BURGLARS ENTER
LOCAL STORE AND
GET OUTFITTED*CRAWL THROUGH BASEMENT
WINDOW TO OTHING HOUSE

Sometime during the night burglars entered the clothing store of the John Rutgers Co. on West Eighth street and from all appearance the robbers fitted themselves out to new clothing, hats, shoes, etc.

The burglars entered through the coal shoot in a basement window which was open or rather covered with a heavy card board sheet.

John Rutgers Jr., states that the loss to the company will be about $150.

It appears that the job was done by local talent for the burglars although entering by the basement found the key to the rear door and left the store in that way. Mr. Rutgers believes that someone familiar with the store used this knowledge to get in and leave again.

Pete Lieveuse, Holland

Max Sandy in the Grand Rapids Herald—"Pete" Lieveuse, from Holland the other day, reports plans under way for acquiring a considerable area of rabbit hunting land by a group of western Michigan sportsmen. The land, as "Pete" describes it, is the finest kind of rabbit and pheasant cover and already is well stocked with bunnies and ringnecks. Anybody interested in getting in on the sport can write "Pete", who is a veteran worker of the Holland Fish and Game association at Holland.

It requires no gift of prophecy to guess that time some when hunting is going to be difficult for those fellows who haven't some special inside hook-up with the rabbit areas. With the new Horton trespass law in effect, hunting clubs are bound to become more and more the thing in Michigan.

At midnight Tuesday, J. R. Kleyn, the lumber man while walking on River street discovered fire in Kenyon's hall and gave an alarm of fire. He then rushed to the engine house on Centennial Park and rang the fire bell and every able bodied man and woman pulled out the hand engine endeavoring to save Holland's main business block and opera house. The fire started in a corner of the dressing room back of the stage and worked its way into the scenery to the roof. In comparatively short time the play house, confectionery store in the building and Kenyon's private bank in a smaller building were consumed. The drug store of Dr. Wm. VanPutten and the grocery store of G. Van Putten to the south were also swept by the flames. George Williams and Peter Pfanstiel, two willing fire fighters, succeeded in saving the law offices of Mr. Ort and the grocery store of P. Vickers further down the street. The firemen were short of hose and fought the fire with difficulty. The fire also brought losses to L. T. Kanters & Co. confectionery. The Holland Reform club lost their beautiful reading room and Mr. A. Visscher and Jas. TenEyck lost $400 each in law books. Firemen are asking that all business men build ladders to the roofs of their respective buildings so they will have no trouble getting to roofs in case of fire.

Two of the men pleaded guilty before Justice Van Duren and they were fined $10.00 each. Slag however had to be notified and will put in his appearance today or tomorrow. He is promised the same dose.

Hope College Students
Have 40 Organizations

Hope College students are well organized. In all some 40 organizations are maintained and nearly every student is a member of some organization.

The student council controls all student activities. It is composed of nine members, with Eugene Damstra as president. The religious organizations are the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Home Volunteers and Student Volunteers.

In literary circles there are 13 societies, 7 for men and 6 for women. There also the Pi Kappa Delta, an honorary society.

In musical circles can be found the Girls Glee club, the Mens Glee club, orchestra and band.

Hope College Athletic association sponsors teams in basketball, baseball, football, track and tennis. There also are the Anchor association, the Milestone, debating and oratory clubs and Senior Girls association. Each class also maintains an organization.

INTERESTING HISTORY RELATING TO OTHER HOPE COLLEGE CHAPELS

It is altogether fitting at the time of the laying of the cornerstone of Hope's new memorial chapel to review shortly some interesting history as this relates to two other chapels that served their purpose in the earlier days of the institution. The first chapel was a combined gymnasium and chapel erected in 1862 and occupying the site where Carnegie hall

As the stone was being set Dr. Kollen said "and now I lay the cornerstone of Graves library and Winants chapel in the name of the Father of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Let this beautiful building arise and may the builders be greatly prospered in all their work."

In order to add to the capacity of the building a gallery was built on three sides of the structure adding at least 500 to the seating capacity.

This old chapel was used for many months when the secession of the

The cornerstone is of New York marble is 2 feet by 2 feet 8 inches and 18 inches in height. It is placed north of the main entrance and has inscribed upon it the motto in the seal of the college.

old Van Raalte church took place and the First Reformed church of Holland was the out growth. For at least two years the late Dr. N. M. Steffens conducted services there and until the present church edifice on Central avenue and Ninth street was completed.

The cornerstone of Hope's second chapel was laid on the afternoon of Oct. 12, 1892.

The building was a gift from Hon. N. T. Graves of Syracuse, N. Y., and from Mrs. Garret C. Winants of Bergen Point, N. J.

Both Mrs. Winants and Mr. Grave had donated sums of $10,000 each and with their permission a library and a chapel were built in one and were called Graves hall and Winants chapel.

It is rather a coincidence that W. K. Johnston the architect who drew the plans for Winants chapel in 1893 also drew the plans for Hope's new memorial chapel for which the cornerstone was laid yesterday.

The program on Oct. 12, 1892 was as follows:

Exercises in charge of Charles Scott, president of Hope college:

1-Chorus by students.

2-Prayer, Rev. J. W. Beardslee, D. D.

3-Music, "Praise Ye the Father" choral led by Prof. J. B. Nykerk.

sealed and contains the following: synodical minutes, a copy of De Holland, De Grondwet, De Hope, De Wachter, The Holland City News, Hope Anchor, Ottawa County Times, Christian Intelligence and Mission Field, also sketch of life of G. C. Winant, a $3 gold piece donated by Mrs. H. P. Searle, a sermon by Dr. A. C. Van Raalte and sketched his life by Rev. Henry E. Doeker. Also catalogues of Hope for 1865 and 1892 and also of North Western Classical Academy and Western Theological Seminary, Rutgers college and seminary, commencement address of Rev. Dr. Mandeville for the year 1892. Inaugural address of President Phelps, and of Prof. N. M. Steffens. First commencement of Hope college, memoirs of Rev. G. Vander Meulen founder of Zeeland and Biography and sketch of Hon. N. T. Graves with photograph. Also photographs of Dr. Van Raalte, Dr. Phelps and Dr. Scott. Memorial of Dr. A. T. Stewart, constitution of the college, architects drawing of buildings by W. K. Johnston, first application for aid to congress for improvement of Holland Harbor, signed by Dr. Van Raalte, B. Grootenhuis and others. Included in this long list was the Dec. 12, 1892 list of students, and program of exercises of cornerstone laying of Graves hall and Winants chapel.

The builder of Winants chapel was the late James Huntly, supervisor of construction was James Price. The late John Van Landegone one of Holland's first mayors had the contract for heating plumbing. The building committee were G. J. Kollen, J. W. Beardslee, Arend Vischer, Isaac Cappon, Charles Scott, Henry W. Post, Jas. F. Zwemer. Of all the men identified with the laying of the cornerstone of Winants chapel and who's names are mentioned in this article only two are living today, namely W. K. Johnston, the architect, who spends most of his time at Ottawa Beach and James Price, architect of Grand Rapids. The two donors have long since passed to their reward.

Board of Trustees and Faculty Appear at Exercises in Cap and Gown

At least 1,000 gathered on the College campus at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon to witness the laying of the corner stone of the new Memorial Chapel of Hope College.

The driving rain that held away the most of the day gave way to clear skies shortly before the exercises were to begin.

On the platform erected were Reverend G. De Young, D. D., president of the Board of Trustees who was in charge of the program, Dr. E. D. Dimmett, president of Hope College, C. M. McLean who laid the Corner Stone, Rev. Nicholas Boer, G. J. Dickema, secretary of Hope College, Dr. J. E. Kuitinga, president of the Western Theological Seminary, Dr. E. J. Blekkink and Rev. Henry Veldman orator of the day.

These men were robed in cap and gown as were the faculty members of Hope College.

One of the interesting features was the laying of the corner stone by Mr. C. M. McLean of Holland. Mr. McLean and family have donated the beautiful Westminster chimes to be installed in the tower of the new building.

As Mr. McLean applied the trowel, commenting the corner stone to the foundation he said:

"I lay the cornerstone of a house to be erected, and devoted to the service of Almighty God; in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

"Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

"Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it."

The program of the day as given follows below.

Prayer.—Reverend Evert J. Blekkink, D. D., Western Theological Seminary.

Music.—Glee Clubs.

Benediction.—Reverend Gerhard De Jonge, D. D.

The President of the Board of Trustees and the President of the College presiding.

The address given by Rev. Henry J. Veldman, D. D., of Muskegon, member of the Board of Trustees follows.

"I would seem ungrateful, indeed, if I did not say, that I deeply appreciate the honor which is mine this afternoon, and yet I would have been far happier if that honor had been bestowed on some one else. The only reason why I consented to comply with the wishes of our honored President is because of a growing realization that I owe a tremendous debt to Hope College, because of what that institution has done for me and my children, and because of what it has done for the churches which I have served. Hence, in order to pay just a bit of interest on that unpayable principal that is why I am here in this unthought for capacity."

"I have chosen to speak for a few moments on the subject of, first, things first, or the pre-eminence of The Christian Religion in the life of our Denominational colleges. I have selected this theme for two reasons. First, because it has seemed to me that the religious institutions of our land, born out of the prayers and consecrated gifts of God's own people and founded upon his infallible Word have, even when we seek to be as charitable in our judgement of them as we can, in several cases departed many a league from the ideal that was dominant in the earlier years of their existence, and that there is need thereof of calling them back again to first things; and secondly, I have chosen to dwell upon this theme because I am conscious of the fact and profoundly grateful for it that our own beloved school, with others, thank God, is still faithful to this trust committed to it by lips long silent in the grave. And I can give no better evidence for this, and need no better, than just to remind you of what is transpiring before our eyes."

"I think it may be stated without fear of contradiction that the Christian church, at least in America, has been the Mother of Education. Somebody has said that every movement that has sprung up since that day, the Church, in some one of its branches was their Mother and long fostered them after giving them

HOPE'S NEW MEMORIAL CHAPEL FOR WHICH CORNERSTONE WAS LAID

The above is an architects drawing of Hope's new Memorial Chapel to be erected at an estimated cost of $250,000. The frontage over all north and south is 220 feet, the depth is 190 feet, the large tower is 120 feet high while the small turrets are 100 feet each.

The main auditorium is 60x92 feet with a seating capacity of 950, the rear balcony is 40x60 feet seating 350, the side balcony is 15x72 feet seating 500, while the stage which is 34x70 feet can seat 200. The seating capacity of the entire building is well over 2,000.

On the main floor the main corridor is 10x90 feet the rooms for missionary work, Bible study and Y. M. C. A. and for other uses are 60x96 feet and there will be a store room 26x38 feet.

The building is to be built of Bedford stone on four sides. There will be reinforced concrete walls, steel beams and concrete floors throughout.

It was necessary to change the architects plans, building the tower 20 ft higher in order to accommodate the beautiful chimes given by Mr. C. M. McLean and family of Holland, in memory of the late Mrs. McLean.

The Westminster chimes are a 22 tone set costing at least $12,000. No city in Michigan outside of Detroit has a set that will equal these. The chimes can be played from an organ key board or can be mechanically set to chime the hour, the half and the quarter hour. These can also be regulated to chime both day and night, or the night chimes can be eliminated.

The beautiful rose window that will be installed is from the class of 1916.

The pulpit will be a unique affair built of Rosewood, and is the handiwork of Missionary Rotschaf of India.

It is still too early to give any details as to furniture and fixtures, but it is understood that some liberal donations from furniture men are in prospect in the way of fitting out this beautiful building.

Some headway has been made relative to a large pipe organ that is to be installed after the building is completed. Twenty-five thousand dollars for this instrument is being considered, however, this is a matter for later consideration since it will be some time before the building is completed and details relative to the organ will be worked out before that time.

The architect of the building is W. K. Johnston who also drew the plans for Winants chapel in 1893.

Mr. Johnston's first job in Ottawa county was the plans for the Ottawa county court house at Grand Haven and many of the beautiful structures in the earlier days were conceived by Mr. Johnston.

Estimates of Needs and Summaries of Past Year Rendered Supervisors

Reports from the judge of probate, train commissioner, county agricultural agent, home demonstration agent and road commission consumed the greater part of the session Wednesday and Thursday morning of the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors, with a few requests for appropriations from the bee inspection, poultry association and crippled children's hospital.

Included in the probate report was data on the tuberculosis expenditures, the insane and poor. Grand Haven got the greatest share of the T. B. fund with $4,572. Holland city was next with $2,037; Tallmadge Township, $1,095; Zeeland, $591; and Spring Lake, $462.

The county was for care of patients in the Muskegon Sanatorium at the rate of $3 a day. Recommendation for an appropriation of $7,500, the same sum as last year was made.

There were 130 poor families including 368 dependents aided at an average expenditure of $2,661.24 a month. Recommendation for an appropriation of $35,000 was made by the judge.

Ottawa County sent 19 patients to the Kalamazoo Hospital and the Psychopathic Hospital at Ann Arbor at the cost of $1.2 a day at Kalamazoo and $30 a week at the latter place. The sum of $8,000 was asked for that department next year.

Henry Sierma reported the completion of 11 drains in the county which cost $109,844.67 for maintenance. The largest project was about four miles of road in Park township connecting US-41 with the new state park at Ottawa Beach. Several smaller jobs were completed on the Nunda road, Byron road and Alpena Beach road.

The report, submitted in printed form, was excellently presented making clear the work accomplished, the financial condition of the county, and its ideas for future projects. Today the board made its annual highway inspection tour.

SURPRISES ARE HUNTED BY THE C. OF COMMERCE

The chamber of commerce has called a meeting of the membership, friends of the chamber, and citizens generally who may be interested in the activities of this organization, to be held Tuesday evening, October 18th, at 6:30 o'clock, at the Masonic Temple. A seventy-five cent dinner will be served promptly at that hour, after which a business session will be held. The month of October is the beginning of the new year for the chamber of commerce and at this meeting a review of what has been accomplished will be given and some interesting announcements as to what Holland's development prospects for the coming year may be promised. Mr. Wynand Michers, president of the chamber, urges all members and friends to come to this meeting, adding that it is very important that the committees in charge know as soon as possible how many to plan on. Tickets are being distributed to committeemen today and all can help these men who are giving their time to this work, by responding promptly. Because of the business to be transacted and the nature of the announcements to be made, it is believed that the attendance will tax the capacity of the Masonic temple.

