

Hope College

Hope College Digital Commons

Holland City News: 1909

Holland City News: 1900-1909

10-14-1909

Holland City News, Volume 38, Number 41: October 14, 1909

Holland City News

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.hope.edu/hcn_1909

Part of the Archival Science Commons

Recommended Citation

Holland City News, "Holland City News, Volume 38, Number 41: October 14, 1909" (1909). Holland City News: 1909. 41.

https://digitalcommons.hope.edu/hcn_1909/41

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Holland City News: 1900-1909 at Hope College Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Holland City News: 1909 by an authorized administrator of Hope College Digital Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@hope.edu.

HOLLAND CITY NEWS.

VOLUME 38

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1909

NUMBER 41

Carpets, Rugs and Linoliums Draperies, Lace Curtains and Bedding

The largest and most complete Fall line of goods ever shown in our store. All the newest effects in each department and at our lowest prices.

NEW RUGS

A new lot of 9x12 good all wool Rugs, floral and Oriental Patterns, would be cheap at $19.00. For one week.....$13 50
9x12, Axminster Rugs, the regular $28.00 and $30.00 kind, for.....$19 95
8½x10 16 Axminster and Velvet rugs selling regular at $21.00 to $25 00,....$17 75

NEW CARPETS

The largest assortment in Holland

20 pieces Velvet and Axminster Carpets, the $1 25 quality, all good patterns, will go at.....89
10 pieces Tapestry Brussels, new patterns at.....69
15 pieces all wool ingrain Carpets, regular 75c to 85c kind, at.....67

Lace Curtains and Draperies

Our showing of Lace Curtains and Draperies is tremendous, including everything in Muslin Curtains, Nottingham Curtains, Chuny Curtains, Cable Net Curtains, Arabian Curtains, Brussel Net Curtains, at very special low prices this month. A large new line of tapestry curtains and couch covers just at hand. Bed Blankets and Comfortors. Finest in quality and lowest in prices.

WE INVITE INSPECTION

Jas. A. Brouwer
212-214 RIVER ST.

We still have on hand a fine line of Men's Suits and they must go at the following prices, which you cannot afford to miss

$7.50 Suits for $4.98 $8.00 Suits for $6.39
$10 Suits, $6.98 $12 Suits, $8.98 $16 Suits, $12.38

NICK DYKEMA,

Tailor, Hatter and Furnisher
8 E. 8th St., - - Holland

Expert Watch Repairing At HARDIES'

has resulted in the building up of our present large repair trade. The work we do brings our customers back the next time they need anything in our line.

HAVE YOU TRIED IT?

HARDIE

The Jeweler
Cor. 8th St. and Central Ave.

Read the News.

J. Jans Helder

VOCAL INSTRUCTION
ARTISTIC SINGING

Every WEDNESDY IN HOLLAND

ADDRESS 414 Gilbert Bldg
Grand Rapids, Mich

Voice Tried Free

L. Emmett Sherred

TEACHER OF
Singing - VOICE CULTURE
AND REPERTORY

*Piano, Pipe Organ, Harmony
STUDIO - KANTER'S BLK

After Shaving

use Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve. It will prevent the face getting sore. It destroys germs and prevents contracting any disease. 25c Sold everywhere.

DR. BELL'S ANTI-PAIN
For Internal and External Pains.

FOR

Perfect Fitting Glasses

CALL ON

Stevenson

Optical
Specialist

24 East 8th St. - Holland

Unightly

Sores, boils, eruptions, pimples, blackheads and all skin affections are very quickly cured by the use of Dr. Bell's Antiseptic Salve. 25c Sold everywhere.

Local News

Otto Schaap, Al Tanner and David Blom left for Aberdeen, S. Dak., to try their luck in the government land draw.

Geo. T. Van den Berg has purchased the bottling and soft drink manufacturing business of Cornelius Nyland in Grand Haven.

Saturday will be the 29th anniversary of the loss of the steamer Alpena which went down in Lake Michigan with all on board Oct. 16, 1880. A quantity of wreckage came ashore near Holland harbor and the spot is now known as Alpena Beach.

Ray Brown, of Grand Haven, aged 16, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Douma on the charge of cigarette smoking. He was taken before Justice Hoyt who fined him the costs. The officials are determined that the state law relative to minors using cigarettes be enforced.

There is a penalty providing for a fine not exceeding $100 or six months in jail or both, prohibiting the use of a corn shredder which is not equipped with automatic feeders and safe guards to protect the operator. The law was passed two years ago but the reports that continually come in would show the law is not being lived up to.

Peter DeBoe, a former Holland boy is building an addition to the store in Grand Haven occupied by him on Washington street. This addition will be used by Mr. De Boe as an ice cream factory. He has recently purchased the whole sale ice cream manufacturing business from Wm. Rose and will hereafter make his own ices and ice cream.

The first sale of state tax lands ever held away from the capitol was held last week at Muskegon, when the public domain commission offered the tax lands in that county for sale at the county seat court house. Under the new law such sales will be held at the county seats in the future, the purpose being to give residents of the county an opportunity to bid for the lands.

Grand Army veterans are interested in the organization of a post of their orders at Oldham, in Lancashire, England, where twenty former Union soldiers have petitioned for a charter. This will be the first G. A. R. Post in Europe, although there are six outside the limits of the United States—four in Canada, one in Peru and one in Honolulu. According to the latest report of the Pension Commissioner, about one thousand pensioners, or about half of one percent, reside in foreign countries.

The newly married couple of Allegan who were the center of attraction at the Lake Shore depot a week ago, Mr. and Mrs. Lunia Porter, were the recipients of a box. The box came by express in the bride's name. The gallant groom walked up to the desk in the express office and smilingly paid the charges on the box, $1.50, but upon opening it he discovered they the victims of a joke, for the box contained a piece of wood, two bottles, three large cucumbers, green walnuts, smartweed, an old shoe, two broken fruit jars, and an old broom, also numerous hints for future use. The groom is a very wary young man, but this was a case of stung.

Frank Olinger of Watervliet, an experienced roller rink proprietor, has taken the management of the auditorium rink and a number of new features are planned for the winter there. Both Mr. Olinger and his family are expert skaters and are personally taking charge of the floor arrangements. One of the features put in by the new management is a $1500 military band organ, which is one of the latest triumphs of the mechanical musician's art. The organ has 48 instruments, which are mechanically operated, as well as the drums and cymbals. The organ was put in operation today for the first time and will be used throughout the winter. Mr. Olinger has been located for some time at Watervliet on Paw Paw Lake for some time, but on taking charge of the Auditorium moved his family to this city and will reside at 71 West 13th St. At Paw Paw lake he owned the Forest Beach pavilion and will take care of that in the summer months.

Our two "cantenag" were closed Tuesday on account of Columbus day being made a legal holiday.

Ed. Lyons paid $4 fine and costs Friday for starting a rough house at Limbert's factory while inebriated. Patrolman Meeuwse took Lyons in charge.

Justice Hoyt Post suspended sentence on John Haight, after him O, such a severe lecture for stealing a ride from Fennville to Holland on the blind baggage of a P. M. train.

Martin Clark paid $5 fine and costs in Justice Miles' court last Thursday for "knocking the daylight" out of one of his boarders. Clark is a plumber and tears a good reputation. Sam Leonard served the warrant.

R. H. Ruppert, manufacturer of furniture factory tools has been compelled to move his business to a new building on 23rd street owing to its rapid growth. Mr. Ruppert is a skilled machinist and was formerly located on River street.

Dr. Yonker found his horse stolen. Officer Meeuwse caught the thief who was a desperate looking individual of six years named Wierbenga, who was soon overpowered by the valiant officer, brought home to his ma, got licked, and that's all there is to it.

Governor Warner has accepted the invitation of the St. Louis Business Men's association to join the party of governors who will make the trip down the Mississippi from St. Louis to New Orleans with President Taft. The party leaves St. Louis Monday, 25, and reaches New Orleans Saturday, the 31st.

Wm. Osner, a bridge worker in the employ of the Pere Marquette, fell off the high bridge, a distance of 30 feet, on the Allegan division near Hamilton Tuesday morning and suffered severe injuries. He was brought to this city where he was attended by H. Kremers and was later taken to his home in Fennville.

How to tell a student is a phase of the new law confronting saloon men, especially in college and university towns, for the law prohibiting the sale of liquor to a student is no respecter of age. If a saloon man sells liquor to a student 50 years old he is liable to prosecution.

Those from this vicinity were drawn on the circuit court jury are Joe Westrate, Olive; Albert Wilterdink, Holland township; Abraham VanderWal, Jamestown; H. Seinen, Zeeland township; Jacob Walfort and John Arendshorst, Holland city, and D. VanLoo, Zeeland. Court convenes in November.

Walter H. Clark, county treasurer, is being boomed for he legislature by his friends in this city and Robinson. However Mr. Clark has not as yet formally announced his candidacy and his desires to shine in the halls of the state legislature. However, it is said that he believes that he could acquire himself even more creditably than a number of legislators do.

A milk bottle war has been on at Benton Harbor. The various milk men were in the habit of getting each other's bottles and using them as their own. Finally one dairy firm sued another firm to recover a number of bottles which had been appropriated. The demand for return had been refused, hence the suit. A jury found that the defendant should return the bottles and pay the costs of the case, and it developed that the law prohibits every person or firm to use milk bottles again for milk unless they own them. This suit may save other milk men trouble, if the lesson is heeded.

Ed. Reiley is under arrest at Grand Haven on the charge of stabbing Ed. VanDorple. Reiley and VanDorple seem to have been visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. Flato at Riverview hotel. Van Dorple claims that Reiley was under the influence of liquor and was asked to leave the room. On going home he encountered Reiley, who made a move as if to strike him and instead stabbed him. The wound is a slight one, the blow having glanced off on a rib. The sheriff's office was notified and Deputy Salisbury soon had Reiley before Justice Wachs. He waived examination and was bound over to the circuit court under $500 bail.

The Lokker-Rutgers Co. have just received a carload of the straight line rubbers made by the Mishawaka Rubber Co. at Mishawaka, Wis.

The case of criminal slander brought against Roy Corbet by Jake Japinga has been patched up out of court, and Prosecutor Coburn allowed the warrant to be withdrawn upon payment of costs.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons of the Holland Veneer Co. will occupy the residence of Mrs. O. E. Yates on W. 11th St. Mrs. Yates and daughter Avis left for Washington for the winter.

Carl Dos and John Knap were both fined $8.25 in Justice Vander Meulen's court Friday, for disturbing a religious meeting. Severe punishment should be dealt out these offenders to prevent a recurrence of such rowdyism.

Two horses, one owned by a man named VanHuizen and one by Orin Deremo, were killed by lightning in a pasture near the Kieft property in Grand Haven township Sunday night. A horse belonging to Wm. O'Connell was also in the pasture, but was uninjured.

The forepart of the week was received the news that Robt. Moore's automobile had exploded and that Mr. Moore and three of his companions had been killed, later we learn that the report is not true and that not even so much as a puncture has been suffered to justify the report of an accident. But you can't blame Bobby for that.

John Schippers, the great Filmore horse man won $82.70 in premiums at the Holland Fair and $56.50 at the Grand Rapids Fair. Last year he carried off a 2nd and 3rd premium at the Union Stock show at Chicago; the largest stock exhibition in the world, where he intends exhibiting this fall. John has been winning premiums at the Holland fair ever year for the last 25 years.

The Phoenix Co. of New York which recently purchased the plant of the Zeeland cheese & Butter Co., is contemplating to establish a receiving station two and a half miles north of Jamestown Centre. If the company decides favorably the building will be erected by C. De Jonge, work upon which will commence at once. The company contemplates placing six stations in that vicinity.

Holland's old rivals the Allegan eleven, comes to Holland for the second game of the season. Two weeks ago the High School defeated Allegan on their own grounds, this being the first time that Allegan has gone down to defeat before the locals. Since then Allegan has been straining every effort to pound into shape so as to get a return at our boys. The game will be played on the 19th street grounds next Sat. at 2:30.

Rev. John Osseward of Albany, New York, formerly pastor of the Reformed church of Grandville and a Zeeland boy, enjoyed the distinguished honor of receiving an invitation from Hudson, N. York, to be present at a banquet there and to address the officers of the "High Mocc" in the mother tongue, who represent the Netherlands at the Hudson-Fulton celebration. Mr. Osseward is a graduate of Hope.

Since the new state liquor law went into effect, allowing wholesalers to dispense any quantity of booze, from a bottle to a bucket, the practice of drinking beer in alleys has assumed such large proportions that it was found essential for the police board to adopt the most strenuous measures in order to eradicate the obnoxious evil. Chief Kamferbeek has already issued a warning that all persons hereafter found indulging in the practice will be treated as disorderlies and summoned before the bar of justice.

At an election held next spring the people of Ottawa county will have the say as to whether the county officers will be nominated the following fall, by popular vote or under the old convention system, as in previous times. This is provided for in the new 1909 acts of the legislature. The chances are that the people will decide to try the primary election for a while at least and the candidates instead of hustling for delegates from one end of the county to the other, may have to get out themselves next fall and hustle for votes in order to get their names on the ballot for the regular fall election.

Graafschap

The South Graafschap Singing school will start its regular meetings with the following officers, Mr. A. Allerink, Pres.; B. Becksvort, Vice Pres.; Mr. Menken, Sec.; H. Becksvost, J. Allerink and B. Hofmeyer, directors.

The square or oblong silo are objectionable because it is difficult to build the walls strong enough to stand the pressure of the great weight of the silage, and the amount of silage lost in the corners will amount in a few years to considerable value. The best shape is circular.

Overisel

Rev. D. C. Ruigh, a missionary in Japan, addressed an audience in Bentheim Sunday morning. In the afternoon he spoke at Overisel and in the evening at Hamilton.

Born to Rev. and Mrs. Mokma last Wednesday—a son.

Henry Kronmeyer, who has been ill for a long time, is able to drive around. We hope that he may soon be fully restored to health.

Last Saturday morning the baby of Mr. and Mrs. B. Hoffman died. The child had been very ill for two weeks with pneumonia. Funeral services were held Tuesday, Rev. Hekhuis officiating.

John Tuesink of Holland spent Tuesday here with relatives.

Tuesday noon Mrs. Brower died at the home of her son, G. J. Brower, at the age of 89 years. The funeral will take place Friday.

Rev. and Mrs. B. Hoffman of Grand Rapids are visiting relatives here.

Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary. A number of friends and relatives participated in the joyful event and wished many more years of happiness.

Mrs. H. Hulsman spent a few days at Grand Haven last week at the Missionary convention.

South Blendon

After a lingering illness of more than three years, Miss Cora Eversen died from cancer at her home here, age 62 years. She is survived by a brother Adrian and by a sister Mrs. F. Van Lewen of South Blendon. Funeral services were held from the Reformed church of this place, Rev. P. Seibers officiating. Interment was at the South Blendon cemetery.

