An increase in electrical rates for Holland was approved by City Council at a regular meeting Wednesday night lasting 42 minutes.

The electrical boost, the first such increase by the Board of Public Works since 1963, will amount to an overall 7 per cent which BPW Supt. Ronald Rains said will still be considerably below Consumers Power rates. The new rates will be effective Nov. 15.

Primary reason for increase, Rains said, was increased fuel costs which have risen sharply since 1969. He said fuel costs have increased 57 per cent since 1965. Gas prices also have increased during this period.

The increase will be lower than 7 per cent for households with minimum usage. The rate increase recommendation came from the Board of Public Works after long, thorough study.

BPW Honors Daubenspeck For Service

Harry Daubenspeck, of 308 West 23rd St., superintendent of water distribution and sewage collection of the Holland Board of Public Works, was presented with the Edward Dunbar Rich Service Award at the annual conference of the Michigan section of the American Water Works Association Thursday in Flint.

The award is made annually to career personnel of municipal water systems recognizing those employees who have completed 25 or more years service in the field of public water supply. Daubenspeck completed his 25 years with the Holland system this summer.

He started work with the BPW June 27, 1947, as a laborer in the water department. In 1952 he became water meter serviceman. He was named superintendent of water distribution and sewage in 1960. This position carried with it the responsibility of the operation of the sewage disposal plant until 1965 when the waste treatment facilities became a separate department.

Three years ago supervision of the sewage collection system was placed with him in addition to the operation of the water distribution system.

Daubenspeck is the fifth BPW employee to receive the award. Previous recipients are two retired employees, Harold J. Karstens and Ted Telegenhof. Others having received the award are Theresa Achterhof, billing supervisor and Marguerite Boer, utility customer service clerk.

Accident Rate High In Downtown

In an effort to dramatize the accident rate resulting from improper driving along the city's one-way street system, Oct. 9-14 has been designated as Traffic Safety Week in Holland by Mayor L. W. Lamb, Jr.

The mayor's proclamation cited special efforts made by the police and the special traffic unit toward better driving habits. He said the traffic safety record in the community is such as to justify a special concern.

Police said the accident rate in the city outside the downtown area has shown a substantial decline since the traffic safety unit went into effect last year. But statistics show accidents along Eighth St. jumped 47 per cent from January through July this year compared with the seven months last year.

Accidents on the one-way streets nearly doubled in the same time period.

One-way streets were put into effect last October. Police said they expected an increase in the number of accidents while motorists were getting used to one-way street traffic but in Holland, unlike other communities, the accident rate has not declined. Most of the accidents are caused by drivers making improper left turns or by improper lane usage.

Officers believe many motorists are not familiar with the proper way to make a left turn from the one-way streets and police plan a massive educational program.

Police reports show there were 11 violations for improper left turns on the one-way streets in the first seven months this year compared with none last year. Improper lane usage violations climbed from three last year to 12 so far this year.

Along Eighth St., improper turns went from three to 17 and lane usage violations climbed from nine to 12.

Officers said they were studying an educational program in an effort to combat the traffic accident problem in the immediate downtown area.

Caiman Believed Family Pet

Deputies Find Small Alligator in Field

A three-foot long caiman, a member of the alligator group was found near M-21 and 72nd Ave. Tuesday and was in its new home in the John Ball Park Zoo in Grand Rapids Wednesday.

Zoo director Fred Meyer said it appeared the reptile had been someone's pet and "seems to be in good shape." Meyer said the caiman could be anywhere from three to ten years old for its size. He said growth would depend on the diet. Caimans can reach lengths of ten feet.

Ottawa County deputies said the reptile was found in a cornfield drainage ditch on a farm east of Zeeland at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. The caiman was taken to the Georgetown branch office and later to the Grand Rapids zoo.

Meyer said the caiman is a native of South America and he doubted the reptile could have survived the Michigan winter weather outdoors. Caimans normally are raised in heated quarters in the northern climates and Meyer suspected this one had been a family pet. He said sometimes families purchase caiman while vacationing in southern states and bring the baby alligators back home only to become undecided when the reptiles grow larger.

The caiman is to remain in the Grand Rapids zoo in temporary quarters and may become part of the zoo's exhibit or could be traded to another zoo, Meyer said.

OCTOBER CHANGES IN COLOR

This is the time of year in our great state of Michigan that every day brings more changes in the colors.

