service. "Beloved, it is morn," by Aylward. She was accompanied by her husband, Mr. Harris Meyer. Miss Nella Meyer played Lohengrin's Wedding March as the bridal party descended the stairs. Dr. and Mrs. Rudolph H. Nichols of this city acted as Master and Mistress of ceremonies.

Out-of-town guests were: Miss Ruth Blekkink of Ypsilanti, Mr. Cornelius Dosker of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Meyer of Kalamazoo, Mrs. W. D. Clock and daughter Anne of Otsego, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warnshuis of Allegan, Miss Helen Bell of Grand Haven, Mrs. Raymond Lubbers of Sheboygan, Rev. and Mrs. T. VanWestenberg of New York, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Elferink of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Prins will be at home after November 1st at 18 East 16th Street, Holland.

William M. Connelly of the Ottawa County road commission, Grand Haven, has informed the Grand Rapids Association of Commerce that provision has been made in the budget for that county's share of the highway construction between Grand Rapids and Holland in Ottawa county paralleling the Pere Marquette railway and eight miles from Hudsonville to Zeeland is on the state program. This is the Grand Rapids to Chicago highway.

HOME WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED FRIDAY

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lage 136 West 11th street, when their son Lyman S. Lage was united in marriage to Miss Katherine Brown. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few friends. The bride was beautifully dressed in a traveling gown of brown tulle. She was attended by Miss Mable Lage, and the groom was attended by Mr. Milton Hinga. Rev. P. P. Coffer, pastor of Hope church, performed the ceremony. The young couple left on an automobile tour through the west, on their return they will make their home in Holland.

George Getz and Fred Pantlind, both interested in Ottawa Beach hotel have made known that the company who conduct affairs across the bay would possibly have a small ferry running next year for the purpose of accommodating such motorists as wish to resort at Ottawa Beach.

The ferry will accommodate four automobiles at one time and a regular charge will be made for the transportation.

It is stated that Ottawa Beach loses several tourists for the reason that a 12-mile drive has to be made around the bay before Ottawa Beach hotel can be reached while the hotel is right in sight of tourists cut off by a small body of water of only a few hundred feet, and when tourists have made the trip through Holland, they often go on by Alpena road further north, rather than taking the circuitous route to Ottawa Beach.

Mr. Getz stated that it wasn't the intention to divert the travel away from Holland for this would be impossible and would require any number of ferries to handle so many cars.

The ferry is only intended to accommodate such motorists as wish to go to Ottawa Beach quickly and these motorists naturally will have to pay for the accommodation. Most tourists will prefer the beautiful ride around the lake, for that is just what they are touring for, and the 12 mile drive presents beautiful scenery to those who have not made the trip before.

Rev. H. Tuls formerly of Holland preached his farewell sermon as the pastor of the Christian Reformed church at Zutphen next Sunday. Mr. Tuls recently was voted emeritus by the Zeeland classis on account of ill-health.

KLAN ADDRESSES CIRCULAR TO OTTAWA COUNTY

A printed circular was distributed in Holland Monday, headed, "To the Citizens of Ottawa County," and signed, "An Ottawa County Klansman."

It sets forth the alleged aims of the Ku Klux Klan and makes the curious boast that "a Klansman, even though he be humble in the affairs of this world, is a better citizen than any man who is not a Klansman, regardless of his high estate." It is because of this boast that Klansmen have won the nick-name of "Holler-than-Thous."

In the last paragraph of the circular the anonymous writer says: "They say we are an unlawful group who do not dare show our faces. They are unaware that we are among them daily and that our influence is felt in every act of the community." Yet in the face of this statement the writer does not seem to have the courage to sign his own name to the document; but hides under the title of "An Ottawa County Klansman."

Probably the funniest thing in the whole rignarole is a description of the solemn oath that a Klansman is required to take. Here it is:

"Three times on his bended knee, with his right hand raised to high Heaven, and his left hand placed over his heart; in the presence of a sacred altar; over the top of that altar was spread the American flag, and on top of the American flag was laid the Holy Bible, open at the twelfth chapter of Romans; near by the 'fery

The total income of the West Michigan State Fair for this year was $42,970; the total expense, including premiums, $41,734. This leaves $1,186 on the credit side of the ledger, according to figures available at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Vandenberg and Mr. and Mrs. Vaudie Vandenberg, left Monday noon on a motor trip to Chicago. The oil men are attending a convention of the American Oil Men's association with headquarters at Congress Hotel, Chicago.

With the 56 additions recently made, there is now a total of 800 members on the U. of M. faculty, or even more than the number of foot ball coaches.

A few days ago two runaway boys from Chicago were found by the local police on the blind baggage of a Pere Marquette train. When they were arrested they gave their names as Kendall brothers. It later turned out that one was Rex Henderson, and the other Sam Castro. The police in Chicago were notified that the boys were being held, and the parents sent money for their return. The boys stated that the reason they ran away was because they had had trouble in school.

Claims that many summer resorts have been driven away from Black Lake because of the pollution of its waters have caused many prospective autumn campers to skirt its shores and seek camping grounds elsewhere. At present the shores of the lake, which are about six miles long, are lined with cottages and hotels—Grand Rapids Herald. The above statement is far-fetched. Nothing like this has happened up to this time. However the item simply goes to show what might happen if conditions continue as they are, indefinitely. Steps no doubt will be taken in the near future to change all this.

The Spring Lake Laundry car backed into the Holland bus about 2:30 Thursday afternoon, striking the bus in the side and breaking the arm of George Ray of 30 Apple St., Muskegon. Mr. Ray was a passenger in the bus and he was riding in the right-hand side with his arm on the sill. He was taken to a Grand Haven physician for treatment. The laundry car was driven by a Mr. Williams of Spring Lake.

County Surveyor Carl Bowen was in Holland Saturday on road business. Mr. Bowen says that contractors are now busy widening the last stretch of concrete between this city and the county seat.

Many of the weather prophets have been predicting an early winter during our cold August, giving all kinds of proof from animal furs to goose quills. An early winter would be practically impossible for the reason that October is already ushered in. Thus far this vicinity has had little or no frost, and with an earth that is thoroughly warm and a Lake Michigan also with a high temperature, it will take nature a few weeks at the least to cool off and an early winter practically seems out of the question.

Electric signs are becoming quite numerous in Holland and since the advent of boulevard lights nearly two years ago, many electric signs have been added. The transformation of 8th street and River avenue to the strangers appears complete. Two years ago passengers from the P. M. train had to hunt for the business center, but today there is no mistaking it. The large Model Drug sign has already been mentioned, but the latest electric sign can be found diagonally across the street at the Haan Drug store. We understand there are several more to follow before Christmas time.

Rev. Ralph Bloemendaal, a graduate of Hope college and the seminary, who was recently forced to resign a pastorate of the Reformed church at North Blendon on account of throat trouble, was presented with a purse of money before leaving for Florida. He was voted emeritus by the Holland classis.

Mrs. Ray Hoek, Mrs. Thomas Marisje and Mrs. Albert Rickerling were guests at a bridge party given by Mrs. Elmer J. Hoek and Miss Cornelia Boer at their home on Washington street, Grand Haven. There were twenty-four guests present including Mrs. Edward Nyland of Detroit and Mrs. Charles Phillips of London, Eng. The Grand Haven Tribune states "the loveliest roses imaginable" were used in abundance to give a touch of color and gaiety to the party.