Highway Commissioner Parady of Blendon Township is busy replacing the old bridge near the residence of Gerrit Berghorst of North Blendon, and making other much needed highway improvements in that section.

Lizzie and Cora Van Gelderen of this city were in Zeeland visiting friends and relatives Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boone and daughter Jeanette of this place were in Holland Friday.

Jennie Heyboer who has been spending the past year at Saugatuck, Holland and Zeeland returned to her home at Blendon.

Salem

The funeral of John Hokse of Salem township, who died at his home Saturday night after a long illness from tuberculosis, was held Tuesday morning from the home and at 1 o'clock from the church at Oakland. The deceased was 46 years of age and is survived by a widow and three children.

Hamilton

The rains the forepart of this week put a quietus on husking corn and care of other crops.

Dr. Rigerink has received two new wheels for his auto in place of the other two poor ones.

The old creamery building now owned by John Miskotten is being converted into a dwelling house and will be occupied by Mr. Boudreau and family.

Miss Jennie Stegink of Muskegon is visiting at the home of H. J. Klomparsen.

Mrs. G. Ensing was a delegate to the Missionary conference in Grand Haven last week, returning last Saturday.

J. C. Holmes spent Sunday with friends in Holland.

John Miskotten did business in Holland last Saturday.

H. J. Klomparsen was in Allegan this week assisting the county clerk at the court house.

Milo Palmer spent Sunday with relatives in Holland.

The R. R. bridge over the river in this village will be completed this week and the work has been well done.

Rev. and Mrs. Strabbing left last week for their new field in Sheboygan, Wis.

East Saugatuck

Miss Minnie Belt of Holland was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ed. Vandenberg over Sunday.

Geo. Zwemer enjoyed a vacation last week in Milwaukee as the steamer Manchester on which he sailed was in drydock there for repairs.

Mrs. E. Wade lost one of her best horses on account of colic last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Strovejans returned last week from a two weeks visit in Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Van Huis from Montello Park visited their parents here Sunday.

Mrs. G. Johnson and children and Mrs. A. Deer of Holland were the guests of relatives here last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Brunagg were the guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. Manni over Sunday.

"To Be or Not to Be"

constantly coughing depends on whether or not you used Dr. Bell's Pine Honey Tar. A few doses will stop that cough.

Vriesland

A pleasant evening was spent by a number of young people at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert De Boer, the occasion being a wedding reception. A bountiful supper was served. The evening was spent in playing games. Among the out of town guests were the Misses Jennie DeBoer, Ruby Hanover and Jonn DeBoer and Jay Smith.

Saugatuck

The steamer J. A. Aliber is taking a trip to Buffalo and other eastern cities and will be absent from home about two weeks during which time Mrs. Aliber is taking charge of the business here.

Henry Ten Cate of Laketown still continues to do business in delivering produce. He has delivered all summer in Saugatuck where his vegetables brought a good price because they were the best to be had. Now he is delivering onions in from bushels to five bushel lots through the country.

Miss Florence Howard has resigned her position as "Hello Girl" at the Saugatuck central.

The Saugatuck and Ganges Telephone Co. commenced Wednesday to build their new line to South Haven to connect with the Mutual Co.

Mr. Wordevene of Holland has moved on the farm recently owned by Mrs. Barber but expects to move in the house now occupied by Mr. Steketee when the later moves into the A. Thomson's place for the winter while Mrs. Le Mont is in Chicago where she moved. Saugatuck Commercial.

Rusk

James De Jonge of this place has shipped his house hold goods to Ellsworth Mich. where he has recently purchased a farm. At the auction on his place Mr. De Jonge's farm of forty acres was sold to Ar-end Styf of North Blendon for $1,625.

Zeeland

Peter H. Brower our musical bell ringer played at the Holland City Mission. He has a fine specialty in this bell act having an array of dinner, cow, in fact every kind except dumbbells.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Berghorst.

H. Elzenga of Atwood, Mich., and Klaas Elzenga of Blendon, were in the city looking after the estate of M. Elzenga the pioneer shoe dealer.

Prof. J. E. Kuizenga occupied the pulpit of the Second Reformed church Sunday and Rev. John W. Beardslee preached in the First Reformed church.

A. G. Van Hees insured some new buildings at Allendale last week.

John Jekel has on exhibition in the show window of Boone dry good's store squashes, one weighing 80 and the other 87½ pounds. That's going some.

The charter members constituting the "Sans Souci" club recently organized are Henry Mulder, Henry Toms, Henry Pyl, Walter Rief, Herbert Benjamins, Samuel Stubbeler. The club is centrally located in the Vanden Bush blocks second floor and have been fitted up with a gymnasium and reading rooms. The club has mental and physical culture as its objects, and weekly programs will be given. Music will also be a feature.

C. Pieper and his son John were in Chicago Thursday on business.

Mrs. C. K. La Huis is in Kalamazoo visiting friends and relatives.

A. LaHuis was in Decatur and in Kalamazoo in the interest of the La Huis store Thursday.

D. Sytsma and A. La Huis have returned from White Pigeon where they were, in the interests of the Oscar Field Paper Co.

J. and H. Vander Peis and J. Datema made a fishing trip to Macatawa Thursday. No fish stories please.

Miss Mathilda Borst of Grand Rapids was in the city visiting friends and relatives.

The team of G. Gorth of Drenthe was suddenly frightened by a passing train at Vriesland station. The team started eastward but had gone only a short distance when they were stopped by the section men of the P. M. line.

Dr. Jno. Masselink has moved into his new $5,000 residence on the corner of Church and Lincoln streets.

For several years the primary department of our schools have been greatly over-crowded, which has rendered the highest quality of work impossible. At the opening of the present term the crowded condition of the first grade and kindergarten made more help an imperative necessity, and the board has finally secured the services of Miss Dykstra for that work.

The following twenty high school students were initiated into the Crescent Literary Society Friday evening: Anna Pruim, Floyd Vegter, Harry Derks, Eva Pruim, Adrian Roosenraad, Dick Roelofs, Ardian Van Farewe, Miss Dietz, Miss Cogshall, Emerson De Spelder, Henry Tymes, Herbert Van Veldt, Marian Dekker, Miss Rosenraad, Hazel Culver, Jacob Boonstra, Louise Wierenga, Martie Bowens, Marian Wagenaar, James Ver Lee. The Crescent program was as follows: Chaplain's address: roll call; humorous reading, Minnie Bolier; vocal solo, Margaret Den Herder, debate, "Resolved that Lincoln was a Greater man than Washington," affirmative, Alyda Veneklasen, Cornelius Van Eenenaam; negative, Henrietta Van Loo, Willie Van Eenenaam; vocal solo, Miss Baker; "Lightning Gazette," Alice Jonkman; music, Marguerite Cook; recitation; Katie Cook; critic's report.

The Misses Hattie, Annie and Matilda Roosendaal were in Holland visiting friends Sunday.

Mrs. B. Van denBerg and Mrs. C. DeKoster spent Saturday in Vriesland with Mrs. H. Lippenga. Chester Lahuis spent Sunday in Ann Arbor visiting friends.

Many farmers of this vicinity received their first payment at the Heinz Satling house in this city last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Bievel and two children left yesterday for Hardenberg, Netherlands, to reside after living four years in America.

Sunday afternoon fire completely destroyed one of the large barns back of the sawmill on Main street.

The fire had gained such headway before the firemen arrived that their best efforts were directed to saving the surrounding property. The barn was owned by Chris De Jong and contained four tons of hay, three tons of straw and 1000 feet of lumber and 5,000 lath. No insurance. The loss is estimated at $900.

The A. C. Van Raalte W. R. C. of Holland were the guests of Mrs. J. Vegter. A five o'clock dinner was served and a very enjoyable afternoon and evening was spent.

At a meeting of the Y. M. D. A. held Monday evening at their hall the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Pres., Ed Pruim; vice pres., Simon Bouwens; sec., Thomas Keppel; treas., P. T. Moerdyke; chairman physical committee, Benj. Veneklasen; chairman membership committee, L. Thursday; chairman social committee, Dick De Pree; chairman educational committee, Bob Leenhouts.

The old warehouse of the Wolverine factory which was placed at the P. M. tracks has been moved to the rear end of the company's lot.

The contract for auditing and checking up the accounts of the city clerk and treasurer has been awarded to Thomas Keppel and John Hartgerink.

Hietje Bros. have received a car load of cattle from N. Dak.

James Cook, Bert Pruim and Walter VanHaitma witnessed the Detroit-Pittsburg ball game at Detroit yesterday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Van der Werp—a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Noord have returned from a few weeks visit in Billings, Montana.

Drain Notice

Whereas application has been filed in the office of the Township Clerk of the township of Holland for the cleaning out of the so-called No. 6 drain of township of Holland and whereas also application has been filed for the cleaning out of the so-called No. 9 drain of the township of Holland; Now therefore, Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the township Board will be held with the County Drain Commissioner to determine the necessity of the cleaning of said drains. Said meeting will be held October 20 A. D., 1909. at 1:30 o'clock at the residence of H. H. Kragt for the No. 6 Drain and at 3:30 o'clock at the residence of M. VanTatenhove for the No. 9 Drain. Dated this 11th day of October, A. D. 1909

A. Van der Haar,
Township Clerk.

TOWNSHIP DEPOSITORS.

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 14.—The last legislature authorized county boards of supervisors to designate depositories for township moneys by resolution. This action was taken at the same time that an official depository or depositories was made for county funds and says that every township should have one or more depositories for township moneys.

The banks designated by the township board as depositories must be in the county where such township is located and must give sufficient bonds, approved by the township board. Deposits must not exceed $100,000 in any depository, and any sums deposited must not be in excess of the bonds given. It is the duty of the township treasurer to see that this provision is observed, otherwise he and his bondsmen are liable for the excess in case of loss.

All sums deposited must be in such shape that they may be open to public inspection. In case of failure of a bank where township moneys are kept, the law provides that the township treasurer or his bondsmen are not liable, except in cases of excessive deposit.

All Bowel Trouble

Is relieved almost instantly by using Dr. Bell's Anti Pains. It destroys disease germs and stops inflammation. Keep a bottle in he house. Sold Everywhere.

Charming Fall MILLINERY

Paris inspirations, American adaptations—a most splendid showing in all the pretty colorings now in vogue. This comprehensive collection comprises such creations as are designed by master minds in the millinery world as well as the cleverest creations from our own work rooms. Our leadership in bringing out the very latest and most becoming styles is more pronounced than ever this fall, while at the same time our reputation as makers of extremely low prices is greatly accentuated.

AT $7.50

AT $10

Beautiful Moire
Silk and Velvet
Hats as well as Felt Hats, trimmed with ribbons, feathers,
ornaments, etc.

A most exquisite collection of Trimmed Hats
in Beaver, Felt,
Moire Silk and Velvet. All fashionable Fall
modes

Headquarters for Misses' and Children's Millinery

HERPOLSHEIMER COM'Y

Grand Rapids' Greatest Department Store

Grand Rapids, Holland and Chicago Railway

Passenger Service:

HOURLY to all Main Line Points during winter months. Every two hours to Saugatuck.

HALF HOURLY service from May until October on Main Line.

SPECIAL SERVICE when the traffic demands and for excursions and picnics.

Freight Hauled on Express Time

John Busby, Supt., Holland
Chas. Floyd, G. P. & F. A., Grand Rapids

DISCOURAGED MEN

IS LIFE WORTH LIVING

MEN, you become disheartened when you feel the symptoms of Nervous Debility and decline stealing upon you. You haven't the nerve or ambition you used to have. You know you are not the man you ought to be. You feel like giving up in despair. You get nervous and weak, have little ambition, pain in the back over kidneys, dreams at night, hollow eyes, tired mornings, prefer to be alone, distrustful, variable appetite, looseness of hair, poor circulation—You have Nervous Debility. Our New Method Treatment is your refuge. It will strengthen all weak parts, vitalize the nervous system, purify the blood and restore you to a manly condition.

You Can be Cured

READER Are you a victim? Have you lost hope? Are you intending to marry? Has your blood been diseased? Have you any weakness? Our New Method Treatment will cure you. What it has done for hundreds of others, it will do for you. CONSULTATION FREE. No matter who has treated you, write for an honest opinion Free of Charge. Charges reasonable. BOOKS FREE—"Boyhood, Manhood, Fatherhood" (Illustrated), on Diseases of Men.

ESTABLISHED 20 YEARS—Curable Cases Guaranteed. No Treatment sent C. O. D. No names on boxes or envelopes. Everything confidential. Question list and cost of Home Treatment FREE. Office hours: 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.; Sundays 10 to 12 and 2 to 4 p. m.

DRS. KENNEDY & KENNEDY
Powers Theatre Bld'g Grand Rapids, Mich.

Griswold House

DETROIT, MICHIGAN

European Plan

200 Rooms	100 Rooms	50 Rooms
with running water	with private bath	Large, well lighted, for samples, with bath
Per Day $1.00	Per Day $1.50	Per Day $2.00

Dining Room and Cafe

Club Breakfast from 25 cents up Table d'Hôte dinner at noon and night, 50 cents
Large, well lighted dining room on parlor floor, and cafe grill room on ground floor. Lady waiters in main dining room

POSTAL & MOREY, Proprietors

FRED BOONE,

Livery, Sale and Feed Stable

Best Carriages, fast gentle horses, lowest prices. Special care given to boarding horses, either by the day or by the month. Always have good horses for sale. SPECIAL PRICES for WEDDINGS and FUNERALS.

209 Central Avenue

Citizens Phone 34, Bell Phone 38.

HOLLAND, MICH

I always have Houses and Lots for sale, or to rent in different parts of the City.

FARMS—I have a large list of farms which I can SELL, RENT or EXCHANGE if you want a good farm. Come and see me.

I have a nice line of ACREAGE and RESORT PROPERTY on hand.

FIRE INSURANCE—I have the best companies in the state who pay losses promptly after fires.

If you desire to sell, rent or exchange your property, try lacing it with me, for quick results. All deals are given my personal attention and kept confidential.

C. De Keyser Holland, Mich.

Real Estate and Insurance

Citizens Phone 14-24

Cor. River and 18th Sts.

A Special Mission

Is fulfilled in telling exactly what materials to use in the care of the TEETH. Almost everyone can, with the proper care, preserve the teeth as long as they live, and preservation may mean a longer life, surely better health and more comfort. We charge you nothing for examination and advice.

F. M. GILLESPIE, DENTIST

80 E. Eighth Street, Phone 33

RHEUMATIC FOLKS

Are You Sure Your Kidneys are Well?

Many rheumatic attacks are due to uric acid in the blood. Its presence there shows the kidneys are inactive.

Don't dally with "uric acid solvents." You might go on till doomsday with them, but until you cure the kidneys you will never get well. Doan's Kidney Pills not only remove uric acid, but cure the kidneys and then all danger from uric acid is ended. The following testimony will convince the most skeptical Holland citizen.

