Holland Buys Fair Grounds For Cemetery

COUNCIL VOTES TO GO BACK TO CENTRAL STANDARD
TIME FROM NOV. 1ST TO
APRIL 1ST

Unemployment Committee Will Put Fifty Men to Work On
New City Projects
Monday

The council meeting Wednesday evening was a very eventful one. The city goes back to Central Standard time from November 1st to April 1st. The Holland Merchants Association had a communication on file stating that the entire trading radius around Holland and these neighbors of ours should also be taken into consideration.

The common council also made a very sensible move when it purchased the fairgrounds for cemetery purposes. There was much discussion when this matter came up. Mayor Brooks, who took the floor, calling Alderman Vandenberg to the chair, gave a very plain and reasonable statement why we should acquire the fairgrounds as a cemetery. He stated that it was an ideal location directly grouped with our other cemeteries, that the soil was well adapted for that purpose, that the water pipe and drainage was already in and that Holland's experience had been that cemeteries were self-sustaining and with the very reasonable figure at which the fairgrounds could be acquired, this surely would be true and there was no better time to buy when at the same time it in a measure alleviated the unemployment situation.

Mr. Brooks spoke at some length of other uses that this large plot of ground could be put to besides a cemetery but the main object in purchasing it was first, that the price was unusually reasonable; second, that the land adjacent to other cemeteries; and third, that it would aid the unemployed.

Mayor Brooks stated the park board has sufficient cash on hand to close the deal and that no bond issue would be needed. Bonds of the fair association now held by the banks can be carried by the city, it was brought out. It is estimated that in normal times this property would bring at least double this amount.

Alderman Jonkman stated that the city would save considerable money since main and other conveniences used by the fair association were already laid out on the grounds. He said they might have made a mistake some years ago in buying the airport cemetery but we would make a bigger mistake if we didn't buy this one.

Alderman Thomson, who by the way is a plumber, stated that it would cost the city $10,000 to lay mains to and distribute smaller mains through the so-called airport cemetery, which was not required in the fairground site.

Alderman Huyser backed up his colleague in the first way by stating that it was a timely way and Holland couldn't go wrong on the purchase at this time.

Alderman Veltman stated that he was for buying the fairgrounds when he was on a committee a year ago and he hadn't changed his mind on the proposition.

Alderman Hyma stated that the City of Holland had already made $12,000 at a dollar a load from the muck dirt that was taken from the airport site of 80 acres and this farm was still available for possibly a future city golf course. He was enthusiastically for buying the fairgrounds cemetery.

Alderman Williams, C. Vandenberg said that he needed the fairgrounds first, to help the unemployment situation; second that the board of park and cemeteries had recommended the purchase and third, that if Holland didn't purchase it there was bound to be cemetery competition from private sources, right in our own cemetery district for there were persons ready to purchase it if Holland was not in the market. He stated that the price for which the city could acquire it was about one-fourth of the price it was offered to the Park and Cemetery board some years before and at that time the deal was nearly put over but a delay finally prevented it from passing.

A statement of the condition of the fair association was presented by Ald. Vandenberg and showed total debts to be $37,151.79. This included payable accounts, premiums to be paid, bank indebtedness and other items.

With accounts receivable of $1,332.50, and a bank balance of between $500 and $600 and other liabilities to be eliminated the purchase price will be reduced to about $35,000, it was explained. Other items such as fees for fair directors may be withdrawn to lower the total figure more.

In addition, buildings at the fair grounds can be salvaged for about $5,000, it was estimated. It was said the art hall and grandstand at the site if erected today would cost as much as the entire fair grounds.

After practically all the aldermen had been heard a vote was taken to purchase the fairgrounds which was carried almost unanimously.

The council was in a real estate buying mood for they also purchased for $1,000 a large stretch of swamp land south of the new bridge and west of US31 to Bollen's garage, that will be turned into a park. It is going to be beautified by the city. It will be visible from beautiful. It will be visible from beautiful.

OVERISEL BEGS FOR CENTRAL STANDARD TIME

The News correspondent from Overisel writes "When are you going back to Central Standard Time? We are all anxious to go back to slow time, but we are waiting for Holland."

Well, Holland goes back November 1st.

Car Wheels Pass Over Lad; Lives To Tell About It

ZEELAND BOY HAS MIRACULOUS
ESCAPE WHEN RUN
OVER BY AUTO

An unusual auto accident occurred on the main street of Zeeland a few days ago, the outcome being rather miraculous. The accident occurred opposite the De Bruyn Co. store, when a small boy, Earl Kraai, was struck and run over by an automobile. How the little fellow escaped with his life after two wheels passed over his body is not easy to understand, but he is at this time at his home overcoming the shock rather than the injury.

Mrs. Thomas Kraai, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kossen, residing on the Kossen farm, instead one mile southeast of Zeeland, had come to town to do some shopping, bringing her two small children with her. Having completed her buying she was crossing the street to the parking lot where her car was parked.

She was leading the children over the street when Earl, the five-year-old, broke away and ran directly in the path of an oncoming automobile. The car, a Ford, was driven by Miss Mary Kossen, a cousin of Mrs. Kraai. The lad was bowled over by the fender of the car and then in the fall grasped the bumper and was dragged along a few feet before the car was released his hold, falling directly in the way of the wheels. Both wheels passed over the body of the boy at the hips, but he escaped fatal injury only because the car was light and was traveling very slowly.

The injured lad was immediately taken to Dr. C. E. Boone's office and after a preliminary examination and first aid was given, he was taken to the Zeeland hospital. A thorough examination showed that his bones were broken and that Earl Kraai was suffering from severe bruising. Later developments also proved there had been no internal injury, and his recovery was so rapid that he was permitted to return to his home Monday.

400 FROM HOLLAND ATTEND
S. S. MEET; GEO. SCHULING
AGAIN PRESIDENT

At least 400 from Holland attended the Ottawa County Sunday School convention held in the First Reformed church at Coopersville, reported to be the best yet staged up to this time—1100 participating.

