Holland Plans New Jobs For Welfare Work

CITY OFFICIALS INVITED TO HELP DEDICATE NEW STADIUM SATURDAY

Crystal Creamery Finds Solution to Get Rid of Buttermilk Odor.

There was considerable doing at common council and these deliberations were opened with prayer by Rev. Henry Ter Keurst of Trinity church. Mayor Bosch gave a very timely message found elsewhere on this page, which is self-explanatory.

The amount paid for welfare during the past two weeks is as follows: Regular aid, $2,014.50; temporary aid, $1,089.13; total, $3,103.63.

The firm owning the tannery property on West Eighth street will be asked through the civic committee of the common council to clean up the premises since there is considerable old ruins of the former plant still on the grounds. The request was made through petitions of the neighbors living in that vicinity.

A request for the privilege of building an oil station at Madison and River avenue was granted.

The Municipal League of Michigan of which all important cities of the state are members, will be attended by Mayor Bosch next week at Lansing.

The matter of enlarging the vault in the city clerk's office in the city hall at a cost of $800 was deferred for two weeks and the proposal was left to the ways and means committee. The council members are going slow on spending money and it is not known at this time whether the enlargement will be made.

A dirt road will be made by welfare labor from First to Third street, skirting the Sewage Disposal plant. It will be a narrow roadway but it will give access to the plant.

The committee having in charge the matter relating to the odor issuing from the buttermilk unit at the Crystal creamery reports that the company is putting in a vapor tower connected with the buttermilk drier, and with a fan arrangement the odors will be drawn into the sewer, thus doing away with that public nuisance to the great satisfaction of the neighborhood.

On presidential election day, Nov. 8, the polls will be open from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m., giving citizens two hours longer to vote.

It is proposed to put in a $2,400 sewer extension, 75 per cent of which will be done by welfare labor. The old sewer going by the Holland sugar factory and Bay View Furniture company runs dead on those streets. It is proposed to make a loop of that system providing the necessary circulation which now brings a stagnant "dead end" often causing trouble. The matter will be held up for two weeks to consider the proposal further.

The common council will request the police department to station men at city trunk lines while a funeral is passing or at other busy corners where this would be found necessary.

A letter of thanks was received from Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wiersma because of medical aid ministered to a very sick daughter by the city of Holland. The little girl is recovering and the parents are very thankful.

Principal J. J. Riemersma of Holland High school, appeared before the common council, publicly thanking this honorable body for giving this city a stadium that is really worthwhile. He stated that the council had built not only for the present but for future generations as well. He stated that Holland was often ashamed when strange teams came to this city and we had little to show in the way of a stadium, while the outside teams were so well equipped at home. But now Holland has a better equipment than even the larger cities where not less than $75,000 was spent for a football field.

In concluding, Mr. Riemersma said: "I wish to take this occasion to thank all of you in behalf of the school officials and the students and we extend you all a cordial invitation to help us dedicate Riverview Park stadium when Holland High meets Kalamazoo this week, Saturday."

The council unanimously accepted the invitation with thanks.

Alderman Prins, supported by Alderman Kleis, moved that the mayor appoint a committee to draft a suitable resolution relative to the mayor's message found elsewhere on this page. City Attorney Lokker and an alderman from each ward were appointed. The resolution follows:

"Whereas the mayor has delivered a message to the common council of which each and every member of the council heartily approve and endorse.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the city clerk be instructed to send a copy of said message to the board of police and fire commissioners and another copy to the local newspapers for publication and that the message be spread upon the council records.

"Respectfully submitted,"

The new park created through welfare work just south and west of Black river bridge was turned over to the Holland park board and will be part of the regular park system.

The United Spanish War veterans will hold a birthday party in the G. A. R. room of the city hall tonight, Friday, at 7:30 o'clock.

Beginning tonight, Friday, Prof. Winfield Burggraaf of Western Theological seminary will give a series of lectures on five consecutive Friday evenings in Garfield Park Reformed church, Grand Rapids.

VEXING CHANGE OF TIME WITH US AGAIN

The common council at its meeting last night was again confronted with that vexing change of time question and the city fathers hardly know what to do about it so they laid the matter over for two weeks. Holland voted for the old time by a large majority. In the meantime Grand Rapids, Grand Haven and Muskegon went eastern standard time the year around.

The News has always contended that daylight saving time in the summer and back to the old time in the winter is the most pleasing arrangement and the citizens of Holland think likewise. But if half the neighboring cities have one time and half another the situation becomes more confusing.

We had sincerely hoped that Grand Rapids would think our way but instead they voted eastern standard after voting the other way three consecutive times at the ballot box. We may in order to keep in step with our neighbors, be forced to remain on this time. Anyway the aldermen have two weeks to think it over.

It is hoped that the Conlon time law may be repealed at the next session and, according to some legislators, this is liable to happen.

MARIE ELFERDINK OF ALLEGAN COUNTY MISSING

Search has been started for Marie Elferdink, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elferdink, living two miles north of Martin, Allegan county. The girl had taken a position at Plainwell, but left for home shortly after noon Monday. When she did not reach home Monday night her parents became alarmed and sought assistance in locating her. Marie is described as an attractive girl, tall, weighing 125 pounds, having blue eyes and brown hair, and wearing a polkadot dress, a white cap, white shoes and a green coat.

LEGION OFFICERS INSTALLED

Dr. J. F. Peppler of Rockford fifth district committeeman, conducted the installation ceremonies for new officers of Willard G Leenhouts post, American Legion Wednesday evening. Leenhouts; chaplain, Harry Kramer.

Mayor's Message

To the Honorable, the Common Council of the City of Holland.

Gentlemen:

Our city has just undergone an experience of lawlessness which has shocked and stirred every citizen. The story of how these bandits held up our First State Bank will linger long in our memories, but the story of how our loyal citizens responded to the call and their exhibition of valor and undaunted courage will never be forgotten. I wish to pay my tribute to all of those who so fearlessly fought these outlaws and risked their own lives to register protest against such banditry. That their efforts could not have been crowned with success is lamentable, but surely their unselfish bravery is commendable.

As Chief Executive of this city, I want to express my sincere admiration for our Chief of Police, whose devotion to duty stamps him as a true hero; this admiration extends to every police officer who responded to the call.

I am reminded that a short time ago a notorious place in this city was padlocked and the proprietor effectively dealt with. In this connection I wish to thank our Chief of Police and the various officers who by persistent effort, slowly but surely gathered the evidence to accomplish this laudable result. The general public do not know, nor is it expedient that they should know, all the plans and maneuvers necessary in bringing about the apprehension of wrongdoers. I was in close touch with the Chief of Police in this matter and felt with the Licensing Board and members of the Common Council that the investigation should not be hampered by putting the proprietor on his guard. I feel that the good citizens of Holland will endorse my judgment in the matter and agree that the end has justified the means. I appreciate the faith that was kept in this affair and expect the same co-operation in all future problems of the city.

Criticism of the city officials by anyone not completely aware of the facts is very unfair, and is apt to destroy the confidence necessary in the administration of city affairs. In the face of such destructive criticism, let us not be remiss in our duty, but let us continue with renewed courage to work together for the moral and spiritual progress of our community, and safeguard the interests of the City of Holland.

Respectfully submitted.

NICODEMUS BOSCH.

DR. NYKERK RECEIVES GOLD MEDAL

Dr. Nykerk, dean of men at Hope college, founder of the Michigan Oratorical league, was given signal honors at a banquet tendered him at the Olds hotel at the state capital, Lansing.

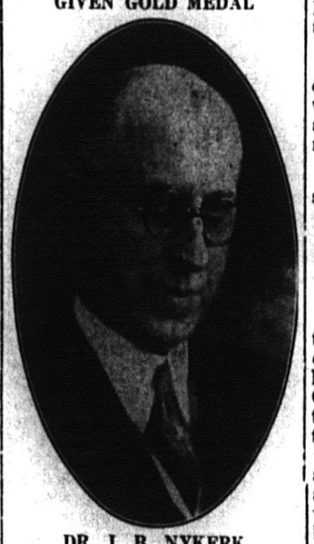
There were 75 guests present and the presenting of the gold medal by Dr. Frederick McKay, of the Ypsilanti Michigan State Normal, was indeed impressive.

Inscribed on the gold medal are the following words:

"Dr. J. B. Nykerk, founder and for 35 years a faithful friend to the Michigan Oratorical League—September 30, 1932."

Mr. McKay is head of the oratorical department of the college he represents.

GIVEN GOLD MEDAL



DR. J. B. NYKERK
"Dean of Men" at Hope College

Dr. Nykerk responded fittingly although with difficulty when the medal was given him.

Peter De Visser, president of the M. O. L., did much to make the banquet a success.

Prof. Roy W. Hamilton of Alma college was toastmaster, and Prof. K. G. Hance of Alma college was one of the principal speakers.

Artists from Michigan State college furnished the music for the occasion.

Hope college had the largest delegation, which included Professor Nykerk, Professor Deckard Ritter, men's debate coach; Professor Bruce Raymond; Miss Shirley Payne, women's coach of debate, and Miss Marie Verduin, Miss Louise Kieft, Miss Nella De Haan, Henry Kuizenga, Marvin Kruizenga and Miss Beatrice Visser, students.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Last Thursday a fisherman caught at the Park a genuine silver eel which measured two feet and eight inches in length and weighed two pounds and a half. This eel is the first one ever caught in Macatawa Bay and its appearance in these waters is quite a surprise. Photographer Burgers took a picture of it and it is on exhibition at his photograph shop on Main st.—Note: This must have been either a stray eel or one planted. About 15 years later a large consignment of eel were planted in Black Lake, but since eel do not multiply in these waters, one caught occasionally must be of this planting. Three years ago a large eel was caught off Central Park. The Burgers "Photograph Gallery" was located where Rutgers Clothing Store now is, a one story building standing alone in the middle of the block. In front of the place on the walk was a photograph case in which photographs were placed on a revolving cylinder. How "us boys" loved to see the pictures turn. These were our first "movies."

