Many Rural Folk See Holland's Sugar Plant

OUR SUGAR MILL WILL BEGIN
OPERATING THE LATTER PART OF OCTOBER

The reconditioning and the putting in of much new machinery and the rejuvenation of the plant and grounds of the old Holland-St. Louis Sugar mill, now the Lake Shore Sugar company of Holland, has brought a spirit of optimism in this vicinity among our citizens and rural neighbors as well.

The spirit of co-operation was shown when nearly a thousand agriculturalists came to the mill and were shown the plant by Supt. N. R. Allen, who explained the process of sugar making from the beet to the crystals.

Holland, it is said, has one of the finest plants in the state and to those in charge during the seven years of its idleness, a commendable word is given that the plant was kept in fine condition even though the wheels were not turning.

The sugar mill is a hive of activity. Forty men have been busy all summer long under Supt. Allen and Chief Engineer John Wolters and the plant that has been closed since 1926 and was established in 1898, is now in fine shape, ready to receive the beet crop.

Three days of last week the officials at the sugar mill were hosts to many ruralists and several meetings were held in the large sugar storeroom and much information was given by different speakers.

J. D. Kelley, field manager, gave a very interesting talk on "Cane Harvesting," and the "Harvesting of Beets," as this relates to lifting and topping and pitting the beets. He also showed several adequate beet lifters. Moving pictures were also brought into play, showing the value of beet pulp as food for poultry and other barnyard denizens. More of beet harvest control will be given in our next issue.

Any way Holland has reason to be elated for it is expected that the sugar mill will pay out the coming season approximately $300,000. There will be 225 men employed in three shifts daily.

To show the tremendous beet industry in Michigan it is pointed out that $10,000,000 was paid the farmers for beets in Michigan alone and every one hundred pounds of sugar manufactured in Michigan and in Holland means eight hours of man labor. As a matter of self-interest to solve national recovery it is well to buy Holland or Michigan sugar for then we buy at home.

Another interesting speaker to the rural folks was Dan Euler, manager of the St. Louis plant, who gave the farmers a great deal of information on crop control and the manner and time in which the crop should be delivered and the storage on the farm before delivery. Now it is wonderful weather for sugar beets. There is still a great deal of growth in the ground and sugar content in the beet is rapidly accumulating at this time and that, of course, is the value of the beet.

It is interesting to know that sugar beets in Michigan give 59 million man hours of labor, pays millions of dollars to railroads and trucking companies and pay out vast amounts for incidentals. In Holland 6,000 tons of coal will be used, 2,000 tons of rock lime and 250 tons of coke, just a few of the incidentals. William C. Vandenberg, Jr., as well as Supt. Allen and Field Manager Kelley are the sources of much of this information.

Many Holland folks were also interested when the officials of the company held open house and were present in large numbers. At that time refreshments were served.

One of the outstanding speakers was Dr. A. G. Brock of the Farmers and Beet Manufacturers' Sugar association of Bay City.

"Sugar is sugar," he said, "no matter whether it is extracted from the beet, the cane, the watermelon or other root produce. Beets and cane produce paying quantities of sugar—that is the difference."

Mr. Brock gave as authority the University of Michigan, Michigan State college and the United States Agricultural bureau. He stated that all sugar making needed was God's sunshine and rain and earth and that the manufacturer was only following up nature's work, not by making sugar but by crystallizing that which made sugar.

He pointed out that Germany and England, the greatest users of sugar in the world, use beet sugar

Anticipation

By Ralph Schepers
(Holland's Rural Poet)

Now that harvests have been garnered
And the silos in the barnyard
Have been filled to overflowing with the corn,
And the latest lagging members
Of the fruits have felt September's
Urge to ripen in the golden mellow morn.

Now that farmers' work's near done,
Waiting only for the sun
That is changing starches into sweet
Carbohydrates, good to eat—
(Mixed with other food—a treat)
Store the sugar in the lowly sugar-beet.

When the colors that were sober,
Run a riot in October
In the leaf tints all along our
Blacklake shore,
Then we'll hear its whistle blowing
Then we'll see the smoke ashewing
From the smoke-stacks of the sugar mill once more.

John, the old time engineer,
Has been busy with the gear—
Happy when the wheels will be turning,
All prepared to set the men
At their old time task again—
Keeping fires'neath the boilers,
Brightly burning.

So forgetting that it caused
Grief to many when it paused
In its humming, with a silence so profound,
Now again the sugar mill
Its great mission will fulfill—
Spreading word and joy and happiness
Spreading around.

Home folks will arise and bless
These promoters, who in stress
Showed they had the people's good
Always at heart,
Giving them a livelihood,
And the world delicious food—
Member of the NRA, they'll do their part.

In practically all their foods, requiring sugar from canned to baked goods which is conclusive evidence that beet sugar plays an important part in the world's sweets.

Another interesting talk was given by William C. Vandenberg who with his brother, Vaudie, played an outstanding part in getting the old sugar mill grinding again. It is only hoped that farmers in this vicinity close in to the factory will see their way clear in putting in a larger acreage and those who have not ventured the first year may come in the "beet raising fold" next year. It is a mutual proposition in which city and rural folks should co-operate.

Mr. Vandenberg's discourse follows:
"When I presented the so-called 50-50 contract to you early last spring I tried to convince you that it was a very fine arrangement, but there is one thing I do not remember having promised in case the sugar mill was opened this fall and that is that you would be treated to coffee and doughnuts or that you would be entertained in this manner. I hope you have found that we have done all that we agreed to do and with the coffee and doughnuts a little bit more."

"In behalf of the city of Holland and the Chamber of Commerce, I want to express appreciation for the co-operation you have shown in helping to make it possible to open our sugar mill this year. We appreciate it and we thank you. I hope none of you have the idea that when we made the effort to open the sugar mill that it was a one-year proposition, because this community wants and needs to have this sugar mill operate next year and the next year and indefinitely into the future. We believe that it is a mutual enterprise but I need not tell you that we realize that we absolutely need and must depend upon the growers of sugar beets to make the operation of this mill a possibility. I hope that the price of sugar this year will make you all glad that you grew beets this year and will make you want to grow them again next year. I have just learned that every 100 pounds of sugar produced means that employment is given amounting to eight hours and I need not tell you that the opening of this sugar mill this year has meant the employment of a lot of labor which otherwise would have been idle."

"You have been very kind to me in co-operating as you have and now I would like to make one more plea and that is that you all use beet sugar, sugar made from the beets which you delivered to this plant. There is no reason why folks in western Michigan should buy sugar that is produced in Cuba, the Philippines, or the Hawaiian Islands. Under the 50-50 form of contract you will recall that all sugar is sold at a delivered price; in other words, the freight is paid to point of delivery. Therefore, it behooves all of us to buy the sugar we need from our own plant, to do all we can to induce our neighbors and friends to do the same thing and then lend every effort we can to dispose of the entire production as close to Holland as possible, for the less freight we have to pay on sugar the more we will have to divide when all the sugar is sold."

"Holland welcomes Mr. Allen, the new superintendent of the mill, and Mr. Kelly, the field manager, and we hope that you who are strangers in the city will feel welcome and as you come into the city from time to time if you want to leave a little of your money with our merchants that will be all right, too."

City Revises Building Code Thru Ordinance

RULES ALL WORK COSTING
$25 OR MORE MUST HAVE
OFFICIAL SANCTION

Holland has a new building ordinance which has been held in abeyance for at least two months, giving a clear track to "Klein Nederland," and various other timely projects.

Last night's meeting of the council was a very peaceful one. In fact a "love feast" prevailed and this ordinance, which was waiting for its third reading, was taken up, revamped and passed. Mayor Bosch called Alderman Huyser, chairman of the ordinance committee, to the chair and the fifth ward alderman handled the situation like the good schoolmaster that he is.

To prevent construction of clasp structures previously beyond their control, the Holland common council last night passed an ordinance demanding a building permit be taken out for all construction costing $25 or more. The previous figure was $150 as the maximum at which building could be done without a permit.

The ordinance also aims at eliminating nuisances and fire hazards. The maximum penalty for violation of the ordinance is $100 fine or 90 days in jail. Some of the aldermen felt the previous limit should be maintained, with the city engineer and the fire chief given power to act on applications, but the ordinance was passed by a vote of 7 to 5. City Attorney Lokker gave a statement of why certain changes suggested were made and these changes are embodied in the ordinance.

The ordinance as passed is found in full on page three of this section, officially given by City Clerk Oscar Peterson.

