HOLLAND MAN SAVES BOYS IN OPEN BOAT

HENRY BENDER WAS FIRST TO DISCOVER LADS WHO WERE IN PERILOUS CONDITION IN MID-LAKE

A thrilling lake story is recorded in the Benton Harbor News-Palladium in which Henry Bender of Holland, brother of George Bender, the local boat man figures.

Henry Bender is chief engineer of a steamer Frank Wood, and what the Benton Harbor paper has to say about the rescue of two young lads in an open boat in Lake Michigan follows below:

"To be helplessly adrift in a small open boat, without food, without coats, and without oars or cans with which to bail but the water being washed into the frail shell of a craft by the waves, was the experience of Stanley Fabrizz, 115 Erie street, and Adam Oriel, 726 Superior street, Chicago, both 16 years old.

"Fabrizz and Oriel were picked up at dawn this morning by the Steamer Frank Woods of the Benton Transit company. The vessel was bound for Benton Harbor, the boys were 25 miles off Chicago when rescued. Both were nearly numb from exposure to the wind and from lack of food. The row boat was partially filled with water. The tragedy of their plight was symbolized by an almost hopeless signal for help in the form of a ragged pair of trousers attached to the end of a stick.

"The row boat was first seen by Henry Bender, chief engineer of the Frank Woods. He first thought the object was a log, but in a few minutes discovered the pole holding a pair of trousers. He called R. S. Burns, purser. The latter procured the ship's glasses and made out the two lines of an open boat containing the two lads.

"The steamer was fairly upon the youngsters before they realized that rescue was at hand. They were so weakened by lack of food and sleep, and so overcome by cold that they were in a state of semi consciousness.

"Taken aboard the Frank Woods, Fabrizz and Oriel were given hot coffee and a breakfast of old fashioned pancakes and sausage. They slept until Benton Harbor was reached. They were taken back to Chicago on the vessel's return.

"Sunday the boys went to Indiana Harbor to visit their god-parents Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Govotsky. Early in the afternoon they went to the beach near the Universal Portland Cement plant at Bluffington, Ind., where they climbed into a row boat, pulled partially upon the shore, to eat their lunch. Unaware the boat slipped out into Lake Michigan. The boys could not swim. They had no oars. The wind kept carrying the boat farther out. Both lads waved their hands and shouted but no assistance came. Two men on the pier apparently did not hear or see them.

"Night came, and with it cold. Shivering, the boys crouched in the bottom of the tiny craft. One had matches. He burned his cap in a vain attempt to summon aid. Then came dawn, with the broad expanse of water. No land. No passing ships. The wind increased, the sea became choppy and the crests of the waves broke into the rowboat making it foggy. Another night, and then the rescue.

"Sitting in the sunlight on the Benton Transit docks the rescued boys said little but their faces bore the unmistakable signs of their experiences."

GOOD ROADS CONNELLY AGAIN ELECTED AS ROAD COMMISSIONER

Nearly $100,000 To Be Spent for Good Roads in Ottawa County

William Connelly was unanimously elected a member of the Ottawa county road commissioners for his third term at a meeting Wednesday of the supervisors. The commissioners submitted their yearly report, which was accepted. Their budget, which calls for $99,156 for construction work and $30,000 for maintenance, which is $10,000 more than last year. They were granted appropriations.

It is understood that thru this added appropriation a complete cement road will connect Holland and Grand Haven next year.

FIRST STEP TAKEN, IN HOLLAND'S SEW-AGE PROBLEM

SANITARY ENGINEER TO MAKE PRELIMINARY SURVEY OF WHAT IS NEEDED

One of the biggest problems Holland has to face within the next few years took up a great deal of time of the council Wednesday evening, and the first step toward solving the problem was taken. The problem is that of sewage disposal. No matter how it is handled, it will be costly. But the city will be compelled to face it sooner or later. There is no escape. Holland cannot hope to continue to pollute the waters of Black Lake indefinitely, and as the city grows the problem becomes bigger. And if the city should refuse to take the matter up, the state department of health will sooner or later compel action.

That being the case, the council by a vote of 10 to 2, voted to approve the report of the committee to the effect that preliminary plans for a definite system of sewage disposal be secured. Ald. Prins and Ald. Dykstra voted no, the others voting yes. The recommendation of the committee was that a competent sanitary engineer be employed who shall make the necessary experiments and present preliminary plans. It was reported that the expense of this move would be from $600 to $1000. On motion of Ald. Damstra, chairman of the committee, the mayor was instructed to appoint a committee of five representing the council, the board of public works, and the health board, said committee to employ the engineer and to look after the work.

Ald. Prins objected that this was not the proper time to take on another load. He declared Holland was getting too many irons in the fire with the gas question and a new hospital to dispose of. But the answer of the committee was that this preliminary survey does not commit Holland to building a new sewage disposal plant. It merely gives the city the necessary information on which a policy can be based in the future; and the preliminary work will cover a period of perhaps a year or two. It is a highly technical job and there is at present no information available about Holland's sewage problem on which any definite plan can be based.

FORMER HOLLAND BOY HONORED IN THE WEST

CARRIES MESSAGE OF PEACE TO THE MEXICAN PEOPLE

Henry H. Fris, one of the representatives of the El Paso Herald, is one of the men appointed to bring the message of peace to the turbulent country to the south, namely Mexico.

General Obregon is now in this country after having overthrown the revolutionary forces, and after having eradicated President Carranza from figuring further into Mexican affairs.

The new forces have even made Villa come to time, have compelled him to live like a decent citizen, and have seen to it that his band of cut-throats are no more.

From all appearances it seems that Mexico wishes to become a peaceful neighbor and if General Obregon's reception in this country is any indication of how the United States feels, we will soon be at peace with that country. But this is not the only source that is working toward peace. The city of El Paso on the border, which has seen more Mexican fighting than any other part of the United States, is acting as a sort of mediator that may bring about lasting peace between the U. S. and Mexico. They are bringing every avenue at their command to bear to bring about such a condition.

The latest method is the getting up of a large excursion which 100 leading citizens have been invited. The chairman of this excursion that left El Paso for Mexico City five days ago is Henry L. Fris, brother to Jacob Fris, of the Fris' Book store, the young man who years ago was a newsy on Holland's streets, but since then has climbed up the newspaper ladder of fame, and has become one of the big men on the El Paso Herald.

Mr. Fris according to schedule is now in Mexico City with his 100 peace makers from El Paso and together with these men he is extending the hand of Charity, peace and good-will to a war-torn nation, and while the efforts of the citizens of El Paso may not be official it no doubt will have a great influence towards bringing about the recognition by the United States of this misguided country.

LETTER FROM MISS TENA HOLKEBOER AT HONOLULU

SEES THE DUTTONS IN CALIFORNIA BEFORE TAKING SHIP

The monthly meeting of the Daughters of the King of the Ninth St. Chr. Ref. church was held at the home of Miss Jeannette Holkeboer on Tuesday evening.

