HOLLAND CANNING CO. HAS GOOD YEAR

HAS PUT UP NEARLY MILLION AND HALF CANS OF

One of the most successful manufacturing institutions in Holland this year is the Holland Canning Company, an institution that means thousands of dollars to laboring men and to farmers living in the vicinity of Holland. Up to the present the Holland Canning Co. has this year put up 1,400,000 No 2 cans of fruit and vegetables. The sum of $25,674.16 has been paid out for labor and the sum of $55,445.23 has been paid out to farmers.

The canning season is still in full swing and many thousands of cans are still to be filled before the concern closes for the winter. Mr. C. L. Corey, the manager of the company, is making a success of the plant, and it is an asset to the city and to the surrounding communities.

EXCHANGEITES CAN HEAR MILELR AND FORMER GOVERNOR FERRIS

Tomorrow noon the Echance club of this city hold its regular luncheon at the Woman's Literary club rooms and the speaker of the day will be Floyd C. Miller, president of the State Organization of Exchange clubs.

It so happens that the Democrats of Holland rented the rooms for a speech at 1 o'clock, when former Gov. Ferris is to speak. The Exchange club meets at noon, however generally extends its deliberations until 1:30 o'clock. The local club will however be courteous and give way to Mr. Ferris at 1 o'clock and the local democrats have extended an invitation to the club asking members to remain and hear what Mr. Ferris, democratic candidate for U. S. Senator has to say. No doubt many will avail themselves of this opportunity.

PIONEER WOMAN OF ZEELAND 82 YEARS OLD, SUCCUMBS

Mrs. Govert Keppel, aged 82 years, one of Zeeland's pioneer residents, died Monday following an attack of apoplexy.

Mrs. Keppel was a faithful worker in the First Reformed church of which she was a charter member.

Magdalena M. De Pree was born June 29, 1840, at Axtel, province of Zeeland, Netherlands. She came to America with her parents in 1849 and has lived the rest of her life in that city. On June 25, 1865, she was married to Govert Keppel. The husband died in December, 1916.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Ted Moordyk and Margie Keppel of Zeeland, and Mrs. M. Duven of Vriesland; two sons, Dr. John and Thomas Keppel of Zeeland, four brothers, Rev. Jas. De Pree of Sioux Center, Ia., J. P., William and Henry all of Zeeland.

The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon from the First Reformed church at Zeeland and interment will be in Zeeland cemetery.

PETER PRINS WRITES OF MANY THRILLING TIMES IN THE NEAR EAST

"I sometimes wish I could forget most of the stuff which I have seen in the interior, but I am afraid that many of the scenes have been imprinted on my memory forever." The above is an extract from a letter received by Herman Prins from his brother Peter N. Prins, a Holland boy who has spent several months in the interior as a member of the Near East Relief expedition.

Prins further writes, "I am thankful I'm not nervous, and therefore I suppose I do not show the effects as much as almost all the others who came out. Most of the Americans who came out of the interior are almost nervous wrecks."

"I don't think the Turks will attempt to take Constantinople," continues Prins, "but if they do, they'll get all they have coming to them, and more for good measure."

Prins says he has no idea when he will be able to leave the place, but it will be just as soon as possible. He is anxious to get home, and his main ambition will be to take it easy for awhile to rest and build up.

BUSINESS MEN TO HOLD HARVEST SALE THIS WEEK

This week occurs the second annual harvest sale when the business men of Holland will put up the best lot of bargains ever given to a buying public.

Thirty merchants have looked over their shelves and have listed six leaders each at such a low rate that purchasers cannot fail to see bargains in each and every adv.

In the first place the committee in charge have printed 10,000 circulars containing these leaders and these circulars have been sent broadcast through the mail over a radius of 30 miles around Holland.

The circulars are now in your hands and the second annual harvest sale will be a fact on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, October 11, 12, and 13.

The merchants are not after profits in this sale, but rather has for its purpose the idea of demonstrating that Holland is actually an ideal center to trade in.

Anniversary of Burning of Holland's First Theatre!

Picture taken from in front of L. De Groot's barber shop. Next came the old City Hotel, later enlarged and changed to Hotel Holland. The wooden structure across Market street, now Central Ave., is the monument works of Dan Bertsch. A sign is noticeable advertising the fact that the Bell ringers are coming to Kenyon's Hall. Further down the street is the H. D. Post building. In the valley the old Hummel tannery is noticeable only small however. Coming back up Eighth on the corner is Kenyon's Hall. The balcony between the second and third floors where the band held sway, is plainly evident. Across the street is the Van der Veen hardware, a vacant lot east is the site of the billiard parlors. The Boot and Kramer store with a porch in front of it came next no doubt, the porch containing some ax handles, "stok vis", axel grease etc. on display. Kuite's meat market and Koningsburghs boarding house with saloon in the basement follows. The wide open space to the east is Mrs. Koningsburgh's garden. Next is Lumblatz saloon, following is the U. S. Postoffice with Wm. Verbeek postmaster. The last is Van der Haar's meat market, now Charters barber shop.

On the tenth of October, 1877 Holland witnessed its largest fire up to that time since the great fire of 1871, that swept away more than one-half of the city.

However 45 years ago, Tuesday, was the time when Holland's first theater was destroyed together with several other store buildings on the west side of River avenue. The Holland City News in its issue at that time describes this fire and publishes a picture of the bank and theater before it was razed by fire, and republishes excerpts from its files of 1877.

According to the News files of that date, it states as follows: "At just exactly 15 minutes before 12 o'clock on Tuesday night, Mr. John R. Kleyn (father of Simon Kleyn, supervisor and now on the Board of Public Works) gave the first alarm of 'fire! fire!' He immediately rushed to the engine house and struck the alarm which called on their feet every able body, man, woman and boy in the city." ("Note—The engine House was located on the northwest corner of Centennial park, contained a fire bell a hose cart drawn by men a council room upstairs a jail, to the east and the city cannon and house to the south. It was burned 36 years ago.") "Soon the street leading to the fire was filled with excited people calling 'fire, fire,' Kenyon Hall is on fire."

"The fire started in or near the northwest corner, dressing room off the stage in Kenyon's hall."

"The flames were quickly working their way thru the roof of the building and before water could be brot to bear on it, the whole inside of the building was one mass of flames, and the result was the entire three story structure was destroyed and with it the small bank building of Mr. Kenyon, owner of the theater which he had built immediately south of the main structure. Following the destruction of the large building, fire communicated to the drug store of Dr. Wm. Van Putten and the grocery store of G. Van Putten. (Note—The stores were afterward rebuilt and are now occupied by the Geerds Electric Co., the White Cross Barber shop and the Van Putten grocery. The ruins of the Kenyon Hall remained an eye-sore for years afterward, and part of the time the unsightly hole in the ground was covered from view by bil boards nearly as bad. This condition remained until the McBride-Beach blocks were erected.)

To come back to the Holland City News story:—"The excessive drought of the last few weeks rendered our fire wells entirely inadequate for the emergency and much valuable time was lost in shifting the hand engine from one well to another and finally Company No. 2 was compelled to go down th street as far as the Tannery Creek to take water and their hose was too short, and No. 1's had to shut down to lend hose to No. 2. Even then the drug store was almost saved, when the eager multitude pulled the coupling from one of the pieces of hose, delaying the water long enough to see Dr. Van Putten's beautiful drug store and immense stock of goods destroyed. The wind was southwest up to this time but when the fire raged the fiercest thru G. Van Putten's grocery store, the wind chopped around to the west, blew hard, and the sparks were blown by the millions over the densest part of town, and many feared that Holland would be compelled to celebrate the sixth anniversary of her big fire, by one fully as large and destructive. The close proximity of the buildings destroyed, to one another, made it extremely difficult to stop the spread but by stubborn fighting with intense heat and dense smoke, the flames were baffled from eating into the restaurant of George Barner (we wonder if the editor of the News at that time saw a pun in the above sentence) after that the fire was under control.

"Tremendous and in many instances solitary efforts were noticed to prevent the fire spreading further down River avenue. Noteworthy among these will mention George Williams, and Peter Pfanstiehl, without whose stubborn and isolated fight Mr. Orts' law office and M. P. Visser's grocery store and so on down the whole street would have been burned. (Note—The Mr. Williams mentioned was the late veteran hotel man who with Mr. Boone conducted the City Hotel erected in 1872, and changed its name to Hotel Holland during the late Mrs. M. A. Ryder's regime when N. J. Whelan was manager. Peter Pfanstiehl, was the father and pioneer of all steam boating in Holland."