A few days ago several lads were taken for stealing cider from the Holland Canning Co. Now several complaints have been coming in for several farmers who have been missing stuff. Klaas Vandenberg has made a complaint to chief Van Ry telling him how youngsters have been raiding his cabbage patch. The trespassers are boys between 7 and 11 years old. Their identity was discovered when one of them was chased and caught. The boys, it is alleged, make a practice of taking cabbages, hiding them in a camp on the river bank and peddling them when out of school. The chief is giving the lads a personal hearing following it up with a thorough lecture.

Vyn Bros. of Grand Haven let a contract for a $10,000 warehouse since they have started in the long distance truck hauling.

A short time ago the Ottawa Beach Postmaster and his clerks thought a baby had been boxed up and mailed to the popular summer resort. It proved to be a mechanical doll and now William Dekker, a Holland mail carrier, has a similar experience. Mr. Dekker took a package from a mail box and placed it in his machine. Presently he heard a screeching noise and he stopped his machine thinking he had run over a cat but no cat was to be seen after he had stepped out on the road. A little later when the machine tipped sideways the noise was repeated and again Dekker alighted but found no semblance of a cat. He finally handled the package and as he replaced it in the machine he was surprised to find a mama doll had created all the mischief.

Dr. E. D. Dinnett returned from New York Saturday where he attended to some Hope College matters and also took in the Bankers' convention held at Atlantic City.

The Allegan county circuit court preliminary session, was held with Judge Orlan S. Cross opening the session. The jury will not report until next Monday. One of the big cases to come up is the one of Frank Rill of Chicago who is held in the drowning of Miss Irma Orga when a canoe was capsized near Saugatuck on the Kalamazoo river. The case will prove to be a sensational affair judging from the testimony in the examination.

On the Zeeland road near Holland a broken and battered motorcycle might have been seen all day Monday. This was the outcome of a collision between a Lee Stennet of Pullman, Allegan county, who drove the motorcycle and Benj. Lemmen 23rd St. of Holland who was driving a sedan. The accident took place late Sunday night and Stennet was rushed to the Holland Hospital in an unconscious condition. He is doing nicely however and will soon be discharged. The Lemmen sedan was also badly wrecked.

The people of Jamestown have collected $300 for the earthquake sufferers in Japan. This sum has been sent to the Ottawa County Red Cross.

A concert and community sing led by a chorus of 40 voices is being planned at Pennville. Old familiar songs will be used and the audience will be asked to join in the singing.

The junior class of Western Theological seminary held its first outing of the year Monday night at Macatawa Park.

Miss Gertrude Verhey who recently was run over by a Superior Ice Co. truck is improving nicely. An x-ray was taken and it was found that everything was very satisfactory, and Miss Verhey will be out again within a month.

It is cleanup and paint up week for at least three business houses in one row. The Spritsma Hardware, J. J. Rutgers Clothing Co., and Meyers Music House are all busy painting and decorating and John Rutgers will embellish his store front with a large new electric sign.

Royal Neighbors are requested to meet Saturday morning at 8:15 in the Woodman hall to attend the convention at Bailey, Michigan.

The Busy Men's club will open its fall meeting for athletic recreation beginning Monday night at the Holland High school gym. The first session will be at 5 o'clock and the second session at 7 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

The R. N. A. of Bailey, Michigan have extended an invitation to the R. N. A. of Holland to attend their convention on Saturday, Oct. 6. Bus leaves at 8:30 a. m.

James Serguson of London, Ont., who was bitten by a rattlesnake while playing with it at the Holland fair three weeks ago is improving slowly. He was bitten on the middle finger of the left hand. It is stated this finger bitten may be useless in the future.

The afternoon session consisted of the following: Devotions, "The Spirit and the Conference," by Rev. James Wayer of Holland; Resume of the morning session by Rev. H. Maassen; address, "The Congregation in Relation to Itself," by Dr. S. C. Nettinga; address, "The Congregation in Relation to Its Pastor and Consistory," by Mr. E. W. Jager; address, "The Congregation in Relation to Its Immediate Community," by Dr. M. C. Pearson.

This evening's session will open with a song service led by Dr. J. B. Nykerk. An address, "The Challenge of the Hour," will be given by Dr. M. C. Pearson executive, secretary of the Detroit Council of Churches.

In the Grand Haven Tribune columns of 25 years ago, the following two items appear:—Charles Christman custodian of the court house and John Rutgers, register of deeds, were attending the Holland fair. A marriage license had been issued to G. Harley Souter of Holland and Lizzie Munn of Grand Haven.

Rev. Bruggers of the Sixth Reformed church has a unique way of letting parishioners know relative to social doings in his congregation. On his mimeograph he prints a few handbills telling all about the doings. On the latest handbill he has a large blackboard pictured telling of a social event on October 8 at 7:30. He tells of the get-together meeting on the evening of that day for the purpose of getting better acquainted. The mimeograph invitation also contains a picture of a plate of buns and a well filled cup of coffee, indicating that refreshments will also be a part of the evening's program. The announcement simply radiates welcome to the new church on Lincoln avenue.

Coach Hinga absolutely forbids smoking in his squad. Holland High's mentor noticed two players smoking and then he lined up his men, looked for tinted fingers and after a lecture he gave them, about the harm of cigarette smoking to an athletic man, ten of the boys confessed that they had been "hitting the pipe." The coach stated that there would be no smoking in the squad or there would be no squad. The boys all promised to refrain from smoking cigarettes in the future.

The Friesian society will meet this evening in Odd Fellows Hall. All are cordially welcome.

Miss Grace Andre is visiting relatives at North Muskegon.

The music at the County Sunday School convention will be one of the big features. The selections to be sung have never been heard at any county or state convention. These selections will be rendered by about 75 of Holland's leading solo voices.

They will include—"The Hallelujah Chorus," "Infernetus," to be sung by Mrs. J. E. Telling and chorus; "The Heavens are telling," to be sung by Mrs. R. M. Waltz, Mr. Gerrit TerBeek, Mr. John TerVree and chorus; "Hark, Hark, my Soul," Miss Mabel Anthony; Mrs. D. B. K. Van Raalte, Jr. and chorus; and "Mozart's Twelfth Mass," This song service will be given from 7 to 7:30 on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at Carnegie hall.

Miss Susannah Hamelink organist at Trinity church will be the accompanist.

Joe White escaped what might have been a serious accident when a front wheel came off his taxi and rolled toward the curb, causing the axle to strike the brick pavement. The machine turned and came to a stop across the interurban railway tracks but did not tip over. White had just started his machine which was moving very slowly, when the accident occurred.

The two men injured near Montague Monday on the Pere Marquette train due in Holland at noon from Pentwater were Joe Victor from this city, who jumped and sprained his ankle. The engineer, Delbert Draggio of Holland stayed in his cab until the engine came to rest practically on its side. No doubt Victor's jumping saved his life, for he was on the tipped over side of the engine nearest the ground.