A curiosity not often seen in this part of the country, exists in the garden of Dwight Cutter, a lumber man of Grand Haven. It is in the shape of a banana tree in full blossom. If the fruit should ripen it will add another attraction to the Michigan fruit belt. — Note: Of course, this never happened, for north is north and south is south, in this instance. Cutler was a man of millions, made in lumber cut around Grand Haven. He built the finest hotel in the Middle West on the Main street of Grand Haven — it was the talk of the state. The hotel burned 45 years ago and another Cutler House. not near as pretentious, was built on the ruins. This later was converted into store buildings.

The last remaining house of the old town of Singapore, the covered city near Saugatuck, is now vacant. It has been occupied for the last few years by a family named Nichols but the sand kept drifting in on the place until they were obliged to vacate the first story and move into the second, and finally when the sand began to run in the chimeny tops they concluded it was time to go. The building was known as the old boarding house and near it in former years was located the Singapore State Bank.

SPRING LAKE MAN LEAVES MILLIONS

Except for bequests of $100,000 to his daughter, Mrs. A. Y. Dodge, of Grand Rapids, and $25,000 to his sister, Fay Mar Hopkins of Grand Rapids, the entire estate of the late Claude C. Hopkins was left to his widow, Harriet B. Hopkins.

There was no indication of the amount of the estate. Mr. Hopkins, a nationally known figure in the world of advertising and responsible for some of the most successful campaigns in history, is reputed to have made $5,000,000 from his work.

The will was filed in Ottawa county probate court today. Mrs. Hopkins is named executrix of the will. Mr. Hopkins died Sept. 21. Fay Mar Hopkins is allowed to select bonds to the amount of $25,000 par value and Mrs. Dodge is given second choice to $100,000. The balance goes to the widow.

ZEELAND AND ALLEGAN GET NEW POST OFFICES

Two hundred and twenty-seven cities and towns throughout the country today were allocated new post offices under the building provisions of the Garner-Wagner relief law.

Eight places in Michigan were included in the list: Allegan, Fremont, Gladstone, Hancock, Monroe, Negaunee, Plymouth, St. Johns and Zeeland. In the cases of all except Monroe, St. Johns and Zeeland, leases expire before July 1, 1934, and the buildings must be constructed before that date.

The list, made up almost exclusively of buildings to cost less than $100,000, brought the total so far allotted to be spent for post offices under that bill to $84,872,600.

Holland's Black River

Here is where the "annual pull" will take place between the Fresh- men and Sophomore classes of Hope college next week, Thursday. Someone is in for a good "duck- ing."

Schuiling Again Heads Sunday School Ass'n

PUBLIC MEETING OF CONVENTION ATTRACTS 1,500 TO HOLLAND; TWO LADIES GIVEN PRIZES

At least 500 delegates from out of town came to Holland to attend the forty-seventh annual convention of the Ottawa Sunday School association of which George Schuiling of this city has been the president for the last ten years and was re-elected at the business meeting held in this city yesterday.

The morning and afternoon meetings for delegates were held at Hope Reformed church. The morning session was attended by 400 and the afternoon session by approximately 700. It is stated that the different conferences, where real Sunday school work is done, showed the best attendance in the history of the Ottawa County Sunday School association.

Two young ladies were honored, one being Miss Gertrude Jalving, who won first place in the oratorical contest fostered by the association. The other was Miss Vera Damstra, who won second place. Both young ladies won cash prizes amounting to $25 each.

The program of the convention has repeatedly been given in full by the Holland City News and has been carried out accordingly.

The night meeting at Hope Memorial chapel was for the general public and it is considered that at least 1,600 were present in the beautiful auditorium.

A great number of out-of-town delegates, teachers and superintendents, together with local officers, teachers and friends of the Sunday school, filled the chapel's spacious auditorium.

The two main addresses of the evening were preceded by a musical program rendered most acceptably by a large male chorus. The chorus was composed of groups of singers from the Reformed, Christian Reformed, Baptist and Methodist churches of Holland. They sang the following numbers under the direction of John Vander Sluis: "The Heavens Declare the Glory of God," "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," "Hear My Cry," "Hold Thou My Hand," and "Nearer My God to Thee." Mr. Clarence Dykema accompanied at the piano.

Mr. George Schuiling, president of the Ottawa County Sunday School association, then introduced the first speaker of the occasion, Dr. A. G. Johnson, D.D., of the Baptist Temple of Detroit. Dr. Johnson responded with happy words of commendation for Holland's people and its splendid Sunday school organizations. The burden of his address was to obtain a vision of the cross of Christ, stripped of all the false lights and shadows of higher criticism. "Where there is no Christ at the cross," said Dr. Johnson. "there is no Gospel. Here God is at close grips with human life."

He would not in any way detract from the unique personality, the great love and mercy, the virtuous life and moral excellency of Christ, but he said, "I wish tonight to hold Him before you at the place of death." And at this point he showed the folly of mere example worship, as contrasting with the tendency of great poets and artists to center their message about the atoning death of Christ "The cross is the lode-stone of every age." This is essentially so because in it is the proposition for every believer's sins. This makes it, then, a fountainhead of life Here death becomes life, a dynamic.

Dr Johnson emphasized that "we must not minimize this dynamic for then our power ebbs."

He closed with a touching plea that men should once again rally around this central fact of Christianity, pointing to it as the basic remedy for all human problems. He concluded, "Let us never forget this dynamic; let us hasten His glorious kingdom."

Mr. George Schuiling then announced the winner of the Sunday school oratorical contest, which which had been based upon the subject, "The Influence of Sunday School Teaching." Miss Gertrude Jalving then responded with her winning oration.

Rev. D. W. Kurtz, D.D., of the Bethlehem Biblical seminary of Chicago was introduced as the second main speaker of the convention. His subject was "The Human Problem." He began with a striking summary of many of the chief human problems, including the moral, philosophical and religious problems. But we must not be afraid of problems, we are here to "go forth to conquer and to conquer." Following this approach, Dr. Kurtz presented four great human problems. First, "We must be able to survive." Second. "We must gain clear concepts." Third, "We must settle the social and moral problem." Fourth, "We must beget spiritual harmony with the infinite, the true, and the beautiful."

He concluded by making it abundantly evident that these human problems will forever remain problems unless we dare to introduce Christ to the greatest and to the least of them.

"We have tried all," he said. "but Christ is the only adequate solution to all our difficulties."

Dr. J. R. Mulder of the Western Theological seminary dismissed the meeting after he had pronounced the benediction.

All officers were re-elected unanimously and these are: President, George Schuiling, Holland: first vice president, J. C. Lehman. Grand Haven; second vice president, E. J. Wolbring, Coopersville; secretary and treasurer, A. A. Nienhuis, Holland; assistant secretary and treasurer, D. Boter.

District Superintendents — A. Steketee, Holland; C. Poest, Zeeland; J. J. Bolt, Grand Haven; G. Yntema, Hudsonville; P. Struik, Marne.

Divisional Superintendents — Children's divisions and cradle roll, Mrs. E. Walvoord, Holland; young people's division, Mr. Charles P. Veldhuis, Coopersville; education, Prof. E. Winters, Holland; adult division and home department, Rev. H. Dykhuis, Jamestown; administration, Mr. D. Damstra, Holland; missionary, Miss H. Warnshuis, Holland; music, Mr. J. Vandersluis, Holland.

WHAT DRENTHE CORRESPONDENT SAYS ABOUT THE ROBBERS

A number of our people southwest of Drenthe were very much excited on last week, Thursday, when a number of bandits came through the road of Mr. George Huizen and who were chased by a number of policemen and state police. While the bandits were changing a tire one of the officers entered the home of Mr. Huizen to call for help. While the officer was telephoning bullets were fired at the house and went through the outside wall and lodging in the wall opposite. Bullets were also fired through the hen house of Mr. Ed Ter Haar, a neighbor. We are glad to report that no one was hurt. From there they went east heading toward Burnips. Mr. Henry Van Dam, who also lives on that road, said that that car had been coming through that road for some time so that it was not a strange road for the bandits although it is a narrow road.

Note—Which goes to show that the bandits had been planning the holdup for days.

ONLY 15 LESS STUDENTS AT HOPE COLLEGE

A compilation of the number of students at Hope college this year shows but 15 less than last year, and late arrivals will more than take up this slack before the semester is over. Hope college has done well considering the losses reported in other colleges, large and small. The tables for last year and this year follow:

1931-1932

Post-Graduates	6
Seniors	84
Juniors	85
Sophomores	125
Freshmen	150
Total	450

1932-1933

Psot-Graduates	5
Seniors	77
Sophomores	113
Freshmen	135
Totals	435

This number does not include the enrolled students in Hope High school numbering 81, with more to follow as the term advances.

This is rather a fine showing since a fee of $20 is charged every entrant. Formerly there was no charge.

The Hope college school of music enrollment is also not tabulated. However, the studentry is well up to the number of last year.

• • •

Later—Since this writing four more students have been added, making the number but 11 less than last year.

One of the enrolled students is Miss Christine Webb of British Columbia, who is finishing her work here. There are 7 students from the Orient; 2 from Japan and 5 from Mesopotamia.

VAN KLEY IS HURT AT FOOTBALL GAME

In last week Friday's football tussle with Hudsonville, Lavern Van Kley of Zeeland injured his ankle.

He had done exceptional work as a Sophomore but it is possible that he will not play any more football this year. Lavern will have two more years to play football.

POLITICS IN ZEELAND HIGH SCHOOL

Zeeland Record—The first hour civics class has been divided into Democratic and Republican committees and a campaign is to be carried on in the high school culminating in an election November 8.

Henry Vanden Berg heads the Republican and is opposed by Lester De Koster as chairman of the Democratic campaign. Plans have not as yet been definitely formulated, but the losing side has to treat their victors to a dinner.

The Republicans have taken a poll of the faculty and the Dems retaliated with a poll of the students. Neither one has been published to date, however.

HEN GRID FAN LAYS EGG LIKE FOOTBALL

A white Leghorn pullet with the football spirit has been discovered in the chicken yard on a farm of Mrs. W. E. Davis in Arkansas. The hen laid an egg which looked like a miniature football, seams, laces and all. The next day she repeated the performance.