The matter that has been a trying question to the council for some time is the Baker truck terminal on Tenth street near River avenue. Petitions and counter-petitions were sent in to the common council repeatedly and even members of the M. E. church and neighbors complained bitterly about the truck service and the accompanying noises. Folks there could not sleep, services were disturbed and the spokesman for the neighborhood was former Justice Cornelius De Keyser.

While Mr. Baker had a legal chance to sustain his cause, as he states, he said that rather than do anything that would displease the aldermen and harm the city, he decided to move his truck terminal to the Edward Leuw building on West Ninth street back of Kraker hotel.

City Attorney Lokker pointed out that Mr. Baker had shown a wonderful spirit throughout the whole proceedings; that the matter was a hardship upon him since he just started in business and he hardly knew where to turn but after a long endeavor he succeeded in being centrally located in the Leuw building.

The aldermen unanimously gave Mr. Baker a vote of thanks and promised otherwise to encourage. The common council never felt very antagonistic toward Mr. Baker for they knew that he was not a man to purposely violate a law, but it would take some time to overcome a situation. The truck problem has been cleared away and Mayor Bosch also voiced the sentiment of all the aldermen, namely that Mr. Baker's action was commendable.

Holland's Blacks

One of Holland's Last Fire Horses Is Dead

The above picture is the "span of blacks" that used to pull the fire truck a score of years ago before Holland's fire equipment was motorized at Columbia No. 2 Engine House. The driver is Frank Stansbury. The others from left to right are John Beintema, Thomas De Vries and David O'Connor. The old sorrels at Engine House No. 1, a most beautiful team, have long since gone to the bone yard. These were sold even before the black team for Engine House No. 1 was the first to be motorized and your editor is pleased to say that he at that time was a member of the board of police and fire commissioners, and what a time that board had to get the proper equipment. But that is another story. Time has proven that our motor fire department is second to none and our "fire laddies" stand in a class by themselves.

and one of the last pair of horses used to haul the fire-fighting apparatus, is dead at the age of 24 years. During his eight years of service in the Fire Department, Black Nick was driven by Sam Plagenhoef and Fred Zigtman, who now drive the mechanical steeds of Engine No. 2.

Among the outstanding fire to which Nick and Dick, his mate, hauled the fire engines were those of the Stratton livery barn, which involved a great loss of property, and the Pere Marquette Depot more than 15 years ago. For the past seven years Nick has been the prized possession of Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. West, owners of the golf course at Ottawa Beach.

On the next page of this issue will be found a complete story on national fire prevention, which should be read with interest by our many readers. No time in the history of our nation has it been so important to prevent fires. Flames bring about an economic loss that can never be made up.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The News gave a half column story on what was considered a big fire in the early days. At 3 o'clock in the early morning the home of Johannes Dykema on 13th St., and the neighboring house of Jan Praken were destroyed by fire. The fire protection was not what it is today for the article says that the Eagle Co. hand engine pumped the street well at River and 13th street dry in a few minutes, then a dam had to be made in Tannery creek and after much delay the hand engine did put on a fair sized stream but it was too late to save the two homes, however. The Dykema family were all fast asleep, the article states, and Mr. Praken was the first to discover the fire. The News then goes into a tirade on the Common Council for delaying the establishment of a water works system which did materialize shortly afterward. There being no vacant house in town the Praken family temporarily lived in the Fourth ward school on Maple and 11th streets.

Holland merchants have agreed among themselves to close their stores at 8 o'clock every evening instead of 9:30. Storekeepers seem to be slow in realizing that they should have some time to themselves. We would advocate 6 o'clock with opening two nights a week—factory pay night on Tuesday, and Saturday nights. Note: Quite a contrast today, opening from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and open only Saturday nights.

Fred Wade of the Holland City News office was married to Mrs. Ida Nies, daughter of Mr. John Nies, the hardware dealer of Saugetuck. Note: Two weeks ago the News chronicled the death of Mr. Wade after a very useful and successful life as a public servant and a private citizen.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

A valuable horse belonging to Molenaar & DeGoede, local merchants, fell into a mud hole in Boone's pasture Sunday and remained there until Thursday, when a prospective purchaser, who went to the pasture discovered the animal's predicament. The horse was up to its head in the mire and was rescued with difficulty by rope and tackle.

Misses Ruth and Dorothy Pieters have arrived from Nagasaki, Japan, where their parents, Rev. and Mrs. Albertus Pieters, are missionaries. They have come here to finish their education in English at Hope college.

COUNCIL TO FIGHT WHITE ANTS

A neighborhood petition was again brought into the common council asking that an eye sore be removed from West Sixteenth namely the ice houses near Montello Park. The petition gave several reasons why these should be removed but the mayor and common council were more stirred about the white ants than any other phase of the petition.

The mayor was especially emphatic when he said white ants were dangerous and pointed out that a swarm of these might ate up houses or damaged them beyond repair and he advised burning the buildings to exterminate the pests.

On a motion of Alderman Jonkman, seconded by Alderman Prins, the whole council will be responsible and, therefore, was appointed as a committee to investigate and to eradicate these buildings. Mr. Fairbanks of the Superior Ice Company, owners of the ice houses, states that he never saw or heard of white ants being there. He also stated that he had requests to use the buildings for manufacturing purposes.

WELFARE IS $2,800

The amount of welfare paid out the last two weeks, according to the report of Alderman John Woltman, is $2,818.70. Groceries were the highest, $1,295.95; rents came next, $469.20; milk, third, $445.19; shoes, $87.37; medicine, $91.37, etc.

Among the recent world's fair visitors from Holland were Mr. and Mrs. Orr; Miss Gertrude Vanden Brink; Mr. and Mrs. David McFall and daughter, Ruth Mary; Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Bazan and Mr. and Mrs. William Maichele.

Collect Pennies Honoring Late Miss Veenstra

ZEELAND GETS SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION 1934

The Christian Reformed Sunday school association of the Middle West concluded a very successful annual convention at Kalamazoo, where a strong plea was made by Dr. Clarence Bouma of Calvin college for the rejection of all those things that have no Biblical foundation by the officers and teachers in their teaching of the Christian principles in the Sunday schools, and he also made a strong plea to the workers to reach those who are unchurched.

In selecting appointments for future conventions they accepted invitations to hold the convention in Zeeland in 1934, Grand Rapids in 1935 and Fremont in 1936.

Honoring the memory of the denomination's outstanding woman missionary, Johanna Veenstra, who died on Palm Sunday last year, the convention voted to take a penny collection in all Christian Reformed Sunday schools on Palm Sunday to support a missionary in Darkest Africa.

Miss Veenstra was well known in Holland and Ottawa county and this otherwise robust girl was taken away at the height of her greatest achievements.

COUNCIL NOTES

Alderman Huizer opened council with prayer.

Alderman Jonkman, chairman on streets, brought in a very meritorious report, according to Mayor Bosch to alleviate the welfare situation. The graveling and grading of streets already proposed has nearly been completed. Now Twenty-fourth street to First avenue and Van Raalte between Twenty-second and Twenty-fourth streets will also be graded.

In the improvements to be made at Holland hospital there will be an underground sprinkling system in the lawn.

The aldermen decided to sell the Art hall, horse barns and other buildings at the fairgrounds at public auction within the near future. The house was decided, will be moved to the rear of the fairgrounds. The mayor may be auctioneer—who knows? And Alderman Kleis, the clerk, and Heinie Prins the booster for bids. This "three hand" should bring some results.

Another street project is one block on Lake street, which is to be paved and finished up and the city as a whole will pay for this work and welfare labor will be used. People living on the triangle on West Ninth street have already paid once for this street and they are to be exempt.

Mayor Bosch, who is very much interested in having broken sidewalks repaired, asked Alderman Prins whether he had bumped his toes against irregular sidewalks. Heinie said that he had not. Said the mayor, "Well, I will take you around where there are a lot of them, Heinie, and they should be fixed."

City Engineer, it was evident in last week's council meeting, is drawing plans and specifications for a storm sewer on Fairbanks avenue between Eighth and Eleventh streets, where people have been flooded out on several occasions. Alderman Prins as well as Alderman Kleis brought this matter up when a sewer system was suggested on Fairbanks avenue.

Mayor Bosch has enough light. Alderman Habing on the building committee investigated the purchase of an electric lamp for the mayor's desk, contemplated at $7.50. The mayor expostulated: "I do not want any lamp. I have enough light on everything. Save it for welfare." The mayor gets no lamp.

The city and board of public works will change its bookkeeping system and will go to double entry, each department paying fifty-fifty. It is claimed to be more accurate because of the balancing system and easier to follow. Different systems will be investigated and the most serviceable one will be chosen.