Max Grimm, farmer, two miles south of Muskegon, Mich., says: "I was subject to attacks of rheumatism for some time but I never had any severe trouble until last fall. At that time the pains extended all through my loins. I grew so bad that I could not walk and was confined to the house for three weeks. Finally I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and had my sister get a supply for me. I began using them and was relieved immediately and by the time I had finished the contents of one box, I was completely cured and able to work. I cannot find words strong enough to express my appreciation of Doan's Kidney Pills. I will recommend them to any person I know to be suffering from kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Auction Sale

The greatest auction sale that Holland has ever seen will be held at Riksen's Implement store Saturday Oct. 23, 1909. The following goods will be sold commencing at 8 o'clock in the morning: new wagons, new buggies, two new Clover Leaf manure spreaders, new plows new harrows, new wash machines, three new Farmers Favorite drills, new disk harrows, harnesses old and new, two gasoline engines, cream separators, new cutters, feed grinders. Also the following second hand goods: good lumber wagons, top buggies, open buggies, road carts, plows, harrows, grain binders, corn binders, mowers, one 4 roll Deering corn husker used 2 years, 20 horses among these are several young horses either for driving or working purposes; 3 or four ponies well broke, also 4 cows. Further information will be given at the sale.

There will be given 5 per cent discount for cash, all sums below $5 cash, above $5, time will be given till Oct. 1, 1910, without interest on good approved notes.

Schilleman & Langers, Auctioneers.

2W41

Why People Cough

is a mystery when Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey will cure any cough. Look for the bell on the bottle. It marks the genuine.

DROPS
TRADE MARK
A PROMPT, EFFECTIVE REMEDY FOR ALL FORMS OF RHEUMATISM
Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Kidney Trouble and Kindred Diseases.
Applied externally it affords almost instant relief from pain, while permanent results are being effected by taking it internally, purifying the blood, dissolving the poisonous substance and removing it from the system.
DR. C. L. GATES
Hancock, Minn., writes: "A little girl here had such a weak backbone by Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble that she could not stand on her feet. The moment they put her down on the floor she would scream with pain. I treated her with 'DROPS' and today she runs around as well and happy as can be. I prescribe 'DROPS' for my patients and use it in my practice."
Large Blue Bottle "DROPS" (500 Doses) $1.00. For Sale by Druggists.
SWANSON RHEUMATIC CURE COMPANY,
Dept. 80 174 Lake Street, Chicago

SWANSON PILLS

Act quickly and gently upon the digestive organs, carrying off the disturbing elements and establishing a healthy condition of the liver, stomach and bowels.

THE BEST REMEDY FOR CONSTIPATION
Stomach, Liver, Bowels, etc.
25 Cents Per Box at druggists

SMALL DOG'S CLEVER SCHEME

How Tatters Solved the Problem of Escaping Punishment for Wandering.

A proof that animals think was given by a little slye terrier who did everything but talk. There was a fence around the lawn and he was never allowed to go out alone, but in the spring when the ground was soft he would dig a hole under the fence and go on a little outing, says Our Dumb Animals. One day he was discovered digging. I knocked on the window and said, "No, Tatters." He looked up at me, then deliberately went around back of the house and began to make another hole. In front of his home was an open field and across that was a house where this same little dog had a fancy for calling and where he knew we objected to his going. He was scolded for disobeying, and finally given a gentle chastisement.

We flattered ourselves he was conquered at last, but his fertile brain was equal to the occasion. Missing him one day we saw him going up the street. Then we went around the block till he got to the house where he stayed for half an hour, then came back home the same way, instead of taking a short cut across the field as he had been in the habit of doing, and where he knew we would be sure to see him.

DEPOSIT EGGS IN THE SEA

Manner in Which Eels Are Bred Is a Recent Discovery Made by Scientists.

The Straits of Messina are channels of immense depth, through which a wide tide surges, and owing probably to irregularities at the bottom there are whirling eddies which have the effect of bringing up from the depths, below many marine creatures which are rarely seen except in the deep sea trawls.

It was here that the larval form of a fresh water eel was first discovered, an incident which threw a blaze of light on the life history of a very mysterious fish.

All kinds of theories had been given forth with regard to the propagation of the eel. Some naturalists declared they bred in fresh water, others that they visited the estuary for spawning purposes, but thanks to the discovery of Messina and later captures of the eel in its larval form it is now practically certain that after mature eels drop down our rivers in autumn they lie them to exceedingly deep water in the sea and there deposit their eggs.

From the egg comes a little ribbon-shaped creature, the larval form. In due course this changes into an eel of still smaller size, strange to say, and these small eels or elvers afterward ascend our rivers and there remain until they reach maturity, when they in their turn descend to the sea and history is repeated.

An Ingenious Rest Cure.

Some managers crave responsibility as a child does sugar. Take it away from them and their spirits drop and they lose their stamina. The office manager of a vigorous wholesale house was once given a month's vacation, supposedly to refresh his mind and get his thoughts on other lines. He left a hale, hearty and vitally sturdy man. He was supposed to be basking in the sunshine of a mountain lake, taking life easy, far away from the toil and care of the greedy mart. In reality, he was eaten alive by mosquitoes, worried to death for fear of business going wrong, and chafed by a dragging impatience. His very soul longed for the strife and his miserable ennui drove him to aggravated liver troubles. In three weeks he returned, blanched and haggard. He was put to work, loaded to the guards with responsibility, and with ten hours' toil per day he fattened like a corn-fed pig. It was better than the most ingenious rest cure ever invented. To this day the man dreads his enforced lay-off over Sunday.—Bookkeeper Magazine.

New Missiles for Weddings.

It is quite singular how of late years a decided objection to the ancient custom of rice and slipper throwing after the bride and bridegroom has sprung up, so much so that several comparatively new ideas have of late come almost universally into vogue.

Instead of the hard rice pellets, which occasionally are thrown with too much vehemence to be pleasant, some brides go in for substituting the tiniest ladies' slippers as well as horseshoes made entirely of soft silver paper. These resemble a sparkling shower of silver. Other brides lean to providing their friends with dried rose or other sweet smelling leaves to be thrown after them.

A Matter of Time.

A Toledo lawyer was recently retained to defend an individual charged with housebreaking and larceny. The accused requested that his lawyer outline his plan of defense. This being done, the prisoner evinced much disgust.

"How long is it going to take to get through with this case?" he growled. The lawyer smiled politely. "I think," said he, "that it will take me about two weeks, but I'm afraid it's going to take you about four years."

Physical Impressions.

"The new acquaintance we met yesterday struck me forcibly on the instep." "You're lucky. He struck me forcibly on the back."

WHEN LION'S EYES ARE KIND

Then Only Does the Animal Trainer Dare Put His Head in the Beast's Mouth.

"You must love the animals," said a well-known trainer, "or otherwise you cannot train them. They can tell at once whether you love them or not. They know it by instinct. They know whether or not you are afraid of them; they can tell that right away. You must never, never let them know that you are afraid."

"It is always best to begin with an animal direct from the jungle. The wild animal is much better. The tame animal, born and brought up in captivity, begins to play with you like a little kitten. That's before his claws have grown big. Then, when his claws do grow and he scratches you, you begin to be afraid of him. That is very bad for the animal—to know that you are in any fear of him. He promptly takes advantage of it. But the wild animal, on the contrary, knows nothing of you—whether you are afraid or not. He just comes at you fiercely. You stab him once or twice. You stick him with the prong; he retreats. That's where you win."

"No, never try to train tame animals. Tackle the wild animals straight from the jungle. Now, there's my lion—the one in whose mouth I put my head. That is really dangerous. I don't always do that in my act. I do it only when I see that his eyes are kind. I could sleep with that animal—he's generally so kind. No, I haven't tried it, but I could."

"Of course the lion might put an end to me in a jiffy. One pinch of his teeth would settle it. But I look him straight in the eye and I see whether or not it twinkles. If it twinkles I do not put my head in his mouth. If it does not twinkle I run the risk."

ACCORDING TO THE CONTRACT

Rug Merchant Overreached Himself in Making Terms for Sale of Carpet.

"While I was in Damascus," said a globe trotter the other day, "some royal highness or other potentate passed through that ancient city and the governor of the town delivered an address of welcome. It was in verse and everybody who knew of the occurrence felt sure that the governor had been richly rewarded by the prince for his effort. That afternoon, so the story goes, the governor called on a dealer in rugs with whom he had been chaffering for a long time over a magnificent carpet which he coveted for his palace. After several cups of coffee the rug merchant offered the governor the carpet in exchange for the present the prince had given him for his poetic welcome to Damascus. The governor, after a little hesitation, agreed and the carpet was rolled up and delivered to an attendant who started for the governor's palace."

"Thank you," said the governor, as he arose gracefully to his feet.

"But the prince's present," demanded the rug merchant.

"You have it," said the governor, "all he gave me was 'thank you,' and this I have given you for your carpet."

Tennyson's Critic.

Here is a Tennyson anecdote which we recently found in a French literary paper, and which we believe will be new to a great many of our readers. The laureate, of course, was in the habit of receiving a large number of requests for his autograph. As a rule he did not reply. But one day he was much impressed by the letter of the young daughter of a country gentleman, and he sent her not only his autograph, but an original quatrain. The girl was naturally delighted. Her father, however, did not allow her to thank the poet, but assumed that responsibility himself. He sent the following letter:

"Dear Sir: I have shown your verses to the schoolmaster. He finds that the tails of the g's and the upper part of the h's are very irregular, and that you also forget to cross your t's. Aside from that, I thank you for your effort."—The Bookman.

Married Happiness.

In 1827 the editor of a Brussels paper published an article on married happiness in Belgium, and assured his readers that the following table was the result of authentic researches. It would be interesting if the lapse of years has materially altered it. Wives who have left their husbands, 3,021; voluntary separations, 2,623; couples living at war under the same roof, 5,142; couples who hate each other, but keep up outward appearances, 6,112; persons living in absolute indifference to the habits and pursuits of each other, 4,012; persons who are reported happy, but who are really not so, 1,210; persons who are comparatively happy 1,022; really happy couples, 3.

A Little Dialogue.

Alicia—Jack is so handsome.
Gladys—Yes.
Alicia—And so courteous.
Gladys—Yes.
Alicia—Always addresses me as "Fair Miss."
Gladys—That's the force of habit.
Alicia—How so?
Gladys—He used to be conductor on a street car!

When Greek Meets Greek.

The Stranger (triumphantly)—Four aces, old son.
Shuffling Pete (gloomily)—All right. Take the money. But I'll be shot if that was the hand I dealt you.—The Bystander.

WEDDING CARDS.

A great many people do not realize the importance of announcement cards following a wedding.

Particularly where there is a small wedding with few invitations is this necessary.

Announcement cards are sent to every one you know, or, more literally, to every one whose acquaintance you wish to recognize.

It is perfectly proper to send them to persons whom you know but slightly. They are indefinite, there is no obligation either of calling or of sending a reply, or, of course, of a wedding gift. Where no invitations are sent, an "at home" card enclosed with the announcement is sent to personal friends. This is a direct invitation to call.

In the case of a business girl, it is courteous to send an announcement to her former employer without the "at home" card, unless she happens to be acquainted with him socially. If he has a wife, the wife's name should be included, no matter whether she is known to the bride or not.

Announcements are engraved or printed and are made in the name of the bride's parents or her nearest relatives.

They must be posted immediately after the ceremony.

These can be procured at the Holland City News office, printed in up-to-date style, at most reasonable prices.

WORDS TO TEACH AND COMFORT.

If you are down with the blues, read Psalm 27.

If there is a chilly sensation about the heart, read Rev. 3.

If you don't know where to look for the month's rent, read Psalm 37.

If you feel lonesome and unprotected, read Psalm 91.

If the stove pipe has fallen down and the cook goes off in a pet, put up the pipe, wash your hands, and read James 3.

If you find yourself losing confidence in men, read 1 Cor. 13.

If people tell you with hard words, read John 15.

If you are getting discouraged about your work, read Psalm 126 and Galatians 6:7-9.

If you are all out of sorts, read Hebrews 12.

LARGE WHITE OAK SOLD FOR $100—18 FEET THROUGH.

At the Harmon McCoy farm in Pokagon has been for years a big white oak tree which timber buyers have tried for all this time to buy.

The tree was 18 feet in diameter, and will cut three twelve-foot logs, with limbs large enough to cut several more. A few days ago George Phillips, the famous lumber merchant, called at the McCoy home and offered Mr. McCoy $100 for the tree and got it.

This is not all the timber Mr. McCoy has, but it was the biggest tree. He lived there for many years, and will spend his days there. His first vote was cast 58 years ago, and the polling place was the old Summerville hotel.—Downaglac Herald.

THINK IT OVER.

The following composition was prepared by a schoolboy, who had been instructed by his teacher to write an essay on editors, and published in an exchange:

"I don't know how the newspapers came to be in the world, and I don't think God does, for He's got nothing to say about them in the Bible. I think the editor is one of the missing links we read about and stayed in the bushes until after the flood, and then came out, wrote the thing up, and has been here ever since. I don't think he ever died. I never saw a dead one or heard of one getting licked. Our paper is a mighty good one, but our editor goes without underwear all winter and don't wear any socks and he ain't paid his subscription since the paper started. I asked pa if that was the reason why the editor had to suck the juice out of snowballs in winter and go to bed when he had a shirt washed in the summer. About then pa took me out in the woodshed and licked me awful hard. If the editor makes mistakes the folks say he ought to be hung; but if a doctor makes mistakes he buries them and the people dassent say a word because doctors can read or write Latin. When an editor makes mistakes there is lawsuits and swearing and a big fuss; but if the doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a yard long without him or anybody knowing what it is, but if the editor uses one he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife, he charges her for it; if the editor goes he gets a charge of buckshot. When some men get drunk it's a case of being overcome by the heat, and if he dies it's a case of heart trouble. When an editor gets drunk it's a case of too much booze, and if he dies it's a case of jim-jams. Any college can make a doctor, but an editor has to be born."

"I'd Rather Die, Doctor than have my feet cut off," said M. L. Bingham, of Princeville, Ill. "But you'll die from gangrene (which had eaten away eight toes) if you don't," said all doctors. Instead he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve till wholly cured. Its cures of Eczema, Fever Sores, Boils, Burns and Piles astound the world, 25c at Walsh Drug Co.

HOLLAND CITY NEWS

MULDER BROS. & WHELAN, PUBLISHERS
 Boot & Kramer Bldg., 8th street, Holland, Mich.

Terms $1.50 per year with a discount of 50c to those paying in advance. Rates of Advertising made known upon application.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Holland, Michigan, under the act of Congress March, 1879.

The Insurance Squabble

In spite of the fact that a lot of squibbs and jokes have been cracked at the expense of the mayor's cabinet, proposed by Mayor Brussee some time ago, the idea is not so very preposterous after all. Any new departure like that is bound to come in for its share of ridicule and fun, because the average citizen is by nature conservative, so much so that instead of taking suggestions of this kind seriously he considers them merely as good handles for witticism.