Look about you when walking or riding and revel in the color all about you. We have had a rather cool summer and hope for a long fall season.

We here in Michigan like to travel our great state. In addition to color tours, there is a lot of good fishing. The hunting season also is coming soon.

An article by Robert Cahn in the Christian Science Monitor is titled "Can World's National Parks Survive Future." It tells how delegates to the Second World Conference on National Parks returned home armed with enthusiasm — and 21 "toothless" resolutions.

With these tools and little in the way of political clout, these delegates must cope with competing national priorities, problems of people pollution, and sometimes unenlightened political leaders. How effective these park officials are in the years ahead may well depend on whether they can convince their publics that national parks are a vital resource.

When you are out admiring nature, take care of your litter. If we all do our part, the outdoors in its natural state may remain beautiful. Every little bit helps in the fight to halt pollution.

TIGERS ARE IN THE PLAY-OFFS

When "Old Pro" Al Kaline caught pinch-hitter Ben Ogilvie's fly ball for the last out in the top of the ninth Tuesday, the Tigers assured themselves of a spot in the divisional play-offs against Oakland beginning Saturday.

Bedlam broke loose following the win, and Detroit again proved that it has as loyal a following of fans as any team in the major leagues. Many of them are keeping their fingers crossed and wistfully hoping that they may again become world champions as they did in 1968.

Social Change: Urban Culture
Genesis 11:1-9; Zechariah 8:3-5;
John 17:15-18
By C. P. Dame

The Old Testament mentions some of the great cities of the world of that day and the New Testament also names some great cities, a number of which have disappeared but several still exist. We live in an urban culture and the three passages of the lesson text suggest truths which are timely.

I. The secular spirit is old. After the flood, some of the descendants of Noah moved east and settled in Shinar. They planned to build a tower in the city and two aims drove them on. The first aim was that they wanted to make a name for themselves, become famous for their skill and power, and the second aim was to stay together. Insecurity and disobedience marked their lives as God had no place in the lives of these planners. Many city dwellers of our time ignore God. People with a secular spirit have no place for God in their lives.

God stepped into the situation and stopped the building project by confusing the speech of the people who up to that time spoke one language. Eventually a city called Babylon was built there and became famous for its wealth, power and godlessness. Cities have problems; people create problems; cities exert much influence, both good and bad, and that is why cities need the gospel.

II. Cities need a spiritual renewal. The prophet Zechariah prophesied in the year 520 B. C. and the passage from the book that bears his name gives a fine picture of a city. God is in it for He dwells in the heart of His people who are faithful to Him and hence the city becomes known for its faithfulness. The city the prophet portrays will be known for its holiness. Many cities are known for their unhappiness. Family life will be of a high order for there will be boys and girls "playing in the streets." Today this can't happen very well because of many evils and dangers.

III. Cities need godly people. Jesus prayed for His people that God might not take them out of the world but that He should keep them from evil. "They are not of the world" but in it, in order to witness in it. God sent Jesus into this world and Jesus sends His people into it. The world is especially centered in the cities and it is there that God's people are needed and face opportunities to live out Christian principles.

She Made 1,000 Aprons For Her Church Circle

Annie Sims Perkins (1864-1955)

Following is an abridged account of an article written some years ago by Ruth Keppel on Annie Sims Perkins, mother of Mrs. L. G. Stalkamp. Mrs. Perkins moved to Holland in the 1930's when she was over 70. She died Sept. 24, 1955, at 91.

By Ruth Keppel

Annie Sims Perkins was one of the most remarkable women I have ever known. Against tremendous odds she became an outstanding success in business at a time women's place was supposed to be in the home.

When she moved to Holland in the 1930's and purchased a home on South Shore Dr. she was over 70 and had retired from an active business career in the hardware business in Delphos, Ohio.

In 1904, the Delphos Manufacturing Co., a $10,000 corporation, was producing a non-overflow pump can. Forty years later its assets were over a million dollars. Annie had served as sales manager, secretary and treasurer, and after retirement remained a valued member of its board of directors.

In retirement, Annie Perkins was as energetic as ever. She was a charter member of the Holland Garden Club and her garden was the envy of residents of South Shore Dr. She had brought shrubs and plant materials from Ohio.