Fourteen young ladies were present and a very enthusiastic meeting was enjoyed. The young ladies are keeping in touch with the movements of a member of their organization, Miss Tena Holkeboer, who is now on her way to China.

Messages have been received by the secretary of the Kings Daughters from Honolulu, where the ship laid at anchor for two days. In her letters Miss Holkeboer gave a detailed description of her trip stating that thus far the voyage on the steamer has been uneventful and pleasant, the weather being ideal.

It took the ship five days to sail from San Francisco to Honolulu.

The first two days out, both Miss Nienhuis and Miss Holkeboer were unable to leave their state rooms because of sea-sickness, but by this time they have become thoroughly good sailors and can even eliminate the lemon juice.

Miss Holkeboer while on board received 46 letters from her home, but Miss Nienhuis was not so fortunate her mail having miscarried and apparently red letter day was changed into a blue letterless day.

Miss Holkeboer writes her class that before taking the steamer she had the privilege of climbing a mountain or two, going up as high as the snow line where she could pelt her friends with snow balls in mid-summer.

She also visited Devil's slide, a mountain formation that is one of the show places. She states that when she reached Oakland, Calif., her train with 14 coaches was switched on a large ferry and was taken across the bay to San Francisco.

She also mentioned the fact that that she visited the family of Charles S. Dutton, recently of Holland, where she was given a royal welcome.

The boat on which the two missionaries were sailing has on board 700 passengers, and has a Japanese crew with American officers.

On board the ship are also Rev. and Mrs. Henry Beltman, formerly of Overisel and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison of Holland. The young ladies have made some very pleasant acquaintances on the boat they state.

Altho the Holland missionaries by this time must be near the land of Almond eyes, rice and pig tails, the last letter comes from Hulu Hula land where the tinkling of the ukelele hold sway with the low tropical moon.

NEW THEATER CANNOT ACCOMMODATE THE CROWD

AT LEAST A THOUSAND WERE TURNED AWAY FROM NEW PLAYHOUSE

They say competition is the life of trade, providing the competition is not overdone.

Judging from the crowds that attempted to get into both local theaters, one would imagine that every citizen in the town had become a movie fan.

The new Colonial opened its doors for the first time last evening with "The River's End," as its opening bill.

Although the box office was not open until 7 o'clock already at 6:30 at least a thousand people had gathered waiting for the doors to be opened. As the time advanced the crowd kept growing larger until all available space on the sidewalk and even into the street was occupied.

Automobiles were lined up practically around Centennial Park and when the doors opened it was difficult to handle the surging crowd.

The Colonial was soon filled to capacity, however, while another capacity house was on the outside waiting for the first show to end.

It is estimated that at least a thousands curious fans failed to get in and went home.

Not alone was the new Colonial crowded to capacity, but also the Strand.

The pictures put on by Manager Himebaugh were greeted by two capacity houses with movie fans standing in the rear for lack of seats.

Mr. Himebaugh is outdoing himself in getting an unusually fine list of shows, judging from the advertisements on the screen. In fact it can be said now, that Holland in the future is going to have the last word in pictures if the present standards of cinema production is maintained.

BIG POLL LIST CAUSE PROBLEM TO INSPECTORS

MORE ROOM NEEDED IN THE VOTING PLACES AND MORE BOOTHS

The fact that Holland now has an enrollment of voters of 4,500 has presented several problems to the election officials. For one thing there are not enough voting booths in the city to accommodate this large number of electors. So the council has instructed the committee on public buildings and property to have additional booths made and placed in the polling places before election day. The first ward needs three more booths, the third three, the fifth five and the sixth three, or a total of fourteen.

In some wards the voting population has practically doubled. As a result more election inspectors and clerks will be needed. Two wards appointed two election inspectors on Wednesday night instead of the usual one, and in all the wards the aldermen were given permission to employ as many clerks as they deemed necessary to take care of the vote.

The following election inspectors were appointed: First Ward, Jacob Lokker and G. Cook; second ward, A. Curtis; third ward, Wm. Brusse; Fourth Ward, Woltman; 5th ward, Henry Bosch and F. Yonkman; sixth ward, J. Sprang.

In several of the wards also more room will be needed. In the third ward for instance it is proposed to press the G. A. R. room into service for voting purposes, and in several of the other wards arrangements will also be made to secure more floor space for booths and for a line up of voters.

This will be the biggest election ever held in Holland, and the election officials do not propose to be caught napping. They will make all the arrangements necessary and hope to be so well equipped that there will be no undue congestion as a result of lack of preparation. If there is congestion it will be because the people do not come early to vote.

GEORGE G. STEKETEE MAKES REQUEST OF HOLLAND LODGE

ASKS THAT SPECIAL CAR BE CHARTERED FOR HOLLAND MASONS

The funeral of George G. Steketee the first charter member of Unity Lodge, F. and A. M. of Holland, requested before his death that a special car be chartered by the local lodge at the expense of his estate in order that the Holland members might participate in his funeral.

Consequently a Holland interurban this noon took approximately 50 members of Unity Lodge to Grand Rapids where they took a prominent part in the funeral exercises held under the auspices of the Masonic Orders of Grand Rapids.

Forty-five years ago Mr. Steketee was instrumental in organizing the first lodge of Masons in this city.

ALDERMAN ST. GEORGE FAILS IN HIS FIGHT

The women of Holland found a champion in the common council at its session Wednesday night. Alderman Damstra is the modern St. George who entered the lists to do battle with the dragon of nicotine. And he did it in the interests of the ladies. He said so himself. But the rest of the aldermen were all 'hard-boiled' cases, and Damstra's battle proved unavailing.

As a result there will be smoking as usual in the voting booths this year. Mr. Damstra declared that out of respect to the ladies the council should pass a resolution forbidding smoking in the booths on the part of the election officials and on the part of the public. Mr. Damstra spoke eloquently in favor of his suggestion, and this in spite of the fact that he is a smoker himself. But the other aldermen could not see it that way. His suggestion met with various shafts of humor but the aldermen refused to take him seriously. His proposal did not receive a second and so the matter was dropped.

Chairman Brieve of the Committee on Poor, reported to the council that the sum of $66 had been expended for temporary aid the past two weeks.

The contract for painting and fixing the outside of the city hall has been let to Bert Slagh & Son, their bid for the job being $591.66.

Miss Betty Mulder of Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burch of Grand Rapids spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mulder, 7th street.

NORTH SIDE MAN, NOT AN OFFICER, MAKES ARREST

Even though E. B. Scott of the north side is not a regularly sworn officer of the law, he does not hesitate to assume the duties of an officer if the necessity arises. Mr. Scott Friday morning "arrested" Arthur Navis and hauled him up before Justice Den Herder on the charge of killing fox squirrels on Scott's farm. The culprit objected to being arrested on the score that Mr. Scott did not have an officer's badge, but that did not stop Scott. He convinced Mr. Navis that since the hunting occurred on land that was liberally sign-boarded against killing game, he, Scott, had the right to make the arrest. Navis was convinced and went along to Justice Den Herder's office. Scott carried the two dead fox squirrels as evidence, and Justice Den Herder, after hearing the testimony fined Navis $10 and costs amounting to $3.