A communication from the hospital board, asking for $3,500 through the NRA to put in needed improvements at Holland hospital and to beautify the grounds was adopted, only the amount was raised to $5,000.

Holland's new graveyard, as advocated in the Holland City News, was cut to one-half of the 35 acres of fairground property, two weeks ago. Last night the aldermen went still more drastic and will use only one-fourth which many of the aldermen state that together with the present facilities will last Holland for the next 75 years "en die dan leeft die dan zoort."

The Russcher school district No. 1 will hold its P.T.A. meeting tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. William Dykhus are in charge of the program.

Current Events.

Tuesday the Ottawa County Sunday school association sent out an SOS (sanction of Schulling), and by GEORGE he was elected president again. (Well, working in the post office STAMPS him as a man who is well POSTED.)

One day when Judge Cross was ill, a local doctor became a lawyer here. (He made a CROSS-examination.)

I heard of a "22 short" stopping one man once, but Saturday a "44" stopped eleven of them. (Ask Coach Green.) (The Muskegon team ought to be exceptionally fast in the snow; they have so many SKIS (Petrowski, Ulosecki, and Iwinski).)

It looks like the Giants won't TERRY very long, and they OTT to win the pennant. (They say they cooked Washington's GOOSE in the first two games. I didn't know Washington had a GOOSE, I thought it was a GOSLIN.)

Tourist: "Is there a place to stop here for the night?"
Chief Livense: "Yes, try the Handcuff Hotel."

Tourist: "And what is the Handcuff Hotel?"

The American Legion band of Holland played at the Michigan Soldiers' Home Tuesday, but it was so cold they had to play inside. (I can't understand that because they took a HETTER with them.)

AN APPEAL TO REASON—AND A REASONABLE APPEAL

America is ready to swing into another great movement to combat the forces of unemployment, and for the next twelve weeks a nationwide program will be under way to speed up the momentum of the business machine. Just how these farflung plans will be carried out was described today by A. W. Wrieden, chairman of the NRA committee in Holland.

"This project quite naturally follows the Blue Eagle campaign," he said, "which has captured the imagination and the enthusiasm of the entire nation as nothing has done since the stirring war days of 1917 and 1918. The Blue Eagle drive, including the codification activities of the NRA, has resulted in placing more than 90 per cent of the business of the country under the president's agreement.

More than 2,000,000 workers have been re-employed and millions of dollars have been added to the weekly pay envelopes of those who toil. All this has spelled tremendous happiness for millions of homes and has completely changed the economic outlook.

"But it is to be remembered that this addition to the buying power of the public has also placed burdens on business because of the increased payrolls. Business must be speeded up in order to make it possible for these loyal employers who are operating under the Blue Eagle to continue to maintain their added labor costs. Then there are still many millions of men still out of work and jobs must be found for them. Something like 3,500,000 families are now receiving public relief, and with winter coming on this number will be greatly increased unless business in general is stepped up to a much faster clip than is the case at present."

Mr. Wrieden then explained the methods by which it is hoped these objects will be attained.

"The activities will be based on the logic of our slogan 'NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.' You will note we are not making use of the word 'campaign.' Our plan calls for a logical systematic program to be carried on between now and the holidays with the sole object of stimulating a well-ordered business acceleration. There is to be no emotional appeal, but rather an appeal will be made to the calm, sober judgment of the country. Of course, the element of self-interest will be featured, since it is so vital, because it is about as sure as tomorrow's sunrise that price levels are going to rise. Every possible effort is now being made to put up commodity prices and every index shows the upward trend has arrived. Hence, it is simply a matter of self-interest for people to buy what they can at this time rather than wait till prices go higher."

"We want the business men of the city who have signed up under the Blue Eagle and who have been so fine in their co-operation with Uncle Sam in this great effort, to know that we intend to do everything we can to stimulate trade in every community of the United States, business can really be lifted out of the rut and the happy days of prosperity brought back to our land."

"We want the co-operation of everybody—the press, the pulpit,

Ottawa Jury Say "Murder In First Degree"

JUDGE MILES IN CHARGE
GIVES THREE VERDICTS
THAT CAN BE RE-VERSED

Second Man Involved Not to Be Tried by Jury But by Judge Miles.

Wallace McCafferty, aged 30, was found guilty last night of first degree murder in the case of the fatal beating of Frank Wallert, a bridge tender, on the night of August 27.

The jury returned its verdict at 8:45, having deliberated since 3:30. McCafferty received the verdict nervously but had nothing to say.

WILDORF WILL BEAR HIS FATE NEXT THURSDAY

All day today the trial of William Wildorf, charged with the murder of the Grand Haven bridge tender, was heard before Judge Miles without a jury. Much of the same testimony was brought in as in the McCafferty case, although added witnesses testified. Prosecuting Attorney John Dethmers appeared for the people and Attorney Leo Lillie for the defendant. Judge Miles postponed the rest of the case until next week, Thursday, when the attorneys will argue before the judge. It is expected that Wildorf will know his fate by the end of next week.

Sentence will be passed later by Circuit Judge Fred T. Miles. It was indicated an appeal would be taken.

Judge Miles completed his charge to the jury at 3:30 yesterday afternoon and the jury filed to the jury room. In his charge Judge Miles stated that there could be one of three verdicts; murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree or acquittal. The testimony in the case did not support the theory of manslaughter.

There were several jurors from Holland, Zeeland and lower Ottawa county, as will be seen in another article on this trial on page one of section two.

Arguments by the attorneys in the trial of Wallace McCafferty for the murder of Frank Wallert were begun yesterday morning and continued until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Cross-examination of McCafferty by Prosecutor John R. Dethmers was continued Wednesday from Tuesday afternoon and Wildorf and Sheriff Rosema were recalled to the stand to clear up some points in the case.

The people rested their case on Tuesday afternoon with the final witness, William Wildorf, charged jointly with McCafferty for the murder of Frank Wallert. He stood by the statement he made to the officers following his arrest that he had nothing to do with the actual assault as he "got cold feet" and ran back to the Duke end.

the schools, the motion picture houses and the various clubs and civic organizations and, of course, the general public. We are not going to ask anyone to make any sacrifices. We are going to conduct this effort along sound, practical lines and we are not going to urge anyone to spend money that they really can't afford to spend. We know that prosperity can be brought back that way. But, at the same time we know that there is a vast amount of deferred buying in this community. There is considerable unemployment here. I admit, but the vast majority of families in this city are in a position to help swell the grand total of business activity. There are things that can and should be purchased in almost every home.

"The government has organized this program in order to give the people of the country a chance to pull themselves out of the depression. Washington will co-operate with us in many ways—but it is up to us to do our part. If we do our part and every other community in the United States does its part, the depression that has hung on now like a plague for the last four years will be a thing of the past."

The program, it was stated, will begin officially Monday, October 9.

Fire Prevention Aids Recovery Program

For the first eight months of 1933 the National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates the national fire loss at $224,904,141, as compared with $220,078,321 for same period in 1932.

With such a wonderful start on reduction of fire losses for the year, Fire Prevention Week, which occurs from October 8 to 14, should give added impetus to the fire prevention movement and encourage the making of a record year for low fire losses. This would be a blessing to the nation in its recovery struggle.

Fire causes the loss of thousands of lives annually. Men lose jobs and wages, and government collects no taxes on burned buildings. It is estimated that 43 per cent of business houses which burn annually, do not resume operations.

Insurance costs are based on fire losses—whether your own property burns or not, you pay insurance because it is part of the cost of operation in all business.

Let every man and woman be their own fire inspector—look at the heating plant, clean up the basement, take trash out of the attic, dispose of oil or paint covered rags, keep hot ashes out of combustible containers, fix wiring connections and check a hundred things they can do to prevent fire. Be careful of matches and smoking.

Farmers should be doubly concerned about fire and use every preventive measure possible, because they have little protection once a fire is started.

Fire Prevention Week draws attention to the importance of fire prevention and activities against the fire hazard should continue throughout the year.

HOLLAND FIRE CHIEF IN SERVICE 49 YEARS

Fire Marshal Cornelius Blom recently completed a service of 49 consecutive years with the Holland fire department. He began his career October 1, 1884, as member of the volunteer crew when a wheezy hand pumper drawn by a rope or hitched to some horse-drawn vehicle formed the only protection for Holland against fires.

Holland fire department now is equipped with two 1,000-gallon pumpers, one 500-gallon pumper and a service wagon hook and ladder truck.