To go on with the News story. "Inexcusable indifference and lethargy was exhibited by a great many on-lookers whose names the marshal will not soon forget. The hook and ladder company we must not forget. They did valiant work under the leadership of our contemporary Leendert Mulder of De Grondwet. (Note—The writer remembers well this Star hook and ladder company and also the uniform of his "dad." It consisted of a heavy trumpet for the purpose of calling order to the men; a broad-rimmed helmet weighing about five pounds and made entirely of hard rubber; a bright red woolen shirt with large blue stars in the front; a patent leather belt with well pronounced buckles; a blue coat with long tails, and brass buttons; trousers with a stripe along the sides. To think that the boys had first to run home and prim up in these outfits no doubt curtailed a great deal of their efficiency by the time the fire house was reached. After that the pulling out of the hook and ladder truck was begun. No horses were available, but the men got hold of a long rope attached and dragged it to the fire in this way."

To go ahead with the News story:—"Dr. Van Putten is a heavy loser in spite of his insurance of $2,000. G. Van Putten's stock was mostly saved and he carried $3,000 insurance. Mr. Kenyon is reported to have lost heavily but has $7,000 insurance on the property. Attorneys Arend Visscher and James Ten Eyck also feel their loss keenly as between them, these young attorneys' loss was about $400. L. T. Kanters & Co. are the losers by a great deal of merchandise and the Reformed club lose their beautiful club rooms."

The News follows its article by a long editorial advocating better fire protection and even goes as far as to advise a "steamer" drawn by horses. It was many years before a real fire department with the proper equipment was installed. What we have now is simply the result of seed sown thru constant publicity and the following out of many suggestions by enterprising men who saw these needs in the proper light.

Note—Kenyon's Hall was a three story building with an opera house on the second and third floors. Before each show the band generally played on the balcony in front in order to attract the crowds to and possibly inside the building. Shows that held sway in those days were "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Ten Nights a Bar-room," "The Bell Ringers," a musical affair with bells and glass tumblers. All home talent productions and dances were held in this opera house. It was the mecca for political meetings which were more spirited in those days than they are today. A city without its drilled and uniformed torch light bearing men, wasn't much of a town and Kenyon's hall considered Holland's first opera house, was the scene of many a political battle both in and outside of the place of meeting. Because of the above historic item the News omits its column of "What You saw in this paper 50 year to 10 years ago." that has proven so interesting and has brought a great demand for back copies This column will be resumed in next week's issue.

BEE TOO MUCH FOR THE CHILDREN

County Farm Agent Gregg has moved into his new home at Allegan from Fennville. In the automobile which brought himself and family across country he stored two hives of bees. Unfortunately the hives became opened and the bees and children mixed. What began as a happy holiday became a fearful pilgrimage. With the uncanny skill of a bee master, Mr. Gregg coaxed the stinging insects into their hive again, but those children are now thoroughly informed as to which is the hot end of a bee.

HOLLAND MAN, GONE FROM HOME, FINALLY FOUND AT FENNVILLE

Drenched from a all night walk through a downpour of rain and almost exhausted from lack of food, Rekil VanTil, 35, of this city, whose mysterious disappearance last week caused his relatives great anxiety, was picked up by Fennville authorities Sunday morning when he entered that village.

Van Til had been employed on the steamer Aliber, fruit carrier between Saugatuck and Holland, but last Wednesday mysteriously disappeared. His wife declared that he had been under a nervous strain and she held fears that he had been drowned in the Kalamazoo river. When he failed to return home, Mrs. Van Til asked police to aid in the search and Chief Van Ry notified all the authorities in this section of the state. His apprehension Sunday morning resulted.

Van Til is reported as rapidly recovering his memory and is apparently reaching a normal state of mind once more.

FOUND—Spotted hound; owner may have same by describing and proving ownership. John Taylor, Hamilton, Michigan.

The Kalamazoo citizen whose plow was stolen last Thursday night maintains that some one has a very crude idea of how to cultivate an acquaintance

The cotton sticking according to an Allegan merchant, has almost entirely disappeared. For that matter, with the lengthening of skirts, a part of the silk stocking has, too.

A peculiar state of affairs was brought to light in the discussion over the city team at the council meeting. It is always difficult to sell horses at this season. This year it is particularly so. A computation as to the cost of keeping the horses thru the winter showed that it might be more economical to shoot them or give them away. An effort will be made to sell the team to the best advantage, but probably only a small sum will be realized.—Allegan Gazette.

FOR SALE—Two cows, cheap at the Osborne Farm. Peter Baumaan, R. R. 11, Holland.

CLUB SPENDS $1800 TO PUT BUILDING IN GOOD SHAPE

That war conditions are passing out and that normalcy is returning is shown by the way in which public buildings are being brought back to the state of repair that is necessary for their preservation. During the war and during the years immediately following many things were neglected, but now repairs are being made in many buildings. The city hall, for one, is just now being put back into good condition, and important improvements have also just been completed in the Woman's Literary Club House. The entire club house has been redecorated, the roof has been completely repaired and changes have been made inside the building, two new furnaces have been installed in the basement, one of them the gift of Mr. A. H. Landwehr, and in all something like $1800 has been expended to put the building into perfect shape for the important work that this club is performing in Holland.

This club house is the center of a very important service in the city. One of the club's activities is directed through the educational fund, in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. J. C. Post by means of which fund a number of girls are being helped to gain an education. In the near future a benefit play will be given, half of the proceeds to be devoted to the hospital and half to this fund.

Civic health is another important work of the club. The committee in charge of this is headed by Mrs. A. Leenhouts and it is paying each year for many children's operations in dentistry, removal of tonsils and adenoids, having glasses fitted, etc. The committee each year conducts the seal sale and has other methods of collecting money for this work. The hospital committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frances Browning is constantly purchasing supplies for the hospital and in other ways helping this institution and through it the community. The committee and the whole club will back the hospital bond issue at the November election.

A new committee has been created called the girls' work committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. C. Kools. This committee will work with girls of the Junior high school every Saturday. The citizenship committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. H. Den Herder, is also doing important work for the community. There are many other committees, but these mentioned here touch the public directly and show how the club is functioning for the betterment of the community.

ISSUES FIFTH IN SERIES OF CATECHETICAL BOOKS

Dr. J. E. Kuizenga has issued the fifth in a series of catechetical books under the title, "Studies in the History of Israel and Judah". The book, in the book treat the period extending from Jeroboam to Malachi. The book is intended for juniors of ages eleven to thirteen. The book is divided into five parts. History of Israel; II History of Judah; III The Days of the Captivity in Babylon; IV The Times of the Restoration to Judah and Jerusalem; V The Period Between the Testaments. In addition there are a number of supplementary lessons on the Bible with charts that enable the scholar to grasp a number of Bible dates readily. These lessons give much useful information about the Bible and its contents. The book contains thirty lessons besides these supplementary lessons which may be used separately or in connection with the regular lessons.

GROWS APPLES THAT ARE ALMOST LIKE SMALL PUMPKINS

W. Van Appledorn has grown some apples on his farm near Holland that are believed to break all records for size. Mr. Van Appledorn brought two apples to Holland Thursday that might almost literally be compared to small pumpkins. One of them weighed 26 ounces, was 15 and a half inches in circumference and five inches in diameter. It is estimated that 33 of these apples would fill a bushel. The other apple was 20½ ounces in weight, 14 inches in circumference and 4½ inches in diameter. Three apples grown on the Van Appledorn farm weighed more than four pounds. The apples were Kings and the largest ever grown by Mr. Van Appledorn and probably the largest ever grown anywhere in this community.

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. S. Habing, 244 W. 12th St. The program was arranged by Mrs. J. C. Post who had charge of the devotions and Mrs. P. H. Doan, the music.

Rev. G. B. Fleming gave an instructive and interesting talk on "Candidates and Measures to Be Elected or Rejected at the November Election." Mrs. J. C. Post spoke in an impressive manner of the need of a new hospital and urged all members to do their part in making it possible.

The following program was enjoyed: reading, Miss Esther Brink; violin and piano duet, Misses Natilie Reed and Ruth Pelgrim; reading, Miss Maxine Duer. Tea was served by Mesdames Ihrman, Baker, Mills, Tuttle.

The next meeting will be the annual reception to the teachers of Holland at the Hope Church parlors.