Mr. Scott has for the past fifteen years protected the wild game on his land in every way possible. He has up about a dozen signs warning the hunter not to kill any game. These signs are so distributed that no hunter could very well overlook them.

For fifteen years not a wild animal has been killed on the Scott farm, and Mr. Scott takes a great deal of pride in the squirrels, rabbits, partridges, etc. Lately he has even acquired a pheasant that came to his farm and is making use of the hospitality that all wild life gets there.

Mr. Scott is determined to protect the game there to the extent of the law, and his action of Friday morning is but a sample of what will happen to any other hunter who kills game there, Mr. Scott declared.

GROUND TO DEATH UNDER WHEELS OF A FREIGHT TRAIN

Randall Wellington Greenwalt, a former soldier, aged somewhere between 25 and 30, was instantly killed and terribly mangled by a Pere Marquette freight train some time early Sunday morning near Waverly. His mangled body was not discovered until some little time after the accident by Yard Manager Cobb. He notified J. S. Dykstra who now is taking care of the body at the Dykstra Undertaking Parlors at 29 East 9th street.

The body was cut up and bruised in a variety of ways and the head was nearly severed from the trunk by the wheels of the freight train. The young man, who appeared to be from a good family, was seen at the Pere Marquette depot at 2 o'clock at night when he talked to members of one of the train crew, asking them directions about going to Detroit.

A registration card was found on his body showing that he was of draft age and that his place of residence at that time was 1522 West 27th Place, Cleveland, Ohio. The young man's back teeth were filled with gold, which has led the local authorities to believe that he was not a tramp, as at first supposed, but that he was of a family in fairly good circumstances. When he talked with the train crew he was fairly well dressed and did not have the bearing of a tramp. It is believed that he was an amateur at beating his way, that he missed his hold on a moving freight train and was thus ground to death under the wheels of the train.

The police department of Cleveland, Ohio, was immediately notified by wire, and the body is being held pending the discovery of the young man's family.

LAUNCH MOVEMENT TO FORM C. OF C. HERE

A movement was launched in Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary club to organize a chamber of commerce in Holland. C. A. Bigge, president of the club ordered the appointment of a committee which will confer with a similar committee of the Exchange Club and the officials of the old Victory club. These committees along with the Manufacturers club headed by E. P. Stephan will investigate the need of a commercial body in Holland and will report to a meeting of business men in the city.

APPROXIMATELY 4500 VOTERS ARE REGIS- TERED IN HOLLAND

Although all the figures have not yet been tabulated, a fairly close estimate shows that the registration in Holland this year is about 4,500. Exact figures are available for four wards on men and women both and for five wards on men. The exact figures on men and women in the first ward are lacking and so are the exact figures on women in the fifth ward.

The names are taken on a tally sheet that the individual voter must sign, and later they are copied into a registration book, the list of men and women being given separately. This entails an enormous amount of work, and it has not yet been completed. City Clerk Overweg worked until midnight Monday night on the job, spending hours on a discrepancy of two names in a certain ward, the tally sheet and the poll book not agreeing.

The second ward has 184 men registrants and 83 women; the 3rd ward, 433 men and 363 women; the 4th ward 538 men and 461 women; the 5th ward 590 men, (women not yet tabulated); the 6th ward has 344 men and 197 women. This makes a total in the wards so far tabulated of 3184, of whom 2090 are men and 1094 women. The first ward and the women in the fifth ward will bring the number up to about 4,500 according to a rough count made of the tally sheets.

This is by nearly a thousand names the largest enrollment ever secured in Holland. The total in the previous election in which the women took part was in the neighborhood of 3,500. The school amendment and the fact that this is the first presidential election in which women will vote are believed to be the main reasons for the large enrollment.

But even at that there are estimated to be about a thousand people in Holland who are not registered and who will therefore lose the right of franchise. The very great majority of these are women.

MARRIES THREE COUPLES IN ONE AFTERNOON

Rev. James Ghysels, pastor of the 9th Street Christian Reformed church united three couples in marriage Thursday afternoon. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon the marriage took place of Miss Jeannette Rypma and Henry Meeuwse, at the home of the groom. At 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, a double wedding ceremony was performed that made wives of two sisters.

In the double wedding, Miss Jeanie Teerman became the bride of Aris Westmaas, and her sister, Miss Maggie Teerman, was united in marriage to John Wiersma. The two sisters and their husbands will make their homes in Grand Rapids, while Mr. and Mrs. Meeuwse will live in Holland.

COMPANY TO GO INTO HANDS OF RECEIVER

The Holland Engine Company, formerly the Brown-Wall Engine Co. is to go into the hands of the receiver. This step is a voluntary action on the part of the directors. A meeting of the directors was held Monday evening. About one hundred persons in Holland have money invested in this concern. In view of all circumstances, the directors voted to place the affairs of the company in receivers' hands for the present.

According to the estimates of the members of the board of directors, the assets of the firm are about $175,000 and the liabilities about $75,000.

According to members of the board, the present condition of the firm is in no way a reflection on the management of William Arendshorst. When he assumed the management the company was laboring under a heavy debt of some $40,000, and since then it became necessary to build a foundry at heavy expense.

RALLY SUNDAY DRAWS A LARGE ATTENDANCE

Rally Sunday was observed at the First Reformed church Sunday School on Sunday, and the largest attendance in the history of that Sunday School resulted. It is believed that never before in any church in Holland was there such a large attendance at a meeting of a Sunday School, the total number present being 750.

A very interesting program was given, including addresses by Mr. Versput, chairman of the missionary committee of the State Sunday School Association, and E. K. Mohr, treasurer of the Michigan State Sunday School Association. A duet was given by the Barkema sisters.

COLONIAL THEATRE OPENS ON WEDNES- DAY EVENING

The new Colonial Theater erected by John Raven and John Kramer of this city is now completed and was thrown open to the public for the first time Wednesday evening.

The first picture to be shown was the popular film production, "The River's End," shown at the Majestic Gardens at Grand Rapids three weeks ago.

The new theater is a thing of beauty with a seating capacity of 700, and in its construction the management had in view only the very best and latest in a theater of that kind.

For instance, a slanted golden fiber screen of the most modern type has been installed. Twin machines of the very latest type being the last word in cinema devices have been installed and are the same in every particular as those in use in the new Capitol Theater, New York City, the largest and most beautiful film temple in the world.

The management has paid special attention to the seating arrangements, avoiding those obnoxious features so often found in hurriedly constructed theaters. There is not a seat in the building from which a good view of the screen cannot be had.