Chief Blom was elevated to the position of chief 27 years ago. He brushes aside any comment that the efficiency here might have been brought about by his own efforts and has nothing but praise for the 30 men of the department. Insurance rates have been decreased about 50 per cent within recent years.

Fire Prevention Week Will Be Observed in Holland Oct. 8-14

Fire Chief Cornelius Blom calls the attention of the Holland City News to the fact that Fire Prevention Week is to be observed throughout the nation October 8-14, and Mr. Blom sets forth the object of this week and why it has been inaugurated. The message which goes throughout the nation is surely an economic one and should be read thoroughly by every reader.

Fire is a pure waste and a dead loss as is shown in the following paragraphs of statistics.

Program for Fire Prevention Week

OCTOBER 8-14

The President of the United States fires the opening gun when he issues the proclamation calling upon every citizen to do his part in making America safer against the ravages of fire. Governors have followed his leadership, issuing manifestos for their own states; numerous city officials do the same in their communities. When a review is made of the record for several years back, it reveals a steadily increasing number of cities and towns joining in active participation during the week. Many continue their programs through the entire year, which is the ideal way. Various organizations and individuals give time and effort.

All mayors and other city officials want conditions in their territories made safer because this redounds to their credit. They are in a strategic position to aid the Fire Prevention Week program because they can initiate so many worthwhile efforts and issue proclamations. It is also helpful for them to take part in the program personally, delivering addresses over the radio and before local clubs.

Insurance Agents Insurance agents are expected to lead in the campaign and obtain the cooperation of other individuals and organizations, since they are in the closest contact with fire insurance and prevention. Their offices should be the center of activity and they can also aid by suitable window displays, distribution of literature, conducting poster and essay contests and making speeches.

Chambers of Commerce In numerous instances these organizations will be found initiating the Fire Prevention Week programs in their cities and raising the money needed for the efforts, because they are interested in all campaigns to make their communities safer. They usually function through a committee selected from their membership. This committee can often photograph old buildings and rubbish piles and obtain the removal of such fire hazards.

Business Men Fire records indicate that the largest fires usually originate in business establishments, whether of the mercantile or manufacturing classes. Business men know this and appreciate also that fire is one of their worst enemies, since few companies are able to re-establish themselves unimpaired after their plant has been destroyed. Fire Prevention Week is a good time for managers to establish safety rules for their employees. For this purpose a meeting should be called to formulate the rules to guide the organization. Self-inspection blanks may be obtained from the National Board of Fire Underwriters for the use of competent employees in making inspections of factories which may uncover serious hazards. These should be corrected at once, making conditions safer. Some business men will aid in the publicity end of fire prevention by means of window displays, special messages or slogans in their advertisements and stickers on letters and packages.

Trade Associations In addition to the efforts of business men in their own companies, there is an opportunity for them to accomplish much through their trade associations. The inherent fire hazards of their type of business may be studied and safety precautions and practices developed which will be to the advantage of the industry. Several associations have been active in this way.

Fire Departments Nobody knows better than the firemen what a terrible thing fire is. Although they are equipped and trained primarily to fight fires, the modern idea is for firemen to aid in preventing them. They have an especially strong appeal to children and can be used effectively in educating them to avoid fire dangers. The approach of Fire Prevention Week affords an opportunity for cities and large towns to organize a fire prevention bureau to be supervised by the fire chief. Then an all-year fight can be waged against fire, following the special week's campaign. Shortly before Fire Prevention Week, all buildings in the city should be inspected by uniformed firemen, which allows the week itself for correcting the hazards uncovered. The town council should pass ordinances granting the fire department authority to enforce correction of such hazards. For several years the idea of using apparatus in parades has been discouraged because of the difficulty in getting through to a fire if one occurred.

Schools The way to interest children in fire prevention is to organize them into patrols to inspect their schools at regular intervals. They should be permitted to make written reports to the superintendent, and, of course, any hazards disclosed should be corrected. Suitable blanks for use in making inspections may be obtained from the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which will also supply playlets and fire prevention manuals for young children and high school students. Children will be interested in dramatizing the various hazards, as directed in the playlets. During Fire Prevention Week the program for children should include presentation of the playlets, reading of prize essays, speeches by firemen, special fire drills and instruction in operating fire alarm boxes. The children should be encouraged to take home what they have learned and to interest their parents in preventing fires.

Boy Scouts One of the main objectives of the Boy Scout movement is to teach the boys to help others through the doing of their "good deeds." There is a large field for this in fire prevention work, which has been recognized by many scout leaders. The boys may be organized for clean-up campaigns in their communities with the object of eliminating such hazards to health and safety as piles of rubbish. They also have been used in inspecting buildings.

Civic Clubs These organizations, being interested in their cities' welfare, often enter into the activities of Fire Prevention Week with characteristic spirit. Their work is similar to that undertaken by chambers of commerce as described above.

Women's Clubs In numerous instances women are found at the head of the list of those engaged in civic welfare work. Fire Prevention has a strong appeal to women because it is so closely related to safety in the home. Women's clubs can help best through cooperation with the local chamber of commerce.

Churches Among the ministers in a city are often found civic leaders who interest themselves in all matters pertaining to the public's benefit, including fire prevention. Most pastors will gladly make announcements from their pulpits and some will give a short talk during their regular Sunday services.

Theatres-Hotels-Restaurants There is a possibility of reaching a large number of people with a fire prevention message through theatres, hotels and restaurants, since they are patronized by thousands. A slogan printed in red or programs and menus is suggested. The message can be thrown on the screen at motion picture houses. Many managers will cooperate in this way.

State Fire Prevention Associations These organizations are made up of insurance company inspectors—experts in their line. In all states where they are available they should be asked to cooperate, for they are familiar with fire hazards and how to eliminate them. Many of them are accomplished speakers, who can deliver sparkling fire prevention addresses.

Radio Radio broadcasting companies have been gracious in giving freely of the valuable time of their programs for fire prevention education. When you talk over the air you increase your audience by millions. Prepare your address with care. Dramatization of fire prevention is recommended.

The Press Through no other medium can the educational force of fire prevention be more effectively presented than through the newspapers of every community. None better than the editor realizes the need of bringing constructive forces together in combating the destructive force of fire. Advertisers should feature fire prevention in their prepared copy for this period and thus redouble the cooperative press result.

MINSTREL SHOW PRESENTED AT CENTURY CLUB MEET The opening meeting of the Century club was held Monday evening in the Woman's Literary club rooms. Nearly 100 members attended and enjoyed the minstrel show put on by Holland talent. This marked the opening of the thirty-sixth season of the club.

Rev. S. C. Nettinga, president, made the introductory remarks, after which the curtains rose to disclose the black-faced entertainers in an opening chorus. Leon Moody, Vernon Ten Cate, George Pelgrim and Kenneth De Pree were introduced as the end men, and Randall C. Bosch served as the interlocutor. Miss Margaret Van Leeuwen and Miss Myra Ten Cate, impersonating Lindy and Lou, entertained with a couple of tap dances.

The chorus included Mayo Hadden, Jr., Roderick Van Leuwen, Jack Ridenour, E. J. Yeomans, Bob Wishmeier, R. D. Esten, C. C. Wood and Bill Mills. Prof. W. Curtis Snow presided at the piano. Immediately following the program refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held on October 16 at the home of Mrs. C. M. McLean. Mrs. G. E. Kollen will present the program. Music will be in charge of Mrs. F. Brown.

President Wynand Wichers of Hope college will conduct morning services at the Second Reformed church in Zeeland Sunday. Rev. William Pyle will be in charge of evening services.

The condition of Dr. W. G. Heasley, who was injured in an automobile accident Sept. 23, is very favorable. Dr. Heasley was returning to his home from a fishing trip with his son-in-law, T. Cain, when the car was struck by another driven by Mrs. L. Lorenz of Manistee. The impact threw Heasley's car off the road and injured the veteran dentist about the chest and face.

Hudsonville defeated Zeeland high school, 12 to 6, in a hard fought football game here Saturday afternoon. Coach Japinga's eleven put over the winning touchdown in the second quarter when Nyhuis took a 40-yard pass from Abel and crossed the Zeeland goal line. Abel had previously plunged over for Hudsonville's first touchdown in the third quarter.

It was the victory for Hudsonville over Zeeland. Van Hoven, tackle, De Young and Bouma, halfback, were outstanding for Zeeland. Hudsonville 12 Zeeland 6

SAFEGUARD YOUR RIGHT TO DRIVE UNDER THE NEW LAW!

UNDER the new Michigan Financial Responsibility Law which goes into effect October 16th, your right to drive your car may be suspended—even though your car is not in an accident!