John Vandusluis, veteran leader, was present with a chorus of 85 voices and this group was well received by the convention delegates.

One unusual feature was the presence of delegations from other counties who came as visitors. There were at least 250 from Muskegon, some from Allegan, Kent, and Newaygo counties.

Mr. Anthony Nienhuis of Holland, in his secretary's report showed there are 92 Sunday schools in the county, 1488 teachers and officers, 16,863 scholars and 13,863 scholars and 13,908 as average attendance. Five schools reported increases of 75 teachers and officers, 725 scholars and 805 in average attendance.

Holland is to receive the convention in 1932 as has already been stated in last week's Holland City News.

Ottawa's Health Situation Is Fully Shown

MORE THAN 2000 CHILDREN
GIVEN ANTI-TOXIN; THERE
WERE 102 CASES OF CHICKEN
POX; 25 CANCER
DEATHS

Health Unit Pictures What Has
Been Accomplished; Prevalent
Diseases and Causes of Deaths

The report of the Ottawa county Health unit, which will be presented to the board of supervisors on Monday, October 12, includes the activities of the new department which was started Jan. 1 and tells of the scope of the health organization, showing to what extent the citizens of the county are benefited and protected against disease.

Although disease prevention is considered of first importance in the work of the health unit, the promotion of health by means of stressing health education in the school and in the home is emphasized.

It is the aim of the unit to visit every one of the 130 rural schools in the county about three times a year for the purpose of stressing communicable disease control, proper diet and sanitary inspection of the buildings.

Examination of school children for defects of teeth, tonsils, posture, vision, crippled children, who need correction or any other condition which requires medical attention, is also a part of the work.

There are 15,143 school children in the rural schools and last year 2,032 were given physical examinations.

Improvement in sanitation by inspection of food handling establishments and examination of food handlers; instruction given to expectant mothers by the visiting nurse and later instruction in infant care; tuberculosis preventive work; statistics on numbers of diseases, vital statistics are part of the work of this organization.

With regard to infantile paralysis, there were 17 cases reported since Sept. 1, with three deaths. Serum treatment was given this year for the first time with splendid results in some cases. Seven individuals gave blood for the serum treatment of these cases.

There were 102 cases of chicken pox and 84 cases of measles. No deaths resulted even though measles is considered serious. One hundred fifty cases of scarlet fever were scattered over the county at the time the unit was established. This continued for five months. At present there is only one communicable disease which has an outbreak. There were six cases of smallpox and 1,800 people were vaccinated.

Whooping cough has been prevalent with 42 cases reported and one death. Several infants contracted the disease and were seriously ill for a long time. There were 2,168 children given the diphtheria toxin-antitoxin treatment. Every parent has been given opportunity to have his child protected against diphtheria within the past two years. There were five cases of diphtheria since the first of the year.

Tuberculosis preventive work has been stressed. It has been proved that most of the cases of tuberculosis in adults first became infected in contact with a tuberculosis person in childhood, say the health authorities. These early cases of tuberculosis in children can be discovered by the tuberculin test and X-ray examination. Every one who has lived with a tuberculous individual, especially should be examined, the report continues.

From Jan. 1 to Sept. 1 there were 545 births in Ottawa county and 298 deaths. The following is a list of the ten most important causes of deaths with the number of each.

Cerebral hemorrhage, 40; inflammation and degeneration of heart muscles, 36; cancer, 25; inflammation of heart lining; 27; hardening of arteries of the heart; 17; influenza, 9; automobile accident, 7; other diseases of heart, 6; pneumonia, 5; diabetes, 3.

Instructions are given to expectant mothers by the visiting nurse regarding avoiding certain dangers which accompany this period, also giving instruction on infant care. This work is done in cooperation with the family physician. This work has been done for several years and those who have availed themselves of this service have found it very helpful.

It is the only aim of the Health Unit to be of service to the community in the promotion of health and the prevention of disease. This report has not covered all of the work, but it is meant to acquaint the people with the work that is being done by the Health Unit.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Ben J. De Vries of Zeeland left for Ann Arbor to take another course in dentistry.

Our thanks are due Mr. B. P. Higgins for a copy of a photograph taken of the First Reformed church interior as it was decorated for the memorial services of President Garfield. Note:—Mr. Higgins was Holland's first photographer and the First Reformed church mentioned is now the Ninth Street Chr. Ref. church, the secession taking place a few years later.

Marius Van Putten, blind son of Mr. Jacob Van Putten, is at Lansing school of the blind, where he is studying in that admirable institution. One reads by touching raised letters, it is said.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

F. Oosting is laying a cement walk in front of Peter Brown's saloon on West Eighth Street.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van der Leest, 200 West Eighth Street, a daughter.

Uncle Sam wants mail carriers from West Olive to Port Sheldon and from Macatawa to Castle Park. The extension of the free rural routes has done away with the following star routes in the county: from Vriesland to Beaverdam; from East Holland to Zeeland; from Hudsonville to Getchell; from Macatawa to Holland; from Ventura to West Olive; from Robinson Center, Crisp, North Holland and Noordeloos to Holland; from May to Holland, and from Holland to Graafschap. Every year contracts had to be made with mailsters to take and bring the mail to and from these places but rural delivery changed all this and "star mail contracts" are a thing of the past.

Miss Jennie Verwey, daughter of the late editor Isaac Verwey of De Grondwet died at the age of 11 years.

Miss Lillian Hopkins of Holland won first prize at the Holland Fair popularity contest and Miss Katis Sierma of North Holland was the second winner. President Jacob Lokker was called upon to present the winners to the fair audience and to give them their respective prizes.

Jacob Fliemen, aged smithy and wagon maker, presented the Wesleyan Methodist church with $6000 toward the building and maintenance of such a church. Land has been purchased on West Ninth Street, where a church may be built soon.

