Anniversary of Big Church Fire Commemorated

LARGE PULPIT BIBLE WAS ABOUT ONLY THING THAT WAS SAVED IN FIRE OF '71

Ralph Schepers, Route one, Holland, who was in a reminiscent mood the other day after the News had mentioned the fifty-ninth anniversary of the Holland fire, proceeded to tell of another fire, not over six miles south of Holland at East Saugatuck. This was not unusual for the entire country-side, during the driest summer for many years, was a mass of fire and many cities and villages besides Holland were destroyed since the embers from forest fires were blown by a storm into these wooded built cities—wooden because there was plenty of lumber and few brick to build with, and for that reason, and because of poor fire protection, many Michigan cities were wholly or partly destroyed in '71.

However, a most interesting story is told here by Mr. Schepers about the burning of the East Saugatuck church.

By Ralph Schepers
The commemorating of the anniversary of the Holland and Chicago fires in 1871 brings to mind a most disastrous fire in the village of East Saugatuck. Sunday, October 8, dawned calm and beautiful. It was an ideal autumn day. The congregation at Colondora, now East Saugatuck, went to church to worship in large numbers, little thinking that it would be the last time. But in the offing, disaster stalked for there were forest fires everywhere. The church and parsonage had just been painted white, the job being well done by G. Dinkelo and son of Holland, and the congregation was elated because of the beauty of the edifice and prospects seemed bright for the church, but these hopes were destined to be shattered and that very shortly.

It had been a very dry summer and fall, much like this year. Ottawa county had just established its Weather Bureau at Grand Haven and the records show that from July 1st until October 10 there had been only one-half inch of rainfall. There were smoldering fires everywhere. The skies were leadened with smoke from the forests and Holland and Chicago fires. Dry leaves were burning all around East Saugatuck. Large parties were constantly putting out small fires here and there. The entire countryside was like a tinder-box, ripe for a great conflagration.

I remember well October 8 was my mother's birthday for on such an occasion there were a few added luxuries for the supper table. I remember, too, that the table was not cleared for it was Sunday night and one of the ten commandments "Thou shalt not work" must not be broken and the dishes remained until Monday morning. Then, too, there was so much to do fighting grass and bush fires especially around the large East Saugatuck church, that the unwashed dishes didn't even receive attention Monday morning and we all snatched snacks of left-over from the birthday table and went out to fight fires again.

At midnight of October 9 a great storm broke after the dead calm. It came out of the southwest and soon smoldering embers became blazing torches. The fire now started as far west as Sunday night according to recent statement in the Holland City News. Men and women alike fought these on-coming fires. All through the night and late in the day did they work. It was a hopeless task as grass and stumps and logs burst into flames. Nearer and nearer the flames crept and through a rift in the cloud of smoke I remember seeing the log barn of H. H. Dobben burst into flames. Soon everything about us was ablaze and it was apparent that we must move northward. We quickly hitched up our horse to a Democrat wagon and loaded it with bedding and clothes of our own and of the neighbors and everything else was abandoned which was Sunday night and wished to escape with our lives. I remember father's books, were placed at the roadside in the wash-boiler together with a basket of clothes. But these, too, were burned with the exception of the great church pulpit Bible which was saved because it was placed on the wagon. That was all that was saved from the church before it was destroyed and the Bible is still in use and is found in the pulpit of a new church, which was later built on the north side of the new parsonage at East Saugatuck.

The following spring the new church was erected. The raising of the church large timbers were used and the methods adopted were as in the building of a barn. There was still a great deal of timber left near Gibson and the lumber was cut at a mill there.

Anyway, while the fire was still raging and the church burning, our party traveled northwest endeavoring to get away from fire, sparks and heavy smoke. Father walked and drove the horses and we followed on behind, stopping at the older cleared farm of John Ten Cate where our goods with many others were placed on a heap and the farmers in the neighborhood ploughed around this spot in order to prevent the fire from reaching it.

Toward morning a rain came. It came as a benediction at the end of two terrible days and after such hardships the soaking of clothing was a minor matter as the heavy down-pour not only stopped the progress of the fire, but put it out as well. For many days the heavy smoke hung like a pall over the landscape.

That, in short, is my recollection of at least one fire in '71.

RALPH SCHEPERS.

Route 3, Holland.

P. S.—The rainfall data was given by Dr. Bos who received this information from the bureau at Grand Haven. H. H. Dobben

They expect to reach Beirut on or about the 15th of October and from there they travel by automobile and train to their station in Amara.

Local Speaker Has Hard Times For His Subject

SHOWS HOW AT LEAST SOME OF THE STING OF STRESSFUL PERIODS CAN BE ALLEVIATED

Members of the Holland Exchange club at Wednesday noon's luncheon listened to an interesting discourse given by C. Vander Meulen on the subject, "Hard Times."

He was introduced by Chairman Prof. Paul Hisskamp and immediately launched into a subject that is agitating the minds of everyone in the United States and those out of it for that matter for the entire world is feeling a period of depression—only elsewhere it is more pronounced than it is here.

Mr. Vander Meulen began his discourse by referring to the stock market debacle of more than a year ago. He stated that few realized the tremendous amount of paper losses, in other words losses in which no money changed hands but the difference between what the stock was bought for and later sold for. He pointed out that in one day the paper losses were four billions of dollars.

He stated that a prominent New York newspaper had taken an inventory on the losses of forty of the highest grade stocks and collectively the paper losses on these were seventeen billion dollars. One can readily realize what a stupendous figure it would be if the losses on all stocks over and above these forty could be calculated and there are thousands of these.

Mr. Vander Meulen stated that you can't divert so much money from the channels of business without it affecting a nation's financial and industrial structure. It was the most dramatic business setback this country has ever seen although not the most tragic. It is true many employees are out of work and many business men have been worrying. They have been in constant fear; they have been timid to proceed and only naturally so but in reality if they would only stop to think that our resources have not been impaired. The losses were paper losses and not money losses and the real wealth of the nation is still there.

There are just as many commodities as before; there are just as many machines; there are just as many factory buildings. Our great resources from the mine, from the field and from the forests are still intact. Our factories, our store buildings, in fact everything from which our wealth came, is in shape to go on.

The stock crash was only a temporary halt in the steady flow of money that up to this time had not been interrupted and consequently had not impaired our prosperity. Such a sudden halt in the flow of enterprise could not help but destroy or seriously impair the financial structure.

Mr. Vander Meulen said further, "There is no such thing as general over-production. Money in itself is only a medium of exchange and as long as there are commodities to exchange there is no over production. If people can buy, the production will take care of itself. There never was a time when production met the demand. All of us want something. We never get all we want. Every new invention brings more wants and even with our abundance there is not a person here who does not have a dozen things in mind that he would like to have but feels he can't afford it. That would indicate that there is no over-production if the where-withal to buy is available.

We never have used all of our capital nor have we used all of our facilities for development to the fullest extent. The manufacturer today does not use his capital facility because he feels he won't be able to sell it.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Mr. Geo. Harrington, Sr., and lady celebrated their Golden Wedding on Wednesday, the 13th inst. Mr. Harrington is one of our oldest and very first settlers and assisted in 1846 materially in hauling goods for the Van Raalte colonists from Allegan, over unknown trails. Note! He was the grandfather of Austin Harrington of Holland.

Hon. D. B. K. Van Raalte was wed to Miss Kate Ledeboer on Thursday, the 14th inst. Immediately after the knot was tied the happy pair took the train for Chicago. Note: Mr. Van Raalte was a veteran of the Civil war—lost an arm in that war. Later he became prominent as a lumber man and banker. He at one time was president of the Holland City State Bank. He was elected to the state legislature repeatedly. Mrs. Van Raalte was the daughter of one of Holland's first doctors, Mr. B. Ledeboer, whose home was on the present site of the City Hall. D. B. K. Van Raalte now living on Maple Ave., is a son.

Hon. Manley D. Howard was the first one to fling a Hancock and English "for president" banner to the breeze and now the Democratic Club has followed by stretching a large one of the same kind across Eighth street. Two of our vessels in port also fly that banner from their mast, namely the Kate Howard and the Wollin. Republicans thus far failed to unfurl.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

"Vaudie & Ribs" will follow their trade of fancy bill board painting in the South this winter. They left for Florida Tuesday. Note: This pair were on the "Mutt and Jeff" order, "Vaudie" was short and plump and "Ribs" as slender as a bean pole. Their trade was painting, but they were up to all other kinds of innocent tricks and for years were the laugh of the city. Their antics are beyond description. "Ribs" real name was Leon Reeve and "Vaudie" was John Van den Berg. Now you know how "Vaudie" became "Vaudie." You will not find it in the baptismal register of the church.

A committee consisting of Rev. R. L. Haan, James A. Brouwer and James Kole have ordered for Central Ave. a new pipe organ, costing $4,000. Note: Not so many years before that date an organ was sold for $1,000.

Managing to seize the bird by the wings he contrived to open the jaws of the trap with his foot, and had just extracted the owl, when it began to struggle and in the scarp that followed the bird grabbed at Mr. Koch's hand, biting on to the finger quite badly. Mr. Koch finally won the battle, and Mr. Owl will kill no more hens nor will he bite any more fingers.

Find Body of Boy Who Sank With Andaste

VICTIM OF LAKE TRAGEDY IS PICKED UP BY FERRY, IDENTIFIED AS EARL ZIETLOW

The body of Earl Zietlow, 14-year-old son of William Zietlow of this city, was recovered from Lake Michigan on Sunday about 3:30 p. m. by members of the crew of the Grand Trunk car ferry, Grand Haven and was identified by the father by the loss of a tooth and the general appearance of the body.

The boy was the youngest member of the crew of the Andaste, gravel barge owned by the Construction Materials Co. which sank in Lake Michigan on Sept. 9, with all aboard. It was in a remarkable state of preservation and is believed by marine men to have been held in the hold of the boat during the 13 months she has been lost, deep down in the cold water. The heavy storm of two weeks ago is supposed to have freed the body.