For under this law, a violation of the Motor Vehicle Laws, or an unsatisfied, final judgment—outstanding against you because of an accident, can result in suspension of your operator's license or car registration until you show proof of financial responsibility.

The most satisfactory way to show financial responsibility is a certificate of insurance from a reliable insurance company. The new law requires a minimum amount of financial responsibility of $5,000 for injury to, or death of one person; $10,000 for injury to, or death of two or more persons, and $1,000 for damage to the property of others.

Anyone who values his peace of mind will want to carry more than this minimum required by law.

Insurance Agency Plays Part in Holland History

THE McBride Insurance Agency is one that dates back to Holland's disastrous fire of '71 and the Chicago fire that same year. The Insurance companies that paid the fire losses of that year throughout the United States are still in existence and paying losses today.

The history of the McBride Agency is interwoven with the history of the City of Holland. Fire records show that this agency has paid losses in all of the major fires of the City of Holland and vicinity.

HOLDS NRA SIGN OF LATTER DAYS

About 600 people attended the opening meeting of the Immanuel church Bible conference in the armory Monday, when Evangelist William E. Pietsch of Los Angeles spoke on the topic, "The NRA and Bible Prophecy."

Mr. Pietsch in his talk last night, stated "Prophecy in the Word of God is merely history written in advance."

If we believe, Mr. Pietsch stated, the rapture of the Church or the coming of Christ for the Church as indicated in I Thess. 4:13-18, and in I Cor. 15:51-58 is to take place before the Great Tribulation how it behooves us as members of the Body of Christ to take careful inventory of our lives and conduct for we may soon expect the soon return of our blessed Saviour and Lord. Things are happening with such succession that we are almost dazed as we see events transpiring.

"Our own President Franklin D. Roosevelt, I do believe, is God's man at the right place at this critical hour," stated the evangelist, "but if we watch current events in the light of prophecy we can see the handwriting on the wall, and now we see the whole word in fact speaking in terms of the NRA."

He stated further: "Now do not misunderstand me, I do not believe the NRA to be the Mark of the Beast, neither do I believe Mussolini, Hitler or Roosevelt to be the anti-Christ or the world's great dictator, but these events are preparing the world for thinking in terms of a great dictator, and according to the Word of God the devil will produce this man at the time and he will have a proclamation with a great deal more teeth than the NRA which will be known as the Mark of the Beast, when people cannot buy or sell without this mark. The NRA is rapidly preparing the people for this event."

The conference continues each evening until next week, Saturday, with interesting and timely messages each evening.

The City of Holland Ordains:

(91) Sec. 1. No person shall repair or remodel a roof or chimney, nor shall any person erect, repair or remodel any building or other structure to an extent requiring the expenditure of an amount exceeding the sum of Twenty-five ($25.00) dollars, or allow any building owned or controlled by him to be erected or so repaired or remodeled without a permit issued in accordance with the terms of this ordinance.

Merchants Hear Recovery Act Fully Explained

STEPHAN POINTS OUT NRA LOYALTY OR DISLOYALTY

The first meeting of the Merchants' association for the season was held Monday night with President Charles Van Zyl as presiding. The meeting was rather slimly attended and Mr. Stephan was really entitled to a larger audience considering the vital question that he was expounding.

Mr. Stephan gave a review of many incidents that came to his notice while soliciting for the Chamber of Commerce and this showed conclusively that not a few merchants have passed and are passing through hard business lines during this depression. Mr. Stephan pointed out that it was not enough to simply display the Blue Eagle "We Do Our Part," but to live up to it "in spirit and in truth."

The hours set for merchants and manufacturers was not intended to curtail the hours of labor only insofar where it would employ added labor. To do the same amount of business on less hours with the same force would not help the situation and to raise the price of commodities under such a condition would make the situation actually a hardship, Mr. Stephan contended.

The president's order is plain as this relates to added employment and increase in pay and these go hand in hand with increases in commodity prices if this is necessary in certain cases, but there must not be a drastic contrast between the latter over the former—that would defeat the purpose of the NRA.

Mr. Stephan pointed out that there will be many misunderstandings undoubtedly until the business man becomes thoroughly acquainted with the workings and requirements of the NRA. It is not the intention of the government to punish or to be drastic only where there is no other way. The Holland men appointed to the local board want to be helpful. It does not call for domineering—it calls for constructive corrections where there are misunderstandings.

Mr. Stephan stressed one point, namely that child labor had been abolished throughout the nation and if the NRA would accomplish no more than that the act would have done a great work. However, a great deal more is expected and was already reflected in a slow upward trend throughout the nation.

After Mr. Stephan's discourse Mr. Dick Boter took exceptions to part of Mr. Stephan's talk relative to price raising by leaps and bounds. Speaking for himself and others he pointed out that these prices in Holland were not being unduly raised and he felt that on the whole the merchants were living up to the letter as well as up to the spirit of the president's proclamation.

Fred Beuwkes, in the absence of Secretary Thad Taft, who has been laid up because of an automobile accident, acted as secretary. The merchants voted that the Merchants' Credit Bureau be available to all so that professional men can take advantage of the bureau. Charles Van Zyl, association president, presented a resolution from the board of directors asking that the clause be eliminated from the regulations that any member wishing to join the credit bureau must first join the Merchants' association. B. A. Mulder's motion that the resolution be adopted was carried.

A regular meeting of the women's auxiliary will be held tonight, Friday, at 8 o'clock in the Eagle hall.

The family settled in Boston, Mass., and two years later moved to Chicago. In the spring of 1878 the family moved to Ventura, Michigan, and in the late fall returned to Chicago again, where Mrs. Harvey learned the dressmaking trade. Moving back to Ventura in 1879, when she was 16 years old, Mrs. Harvey went to Grand Haven, where she operated a shop for 25 years. OTTAWA JURY SAYS "MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE" gine company property when he saw Wallert swinging his lantern as he was coming along the track toward the swing bridge. His story bore out the testimony of previous witnesses up until the time he and McCafferty left the home of Julius Ott.

Defense Attorney Charles E. Misner produced but one witness and that the respondent, who told the court where he had been that Sunday, the day in question, of his visits to the various homes in the city, to the north shore and securing the two-by-four from the oil station and having it sawed at the home of Julius Ott.

He disagreed with the testimony of George Benedict that mention of Wallert was made in the Benedict home. Also with the testimony of Julius Ott, who stated that Wallert had made no threats concerning Wallert, when he was sawing the plank.

McCafferty said he asked Wil-dorf what he was going to do with the clubs and he replied "I'm going out and kill Frank," and cursed and swore while at Julius Ott's home.

He explained that his two statements varied somewhat as the first one was made before he knew Wallert had made a statement and he did not wish to say anything against his friend. McCafferty said he tried to persuade Wallert to give up his fight with Wallert and urged him to talk to him like a man.

McCafferty stated that he followed Wallert to the trestle believing that he would not attack Wallert. He saw Wallert coming down the track, he said, and left the scene going south about 150 feet from where Wallert was waiting to meet Wallert. He said he went down the embankment so Wallert would not see him as he did not care to get mixed up in the argument which he believed Wallert would have.

He said he heard two blows and judged that Wallert had struck Wallert as he saw the lantern swing. He said he ran up to the two men and endeavored to part them as they were both on the ground. He said he assisted Wallert to his feet.

While standing there Wallert handed him the watch and the money. "If that's your game I'm through with you forever," McCafferty said to Wallert. He told Wallert he could come to his house in the morning and get the watch, etc.

He told the jury that he went home, put his shirt in the bathtub, as was his custom, and went to bed. He was later awakened by the officers and was taken to the county jail. He said he made the first statement after he saw the publicity in the papers and supposed that Wallert would tell the truth of the affair.

He said he had had no quarrel with Wallert, in fact hardly knew the man. He stated there had never been any plan to "get Wallert" and when he found out that Wallert was threatening him for the loss of his job tried to persuade him to throw away the club and talk to him as man to man.

He explained that the pants found beside Wallert the night of the assault were his own which he had gotten that night from a friend and that Wallert had carried them as they went from place to place. He stated that the first time he knew that Wallert was out of a job was at his home that day when he asked Wallert why he didn't go to work at the usual time.

McCafferty stated that Wallert not only threatened Wallert but said "I'll get that Mart some day too," referring to Martin Woebenga, who had discharged him.