Louis Frank, the nine months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Miles died Tuesday at his parents' home at 38 East 18th street. The funeral will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. C. DeVinney, pastor of the Methodist church officiating. Interment will be at the Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Barney Kieft contributed a short story to this paper announcing that during the past year Mr. and Mrs. Kieft sent food, clothing and shoes amounting to $120 and $70 in cash to Mrs. Kieft's sisters in Germany. Mrs. Kieft Wednesday took exception to this statement, declaring that Mr. Kieft sent only $20, and that she and her children sent the rest.

Miss Henrietta Althuis left for Kalamazoo where she will take a course in art at the Western State Normal.

Miss Eva K. Schuur, Ottawa county demonstration agent, will be at the Maple Avenue Christian Reformed church parlors on Thursday afternoon to give a sewing demonstration. All are welcome.

Lester Steggerda one of the Holland High foot ball stars who was injured in Saturday's game at Rockford was still more unfortunate. The boy who hobbled around on a game leg after the game tried to make an end run away from a friendly skunk. It is said the pole-cat tackled and Lester went down for the count, with the skunk making a goal.

A little strike by the colored gentlemen on 14th street Saturday where the road is being completed has been fixed up by Contractor Glover, several other colored road builders having come to the city to finish up the work. The finishing touches on 14th street are now going rapidly and the new thoroughfare will soon be completed. The beautiful weather is helping road building considerably.

The Holland Exchange Club has resumed its meetings for the year. The club luncheons are held every Wednesday in the Masonic building. The program for this year consists of 20 meetings divided for discussions that will cover civic, industrial, school and health programs. The officers are:—

John Arendshorst and Al DeWeerd motored to the Kalamazoo fair Wednesday.

Boys seem to have the runaway spirit these days. Holland has had four cases within the past week and the Grand Haven Tribune has the following—Lawrence Britten aged 10 of Grand Rapids was picked up by the police Tuesday morning. He had been away from his home since Friday and slept in a box in an alley. He is being held, pending the arrival of his parents.

Mrs. Georgia Yore who has spent the summer in Muskegon has returned to her home on West 8th St.

When Youth SAVES The Country Is Safe

SCHOOL CHILDREN
SAVE $9,500,000

Growth of Banking Service Interest
A. B. A.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Deposits by children of the country in their school savings bank systems aggregated more than $9,500,000.00 during the school year 1922-23, according to data compiled by the savings bank division of the American Bankers' association. Reports on the rapid growth of the school savings banking movement attracted particular attention among bankers at the annual meeting of the division during the convention of the association that was held at Atlantic City, Sept. 24-27.

Means for helping great groups of the public to save was a leading feature of the sessions of the savings bankers while in session at Atlantic City. "School Savings Banking" was the subject of an address by Thomas F. Wallace of the Farmers and Mechanics Savings bank, Minneapolis.

When Youth Saves the Country is Safe, therefore the above news item is indeed significant.

It indicates that the Youth of the Country is making a start in the right direction.

It denotes that young folks are being taught the lesson of thrift; are realizing the value of a dollar; appreciating the fact that this dollar is hard earned.

The Child who has saved will have a start when reaching its majority, and what is better, will have the lesson of thrift well learned.

The Youth who has not saved will later go forth in life empty handed without a real start and without realizing the value of money.

Be one of the millions of Children who are saving to-day.

FIRE PREVENTION IN HOLLAND NEXT WEEK

Next week is fire prevention week.

It is a time when all fire marshals in the state and nation, and all chiefs of city fire departments, preach a sermon on fire prevention and this year even President Coolidge is taking a hand, telling of the need for caution in this matter that is causing the destruction of millions of dollars worth of property not alone, but the death toll too is appalling, figured annually over the entire country.

Holland is rather fortunate in the first place because its people believe in cleanliness and despise backyard dumps and rubbish heaps.

Holland too has an efficient fire department with adequate fire implements and for that reason the fire loss in this city is way below the average.

Chief Blom however wishes to say that there is always room for improvement, and too much caution cannot be taken. He states that next week is a good week to clean up the back yards, surplus combustible material in alleys, clean chimneys, inspect defective chimneys and tidy up generally.

Now is the time to do this thing, while the weather is fine, and just before the fires are again started, as a protection against the chilly blasts of winter.

If Chief Blom had his way there wouldn't be a wooden shingle in the whole city for it is the wooden shingle that is responsible for the hundred or more roof fires annually.

Dropping coals from chimneys cannot possibly set an asphalt shingle fire, but the wooden shingle ignites, and not only damages the property covered by the wooden shingle, but jeopardizes property in the immediate neighborhood as well.

Anyway, Chief Blom asks all Holland to clean up and brush up next week, and have a fall house cleaning. He does not mean that fire prevention week is the only time to clean, for cleanliness should prevail all the time. However next week is set aside as an object lesson all over the nation. It is for the purpose of impressing upon the minds of everyone the importance of preventing fires by using methods that do really prevent, and the greatest of these methods is cleanup.

Another sermon that might be preached to young men is the careless and promiscuous way of throwing about cigarette stubs and half burned matches. This carelessness has been the cause of a great deal of loss in life and property.

The writer can bring out an example that occurred just yesterday. While standing in a local garage located in a densely built district of the city, he noticed a chap of school age rush into the building, ask a few questions, light a cigarette, throwing the match on an oil-covered wooden floor. The boy possibly doesn't remember doing this, had no mean intentions, the garage man isn't aware of it, but the act was simply a casual one that did not prove serious but might have been otherwise.

This garage is plastered full of "No smoking" signs, but the youth never read them. It was simply an act of thoughtlessness that could have brought disaster in a factory district in Holland.

The widespread interest in Fire Prevention this year is an evidence of the fact that the public has been shocked by the appalling fire record of 1922 into a realization of the critical need for constructive measures for promoting public safety from fire hazard. The sacrifice from fire last year represented forty human lives each day, $1000 worth of property for every minute, one dwelling for every four minutes one farm building for every seven minutes, fifteen hotels for every day, five school houses for every day, five churches for every day, four general storage warehouses for every day, one hospital for every day, a total of $521,000,000 worth of property in 1922.

This is equivalent to the interest on a capital sum of $10,000,000,000 which represents America's huge investment in senseless and unnecessary destruction.

The football season will open in Holland Saturday with a double-header. Holland high school will play Plainwell high school and Hope college will play the Junior College team of Grand Rapids. The two games will be played at Waterworks Park and will begin at 2:15 when the high school will meet Plainwell.

An unusually large crowd is expected and to prevent congestion at the ticket window on the grounds arrangements have been made to put tickets on sale downtown. Beginning Thursday morning tickets for the double header may be obtained at the following places: Superior Cigar Store, H. VanTongeren's, Ollie's, and Lage Drug store.

The Holland Country Club is planning a Fall Festival to be held at the club house on Wednesday, October 16th, at 6 o'clock. It will be the occasion for presenting the cups and trophies which have been won during the season and will also be a "Fellowship Feed" for all members.

Speeches reviewing the accomplishments of the first year will be made by the officers, and since the progress made has really been quite remarkable, the meeting will probably be in the nature of a jubilee.

A novel feature will be the pot-luck pack-lunch part of it. The wives of the members will pack a lunch for two, and draw lots for partners. There will be dancing after the program.

