STUNT FLIER OF G.R. IS KILLED IN PLUNGE AT G.H.

Several Hundred Watch
Plane Drop Into Lake
at State Park

Michigan, Federal Units to Probe Death of Young Pilot

Grand Haven, Oct. 3 (Special)—Gordon H. Segar, 23-year-old Grand Rapids amateur aviator, met instant death in the cabin of his two-place yellow monoplane Sunday at 4:36 p.m. when it plummeted several hundred feet into Lake Michigan, about 600 feet off shore in front of Grand Haven state park.

Segar was stunt flying before the accident which was witnessed by several hundred persons, including his fiancée, Miss Grace Bajema, Grand Rapids, who has accompanied the pilot to Grand Haven from Grand Rapids earlier in the day.

Grand Haven coast guardsmen, under Chief Boatwain E. J. Clemons, who had been watching the low flying plane and saw that something had gone wrong just before the plane went into a tail spin, arrived at the scene a few minutes later in a picket boat.

Segar's body, held in place by the safety belt which was cut, was taken from the cabin into which the guardsmen had to chop their way. Occupants of a pleasure cruiser whose identity was not learned, held one wing of the plane above water by a hand held until coast guardsmen arrived.

The body was taken to the coast guard station and later to the Van Zantwick funeral home where Dr. W. B. Bloemendal, county coroner, said the skull was smashed and death, in his opinion, was instantaneous. He said no inquest would be held.

Segar was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Segar of 166 Wilder road, Grand Rapids, with whom he made his home. Holder of a private flying permit, his license was found on his person. In addition to his brother and parents, Segar is survived by a sister, Gretta.

Segar owned the plane which carried him to his death. The plane had been kept at the Grand Rapids airport, Thomas Walsh, Grand Rapids airport manager and commissioner of aeronautics, said he had had considerable flying time and had no reputation as a stunt flier here.

An investigation of the crash will be held, Walsh said. Investigator will be George Townsend of the air safety division of the CAA; S. B. Steers, of the Michigan board of aeronautics and Walsh, in his capacity as commissioner.

FINED IN CRASH NEAR ZEELAND

Howard Veneklasen, 19, route 2, Zeeland, pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving on his arraignment Saturday before Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith and was assessed a fine and costs of $31.15 which he was arraigned to pay.

The court also cited him for examination before state police relative to having his driver's license revoked. Judge Smith said Veneklasen had paid $5 in a Zeeland justice court Jan. 20, 1939, for failure to have his car under control and on March 26, 1940, he was fined $10.65 in a Zeeland court for improper driving.

The charge on which he was arraigned Saturday resulted from an accident last Thursday on the old Zeeland road, west of Zeeland, in which his car struck Emerson De Leeuw, eight-year-old son of John De Leeuw, residing one-half mile north and one-half mile west of Zeeland. The child's right leg was broken below the knee.

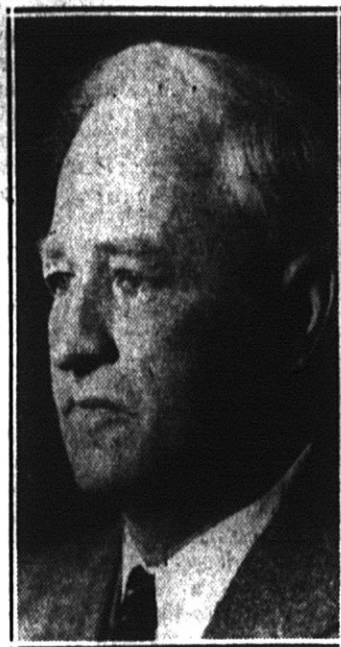

The following motorists have paid fines and costs after pleading guilty to various traffic violations: Marvin Lemmen, 18, route 2, Hamilton, failure to yield right of way, $10; Joe Englesma, route 3, Zeeland, speeding, $7.50; Alex Van Bragt, 325 West 13th St., Stanley Brunzel, Pine Ave., Elroy R. Ludke, Frankfort, speeding, $5 each; Marvin Mokma, 40 East 16th St., operating a truck without a tail light on the vehicle, $3.

CYCLIST KILLED NEAR HOLLAND

G.R. Man Loses Life When
Speeding Vehicle Skids
East of City

While speeding on his motorcycle to Berrien Springs to visit his girl friend, Owen Dykhouse, 26, 2440 Central Ave., S. W., Grand Rapids, was fatally injured Sunday at 2 p.m. in an accident on M-21 at the intersection with the Waverly road, two miles east of Holland.

Dykhouse died in Holland hospital at 8 p.m. Sunday, six hours after the accident. Dr. John K. Winter, county coroner, reported Dykhouse died of compound fractured skull. He also suffered a fracture of the right leg, several ribs on the left side of the chest were broken and he also had other lacerations and bruises.

Dr. Winter returned a verdict of accidental death. An investigation was made by Deputy Sheriff's William Van Etta and William Kruthof of Holland.

The accident occurred when Dykhouse lost control of his motorcycle about 100 feet east of the road intersection. A car, driven by Jacob Molengraff, about 61, 168 East Fifth St., was being driven off M-21 onto the Waverly road at the time.