The seats have been made extra wide and are semi-reclining. The interior of the theater has a colonial aspect. Even the fixtures in fact the entire lighting effect is Colonial throughout, in harmony with the name of the theater. Many of the standards cost as high as $50 each, and all the lighting arrangements are partially constructed in opalescent glass filling the playhouse with a soft and glowing light.

The entire building is fire proof. The machine booth is built entirely of concrete and steel and should any of the celluloid films ignite, iron shutters leading to the body of the theater, close automatically. Should the fire get beyond the operator's control he simply steps back through an iron door unto the balcony and the fire would burn itself out even without the knowledge of the spectators in the theater.

The new film house has four exits, the doors of which are operated by a new invention called the patent panic lock. The exits are always locked to the person who wants to come in from the outside, but are always unlocked to the person on the inside who wishes to get out, and the slightest pressure will push the door outward, preventing any congestion in case of fire, which is scarcely possible.

In any event, by virtue of the exits, a well filled theater can be emptied within a minute. The lobby of the theater is a thing of beauty, and the film house also contains a handsome drinking fountain and a rest room.

Careful attention has been paid to the ventilation. The latest contrivances of letting in fresh air have been installed. Air is drawn in from the outside, heated and is forced through the body of the building, while the foul air is drawn from the building to the outside. A vacuum cleaner system is also one of the latest innovations by which the theater will be cleaned daily.

The music is going to be only of the best, a four piece orchestra holding sway through every performance.

A violin, piano, saxophone and coronet and possibly the traps will be the instruments constituting the orchestra.

The services of Gerald Hanchett, and Harvey Fairbanks have been secured while the management is now casting around to secure the other members of the contemplated orchestra. Mr. Hanchett and Mr. Fairbanks have been playing together for the past two years and it is said that they have a repertoire of music that will carry them along indefinitely without ringing in anything stale upon the public.

Film men and revenue officers who have come to inspect the new theater are loud in their praises of it, some even going so far as to say that it is the most unique and finest all movie theater in the state.

WERE ASLEEP ON THE WEST MICHIGAN PIKE

Andrew Postma, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Postma, suffered a wound on his head that required four stitches to close when he figured in an auto accident on the West Michigan Pike. The accident happened Sunday night when Postma and three companions were returning from Grand Haven. A couple in a rig met them near Agnew and there was a headon collision. The couple in the rig were asleep and were letting the horse find its own way.

ORDERS DRIVER FROM AN AUTO WITH A GUN

A sensational automobile theft was pulled off in broad daylight on the streets of Holland Sunday, when George Vander Poel took a big Cadillac car from Carl Harrington, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Harrington at the point of a 32-calibre revolver. VanderPoel drove toward Grand Rapids, and later went to Kalamazoo, where he was picked up by the Kalamazoo police. He was returned to Holland and was locked in the Holland city jail before six o'clock.

Young Harrington had gone to get some Sunday papers. Vander Poel asked him to drive him to his home on Fifth street, but the boy not knowing the man, refused. Then Vander Poel asked for a lift to 3rd Reformed church. That being on Harrington's way, he took him in. On corner of 9th and Pine, Vander Poel drew a revolver, a regular "gat" and ordered the boy out of the driver's seat. Taking charge of the car Vander Poel drove south and then east toward Grand Rapids.

The boy immediately hustled home and gave the alarm. Police headquarters soon got busy on the job and Chief Van Ry notified all police departments within a radius of a hundred miles from Holland. Within less than an hour every department within the territory had been put on the look-out for the machine, with number and description of machine and driver given. It was this quick work on the part of the police department as well as the quickness of young Harrington to report the theft at his home that caused the almost instant arrest of Vander Poel. He was picked up by Traffic officer Mason in Kalamazoo. The revolver was found in his pocket by the Kalamazoo officer. Austin Harrington, accompanied by Carl and Harry Harrington and Chief of Police Van Ry immediately went to Kalamazoo to bring the prisoner to Holland.

The telephone girls of both the Citizens and Bell companies did fine work in getting messages through quickly to all police departments, thus assuring the capture of young Vander Poel.

Vander Poel is considered mentally incompetent. He is subject to "spells" that have landed him in trouble before. He has served time in the Reform school, in the Detroit House of Correction, and in the state hospital at Kalamazoo. He has also served in the army some years. He is 29 years old.

PETE BONTKOE FAILED TO CATCH A SPEEDER FOR ONCE

When it comes to chasing speeders no one has anything on Peter Bontkoe, Holland's speed-cop.

But for once Pete failed to connect, but as it happened, the chase would have been of a wild goose nature anyway.

When Austin Harrington's automobile was stolen Sunday, Chief Van Ry got in touch with the Fennville State Constabulary, by the way a very efficient bunch of officers.

These men soon scoured the Gan- ges and Saugatuck roads, and then came to Holland.

They reported to the chief in this city, stating that Vander Poel did not come their way. The chief informed them that the auto thief had just passed through Zeeland. Without stopping for orders, one of them called back, "we'll get 'em" and soon the Oakland car they were driving was plunging through 8th street at the rate of 50 miles an hour.

Officer Bontkoe not knowing that the men in the auto, like himself, were also officers, made a leap for his motorcycle, and was soon hitting her up at top-speed and was being encouraged by the pedestrians along 8th street who were standing open-mouthed watching the speeding machines disappear.

The constabulary went through Zeeland like a shot, just as the good staid old people of that city were leaving their places of worship.

The constabulary got past the speed cop, but poor Peter was intercepted with the people calling out, "stop that speeder."

Our own Peter had to stop, and much angered, he jumped from the seat of his motorcycle, showed his star, and said to the town marshal, "You blame fool, I was after these fellows myself." The Zeeland minion of the law satisfied, let Pete pass, and the race was on again. Just as Pete was withing hailing distance of the speeding officers, at the Vriesland hill, Pete's machine gave out, and the chase was over.

When he reported at headquarters he only got wise to the fact that he had been chasing a machine filled with officers of the law. Surely here is a case where officers were working at cross purposes. Had it not been

NORTH SIDERS GIVE STRAW VOTE IN FAVOR OF COX

The Beechwood Boosters club held its regular meeting Friday evening. Many subjects of interest were taken up. The city has given the Boosters an estimate on what it would have cost to have electric lights put in on the North side and a meeting will be held in the very near future to take up this subject.

A straw vote was taken as to whether Harding should be our next president or Cox. Cox got 16 votes and Harding got 14 votes. A vote was also taken on the school amendment which is to be voted on at this election. There were 15 votes for the amendment and 13 against it. After the business meeting was over refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

MEN'S FEDER- ATION HOLD AN IN- TERESTING MEETING

The Federation of Men's Bible Classes of Holland held a most enthusiastic meeting in the Methodist church Monday evening. About 150 representatives of the various churches in the association were present. The main address was delivered by Rev. G. B. Fleming, pastor of the Methodist church, whose theme was the "Modern Building of the Kingdom."