At the Holland Merchants Association meeting it was made known that Austin Harrington, one time chairman of the association, has been busy dragging and fixing up the beaches at Pine Lodge and his dredge has been doing some excellent work, taking out the weeds and making a fine beach. He donated his services and the use of his equipment for that purpose rather than charge that worthwhile association more than $200 which such a job would cost.

The Holland Merchants Association feels very kindly towards Pine Lodge, believing it a summer place for moral uplift especially for the youth. It was found that at least 90 per cent of those who come to Pine Lodge come from the outside and that the work of the great men back of the organization is given gratis.

Pine Lodge has had a hard struggle but it is evident that most of the support came from the outside and Holland was getting not only the benefits derived from its being here but the advertising along that such an institution brings.

Austin Harrington, Fred Beeuwkes, Henry Brink, Jack Lokker, Cornell Dornbos, John Van Tatenhoue and B. A. Mulder spoke in favor of a future donation for the lodge.

The merchants assured Charles A. Gross, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, of their full cooperation in preparation for and conduct of the Farmers' institute to be held here in December. The institute last year drew more than 1,500 rural residents into the city for the day.

It was agreed that the merchants will assist this year, as they did at the session last year, in serving the farmers at noon.

Austin Harrington, member of the board of the Great Lakes Harbor association, told of the work to be done on the north breakwater at Ottawa beach, the provision for a signal light and the dredging of a turning basin near the Goodrich docks.

The condition of the credit bureau here was disclosed in reports made by Carl Shaw, in charge of the bureau. Mr. Shaw was given a vote of thanks for so thoroughly and ably reorganizing the bureau. Others who helped materially are Milo De Vries, Andrew Du Mes, Fred Beeuwkes, Kenneth De Pree, Wm. Deur, Jim Klomprens, Wm. Vissers, Fred Meyers, of Holland, and Jack Boonstra of Zeeland.

Plans for a uniform display on Eighth street and River avenue during the Christmas holidays will be considered at the next meeting in November when local nurses men will be asked to be present to present suggestions.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Rush orders have compelled the Holland Furnace Company to build a large foundry which must be completed in 40 days. The new addition will be 60 by 230 feet. At present the company is 800 furnaces behind on orders.

Thomas Olinger has started what will be known as the new Holland Pattern Works in the building known as the old Wire Fence Factory, north of the Holland Furnace Co. plant. The new enterprise is capitalized at $5,000. Note:—The News at that time devoted a column to the possibilities of such a plant and the Hart and Cooley Plant on East Eighth Street has been the outgrowth of this modest beginning, started by Thomas Olinger.

Miss Lavina Cappon has accepted a position in the office of the Harrington Coal Co.

Joe Koolker, manager of the chain of jewelry stores has gone to Muskegon to open another one at 16 Jefferson Ave.

James Klomprens, living on W. 32nd Street, while riding near the foot ball field on 19th Street, was run over by a horse and buggy and although the wheel rolled right over the young man, no serious injuries resulted aside from bruises.

Dick Boter celebrated his 34th birthday anniversary Monday. Note:—His 49th is now due. Congratulations.

Frank Dyke will move his family to Jackson, Mich., where his firm, Dyke, Jonkman & Co., are building some large schools. Jackson folks inspected Holland's new High School and liked it. This was built by Mr. Dyke and Mr. Oosting.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Brooks, at the home of Mrs. Brooks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Walsh, Tuesday, a son.

The stork has made several visits to Holland during the week. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Dekker, W. 11th Street, a daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mouw, Columbia Ave., a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Althuis, West 15th St., a daughter.

Candidates Charles Misner, of Grand Haven, and Fred T. Miles, of Holland, are the fortunate ones in the recent primary election for prosecuting attorney of Ottawa County. Mr. Misner was the choice of both the Democrats and the Socialists, and Fred Miles of both the Republicans and the Prohibitionists. Note:—On election day however, Miles won over Misner by a large vote.

He vividly remembers the fire on October 8, 1871. He said that in Graafschap 15 houses were burned, that the fire swept into Holland on a Sunday afternoon. Everyone worked in the swamp south of Holland to see if the fire could be stopped there but the bog was dried out and the summer grass burned like a prairie fire. From there Mr. Boven relates much of the fire history printed in the Holland City News so often before—namely that it blew into the city from the swamp burning some small buildings.

Church, then burning the church, sweeping down Pine ave. in a north-easterly direction taking nearly everything in its path between Pine ave. and what is now College ave., stopping at the site of what is now the Holland Theatre and burning itself out at the big swamp north of the city, about where Holland's lighting plant is now located. One old lady was burned to death, a Mrs. Tolk, who lived in a little cottage on the north side of West Ninth st., a few doors east of Pine ave.

And by the way today, Friday, was the sixtieth anniversary of the great Holland fire and this we can also say for the city of Chicago, when Mrs. O'Lary's cow kicked over the lantern which started the straw that fired the barn in a Chicago alley that consumed the greater part of that great city besides costing many lives.

"When Gillette approached you a man of your age, to plan the details of the crime it is my opinion that the robbery would never have occurred if you had discouraged Gillette."

"As there was no direct evidence of a previous bargain between you and Gillette as Gillette was not called to testify, the jury found you guilty of the second part of the charge, 'receiving stolen goods' and under the statute of the law the limit of imprisonment is five years."

He pointed to the sentence as being but one-half the penalty the boys were to endure. Should the supreme court affirm the decision of the local court the sentence today would take effect.

John C. Behm, Grand Haven township, was sentenced to the Reformatory at Ionia prison for 15 months to four years and $100 fine for violation of the liquor law, second offense.

Jacob Vander Schraaf, Holland, was sentenced one year to four years on Ionia and given a fine of $200 and costs of $25 for violation of the liquor law.

The case has been appealed to the supreme court and the judge placed the respondent under $500 bonds.

The calendar for the October term of circuit court of Allegan to be convened by Judge Fred T. Miles Monday, lists 85 cases. There are 10 criminal cases and 12 jury law cases. Six non-jury cases are listed and four law cases in which no progress has been made are to be disposed of.