The committee in charge of the affair consists of the following: Wynand Michers, Dick Boter, Ernest Brooks, B. A. Mulder, Frank Lieveens, Wm. C. Vandenberg.

Little Girl Falls From Car to Curb

Little Sally Lou Seifert, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Seifert, Grand Haven, suffered a severe hurt on Saturday while in Grand Rapids with her mother. The little girl fell out of the automobile owned by Dr. Arend Vyn and her head struck against a curb corner. A deep cut necessitating three stitches was the result. She was taken to Butterworth hospital where first aid was given and mother brought her home in Grand Haven. She is recovering nicely now. Fortunately the car was not moving or the consequences might have been much more serious.

TRAINING CLASS ORGANIZED AT 1ST REF. CHURCH

The teachers training class, which was organized for the benefit of all churches and would-be teachers of religion in the city of Holland, will meet for their second regular session this evening at First Reformed church. As has been announced the classes are open to all who seek instruction in the proper and best method of getting the lesson to the pupil. Wednesday evenings the two classes are in charge of Dr. Kulsenga and Mr. W. Wichers. The Sunday afternoon session on the Life of Jesus is in charge of Dr. A. Pieters.

Prof. Kils, who has charge of registration, announced that about 150 have registered for the various classes but that there is still room for as many as desire to take the course. It is imperative that registration be made as soon as possible that the most benefit may come from the course.

Quartet Grand Haven Cases in The Sanatorium

The tuberculosis clinic held at the court house at Grand Haven recently well attended keeping Dr. William Via, the examining physician, and two nurses, Miss Lemmer and Mrs. Lundborg, busy continuously.

All patients had been exposed to tuberculosis, of which four were adults and ten were children. Nine were permanent clinic re-admits, five have tuberculosis in various forms and seven were new.

At the present time Grand Haven is taking care of four tubercular patients at the Muskegon sanatorium.

License Plates Of All The States Accounted For

Wednesday, after long months of waiting, Holland saw on its streets a license plate from the state of Idaho. Long before the summer was over all the other states had been represented among the automobiles that came along the West Michigan pike. Idaho alone was absent. For some time it had been known that the latter part of August, leaving Idaho the only one absent.

Wednesday Dr. Vanderveide "lamped" the Idaho license plate and he informed the Sentinel. Investigation showed that the Idaho visitors were Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Blue, of Twin Falls, Idaho. Mr. Blue is a salesman of a grave marker company and he paid a visit to the home of J. S. Dykstra.

TO REPEAT PAGEANT THURSDAY EVENING

The pageant, "Striking of America's Hour," given at the Ottawa county Sunday school convention last week, will be repeated Thursday night in connection with the women's missionary conference. It will be under the directions of Miss Warnshuis, as before. Many were turned away last week.

FIRST SESSION OF THE SUPERVISORS IS UNEVENTFUL

The board of supervisors of Ottawa county convened at the court house Monday afternoon for their regular October session with all members present. They were called to order by the Chairman, Fred Graham. The credentials of John De Kooyor were accepted as a supervisor from Holland to take the place of Edward Vandenberg, resigned.

The first day's session was marked by little more than routine. The state tax roll which shows an increase of $33,454.20 over that of last year was perhaps the most interesting feature. There are 48 items listed as against 31 last year and a general increase in most of the items.

An insurance company called attention to the fact that the bonds of the depositories for county funds are not up to the required amounts. The Michigan Tourist association asked for an appropriation. The bureau of animal industry asked for $6,000 to continue their work in the eradication of bovine tuberculosis.

Sheriff Kamferbeek recommended the purchase of a finger print camera and also the extension of the four month period of the traffic office on year around one as a deputy for the southern half of the county which is not sufficiently patrolled, he thinks, with but one deputy there. He recommended that Bernard Hilde be appointed as a regularly paid deputy, thus increasing the staff of the sheriff's three deputies to four.

William M. Connelly, road commissioner, extended an invitation for an inspection of the county roads on Thursday, which was accepted by the board.

Other matters brought up at this time were referred to committees for consideration and reports later.

Anton A. Paris, for several years a rural carrier from the local office, is still on duty although a cripple. He sustained his injuries when on a trip through California while on his annual vacation. He drove west and in an apricot orchard he fell from a tree he was climbing. He returned to Holland a lame man. While riding during the summer vacation by his son he now makes the route alone by auto.

A final valuation on the Pere Marquette railroad as of June 30, 1915, was filed today by the interstate commerce commission at $62,705,390. The corporation's book investment on that date was $67,100,296, while its outstanding capitalization at par was $68,837,176. Last week the commission refused the Pere Marquette authority to pay a stock dividend of approximately $9,000,000 on the ground that it would increase the company's capitalization to a point not justified by its assets.

Mrs. Alice Goodman, aged 65, widow of William H. Goodman, former probate register and postmaster of Allegan, died at the family home north of Allegan. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. William Ketchel; a granddaughter and one brother, Albert Hartman of Monterey. Funeral was held Sunday afternoon at the home.

Clarence Tyse, captain and quarterback of Holland high school football squad, has achieved new distinctions as a gridiron warrior. At a weekly rule quiz Tyse answered every question correctly and was awarded the first 100 ever given on such a test.

Adrian B. Bauman, 35, R. F. D. No. 11, Holland, who was enlisted for service at the Chinese legation in Peking three years ago by Col. H. M. Fales and returned to New York after a trip around the world as a soldier, has been enlisted again by Col. Fales for Hawaiian service.

PLAN EXTENSION OF SCOUT WORK IN THIS AREA

The executive board of the Ottawa county council, boy scouts of America, will hold its next meeting on Wednesday at the Warm Friend Tavern in Holland Thursday evening. Plans will be laid for a broad extension of scout work over the area. Scout leaders believe that the work of establishing a sound foundation has been completed and that now the organization is prepared for a movement which has as its objective the making of scouting available to all boys of the territory.

The past year has witnessed the largest growth that scouting has experienced in the eighteen years since its founding in America. At the present rate of progress the entire nation will be covered by first class council organizations, like Ottawa county, within two years. And the state of Michigan will be completely organized within one year. Already over seventy-five percent of the population of Michigan is so organized. This plan requires the extension of many existing councils and the organization of several new ones. What is now the Ottawa county council is scheduled to become an area council consisting of Ottawa and Allegan counties. Very soon it is proposed to extend an invitation to Allegan county asking them to join hands.

At least eight new troops will be organized in Ottawa county alone this fall. The organization of several is already under way. Several new communities have also made application for scout units.

Leadership training courses will be conducted in four or five sections of the area immediately after the first of the year.

The improving of a permanent camp is another project which it is proposed to undertake this year.

'THE CONTEXT' IS THE SUBJECT OF AN ADDRESS HERE

The large number who came out to hear the address given by Dr. W. White at the Reformed church were well repaid for their effort. The meeting was the first of two evening sessions of the sixth annual synodical conference of the synod of Chicago. Holland is fortunate in being able to entertain this gathering from year to year, since it gives the citizens of Holland an opportunity to hear men of great prominence who are called to address the conference.

Dr. White started his address Tuesday evening by stating that he was a thorough-going conservative. He stated that he did not think that anyone should become confused when he pleaded for all to have an open mind since even the conservative had much to learn. His subject discussed was "Study the Context." In a very forceful way, by using several well known scripture portions, Dr. White demonstrated how frequently the principal idea of a text might be entirely misconstrued simply because the individual had failed correctly to understand the material immediately preceding and following the text in question.

The music for the service was under the direction of Dr. J. B. Nykerk. He had secured the services of Mr. Gerrit Ter Beek and Mr. John Ter Vree, who sang "The Crucifix." The offertory music was rendered by a quartet composed of Miss Barkema, Miss Klassen, Mr. Ter Beek and Mr. Ter Vree. Rev. J. P. Heemstra, as chairman of the conference, presided over the services. Rev. B. Plikema read the scriptures and offered prayer.

This evening Dr. White will speak again at the same place and at the same hour upon the subject, "How The Bible Came to Be." All are welcome who desire a real hour of inspiration.

Mrs. Kelley, wife of Rev. S. E. Kelley of Allegan, was painfully injured and narrowly escaped death when her car was struck by a machine coming from a side street in Osego. Mrs. Kelley suffered many body bruises and also is suffering from shock. The car was overturned and is a wreck.

Dr. E. J. Blekkink addressed the men's organization of the Central Reformed church of Grand Rapids Monday night on the subject, "The Centenary of the Reformed Church or Three Hundred Years of the Reformed Church in America."

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Fitch of Peris-mouth, Ohio, left this week for their home, after attending the national convention of the American College of Surgeons at Detroit. They came to Holland for a few days as guests of their daughter Mrs. Phillips Brooks.

Michigan's 3 cent gasoline tax law was declared unconstitutional Saturday in an opinion handed down by Judge Guy Miller in Wayne county circuit court. Even though an order restraining Secretary of State Hagerty from collecting the tax accompanied the opinion, it is not likely that autoists will have a chance to escape paying the levy until after the supreme court reviews Judge Miller's opinion. The law contains a saving clause. It is to the effect that should any section be declared unconstitutional, the remainder of the act shall not be invalidated as a result.

Both fire departments were called out Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock to put out a garage fire at the home of Martin Wabeke, 419 Central Avenue. A light was noticed in the garage by one of the family. It was thought a glim was allowed to burn after the car had been put up. Shortly afterwards the light was seen to flicker, however, and an investigation was made. Mr. Wabeke threw open the door and found the Chevrolet aflame. The car was backed out, the garden hose was applied, and when the firemen arrived they aided in putting the fire out. While the car is badly damaged the garage did not suffer much. A short circuit caused the fire to start.

MAKES A PLEA FOR R. C. CREDIT FOR OTTAWA COUNTY

All the Red Cross roll call supplies have arrived at the local Red Cross office and they are ready for distribution among the workers who will be in charge of the roll call in southern Ottawa in November. No definite arrangements have as yet been made for the roll call in Holland and it has not yet been announced which organization will be in charge of the work. In past years the Legion has usually assumed the responsibility.

Mrs. G. J. Van Duren is making the announcement of the arrival of Red Cross supplies as early as this in the hope that many persons who expect to leave Holland for the winter or who expect to be away from here at the time of the roll will enroll at the office in the city hall before they go. "It is a fact," said Mrs. Van Duren, "that most people of that kind subscribe their dollar to the Red Cross; they are among its best supporters, but often they let it go until they are in California or Florida or some other place. Then they subscribe and their membership and money are credited to their temporary place of residence, whereas the credit really should go to Holland. In this way Holland each year loses many memberships that it should have in the national records. I should like to make an appeal at this early date to all such persons so that Holland may get what naturally belongs to it."

Mrs. Van Duren made the plea all the stronger because of the fact that this year Ottawa county has been asked to secure 500 additional members to take care of the special disasters that visited various parts of the country, making the total 4,000, instead of the 3,500 of last year. The memberships that should be credited to Ottawa but that usually are placed to the credit of some other state will help some in making up the extra total.

Every effort will be made to secure the extra members and to this end the work is in full swing at this early date.

RETEST OF CATTLE IS NECESSARY IN MUSKEGON COUNTY

A retest of all the cattle in Muskegon county for tuberculosis must be made in 1928 if Muskegon is to remain in the accredited area. It is estimated by H. W. Horton, Jr., of the bureau of animal industry, that the work will cost not to exceed $4,500.

Muskegon county supervisors will provide for the appropriation in the budget for the next year. The tuberculosis eradication campaign was started in Muskegon county three years ago and the third year there must be a retest of the cattle.

Mr. Horton reports that the work is proceeding rapidly and satisfactorily in the state, and that 44 counties have been placed in the modified accredited area while tests are being made in 23 counties at present. The other counties are on the waiting list.

Alderman Secures Two Big Contracts

Alderman Thompson has secured the contract for the plumbing in the new Virginia Park school and he will begin work on this job soon. He is now at work on his contract for a central heating plant at Lakewood Farm. This is a big job and the plant will provide heat for all the greenhouses and animal houses at the farm.

The retiring commander was Jack Knoll.

WAS MINISTER FORTY YEARS

October 23rd will mark a very happy occasion for Rev. M. Van Vessum, formerly of Zeeland, when he will commemorate the fortieth anniversary of his installation as a minister of the Gospel.

Mr. Van Vessum served in Zeeland nearly one-third of this period, resigning his position there as pastor of the Reformed Christendom church to accept the charge at Comstock, which he now holds. An outstanding program will be given this night at the Warm Friend Tavern, when the Rotary, Exchange and Lions clubs join in a meeting to meet Mr. Elmer J. Walters, manager of the Wright Players of Grand Rapids, and the members of his company.

The Wright Players is an institution in the dramatic education and social life of Grand Rapids and the program next Thursday is planned to give Holland a better idea of the work they are doing and the opportunity they offer the people in the vicinity to enjoy meeting stage successes as played at Powers Theatre.

Mr. Walters has arranged to bring his orchestra, under the leadership of George E. Rogers, with him and the program will consist of a number of musical selections, and talks by Miss Betty Garde and Mr. Walter Vaughn, two popular members of the company.

Mr. Walters then was introduced and he will give a short history of himself and the company and wound up the program with a negro story telling contest. In which everyone present participated.

The quarterly meeting of the Adult Bible class of the Central Park church was held Monday evening in the church parlors and there was a fine attendance. Mr. Thomas Rosendahl presided and led in the devotions. A very pleasing duet was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph VanLente, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Sturp on the piano. Mr. Dick Boter was then introduced as the speaker of the evening. His address on the subject, "Our Social Heritage and Its Obligations," was very well received. He stressed the three great lines along which our social heritage has come to us, the religious, scientific, and political, and then pointed out the duty we owe to posterity. Excellent refreshments were served by a committee in charge of Mrs. James Cook and every one home feeling that the affair has been very much worth while.