HOLLAND CITY OFFICIALS WILL ATTEND GRID GAME

Principal J. J. Riemersma of Holland High school, expressed his appreciation for the construction of the football stadium by extending an invitation to the mayor and common council to attend the dedicatory football game Saturday between Kalamazoo Central and Holland High school as guests of honor. The invitation was accepted by the common council.

WHAT AN INSURANCE RATE THEY MUST HAVE!

Chief of the fire department reported to the Zeeland council that during the period from Sept. 1, 1931, to Sept. 1, 1932, the fire loss for our neighbors amounted to the small sum of only $25. That's about the best in history. Attorney Jerrot Clark is the able cheif.

Odd City Laws Are Passed By Our Neighbors

ONE REGULATES LAUNDRIES AND ANOTHER PREVENTS BOWLING ALLEYS FROM BEING "HIDE-OUTS"

Zeeland has just passed a poolroom and bowling alley ordinance and Allegan one regulating laundries and dry cleaners.

The Zeeland ordinance prevents the owners of bowling alleys, billiard tables, pool tables and other gaming tables from obscuring the windows—preventing passers from looking in.

This reminds us of the old saloon days when all "sample rooms" had blinds. In Holland these were ordered removed in the latter days of the saloon period.

Then large pictures began to adorn the windows, supposedly to advertise Bock Beer, cigars or cigarettes. These were ordered out when the saloon men became interested largely in botany and flowers and climbers literally filled the show windows — and who would deny them flowers?

Anyway, in Zeeland the gaming places may not become "hide-outs." All must be open and above board as the following ordinance would indicate: "No curtains, screens, partitions, or other thing shall obstruct the view from the entrances, exits, sidewalks, streets and alleys in front of or at the side or end of any building, room or place where any bowling alley, billiard table, pool table or any other gaming table is kept or maintained within the limits of the City of Zeeland; and no person licensed as herein before provided shall suffer or permit any game to be played on any such table or alley between the hours of eleven o'clock in the afternoon and six o'clock in the morning of each week day nor on Sunday and until the hour of six o'clock in the morning after Sunday."

Zeeland proprietors, substantial citizens complied immediately.

In Allegan the city is adopting an altogether different ordinance and relates to laundries and dry cleaners, the substance of which follows:

"No person, firm, or corporation shall use the streets of Allegan for the purpose of gathering laundry, clothes for pressing or dry cleaning, clean towel service, or any other laundry work by means of a horse drawn or motor propelled vehicle without first obtaining a license so to do; provided, however, that any person, firm or corporation that has an established place of business in the city of Allegan for doing the work they are soliciting or furnishing in the laundry business, pressing or dry cleaning business, clean towel service, or other work in the laundry line, who has kept and maintained said business for a period of six months or more, may in the discretion of the city council be exempt from such license.

"Each person, firm, or corporation gathering laundry, clothes for pressing or dry cleaning, clean towel service, or any other laundry work by means of a horse-drawn or motor propelled vehicle, shall pay to the city clerk a license fee of $20.00 per year for each vehicle so used."

The usual fines or imprisonment for violating is also included as is the case in most ordinances.

BLACK BASS TRANSFERRED TO BLACK LAKE

Approximately 25,000 black bass were transferred from the rearing ponds of the Holland Fish and Game club, east of the city, to Black lake.

Members of the club, who assisted in planting the future victims of anglers in Black lake, were given about 12,000 shiners which survived in the black bass pond during the summer. The shiners were placed in the pond as food for the bass and will now be used as bait for fall fishing.

It is expected that next week about 500,000 blue gills in another pond will be seined and given out for distribution in various lakes in this section.

Others composing the board of directors are Dr. Leenhouts, president; Mrs. C. M. McLean, first vice president; John A. Vander Veen, second vice president; William C. Vandenberg, Prof. Wynand Wichers and H. S. Covell. Charles A. Gross, who is handling the details of the campaign, is secretary.

WE SAY "AMEN" TO PRESS EDITORIAL

* * *

Holland has just gone through an experience that it will not soon forget. Its citizens witnessed its first bank robbery "western style." Our city was shot up and bandits had to shoot their way out of town.

The Holland City News has given a full account of this unusual happening in an otherwise peaceful, law abiding community.

Bravery displayed by our chief of police and his men, augmented by the courage of private citizens, will not soon be forgotten by grateful homefolks.

Seasoned, cocaine filled bandits, with firearms far superior, and knowing all the tricks of their nefarious trade, were halted by police and citizens alike, whose weapons of defense were entirely inadequate to cope with a situation so grave.

There has been a great deal of advice given as to how the bandits could have been captured or slain. Advice after a crisis is easy to give, when we know the happenings that went before.

We know one thing—Holland did not lack brave men. They marched right up to danger and possible death, inadequately armed and without flinching. Our experience, and this is not said in the way of criticism, has taught us that our police department should be provided with arms and ammunition, if not superior at least equal to what highwaymen use.

A few long distance shooting rifles in the hands of those marksmen following the bandits on the Drenthe road, would undoubtedly have changed the whole story. But this, too, is an after consideration.

We leave this thought of a better armed police force with the authorities only as a suggestion.

We are also pleased to say "Amen" to an editorial that appears in the Grand Rapids Press. Coming from an outside publication, "seeing ourselves as others see us" carries more weight than anything we might say of ourselves.

The Press editorial follows:

BRAVE LITTLE HOLLAND.

"'Brave little Holland' is a phrase that has applied to The Netherlands through the centuries. Now the same sort of staunch courage that won for that nation such high esteem has been in evidence again in a Michigan city that owes its existence to founders who came from that fatherland.

"Holland, Michigan, lived up to the name Thursday when a gang of vicious gunmen attempted to terrorize the city, rained bullets on its streets and carried away $47,000 in loot. There is every reason to believe the bandits have paid dearly for their folly.

"The gunmen did not find a populace easily cowed by machine guns. They found instead a chief of police who walked fearlessly into their gunfire and who, although badly wounded, continued to fight until his injuries caused his collapse. They found other officers who acquitted themselves in a manner in which the city may take justifiable pride. They found merchants and other citizens ready to rush into the battle against lawlessness regardless of personal safety.

"There was Benjamin Hamm, who defied the bandit's orders and ran to spread the alarm; Dick Claman, who hurried to the fray to blast the fleeing gunmen with apparently telling fire; there were other citizens who dared face bullets in a long chase.

"The thugs seem to have made their getaway, at least temporarily. But there is nothing of which Holland need be ashamed. 'Brave little Holland' has taken on a new meaning in Michigan."

LATE AGAIN

The peculiar genius for being late that possesses former Mayor Walker may have served him a bad turn at last. Tammany's exidol has been tardy at christenings, weddings, official welcoming ceremonies and political conferences without number, until his adherents have developed the saying, "Sure, Jimmy'll be late for his own funeral." But till now, nothing has happened.

However, New York Democrats are to meet in convention today, Thursday, to nominate a candidate for mayor for the November 8 election. Jimmy planned a last-minute arrival from Europe on the morning of the assembly. Driving behind a band, through huzzahing crowds to the convention hall, he might hope to dazzle Tammany members into granting him a chance to run for re-election and "vindication" by the people.

But the liner that was bringing him home was delayed at Gibralter. Jimmy sprinted for Paris to catch another, which will not land him in New York until two days after the meeting. It is too soon to tell, of course, what the convention Thursday will do; it may nominate Jimmy after all, but if it doesn't it certainly will have come to pass that Jimmy Walker not only was late to his political funeral, but missed it entirely.

ECHOES OF GARNER

(Grand Rapids Press)

Some of Governor Roosevelt's campaign statements would carry more weight if there were not so many skeletons of recent origin rattling in the Democrat closet. When he accuses Mr. Hoover of failing to do anything about consolidating and eliminating bureaus he must talk loud enough to drown out echoes of the voice of his running mate, John Nance Garner.

Mr. Garner was the one who raised the cry against the president's consolidation program in the last session of congress, berating him for seeking to take so much power to himself. Then when Mr. Hoover suggested the formation of a commission to draw up a plan Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, assailed the president for shirking his duty and attempting to pass on to congress the task that he should do himself.

The record on this matter is straight. Democrats aided in balking the president and preventing the very thing that Governor Roosevelt now so properly demands. Garner also blocked railway legislation of a type which Candidate Roosevelt now advocates. It would appear that some of the Democrats deliberately played politics in a critical period. It's an old political game, but it must be somewhat embarrassing to Mr. Roosevelt who on these issues is trying to think straight.

HOLLAND FOLKS ATTEND ZEELAND PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dykema gave a farewell party at their home on West Central avenue, Zeeland, on Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harkema of Seattle, Wash., who have been their guests during the past two weeks.

The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Stephan, Mr. and Mrs. S. Meeuwsen, Mrs. Wise and son, Harold; Miss Gertrude Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kammeraad, Miss Angie Kammeraad and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Dykema all of Holland; and the Misses Clara Gebben and Anna Dykema of Zeeland. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Miss Nelle Breen arrived in Holland Tuesday for a six months' furlough after spending two years as missionary in Lupwe, northern Nyeria, British West Africa. Miss Breen has been working with Miss Johanna Veenstra, under the auspices of the Sudan United mission. Miss Breen is spending her vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Breen, 245 West Fifteenth street.

Lip Sticks Not a Modern Fad

When Miss America, 1932 A. D., anoints her face with two kinds of cold cream, covers the result with powder, touches up lips and cheeks with rouge, eyelids with mascara and sticks a rhinestone clip in her permanent wave before departing for a dance, she follows almost exactly the procedure Miss Egypt, 2300 B. C., developed, except that Miss Egypt was a bit more thorough in her preliminary preparations.

That young lady began the process of getting ready for a date by calling in five or six maids to help her bathe. After they had poured jars of scented water over her slim brown body, the slaves smeared her from head to foot with aromatic ointment, such as bitter almond, myrrh or frankincense. This they kneaded in carefully, going over every inch of her skin, until she was far more redolent than any lily. Next Miss Egypt, with an ivory bodkin dipped in green dye, carefully painted her undereyelids. Drops of black kohl in her eyes increased their brilliancy, which was still further enhanced by blackening the upper lids, lashes and eyebrows.