Mrs. Martin Kellar, residing on Ottawa avenue, Zeeland, submitted to an operation at Holland hospital last Friday morning.

The Ladies Guild of Grace church will give a farewell dinner in the Guild hall Saturday evening at six o'clock for the rector and his family. All members of the church are cordially invited.

HARVEST OF SUGAR BEETS TO BEGIN NEXT MONDAY

General Manager C. M. McLean of the Holland-St. Louis Sugar Co. announced today that the harvesting of sugar beets for the 1922 campaign will begin next Monday on the farms throughout Michigan and Indiana that furnish beets to the three factories of this company. During the past few days tests have been made at the local plant of sample beets brought in for that purpose from the farms and these tests are showing improvements day by day in the sugar content of the beets. This proves that the beets are rapidly ripening and will be ready for the harvest in a very short time.

The three factories will allow several days for accumulation of a large enough supply of beets to ensure continuous slicing and then will begin transforming the beets into sugar. In Holland the factory will probably begin its campaign of sugar making the latter part of next week.

The sugar test is so satisfactory that a very good manufacturing season is anticipated. Weather conditions have been quite favorable and a good harvest of beets is expected. Not only are beets being grown on the farms in the vicinity of Holland in Ottawa and Allegan counties, but beets are being grown for the local factory over a wide area in Michigan. There are beet farms as far north as Charlevoix and others in the southern section of the state that ship their product to the plant in Holland.

KADEY EVANGELISTIC PARTY COMING TODAY

The Kadey Evangelistic party will arrive today and will open their series of gospel meetings at the Wesleyan Methodist church tomorrow with services at 10:30 A. M. and 3 P. M. and 7:30 in the evening.

There is a pleasing interdenominational spirit in the Kadey meetings that make Bible lovers of all denominations feel at home. The Evangelist offers no apology for the inspired word of God. He takes the attitude that God has spoken—that he "said what he meant and meant what he said."

Mr. Smits who will have charge of the music is a member of one of the large Reformed churches in Grand Rapids and is well known in and around Grand Rapids as a very talented and capable man. He also has many friends in Holland.

Evangelist P. H. Kadey

ent and capable man. He also has many friends in Holland.

M. H. Kingsbury, pastor of the local church, has been busy preparing for the meetings and feels that he has secured a party that Bible lovers of Holland, regardless of their denomination, will appreciate. More than that he feels Mr. Kadey has a message for every man, woman or child who has not confessed faith in Jesus Christ. He joins with his church in extending a cordial invitation to all to attend this series of meetings which will continue nightly except Mondays.

ZEELAND HIGH SCHOOL PUPLS MUST TOE CHALK MARK

It has been quite a question with the Zeeland school authorities and parents everywhere to curb or regulate the pleasures of school pupils in order that they may receive the proper amount of rest. It has been found necessary to make certain regulations for the control of class parties in the school. These regulations are published in order that parents may be acquainted with what is expected of high school students. Each class will be allowed two parties each semester.

Parties may be held only on the evening of the last day of the school week.

No party may be held without the permission of the superintendent.

A deposit of two dollars ($2) will be required for janitor service before permission will be given to use the kindergarten room for parties.

Parties must disband no later than 10:30 p. m.

Parties must be under the supervision and chaperonage of the high school faculty.

Conduct at parties will be under discipline by members of the faculty as in regular sessions of the school.

Boisterousness, interference with the progress of the party by students or general misconduct will not be tolerated.

Violations of these regulations by members of any class of the high school will mean that the right to a party is forfeited and that students will also be subjected to discipline of the school authorities.

SAUGATUCK EDITOR CLAIMS RECORD FOR BANK THERE

The Saugatuck Commercial-Record in this week's issue prints in four parallel columns the financial standings of the ten state banks and one national bank in Allegan county to illustrate the fact that the Saugatuck bank is one of the largest financial institutions, in proportion to the population of the village, in Allegan county and perhaps in Michigan. In each case the population of the town in which the bank is located is given, the capital, and surplus of the bank, the total deposits, and the total resources. The population of Saugatuck is given as 526, the capital and surplus of the Fruit Growers State Bank is $125,000, the total deposits $1,043,390, and the total resources $1,274,092. After giving the figures for the other banks of Allegan county, the Commercial-Record adds:

"Most people hereabouts have known in a general way that Saugatuck has a pretty big bank for the size of the town, but it is probable few realize just how big an institution it really is, as will be apparent from a study and comparison of the official figures printed above.

"For example, Otsego has six times the population of Saugatuck. It has gigantic manufacturing plants with huge pay rolls, and is a fair representative of the type of prosperous little manufacturing city located in a rich agricultural district. It has two banks but their combined deposits are but a trifle more than half those of the Fruit Growers State Bank of Saugatuck, while the total resources bear approximately the same ratio.

"Allegan, with seven times our population, is the home of hundreds of wealthy retired farmers and business men. It also has considerable manufacturing interests, and being the county seat it is, of course, the financial, political and business hub of the county. It has one national and two state banks, all old and prosperous institutions. The Saugatuck bank exceeds the largest of these (its nearest competitor) by about 50 per cent in both deposits and total resources. The capital of the Fruit Growers State Bank is $100,000—double that of any other bank in the county—and its surplus and undivided profits amount to $36,679.30.

"If there is in Michigan or elsewhere in the United States another town the size of Saugatuck having so large a financial institution, the Commercial Record wants to print its story."

President E. D. Dimment of Hope college returned to Holland Saturday morning after an extended trip through the eastern states in the interests of the institution. Dr. Dimment filed many engagements on the way. He addressed the Classis at Pasaic, N. J., and also a ministerial conference.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC GIVES A FINE PROGRAM

Friday night's Faculty Recital of the College School of Music proved one of the finest musical functions ever held in connection with Hope College. Mr. Oscar C. Cress head of the piano department, exhibited considerable virtuosity in his musicianly rendering of Schumann's great masterpiece, "Carnival Op. 9. He kept the audience in rapt attention from the "Preamble" to the "Marche des Davidsouender," and gave just the right touches that served to evaluate and discriminate the details of this wonderful musical mosaic. He brought the concert to a fitting climax with his tour de force, the "Danse des Elfes" by Sapellnikoff.

Mrs. W. J. Fenton, head of the department of voice and singing, proved again that she sings as well and wonderfully as she teaches. In spite of a cold, she sang her group of songs with an artistic effect that elicited prolonged applause.

Miss Ethelyn Metz of the Hope College School of Expression, was happy as usual. She gave a most artistic rendering of Roy Ralph Gilson's "The Absent Guest." It proved a rare bit of the comedy humane. Miss Metz's voice of wide range skillfully reproduced the conversation between Mr. Joggles and little Margie, and by a skillful play of atmosphere made her audience conscious of the presence of "The Absent Guest," Aunt Margaret. The reader proved that even wit and humour may be classical.

Miss Henrietta Warnhuis played the accompaniment for Mrs. Fenton's numbers in a most sympathetic manner.

It is difficult to estimate how much the College School of Music, during its twenty years of functioning, has achieved in cultivating the taste of town and grown for the better music. Considering its size is there a more music-loving city in the state than Holland?

Your stomach not your heart is the seat of your emotions, and it is this organ which cuts capers when you are startled or greatly moved.

This is the theory of Dr. A. E. Barclay, X-ray specialist of the Manchester Royal Infirmary of England, who has just completed a series of interesting tests. Contrary to general belief the stomach can alter its size and shape, and it really is one of the most sensitive and flexible muscles in the human body, according to Dr. Barclay.

The stomach of a woman who was startled by the slam of a door dropped three inches, according to Dr. Barclay's X-ray tests, which exaggerated the heart of emotionalism. Next day when the patient was less apprehensive the stomach was quite normal. Similar cases were noted. Conversely pleasant things tended to contraction of the stomach. Quite a definite reaction was noted by the simple mention of half a pint of beer.

COMMUNITY FAIR SHOULD PUT ON AN EX-HIBIT OF ANTIQUES

The following item from the Allegan Gazette indicates that at the Allegan fair there was quite an exhibition of antiques that caused a great deal of interest at the exhibition.

"A very interesting display of antiques contain much puzzling to the younger generations, specially a device for cupping or bleeding the sick—a task once performed by barbers who today do fairly well in that line with a razor and fee asked. An old Paisley shawl, a silk shawl 70 years old, a Seth Thomas clock owned by Mrs. Baker of Manlius and descended from the first settler in that town, some very fine old china, powder horns, candle moulds, a small covered iron kettle or bean pot, etc., all attracted much attention."