Earl Johnson will be called on to defend his title of city champion ship Thursday night when he plays Al McCarthy a 100 point game at Post's Billiard academy. McCarthy being one of the best in the city is sure to make the champion play his best if he is to keep his title.

The game starts at 7:30 P. M. All are welcome.

Peter Timmer, former Holland ice cream manufacturer who sold his business a short time ago, died Tuesday night at the age of 50 years. He is survived by his aged mother, Mrs. A. Schuipema, two brothers and two sisters: Albert Timmer, Albert Schuipema, Mrs. Siggers, and Mrs. J. Vander West.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Vander West, 95 East 21st street, Dr. De Haan officiating. Interment will be at the Graafschap cemetery.

STATE WILL PUT UP CROSS STREET SIGNS IN HOLLAND

The meeting of the Merchants Association held at the city hall was short and sweet Tuesday night, there being not much business to discuss.

Chairman Harrington opened the meeting and apparently there were so many other things that the attendance was small and even those who were present had other gatherings that also demanded their attention, consequently adjournment came early.

Austin Harrington stated that the signs directing tourists north and south and east and west on M-51 and M-11 would be taken care of by the state.

At those street intersections in the city where the trunk lines turn, project sign posts will be tacked up with large arrows pointing the way either to Saugatuck and South Haven, Grand Haven and Muskegon, Zeeland and Grand Rapids. In that way when a turn must be made in the city limits the destination is plainly visible on the state sign board.

The merchants have also made it plain that they are for the Michigan Tourists Association and intend to take memberships, the same as the Holland Chamber of Commerce has done, as soon as these are asked for.

It was also decided to send a delegation to Grand Rapids to attend a large meeting of the Michigan Tourists Association, when representatives from all cities in Western Michigan will be present.

This association, as is well known, boasts Western Michigan as the summer playground for the rest of the United States and the influx of the tourist public has been so marked since the association got busy advertising thru the national press the advantages of Michigan for a summer vacation, that all the cities along the Big Lake have benefited materially because of this campaign.

The bureau had hard work to exist at first because cities and towns were slow in helping, but that the Tourist Association merits aid, is self-evident, and now Western Michigan is falling in line with funds as well as work.

At the meeting Tuesday night, the chairman was instructed to appoint a committee of four to attend a two-days' session at Grand Rapids to also advance Holland's interests.

The committee appointed were H. R. Brink, Bert Slaght, John Vanderstulp and B. A. Mulder. Afterward Chairman Harrington and Secretary Fred Beeuwkes were also requested to attend this meeting which will be largely attended by delegates from every city from every part of the state.

It was also decided to bring more pep into the next meeting, the first Tuesday in November.

At that time a good speaker will be secured, a musical program will be arranged for and there are going to be contests, so it's up to the members to set that evening aside and attend this meeting.

There was also some discussion regarding a new hotel in Holland, and many hotel sites were discussed, although it resulted in nothing more than discussion at this time.

Many other minor questions were brought up, after which the meeting adjourned until November 6.

Barney Lombardi was arrested for carrying concealed weapons and was bound over to circuit court for trial by Justice Den Herder.

Officers found a revolver on the person of Lombardi and when arrested he claimed he carried the weapon for self-protection, since he had had trouble with his wife, and it is said a divorce suit is pending.

Officers feel very skeptical about this statement, as Mrs. Lombardi has been in Chicago for several weeks and the couple have not been living together for some time.

Holland's first scarlet fever death in a long time occurred Tuesday evening when little Marion Florence Lohuis, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lohuis fell a victim to that disease.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home, 351 River avenue and was private, as the law requires in scarlet fever cases. Rev. B. H. Elmlink, pastor of the Central avenue Christian Reformed church, officiated.

On Sunday last Rev. J. F. Heemstra, pastor of the Fourth Reformed church of Holland, celebrated the 25th anniversary as a pastor in the reformed church.

The local pastor has been a diligent worker in that time and made many friends in the different localities where he has been located.

Expressing their appreciation of the untiring efforts of their pastor, the congregation recently presented Mr. Heemstra with a purse containing $250.

B. Kieft received a letter from his wife's sister from Hygendorf, Germany with stamps amounting to 200,000 marks. During the past year Mr. and Mrs. Kieft sent food, clothing and shoes amounting to $120 and $70 in cash to them.

In the letter the sister states that she went up town with a market basket full of marks but did not have enough to get 1 pound in the butcher shop, so she took her rags, (as she called money) back home without purchasing anything. Last winter they didn't have fire in the house until New Year's when they received the money Mr. and Mrs. Kieft sent to buy coal.

Manager C. M. McLean of the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Co. states that the beet crop is wonderful, at least 50 per cent larger than last year.

He also states that the three factories in their respective localities have contracted jointly for 17,000 acres of beets and with the enormous crop the campaign will be an unusually long one.

The campaign in Holland will begin in a little over ten days while the campaign at Decatur, Ind., will start next week.

At St. Louis, Michigan, slicing will begin in a little over two weeks. Shortly Waverly yards will be filled with sugar beet cars and a large bulk of freight over the Pere Marquette and Holland Interurban will be the big root from which sugar is made.

Paving of M-11 south of Muskegon Heights, the Grand Haven road, began Monday according to announcement of G. R. Scharl, the contractor.

The road bed has been prepared and pouring of concrete started at once. Unless unusually violent weather is experienced the work will be completed this fall.

TWO RUNAWAY BOYS HAVE "HIGH OLD TIME"

Sunday morning Patrolman Bontekoe noticed two little fellows with daggers at their sides leisurely walking on Eighth street, followed by some hunting dogs. The lads were covered all over with cotton baton.

They were a peculiar looking sight, and Peter gathered them in after he had quizzed the lads, who he found were only 11 years old each.

The patrolman called up Chief Van Ky who questioned them thoroughly, and it was found that the young boys were Charles Gorski and George Haight of Grand Rapids, who stated that they intended to run away from home, but before going, young Gorski had stolen $50 from his sister's savings bank. With the money they sailed forth Saturday and in Grand Rapids and Holland, bought daggers, a watch, flashlights, hunting dogs and a large consignment of candy.

They used the taxis liberally wherever they went; however when Patrolman Bontekoe put a stop to their little escapade, it was found that they had spent $48.50 of the amount taken and only had $1.50 left between them. The boys stated that from Holland they had gone to Saugatuck and had crawled into a bale of cotton, where they had slept until Sunday morning, when some colored men with an automobile picked them up and drove them back to Holland where they were arrested by the local police.

Sunday afternoon the parents came to Holland to take their boys back

SAYS LITERARY CLUB HAS A VITAL PURPOSE

The literary club house was attractively decorated Tuesday noon for the opening luncheon of the club. In the dining room the light shades and candles were in yellow and further color was added by large bouquets of beautiful flowers placed on each table. Nearly two hundred members partook of a delicious meal well served by the young ladies of the college. Before eating Mrs. J. C. Post asked divine blessing on the meal and on the work of the club during the year.