Watching results carefully in her mirror of polished silver, Miss Egypt then powdered her face to a ghost-like whiteness with psymithion, or chalk dust, and planted a spot of vivid rouge in the center of each cheek. With henna she reddened not only her fingers and toenails, but the palms of her hands and soles of her feet. Her hair she combed smoothly from the top of her head, until it fell in straight locks down her back and on each side of her face, covering her ears. After tipping each lock with a bit of yellow clay, she fixed them in place with a band, or fillet of gold, which held a jeweled lotus bud in the center of her forehead. This in place, the brown, red, green, black, white and yellow creature of delight stepped into a pair of grass sandals, donned white linen underclothing, a linen or wool dress, and was ready for a night of flirting or frolic.

All of which goes to show that the cosmetologists, masseuses, manicurists and beauticians of our day do not practice a new art.

EARLE KARDUX, FORMERLY OF HOLLAND, PLANS TO OPEN A STUDIO IN GRAND RAPIDS

Of interest to the music world of Grand Rapids is the announcement that Earle Kardux of New York city, formerly of Holland will open a studio there the early part of next month.

Mr. Kardux, who has resided in New York city the past six years, is no stranger to Grand Rapids. He began his musical career there several years ago, studying with Grace Dudley Fenton. Leaving Grand Rapids in 1919, Mr. Kardux became a pupil of Charles Dalmores, world famous French tenor of the Chicago Opera company. During these years his musical assent was rapid and his concert debut on March 5, 1925, under the management of J. B. Hall was warmly praised by critics of the Chicago papers.

As head of the voice department of Washburn college at Topeka, Kansas, Mr. Kardux added further laurels to his career. While teaching at Topeka he concertized through the middle west. Mr. Kardux has sung often in Holland churches and he has an unusual voice.

His professional activities have included concert and church work, radio, light operas, musical comedy and vaudeville. In church work Mr. Kardux has been a successful soloist in the Fifth Avenue Brick church, the Fifth Avenue Church of Heavenly Rest, the Park Avenue Presbyterian church, and the Brick church of East Orange, N. J.

HOLLAND MILK DEALER TUSSLES WITH FIREBUG; DAMAGE IS $1,000

A flaming torch hurled into the basement of the home of B. R. Peterson, ice cream manufacturer and milk dealer, Thursday night did damage estimated at $1,000. It is believed the torch was flung by persons who, Mr. Peterson said, had threatened him. Mr. Peterson recently started a milk route in conjunction with his ice cream business.

Peterson reported to police that he heard a noise in the basement and went down to investigate. As he was descending the stairs the torch came in through a window. He grabbed the legs of a man who struggled out of his grasp, he told police. The fire meanwhile developed quickly and ate its way up a partition into the attic.

Police were informed of the threat at the time and a guard was set up at the Peterson plant, but the home was left unprotected. Peterson said the threat was made by a man driving an automobile with Illinois license plates.

Where the Shed Horns Go

Why aren't the woods full of the horns which deer and moose shed every winter? The answer, according to a writer in Field and Stream, is that they are eaten by rodents. "Many," says the sport monthly, "have been found partly eaten which have the teeth mark of mice, chipmunks, squirrels, ground squirrels and porcupines. Horns disappear quickly after they are shed, as few are found in the woods."

DOUBT SLAIN YOUTH ROBBED HOLLAND BANK

Police authorities in Holland discounted a theory that a youth slain in Chicago yesterday might have been one of the seven bandits who last Thursday looted the First State Bank and fled after wounding two men. They awaited further word from Chicago.

The youth, identified as Theodore Drozd, 19, of Chicago, was dumped from a car by two companions near a hospital. He died of a bullet wound in the back of the head without regaining consciousness.

In the meantime the authorities here were attempting to learn who sent a telegram to Chicago, signed in the name of Acting Chief of Police Peter J. Bontekoe, apparently the first attempt to link Drozd with the robbery here. Bontekoe said he did not send the wire and no other member of the police force was able to state who sent the message.

A telegram from Chicago, in reply to the Holland message, was signed by William H. Schumaker, chief of detectives in that city. It read:

"Holland bank job man identified as Theodore Drozd, 19, by father. No criminal record."

The police in Holland, however, said they doubted the identification could be correct. None of the bandits who participated in the hold-up here appeared to be nearly so youthful.

Always Belittlin', Hooper Charges Democrat Party

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 6.—Pointing to President Hoover as "The one great constructive statesman in a time of universal trial and disaster," Congressman Joseph L. Hooper delivered the keynote address at the Republican state convention here today.

He discussed both national and state problems. In talking on Michigan, the Battle Creek congressman paid fine tribute to Governor Wilber M. Brucker with the statement that "In this bad time, we have had leadership as gallant and courageous as that given to the nation."

In scoring the Democratic party for their part in preventing the return of better times, Cong. Hooper said:

"They belittle the achievements of the President, but they offer nothing better. Their hope of victory rests in the will to capitalize the misery which has resulted from the operation of powerful forces all over the globe. They have offered the nation free trade; they have offered it free silver; they have offered it free advice at all times. Most of the counsels have been rejected. Most of the slogans have been discarded. They have forgotten free trade and free silver this year and can coin no better slogan than 'Let's change.'

"What does this imply? A change in the tariff, which will lower the price of the products of industry and agriculture and flood our markets with foreign products produced by cheap labor? A change in generalship of a battle already won."

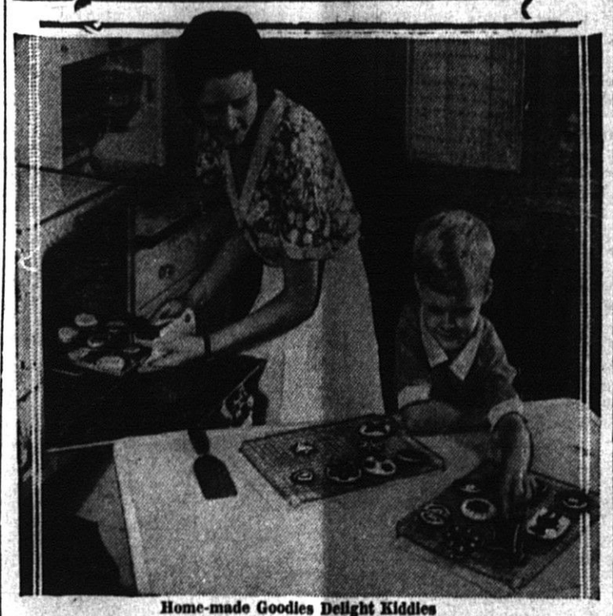
Cookies for Ever-Hungry Youngsters



Home-made Goodies Delight Kiddies

SCHOOL days again. And hungry youngsters racing home and asking for "something good" to eat. If the cookie jar is kept well filled, mother will have no difficulty in satisfying the children, because these little cakes are substantial enough to satisfy the between-meal craving and still so light they will not spoil the appetite for regular meals.

While even plain cookies will appeal to nearly all children, try giving them something with a flavor they like. Cut the cookies in interesting shapes, such as stars, diamonds, and little animals! Or decorate the tops of plain cookies with some nuts, raisins, or small colored candies, and listen to the shouts of delight.

Add these to the school lunch, too, and watch the interest of the youngsters in that rather difficult meal.

Chocolate Cookies

2½ cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
½ cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 tablespoon cream

Sift flour once, measure, add cinnamon, baking powder, and soda, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, chocolate, and cream, and beat well. Add flour, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Chill until firm enough to roll. Roll into thin sheet on slightly floured board. Cut with floured cooky cutters as desired. Dredge with sugar, or decorate with nuts, shredded coconut, small colored candies, colored sugars, or dried fruits (raisins, currants, and thin slices citron). Place on ungreased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 9 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen large cookies.

Chocolate Drop Cookies

2 cups sifted cake flour
½ teaspoon soda
dash of salt
½ cup butter or other shortening
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg, well beaten
3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup walnut meats, broken

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together twice. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Add chocolate and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla and nuts. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 7 minutes. Frost with chocolate butter frosting if desired. Makes 50 cookies.

Rain continued to fall a good share of Monday and Tuesday and throughout the nights. According to the Ottawa county weather bureau seven hundredths of an inch fell Monday night and 30 hundredths up to noon Tuesday. The mean temperature was 55 degrees, which is normal for this season. To date the annual rainfall is 7.44 inches short of the normal, 33.17 inches. As there are still several months to go until the first of the year, the total shortage may not be so great. Much of the loss is attributed to the lack of snow last winter.

Highlights in Hoover's Speech

"Three of the great perils (of the depression) were invisible except to those who had the responsibility of dealing with the situation. The first, the steady strangulation of credit. Another, federal revenues fell by nearly one-half. The third peril, that of being forced off the gold standard."

* * *

"I have been accorded the greatest honor which my country can bestow — that is, to lead it amongst the nations of the world in the paths of peace and to serve in the stern duty of the battle against the invisible forces of a great world calamity."

* * *

"Thousands of our people in their bitter distress and losses are saying that 'things could not be worse.' No person who has any remote understanding ever utters that remark. Had it not been for the immediate and unprecedented actions of our government, things would be infinitely worse today."

* * *

"Let no man tell you it could not be worse. It could be so much worse that these days now, distressing as they are, would look like veritable prosperity."

* * *

"I was born in the midst of the terrible times of the seventies. And only in that period has our nation had to meet a situation in any degree comparable to that with which we now contend."

* * *

"In order to prevent the total collapse of the German people and its inevitable effect upon us, I brought about the German moratorium and so called German standstill agreements by which Europe was given a breathing spell to arrange and stabilize its affairs."

* * *

"Our own people, infected with world fear and panic, withdrew and hoarded $1,500,000,000. This brought its own train of failures and bankruptcies."

* * *

"At one point the secretary of the treasury informed me that unless we could put into effect a remedy we could hold to the gold standard but two weeks longer. Never was our nation in greater peril."

* * *

"The Republican administration rejected every counsel of weakness and cowardice. The battalions and regiments and armies thus mobilized for this great battle turned the tide toward victory. The rills of credit are expanding. Men are daily being re-employed."

* * *

"If we calculate the value of this year's agricultural products compared with the low points the farmers as a whole are, despite the heartbreaking distress which still exists, a billion dollars better off. Prices have a long way to go before the farmer has an adequate return, but at least the turn is toward recovery."