Much interest was shown in a discussion about the advisability of the launching of a Y. M. C. A. building movement in Holland. This matter was brought up for discussion by H. Van Tongeren, a member of the 1st Reformed church class. A number of people took part in the discussion, but no definite decision was reached. The Stellar Glee Club under the direction of C. J. De Koster, gave several selections.

Dr. George H. Thomas, who has been visiting for a week in South Dakota, returned home Saturday morning.

So great is the onion crop in western Michigan that growers are puzzled as to what they shall do with it. At several places purchases were made by dealers at $1 per 100 lbs. then at 90c, and finally they all quit to await a market for what they had bought. At present there is very little demand for onions at any price men who formerly bought freely fearing to venture further purchases under existing conditions. In some places the growers are organizing associations to build storage houses to care for their crops and sell them gradually during the winter.

The October and December Divisions of the Woman's Literary Club will stage a rummage sale of unusual importance from the fact that a list of goods as long as the contents of a mail order catalog is to be sold. It is stated that the ladies will have on sale dishes, hats, children's coats, dresses, stockings, and shoes, also men's wearing apparel, and all ladies' fineries. For the readers there will be books on sale, and look here bed springs are in the listed articles mentioned. Who knows, the ladies may have on hand a buzz wagon or two. Anyway if you need something along these lines it might pay you to attend this rummage sale on October 21, 22 and 23, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

A remarkable laying record has been made by White Leghorn hens owned by George Johnson of 514 Adams street of Grand Haven. Mr. Johnson keeps careful record of what his chickens do. From October 15, 1919 to the same date in 1920 his 41 hens laid a total of 7278. This is an average of 117 1/4 eggs per bird which is a remarkable fact considering the number of the flock. There are three strains in the flock including the famous Tom Barron and the Young strain of White Leghorns.

It is estimated that there are at least 1,000 Grand Haven voters who have not registered for the coming election. Up to date 2,223 have registered, and of that number only 270 are women, which shows the women are slow in taking advantage of their right of franchise. Saturday is the last day for registration. We can hardly believe that the ladies of Grand Haven have become shy all at once.

The management of the new Colonial Theater that is holding its formal opening Wednesday and Thursday, Wednesday received a beautiful token of welcome from the Reel Art Corporation of New York. The welcome of the Holland theater into the world of filmdom, took the form of a large artist's palette made of carnations. The floral piece is about three feet high and about two and a half feet wide. The words, "Reel Art" are spelled out in the flowers.

Accompanying the floral gift was a letter from the Reel Art Corporation wishing the Colonial Theater success in its new venture.

The Colonial Theater showed its first picture Wednesday, "The River's End" being the offering. This is an appropriate opening show for a Michigan theater, as the book from which the play is taken was written by a Michigan novelist, James Oliver Curwood, whose home is in Owosso. Curwood has written a number of thrillers about the north woods.

ALLEGED "MOONSHINERS" ARE BOUND OVER

Floyd Roberts, Mrs. Mildred Roberts and Arie Van Slooten had a hearing Tuesday before Justice Van Schelven on the charge of having "moonshine" in their possession. The trio were taken in connection with the recent arrest of Albert Kuipers who was charged with assault and battery committed against his wife. Kuipers at the time of his arraignment pleaded guilty and implicated Mr. and Mrs. Roberts and Mr. Van Slooten, declaring that they had furnished the liquor to him under the influence of which he had made the attack upon his wife.

The evidence brought out at the hearing was considered sufficient by Justice Van Schelven to bind the trio over to circuit court. The hearing was held in the city hall.

GETS TWO BIG CHECKS IN TWO DAYS

Mrs. R. Batema, who Tuesday received a check for $5,000 from the Pere Marquette railroad in settlement for the death of her husband some months ago, Wednesday received another check, this time one for $10,000 from the B. & O. Railroad, also in settlement for the same case. The accident that caused Mr. Batema's death was a rear-end collision in which both roads were held liable.

Mrs. Batema Wednesday expressed her gratefulness to both the B. & O. and the Pere Marquette railroads for their prompt settlement of the claims.

FOUR TOWNSHIPS GET A BOOST IN THEIR EQUALIZATION

In the report of the committee on equalization which was submitted to the board of supervisors at this session, four townships received a boost which amounts to a total of $315,000. The townships hit by the raise are Blendon, $100,000 added; Crockett, $50,000 added; Olive, $100,000 added and Robinson $65,000.

It is likely that the committee report will not be adopted without some sort of a fight by the open board. It was reported today that some of the supervisors are lining up to make the fight against the reports.

The finance committee in a report submitted turned down the proposition of buying portraits of judges who have served the Ottawa circuit, stating that the expenses this year were high and the additional expense was not advisable.

ALLENDALE MAN KILLED IN GRAND RAPIDS

Bert Lemmen, 53 years of age, implement dealer of Allendale and Coopersville, died at Butterworth hospital Wednesday morning from a fracture of the skull resulting when he was thrown to the pavement near the Grand Trunk depot when he ran into the path of an automobile driven by G. H. Southwick, 1552 Robinson rd.

Mr. Lemmen was on his way from Coopersville to Flint, where he was to have obtained a new automobile which he planned to drive home, it was said, and had stepped from a Grand Rapids, Grand Haven & Muskegon interurban a moment before the accident. According to Mr. Southwick, the man ran directly into the path of the machine. A fender struck him and threw him to the ground. A short time ago a son, Herman, met with an accident on the Grandville road, when a truck was demolished by an interurban.

Surviving Mr. Lemmen are the widow, three sons, Herman, Bernard and Forrest, and four daughters, Mrs. George Brink of Holland, Mrs. Gerrit Eisen and Zena and Minnie Lemmen of Coopersville.

"TAKE IT FROM ME"

Powers Theater, Grand Rapids

There was a time when it was scarcely good form to have a regular plot in a musical comedy. Audiences did not expect it, and the tired brains for which the fluffy type of girls, music and lines were arranged were satisfied with an evening's rest cure. In one of the newest musical shows, however, there is a plot which the exceedingly beautiful, fluffy choruses does not interrupt.

"Take It From Me" coming to the Powers Theater, Grand Rapids on Sunday, Oct. 24 has a hero whose fantastic ideas about running a department store get him into the sort of difficulties which are amusingly exciting. You really feel anxious to have him show a profit at the end of the year and outwit the plotting stockholders. For instance, the idea of the proprietor of a department store putting his floor-walkers on roller skates, so that normally languid gentry can get about more rapidly, is here worked out with laugh-inspiring results. The vampire idea seemed to have been worked through all its possibilities, especially in the movies, but it remained for Majorie Sweet to give us in this show the last work in lurid vamping.