The writer remembers that at one of the first fairs Holland ever staged a log cabin was built and was filled with antiques harking back to old settler days.

The building was in charge of the oldest settlers remaining who lived at that time.

All have since passed away but no doubt a great many of antiques of yesteryear could again be resurrected and a great many more added for that matter.

There were old fashioned candlesticks, coffee urns, clocks, lamps, pots and kettles in abundance, and the old log cabin on the fair grounds at that time was a mecca of souvenir seekers not alone, but no one failed to take in the old curiosity shop.

BIGGEST NUT CROP OF 10 YEARS ON TREES IN STATE

Southwestern Michigan is facing its greatest nut harvest in ten years, according to reports from farmers and hickory nuts especially will be plentiful. There are also hazelnuts in abundance. Trees that line the highways in all directions are loaded with nuts and thousands of bushels already have fallen to the ground. The nutting season however, will not be in full swing until after the first hard frost.

A new variety of peach was discovered this season on the Gibson farm near Douglas, which may prove of great value to Michigan canners. Wm McEwing, vice president of the Michigan Canners' association, is testing the fruit at his factory. The peach is of a clingstone variety. It is said to be of the type the canners have been seeking for years. The fruit is larger than an Elberta, of rich flavor and fine quality. The tree came in a shipment of Elberta trees and according to pomologists who have been studying its bearing characteristics, it is another freak variety like the South Haven and Marquette peaches.

While returning home from attending church services Sunday, Richard Nykamp and some members of his family figured in an automobile accident but no one was seriously injured. While driving south on State street road they met another car while descending Boonstra's hill about two miles out of Zeeland, their car struck some loose gravel which caused it to leave the road. The car rolled over twice before it came to rest. Mr. Nykamp and a son were considerably bruised while the girl received a broken collar-bone.—Zeeland Record.

Grand Haven beat Zeeland at Zeeland Thursday by a score of 8 to 1. Poppen and Riemersma of Holland constituted the battery for Zeeland. Poppen struck out 11 men, and Grand Haven scored but five hits. William Van Werp 30 Peck-st., at Muskegon, will remember henceforth that interurban cars are long and that it is dangerous for motorists to approach too near them when the cars are rounding a corner. As he was driving his auto on Scribner-st. near the Bridge-st. corner Thursday afternoon one of the interurban cars went around the corner and pinned his automobile to the curb ripping up a fender and knocked two of his front wheels off.—G. The first baby clinic held during this school year was held at Fennville at the Model shop Friday. There were 49 babies treated under the direction of the county nurse, Miss Lena M. Laude, assisted by the following physicians: Dr. E. E. Brunson and Dr. E. T. Brunson of Ganges and Mrs. Walker and House of Saugatuck. The number of babies treated shows that the people of this vicinity are quick to make use of the opportunity offered by Miss Laude.

The ladies of Grace church gave a dinner in the Guild Hall Saturday evening, in honor of the retiring rector and his family. After the dinner the Rev. Mr. Tate made a brief address thanking the ladies on behalf of himself and family for courtesy. He also assured the members present that he was grateful to them for the many expressions of good will and substantial evidences of their kindness to himself and family during their stay in Holland. Mr. A. B. Ayers was called to the chair and Mrs. J. M. Mc Clay offered resolutions which were seconded by Mr. W. A. Van Syckle and unanimously adopted by the members present by a rising vote. The resolutions read as follows:

"Inasmuch as our Rector, the Rev. M. L. Tate, has resigned as pastor of our church, we, the members of Grace Parish, feel that we cannot allow him to leave us without expressing our regret at his departure from amongst us and our best wishes for his future in the larger field to which he has been called. Whilst here his kindly disposition has endeared him to us and we will remember with much pleasure the beautiful and helpful sermons he has preached whilst with us.

"To his wife and family we also extend our regret at their departure and our very best wishes for the future and pray that every blessing will be with them in their new home in Memphis, Tenn."

On a dirty, sloppy field the Hope College and Junior College eleven battled in the mire Saturday, Hope succumbing to the impetus of the Junior attack, 6 to 0.

Hope attempted a few forward passes and some end runs, but resorted to straight plunging. According to size and weight the two teams were evenly matched. The Hope eleven, which is composed largely of former Holland high stars, was brimful of fight and always eager for the conflict.

Neither team gained much territory on account of the muddy field, the ball staying near the middle of the field the greater part of the time. During the first half neither team was able to get within any distance of its opponent's goal.

The second half told a different tale. Junior made the first down time after time and finally Jones of Junior carried the ball across Hope's goal line for the only touchdown of the game. The last quarter was the most interesting one of the entire game. Both teams were in a fighting mood and worked hard to score.

MAKE REQUEST FOR PUBLICATION OF HOSPITAL RULES

Because of the general interest in the new hospital project and because there is a great deal of public discussion in regard to the hospital's rules and regulations just now, it has been requested that the hospital rules may be published, which request is herewith complied with. These rules are operative in the present hospital, but they would not necessarily be the same in the new hospital, although many of them will probably be adopted for that institution if it is built. As pointed out before, the present quarters are so cramped that it is not always possible to conduct the hospital exactly as would be done in a building with ample room and equipment. But whatever rules may be adopted for the new institution, the following are in operation now:

1. A Consulting Staff of four members shall be appointed by the Hospital Board to serve for a term of two years each, but at the time of the first appointment, two shall be appointed for the term of one year and two for the term of two years. One of the members shall be selected by the staff to serve as chief of staff for one year.

2. A complete case history of each case entering the hospital must be taken within twenty-four hours of entrance. These histories must conform to the requirements demanded by hospitals of the first class. The responsibility for the history must rest upon the attending physician.

3. Cases for major operations, except bona fide emergency cases must be in the hospital at least twelve hours before operation. Each case must be subjected to such study as shall make reasonably certain the need for operation, and in all cases before operation is undertaken, a complete history of the patient and the condition for which admittance to the hospital has ensued shall be written upon the blanks furnished for that purpose.

Before any major operation is performed there must be consultation with one of the members of the consulting staff. The consultant must make note upon the chart, the diagnosis and recommendation for or against operative treatment.

4. If, in the judgment of the superintendent, the gravity of any case is such as to require additional advice, she may ask the attending physician to call in consultation a member of the consulting staff.

5. No manipulation of any character shall be undertaken upon the pregnant uterus, except the pregnancy be at term, without the advice and consent of two members of the consulting staff.

Currentment in unmarried women shall not be performed without consultation.

In suspended animation of the new unborn child, every scientific means for its revival shall be exhausted through prolonged effort.

6. Physicians and surgeons bringing patients to the hospital shall give such patients immediate, continuous and proper care.

7. Non-resident physicians and surgeons of good repute and accredited skill may have the privileges of the hospital by consent of the superintendent, on recommendation of the chief of staff, governed by the same rules that apply to residents.

The hospital board may appoint certain non-resident physicians and surgeons as members of a visiting staff, and such appointees will be considered as consultants when called to cases with the family or attending physician.

8. Breaches of the foregoing rules shall be called to the attention of the consulting staff by the superintendent. Failure to comply with the rules after a second notification shall subject the offender to six months suspension by the staff from all privileges of the hospital.

9. No patient, except in an emergency case, shall be given a general anesthetic without first having had a urinalysis and physical examination of chest and heart.

10. No general anesthetic shall be administered by any other person than a licensed physician.

The Boy Scouts of Troop 8 of St. Francis de Sales Church, took an overnight hike Friday evening. Immediately after school they met at the church and were conveyed by truck to the corner of the Alpena road and Ottawa Beach road. From there they had to find the location of the camp by signs that had been placed on the route by Scoutmaster F. R. Deto.

Arriving at the camp, which was located at Baker and Boone's Picnic grounds, preparations were made for the night. Each scout had to prepare his own meal, so fires were soon under way.

A camp fire was arranged for the evening and two carloads of visitors arrived to enjoy the session with the boys. The down pour of rain sent the boys to their tents and the visitors home.

Despite the rain all kept dry and spent a comfortable night. In the morning, after breakfast, although it continued to rain, scout activities were kept up until noon. After dinner they broke camp and returned to town, as happy a lot as one could find, all anxious for the next hike. Scoutmaster Deto arranged the camp. Father Nye and Scribe Jas McCarthy were in charge of the boys. Troop eight is the youngest troop in the city, having been organized only since last June, but all its members are enthusiastic scouts, and many plans are being made for this winter's activities.