* * *

"We won this great battle to protect our people at home. We held the Gibraltar of world stability. The world today has a chance. It is growing in strength. Let that man who complains that things could not be worse thank God for this victory and make reverent acknowledgment of the courage and stamina of a great democracy."

While in Hospital Home Burns

The parsonage of the Reformed church of North Blendon suffered a fire damage of about $3,000 Friday night, only three days after it had been occupied by the new pastor, Rev. Gerrit Rezelman, who had accepted this congregation as his first charge and was only recently ordained.

The upper rooms of the house were occupied by the family of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lamar, where the greatest damage resulted and all of whose furniture and household goods were destroyed. The new pastor's furniture was all saved from the lower floor of the burning building.

The origin of the fire has not been determined, but it started in the attic and was probably due to a defective chimney. It was discovered at about 6:30 o'clock in the evening and the roof was soon a mass of flames. The Allendale, Borculo and Hudsonville fire departments responded to the call for assistance and succeeded in extinguishing the fire before the building was completely destroyed.

The church closely adjoining the parsonage, a school and several farm buildings in the near vicinity for a time were in great danger from the heat and flying sparks, but the many hands succeeded in preventing the spread of the fire.

Mrs. Lamar was absent from home at the time, having suffered an operation for the removal of appendix at the hospital in Zeeland last week where she is now recovering.

No Cause for Action in Auto Damage Suit

VAN DER BIE OF HOLLAND GETS NOTHING FROM TAYLOR PRODUCE CO.

A verdict of "no cause for action" was given by the jury in the damage suit brought by Tony Van der Bie, Holland, against the Taylor Produce Co., also of Holland. Mr. Van der Bie asked for $25,000 damages for injuries received in an accident at the junction of M-50 and US-31 on May 18 in which three of the participants were killed and Van der Bie and Gerrit Riphagen of Holland were seriously injured and were at Hatton Hospital for months.

The case went to the jury Tuesday afternoon and the verdict was brought in late in the evening.

The accident was fatal to three men, Ben Fisher, driver of the produce company's truck, instantly killed when pinned beneath the cab of the truck, John Meerman, driver of the car in which Van der Bie, Gerrit Riphagen and John Voogd, all of Holland, were riding, who succumbed that night in Hatton hospital, and Voogd, who died next day.

Tony Van der Bie suffered a skull fracture and internal injuries. Riphagen was least injured and was not in the hospital long. The crash occurred at the US-31 and M-50 intersection. Meerman was driving onto US-31 off M-50 and Fisher was on his way back to Holland after buying eggs at Muskegon. There were 180 cases of eggs on the truck at the time and these were demolished on the highway. Van der Bie testified in court that his injuries still bothered him. He came in on crutches.

In the case just closed nearly 30 witnesses had been called. Many witnesses had testified it was one of the most ghastly accidents that has ever happened in this locality.

According to testimony some witnesses believe the Meerman car hit the truck broadside; others were of the opinion the Meerman car was struck by the truck. All agree that the Meerman car did not stop at the junction before taking the trunk line.

Dr. S. L. De Witt, one of the first witnesses called testified regarding the condition of Mr. Van der Bie said that the state of coma in which the plaintiff lay for many days after the accident was caused from the effects of the crash.

LaVern VanKley, center, will be lost to the locals for the season due to an injured ankle.

INJURED FOOTBALL BOY WILL REMAIN IN HOSPITAL FOR THREE WEEKS

Hadden Hanchett, age 18, Holland high school football player, is in Hackley hospital recovering from a neck injury received in the Muskegon-Holland game Saturday afternoon. Dr. Otto Vander Velde, who is attending him, states he will be there for at least two weeks yet. It was feared at first his neck was broken, but after an examination by three physicians it was announced the injury appeared to be the dislocation of a vertebrae.

Hanchett is a first-string substitute and was sent into the game in the second quarter and again in the third. It was in the last quarter, with about five minutes to go, that he was injured and taken from the field. The Clock ambulance transferred him to the hospital. Muskegon and Holland doctors attended him and a specialist from Grand Rapids was called in later.

Misfortune also tagged two Holland fans on their return trip from Muskegon. A car driven by Clarence Rozeboon of 46 E. 18th St., Holland, collided with another driven by Cornelius DeWall, 22, of 643 Allen Ave., Muskegon, on M31 about a half-mile beyond the Muskegon line in Ottawa county.

With Rozeboon was John Hoffman, 36. Rozeboon suffered severe lacerations of the face and nose, Rozeboon cuts on the face.

The accident occurred on M31 one-half mile south of the Muskegon-Ottawa county line where Rozeboon's car collided with an automobile driven by Cornelius DeWall, 22, of Muskegon.

Dr. Pieters Urges Retention Of Volstead Law

OTTAWA COUNTY DRYS PICK OFFICERS— HOLLAND IS PROMINENT

Resistance to the proposal to repeal the state dry law made by the Crusaders in their red, white and blue movement was organized at Coopersville at a meeting sponsored by the Holland City club. A large delegation from the various communities in Ottawa county attended.

A committee was appointed to draft resolutions for permanent organization. It was composed of J. C. Lehman and Charles E. Misner of Grand Haven, William M. Connelly of Spring Lake and Rev. Albertus Peters, Rev. John H. Vander Beek and George Mooi, all of Holland.

Rev. Cornelius Lepeltak of Spring Lake was elected president of the executive committee, which has power to enlarge itself or appoint needed officers at its discretion. Nelson Miles, Holland attorney, was elected secretary and treasurer. Other members are F. C. Bolt and Charles E. Misner of Grand Haven, Rev. Joseph Meengs of West Olive, Mrs. Olla K. Marshall of Coopersville, Adrian Van Koevering, Zeeland; Charles Clayton of Marne, Truman Hubbell of Allendale, Rev. J. H. Bruggers of Coopersville, Reverend Heemstra, formerly of Holland but now of Hudsonville, and Rev. Vander Beek of Holland.

Rev. Albertus Pieters, Holland, was the principal organizer and enthused the group to go out during the remaining days of the campaign and explain the meaning of the new amendment. He suggested an executive committee be formed and named various methods of reaching the voters.

Leaflets containing a statement prepared by Judge Fred T. Miles at the request of the Holland Civic club were distributed and these will be used largely through the campaign.

Confusion exists in the minds of many as to just what question is before the voters in November, it was said. A study of the constitutions and laws of both the United States and Michigan is one of the easiest methods of arriving at a clear understanding, stated one of the speakers. He referred to the leaflet where excerpts of the constitutions are quoted and explained.

Automobiles bearing red repeal signs will not change the constitution, it was pointed out. It must be changed by the method provided by the constitution itself.

The states have the right to pass prohibition laws. Michigan has done so. The vote this fall is on the amendment to the Michigan state law and has nothing to do with the general repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act.

Michigan went "dry" in 1918, two years before the Volstead law. Most of the prosecutions for violation of the liquor laws are under the state law; almost never is there a case taken under the Volstead law either in Ottawa or Allegan counties, Judge Fred T. Miles says. People of Michigan opposed to prohibition are, therefore, more anxious to get rid of the Michigan prohibition laws than the national law, he points out.

Confidence Is a Community Builder

THE story of America's discovery by Columbus 440 year's ago this summer reads like a page from fiction. His weeks and weeks of sailing westward with three small crafts, manned by fea ful and rebel ious crews, who believed their ships would soon drop off the end of the earth—demanded courage, general-ship and confidence. When the crew gave Columbus but one day more to find land or turn back, Columbus still remained courageous and confident and when through the darkness of night moving lights were seen on the horizon, he knew that land and human beings were there. His confidence had not been misplaced.

Q Confidence plays an important part in our everyday life. It is a reassuring word and one this bank has always endeavored to merit in this community which it has served 44 years. Place your financial business affairs in the hands of this old well estabished bank and the best way to start is through a modest savings account.

Local Bank Get Paid In Full For Robbery Loss

INSURANCE COMPANY SENDS CHECK IN FULL FOR $47,000.00

Bonds Stolen Cannot Be Cashed By Bandits; Are Being Replaced By Insurance Company.

The First State Bank at Holland which was robbed of $47,164.10 on Monday morning, received a check in full from the United States Fidelity & Guaranty company, with central offices in Baltimore, Md., with whom the bank is bonded.

Insurance men were in Holland Saturday, and then is when the real check-up began and the actual loss was then revealed up to the last cent. It surely shows that this company makes settlements quickly and reimburses insured banks to the very last penny lost.

It was also found that about $25,000 in bonds was taken, but with the exception of $4,000 these bonds are useless to the robbers, since they cannot be cashed, the bonds not being listed.

The bonds are not due for a few years yet, and the insurance company, under a special coverage on bonds and other securities of that type, are replacing the number and amount of the bonds, Cashier Vander Meulen having provided the adjusters with all the details, amounts and history of the bonds. Approximately $5,000 of these were Holland street assessment bonds and cannot be cashed at this time since they are not yet due. The amount of insurance carried on this type of securities was $125,000, which is in access of a separate policy covering cash losses.

Both Holland banks are and always have been heavily insured, primarily to save lives in a crisis of this kind. Unprotected funds would mean fighting to keep them, and a bank force would have no show against these seasoned, desperate men.

While the cash loss has been replaced, duplicate bonds will be received by the bank in the course of a few weeks, long before interest and principal are due.

The only loss sustained by the local banking institution, Cashier Vander Meulen states, is the window pane in the front door, a round hole having been made by a bandit's bullet which also wounded Chief Lievense as he was about to enter the bank on that eventful morning.

The officials of the First State Bank as well as the bank staff have done everything possible to co-operate with the police department, insurance company and the United States government, and while the Holland officers may be through with the case Uncle Sam is just beginning and the insurance company also has its private detective agency, and by the way, the best in the business, endeavoring to get some of their own funds back, and bringing the culprits to justice. With them it is an everyday business—their men know the crooks, their hangouts and hideouts.

If no fatalities result, and the two men shot fully recover, it will be a worthwhile lesson to Holland, and possibly well that it has occurred.