Twenty-five contested chancery cases are listed, 15 being divorce cases. There are 11 non-contested chancery cases, 7 for divorce.

Tom Boven, the veteran carpenter, living at 151 West 14th St., who for many years was employed at the Scott-Lagers Lumber Co., was in a reminiscent mood the other day and told something about himself, of Graafschap, of Holland and the Holland fire.

Mr. Boven was born on April 24, 1849, two years after Dr. Van Raalte arrived. Like Abraham Lincoln he was born in a log house, on the hill at Graafschap. His parents came here on a sail boat, taking weeks and weeks to come across the Atlantic. The father came from Groningen and the mother from Drenthe, Netherlands.

Mr. Boven has the distinction of being the first white child born in Graafschap, Michigan.

The parents of Mr. Boven were married in the old log church then located on the site now occupied by Pilgrim Home cemetery. The marriage was performed by Dr. Van Raalte, founder of Holland, and believe us they didn't take an automobile back to their home but walked from Holland to Graafschap after the knot was tied. They were compelled to come to Holland to get married since there was no church in the little settlement of Graafschap.

Mr. Boven lived in a log house for 17 years and as a young lad of 14 he learned the carpenter trade. When he was 17 he had built the frame house in which they lived, at Graafschap. Most of the early settlers lived in log or bark houses. They weren't so particular in those days. Mr. Boven stated. There were few carpenters and most the farmers built their own houses and barns. The barn generally was built first.

Mr. Boven stated that in the last 80 years he had seen many changes. He said he drove the ox team, the horse, the lumber wagon and the buggy; rode a bicycle, but believes he could manage an automobile if given half a chance.

He stated that a great deal of the way between Holland and Graafschap was a swamp in 1871. He stated that where Holland hospital now stands on the brow of the hill was a wilderness and from the foot of the hill to 16th st. was a big swamp filled with water and undergrowth. Farmers had to drag logs and sand to make a passable road from 16th and Pine sts. to Hospital hill so the horses and the ox teams could go to Graafschap and Fillmore from the Holland colony. Ditches had to be dug so the water would not overflow the road bed which often happened in the spring and many times the road had to be rebuilt.

Mr. Boven lived in Graafschap for 42 years and then came to Holland.

He vividly remembers the fire on October 8, 1871. He said that in Graafschap 15 houses were burned, that the fire swept into Holland on a Sunday afternoon. Everyone worked in the swamp south of Holland to see if the fire could be stopped there but the bog was dried out and the summer grass burned like a prairie fire. WRECKED P. M. ENGINE TAKEN TO YARDS AT WAVERLY

A. D. Ross of Grand Rapids and Largo Glimmer of Muskegon, engineer and fireman, respectively, of a south-bound Pere Marquette passenger train escaped serious injury last night by jumping when a drive shaft broke loose and tore the locomotive cab apart near Grand Haven. The train was the midnight passenger south and the accident happened about five miles south of Grand Haven. The locomotive and cars stayed on the track. But little time was lost as a locomotive was brought down from the Waverly yards to replace the damaged engine. The damaged locomotive was taken to the Waverly yards and a crew was sent this morning to pick up the wreckage.

FOUND DEAD IN BED ON HIS BIRTH- DAY ANNIVERSARY

Albert Northuis of Zeeland died suddenly Friday. A quiet celebration by relatives was held at the home the night before, commemorating his 55th birthday anniversary which was to follow the next day, but the next morning he was found dead in bed by his daughter who went to awaken him. Two years ago he lost his wife and he had been in poor health ever since. He is survived by one son, Bert Northuis of Grand Rapids; and four daughters, Mrs. Antoinette Vanden Heuvel and Mrs. Fanny Looksee of Zeeland, and the Misses Henrietta and Angelina Northuis at home besides seven grandchildren. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Anna Dornbos of Zeeland, Michigan, and four brothers, Gerrit Northuis and John Northuis of Zeeland; Henry Northuis of Grand Rapids; and William Northuis of Allegan.

The funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at the home on West Central Avenue and at the First Chr. Reformed Church, the Rev. Wm. Kok officiating, and burial took place in Zeeland Cemetery.

SHERIFF STEKETEE SEEKS MISSING GIRL

Ottawa sheriff's officers requested Muskegon police to aid in the search for Josephine DePaul, 12, who disappeared from Grand Haven and has not been seen since. Officers said she was wearing a white dress, trimmed in green and figured in red. She also wore high, brown shoes.

HOLLAND MERCHANTS UNANIMOUS FOR CENTRAL STANDARD TIME

The Holland Merchants Association at its first meeting after the long vacation, voted unanimously to turn back to Central Standard Time for the fall and winter months, and the secretary was instructed to send a communication to the common council, the import of which is given below:

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Holland.

Gentlemen: At a meeting of the Holland Merchants Association the matter of changing back to Central Standard Time was thoroughly discussed by a large group of merchants present and through a vote it was unanimously decided that the wish of the organization is to go back to Central Standard Time for the winter months—the time that has been in vogue for the past number of years.

Practically Holland's entire trading radius has already gone back to Central Standard Time including Saugatuck, Douglas, Fennville and Hamilton as well as the rural districts. It is imperative, we understand, that the rural schools follow Central Standard Time even more so than the city school since the pupils must come from a distance and for that reason the country clock is already on Central Standard Time.

We, through this communication, state our position and hope that you may give it your earnest consideration.

Holland Merchants Association.
C. Dornbos, President.
Charles Van Zyl, Secretary.

Those who spoke in favor of Central Standard Time were Austin Harrington, Jacob Lokker, John Van Tatenhoue, Fred Beeuwkes, C. Dornbos, Charles Van Zyl, and Ben Mulder.

The tentative budget for 1932 contemplated bituminous treatment of roads through numerous villages, an item which would have cost $20,000. This was stricken out to bring the budget within the amount of last year.

There has been a noticeable decrease in the amounts spent in the county

October.