The president, Mrs. Diekema, in her opening remarks summarized the club's past activities and gave her ideals for this year's work. She said that the club is an organization with a real and vital purpose which is only incidentally social but which is to give to the members the kind of self-improvement which may be turned into useful and beneficial service for others. This is to be attained by improving the mind thru books and lectures, by becoming intelligent citizens and directing public opinion toward social progress. Then by following the great program of the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs whose work

Mrs. Diekema believed second only to the church as it supports all the movements which are bringing the precepts of Christ into our daily life. These include better protection for the home, better education, improved public health, wholesome recreation, and trained citizenship. In conclusion, Mrs. Diekema asked for workers who by willing service will help make the year a success closing with the quotation:

"We are all blind until we see That in the human plan Nothing is worth the making if It does not make the man. Why build these cities glorious If man unbuilt goes? In vain we build the world unless The builder also grows."

Mrs. D. B. K. Van Raalte sang "Ah, Love but a Day," by Mrs. Beach. Mrs.

Diekema introduced Mrs. George E. Kollen whose subject was the Biennial Council at Atlanta. Mrs. Kollen began her speech by eulogizing the woman whose place she filled, the president of the state federation, Mrs. Dorian Russell. She quoted a complimentary adjective for each letter of her name and added letters D. D. as standing for democratic and dependable, two splendid virtues in any club woman. "The general federation," she said, "includes American women outside of the United States, in the Philippines, Canada, England, and France. Mrs. Kollen described the club rooms of the organization in Paris, where she lunched this summer. This club has a membership of 1000 women.

The Atlanta Woman's club entertained the council and both the men and women did everything possible to give the delegates a pleasant and profitable time. She found the southern women more active and efficient than she had expected and was interested to find different attitudes toward the North—the older women remembering the bitterness of defeat but the younger ones glad the war ended as it did. She was interested in the girls' mission school at Talula Falls which is supported by the Georgia state federation. The personalities of the participants is perhaps the most interesting thing about a great convention and Mrs. Kollen admired the democratic efficiency of Mrs. Winter, the general president of the remarkable oratory of Mrs. Penypacker and the southern charm of Mrs. Fenton, the ex-senator. At the press banquet too the clever speeches of Miss Margaret Dawson, Mrs. I. C. Clark, Miss Elizabeth Toombs and Miss Brown who represented the various woman magazines were an inspiration and pleasure. Among the topics discussed were the World court, which the delegates favored, the enforcement of the 18th amendment, the narcotic situation, illiteracy, and education, public health and Americanization.

Before leaving Atlanta, Mrs. Kollen visited the new Confederate memorial in which Gen. Lee and his soldiers are to be carved in huge figures upon Stony Mountain. Mrs. Kollen enjoyed Drinkwater's new play "Robert E. Lee" which she saw in London, although she considered it inferior to his "Abraham Lincoln." On her return trip she visited the battlefield and cemetery at Chattanooga, she heard Dr. Vance at the Presbyterian church in Nashville and explored the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky.

After the program a short business meeting followed in which Mrs. Joseph Rhea was elected to fill the office of vice-president and Mrs. Arnold Mulder that of treasurer.

GOOGLE, HELD IN MAIL FRAUD, ESCAPES AGAIN BUT IS RECAPTURED

Harry Martin, alias Henry Google, who was indicted in Grand Rapids upon a charge of using the mails to defraud in promoting a "United Buyers' association, Inc." and who escaped from a federal officer on Dec. 22 at Detroit only to be recaptured last Wednesday in New York, temporarily escaped for a 2nd time according to information reaching the district attorney's office in Grand Rapids.

The second attempt to flee, however, was not so successful as the first but as bold. Martin, it was reported, shipped out of a postal inspector's office at New York and fled down a stairs to the street, but was nabbed before he could complete his dash to freedom.

Martin and Jess Martin, reported to be his wife, were held on bond of $5,000 and $5000 respectively, which was not furnished and they are now awaiting a hearing on Thursday when it is expected Martin will be formally identified as a fugitive from justice wanted at Grand Rapids. He was indicted by a grand jury last fall after an investigation into an association he had organized with the ostensible purpose of the wholesale selling of groceries.

It is expected he will be arraigned in district court where about 75 cases mostly involving violations of the prohibition laws will be called this week at Grand Rapids. The federal grand jury met and about 15 cases were presented during the day Tuesday. About 50 more are pending and it is expected a partial report will be announced on Thursday night.

UNIQUE RULES PASSED BY STUDENTS OF HOPE COLLEGE

Thursday night Winants Chapel was crowded to the doors with the members of the student body, with beautiful young co-eds occupying the seats of prominence at what is called the "I-ep" meeting of the year.

College yells, speeches and spontaneous outburst were the order of the evening and two speakers at least, namely VanderMeulen and Yonkman, gave some interesting talks as these relate to the sport events the coming season.

In their thoughts they brought out that sportsmanship should be shown on the sidelines as well as in the game, and this fact was forgotten altogether too often.

A very important decision was made by the student body, namely that the Pi Kappa Delta would be placed in charge of all oratorical events at Hope College.

Some interesting rules were passed quite unanimously, although objected to in some quarters where the rules apply possibly the most:

Any way these unusual rules govern the student body for the coming year:

Be It Here Enacted, a plurality of this student body concurring herein that these rules be accepted as a guide for the conduct of the Freshmen.

Resolved that the following rules shall go into effect on Friday noon, Sept. 28, and continue until Wednesday, Nov. 28 at 8 o'clock P. M. A reasonable amount of time being granted the Freshmen for the purchase of Pots.

1. No Freshman fellow shall appear on the streets of Holland or on the College Campus without wearing on his head a green Frosh Pot.

2. No Freshman girl shall appear on the streets of Holland or on the college campus without wearing around her neck a green ribbon one inch wide or wider, with a bow in front so tied that the whole ribbon is visible.

3. No Freshman fellow shall between the dates above mentioned, have a date with an upper class girl.

4. No Freshman girl shall between the dates above referred to, have a date with an upper class man.

5. All Upper classmen shall be given preference in entering all buildings except dormitories. Upper classmen here being interpreted as Juniors and Seniors.

6. Resolved that a hat day be established as becoming traditional with the institution upon which day the Freshman rules shall go out of force, and the Freshman class shall burn upon the college bon fire the Pots and ribbons they have worn.

Exceptions—No Freshman rules shall be in force on Sunday. No Freshman Rules shall be enforced on Society night, or on the occasion of any college functions. No Freshman rules shall be in force on Freshmen who go about town on athletic trips.

ANNUAL TUG OF WAR RESULTS IN VICTORY FOR CLASS OF 1922

For the past six years no class pulling from the South side of Black river has been able to pull the rival class through the muddy waters, but Friday the trick was neatly turned; the Freshman class overcoming the six year old jinx, pulled the crest-fallen Sophomores thru the pond.

Starting promptly at 4:30 the teams pulled steadily until 5 o'clock, while lying on the ground, but at the instant, that the referee's whistle was blown, signifying that the teams were to stand up and pull for victory, the Freshmen pulled as one man. Within five minutes they were receiving the dripping Sophomores on the South side of the river.

Not a little share of the "Frosh" victory goes to the excellent coaching, the new class received from Chief Outpost, Riemersma and Irving of the Junior Class.