These reflections on the need of some sort of meditating device between the council and the different city boards come to us in connection with the insurance squabble now on. The mayor has made a fight on the insurance bill and is valiantly backed by the members of the council. The Board of Public Works readily joins battle and merry war of words, resolutions, counter-resolutions and communications is now on. The mayor and some of the council in effect say: "You're a bad actor" and certain gentlemen in the Board of Public Works say: "You're another." These municipal factions resemble in many ways two small boys who dig their toes into the ground, clinch their fists for a fight but do nothing except glare at each other and call each other names.

The News is not taking sides in this dispute over insurance rates. It would be rather presumptuous for any one to take sides without sifting the evidence. Some time ago we took sides with the Board of Public Works on another question, because we believed then that the council was pursuing a short sighted policy. But we are just as ready to take sides with the council in this case if the evidence warrants it. But the point is here. Continual friction between the council and the Board of Public Works or any of the other boards for that matter, cannot help but hurt the interests of the city. For a long time now the Board and the Council has been at loggerheads and the one is always ready to pick flaws in the methods or administration of the other. In a private business a man who works under constant suspicion cannot do good work. He will spend all his energy in trying to make his actions jibe with what he thinks will leave him free from any attack, and the work does not receive his whole hearted, sympathetic attention. This works out in a similar way in an organization. Any organization in constant fear of having its action called in question cannot from the nature of the case render efficient service.

We do not condemn the action of the mayor in calling in question the amount of insurance rates. If the rates are too high it is business to see that a reasonable rate is paid. But it is the spirit of most of the transactions between the council and the Board of Public Works that we most heartily condemn. They are not co-operating to give the people the best possible service, but they have become competitors and rivals. Each trying to curry favor with the people by throwing suspicion on the other.

For this reason it seems necessary that they should be some medium of exchange between these two organizations. At first sight it seems grotesque that in a tiny city like Holland there should be a Mayor's Board. Under ordinary circumstances the idea would be grotesque. But extraordinary conditions have arisen involving the original way. Whether that is done by means of a Mayor's Cabinet or in some other way is immaterial, but it is patent to every observer, that a state of affairs as it exists now is disastrous to the city's welfare.

The News and the Devil

Machinery everyday takes away a good deal of the romance and picturesqueness of the various industries. So does the closer organization of the departments of industry of the classification into specialized fields. Some quarter of a century ago when the apprenticeship system still obtained in many of the trades there was a parental atmosphere about them that many a worker today looks back to with fond regret. Then the boy who had made up his mind to become a blacksmith, for example, or a cobbler was bound over as an apprentice to the master workman, and he usually became a member of his family until he had mastered the trade. But since the trades have become highly specialized, a boy must learn a mechanical section of a trade rather than the trade itself, and hence the apprenticeship system has been abandoned for the most part except in the small towns.

And among all the trades the apprentice of the printers trade was easily the most interesting. He has been given the strangely caressing name of "devil," and whose heart does not go out to one of those grimy ink stained, dishevelled youngsters, a few of whom can be found even today in the small town. In the cities the linotype and many other forces have made the apprenticeship system impracticable and the name "devil" is merely a tradition. But it is really refreshing to visit a printing office where there is a real "devil," who has begun his career by "pying" a form just before going to press and who has gone through all the degrees of printing office gags that have been invented since "Caxton" invented his first press.

Until not so very long ago the News had still a "devil" in its employ. He was a real "devil" and proved this by pying a form just before going to press. During its long career as a newspaper since 1872 the News has had "devils" of all grades, shapes and types, and some who became prominent in our city's history later. William Alden always brags of having been a newsboy but such men as City Attorney Van Duren, Chief of Police Kamferbeek, Mail Carrier Geerlings, and even ex-mayor Henry Geerlings can always brag of having once held the humble position of "devil" or in the News composing room.

The School Saving's Bank

A unique feature has been installed in the public schools in Otsego which contains beautiful suggestions for the public school system. It is nothing less than a School Savings Bank. The investment habit is an extremely good habit, and if it can be inculcated in early youth so much the better. And whatever else may accrue from the School Savings Bank its primal object is the forming and fixing of actual habits of saving and thrift. That this is accomplished is the unanimous testimony of school officers and teachers and all who have had opportunity to view closely the working of the plan.

The School Savings Bank is no longer an experiment. Over 86 years of successful operation in Europe and 23 years of trial in America have led to its recognition by thoughtful people as most valuable adjunct to public education, practical in operation and successful in results.

The student who wishes to make a deposit brings his money Friday morning and leaves it with the teacher of his room. The teacher enters the amount on a card which is given to the student, the amount of the deposit is also entered upon a large room card kept by the teacher. The money is collected from each room and recounted and a record made of the deposits from each room.

Their total amount is deposited with a local bank and when the student has deposited one dollar or over the bank issues him a certificate of deposit for one dollar, this draws interest. The student may withdraw his money at any time, with the consent of the parent.

In installing this system there is no cost to pupil or patron and we can see no reasons why it could not work in Holland.

Holland's Drowning Record

Only one case of drowning in Holland and the neighboring resorts has been reported so far this year. Considering that there is a great liability for fatalities of this kind in this city as in almost any city in the country, this is a most remarkable record. We doubt whether this record has been equaled in recent years. The single case of drowning was that of the old captain who tended the danger lights in Black Lake. As the immediate cause of his death is a mystery no deductions can be drawn from it.

But the lack of drownings seems significant. We don't believe it is because people have become afraid of the water and do not venture out on it. The fact that several cases of near-drownings were reported disproves that theory. People have not become afraid; so long as there is a swimming pool within a radius of five miles small boys will go swimming, and as long as there is a chance for fishing, many men and women as well, will indulge in this sport. But it seems that people are getting wiser. They are learning to treat the water more intelligently. Instead of smiling indulgently at the fool that rocks the boat they endorse the sentiment that he should have his head soaked. There is very little danger on the water if the swimmer or the boatman takes proper care. In the Netherlands where there is a dyke around every ten acre lot perhaps, the drowning fatalities are not very numerous. The people there understand the water.

This fact is exactly what makes a resort town on the water a dangerous place. Many people frequent the resorts who have perhaps never touched water except in a bath tub. They become enamored with the delight of the fresh cool stream during the hot months of summer but knew nothing of the treacherous under currents that drag their victims down. Perhaps a swimming master has given them a few elementary lessons, but they have not learned the few saving laws about keeping cool in lines of danger.

But in the past few years the newspapers have been urging again and again the simple principle that should guide one on the water. The New York and Chicago Dailies have not considered the subject too insignificant and many of the smaller cities have followed suit. It is a subject that must be urged repeatedly in a resort town like Holland to have any effect at all. The News has for the past two or three years devoted some space at the beginning of every resort season to this subject. We do not claim that the lack of drowning in Holland this summer is due to that fact, but whatever the cause or causes of it we are pleased to call attention to the fact.

The north pole was located, it seems, on the shifting ice. Every explorer must watch his own pole. No responsibility for lost poles! However scientists say that the pole does not remain in the same place but wobbles in a radius of 30 feet. Perhaps this accounts for the fact that it has staggered so many explorers.

In one month the state will send out a big sum of primary school money, which in many districts, will add to the hoarded up wealth from this source. We are glad to say, however, that Holland is not numbered among such districts.

Complaint is made that the Lincoln cents are too thick to put into the slot machine. But you can slip them into the savings banks, which is a great deal better.

You sometimes here the expression in reference to a dull street "you could shoot a cannon ball down the street without hitting any one! But how about the alleys?"

The average woman after looking at the portrait of Cook and Peary, has decided that Cook was the first to reach the pole.

What business man on Eighth street would wish to see the lights removed? Dont all "holler" at once.

No umpire was ever mobbed for letting the home-team win.

WHAT YOU SAW IN THIS PAPER

35 Years ago To-day.

Francis D. Van Der Sluis of Big Rapids was married to Miss Mary L. Warner of Cleveland, Ohio, on the 5th.

The material development of Zeeland is beginning to show its beneficial results in more than one direction. This time it has taken a musical turn and Zeeland is going to have a cornet band. The necessary funds have been gathered and on Wednesday a band of thirteen instruments was organized. The band of this place went down there on Saturday and spent the evening among the burghers of our neighboring village, as we are told to the great satisfaction of all the parties concerned. The members of the new organization are: P. v. d. Bosch, J. W. Goozen' & Bolks, A. Heyma, J. Fox, F. Hendrikse, Ch. v. d. Berg, H. Langheers, J. de Jong, F. Pifer, T. Eenennaam, L. De Groote and R. Notting.

WHAT YOU SAW 30 YEARS AGO
 J. Postma, aged 22 years, of Graafschap, Mich., was killed very suddenly on Monday at Muskegon, by a lumber pile falling on him. His remains were taken through this city to be interred at Graafschap, where most of his relatives reside.

Among the most important items spread on the minutes of the Common Council proceedings of Tuesday night we notice a petition of E. F. Sutor to have his liquor tax paid back to him, because he cannot get the bondsmen required by the new liquor law, which was laid on the table. Also a petition by the residents of Ninth street, between Fish and Land sts., to have that part of Ninth street repaired in conjunction with the efforts of the railroad company; granted to be done under the supervision of the street commissioner. Also a petition from several members of Fire Co. No. 2, for a mass meeting to lay before the citizens the pressing need of a better water supply, in default of which we are liable to see the whole city burn down once more. (Thursday last was the 8th anniversary of the big fire.)

WHAT YOU SAW 25 YEARS AGO
 The farmers in the township of Jamestown have organized a Mutual Detective association. The object of the organization is to follow and detect all criminals who have stolen the property of any one of its members, and to follow the prosecution to the end. A fund will be raised so that rewards may be offered, and thus stimulate in all its members, a desire to ferret out and punish all offenders.

Mr. Will Brussee of Zeeland has opened a first class merchant tailoring establishment in this city in the building on Eighth street recently occupied as a millinery store by Mrs. Wheeler and will keep the very best of goods.

The largest political demonstration in this city of this campaign was the one of last Thursday night. The streets were full of people who desired to witness the torchlight procession which was large and consisted of 100 members of the Cleveland and Hendricks club and about 25 of the Zeeland club. The local club marched to the train at 6.46 and received the visitors and then the procession was formed with the Zeeland band at the head. The line of march was through Eighth street to River and along south River to Twelfth street and back again to Lyceum hall. The column was in charge of Joe Allen and Jake Van Patten who were mounted on horseback.

Grand Haven—Capt. Kirby's new steam barge "Pickard" was launched last Wednesday afternoon in good style in the presence of a very large gathering of people. She has 132 feet keel, is 193 feet over all by 32 feet beam and 16 feet hold, calculated to carry over a thousand tons of iron ore.

WHAT YOU SAW 20 YEARS AGO
 Mayor Kremers' new residence, corner Twelfth and Market streets, is almost finished. It is a handsome structure and one of the finest residences in the city.

Mr. Jas. Huntley was in Grand Rapids last week and submitted his bid to the West Michigan Park association for the erection of a hotel building at Ottawa Beach. The new structure will be built at once and will be 48x100 feet, two stories high. Many warm friends in Holland will be saddened by the intelligence of the death of Mrs. Mary A. Shields at the home of her daughter at Good Hope, Ill., on Oct. 15.

A change was made in station agents at C. & W. Ry. offices here on Thursday last. John C. Holcomb, who has for the past seven years been agent at Fremont, was transferred to this point.

The New Bank
 A meeting of the stockholders of the new bank was held on Monday noon. The name selected was the First State Bank of Holland. The following is a list of the stockholders: Hon. I. Cappon, T. Koffers, L. Mulder, Prof. G. J. Kollen, A. Visscher, H. Boone, A. Seif, G. J. Diekema, J. W. Bosman, A. Steketee, Meyer, Brouwer Co., J. H. Purdy, Rev. J. W. Beardslee, E. Vaupell, Mrs. H. Vaupell, Dr. H. Kremers, H. D. Post and J. C. Post of Holland city; I. Marsilje, H. Kragt, A. Van Kooi and J. H. Boone of Holland township; Hon. J. W. Garvelink and G. W. Mokma of Filmore township; Dr. Huizenga of Zeeland; H. Pelgrim of Olive township, and Paul Steketeh of Grand Rapids.

It has been the intention of the projectors of this enterprise to make the institution a "colony" bank, which would have the confidence and support of the city and farming community about Holland. It is to be incorporated under the laws of the State, and the bank will have both the commercial and savings departments. It will be opened for business about the first of December.

WHAT YOU SAW 15 YEARS AGO
 Chris DeJong lost a load of hay last week in a peculiar manner. While driving through a piece of woods where they were burning the underbrush, the hay became ignited and in a moment the load became a mass of flames. The driver jumped off and drove into a ditch so the hay slipped off. Besides the hay, a coat and a blanket were burned, in all amounting to about $20. Mr. DeJonge thinks he was lucky in saving the wagon.

Cook & Whitby's circus gave two very creditable performances in this city on Friday, Oct. 5.

On Sunday, Oct. 7, to Mr. and Mrs. B. Veldheer, a girl. On Monday, Oct. 8 to Mr. and Mrs. J. Wolfert, a girl. Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hacklander on Saturday, Oct. 6, a girl. Born to Mr. and Mrs. G. Stam on Thursday, Oct. 4.

Eight or nine years ago the village of Allegan was stirred up by the mysterious murder of a young woman of the town, Eliza Sage. Her body was found by the late Judge Arnold while he was looking for lost sheep on his farm. The murderer was never apprehended. A dispatch from Allegan says that Sam Lightner, now dying in Muskegon, has confessed to the deed.

The farm home of Hendrik Boeve four miles southeast of the city, was broken into Wednesday afternoon by Henry Boot of Grand Haven, a distant relative of the Boeves. He stole three watches and a gold ring, and was tracked to Saugatuck where he registered under the name of John Wulks.

The Holland Martial Band have sold out their roller skating outfit, and the rink will open under a new management this evening.

WHAT YOU SAW 10 YEARS AGO
 Isaac N. Meeker and Miss Mary Howard of New Richmond were united in marriage last Friday afternoon by Rev. Clark at the home of Mrs. Howard, 263 Land street. Mr. Meeker is 62 years old and his wife is 74 years. He owns considerable property at New Richmond.

Jan Bolks, one of the old settlers of Overisel, died Monday afternoon at his home in that village. He was nearly 90 years of age and came from the Netherlands 50 years ago.

The remains of Rufus K. Stallings ex-mayor of Grand Haven, were taken to Louisville, Ky., last Friday evening. They were accompanied by Mrs. Stallings and her daughter and by Jas. Orr of Grand Haven.

