Council Has Option to Buy Hyma Land

Resolution Adopted Opposing Rehearing For Bell Telephone

City Council Wednesday night took under advisement for two weeks an option by Albert and Vera Hyma to purchase 12½ acres of the Hyma property east of Fairbanks Ave. plus certain restrictions on the remainder of the property for $18,000.

In recommending the purchase, City Manager Herb Holt pointed out that it appeared to be a sound investment in terms of reserving some land in the community for recreational purposes before it is too late.

The project could be financed by a temporary loan from the capital improvement fund to be repaid by the amount due the city from the hospital construction fund.

City Clerk Clarence Grevengeod reported that an election had been conducted among city employees for an employee delegate and alternate to attend the annual meeting of the Municipal Employees Retirement system Oct. 10. Teno Vande Water received the majority of votes and Mrs. Jennie Aardsma who came in second will be the employee alternate. Previously John Fonger was named officer delegate and Clarence Grevengeod as alternate.

Council adopted a resolution opposing a petition of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for a rehearing on its application filed in November, 1956, with the Michigan Public Service Commission. Council also appointed City Attorney James E. Townsend to represent the city at the rehearing.

Townsend explained that he feels no valid purpose is readily apparent to justify the reopening of a matter which has received complete consideration by the MPSC.

Vote to oppose the rehearing was seven to two with Councilmen Nelson Bosman and Robert Kouw dissenting. The vote came after a long discussion on telephone company matters with Councilmen Raymond Holwerda, Henry Stefens and other participating.

A claim from Mrs. Jack Vanette for injuries received from a fall outside Holland Hospital was referred to the city attorney and the insurance company.

Council approved the city manager's recommendation that the policy with the Galien agency for fleet insurance be accepted at the figure of $1,602.71 with the commission to be split between the Galien agency and the Clare Van Liere agency.

Letters from the Galien Agency and the Holland Association of Insurance Agents revealed a $2 error in the original Galien bid. The higher figure that the city agreed to pay was the same as the Van Liere bid, prompting the split commission.

No objections were filed at public hearings for special assessment rolls for paving and water mains. Council adopted the necessary resolutions and all paying installments unpaid after Dec. 1 will bear interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum. Water installments will be of five years' duration at five per cent.

City Clerk presented oaths of office for Russel Vande Poel on the board of appeals, and Nelson Bosman and J. J. Riemersma on Tulip Time.

An invitation from the city manager of Port Huron to attend the Business Opportunities Exhibit to be held in Port Huron Oct. 8, 9, and 10 was filed. Also files was a letter from the Muskegon Area Child Guidance Clinic expressing appreciation to the City of Holland for kindness in providing quarters for the clinic in the health department office from February, 1955, to September, 1957. New quarters have been provided at 363 Van Raalte Ave.

Council referred to city manager a letter from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission requesting action on an application from May Kooyers and Raymond F. Warren to transfer location of the 1957 SDM license from 375 Columbia Ave. to 408 Columbia Ave.

Council granted a building permit for Standard Oil Co. to tear down and erect a new service station at 381 River Ave.

The post audit report as prepared by Ernst and Ernst for the fiscal period ending June 30 was received for study.

Specific requests for school zone signs and a uniformed officer to work with the school safety patrol was accepted for information.

A request from Crampton Manufacturing Co. to post no parking signs on both sides of 13th St. for a distance of 300 feet east of Harrison Ave. was tabled until Oct. 16. The report also suggested two-hour parking signs in front of Crampton property on the south side of 12th St.

All council members were present. Invocation was given by Councilman William Heeringa. The meeting adjourned at 8:50 p.m.

The son born Sept. 30 at Holland Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Calderon, 13 East 18th St. has been named David.

Lake Cleanup Moves Ahead

ALLEGAN (Special) — Members of Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo power boat organization are expected to join will, the volunteer Lake Allegan Clean-up Committee Saturday and Sunday for the second phase of the group's efforts to make the big, 1,700-acre lake both safe and attractive to power boat enthusiasts.

The committee's first general effort began Sept. 22 when more than twenty boats and nearly 100 volunteers made a detailed survey of dead-heads, stumps and other obstructions. Approximately 100 such obstructions were marked with flags on steel rods and these will be the targets for Saturday and Sunday's work.

Volunteers are asked to meet at the well at the foot of Bushong Hill at 8 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday. Al Kiella, chairman of the clean-up committee, asked that volunteers bring ropes, hooks and anything else that might prove helpful in removing the obstacles.

Many volunteers have taken their boats to the lake at odd hours during recent weeks for some spare-time stump pulling, according to the committee, and the work is being speeded considerably as a result.

The committee was organized under sponsorship of the Allegan Improvement Association, but is now operating independently of the parent organization. The association has, however, agreed to underwrite initial expenses of the project.

Harbor Meet Report Given To Council

Councilman Ernest H. Phillips reported to City Council Wednesday night on the annual meeting of the Great Lakes Harbors Association Sept. 22, 23 and 24 at Traverse City which he attended together with Chamber of Commerce Secretary William H. Vande Water.

Phillips said the general feeling at the meeting was that a great industrial boom will come to the Great Lakes area in the 1960's and that all harbor cities should speed their activities to prepare for such expansions.

He said there was a great deal of discussion on toll charges, with plenty of pressure brought to bear by railroads and Atlantic seacoast cities for high tolls. These interests were roundly criticized by U. S. Sen. Charles E. Potter who said the railroads would like seaway control vested in the Department of Commerce instead of the Army Engineers since the Commerce Department by its very nature must concern itself with the welfare of the Railroads.

Charles J. Stelen, director of the Port of Detroit, said no port city can afford to overlook the importance of the seaway in the future, pointing out that there are now more than 30 ocean going ships plying the Seaway bringing business to Michigan.

This is only the beginning, he said.

Mary McCarthy, secretary of the Port Authority of Milwaukee, discussed the necessity of keeping tolls reasonable and awareness of security of the seaway in the atomic age. Her report also mentioned combating pollution and control of diversion through the Chicago canal.

Phillips mentioned having lunch aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Mackinaw and witnessing spectacular jet takeoffs of amphibian craft and air-sea rescues by helicopter and amphibian planes.

Col. Peter Hyzer of the Army Corps of Engineers explained procedures in applying for federal assistance for harbor improvements, but he emphasized that such requests should be on a commercial basis and not a request for a private marina. He also pointed out that cities which help themselves towards getting port improvements are most likely to get recognition and aid for their projects.

Phillips said tribute to Vande Water as a valuable man who knew all the important people at such a convention and was an able representative of Holland.

'JOE'S' BACK HOME — This is the kinkajou, familiarly known as a honey bear, that confused the Ottawa County Animal Shelter Wednesday for several hours as to its identity. 'Joe', the pet of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meyer, ran away from his home on 130th Ave. in Nunica Tuesday evening. Several hours later Ottawa County deputies received a call from a Mrs. Anderson on 130th Ave. near Coopersville reporting a strange animal in a tree near her home. Mrs. Anderson and Deputy Keith Averill coaxed Joe down from the tree where he was swinging by his tail and he was taken to the animal shelter where was picked up by his owners Wednesday afternoon. The kinkajou is a member of the raccoon family and a native of Mexico, Central and South America. The top photo shows Joe reaching for a piece of bread held by Mrs. Bert Nostrand, who, with her husband, operate the shelter. Below Joe turns his back and long tail on the photographer. 'Cavalcade of Song' Opens Concert Series Saturday

When Conductor Ralph Hunter brings the 18-man Ralph Hunter choir, the American mezzo soprano Carol Jones and an instrumental ensemble here in a "Cavalcade of Song" at 8 p.m. Saturday in Civic Center, local music lovers will find a program of the highest musical quality which nevertheless manages to appeal to many different musical tastes.

Saturday's concert launches the 1957-58 season of the Holland Civic Music Association which this year will feature seven concerts in Holland's Civic Center. The schedule follows: Cavalcade of Song, Oct. 5; Kovach and Rabovsky, ballet, Oct. 12; Jerome Hines, Jan. 27; Virtuosi Di Roma, Feb. 6; Robert Maxwell and His Rhythm Players, Feb. 22; Ruth Slenczynska, pianist, March 14; Blanche Thebom, April 8.

Saturday's program includes a sacred motet by the 16th century Italian Claudio Monteverdi who after several centuries of neglect is enjoying a return to popular favor. Franz Josef Haydn speaks for the 18th century German tradition, as Franz Schubert and Robert Schumann for the 19th. The first half of the program concludes with a dramatic presentation of an operatorio by one of the most distinguished living composers, Igor Stravinsky. The work is the seldom-performed "Oedipus Rex," for which Stravinsky himself has indicated high regard among his own works. Its appearance on "Cavalcade of Song" marks the first time that a dramatic version of this important work has toured America.