Mrs. Martin Kellar, residing on Ottawa avenue, Zeeland, submitted to an operation at Holland hospital.

VAN PUTTEN GROCERY STORE IS SOLD

The Van Putten Grocery store on River avenue has changed hands, and after this it will be conducted by John Olet who has purchased it and will be in sole charge of it after this. Mr. Olet has been employed in the store for some years and he has established a wide business acquaintance.

The Van Putten sisters will continue to conduct the dry goods department of the store, but it will be a business entirely separate from the grocery department. The opening between the two stores will be closed, and each department will be a store in itself after this conducted by different owners.

TO ERECT MONUMENT IN HONOR OF 25TH MICHIGAN REGIMENT

The 25th Regiment, Michigan Inf., G. A. R. held its 31st annual reunion last week, at Kalamazoo, the city, then village, where the regiment was organized, held its rendezvous, was mustered into the U. S. service, and from where it went to the front near 1,000 strong. Of the surviving members of this regiment 25 were present. Company I, which was largely composed of the boys from Holland and the immediate vicinity, was represented by two, G. Van Schelven of this city, and John Abrahams of Kalamazoo.

The one feature of this reunion, which characterizes it of more than of passing importance, was the launching of a movement to erect a monument, commemorating the organization of the regiment 60 years ago, to be erected by the surviving members and relatives and friends of their departed comrades, on the site of the old fair grounds (made famous in the '50s by Flora Temple) where the regiment was encamped and from where it made its initial march, Sept. 9, 1862. A subscription list was opened and over $600 was pledged on the spot. Mrs. Jessie Moore Loveridge, Coldwater, daughter of Col. O. H. Moore, and Frank W. Orcutt, assistant postmaster of Kalamazoo and son of Lt.-Col. Benj. F. Orcutt of the regiment heading the list.

The monument will be of stone. On it will be placed a bronze tablet inscribed with the history of the regiment.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Jessie Loveridge, president of the regimental association; D. O. Coleman of Oshtemo, J. D. Clements, a brother of Charles Clements of Co. O., and Frank B. Orcutt, son of the late Lieut.-Col. B. F. Orcutt, was appointed to purchase the monument and tablet. The committee on the following morning selected the site for the monument. This will be on Eggleston avenue, close to the spot where regimental headquarters were located during the organization of the Twenty-fifth.

It is proposed to carry out the work in time for unveiling the monument at the annual reunion in 1923. The old fair grounds is now a thickly populated residential district. A nucleus of necessary funds for its purchase and erection is already in the regimental treasury, and the balance will be raised by subscription.

HOLLAND COAL DEALERS WILL NO DOUBT BE LICENSED

The Holland coal dealers, together with every coal dealer in the state of Michigan, will no doubt have to take out a license in order to continue in business, if the bill proposed by Governor Groesbeck is enacted into a law.

Through the license system the state of Michigan will have a weapon with which it will be able to eliminate profiteering in coal and if necessary drive dishonest coal dealers out of business is the contention of Gov. Groesbeck, should the bill pass Tuesday.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank King. The work of the year just closed was reviewed, showing all departments had worked faithfully and well. The prospectus for the new year was given, showing that the stress was to be laid upon the work for children on the foreign fields. The text book for study will be "Building with India," by Daniel Johnson Fleming. The officers elected for the year are: President, Mrs. H. W. Smith; first vice president, Mrs. Harry Harrington; second vice-president, Mrs. G. B. Fleming; Secretary, Mrs. O. R. Rensch; and treasurer, Mrs. B. F. Harris. Mrs. Willis and Mrs. Rensch were chosen as delegates to the W. F. M. S. district convention to be held at Muskegon on November 7 and 8.

The presence of Mrs. Charles Smith of Colorado, known to Holland people as Miss Harriet Hansen, came as a pleasant surprise to all. Mrs. Smith sang beautifully two sacred selections, playing her own accompaniment. During the tea hour reminiscences were exchanged recalling former good times in which Harriet Hansen had participated.

The Ladies Guild of Grace church will give a farewell dinner in the Guild hall Saturday evening at six o'clock for the rector and his family. All members of the church are cordially invited.

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Doan 41 East 10th street, Miss Dorothy Doan was united in marriage to Mr. Richard J. Blocker. Miss Doan is a graduate of Holland High school, receiving her diploma in 1918, and she has attended Hope College. She has been employed as stenographer at the Holland Furnace Co. Mr. Blocker graduated from Hope College in 1922 and he is now attending the Western Theological Seminary.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. P. Dame in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends. The bride wore a gown which is the family wedding gown, having been worn by other members of the family on similar occasions. She wore a pearl pendant that had been worn by her grandmother at her marriage forty years ago.

The gross temperature for the year 1922 is 355 degrees above normal so far. This is a total compiled from all the temperatures taken and is quite a showing. No very hot days have been recorded this year such as have been recorded in past seasons in spite of the high general mark. The total for September alone was 53 degrees above the normal. These figures were released at the U. S. Weather Bureau here this morning.

Precipitation for September was above normal according to the figures given out. Normal rainfall for the month is 3.17 inches. It rained last month to the amount of 4.66 inches which represented an increase over the normal rainfall of 1.49 inches.

The wonderful weather which has been in order here of late has been appreciated by everyone and those resorters who were not compelled to leave, have many of them stayed. In fact some of the weather in the past few weeks was better than that in summer. There was little wind, hard any rain, temperate weather, all ago.

GUESTS OF HOLLAND CAMP, NO. 38, SPANISH WAR VETERANS

MANY ILLUSTRIOUS GUESTS AT GATHERING IN G. A. R. HALL

Commander G. Van Schelven Ably Acts As Toastmaster for the Occasion

Nearly 200 guests from home and abroad came to participate in the banquet given in G. A. R. hall as guests of the Holland Camp, No. 38, United Spanish War Veterans.

Eugene F. Gourdeau, commander placed the guests at the table in honor of their rank and one of the most pleasing democratic evenings was spent at the local G. A. R. hall.

Honorable G. Van Schelven, commander of A. C. Van Raalte Post, G. A. R., was toastmaster of the evening and called upon Comrade Peter Gunst to invoke the blessing.

When "Van" opened the program he was in a reminiscent mood, telling of his war experiences, and of a reunion of his regiment held at Kalamazoo when it was found that only 35 remained of that splendid organization, that left Western Michigan in '61.

Mr. Van Schelven stated that the Spanish War Veterans must carry on where the G. A. R. leave off, that the World War Veterans must take up the work later where the Spanish War Veterans leave it, for as time goes on, the old G. A. R. will have departed and other organizations must be the standard bearers.

Mr. Van Schelven then called upon General W. T. McGurran, commander of the Soldiers' Home at Grand Rapids, who told of his regiment in the Spanish American war and the splendid company of boys in blue, spending their last days at the Soldiers' Home.

Next William J. Emery, state department commander was introduced who stated that better cooperation should exist between veterans of all wars, for he stated that legislation was pending both in the state and in the nation which vitally concerned the destiny of all soldiers who had fought for the flag.

Mr. Heeringa of Holland, an old soldier of 82 years gave a resume of his soldier life and stated that he had been a soldier for three years, and went voluntarily when Father Lincoln called for 300,000 more. He stated that the American soldiers had never carried on selfish warfare. The Civil War soldiers emancipated the slaves who are now free men. Spanish American war veterans freed the suffering Cubans and the Philippines. World War Veterans attempted to bring democracy to war-ridden Europe.

The next speaker introduced was Raymond Visscher, commander of local American Legion, who stated that when he was a lad and saw the G. A. R. march on Decoration day they were his heroes, and when as a boy in high school he saw the Spanish War soldiers march away he felt that they were real men. He stated that while he did not go across during the World War, the greatest moment of his life was when he was privileged to wear the American soldiers' uniform. He stated that these different military organizations could be a force for good in this country with proper co-operation.

Past Commander Geerds of the American Legion told of his experiences in Newaygo county where he lived. He told about when the soldiers returned how they breathed the spirit of unity and liberty in the community and thriving towns and cities were built where he was born. He told of how Holland had sent 300 men to the front not as a company, but as individuals. He stated that he had set his heart upon the fact that Holland should be represented by a company if ever a future war was foisted upon the people. For that reason Company D of the National Guards was organized and was soon promoted into the Infantry and a machine gun company at that.