Roland Martin, first mate on the car ferry, sighted the object about 3:30 p. m. while about 32 miles out of Milwaukee slightly north of the regular course. The boat was stopped by Walter Braithwaite, first officer in charge, as caught. Owen Gallagher was on leave.

A life boat was lowered and the body recovered. Ottawa county Coroner Govert Van Zantwick took charge of the body and identified it as that of a boy. Positive identification was made by the father. The Construction Materials Co. officers, when they learned it to be one of the Andaste crew, made arrangements for the burial in the same manner they have taken care of the other victims. This is the seventeenth body to be recovered with eight still unaccounted for as there were 25 aboard. Fourteen bodies came in here, two at Holland and one at Benton Harbor.

The lad was making his first trip as second porter. He was born in this city Dec. 23, 1916. He attended the public schools and had many friends in Grand Haven.

Surviving are the parents, and one brother, Claude. Funeral services were held Wednesday from the Van Zantwick Funeral Home. Rev. Schipper officiating and Mrs. Joe Kammeraad singing the lad's favorite song. Burial was in Lake Forest Cemetery.

BIG OWL BITES HAND OF ALLEGAN COUNTY FARMER IN BATTL

LESS AND LESS FARMS IN STATE BUT STILL PLENTY OF FOOD; OTTAWA LOSES

Only five counties in Michigan showed an increase in the number of farms in 1930, as compared with 1925, according to statistics made public by the United States census bureau Wednesday. They are Kalamazoo, St. Joseph, Oscoda, Dickinson and Iron. Nine counties, all in the upper peninsula, showed an increase in farms in the 10-year period from 1920 to 1930.

Ottawa County in 1925 had 4,353 farms; now it has 3,912; in 1920 it had 4,292. Allegan County in 1925 had 5,589 farms; in 1930 it had 5,332 farms and in 1920 it had 4,296 farms.

In 1920 Michigan had 196,447 farms, which by 1925 had dropped to 192,327 farms, a loss of 22,412, or 11.7 per cent. By 1930 the number had fallen off to 169,915 farms, a loss of 26,532, or 13.5 per cent.

In the whole country there were 6,448,343 farms in 1920, which by 1925 had dropped off to 6,371,640, or a loss of 73,703 farms, or 1.2 per cent. In 1930 the number had dropped to 6,297,877, a loss of 150,466, or 2.3 per cent.

SOCIAL PROGRESS CLUB DINES

A meeting of the Social Progress Club of Holland was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Westerve, 188 West Eleventh street. The program was in the form of a banquet participated in by 17 members of the organization. Wynand Wichers, president-elect of Hope College, spoke on the subject, "Herbert Hoover's Optimism."

ALLEDALE STORE IS ENTERED, GOODS TAKEN

A general store belonging to John Wolbrink of Alleendale was entered sometime during the night and it is reported between $200 and $500 worth of merchandise was stolen. This is the second or third time the store has been robbed of considerable amounts. Located on the corner of two well traveled highways, and a fine looking business place it seems to be the target for bandits. Sheriff Steketee was notified and he left immediately to check up any clues which would lead to the apprehension of the thieves or recovery of the merchandise. Sheriff Steketee and his men are now on the case.

OTTAWA RESORT NOW HAS FULL FIRE PROTECTION

Highland Park, Grand Haven, stands among the hundreds of resorts of western Michigan, in that it now has complete fire protection. Today the city completed installation of the last of 12 hydrants in the district. Two years ago there was only one.

This service has followed the construction of gravel and concrete roads throughout the park. It is one of the few resort territories to enjoy light, gas, water and fire protection.

Rev. and Mrs. John Bovenkirk of Muskegon have received word from Japan of the safe arrival there of their son and daughter-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Henry G. Bovenkirk, who sailed from San Francisco, Aug. 22.

Rev. and Mrs. Bovenkirk, Jr., will be located at the Meiji Gakuin station in Tokyo, Japan. All are well known in Holland.

Revival meetings will begin at the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Seventeenth street and Pine Avenue, the first services being Sunday, October 19 and continuing to and including November 5, every night except Saturday. Evening services will begin at 7 o'clock and there will be two special services every Sunday with Evangelist Graves preaching at every service. ## NICK HOFFMAN'S NAME GOES ON OTTAWA COUNTY BALLOT

As the News goes to press County Clerk Wm. Wilds telephoned that at a meeting of the canvassing board called by him the board decided to place the name of Nick Hoffman of Holland township on the ballot. Nick, Democrat, received a number of votes for Drain Commissioner and had decided to run against Geo. Borck, Republican. There was considerable dispute whether legally Hoffman's name could be placed upon the ballot. The name of Harry Kramer for County Treasurer and Dr. W. M. Tappan for Coroner, both Holland men, were also admitted on the ballot when the decision was made in favor of Hoffman.

Drive to be Made for Four Worthy Causes

EXCHANGE CLUB TO BACK THE COMMUNITY CHEST

At the Exchange Club luncheon Wednesday at Warm Friend Tavern, Dr. A. Leenhouts, an ardent advocate of the "Community Chest," read a communication from William C. Vandenberg, who has volunteered to head the forces to put over the Community Chest Drive provided he is backed by a number of members from each civic organization who will devote two full days, October 22 and 23, to nothing else but this drive. He feels that two days with a working force of 75 men and women would be ample to get the desired funds.

Dr. Leenhouts pointed out that the "Community Chest" was for a definite purpose. The money for causes which all give to would be collected at once in one drive rather than three or four. Such causes as the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Christmas baskets and City Mission would be in the list and this scope might be broadened in another drive but not the first year.

Already twenty volunteers from the Ladies Literary Club, ten from the Lions and some from other civic organizations have signified their intention of spending two days on this drive. Thirty volunteers are expected from the Exchange Club.

Dr. Leenhouts pointed out that Mr. Vandenberg was a thorough organizer and an able man to handle Holland's first Community Chest Drive.

HOLLAND ALSO HAS

ITS LAGGARD VOTERS

One reason for the failure of many citizens to vote at elections is often due to the fact that it is not until near election day that they begin to realize that they want to vote. They had scarcely known that a campaign was in progress—but as the contestants slam each other, and tell what terrible things are going to happen if their candidates are not chosen to save the country, these previously indifferent folks begin to emerge from their state of political coma.

But it is apt to happen that, at the time these people make this discovery, they find that it is too late for them to have their names placed on the voting lists. In the country as a whole this year there will be thousands of people who will finally have crystallized an opinion about this coming election and would like to express their preference, but who will be unable to do so because they have neglected to register before the time limit fixed by law.

The failure of many thousands of our people to take part in the government of the country by not voting is one of the most serious difficulties in the way of political progress.

The laws of many states (although not in Michigan) requiring voters to register for each election, add very largely to the number who fail to vote because their names are not on the registration list.

It seems strange that many so-called patriotic Americans would lose their right of suffrage, which should be one of their most cherished privileges, simply because they think themselves too busy but really are too indolent to take off the brief period necessary to see that their names are placed on the voting list.

It takes patience and persistence for party workers to round up unregistered voters. Calling people by telephone and spending evenings ringing doorbells, to rouse the laggards from their apathetic state, is hard work. The real citizens who carry on this activity as a matter of public spirit can feel that they are rendering an important service.

Holland also has its laggards. Let us say for them that full information on how and when to register can be found on page three, section two, of this issue.

A Troubled World
The Dean's for Eugenics
What Ails Us All
Power Unlimited?

There is serious revolution in Brazil, Pernambuco taken by the rebels, according to report. In the Argentine rioting leaders are executed.

In China 75,000 "Reds" attack Kiangsi province.

Mild and peaceful south Germany is rocked by earthquake. Raphael's beautiful Madonna in Munich, with the exquisite little cherubs looking upward, must have felt the quake, but fortunately was not injured.

It is a strange, agitated, restless, dissatisfied world.

Dean Inge of St. Paul's cathedral in London, most important clergyman, warns his fellows in the church that they must not "ignore the eugenists," namely those interested in producing better children.

Nature does not know anything, according to the dean. We have scientific knowledge, and if we don't use it, that is "counted to us for a sin."

The dean even takes an interest in the theory that a woman should be allowed to regulate the size of her family.

There is something in the statement that nature doesn't always function perfectly. Of the first two brothers born on earth by nature's process, Cain and Abel, one killed the other.

When you are ill it is well to know what is the matter. Business is ill, with an illness that affects millions of unemployed, as illness of the body affects billions of cells.

Mr. L. Greenfield, of Santa Barbara, diagnosing, finds the following list of symptoms:

1. Over speculation.
2. Fear.
3. Loss of confidence in our financial system.
4. Very low and cautious circulation of money.
5. Increase of unemployment by big business methods of "economy."
6. False statements of the country's condition.

What would you add to these symptoms? There is something the matter that nobody understands. This country fortunately will cure itself this time as it has cured itself often before.

Experiments in Cuba by Georges Claude, French scientist, may mean more to the world than all the wars, and most of the inventions, since Napoleon died.

Taking advantage of difference in temperature between surface and deep water in the gulf, Professor Claude has succeeded in supplying power to light 400 500-watt electric lamps.

This means actually utilizing the power of the sun. When that is finally accomplished the human race will possess power unlimited, and will do whatever it can imagine.

Mother Britannia begins to realize that her dominion sons are children no longer, and agrees, on demand of the Irish Free State, that the high court of any dominion shall render final decisions. Any dominion that chooses may abolish the right of its citizens to appeal to Britain's privy council against her own Supreme court.

It is said the British never repeat a law, but let it die of its own accord. The British rule that a man may beat his wife with a stick no bigger around than his thumb remained long after such beatings had lost public approval.

One scientist, disliking the idea of making money, said when announcing an important discovery: "Thank heaven, it cannot have any practical use." Probably he was mistaken.