Since the program is intended for the pleasure of the audience and not as a thumbnail course in the history of music, no attempt has been made to present the music in the order in which it was written. The program jumps back in time with a group of stirring songs of the American Revolutionary era. The next group, in which the choir is again featured, moves forward a century in time to the cowboy songs and folk ballads which were the musical mirrors of the opening up of the west, America's age of expansion.

The finale is devoted to show music written both for Broadway and Hollywood by the late Jerome Kern.

Hunter does not apologize for offering Monteverdi and Jerome Kern in the same program. Like Robert Shaw, whose right hand man in the Collegiate Choral he was for many years, Hunter is equally at home in both music of the highest seriousness and that in the popular vein.

Mezzo Soprano Carol Jones, youngest of six children of a Chattanooga school principal, didn't start singing until she entered the University of Chattanooga from which she was graduated with a B.A. in music in 1943. She made her debut as Arzenica in "Il Trovatore" with the Chattanooga Opera Co. and continued to sing leading mezzo roles like Carmen with the company for four seasons. She made her concert debut as a soloist with the Robert Shaw Choral in a Carnegie Hall performance in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dunnevin of Central Park received a call Wednesday night from their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl (Duke) Dunnevin of La Sierra, Calif. announcing the birth of a son, born to them Oct. 2.

Annexation Vote is Set For Nov. 19

City Officials Hold Meeting in Lansing With State Officers

Word was received here late Wednesday from the Secretary of State's office designating Nov. 19 as date for Holland's annexation election involving parts of four townships surrounding the city.

No explanation was given for the change in the election date. In filing petitions, local leaders had requested election on Nov. 26.

The official information came in the form of three documents directed to City Clerk Clarence Grevengeod, one a letter, the second a notice of the election and registration, and the third a legal document from Secretary of State James M. Hare.

Similar notices also were sent to the clerks of the four townships involved, Holland, Park, Fillmore and Laketown, the latter two in Allegan county. Because the greater share of property lies in Ottawa county, the vote cast in the Nov. 19 election will be canvassed by the Ottawa County Board of Canvassers on Nov. 21.

City Manager Herb Holt, City Attorney James E. Townsend and Attorney Vernon D. Ten Cate and Peter S. Boter were in Lansing today to consult state department representatives on election procedures. The fact that the area under consideration lies in four townships and in two counties poses many legal technicalities.

Oct. 21 has been set as the final date for city and township voters to register for the special election.

Meanwhile, annexation leaders and opponents are getting their campaigns ready, and a lively election is anticipated. It is expected many public meetings will be held all through the districts and brochures and fact sheets will be freely circulated. Speakers' bureaus are being organized and strategies mapped.

The program calls for annexing parts of the four townships to Holland city involving about 40 square miles.

Holland woke up to the blasting of gunfire Tuesday as duck hunters welcomed a new hunting season — many of them in the swamps north of the city.

The duck season, excluding wood duck, geese, rails, coots, gallinules and jacksnipe opened in the Holland area at 6:13 a.m.

It was a beautiful, calm morning with a few fat ducks quacking sleepily to each other in the first light of dawn. Then the 6:13 deadline arrived, and the crashing of heavy artillery and the whistle of shot joined the now excited quackings.

Eager hunters waded through the swamp, hunters rowed through the swamp, hunters surrounded the high ground. On the whole, they weren't disappointed.

There were a lot of ducks, singly, in pairs and in flocks; rising, circling — and cartwheeling down into the grasp of hunters. Roast duck should be on the menu in quite a few Holland homes tonight.

Local hunters joined nearly 200,000 others throughout Michigan in what promises to be a generally good hunting season. This total is small, however, when compared with the 750,000 expected to invade the fields on the opening of the small game season on Oct. 21.

Hunting also opened at 6 a.m. in the northern Lower Peninsula on ruffed grouse, woodcock, rabbits, hares and squirrels. At the same time in the Upper Peninsula a season on the same game and sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chickens opened.

A statewide firearm season on bear and a general bow and arrow season on deer also opened, the latter in Allegan County, among other places. Special seasons in designated areas opened on raccoons, pheasants and woodchucks.

Game wardens warned hunters to consult the state game law digest for special regulations in the designated areas.

Bussard said the child involved had been examined by a physician and the examination disclosed that rape had not been done. This applies to a rape charge against Bobby Trosper, 21, of 206 East Main St., Zeeland, and Bussard said a motion will be made in Municipal Court to also dismiss his case.

Charles J. Hopkins, 28, of 8½ South River Ave., who pleaded not guilty Sept. 7 to a charge of beer to minor and contributing to the delinquency of a minor appeared in Municipal Court Tuesday and changed his plea to guilty. Council Okays Investments Of City Funds

Withholds Action Of General Policies For Trust Investments

City Council, at a special meeting late Friday afternoon, adopted a resolution authorizing reinvestment of more than $300,000 in Cemetery Perpetual Care funds, but hedged at adopting policies which would allow routine investments of city trust fund monies in U. S. securities without specific action on each occasion by Council.

The meeting was called by City Manager Herb Holt so that transfer might be made before Oct. 1 which would bring an additional $20,000 in interest in the next dozen years.

Specifically, the city treasurer was authorized to redeem $300,200 U. S. Savings Bonds series G and K before Sept. 30 and an additional $59,200 U. S. Savings Bonds series G and K before Oct. 31, and the city auditor was authorized to purchase approximately $275,000 in 4 percent U. S. Treasury Bonds maturing Oct. 1, 1969, and approximately $92,000 4 percent Treasury Notes maturing Aug. 15, 1962.

The new 4 percent Treasury Notes and Bonds will yield substantially more interest than the Series G and K bonds bearing interest at the rate of 2½ percent and 2.76 percent. The U. S. Government has discontinued issuance of G and K bonds.

Local bank officials were consulted on the proposed investment and in turn consulted investment counsels in Chicago, Manager Holt explained. Officials of both banks have agreed that the new investment plan is sound and it would be to the city's advantage to make this change at the present time.

Mayor Robert Vischer presided at the meeting which adjourned at 6:30 p.m. All Councilmen were present except Councilman Henry Steffens.

The first resolution adopting a general investment program subject to certain limitations was tabled, with Councilman Kouw dissenting. The second resolution dealing with specific cemetery funds was adopted unanimously.

Councilman Raymond Holwerda strongly defended what he termed was Council's right in making decisions and he felt investment powers should not be turned over to hired officials, even though restricted only of government investments.

Manager Holt felt that routine investments are an administrative matter and a technical matter. He felt that a city council is not an expert in the investment field nor required to be such an expert. He said experts should be "on tap" not "on top" and he felt the proposed program delegated sufficient authority for an efficient investment program.

Holwerda heartily agreed with the "on tap" term.

Heights Lists Speedy Backs

Osie Mc Carty and Tom O'Neill, Muskegon Heights backs slip into the same spots occupied last week by Jerry Wolski and Harry Allore of Muskegon Catholic.

And it will be Holland's job to stop these speedsters, something they couldn't accomplish last Saturday.

The Tigers will invade River-view Park Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Mc Carty, also well-known here for his basketball and baseball prowess, will be playing one of the halfbacks and O'Neill, who bothered the Dutch last year, will be at the other.

These two lads have paced the Tigers through the first two games a 19-13 win over Grand Rapids Union and an 18-7 beating of Alpena.

Jim Jackson, fullback, and Bob Norris, quarterback, round out the Tigers' backfield.

Coach Okie Johnson in his 31st year as Muskegon Heights coach, received a couple of setbacks this week when his two starting guards, Jim Herald and Ken Weaver, were forced out of the game with injuries.

"Happiness comes from within," Dr. Kenneth Hildebrand told his audience of members of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon in the opening meeting of the season. He pointed out the signposts on the road to "Achieving Real Happiness."

One of the wrong signposts is to think that if we have enough friends, homes, money and the superficial things of life we have found happiness, he said. In a survey taken recently, the most answers to the real source of happiness seemed to be money, the speaker said.

Some think that pleasant surroundings pleasant people to work with make for happiness, but that is not always the case. "Any woman can bring happiness out of life if she is worthy of happiness," he said.

It is a mistake to think we can ignore hardships, difficulty or sorrow in this life. There is no such thing as an "Ivory tower," Dr. Hildebrand said. "Too often we confuse happiness with pleasure. Perhaps we pursue it too aggressively."