Molengraff was driving east on M-21 and was making a left turn onto the Waverly road and, Deputy Van Etta said, the car had cleared the intersection.

The officer reported the motorcycle skidded approximately 285 feet. After leaving the road some 100 feet east of the intersection, the motorcycle and its rider skidded along the gravel shoulder through the intersection, across the grass in front of the Ralph Gunn gasoline filling station, and upon reaching the concrete driveway on the west side, the cycle turned "turtle," throwing Dykhouse off.

Witnesses told investigators that Dykhouse landed on his head. His speedometer was locked at 72 miles per hour, Van Etta said.

SOURCE OF BAD CHECKS SOUGHT

The source of 11 bogus checks, all drawn on the Holland State bank but were not accepted by the bank when presented for payment, is being investigated by Holland police.

The checks amounting to $111.85 were passed on various stores in Muskegon and Grand Rapids, police reported. With exception of one check for $11.85, the others were in amounts of $10 each.

In all but one exception, the checks were made payable to Mrs. George Mayes and all were signed by her husband, George Mayes. The $11.85 check was made payable to a Muskegon store, police said.

Practically all the checks were dated Sept. 21 and reached the bank last Tuesday after passing through the clearing house. The Mayes gave their address as 422 East Eighth St. or 214 East Eighth St., in presenting the checks, police reported.

It is believed that a man and a woman are involved in the passing of the checks. Police reported similar activities in passing bogus checks have been carried out recently in Battle Creek and Jackson.

CAR HITS GIRL NEAR ZEELAND

Zeeland, Oct. 3.—No improvement in the condition of Eunice Lemson, four and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lemson, residing on the Vriesland road, one mile east of here, was reported today at Thomas G. Huizinga hospital where she is confined, suffering a possible fractured skull.

The child was struck by an automobile about 8 a.m. Wednesday while she was walking along the highway near the Mead Johnson and Co. plant, one mile east of Zeeland. Driver of the car was Lloyd Vander Kolk, 16, of Drenthe.

With her sisters, Jane, 8, and Ruth 11, Eunice was en route to her kindergarten class in the Zeeland public schools.

Westbound at a high rate of speed, according to investigators, Vander Kolk in the car of his father, Arnold, overtook a vehicle driven by Albert Meeuwse, 24, son of Joe Meeuwse, residing east of the city.

Council Protests Mayor's OK of New City Hall Office

Delays Approval of Plan to Let School Head
Have Niche

After verbally spanking Mayor Henry Geerlings for overstepping his authority, common council Wednesday night declined to approve a plan whereby D. H. Vande Bunte, Ottawa county school commissioner, would be granted permission to establish his office in the city hall building.

Council agreed that the city hall is already overcrowded and that space should be made available for present occupants when it was learned that Willard C. Wichers, district supervisor of the survey of historical records, had not vacated a room which council had previously designated as a jury room in granting Municipal Judge Raymond L. Smith permission to use council chambers as a court room.

In freely tossing "barbs" at the mayor who sought to explain his action, the aldermen voted to delay action in the matter for two weeks while a special committee endeavors to provide adequate quarters for Wichers' project. Members of this committee, appointed several months ago when council was faced with the problem of supply space for Wichers and his workers when he was asked to vacate the rooms now used by the municipal court, are All. Bruce Raymond, William C. Vandenberg and Frank Smith.

The matter of locating the school commissioner's office in the city hall was brought before council by Ald. Bernard Arendshorst who said stories had been circulated about the city to this effect. He asked who authorized it.

"I did," replied Mayor Geerlings. "I overstepped my authority, yet I felt the city would benefit by establishing the commissioner's office here since it will bring a lot of teachers to Holland from time to time. The city will be put to no expense in maintaining the office."

Ald. Albert V. Faasen said the request should "have come through the regular channels and I would like to have it understood that, in the future, this procedure be taken." He called attention to a recent controversy over use of the GAR room when council attempted to provide additional space in the city hall for relief offices.

Mayor Geerlings said he had found space for the school commissioners office by rearranging partitions in the room on the third floor now occupied by the welfare department. The mayor stated that Welfare Director James Van Volkenburgh had approved the plan and he (Geerlings) felt it would be better to have the office in Holland than Grand Haven.

Raymond said he would like some assurance that the commissioner's work will not expand and require additional space later. "I am not in favor of crowding city business out of the city hall when the building already is overcrowded," he stated.

Smith made reference to the room, adjoining council chambers, which had been set aside as a jury room but had not been vacated by Wichers. He cited a recent case in court in witnesses and parties involved had to leave the court while the jury deliberated.

It was brought out that the county board of supervisors had appropriated $10 per month to Vande Bunte for office rent and secretarial help. Vandenberg asked who would get this money if the city didn't.

"The county will be that much better off," Lokker replied. Mayor Geerlings said it was Vande Bunte's plans to establish residence in Holland with the removal of his office from Hudsonville to this city.

Donnelly was elected over two other nominees, John Knapp and Edward Brouwer, on the first ballot. He received eight votes. Knapp, two, and Brouwer, two.

Joldersma won the appointment over Martin Oudemool, former third ward alderman, on the first ballot by a vote of nine to three. Voting for the two appointments was by secret ballot.