Paresis, a disease of the mind, that always ended fatally, is now treated successfully by radio.

The "curing machine" is a small radio station. Its energy is localized between two plates. The patient sits between them, and the radio impulses pass through him, creating a high fever.

It is a pleasure to read in President Hoover's address to the American Legion:

"We must sustain a preparedness for defense that is impregnable, yet that contains no threat of aggression."

There is no threat of aggression in being prepared. The history of this country proves that it will not engage in the piracy of war unless forced to do so.

Wall Street reminds you of a baby with the colic. Try as you may, you can't soothe it, or stop its weeping. It reminds you, also, of the watch at the mad hatter's tea party, which would not keep time, although "the best butter" was put in its works.

Wall Street gentlemen tell each other, with little smiles, that every thing looks "very good, indeed." There because some pirate sells their stocks short, they follow suit, and sell also.

What are those best financial minds doing at present? Taking a vacation?

SEED PRICES ARE LOWER NOW

Seed prices are apt to be lower during the fall and winter than at planting time, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which advises farmers to buy their seed early if they can decide upon the crops and the acreages before spring. The quality of seedsmen's stocks in usually better early in the season, seed obtained early is sure to be found on hand when needed for sowing, and it may be tested and replaced by other seed if found to be unsatisfactory.

Holland Man Wants Soldiers Monument

THIS IS BIG SESSION OF THE YEAR FOR OTTAWA SUPERVISORS

Health Matters and County Budget Receive Attention of Solons

The Ottawa County Board of Supervisors is now in session, this being the big meeting of the year and will take up the greater part of two weeks. The county budget, health matters and scores of other important questions are now being taken up one by one. The different committees are working and reports are coming in from time to time from the respective chairmen.

A communication was read from William O. Van Eyck calling attention to the fact that Ottawa county has no public memorial to the soldiers of the Civil War and begged that steps be taken to erect a suitable memorial. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

Reports from the superintendents of the poor, C. P. Milham, agricultural agents, and inspectors of the county jail, were read. Mr. Milham recommended $275 be appropriated apary inspection.

The report of the superintendents of the poor was referred to the finance committee. The report shows that during the year just past a total of $26,973.46 had been received from all sources. At the close of business there was a balance on hand of $1,115.55.

The number of inmates at the infirmary last October was 47, and 32 were admitted in the fiscal year. Fourteen were discharged in the year and seven died, leaving 57 at the home.

The names of Berend Kamps of Zeeland and William G. Headley of Zeeland were presented for appointment to the Ottawa County Road Commission. Mr. Kamps asked for reappointment. He has served six years, a full term and the unexpired term of J. Bekius of Zeeland.

Judge Miles called attention to the county law library and asked that a committee be appointed to consider the purchase of a few new volumes.

Mrs. Gerrit J. Diekmann of Holland, who has appeared before the board on several occasions having to do with public health work, also spoke, declaring the unit plan to have been adopted in many places over the county and that it was a growing movement with results that more than paid for the extra outlay.

Dr. C. C. Applewhite of the U. S. Public Health Service, who has been in the work in Mississippi, was another to speak in favor of the unit. The saving in dollars and cents for the lives recovered is estimable, he said. William Hutton also endorsed the plan. The matter was referred to the public health committee.

Dr. William Pickett made a strong plea relative to Ottawa County health matters if placed on a new basis.

Dr. Pickett said Ottawa County now pays $5,000 toward public health work. By appropriating $1,000 more a public health unit could be established through the additional help of $5,000 from the state; $2,500 from the Rockefeller Foundation, and $500 from the U. S. Public Health department. The total cost is $12,000, which includes salaries of a public health commissioner, or public health officer; two nurses and an office through which all of the public health matters of the county would be cleared.

He pointed out that the various townships pay out more each year than would cover the additional cost. He also said the Rockefeller donations would decrease from the maximum of $2,500 for the first year and cease at the end of the third year when the county would then have to assume that amount.

The purpose of this donation is to start the unit, after which it becomes so a part of the public health program that it is seldom abandoned.

In support of his talk, Dr. S. C. Moore, health officer of Wexford county with headquarters at Cadillac, told of the work as it has been carried out there for several years. He pointed out the efficiency with which public health work is prosecuted through the prenatal, infant, pre-school and school ages of children, social welfare, tuberculosis work, immunization and hundreds of other matters entering these fields are all taken care of through the central unit.

He gave as an instance the tracing of a typhoid carrier who had infected hundreds of residents and caused a mild epidemic in one county.

Among the several reports presented was the annual report of the Ottawa County Road Commissioners which recommends $75,950 be appropriated for the road fund, or $14,050 less than 1929. The cut was made by abandoning the dust laying program costing about $10,000 and the addition of one and three quarters miles of concrete to the county road system in the tentative budget.

An appeal was made by the Sinking Fund Commission to increase the fund $5,000. The commission, it was pointed out, has been laboring with the problem of providing sufficient funds to retire the Good Road Bonds as they fall due, as a careful perusal of the statements discloses the fact that even the $50,000 raised each year for the fund will not provide a sufficient amount to retire the Series E bonds in 1935.

It was thought at one time that refunding bonds might be issued to meet this contingency but there is some question as to the legality of such an issue without submission to the voters. The commission has decided that since the Covert tax at large is about $2,000 less than last year and the road budget is $14,050 less, $55,000 be raised and that each year hereafter any decrease in the Covert tax be met with a corresponding increase in Sinking Fund appropriation, and it recommends the same procedure when the interest requirements begin decreasing in 1923 through the retirement of the first of Series A bonds.

The point out that unless some such procedure is followed a deficit of about $100,000 will accumulate by 1935. The sinking fund was established in 1927. It is mandatory under state law that an adequate appropriation be made each year.

TINY STEEL SHIP IS ON VOYAGE ACROSS LAKE

Grand Haven Tribune.—The Ottawa Manufacturing Company of Spring Lake awaits news of its ship upon the seas.

Last night Eric Anderson, who operates the Spring Lake plant, watched his ship put out to sea, heading to the westward from Grand Haven harbor, and rising and falling with the rolling seas. With canvas set and the tiller lashed the trim little craft pointed valiantly to sea. In 15 minutes the ship was out of sight. Even the coast guard lookout, with his strong binoculars could not make her out.

The tiny craft was only 16 inches long, but her hull was stout and trim, built of pressed steel throughout, with a cabin and cockpit, just like a big yacht. She was sloop rigged, with no details omitted, because Eric Anderson has sailed and built boats in his time and he knows the game.

The hull is completely watertight, with air space service as tight as a drum. She is unsinkable. Her spar, which is of wood, towers 20 inches, and she carries a full spread of canvas, with a full jib. The mast can be unstepped in a moment and hull and rigging all packed in a convenient box for carrying. This feature is a boon for those accompanying small boys, who carry with them full rigged ships, at the risk of poking somebody in the eye with the spars.

The Ottawa Manufacturing Co. is going into the manufacture of toy yachts, built of steel and the craft which put out to sea Wednesday night is the first one turned out by the company. The builders want to show they are building staunch, durable craft which will stand up in the heavy seas on the big waters.

On the forward deck of the sloop which put out last night there was fastened a plate which read: "Reward of $5.00 and new boat to the finder who informs when and where this boat was found."

The Spring Lake company is already preparing to get into production of these steel toy sailboats on a large scale. Buyers for jobbers who have already seen the boat are encouraging in their comments. The lines of the craft are excellent and a fine finish gives the boats an appearance which will attract the eye of youth. These boats are being made to retail at a lower price than most of such toys already on the market. If promises are fulfilled the plant will probably be running at top speed to turn out sloops for the holiday trade.

Other reports included the county treasurer, county drain commissioner, Soldier's Relief Commission. Mrs. Emily Kirkpatrick of the Starr Commonwealth, school for boys located at Albion, appeared for the annual contribution. A representative of the Michigan Children's Aid Society also asked for funds.

PHEASANTS TO BE IN NEED GAME DIVISION HEAD PREDICTS HARDER WINTER THAN LAST YEAR BECAUSE OF CROPS

With farm crops shorter than in many years, and farmers harvesting their crops more closely than usual, pheasants will have a harder winter of it even than last year, in the opinion of P. S. Lovejoy, head of the game division, Department of Conservation.

Cornshocks will be husked out more than ever and farmers are naturally loath to leave anything in the fields when the crop is already scarce. It is also true that the big weed seeds, which are important to pheasants for their winter feeding, have made a poor crop in many cases. All of these things seem to point to a lean year for Mr. Ring Neck.

The only ray of sunshine in the situation, as far as the pheasant is concerned, comes from the fields of rye and some of wheat which produced insufficiently to make harvesting while some of these fields may be left altogether, and the pheasants should be able to forage well on them.

GOOD EGGS NEATLY PACKED PAYS

The price that a buyer will pay for a case of eggs in the market is influenced not only by the appearance and quality of the eggs but by the soundness and appearance of the package. Leaflet 64-L, recently published by the Department of Agriculture, describes the construction and packing of an egg case. This leaflet may be obtained by writing to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

ICY WATER INTERFERES WITH THE COW'S PRODUCTION

Excessively Cold Water Frequently Cause of Decrease in Milk Yield

HEATING WATER BEFORE IT IS USED COSTS LESS THAN HEATING IT WITHIN THE COW'S BODY

Drinking Water has to be warmed before it is absorbed by the system.

$1.25 worth of COAL will heat as much water as $10.00 worth of GRAIN

THE LOW COST WAY COAL @ $6.50 per ton as fuel BEFORE the cow drinks it

THE MOST EXPENSIVE WAY GRAIN @ $40 per ton as fuel used AFTER the cow drinks it

PROVIDE EACH COW WITH 4 TO 5 LBS. OF WATER WARMED TO AT LEAST 60° DEGREES FOR EACH POUND OF MILK PRODUCED

In Winter

ICY drinking water prolongs the dairy cow's process of digestion, explains the Blue Valley Creamery Institute, since water cannot be absorbed by the system until it has been raised to the cow's body temperature, about 99 degrees. Icy water results in reduced water consumption, a slowing down of bodily functions and a decrease in milk production.