Ottawa Doctors Meet

The eighth annual election of the Ottawa County medical society was held in the council rooms Tuesday afternoon. The election resulted as follows: Pres., Dr. T. G. Huizenga of Zeeland. First Vice Pres. D. G. Cook of Holland. 2d Vice Pres. Dr. Peppeler of Byron. Sec. and Treas. Dr. G. H. Thomas, Holland. Because of the success of last years banquet it was determined to make this an annual event. This year the banquet will be held the second Tuesday in Nov. as directors. Ex. Pres. Leenhouts, Dr. B. B. Godfrey, and Dr. W. De Kleins were appointed. Dr. Whitney of Grand Rapids read a paper on "the effect of Kidney Lesions on the Heart and Circulation". This society its existence under the name The Grand River Medical Association. In the eight years of its independent organization it has increased in membership from 21 to 43. Its work is almost entirely preventative. Thus it is seen that the medical man is the only professional man who works against his own interest. Considering the work it has done here in Holland as regards sanitation and prevention, it can easily be maintained that to our local medical society is due the fact that Holland enjoys such immunity from once frequent epidemics.

Subscribe the News NOW, $1.00 per year in advance.

Hope 0 Muskegon 0

The Hope - Muskegon football game last Saturday, was an unexpected surprise to Muskegon, as well as to many local enthusiasts. The enthusiasm shown by the students was greatly dampened when just before the game, three of Hope's veterans were withdrawn by order of the college authorities. Their not having permits from parents was the reason assigned. Three High school men were procured to fill the vacancies, and the game commenced. Hope kicked off to Muskegon who were forced to punt. Hope played on the defensive the greater part of the time, as Dalenberg and Heemstra, around whom Hope's plays centered, had been taken out of the game. The first half ended without a score on either side.

The ball was in Hope's territory most of the game. Muskegon opened the second half by berrying the ball to Hope's 5 yd. line, where they lost the ball on a fumble. Hadden, one of the high school men with Hope, made his punting the feature of the game. All of Hope's men showed up well on the defensive, Brooks and Vruinink deservng especial mention. Kutsche starred for Muskegon. James Nufer an old U. of M. star acted as referee, and Ned Lacey umpired the game.

Indignation at the faculty's action ran high among the students. Monday morning when the first students arrived, they beheld every possible object decorated with glaring placards, "Are you going to chapel, get a permit." Although an investigation was instituted, the personal of the decorating committee is still unknown. Far from crushing football spirit, the action of the authorities seems to have aroused it, when next Saturday, the team will trot out on the field with the entire student body to cheer them.

Debating Club Dissolved

The report is current that because of the disintegration of Hope's debating club, there will be no inter-collegiate debate at Hope this year. This is a mistake. Because of the interest shown in debating, and to give every student an opportunity to make the team, a new plan has been adopted. A Debating Board, consisting of three members, one from each college society, has charge of all affairs concerning debates. This year the college team will be selected by inter-society debates. The question is as yet undecided, no answer having been received from Alma and Olivet, the other members of the Triangular Debating League.

Seminary Notes

A Haverkamp of the Middle class has been unable for some time to attend to his duties.

The regular Adelphic Y. M. C. A. was held Tuesday at the home of Dr. Dubbink. The paper of the evening, "The Hymnology of the Reformed church," was treated by Geo. F. Huizenga.

The Western Social conference will meet in the chapel next Monday morning. The following subjects will be discussed, "What does our Western Theological Seminary need most?" "The Tithing System in the New Testament."

The Seminary will be represented next Sunday as follows: H. Pannukuk, Dunningville; B. De Young Spring Lake; H. B. Mollma, Graafschap; W. Walvoort, Grant; J. A. Roggen, Beaverdam; C. Muller, Decatur; Geo. F. Huizenga, Holland, Ist., evening.

The Cuban government will get a large return from the lottery, and encourage one of the worst of human instincts.

"I'd Rather Die, Doctor

than have my feet cut off," said M. L. Bingham, of Princeville, Ill. "But you'll die from gangrene (which had eaten away eight toes) if you don't," said all doctors. Instead he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve till wholly cured. Its cures of Eczema, Fever Sores, Boils, Burns and Piles astound the world.

How Much Will You Pay

to have your eyes cured; Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve only costs 25c and will cure. Good for nothing but the eyes.

Words to Freeze the Soul

"Your son has consumption. His case is hopeless." The appalling words were spoken to Geo. E. Blevens, a leading merchant of Springfield, N. C. by two expert doctors—one a lung specialist. Then was shown the wonderfull power of Dr. King's New Discovery. "After three week's use," writes Mr. Blevens, "he was as well as ever. I would not take all in the world for what it did for my boy." Infallible for Colds and Coughs, its the safest, surest cure of desperate Lung diseases on earth. 50 and $1.00. Guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free. Walsh Drug Co.

Absolutely Pure...

IN SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Anderson of Sykesville Pa. were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Olive, at their home on West Eleventh street Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Olive are sisters.

It was John's forty-fourth birthday that brought the Lokker-Rutgers Co. force to Central Park, where Mr. and Mrs. Rutgers had made preparations to royally entertain them. They all wished Mr. Rutgers many returns of the day after a delightful evening had been spent.

Mrs. W. H. Beach entertained the East End Embroidery club Monday afternoon.

The classis of the Holland Chris. Ref. church was in session in the Central Avenue church Tuesday.

Mrs. Florence M. Boot president W. R. C. has returned from Wayland where she inspected the corps there.

The old teachers entertained the new ones at Waukazoo Saturday. The yacht Idella was at their disposal during the day. Dinner was served at Dr. Mersen's cottage. We have not heard if womens suffrage was the main topic of conversation, however be that as it may they had a rattling good time.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brouwer are home from a trip to Chicago and Milwaukee.

Attorney Arthur Van Duren has returned from Lansing where he attended the meeting of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

Mrs. P. H. Mc Brice was called to Dundee Tuesday by the death of her father William C. Spalding who is 93 years old.

Miss Eva Lapish left Saturday to spend a week in Kalamazoo, with Mrs. Herman Noquist, formerly Miss Martha Verwey.

Miss Margaret Veltman of New Era has returned to this city to resume her studies at Hope.

Mrs. Lilla Vauhn of Grand Rapids is a guest of Mrs. Frank Hadden.

Supt. John Busby of the G. R. H. & C. R. is in Denver attending the electrical railway convention.

Jacob Herringa of Grand Rapids spent Sunday here.

Mrs. P. A. Kleis was in Grand Rapids the fore part of the week to visit her sister Mrs. H. K. Boer, who is seriously ill at the U. B. A. Hospital.

Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will open the years work with an evening reception at the home of the vice regent, Mrs. W. J. Garrod, 94 West Thirtieth street this evening. A Columbus Day program will be given. Each "Daughter" may bring one friend and the members of the local chapter, Sons of the Revolution are also invited to be present.

Mrs. C. H. McBride, Mrs. J. H. Parr, Mrs. H. P. Burkholder, Mrs. C. M. McLean and Mrs. Wm. Swift returned from Benton Harbor where they represented the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton chapter at the annual state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The following officers were elected: Mrs. James P. Brayton elected state regent; Mrs. Richard Tyfe, of Detroit—vice regent; Mrs. Harvey Campbell, of Benton Harbor, secretary; Mrs. Frederick Taylor, of Kalamazoo, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Turner, Lansing; Mrs. B. Hanchett, Saginaw; and Miss Richardson, Kalamazoo, were elected directors. The sessions were held Thursday and Friday at Hotel Whitcomb and at Thursday's reception in the evening 300 were present. The delegates were entertained at the home of Mrs. H. S. Gray Thursday afternoon.

The Lecture Course

Hope's lecture course this year announces a varied program. As a popular course there is no doubt but that it will be highly successful. Tickets are selling in unprecedented numbers. Both entertainment and instruction are of course aimed at, but judging from the character of the numbers scheduled, all classes of patrons will be well pleased. The course will be opened Nov. 10 by Prof. S. H. Clark of Chicago. Prof. Clark is one of the most gifted readers in the country and his interpretation of literary gems never fails to call forth an encore. The second Clark number will be of a different nature. His full designation is the Hon. Champ Clark of Missouri and he will show us what a self made man can do and has done. He is one. The object of the Roger Grilley recital is primarily amusement. Mr. Grilley is a harpist of national repute, while Mr. Rogers stands high as an elocutionist. The fourth number will bear the name "The Four Musical Artists." To those informed on musical matters the names of Forest Dabney Carr, Leist Beebe, Earle J. Pouts and Shonert need no recommendation. As an exponent of a purposeful life as well as of intrinsic personal worth, E. Amherst Ott is unequalled. One who can hear his lectures without feeling better girt for life's battle is blasé indeed. The team work of the Whitney's Bros. Quartet is remarkable. These four brothers have attained a height of artistic development that is enviable. Taken as a whole the course this year is such that no cultured person can afford to miss it.

McKinley Club Elects

Last night the annual election of McKinley Club officers was held in the club rooms, 33 members being present. The election resulted as follows:

Pres.—Otto P. Kramer
Vice Pres.—John Arendthort
Sec.—Benjamin Wiersema
Treas.—Henry Winters

The following were elected directors: J. B. Mulder, Jerry Laepple, Joe Brown, E. P. Stephan, C. H. McBride.

At the close of the night's business Congressman Diekema gave a rousing address on the Republican tariff policy.

Boones Were Successful

The Boone brothers have closed a most successful season in the Michigan circuits this year, and the records made by their trotters and pacers have netted them a good share of the purse moneys which were at stake. Horses were entered in 39 races, and only three times did they finish up outside of the money.

Among the horses entered were Star Direct, 2:08½; Lady Hastings, 2:09½; Alamazoo, 2:12½; Neal Ball, 2:12½; Joe Bell, and Charley Harrington. Of these Lady Hastings, Alamazoo and Joe Bell were the only ones which were once outside of the money.

Joe Bell and Charlie Harrington made their first appearance on the race track, and both promise to develop for fast company. McKinley, 2:06½ and George R., 2:11½ will likely both be started next season in outside circuits. All the horses were driven by John and Hub Boone, two of the youngest and most efficient horsemen in the state.

Scott's Emulsion

is the original—has been the standard for thirty-five years.

There are thousands of so-called "just as good" Emulsions, but they are not—they are simply imitations which are never as good as the original. They are like thin milk—SCOTT'S is thick like a heavy cream.

If you want it thin, do it yourself—with water—but don't buy it thin.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS

Send the name of your paper and this ad. for our free literature. Each book contains a Good Luck Penny.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl St., New York

To the Consumer

By increasing the discount on Gas Bills, this Company gives to each Consumer (and an opportunity to every Citizen of Holland residing along the line of our mains, to secure) the lowest priced Gas of any town in the United States, the size of Holland.

By increasing our Discount, from 5 per cent to 10 per cent on all gas bills, paid on or before the 15th of the month, following that for which the bill is rendered, you are enabled to enjoy the many "Blessings" of Gas, as a fuel and illuminant; and at the extreme low cost of 90 cents per 1000 cubic feet, we give to you the cheapest LIGHT AND FUEL it is possible to obtain.

By increasing our discount to you 100 per cent, we necessarily affect our monthly revenue to quite an extent, because of this however, it is not our intention to in any way allow our service to deteriorate, but to give to you the same prompt attention and service we have endeavored to give you in the past, and to better that service in any way possible.

To do this however, we must have your co-operation, and one of the essential helps that you can give us is, "PAY YOUR BILLS PROMPTLY."

By paying your bills before the 15th, you save ONE TENTH of the amount of your bill. You can't MAKE MONEY easier.

Our office is open in the evening, on the 14th-15th of each month, and Tuesday and Saturday evenings every week. We offer you every opportunity to take advantage of the discount. IMPROVE THE OPPORTUNITY. After October 1st, all bills must be paid at the office of the Company.

NO COLLECTOR WILL CALL. ANY and ALL bills not paid on or before the 15th of the month, in which they are rendered, a notice will be sent to you, and any account not paid on or before the date stated in the notice, the meter, from which that bill is rendered, will be removed, and no gas furnished until all ARREARS are paid.

Please see that your Bills are paid promptly

Holland City Gas Company

THE COMING WEEK

Marks the beginning of our Fall and Winter Season, with our stock of new styles in

Suits and Overcoats

complete and ready for inspection. This fall we are offering better values for the money than ever before and invite you to look our stock before purchasing as we are sure to save you from $3. to $5.00

on any Suit or Overcoat. We also carry a most complete line of

Shoes,

Hats and Caps, and Men's and Boys Furnishings

P. S. Boter & Company

16 West 7th Street, Holland

Entertain Grand Haven Club

The Woman's Literary club entertained forty members of the Grand Haven Woman's Literary club last Tuesday afternoon. A committee of five local club members met the guests at the depot and escorted them to the rooms in the Visscher block, which were prettily decorated with autumn leaves and scarlet sage.

Following a short reception, a three-course luncheon was served at small table in the Woodman hall by a committee composed of the Mesdames J. S. Dykstra, R. N. De Merrell, J. J. Mersen, P. F. Schuelke, G. L. Medes, N. Bosch, and the Misses Lena Kollen, Kitty Doesburg and Helen Keppel. Each table held a centerpiece of salvia while the napkins bore the club flower, a red rose.

At the president's table were seated Mrs. Kollen, Mrs. Loutit, president of the Grand Haven club, the vice-president of the Grand Haven club, and Mrs. Stark one of the most prominent members of the visiting club, who celebrated her eightieth birthday yesterday.

It was nearly three o'clock when the company adjourned to the club rooms for the program, which opened with a charming vocal solo by Mrs. G. W. Pardee, who during her residence in Grand Haven was an active member of the Woman's club. Mrs. Pardee was enthusiastically greeted and was obliged to respond to an encore.

Mrs. G. E. Kollen welcomed the guests in a graceful address in which she spoke of the splendid entertainment accorded the local club on the occasion of their visit to Grand Haven last year, and voiced the pleasure of the club at being able to return in a measure the hospitality accorded them at the county seat.

Mrs. W. J. Garrod presented an able paper on Balfie, the English composer, which was illustrated by two pleasing vocal solos, Mrs. J. A. Vanderveen singing "The Heart Bowed Down" and Miss Helene Keppel, "Then You'll Remember Me."

Mrs. Kollen gave readings from Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice, which were much enjoyed after which Mrs. G. W. Van Verst sang, "I Dreamt

I Dwelt in Marble Halls" by Balfie.

The program closed with a few remarks by Mrs. Loutit, who thanked the local club for the afternoon's entertainment.

Next Tuesday the club will act on the resignation of Mrs. G. E. Kollen, who has served as president for the past ten years. An effort is being made to induce Mrs. Kollen to reconsider her decision.

Change of Time on G. M.

When the "Holland" left the dock this morning, after a two days layup on account of the terrific storm, it was probably her farewell to the local harbor for 1909, as the new fall schedule of the Graham & Morton line goes into effect today whereby the Puritan takes up the entire service between this city and Chicago. Daily trips except Saturday and Sunday will now be the rule, the passenger traffic falling off so heavily that the carrying of freight has become the most important feature of the local service. The "Holland" will go to Benton Harbor tonight and will be laid up for the winter.