Donnelly was nominated by Ald. William C. Vandenberg, Knapp by Ald. Albert V. Faasen and Brouwer by Ald. John Menken. Joldersma was nominated by Ald. A. P. Kleis and Oudemool by Faasen.

Vandenberg and Menken served as election tellers in the two separate elections. Donnelly will succeed Mayor Henry A. Geerds and will serve out the unexpired term of former Commissioner Cornelius C. Steketee. Geerds resigned as a member of the board as he is leaving the city for a year's military training.

Donnelly served one five-year term on the police and fire board from 1934 until 1939 but he did not seek reelection. He is associated with the Donnelly-Kelley Glass Co., 50 River Ave.

Joldersma was appointed to the appeal board after William J. Brouwer declined the appointment by council at its Sept. 18 meeting. Brouwer's letter, rejecting the appointment, was filed by council Wednesday night.

He will succeed George Pelgrim who resigned as a board member on moving from the city. Joldersma is cashier of the Holland State bank. He also is a director of the Holland Chamber of Commerce and in past years served as its treasurer.

He holds membership in the local American Legion post, the Forty and Eight, is a former post commander, has served as fifth district committeeman and as state finance officer and a member of the finance auditing committee of the state legion department.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, said bids would be taken Oct. 16 on 4.05 miles of grading and drainage structures on new 22-foot roadways. He said the project, from Grandville to Hudsonville, would cost approximately $250,000, and would be completed by July 1.

This is one of the major grading projects undertaken by the highway department," Van Wagoner said. "It will involve removal of 360,000 cubic yards of material that reaches to a depth of 18 feet in some places."

He said 1,000,000 cubic yards of earth would be removed and spread over the right-of-way, which will be enlarged by 100, 200 feet and raised to the level of the Pere Marquette tracks along which it runs.

Van Wagoner said the old highway would be used while the new highway was under construction and that traffic would use the old road and east bound the new lane, until the second lane was completed.

MUST REPLACE RENTED HOUSE

Grand Haven, Oct. 3 (Special)—In a suit heard in Circuit Court before Judge Fred T. Miles Tuesday, Homer Guy of Wright township asked that an order compelling Alex Mileski and wife, Anna, also of Wright township, to replace a house which was burned April 20, 1940, on property leased by Guy from the defendants March 15, 1940, for three years.

The farm was owned by the defendants and Mileski signed the lease alone, which called for a rental of $200 a year, at the rate of $10 per month. Guy took possession of the premises March 15 and through no fault of the tenant the house was destroyed by fire. In the lease a provision was made that defendant should rebuild the house at once in case it should burn down. The building was staffed but defendants claimed they lacked money, although it was admitted they had received $1,200 insurance on the house. Guy paid the full year's work on the building was stopped and Guy moved his family of several children to an outbuilding, a granary and a tent.

Mileski informed Guy he would have to move from the premises, claiming the lease would not hold as Anna Mileski did not sign.

Guy also asked to have the lease reformed so as to make Mrs. Mileski a party to the lease.

The court held that Mrs. Mileski knew all about the lease, had accepted the lease money, showed plaintiff around the place and helped lease it to him, and that she couldn't say now that she was no party to the lease because she didn't sign it. The court also held that the defendants should finish the house within five weeks and if this is not complied with Guy can finish the house and charge it to defendants. The court also allowed plaintiff costs amounting to about $45 against defendants and required defendants to pay the plaintiff's rent while they have been obliged to live in the tent from the time they could have had the house finished.

FINDS BURGLAR IN STORE HERE

De Jongh Surprises Yegg
as He Returns to Turn on Night Lights

Surprised in the act of ransacking the J. and H. De Jongh grocery store at 21 East 10th St. about 11 p.m. Tuesday, an unidentified burglar escaped by running from the store through an opened front door and disappearing in the darkness.

Holland police said an investigation revealed nothing had been stolen. The intruder entered through the basement. He first broke a basement window and then reached through to loosen screws which held bars over the window in place.

About that hour, Henry De Jongh entered the store to turn on some night lights. As he entered the store, he left the front door open as he planned to be there only a short time, police were informed.

On hearing a noise from behind the counter, Mr. De Jongh turned and saw a man in a slouched position behind the counter moving toward the front door.

Due to the darkness, Mr. De Jongh did not get a good look at the burglar as he ran from the store but he told police the intruder was wearing a slouch hat, a light jacket and dark trousers.

The burglar ransacked a desk in the store and in his haste to leave he left one of the drawers on a chair. Fingerprints were found on the broken window and pictures of them were taken by Police Officer Ernest Bear.

Police searched the neighborhood but found no trace of the burglar.

Co. D Expected to Be at Armory a Week Before
Trip to Camp

Meals Will Be Served in Hotel in Preparation for Training

Complying with an order issued by President Roosevelt last Sept. 25, Capt. H. Austin Lucas today ordered mobilization of Company D, Holland's national guard unit of the 126th Michigan infantry, at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 15, in Holland armory.

"All men of this organization will report to the armory at that hour prepared to remain until relieved by proper authority," Captain Lucas said.

Captain Lucas anticipates that the local guardsmen will remain in the armory for at least seven days before departure for Camp Beauregard, La., for a year's training.