Roads Versus Doles

It is generally believed in America that the only feasible cure for the unemployment problem is to provide jobs — and not doles. The experience of England, riddled with debt largely because of its out-of-work pensions has not been missed by thinking citizens of this country. Stimulated public works on the part of the states is being advocated on all sides. Foremost among such activities is the building of roads. In many cases eighty cents of the road dollar goes to labor, which most needs it, and building materials are extremely cheap at the present time.

As a consequence, a number of states are planning intensive road programs for the winter. Few localities have sufficient improved road mileage. We have developed great trunk highways between main centers of population — while, for the most part, five or ten miles away, in farming areas, roads are subject to the vagaries of weather and the seasons.

It may be that more good feeder roads will be a prime factor in alleviating the need for an American dole. And every dollar we spend on them now will produce many dollars in the form of more efficient transport, easier disposal of farm produce and similar benefits.

THE ONLY WAY TO PROSPERITY.

We are pleased to state that the brightest "silver lining" shining through the clouds of stress has been proposed by President Hoover and has been fostered, we are glad to say, by our own United States Senator, Arthur Vandenberg, who has been in Washington to help bring this about.

It is proposed by President Hoover that the banking resources of this country be mobilized and that the bankers of the nation subscribe thereto a half billion dollars to be used to start the wheels of industry going again. The New York banks have already subscribed more than a fourth of that amount and it is understood that the balance is in sight coming from the big city centers of the nation.

The purpose of the comprehensive banking measures proposed by Mr. Hoover is to get more of the money with which this country is abundantly supplied into action. The country does not lack money. The trouble is that the money it has is not circulating properly. One reason for this is that many people are hoarding their earnings. Another is that banks in some districts are compelled to keep their resources unnecessarily liquid in order to protect themselves against uncalculated withdrawals. A third reason is that still other institutions find themselves holding the best of collateral which is perfectly sound, but cannot be liquidated at once. As a result of all these factors credit is restricted and recovery delayed. Hoover's plan alleviates all this.

The first steps by which Mr. Hoover proposes to unlock the country's capital and start it again flowing through the veins of industry are the formation of a powerful private banking corporation, which shall ease the pressure on other banks; and the encouragement of Federal Reserve Banks to co-operate with this corporation in extending any assistance they can to closed banks on the security of the latter's assets.

As more permanent remedies for credit stringency, Mr. Hoover will recommend to Congress that Government subscription of capital stock to the Federal Land Banks be enlarged, as a means of aiding agriculture; and that the Federal Reserve law be liberalized in order to make additional classes of paper eligible for rediscount by Federal Reserve Banks.

The approval Mr. Hoover's proposals have received from leading bankers indicates that they point in the right direction. They cannot restore normal conditions overnight; but if they start the ball of confidence rolling they will ultimately bring back an enlivened industrial production, which will absorb the country's unemployed.

The $500,000,000 credit corporation proposed by President Hoover to free pennied-up assets is expected by federal officials soon to be functioning.

While New York bankers today worked out details of the plan with a view to having it in shape by the end of this week, treasury officials expressed confidence of success.

NEW AND TRIUMPHANT DAY: SEN. VANDENBERG

Washington, Oct. 7.—Following his participation in the White House conference last night, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, said today:

"The president's immediate program is a magnificent and thrilling challenge to the confidence of America. Unpartisan support gives it added authority. The impregnable credit and banking resources of the land will not mobilize invincibly. While details remain for legislation, this program answers the urgent hopes which we have had in Michigan respecting the whole situation. We approach a new and triumphant day."

BANKERS GIVE APPROVAL TO HOOVER PLAN

The American Bankers' association today voted approval of President Hoover's plan for a $500,000,000 bankers' pool to mobilize the nation's frozen credit.

"We heartily approve of the plan of the President of the United States under which a $500,000,000 bank pool is being created for the purpose of meeting the discount demands of bankers who find it advisable in supplying the needs of the public to obtain funds from collateral of a character, which though sound, is not eligible for rediscount directly or indirectly with the federal reserve banks.

"The operation of this pool, which should be available for use by all sound banks, both state and national, should immediately remove the restriction upon credit throughout the United States that has been the cause of so much anxiety to bankers and the public and should serve to re-establish confidence through the length and breadth of this country."

Wisconsin Christmas Tree Law Aids Santa

STATUTE AIMED AT BOOTLEG- GERS OF SPRUCE FROM PRIVATE FORESTED SECTIONS

Although it's a long time until Christmas, Santa Claus has been advised by the State of Wisconsin that his regular business in Christmas trees is going to be helped this year.

Wisconsin has passed what is known as the "Christmas tree law" which is aimed at those undesirable individuals who bootleg small spruces and balsams which have been stolen from private lands.

The conservation commission of Wisconsin believes that this new law is going to prove a powerful factor in reducing the raids of the tree cutters on private property and, of course, elimination of this procedure in the Christmas tree business is bound to help Santa Claus, who gets his trees from American homes by open and above-board buying in the north country.

The new law provides that no one may remove trees, branches, or any parts of trees from lands without the written permission of the owner of the land.

In the past, the conservation commission points out, there has been a large illicit Christmas tree racket throughout the central and northern parts of Wisconsin. It has been the practice for certain individuals to drive trucks through forested sections of the state and cut small evergreens wherever there was no one to stop them.

Now Christmas tree dealers must be licensed, which should further cut down the theft of evergreens around the holidays. The cutting of small spruces and balsams has become quite a problem in recent years because the ax vandals did not always pick on stands of timber which should be thinned out and thus yield a crop of Christmas trees. On the contrary, they sometimes stripped areas where the young trees should have been left.

While Santa Claus is being notified of this new law designed to put his Christmas tree business on high ethical standards, E. W. Tinker, United States district forester of the Great Lakes district, comes out with the announcement that he has 10,000,000 young evergreens growing in the new government nursery not far from Rhinelander, Wis., so that there are replacements ahead for the young trees which are taken each fall and for cutovers lands which need to grow more trees.