The "Puritan" will leave Holland at 9:30 every night except Saturday and will leave Chicago each morning at 9 o'clock except on Saturday and Sunday. The big steamer will lie at Chicago all day Saturday, leaving for this city at 8 o'clock for Holland, and will not leave this port until Sunday night. This schedule will be in effect until December and was found to be very effective last year, when it was extensively patronized by shippers. The tri-weekly service will then be put on and will be continued as long as the harbor can be kept open.

The Interurban boat car service will be continued on a schedule adapted to meet the new conditions, leaving Grand Rapids every night except Saturday at 8 o'clock.

ALLEGAN FAIR NOT A FINANCIAL SUCCESS.

The officers of the fair association have had several meetings during the past two weeks in an effort to straighten out financial affairs and they have things almost in shape to close the year's work. To the exhibitors they wish to say that all premiums will be paid in full, and there need be no doubt about it. As soon as the supervisors meet an effort will be made to get the $700 promised the association last year, which amount will balance the affairs of the association and make it possible to start the work of the coming year with a clean slate. The last fair was not a financial success for several reasons. In the first place, there were fifteen others fairs in the state during the same week. The Holland fair drew some people from the exhibition, but the concession shows, from which the association gets a percentage, failed this year almost completely. The association had a contract with the United Fairs Booking association to furnish eight concession shows. They failed to fulfill the contract and the fair association got but $50 from all the concessions on the grounds, while the amount heretofore has never been less than $500, and some years it has been $700 and $800. Then, again, the weather was unsettled this year, which of course kept the attendance down; but with all the adverse circumstances the association is strong and the work of the coming year will be entered with the intention and hope of recovering the losses of the year past and giving a better and larger fair than ever next fall.—Allegan Gazette.

NEW STYLE AUTO LICENSE TAGS.

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 14.—The secretary of state's department has decided upon the style of automobile license tag which Michigan owners of cars must have on their machines after January 1. Each automobile owner is given two tags upon the payment of the license fee of $3.

There are three sizes of tags, which are made of metal, and have a white background, with the number of the license in black. Also the number 1910 and the state seal are placed upon the tag. The tags are manufactured by a Chicago company and the state will enter into a contract for 30,000.

If You Have Any Doubt

of the merit of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey one bottle will remove that doubt and your cough at the same time. Look for the bell on the bottle. It is the genuine.

BUTTERLAND'S EAGLE EYE SALVE
Good for Nothing but the Eyes.

WOMAN, AFTER A LONG CHASE, KILLS BIG BEAR

PROUD OF DISTINCTION OF SLAYING ONLY BRUIIN LEFT BY ROOSEVELT.

Rifle, Col.—Mrs. Addie Walker, a crack shot and splendid horsewoman, is proud of the distinction of having killed "the only bear Roosevelt left" on the occasion of his memorable hunt in this vicinity.

Mrs. Walker did not bring down the trophy without effort, and it is her perseverance that pleases her friends. She had not been on a hunt of this kind before. Fred Tolland, the well-known guide, showed her where the bear might be found and loaned her the Tolland and Teague bear dogs, which went through the campaign with Roosevelt.

When the dogs discovered the bear they made the attack. Mrs. Walker fred, but failed to penetrate a vital spot.

When the Dogs Discovered the Bear They Made the Attack.

Then came the chase for more than two hours over fallen timber, through jungles and down to the creek, where Bruin waded into the middle of the stream—which is probably three feet in depth at this season of the year. The dogs waded in and just as the nerry little woman arrived Bruin had just finished hugging a dog and was using the animal to whip the stream.

A shot from her rifle landed squarely between Bruin's eyes and he fell over in the stream dead.

When taken out it was found to be a beautiful specimen of black bear, with a valuable skin and a weight in excess of 900 pounds.

WAGERS HIS LIFE; LOSES

Mine Owner Tosses Coin to Decide Whether He or His Guide Should Die.

Los Angeles, Cal.—David Eldridge, wealthy mine owner, staked his life on the toss of a coin. He lost. The prospector died from thirst and exhaustion in the California desert, while Malapai Mike, his guide, rode to water and safety.

Search for the miner has been unavailing and all hope for his life abandoned. It is believed that he wandered desperately about the barren waste until he fell in his tracks and death relieved him from torture.

Eldridge, the son of Benjamin Eldridge, a wealthy Illinois sewing machine manufacturer, had for some years been interested in mining. Several weeks ago he heard of a rich streak of gold on Telescope peak, across the California desert.

Enlisting the services of Malapai Mike, an experienced guide and prospector, he hastened to start an expedition to the new El Dorado. The men were supposedly plentifully supplied with water, food and burros.

Day after day was spent in the tortuous march through the wilderness. One after one the burros died, until but one was left. Slowly the food supply dwindled until there was but a few days' short rations in the haversacks. Gallon after gallon the water was consumed, until but six gallons remained.

That night the miner and his guide conferred. After reading each other's thoughts, Eldridge broke the silence. "Mike," said he, "it's either you or me. Let's toss a coin. The winner takes the burro."

"Heads," called Mike.

Heads it came. The guide left five gallons of water and practically all the food supplies behind.

Victory for English Women.

Women will soon have no bar in the way of becoming surgeons in England. The home secretary has signified to the council of the Royal College of Surgeons his decision to approve its by-laws regarding the admission of women to examinations for the diploma of the college. He will, he says, sign the formal document which is to be submitted to him after the council meets. The formalities will be completed in time to permit women to enter for the examinations of the Royal college in January next.

FOUR KILLED AS BALLOON BURSTS

FRENCH ARMY OFFICERS CATA-PULTED TO EARTH FROM DIRIGIBLE CRAFT.

GREAT GAS BAG EXPLODES

Victims Have No Chance for Their Lives When the Envelope Suddenly Bursts High in the Air.

Moulin, France.—While thousands of persons were cheering enthusiastically the flight of the French dirigible military balloon Republique, the great gas bag collapsed suddenly, and the four men aboard were dashed to death. The balloon itself was rent to tatters and went hurtling from an altitude of between 500 and 600 feet to the ground, crushing the victims in a frightful manner.

The big balloon was in charge of Capt. Marchal. The other occupants were Lieut. Phaure and Sub-Lieuts. Vincenot and Reux.

The Republique had been engaged in the recent army maneuvers at La Palisse. She left there at seven o'clock in the morning and was going at high speed five miles from Moulin when the accident happened.

It was the intention of Capt. Marchal to stop at Nevers, and an automobile containing mechanics was following the balloon. It was almost directly beneath it when the disaster occurred. The car fell straight down, carrying the fluttering remnants of the envelope and the occupants were buried beneath the wreckage. All were dead except Lieut. Phaure, but he lived only a few minutes after being removed. The bodies were taken to the Chateau d'Avrilly, the property of Marquis de Charannes.

Lieut. Tixier, in command of the automobile, says the balloon suddenly burst and collapsed. It seemed to oscillate violently a moment before this, as though it had been struck, and fell with the rapidity of a stone. When he reached the wreckage the car was completely covered with the envelope, and not a sound came from beneath.

With the aid of Marquis de Charannes and peasants who hurried from surrounding fields, the envelope was removed. The spectacle was appalling. The car had been literally crushed, and amid the mass of tangled steel and wire every man except Phaure could be seen at his post. Capt. Marchal was in a sitting posture, his body thrown back. His skull was crushed. The bodies of the sub-lieutenants lay mangled beneath the cylinder of the motor. Phaure's body was lying half outside, as if he had tried to jump during the descent. Apparently death in the case of the three had been instantaneous.

The Envelope Was Removed.

An examination of the airship disclosed the cause of the accident. The axle of the right propeller had broken and the propeller had passed through the envelope, falling in a field about 150 yards away.

The Republique, belonging to the French war department, made her initial flight at Solissou June 24, 1908. On that occasion the dirigible carried a cargo of 2,800 pounds, including the crew, and remained in the air 35 minutes. Early in September the Republique was seriously damaged in a windstorm at Nevers, France, on her way to Meudon, where it was intended to take part in the autumn military maneuvers.

Art in Conversation.

Speak of a reticent woman and most people picture to themselves a woman who doesn't talk much. But the truly reticent woman—the woman who makes reticence an art—is not at all silent. She talks with what is apparently the greatest candor, so that people go away from her saying what a frank, genial woman she is; and no one ever suspects, unless he or she is phenomenally clever, that the genial conversationalist had all sorts of unspoken things in her mind.

FINALLY SERVED THE PAPER

Willy Balliff Had Hard Work, but at Last Scored Victory Over the Cardinal.

Some time ago a very rich old Italian lady died, leaving to her heirs a colossal fortune. She was very pious and, first of all, laid upon these heirs the obligation to remit to the vatican 2,000,000 lire. The heirs were greatly embarrassed by this bequest. They obtained a decision which should put the vatican in possession of this legacy, but neither the pope nor Cardinal Merry del Val would accept it. A bailiff was charged with the duty of giving notice of the judgment to the holy see. He was unable to place this paper in the hands of Pius X. or in the hands of his secretary. He could not approach the holy father and entrance to the apartments of Monsignore del Val was prohibited.

He then devised a scheme. He learned that the cardinal had gone to bathe in Lake Bracciano, some distance from Rome. At the moment when the papal secretary reappeared on the surface of the water, after a plunge, the bailiff was before the ministerial officer to place the paper under the nose of his eminence. But the cardinal, who is an excellent swimmer, made a dive, disappeared, and next took refuge in a bathhouse, closing the door behind him.

A half hour later his eminence was breakfasting at a restaurant. The repast ended, he asked for his bill. The garcon brought it to him and upon the same plate the cardinal found the official paper. The garcon was no other than the bailiff. His last trick had succeeded. The paper was served.

MARKET FOR ICE IN TURKEY

Company Shaves Product Until It Rembles Snow. Which the Natives Demand.

There is a newly erected ice plant at Smyrna, Turkey, built by an American company, and it is now doing a good business. An ice plant there has been making daily about six tons of poor ice, which it sold at $15 a ton.

The new company makes from distilled water a fine, clear ice, which it sells at $5 a ton, and although it has been running scarcely 30 days it is selling from 25 to 40 tons of ice daily.

The company has some unique competition from the mountain folk, who bring to Smyrna snow packed in skins. They save the snow in the winter by having it packed in trenches and covered with pine needles.

The Turks are very conservative, and it is difficult to get some of them to use ice instead of the snow to which they have been accustomed for many years, even though the latter costs them one cent a pound, or $20 a ton.

The new company puts a block of ice in a box, with small circular saws at one end, and produces an article that cannot be distinguished from snow and which is sold in successful competition with the mountain snow.

Sacred Things? Well—

There is a story worth repeating. The former head of a large private school in Detroit was a gentleman of dignified bearing, refined and correct always in manner and speech. By birth and early raising he was a Vermonter, and doubtless of straight Puritan extraction.

One day in his boyhood his mother called him in from the yard, where he was playing with other boys, to say to him in a tone of mingled sadness and severity:

"Charles, my son, I never thought to hear you use a swear word!"

"Why, mother," said the boy, "I didn't use any swear word. I only said 'the devil.' Nobody thinks that's swearing."

"I don't care," replied the mother, quickly. "It's making light of sacred things, and you must not do so again."

When Tariffs Were High.

Pass Payrae, and meet many beggars, which we had not done before. All the country, girls and women, are without shoes or stockings; and the plowmen at their work have neither sabots nor feet to their stockings. This is a poverty that strikes at the root of national prosperity; a large consumption among the poor being of more consequence than among the rich; the wealth of a nation lies in its circulation and consumption; and the care of poor people abstaining from the use of manufactures of leather and wool ought to be considered as an evil of the first magnitude.—Arthur Young, "Travels in France, 1787."

Limit of Condemnation.

Gen. Humphrey, retired, former quartermaster general of the army, was discussing a certain army officer who had long been in the volunteer service, says the Saturday Evening Post.

"What kind of a chap is he?" asked a friend.

"Oh, nice enough," replied the general.

"But has he any sense?" "Sense," snorted the general, "he hasn't sense enough to turn around in a revolving chair."

Singular and Plural.

"Whenever she gets to thinking how much they're in debt it affects her nerves."

"Huh! the way it affects her husband is singular."

"How singular?"

"Just singular; it affects his 'nerve.' He tried to borrow a hundred from me to-day."—Catholic Standard and Times.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by John Dombrowski, a bachelor, to Frank A. Garhardt, dated the 16th day of August, A. D. 1901, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county of Ottawa in the State of Michigan on the 19th day of August, A. D. 1904 in liber 72 of mortgages on page 34 and of which there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the sum of Six Hundred and Eighty-nine dollars ($689.00) and an attorney's fee of Twenty-five dollars ($25.00), as provided for by law and no suit or proceeding at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Saturday the 21st day of November, A. D. 1909, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, I shall sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the north front door of the court house in Grand Haven, Michigan, (that being the place where the circuit court for the said county of Ottawa is held), the premises described in said mortgage or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount of said mortgage with six per cent interest and all legal costs, together with an attorney's fee of Twenty-five dollars ($25.00) as provided for by law and covenanted for therein, the premises being described in said mortgage as follows to-wit: The Northwest quarter of the Northeast quarter of Section four, Town 8, North, Range 16 West, Ottawa County, Michigan.

Frank A. Garhardt
Mortgagee.

WALTER I. LILLIE
Attorney for Mortgagee.

Business Address:
Grand Haven, Michigan.

STATE OF MICHIGAN—The Probate Court for the County of Ottawa.

At a session of said court, held at the probate office in the City of Grand Haven, in said county, on the 2nd day of October, A. D., 1909.

Present: Hon. Edward P. Kirby
Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Lambertus Lamberts, Deceased.

Lambert Lamberts having filed in said court his petition praying that said court adjudicate and determine who were at the time of his death the legal heirs of said deceased and entitled to inherit the real estate of which said deceased died seized; also his petition praying that the administration of said estate be granted to Klaas Lamberts, or to some other person.

It is Ordered, That the 1st day of November, A. D. 1909, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said probate office, be and is hereby appointed for hearing said petition.

It is further ordered that public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Holland City News, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

EDWARD P. KIRBY,
A true copy. Judge of Probate.
Orrie Sluiter,
Register of Probate.
3w 40

ORDER FOR APPEARING

STATE OF MICHIGAN—20th Judicial Circuit in Chancery.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for Ottawa county, in Chancery, on the 30th day of September, 1909.

George Allen, Complainant.

VS.
Edward P. Ferry, Hannah E. Jones, Amanda Harwood Hall, Hannah Elizabeth Wulzen, Mary Amanda Fairchild, Elizabeth Eastman, Edw. rd P. Eastman, Thomas White Eastman, Hettie Eastman, Mary White Eastman, George Mason Eastman, Jeannette H. Ferry, Mary M. F. Allen, Kate H. Hancock.