Advised that the guards likely will receive orders to leave Holland on a two-hour notice, arrangements have been made for the men to eat in the Warm Friend tavern while mobilized at the armory. All three meals will be served "home-style" in the hotel.

A sample menu includes prunes, oats, scrambled eggs, bacon, toast and coffee for breakfast; soup, roast pork, brown gravy, potatoes, vegetable, salad and coffee for dinner; soup, meat and potatoes, vegetables salad, home made pie and drink for supper.

Captain Lucas said that those wishing to enlist with the national guard before M-day will be placed on the inactive list until Oct. 15. Enlistment will open again Oct. 16, he said, but enlistees will be enlisted through the regular army although they will remain with the local national guard company.

Present roster of the national guard company includes 83 men and three officers. However, two men from the local company will be commissioned as officers prior to M-day, if possible, Captain Lucas stated.

He also said the local guard unit will be encouraged to increase its roster to a peace-time strength of 123 men.

ZEELAND MAN FOUND GUILTY

Carlton Awaits Sentence for Assault on His Father

Grand Haven, Oct. 3 (Special).—Vivian (Verne) Carlton, 32, of Zeeland today awaited sentence on a charge of assault in the Carlton home Aug. 4 when he is alleged to have attempted to shoot his father, Percy, with a shotgun. Carlton was found guilty by a circuit court jury Sept. 26 at 4:45 p.m. on a charge of "assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder." The jury deliberated one hour. He will be sentenced later.

After the prosecution had submitted its proofs, Carlton's attorney asked that the case be withheld from the jury because of lack of evidence to show that there was any intent, due to the intoxicated condition of the son. According to the testimony of the father and mother, the son was "crazy drunk" at the time of the alleged offense. The motion was denied by the court. No testimony was offered by the defense. Carlton did not take the stand in his own defense.

Rev. de Velder Speaks at County Youth Banquet

More than 150 young people from all over Ottawa county gathered in the auditorium of the Hudsonville high school Wednesday evening for the fourth annual youth banquet sponsored by the Ottawa County Council of Christian Education.

In keeping with the theme of "Drafted" decorations followed the patriotic color scheme of red, white and blue. Twisted streamers of these colors were laid the length of the long tables and the colors also were used in the programs and napkins. Favors were tiny American flags in large gum drops. The American and Christian flags appeared on the stage.

Prof. Clarence Kleis, in charge of young people's work in the county council, introduced the toastmaster, Charles Stoppels of Holland who in keeping with the banquet theme was called Confirmation Officer. The Rev. Nicholas Gosselink, pastor of First Reformed church, served as song leader with Mrs. Gosselink at the piano.

Using for his topic "Growing Up," the Rev. Marion de Velder, pastor of Hope Reformed church of Holland, laid down three causes why this is a problem. He said one type of persons who have not grown up act on impulse, excusing their actions by saying "I'm made that way." He used the comic strip character Popeye as an example and said that while most of his impulses are kindly, he is not grown up and his excuse is "I am what I am etc."

Another reason for the lack of mental and intellectual growth, the speaker said, is that some types react emotionally against a change when what they should do as Christians is reason it out. Some people cannot adjust the old religion to the present modern age and condemn it instead of trying to understand it. Rev. de Velder stated. He illustrated this with the story of the old priest who condemned the person who advocated the theory that the world moved and wasn't flat. The speaker predicted that if science in the next 50 years should discover the basic facts of life, it would not change religion—it would be a matter of adjusting factual thoughts.

The third reason for the failure of "Growing Up" was given as selfishness or self-centeredness.

William Eskes has been on the sick list of late and the following neighbors aided him in the cutting of his corn: Ben Brower, Henry Hoekje, A. E. Veldhuis, Folkert, Harry Slotman, Benjamin Brinkhuis, and John Plasman, Sr.

MISSION BOARD PLANS MEETING IN PELLA, IOWA

Reformed Church to Seek Increased Funds as Goal of Year

Word has been received here that the annual meeting of the board of domestic missions of the Reformed church in America will be held Oct. 26-28 in Pella, Ia.

The fall meetings of the classes which will be held within the next four weeks will formally open the winter's work.

As its program for the year, the church hopes to keep the level of last year and go beyond, make necessary advances in new development and added equipment such as the new science building for Hope college and provide aid for refugees, more especially those to the foreign missions, usually supported by European countries and which are now cut off from any funds from their home source and must disband unless helped from elsewhere.

This program calls for the raising of $1,000,000 before April 1, 1941. As the amount given last year was $594,179, this sum calls for an advance of over $300,000.

During the past summer, the mission fests and the young people's summer conferences have been largely attended and the enthusiasm gives promise that the denomination will reach its goal.

Announcement has been made that the old church house at 25 East 22nd St., New York city, which was the denominational headquarters from 1892 until 1939, has been sold to the Serbian Eastern Orthodox church which remodeled the building and is using it for church purposes.

The last synod made arrangements by which conscientious objectors to war might enroll with the consistory of their local church and with the stated clerk of the general synod. Thirty persons already have enrolled.

The committee on refugees and aid for foreign missions of European countries has received more than $7,000 since the meeting of the synod. The committee has agreed to send $500 per month to The Netherlands missions in Java besides giving to other refugee organizations.