If one is whole and mature, attuned with one's self and with one's God, he has that happiness from within, the speaker pointed out.

Dr. Hildebrand used three positive signposts in pointing the way — integration of personalities, giving a sense of meaning to our lives or "getting by giving," and a sense of fulfillment — being important to someone — the outreach of ourselves to others.

"We are happiest when we push our thoughts around, not let our thoughts push us around," he said. "The spirit and attitude of love which is outgoing with good will, no envy, no malice, love given freely, is the way to happiness."

A tea was given in the club tea-room preceding the meeting. The tea tables were attractively decorated with fall flowers and candles. Board members poured.

Mrs. Clarence Becker and club officers received members. Mrs. Joseph Borgman Jr. with Mrs. Carroll Norlin and Mrs. William Plum and Division III with Mrs. Kenneth Koolker and Mrs. Forrest Gibson were in charge of the tea. Mrs. Herbert Childress arranged the flowers.

Mrs. Becker presided at the opening of the 59th season of the club and introduced the speaker, Mrs. Elton Van Pernis read the club prayer.

Annexation Action Group Adds Members

A Citizens Steering committee, organized for the purpose of disseminating facts and information on Holland's proposed annexation program, held its first meeting Tuesday night in Peoples State Bank.

The group was enlarged to 12 members from the original six-member steering committee which drew final plans for the annexation program for which petitions were circulated a week or two ago. A date of Nov. 26 has been recommended for a public election in the four townships involved, and annexation leaders currently are awaiting word on such an election from the Secretary of State's office.

Serving on the original six-member steering committee were Clarence Jalving, Walter Vander Haar, Henry Kleinhekel, Willard H. Connor, John Van Dyke, Jr., and James Lugers.

On recommendation of both City Council and the Board of Education this group has been enlarged to include Jack P.ews, Ray Kootstra, E. C. Brooks, Marvin Lindeman, Otto Schaap and W. A. Butler.

Jalving will continue as chairman of the enlarged committee. Other officers are Ray Kootstra, vice chairman; Henry Kleinhekel, secretary, and E. C. Brooks, treasurer.

It was announced Tuesday night that funds for the distribution of fact sheets and other supplies are being obtained through private contributions.

The group plans to meet each Tuesday night.

The program calls for annexing portions of four townships to Holland city. Political annexation of these portions is the first step of a program which also involves consolidation of some 13 school districts in later action. Both city annexation and school reorganization have been under study for many months.

THIS IS NEWSPAPER WEEK

This is National Newspaper Week and if we tend to boast a little just now perhaps we may be indulged. For the newspaper, which regularly devotes itself to bring news and interpretation of news to your homes has a message of its own. We believe that message worthy of some attention.

The American newspaper occupies a unique place in the world. Its freedom to print is guaranteed by the Constitution. It has been considered from the beginnings of the Republic and from even before that — an essential instrument in the lives of the American people.

Its basic purpose has been and always will be the same: To tell the happenings of the day. Here the function is of particular importance in regards to the happenings of government, which is but an instrument of the people's will. Its next and almost inseparable function is to try to place the facts concerning these happenings in perspective — to give them meaning in the light of others events, past and present.

It has other important purposes — to serve as a medium for advertising, to entertain and amuse, to serve as a public forum.

You may, and undoubtedly do, on occasion become discouraged with your newspaper or even become angry with it. Yet it is an indispensable item for intelligent living, and in more cases than is generally realized it is the most constructive and most educational item in a family's existence.

Where newspapers are free from government restriction, as they are in the United States, you are free to select the reading matter of your choice. You are privileged to have a voice of protest. You are favored by having news of importance about you, personally, collected, verified and presented in readable and understandable form delivered to your home every day.

The modern newspaper is a swift and an accurate purveyor of important factual data and a medium of considered, moderate and enlightened opinion.

The newspapers of America set aside this week, therefore, to call attention to the services they perform. But more than that they set aside to remind themselves and their readers of the obligation they owe the American public.

It is their constant hope that the reading public will continue to trust the integrity of their services. It is their constant effort to maintain the standards which have made this nation, more than all others, a nation of newspaper readers.

National Newspaper Week, therefore, is not an occasion for self-praise by newspapers nearly so much as it is an occasion for self-appraisal. It is a time for newspapers over the land to rededicate themselves to the trust placed in them by the vast intelligent, progressive and enlightened American public.

Paul Writes to the Corinthians
1 Corinthians 1:1-3; 10-15; 21-25
by C. P. Dame

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.)

During the last quarter of this year we shall study three of Paul's epistles. There are 13 epistles of Paul in the New Testament. Two of the epistles we shall study were written to congregations and one to a person. Paul was much interested in the churches which he had founded and in the persons he had led to Christ and he was eager to see them grow spiritually.

I. The church is God's institution. Paul founded the church in Corinth. The story of its founding is recorded in Acts 18:1-17. He wrote the letter to the church in Corinth while he was working in Ephesus about the year 55 A.D. Corinth was a wicked, wealthy city, it was a shipping center, a business center, a financial center and the center of the worship of the goddess Venus.

In that corrupt city there was a young Christian Church established by Paul who calls himself "an apostle of Jesus Christ, through the will of God." Observe that Paul addresses the people in that church as "the church of God," and "as sanctified in Christ" and "as called to be saints." We know that this church was imperfect but in spite of its imperfections it was a Christian Church. People who want a church to be perfect ought to read 1 Corinthians and become more biblically minded. All Christians are called saints in the New Testament because they are set apart by God for him and his service.

II. Divisions in the church hurt. In the early church there were problems just the kind that trouble the church today. In Corinth there were several parties. Some of the members had been converted by the preaching of Paul, others through the ministry of Apollos, and some gave their loyalty to Peter. There have been parties in the church ever since Christianity got a foothold in Corinth. In some local congregations there are cliques, the one striving against the other. In some instances members remain closely attached to the minister who has left while others idolize the new man who has come.

In all his writings Paul commends unity. There have been far too many church members who glory in separations, schisms which have no biblical grounds at all. It seems so easy to attach ourselves to some human leader and forget the words of Jesus Christ our Divine Leader. Our many divisions have fostered weaknesses. It is better to work for unity than to make divisions and separations and promote cliques. We already have plenty of sects and denominations and therefore no one ought to think of beginning another one. Let us learn to love all believers in Christ and cooperate with all who love him.

III. God uses preaching to win people. Paul says that it pleased God "by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe." To the natural man the gospel is foolishness. Many object to the truth which the Bible teaches that God became a man. The other truth which is frowned upon is that the Son of God died for man's sins and that man by repenting and believing may become a child of God again. Both Jews and Greeks objected to the truths Paul proclaimed.

In spite of the objections raised Paul preached Christ crucified "unto the Jews a stumblingblock and unto the Greeks foolishness" and through his preaching converts were won. The wisdom of the world does not save men but the gospel does. Paul contrasts the wisdom of the world and the foolishness of preaching and the weakness of God and the strength of men. The foolishness of God surpasses in wisdom the cleverness of men and the so-called weakness of God is far stronger than the power of men. The preaching of the cross still gets results.

Zuverinks Off to Arizona After George's 'Best Year'

George Zuverink and his family will leave Holland Thursday on a leisurely trip to their new home in Scottsdale, Ariz., with thoughts of Zuverink's "best year in the majors" accompanying them.

The Baltimore Orioles pitcher, his wife Lorraine and their two children, Dawn and Donnie, plan an easy trip to the southwest, including visits at some of the scenic points of interest and Grand Canyon.

Zuverink returned to Holland Monday and spent today with the movers getting furniture moved from his Waukegan home. The Zuverinks have built a home in Scottsdale, and Zuverink will be employed with a real estate-insurance firm.

"This was my best year in the majors," Zuverink said, "and for several reasons." "I had my best won and lost mark (10-6) and finished third in earned run averages (2.47)."

"Also this year marked my fifth in the majors and I am now eligible for a baseball player's pension," Zuverink added. Zuverink appeared in 56 games this year to again top the American League in number of appearances. The figure was six less than 1956, when he also was first in the league.

He pitched 113 innings, 16 more than '56, and the most he's pitched since joining the Orioles in the middle of the '55 season. Zuverink hurled 203 innings for Detroit in 1954 and compiled a 9-13 mark. Chicago's Gerry Staley and Bob Shantz of New York were the two pitchers ahead of Zuverink in the ERA derby.