The W. H. M. S. of the Methodist church met in its regular monthly meeting in the church parlors. A delightful program had been prepared, consisting of duets by Mr. Henry Te Roller and Mrs. Wm. Vandenberg. A short play, "The Sins of the World's Children," was presented to an appreciative audience. Geo. Damson acted the part of the auctioneer, offering the children of all nationalities for sale. The bidding was spirited, the bidders being Pleasure, Vanity Fair, Child Labor, Crime, Thinking, Ambition, Riches, Graft, Ex-king Alcohol, Law and the Spirit of Christianity, the last named being the highest bidder.

Delegates were chosen for the convention of the Michigan conference to be held in Mt. Pleasant in November. The delegates chosen were Mrs. Geo. Elferink and Mrs. Lemuel Harris. Refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served by Mrs. Tuttle and her group.

In connection with the women's missionary conference, Miss Emma Reverts, principal of Annville Institute of Jackson County, Kentucky, will be the principal speaker. The services there will begin promptly at 7:30 P. M.

The eighteenth anniversary of First Reformed church of Zeeland was brought to a fitting close Monday night by a big congregational social in which 500 members and friends took part.

Mr. Wynand Wichers of Holland spoke on the subject, "What the Church Has Done for Me."

"The character of the community in laid by the church," Mr. Wichers stated. He added, "The church is a laboratory for ideals to be put into practice and a great opportunity for workers. Zeeland was founded about the First church, the church and the community working as a unit."

During the two-day celebration many former pastors were present to make addresses. At the afternoon session Monday Rev. G. De Jonge delivered a complete history of the founding of the church.

The Red Cross work of Mrs. G. J. Van Duren has attracted the attention of divisional headquarters to such an extent that Wm. M. Baxter, Jr., manager of the midwestern division, with headquarters in St. Louis, has asked Mrs. Van Duren to be one of the speakers at the Red Cross conference to be held in Grand Rapids on October 19. The mid-western division covers 17 states.

"Miss Bussell has suggested," writes Mr. Baxter, "that we invite you to appear on the program in the afternoon to address the group for twenty minutes on 'The Campaign' in connection with steps in organizing a successful roll call. Your outstanding experience with the chapter in Holland has qualified you for a very comprehensive digest of this subject and we know your contribution will mean much to the delegates in attendance."

The meeting will be held in the Fountain Street Baptist church and it will be devoted largely to the discussion of roll call matters, with short addresses at the luncheon meeting on disaster relief and probably a discussion of the Junior Red Cross at the afternoon session.

The invitation to Mrs. Van Duren to address delegates on how to conduct a Red Cross roll call is an honor not only to her personally but to Ottawa county as well. This county has attracted the attention of divisional headquarters in its Red Cross activities. The work here has more than once been featured in the "Red Cross Courier," the national magazine published in Washington, D. C., in the interest of the Red Cross, and field workers have often pointed to Ottawa as an example of the right kind of Red Cross work.

MERCHANTS HEAR HISTORY OF THE CHAIN STORES

The Holland Merchants Association Tuesday night had as its speaker Mr. T. W. Sawyer, secretary of the Battle Creek Merchants Association. He selected as his subject, "The New Competition." Mr. Sawyer said that since the advent of the chain stores the regular merchants have demoralized the fact of their coming, but this morning will not help this matter any and the chain stores are bound to stay. Not too far in the future, department stores will sweep the country, and as Mr. Hoover stated, with this condition arising the independent stores have their backs to the wall.

The speaker gave as an example that the growth of the chain stores is so tremendous that it is nearly unbelievable. In 1915 there were 8,000 chain stores in the country; today there are 100,000. The speaker pointed out that the best way to meet this new competition is to take a leaf from the book of the chain store method of doing business and apply it in their own affairs. The businessmen are just beginning to awaken to the fact that cooperative buying, organizing to install up-to-date business methods, are the best weapons to meet this new competition.

A proper credit system in which the regular merchants will not sustain such heavy book loss is another method. Chain stores give no credit, the regular stores give no credit, the regular stores should be sparing in their credit.

He also brought out that judicious cooperative advertising is also very essential, but the advertising must be honest and the advertising matter should not be inflated or boastful or overstated as to values, for that class of advertising kills itself.

It is well for merchants to watch their line and pick out the sellers and steer clear of the class of goods in which there is no turn-over.

The speaker stated that the man who watches his stock and buys such goods for which there is a demand and passes up the slow moving goods can make more money with less money and with a smaller stock than the merchant whose shelves are groaning with stock that does not market readily.

He stated that the neck of the merchant's bottle is the distribution of goods. Since the war the farmer has produced cheaper, the manufacturer has cut the cost and has produced heavier, but improper distribution has kept the consumer's cost up. That is a problem that should be worked out sooner or later.

It was evident from Mr. Sawyer's talk that by following chain store methods in collective buying, group organization and eliminating bad credits the new competition would be largely solved. But he said the individual merchant often is so anxious to sell that he forgets to scrutinize the buyer's ability to pay.

After the meeting the fifty merchants, who came in spite of the rain storm went to Keefe's Cafe for their luncheon.

The state auditors are making an inspection of the books at the county offices in the Ottawa county court house. This is about a three weeks' job.

MORE BLUE GILLS ARE PLANTED IN BLACK LAKE

The Holland Game and Fish boys are busy planting blue gills in Black Lake on Tuesday. A shipment of eight cans arrived at noon, and was met by a squad of volunteer workers who distributed them along the north and south shores of the lake. Another shipment was taken in charge by Saugatuck and Douglas enthusiasts for planting in Kalamazoo river and the lake. No additional supply is expected this fall, but Holland and community has received generous treatment indeed from the Bureau of Fisheries of the State Conservation Department.

Next season more than ten times as many fish will be planted locally with the supply from the rearing ponds sponsored by the Holland Game and Fish Protective Association.

IS CENTRAL FIGURE IN EXPERIMENT IN THE EAST

may well be compared in its results with the Lausanne Conference. Eighteen universities, fifty colleges, and twenty-six theological seminaries have been represented. Men have come from twenty-three denominations and thirty-seven states, besides England and Canada. Twenty-three presidents of institutions and ninety-four professors and deans of colleges, universities and seminaries have been present. There were also church board secretaries, headmasters, editors, pastors and others.

The general subject of the conference has been "Group Functioning" with special reference to more efficient functioning of the Christian Church. Such topics as the Origin of the Christian Church, Its Objective, Creeds and Program, have been considered, also Tolerance, Authority, and other pressing problems. The findings of these group conferences will be somewhat surprising coming from the source indicated above. For example, the tremendous emphasis placed upon the importance of the small group by Hon. P. Whitwell Wilson, who was a member of one of the groups, is likely to be endorsed by these educators. It is that the cry against denominationalism has been considerably softened. This is significant in view of the strenuous efforts made by many nowadays in the direction of the "Inclusive Church." A finer, kinder denominationalism with advice to function true to type is likely to be found among the findings.

Great emphasis was placed on the importance of properly trained Christian leadership. The statement of Dean Perry, of Harvard, was approved that the Church in the person of its ministers needs facing the discipline and travail of spirit by which the way is found for men to reach God. The problem is to find teachers and leaders. The vehicle of unity is believed to be a rediscovery of the mission and the message of the Bible. The conference asserts the reality of essential Christianity in men quite diverse in intellectual statement.

The Church is advised to 'stick to its last' and to seek to make life more abundant in a larger number of individuals who in turn will function in state, school, family, and in business according to the distinctive laws of these different groups. "Come, padre, tell me about God," said a soldier in France, "that's your job. You ought to know."

The favorite slogan of President Wilbert White, of the Biblical Seminary in New York, who conducts the Columbiana conference, is, "Recourse to the Records," by which is meant, Return to the Bible and go where it leads. He often quotes P. T. Forsythe who says, "The ministry must be a bibliography. It must know its Bible better than any other book."

The objective is to make Columbian-on-Lake-George in religion what Peterboro in New Hampshire is for artists, Woods Hole for science, and Williamstown for politics. Dr. Glover may return next year. Well known Christian educators and religious leaders, such as Prof. John Wright Buckham, of the University of Southern California; Dr. B. Chown, the Christian statesman of Canada; President George W. Nash, of Yankton College, South Dakota; Bishop J. Taylor Hamilton, president of the Moravian College and Theological Seminary; Dr. David M. M. Sweets, editor of the "Christian Observer," Louisville, Ky.; Dr. Charles H. Sears, of the Metropolitan Area of the Baptist Board, New York City; Dr. John Aberly, president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg; Dr. George B. Myers, of the University of the South, Sewanee; Dr. J. Sprole Lyons, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Atlanta; Dr. Frank Hackett, Headmaster of the Riverdale Country School; Dr. Hugh E. Murchison, of the University of South Carolina, Columbia; and Dr. Walter S. Athearn, Dean of the School of Education, Boston University, are members of the Columbian group and advocates of the Columbian idea.

(Editor's Note: The following article, which appeared in "The Christian Observer," is of local interest just now, because Dr. Wilbert White, who appears in it prominently, is the main speaker at the sessions of the synodical conference in Holland this week.)

Can Modernism and Fundamentalism with all grades between, meet in friendly conference on differences and agreements with a view to securing more efficiency in Christian activity? The answer is: This has been done. The third session of the three conferences, each lasting throughout July and August, held at beautiful "Neino Lodge," Silver Bay, New York, closed August 30, 1927. Professor T. R. Glover, of Cambridge, author of the "Jesus of History" and other books, one of the favorites among college men, has been present throughout this entire third session during which five groups, averaging twelve each, have met, each lasting ten days. President Wilbert White, of the Biblical Seminary, in New York, who organized and directed the conference, is determined to show that conservatism can be fair, and all parties have fallen in line with this spirit.

Men as diverse in theological views as Prof. T. R. Glover and Dr. R. C. Wylie, president of the Reformed Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Pittsburgh, have sat together around a table, earnestly seeking to understand one another's point of view. Both types have agreed that the Church of the past has never suffered by magnifying Christ, and that when it has not done so, loss has followed. All have agreed that the essential in Christianity is Christ.

Christian educators numbering 180 in all have been present. Considering the personnel, the work of the group

The machine coming from the west was going rather fast and being without lights, and perhaps for that reason, the Looman boy may not have seen them approaching. The result was both cars were damaged to quite an extent, while John Looman received a badly cut ear which required three stitches. The Weener boy received a bump on his forehead. While Johanna Looman was cut quite badly about the face. She was taken to the Holland hospital where medical attention was given returning to the home of her mother, Mrs. Garret Looman again the following day. STUDENTS AT
HOPE WANT NEW RULES CHANGED

Hope college students do not hesitate to express their displeasure with new regulations in regard to classroom absences, adopted by the faculty.

According to the rules a student is allowed as many excused absences in any course as the number of semester hours granted in the course. This means two excused absences in a two-hour course and three excused absences in a three-hour course.

These excused will be granted by the instructor, only for reasons he considers valid.

Any absence without valid reason and all absences in excess of the number permitted will be counted as unexcused absences.

For the first unexcused absence in any course reduction of 5 per cent will be made in the final grade for the semester. For the second unexcused absence the student will be debarred from the course. Three tardinesses will be counted as one absence.

The rules further stipulate that when any student's absences total 15 in one semester, one semester-hour credit will be deducted from the credit earned during the semester. For each additional 15 absences or fractions thereof, a similar penalty will be imposed.

Students on account of prolonged illness or absence incurred by students while representing the college in an official capacity out of the city will be excused by the registrar upon the presentation of a written excuse signed by an authentic person and will be added in the application of rule 1. Each absence will count as one-third of an absence in the application of rule 2.

Absences occurring on a day or days immediately before or after a vacation will be counted the same as two absences at other times.

Commenting editorially on the new rules the Anchor, published by the student body, states that Hope student body does not require such strict regulations as the greater number are working their way through school and that it practically places a ban on extended glee club, debating or athletic tours, which are considered invaluable advertisements to the college.

As an alternative the Anchor proposes the amending of the rules so as to allow each student a number of cuts in each course, equal to the number of credit hours given in said course. All absences incurred while representing the college should be wholly excused, says the paper.

HOPE PREPARES FOR GAME WITH HILLSDALE TEAM

Coach Schouten sent his men through a spirited workout yesterday, in preparation for the homecoming game against Hillsdale. Hillsdale has not appeared on a local gridiron in many a year, and as a result interest in the game has risen to a high pitch.

Schouten pitted his freshman squad against the varsity in a hard scrimmage session. The varsity showed a marked improvement in its work. The team is showing the result of a week of hard drill and looks good in every department of the game. The backfield, composed of Capt. Russ Japling, Kleis, Netting, and H. Japling, repeatedly tore holes through the rush line for big gains, while the ends were equally successful in snaring passes.

Hillsdale comes here with a powerful outfit. Although defeated in two early season games against Lake Forest and Toledo Universities, Hillsdale has a sufficiently strong squad to warrant their being a factor in the M. I. A. race.

Martin, Winter, and Netting have sufficiently recovered from injuries received in the Albion game to permit their participation in the Hillsdale game Saturday.

The tentative Hope schedule as given out by the athletic department is: Oct. 15, Hillsdale at Hope; Oct. 22, Hope at Flint Jr. College; Oct. 29, Hope at Olivet; Nov. 5, Hope at Alma; Nov. 11, Hope at Kalamazoo; Nov. 19, Open.

Soccer Teams

Play To A Tie

The soccer foot ball teams of Holland and Grand Rapids, the Grand Rapids Independents, played to a tie Saturday, neither team securing a score after a desperate battle. The game was played in John Hall park. It was an interesting contest and was witnessed by a large crowd.

Next Saturday the Holland soccer foot ball team will play in Holland. The visiting team has not yet been decided on.

HOPE FROSH

TO PLAY OLIVET ON SATURDAY

Asst. Coach Ten Brink sent his freshman squad against the varsity yesterday in preparation for their first tilt of the season. The Olivet freshman squad will form the opposition. Since the M. I. A. adoption of the rule forbidding the participation of the first year men in varsity games, every school in the conference has formed a separate yearling squad. Hope's first year prospects are very good with an exceptional number of men bidding for places on the team.

Van Duren's All Stars handed the West End All Stars their first defeat of the year Saturday morning by a 19 to 13 score.