She is perhaps best remembered as "The Apron Lady." From colorful feed sacks, she made over 1,000 aprons which she presented to the Hope Church Aid Society to sell for $2 each. She was never idle. Some Holland women still treasure an Annie Perkins apron.

Annie Sims was born Jan. 4, 1864, at Brandywine Manor, Chester County, Pa., the area where George Washington fought and lost the historic battle of Brandywine Sept. 11, 1777. She was born in the same two-story log house where her father was born in 1832.

Annie did not attend school until she was eight. She was taught at home and when the teacher asked her if she knew her letters, she replied, "Of course, I do." She had been reading since she was four years old.

Her father pioneered in raising strawberries and was one of the first to send the fruit to New York and Boston markets in the 70s. When Annie was 11 years old she picked 100 quarts in one day. When she was 65, she repeated the feat to prove to her family it could be done.

When Annie was 14 years old, the family moved to Warsaw, Ind., and she attended a private school for six weeks. The next fall she entered eighth grade in public school, and later took an examination which qualified her to teach.

By the time she graduated from high school at 19, she had taught five terms in district schools, and this experience enabled her to obtain a better position in Warsaw where she taught for two years.

During the second year, the family moved to Kansas and after her school term ended, she followed them there, and taught five years in Kansas. In Kansas Annie married but became a widow when her daughter Helen was 15 months old. Marguerite was to be born four months later.

Faced with supporting two daughters, Annie decided to leave teaching for more lucrative fields. She learned shorthand in a six-week course for $20.

Later she moved to Indianapolis, Ind., because she heard the schools were better than in Missouri and obtained a job with Van Camps Hardware Co. When she left five years later, she was receiving $95 a month, a lot of money for a business woman in those days. It was at this time she purchased some stock with the Delphos Co. in Ohio where she later became active in management.

She was insistent her daughters lead a happy, normal life. She taught them to be self-sufficient. Her mastery of the needle came in good stead and other mothers envied the pretty dresses the little Perkins girls wore. This artistic ability became a hallmark with her daughter (Mrs. Stalkamp) who consistently won blue ribbons for distinctive arrangements in local flower shows.

Marquerite, a child of superior attainments, was reading adult books when she died at nine. The last thing she read was a serial in the Ladies Home Journal entitled "The Millionaire Baby."

Mrs. Perkins in many ways was a forerunner of the Women's Lib movement. "Years ago women did not have the opportunities open to them today. I ate, slept and drank hardware. Hard work and sensible eating are necessary to long life. It's the mind that controls the health," she said.

In later life, Mrs. Perkins took two trips to Europe, a trip to South America, one to Panama and one to Guatemala.

Her benevolences were many, helping young people in college and others in need. Her garden was her great pride and she always shared her flowers and vegetables with her friends.

At the age of 85, she broke her wrist. With her arm in a cast, she drove five miles from the doctor's office to her home. This "slight accident" as she called it did not hamper her in her daily routine. She continued her fine needlework — it kept her fingers limber.

Questers Hear Study Report On Country Pottery

Christian Van Raalte Chapter of Questers met at the home of Mrs. Charles Verburg Monday evening with Mrs. John Bremer and Mrs. Peter Visser as co-hostesses.

Mrs. William DeVries gave a study report on "Country Pottery." The pottery got its name because of its importance to the early settlers for food containers. It also marked the birth of the American pottery factory that started as a fledgling business in 1650.

Several started in Virginia but no records were kept, as the life of a pottery factory was difficult to establish due to the excellent grade of pots available from fatherlands across the sea. After the Revolutionary War, many of the soldiers did not return to Europe so there were plenty of talented tradesmen in the field of pottery making who began factories in America.

There were four types of pottery, including unglazed roof tile and bricks, stoneware such as churns, mugs and utensils, unglazed crocks and containers for milk, and the glazed dish type for table use.

First the name of the purchaser appeared on the pottery, then the manufacturer's name and later eagle and animal designs, Pennsylvania Dutch or German patterns and old sayings from abroad.

East Liverpool, Ohio, and other surrounding cities benefited from easy transportation on the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, going as far south as New Orleans, with good business along the way.

Some of the more famous names appearing on antique pottery are Rockingham, the Brownware and Bennington, Norton was best known for the "Toby" line of mugs and vases but did not really become popular until after the European market had established the style.