ROOSEVELT MAKES GOOD IMPRESSION IN HOLLAND

It was a great day for Holland democrats Monday when Franklin D. Roosevelt came to this city for an address. As had been expected, the gathering in the Knickerbocker Theater was the big meeting of the campaign. Though held in the afternoon, when it is hard to get a crowd, the theater was packed. Every seat was taken and scores of people stood in the back. The audience was made up of men and women, of Democrats, Republicans and Independents. It was an attentive audience and Mr. Roosevelt made a fine impression. He is a quiet man, with few of the trappings of the professional politician about him. He spoke quietly, almost without gesture, and his address was unrelieved by campaign stories or by any of the other devices that are usually used to keep an audience interested. He spoke straight from the shoulder, devoting all his time to a discussion of the League of Nations, and and no one could doubt his absolute earnestness.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF WRECK OF THE "HOLLAND" FOUND

The body of a woman, about 50 years old, believed to be that of Mrs. Kate Johnson of Ferrysburg, a passenger on the ill-fated City of Muskegon, formerly the Steamer Holland, which went down at the mouth of the channel entrance to Muskegon lake during a storm on Lake Michigan, Oct. 29, 1919, was found at Muskegon Sunday. The discovery was made by two farmer boys who were walking along the lake shore about one and one-half miles this side of the Ottawa County line. The authorities were notified and the body was brought to Muskegon.

An arm and a leg had been wrenched from the woman's body and the face was badly mutilated. The entire corpse was in an advanced state of mortification.

The tragic death of Mrs. Johnston is only one of the many sorrowful occurrences of the eventful Oct. morning. Mrs. Johnston's son, D. G. Johnston, chief engineer, of the City of Muskegon, had invited his mother to make a lake trip with him. The trip was her first venture on the water. Together the mother and son had a happy time finding new sources of interest on the common place craft. Mrs. Johnston retired Tuesday night regretting that the journey was so near an end. She saw her son for the last time when he said good night to her at the state-room door. The next morning the steamer went down.

The story of the sinking of the City of Muskegon is one of the most tragic marine events chronicled in the annals of shipping on Lake Michigan.

WESTERN SOCIAL CONFERENCE MEETS IN HOLLAND

The western Social Conference met in Holland Monday afternoon in the First Reformed church. The members were entertained at dinner by the ladies of the church. About 30 ministers from western Michigan Reformed churches were present. Dr. S. C. Nettinga gave an address on the tercentenary celebration.

That the ministers of the Reformed church of Western Michigan are against the passage of the parochial school amendment was shown when a vote was taken on this issue. The conference passed resolutions condemning the amendment.

FIRE WIPES OUT PROPERTY OF OLIVE MAN

A disastrous fire of unknown origin wiped out most of the property of Menno Van Slooten in Olive township about eight miles north of Holland between Friday and Saturday. The loss is about $10,000 and not a cent of insurance. It wipes out practically all the family worked for for many years.

The family was in the barn husking corn when the fire broke out in the barn. It quickly gained headway and the efforts to save the building were unavailing. The barn was burned to the ground, including 800 bushels of rye, all the season's hay, a silo just filled with cattle fodder, one large hog, a large quantity of wheat, oats and corn. Nearly all the farm implements were also destroyed, as well as a Ford car housed in a shed.

The fire spread to a saw mill owned by VanSlooten located about eighty rods away from the barn, and this was also totally destroyed. Near the mill was stacked 2,000 feet of lumber owned by John Goodin and 1,000 feet owned by Albert Klein, which was all destroyed by the flames.

The house was saved, but for the rest the farm was practically wiped clean by the flames. Mr. Van Slooten's insurance policies had lapsed a few days ago. He had forgotten about them, but the money was already on the way for a renewed policy. However it had not yet arrived and hence the insurance had elapsed at the time of the fire. The loss on the barn is estimated at $8,000 and on the saw mill at $2,000. There was no fire of any kind in the barn and no one had been smoking there. It is surmised that the fire may have been the result of the throwing away of a cigar or cigaret by hunters.

Van Slooten is a member of a family that has had more than its share of tragedy. The family originally lived in Holland township, three miles east of Holland. The father was injured in a sawmill accident that later caused his death. One son was instantly killed in 1907 in a similar sawmill accident, and another son was killed at Dead Man's Curve on Park road a few years ago in an auto accident.

DE MERRILL SELLS HIS MONUMENTS WORKS TO GRAND HAVEN MAN

William Fant of Grand Haven has purchased the R. N. De Merrill Monument Works at Holland, and took formal possession of the business Monday morning. This business has been in existence over forty years, and is one of the best known works in the southern part of the county. Mr. Fant has changed the name of the company to the Holland Monument Works, which he will operate in conjunction with the Grand Haven Monument works.

The newly acquired plant will be in charge of Sam Tjelma of Holland, an expert stone cutter, and will look after the business in the southern end of the county, while the Grand Haven plant will take care of the northern section. Henry Beukema is in charge of the Grand Haven office for Mr. Fant.

Mr. Fant started in the monument business in Grand Haven in September 1912, when he purchased the Grand Haven Monument Works, then a small business. By close personal attention he has built up the business, adding many improvements and expanding it greatly, until it is now one of the best equipped businesses of its kind in western Michigan, due entirely to energy and the painstaking effort on the part of the proprietor.

In retiring from business, Mr. De Merrill says he will not leave Holland. He states that this city is as fine as any he knows of to live in, and he intends to remain and make it his future home. He says he has been in the harness now for forty years and he feels that this is about long enough.

Mr. and Mrs. DeMerrill will go to the Bermuda Islands for the winter and they will be back in their old home on 9th street and College Ave. next spring. Mr. De Merrill has served the city as a city official in several capacities and Mrs. DeMerrill has been a moving spirit in the W. C. T. U. of Ottawa county and a diligent worker in the Women's Literary Club. Citizens will be glad to learn that the DeMerrills will not leave the city for good.

HOLLAND OUTCLASSES HASTINGS HIGH

Holland high's football team added another victory to its splendid record last Saturday when they defeated Hastings high by the score of 21 to 10 at Hastings. The score does not show how far Holland outclassed Hastings. Holland was penalized repeatedly whenever it seemed evident that a touchdown would be scored. In all Sweeney's men were penalized eighty yards to Hastings' five. One touchdown which was fairly made was not allowed Holland. Soon after the opening of the game the Holland boys found out that they were called upon to play against the three officials and the entire Hastings team.

The touchdowns made by Hastings was on a blocked pass. Holland made their downs continually but the penalties inflicted kept the score down. Lordahl and Shaw starred in the backfield. Van Duren scored two touchdowns and De Pree one. Holland plays Benton Harbor on the home grounds this Saturday, October 28. A preliminary game will be played between Union Reserves and Holland Reserves.

THEATER CROWDED AT REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING

In spite of a pouring rain, a record-breaking crowd gathered in the Knickerbocker theater on Friday evening to listen to a group of republican campaign speakers on the issues of the day. Every seat in the house was taken and a large number of people stood in the lobby throughout the long meeting. It is estimated that here were at least a thousand people in the audience. There was a considerable sprinkling of women.