The Freshmen outweighed the Sophomores by some pounds and each team struggled desperately to gain the advantage, but the superior stamina of the Freshmen overpowered the fact that it is impossible to pull a rival class up the steep south bank. The north bank, at the place where the pull is held, has no slope at all, so the team that receives the north bank is conceded to have that advantage.

The Sophomore team consisted of Capt. J. Poppen and 19 men, while the Frosh were led by Capt. H. Vanden Bosch and his 19 men. Athletic Director Schouten acted as referee.

After the pull the Freshmen took the long rope instrumental in pulling them to victory, over River and 3rd street and the air was filled with college yells and the students radiated the old time college spirit.

GIRLS CLUB WILL RE- SUME ITS MEETINGS

The Girls Club will resume their meetings at the Woman's Literary club on Tuesday evenings. All who were in the habit of coming last year are urged to come back this year and a cordial invitation is also extended to all others who are a credit. The first meeting was held on Tuesday evening, October 2nd at the club house. A good time is promised and an interesting year's work. The meeting will begin at 7:45.

BEER PURVEYOR HAD NOT HEARD OF PROHIBITION

"Where you going with that barrel of beer?" the police asked Andrew Grom as he drove through Irving Park, Chicago, with a large keg on his wagon. "To my saloon," replied Andrew. "I just changed this beer at the brewery; the other I had was not good enough."

"Don't you know about prohibition?" gasped the astonished policeman.

"Nope," said Andrew. "Giddap. Then they broke the news to him."

Bartley agreed. As he did not continue, I asked him what were the other things that he wanted to know.

"Has it occurred to you that it is a strange thing that a man like Slyke should spend most of his time up here? For the past two years he has lived here almost entirely. His office in New York is closed, and he is rumored to have lost money. Why did he stay here all the year round?"

Bartley suddenly changed the subject. "Miss Potter cleared up one thing for us today. I knew that, if the murderer was shrewd enough to go to the trouble of placing Slyke in bed, he knew enough to know how the eyes should look. Their being closed puzzled me. I wondered how he had made such a mistake. But when Miss Potter told us it was she who had closed them, I knew that I had not been mistaken. Whoever killed Slyke knew what he was doing. There was only one chance in a thousand that he would not get it across."

"It was well planned," I suggested.

"It was not planned at all. It was a sudden impulse, a quarrel. I don't believe that, when the murderer went into that tower room to see Slyke, he had the least idea of killing him."

"But think of the pains he took. It must have been planned."

"No," he replied, "the planning was done afterward."

"After he was killed?"

"Yes. Look at the fact; Pelt, Slyke was killed on the balcony of a tower, fifty feet above the ground. A man who planned a murder would not pick out such a place. It was the last place in the house he would have chosen. Just suppose that some one had heard the shot and investigated. The murderer would have been trapped with the dead body of his victim. To escape he had to go down two flights of stairs and through the big room. Let us say that Slyke invited the man to go upon the balcony—for what, we cannot say—and then they quarreled and the person killed him on the impulse of the moment. The next thing to do was to get rid of the body. Finding the coast clear, he took it into the next room and undressed it, and carried it down to the bedroom and placed it in bed. He knew how a body should look after suicide and that a gun could be placed in its hand."

"He seemed to be pretty sure no one would disturb him at it," I ventured.

Bartley nodded. "Yes, there is no doubt of that. That brings up another astonishing fact. Down in the big room was a young dog that did not like strangers. The murderer, in order to get out of the house, had to go through that room, yet the dog did not bark."

"Then it was someone in the house," I interrupted.

"The coolness with which the murderer took plenty of time in undressing the body and the fact that he did not seem to be afraid of being found out makes it seem probable. Why didn't the dog bark? Because he knew whoever it was. That makes it seem as if it were someone in the house, or at least as if it were someone that knew both the house and the dog well."

"Of course, Pelt, until we discover the motive we cannot get very far. At present there seems to be none. There is nothing missing and no apparent reason for Slyke's murder. It seems an absurd sort of a crime. That's why I think it was done on impulse, not premeditated."

He thought a moment, then added, "I did think I knew the kind of a person that might have committed a crime like this. But—"

"But what?" I asked eagerly.

He opened the door with a little smile on his lips and it was not until we were half way down stairs that he completed his sentence, "But—I don't know."

CHAPTER VI

The Vault in the Woods.

We found Currie waiting for us in one of his large cars, with his chauffeur. There were few cars on the road, and in a very short time we arrived in Saratoga.

We left the car before one of the hotels and followed Bartley to the public library. Bartley spent several moments glancing through the card catalogue before he crossed to the loan desk, and asked the pretty young librarian for "Griffith's Mysteries of Crimes."

She returned in a moment with two volumes, bound in red cloth. Bartley opened one to the place where the date when a book is taken out is stamped. There was only one date on the white slip, and Bartley copied it in his notebook. Then, turning to the librarian, he asked her how they had happened to buy the book, and

If she knew who it was that had taken it from the library the one time it had gone out.

Looking through her cards, she told him that the book had been a gift, and that the only person that had ever taken it out was James Brif-feur. Bartley raised his eyebrows in surprise but did not ask her anything more.

As soon as we were again on the street, he told us that so far as he knew the only account of the Edling-ham burglary, other than the one in the rare pamphlet that he owned, had been published in the volumes he had been glancing at. Currie, of course, did not understand what he was talking about; and Bartley gave him the details of the English crime, and ended by saying that, from the very first it had been his opinion that whoever had faked the burglary at Slyke's had read the account of the English crime. Then, with a little rueful smile, he added that the one person who had taken the book from the library was Slyke's chauffeur.

He might have said more had we not reached Currie's club just then. We sat and talked until about eleven o'clock; then we started to walk home.

As we were leaving the club, we met a young man whom Currie introduced to us as Captain Low, commander of the local branch of the state police. As he was going in our direction, we fell into step together; and he told us of his work and how the state troopers had reduced crime so much that farmers' wives now had a sense of security, even in the most remote country districts. The greatest trouble they had at present, he told us with a laugh, was with the smuggling of whisky, not only into Saratoga but even as far as Albany and Troy. Though they knew that a good deal of whisky was getting through, they could not discover who was running it. At the barracks he bade us goodnight.

As we passed the driveway that led into the Slyke grounds, Currie told us that it ran through nearly a mile of dense woods before it reached the house. We were about a thousand feet beyond the entrance when Bartley suddenly stopped.

"What's that?" he asked in a low voice.

I listened a moment, but the only thing I could hear was the horn of a distant automobile.

Bartley continued, "I thought I heard a car in the woods, there on the left."

Currie, who was a few feet in front of us, laughed. "John," he said, "you're hearing things. No car can be in those woods. Those are the trees you see from my house, and they stretch for some miles without a break. Slyke owns this part of them. You could not have heard a car."

Bartley placed his hand on his friend's shoulder. "That's what I thought, Bob. But I did hear a motor; of that I am sure."

He paused, then added suddenly, "Listen! There it is once more."

This time we all heard the faint sound of a motor running slowly and with difficulty. There was no doubt of it; it came from the woods before us. It sounded as if a car were running a few feet, then stopping, as if it would do on a very bad road when having difficulty in getting through.