"I hope to stay with Baltimore next year," Zuverink said, "because (Manager Paul) Richards believes in me and he likes me." Zuverink expects several trades during the off-season involving Baltimore players. But he is quite sure he will remain with the Orioles.

Bob Elson, Chicago radio announcer, talked to Zuverink late in the season and reported the White Sox were interested in him. Zuverink will fly back to Holland next Friday to join Charley Maxwell's barnstorming tour. They will open Saturday in Pennville and will play 10 games throughout Michigan and northern New York. Following the tour, he will return to Arizona.

Ottawa County Farm News

Richard Machiele
County Agricultural Agent

In reply to the number of calls on lodging of corn in the county we find that disease called Gibberella root rot seems to be the cause of the corn going down at the present time. This disease can always be identified by a pinkish color in the root and joint. It is a disease that works on the joints which weakens it and if the ear is of any size or heavy and if a wind comes along the corn lodges badly.

We are in the process of finding out what can be done in this late stage of root rot. The early stages of root rot can be controlled by using a fungicide at the time of planting. The later incident of this disease is going to be harder to control. We will keep you informed in this column as to what might be done.

In checking our status in the Bangs Disease program we find the number of herds with infection is being decreased every month. There are at the present time only 26 dairy herds in this county that have infection with a total of 107 cows. With the county now being in position to be accredited we would like to encourage the disposal of any reactors just as soon as possible. I believe that the State Department will by January 1958 establish this county as a Plan A county in which all reactors will have to be disposed of at the time of identification. The delay of changing from Plan B to Plan A is to give herd owners an opportunity to establish their base with the infected cows they now have.

We have word from the Animal Husbandry Department, Michigan State University that entries for the Michigan Swine Feeding project are being accepted at this time. This project is one on feed. Pigs must be farrowed Aug. 1 or later.

They may be purebred, grade, or cross. Three or more pigs may be weighed into the project but at least six is recommended. Pigs must be weighed not to exceed 12 weeks of age and certified by a disinterested party such as the county agricultural agent, vo-og instructor. Pigs are again weighed at the end of the feeding period prior to Farmers Week. If they have made at least 1.4 lbs. per day they are eligible to show at Farmers Week contest.

We think this is an excellent project and would like to encourage our adult farmers F.F.A. and 4-H Club members to enroll. We will be glad to take your entry if you will send word to our office.

Again we would like to remind our farmers that when you finish planting wheat it is a good idea to burn or bury any surplus seed wheat that has been treated. Michigan law prohibits the sale of treated wheat. Last year the State Health Department condemned lots of wheat that was mixed with a small amount of treated seed wheat. Seed wheat that has been treated with mercury is poisonous not only to humans but to animals. So to protect yourself and others, it might be better to destroy it.

The date of the District Corn Field Day is October 10. On that date the corn plots will be harvested in Mecosta County. The farm is located in the southern part of Mecosta County somewhere in the Remus area. I am sure if you take the road between Six Lakes and Remus there will be directional signs along the way.

We have had fairly good success this past summer by using Dalapon in the control of quack grass. Quack Grass in two instances was sprayed about seven days before plowing on pickles and corn land with no apparent damage to either the corn or pickle crop. This kept the quack grass pretty well in control so that another application this fall will probably take it out for good.

It was also tried on raspberries and blueberries. A spring application worked quite successfully on red raspberries but it was unsuccessful on the black raspberry. The black raspberry did not develop a crop at all. The same was true with the blueberry plants. There was very little crop. However, the blueberries showed tremendous growth this past summer. If Dalapon is to be used on quack grass we would suggest applications be made in the fall preferably on new growth; that is clip it and let new growth come up and then treat it. Plow the field a week or ten days after spraying and it will improve the control. This material costs about $1 a pound and on a heavy infestation it will take about 15 pounds of Dalapon per acre to get control.

Peter Van Domelen III Weds Nancy Vogelsang

A fashionable wedding ceremony in Grace Episcopal Church, Grand Rapids, Saturday afternoon united in marriage Miss Nancy Ann Vogelsang and Peter Van Domelen III. Dr. Donald V. Carey, rector of the church, performed the double ring ceremony before the altar setting of bouquets of poms and gladioli and even branch candelabra. edged with seed pearls held her three-tiered fingertip veil of French illusion. The bridal bouquet was of white carnations and stephanotis centered with garnet roses in cascade style.

Miss Mary Kay Vogelsang, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a turquoise reversible satin gown styled in princess lines with a wide bateau neckline and bustle drape at the back of deeper turquoise. Her banded headress was of lighter turquoise. Happiness roses with turquoise angel feathers formed her crescent-shaped bouquet.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Walter McPhail of Pontiac, Mrs. Edward Helbing of Evanston, Miss Nancy Circle of Grand Rapids and Mrs. O. William Lowry Jr. of Grand Rapids. They wore dresses and headbands identical to the maid of honor in deeper shades of turquoise. Their flowers were also similar.

Catholic Runs Around Dutch In 42-0 Rout

MUSKEGON (Special) — A football dynasty is being built at Muskegon Catholic Central High School and just as it is reaching its peak, it hit Holland.

Three years ago, with the establishment of the new high school, the Catholic football machine came into being. During the last two seasons, they have been developing a unit. Now they have arrived.

The Crusaders swamped Holland 42-0 before 4,000 fans at Muskegon Catholic Stadium Saturday night. Last week MCC opened with a 47-6 walloping of Grand Haven.

Right now they are the "sleeper" among state prep powers but in a few more weeks, their lightning, cobra-like speed will be the talk of Michigan.

Their offense is speed and their defense is speed. They have sacrificed size for speed.

Holland felt it for the first of seven times in the initial three minutes of play, Harry Allore, 5'8" 151-pound left halfback, on the eighth play of the game tore around end for 22 yards and a touchdown.

Four minutes later the Crusaders struck again. Jerry Wolski, 5'10" 155-pound fullback, caught a Holland punt on his own 20, let his blocking form in front of him, and then took off down the sidelines for 80 yards. Rather than rush the punter, the Crusaders put two men on each Holland end, while the others dropped back to form the blocking wedge. And with shoulder blocks, they knocked down the Dutch.

With 2:21 to go in the quarter, Wolski shot off tackle, after Holland had punted out on the Catholic 35, and was again off to the races. One in the secondary, he picked up speed and romped home.

Dick Pasco, 5'8", 155-pound sub halfback, cracked the center for a yard with two minutes gone in the second quarter for the fourth touchdown and the climax to a 55-yard four-play drive.

The final first half TD came with 47 seconds to go. Dick Rosenberg, 5'7", 152-pound sub half, raced around left end for 27 yards to culminate an 85-yard 11-play drive. This made the halftime score 30-0.

Holland, playing much improved over its opener with Creston, started its only drive of the game in the third period and moved from Dutch 24 to the Catholic 28, the deepest penetration, in 13 plays. Holland was helped by two 15-yard personal foul penalties.

The Dutch failed to make a first down and Allore, on the initial play, was through right tackle on a trap play and gone for 72 yards and the sixth tally with 2:28 to go in the third period.

Catholic's final score came with 33 seconds left in the game on a 21-yard run by Allore. The Crusaders drove to the Dutch six, two plays earlier, in the series which started on the Catholic 45. A clipping penalty moved the ball to the 21 where Allore went over. The winners failed to make one conversion.

Holland lost 17 yards in the first half while the Crusaders picked up 284 rushing. In the second half, the Dutch made 21, to come out with four yards ahead while the winners had 198 on the ground.

The Dutch, although out-gunned from the start, did not stop battling throughout the game. They displayed more aggressiveness than in the Creston defeat. But they couldn't cope with the hard-charging Catholic line.

Bob Visschers' punting aided the Dutch most. He got away ten boots for 306 yards. The return of Paul Elenbaas at quarterback helped the Dutch offense and especially the passing game.

Holland returns to Riverview Park Friday night to play unbeaten Muskegon Heights at 7:30 p.m. The Tigers stopped Alpena 18-7 last Friday for their second win.

Describes Tour At Aid Meeting

"Summer Reminiscences", a rapid-fire tourist's eye view of Europe, delighted 80 members and guests of Trinity Ladies' Aid society Wednesday night as Mrs. Dora Zusscher, a member of the group, described her seven-week summer tour of the continent.

Injecting humorous sidelights into her diary of travel, Mrs. Zusscher made her audience feel as if they, too, were reliving the vacation. Typical feminine interests such as bright geraniums blooming in the windows of Netherlands' housewives, washings fluttering from Italian balconies and stiff starched ruffled collars of English choirboys added color to her descriptions of historic places and customs of each country she visited.