The early kilns were on the same principle as today's kilns, but with the use of electricity or gas fuel the temperatures are much more easily attained. This is important to pottery making and the higher steady heat of 1,500 degrees makes for a more durable crock or pot. Many antique crocks are on display in Pennsylvania, Vermont and Ohio museums and at the Henry Ford Museum in Detroit.

New officers for the coming year are Mrs. Peter Visser, president; Mrs. Maurice Rypstra, vice president; Mrs. Harry Wendt, secretary; Mrs. Frances Palack, treasurer. Present at the meeting were 18 members and one guest, Mrs. Percy Kinkema.

The president conducted a business meeting after refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The Oct. 23 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. William DeVries with "Herbs and Spices" as the topic. Hostesses will be Mrs. Paul Wolterink, Mrs. Ben Cooper and Mrs. Earl Eggebrecht.

Mrs. Ray Barkel Dies at Age 72

Greets Hope College Students

Sen. Griffin on Tour Visits Camp Kirk

U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin was in Holland Monday to greet Hope College students at lunch in Phelps Hall.

It was part of a busy day in western Michigan in which the senator who is seeking reelection was accompanied by press crews of CBS, the Washington Post and the Detroit News. A brief visit to Resthaven and a rest period at Holiday Inn was scheduled before the Griffin bus left for Muskegon. Before coming to Holland, Sen. Griffin stopped off at Camp Kirk, a Boy Scout camp on Lake Shore Dr. just north of Port Sheldon, a 27-acre site with some 800 feet of frontage on Lake Michigan which the Ottawa County Commission hopes to acquire as a recreational area.

Sen. Griffin appeared pleased with what he saw at Camp Kirk and on foot made a complete tour to the lake where shore erosion was less a problem than in many areas nearby. He promised all possible help in federal aid in keeping the site in its natural state, not on the lines of state park development.

Camp Kirk, formerly named Camp McCarthy after a previous owner, was acquired as an overnight camp for North Ottawa Boy Scouts many years ago. It was later named after Harry Kirk, the first active Scouter in North Ottawa.

Its uses as an overnight camp were in addition to summer camp at Camp Ottawa near Newaygo. In recent years, local Scouts have been camping at Chaffee Scout Reservation near Big Rapids, named after the Grand Rapids astronaut, one of three killed in an explosion on the pad at Cape Kennedy.

Long Runs Defeat West Ottawa

If statistics could win ball games, West Ottawa would have won Friday night, but the final score is what counts which is why the Panthers dropped their second straight to a speedy Jenison team by a 22-17 score.

It was a cold rainy evening for the Panther fans as they watched two bolts of lightning, in the form of Jenison half backs that is, race for three touchdowns, two of them on kickoffs and one a 95 yard end around play. The first two times the Panthers kicked, the ball was run back for TDs, one by Don Hammond and the other by Al Wilson. Not until the kickoff in the second half, were the Panthers able to stop the Wildcats on kickoff returns. The fans would hold their breath on every kick.

Again the Panthers made some very fine drives, grinding out the necessary yardage good for two first half touchdowns, but then came the kickoffs. West Ottawa seemed to have good ball control and the defense gave up very little yardage to the Wildcats. This was evident in the first downs department as Jenison could only muster three in the entire game, but of course you don't need too many first downs when you have three great runs of 95, 85 and 80 yards for touchdowns.

The Panthers put together 12 first downs in the first half of the game, but Jenison put the damper on them in the last half as they scrambled for only one. The rain and cold weather had a big effect on the Panthers running game in the last half. This showed up in the fumble department too, as West Ottawa fumbled the ball away twice to the Wildcats, but in the first two games, didn't lose it once.

West Ottawa took the lead in the game very early in the second quarter when quarterback Jeff Haltenhoff scored on a fourth and six situation to put the Panthers on top 6-0. It was then that the rain started to come down and the lightning of the Wildcats struck for the first TD kickoff return. The kick for the extra point was good giving Jenison a 7-6 lead.

The Panthers came back strong as Joe Gaskill made a fine run for about 30 yards in what looked to be a TD but it was called back on a clipping penalty. The Panthers continued to grind it out on some nice driving by Haltenhoff, Scott Tolliver and Con Zomermaand, then Tolliver went over from the five to regain the lead 14-7 as Haltenhoff ran for the two point conversion. The lead didn't last long though, about 10 seconds to be exact as Al Wilson raced 85 yards on the kick return. But the extra point try was no good and the Panthers held onto a slim 14-13 lead.