Grand Rapids Press—A week's illness resulted Sunday evening in the death of Barred Barendse, 78, a native of The Netherlands, who settled in Grand Haven more than 50 years ago and who resided three years later to Grand Rapids, where he spent the rest of his life.

Barendse was a fisherman in the Michigan lake port and later engaged in the grocery business at Grand Rapids, always maintaining his home and store in the eastern section of the city. His last residence was at 1130 Eastern-av. S. E.

Mrs. Barendse died seven years ago. The couple had 15 children, 5 of whom died of scarlet fever in a brief period, when children were still in the home. The other 10 survive. Capt. John Barendse of No. 11 Grand Rapids fire company, Joseph of Muskegon and Hugo, Barend, Peter and Gerrit of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Sybilla Rydell of Traverse City and Mrs. Nellie Medendorp, Mrs. Katherine Beens and Miss Marie Barendse of Grand Rapids.

Funeral services were held at the residence at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The Doolittle High literary society gave the second weekly program at Holland High this morning. Ivan Stringer gave a few piano selections; Frank Hartfield and his gang gave a few popular numbers; the feature was a sketch, "A Marriage Has Been Arranged," given by Miss Metz and Mrs. Yoemans. The plot was very clever and pleasing and the story had an unexpected ending.

Funeral services for David W. Wiley, a resident of Saugatuck township for 60 years, were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Wiley was the first president of Douglas, director of the school board for several years and served one term as representative of that district in the state legislature. Two sons, Elmer of Douglas and Oscar of Chicago, survive.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Visscher are visiting in Chicago.

One Allegan Co. Jury
Convicts But Another
Can't Reach Verdict

William Goucher, 19, of Kellogg, charged with grand larceny, was convicted by an Allegan circuit court jury, which returned the verdict late this afternoon. Goucher was charged with complicity in stripping parts from a stolen car.

Defense attorneys attempted to prove that Goucher was in Grand Rapids on the day of the theft. After a deliberation of more than 24 hours the jury trying the case of Lawrence Cowles of Saco charged with a statutory offense, was unable to reach a verdict and was dismissed. During the proceedings, several children from the Saco school were called in as witnesses.

Cowles' step-father, A. L. Travis, was to have been tried on a like charge following the disposition of this case.

Grand Haven Pastor
Man of All Work As Well As A Preacher

Rev. C. A. Clay of the Grand Haven Congregational church has just completed "a labor of love" that saved his congregation about $1000.

For the past five weeks, Mr. Clay, who is quite an artisan, has been busy repatching plaster, repainting and redecorating with an attractive tree motif that gives the interior of the church an attractive appearance. He varnished the woodwork and completely cleaned and renovated the interior, the work being finished this week.

His congregation recently had him as guest of honor at a home-warming.

Reforestation In Allegan Urged By
Agriculturalist

Reforestation of cut-over sections throughout the county was advised in the report submitted to the Allegan county board of supervisors today by Ralph Helm, agricultural agent. The plantation of white pine seedlings was stressed as the quickest method.

Proper fertilization of soils and corn borer control was urged, and announcement was made of a series of meetings along these lines were scheduled for the winter.

The supervisors officially adopted the road program outlined to them Monday.

The sixth annual synodical conference of the synod of Chicago, which opened its sessions in Winnetka chapel Tuesday, came to a close Wednesday. The last meeting was addressed by Dr. White.

Wednesdays program was a full one, starting at 9:00 this morning with a scripture exposition by Dr. White, in which he stressed the idea that "Jesus Has Come." In his remarks he pointed out that Jesus' life must not be considered as having covered only the thirty odd years of his life upon earth but rather that He lived from the beginning and that His is a continuous existence.

After this inspirational and excellent devotional period, the conference continued to discuss subjects dealing with the general theme of the conference, "The Holy Spirit and The Truth." The particular subject for the morning discussion was "The Holy Spirit The Interpreter of The Truth." This idea was presented by three speakers who had as their proof for the above these subjects: "In the Preparation of The Message," Rev. J. Benink; "In Conveying of The Message," Rev. I. Van Wierburg; and "In Receiving of The Message," by Elder J. Ter Avest. With the conclusion of the last address the meeting was given over to a general discussion of the subjects treated by the various speakers.

The afternoon sessions of the conference were started a half-hour earlier to allow the members and delegates of the conference to attend the dedicatory exercises in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the new memorial chapel. Dr. White again gave one of his fine expositions at the afternoon sessions. The remainder of the afternoon program called for addresses from Rev. J. S. Ter Louw, Elder J. N. Trompen, and Rev. H. Mollema on the general subject, "The Holy Spirit The Vitalizer of The Truth."

The October meeting of the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter of the D. A. R. will be held Thursday, October 13, at the home of Mrs. Merck Hanchett, Lawnsdale Court. Attention is called to the fact that this is the meeting when the payment of the annual dues is requested by the treasurer.

Carl O. Heden of Chicago has been chosen to fill the vacancy in the modern language department at Hope college. Heden was awarded his Ph. D. degree at Chicago university in 1922 and pursued graduate work in the Universities of Chicago, Michigan and Minnesota.

THE NEW MEMORIAL

birth. Whether they all still gratefully recognize their mother and continue to be guided by her fostering care, or whether they have severed the tie that binds them to her, and turned their backs upon the first principles so nobly taught, having become rich and enriched with goods, this is a question of supreme importance. While we do not wish to be unduly critical nor make it appear that we are possessed of the holier than their spirit—a thing which I abominate with my whole soul, yet the facts are not wanting that not a few of these schools have not only cut loose from the church but cut loose from the Christian faith, from the faith once delivered unto the saints, substituting philosophies heathen in their origin and anti-Christian in their tendencies, and sciences bold in their attack upon the King of Books. How do we know? By the test that Jesus has himself given us even their fruits.

May I whisper it softly, by the sad, sad experience in the lives of a few of Hope's brightest and noblest sons. Only a few weeks ago a brother clergyman of another denomination told me that while he was pursuing a course of studies in one of these highly landed schools he fell into a religious conversation with an apparently well educated and well bred woman, when she suddenly interrupted him by saying: "What do you mean by that? I am a Christian, and I have no use for your 'religion talk'; and then she added: 'Hell, I've tried it all, and there's nothing in it for me.' This school, said my friend, 'is shot through with a spirit of skepticism, yea, with a spirit of atheism.' Thank God that is not true of Hope! We are with us, and we are strong proof of that fact. First things are still given first place, the Christian religion is still holding the position of pre-eminence it did from the beginning.

But while the past has been radiant with the light of the Christian religion, it has been here from the day that Mr. Walter C. Taylor began Hope Academy in the district school just 76 years ago this month. Dr. A. C. Van Raalte, that far-visioned, dauntless man of God found it here, when out of the largeness of his heart he donated the first five acres of the sixteen upon which the buildings are being erected. It was here through the years of struggle, incident to pioneer days, through which this institution passed. We, the older men of this generation, whose hair and ranks are fast growing thin found it here when we came. We noticed it in the atmosphere we breathed, in the contacts that we made. It was discovered also by the sons and daughters that followed in their train. And the marvel of that indefinable spirit has always been that it was predominantly religious, as expressed in a letter that reached the speaker some few years ago, when a newly elected President of the 'Y' said: "We want to make Christ King of the Campus." In other words, we want everything done and said here, our study and play, to come under the dominion of the Master of us all.

"Now that spirit so peculiarly characteristic of Hope throughout three quarters of a century, has never found tangible realization in a building beautifully expressive of this religious idea. That want is now to be supplied.

"Far be it from me to claim that we have buildings enough upon this Campus. We could well find room for another dormitory—a men's dormitory; we could doubtless make use also of a building devoted to our ever growing educational department, and yet, we are in full accord with the thought of the President that our immediate need is a well-equipped laboratory in which to carry on more efficiently the religious work of the school, including Bible study, and make it a rallying point also for the religious activities of the city and community, yea, of the denomination itself. And to that need this particular building is going to answer in a most wonderful way.

"We shall have here a building, whose auditorium, including the galleries and platform, will accommodate nearly 2000 people. Then on the ground floor there will be, first of all, an office to be occupied by Rev. Hager, the College pastor, in which he will, among other things, meet the students that desire to consider with him the problems that may concern themselves, or that may stand related to the form of religious work in which they are engaged. There also will be rooms, ample in size, for the Department of Biblical Literature and the Department of Religious Education and Missionary extension. On the South side of the same ground floor it is planned to make provision, in four well-appointed rooms, for conference gatherings for Life Service Union, Student Volunteer Band, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A., and Federal Union. These, as well as consistorial and classical and Synodical Conferences. It will be a building in which all of the students will be able to assemble each and every morning for chapel exercises, a thing impossible now seeing the present chapel has not sufficient seating capacity. Then the auditorium, while simple in its artistic beauty will at the same time and for that very reason be helpful in producing a worshipful spirit. And then, of course, Dr. Nykerk will see to it that a mighty organ fills the spaces provided for it, so that we may have, for the first time, upon the campus, an organ—the greatest musical instrument as yet invented by the skill of man. And, last but not least, through the generosity of kind hearted friends the belfry will contain chimes, the very best that money will be able to buy; by the melodious strains which shall send forth souls will be stirred to action and hearts will be lifted up in prayer and praise to Almighty God. No one living today is able to estimate what an asset this really artistic and serviceable building is going to be in the religious social and aesthetic life of the students that will here assemble from year to year, and the people of Holland and it environs. If Holland is a city beautiful for situation, then this memorial chapel will be the gem sparkling in her crown.

"I am proud of my Alma Mater; proud that she's going to have the rare distinction of erecting upon her campus a building of this type; proud that she's honoring the men that have laid her foundation deep in the Word of the living God; proud that she's lifting this Word and the Church that is the bearer thereof to a higher level than they have ever been lifted here before; but I am proud also of the man in whose fertile brain this noble building had its birth; proud of the man who with undaunted courage and holy zeal has shouldered the load incident to securing funds for such a great undertaking, the greatest, perhaps, ever attempted in the history of our school—I refer, of course, to Dr. Edward D. Dimment. And as it has been his privilege to be an active participant in these solemn exercises today, so may it be his privilege to be a participant in the still more solemn exercises that shall be held, as we trust, a few months hence, and on that day may he with joyful heart be able to turn over to the proper authorities a building complete in all of its appointments and free from debt. That, that will be easily possible providing we, and the friends of Hope East and West, will contribute in proportion that we have been blessed."

RURAL SCHOOLS
MAY BE CONNECTED
UP WITH THE RADIOM. S. C. PROPOSES TO BROADCAST
LECTURES FOR SMALL SCHOOLS

Members of the Michigan State college committee in charge of the educational activities of radio station WKAR, the college broadcasting station, are investigating the possibilities of extending their work to include instruction during certain short periods for such of the consolidated schools and Smith-Hughes high schools as desire it.

The plan will necessitate a canvass of the schools to find whether or not the instruction is desired, it was stated. The number of schools having radio receiving sets and the number offerings the same sort of work will also be determined in the canvass.

The greatest possibility of the proposal action is seen in the agricultural work of the Smith-Hughes schools, where, if assured good reception qualities the teachers of the agricultural college could talk to the classes via radio for 15 or 20 minutes every morning thus giving the students of the smaller communities the benefit of the teaching forces of the college.

In some way the story has gone around that the H. P. ZWEMER & SON of Holland has gone out of business. This is ridiculous. ## Now It Is a Poultry Play

On Friday evening, Oct. 14, a unique play is to be staged at the city hall in the court room. It is to be a poultry play put on by the Poultry Mills of St. Louis, Mo. The play, entitled "Bad Eggs," boasts of a cast coming here from Missouri and no doubt Holland can be shown. The play is not only educational but has its comical side. Naturally a barnyard scene is the stage setting. The play is free to all and doors open at 7:15 o'clock Friday evening. "Bad Eggs" was secured for Holland by F. B. Christians, local dealer on East Eighth street.

OFFICERS HERE ARE ON A TOUR OF INSPECTION

Col. Edgar H. Campbell, commander of the 126th infantry, Capt. John Doyle, Capt. William H. Allen, U. S. army instructors, Capt. Ben Barendse, regimental adjutant, and Mayor Lewis J. Donovan, commander of the first battalion, 126th infantry, were in Holland Monday night to inspect Co. D, 126th infantry, Michigan National Guard.

Capt. Geerds states that when the officers arrived there were 54 men standing at attention, which, the officers said, was unusual. Besides the men, Capt. Geerds, Lieut. Bremer and Lieutenant Johnson were present. The inspecting officers gave the local company a clean bill, finding everything at the Holland army in fine shape. After the inspection Capt. ## NEW CITY MISSION TO BE DEDICATED SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The new city rescue mission on Central Ave., North of the First State bank, is finished and it will be dedicated to religious worship next week. Arrangements have been made to hold the dedicatory exercises next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The building is ready for use with but one exception. Because of lack of funds the stationary seats have not been purchased and temporary seats are to be provided for next Sunday. They will continue in use until ample funds are raised to buy seats suitable for a building of this kind. Some time in the afternoon of the dedication a free will offering is to be asked from the audience, which offering is to form a nucleus for a seat fund. It is hoped that there will be a liberal response so that the new building may be completed in every way before the winter holidays.

The new structure was planned some two years ago in order to provide a permanent place to house the city mission. For at least 20 years Miss Churchford has occupied a unique place in Holland's community life. Her sacrifices have been great, but the good that she has accomplished has been tremendous, her pecuniary rewards have been extremely small but the harvest for good among the meek and lowly has been great.

At best the places of worship in Holland and a few businessmen are to give short address. Among them will be Dr. J. E. Kulluenga, Dr. T. W. Davidson, Rev. James M. Martin, Rev. Clarence P. Dame, Rev. J. C. Willis, A. E. Landwehr, Con De Pree and Miss Nellie Churchford. No doubt the will be others who have not been seen up to this time. There is also to be a program of music.

Mr. De Pree, who was in charge of the drive for funds, states that at a later date a complete statement of money received and how spent, together with of the names of the donors, is to be published in full.