Interesting to an American tourist were the all-American band concert played on the Fourth of July and a gala "Firecracker" dessert bearing a tiny American flag, she said. Highlights of the scenic beauties for Mrs. Zusscher included the rolling English countryside, Churchill's boyhood home surrounded by wooded estate lands, the lacey evergreens in the Swiss Alps and the architectural magnificence of the palace at Versailles.

Shipboard experiences also proved entertaining to the audience who enjoyed hearing of Mrs. Zusscher's serving tea to Prince Tonga, en route to visit Queen Elizabeth, and the amusing hat parade.

Program arrangements were made by Mrs. Rein Visscher and Mrs. Elton Eenigenburg. Devotions were led by Mrs. Clifton Dalman who used the beauty of God's world as her theme. Hostesses were the Mesdames Jacob Westerhoff, Harvey Barkel, Ted Boot and Richard Borr.

Members of the Holland group who attended a recent rally at Nashville, Mich. were Mrs. Douglas Harmsen who is president of the Eighth District; Mrs. Richard Volkers, its secretary and Mrs. Clifford Dengler, its patriotic instructor. Mrs. Robert Beckman and Mrs. Roos. The next rally on Dec. 7 will be held in Holland. Mrs. Ted Berkey and Mrs. Donna Bradley served lunch. The next meeting will be held on Oct. 10.

Scots Score On Long Pass To Win, 14-13

ALMA (Special) — Hope College's football team will work on pass defense this week in preparation for its Saturday game at Northern Michigan after a second half Alma College aerial attack, climaxed in the final two minutes, beat the Dutch here, 14-13 Saturday night in the MIAA opener for both teams.

The Scots with seasoned quarterback Dick Ayling doing the pitching, completed a 20-yard pass in the final 1:40 of the game to hand Hope its first loss and put them, on the wrong side of the ledger in MIAA play.

Ayling was rushed and finally heaved the ball from the Hope 40. He hit halfback Len Fase, who had sneaked behind the Hope defenders, deep in the end zone for the tying point. Ron Murray's conversion won the game.

In the time remaining, Hope quarterback Jack Faber tried four long passes, three incomplete and the fourth was picked off by Alma.

Faber has similar success with his passing throughout the game. He tried 11 and completed only one, for nine yards. Ayling threw 17 and hit on 10 for a total of 113 yards.

Hope can expect more of the same Saturday because Northern's quarterback Tom Schwalbach led the Michigan college passers last season as a freshman.

The Dutch opened the scoring in the first four minutes of the game. Guard Bill Huibregtse pounced on fullback Pat Brady's fumble on the Alma 27 and a few plays later right halfback Jerry Hendrickson squirmed over tackle from four yards out for the touchdown. Huibregtse made the extra point.

Hope led at half 7-0 but a fumble on the Hope 25 by Ron Bekius, Hope fullback, early in the third quarter, set up the first Alma touchdown. Brady plunged over from the one and Murray tied the score with his kick.

Ken (Mick) Faber blocked an Alma kick later in the period to set up the second Hope touchdown. He drowned the ball on the Scot two and Jack Faber sneaked through center for the touchdown. Huibregtse missed the kick.

Hope's offensive ground game made 190 yards with fullback trap playing up the center working the best. Starting fullback Ron Wetherbee picked up 82 yards in 18 carries to lead the Dutch while his replacement, Bekius, was next high with 48 yards in 10 carries. The Scots, with Brady lugging the ball 16 times for 48 yards and halfback Virgil Adkins 10 times for 40 yards, made 113 yards rushing, identical to their passing total.

Ayling, who was ineligible last season because he had transferred to Northern Michigan, displayed throughout why he is one of the top signal callers in the MIAA. With Ayling in the lineup, Coach Art Smith's team may well better their 1956 fifth place finish.

It marked the first time in four years the Scots have defeated Hope. The 1953 championship Dutch team was the last unit to lose.

Hope will play Northern Michigan at Marquette, Michigan, Saturday night at 8 p.m.

Holland VFW Wins Tourney

The Holland VFW softball team, behind the three-hit pitching and hitting of Lum Veldman, blanked the Hudsonville Merchants, 4-0 and won the Class A Zeeland softball tournament championship at Legion Field.

Veldman's home run in the fourth inning over the center field fence was the Vets first run. They added one more in the fifth and two for good measure in the top of the seventh.

Rog Beckman beat out an infield hit in the fifth, stole second, and came home on two errors. Al Glupker walked in the seventh, stole second, took third on a wild pitch and scored when the catcher dropped Lee Veldman's third strike. Veldman became a baserunner and tallied on an infield out.

The winners made four hits off Perk Hamming with Lum and Lee, Glupker and Beckman each getting one. Don Hoetee, Hamming and Earl Veldman each had a hit for the Merchants.

Veldman struck out nine men and Hamming fanned seven.

The Zeeland Merchants edged North Hudsonville, 2-0 in a nine-inning Class C game. The two runs scored in the top of the ninth on three infield hits, a fielder's choice, an error and an outfield fly.

The winners made five hits and North Hudsonville, four. The loser's Owen Aukema fanned 16 while the winner, Al Riemersma, struck out 11.

"The Little Rock situation can't help but have a bad press in European newspapers," a Dutch editorial writer for the Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant said during a visit to Holland, Mich., Saturday.

Jerome L. Holding, one of the foreign editors for the Rotterdam newspaper, currently on a month-long lecture tour of American cities for the Netherlands Information Service, expected the Little Rock integration story would be used to a great degree by the Communists, currently at a low point because of world reaction to the Hungarian situation and because there have been many confusing changes in top Russian personnel.

"If I were to explain to the Dutch people what happened in Little Rock, I would start out by reviewing the progress already made in integration in the south, pointing out that quiet progress never makes headlines. Once a single incident is put into context, people can understand it better," the visitor said.

Commenting on the Little Rock situation would normally fall into Holding's assignments. Since he lived in the United States for four years in the early 1950's as press officer and later as director of the NIS in New York, he has a better knowledge of American news than others on the Rotterdam staff.

In explaining the United States to European readers, he aims to dispel certain misconceptions about America. The most prevalent misconceptions, he said, are that Americans are materialistic and that there is a lack of culture here. After living in America four years, Holding does not agree and tells his Dutch readers so.

He said the American education system is always a target, but more and more there is greater understanding. He said more and more European educators realize that the continental system is too academic and that more practical subjects are needed, but it is a difficult barrier to break down. For Europeans to understand America, he advocated a free exchange of teachers and scholars, and professional and key people.

Holding believes Russian aggression has diminished but international Communism as a subversive force is not to be taken lightly. He believes the party as a whole has lost a lot of prestige, mainly disrupted by Russia itself. He said the Hungarian situation has had a terrific effect on other countries and believes Russian Communism currently is at the lowest point of its effectiveness. "But nobody is complacent about it," he added.

One reason for Europe's happier frame of mind is that there is no unemployment except possibly in Italy, the result of a fine recovery in the 12 years since World War II.

But overpopulation is a growing problem which prompts emigration. "We are a country of 11 million people in 13,000 square miles about one-quarter the size of your state of Michigan. Your big country has an average of 42 persons per square mile whereas we have 876 per square mile. No wonder there is need for emigration."

In Holland, Holding was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Willard C. Wichers. Before coming to Holland he visited Detroit, Ypsilanti and Grand Rapids. From here he goes to Chicago, Dubuque and Cedar Rapids, Ia., Cincinnati, Nashville and Tampa, Fla.

His lectures usually point up international policies and economics, but he said there is a tremendous interest in America in European unity and its program for a European capital in Strasbourg. Generally, he is inclined to be discouraged over European unity not only because of language and money barriers but also religious, political and economic backgrounds.

"In America you have the same money, same trade and a certain common oral attitude, with some regional variations. If you don't like the climate in Michigan it's quite possible for you to move to California and you'll find the same products in the stores. But a Dutchman can't move to Italy like that... it just isn't done."

Holding gave one more insight into continental living. "In Europe, there is no such thing as a European. We're either Dutch, German, French, English, Italians, but we never use the term European. Non-Americans, yes, but not Europeans!"

Carol Ham, historian; Lorraine Hellenga, Women's Activity League representative; Barbara Emmick and Mary Ann Klaaren, Pan-Hellenic Board representatives; Betty Fell, Student Council representative; Nancy Long, sergeant-at-arms.