Anyway, bandits will know the kind of reception that awaits them here, should a second attempt be made at some future time, which we sincerely hope will not be the case.

• • •

Chief Peter A. Lievense, who celebrated his first anniversary as chief of police at Holland in bed at Holland hospital, told, despite a headache and a painful left side, of his encounter with the First State Bank bandits Thursday.

"I was in the Boston restaurant on Eighth street," said Chief Lievense, "talking to Dick Van Kolken when George Overwege ran up to me and shouted that the bank was being held up. I told him to quit kidding me, but when he persisted I knew he was not joking.

"I ran to the doorway at the west side of the bank that leads to the offices of Diekema, Cross & Ten Cate over the bank," the chief continued. "I waited there with the idea of halting the men when they came out of the bank. But I happened to think the bandits might have finished the job and had escaped through the rear. So I decided to find out and moved over to the bank entrance. Stepping past the screen door, I saw about 15 people lying on the floor, a man with a submachine gun and another man at the rear of the bank.

"I noticed this last fellow just as he raised his gun to fire at me. I jumped to the side but the bullet struck a steel clip on my gun holster and was deflected into my left side. The slug stopped at the lower part of a rib. Had it not been for the holster the shot would have missed me, yet by deflection of the bullet I was not injured as seriously as I would have been had I been hit directly.

MAKES HIM MAD.

"The wound made me mad. I ran behind a car parked near the drinking fountain at the bank corner. Determined to get the fellow who hit me, I crept along the east side of the bank under the windows with the idea of jumping up near the rear of the bank and firing through the window.

"As I neared the rear of the bank I noticed a man with a machine gun as he poked the weapon through the side of a car parked on the west side of Central avenue near the alley at the rear of the bank. I opened fire, but do not know whether I hit him. Then I ducked and ran diagonally across Central as he started firing. I could feel bullets whizzing past my legs. I think it was during this fire that a stray bullet struck Peter DeJongh.

"Gaining the other side of the street, I found shelter behind a car in front of the Tavern drug store and worked my way to the front of the car and fired at the man with the machine gun. He replied with a spray of lead that splattered the side of the Tavern. I ducked back, and when I fired again he responded with another volley of bullets. At that time Henry Rowan, sergeant of the national guards, appeared at my side and began firing. The two of us drove the man out of the car and down the alley.

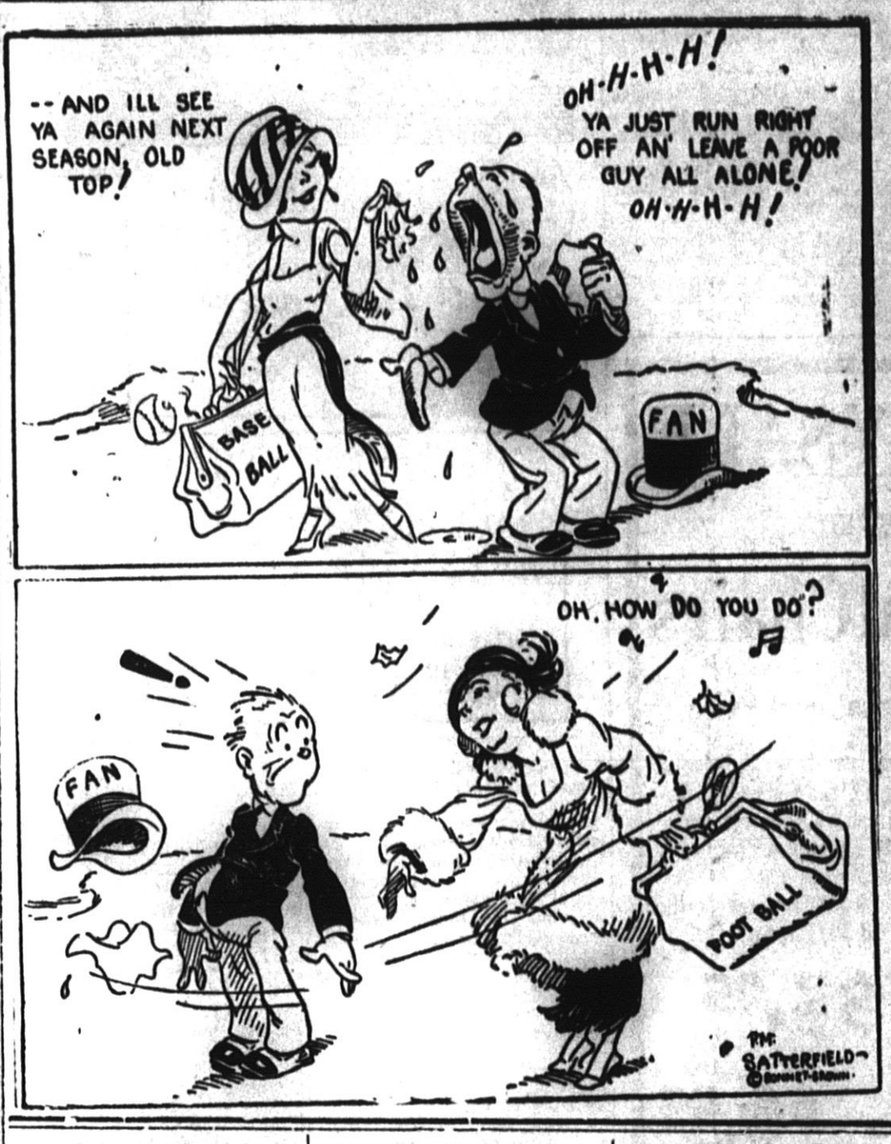
ORDERED TO HOSPITAL.

"Then I called headquarters and told Officer Jacob Van Hoff that I had been hit and could not be of much help. Guy Phillips saw my wound and helped me to a room in the Tavern. A physician ordered me to the hospital, where the bullet and bits of clothing were removed after an X-ray had been taken.

"After I entered the drug store and was taken to the Tavern, I was unable to trace further movements of the robbers. I did not collapse at any time. Whether the car the man fired from was one used by the bandits is an angle that must be investigated. I do know that car did not leave when the man fled down the alley."

Chief Lievense has been discharged from the hospital and the condition of De Jongh is improved, according to Dr. Vande Velde.

Off With The Old-- On With The New



BELIEVES RADIO DID NOT HELP BUT HINDERED IN PURSUIT OF BANDITS

State police officers at Grand Haven after two sleepless days chasing bank bandits talked about the case. Roy Shield of the Ottaway county post, gave it as his opinion the bandits had escaped the police cordon early in the search and reached Chicago or some other large city.

He said school children on little traveled roads reported the big blank Auburn cruising along at slow speed while the robbers waved a greeting to the youngsters. Corporal Shields said the trail of the robbers had disappeared near Gull lake at Kalamazoo.

Police opinion was that the use of radio in directing orders to state police cruisers and sheriff's department cars and enabled the bandits to evade officers with more ease than had they been ignorant of the police activity. There was a radio in the bandit machine.

In the battle near Jamestown, officers said if Deputy Charles Jackson's pursuit car had been equipped with anything but shotguns and the men with some long range weapon other than police .38 calibre revolvers, the bandits might have been captured. As it was the Thompson guns of the bandits though short range weapons, were sufficient to drive the shotgun-equipped deputies to cover. One of the rifles of the state police would have been sufficient at the time to block the robbers' escape.

The equipment of the pursuing cars was also under fire. It was pointed out officers do not have bullet proof vests, are comparatively lightly armed and their small cars not equipped. Several state police cars were crippled by roofing nails near Burnip's Corners.

While officers generally conceded the bandits were out of the state by now, many residents near Gun lake and Wayland insist there are hideouts in the sand desert of Allegan county or the swamps near the lake where men could hide out for weeks without being discovered.

Holland was visited by a strong of curious Sunday. Bullet holes in the buildings were examined with interest and many walked the length of the narrow alley from which the bandits made their escape.

COUNTY-WIDE TESTS FOR T.B. ARE PLANNED THROUGHOUT OTTAWA

A tuberculosis survey approved by the Holland board of health some time ago will be started here soon as a part of a country-wide movement, it was made known by Dr. William Westrate, health officer.

The survey in senior and junior high schools of Ottawa county will be sponsored by the Michigan Tuberculosis association in co-operation with the Ottawa county health unit and the local health department. Von Pirquet tests will be given those children whose parents consent. A technician will take X-rays of all positive reactors and those children found with evidence of the disease will be offered a chest examination in the presence of their parents. In cases where treatment seems necessary the patient will be referred to the family physician.

Essenberg is Given 3-10 Year Prison Term

Jacob Essenberg, 42 years old, of Holland, was sentenced to the Ionia reformatory for three to ten years and fined $100 by Judge Fred T. Miles in circuit court. A long petition from Holland was sent to Judge Miles asking leniency.

Essenberg, prominent in Holland, was convicted of arson by a circuit court jury recently. George Wright, 38 years old, with whom Essenberg is said to have worked, was given three to ten years in Jackson. Wright pleaded guilty.

John Lehman, 42 years old, of Grand Haven, was sentenced to Jackson for five to ten years for rape. He was convicted by a circuit court jury recently. Complaint was by a 13-year-old girl.

The Essenberg case has been a hard fought one, occupying two days in circuit court, where six witnesses for the plaintiff, 12 witnesses for the defendant and several rebuttal witnesses were called to give information concerning the charge placed on Mr. Essenberg that he had given George Wright $100 to set fire to a house in Holland belonging to him.

GRAND HAVEN CLOCK WILL HAVE ITS FACE AND HANDS CLEANED

Grand Haven's long neglected clock in the tower of the First Reformed church has at last received some attention from the city. For a decade the clock's face and hands have been getting grimier with each winter's coating of soft coal smoke. On occasion the clock balks and tells untruths as to the time. But the council has finally realized the needs of the clock. Its face and hands will be painted, $25 having been appropriated to take care of the four faces and sets of hands.

Outdoors Now Bevy of Color and Fall Beauty

HOLLAND AND VICINITY HAS MANY PLACES WHERE NATURE'S PAINTINGS ARE ON DISPLAY

With the open seasons of October calling the hunter into the fields and marshes in search of game, it at the same time offers him a wealth of color, a symphony of gold and blue by day and a mystically silver-lighted world by night.