In his opening statement Charles E. Misner, defense attorney, said the defendant would show that there was no malice, no premeditation, no willful act on the part of McCafferty. That he tried to dissuade his friend from his intent to do harm to Wallert. He pointed to his understanding of the law that even if there had been a plan, and one of the party abandoned it before the act, he could not be held responsible. There is no question but what Wallert was killed by one or the other of the defendants and as there was no one who saw the act, the question lies solely on the veracity of the defendants, he stated. Testimony on the part of the people's witness has established that Wallert had made threats, had a grudge against Wallert and was the person who had asked for the clubs and insisted on meeting Wallert that night.

The second man, William Wildorf, also charged with the murder of Wallert, waived a jury trial and today is being tried by Judge Miles.

Don't Drug Your Eyes!

Read the following quotation from L. K. Hirschberg, M. D., John Hopkins University:

"Eyes can be examined much more satisfactorily without drops if specialists would only realize it. Many failures by the best oculists are attributed to the use of atropia and Belladonna drops."

BE SURE and have your eyes examined by a skilled refractionist who does not depend upon drugs and guesses at the glasses which he orders for his patients.

Holland Jurors
Trying Man On
Murder Charge

MCCAFFERY ONE OF MEN HELD FOR DEATH OF
BRIDGE TENDER AT GRAND HAVEN

Great preparation was made by the legal fraternity in Ottawa county interested in the case of Wallace McCaffery of Grand Haven who with William Wildorf are being tried for the alleged murder of Frank Wallert bridge tender at Grand Haven, full account of which was given in the News at the time of the supposed murder at the Grand Trunk bridge on August 27.

It took some time to select the jury and include in the list are some from Holland and Zeeland. The jurors follow:

Prosecutor John Dethmers of Holland and Zeeland is appearing for the people and Attorney Charles Misner of Grand Haven for the defendant.

The jury panel was exhausted about 11 a. m. on the first day of the trial and the court officer, Maurice Rosema, was sent out to bring in six talesmen. Mr. Misner objected to the group as he declared they were chosen by one of the officers whose names appear on the information in the case.

F. C. Wallert Murdered Bridge Tender

Edward Rycenga, undersheriff, was called and instructed by Judge Miles to bring in eight men during the noon recess and the selection of the jury continued.

The trial of William Wildorf held for the same crime, will be held before Judge Fred T. Miles following the completion of the McCaffery case. He will be represented by Leo C. Lillie.

Frank A. Wallert was killed the night of August 27 as he was going to his work as a bridge tender on the Grand Trunk railroad bridge. Both men held have admitted in sworn affidavits that they were together that night and had planned to give Wallert a beating. They both deny having hit Wallert with the three foot two-by-four which is believed to have been the weapon used which caused the man to die later at Hutton hospital, Grand Haven, from skull fracture and bodily injury.

It is believed that the case will continue for several days as the plaintiff has about 25 witnesses who may be used. It is expected that both McCaffery and Wildorf will be put on to testify. The case is one of the most unusual ones ever heard in this city as both defendants blame the other for the deed.

Wildorf had lost his job as bridge tender, which he stated to others he believed Wallert to be responsible for and in his written statement says he planned to beat the old man. He later got "cold feet," he says, and ran away from the spot on the trestle where the marks of the battle were found. Wallert got to the bridge after he was beaten but was too far gone to tell the state police officers who had assaulted him.

McCaffery claims that he was not present at the beating but later ran to the trestle and pulled the two men apart who were gripped together in a fight.

Two statements made by McCaffery to Sheriff Rosema were admitted as exhibits in court by Judge Miles, and the defense offered no objections. In the first statement McCaffery says he was with Wildorf on August 27, but they both went to the Johnson filling station and got the two-by-four, which is believed to be the weapon with which Wallert was killed; and that after that he went home and did not remember anything that happened following 9 p. m. that night.

The second statement tells the story of the two men being together practically all day, of their going to the oil station and getting the two-by-four and their search for a saw to cut it in two. McCaffery says he tried to dissuade Wildorf from killing Wallert, who Wildorf believed was responsible for losing his job as bridge tender on the railroad swing bridge. They went to the trestle, he says, and he saw Wildorf strike Wallert twice with one of the clubs. The two engaged in a struggle and he got into the fray in an effort to separate the two, he states, and that the three rolled around for a while and then Wallert staggered toward the bridge and he went home and to bed.

The shirt and trousers introduced in court were identified as belonging to McCaffery by Sheriff Rosema as those he got from the McCaffery home the day following the assault. Sheriff Rosema testified that he asked McCaffery if he had had a nose bleed before he showed him the shirt with the blood on it and he had said "no." Later when confronted with the shirt McCaffery said he was subject to nosebleed.

Merle Woodward, state toxicologist, identified the blood stains on a shirt, trousers, pillow case and club as human blood. He said the articles had been sent to him by the sheriff for examination following the assault. He stated that the identity of the blood could not be determined.

Mrs. Wallert identified the watch which belonged to her husband, which was found in McCaffery's home and brought to the sheriff's office by Joe Paige, McCaffery stated in his affidavit that the night of the fight the watch and $2.55 was handed to him after Wallert was hurt.

Joe Paige testified to the two men coming to his home to get the plank sawed in two but he stated he saw no saw. Robert Lytle told of hearing the cries on the bridge and running to Wallert's assistance and assisting him to the state police car at the north end of the bridge. Trooper Coykendal told the court that he had found Wildorf under the south trestle and had turned him over to Sheriff Rosema at the Pere Marquette station later in the evening.

Sergeant Baugh, Emil Klumpel, and William Boeve testified to their actions after they received the message of the holdup.

Monday afternoon George Benedict took the stand and stated the two men had been at his home about 9 p. m. Sunday. Wildorf was angry, he said, over the loss of his job, but he did not hear him state the name of the man mentioned as responsible for it. He said he heard Wildorf say "Let's kill him," and then McCaffery, he stated, asked "Who?" in a startled way. McCaffery later said "we'll not kill him, leave him to me, I'll waylay him." Benedict said they had both been drinking.

Mrs. Benedict's testimony supported that of her husband's. Hiliding Johnson, attendant at the oil station, and Julius Ott, testified to the facts as related in the affidavit of McCaffery. In each instance Wildorf was the one that did the talking. Ott said he believed McCaffery left his house with both clubs under his arm.

Dr. E. H. Beernink and Dr. W. B. Bloemendael testified to Wallert's death due to skull fracture and hemorrhage. Joe Slotnick, who was at Benedict's when the two men came in, said he heard no conversation relative to Wallert. William Mieras, bridge tender, who was to have been relieved by Wallert on the fatal night, told of finding the injured man and getting him to the hospital. He said he did not know that Wallert and Wildorf were unfriendly until after the assault.

Martin Wiebenga, bridge foreman, told the court that he had discharged Wildorf August 25. He denied that Wallert had been the cause of the man's dismissal. He said that Wildorf had come to work intoxicated.

Other members of the institute committees are Henry Vander Schel, Henry Venhuizen, Alex Van Zanten, B. A. Mulder, James Dalman, Kenneth De Pree, Marshall Allen and Andrew Klomprens.

LOCAL HOLSTEIN SCORE
VERY HIGH IN OFFICIAL TEST

About fifteen Holstein breeders and the Ag Class of the Zeeland high school witnessed the classification of the Holstein herd of Keppel Brothers, Zeeland, on last Friday.

The judging of the herd was done by Clair Miller of Ohio, an official inspector of the Holstein Friesian Association of America. H. W. Norton of Wisconsin, in charge of classification work for the national Holstein association, gave a talk on the purpose of the project.

Rated in next to the top classification possible were the new Keppel herd sire, a two-year-old, recently secured from Oklahoma, and a ten-year-old foundation cow of the herd. This pair was scored as "Very Good." Less than one-fourth of the animals so far rated in the U. S. A. make this high division.

Michigan has more purebred Holsteins that have been classified than any other state, according to the Michigan Holstein-Friesian Association.

Hope Wins Opener
From Ferris 26-0

Hope college opened the 1933 grid season Friday with a 26-0 victory over Ferris Institute of Big Rapids at Riverview field. Hope clinched the victory in the first quarter with two touchdowns on forced passes thrown by Jappinga, the first to Damson from the Ferris 35-yard line and the second from Jappinga to Bonnett from the enemy's 20-yard line. Jappinga added the extra point by kicking the goal.

Ferris succeeded in checking the Hopeites in the second quarter when Coach Bud Hinga substituted with several second string men. Hope achieved another touchdown in the third quarter. Te Roller smashing through the Ferris line. Jappinga again kicked for another point. Jappinga brought in the fourth Hope touchdown with a 20-yard center run in the last quarter.