SAFETY ISSUE TOLD ROTARY

Sergeant C. F. Van Blankensteyn of the Michigan state police, East Lansing, spoke to the Holland Rotary club at its weekly luncheon in the Warm Friend tavern Sept. 26 on "Safety" and pointed out that 99 per cent of traffic accidents are entirely avoidable.

Taking a life by negligence with an automobile is no better than an intentional killing with a gun or knife, he said. Police, engineer and educators are teaching driving, but as safety is a problem of the individual, he stated, highways will not really be safe until acting and driving safely has become a vital part of every individual's thinking. Ignorance of the law, inattention of the driver and indifference are three of the most common faults today, he said.

Little booklets, "What Every Driver Must Know," were distributed at the meeting. Mr. Van Blankensteyn explained that in the test to see if these books and driving tests were understandable by 14-year olds, Lansing school children in the eighth grade passed with flying colors. Forty-eight thousand people in Michigan failed, however, to pass their elementary driver's test but after instruction from the book, which is published by the police department, were able to come back within 24 hours and pass.

It's the man who violates the law who is the producer of all the frightful accidents, he said in concluding. In 1939, although it is not marked in history, he said, more people were killed on Michigan highways than in the war with Mexico.

BOY'S LEG BROKEN WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Zeeland, Oct. 3 — Emerson Leeuw, eight-year-old son of John Leeuw, residing one-half mile north and one-half mile west of Zeeland, is confined in the Thomas G. Huizenga hospital here due to a broken right leg below the knee which he sustained about 3:40 p.m. last Thursday when hit by an automobile driven by Howard Veneklasen, 19, residing on Brick Yard hill at the west edge of Zeeland.

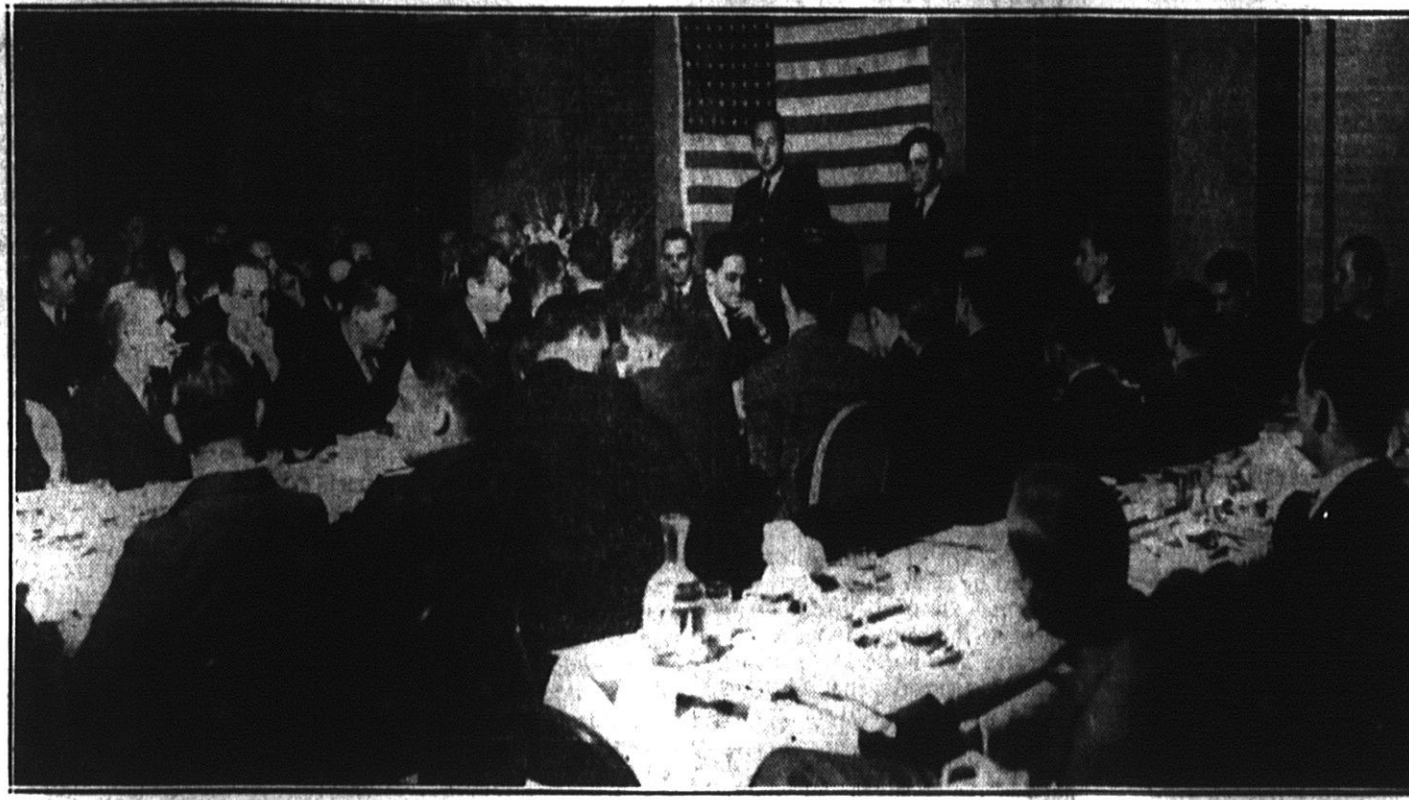

The accident occurred on a hill on the old Holland road, a short distance west of Zeeland. The boy was walking home from school with a group of children.