As we stood listening to the strange sound coming through the woods, Bartley said: "You say, Currie, that there is no road there, yet by the sound of it I should say that was a truck. What do you say to going and finding out what it means?"

Currie gave an exclamation of disgust. "But it's none of our business, John."

"Just at the present moment, everything that takes place on Slyke's estate is our business. I want to know what a car is doing in those woods at this time of night."

"John," He Said, "You're Hearing Things."

"Oh, I'm game if the rest of you are," Currie responded.

STUDENTS AT WESTERN SEMINARY ELECT OFFICERS

REACHES CAIRO AFTER TOURING EUROPE

Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer, under the date of September 6 has written this paper from Cairo, Egypt, stating that he has reached the "Land of the Nile" after two months' journey spent in Great Britain and the Netherlands, attending various missionary conferences.

He states that altho Egypt is at peace, the withdrawal of so many important British officials from the administration in an attempt to confer independence in several departments, in his way of thinking, is not very satisfactory. He states there are many signs of inefficiency and a return to the old Turkish methods.

The Sunday School Chronicle and Christian Outlook, published in London, England, publishes a three column interview on Dr. Zwemer, in which the editor of the Moslem World, namely Mr. Zwemer, gives a review under five separate heads, namely "What is the Moslem Problem," "The Appeal of Islam," "Mohammed or Christ," "The Effect of the War," and "Christianizing the Moslem."

The editor of that paper printed in London tells in glowing terms of Mr. Zwemer and his great work, and also of his repeated visits to England where made a profound impression.

The editor of the paper has the following to say as an introduction to the interview by Mr. Zwemer: "I do not like to count the number of years that have elapsed since I met Dr. Zwemer at Zurich. He spoke at that great convention of the needs of the Moslem World with an eloquence and a power which made a great impression upon my own mind and upon the minds of the thousands who heard him. We shall not forget the spiritual passion which glowed in his words as he contrasted Western materialism with its tendency to hide the light of truth under the bushel and the bed, with the clamant needs of the non-Christian world. Hearing that he was in this country, on a brief holiday, I contrived to get the pleasure of a gossip with him the other day."

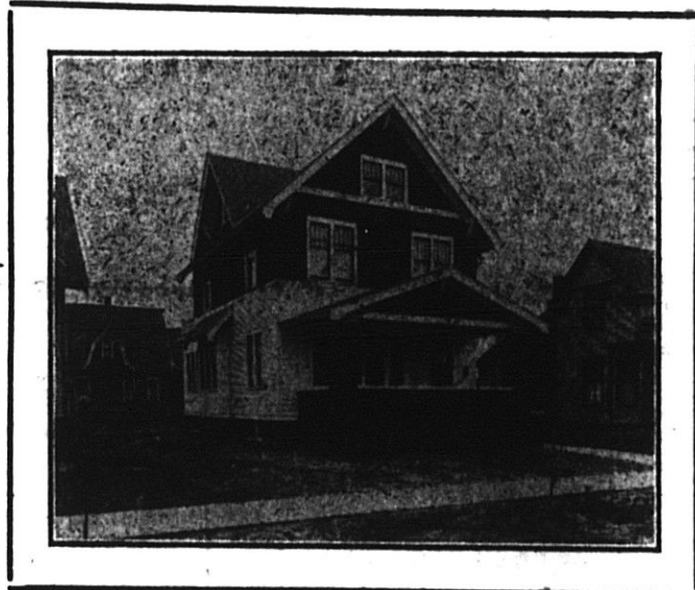

with the aim of letting him state in his own strong and vivid way what the significance of the Moslem problem is for Britain today."

TROOP NO. 8 RECEIVES ITS CHARTER OCTOBER 1

Boy Scout Troop No. 8 is to receive its annual charter on October 1. It was a year old on that date and has indeed accomplished a great deal in that time. Troop No. 8 has already begun its winter activities. A football team has been organized of which Thomas Parker is both manager and captain. When the team is in good working order it will be ready to challenge any team of its size. Troop 8 went in for an overnight hike to Scout Point starting on Friday at 4 P. M. and returning on Saturday evening.

Tests were given by Scoutmaster Deto and assistant Lester McCarthy. A hike is always welcomed by the scouts of Troop 8.

Do You Know a Man With Good Ideas About Building Who Never Uses Them At All?

You aren't such a person, are you?

Might as well have an oil-well or gold mine in your back yard, and leave it untouched forever, - not telling a soul about it - as to go on until your dying day without the pleasures and tremendous benefits you can have from the expression of your own ideas!

And surely you have thought at times how much more you will be worth in dollars and cents just as soon as you do put your best thought into a home. Who is there who has built well and individually without having a property worth more to sell than it cost?

Can you imagine going right on without expressing yourself in this great big wholesome way until you are too old to care about it anymore?

Sadness is mostly built on regrets and there are a heap of them that are quite unnecessary.

One certainly doesn't have to grow old without building a home, a home that one can proudly say is "Mine, Mine, Mine, Mine, because my own thoughts are in it. Maybe it is a great deal like some others, but still in many little ways, it is different - in the little ways that count - it is MY individuality."

Don't hesitate because some of your ideas may be indefinite. It is our special business to bring out the ideas of patrons and make a plan that neither you nor we could make if we didn't get together.

This service costs you nothing. And it doesn't obligate you in the least. Why not let us tell you all about our methods right away. You can't lose a thing by an interview and you may gain a whole lot. Our telephone number is 5121.

DUTCH PLANT FOOD LABORATORIES CO. INCORPORATES

For the past half year Holland has been having an organization called the Dutch Plant Food Laboratory Co.

The company at first was not more than an experimental stage. Mr. C. L. Miller is the inventor of a fertilizer put in a cylinder form, and placed in a device attached to the nozzle of a hose. The passing of the water through this device and nozzle takes with it a certain percentage of fertilizer and sprays it on lawn or flowers, which has proved of material benefit to grass, plants, vegetables and shrubbery.

While experimenting, 4,000 customers have been sold to, and from a great many of these testimonials have been received voluntarily telling of the exceptional merit of this unique form of fertilizer, in fact the places where this form of fertilizer has been exclusively used, give testimony by virtue of the wonderful lawns and gardens that this method has created.

Mr. Miller has all patents applied for at Washington, and they are now pending, and these are to be secured soon.

Mr. Miller has also made application with the Michigan Public Utilities Company for the purpose of placing stock on the market and the approval of his plans by the commission are expected daily.

The law firm of Robinson and Parsons has already incorporated the firm under the name of "Dutch Plant Food Laboratory Company" with a capitalization of $100,000, of which $60,000 is already paid in.

The organization of the new company has already taken place with officers as follows: President, C. L. Miller; 1st vice president, Luke Stegink; 2nd vice president, Henry Koop; secretary, Jacob Boes; treasurer, Benjamin Stegink.

It is expected that by next summer 50 women and 25 men will be employed and that a new plant will be built.

The new concern however is now occupying the third floor in the Holland Rusk Co. building.

The company has already established stations at Chicago, Chicago Heights, St. Louis, Ionia, Springfield and Joliet, Ill., Grand Rapids and Lansing.