Mr. Geerds stated that in unity there is strength and if the American soldier sets out to do something it will be done.

Mr. B. A. Mulder was asked to talk for the local press. He stated that a patriotic press did wonderful work during the recent war. That because of this duty well done a great many things were accomplished that lack of publicity would have retarded. However this was the duty of the press as much as it was the duty of a soldier to go to the front. He stated that Holland Spanish War veterans were taking up the work of the G. A. R. now that the boys in blue were nearly ready to step aside, too feeble to carry on any longer. He stated that no doubt in Holland the World War veterans would follow up these duties later after the Spanish war veterans were ready to lay down this work. He said he hoped that this same spirit of co-operation would soon prevail in every city and town throughout the land.

William K. Hiler, commander of a Grand Rapids camp and who left Holland as a soldier to fight the Spanish in Cuba stated that some folks were inclined to belittle the Spanish American war, stating that it didn't amount to much. Mr. Hiler pointed out that it was the only war made up entirely of volunteer soldiers and while the war was of short duration, the boys went willingly without draft, and many a soldier was left to die on Cuban soil and anywhere and everywhere when ordered to do so.

Commander Huizenga of Grand Haven thanked the local veterans for their wonderful spread and entertainment and invited all present to visit Grand Haven when they would try to reciprocate.

Eugene F. Gourdeau, Commander of the Holland Camp told of the growth of the local organization and he stated that an endeavor is being made to reach 100 per cent, and as far as he knew there was only one veteran left out of the organization and the whole membership would corral him if it was necessary. The banquet then broke up after singing one verse of America and with a rising vote of thanks to the ladies who had given such a wonderful repast, the hosts and guests wended their way homeward.

HOLLAND BOY IS RIGHT IN MIDST OF NEAR EAST ROW COMMUNITY MONUMENT ON THE ZEELAND ROAD IS DEDICATED

The stone near the Zeeland road on the Country Club property, erected some years ago in commemoration of the founding of Zeeland, was formally dedicated as a part of the Zeeland celebration on Thursday. The stone, familiar to all persons who ever pass along that road, was placed there eight years ago by the late Henry DeKruif of Zeeland. He erected it in honor of his grandfather, Jannes Van de Luyster, who was also the grandfather of Dr. A. Leenhouts, of this city. Mr. De Kruif planned to place an appropriate inscription in the huge field stone, but his illness and death interfered with that such an inscription should be placed on the stone, and this wish has now been carried out by his widow.

The spot marked by the stone is the site where the first community house was built when the Zeeland colony arrived in this community. The house, known as "Het Waterhuisje," was erected by Mr. Van de Luyster, and it was there that the company spent a few days. Later it was used as a supply house for a long time.

The inscription on a bronze plate on the stone reads as follows: "In memory of Jannes Van de Luyster and the early settlers of Zeeland, Vriesland, and Drenthe, 1847-1922." On the plate is also a sketch of "Het Waterhuisje."

Dr. A. Leenhouts was chairman of the dedication exercises and he introduced as the principle speaker C. Vander Meulen of this city. Mr. Vander Meulen is a grandson of Rev. C. Vander Meulen, the first pastor of the Zeeland congregation. He spoke eloquently of the old days and of the meaning of this dedication. Psalms were sung to the accompaniment of a band, some 500 persons taking part in the singing. The exercises closed with the singing of

Peter Bloemsmas, Saturday night while driving his automobile on west Main street, collided with the car of M. It has been said that the Scholten car carried no lights which caused the accident. Many complaints have been heard of neglect in keeping lights while parking cars, especially in some of the streets where lighting is not of the best, in that way greatly endangering traffic. A few weeks ago a young man became very much put out because the city marshal requested him to keep his light going. Some times these things are forgotten and a car is left without lights but it should be borne in mind that it is with the best of intentions on the part of the officer that he makes the request, and that it is very much cheaper and more pleasant to keep the lights burning than it is to pay a fine or to repair one's car.

That strong Muskegon team who couldn't get anybody to play against them because they were so strong found a match in the Grand Haven eleven which proved to be a thriller to say the least.

Although the game was played in drizzling rain on a soggy-field which somewhat handicapped the players it was said to be the most desperately fought game ever staged on the Grand Haven field.

Grand Haven scored a touchdown in the third period when Spitts wiggled, wormed and sidestepped 80 yds. for the counter after nabbing a pass. The touchdown was not allowed, however when Referee Dunn ruled that a Grand Haven player had interfered with a Muskegon man attempting to catch the pass.

The Grand Haven team outplayed the visitors at every stage and the Muskegon team seemed bewildered at the unexpected stubborn defense. The Grand Haven team played as a unit and gave evidence of being exceptionally well coached.

The county seat team showed a wonderful pair of ends in Rumsey and VerDuin, while its backfield ran interference, blocked and carried the ball in a sensational style. "America."

HALF OF HOLLAND AT- TENDED ZEELAND CELE- BRATION THURSDAY

It seems that about half of Holland aided Zeeland in celebrating its 75th anniversary.

Not alone were interurban cars filled to overflowing, but a veritable stream of automobiles from Holland to Zeeland was evident the entire day.

There were three bands in the mammoth parade. One was the Holland juvenile drum corps organization headed by Peter Steggerda, the second was the Jackie Band from Grand Haven, who came through Holland by truck, bound for Zeeland early Thursday morning. The third was the Zeeland band that has been a well known established musical organization for years.

The parade had many unique features showing pioneer days, and one that especially took with the crowd was a yoke of oxen which had the inscription, "1847—to Grand Rapids in 40 hours." Immediately back of the oxen was a beautiful automobile containing the wording "1922—to Grand Rapids in 40 minutes."

Another very interesting feature in the parade was the old fire engine hand pump that was drawn by man power and did duty in 1870.

Another feature that was interesting was a display of pictures of pioneers in the show windows of the downtown stores.

Even the pictures of the deeds of the first property transferred to Zeeland in 1847 when Jannes Vander Luyster gave land to the city of Zeeland upon which the village was built, were shown.

In the large Karsten garage an industrial fair had been installed. In this fair everything that Zeeland makes was displayed.

There was a cheese, ornamental clocks, knitting wear, art products, flour, furniture, and an endless list of exhibits well patronized.

The fire works in the evening were a brilliant affair and were witnessed by not less than 5000 people.

The display lasted at least an hour and the big set pieces, Niagara Falls, the American Flag and Old Settlers Coming Across Country in prairie schooners fighting Indians were outstanding features.

Other floats which attracted the greatest attention in the parade were those depicting "Transportation on Water," consisting of "plat boat" with four pioneers in Dutch costume, showing how the early settlers came up in Black river from Holland in 1847; "Boating of Today," represented by two young women in a gorgeous canoe; "Mail Service of 1847," represented by a messenger on horseback and a stage coach; "Mail Service Today," represented by four recently appointed carriers with modern uniforms and equipment.

"Living Conditions," represented by an Indian village, an open air fireplace as contrasted by modern living room and kitchen, and "Spirit of Our Forefathers," represented by an old man chopping trees and tilling the soil with a plow. The first long church of Zeeland also was shown ingeniously contrived from stovepipes.

Former Cong. Gerrit J. Diekema of Holland paid sterling tribute to Zeeland's founders as principal speaker, at the exercises in the park. He bade their descendants not only to emulate them, but to improve on their teachings and accomplishments. He called special attention to the leadership and teachings of Cornelius Vander Meulen, Zeeland's pioneer minister, and asserted that his precepts and influence had made the community what it is today. A message was read from Sen. C. A. Townsend expressing his sympathy with the occasion and the wish that he could have been present.

Following the program in the park many of the old settlers and those in charge of the day's festivities journeyed in automobiles to New Groningen, a few miles distant on the Holland pike, where a boulder and tablet commemorating the settlement of Zeeland and the nearby community were dedicated by Att. Cornelius Vander Meulen, of Holland, grandson of the pioneer minister. On the bronze tablet is etched a log cabin and the following inscription:

"In memory of Jannis Van de Luyster and the Early Settlers of Zeeland, Vriesland and Drenthe, 1847-1922."

"These Sturdy God-Fearing Pioneers Came from The Netherlands and Landed from a 'Plat Boot' at the then head of navigation of Black River, at a Point 71 rods south and 16 rods east from this marker. 'Het Waterhuisje,' built in the forest on the south bank of this river was their temporary home."