Defendants.
In this cause it appearing from affidavit on file, that the defendants are not residents of the State of Michigan; that Edward P. Ferry, Jeannette H. Ferry, Mary M. F. Allen and Kate H. Hancock reside in the State of Utah; that Hannah Elizabeth Jones, Mary Amanda Fairchild, Edward P. Eastman, Thomas White Eastman, Hannah Elizabeth Eastman and Hettie Eastman, Mary White Eastman and George Mason Eastman reside in the state of California; and that Amanda Harwood Hall and Elizabeth Eastman reside in the State of Massachusetts; on motion of Walter I. Lillie, Solicitor for Complainant, it is ORDERED that said defendants cause their appearance to be entered herein within four months from the date of this order, and that within twenty days from this date the complainant cause this order to be published in the "Holland City News," a newspaper published and circulated in said county; such publication to continue once in each week for six successive weeks.

Walter I. Lillie
Solicitor for Complainant.
Louis Osterhouse,
Circuit Court Commissioner.
Business Address: Grand Haven, Michigan.
6w 40

If You Have Any Doubt

of the merit of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey one bottle will remove that doubt and your cough at the same time. Look for the bell on the bottle. It is the genuine.

Swept Over Niagara

This terrible calamity often happens because some careless boatman ignores the river's warnings—growing ripples and faster current—Nature's warnings are kind. That dull or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape fatal maladies—Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see Backache fly and all your best feelings return. "After long suffering from weak kidneys and lame back, one $1.00 bottle wholly cured me," writes J. R. Blankenship, of Belk, Tenn. Only 50c at Walsh Drug Co.

Up Before the Bar

N. H. Brown, an attorney of Pittsburg, Vt., writes: "We have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for years and find them such a good family medicine we would not be without them." For Chills, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Headache they work wonders, 25c at Walsh Drug Co.

SUTHERLAND'S EAGLE EYE SALVE
Good for Nothing but the Eyes.

THE YOUNG MAN

of critical taste in dress, be it ultra or most conservative, will instantly recognize the distinct difference between "VIKING SYSTEM" apparel and the usual ready-made clothes.

BECKER, MAYER & CO., CHICAGO.

MAKERS OF THE "VIKING SYSTEM"

Viking System Label Your Safety
OUR GUARANTEE

For Sale at Lokker Rutgers Co.

ORIGINAL GOLDEN

Grain Belt Beer

A Family beverage. Is a perfect tonic, promoting restful sleep and aiding appetite.

The Beer is bottled direct from glass tanks and is properly sterilized. Will not cause biliousness.

Price, Case of 3 dozen . $2.50

Case of 2 dozen . 1.00
(Home Bottled)

Union Bottling Works

DULYEA & VAN DER BIE, Props.

Citizens Phone 1245

180 River Street

COMPLETE HOME FURNISHERS

A. C. Rinck & Co., 58-60 E. Eighth St.

HOLLAND CITY NEWS

1.00 Per Year in Advance

RELIABLE HOLLAND BUSINESS FIRMS

EIGHTH STREET, LOOKING EAST FROM RIVER

THE OUTCASTS

By George Allen England

(Copyright, by J. B. Lippincott Co.)

Rabinowicz crouched down in the filthy steerage bunk, coughed, hid his thin face between his claw-like hands. "Ruchul, woman," he murmured in corrupt Yiddish, "hear that? The noise, it is the machinery noise. It is that the ship is moving. It is that we are started back again from America, after everything; back to Odessa, to—"

"Hush, Aaron! Speak not so!" The woman crooned over him as though to shelter him with her own thin arms. "Hush! Dus is' baschirt fin Gott—the will of God—who can do no wrong; and, beside, if you talk you may wake up little Habakkuk, and then he will cry, and it will be hard times getting him to sleep again, and the steward man will be very angry. There will be curses, maybe blows. They are all angry with us, any way, for that we are sent back at such a cheap rate; therefore let us keep still, and not—"

"Keep still? Keep still? Yes, Ruchul, woman, always that, always the same thing: 'Dog! Hase! Jew! Christ-seller! Lie down and be kicked, or else get killed!' Just the same as at home in Kherson. We drank that with the mother's milk—'Keep still! We grew up with it, ate it, breathed it—'Keep still!' Or else the Black Hundred, the Cossacks, all the other Christians, would gouge out eyes, smash skulls, pitch us out of the window. Yes, yes—'Keep still!' Just to get away from that—"

"No, no, let me say it!" Rabinowicz coughed again, lifting his head. His curly, uncombed beard trembled, and his hollow eyes brightened preternaturally. "To get away from that, what did we not leave? The house, the little shop, the friends, even old Father Yoseph, who would

"Brr-r-r!" shivered Ruchul, her teeth chattering. "Come back in! It is too much, the cold—it cuts like knives! Little Habakkuk will take cold, and it is not good for your cough, the night air!"

But Rabinowicz, staggering with his burden and the roll of the vessel, only pushed her toward the rail. The boy opened dull eyes and began to whimper, half-awake.

"Come back in!" pleaded the woman. He restrained her.

"Look, Ruchul! Look! Freedom, strength! There is no Jew or Christian or inspector or czar—nothing but the sea as it came down out of Jahveh's hands!"

She cowered back, shivering violently. Alongside the speeding ship green-black waves swirled astern; they could hear the slide and hiss of foam that tumbled out, away into darkness. Far, far over the unmeasured dark Atlantic burned pin-points of white flame, the free, calm, beautiful stars of God.

"See, mein Teure!" said the man again, as Ruchul stood half-stupefied.

"Off back there somewhere is the Eden where they turned us out. Somewhere ahead of us is Holy Russia again—off there in the dark—with all its priests and icons, the Black Hundred, the torn flesh, bleeding faces. There waits dishonor for you; there waits death for Habakkuk and me, in Russia—Holy Russia. See, is not freedom better?"

He strained the little son in both arms; kissed him on the forehead, cheek and mouth. "Oh, my son!" said he. "Geh, und gieb' deine Schimme zu Gott!" ("Go, give thy soul to God!") The boy, terrified, clutched at him, screaming: "Father! Father!" but Rabinowicz raised his face to the night, said: "God, this soul was mine and it is Thine!" and flung the frail body out, down into the creamy rushing slather. The body splashed; there was a glimmer of a white face, of hands that battled; then the surge caught little Habakkuk, and he faded into nothingness, like some forgotten dream.

"Gott! Gott!" screamed Ruchul leaping to the rail, her long hair whipping round her face.

She felt a hand over her mouth, heard a hoarse "Ade!" and then was lifted, suddenly—she was whirling down, down—something was icy cold—something tossed and strangled her—gave beneath her, choked, bubbled, annihilated.

Rabinowicz, alone, peered over the rail with bloodshot eyes.

"There, they are free. It is well," said he, without emotion. He carefully took off his coat, folded it neatly, laid it on the deck, and placed his lamb's-wool cap on top.

"Those are good for some one," he said. "Some one may use them. They cost me eight rubles in Kherson—or was it eight and a half? I forget."

He clambered with an effort over the rail and stood outside it, holding on with his left hand.

The ship rolled surgingly to port.

"Now, God, I go, too," he remarked, as to a friend. Then he let go, not jumping at all, just falling outward, downward; and the sea, our primal Mother, took him gladly.

"Where th' devil are them three sheenies, I'd like to know!" growled the steward next morning. Later he found the neatly-folded coat, and at some distance the cap, where the wind had rolled it. He pursed his lips into thin whistle, scratching his head the while. "So that's it, eh? Well, well—forty cents a day saved on rations, any way—an' transportation all paid in advance, at that!"

Then he carried the things to his locker (for they might prove salable), and went to have the incident recorded in the log-book.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers! Ho, pull out the dog's beard, cover his face with blood, knock his teeth in! Waft, Ruchul; wait and see! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Rabinowicz walled into the long mourning cry which in many tongues is the only heritage of the Chosen People! Little Habakkuk turned and nestled, gave signs of waking.

"Here, you! Shut up!" growled a steward, shuffling along the narrow prison-aisle between the rows of bunks. "Cut that out, now! You sheenies make more trouble 'n all the rest of the cattle put together. What th' devil you yammerin' about? If I hear any more out o' you—!" The steward shook a large fist, and slatted along.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers! Ho, pull out the dog's beard, cover his face with blood, knock his teeth in! Waft, Ruchul; wait and see! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Rabinowicz walled into the long mourning cry which in many tongues is the only heritage of the Chosen People! Little Habakkuk turned and nestled, gave signs of waking.

"Here, you! Shut up!" growled a steward, shuffling along the narrow prison-aisle between the rows of bunks. "Cut that out, now! You sheenies make more trouble 'n all the rest of the cattle put together. What th' devil you yammerin' about? If I hear any more out o' you—!" The steward shook a large fist, and slatted along.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers! Ho, pull out the dog's beard, cover his face with blood, knock his teeth in! Waft, Ruchul; wait and see! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Rabinowicz walled into the long mourning cry which in many tongues is the only heritage of the Chosen People! Little Habakkuk turned and nestled, gave signs of waking.

"Here, you! Shut up!" growled a steward, shuffling along the narrow prison-aisle between the rows of bunks. "Cut that out, now! You sheenies make more trouble 'n all the rest of the cattle put together. What th' devil you yammerin' about? If I hear any more out o' you—!" The steward shook a large fist, and slatted along.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers! Ho, pull out the dog's beard, cover his face with blood, knock his teeth in! Waft, Ruchul; wait and see! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Rabinowicz walled into the long mourning cry which in many tongues is the only heritage of the Chosen People! Little Habakkuk turned and nestled, gave signs of waking.

"Here, you! Shut up!" growled a steward, shuffling along the narrow prison-aisle between the rows of bunks. "Cut that out, now! You sheenies make more trouble 'n all the rest of the cattle put together. What th' devil you yammerin' about? If I hear any more out o' you—!" The steward shook a large fist, and slatted along.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers! Ho, pull out the dog's beard, cover his face with blood, knock his teeth in! Waft, Ruchul; wait and see! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Rabinowicz walled into the long mourning cry which in many tongues is the only heritage of the Chosen People! Little Habakkuk turned and nestled, gave signs of waking.

"Here, you! Shut up!" growled a steward, shuffling along the narrow prison-aisle between the rows of bunks. "Cut that out, now! You sheenies make more trouble 'n all the rest of the cattle put together. What th' devil you yammerin' about? If I hear any more out o' you—!" The steward shook a large fist, and slatted along.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers! Ho, pull out the dog's beard, cover his face with blood, knock his teeth in! Waft, Ruchul; wait and see! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Rabinowicz walled into the long mourning cry which in many tongues is the only heritage of the Chosen People! Little Habakkuk turned and nestled, gave signs of waking.

"Here, you! Shut up!" growled a steward, shuffling along the narrow prison-aisle between the rows of bunks. "Cut that out, now! You sheenies make more trouble 'n all the rest of the cattle put together. What th' devil you yammerin' about? If I hear any more out o' you—!" The steward shook a large fist, and slatted along.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers! Ho, pull out the dog's beard, cover his face with blood, knock his teeth in! Waft, Ruchul; wait and see! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Rabinowicz walled into the long mourning cry which in many tongues is the only heritage of the Chosen People! Little Habakkuk turned and nestled, gave signs of waking.

"Here, you! Shut up!" growled a steward, shuffling along the narrow prison-aisle between the rows of bunks. "Cut that out, now! You sheenies make more trouble 'n all the rest of the cattle put together. What th' devil you yammerin' about? If I hear any more out o' you—!" The steward shook a large fist, and slatted along.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers! Ho, pull out the dog's beard, cover his face with blood, knock his teeth in! Waft, Ruchul; wait and see! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Rabinowicz walled into the long mourning cry which in many tongues is the only heritage of the Chosen People! Little Habakkuk turned and nestled, gave signs of waking.

"Here, you! Shut up!" growled a steward, shuffling along the narrow prison-aisle between the rows of bunks. "Cut that out, now! You sheenies make more trouble 'n all the rest of the cattle put together. What th' devil you yammerin' about? If I hear any more out o' you—!" The steward shook a large fist, and slatted along.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers! Ho, pull out the dog's beard, cover his face with blood, knock his teeth in! Waft, Ruchul; wait and see! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Rabinowicz walled into the long mourning cry which in many tongues is the only heritage of the Chosen People! Little Habakkuk turned and nestled, gave signs of waking.

"Here, you! Shut up!" growled a steward, shuffling along the narrow prison-aisle between the rows of bunks. "Cut that out, now! You sheenies make more trouble 'n all the rest of the cattle put together. What th' devil you yammerin' about? If I hear any more out o' you—!" The steward shook a large fist, and slatted along.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers! Ho, pull out the dog's beard, cover his face with blood, knock his teeth in! Waft, Ruchul; wait and see! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Rabinowicz walled into the long mourning cry which in many tongues is the only heritage of the Chosen People! Little Habakkuk turned and nestled, gave signs of waking.

"Here, you! Shut up!" growled a steward, shuffling along the narrow prison-aisle between the rows of bunks. "Cut that out, now! You sheenies make more trouble 'n all the rest of the cattle put together. What th' devil you yammerin' about? If I hear any more out o' you—!" The steward shook a large fist, and slatted along.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers! Ho, pull out the dog's beard, cover his face with blood, knock his teeth in! Waft, Ruchul; wait and see! Oh! Oh! Oh!"

Rabinowicz walled into the long mourning cry which in many tongues is the only heritage of the Chosen People! Little Habakkuk turned and nestled, gave signs of waking.

"Here, you! Shut up!" growled a steward, shuffling along the narrow prison-aisle between the rows of bunks. "Cut that out, now! You sheenies make more trouble 'n all the rest of the cattle put together. What th' devil you yammerin' about? If I hear any more out o' you—!" The steward shook a large fist, and slatted along.

Rabinowicz lay silent a long time. He did not understand the steward's words, but the tone and the fist spoke a familiar language. The boy slept uneasily. The woman dozed. Once in a while the man coughed, in spite of smothering efforts to restrain himself. Tears rolled down along his hawk-like nose, buried themselves in his curly beard. Near the center of his sudden not come—all, everything. Have you forgotten that night—that long night of wallowing in the snow; then the river, the leaking boat, the chinovnyiks (officials) who robbed us and kept us back so long, the hiding? Have you forgotten the long voyage, the seasickness, the blasphemies, the cold, the starving like rats in a cage, eh? But ahead of us always, liberty, perhaps a chance to work, to live! So we kept still—"

"Let us be still now, Aaron!"

"I make no noise. Let me speak! Think of the Eden we came to, where people are free; but no, there were angels there—did I say angels? No! Dogs! Devils with flaming swords of the law to keep us out! They let others in, but they kept us out. 'Ah, consumptive!' (He mimicked the inspector's voice.) 'Invalid father, scrofulous child? Mmmmm—rejected!' That was our death sentence, that 'rejected' was. Turned back! And so near to Eden! Now, when we get to Odessa, to Kherson, what then, Ruchul, woman? Just imagine as we walk back through the slushy streets! 'Ah ha! Fugitive Jews! Runaway curs! Sent back, eh? Well, now, we'll see to them!' Then the Eye will be upon us, everywhere; we can't escape, you or the little Habakkuk or me. No, no the good Christians will see to that; the pops (priests) will see to that. It will be a merry breaking of bones, tearing of flesh, smashing of skulls—but keep still. Don't talk! Don't fight! Kneel! Lie down in the mud! Now bring the knives and pincers!