West Ottawa then fumbled on the 26 yard line to set up a field goal by the Wildcats making it 16-14. In the third period, Dave Bilek kicked a 15 yard field goal to put the Panthers out front, 17-16. That was the end of the scoring for the Panthers though and in the final period Wilson went 95 yards to give Jenison the win.

Next week the Panthers face dangerous East Grand Rapids in Grand Rapids.

Godwin Backs Run at Will In Triumph

When things go bad, they really go bad and they went just that way for Holland's sagging football team Friday night at Riverview Park, as the Godwin Wolverines whipped the Dutch, 30-12.

The defeat was the third straight for Holland and was the worst beating they have ever taken from a Godwin eleven.

Spearheading the win for Godwin were three talented running backs, Dave Harnish, Jim Schriener and Terry Whittemore.

Harnish, who galloped for more than 200 yards last week against Hudsonville rushed for 140 yards against the Dutch while Whittemore chipped in with 105 yards rushing.

Godwin finished the night with 275 yards in total rushing compared to Holland's 82. The Dutch did have the edge in passing yardage, 97-77 but six of Dick Wood's passes were intercepted. Sophomore, Mark Hoogertyde had four of them.

Jesse Ruiz recovered a fumble on Godwin's 27 to set up Holland's first marker. Seven plays later Kirby Howard went nine yards off right tackle for the score. Mike Windisch's kick was wide to the left but the Dutch led, 6-0 with 5:23 to play in the initial period.

Ross Lamb, who caught four of Wood's passes came up with a sparkling catch with time out on the clock in the half and Holland on the visitors 10 yard stripe.

Director Carl Dephousse's Holland marching band turned in a fine performance at the half, as a light rain began to fall.

Ironically, the Wolverines' second touchdown came with only 1:56 left in the third quarter which was the same time as for its second TD on a long pass from quarterback Jim Kenyon to Paul Dieterle. The play covered 64 yards.

Kenyon completely faked out Holland by passing to Dieterle for two points, as Godwin took a 15-6 advantage.

Godwin quickly struck for its third TD, as Whittemore bulled his way 36 yards into the end zone with 9:34 left in the game. Johnson's kick upped the score to 22-6.

Paul Shashaghuay saved another Godwin scoring bid by stopping Whittemore on a diving tackle on the 17 yard line of Holland.

However, it was all in vain as Whittemore eventually went in for the score from the 10 yard line with 7:56 left. Dieterle again snuck behind the Dutch secondary to grab a pass from Kenyon, the same fellow, who was injured as a freshman here two years ago for the two points.

Coach Dan Porretta couldn't believe what he was seeing, as Godwin was moving the ball at will against the favored Dutch. Shashaghuay intercepted a Godwin pass on the 15 and ran to the five to give the Holland fans something to cheer about with time running out.

A few plays later, with the Dutch going backwards instead of forward, Wood threw a 14-yard TD pass to Lamb, who made a brilliant catch in the end zone. Wood's run for the PAT failed but the Dutch did cut the final deficit to 30-12.

The Dutch will seek their first win next Friday at home against Benton Harbor.

A series of breakins and bad check passings was cleared in the Holland and Zeeland area with the arrest of four persons including a juvenile boy, Ottawa County deputies said.

A joint police effort by deputies, Holland and Zeeland police, State police at Grand Haven and Allegan County deputies was responsible.

Three of the four were stopped by Holland police Wednesday at 12:41 a.m. along 24th St. west of Country Club Rd. on suspicion of being minors in possession of liquor. Police found items believed stolen in the car and the trio was questioned about recent breakins.

Stopped in the car were James Wimberley, 17, of Zeeland; Jack McDonald, 17, of Holland and the juvenile. Later Jackie McGraw, 17, also of Holland, was arrested.

Deputies said the breakins cleared were at Community Reformed Church, 104th Ave. and Felch St., Zeeland; the Zeeland Middle School; Assembly of God Church, Clover St., Holland, and Ken's Garage, Adams St. and 64th Ave. in Drenthe.

Holland and Zeeland police and deputies solved a larceny of checks from the Second Reformed Church of Zeeland. A number of the forged checks had turned up in the Holland area police said.