Deputy Sheriffs Martin Baerman and John Boes investigated. Deputy Baerman reported that Veneklasen will be questioned about the accident this afternoon when it will be determined whether any charges are to be filed against him.

Veneklasen told officers that Thursday was his birthday anniversary. Baerman reported that Veneklasen had been warned on previous occasions about his car driving.

ECLIPSE OF AN ARTIST

In the "off again, on again" comedy in real life that John Barrymore has been playing these several years while he was being vamped by a young gold-digging chit, then "cave-manning" her, then running away and coming back to her, with divorces and reconciliations coming in bewildering confusion—in that comedy the actor has reached another "off again" stage. But next year this time, or earlier, there may be stories on the front pages recounting the fact that the two have been "reconciled" for the "tenth time."

But whatever happens in the lives of these two—the actor of 57 and the vamp of 24—the career of John Barrymore has already closed in eclipse. The most brilliant member of the famous "royal family" of the American theatre has committed the sin that the great public can seldom pardon—he has made himself ridiculous, and he has done it in a form that is usually remembered longest and that is hardest to live down. An old man who is made a fool of by a young woman is so certain of the "razzberry" that there is almost never a chance for him.

An artist — and John Barrymore was once a great artist — can commit sins and the public will forgive him. Some of the world's greatest actors and writers and singers have done things that were hardly short of crime. If their art is great they can usually survive, artistically speaking. Eventually the public agrees to forget that personally they were scoundrels and to remember only their art. Occasionally, when artists are what is known as "splendid sinners," their personal shortcomings even make them appear more romantic as artists.

But no artist can appear in the role of a fool and retain the admiration of the great masses that make or unmake an actor. An actor, or can't afford to be ridiculed and he can't stand up against deserved ridicule. And if ever anyone appears to have reached the very depths — he has petitioned the court to "protect" him against this sort of a girl who has all along been playing him for the fool.

He will almost certainly go down in the history of the American theatre as an actor of great gifts who did not know how to play the most important role of all—the role of real life.

THE CHURCH INVITES YOU

The Reverend John W. Houck in the New York Herald Tribune says: "The decline in religious belief and conduct not only hinders the democratic belief, but encourages the existence of dictators. Religion will help America to serve mankind by sponsoring the faith that alone can preserve world peace, show the fallacy of dictators and save our civilization from madness."

Why not accept the invitation and go to church next Sunday?

Luke and His Gospel
Luke 1:1-5; 16:9-15; Colossians 4:14; II Timothy 4:11

By Henry Geerlings

Everyone of us would like to feel our faith in the gospel is well founded. We recognize the Bible as the source and ground of our religion. Take it from us and the Christian church would become impotent and our zeal for eternal truth cold. There must be something to feed and keep alive the hope we have in our hearts. God would not have left us without some age-old stream that would perpetually feed our spirit. We have been summoned to put our trust in something that will remain after the heavens and the earth have passed away.

Christ lived and died and rose from the dead about 1900 years ago. His religion has been a potent force in the world since that time. Some of the wisest, noblest, most sincere and intelligent people through these centuries have believed in Christ and served Him devotedly. And what is more, they did it at great personal sacrifice. There has not been a moment when the continuity of faith in Christ has been broken. When heroes of the cross have fallen others have rushed forward to take their places. It is impossible to beguile rational men and women into the support of a cause that has no adequate ground, no broad and sure foundation on which to stand.

One of the outstanding men of the New Testament was Luke. His gospel stresses above everything else the breath and universality of Christ's message. Matthew traces the genealogy of Jesus to Abraham, to point out that Jesus was the head of the Jewish race. Luke goes back to Adam, the head of humanity, thus forming a fitting introduction to the life of Him who was the Redeemer of the whole human family. There are in his gospel parables showing the intense sympathy of Jesus with all classes of people and with all races.

It was Luke above all other writers who caught every sentence of Jesus that stressed the value of the human soul—its preciousness in the sight of God. We may say that for ages the true value of humanity has been lost sight of and it was the rediscovery of human worth which fascinated Luke. He never forgot a single word that Jesus said about human worth.

His gospel is addressed to Theophilus. This man was one of the few noble converts that the early church contained, and that his position made it necessary for him to be well-assured in what he was doing. He held a post carrying the title most excellent. This title was applied to such men as Pilate. It was wise, too, to instruct him fully, that he might be the means of carrying the truth further into Caesar's household.

We can seldom boast of so high a post as Theophilus, but we are like him in this, that we are educated and capable of making up our own minds. We do not become Christians merely because of glittering promises. We accept the faith because we are convinced of the truth. It is significant that it is this gospel, written to him, that has affected us most closely, for it is said that our picture of Jesus is drawn from Luke's narrative. There is, then, a universality of appeal about Luke, which the more Jewish-minded Matthew and the less intellectually alert Mark cannot so fully supply.