A house party was held Sept. 11 to approve the constitution and accept the formal crest and creed. The name, Alpha Gamma Phi, means "Friendship, the Anchor of Our Strength." Plans are in process for a Homecoming luncheon, a date night and formal installation of the sorority members.

Charter members are Barbara Emmick and Joan Roos, both of Holland; Virginia Top of Hamilton; Ruth Van Der Meulen of Zeeland;

Annexation Vote Open To Everybody

In answer to many questions voiced on the forthcoming annexation election, City Attorney James E. Townsend Friday clarified the voting processes as he interprets them according to state law.

Townsend said the vote within the annexing area will be kept separate from the vote in outlying township areas. Holland city also will vote on annexation and its ballots will be counted with the vote of the outlying areas.

The proposed annexing area vote will be counted separately and the remainder of the votes will be lumped and counted together. Both must have simple majorities in order for annexation to win.

Townsend said all voting would be in the usual places and the annexation election in the townships would be under the direction of township clerks. It would be up to the election inspectors in each township to keep the votes separated on the basis of registration records.

All voters who are qualified and registered may cast votes in the annexation vote. The "freeholder" or property owner restriction was only effective on signing the initial petitions.

Crash Injures Ex-Holland Man

A former Holland resident and Hope College graduate, Dr. Edwin Heneveld of Muskegon, was injured and Dr. John VanderLaan, 41, of Muskegon, was killed in a plane crash in the fog in Washington state Friday night.

William R. Sutton, 38, Muskegon Heights pharmacist, was also killed in the crash while Dr. Emerit Lange, Muskegon dentist, was injured.

According to reports, the four were returning from a Canadian fishing trip. The crash occurred about 20 miles south of Grand Coulee Dam and 80 miles west of Spokane, Wash.

Dr. VanderLaan, a 1936 Hope College graduate, was piloting his Cessna 180 en route to Spokane and evidently tried to go under a rain storm and slammed into a hill which was obscured by heavy fog.

Dr. Heneveld, who graduated from Hope in 1935, and Dr. Lange were treated for multiple cuts, bruises and shock. They were reported badly shaken emotionally and hiked five miles to the farm home of Mrs. George Menke to report the accident.

Dr. John Heneveld of Muskegon, brother of Edwin and former Holland resident, was another member of the 10-man fishing party but was traveling by car.

Operations of the Better Business Bureau to protect legitimate business and the public were outlined Tuesday noon at the regular luncheon meeting of the Zeeland Rotary Club. A. G. Atkins of the Grand Rapids branch of the BBB was the speaker. He was introduced by George H. Allen, program chairman.

Atkins reported that there are 110 branches of the BBB in the nation. The organization was founded 45 years ago by advertising men to substantiate advertising and to combat false advertising. Eighty percent of the work of the bureau is dissemination of information, the speaker said. He said the BBB works with the trade associations and sets rules of conduct in the sales advertising for automobiles, real estate, and other commodities. Some of the rules include the requirement that the dealer must have the advertised merchandise on hand, and list prices on the merchandise must be realistic and not used to create false values for cut-rate advertising. Bait advertising is vigorously combated, he said.

The speaker pointed out that as the result of activities of his organization permits must be secured for solicitation in Grand Rapids. He also pointed out that "earn money at home" schemes are seldom profitable. He urged use of the BBB's information to guide business men and the public and prevent their being "fleece-d."

"That's our job," he concluded. At the devotional period in Zeeland High school the Rev. Donald Brandt led the song service and presented the message on "The Christian and Cheer." Scripture passages were taken from Matthew 9:2; 14:27 and John 16:33. Gilbert Van Wyne gave each of the 78 members of the Bible Club a free copy of "Youth for Christ" magazine.

Eagles Lose League Game

HUDSONVILLE (Special) — Two quick third period touchdowns put Hudsonville back in the game here Friday night but missed conversions after both scores gave Comstock Park a 13-12 win over the Eagles in the opening Keweenaw League game.

A 70-yard pass play in the first two minutes of the second half gave Hudsonville its first touchdown after Comstock Park had taken a 13-0 first half lead. Quarterback Ron Vander Molen passed from his own 30 to left half Don Raterink on the Comstock 40. Raterink outraced the pursuers. The kick was missed.

Raterink also scored the second touchdown, a 20-yard end sweep. The tally had been set up by two long passes. Vander Molen completed one to end Gerald Brower from the Eagle 45 to the Panther 35. This was followed by a pass from Raterink to Brower to the Comstock 20. Raterink had taken a pitch out from Vander Molen to start the play.

Halfback Rodney Denhardt scampered 45 yards around left end in the first quarter to give Comstock the lead. He kicked the extra point, which proved to be the only conversion in the contest.

Quarterback Dick Howlett scored the second Comstock touchdown in the second quarter on a three-yard sneak. The play was set up by a 20-yard pass from Howlett to Denhardt which put the ball on the Eagle 23.

Jack Mc Duffee stood out for Hudsonville at tackle. He was in on almost every tackle and recovered a fumble to set up the second Hudsonville score. Ralph Veldman also looked good as a center and linebacker for the Eagles.

The win gives Comstock Park a 1-0 league record and the Eagles 0-1. Hudsonville hosts Coopersville in a league game next Friday night.

Brower faced 23 men, walked two and fanned 14. His foe, Perk Hamming, struck out 14 and allowed five hits.

In Class C competition, North Hudsonville stopped Forest Grove, 8-2. The winners made six hits off Tom Visser while Owen Aukema allowed five. Heinie's Texaco of Grand Rapids defeated Jenison Trinity, 7-2 in another Class C game. Moorman was the winning pitcher and gave up four hits while Meidema, the loser, fanned six.

Ray Schaap, tourney director, checked his scrapbook Thursday on the Zeeland softball association and came up with a few more facts on the 19-inning game which was surpassed Wednesday by the Holland VFW-Grand Rapids Teamsters 29-frame affair.

The Zeeland Sunoco's won the Aug. 28, 1947 game, 1-0 in the 19th inning. Duck Blaaukamp was the winning pitcher, gave up four hits and struck out 26.

Lum Veldman, who won the Wednesday game when the Teamsters refused to go back on the field in the 30th, after 29 scoreless innings, was the losing pitcher in the '47 game.

Pitching for Besteman Produce, Veldman allowed two hits, one in the first and one in the 19th. He struck out 33 men.

Holland Reserves Drop Game to Catholic Team

Holland High's reserve team dropped a 22-12 decision to the Muskegon Catholic reserves Friday night under the lights at River-view Park.

It was the second straight loss for the Little Dutch who were forced to play the second half without the services of left half Ron Maat, who received a severe cut on the nose which required several stitches.

The Crusaders scored first on Chuck Murray's 12-yard pass to Lindale. Bill Kesteloot kicked the extra point.

Maat put Holland back in the first quarter with a 19-yard dash but the conversion attempt was missed giving the winners a 7-6 halftime advantage.

Catholic scored early in the third period on a 15-yard run by Pasco following a blocked punt. Blanshine converted. Soon afterward, the Crusaders scored again on a two-yard plunge by Murray. The conversion was not good.

The winners completed their scoring in the fourth period with a safety. Holland's Ron Ten Brink was tackled in the Dutch end zone after he fumbled on an attempted punt.

Bruce Van Dyke, Holland quarterback, picked up a fumble out of the air and scampered 60 yards to score.

Holland had six first downs to Catholic's seven. The Dutch picked up a total of 180 yards, 160 rushing and 20 passing, to Catholics 148, 86 rushing and 62 in the air.

The winners fumbled four times and lost the ball twice while Holland bobbled three times and lost the ball twice. The Dutch made four good punts and had one blocked. Catholic punted four times.

Coach Loy Lovitt was pleased with the first half play but felt Maat's injury caused the team "to get their daddies down and they didn't recover for five or six minutes. By that time it was too late to pull the game out," Lovitt said.

Police Hunt Tools Thief

State police are still investigating the theft of $1,500 worth of precision tools stolen from the Peninsular Engineering and Machine Co. near Saugatuck last week, but the tools are now said to be not quite as radioactively dangerous as first reported.

State police now quote R. J. Warrington, owner of the plant, as saying that he had used the tools on just a few samples of uranium, and the cobalt he used was in its "raw" or non-radioactive form.

No new leads are reported by the police in their investigation. It is still believed that entry was gained by forcing the lock on the front door, perhaps with a slender knife blade.

The precise amount of danger involved in contact with the tools cannot be determined without tests, Warrington told State police, but he believes that there is still a danger of slight burns.