It is not an uncommon sight to see a herd of cows driven to a pond, stream or water tank where they must drink through holes chopped in the ice. Under these conditions they will frequently drink enough only for maintenance and not enough to keep up milk production. There is also another loss in compelling cows to drink icy water. Since the water has to be warmed to the temperature of the body before it is consumed, warming of water after it is consumed requires the "burning up" of costly feed inside the cow in order to heat the water, for the cow's only source of heat is the feed she gets.

Drinking water heated to 60° is considered satisfactory. It will be found less expensive to use some ing small boys, who carry with them full rigged ships, at the risk of poking somebody in the eye with the spars.

There is a day in which to praise, To think, to pray and rest our hands, To get our eyes off whirling wheels, Which tend to end our placid ways.

A day in which to lay aside The plans and fears of coming years, And rise in thoughts of God and man, Which tend to make true love abide.

This holy day for man was made, For him to make it holy still, By glowing deed or glorious word, To tell that Christ our guilt has paid.

So rise, O Youth, to battle strong For love of God and quiet rest, For time to think, to pray and praise.

So rise! Go face the godless throng!

NORTH OTTAWA BANKS ALSO INCREASE IN SAVINGS

Holland and Zeeland banks have increased savings during these stressful times which was considered unusual, but it seems that this is the case nearly everywhere in this county. A survey of financial conditions in the northeastern part of Ottawa county, as reflected in the quarterly statements of the banks of Coopersville, Conklin, Marne and Nunica, shows that savings deposits in every bank except one, increased during the past three months, although the total figure is still below that of a year ago.

Savings deposits in the five financial institutions three months ago were listed at $1,351,461.09. Today the figure is $1,412,428.63, or a net gain of $60,967.54. Total assets of these banks show a gain in the same period of $104,148.69.

Nearly 2 Million Assets The total assets of Coopersville's two banks are within less than $2,000 of the $2,000,000 mark, which is believed to be somewhat of a record for a community of 1,000 population. The total is divided as follows: Coopersville State, $1,272,223.20; People's Savings, $725,442.56.

Other banks in this area have assets as follows: Berlin State bank at Marne, $260,402.62; Conklin State, $194,488.18; Nunica State, $240,794.17.

ZEELAND CRIPPLED FOR EAST BATTLE

Coach Dewey will meet the strong East Grand Rapids team there Saturday with a very much crippled lineup. Five of his regulars are out for the week and three of them out for the season due to injuries. It is believed that Quarterback Flewelling will be in shape for the contest, as will Tackle Cabell. Minor injuries were received by the team in the game with Fremont but the men will be in shape by Saturday.

JUDSON'S PALATIAL YACHT STOPS ON THIS SHORE

Grand Haven Tribune.—One of the largest and most beautiful yachts ever to visit local waters came into port on Saturday night, when R. W. Judson of Detroit brought his diesel yacht, "St. Marco," here with a party and anchored in front of the Judson home on Spring Lake until Sunday afternoon.

A more beautiful sight is rarely seen on this lake as the palatial yacht glided through the waters, as calm as a mirror, in the afternoon light and it attracted the many driving on that day. Aboard were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ellis, a son-in-law and daughter, and a party from Chicago. The boat was taken to Muskegon where she lay over night and today sailed to Chicago.

The yacht is one he is using while his second boat is being completed, which, when finished, is reputed to be worth several million dollars. His first boat was the "Comoco," and touched this port several times.

MANY SUNDAY DRUNKS IN GRAND HAVEN

Grand Haven Tribune.—Several arrests for drunk and disorderly conduct over the week end were made by local officers. The offenders appeared before Justice C. E. Burr today and received the following fines: John McMann, Nunica, fine and costs $18.20; John Bushman, Grand Haven, fine and costs, $15.40; Sam Mader, Agnew, fine and costs $12.00; Emerson Hicks, colored, 1208 Franklin street, fine and costs of $10.25 for being disorderly.

Nichols Chosen Orchestra Head At Business Meet

LARGE ORCHESTRA TO MAKE INITIAL APPEARANCE AT FIRST LYCEUM NUMBER

"Remember, orchestra practice at 7:00 o'clock," is the reminder on the card that each member receives on Wednesday. The students surely haven't forgotten it either, for there was a large crowd last Wednesday evening and many new members; but there are always room for more. If there are any instrumentalists on the campus who have not joined the new orchestra they will be warmly welcomed. Orchestra practice is only once a week, from 7 to 9 o'clock, Wednesday nights.

Under the very capable direction of Mr. Heeter, director of music at Holland High School and also director of our orchestra, the musicians are progressing wonderfully well. They put in two solid hours of work and really are accomplishing remarkable things. One particular reason this development is the fact that each one is so enthusiastic and willing to do his part.

Dr. Nykerk thought that the orchestra could do its best work and also cooperate the best, if it was organized. John Mullenberg, as chairman, took charge of this business last Wednesday night and the following officers were elected: President, Rudolph Nichols; Vice President, Roy Moo; Secretary and Treasurer, Ethel Leestma. These officers are willing to do their share of work to make Hope's orchestra a success and under the guidance of Dr. Nykerk and Mr. Heeter, it cannot be otherwise. Now it is up to the student body to cooperate with them. Compliment them, cheer them along, and show your good sportsmanship by enlarging this organization with your presence if you play any kind of instrument whatsoever.

The orchestra makes its first public appearance at the first number of the Lyceum Course. Let us all be there and give them our support!

GRAND HAVEN IS GOOSE EGGED

Grand Haven lost its first conference game Saturday to Muskegon, but did it with a complete reversal of form from its first three games and went down to a 26 to 0 defeat with colors flying. This was also the first game between the two schools in four years. The locals played Muskegon almost even with the exception of the first quarter and the opening few minutes of the last quarter.

Bad Men Present, but Were Not Linger

Houdini's crusade against fraudulent spirit-mongers occupied a great deal of his time and thought during the last years of his life. But there was a brief period in his early stage career when, assisted by his wife, he used to do a "mind reading" and "spirit message" act, pure hocus pocus, of course.

One night he was tipped off that two negroes—the local "bad men"—were in the gallery. These

TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR HOME DEMONSTRATORS TO BE HELD IN ZEELAND OCT. 22

The opportunity to study the subject "Making the home more homelike" is given the women living in the south half of Ottawa County during the coming months. According to Esther C. Lott, home demonstration agent, fourteen groups have already been organized for the project, to be given under the direction of Miss Gertrude Reis, home furnishing specialist from the State College.

The training schools for local leaders in the Zeeland district will be held at the City Hall, Zeeland, from 10 to 4 p.m. Oct. 22. Training centers for leaders will be held in Zeeland and Jamestown once each month. The course consists of six lessons as follows:

Discussion I. Beauty in furniture arrangement.
Discussion II. Color in the home.
Discussion III. Floor coverings. The making of a braided rug.
Discussion IV. The background of a room. The walls of a room, the woodwork and floor are the keynote to the atmosphere of a room.
Discussion V. Selection and use of living room accessories. Italian quilted pillows will be made by members of the groups.
Discussion VI. The use of flowers in home decoration.

More groups may enroll before Oct. 22 by notifying the home demonstration agent or the local extension committee members as follows:

Zeeland district, Mrs. T. Kraai and Mrs. Walter Wieringa.
Jamestown district, Mrs. Wm. Bos and Mrs. Benj. Douma.

George Rundquist of the Szelek Air Craft Company has been called to Moline, Illinois, on account of the death of his mother.

William Veldkamp of Holland route two underwent an operation for acute appendicitis at the Holland hospital Monday night.

Marian Fay Groth, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Groth, entertained a number of her friends at a Halow'en birthday party last Tuesday.

Odd Expressions That Had Humorous Origin

The tendency to run words together has given the odd some queer expressions. "Mimsy" is one of those "telescope" words that formerly was ever-ready to serve anybody in telling how miserable and mimsy anything might be. Now it has been used to mean "silly." "Chortle" is another started in the same way. Lewis Carroll coined it as a combination of chuckle and snort. A similar type of freak word is the "spoonerism," originating, according to Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, with William A. Pitt-Rivers, an English churchman and educator, who had a habit of unconsciously transposing the initial sound or other parts of two or more words. In addressing an audience he once put the question: "How many of you have a half-warmed fish in your heart?" Of course he intended to say, "A half-formed wish." Called as witness to an assault he testified he had seen the defendant deliver "a blushing crow" upon one of "the donors of his college instead of a crushing blow."—Kansas City Times.

ZEELAND MAN GETS SEVERAL JUDGMENTS AGAINST HIM
ON STOCK DEAL

Italian Citizen Draws $1,000 Fine,
Sentence; May Face Deportation

In no uncertain terms did Judge Miles score Joe Caperano, Grand Rapids, found guilty of transporting 36 pints of liquor, when he sentenced him to one to two years at Jackson, fined him $1,000 and costs. Caperano is an Italian citizen and Judge Miles said after his prison term was finished he would recommend deportation. This was the third offense.

Joe Caperano was sent to Iowa for seven and one-half to 15 years for breaking and entering a hardware store at Marne, second offense; Harold Beattie, Jackson, six months to a year and costs, for driving while intoxicated, second offense; Frank Witkowski, Ionia, one to 15 years for breaking and entering in the day time. He stole a pocketbook with about $4.00 in it while purporting to be a salesman.

The following judgments were decreed to the plaintiffs: Peoples State Bank, Holland, vs. Burt Balder, $342.75; Peoples State Bank vs. John Strassma, $640.80; Gerrit DeWynander vs. Chester J. Lahuis, of Zeeland and Florida, $8,000 with interest since April 28, 1923, amounting to $11,493.90; Douwe Wyngarden vs. Chester Lahuis, $866.35, and Leonard Kastern vs. Chester Lahuis for $1,400 and interest or $1,907.50, which amounts were claimed as amounts given to the defendant for purchase of stock.