On Thursday evening the National Guards of Holland under command of Captain Geerds gave an exhibition drill that was witnessed by the thousands.

In order to better see the drilling a large searchlight was used and its beams were focused upon the marching men.

The full length of the principal streets of Zeeland was filled with concessionists selling their wares. Their presence somewhat hampered travel in the street.

Baseball games between Grand Haven and Zeeland and Zeeland and Pope & Heyboers of Grand Rapids were also on the program of entertainment.

Another educational feature was the display of farm products upon which first and second premiums were given.

Other features were an old settler's dinner, dedication of a monument, express cart and doll carriage parade, a baby contest, Grand Rapids Press band for Friday, a poultry exhibit and an endless lot of other minor side issues.

The 75th anniversary had a great Holland City News force.

deal to do with the establishing of the First Reformed church of Zeeland, in fact Zeeland's history and that of the church are identical.

In fact the First Church of Zeeland is the result of the emigration movement in The Netherlands in the fifth decade of the preceding century. In telling its story it will not be necessary to mention the causes that led to the movement, for they are the same that animated emigration in all the other provinces of Holland, and have been often told on various occasions. Emigration meetings were held in various parts of Holland at which the matter was advocated and explained, so that the movement became nation-wide. One of these meetings was held in the early part of 1847 in the city of Goes. The great leader of the movement in Zeeland, Mr. Jannes Vander Luyster, a well-to-do farmer, had already determined to go and many of his laborers and friends had determined to go with him, largely thru his assistance. At this meeting one of the questions under consideration was the manner of procedure. It was finally decided to go as a church. An organization was effected by the election of a consistory composed of two elders and two deacons. To these offices were elected Jannes Van de Luyster and Johannes Hoogesteger as elders, and J. Steketee and A. Glerum as deacons. Besides this they also called a pastor to go with them, and their choice fell on Rev. Cornelius Vander Meulen, often called the apostle of Zeeland. He accepted the call, and so became the spiritual leader of that band which colonized Zeeland.

Never was this church a small one, the band following the leadership of Vander Meulen and Vande Luyster numbered about 400, and nearly to a man they were connected with the church. The oldest available statistics, those of 1852, give the church a constituency of 145 families. 282 communicant members, and a total of 636 souls; the largest in the colony.

The experiences of the people were the same as everywhere, much suffering, poverty, sickness and death, but they enjoyed the spiritual leadership of a man of God who knew how to encourage and hearten the people in their distress. For 12 years Rev. C. Vander Meulen remained the pastor and for three years longer elder Van De Luyster remained among them, when God took him. These two men must ever be held in grateful remembrance by the First Church and also by the community which they founded and fostered in its infancy.

A few other names must be mentioned in connection with the pioneer period of the Church. Among them G. J. VanHees, Q. Huizer, H. Krans, A. VanBree, A. Borgers, J. DePree, J. Wabeke, B. J. Poest, H. Steging, and towards the close of this period, P. Benjaminse, H. VanNoorden and H. Ten Have. All these men bore the burden and the heat of the day.

The following pastors have served this church: C. Vander Meulen, H. Stobbehaar, S. Bolks, W. Moerdyk, N. M. Steffens, J. Kramer, J. P. De Jong, P. P. Cheff, H. Harmeling and J. Van Peursem.

The first church building was erected in 1847, dedicated in May of 1848. The second church building, (de blokken kerk) was dedicated in 1849 and the present edifice was erected in 1866. The bell that summoned the pioneers to worship, now calls their descendants to school.

The following may be considered daughters of the First Church: Noordeloos, Beveland, and Second Zeeland, the First and Second Zeeland Zeeland Chr. Ref'd churches and Boreculo. Indeed a glad mother of children, on her 75th anniversary.

Notwithstanding all this the Church today counts 190 families and 474 members with a constituency of 900. She has indeed renewed her youth and stands as the Colonial church, on the principles of her founders.

The Zeeland 75th anniversary celebration, Home-coming and Harvest festival combined, proved to be a wonderful success. It was estimated that at least ten thousand from this vicinity and abroad came to celebrate during the two days.

The sporting events were special features. The Pope and Heyboers defeated the Zeeland American Legion baseball team yesterday 11 to 1. The winners played errorless ball behind Pitcher Brundon, who allowed but five hits and ranned 11 men. The Clothiers play Lowell at Lowell Sunday.

The wrestling match between Grappler Cy (Vander Luyster) of Zeeland and John Siekman of Zeeland, resulted in a draw. Grappler Cy threw Siekman in the first round which lasted 12 minutes with a head scissors. Siekman however put Cy to the mat with a reverse body hold in the second round in nine minutes.

Leen Viss, the referee decided the contest a draw. At least 5000 spectators, it is stated, witnessed the contest, said to be the first bout ever pulled off in Zeeland in public.

Now that the anniversary celebration is over, Zeeland folks, pleased with the success of the venture, are planning on another unique festival to be held next year. This probably will take the form of a farmer-merchants' affair similar to those which have proven very attractive and successful in Muskegon, Fremont and other communities. The merchants realize the possibilities of closer contact and fraternalism with the agriculturists of the county and they are ever alert to find a means of strengthening the good will that exists between them.

While Jannes Vander Luyster gave Zeeland its first land grant upon which the village of Zeeland is built, Cyrus Vander Luyster, better known as "Grappler Cy" of Zeeland gave the city its first wrestling match try exhibit and an endless lot of other minor side issues.

The 75th anniversary had a great Holland City News force.

SUGARED SCHUMACHER FEED

It is an old reliable feed which was recently made better by making it SWEETER—more palatable. Sugared Schumacher is primarily a carbohydrate or MAINTENANCE ration. It makes cows give MORE MILK by putting them in better physical condition. Unless a cow is getting sufficient nourishment to supply her bodily needs, which come first, she will not produce her maximum yield.

Sugared Schumacher supplies that need abundantly. It is SWEET; cows relish it; thrive better; don't get "off feed" so easily; hold up their yield of milk longer. Your protein concentrates go farther, because your cows will not utilize them for bodily maintenance so much. Come in and we'll tell you a lot more reasons why you will find Sugared Schumacher Feed the feed to feed your cows, calves, hogs or horses. Get our new prices.

DOESN'T YOUR HOME DESERVE A HOLLAND FURNACE?

The fact that the Holland Furnace has proven to be the heating solution for so many homes makes one wonder whether people in other homes consider their homes unworthy of a Holland.

HOLLAND MAN IS

MISSING FOR LAST THREE DAYS

Chief Van Ry and his men have been looking for Reki Van Til, 35 years old living on Central Avenue, back of Boone's livery.

Van Til who had been doing road work all summer, and had been working hard, changed his job, and took a position on the steamer "Alber" that takes fruit from Saugatuck to Holland for the G. & M. boats.

He left Holland a week ago and had been missing since Tuesday.

The crew had told him where his bunk would be; however when the men were aroused Wednesday morning it was found that Van Til was missing, having left during the night and while he took his hat and coat with him, he did not ask for his pay which he still has coming.

Nothing has been seen of the man since and his wife fears that he is drowned in Lake Michigan or Kalamazoo river.

Van Til was of a highly nervous temperament and appears to have been under a nervous strain of late. Besides his wife, the man has four children dependant upon him.

Chief Van Ry thinks that Van Til may be wandering somewhere around the state, while temporarily unbalanced.

Peter F., owned and driven by Jay Nichols of Holland, was the other horse to win an exciting race. Both horses won out of a field of 9 starters in a heated contest.

Horses were entered from Jackson, Chicago, South Bend, Walkerville, Ont., and several other cities including Holland.

HARDWARE STORE

Burglars broke into two places at Coopersville Thursday, causing quite an alarm and resulting in the call to the sheriff's department for aid. Sheriff Fortney responded and found that Durham's hardware store had been broken into and that three shot guns, three rifles and a quantity of ammunition had been taken. The Community garage had also been broken into. Nothing was secured at the garage. Sheriff Fortney says that several good clues as to the men's identity have been uncovered.

JUDGE CROSS ORDERS

HOTEL SOFT DRINK

PARLOR CLOSED

Thursday morning in circuit court before Judge O. S. Cross the county brought action against Edward Fons of Spring Lake to cause his barroom to be closed for a period of time.

The petition of the people was granted and sheriff ordered to close the soft drink or barroom side of the hotel for a period of one year after Fons had been given a suitable length of time for the removal of his store fixtures.