Holland Harriers Stop South Haven

Holland High's cross-country team won its first meet of the season and evened its season's record at 1-1 with a 19-44 win over South Haven Friday afternoon at the American Legion Memorial Park.

Other Holland runners in the first 15 were: Jerry Wildschut (7); Ted Walters (8); Dave Wehrmeyer (9); Dave Maris (12); Jim Bos (14) and John Fisher (15).

Holland coach Rob Connell ran 23 boys in the meet. The Dutch ran at home next Wednesday against Benton Harbor. South Haven is coached by Ron Den Uyl, former Holland High and Hope College cross-country star.

Church Plans New Addition To House 300

The First Methodist Church is planning to build a new educational building east of the present structure. The new building will accommodate 300 children and youth in church school. The preliminary plans for the building have been drawn up by local architects.

The guiding thought in planning the proposed new educational building was to achieve an inspirational building, one which would complement the present church building and any new church building which may someday occupy the site, and one which would provide the space and facilities to meet the needs of the Church School and of many other parts of the church program.

The new building has been designed according to the standards put forth by the National Council of Churches. Space has been provided for nursery, kindergarten, primary, intermediate and senior departments of the Church School. In addition there are facilities for church administration: a library, pastor's study, secretary's office with work alcove, office and lobby.

The Intermediate and Senior departments are open and are clustered together on one floor, together with a wall kitchen to function as a youth center. This space is planned to be divided with folding partitions for Church School use. The building is planned to provide ample light and ventilation to make all spaces pleasant. Inspirational features of the exterior design are the vertical window strips and the crosses on the front wall.

Dr. Alexander Stewart, a representative of the Department of Finance and Field Service of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, will lead the congregation in making a canvass of the church membership. Dr. Stewart met with a group of the church members on Sept. 24 to make preliminary plans. He will return to Holland to guide the canvass to be held from Oct. 13 to 20, and will preach on the morning of Oct. 13. Pledges will be taken for a 15-week period and funds raised will be used to fulfill the long felt need for the new educational building.

Storms Delay Ocean Vessel

Because of severe storms on the North Atlantic the last several weeks, the ocean-going vessel S. S. Marisco, scheduled to arrive in Holland Monday with 148 Isotta automobiles, has been delayed about three weeks.

Severe storms prevented the ship from entering the harbor at Munich, Germany, and caused delays on shipping schedules for all freighters.

Doering Imported Cars, Inc., of Grand Rapids, believes there may be a three-week delay in the arrival of the Marisco of Talabot Shipping and Trading, Ltd., of Montreal, Canada.

The arrival of the ocean-going ship will be the first in Holland Harbor in more than 10 years. During Centennial year in 1947 a ship arrived from the Netherlands bearing gifts for the local centennial celebration.

The Marisco is scheduled to tie up at the Harrington docks and will unload 47 small foreign cars, sending the remainder to Chicago. Some of the cars will be put in storage in Holland for a time.

The Holland port was selected in preference to Muskegon because of its proximity to Grand Rapids and because of better highways in the area.

NEWSPAPER WEEK—The week of Oct. 1-8 has been proclaimed National Newspaper Week throughout America, and the theme this year is "Your Newspaper Serves." Not a small part of this service is the delivery of your hometown newspaper daily to your door. Here, 15-year-old Roger Klunge is representative of the more than 100 news carriers who daily deliver The Holland Evening Sentinel. Roger, who lives at 56 West 27th St., was a substitute newspaperboy for three years and has now operated his own route for two months.

Visit Sentinel Office During National Newspaper Week

It's National Newspaper Week this week, and all people interested in newspaper publications are invited to drop in at The Sentinel office to see how a modern newspaper operates. Official dates are Oct. 1-8.

Publisher W. A. Butler said the best time to visit is between 2 and 3 p.m. This will give people an opportunity to see the new 40-page press in the new addition which has been in operation since last spring.

The theme of Newspaper Week this year is "Your Newspaper Serves." Most people take newspapers pretty much for granted, but a few have become acutely aware of what it is like to live in a city without a newspaper. These are the folks in the communities where a strike or disaster to the plant has temporarily caused a newspaper to cease publication.

In these few cases many have come to appreciate the value of a newspaper to a community in general and to individuals in particular. Reports from such towns reveal that the loss affects no two persons alike, but that everyone has certain particular interests in this week, and all people interested in newspaper publications are invited to drop in at The Sentinel office to see how a modern newspaper operates. Official dates are Oct. 1-8.

Editors and publishers who are responsible for the contents of newspapers are very much aware that the first part of the word "newspaper" is news. They know that every community has a right to expect a full and honest weekly or daily accounting of events.

But while the principal function is to tell the news, another department enjoys a greater public following. Readership studies, a kind of scientific probing into reading habits, show that 78 percent of the women and 82 percent of the men follow the cartoons and comic strips day after day. But entertainment is not confined to the "funnies" alone. The human interest and feature stories, particularly with a humorous twist, are much sought after by editors and appreciated by readers.

Optimist Ken Scripsma accepted the chairmanship of the Community Chest for the club.

Explorers Plan Camping Trip

A wilderness camping trip during the Thanksgiving weekend in November will highlight the fall program of the Explorer posts and crews of the Chippewa district.

Several events are planned by each Explorer group to supplement the district program and they will include social, outdoor, service and vocational activities. Special training for Explorer leaders will be held Nov. 14 through Dec. 12. Miner Meindersma, Lester Douma, Ben Mulder and Richard Wilson are in charge of the planning session.

The radar unit will be operated five days a week, day and night in residential and school areas, Hempel said, in an effort primarily designed to protect school children.

Christian Schools Okay Record $800,000 Budget

Members of the Holland Christian School society approved spending of over $800,000 in an important annual meeting held in the high school gymnasium, Monday night. From a financial standpoint, it was the biggest outlay of funds ever approved by the local school society at one time.

Included in the record figure was the adoption of a $500,958.28 budget for the 1957-58 school year. Besides this half million total, the society okayed final plans and specifications for the erection of two new grade schools at a total cost of $295,000, excluding equipment.

In addition, approval was granted to renovate and to provide two additional high school laboratories at an approximate cost of $35,000. One final outlay of money was granted to purchase the C. Koetser property at 46 West 20th St. which the school now has under option. Purchase of this property was deemed wise in view of a possible future expansion of high school facilities.

A breakdown of the budget figures shows $343,945 set aside for instructional expense, $21,360 for administrative, $50,720 for maintenance. A total of $65,000 was earmarked for the debt retirement and interest fund.

On the receipt side of the budget, the bulk is expected to come from tuition at a $337,310 figure. Other receipts figured are $84,000 from the sustaining membership plan, $55,000 from churches, $16,000 from school groups, circles and ladies aids and $8,000 from rentals and special gifts.

Included in the new budget figure was a sizeable tuition increase approved by the society, Monday night.

Treasurers of the various funds briefly outlined their reports, including Gerald Appleborn, general fund; Russel Fredricks, sustaining membership and James Zwier, building fund. Jerry Jonker, chairman of the finance committee presented the budget.

The two new schools will be located on the South and the North side of the city, just outside the limits. Purchase of this property was approved at a special meeting of the society held this summer.

The new schools will have six standard size classrooms, accommodating about 35 pupils per room. Lockers will not be provided in the classrooms but in the corridors. In addition to the regular classroom there will be a much larger kindergarten room with separate washroom facilities and a direct exit to the playground.

A new feature of these grade schools in comparison to both the West and South Side Christian schools will be combination all purpose room - gymnasium, 40 feet by 60 feet. This room would serve as a lunch room, assembly hall, and for physical education. Also included will be a principal's office, teachers' lounge, washrooms, boiler room and various storage rooms.

Benjamin Altena, chairman of the planning committee, presented the plans for adoption. He said it was the hope of the board, that both schools, which would be constructed simultaneously, could be completed by next September. He also reported that the preliminary plans make future expansion of these schools possible without difficulty.

Five new board members were elected for three year terms. They include Donald Branderhorst, Dr. Robert De Haan, the Rev. Gerald Vanden Berg, Gerald Van Wyke and William De Mols. John Bouwman was elected for a two year term.

Supt. Bert P. Bos distributed an abridgement of his annual report to the board and commented briefly on various items. John Veltkamp, president of the board, served as chairman. The Rev. Martin Bolt of the Harderwyk Christian Reformed church closed the meeting with prayer.

Rev. Raymond Denekas

Local Pastor Accepts Call To Annville

The Rev. Raymond Denekas, pastor of Calvary Reformed Church for the past 5½ years, has accepted a call to be minister at Annville Reformed Church, in Annville, Ky., and to teach Bible courses in the Institute which is supported by the Reformed Church in America.