STYLE SHOW IN HOLLAND IS RATHER UNIQUE

A new departure put on by the Rose Cloak store Friday night was a fall fashion show in which pretty gowns, wraps, etc., were displayed on living models.

The models used were pretty local girls and for a first appearance a very creditable showing was made.

The young ladies who went into the thing more as a lark than for any other reason, were Miss Hazel Donnelly, Miss Esther Bazaan, Miss Nella Rose, Miss Martha Barkema and Miss Thelma Beck.

Mr. Taft of the Rose Cloak Store volunteers the information that more than 500 ladies attended the fashion show during the evening.

LOCAL DENTIST TAKES A BRIDE IN BALTIMORE

At a ceremony performed on Wednesday, the 26th of September, at 9 Norwood Place, Guilford, Baltimore, Helen Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. O. W. Olson, was united in marriage to Dr. John J. Brower, Holland.

The marriage marked the culmination of a college romance, begun in Ann Arbor where both bride and groom earned their university degrees, Miss Olson receiving A. B. in the College of Liberal Arts, and Dr. Brower taking his doctor's degree in the dental college.

The wedding was a quiet one, with only members of the immediate families present. The marriage service of Methodist Episcopal church was read by a brother of the bride, the Rev. Dr. Oscar Thomas Olson, minister of the Mt. Vernon Place Church, in Baltimore. Another brother, Mr. Edgar T. Olson of New York City, was among the guests, with his wife.

The bride wore an ivory gown, made after the fashion of 1830, with corsage to harmonize, and pearls—the gift of the groom. The suggestion of the early period was carried out in flowers and festivities of the wedding breakfast that followed the solemn and impressive marriage service.

Immediately afterward Dr. and Mrs. Brower left on a motor trip. They will visit the historic shrines of Philadelphia, Valley Forge, Gettysburg, and other places of interest in the East; returning through the famous Cumberland Valley, and Crossing the Allegheny mountains over the Old National Trail. After November 1st they will be at home in Holland.

Judging from last year's experience, Carnegie Hall will be crowded to overflowing when the pageant, "Search for Light," will be given in connection with the Ottawa County Sunday School convention. For that reason arrangements have been made to give delegates to the convention the first chance to secure seats so that they will not be crowded out from their own convention.

All delegates to the convention will have a chance to get into Carnegie Hall on the evening of the pageant one-half hour before the doors will be open to the general public. Provision however is made so that the general public will not be discriminated against because anybody may become officially a delegate to the convention by registering. The registration fee is fifty cents and that fee will practically be the same as an admission fee to the pageant.

Eleven hundred registration cards was placed on sale, that being the capacity of Carnegie Hall when it is considered that about 400 places will have to be reserved for the talent in the pageant and for members of the chorus. As long as the supply of cards lasts they may be obtained by anyone who is interested in the convention and in the pageant.

A supply of these cards has been sent to each Sunday school superintendent and the people of the churches can secure them from their own superintendents. Persons not connected with churches may secure them from the county secretary A. Nienhuis.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the pageant and for the entire convention which bids fair to be the best held in Holland in a long time.

WAS PRESENT WHEN 'IRONSIDES' WENT DOWN

Commenting on a little story that appeared in the News telling of the loss of the "Ironside" fifty years ago, E. F. Hiller gives the following personal glimpse of that event:

"I well remember the loss of the steamer 'Ironside' fifty years ago. I was out on the Grand Haven pier shortly after the boat sank five miles out in 110 feet of water. I was on the pier when a boat came in with two men rowing and one in the stern with his arm around a trunk. As they came up along side the pier which was crowded with people, many hands helped them to the dock, overcoats were wrapped around them and the men were rushed up town. My father with a number of other men, was on the north side of the harbor. They saw the first mate's boat coming ashore and helped them to land. They also were hurried up town. In the meantime we were all anxious to see the ocean-going tug 'Tempest'—about leaving Muskegon harbor. She finally hove in sight and when she neared the pier she turned and helped pull out and bring into the harbor the small sidewheel steamer that was almost ashore and had both bow and anchor out in the lake, moving about in all directions; finally came in and tied to the dock with nearly thirty dead and more lying side by side on the deck. All had life preservers on. Some were from the captain's boat which capsized. The captain's body was picked up near Muskegon harbor the next day.

"A life preserver was seen sticking up out of the water—a dead man hanging onto it. The body was taken aboard the boat.

"The bodies of the drowned men were taken to the Grand Trunk depot and there were claimed by relatives."

Lillian Mae Klein entertained a party of friends at her home on East 10th St. Saturday afternoon in honor of her eighth birthday anniversary. Games were played and a delightful time was spent. Dainty refreshments were served and Miss Klein received many beautiful gifts. Those present were the Misses Gertrude Wise, Lucille Butler, Lucile Butler, Louis Geerds, Leona Postma, Sylvia Kronmeyer, Christine Brusse, Patricia Brusse, Lillian Kuite, Jacqueline Karremans.

es that a definite conspiracy was formed by certain ministers, students and theological professors to "get" Dr. Janssen.

In conclusion the book issues a call to "reformation" on the part of the churches of that denomination. Reference is made to the book of William O. Van Eyck, Dr. Janssen declaring that that book has made a re-examination of the fundamentals of the Christian Reformed church necessary.

At the very end of the book there is a definite suggestion that if it is found that the church persists in its present course Dr. Janssen and all others who hold the same views will be forced to leave it.

YOUNG LADY SERIOUSLY INJURED BY ICE TRUCK

Just before going to press at noon Miss Gertrude Verhey, an employee of the Model Drug store, was run down at Sixteenth street and Central avenue by Wm. Platz, driver of one of the large trucks owned by the Superior Ice Co.

The girl was immediately picked up by George Overweg who was near with his automobile and rushed to Holland Hospital.

The young lady was bleeding about the face and her leg was injured.

The authorities at the hospital said that the physicians were working on the case and therefore they could not tell just how seriously Miss Verhey was injured.

She is a popular young lady, a graduate from Holland high and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Verhey, 7 W. 17th St.

The city of Allegan is having a "luff" over what kind of fire truck the town is going to have, and the thing may possibly come to a vote. Holland has been through that kind of a scrap and past experience shows that Holland bought the right sort of fire apparatus. If advice is in order we advise Allegan which is practically surrounded by water, to buy the pump-er by all means. It simply doubles up the efficiency of its fire protection because of Kalamazoo river, which is available in nearly any part of the city.

Harvey Rial, 49 West 30th street takes credit for raising the best late potatoes shown at the Holland fair. He writes that on poor soil he received first on late Petoskey potatoes. He also prides himself on his fine poultry, he having also received three first premiums on three exhibits and one second on a fourth exhibit.

Lokker-Rutgers Co. has been having a force of painters and decorators busy in their large store making beautiful, spic and span, the three large floors. Linoleums are being laid and many conveniences are being introduced. Jake is talking electric sign, and he says when it comes it will be a real one. Electric signs along River and 8th street are surely becoming the popular thing.

A marriage license has been issued in Allegan county for John E. Pelon of Fillmore and Miss Jennie Dyke of Holland; also John H. Ortman of East Saugatuck and Hattie Kemker of Hamilton.

There will be a general registration in all the wards on Saturday, Oct. 29, for the special election that is to be held on Oct. 29.