Although the entire dedication program is not yet arranged it is understood that G. J. Diekmann is to preside and that several pastors from Holland and a few businessmen are to give short address. Among them will be Dr. J. E. Kulluenga, Dr. T. W. Davidson, Rev. James M. Martin, Rev. Clarence P. Dame, Rev. J. C. Willis, A. E. Landwehr, Con De Pree and Miss Nellie Churchford. ## Coopersville Pastor To Leave for Chicago

Rev. Harry Hoff, who for the last eight years has been pastor of the Coopersville Reformed church, has accepted a call from the Immanuel Reformed church of Roseland, a Chicago suburb, he announced to his congregation at services Sunday. Mr. Hoff is not only devoted to his pastoral duties in Coopersville, but has been active in the civic life of the community. During his regime he has built up the parish from 130 to 164 families. Mr. Hoff is a member of the Coopersville business men's club and the P. T. A.

The exact date upon which he will resign his pastorate was not announced.

The highway department announced Saturday that $100,000 in weight tax money would be sent the 83 counties this week. The current remittance, with the one in April, makes $400,000 distributed this year. The other $200,000 estimated for this year will go out after final returns are in Dec. 31. Quotas are based on the receipts from the various counties.

An aftermath of the Tunney-Dempsey fight is still noticeable in Holland at this late date, and practically all Coffee Kietzers along 8th street were whistling the old familiar song, "Johnny, get your hair cut."

It appears that who Dick was in a local barber shop getting all the trimmings on the day of the Tunney-Dempsey fight John also was being spruced up and bantering they kidded one another as to who would win the fight.

Conversation was rife from chair to chair and it wasn't long before barbers' stools were whirling in all directions in order to clench arguments. The upshot of the whole affair was that if Gene Dick would have to cut John's hair and if Jack Dick would have to cut Dick's hair. Dick was the tonorial artist at Ollie's barber shop at 10 o'clock this morning and he gave the spectacle man a real trimming with the clippers and shears. Dick thought that the sailing was clear but he had not figured on Deputy Sheriff Beekman, who was there with a warrant for barbering without a state license or examination.

So thankful was John over the "pot-cut" that he had received that he in turn gave Dick a close shave as a reward.

John gave Dick the laugh when the deputy displayed the warrant, but another minion of the law was there to slap a warrant onto the optician, for Officer Dave O'Connor found that John's car had been parked in front of the barber shop longer than the law allows and John was arrested. The affair created considerable interest and the barbers' waiting chairs were well filled with prospective customers who only waited to see the performance, but did not add materially to the cash drawer.

THE SUPERVISORS TO SPREAD NEXT LOCAL TAX ROLL

The October session of the board of supervisors began at 2:00 Monday. It will continue for two weeks as this is the big meeting of the year, preparing the 1928 budget which includes a appropriation for the county road commission's program of $121,700.

On Thursday the board will inspect the road system. They will see the grade separation crossing at Ferrysburg, the Eastmanville bayou bridge, Bridge street crossing bridge, which is now opened; go over the town bridge to Zealand where paving is under consideration, inspect the Ottawa Beach road and also the newly constructed parkway at Ottawa Beach.

At this time a petition may come from the Grand Haven city council asking for the widening of the south channel bridge further up the river to about Third street. This is in compliance with an old law that demands before abridge location over a navigable stream can be changed by federal authorities it must come through the state legislature.

Nothing of exceptional interest is expected to come up at the meeting but the board will be busy with the annual routine and reports from various departments of the county.

John De Kooyer, of Holland, will be a new face to take the place of Edward Vander Berg, who resigned. The room with its new arrangements and furniture also will be enjoyed this session.

TICKETS FOR LECTURE COURSE SELLING RAPIDLY

A superb presentation of John Drinkwater's great drama of a great American—"Abraham Lincoln"—will be presented on the college lecture course here on the evening of Oct. 19. Here is one of the outstanding plays of the decade presented by a cast of New York actors of notable talent and peculiar personal fitness for the historical characters they portray.

John Drinkwater's famous play gives a picture of the Great Emancipator unbelievably real and gripping. It reveals the very soul of Lincoln.

The play is arranged in six scenes. The first scene pictures Mr. Lincoln at his home in Springfield at the time he is notified that he is the chosen candidate for the presidency. There is a scene showing him and his cabinet at the declaration of war; then, an incident in his home life in Washington, and a second meeting of the cabinet at the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation. There is a scene dealing with the surrender of Lee and the ending of the war, and other portrayals of the final tragedy of Ford's Theatre. Each of these scenes is historically accurate, and vividly and beautifully portrayed.

John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln" is now an American institution. Get your tickets at Huisenga's jewelry store.

Chief Blom Trying Out Red Lights On Trucks

Wednesday night pedestrians on the streets were rather awed to see a flare of red light coming from a car going at a brisk speed down the highway. It was Chief Blom and his men taking out pumper No. 1, testing red headlights.

All night calls are silent calls these days and the red lights are to answer the purpose of the siren. No one can mistake the lights when they are switched on.

Mr. Blom stated that they worked out well on the first trial.

One of the largest cottages on the Prospect Point hotel property on Spring lake, across from the Spring Lake Country club, was destroyed by fire about 2 a. m. Monday, the blame following close upon the heels of the departure of a party of Grand Rapids boys from the cottage. An overheated fireplace chimney is blamed for the blaze.

The cottage, just west of the hotel, burned before Grand Haven firemen could be called out. Other buildings were not threatened, according to J. T. Hiller of Grand Rapids, who has a cottage some distance away. Loss is estimated at $4,000 or $5,000.

OTTAWA IS GIVEN A NEW QUOTA IN R. C. ROLL CALL

Ottawa county's Red Cross quota has been increased by 500 in answer to the demand from all over America for increased quotas to meet the needs of the time. Easterners like the Mississippi valley floods and the tornado in St. Louis have created a situation which calls for a material increase in Red Cross funds in the immediate future. The only source of money the Red Cross has is the annual dollar that is paid for a membership fee. Hence every chapter in the country has been asked for the central headquarters to increase its quota.

Ottawa county's previous quota was 3,500. It is now asked to secure a membership this fall of 4,000. The request came in the form of a telegram from Wm. M. Baxter, in charge of divisional headquarters at St. Louis, to G. J. Diekmann, chairman of the Ottawa County Red Cross. The telegram read:

"Central committee today adopted resolution requesting increase of United States to increase the National Red Cross membership to 5,000,000, for 1928, stating in substance: 'Because of increased demand for service, particularly disaster relief, and despite most rigid economy of operation, the national Red Cross requires each year an expenditure considerably in excess of the annual income. With complete confidence that the American people will rally to this call, the central committee urges each chapter to increase its membership and to make necessary steps to assure such increase. We suggest a goal for your chapter of 4,000 members.'"

Preparations are now in progress in Ottawa county for the annual roll call that is to take place in November of next year, beginning on Armistice day. The increased quota will mean that greater efforts than ever will have to be put forth. Local Red Cross officials believe that Ottawa will rise to the need of the occasion and that this county will meet its quota as usual.

YOUNG ROBBERS GET TERMS IN THE PENITENTIARY

Russell Irwin, 20, drug store bandit, and Clarence Stearns, 16, appeared for sentence before Circuit Judge William B. Brown, Monday.

Irwin and Stearns were both sentenced by Judge Brown to Ionia reformatory, Irwin from 7 to 23 years, with a recommendation of 10 years, and Stearns, whom Judge Brown characterized as the leader of the pair's series of robberies in Michigan and Ohio, 10 to 25 years.

Eleven offenses were listed against the youths, who were arrested in Bryan, O., a week ago; the specific charge of armed robbery on which they were sentenced was based on their robbery of the Grandville pharmacy. The prison board will determine whether the two serve out their term at the reformatory or are transferred or separated in other institutions.

Through their attorney, John J. Smolenski, the two changed the plea of not guilty which was entered for them when they stood mute in justice court last week to a plea of guilty.

Examination by the court brought from Stearns the statement that he was first arrested two years ago for taking a dollar out of a milk bottle, but he appeared in juvenile court and was "let go," and that he was arrested three months ago for stealing a tire from a Jefferson ave. garage. Stearns said he could not remember whether he or Irwin first suggested the robberies they carried out together but that Irwin held the gun in the victim, while he, Stearns, was the driver of the car. The actual robbery, Stearns said he bought the gun which they used from a boarder at his home.

Irwin said on examination he had been arrested but once before when he got into a fight over a jerring fence to an impediment in his speed.

Judge Brown, in passing sentence, commented on the change of times since "highwaymen, robbers, felonious assaulters" were men past the meridian of life.

"They tried the game of living and failed," said the court, "and in their declining days having become disregardful of the amenities of organized social life, they became outlaws and elected to do crime and became dissipated largely after making some attempt at the problems of life and failed."

"But here we are confronted with practically the highest type of crime right at the very threshold of young men's lives, and to account for it is a matter of speculation and conjecture by those who have not made a study."

"I have asked the relatives of you young men how they account for this conduct and they can only say that it is the need of spending money or lack of employment or something of that kind—the most trivial thing, the most unimportant thing, the need of spending money or the lack of employment—absolutely out of harmony with the nature of the offenses that you boys have seen fit to commit."

Reviewing the history of the case, the court said, "Mr. Irwin is 20 years of age, but yet I am of the opinion in this case that Mr. Stearns is the strongest character and the controlling factor in this matter."

"You young men did not have the slightest particle of reason for taking a dollar's worth of any other man's property, or interfering with any other man."

Before sentence was passed, Clarence L. Stearns, father of the younger of the two, and Frank Irwin of Grand Rapids, uncle of Russell Irwin, and Frank Irwin of St. Louis, Mo., a brother, conferred with the court, and made the two farewell in the sheriff's office following sentence. All, including the two youths, shed tears.

Russell Haight, proprietor of the East End drug store, states that the Grand Rapids police have the right men in Irwin and Stearns, caught in Bryan, Ohio, a few days ago. He stated that as soon as he saw a picture of the pair he recognized them as the youths who held him up 10 days ago and took what cash there was in the register at the drug store.

It is expected that the pair will plead guilty next Monday but arranged Thursday before Judge Brown in Kent County court, they stood mute.

Atty. John J. Smolenski, who appeared with them, said later that the pleas will be changed to guilty when they are returned to court Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Smolenski said that during the next few days there will be time to bring all the details on both the side of the law and the respondents to the attention of the court. No defense will be entered, Mr. Smolenski said.

Both Clarence Stearns and Russell Irwin seemed crest-fallen when they were led in court.

The two were arraigned Thursday noon after Clarence Stearns, father of the younger of the two, had given the information that his son was 16 years old July 5 of this year. "This obviated the necessity of an inquiry into Cook county, Illinois, birth records, which might have taken two days. A waiver of jurisdiction from juvenile court was at once made."

Irwin is said to be 30 years of age. A third arrest may result, it is said, from investigations which the sheriff is making as to the source of the pistol which the boys displayed in drug stores and other stores. Authorities were not notified of the transfer of the weapon as required by law, it is said. However, the youths have told several stories as to where they obtained the weapon, and the sheriff stated he will not act until the two are sentenced.

The boys yesterday vetoed a suggestion that they turn over to their victims any loose assets they may have.

"We are going to do time for this," they should," they argued, according to Deputies Hiram Bouma and Martin King, who made the arrest in Bryan, O.

Mrs. Frank Bertsch has again been appointed by Mrs. G. J. Van Dusen to be in charge of the Red Cross roll call at Beechwood this year.

RECEPTION HELD FOR STUDENTS OF SEMINARY

The annual Western Theological seminary reception tendered to the students by the faculty was held in Hope church parlors Friday evening.

"These receptions," Dr. Pieters said, in his opening remarks, "have been annual affairs for almost forty years. In previous years this reception was held in the home of one of the faculty, but the student body has become so large that it has become necessary to find other accommodations."

From year to year each member of the faculty, in turn, acts as host or chairman.

Dr. Pieters, in his remarks welcoming the students on behalf of the faculty, recalled his student days when the student body numbered not more than ten. To-day, with fifty-six students accompanied by their parents, the pastors of the city churches and other leaders of religious institutions in the city, the group numbered nearly two-hundred.

A short but interesting program has been arranged as follows: Prayer, Rev. J. M. Martin; cello solo, Mr. N. Vander Hart, accompanied by Mr. G. Kots; a short talk on Arabia, Rev. D. J. Kots; vocal solo, Mr. N. Gossink, accompanied by Mr. A. Ungerma.

The little town of Lowell, Michigan, with only 1,800 inhabitants claims to have in daily use the third largest number of electric ranges in the homes of any city in the state. It has its own municipal plant that generates its electricity at a 2-cent rate, said to be the lowest in the state.

Grand Haven City Manager Honored at Lansing

50 PER CENT OF HOLLAND PEOPLE ARE SPORTSMEN

Fifty per cent of the people of Holland go fishing at some time during the season. The other fifty per cent would go if they had the necessary patience. And now the Holland Game & Fish Protective association has undertaken the task of making it easy for Holland fishermen to catch the limit. Heine Geerts, chairman of one of the important committees, says that the club wants to make Holland a 100% town for fishermen and that the rearing ponds to be constructed this fall will do it.

Mr. Geerts explained when interviewed that these ponds will each cover more than an acre of land and will be about five feet deep at the deepest places. Fresh spring water flows into the upper pond and from there it goes over the dam and into the next one below. Thus a continuous flow of clean water is obtained. The bottom is planted with grasses and water weeds, on which the microscopic food of the little fish lives. This method of stocking Michigan waters with fingerlings has proven very successful and assures a much larger percentage of legal length fish. The conservation department is urging the establishment of rearing ponds and has given the local fishermen the benefit of much experience as well as good advice in this new and popular project.

DEATH TAKES FENNVILLE CHILD IN ODD WAY

An unusual death of a Fennville child occurred a few days ago, according to the Fennville Herald, that baffled the physicians for a time. It appears that the 4 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Whitaker of that place had gone to a garden and pulled out a carrot and after chewing it began choking.

The choked up condition of the child became worse and the parents rushed it to Dr. Brunson's private hospital, then took it to Holland hospital, and from there to Blodgett's hospital in Grand Rapids, reaching the latter place a little over two hours after the first attack.

A corps of physicians worked over the child, thinking that a piece of carrot might have lodged in its windpipe. An X-ray, however, showed nothing in the lungs and the operation on the bronchial tubes revealed that there was nothing there that would cause the child to struggle for breath. For hours a fluid was pumped from the lungs and oxygen was supplied to aid the breathing, but the case was hopeless for the little one died while still on the operating table.