Theophilus wanted certainty. There were plenty of rosy dreams and even noble ideals abroad in his world but he sought for something more. Luke offered him this certainty by asserting through his story that an ideal life had actually been lived and had survived all attacks of evil, even death itself. He offered it to him by pointing out how this Christ had not been a national hero exclusively interested in Jewish hopes, but a universal figure with compassion for all, as such stories as the Prodigal Son and the Good Samaritan illustrate. He offered to him, again, a conviction that this good life had been an embodiment of the character of God.

None of this could be certain in Theophilus' eyes in the sense that the existence and will of Caesar were certain, but it had a certainty that no other religious message had. It was advanced by a band of witnesses who had to pay for the privilege by their own toil and danger. It was something that had frightened Pilate out of his usual cautious brutality, that had impressed a Roman centurion at the cross and that had evoked the sustaining charity of highly placed people like Joanna of the court of Herod.

So far as outward evidence and careful inquiry could go, Luke went in writing to Theophilus. That the first reader had to do for himself then, and we must do so still.

Luke was more likely to serve Theophilus successfully than any other writer. He had literary skill, as we can see when we compare his smooth and artistic sentences with the rougher style of Mark. As a physician he could claim a right to an opinion, while a fisherman's testimony might impress Theophilus less. Luke had joy in his faith, as anyone can gather who reads his pages.

Club Women Challenged by Luncheon Speaker

Harold R. Malcolm, noted economist of Norwalk, O., urged 205 members of the Woman's Literary club attending their opening luncheon in the Warm Friend tavern Tuesday, to take up the challenge of a new frontier in America.

Discounting the theory that there are no new frontiers in America today, Mr. Malcolm averred that what is needed is a new race of pioneers to face the fears of defeatism, and to inaugurate a new kind of education—education in appreciation of democracy, education for patriotic citizenship, education for more patriotic statesmen and fewer petty politicians.

In his non-partisan talk, "A Mess of Pottage," Mr. Malcolm said that Americans have always been a nation of idealists, carving a civilization out of wilderness, fighting wars to carry out and perpetuate ideals, but the idealist is apt to be blind to obstacles in his path. A way to determine the future of democracy is through a study of the past, he said, stating that great philosophers of history predicted this new democracy had 150 years to live.

In a world gone mad with lust for power, it is time for America to pause and ask a few questions, he said. "Although the American system is far from perfect, before we sell our birthright for a mess of European pottage, we should realize what this wonderland of America has to offer."

Presenting some interesting statistics, Mr. Malcolm pointed out that the United States has 6 per cent of the world's acreage; 7 per cent of the world's population; 52 per cent of its food; 60 percent of communication power; 47 percent of the railroad mileage; 70 percent of insurance; 45 percent gold; 66 percent of its banking resources; 70 percent of its automobiles and 33 percent of the world's railroad trackage.

The United States has three times the radios, five times the telephones and 11 times the automobiles of all other countries, he stated. We consume a high percent of the world's tea, coffee, silk, coal, oil, rubber, sugar, pig iron and copper. We produce 70 percent of the world's oil, 60 percent of the wheat, 50 percent of the copper, 50 percent of the pig iron, 40 percent of the lead, and 40 percent of the world's cotton.

No wonder the dictators long for such wealth, Mr. Malcolm said. It is strange that America has to be resold to its own citizens, Mr. Malcolm observed. The American workman is not downtrodden, the said, showing that with one hour of labor he can buy twice what a laborer in England can buy, four times the German, six times the French, nine times the Italian and 12 times the Russian.

HINGAMEN WILL TRY NEW PLAYS FOR ALMA TILT

Reopen Drills After Win Over Adrian Eleven, 20 to 0

Coach Milton L. Hinga handed out some new plays to his men as Hope prepares for its first MIAA home game against Alma Friday night. The Dutchmen struck off their first conference foe at Adrian Saturday afternoon 20-0.

Playing on a hot Adrian afternoon with onlookers in their shirtsleeves, Hope's eleven managed to score in the first, second and fourth quarters after two long runs. The temperature was reported to have been about 82 degrees.

Adrian this year presented a team heavier than Hope's, and the strongest one encountered since the two schools began playing a few years back. Three times they came down to the locals' 15-yard line, each time to be thrown for losses.

Art Timmer behind good blocking got away from Adrian's big line when the first quarter was half over and ran 65 yards for the first touchdown after which Bob Montgomery place-kicked the extra point.

Timmer in the backfield and Bill Tappan and George Heneveld on the line were the outstanding players for Hope.

Montgomery passed from Adrian's 45-yard line to Marty Bekken who lateraled to Don De Fouw with a minute to play in the second quarter, and he galloped 40 yards to score the second touchdown. Montgomery was again successful in the kick.

Adrian received the ball from Hope on its own three-yard line after a Hope penalty in the fourth quarter, and on one of the succeeding plays, attempted to pass out of its territory. Adrian was at this time trailing 14-0 with several minutes left to play. Center Bill Tappan intercepted Harold Lang's throw, however, and crossed the line for the final tally. De Fouw missed the kick.

LATEST FIRE ALARM DEVICE SOUNDS LIKE COW, WOMAN SAYS

From all indications, it appears that the board of public works will not have an easy job in selecting a suitable device for sounding the number of a fire alarm box for the benefit of Holland firemen.