State Police at Grand Haven said Friday a breakin at the Ventura Church had been solved.

Wimberley, McGraw and McDonald were held in lieu of $3,000 bond each. The juvenile was referred to the county youth home.

Dominick and Aspin Speakers at Hope

"A big win for Nixon" was U. S. Sen. Peter Dominick's (R-Colo.) reply to a question about the presidential election at a news conference at Hope College Friday.

Dominick saw Nixon well ahead, but didn't discount the fact that Sen. George McGovern may move ahead in the polls. In addition to a Nixon victory, Dominick would also like to see increased Republican strength in the Senate.

U. S. Rep. Les Aspin (D-Wis.) viewed the election differently. He foresaw the possibility of a McGovern victory and a continued strong Democratic Congress. The "coattail" effect will be minimal this year, cited Aspin.

Sen. Dominick viewed the Griffin-Kelley race in Michigan as being a close and an important one. Presently he felt that Griffin is three to four points ahead.

The closing remarks of the news conference were limited to the two men's views on the mood of the country.

Rep. Aspin felt that the country was "turned off to politics" and that it was difficult for the candidates to address the issues.

Sen. Dominick cited the "bankruptcy of the idea of big government" as a cause for the people's feeling of frustration with the government. He added that people were alienated from the federal government because of the government's inability to solve the problems of today.

The news conference was sponsored by Hope College's Political Science Department and their Political Symposium '72. There were two main sessions to the program. The topic for the morning session was "The American Presidency and the 1972 Election" and the topic for the afternoon session "The Work of the Congress."

Later today Sen. Dominick will officially open the GOP headquarters at 186 River Ave. and will be the guest of the South Ottawa Women's Republican Club. Later he will dine with GOP leaders at Point West and be the guest of honor at a fund raising reception from 7 to 9:30 at the R. A. De Witt home, 2043 West 32nd St.

Ed Sanders Scores All Hope TDs

Hope College's dream for a perfect football season came to an end Saturday at Riverview Park as the Big Reds from Denison defeated the Flying Dutchmen, 33-19 in a hard fought contest.

The game was actually closer than the final score indicates as Hope led at the half, 13-12 and was tied at 19-all going into the final quarter.

A disappointed Coach Ray Smith said, "we played fairly well but they were just too much for us."

Denison, another of those top notch football powers from Ohio remains unbeaten with a 3-0 slate while the Dutchmen are 2-1 heading into MIAA league play Saturday at Albion.

Ed Sanders, Hope's rugged fullback who recently returned from an injury, scored all Dutchmen touchdowns. Two of them came on runs and the other through the air.

Sanders paced Hope in rushing with 91 yards in 17 attempts while Bill Harris led both teams with 128 yards in 30 carries. Teammate Ed Exler wasn't far behind, as he rushed for 113 yards in 22 tries. Denison held Bob Lamer to 38 yards in 15 attempts.

Bert Bathiany of Denison recovered the first of many Hope turnovers early in the first period on the Dutchmen 18-yard line. Six plays later Rich Someone ran for the touchdown to give the visitors a 6-0 advantage.

Denison returned the Hope gift by fumbling minutes later with freshman tackle Craig Van Tuinen of Grand Rapids coughing up the ball on the Big Reds 16.

Van Tuinen was in the lineup in the place of the injured Ron Posthuma and when Paul Cornell, the other starting defensive tackle for Hope twisted his ankle, the Dutchmen were forced to go with two inexperienced players at the key tackle positions. Steve Schmidt, a transfer from Muskegon Community College and a former teammate of Greg Voss in high school, turned in a strong performance as did Van Tuinen.

A 15-yard pass from Bob Carlson to Dave Johnson moved the ball to the six and moments later Carlson passed to Sanders for the score to knot the count at 6-6 with 1:57 left in the first period.

The Denison coaches were going like big time by calling all the shots from the press box.

Sanders' second TD with 2:40 left in the second period gave Hope the lead again and when Darryl Brown booted the PAT, the count was 13-6 in favor of the Dutchmen.

Denison came right back to march 60-yards in six plays to come within one of Hope, as Harris bulled his way one-yard for the score with only 43 seconds left in the half. Tom O'Brien intercepted the attempted extra point pass as Hope led at the half, 13-12.