Judge Fred T. Miles of the Ottawa-Allegan circuit is determined to keep an eye on all probationers in his court and Saturday called 37 offenders before him, to learn of their conduct and the rate at which they were paying off the fines.

In most cases the respondents were found to be living up to the terms of the probation. Bench warrants were issued for the following who failed to qualify or did not appear to answer the summons: Ray Conklin, Harry Snyder, Roy Runk, Gilbert Visner, Charles Gornat, Peter Van Dorpe, John Kuipers, Cecil Carter, Emory Sudman.

George Vortried was ordered to pay his fine in six months, or a prison sentence would be decreed. Others who must report for payment are Raymond Kolk, $36 by Dec. 31; Melvin Brower, $34 by Dec. 31; Edward Woldring, $53; Ernest Doolittle, $86; Charles Widling, $10 a month until paid; John De Weert, costs and fines within six months, and George Vandenberg, paid $100 and must pay the balance in 6 months.

Fred Jonker vs. Herbert H. Hillman, $1,097.68. Mrs. Edna Hillman was declared not liable and the case against her dismissed, no cause for action.

Motion for a new trial was denied in the case of Minnie Grossman vs. Jane Collier Green, and Emma Gross and Arthur Gross vs. Arthur Van Duren.

A motion to dismiss the case of Edna Heap, et al against Lionel Heap et al was denied.

Synthetic Wood From Coal

Since coal is largely vegetable matter, scientists will be able to convert it into artificial wood for the manufacture of furniture and many other uses, experts point out.

Celulose or vegetable matter is now being manufactured into synthetic wood for various purposes. It is durable, hard and heavy, and takes a good polish. A large supply is seen in the tropics, where trees and plants now grow in great profusion and are serving no useful purpose.

Need of Nourishment
of Trees Overlooked

More than half of the trees in the world are sick. Many of them are afflicted with incurable diseases. Like human beings, trees are the victims of numerous ills, declares a writer in Thrift Magazine. They are constantly the prey of deadly parasites which attack every part from roots to topmost branches and work into the very heart of the wood.

Millions upon millions of fine trees every year die needlessly because their owners fail to appreciate their night appeals for help.

Seventy five per cent of all shade and fruit trees are afflicted with V-shaped crotches, which are sure to spread and kill the tree unless taken care of in time.

Many trees die of hunger or thirst, or both. Trees are living things, and they must have water and nourishment. The top of a tree is a perfect index of the general health and vitality of the trunk and branches, although the health of the top has no direct connection with internal decay. Good rich green foliage indicates, as a rule, excellent vitality and an active condition of the roots.

Insect Assassin One of Nature's Oddities

A remarkable insect assassin that lives in the Dutch East Indies is described by a British entomologist, W. T. China, in a report to Natural History Magazine an official publication of the British Museum. This creature, which he names "the insect assassin," is a fly-like insect, secretes a toxic liquid apparently tastes very good to certain black ants. They seek it eagerly, and "milk" the insect by manipulating certain hairs attached to its body. But their portations are fatal, for the drink contains a poison which soon paralyzes them. As soon as the bug is aware of the ant's weakened condition, it ceases to be passive and stabs its victim through a chink in its horny armor, sucking out the lifeblood with its sharp beak. The drained bodies of the "assassin's" victims fall to the ground beneath its lurking place, and sometimes accumulate in large numbers. The carcasses are dragged off by another ant species, a red one, which does not scruple to make a pseudo-cannibal feast on the remains of its fatuously bibulous relatives.

Psalm 91, quoting verses 1-11: He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in Him I will trust. Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence. He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: His truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day; nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday. A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee. Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation; there shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

Another of the private ponds for rearing bass is managed by Saugatuck and Douglas anglers. It was to be emptied yesterday and the product placed in public waters. The venture this year, like those in Allegan and Holland was wholly successful. Such enterprises are certain to greatly increase the good fishing of the county.—Allegan Gazette.

The unidentified body of a man was taken from Lake Michigan 6 miles north of the White Lake channel, late Saturday. Coroner Tiede Clock was notified and announced that he will go to Whitehall, where the body was taken to the Gee undertaking parlors, with a member of the crew of the ill-fated barge Salvor, one of whose victims has not been found. There was a possibility also that the body is that of one of the persons lost on the fruit packet North Shore, in the storm two weeks ago.

The Metropolitan club held their regular meeting in Fireman's Hall, Zeeland, Monday evening. After a short business meeting cards were played. Prizes were won by Mrs. George Witt and John Bowns.

LOCAL SPEAKER HAS HARD TIMES FOR HIS SUBJECT

able to sell the gods. The purchaser by the same token feels hard up even if he is not. If this cause was removed and those who can buy would, there would not be laborers enough.

Today money does not come fast enough to the consumer and that together with a timid buyer causes a halt in the distribution of merchandise.

In our capitalistic system all is not spent for labor and raw material but some must come back for profits which gradually decreases purchasing power. The wealth of the average man has grown greater per capita statistic show. Practically a new industry, the automobile has brought millions upon millions in circulation. Naturally all this money had gone into the hands of the consumer even before an automobile was built. This meant the building of factories and the putting in of machinery long before the goods were on the market.

"There is much talk of preventing depressions or at least of alleviating them. Some believe that these depressions go in cycles and must come in order to take up the slack."

"I sometimes wonder if, in the arrangement of our business and in the regulation of our vast money wealth and resources, we cannot find a happy medium that would in a measure dissipate these stressful periods that come at intervals."

"The people of the nation taken as a whole receive ninety billion dollars a year. Between the peak of prosperity and the drop through depression there is a difference of about ten billion dollars. It would seem that the government could keep in reserve this amount for development in stressful times in order that the steady stream of money, the medium of exchange, may not be halted. At such times the nation could develop needed projects covering a period of time. This could also apply to big public service companies, who after all are the greatest losers during 'hard times.'"

Big business has been planning operations from year to year. It would seem that plans could be devised whereby building programs would cover ten year periods. The plans could be so arranged that when work was needed development could go on and when work was plentiful projects could be halted. That also applies to municipal projects such as paving. Holland today, for instance, is not paving a street when in reality paving should go on today instead of a few years ago.

"The deplorable angle in many of these things and a real drawback is that politics and human selfishness enters. One party belittles and obstructs real measures of merit of the other."

"One saving grace I see ahead and that is that the youth of our nation is ready and eager to tackle and solve these most perplexing questions and it is these young men and women who will work out a solution to these problems. Why do we solve the great problems of the air? Our astronomers can figure out the perplexing questions relating to the skies. They can figure out the weight of a star, the minute of an eclipse, the speed of light and many other intricate things. Why should we then sidetrack the more simple problems that govern ourselves and our well-being?"

Paving operations on the new road between Holland and Zeeland over the defunct Holland interurban road bed has been postponed until next spring. Grade work has been completed and the bridge across Black river soon will be finished. The right-of-way at Holland has been cleared and removal of buildings at Zeeland is under way. The cost of the highway, which calls for a 20-foot concrete road, 2 1/2 miles, will approximate $75,000. Barden & West will build the road.

Christian high school continues a member of the Michigan High School Debating league and Joseph Waldyke, William Lamar and Glen Breen have been picked as the team.

Don't Sell Too Much Fodder, State Warning

MICHIGAN HAY, NOW BEING PURCHASED BY INDIANA AND OHIO MEN, MAY CAUSE SHORTAGE HERE

The state agricultural department learns buyers from Ohio and Indiana are coming into Michigan with offers of $20 a ton for hay. At the same time farmers in the central part of this state are trafficking in timothy hay among themselves on a basis of $6 to $10 a ton. Verne H. Church, federal agricultural statistician, stationed here, sounds a word of warning.

"One can't blame these buyers from other states for trying to buy hay, considering the fodder situation in the states south of us, and in fact Michigan always has been an exporter of this crop. It ranks ninth in the Union as a hay producer. New York and Wisconsin being the leaders. The August estimate for hay this year in this state was 3,586,000 tons, a short crop. The first cut was good, but the second cut will be nothing.

"Add the hay shortage to the corn shortage, and owners of the 3,873,000 head of livestock of all descriptions in this state have something to worry about, in spite of the fact that the oat and barley crops were good. The 3,500,000 bushels of corn annually imported into Michigan will have to be greatly increased—if it can be found, which is problematical in the face of conditions in the corn belt.

At Michigan State college it is stated that low grade dairy cows are being offered at the livestock market at $35 a head and sheep at $1 a head, and hard to sell at those prices. The packers are declared to be overstocked, warehouses full and consumption below normal. The livestock industry is a $71,000,000 proposition in this state. This figure represents the income value of flocks and herds in 1928, a normal year. More recent figures as to income have not been compiled. In February, 1930, the total value of livestock on Michigan farms was $5,864,969.000.

Reduction of herds and flocks since the first of the year has been pronounced—sheep and lambs 12 per cent, cattle 10 per cent, swine 10 per cent. These figures were found early in the year. The rate of decrease has been much more rapid since the drought stricken grain is the ascribed cause.

REST DAY FOR DUCKS SUCCESS IN WISCONSIN

A Wisconsin law provides protection for ducks and coots Wednesday of each week during the open season. That the experiment is an unqualified success is evident from the fact it is still in force and has met with general support from the hunters. Not a gun is fired on Wisconsin lakes, rivers, or other waterways on Wednesdays, and boats and decoys lay idle in camp while hunters play cards or go fishing.

REPUBLICAN GOVERNOR BRUCKER WILL USE PLANE IN CLOSING DRIVE

Interest in November election is greater than usual in years when presidency is not at stake, according to John D. Leasia, former manager of the Brucker campaign, who is now in charge of Republican state headquarters here. Wilbur M. Brucker, Republican candidate for governor, plans to cover the whole state during the three weeks remaining before the election. He is doing much of his traveling by airplane, to reach as many important meetings as possible.