Hon. G. J. Diekema presided and, in the interest of economy of time, made his introductions brief and to the point. Henry Rose, former chairman of the Kent County Republican Committee, who for the past 26 years has been in Washington and who is now clerk of the U. S. Senate, was the first speaker. Mr. Rose spoke almost exclusively on national issues. He concentrated his efforts on the League of Nations, and in speaking of the League he devoted most of his time to Article 10. He gave the stock arguments against it and was very emphatic in denouncing it as vicious and dangerous. He made a strong plea to the audience to vote the straight republican ticket, declaring that they should not make an exception for anyone.

Miss Jessie Hemmes, of Hope College, gave a brief address in which she enumerated ten reasons why she was going to vote republican and why all, in her opinion, should vote republican. Being a native of Massachusetts, she gave the splendid record of Calvin Coolidge as her first reason. The Hope College U. Club gave a series of songs to the accompaniment of guitars.

Congressman Carl E. Mapes delivered a brief address in which he enumerated some of the reasons why he believed the republican ticket should be supported this fall. He gave some of his own experiences in Washington and read a letter from Gifford Pinchot, friend of Roosevelt, telling why Pinchot was going to support Harding. Thomas B. Read, former speaker of the Michigan House, now candidate for lieutenant governor, gave a few words of appreciation of Alexander Groesbeck, and Mr. Groesbeck ended the program with an address in which he touched incidentally on state issues, though much of his talk was given to national issues.

"I have been in politics just long enough to know that there is a lot of constructive work that always needs doing," he said, "and if I am elected it is going to be my greatest aim to bring about a state of affairs whereby the money of the people is to be spent in a businesslike manner. This campaign has been none too active, but there are great questions to be solved and the matter of a businesslike conduction of public affairs is one of them."

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Diekema entertained the speakers and the local committee on arrangements at dinner Friday evening before the meeting.

John Tibbe, 94 West 18th street fell from a scaffold at Macatawa Park. He fell a distance of 17 feet and suffered a fracture of the left arm, internal injuries, and bruises about the head. He was taken to Holland Hospital where Dr. Nichols attended him.

HOLLAND INTERURBAN MAKING A THOROUGH JOB OF REPAIRS

A large crowd followed two unique machines sent to Holland by the Michigan Railway Co.

The first is a large welding machine run by electricity, which is used in welding the rails, together. By virtue of a direct conductor from the main feed wire, the heat becomes so intense that the steel rails run together as it were, and become a solid mass.

While this machine is in operation the light in the vicinity is so glaring that the operator has his face covered with a hood, otherwise he would soon lose his eyesight because of the penetrating light.

Tuesday night a large crowd watched the operations and while the welding was going on, 8th street was as light as day, and the sky above was lighted so brightly that country folks thought that a large fire was in progress within the city.

The welding crew of the railroad worked all night, and by Wednesday evening it is expected that 8th street will be completed.

The company will follow its operations on River avenue soon afterward, and when this is completed, the road bed will be one solid mass, and the heavy cars will run more steadily and more silently than before.

The welding machine is followed by a peculiar looking car with large emery wheels. The emery wheels smooth down the rough joints caused by the welding and when this work is completed the rail that was once disjointed is made smooth like the rest of the rails and is connected in such a way that 8th street now has four single rails instead of a couple hundred of them.

The operations of these machines are very interesting and worth seeing and the company is certainly making a thorough job of repairing the River avenue and 8th street road bed.

ORCHARDIST DISPLAYS FRUIT IN STORE

M. Bohl, North Side orchardist, Tuesday placed on display in the show window of the Vaupell Drug store, a number of apples that are among the choicest fruit grown in his orchard at Highland Park Villa, north of the lake. The varieties shown are Snows, Talman Sweet, and Fallwaters. The snows are of exceptional size and coloring. They were picked out of the tops of the trees where they had been bathed in sunshine all summer. This gave them a rich coloring seldom seen on snow apples.

CHICAGO GIRL HAS NARROW ESCAPE ON BLACK LAKE

Miss Margie Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Armstrong of Chicago, had a narrow escape from drowning when a flat-bottomed rowboat in which she and escort, Philip Stanton of Grand Rapids, were crossing Black Lake, sprung a leak. Miss Armstrong had been to Grand Rapids during the day and returned about ten o'clock in the evening to Central Park. She had left the family's rowboat there earlier in the day, and she and Mr. Stanton started to cross the lake to the Armstrong place at Waukazoo.

About three hundred feet from the shore the water suddenly began pouring into the boat and so rapidly that the occupants had no time to get back to shore before the boat was filled. They turned about immediately however and when some little distance from shore they jumped for their lives, landing in water about eight feet deep. Fortunately both could swim and they reached shore safely. In the deep darkness however and without clear knowledge on their part as to how far the shore was away it was a hazardous venture. Miss Armstrong however showed great presence of mind and kept cool.

An examination of the boat next day showed that during Miss Armstrong's absence, something must have struck the side of the boat and caused the sideboard to loosen from the bottom. When Mr. Stanton and Miss Armstrong entered the boat the bottom seems to have given way gradually resulting in a seam about an inch wide.

LOCAL MAN RECEIVES MAMMOTH POTATO

Lucas Smith, 325 Central avenue Saturday morning received a potato by parcels post from his son-in-law John Lanting, McBain, Mich., that is believed to be the largest potato ever seen here. It took fourteen cents in stamps to pay the postage on the package containing the potato. The tuber is nearly two and a half pounds in weight. The tape line shows that it is 18 inches around one way, and 13 1/2 inches around the other. The potato has been put upon display in the west window of the Corner hardware store.

FOUR BARREL GUN ON DISPLAY HERE

There is on display in the window of the Corner Hardware store a gun that is different from any gun ever seen in this city and it is very doubtful if anything like it has ever been made before. The gun has four barrels and it is entirely handmade. It is the work of Eugene Fairbanks, the clever local gunsmith, and it represents an enormous amount of work. Persons who know guns declare that it is one of the finest pieces of work they have ever seen.

The gun contains two 12-gauge shotgun barrels, one 22 rifle barrel and one 32-40 rifle barrel. The four barrels are worked by two triggers.

ZEELAND BUSINESS MAN PASSES AWAY

After an illness of several months duration, Cornelius G. Schaap died at his home in Zeeland at the age of 29 years. He was born in North Dakota in November, 1890 and soon after birth, endured a 80 mile trip to escape death at hands of the Indians. As a small boy he came with his parents to Michigan and has resided at Zeeland until the day of his death. In '13 he was united in marriage to Miss Fannie Bareman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bareman of Zeeland and for many years conducted a milk route.

Mr. Schaap is survived by his wife and two small children: Ethlin G. and Earl A. and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arie Schaap and two sisters, Harriet and Nettie Schaap of New Groningen.