Before Hope even touched the ball in the third quarter, the Big Reds ate up over seven minutes on the clock as quarterback Dan Ross eventually scored from the seven. Steve Bailey added the conversion as Denison took the lead at 19-13.

Doug Smith's booming punt, which went out on the Denison one, set up Hope's final touchdown in the third quarter.

After a few series of plays, Sanders ran it in for the score from the four, as the Dutchmen tied the game. However, once

Rope 385 Feet Long

74th Hope Pull Slated Friday

The Hope College answer to "limited ground warfare" unfolds for the 74th time Friday when the freshmen and sophomore classes engage in the "pull," a tug-of-war with a 385-foot long rope across the Black River east of Holland.

The "Pull" is one of the highlights of the school year and the methods devised by both the freshmen and sophomores rival conventional athletics.

More than 100 male members of the freshman and sophomore classes, nearly an equal number of women, began an intensive physical preparation for the "Pull" three weeks ago. Long distance running, calisthenics drills and sessions of actual pulling on opposite ends of a two-inch thick rope dwindled the rank of each team to 20 men.

Each of the male members of the "Pull" team choose one of the girls who have helped them during the practice period.

again the PAT failed.

Harris' second TD came from the one with 12:35 to play in the game and Exler's seven-yard jaunt with 4:40 closed out the scoring for both teams.

The coeds act as "morale girls" on the big day. They tape the hands of the men to prevent blisters while giving a lot of robust vocal encouragement.

Each of the classes practice separately on the many specialized "Pull" techniques which have evolved since the turn of the century and on new ones introduced each year in hopes of assuring the victory.

Perfect co-ordination is essential in executing the movements necessary to win. Members of the senior class coach the sophomores while men and women of the junior class support the frosh.

Tradition leans toward the sophomore class although last fall the freshmen (this year's sophs) were the winners. The longest "Pull" went two hours and 27 minutes, in 1965 while the shortest lasted only two minutes, 40 seconds in 1956.

Early Birds Hear Olivet President

Some answers to the practical problems of operating a small private college in this day of high costs were outlined by Dr. Ray B. Loeschner, president of Olivet College, at the monthly Chamber of Commerce Early Bird breakfast Tuesday in Hotel Warm Friend.

Describing Olivet College as a small, small college of 800 students, Dr. Loeschner emphasized the need of providing marketable skills to college graduates in today's world, and described Olivet's program of a full 15-hour semester off-campus for practical experience, not only for classroom teaching, but in such fields as banking, merchandising, law, etc.

He said this program offers exciting opportunities for the student and for the employer who can observe potential employees without obligation.

Dr. Loeschner said Olivet is offering many more courses in practical economics in an effort to meet a great need in understanding the American free enterprise system and avoid the popular concept of rejecting the American way of life on the part of many young people. "Everything we do has an economic impact and educators must revise old patterns on the economic world. We have found that less than 10 per cent of the elementary teachers, 14 per cent of the high school teachers and less than 25 per cent of social studies teachers have taken formal courses in economics," he said.

On financial crises in higher education, he said the strength of American education lies in the dual system, large universities and small private college, both deserving support. He plumped for support of private colleges (the college of your choice) and suggested those present review public act 315 on tax credits in Michigan. If persons desire a larger base, there is the Michigan Colleges Foundation which covers 16 colleges, he said.

William Stratting of the Chamber meetings committee presented the Olivet president with a pair of wooden shoes.

GRIFFIN AT RESTHAVEN — U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin paid a quick visit to Resthaven Monday, greeting over 125 residents, nearly all of whom were sporting Griffin buttons. The senator, on a campaign tour of western Michigan with an entourage of reporters and tv cameramen, had dessert with the Resthaven people. Earlier he had had lunch but no dessert at Phelps Hall on Hope College campus. (Sentinel photo)

EXPOSURE TO NEWS MEDIA—The ripped trousers of U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin get hasty repairs at the hands of Claude Dykema, local tailor, as tv cameramen and press corps writers record the "happening" for posterity. The senator was in a dressing room at the time. A seam in the seat of the senator's pants came loose while Griffin was visiting Camp Kirk between Holland and Grand Haven Monday morning and the senator walked gingerly during a quick visit to Phelps Hall on Hope College campus. Then his bus made an unscheduled stop at Dykema Tailors for repairs. (Sentinel photo)