Leasia announced today that the candidate will fly from Marquette, where he speaks October 21, to appear at a meeting of Palestine Lodge in Detroit, October 22. He will then fly back to the upper peninsula to address a meeting at Ironwood at noon, and a night meeting at Escanaba on the 23rd.

Rev. John Van Porseum, of the First Reformed church, was in charge of services at Trinity Reformed church in Holland, Sunday morning. Mr. Van Porseum was the first pastor in charge of Trinity church when it was built some 15 years ago.

Board Moves Against Road Sign Posters

POLITICAL CANDIDATES SAID TO BE OFFENDERS AGAINST STATE MEASURE

The Ottawa County Road Commission members are highly indignant over the flagrant infringement of the state law prohibiting bills and signs on the highway rights-of-way. On beautiful trees, on posts, and any other convenient place appear advertisements particularly of candidates seeking election to office at the coming November election.

The cost of removing the unsightly signs, after they become windblown and water soaked, is considerable to the public as in most instances they are firmly nailed in place.

The commission decided at a meeting held a few days ago to take every advantage of the law in this respect and prosecute those who persist in ignoring the state ruling, with punishments, which are quite drastic.

Attention was called to the advertisement for bids for the construction of the south channel bridge which appeared in the Oct. 2 issue of the Michigan Road and Airport, official organ of the state highway department, and which will be closed Oct. 22 at the office of H. C. Fleming, resident construction engineer at Grand Rapids.

MILWAUKEE PASTOR IS VOTED SEMINARY CHAIR

Winfield Burggraaf, pastor of First Reformed church, Milwaukee, was elected professor of systematic theology for two years by the board of superintendents of Western Theological seminary at a special meeting Thursday in Bethany Reformed church, Chicago. He will succeed Rev. John E. Kuizenga, now of Princeton Theological seminary and will begin his work with the opening of the institution in September, 1931.

Mr. Burggraaf is a graduate of Hope college, Western seminary and the Free University of Amsterdam, having entered the last institution on a scholarship awarded him by Western seminary the year of his graduation, 1925.

NOTE LEFT IN GUN FOUND BY VETERAN AFTER TWELVE YEARS

While Will McVea was cleaning a gun he had not used since the World war he found the following note, dated Grand Rapids, Nov. 29, 1918, inside the weapon: "Friend Will: I thank you a thousand times for the use of your gun. I thought of you several times when you were in France. When you find this write. With best regards, Glenn Sebright."

Sebright formerly was a resident of Douglas. He now resides on Stafford Ave., S.W., Grand Rapids.

PASSES FLOCK OF BAD CHECKS IN ALLEGAN

A few weeks ago Joe Greinberger bought much fruit from growers in Casco, Allegan county, including Wm. Wark. The total is about $3,500 of which Mr. Wark is in for about $1600. His first checks, drawn on a Battle Creek bank, proved good but many others issued later were returned unpaid there being no money for him in the bank. It is understood that Greinberger transferred his cash to a Grand Rapids bank. He was found in Indianapolis and brought to Allegan late last week by Sheriff Teed. Mr. Wark visited him in Indianapolis and his only explanation was that the consignee of the fruit sold it too cheaply and he had "lost money." How he could lose when he had not paid for the peaches is not easily understandable. He did not make any payment to Mr. Wark, who says he will push the matter thoroughly; that he can "send him up" for one year on each check and so be able to keep him in jail some years. This sort of trick is sometimes played successfully, the victims refusing to prosecute through hoping to get payment in some way, but often make a mistake in being lenient for the same reason.

During the months of June, July and August Holland had only 2769 outgoing passengers and 3004 incoming on the Goodrich Line boats.

The total of 5773 is quite a remarkable business boom. "We have tried to give as many men employment as possible and keep them on during this dull period," Mr. Hatton said. "This has been made possible by our willingness to manufacture where no market is in sight, although now almost our entire output, patent leather, is being disposed of, much of it to foreign countries. China is a big buyer of patent."

The patent leather business has been well developed by us and in an effort to maintain a market in the motor industry, we are catering to exclusive users of front seat leather. This has to be made in a variety of tones," Mr. Hatton explained. "We have even matched the color of a woman's slipper."

Cottages at Highland Park are being pilfered as is usual at this time of year and several have been reported to Sheriff Steketee as having been broken into. Among them is the "Wisconsin," owned by Mrs. Fiel of Milwaukee; the Cooper cottage and the Ben Krause cottage. Nothing of great value seems to be missing save from the Krause cottage, where two rifles were taken.

Thum Estate Is Divided By Court Decree

SPRING LAKE VILLAGE IS WINNER IN SUIT FOR SETTLEMENT OF BEQUEST

In a decree handed down by Judge Fred T. Miles, the village of Spring Lake is given undisputed title to three-quarters of the property located on the west side of Spring Lake known as the Thum estate.

The suit was begun in circuit court some time ago by the village of Spring Lake against Otto Thum and Frances Thum to secure a settlement of the property which was left in the will of the late William Thum to the village of Spring Lake and his heirs. No amicable settlement could ever be effected as to the division.

The defendants in the case will also share with the village a common road, leading from the public highway north across the property which will give both parties access to their property and to the lake. The defendants must also pay $100.00 attorney fees and some $53 for other minor expenses.

The portion decreed to Spring Lake includes the buildings which although old could be put into repair. It is roughly estimated the property is worth about $30,000 situated on beautiful Spring Lake in the heart of the resort section. According to the terms of the will it can only be used for park or recreational purposes.

It is not known what the village authorities propose to do with the site. Several suggestions have been made which includes Boy Scout camp, recreational center and picnic grounds. There were no funds left with which to support the land, and it becomes somewhat of a problem as to how best apply it to public use, as designed by the late donor.

Judge Miles also decreed the following judgments: Peter Van Zyl vs. Isadore Fogelin, $341.75 and $20 costs; and International Shoe Co. vs. Gus A. Fett, $839.89 and $20 costs.

The case of Edna M. Heap vs. Lionel Heap has been argued on two occasions and it is expected Judge Miles will hand down a decision within a short time. He is expected to make a decision in the case of Fred Jonker against H. H. Hillman soon.

BUSINESS GAINS AT LEATHER FACTORY

"Business is picking up," William Hatton, president of the Eagle Ottawa Leather company, largest makers of upholstery leather in the world and Grand Haven's biggest industry, stated yesterday. Mr. Hatton said each month was showing more of a return to normal and that he felt the country was on the road to recovery. The local plant, while not giving all full time employment, now has 460 men on its payroll as against 540 which were employed two years ago during a remarkable business boom. "We have tried to give as many men employment as possible and keep them on during this dull period," Mr. Hatton said. "This has been made possible by our willingness to manufacture where no market is in sight, although now almost our entire output, patent leather, is being disposed of, much of it to foreign countries. China is a big buyer of patent."

The patent leather business has been well developed by us and in an effort to maintain a market in the motor industry, we are catering to exclusive users of front seat leather. This has to be made in a variety of tones," Mr. Hatton explained. "We have even matched the color of a woman's slipper."

Cottages at Highland Park are being pilfered as is usual at this time of year and several have been reported to Sheriff Steketee as having been broken into. Among them is the "Wisconsin," owned by Mrs. Fiel of Milwaukee; the Cooper cottage and the Ben Krause cottage. Nothing of great value seems to be missing save from the Krause cottage, where two rifles were taken.

PASSENGER ON ALABAMA COMMITS SUICIDE TWO MILES FROM PORT

An unidentified man jumped from the Goodrich steamer "Alabama" early Saturday morning when the vessel was about two miles off this port, in what is believed to have been a suicide. The man bought a ticket at Chicago but as he did not purchase a berth his name was not registered.

According to some of the boat crew, he was seen sitting in the salon quietly with others, when he suddenly left for the deck, and one of the crew standing near the lower gangway saw a body drop into the water.

The Alabama was stopped and stood by for about half an hour, while search was made, but no trace of the body was seen. Due to the extreme darkness it was futile to remain longer, said the officers and the boat docked at Grand Haven about 3:45 a. m.

Giant Parade With Floats Friday Night

PEP MEETING AT CARNEGIE WILL FOLLOW TO BOOST HOPE ENTHUSIASM

HOPE TO PLAY OLIVET

October 24 and 25 will be red-letter days at Hope this year, since that is the time of the annual Home-Coming. Olive Peeke, general chairman, reports that the committees in charge of the events are working hard, to make this the best ever, and the hints they give of the program sound as if they would succeed.

The Home-coming begins on Friday night, October 24, with a big parade, the feature of which will be floats made by every society. A valuable prize will be given to the society having the best float, and Elizabeth Arendshort and Gordon Alexander are the committee in charge of the award.

Next the students will assemble in Carnegie Hall for a program and pep meeting before the big game with Olivet Saturday. Cheers, stunts, and speeches will provide entertainment and dispel all doubts as to the reality of Hope Pep. After the mass meeting there will be a bonfire in the "stadium" to bring enthusiasm to a white heat.

Saturday afternoon is the game with Olivet. All the students and floats are asked to meet on 12th Street, near College Avenue, at 1:30 and parade to the football field, where a big section will be reserved for Hopesites. John Meengs and Verne Buhl will lead Hope students and alumni in cheers for victory.

Olive Peeke is general chairman for the Home-coming and is assisted by the following people: Edwin Tellman, Paul Brouwer, Geneva Dogger, John Meengs, Elizabeth Arendshort, Alice Beter, Grace Hudson, Gordon Alexander, and Verne Buhl.