Dr. Ferris N. Smith of Grand Rapids, after holding an autopsy, stated that while there was no foreign substance in the air passages, they did find a large quantity of grape skins in the stomach. There was an acute dilatation of the stomach followed by dropsy of the lungs, causing heart failure.

Ernest Hartman's seventh and eighth grade physical education classes, at Holland high, took part in a very interesting and unique contest called "fly catching contest." This is one that will mean much to Holland next year as there were 20,589 flies killed, and each one could have been parents or grandparents of 3,000 other flies. By this it can be estimated that the community of Holland is rid of 61,767,000 flies. Many more thousands of flies were killed but some of the boys neglected to bring them in so they are not counted. Of the twenty-four boys who entered the contest the highest are as follows: First, Arthur Homing, 224; second, George Beckfort, 210; third, Bert Lanting, 200; fourth, Kenneth Coster, 195; fifth, Gerrit Meidema, 174; sixth, Neil Baldwin, 161; seventh, L. Wolrding, 101; eighth, Alburton Knapp, 99; ninth, E. Oudman, 92; tenth, Gerald Snyder, 85.

Allegan Gazette—Disbanding has begun of the original farmhouse of the late John Stegeman two miles southeast of this city. It was a frame house of little more than one story in height. There may have been room enough above into which to tuck some of the fast-growing family. It has stood weather beaten, many years used for storage or shelter. When John Stegeman built it he had taken a large tract of forest near the farm of that first settler, Leander Prouty, and as neighbors they hewed out homes on some of the best land that lies out of doors. The Prouty farm has long been the site of the several hundred acres of old house was abandoned when the Stegeman demise. The small spacious brick mansion was erected which Mr. Stegeman occupied many years and is now in possession of his son, Charles.

Rutgers. A good time was enjoyed by all.

HENRY ZWEMER NOT GOING OUT OF BUSINESS
A few weeks ago the H. P. Zwemer & Son company on East Eighth street sold out their service garage. Mr. Zwemer states that the impression has gone out that H. P. Zwemer & Son have gone out of business. He wishes to state that while they sold the service station they are still in business in a big way. They are conducting the coal company as always and are also representing the Willys-Knight car and truck firms as before. It is only the repair part of garage work that was sold.

300 GUESTS AT TOURIST RESORT ASSN BANQUET

Holland was well represented Wednesday evening at the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association banquet tendered by the association at the hotel in the lobby of the hotel in order to accommodate all the visitors.

Landlord Leland had a surprise in store for the guests when he served a chicken dinner with all the trimmings, and further entertained those present with a musical program given by Van Duren's orchestra.

The speaking program began promptly at 8 o'clock when Carroll Sweet, head of the tourist body, introduced A. H. Landwehr of Holland as toastmaster. Mr. Landwehr handled the situation admirably, interspersing his remarks with many friendly take-offs on the speakers who were to come. He stated that Western Michigan this year certainly had an occasion to appreciate its resort crop, since the long drought had diminished the crop on the farm, the crop of tourists had in a measure stabilized bad conditions brought about by failure of the soil. He said that it is judicious advertising that will bring Western Michigan to the tourist public. This had already been demonstrated during the past few years.

"Our experience in the Holland Furman Company in the way of advertising shows that you must have faith in your product and back your faith with your cash in letting others know about this product, and then you will be able to cash in."

Mr. Landwehr then introduced William Stokes of the Indianaapolis News. Considerable sport was made about Indiana politics by the toastmaster, and Mr. Stokes replied, "It was just getting one governor out of jail in order to make room for a second governor in a year or two."

Mr. Stokes stated that he had just spent three months in Western Michigan and he said the proposition we have here is marvelous. He said he did not know if Michigan folks could see it, and if they could not they were blind, for the reason was apparent. Michigan should not follow the example of some eastern states, where he went on a fishing trip one day. He wished to send the fish home as the hotel men had no ice to spare, had no containers and there was no courtesy and he didn't go back again another year.

He said he would not call this the Riviera of America. In Europe a Riviera is a "gambling hell," an expensive place to be at. What you want is to make it a place where the average man can come for recreation as a price within his means. "Don't scare him out with an expensive looking proposition, don't leave that impression," said Mr. Stokes. "Western Michigan has a future far beyond any imagination. You have a chance here to develop a project that is marvelous beyond any dream you may have. Visualize Western Michigan as you would like to have it and you won't go wrong. For you have the foundation here for the best that can be made of a nation."

Earl Line, advertising manager of the Leonard Refrigerator Company of Grand Rapids, was next introduced and he spoke on community advertising. He said Hot Springs, through judicious community advertising, attracts 375,000 tourists annually and all it has is a few springs and mountains.

"What can be said of Hot Springs can be said of Denver, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other places where the possibilities aren't as great and the scenery not as extensive as right here on Lake Michigan."

Mr. Line said that last year 40 million American people took to the road with automobiles and they spent a billion and a half dollars. It is up to Michigan to get a share of this through judicious community advertising. One community cannot do this alone; it is a mutual proposition and collectively wonders can be performed.

A very interesting address was given by Mr. Lee Hutchins of Grand Rapids, who is a pioneer in this resort work in Western Michigan. Mr. Hutchins stated that when the work was begun by the first organization it seemed a hopeless task, but they pushed back the limits of impossibility as Lindy did when he crossed the Atlantic in a plane, and those things which seemed impossible have now become a fact.

"We have seen how many we were," he said, "when we declared this thing said that it could not be done, and today we are using and enjoying the very things which my father declared impossible."

He called attention to the fact that every undertaking is great if greatly pursued and urged that service and spirit of the hotel enter into the activities of the association and its members.

James Sinke, Grand Rapids safety director, was another speaker. He illustrated the growth of the tourist traffic through Grand Rapids by records of the police information booth on Campau square for the past three years.

During the last season, information furnished by the booth, Mr. Sinke pointed out, was 24.7 per cent greater in volume than in preceding season when the number of non-residents had been only 8.3 per cent. There were 19,605 applicants served by the booth in 1927, of which 6,270 came from points outside of Michigan, or an increase of 52.3 per cent in out of state calls over 1926. The booth handed out 1,847 maps and routes during the 1927 season.

roads? Where in this great United States can you find a peach with a Michigan flavor, or an apple with a Michigan tang, or fruit in abundance grown in the temperate zone? Where can you find such Michigan drinking water? It cannot be found, only here.

"Surely subject matter enough for the finest lot of advertising that can possibly be thought of, and I believe the men at the head of this tourist body have the right idea and the endless motorcade during the summer thru this state indeed shows that their methods have been effective."

"I wish to give another illustration of successful advertising right at our very door. A man came to Holland from Chicago some 15 years ago. He bought a sand farm on the Alpena road, he developed it into a beautiful garden. He added a small grove and then he invited a few friends. Soon his visiting list grew and grew. It kept on growing and today his garden is when open brings happiness to from 30 to 40 thousand tourists in a single day."

"Cars come from every state in the union. He has advertised Holland from Maine to California and today George Getz is the best single asset that the Western Michigan Tourist and Resort association has. That part at least is not costing the organization a dollar."

Smilingly Mr. Diekema continued, "Now that this gentleman has promoted the Dempsey-Tunney fight, next year we expect to see people from China, Japan and possibly Mars."

"I wish also to give an example right here in Holland of what courtesy does to a community. Last year a man from Maine came to Michigan for the first time. He came to Holland and had a bad case of tire trouble. He found that a man by the name of Van soon relieved him of his trouble and was unusually courteous. A neighbor man from Maine told his friend who had been here a year before that he was going to Michigan. Immediately the friend said, 'If you go to Michigan and you have tire trouble near a Dutch town, ask for a tire man by the name of Van; he is the most courteous tire man I have met on my trip.' The tourist did make the trip, he did have tire trouble near a Dutch town, and he found the tire man named Van and he experienced the same courtesy as did the friend and the result was the sale of a set of new tires and the servicing of a car."

It so happened that Charlie Van Zyl was in the audience and his friends soon made it apparent who the Van was.

Mr. Diekema stated, "Here are two concrete examples, one what courtesy will bring, and two what judicious advertising means to a community. You can see your own conclusion," continued Mr. Diekema.

Continuing in his remarks he said, "Good roads are also essential to Michigan. I can best illustrate that by a story. Turkey sent a representative to the United States to inspect its road system. When he returned his report to superior was something like this: 'Lincoln has a fine road, Roosevelt has a nice road too, but there is a Frenchman by the name of Detour, but oh! he has a rotten road! I advise Michigan to avoid as much of the Frenchman's road as possible.'"

Kellogg Patterson of the Cincinnati Times-Star, another of the news writers' party which toured west Michigan last spring as guests of the association, projected motion pictures of the trip which he took upon that occasion, accompanying the news with a graphic recital of some of the more impressive things he saw along the way.

The West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association convention closed at Warm Friend Tavern Friday and the officials consider it one of the most interesting and constructive meetings in the history of the organization.

Taxation of resort properties formed the basis of a discussion led by President Sweet, with some angles of this procedure being partially elucidated by Melville B. McPherson, member of the state tax commission, and William J. Thomas, state representative and former Kent county supervisor. Mr. McPherson pledged his aid in remedying alleged inequities in the valuation of resort properties and declared it would be his aim to see that the earning power of land was fully considered in establishing valuations. He realized, he said, that the resort season was a short one and that some properties were assessed way above their earnings power.

Mr. Thomas cited some of his experiences while Cannon township supervisor. "I used to think," he said, "that we should tax resort properties to the limit (he gave Bostwick and Silver lakes as examples of resort property in the township) but now I've seen the light and I realize it is the proper thing to help you folks bring families and dollars and Michigan, and you can do that if you are taxed to death."

It was pointed out that prospective purchasers of resort property from out of the state had been frightened away by the activities of local assessing officials and it was contended these officials were actuated by the practice of the state equalization board in boosting valuations when these were considered too low. Local officials, it was held, did the boosting to forestall action by the state board. Mr. McPherson declared that the state would oppose boosting of resort properties by the state board unless it was shown conclusively that the boost was warranted by the earning power of the properties.

Mr. Thomas admitted that when supervisor it was his policy to "boost" resort properties of non-residents. Cannon township and related that the township valuation had been raised $200,000 at one time by activities of this kind and the boosting of resort valuations. "I'm ashamed of all this now," he said.

Ways and Means were discussed to win the favor and good will of the rapidly growing traveling tourist class in America.

Speakers who led the round table talks stressed the importance of doing away with the old idea that the resort season begins July 4 and ends on Labor day. Many hotels and storekeepers, it was pointed out, made little or no effort to cater to resorters or visitors after Labor day. With the result that they have suffered, fishermen and hunters competing into West Michigan in September and October were likely to go away with unfavorable impressions of western Michigan's hospitality.

President Carroll P. Sweet and other members of the organization related personal experiences in which they encountered difficulties in obtaining service in the resort area during the fall season. They were inviting people to come to west Michigan and were spending lots of money advertising its advantages. Mr. Sweet said, "but all this effort will have gone for naught unless we can serve them as well as they are served in their home communities. What we need more than anything else in our efforts to popularize west Michigan as a resort center is the more active support of the individual."

Mr. Sweet called attention to a bill submitted to the last legislature, which never got further than a committee assignment, appropriating a sum of money to the state development bureau for the purpose of advertising Michigan. The measure proposed to set apart a certain sum derived from the state gasoline tax for this purpose and Mr. Sweet contended that such an appropriation would have been good business for Michigan, in that this money would have been expended in bringing more tourists into the state and so increase the gasoline tax returns vastly more than the sum appropriated from this item for advertising.

"It would have been a case of the state's dollar catching a couple of more if put to work in this way," he said. Mr. Sweet added that the effort to obtain a state appropriation would be renewed with increased vigor in the next legislature.

President Sweet was again re-elected president of the association at the annual meeting Thursday. Other officers were also re-elected without opposition. They are A. E. McCrea, Muskegon, vice president; H. E. Hastings, Muskegon, treasurer; Hugh J. Gray, Grand Rapids, secretary-manager. These men and W. J. Hobbs of Traverse City, John Beukema of Muskegon, G. L. Daams of Grand Rapids and A. H. Landwehr of Holland comprise the new executive committee, which met following adjournment of the annual meeting to discuss ways and means of raising the $100,000 budget for 1928 and to outline other business for the new year.

The seven major phases of work which have been outlined by the executive committee and put up to the association's membership for consideration, will be considered carefully, it was indicated at the close of the annual meeting. No vote was taken in the matter, the membership being asked to indicate four of the phases considered the most important and mail their responses to the organization headquarters in Grand Rapids.

The Junior high school of Zeeland has been inspected by Mrs. Meyer, special Rd Cross Nurse, last week. There were 97 pupils. Out of these 43 are 10 per cent or more underweight. This is a very large proportion and shows the need for wiser feeding, no coffee drinking, and the necessity of having defects remedied.

There were 56 pupils with defective teeth, 13 with bad looking tonsils, 11 had defective vision, and 16 showed eye strain six were 20% or more overweight.

Mrs. Meyer's health talk was followed by a very interesting and helpful talk by Dr. J. Van Kley, a dentist of Zeeland, on the value of teeth. He spoke of the very grave danger to health from decayed teeth. All kinds of germs find entrance to the blood through these decayed openings. "A well formed tooth that is kept clean will never decay," he said. He spoke about the need of eating more hard food to strengthen the teeth. This is the way in which animals keep the teeth," he said. "Monkeys have the teeth. And if we used our brains to more wisely direct the care of our teeth, we would have no need to envy the monkey."

Mrs. Meyer will be in Zeeland during the rest of the week inspecting the pupils of the lower grades.

Sarah Louise Seifert, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Seifert of Grand Haven, received lacerations of the head when she fell out of her parents' automobile on Leonard street, N.W., Grand Rapids, Saturday afternoon. She was taken to Butterworth hospital for treatment, and later left with her mother.