Local News.

The contract for erecting for the new city hall has been let to Klaas Bouma who has six teams busy hawling dirt.

Johannes Dykema was 78 years old yesterday. Mr. Dykema has served as supervisor of Holland for a good many years.

Fred Gordon of Crockery township is the latest to enter the political arena in preparation for the coming county campaign. Mr. Gordon has announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for county treasurer.

Andrew Crawford of Saugatuck has gone to New York to look at a new boat which he is thinking of buying and putting on between that place and Chicago next season. The boat is a large one and will make a good addition to the line.

The October meeting of the National board of directors, held at Washington reports that Michigan has a membership of 1762 an increase of 362. Mrs. D. B. Yntema's papers having been approved, was accepted in the local chapter by the national board, Thursday evening October 14. A reception will be held in this city at the home of Mrs. J. W. Garrod. The conference will be held at Saginaw next year.

New Pastor

Rev. P. E. Whitman, the newly appointed pastor of the M. E. church of this city, preached to a large congregation Sunday and was well received.

The Petoskey evening News in an account of a farewell reception given Rev. and Mrs. Whitman at Harbor Springs says: "The reception given last evening to Rev. and Mrs. Whitman was attended by 400 people. A number of citizens spoke, each voicing the regret of the people at losing a good citizen of such popularity and influence. In every case he had been weighed and not found wanting and the general sentiment is that by our loss Holland greatly gains."

Rev. Whitman has been in the ministry 22 years and has held four charges during that time.

DEATHS

The funeral of Mrs. Charlotte Finch, who died at her home, 206 W 12th street, took place Friday afternoon in charge of A. C. VanRaalte Post W. R. C. and A. C. VanRaalte Post G. A. R. Rev. Blekkink officiating. The survivors are one son, Alfred Finch, and two daughters, Mrs. Loana Hoadley and Mrs. Louisa VanArcoy, all of this city. Mrs. Finch came to this city 50 years ago.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. John A. TerVree were held Thursday afternoon from the home on Lincoln Ave., Revs. H. J. Veldman and J. H. Karsten officiating. Music was furnished by members of the VanLente choir.

Wm. R. Ellis died Monday of peritonitis at his home in Grand Rapids. A widow, who was Miss Anna Zoerman of this city, and two children survive. Funeral services were held Friday from the LaGrave street church.

Notes of Sport

The football boys of Holland have organized as follows: Manager, Mr. Wheeler; Henry Mulder, rf and manager of property, Tony Mulder, lb; Paul Stegeman, fb; Dick Roelofs, qb and captain; Will Hayden, c; Herman Cook, lg; Ed. DePree, rg; Jas. VerLee, lg; Jacob Boonstra, le; Emerson DeSpelder, re.

The Allegan high school football team was a badly used-up company when they came from the Holland game at Pingree park last Saturday, and stiff legs, black eyes, swollen noses and lips, and bruised muscles have adorned nearly every member of the team. It was a rough game and was won by the roughest team, Holland making 13 points to Allegan's 8. There was a touch of humor in the contest, too, in spite of the defeat for the home team. Allegan has played Holland many years and invariably have been victorious. When the games were played in that city the Allegan team have usually made it a point to take along enough strength in some of the older, stronger players to make victory certain. The Allegan boys claim the worm turned last Saturday and that the Holland boys brought along enough of the Hope college players to give them a favorable result. At any rate they were a husky lot and left many souvenirs on the exteriors of their entertainers—Allegan Gazette.

"To Be or Not to Be"

constantly coughing depends on whether or not you used Dr. Bell's Pine-Honey Tar. A few doses will stop that cough.

The Hollander and His Descendants in the West of the United States

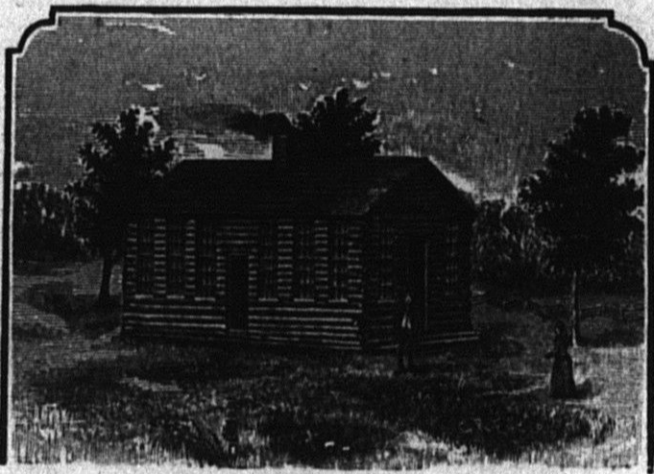

Published through the courtesy of Mr. Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal. This paper, written by Arnold Mulder, was awarded third prize last January in a contest established by Bok.

EARLY STRUGGLES

The early struggles of the colonists could be described with justice to the facts only by drawing an elaborate pen-picture of their daily life, with all the harsh details put in against a background of alternating hope and despair. The wild stretch of pathless forest that had to be cleared before the soil would be ready for the plough, the swamps that had to be drained before the people could be immune from their death-dealing malaria, the harbors and roads to be built, and the thousand and one obstacles to be overcome, might have daunted any company of men and women. And it must be remembered that the capital at the colonists' command for converting a wilderness into the prosperous cities and farming communities of today, was extremely limited, their greatest asset being willingness and ability to work. Added to all this was the drawback of language. It took a long time for most of them to learn the American language, and some of the pioneers never acquired any but the most meager knowledge of it. During those first dread winters too, came disease, as it came to the Pilgrims in New England. Privation and insufficient nourishment had made their bodies assailable by fever and the diseases incidental to a complete change of climate and an entirely different manner of living. But the colonists kept doggedly to their task of building a permanent home in America for themselves and their children. Today, on beholding the prosperous cities and villages with the surrounding farming communities, it may seem that it all has sprung Aphrodite-like from wilderness and swamp, but the callused hands of the few surviving pioneers and the backs bent with muscle straining toil, bear witness to the slow process that wrought the change.

RELIGIOUS HISTORY OF THE HOLLANDER IN THE WEST

The sixty years that have passed since that first year of struggle are fraught with interest not only for the children of those first pioneers but also for everyone who wishes to study the elements of which this American life is composed. There are four points of view from which to study the Hollander's progress in the West of the United States—the religious, the educational, the agricultural, and the professional and commercial. In some American communities, especially those that are out-

THE LOG CHURCH
Built in 1847 on what is now "Pilgrim Home Cemetery" growth of land speculation schemes, the order of these four phases of growth would be reversed, if given in their order of importance. But these Holland colonists were disposed by their very training to seek first the Kingdom of God, with education, religion's hand maid, and material progress following.

The Reformed church in America was the daughter of the Reformed church in the Netherlands. When Calvinism triumphed in the Netherlands at the famous Synod of Dordt in 1618-19, the Reformed church was planted in America. Her growth here was slow, extremely slow, but the church remained true during all those years to the creeds that Calvin formulated and to the spirit of his teachings. However, the church became Americanized, so that at the time of the Van Raalte emigration, the Holland language was practically unknown although most of the adherents of the Reformed church still understood the language. The colony of Hollanders who settled in the West in 1847 therefore came just in time to prevent the Holland language and traditions to die out in the Reformed church in America. The Reformed churches in the East were in sympathy with the revolt of the Van Raalte and Scholte element in the Netherlands against the State church, and as early as 1838 framed resolutions to this effect.

So it was natural that the colonists should desire to come under the government of the Reformed church in America. They had seceded from the Reformed church in the fatherland because it had ceased to be the true Reformed church. And in America they found again their own church, true to the faith of its founder. Therefore in 1850 the church organization of the Michigan colony became subject to the Synod of the Reformed church, and became part of the Classis of Michigan, which, together with the Classis of Wisconsin, had already been formed in 1841.

Not so, however, the Iowa colony. Scholte did not believe in centralization of government, and refused to unite with the Reformed church, although the Synod invited him repeatedly to cast his lot with them. He believed that an independent church organization would succeed better and established the so-called "Christian Church." But soon it became apparent that the plan was doomed to failure. Already in 1854 many families banded together for the purpose of being taken into the fold of the Reformed church, and in 1856 this union was brought about. From this point the church history of the two colonies forms one story.

(To be Continued)

WORK OF RAISING STEAMER GRECIAN ABANDONED.

Canalons Used in Work Disabled; Vessel Lies Off Thunder Bay.

ALPENA, Mich., Oct. 15.—Work of raising the steamer Grecian, sunk off Thunder Bay Island two years ago, has been abandoned. One of the canalons used in the work exploded some time ago. This and the bad weather put a stop to the work for this year.

Dr. Staud, inventor of the canalons, has returned to Chicago. Another attempt will be made to raise the Grecian next year with an improved apparatus.

Up Before the Bar

N. H. Brown, an attorney of Pittsburg, Vt., writes: "We have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for years and find them such a good family medicine we would not be without them." For Chills, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Headache they work wonders, 25c at Walsh Drug Co.

Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey For Coughs and Colds.

WEDDING CARDS.

A great many people do not realize the importance of announcement cards following a wedding.

Particularly where there is a small wedding with few invitations is this necessary.

"Announcement cards are sent to every one you know, or, more literally, to every one whose acquaintance you wish to recognize.

It is perfectly proper to send them to persons whom you know but slightly. They are indefinite, there is no obligation either of calling or of sending a reply, or, of course, of a wedding gift. Where no invitations are sent, an "at home" card enclosed with the announcement is sent to personal friends. This is a direct invitation to call.

In the case of a business girl, it is courteous to send an announcement to her former employer without the "at home" card, unless she happens to be acquainted with him socially. If he has a wife, the wife's name should be included, no matter whether she is known to the bride or not.

Announcements are engraved or printed and are made in the name of the bride's parents or her nearest relatives. They must be posted immediately after the ceremony.

These can be procured at the Holland City News office, printed in up-to-date style, at most reasonable prices.

This, That or the Other ROOM

Can be heated Comfortably, if you have a GAS HEATER in your HOME

Don't start that furnace or coal stove. It is waste of time, energy and fuel. In a few minutes a GAS HEATER drives away the "SHIVERS."

In the meantime prepare for WINTER BLASTS, order your Fuel Bin filled with Coke, it's the Fuel for Winter use.

Ask the GAS COMPANY

TO CHICAGO Graham & Morton Line

Leave Holland 9:30 p. m., daily except Saturday
Leave Chicago 9:00 a. m., daily except Saturday and Sunday.
Leave Chicago 8:00 p. m., Saturday
Fare, day trip, $1.00; night trips, $1.50. Berths, lower, $1.00; upper 75c.
Close connections are made with all steam and interurban railways.

The right is reserved to change this schedule without notice
Chicago Dock, foot of Wabash Ave. Local Phones: Citz. 1081; Bell 78
J. S. MORTON, PRES.

JOHN S. KRESS, Local Agent

IT IS VENTURESOME!!

To Buy Real Estate

without the advice of an expert who has made a study of values. Our advice is always ready for you, as dealing in real estate is our business. We can show you some splendid opportunities for getting a bargain just now.

If it is a Farm you want our long experience will benefit you in getting a place well adapted for your purpose. We always guarantee you value for your money.

How would one of the following places suit you?

- 40 acre farm with fair buildings, and good mixed sandy loam soil, located 6 miles southwest of this city, price.....$1900
- 40 acre farm about half improved, good buildings, all good soil, 6 miles north from city, near Holland church in a nice location, price.....$2000
- 80 acre farm, on main road between Zeeland and Vriesland. All improved rich heavy soil, expensive buildings. One of the best farms in the county.....Confidential price
- 160 acre farm, between Dorr and Moline. All improved except 25 acres hardwood timber. Rich heavy soil. Expensive buildings, one of the best farms in Allegan Co.,.....Ask me

We have many other good farms for reasonable prices, besides a large selection of houses and lots in the city

John Weersing

REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE HOLLAND, MICH

NEW
Suits and Cloaks FOR
Fall and Winter have arrived. Latest styles, dependable material, lowest prices. We invite inspection. Second floor. Take the elevator.
DUMEZ BROS.
Dentists
Cook & Van Verst
Tower Block
Cor. River and 8th
Phone 265
Tuesday and Saturday evenings

ROYAL CLUB Coffee
Satisfies everyone. Sold only by Wolverine Tea Co.
11 East 8th Street
Phone 1477
Dentists
Vissers & Dekker
Wall paper and paints, oils, brushes, window shades. Estimates furnished.
Picture Frames
Made to Order
3 West Eighth Street
HOLLAND
Citz. Phone 1623

The Flower Shop
Chas. S. Dutton
Proprietor
Beach Milling Co.
"Little Wonder" FLOUR
"Best by every test"
EAST EIGHTH ST.
Citizens Phone 1053

ASK FOR Superior
5c CIGAR
Manufactured by SUPERIOR CIGAR COMPANY
238 RIVER ST.
"Shoo"
Yourself and family to the Electric Shoe Repairing Shop and have your old shoes rejuvenated. Half soles sewed on while you wait.
17 E. 8th St.

I bought the J. A. Klomparsen stock of Shoes
at a bargain. You can buy them from me at a bargain
PETER PRINS
129 E. 8th St.
Largest Stock of Bicycles
in the city. Repairing of any sort.
CHAS. HUBBARD
39 W. 9th St
Citizens Phone 1156

Kleyn Lumber Co.
Dealers in Lumber of all descriptions.
90 East 6th St.
N. J. YONKER
17 E. 8th St.
Plumbing
Heating

Plumbing and Heating
Our past record is a guarantee of our future work
PFFANSTIEHL & COMPANY
Phones: Citz. 1468; Res. 1640
210 RIVER ST.

A perfect blaze of beauty and color in Millinery effects at
Werkman Sisters
50 E. 8th St.
LUGERS & MILES
LAW
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE
All kinds of conveying. Titles examined

Van Eyck Weurding Milling Com'y
Wheat, Buckwheat, and Rye Flour
Graham Flour and Bolted Meal. Feed Middlings and Bran.
88-90 E. Eighth
Citizens Phone 1754
JONES & EBELINK
Florists and Landscape Gardeners. Greenhouses at Central Park on Interurban. Flowers delivered to any part of city.
Citz. phone 4120

It Looks Bad for You to have sore eyes. Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve will cure them. Harmless and painless, guaranteed for 25c a tube.

WANTED—Hen mauure at the South Side tannery.

Advertise in the News

The Holland City News
$1.00 Per Year