This nursery has been started since the establishment of the Argonne National Forest east of Three Lakes, and other national forest units in Wisconsin. From this "tree factory" millions of pines, spruces, balsams and other conifers will be taken each year and planted on denuded lands.

CATS THAT REVERT TO WILD STATE

Cats allowed to roam at large in camping grounds are apt to be a nuisance to people, in addition to being decidedly destructive to smaller species of wild life. Several instances of this nature have been noted recently at Michigan inland lake resorts.

A family of campers had two female cats with young. In spite of the fact that the animals were apparently well fed, they immediately reverted to the natural wild state, in respect to stalking birds and small animals.

One cat, a tortoise-shell color and very small as cats go, proved especially destructive. In one day, a short time before its owner destroyed it, this animal killed one full-grown blackbird and two striped chipmunks and brought them to camp. Its diminutive size seemed to be an advantage, enabling it to stalk through the grass with ease.

This particular cat tried for days to capture a fox squirrel, but the bushy tailed chattering was a little too quick and fast. The chipmunks proved easier victims, and after fastening the killing in its proper place the owner was soon persuaded to destroy the feline.

The question of game destruction by semi-wild house cats has received considerable publicity. Generally it is conceded that these cats are ill-fed or forced to forage for themselves. But in the cases above-mentioned, where cats leave good fresh milk and meat scraps from the table to deliberately seek wild birds and animals, we have proof positive of their destructive powers.

A very happy occasion for Mrs. A. De Haan of Zeeland was the celebration of her seventieth birthday anniversary, when she was the guest of honor at the home of her children, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bontekoe, Holland.

Those of the family present were Mr. and Mrs. L. Agon and Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Haas of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Terry of Kalamazoo, Mr. and Mrs. A. Van Kampen and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bontekoe of Holland. The time was very happily spent in a sociable way which included a two-course luncheon served by the hostess. Mrs. De Haan was the recipient of many lovely gifts.—Zeeland Record.

STEFFENS BROS. CELEBRATES 26TH ANNIVERSARY

Steffens Bros., located at 288 W. Fourteenth street, Holland, Michigan, will celebrate the 26th anniversary of the establishment of their business next week. It was rather unique that the firm started on Friday, October the 13th, 26 years ago and success rather than ill-luck have followed them all through these years.

Ben and George are not of a superstitious nature and everyone in Holland knows that it was through dint of hard work and the accommodation of customers always that brought them this success.

They are celebrating the event by putting on a gigantic sale, showing a carload of food-stuffs that they are putting on sale. This sale starts Tuesday and continues throughout the week until late Saturday night. Steffens Bros. have a surprise for the ladies and it would be well to call to find out what it is.

STATE PEARL BEDS SMALL

Have Never Produced Any Wealth

Michigan's "pearl fisheries" have never been known for their wealth, but there are scores of men working along the streams of the southern peninsula who have a constant hope of making the "big catch."

According to the Department of Conservation, which has supervision over the mussel industry of the State, scores of persons who purchase licenses to take clams do so primarily with the hope of obtaining pearls. Some clambers have that same hope of a "big find" that a gold miner has when he pans a stream.

No pearls of any great importance are known to have ever been taken from Michigan waters, although numerous small pearls are taken every year. It was recently reported that one clammer received $100 for a pearl taken from Grand River. This is probably a record for recent years.

"Slugs," formless pearl formations, are taken in fair quantities. Clammers receive from $2 to $4 an ounce for slugs, but few report more than 20 ounces for a season.

Sheriff Andrew Schertel of Mt. Pleasant arrested Henry Vanderbush of Holland for disturbing the peace on the farm of Sherman Johnson, father of Vanderbush's wife. Vanderbush recently had been acquitted on a charge of attempted assault and battery brought against him by his wife, in which she claimed her husband endeavored to run her down with an automobile, chasing her all over the lot.

FREE COUNTY NURSE OFFERED ALLEGAN COUNTY

A county health nurse has been offered Allegan County by the Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek in connection with the State Department of Health. Announcement of this was made today by Mrs. Helen de Spelder Moore, of the State Department.

The salary of the nurse and all expenses will be paid by the Kellogg Foundation and the state, provided the offer is accepted by supervisors. The Kellogg Foundation is planning a 10 or 15-year children's health program and it is expected that this service will be provided Allegan County free for at least this length of time, Mrs. Moore says.

Allegan County dispensed with a County nurse six years ago.

How to Keep Minnows Longer

Minnows can be preserved for a long period for bait purposes through the use of a small quantity of formalin, says a bulletin received by the Fish Division of the Department of Conservation from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Minnows placed in a tightly closed jar containing a solution of one part of formalin to 29 parts of water and kept in a dark place will retain their form and color for a long time, the report says. A few drops of oil of rosin placed in the jar before the minnows are to be used will remove the odor of the formalin. The oil is also said to be attractive to fish.

The bulletin also makes a suggestion for keeping and rearing worms for bait. "Earthworms multiply by producing eggs which are laid in capsules in the ground. The young become fully grown in four or five months. One method of culture is to sink into the soil in some shady spot a box of suitable size, usually not more than 18 inches deep and of any desirable width. The top of the box should be made hinged, or removable, and placed from 2 to 3 inches below the surface of the surrounding soil.

"This box should be nearly filled with rich, dark loam which should be kept quite moist, but not wet, as too much water will quickly kill earthworms."

The worms may then be collected and placed in this box, and may or may not be covered with a layer of green sod. Molasses spread on one side of a gunny sack, which is then laid on the surface of the ground with the sticky side downward and the back of the bag sprinkled with water has been used successfully and crumbled hardboiled eggs have also been used as food.

TALK ON INDIA MUCH ENJOYED AT THE LITERARY CLUB MEETING

The Woman's Literary Club held its initial meeting Tuesday noon with a luncheon at Warm Friend Tavern. About 150 members and guests were present. Mrs. Jay Den Herder, president of the club, presided at the meeting. Mrs. James Wayer gave the invocation after which the guests enjoyed a delicious luncheon in the dining room.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Den Herder introduced the speaker, Mrs. Frederick B. Fisher of Ann Arbor, wife of Dr. Fisher, who for many years was Bishop of the Calcutta area in India. Both Dr. and Mrs. Fisher are friends of Mahatma and Madame Gandhi.