Not alone the hunter but everyone who is attune to the out-of-doors can enjoy Michigan in October, for there isn't a more beautiful place on all the earth during this month than our own state. The skies are softened with a faint blue haze. The oaks blazon forth in reds and browns, while the maples adopt their yellow and orange and red garb.

A soft tan clothes the birches, while even the poisonous ivy changes its shiny green leaves to shades of red and yellow. At night, the harvest moon shrouds the fields in a soft silvery light, while from the rivers, mists rise in strange wraith-like forms.

Underneath all this gorgeous display of color, Nature herself is at her busiest. The winter and the frost are on the way, and she is hustling to get all her creatures safely protected from them. Bird migration still is progressing. The last of the songbirds leave this month, while toward the month's close, the ducks will pass over from the north, closely followed by the honking geese.

Holland fares rather well in nature study with its beautiful public parks right at her door, garbed in fall array of variegated colors — Prospect and Centennial Parks being outstanding natural pictures.

A spin through or by Waukazoo to the oval on Lake Michigan on the scenic highway is inspiring. The coloring of these wood trees is marvelous. The winding road through to Port Sheldon will furnish a nature picture not soon to be forgotten.

A walk along the Indian trails from Macatawa to Castle Park through dense forest colored for fall would be a hike really worth taking.

A portray of the "great outdoors" such as an artist would rave over can be seen at New Richmond, 10 miles south of Holland. From the hilltop one can see a small hamlet nestled in dense foliage far below, with the placid Kalamazoo gurgling and bending around it. Too, add to the solemnity of the scene a church spire piercing through a labyrinth of trees is visible. In summer it is most beautiful, but in fall it is gorgeous.

Coming back to the hunter we might say this is the month the weasel will be changing from his brown summer coat to winter white. The varying hare, better known as the snowshoe rabbit, likewise will begin to grow spotted as he drops his brown for the white fur of winter. Like the weasel, the tip of his tail remains dark, drawing attention away from his body.

Deer are changing color, as they shed the red coats of summer for the gray of winter. The bucks are scraping away at the loosened velvet which has conveyed a blood supply for the marvelous growth of their racks of antlers during the short weeks of summer. Once this strange covering has been entirely removed the sharp polished weapons are ready for the battles of the rutting season.

October is the last month of grace for the angler. The black bass and pike proverbially develop an appetite this month, and often the bluegills will be found taking the hook readily. During the warm afternoons which often come in October, anglers may spend delightful hours on the lakes, hemmed in by the gorgeous colorings of the autumn, and at the same time quite certain of bringing home a likely mess of fish for the frying pan.

ALLEGAN FIREMEN QUIT RUNNING TO CERTAIN FARMERS

The Allegan fire department announces that they will discontinue making any more runs into the country on and after Oct. 15 except to those holding membership in the Allegan Farmers' Fire Protective Association. The cost of this membership is $1.50 or $2 per year paid in advance according to location. The department has made calls in the past on a guaranty of $25 per call plus $5 for each tank of chemical used. They have found it necessary to discontinue this service on account of so many neglecting to pay after the service has been rendered. Surely no cheaper protection could be procured than membership in the association. This membership entitles a member to the services of the Allegan department at any time his property is endangered by fire day or night.

DRILLING FOR COAL IN MONTAGUE

Drilling operations to obtain a core sample of a deposit believed to be coal were started again on the farm of Herman Smith, section 35, Claybanks township, Oceana, near Montague, after a week of inactivitv.

Drillers have received an additional 128 feet of drill pipe and expect to reach the depth of about 362 feet next week, where the sample will be taken to determine whether coal is present in this section of Western Michigan.

The hole is being drilled by William J. Eilers, William Stewart, and Byron Cogswell, of Montague, who have formed the West Michigan Coal company. The test is being made on the basis of a 40-year-old story that a water well driller, Peter Deneau, encountered a deposit believed to have been a nine-foot vein of coal.

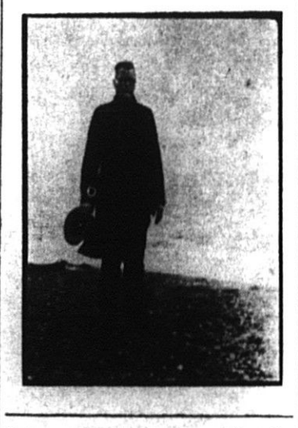
Dr. Brower Continues his Word Picture on the Holy Land

From time to time Dr. A. J. Brower has sent in to the Holland City News contributions of the Bible Lands of yester-year making comparisons at the time when Christ was still on earth, contrasting that period with the Holy Land of today.

ALTARS, TABERNACLES, TEMPLES AND CHURCHES, ALL PLACES OF WORSHIP



As we traveled from place to place we could see parts or the whole of places for religious worship. First of all there was the altar, mentioned so frequently in the Scriptures. The traditional sacrificial altar of Abraham we saw at Mount Moriah, and others at the ruined temples of Karnak and Luxor in Egypt. They were raised structures of stone, rock, or made on rock, whereon sacrifices were offered. This was really the beginning of places of worship.

This was on Mt. Moniah and we were shown the spot or rock where this happened.

People would congregate around them. Gen. 23, verse 6: "And Abraham took the wood of the burnt offering and laid it upon Isaac, his son, and he took the fire in his hand and a knife, and they went both of them together."

Noah erected an altar when he safely disembarked from the ark after the deluge. Gen. 8, verse 20: "And Noah builded an altar unto Abram and said: 'Unto thy seed will I give this land, and then builded he an altar unto the Lord.'"

Verse 8: "And he removed from thence unto a mountain east of Bethel and pitched his tent, and there he builded an altar unto the Lord." Notice it says tent, not house, and altar, not church.

First Samuel, chapter 14, verse 35: "And Saul built an altar unto the Lord, the same was the first altar he built unto the Lord."

In Exodus 20, verse 24, 25, 26 the Lord describes how altars should be made of earth, stone or wood. Exodus 27, verse 1: Altars of shittem wood and its dimensions are described here. Also no steps should lead up to the altar. For good moral reasons should this be done? Here is a lesson in dress besides altar building.

Now many more Bible characters built altars, Moses, David and many others did likewise. Jacob made a business of altar building. Now the altars I saw at Karnak were built at least 1,500 years before Christ and are almost in perfect preservation today. After the altar came the tabernacle. This was just a tent made after a divine plan as set forth in Hebrews 8 and 9. In Hebrews 8, verse 5, we read: "As Moses was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: for see, saith He, that thou make all things according to the pattern shown to thee in the Mount."

No one was allowed to enter the tabernacle for worship unless hands and feet were first washed.

"Thou shalt also make a laver of brass and his foot also of brass, to wash withal, and thou shalt put it between the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar, and thou shalt put water therein. For Aaron and his sons shall wash their hands and feet thereat: when they go into the tabernacle of the congregation they shall wash with water, that they die not."

This is a very sacred obligation of the Moslem faith of which there are over 2,000,000 more than Protestants in the world today.

Outside or near the entrances of all tabernacles, temples were fountains placed for worshippers to wash their hands and feet before they were allowed to enter. Today we see them mostly with the Mohammedans in front of their mosques. This picture was taken of the Fountain of Omar in Jerusalem, on the dome of the rock of Mount Mariak or the temple site of Solomon.

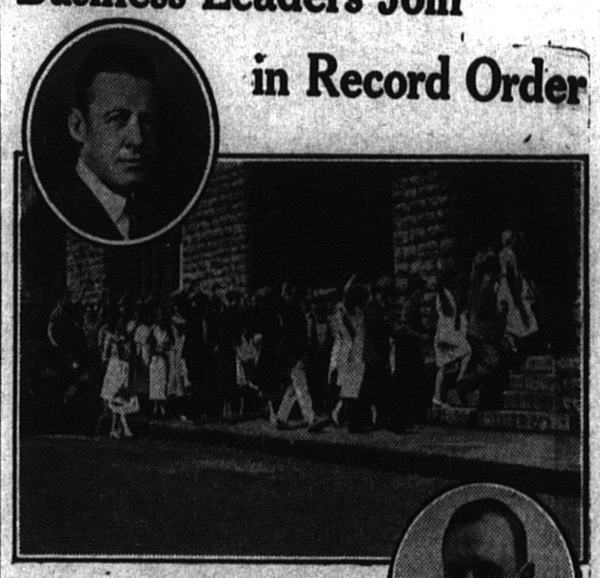
Business Leaders Join in Record Order



Placing the largest single order of its kind ever made in this country, Albert H. Morrill, President of the 4,800 Kroger food stores, believes such large-scale operations are the only method of giving business any real stimulus. Too much buying has been done in driblets, slowing up production, employment and distribution, he said. R. J. Cullen, President of the Seminole Paper Corporation, whose mills at Marinette, Wisconsin, are humming to fill the order, will ship 38 solid carloads of merchandise to the Kroger stores. Retailers need not fear large-scale buying if they are prepared to do a courageous and forceful job of advertising and selling, Mr. Cullen declared. Upper left, President Morrill of Kroger, lower right President Cullen of Seminole, and center jubilant mill workers entering the Marinette plant.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 6—Albert H. Morrill, president of the Kroger system of 4,800 stores, announced today that his organization had just placed the largest single order for merchandise of its kind ever shipped in this country. The order, requiring forty fully loaded freight cars, is being filled by the Marinette, Wis. mills of the Seminole Paper Corporation.

Commenting on the unusual proportions of the order, particularly in these times, President Morrill of the Kroger system expressed the belief today that business men of the country, to a large extent, hold the possibility of a quick trade revival in their own hands.

"If such a policy of large-scale buying were to be nationally adopted by those business organizations able to do so, there would be sudden and almost over-night shift in the country's trade fortunes," he said.

R. J. Cullen, president of the Seminole Company and a national figure in the paper industry, pointed to the increased activities in his own mills as a result of the order and added that to multiply this productivity by the thousands of factories all over the nation would work an "economic sensation."