PERE MARQUETTE RAILROAD HANDLES 208 CARLOADS OF FENNIVILLE FRUIT

Fruit shipments from Fennville in September were considerably larger than in the same month last year. The Pere Marquette railroad moved a total of 208 carloads of fresh fruit, including 77 of apples, 72 of peaches, 46 of pears, 4 of plums and 8 of grapes. This compares with 73 cars in September, 1929, representing a gain of nearly 300 per cent. This was the heaviest month in fruit shipping from Fennville in the last five years. The increase is mainly due to the large crop of peaches. This does not include shipments by truck or express.

Hope Alumni To Have Banquet At Hope Church Fri.

This week Friday night at 6:30 the Hope League of Women, captained by Mrs. C. M. McClean, will stage an alumni banquet in honor of our departing and our new presidents. The Hope Alumni Club of Holland City will be in charge of the banquet, to which, it is estimated, over two hundred will attend. All the Holland Alumni, as well as any others who can be present, are cordially invited to attend. The supper will take place in the Hope Church Parlor.

The banquet is given as an expression of loyalty to our former president, Dr. E. Dimment, and of appreciation to our new president, Prof. Winant Wichers.

At a recent meeting the following were elected officers of the Hope Alumni Club:

President—Mr. Neil Vander Meulen.

Vice President—Mr. J. Riemersma.

Secretary—Miss Hazel Albers.

Treasurer—Prof. A. Lampen.

BERAND KAMPS IS OUT FOR REAPPOINTMENT ON OTTAWA ROAD UNIT

Berand Kamps of Zeeland, will be a candidate for reappointment to the Ottawa County road commission at the coming session of the board of supervisors which convenes tomorrow. Kamps is finishing out a six-year term elected to after filling out the unexpired term of D. Bekuis of Zeeland.

There will be opposition to Kamps' appointment as Dr. W. G. Heasley, Zeeland dentist, has announced his candidacy and it is reported two others will be in the field. It has been the custom to appoint commissioners from the north, south and east sections of the county. Mr. Kamps represents that last. William Connelly the north half, and Austin Harrington the southern end.

Aside from the annual budget and state tax appointment there is not much of importance coming before the board.

Holland-Zeeland Men Winner In Target Practice

MANY VIGILANTES AND FRIENDS MAKE A DAY OF IT AT TARGET RANGE

The most successful Vigilantes' shoot of the three annual meets held since its organization was staged at the National Guard Rifle range, Grand Haven, a few days ago, when some 100 representatives from the Ottawa County banks, the sheriff's department and local and state police gathered for trials of marksmanship and instruction.

Only Vigilantes compete for the silver cup offered by the banks of the county and which must be won three times for permanent possession. In the rifle class, Henry Boes, Zeeland, shot 44 out of a possible 50; Lewis Zagers, Jamestown, and Herman Prins, Holland, tied for second place with 42 and Ben H. Lievensse and Henry Holstee, Zeeland, tied for third place with a 38.

In the revolver class Herman Prins, Holland, shot 187 out of a possible 200; Garrett F. Huizenga, Zeeland, shot 183 and Ben H. Lievensse, Holland, 177.

The cups last year were held by G. F. Huizenga, Zeeland, in the rifle class and Herman Prins, Holland, in the revolver class.

Capt. L. A. Webb, U. S. A. instructor in arms, instructed in the revolver shoot and Capt. Victor Colson, commander of Co. F, 126th Inf., M. N. G., in the rifle class. The officers stated the marksmanship of the representatives of the 15 Ottawa County Banks was excellent. A 45 colt revolver was used and a 35-45 Krag army rifle.

About 100 men were present, including the state, county and city officers and the meeting was by far the most successful of any of the previous ones. John J. Lindemulder of the Peoples Bank, is the county chairman and a member of the state council. Due to his efforts interest in the movement has been maintained in the Vigilantes movement and the attendance yesterday manifested it.

The day was ideal for the meeting and after the shooting, refreshments were served.

The Vigilantes movement has been taken up by most of the counties in Michigan and the shoots that are held from time to time keep the men in practice so that when a time comes to defend some institution they are prepared and know how to use a weapon.

Mr. Zoebel, chairman of the Manistee county Vigilantes, accompanied by his wife, was present and made an excellent score. He extended an invitation to the Ottawa county group to attend a shoot in the near future which will be held at Manistee.

INDIA and Its Peoples

By Capt. L. R. Cloud Robinson

A Narrow Escape

THE day the riots broke out in Amritza, in 1918, I happened to be making an inspection of a government fodder factory, one of the many I was responsible for in the Punjab which were engaged in pressing up hay into bales for dispatch to the armies in Mesopotamia and Palestine. As ill luck would have it, the first place visited by the mob of several thousand Indians who gathered intent on the destruction of the white man or his property, was this particular factory.

Fortunately a wall eight or more feet high surrounded the place, and my friendly Indian contractor, as the first sounds of the approaching babel reached our ears, quickly locked and bolted the double entrance gates. Then, greatly agitated, he informed me of the likelihood of attack and the probability of my rapidly approaching doom. Calling one of his coolie laborers, he instructed him to place a ladder against the wall opposite the entrance, and pointed this out to me as my only means of escape and begged me to avail myself of it immediately. I was thankful enough for the precautions he was taking for my welfare, as it prevented the necessity of having to make my own arrangements for possible flight and thus displaying an uneasiness which I was certainly beginning to feel.

I did not at this time know the fanaticism or ruthlessness of an Indian mob, or it is likely I might have decided to leave there and then. I was armed, however, and a good runner, and I felt sure that if my six-shooter proved of no avail, I could easily make my escape. Meanwhile the uproar of the approaching mob had increased until we could hardly hear ourselves speak. There was something inhuman and unearthly in those thousands of wildly clamoring voices in which passion and lack of restraint were given free play. I instructed my loyal contractor, Gopal Das, that if any effort was made to force an entrance, he was to attempt to make himself heard and tell them that the property was his and not the government's.

It was probably only a matter of seconds, though it seemed at the time minutes, after my giving these instructions, that the tumult reached a deafening roar, followed by loud clattering on the gates and demands for entrance. For fully ten minutes Gopal Das attempted to make himself heard. I stood beside him and heard his appeals and his repeated cries of "Byee, Byee, kai apke byee ki bola"—Brothers, brothers, it is your brother who speaks. At length the din subsided sufficiently for his voice to be heard. He told them that the property was his own, that no Suhb was within the walls, and implored them to leave him in peace so eventually they moved on.

I have in my possession letters from my good friend Gopal Das. I believe if necessary, he would have given his life for me that day.

BIG QUESTIONS

Often Become Little Ones

To be "broke" and then to see opportunities ahead is one of the most disheartening situations that a person can "bump up against."

Being "broke" often is the fault of the person who fails to lay by a small portion of his earnings.

Only in isolated cases need anyone be "broke" altogether. Circumstances may arise that make saving impossible, but more often money that might have been saved was squandered—while if saved might save the saver from some trying situations.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Know Jesus.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How Wisdom Depends on Character.

The lesson title is somewhat misleading in that it implies that the insight of Simeon and Anna was due to their purity of heart, whereas it was due to the fact of the indwelling Holy Spirit. Those indwelt by the Spirit will be pure in heart, but not all the pure in heart have such insight.

1. Simeon (Luke 2:25-35.)
1. His character (v. 25).

(1) He was just.

That is, honest and upright in all his dealings with men. We are assured that he was a man trusted by all who knew him. If he were a merchant, his customers got the kind of goods represented with full weight and measure. In spite of the corruption of his time, he did not take advantage of his fellow men in business deals.

(2) Devout.

He was just because he was God-fearing. Many boast of their morality while unwilling to bow their knees to God in prayer.

(3) He looked for the Messiah.

God's word had promised that Christ should come. He believed in the truthfulness of that word. The same word that told of Christ's coming tells of his second coming (Hebrews 9:28). While waiting for the Messiah, he kept faithfully discharging his duty. Intelligent looking for the coming of Jesus Christ means diligence in daily duties, not idly gazing into the heavens.

(4) The Holy Spirit was upon him.

This was the secret of his godly and practical living. The Christ-like life is only possible to those who are filled with the Holy Ghost.

2. His reward (v. 28-29).

The Holy Spirit revealed unto him that he should see the Messiah before he died. At the appointed time the Spirit led him into the temple where Joseph and Mary came to present Jesus to God. Simeon took him in his arms and blessed God. The most important event in every life is to see Christ. One has missed the greatest experience of life if he has not seen Christ.

3. Simeon's song (v. 29-33).

This is the Nunc Dimittis sung by Christians since the Fifth century. A. D. Simeon was now ready to die because he had seen God's salvation. Salvation is in and through Christ's atonement on the cross. No one is ready to die until he has seen God's salvation which was wrought out on Calvary's cross.

4. Simeon's prophecy (v. 34, 35).

(1) The meaning of Christ to the world (v. 34).

Every one is affected by Christ's coming. His presentation to man either results in their salvation or condemnation. There is absolutely no neutral ground. Personal attitude toward him determines all.

(2) He shall be spoken against (v. 34).

This has been fulfilled in every generation since its utterance.

(3) Meaning to Mary (v. 35).

This began to be fulfilled when she was obliged to flee to Egypt in order for Jesus to escape Herod's sword. It was an intimation of what the end would be when she clasped her child to her bosom. Her heart was pierced again and again as human hate swept against her son. Its culmination was reached when she stood before his cross.

11. Anna (Luke 2:36-39).

She was irreproachable. After a married life of only seven years, she had lived as a lonely widow for about eighty-four years, during which time she devoted herself to God. She was what Paul called "a widow indeed" (1 Tim. 5:5). During these long years she endured many trials and temptations, leading a life of self-denial for the sake of others. She was a woman of much prayer.

2. Her testimony (v. 38).

She gave thanks and spoke of him to all who were looking for redemption. She thus had fellowship with others who had this blessed hope. Though surrounded by wickedness, many were looking for the Messiah.