Mrs. Fisher gave an interesting view of India as a whole, the India of 320 millions of people, living in an area less than half of the United States, a country of 48 basic languages and 434 dialects, where each locality speaks a different language, wears different clothing and worships with a different religion. The climate varies from the great heat of the low lands to the intense cold of the Himalayas, she said.

Mrs. Fisher stated that India was becoming modern and youth was beginning to dominate there as well as elsewhere in the world.

Women are also taking an active part in India.

Mrs. Fisher stated further that Madame Gandhi, who has had little publicity, was an active leader among the women. She has been loyal to her husband and accompanied him on most of his missions. Madame Gandhi is greatly loved and has a great following, she stated. Besides interesting stories and tales, Mrs. Fisher drew pleasing sketches of the higher educated and cultured classes of the Gandhi country.

The guests present enjoyed the fine program given through the efforts of the following committees: Mrs. James Osewaarde and Mrs. George Vande Riet who had charge of arrangements; Mrs. Ransom Everett, Mrs. Earnest Brook and Miss Ann Visscher, for the decorations, and Mrs. Paul McLean, Mrs. Lloyd Heasley, Mrs. H. F. Covell and Mrs. H. E. Dunn, who had charge of the tickets.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lacey and daughter, Sarah, who have been spending the past five months at their cottage at Virginia Park, have returned to their home in the city. Miss Lacey will resume her class in piano and the photo studio will again be open evenings.

The local fire department was called out Sunday evening to the residence of Sylvester Zych, 54 W. First street. The garage at the rear of the home was slightly damaged by flame. It is believed the fire was caused by children playing in the garage.

Peter J. Bontekoe, Holland patrolman kidnapped driven 14 miles out of that city and tied to a tree by three men last March, has written the city manager seeking the city's standing reward of $100 for information leading to capture and conviction of armed robbers. Bontekoe writes that the trio that abducted him participated the following night in the robbery on an Emerald ave. grocery and that their subsequent arrest was predicated upon a piece of paper found in a satchel which was fished out of the river by a boy. Bontekoe is willing to share the reward with the boy, his letter states.—Grand Rapids Herald.

The Christian Endeavor meeting at Fourth Reformed church was opened with a song service Sunday evening. Miss Janet DeWitt gave an interesting talk on the topic "What Jesus Teaches About Obedience." Special music was given by Louis Jalling with Miss Jean Rottschaefer at the piano. Rev. H. Van Dyke, pastor of the church, made a few remarks. Everyone present took an active part in the meeting. George Schuiling will lead Sunday evening on the topic, "What is Expected of Us as Good Citizens."

HISTORIC GRAND HAVEN AND OTTAWA COUNTY

WHAT

Grand Rapids Herald Says:

GRAND HAVEN'S HISTORY
Leo C. Lillie's "Historic Grand Haven and Ottawa County" is just off the presses. It is an extensive volume which will call for more complete review; but first casual scrutiny invites commendation. Mr. Lillie has given Grand Haven something of which it should be proud. He has taken the rich romance and tradition of the lower Grand river valley and woven it into an interesting and comprehensive story of western Michigan's history.

Providing a background for his story, the author first surveys the whole story of the discovery and settlement of North America from the era of the Norsemen down through the British and French excursions into the Lake regions. From this beginning, Mr. Lillie plunges with a confident pen and understanding knowledge into the local history of his own community. Its beginning as the headquarters for the 20 trading posts of the American Fur company, its growth through the early pioneering years when Rev. William M. Ferry of French ancestry and the Scotchman, Robert Stuart, were leaders, and its prosperity as a lumber town, lake port and industrial center follow.

From the pioneering period of the first ferry down to the present is a period of nearly 100 years. Saw mills and shingle mills followed the trading posts. Sailing schooners succeeded the Indian canoes. And then, finally, the lumber industries gave way to the present sound prosperity of Grand Haven with steamships pushing the last of the schooners into oblivion.

Mr. Lillie has omitted no detail of romance or value. He has labored with care and has produced a well-written book that has an interest not only for Grand Haven, but for all western Michigan. Grand Rapids may note with regret that it has nothing in its libraries comparable to the Lillie Book.

US31, and comprises a strip of land 600 ft. by 300 ft. and 700 feet along the river line back to the new bridge.

Now here is where the employment committee, consisting of Aldermen Vandenberg, Kleis and Prins come in. Monday morning they will have 25 men working on the new cemetery plat at the fairgrounds and 25 more on the new bridge park site. The idea is to start the filling, preparatory to the work and after that work is done it will be turned over to the Park Board to have it beautified and how beautiful John VanBragt and his staff can make these places is evident in all our parks. Possibly an imported windmill right from the Netherlands may grace the banks of Black River.

Another change proposed in Pilgrim Home Cemetery is doing away with the sandy paths and putting these all to grass. Cemeteries generally have only drives and do away with dusty by-paths.

The section put to cemetery purposes at the fair grounds will be the strip from the Holland township cemetery west to nearly the fairground gates and about as far as the cemetery extends in that direction. That will be ample for a start.

There is also some talk of acquiring the Holland Township cemetery just across from Pilgrim Home cemetery placing the whole under one management. It is understood that the Holland township cemetery board is willing to do this.

These and a great many other matters are officially given by City Clerk Oscar Peterson as shown below.

The Council then resumed the regular order of business.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Marriage license applications have been received from Meredith Isaac 21, Muskegon, and Vera Welch, 16, of Grand Haven; Justin Tanis, 27, of Zeeland, and Gertrude Allen, 24, of Detroit; and Henry Alderink, 33, of Allendale, and Helen Poelstra, 31, of Grand Rapids.