Pastor Satisfies Judgment In Suit

A notice has been filed in the Muskegon circuit court announcing that the judgment obtained by Richard Streng of Grand Haven against Rev. George W. Atkinson of Muskegon, has been satisfied. The Grand Haven man obtained a judgment of $368.05 in the circuit court there several months ago as a result of an automobile accident on the Grand Haven road at the Fruitport corner.

Cars operated by Mr. Streng and the minister collided with the defendant's car was making a turn on the Fruitport road. Circuit Judge Vanderwerp who heard the case without a jury decided that the defendant was negligent.

A short time ago, the Rev. Mr. Atkinson filed a petition in bankruptcy and among his liabilities he listed the judgment.

SEPTEMBER LATE SUMMER AND NOT LATE FALL

Although September is the month which normally ushers in the autumn and is popularly associated with frosty mornings and crisp, clear, windy days, September, 1927, according to the Ottawa County Weather Bureau, was decidedly summerish in character. Indeed, the mean temperature for the month just closed, 64.2 degrees, was 2.2 degrees above the mean temperature for the phenomically cool August which preceded it, as well as being 3.3 degrees above the normal for September at this station. This excess prevailed for the first eighteen days of the month.

Temperatures were normal or above continuously during this period, several days showing means more than ten degrees above the daily normals, and by the eighteenth the total excess since the first of the month amounted to 129 degrees per day. Had this excess been maintained to the end of the month it would have established a new heat record for September at this station.

However, a period of cool weather set in on the nineteenth, and lasted until the twenty-fourth, and this served to bring the mean temperature for the month as a whole well within the records of previous years. The highest temperature, 88 degrees, was recorded on Sept. 14, while the lowest, 43 degrees, was registered on the morning of Sept. 24.

Precipitation was considerably in excess of the monthly normal, the total amount being 4.46 inches, as compared with a normal of 3.17. Practically all of this rain fell during the latter half of the month. The drought, which prevailed during August continued unrelieved by an appreciable rainfall until September 17th, when a moderately heavy rain brought material relief, and showers were frequent and copious thereafter to the end of the month. The greatest precipitation in 24 consecutive hours was 1.16 inch, and was recorded on the twenty-seventh and twenty-eighth. A little hail fell with rain on the morning of September 20, but the stones were small and did no damage.

The dry weather of August and the first half of September was decidedly injurious to crops in this vicinity, although the heat of early September was of marked benefit to corn which had suffered severely from a cold and backward spring and summer. Another effect of the drought was noted in the prevalence of forest fires which were of frequent occurrence in Ottawa and Muskegon counties. Thanks to the vigilance of the fire wardens, however, these seldom attained to serious proportions.

Wind movement was moderately strong for September, the total being 7,245 miles, which gives an average velocity of 10.1 miles per hour. The prevailing direction was west, and the maximum velocity for a five-minute period was 48 miles an hour, from the west, on September 18th.

The month was composed of 10 clear, 11 partly cloudy and nine cloudy days, while 61 percent of the possible amount of sunshine was recorded. This is about the normal percentage for sunshine for September at this station.

Thunderstorms occurred on six dates, but all were quite ordinary in character, and did no damage in this vicinity. A light frost was noted on the morning of Sept. 24, but it did little or no damage in this vicinity. The absence of severe frost until the close of September has been of great benefit in maturing crops that have been retarded in their growth by the cool season.

SCHOOL IS AGAIN MEMBER OF STATE DEBATING LEAGUE

Holland high school has become a member of the Michigan high school debating league this year and will compete for the interscholastic debate championship of the state according to an announcement by Professor G. E. Denmore of the University of Michigan, the manager of the league.

The first step in the foretold race for state honors will be taken on November 18th when the local high school debating team coached by Mr. Walter C. Richardson, debate coach, of the high school faculty will meet one of the neighboring schools in a debate on the subject: "Resolved, of Nominating Candidates for Public Offices in the United States Should Be Abolished."

This debate, followed by three others on December 8th, January 13th, and January 27th, will constitute the four debates of the preliminary series in which every high school must participate in order to qualify for the elimination series of debates which will culminate in the eleventh annual state championship debate to be held at Ann Arbor in Hill Auditorium on Friday, April 27th.

The two schools participating in this final debate will each receive a trophy cup presented by the University of Michigan extension division, and each of the six debaters will receive a gold watch as a testimonial of individual merit.

Every high school that qualifies for the elimination series of debates will be presented with the University of Michigan wall plaque trophy, which is a mahogany shield eighteen inches high by fifteen inches wide, upon which is superimposed a nine inch solid bronze medallion with embossed lettering.

A large number of high schools from all parts of the state have already joined the league, and it is expected that by October 22nd, the date when the league enrollment closes, the membership for the year will surpass last year's record membership of 235 high schools.

Any four-year high school in the state may become a member of the Michigan high school debating league by applying for membership to Professor G. E. Denmore, Manager, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The Michigan high school debating league was organized by the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan in 1917, and has for the past ten years conducted debates among the high schools of the state.

Mr. Walter C. Richardson, who came here from the University of Michigan, has been appointed debate coach, in the place of R. H. Mayne, who left Holland to take a position with Mt. Pleasant.

SOME CLASSES AT COLLEGE EXCEED 1926

Figures compiled by the authorities at Hope college show that before the end of the college year the attendance at the institution will be considerably larger than in any previous year. The senior class numbers 93. Two more are known to be coming, making a total of 95, which is four more than in last year's seniors class. There are ten more in the sophomore class than last year. The freshman class is smaller, which is accounted for by the fact that last year's freshman class was abnormally large. The class then numbered 161, while this year the number is 167. But it is expected that during the year several more will be added to the number, making the total enrollment in all departments at the college larger than last year's total.

PAVEMENT JOBS ARE PLANNED FOR RESORT DISTRICTS

The highway department of the State of Michigan was officially represented at the annual meeting of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association, which closed in Holland last week by W. J. Grandcourt, division engineer, of Grand Rapids.

After reviewing the highway improvement work which has been completed or will have been completed in western Michigan during the present year, Mr. Grandcourt spoke of the plans of the department for next year which will be presented to the administrative board for approval.

Completion of the new location of U. S. 31 formerly M-11, between Sawyer and New Buffalo and completion of the pavement between Benzonia and Honor are the principal projects for 1928 along U. S. 31 and the shore route connecting it with Chicago.

The pavement between Howard City and Reed City will be completed, and work will be completed between Big Rapids and Reed City and Reed City and Cadillac, North of Cadillac the road will be hard surfaced from Manton to the present scene of operations, but not north of Fife lake.

Grade separations and the elimination of grade crossings by relocation at various points also are projected. There will be one grade separation over the railroad tracks at New Buffalo, another on M-60 south of Cassopolis and the widening and reconstruction of an old grade separation bridge on U. S. 131 between Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids.

HOLLAND SCHOOL RECORDS GO BACK A HALF CENTURY

The records of Holland public school system dating back more than a half century show a preponderance of women, maiden names only being given, and to this generation these mean little. To parents and grandparents of the students these may recall some interesting incidents.

The class of 1878 was composed of five girls, of whom only one is still living, Mrs. J. C. Post, West 15th street, whose interest in education is on record. The class members were: Kate E. Giddens, Johanna Koning, Alida Binneke, M. C. Cappon, and Nellie Wakker. In 1874 only Alice Royce graduated. One year elapsed before four more young women received their "sheepskin," the class of 1876 containing Fanny Garrod, Mary Post, Emmeline Dutton, Mrs. Francis Karr, and Elizabeth M. Cappon. The next year, 1877, saw the first young men on the list, Lewellyn Dutton and John Ledebor having the honor of appearing with their fair classmates.

Graduating classes until 1884. The association union led the chapel exercises at Hope college Friday morning. Miss Helen Zander, president of the Y. W. C. A., read a portion of scripture taken from the gospel of John and Mr. Robert Ritchie led in prayer.

A hand book put out by the association union was passed out to each student after chapel. This contains much information about the school. The National Broadcasting Co., has announced its schedule for the broadcasting of the season's football games through this associated stations of the Red and Blue networks.

MILK CONSUMPTION GAINS TWELVE GALS. PER CAPITA

In the eight years from 1917 to 1925 the per capita consumption of milk in the United States increased from 42.2 gallons to 54.8 gallons. Most of this increase was in the cities, where health officials stressed the value of clean, safe milk. In the same period, the cream production increased 57.7 per cent. At present approximately half of the milk in the United States goes for household use.

Grand Rapids movie houses were rather late in getting the real Tunney-Dempsey fight films. Now there are ten theaters running them. Federal authorities however are allowing the pictures to be shown, it appears, at least no arrests have followed since the order came from Attorney General John Sargent ordering strict enforcement to the fight film law.

FIRE DEPARTMENT IN ZEELAND HALF A CENTURY OLD

The Zeeland fire department will be a half a century old on November 3rd and the anniversary will be observed with a community banquet in that city. There will be talks and music and several reels of motion pictures.

The apparatus with which the first organization had to work was called the bucket brigade, or, rather, a line of pails, and some of these pails at the practice meetings contained a liquid not purely water. There were then dug on two locations on Main street two large wells from which the water was either dipped or pumped and then handed down the line of men to the location of the fire where it was thrown on by the painful until the fire became too hot to approach, in which case attention was given to saving adjoining property. One of these wells was located at Main and Elm streets, now filled up, and the other at Main and Church streets, still existent. From the last mentioned well Zeeland also for years received its domestic water supply.

From the "bucket brigade" the next step was a hand pump that could be operated by six or eight men, that threw a small stream of water by a hose line. This sufficed for several years until a line of principal streets and pressure was given by a pump at one of the factories. When finally the De Pree & Elenbaas factory caught fire the pump could not be reached and the plant burned out in spite of the help from Holland and Grand Rapids. The building of the electric light and pumping station was the next step. When the water mains brought a measure of safety never before enjoyed and it was then the first instance that the walls of a frame building did not fall when fire once beset it. This occurred when the Oosterveld clothing store burned on the location now occupied by the Zeeland State Bank.

Soon it became evident that a hose truck was necessary and this was also realized so that now there are very few of the smaller building fires that get very far. It is the larger buildings with rather high valuations the present fear now. The De Pree fire of three years ago is a pertinent reminder of this need that exists.

The present fire company, headed by Dr. W. G. Hasley, chief, has made some very notable progress in its work of efficiency in fire fighting. Dr. Hasley, who has been making this matter his hobby for some years, is trying by educational means to prevent fires and to reduce the hazards and his little program of motion pictures on November third lines up with his ideas.

The Michigan Library Association will hold its thirty-seventh annual meeting at Jackson, Oct. 13-15. These meetings are for the promotion, encouragement and improvement of library service throughout the state. That there are still 30 per cent of the people of Michigan without library service is a fact recently brought to light by an investigation of library extension by the American Library Association. It indicates the past 50 years of library service still leaves much to be done in the way of development.

Also the fact that over 29 per cent of the people of Michigan lack libraries shows that places like Holland and Grand Haven with their well established libraries are among the more progressive sections of Michigan. The state has many towns of small population where it is not possible to support libraries effectively. In such localities the county library system is of special advantage.

There is a county library law in Michigan which allows the boards of supervisors to establish a county library and appoint a board to look after it. This may be established in two ways, a contract between some existing library and the board of supervisors or the establishing of an independent organization. A half mill tax may be raised by the county for support.

County libraries will probably be the ultimate solution of the book needs for all rural communities. While this has not yet been taken up in Ottawa county it is hoped the Ottawa urban library service may be extended in this way at some future date.

BROADCASTING FOOTBALL GAMES DURING OCT. NOV.

The National Broadcasting Co., has announced its schedule for the broadcasting of the season's football games through this associated stations of the Red and Blue networks.

The first football broadcast takes place Saturday afternoon, Oct. 15, when Notre Dame meets the Navy eleven at Baltimore, and each Saturday thereafter until the close of the season the NBC will put out one or two games "on the air" through its two networks. Arrangements have been effected this season whereby in most instances, the NBC Blue network will broadcast one game while the Red network will transmit another at the same time. The season's schedule, according to NBC officials, has been carefully planned so as to bring the majority of outstanding gridiron contests to the radio listener.

Graham McNamee, National Broadcasting company staff announcer, and Phillips Carlin, manager of WEAF, will handle the descriptive work, the so-called "radio twist" alternating on Red and Blue network assignments.

Arrangements have also been effected, it was announced, to give scores of other outstanding football games at intermittent periods throughout the broadcasting of each game.

Following is a detailed schedule for broadcasting throughout the entire season. WJZ is the "key" station for the Blue network and WEAF the fountain-head of the Red network.

Saturday, Oct. 15—Notre Dame vs. Navy at Baltimore; Red Network, Carlin.

Saturday, Oct. 22—Yale vs. Army at New Haven; Blue Network, McNamee. Harvard vs. Dartmouth at Cambridge; Red Network, Carlin.

Saturday, Oct. 29—Penn. vs. Navy at Philadelphia; Red Network, Carlin. Yale vs. Dartmouth at New Haven; Blue Network, McNamee.

Saturday, Nov. 5—Penn. vs. Harvard at Philadelphia; Red Network, McNamee. Ohio State vs. Princeton at Princeton; Blue Network, Carlin.

Saturday, Nov. 12—Michigan vs. Navy at Ann Arbor; Red Network, McNamee. Yale vs. Princeton at New Haven; Blue Network, Carlin.

Saturday, Nov. 19—Harvard vs. Yale at Cambridge; Red and Blue Network, McNamee and Carlin.

Thursday, Nov. 24—Penn. vs. Cornell at Philadelphia; Red and Blue Network, McNamee and Carlin.

Saturday, Nov. 26—Army vs. Navy at Polo Grounds; Red and Blue Network, McNamee and Carlin.

still would have gone down if the Yanks, with a couple of costly errors in the seventh, had not presented them with two runs and let them shave down a two run lead that the mighty Babe Ruth had built up by smashing out a homer with a man on base in the fifth.

The Yankees broke a world's strike of record in winning four straight games, even if the Fall classic twice before has been decided by four successive victories without the losing side taking a game. The Yankees won their four games from the Pirates in thirty-six innings, each game being a regulation nine-inning affair. That never has happened before.

In 1914 the Boston Braves won four straight from the Philadelphia Athletics. But the third game went twelve innings, making a total of thirty-nine innings.