SUGAR FACTORY BE- GINS SLICING BEETS

The Holland sugar factory started slicing beets Friday morning at 7 o'clock. Preparations have been in progress at the factory for some time for the season's campaign and the beets have been arriving by the carload. A considerable supply of beets is on hand now and the factory can start with vim turning the product of the farm into sugar.

Officials of the company stated that the tonnage this year is larger than last year and that tests have shown that the sugar content of the beets is also very satisfactory. The summer has in many respects been favorable to beet growing and a very busy season is in prospect at the local factory.

Mrs. A. Shore of Canon City, Col. is here visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Allen and sister Mrs. Albert Bogue.

Choosing the Girls at Central

We cannot afford to be disappointed in the choice of a telephone operator. Upon her efficiency is staked our reputation and the high standard of service which we are trying to give Michigan.

Even during the post-war period when girls were so hard to obtain, we stood by our standards—selecting, carefully, girls into whose personality and character have been built those qualities of cheerfulness, even temperament and physical and mental alertness that will qualify her, after a period of careful training, to become a truly efficient operator.

How wisely we have chosen is reflected, today, in the ever increasing efficiency of the service rendered by these girls—a service which we can now state is fast approaching its pre-war efficiency.

COUNCIL WANTS

TO CHANGE NORTH
BOUNDARY LINEWOULD DRAW IT IN, MAKING
TERRITORY OF CITY
SMALLER

Committee to Make the Necessary
Surveys and Report Back to the Council

The common council took a tentative step Wednesday evening to contract the territory of the city of Holland by drawing in the boundary line on the North Side. It is not a case of the city getting smaller and the council does not think that Holland is likely to grow smaller. But the aldermen pointed out that there never was any sense in having a section of marsh and swamp as part of the city. At present the boundary line is through the middle of the stream of Black River. The council wants to draw it in for some distance so as to coincide with the place where the real city ends.

The mayor and aldermen are very frank about their motives. Under the present circumstances the city would have to pay half of the expense of a new bridge in case the proposed state bridge plan would go through. At least, an attempt has been made to saddle this on Holland, although the aldermen for the most part have declared that they would not stand more than one-third the expense at the most, the township and state to stand the other two-thirds.

But by moving the boundary line the city would get away from any bridge controversy either now or in the future. Some aldermen were of the opinion that this motive back of the action should not be made public but Mayor Stephan declared flatly that everybody might know about it. He said the proposal was reasonable and the city might as well come right out and say what it was after.

Hence the streets and crosswalks committee was instructed to make the necessary surveys and to propose a new boundary line. When this preliminary work has been done, the council will have to go before the board of supervisors with the proposition and will have to secure the consent of that body.

NORTH SIDE TO HAVE
GIVEN THE RESIDENTS
FIGURES

All residents on the North Side of the Bay have become interested in having their home lighted by electricity and at least 40 of them have been seen and have expressed their desire to have electric lights installed.

The Board of Public Works has given the North Side Boosters club figures as to what it would cost them to have lights and the necessary wiring along the highway installed and it is thought that the initial expense would be in the neighborhood of $75 each. The total expense of course will have to be borne by the property holders on the North Side who wish to have the benefits of these lights, because they live beyond the city limits and are not a part of this community when it comes to the boundary lines and tax paying. Of course the city is covering itself in this work and simply looks upon the project as a customer added to its list.

A meeting of the Boosters was held last evening with thirty present. Next Thursday the finishing touches will be put to the project and by then the North Siders will be reading their electric "glims."

DEATH OF STEKETEE

BRINGS REMINISCENCES

WAS ONE OF FIRST MASONS IN HOLLAND; BECAUSE OF THIS,
SAYS HE WAS OUTERIZED

Was a Resident of Macatawa Park
During Summer For Forty Years

There are few of the older residents of Holland, who do not remember George D. Steketee, brother of Bastian Steketee, local grocer, who passed away at his home in Grand Rapids at the age of 85, having been found dead in bed, after having retired in a happy mood and apparently in a healthy condition.

There are many things that Holland citizens know about Mr. Steketee. In the first place that he until within a very few years, never failed to come to Macatawa each year, spending four or five months at his cottage on the lake front.

For forty years Mr. Steketee never failed to make Macatawa his home in the summer time.

He first came with his camp tent when there were no cottages and later built himself a very modest cottage which he occupied until two years ago.

Mr. Steketee was a regular landmark to the resorters. Day in and day out he might be seen with his stubby little pole, sitting at the remote end of the dock, always in the same place, waiting for perch nibbles.

His constant fishing in the same place every day all these years, practically introduced him to all the resorters as thousands of them have seen him there these many years.

In the early days Mr. Steketee was identified with Holland, and was the father mason of the masonic order in this city.

His picture occupies the place of prominence at the Masonic lodge rooms in the Holland city state bank building.

Some forty-five years ago a regular upheaval for and against masonry took place.

Members of families were divided against themselves, congregations were split, and secession in churches took place.

These were trying times for the small group of masons in the city at that time, and it has always been the claim of the venerable George D. Steketee that the good pious, but misguided Holland citizens on that subject, forced him to leave the city, together with other men who since that time have become prominent.

When Mr. Steketee first came to Holland and worked at his trade for several years he was appointed collector of taxes in 1859 and 1860. Later he was appointed deputy revenue collector with headquarters in this city and was afterward elected alderman of the first ward. He was engaged with his brother, Paul, in the dry goods business for some time and returned to Grand Rapids in 1869 to conduct a drug business.

Until nearly 20 years ago he occupied the store on Monroe avenue, recently purchased by the Steketee Realty Co., leaving there to devote his time to the manufacture of the Steketee Family Remedies, because the business had grown to large proportions.

In 1881 he was elected mayor of Grand Rapids, the term then being for one year. His administration was particularly noted for his insistence on the enforcement of the "Blue Laws," which he ordered and carried out to the letter. For a time, everyone found on the streets on Sunday who was not either going to or coming from church was arrested.

On the first Sunday after the laws were ordered enforced, the jail became overcrowded, and it was necessary to requisition Luce hall, which stood on the site now occupied by the Herpolsheimer store, to take care of all of the prisoners.

Among the men arrested by Mayor Steketee, for violation of the "Blue Laws," were Rev. J. Morgan Smith, former pastor of Park Congregational church and Edwin F. Sweet, later mayor, and now assistant Secretary of Commerce.

Mr. Steketee during his administration, compelled the saloons to keep to the letter of the law, all violators having their licenses revoked immediately. Mr. Steketee was himself arrested at one time by Chief of Police James Moran, for an alleged violation of the liquor registration law, in connection with the drug store of which he was proprietor.

Mr. Steketee was a Fremont voter, having cast his first ballot in 1856. Throughout his life he remained a staunch republican. Previous to being elected mayor, he had served three terms as alderman from the 3rd ward. In 1884 he was presidential elector in the Claine campaign.