Rev. and Mrs. Denekas and their two children, Carol, 12, and Jimmie, 8, will leave Oct. 7 for Kentucky. Rev. Denekas will preach his farewell sermon Sunday night, and the congregation will hold a farewell reception for the family Friday night.

The local church was organized in September, 1951, with 32 families. Rev. Denekas came the following spring. During the period he served the church, a new church building and parsonage were built. The church now numbers 113 families.

Rev. Denekas was born in German Valley, Ill., and was graduated from Central College at Pella, Ia., and Western Seminary. His first charge was in Lennox, S.D., before coming to Holland. In Annville, he will succeed the Rev. Cornelius Muyskens who has gone to Forreston, Ill.

The Annville Institute where he will teach was organized more than 50 years ago as a domestic mission by the Reformed Church, but it is only in the last 10 to 15 years that the place has become readily accessible by modern roads. It was organized not only as a Christian training school but to provide secondary education. The system is patterned after Berea College which combines work and study. It has a large farm.

Annville is one of several Reformed mission stations in Jackson county, Ky. Annville is the educational center, McKee is the county seat and Grayhawk is one of the older missionary developments. A fourth mission was organized last year at Sinking Valley, Ky., and the Rev. Jerry Boogard is minister there now.

Worthington Memorial Health Center which serves most of Jackson county is located in Annville. Dr. John Rypstra, also a Hope graduate, is associated with the center.

During his years in Holland, Rev. Denekas has been particularly interested in youth work and has served on the Area Youth Council. He was secretary of the Holland Ministerial Association for four years and for the past year has served as chairman of the ministerial radio committee which provides speakers for morning meditation programs on both radio stations. He also served on the Temple Time committee as well as member of the Central College board.

Mrs. Denekas is the former Edith Mooi of Holland. She likely will teach on the released time education work of the public schools in Annville. The Denekas children will attend the Institute.

More Chest Aides Named By Wheeler

Kenneth Wheeler, campaign director of Holland's Community Chest this year, Tuesday announced appointment of division chairmen to assist in the annual drive which opens officially Oct. 21.

David C. Hanson, Wheeler's co-chairman, will head the industrial committee which operates outside of the Single Solicitation Plan. The latter organization in which close to 60 local firms match gifts from employees will open its drive Oct. 7. In fact, all industrial Community Chest work will start that day.

Raymond Helder will head the business and professional group and Mayor Robert Visscher will contact national concerns. Earl Borlace will be chairman for the schools and colleges committee and Ray Riedsma will head public employees.

Mrs. Kenneth Leggett and Mrs. Dean Thompson will head the home solicitation division in which hundreds of women will canvass Holland and its suburban area in a mop operation starting Oct. 28. A kickoff coffee kletz for these volunteers is scheduled Friday, Oct. 25, at 1:30 p.m. in the Warm Friend Tavern.

Frank D. Kleinheksel will head a special gifts committee, a new division added this year.

Emphasis will be in "Fair Share" giving this year, pointing out that Holland's Community Chest covers eight local agencies and the Michigan United Fund which supports 33 agencies alone.

Many persons have asked how much money actually reaches the agency for which gifts are intended. Executive Secretary Riener Van Til says the average national expense for fund raising is 12 percent. Some campaigns have been known to take 25, 40 and 50 percent of each dollar before the money is spent in terms of service to the community. In contrast to the national average, the United Fund expenses amount to 3 percent.

Holland does even better. Last year the campaign expenses including year-round administrative expenses amounted to less than 2 percent of the local budget.

Community Chest leaders are advocating ¼ to ½ percent of a person's total income, ¼ percent if below $5,000 and ½ percent if above $5,000. A person earning $4,000 a year should think in terms of a $10 contribution whereas one earning $6,000 should consider around $30.

Elect Zeeland Man Officer

PETOSKEY,

Petoskey City Manager Ernest L. Neumann Friday was named president of the Michigan Municipal Utilities Assn., succeeding Thomas Moore of Lowell.

Leon A. Sears, Zeeland, was elected vice president, and Charles Wilson, Clinton, named to the association's board of directors.

James L. Grahl, director of the atomic energy service of the American Power Assn., urged communities delaying construction of power plants while awaiting further developments in the atomic power generating field to build conventional generating plants.

But Grahl suggested communities merge their power generating facilities in preparation for the time when atomic generating plants become more economical.

He said electricity produced at the Argonne laboratory's atomic-power generator in Chicago cost 52 mills a kilowatt hour—far more than current costs.

Grahl predicted electricity consumption will have increased 20 times the current rate by 200.

Funeral services were held in Grand Haven Monday for Edward (Jack) Murphy, 25, who died of leukemia Friday morning in University Hospital in Ann Arbor. His father, who is critically ill with a heart condition in Mercy Hospital in Muskegon, formerly operated Murphy's Tavern on US-31 between Holland and Grand Haven.

Francis Branigan officiating. Burial was in Grandview Memorial Gardens in Grand Haven township.

Murphy's illness was first discovered on the day he was graduated from the College of Commerce at Notre Dame in February, 1955. Mail Carrier Takes It Easy

Through the rain, the snow, and the sleet, and overcoming obstacles such as barking dogs, roller skating on sidewalks, and even baby goats in mailboxes, the mail goes through.

This, in short, is the motto of that reliable man that drops the letters in your mailbox each day. And to many people of Zeeland that man was James J. Sturing of 35 South Park St.

Sturing, who was one of the first carriers to deliver mail after the Zeeland Post Office began its city delivery in 1922, retired Tuesday after 35 years of service. He has served 15 years as city carrier and 20 years on Zeeland route 2, where he had 331 customers at the time of his retirement.

Strange things are often found in mail boxes, and although Sturing has never found a live baby, he has found a baby goat, the prank of young boys.

Besides carrying mail Sturing found time for other activities such as serving in the consistory at the First Christian Reformed Church, where he is a member and at present is an elder, teaching Sunday School for 30 years, and serving as a member of the board of education of Zeeland Christian School for 12 years.

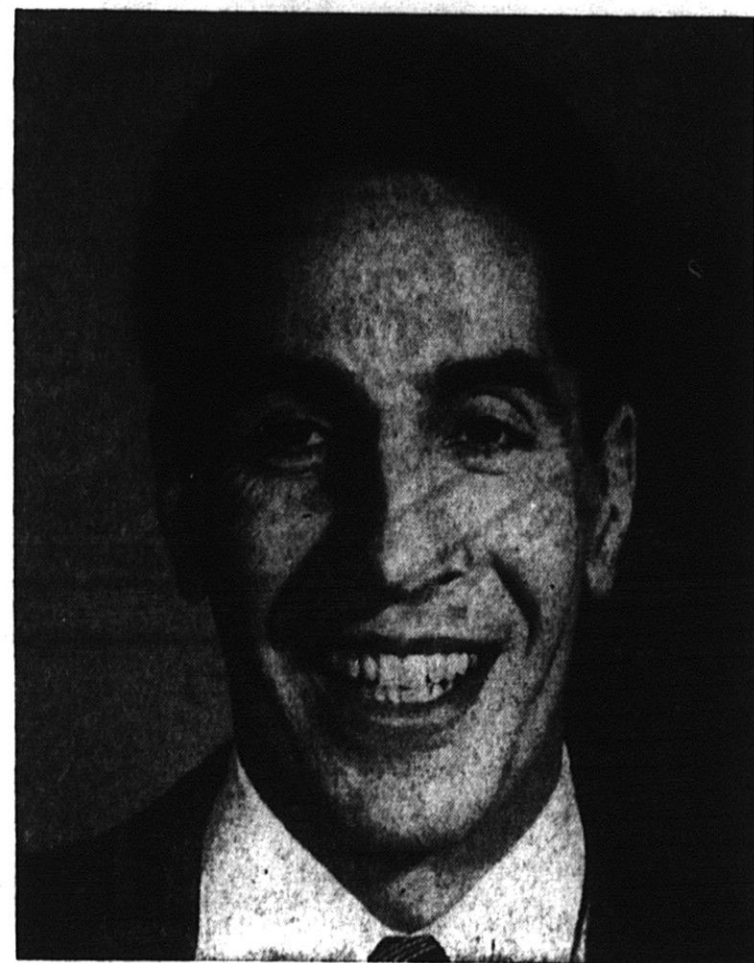

Sturing will take a well-deserved rest and 331 customers on route 2 will miss a familiar face dropping letters in their mailbox.