The hotel bar room of the Central House which was turned into a soft drink saloon following the advent of prohibition was ordered closed after sufficient evidence had been submitted to show that Edward Fons, the proprietor had stored intoxicating liquors there. The case for the people was conducted by Fred T. Miles, prosecuting attorney.

Sheriff Delbert Fortney will soon receive the order stating the time when he will have to apply the padlocks to the doors of the Central House soft drink saloon. Some time is to be granted for the removal of fixtures and then the place cannot be opened for one year. This does not effect the hotel itself.

BELL TELEPHONE

LINEMAN SAVES LIFE

IN ODD WAY

G. L. Whipple of Grand Rapids according to the Grand Rapids papers received an electric shock of 550 volts when he came in contact with a feed wire and the current passed thru his body.

As he slipped toward the pavement some 30 feet below, his legs spread apart, and the toes of his boots caught on the metal braces of the trolley. There he hung.

Whipple came to his senses to gaze down upon the street far below. A fall meant instant death—and his limbs were weakened by the shock. His arms were badly burned and the pain was becoming unbearable.

His call for help brought a dozen men who held a canvas in place while others put automobile cushions in under the canvas. Finally as the people below held their breath, Mr. Whipple dropped. As he fell his body turned in the air and he landed almost feet first in the canvas, bounded upward, and then was lowered to the ground. An ambulance was called.

"Whew—" the lineman gasped when it was all over. "I'll bet I could give the exact number of stones in that pavement. Was it one or two hours before help came? Guess I'll need to rest those toes now."

Miss Helen Klomparsen, assistant city clerk is seriously ill at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Halligan of Detroit are resorting at Macatawa. Mr. Halligan is a former resident of Holland.

OTTAWA COUNTY HAS

A NEW WEATHERMAN

Due to the illness of H. Tullsen, meteorologist at the U. S. Weather Bureau at Grand Haven, and in charge for some time, Gerald S. Kennedy, formerly assistant at Pensacola, Fla., has come to Ottawa county to take charge of the bureau. John G. Dirkse, a Grand Haven man has been in charge since Mr. Tullsen's illness incapacitated him but having been stationed at the Washington office in the instrument division it has become necessary for him to return and Mr. Kennedy has come to take his place.

Mr. Kennedy, who is rated as an observer, expects that this new post will be permanent though this depends in a great measure upon Mr. Tullsen's recovery and whether he will want his position back again. Mr. Tullsen is now in the country a short distance from Grand Haven trying to recover his health.

The new observer motored through from Florida arriving Thursday night. He made his final lap from Tecumseh, Michigan. Tecumseh is his home town, for in spite of his having served eight years in the Weather Bureau in Florida stations, first at Key West and then at Pensacola, he is a native of the Wolverine state. Mr. Kennedy stated that the driving was good and that Ohio and Indiana roads were in very good shape but that there was much loose gravel on the Michigan highways with the exception of the roads between Grand Haven and Grand Rapids.

OTTAWA COUNTY

ROAD COMMISSIONERS

ARE INDIGNANT

The Ottawa County Road Commission is justly indignant because they have found the roadsides strewn with tin cans and unsightly rubbish. Warnings to the public do not seem to have the desired effect, and in many places in the county the road sides have been disfigured by heaps of debris hauled out and dumped there by persons in whom the appeal of pride has apparently been neglected. Arrests can be made, of course, if the offenders are caught, but it is not an easy thing to catch the people who do that sort of thing. Apparently they are on their guard against detection and they operate under the cover of night, fully cognizant of their wrong doing.

The commissioners are pretty well convinced that the disfiguring of the roadside is not done by folks who live adjacent to the highways. It would be a pretty shiftless sort of a person who would dump rubbish in his own front yard. Suspicion is that the loads of debris are hauled along the roads after night-fall and dumped there under cover of the darkness. Such operations are hard to check. The offenders do not work out in the open.

The practice of dumping rubbish along the beautiful highways in Ottawa county cannot be too severely condemned. It is said that places along some of the most beautiful drives in Ottawa county have already been defaced by piles of tin cans and other rubbish which is both unsightly and unsanitary. Complaints have come from points along both M-11 and M-16 that debris has been dumped at points which spoil the vision and offend the eye.

Nothing is more offensive to the person riding along the road than piles of filthy rubbish, rusty tins, broken bottles, ashes and dirt. Nothing hurts the good name of a community like evidence of shiftlessness and carelessness. Nothing so spoils the beauty of a country landscape or a woody lane like the unsightly scars which people dump upon the roadsides.

The program for the Women's Missionary Union to be held Oct. 12 at Immanuel Reformed church at Grand Rapids, has been completed.

Rev. A. Oltmans will be the speaker of the morning, Mrs. John A. Dykstra, Mrs. H. J. Scudder and Rev. P. Moncada will give addresses in the afternoon. There will be a Young Women's Hour in the evening, when Miss Janet Oltmans and others will appear on the program, followed by Rev. Moncada, an Italian missionary who will be the last speaker of the evening. Special music will add to the pleasures of the day.

The entertaining church will welcome the guests and serve coffee at noon and evening to all.

The church is on Eastern Ave. and Thomas street. Take the Franklin car going east on Monroe Ave., get off at Eastern Ave., and walk two block north. This car also goes by the Union depot.

Two special cars will leave at 8:30 a. m. and return at night at reduced rates if 75 passengers can be guaranteed. Tickets are not to be purchased at the station but on the car.

The duck season will close Dec. 31st not October 31st as announced Friday.

OTTAWA COUNTY HAS

11,685 S. S. PUPILS

The Ottawa County Sunday School convention at Spring Lake Thursday brought out some interesting statistics about Sunday school work in this county. The secretary reported at the conference that there are 68 Sunday Schools in the county in all denominations. In these schools there are 989 teachers and officers, 11,685 scholars, 9,435 average attendance each Sunday, 18 Cradle Rolls with an enrollment of 270, fifteen home departments with an enrollment of 150.

The secretary of the Ottawa County Sunday School association during the year answered 60 communications and sent out 250 letters. The treasurer ended the year with a comfortable balance which is the first time in many years that such a record has been made.

At the county convention Thursday there were 20 superintendents present, 13 pastors, 85 teachers, and 203 registered delegates.

TOOK TWO CHURCHES

TO ACCOMMODATE

CONVENTION CROWD

It took two churches at Spring Lake Thursday evening to accommodate the large crowd that attended the Ottawa County Sunday School convention. During the day the convention proper was held in the Presbyterian church but in the evening the audience was so large that the Methodist church also had to be used for an overflow meeting the combined audience in the two places being fully 600. As a result all the speeches and musical numbers were double deckers. First they would appear in one church and then repeat in the other.

All in all it was the biggest county convention ever held in Ottawa. George Schuiling and Anthony Nienhuis of this city had put much hard work on the preliminaries and this work showed in the convention. Throughout the day there were some 180 registered delegates in attendance. Every meeting was well attended by both delegates and others interested in Sunday School work. Delegates came from all parts of Ottawa county practically every church in the county being represented. It was an interdenominational convention and all types of denominations in the county took an active part.

The program was carried out as scheduled. In the forenoon Rev. A. Bogart of Coopersville and Rev. C. P. Dame of Holland were the speakers and in the afternoon addresses were delivered by Rev. King Beach of Grand Rapids and E. K. Mohr of Lansing, state Sunday School worker. From four to five in the afternoon enthusiastic and well attended conferences were held on all phases of Sunday School work.

In the evening the speakers were Dr. Henry Beets of Grand Rapids and Rev. Jeffrey McCombe of Lansing. A chorus of fifty voices trained by John Vandersluis and Dr. J. Mulder furnished the music.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected, all re-elections: President, Mr. George Schuiling, Holland; 1st V. P., J. C. Lehman, Grand Haven; 2nd V. P., George F. Marshall, Coopersville; Secretary-treasurer, A. A. Nienhuis, Holland.

There will be a trap shoot at the fairgrounds Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The state bank examiners are at the Peoples' State Bank this week making the usual inspection.

The bride of former Emperor William, the princess of Reuss, will assume the title "Queen Wilhelmina of Prussia," according to an announcement today during a preliminary reception to friends of the bride and groom.

The ex-kaiser was attired in his favorite uniform of a high admiral of the fleet with his breast covered with a multitude of pre-war decorations and his left sleeve showed the mourning band.