The Ferris goal was threatened three additional times in the first half. Damson once received a pass and crossed the goal line, but the referee ruled Hope offside. Hope was credited with 16 first downs, while Ferris failed to achieve any. Ferris' only chance came in the fourth quarter, but the Institute men lost the ball after two passes.

Grand Haven Tannery
Plans Hospital Gift

A gift of $2,500 has been received by the committee on gifts and donations, recently appointed from the board of directors of Hutton hospital, Grand Haven, from the Eagle Ottawa Leather company which is to be used for equipment in the operating room of the proposed new city hospital. The gift is contingent upon the success of the bonding issue for $65,000 which must be passed by the property owners of this city for the erection of the building.

Twenty-four coats and two dozen pairs of mittens will be purchased for the Holland fire department, answering a need of long standing, according to Fire Chief C. Blom, Jr.

Dutch Take Allegan
County

Allegan News—"The Dutch have taken Holland" as people used to say whenever anything quite unusual happened. In this instance our Netherlands have not a little source of pride in the fact that both the county queen and her second in place are of Netherlands extraction. By their rapid increase since the days of Father VanRaalte these Dutchmen have become an important element in Allegan county but they have been here so long that they look, act, dress just like everybody else. At first they were quite different. From a beginning in the three northwestern townships they have spread clear across the county from west to east and half way from north to south. Their Dutch Reformed churches are scattered throughout that territory. Last year's County Queen was also of Dutch extraction.

WOMEN ORGANIZE TO STUDY
HOME PROBLEMS

Kent and Ottawa county women are now organizing home economics extension groups under the direction of Miss Mary F. Seckell, District Home Demonstration Agent.

Two projects are being offered to the homemaker this year. The clothing project should be of interest to every woman whether she does her own sewing or buys her garment ready made. The following problems are only examples of those which will be solved in the clothing project: What makes a garment poke out in front? How can you fit a dress so sleeves will not twist on the arm or tear out of the armholes in the back? Why do some dresses slide to the back? Each woman who enrolls in this project will have a pattern fitted and will prove the pattern by making a cotton afternoon dress.

"Home made for Ready made," is the title of the second project being offered this year. It will include a lesson on each of the following problems of the homemaker: "Remodeling of Clothing," "Fun in Family Living," "Using Michigan Farm Products in Meal Planning," "Reconstruction of Furniture," and "Home Made Supplies for the Home."

C. MARTIN LEAPS INTO
MUSKEGON LAKE, SAVES
LIFE OF MESSENGER BOY

Clinton Martin, well known marine man here, son of Capt. Edward Martin, master of the ferry Madison, recently rescued a young messenger boy, Gus Pierson, from the waters of Muskegon lake just as the car ferry was leaving the dock in Muskegon.

William Van Schelven of Grand Haven was aboard and he described Martin's act as one of great bravery. Martin jumped from the deck of the ship many feet above water without stopping to take off his officer's cap. The lad was brought to the top of the water and quickly carried to shore. The ship was halted until Martin returned. Pierson fractured his collarbone and it is believed would have been drowned but for the timely action of Martin.

OLD WOOD FROM PIER IS OFFERED TO CITY

Grand Haven Tribune—Isaac Vanden Berg, in charge of the federal pier work which got under way this week, has offered the old wood in the pier to the city welfare board for firewood. A big steel derrick is at work tearing out all of the old pier work and a great quantity of heavy timber will be available for fuel.

The machinery quickly demolishes the old pier and within a short time the forms will be erected for the new cement pier and dock which will serve the cutter Escanaba and contribute to the general appearance of the river front.

IS FREED AT HOLLAND
ON WEAPON CHARGE

The case against D. E. Diggs, 27, of Des Moines, Iowa, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was dismissed on motion of Prosecuting Attorney John R. Dethmers when Diggs appeared for examination in Justice Nicholas Hoffman's court at Holland.

GERRIT MUSK, JACOB VAN
ZANTEN RETIRE FROM LOCAL POST OFFICE AFTER SERVING MORE THAN THIRTY YEARS

Grand Haven Tribune—Gerrit Musk, assistant postmaster here for 33 years and Jacob Van Zanten, in charge of the money order and registry department, who has been in the local service nearly 33 years, have voluntarily resigned from the service to be retired by the government on the 30-year service program.

The two men, probably as well known as any in the city, are complying with President Roosevelt's plan to retire men who have given 30 years' service that the expense of post office departments be reduced. This is an emergency opportunity and if the local men do not take advantage of it at this time they will not be given another opportunity until they have served another 15 or 20 years.

Neither has announced any plans for the future other than to take life easy for a while, play golf or enjoy other recreations which their close application to business for the past 30 years has not permitted them to participate in.

Both men have served under three postmasters starting their careers, within nine months of each other, under the late Fred Huty, who was the local postmaster from 1898 to 1915; continuing under the late Peter Van Lopik, who held office from 1915 to 1923 and under George L. Olsen, who took office in 1923 and holds it now.

ANNOUNCES RULINGS ON MARKETING OF GRAPES

W. E. Bicknell of Hartford, representing the state department of agriculture, has received the following from G. E. Prater, of the bureau of marketing: "For the balance of season only grapes containing not less than fifty per cent No. 1, balance not below No. 2, may be marked vineyard run juice grapes, but identification, grower's name and grade must be stamped on each end of basket, and not on cover. Grapes invested with berry moth may be sold in other than climax baskets directly to factory who actually process the product, when there is no possibility of their intention to put them on the commercial market."

MUSKEGON REDS JOLT
HOLLAND TEAM, 33-0

Muskegon's powerful grid squad rode rough shod over Holland High eleven at Riverview park Saturday, 33 to 0.

Captain Robertson scored two touchdowns on line smashes and forward passes by him to Baykowski and Petrovski netted two more, while the final touchdown was made by White on an intercepted forward pass from Holland's 47-yard line. Extra points were made by Robertson and Petrovski.

Muskegon started the scoring within a few minutes of play and counted 13 points in the first quarter. Holland's nearest approach to Muskegon's goal was at Muskegon's 10-yard line following a run of 52 yards by Irwin. Muskegon displayed a powerful attack and aided by Robertson's brilliant passing clinched the game in the first quarter.

KENT AND OTTAWA WOMEN
FORM EXTENSION CLUBS

Kent and Ottawa county women are now organizing home economics extension groups under the direction of Miss Mary F. Seckell, district home demonstration agent.

Two projects will be studied. They are clothing and a series of lessons on various home problems, including meal planning, reconstruction of furniture, use of farm products and home-made supplies for the home.

Any group of eight or more women who wish to organize or to have more information concerning a home economics extension class in their community should communicate with Miss Seckell at the Grand Rapids Y.M.C.A.

School Meet

GEORGE SCHULING OR HOLLAND RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT.

One of the most successful and best attended conventions of the Ottawa County Sunday School association was concluded Tuesday night at the high school auditorium when Rev. R. T. Ketchum, pastor of Central Baptist church of Gary, Indiana, addressed about 900 persons who were crowded into the hall.

About 350 delegates, representing Holland, Zeeland, Grand Haven, Hudsonville and Marne districts, registered at the First Reformed church for the all-day meeting and were served two meals in the church parlors. It was stated that the majority of the delegates registered early and attended all three sessions.

George Schuling, well known Sunday school worker of Holland, was re-elected president for the thirteenth consecutive year at the business meeting. Henry Van Noord, Jr., of Jamestown, was elected first vice president, succeeding J. C. Lehman of Grand Haven, and E. J. Wolbrink of Coopersville, vice president.

J. C. Lehman of Grand Haven was elected treasurer and Dick Boter of Holland was named assistant to Mr. Lehman and to Mr. Harry Kramer of Holland.

The list of divisional superintendents remains the same with the exception of Prof. Egbert Winter of Hope college, who was replaced by Prof. C. Kleis, also of Hope. Other superintendents are Mrs. Edith Walvoord of Holland, C. P. Veldhuis of Coopersville, Rev. H. Dykhuys of Jamestown, David Damstra, Holland, Miss Henrietta Warnshuis, Holland, and John VanderSluis, chorister, Holland.

The local committee in charge of the convention was J. W. Verhoeks, president; J. J. Bolt, vice president; K. T. VandenBosch, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Della Boomgaard, entertainment; George Swart, Jr., music; J. C. Lehman, publicity; A. J. Fisher, John Van Schelven, Henry Koiman and J. VandenBosch, ushers, and Mrs. H. J. Verhoeks, accompanist.