"We know that there can be no real recovery until buying power has been restored." President Morrill of Kroger said. "But too many business and industrial leaders seem to think this will come either by magic or some vague governmental influence. As a matter of fact, business must take hold of matters itself, in my belief. By placing a record order in these times, I believe the action itself best typifies this point of view. Assuming there was a universal attitude of this kind, and large-scale buying was revived over night, it is easy to follow the results all down the line. Huge orders mean speeding up factory production, with increased employment, heavier shipping schedules, a quick stimulas for the raw material producers, with the ultimate outcome that such activity will place buying power in the hands of those now unable to buy regardless of what the government does or the stock market does."

President Cullen of the Seminole Paper Company told Mr. Merrill that he considered renewed advertising and selling efforts as the running mate of large-scale buying. "Of course the thought immediately occurs to the business man, 'How am I to distribute such orders to a non-buying public?'" Mr. Cullen said. "The answer to this is in courageous and forceful advertising, plus the restored buying power that the orders themselves would create. The Kroger stores are an excellent sample of what a persistent, intelligent advertising and sales policy means to the business man, either in depressions or out of depressions."

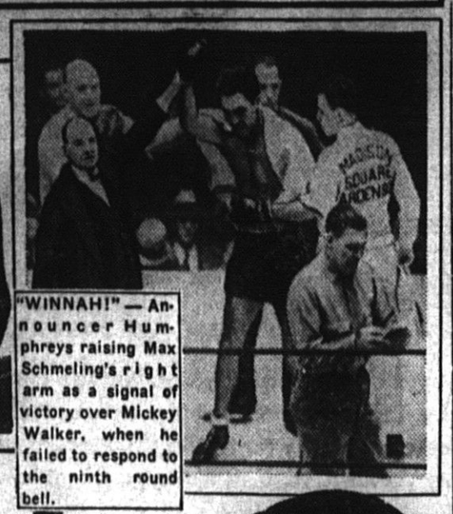
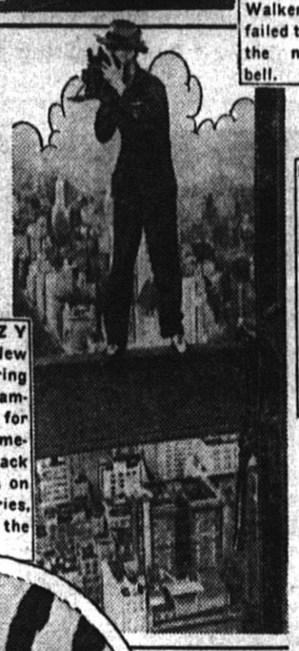
HYMNS STILL POPULAR — Depression hysteria and cynicism have not lessened nation's love for old hymns, finds Harry Frankel (left), creator of noted radio character, "the Old Singin' Master." As a result, this week he changed his popular Sunday night NBC hymn-sing broadcast to include more hymns. He is shown with Emil Seidel, his accompanist.



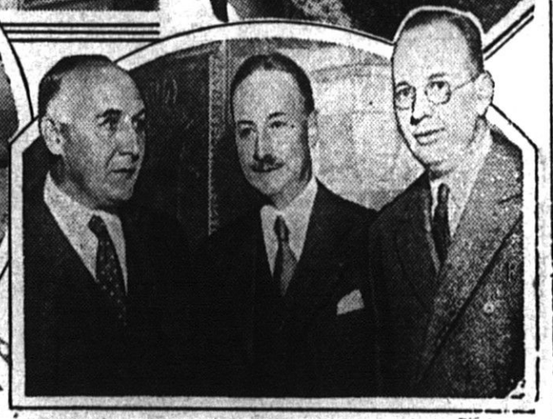
"WINNAH!" — Announcer Humphreys raising Max Schmeling's right arm as a signal of victory over Mickey Walker, when he failed to respond to the ninth round bell.



REACHES DIZZY HEIGHT—With New York's Radio City nearing completion, intrepid cameraman risks his neck for a good view of the metropolis. Here a crack photographer perches on a six inch beam 69 stories, or 700 feet, above the ground.

FLOWERED MODE — Bow knots of tiny white flowers add a quaint touch to the velvet turban and old-fashioned muff worn and carried by Jean Harlow.

CHAMPION FARMERETTE—Vanquishing scores of rivals in milking and churning, Henrietta Bakker (above) who came to America from Holland two years ago, was crowned champion farmerette at the Los Angeles County Fair.



HEAD NEW COFFEE TRADE BODY—At the helm of the Associated Coffee Industries of America, are, (l. to r.) Carl H. Stoffregen, vice-chairman; Herbert Delafield, chairman, and W. F. Williamson, secretary-manager, shown just after election at organization's first convention. All units of the industry have joined forces in the new body.

Society Notes

Among those from Holland who attended the thirty-sixth annual convention of the Christian Reformed Sunday School association of the Middle West, which was held at Muskegon last week, Thursday, were Andrew Vander Veere, John Breen, Bert Westenbroek, August Van Langevelde and Cornie Westenbrock.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Oosting was the scene of a pretty wedding Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock when their daughter, Miss Betty Oosting, became the bride of Dr. H. J. Masselink. The rooms were beautifully decked with autumn flowers, as was the improvised altar, banked high with palms. Preceding the ceremony Harry A. Friesema of Detroit sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me." Rev. H. D. Ter Keurst performed the single ring ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a beautiful gown of white satin with slippers to match. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses, swainsonas and baby breath. Miss Tillie Masselink, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of peach lace over satin and shoes of contrasting blue. Her bouquet was made up of sweet peas, roses and lilies of the valley. Chester Oosting, brother of the bride, attended the bridegroom. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served. Mrs. Masselink wore a tailored black costume with matching accessories for her going-away outfit. The newlyweds left on a short motor trip. They will be at home to their friends after October 15 at 176 West Twenty-seventh street.

Mrs. Richard Mouw entertained a group of relatives and friends at her home south of Holland last week, Friday afternoon. A two-course luncheon was served. Fourteen guests were present.

Mrs. Henry Van Ry entertained with a miscellaneous shower last week, Wednesday evening, at her home in honor of Miss Jeanette Kleis, who will be an October bride. Bunco was played and prizes were awarded to Miss Jeanette Bouws and Miss Kleis. Twelve guests were present.

The later supply of green corn in the Allegan market was much infested by ear worms. These insects are not the dreaded corn borer and they do not give much trouble in all years. The tops of many ears were cut off down to point of damage but the rest of the ear was uninfluenced. It does not usually infest the earlier ears.

While the enforcement of the fruit washing law is most spasmodic, the report now comes that the state will patrol the secondary roads as well as the main thoroughfares and condemn without notice all fruit that has not been washed or that tests above the tolerance of spray residue. Few growers outside the membership of the fruit exchanges are now equipped with machines for washing fruit and it is believed that a custom washing plant and rather inexpensive packing plant will be the solution of that problem. This would be specially desirable were the Fennville market developed as mentioned above.

Dairy men interested in having samples taken on those days should get in touch with Mr. A. D. Morley, county agricultural agent, Dr. Menold, Fennville, Mr. Harold or Everett Fowler, Casco township, or Mr. Mac Atwater, Ganges. The western county herds will be sampled first. Dairy herds in the eastern part of the county may notify the county agent, Mr. Mason Parmalee of Hilliards, or Dr. Calhoun of Hopkins. A plan is being devised to keep the cost as low as possible to the producer.

The Fennville Rod and Gun club is conducting a campaign for members. It is organized to improve hunting in this part of the state and to keep streams and fields planted with fish and game. Some excellent catches have been made in Mann's creek and Swan creek, each of them flowing into the Kalamazoo river.

Salaries of Allegan county officers set at the June session of the board of supervisors will be reconsidered at the October session according to statement made by Chairman Harm C. VerBeek of Overisel to the News this week. Other important matters to come before the board include annual appropriations, setting of the 1933 county tax, spreading of the state tax, hearing the county road commission report and adopting a road program for 1933, hearing the poor commissioners' report and arranging the poor fund budget for the coming year. Bringing up the matter of county salaries is necessary because the law provides salaries must be set at the October session of the board. The preliminary action was taken at the last session as a warning to candidates for office as to what they might expect if elected.

REVIEW OF LAST WEEK'S GAMES—NEWS ON COMING GAMES

The new football stands at Riverview Athletic park will be dedicated Saturday afternoon when Holland High meets the strong Kalamazoo Central grid team in a Southwestern Michigan conference game. A program, in which the marching bands of the two schools will take part, will be carried out before the game.

Bud Hinga's Hope college eleven will play a night game at Albion Friday evening in the other football game of the week in which local teams are concerned.

Hope earned a scoreless tie decision with Kalamazoo college here last week, while Holland was dropping a 26 to 7 encounter to Muskegon at the sawdust city. Hope and Kalamazoo, bitter rivals for many years, staged a defensive show in which the honors were about even. The visitors made a last-minute drive in the game and brought the ball to the 10-yard line when the final gun sounded, but Hope kept the ball in Kalamazoo territory for most of the second half.

As the result of the even game each of the teams will get one of the Wooden Shoes, a trophy set between the two clubs to be awarded to the winner. Last year Kalamazoo won a 20-to-19 game and has had possession of the shoes.

After scoring a touchdown in the first few minutes of play, Holland folded up and allowed the Muskegon Big Reds to score four touchdowns Saturday. Fred Japinga, Holland captain, crossed the goal in the first period and kicked the extra point, but the locals could not stand the powerful attack unleashed by Coach Leo Redmond's squad.

In Kalamazoo Central, Holland is meeting the team that expects to cop the state championship this fall. The Celery Eaters got away to a pair of victories over Allegan and Muskegon Heights, and loom as a powerful group of gridders.

Coach Jerry Breen expects to have his squad in the best of shape for the invasion and hopes to give the Kalamazoo team a warm reception in more ways than at the dedication program. The game, which will be preceded by a preliminary between the second teams of both schools, will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Hope will face Albion at the Alumni stadium in Albion in a game starting at 7:30 o'clock. The Hingamen have yet to win their first game, having a defeat and a tie on the books in the opening games with Western State Teachers and Kalamazoo college.

Coach Bud Hinga, Hope mentor, has been absent from practice this week due to epidemic throat infection, and the record over ten years of coaching was broken. Before this week Hinga had never missed an athletic practice, and was out of school only three days during the period.