FOOTBALL

HOLLAND AND POLAR BEARS

BATTLE TO 6-6 DEADLOCK

L. F. Jessup, special writer for the Grand Rapids Herald sees the Holland-Creston football game at Riverview park as follows:

Creston's Polar Bears invaded Holland today and made a strong bid for victory by scoring a touchdown early in the second quarter but lost their advantage when the Holland team staged a rallying comeback in the last half tying the score 6 to 6.

Creston opened its aerial attack early in the game and with effective end runs and line plunges carried the ball into the Holland territory where it remained during most of the early part of the game. Creston missed a chance to score in the first quarter when Cameron, right end, muffed a pass within easy distance of the goal line.

The Polar Bears gained their early margin in the second quarter as Thompson, Creston center, grabbed a Holland pass on Holland's 2-yard line. Kunkle carried the ball within inches of the goal in the two successive plays and then Bergstrom broke through his right guard for a touchdown. Unsel's kick was wide and the half ended 6 to 0 for Creston.

Holland Score Thrills

Holland's well won score which evened the honors with the high point of the game. The Creston boys had been finding easy holes in the Holland line and slowing down the Holland backs. Holland just had lost 10 yards as Van Zanden, at quarter was thrown behind his line of scrimmage. Coming back in the next play Van Zanden threw a pass to TeRoller, speedy Holland fullback, who carried the ball 33 yards over the goal line. Holland failed in their attempt at the extra point when Van Zanden was stopped at the line.

Creston gained an early advantage and carried the ball into Holland's danger zone in the first quarter, but failed repeatedly to show the plunges needed to cross the goal. Kunkle found the Holland line easy for small gains but they were too inconsistent for many first downs, Creston making but one first down in the quarter.

Bergstrom made several flashy runs off tackle and around end and was undoubtedly the outstanding player for the Polar Bears. Bricker taking Watrous' place at right half, also was a good ground gainer for Van Wingen's men.

Holland played a listless game during the first half and was baffled when the Creston backfield uncorked a few trick plays and double passes. There were many substitutes in the Holland lineup and the Dutch aggregation went to their bench somewhat disheartened.

Team Takes Heart

But it was a different team which took the field for Holland as the second half opened. The substitutes had been replaced by the regulars who came back with a fighting spirit which was wonderful to behold. The listlessness which permitted the visitors to score in the former period had given way to a spirited determination to win.

TeRoller broke through Creston's line and again for yardage which meant much and Beekman and Van Zanden skirted the ends for consistent gains. The aerial route which Holland tried but once or twice during the early periods was resorted to with effectiveness. While the Holland team failed to complete as many passes as Creston, their passes brought them better gains.

It was a fast but ragged exhibition of football and Holland often made remarkable gains around end or through the air only to lose again by an untimely fumble. As TeRoller caught a punt from Kunkle and was stopped on his own

46-YARD LINE, BECKMAN TOOK THE BALL IN THE NEXT PLAY BUT FUMBLING ON THE PASS FROM CENTER AND WAS THROWN FOR A 22-YARD LOSS. A SIMILAR FUMBLE IN THE FIRST QUARTER FROM THE HOLLAND CENTER COST THE TEAM HEAVILY.

Fumbles Mar Play

Creston, too, made several bad fumbles in the last quarter which probably cost them a needed touchdown. Kunkle fumbled on his 48-yard line late in the last period and Good, Holland left guard, recovered the ball. Beekman followed with a gain at end, but on the next play TeRoller lost the ball on a fumble as he carried the ball around end.

Creston was handicapped with the absence of Cooper, right end, who was on the bench with an injured leg. Vander Veen took his place for his first appearance in a regular game.

Williams played a good game at center when he replaced Simmons late in the game and Bricker, who substituted for Watrous at right-half proved a good ground gainer. Creston showed lack of speed in hitting the line during the final periods of play.

Diekemas Both Heard In City Of Muskegon

OLD AGE PENSION KEEPS THE PEOPLE CONTENTED IN NETHERLANDS

Central Reformed Church Folk Give Luncheon In Their Honor

"To correctly interpret America and American idealism to the Netherlands and the other nations of Europe, that is my sacred duty," said Gerrit J. Diekema, United States minister to the Netherlands, in a public address at Central Reformed church, Muskegon.

Minister Diekema's address centered about his first year experiences in the diplomatic service of the United States.

The European thinks there is no such thing as American idealism. He thinks that we are all money grabbers, worshippers of the almighty dollar. It is for the diplomats of this country to correct this impression. Never has a nation been founded on such great humanitarian principles such as ours, while few nations have been as generous as America in helping the weaker peoples of the earth. Our history is proof of our idealism," the speaker said.

Mr. Diekema then told of his entrance to the high places of the little Dutch kingdom along the Zuider Zee. Through these contacts he hopes to create a greater love and respect among the Dutch for the country which he represents.

Mr. Diekema also told Muskegon folks the story of his meeting the queen with Mrs. Diekema already printed in the News.

Continuing his disclosure Mr. Diekema said: "Next I called a conference with the representatives of 15 leading newspapers in the Netherlands. It always has been my experience that you can trust a newspaper man, that he will respect a confidence and that because of the nature of his profession, he can help you immeasurably in accomplishing what you are trying to do.

"I told these men that if there was anything that they wished to know about America in which I could be of help to them, that the door to the American legation always was open and that they were cordially welcome. I called them 'boys' in my talk to them and the next day in the press of the country had made much of this visit, particularly the fact that these newspaper men, some with gray hair, others with long whiskers, had been called boys.

"The other thing which has helped me to make valuable contacts in the Netherlands has been numerous invitations to speak at public functions. In all of these appearances I have tried to hold high the ideals for which America stands.

"In come respects, particularly in social legislation, the Netherlands is farther advanced than most countries of the world. Her old age pensions and employers insurance are great factors in keeping the people contented.

"Her political system is built upon her religious system. One-third of the population of the Netherlands is of the Catholic faith and these divisions find their way into the houses of parliament. But despite the religious differences, the people live in harmony and peace. They have much of the ancient tolerance which William the Silent taught them years ago, so that in their social relations, they are at peace with one another."

Dr. Diekema was introduced by Rev. Henry Veldman, pastor of Central Reformed church.

An interesting story delightfully told was the informal talk given by Mrs. G. J. Diekema, wife of the United States minister to the Netherlands following Reformed church, Muskegon, recently, the speaker relating some of her experiences during her ten-months' residence in Holland, and describing her first impressions of the country and its people.

"The history of the Netherlands," said Mrs. Diekema, "is a history of courage and enterprise, and all has not yet been written.

"It is not only a quaint European country, whose history goes back for hundreds of years. It is just as progressive and active as is our country, and fairly bristles with buildings.

"The Netherlands is not the Holland expected by the tourist. It is not all lowlands with canals, and windmills and black and white spotted cattle. It has some rolling, wooded lands. Holland is a beautiful little country, and its people are delightful.

"The women of the Netherlands are not so much engaged in church work as the women of America, but there is a Christian Women's Union corresponding to the Federation of Women's clubs in America. There are organized Business and Professional Women's clubs, and there are a few women representatives in the chambers of the Dutch government."

Asked if she had experienced any difficulty from her unfamiliarity with the language, Mrs. Diekema said, "There is really no need to be able to speak the language as all who have had educational opportunities speak English perfectly and at least three other languages.

"However, said Mrs. Diekema, 'the people are much pleased to have a United States Minister who can speak the language without any foreign accent.'"

FIRST CONVICTIONS UNDER DRUNKEN HUNTER LAW

The first two convictions in Michigan for the 1930 season under the "drunken hunter" law adopted by the 1929 legislature were reported to the Lansing office of the Law Enforcement Division of the Conservation Department this week.

The two convicted were Victor Gukaitis and Walter Lapinsky, both of Saginaw, and pleaded guilty to "carrying firearms while under the influence of liquor." They were sentenced to pay fines of $10 each and court costs of $15.20 each. A shotgun was confiscated from each.

Act 25 of the Public Acts of 1929 makes it "unlawful for any person under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any exhilarating or stupefying drug to carry, have in possession or under control, or use in any manner or discharge any firearms within this state." The prescribed penalty for infraction is not more than $100 fine, imprisonment for 90 days or both.

the Netherlands, and can think of no lovelier place to live but of course I love America more."

Mrs. Diekema took issue with a statement reported to have been made by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont after the failure of the International Woman movement "Europe has nothing in common with us."

"Europe is different," she said but in many things it has much to teach us. One of the lessons we may learn from the old world is to take time to reflect, to think, to be happy. We haven't cornered the market on all that is worth knowing."

By request, Mrs. Diekema gave a fine description of the village of Obergammerau, the setting for the Passion Play with the Bavarian Alps as a background, and of the players and their home life.

Dr. Walter Van Saun will preach at Trinity Reformed church Sunday morning and a student from the Western Theological Seminary will make charge of the evening services.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil White, Oaklawn Park, a daughter, Laura Pauline, October 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wiersma of Gary, Indiana, spent a few days in Holland visiting friends and relatives.

COOKING SCHOOL IN ARMORY PROVING GREAT SUCCESS

The greater part of this week a cooking school has been in vogue at the Holland Armory every afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. This school is in charge of Mrs. Dorothy K. Harris, recognized expert in domestic science and home economics.

The last program to be given will be this Friday afternoon and the ladies of Holland and vicinity are urged to be present. The program will deal with special subjects as this relates to cooking and her listeners are privileged to ask any questions relative to cooking they may desire.

All the week Mrs. Harris has been lecturing on domestic science topics, dietetics, home economy, household budgeting and other subjects of interest having to do with household cooking. Many valuable hints can be gained from these lectures and at the same time a very pleasant afternoon can be enjoyed at the Armory and furthermore there is no charge. Comfortable seats have been provided and we understand there is also some prize giving as one of the features of the program.

Mrs. Harris comes under the auspices of the Holland Gas company.

Remember the last lecture is to be given this Friday afternoon from 2 to 4.

George Essenburg, representative of the Holland Gas company, has arranged for the comforts of the guests at the Armory.