The New York Giants beat the Yankees four nine-inning games in 1922. But the teams played a "split" in that series, which really consumed forty-six innings.

Results of Games:
First game: Yankees, 5; Pirates, 4.
Second game: Yankees, 6; Pirates, 2.
Third game: Yankees, 6; Pirates, 1.
Fourth game: Yankees, 4; Pirates, 3.

H. H. RESERVES DEFEAT ZEELANDERS, SCORE 19-0

The Holland high reserves turned in another victory Saturday afternoon when Zeeland's scrubs fell before their on-slaughts and succumbed, 19-0. Coach Chapman rushed his third team into play in the last quarters and the visitors held them even. Flanagan with a nice 31 yard sprint, turned in one touchdown, while Van Raalte and Tyse made the others.

The reserves play Muskegon on Heights next week end and they are looking forward to another victory to add to their string.

One husky ball game was played at Riverview Park, Saturday afternoon, when Holland and Benton Harbor went thru four gruelling quarters with the result of an even count of 7 all. The Webster men were well drilled and gave Hinga's squad a tussle all the way. The visitors lost a possible score in the first half, when time was called with the ball 5 yards from goal, but their touchdown was rather fluky in the third quarter, Captain Lake taking the ball on a bounce after two Hollanders had tried to down it. Each eleven showed a kicker of ability and Baushe and Wybenga vied with each other all afternoon, both getting some long distance boots that would look well on any eleven's record. Bonnett at center was strong on defense and Hinga showed rare judgment in keeping him in the lineup as he is a corner. His passing, being ragged is exusable and he will work again at that position in the next game. Defensively both teams showed plenty of power. Sandy, Nyhoff, Wassenaar and Tibbits were not giving much to line smashes and Captain Lake on the visitor's forward wall, ably assisted by Bernard surety set Holland down many times. Breaks were about equal, but Holland's fumbling kept the boys in trouble much of the time. So vicious was the playing that time was called out on several occasions, when men dropped of sheer exhaustion. Elenbaas found an opponent in Favock, who showed many bursts of speed when travelling in the open. Holland's score came after a valiant march to the goal, Tyse going over.

The West End All Stars defeated Ted Kouw's Tigers Thursday night by a score of 38 to 0. This is the third straight win for the All Stars. Their goal has yet to be crossed. Two touchdowns were put over in the first quarter on the kick off. Kungie won 30 yards before being tackled. Then on the first play Gordon ran 28 yards around high end for the first touchdown. Klungie kicked goal. The next touchdown came on another long end run by Klungie who carried the ball 40 yards to the second touchdown. The first quarter ended, All Stars 13, Tigers 0.

In the second quarter the Tigers tried a pass but were intercepted by Cramer who dashed 45 yards to the third touchdown of the game. He also smashed for the extra point 4 minutes later. Stebbens went over for another six pointer, then the ball was seen running back and forth in mid-field as the half ended.

All Stars 26, Tigers 0.
A smash by Klungie netted another touchdown in the third quarter. In the fourth the Tigers threatened for 30 yards before being tackled. Then by Bontekoe netted 35 yards, putting the ball on the Stars' six yard line. A smash gained nothing. They then tried to pass but got a ten yard loss. Another pass was tried but was intercepted by Cramer who won 84 yards for the final touchdown of the game.

All Stars 38; Tigers 0. Referee S. De Boer. Fifteen minute quarters.

Coach Henry Ludwick's Ottawa Hills high school gridgers chalked up their first victory of the 1927 season when they nosed out the Zeeland high eleven, 6 to 0, Friday afternoon at the new Ottawa Hills field.

The score is no true indication of the closeness of the struggle for Zeeland threatened every moment of the game. Often the visitors ran wild around Ottawa's ends and through the line, but once they reached the shadows of the Indians' goal posts, their attack was rendered null and void by the Ottawans, who braced like a stone wall when their goal line was threatened.

FIRE Prevention Week

—BE CAREFUL—

Will You Help?

Fire is the greatest criminal in all history. He kills, burns and destroys without mercy. He blots out thousands of lives and hundreds of millions of dollars worth of property each year.

Will you help capture this criminal, tie him, bind him, run him out of town? This is Fire Prevention Week. Now is the time for all of us to band together for the protection of our homes, our places of business, and the lives of our families.

ARRESTS FOLLOW BLOCKING OF THE FIRE TRUCK

Motorists who, because of idle curiosity, interfere with fire fighting in Holland will simply have to get a dose of the law. Chief Blom has pleaded and threatened, he has made public announcements, he has done all that a human being could do to warn people against interfering with the firemen in performing their duties.

Sunday night was the last straw for Central Ave. Even before the trucks arrived the block in the neighborhood was filled with automobiles. The fire truck drivers had to thread their way through a labyrinth of motor cars. A call for "gang-way" often brought unheeded replies from those who were in the way.

Last night was the last straw for Chief Blom, and Monday morning both the fire chief and the police chief, together with the members of the board of fire commission, got their heads together and a step will be put to this interference with fire.

Warnings have been useless and Sunday night not alone the police but the firemen took the numbers of a few cars as a starter. An example is to be made of the men who own these cars.

Chief Van Ry is calling in owners of cars numbered 449-289, also 551-755 and 544-232. This paper has the names of the persons to whom these licenses were issued but until the streets have been fully ascertained where these cars have been and to whom or whether they are still in the hands of the original owners, the names will not be published. When these details are found out, arrests will follow and the proceedings will be given publicly.

At any future fires the police and the firemen together will list the violators who interfere, either by occupying the fire area or with the trucks as they come down the street.

At Sunday night's fire at least 50 arrests could have been made, but the outstanding violators were selected. The block in which the fire occurred was so jammed with cars that not only was travel on the streets out of, but Chief Blom had difficulty in getting a fire alarm box in order to turn in the all-out signal.

HIGH SCHOOL GIVES ART GIFTS TO LOCAL SCHOOL

During the last year the class of '37, Holland High, has given to the school as memorials, three pictures, "The Madonna of the Chair," by Raphael; "The Mountain Torrent," by Van Ruydael; and "The Madonna of the Chair," by Van Ruydael. The "Madonna of the Chair" hangs on the west wall of the last corridor on the second floor. This picture was painted in 1516 and is in the Pitti Palace. In its own way it is quite a remarkable picture. There is no question here of a supernatural vision or of heavenly ecstasy; the feeling by which the picture is dominated is a mother's tenderness for her child. The Virgin has her arms closely folded around the little Christ, and is pressing him against her breast. He is turning his face toward the spectator, and a little frightened, is nestling close to his mother. The whole painting is the most artistic and perfect representation of maternal love. It is the best of the Madonna pictures. "The Mountain Torrent" occupies the same wall as the "Madonna of the Chair." This painting is the companion piece of "The Madonna of the Chair" by Van Ruydael. It was presented by the class of '16 and has been placed on the west side of the second floor, on the second floor, with the "Madonna of the Chair" and "The Torrent."

A ditch blasting demonstration will be given by agricultural agent Milham at 1 P. M. Wednesday, October 12, on the Frank Van Slooten farm, one mile south and a half mile west of West Olive. A combination of dynamite and pyrotol, war surplus explosive, will be used in ditching muck land.

Attendance at the first fall moving picture meetings and lectures arranged by agricultural agent Milham has been excellent. At Nieuw 40 were present, Pine Creek, 60, Robinson, 115 and Wright 5. Next week's meetings are as follows:

October 11th, Georgetown Grange Hall.
October 12th, Olive Center Town Hall.
October 13th, Coopersville High School.
October 14th, Allendale Town Hall.

DRIVE FOR FISH REARING POND IS NOW LAUNCHED

The Holland Game and Fish Protection association launched their boom for a game fish rearing pond on Saturday and forty enthusiasts started out on their rounds for funds. First reports Saturday night were very encouraging, as nearly one-third of the needed cash was raised. The response was cordial from almost every man who was asked to donate to this live Holland cause. Since a series of rearing ponds can without question keep Holland waters stocked with game fish the local merchants are very much interested, for nothing brings tourists back again like good fishing.

The plan of the finance committee is to interest a large number of people and during the next few days a large majority of Holland people will have an opportunity to help along a real live proposition which has educational value for resident and visitor alike. In addition these ponds will become splendid year around advertisements for Holland.

A group of Zealand sportsmen, recognizing the community value of these rearing ponds, have already collected a considerable sum from their city. This cooperation from our sister city is splendid and many complimentary remarks have been heard among Holland sportsmen.

Beginning tomorrow a list of donors will be published in the evening and additions will be until the required total of $3,000 is raised.

PROTESTS OTTAWA MAN BEING IN INSANE ASYLUM

A hearing is being held in the probate court, at Grand Haven, before Judge James J. Danhof to show reason why Joseph Moser of Coopersville, should be released from the State hospital at Kalamazoo, where he was committed in June, 1927. There are a number of witnesses for the defendant including many neighbors. The defendant was committed from this court on the petition of deputy sheriff Edward Bussies of Coopersville. The wife, who was the chief complainant, has not yet been on the stand.

TO ORGANIZE BOWLING LEAGUE IN THIS CITY

Chris Korose, who is to open a new bowling alley about the first of November, has evolved a plan whereby it is hoped to develop a bowling league in this city. In Holland as there is now in basket ball and indoor baseball. A bowling league will be organized in this city, somewhat similar to the city baseball league. The teams will play games regularly, on a regular schedule, and the goal will be the city bowling championship, with an appropriate trophy as a prize.

There will be a league for men and another league for women, according to the plan now being worked out by Mr. Korose. He hopes to install a recreation for women in Holland, in which many will join.

Several have already joined one of the teams that are being developed and more names are being added right along Mr. Korose states. Any one wishing to join any one of the teams, men or women, can do so by applying to Mr. Korose.

The new bowling alleys will be located on the second floor of the new Maatman building next to the Strand Theatre. There will be four alleys to start with, with provisions for four more to be installed in the near future. Mr. Korose states that the place will have the latest equipment and will be complete in every respect. The place will open about Nov. 1.

HOLLAND SCHOOL TEACHERS HAVE PERFECT RECORD

All the teachers of the public schools of Holland, Michigan, have taken membership in the National Education association for the sixth consecutive year, according to a report received at the association's headquarters, Washington, D. C. The record was made public today by J. W. Crabtree, secretary of the association.

The one hundred percent enrollment application was received from the superintendent of schools, E. E. Fell.

In a letter to Mr. Fell, Mr. Crabtree says: "We are proud of your continuing record of one hundred percent enrollment in the National Educational association. It is indicative of your splendid leadership and of the professional spirit of your corps of teachers. Congratulations to you and your teachers and success to you all in your work for the cause of education."

Federal Team Receives Awards

The members of the Federal baseball team, winners of the city title in Holland, received splendid awards Saturday from the Spaulding company of Chicago. The gold baseballs hang from their necks, with a chain attached make a very nice gift and 12 of the players will receive them. These awards come through the courtesy of the Van Tongeren Sport Shop, which handles the Spaulding line.

Following a potluck dinner the classes elected the following officers: William Homer, Ravenna, president; Mrs. Mary Brevitz, Conklin, vice president; and Mrs. Mary Bower, Coopersville, secretary-treasurer.

The next federation meeting will be held at Conklin.

In addition to the Boroelo road improvement project, an effort will be made by the people of Drenthe to secure a good highway, connecting the city with a trunk line by a concrete road. After looking into the merits of the only two logical routes it was decided on plan the way to Vriesland, a distance of two miles, and to take in a mile each way, east and west from there.

The road will be a concrete road under the Covert Act. The arrangement with the county is so that one-half the cost will be borne by the county; forty per cent by the township and ten per cent by a special assessment district; payment to extend over a period of ten years, which makes the burden only one per cent per annum to the property owners located in the special assessment district.

This road will be in the form of a T with the vertical stem of two miles and the horizontal part two miles. The road will be a concrete road, at the end of the present concrete road at Beaverdam crossing, a total of four miles, two of which will form part of the Byron Center road.

This, together with the Boroelo and the Jamestown effort, makes three projects in southern Ottawa county, some of which is going to succeed. Whether the county is willing to enter all three projects is doubtful, and it remains for the three groups to see who is ready first.

CITIZENSHIP WAS W.C.T.U. SUBJECT FRIDAY AFTERNOON

"My Duty as a Citizen" was the subject at the meeting of the W. C. T. U. on Friday afternoon. This was treated as a symposium by the members of the citizenship committee in charge of Mrs. H. Van Ark.

The first speaker, Mrs. J. Van der Meulen, had the subject, "My Duty as a Woman Citizen." "Women," she said, "make good citizens because they are good mothers, who with the best conditions to surround their children. In general, women are intelligent voters, not so many of them avail themselves of their citizenship privileges as do men; they are generally independent voters. Not many women vote a straight ticket—it is the best candidate running that they are for. It is the women who lead in reforms."

"My Duty as a Local Citizen" was the subject of Miss Mattie Dekker. Good citizenship, she said, is not a thing to be put on a shelf; it is a thing to be lived. It is a thing to be lived in the home; some of its fruits are good schools, good churches, public health education, clean up days, quarantine laws continuation schools where those pupils who must stop school in order to work can still add to their education.

Following a potluck dinner the classes elected the following officers: William Homer, Ravenna, president; Mrs. Mary Brevitz, Conklin, vice president; and Mrs. Mary Bower, Coopersville, secretary-treasurer.

The next federation meeting will be held at Conklin.

When a delegation came from Ovid, Michigan, to look over Holland's streets and institutions and found the mayor out of the city, they applied to the mayor pro tem, Alderman Frank Brevitz, who jumped into the breach and acted the part of municipal champion to the visitors. Mr. Brevitz called up his fellow members of the street committee, Alderman Visser, and together they showed the visitors over the city.

The delegation was composed of Fred O. Olson, mayor of Ovid, H. S. Beardslee, city clerk, and Dale Nelson and A. Don Moser, city men. They were taken over most of Holland's paved streets and the method of construction and cost were explained to them. They were principally interested in paved streets because Ovid is planning to pave its main street and it was for that reason that they were sent to Holland, this city's paving program having attracted attention in the central Michigan town.

The Ovid city officials were also taken through the high school, the electric light and power plant, and the city hall.