With the placing of the new municipal power plant in operation, the "mocking bird" became obsolete because of the cost involved in maintaining steam at the old Fifth St. plant. Cost of purchasing reducing equipment for the "mocking bird" at the new power plant would be excessive, it was said.

A few weeks ago the works board installed an electrically-operated siren on the Fifth St. station on a temporary basis. Fire Chief Cornelius Blom, Jr., objected to the siren, asserting it was not suitable to sound the number of the fire alarm box.

Last week a diaphone system was installed and was tested Saturday. During the day, local police received a call from a woman at Eighth St. and Columbia Ave. who protested that a motorist was consistently blowing the horn on his car. She complained that the horn "sounded like a cow and it makes me very nervous."

Police Officer Harvey Murray went to the scene of the complaint. Within a short time this "cow-like" noise was heard and investigation revealed it to be the alarm system at the old power plant.

CHOOSING A PRESIDENT

Whether we remain at peace, or go to war as Candidate Roosevelt desires and intends, we should select, as the Commander in Chief of our Army and Navy, and as the person who must, if we are to avoid national bankruptcy and economic disaster, successfully solve our domestic problems and end the warfare between labor and industry, the man best fitted for that task.

Roosevelt has promised much. Experience proves that his promises are worthless. He has failed, as he promised, to reduce the expenses of our Government; to lessen the number of Federal employees; to decrease the number of Government bureaus and commissions; to solve the question of unemployment, in spite of the expenditure of billions of dollars and, for the first time in our national history, we have had a depression extending for a period of ten years. He has doubled the national debt. As an individual and before he became a politician

ST. JOE ELEVEN BEATS DUTCH IN FINAL QUARTER

Visitors Get Touchdown to Surpass Safety of Locals

In a game well punctuated with substitutions, timeouts and fumbles and everything else except scores, Holland high lost its first night encounter at River-view park, 6-2, to the St. Joe Bears Friday.

St. Joe's eleven evidently believes in "three times and out" and backed Holland to its two or three yard line and, forcing Kempker out of the end zone to punt three times before, finally went over for their lone tally in the final quarter. For the third time Tony Kempker got off a long quick punt after St. Joe had brought the ball up to Holland three-yard line in the second half. Krumrie took the punt on Holland's 40-yard line and brought it back to the 15. Fauber on a cut back picked up four yards, Fickinger picked up another first down around right end with only five yards to go and after Krumrie had hammered the Dutch wall for a short gain, Fickinger again went around right for the first touchdown. Gillespie's kick was no good.

The first quarter was definitely Holland's and most of the second although the visitors began gaining strength late in that frame. The half found the pigskin on Holland's 25-yard line.

A series of four first downs after the half placed the Bears in position for their touchdown after which they did not again gain the ball until the last minute. Putting on the pressure in the interval between the Bears' counter and the end, Holland high made three or half of its total first downs and completed one out of five attempted passes.

Holland scored its two points on a safety in about the middle of the first quarters when the kick of Zitta of St. Joe was on the visitor's one foot line after blocked. The ball had been resting Tien's recovery of a fumble a short time earlier put Holland on their ground.

Holland made six first downs and St. Joe, nine.

Muskegon won over Ludington, 20-0, and Benton Harbor won over Kalamazoo Central, 38-0, Friday night.

BRAVO CHILD DIES IN TANK

Drowned While on Trip to Farm Near Fennville With Father

Fennville, Oct. 3—(Special)—Max, the 19-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Clason of Bravo, drowned last Thursday at 4:30 p.m. in the stock tank on the Leonard Green farm 2 1/2 miles south of Fennville.

He had accompanied his father to the Green farm to buy junk and just a few minutes before he was missed the father, who was working beside George Breske, near the barn, told the baby to get into the car which was parked mid way between the barn and house.

When he was first missed the two men went to the tank at the suggestion of Mr. Green's sister, Mrs. Zina Lewis, and Mr. Breske raised one end of the cover which was in two sections and poked into the tank but either the baby was not discovered or else he entered it later when he was discovered by Mr. Green who, in the meantime had come up from the field.

It is believed that if artificial respiration could have been immediately applied the child could have been revived as the body was still warm and not discolored. The frantic father drove to Fennville for the local doctor who was out on a call and Dr. E. D. Osmun, coroner of Allegan, was called. The mother is employed at the Michigan Fruit Canners, Inc., Fennville, and had purchased a pair of shoes for the baby at noon when he and his father had lunched with her.

Besides the parents, he leaves a brother, Earl, 8, and a sister, Blanche, 6; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Clason of Allegan and Harry Myers of Kalamazoo. The family moved to Bravo from Allegan two years ago.

HOLLAND CITY NEWS

THE LIGHT THAT NEVER FAILS AMERICANS

Today you know more of world affairs and the affairs of your own country than any other people. For there are no gags on UP, INS and AP, the press associations serving the American newspapers. Everywhere, they have Americans waiting, watching, observing, interviewing, reporting, writing, cabling and telegraphing the news—obliterating time and space to make Americans the best informed people on earth. Nobody is big enough or strong enough to deny the press of this country. The American press, with its rights firm in the basic structures of our government, is big enough, and strong enough, and good enough—so it doesn't have to print propaganda, pro-government or pro-anything; so it doesn't have to protect anybody's interest but YOURS—the Reader of the American Newspaper.