Chorus Sings

Stirring addresses were given by Rev. J. D. Leedy and Dr. John R. Mulder at the afternoon session. In the evening Prof. Leedy, who is from Wheaton college, spoke on "Be Filled with the Spirit." A convention chorus under Mr. Vander Sluis, composed of 125 voices from 10 Grand Haven and Spring Lake churches, gave several selections previous to the program.

Dr. Ketchum of Gary, Indiana, whose address closed the convention gave a talk on "God's Provision for Christian Living." This proved to be the highlight of the convention. Dr. C. A. Bowler of Grand Haven gave the benediction.

Flowers which decorated the high school stage were donated by Barton Elliott and K. T. Vanden Bosch. The complete official program and the cuts of the speaker were printed in last week's Holland City News. The next place of meeting in 1934 will be announced by the committee later.

HOLLAND TEAM IN BIG CAGE CIRCUIT

Holland will be represented in the Central Michigan Basketball league by Rutgers Clothing Co., managed by Russell J. Rutgers.

The Central league team will be composed of former Hope stars, as well as other outstanding players secured from other cities.

The Holland team will open its schedule upon Thanksgiving night, when it will entertain the league team from Jackson at the Armory.

John H. Kramer, for ten years superintendent of mails and an employee in the local post office for more than 38 years, will be retired October 31 under the independent office appropriation act of congress, according to word received from Washington. COMMON COUNCIL
Holland, Mich., Sept. 26, 1933.

The Common Council met in special session pursuant to call by Ald. Kleis, Prins and Jonkman.

Present: Mayor Bosch, Ald. Prins, Kleis, Woltman, Brieve, Van Zoeren, DeCook, Habing, Steffens, Jonkman, Huyser, Van Lente, Thomson and the Clerk.

Upon the request of the Mayor, the Clerk announced that the meeting had been called upon the request of Ald. Kleis, Prins and Jonkman for the purpose of considering Mayor Bosch's veto on the "Klein Nederland" project that was adopted by the Council at their last regular meeting on Sept. 20, 1933. The Clerk then presented the Mayor's veto, setting forth objections to the above named project. The Mayor's principal objection being that a request for a loan of $350,000 for the "Klein Nederland" project would be futile unless the full faith and credit of the City of Holland was pledged for the repayment of the loan. The Mayor's further objection was that in his opinion the filing of such an application would jeopardize the city's prospects of obtaining loans for other worthy projects.

For the above stated reasons and for other reasons given by the Mayor in his message to the Council on Sept. 20th, he objected to asking for a loan on the above project.

Ald. Kleis then presented a resolution approving of the project and requesting the City Clerk to file application for a loan of $350,000 from the N.R.A. to carry out the provisions of the plan as previously outlined. The Clerk then presented a communication from the Ministers Association of Holland signed by D. Zwier, president, and Jas. M. Martin, Secretary. The contents of this communication was to the effect that they could not support the project due to the fact that in their opinion the value of such a project was doubtful and that public funds should not be used for such purpose. Their further objection was that if such a project was consummated, it would have a tendency to deprecate the Sabbath on account of the fact that it would be necessary to remain open on Sundays in order to derive sufficient profits to make it self-liquidating.

The Clerk then presented a communication addressed to the Mayor and Common Council signed by a committee consisting of Wm. C. Vandenberg, Dick Boter and Andrew Klomparsen. This communication was in answer to the one from the Ministers Association and stated that in their opinion the position taken by them was not well founded and that the project should be put on due to the fact that it would put many unemployed men back to work.

Holland, Michigan.
September 26, 1933.

To the Honorable Mayor and the Common Council,
City of Holland,
Holland, Michigan.

Gentlemen:

We are pleased to note from Saturday's Sentinel (September 23), that the ministers of our city recently met and discussed the "Klein Nederland" project. We are sorry that we were not asked to be present so that they might have both sides of the question to consider in their deliberations and conclusions. That the resolution adopted expressed open-mindedness to conviction is very gratifying.

From the beginning of the agitation for this project, we, who are in favor of it, have voiced our reasons and have done so openly. There is nothing in our position which should not have full publicity. During times such as we are now experiencing, there is no argument about the necessity of maintaining a fine equilibrium; on the other hand—comes a time when distress has almost overwhelmed us—when opportunity seems to be at hand showing us a possible way out, ought we not come forward with courage and even daring to show that we are ready to do our part in an effort toward recovery?

It seems to us that the facts are quite simple. Saturday's Sentinel told the public about the apprehensions of the Ministers' association concerning Klein Nederland; in the same issue, on the same page it also told us that during the past ten days over 900 jobless men from Holland alone have registered with Ottawa county as needing work. This list includes not only common laborers but artisans generally—carpenters, painters, plumbers, electricians, masons, roofers, etc.

The president of the United States himself and also Secretary of the Interior Howard L. Ickes, are urging communities to come forward and secure help under the NRA—the federal government under this act having appropriated $3,000,000,000 dollars for public works.

We sincerely believe that the Klein Nederland project offers quick and general relief to our unemployed.

The Ministers' association raises some questions; we are glad they did and we are pleased to answer them in the order in which they are set up in the resolution adopted:

1. Question: "Is it part of the noblest citizenship to tempt public funds into an amusement project when the money is needed for the noblest and most beneficial project?"

Answer: Klein Nederland is an educational project and it would ever be up to this community through its city government to protect it against any temptation or effort to convert the project into an amusement park.

2. Question: "What will be the amusements and program at Klein Nederland to attract visitors?"

Answer: There will be no amusements in the commonly accepted interpretation of that term. With the God-given setting of the location of this Klein Nederland project, it is planned to reproduce a bit of the Netherlands, reclaiming the land to be used, erect a Dutch chapel, a museum for the display of Dutch antiques, a choral and band stand where fine musical programs may be rendered, a number of Dutch dwellings to be occupied by natives who are to cultivate small plots of the land in the raising of bulbs, roses and other suitable pursuits, a number of characteristic Dutch wind mills—in all, making it a dignified and high-grade project in every way.

3. Question: "Would the city be morally responsible for the financial success?"

Answer: While President Roosevelt has made a plea for communities to come to the federal government and seek financial aid on projects that will put men back to work, before any grants are made it will be necessary to show two things: First, that the project will provide jobs for men in keeping with the size of the grant, and second, that the project is feasible. If the federal government is satisfied on these two points, there would be no further moral responsibility on the part of the city so far as its financial success is concerned.

4. Question: "Would not the city be strongly prevailed on to allow the place to be open on Sundays?"

Answer: It is up to the people of this city to take sufficient interest in affairs of the city to always make it their business to elect the type of officials who may be depended upon to carry out their wishes in the administration of this project—as they should be interested in all affairs of the city.

5. Question: "Must not all amusement parks be open on Sunday to be profitable?"

Answer: While Klein Nederland is not an amusement park, it is our firm conviction that the project operated six days a week will easily liquidate itself over a period of years.

We repeat, in our opinion the Klein Nederland project will quickly do for this community all that President Roosevelt is seeking in his program to put men back to work—and if the money can be secured under the proposed plan, without pledging city funds in any manner whatsoever, we believe Holland will soon be on its way to better things.

Respectfully yours,
WM. C. VANDENBERG,
DICK BOTER,
ANDREW KLOMPARENS.
Committee.

There was no discussion on the matter, and
On motion of Ald. Kleis, seconded by Prins,
The project was approved over the Mayor's veto by a yeay and nay vote as follows:
Ayes: Alds. Prins, Kleis, Woltman, Brieve, Van Zoeren, Habing, Steffens, Jonkman, Van Lente and Thomson—10.

Nays: Alds. DeCook and Huyser—2.

The Mayor very briefly addressed the members of the Council and the three members of the Citizens Committee who had been instrumental in bringing about the passage of the "Klein Nederland" project by stating that he had put up a good fight in opposing the passage because he did not believe in it, but inasmuch as the Council had seen fit to do otherwise, he had nothing further to say since the will of the majority should rule at all times. Adjourned.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

NOT all apples are ideal for both eating and cooking but the McIntosh strips to be. It is green with close red streaks but the effect is softened by a soft grey bloom. Concord and Tokay grapes are both plentiful and popular. Italian prunes are now coming from Idaho. That delicious pear, the Bartlett, is still plentiful and inexpensive, though other varieties are beginning to come into market. The only peaches now available are the big Californians which are beautiful to look at but not distinctively flavored.

The cabbage and its higher caste relatives are beginning to dominate the vegetable market. Cauliflower is of high quality and very reasonable. Broccoli and Brussels Sprouts are available but will be more plentiful and cheaper later.