Fruit Pest Wise to Spray Won't Be Poisoned

John H. Crane of Fennville has discovered the reason why there are so many worms or stung apples this year. With a powerful magnifying glass he and his son watched newly hatched codling moths and noticed that, before they began to eat, they cleared away the spray coating and then attacked the skin of the apple. This looks as though there can be no rest for fruit growers. When the bugs and worms become so well educated that they refuse to be poisoned, fruit growers will have to resort to more drastic methods—maybe lay salt on their tails.

MISS CLARA B. WALKER IS DROWNED—BELIEVED HEART ATTACK VICTIM

Miss Clara B. Walker, 22, of Grand Rapids, was drowned in about 3 feet of water while swimming with a girl friend at Macatawa park last Saturday afternoon. The body was recovered within a few minutes after she sank, but efforts to resuscitate by Holland coast guards were without avail. Corner Gilbert VaneWater expressed belief the girl suffered a heart attack.

Miss Walker, with her mother, Mrs. Bertha O. Walker, and the friend, Miss Ruth Frohman, of Paw Paw, a guest of the Walkers, went to Macatawa to close the Walker cottage for the season.

Miss Frohman said she and Miss Walker went into the water shortly before 4 p. m. While wading in a spot where the lake barely came to their waists, Miss Walker suddenly collapsed and sank beneath the surface, she said.

A lifelong resident of Grand Rapids, Miss Walker was graduated from Catholic Central high school in 1929. Besides the mother she leaves two sisters, Mrs. Marian Sebring of Los Angeles, and Blanche, at home, and a brother, Fred, of Los Angeles.

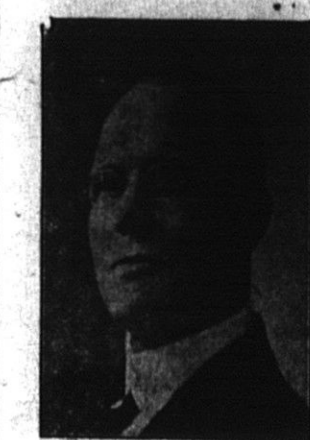

Mr. and Mrs. David Slavin of Big Rapids spent the week-end visiting friends and relatives here.

Never Too Old to Learn Thinks Ottawa Doctor

DR. EDWARD HOFMA, 72, TAKES COURSE AT WESTERN STATE; WAS WITH WELLMAN ON POLAR TRIP IN '98-'99

Denied the full opportunities he sought as a youth because of financial limitations, Dr. Edward Hofma, 72—practicing physician at Grand Haven and Spring Lake the past 50 years and a former state senator, is a student at Western State Teachers College where he is taking courses in botany and literary interpretation.

Dr. Hofma, who is a world traveler of note, will accompany students on a botanical field trip after the summer season. Next winter he will enroll in extension classes to continue his work toward a bachelor of art degree. He has his professional M. D. degree from the University of Michigan, where he was graduated in 1884. For three years prior to his entrance to the University he was at Hope College.

Dr. Hofma also is a Michigan graduate in medicine. Dr. Hofma was one of the four American members of the expedition to the North Pole led by Walter Wellman in 1898 and 1899. In 1923 and 1924 he made a trip around the world.

A man of many hobbies, Dr. Hofma's particular interest now is botany. He grows Christmas trees for enjoyment, and has a 10-acre fir plot in Grand Haven.

Dr. Hofma joined the Wellman expedition through his interest in the type of sleds proposed for the polar trip. He wrote to Wellman about them and a meeting in Chicago resulted in an invitation to Dr. Hofma to join the trip. He was the last to join the party of five Norwegians and four Americans at Fridtjof.

The doctor recalls among other events on his polar expedition a swim in the White Sea July 4. He viewed a party of exiles to Siberia and at that time described them as a happy lot.

DOLLAR PURCHASING POWER UP TO $1.64

Clothing Costs Now 78.2 P. C. of Normal, Data Shows

For the past three months the American dollar has been worth more in purchasing power than at any time since the war, the national industrial conference board announced today.

Necessaries and average luxuries that normally cost $1.64 may be purchased now for an even dollar, the statisticians reported. When the drop occurred in the stock market in October, 1929, the cost of commodities began to decrease, while the buying power of the dollar, accordingly, began to go up, and reached its present peak in June, 1931.

The statisticians took 1923 as the normal year and figuring on that basis clothing now costs 78.2 per cent of normal; food 81.9 per cent; housing 81.5 per cent; fuel and light 89.6 per cent; and sundries 95.5 per cent. In October, 1929, retail food prices averaged 110.1 per cent of normal; housing, 92.3 per cent; clothing 96.6 per cent; fuel and light 93.1 per cent and sundries 98.3 per cent.

The members of the Faithful Workers Class of Central Avenue Christian Reformed church met last week Friday evening at the home of Miss Henrietta Bredeweg. A pleasant evening was enjoyed and refreshments were served. Miss Ruth Elgersma was elected secretary and Miss Sadie Zuidema was elected treasurer of the class.

Hinkamp, professor of Bible and Biblical literature at Hope College, is one of four sons to share in the $20,000 estate left by their mother, Mrs. Aletta Hinkamp, who died recently in Milwaukee. Rev. Herman J. Potter and Mrs. Anna Potter TerKeurst, both of this city, are numbered among the children of Rev. Herman Potter, who died a few days ago in Oregon, Ill., to share in a $25,000 estate.

SOME FREAK POTATOES

Allagan Gazette—In the Gazette office window may be seen a lot of potatoes closely growing on a single stem. The latter is about the diameter of a lead pencil and is a second growth, one which started after rain finally came in this season. They are from the farm of George Burnett of Monterey. They average two inches in diameter and are, so close together that they touch. It is doubtful if a cluster like this ever grew before in this vicinity at least. They are of the Early Michigan variety.

Peter C. Sikkel, Holland, reports a two-in-one peach tree in his garden. Some time ago he planted a peach stone which developed into a tree. The tree is bearing fruit of the Elberta and Lemon Free varieties.

NAT BROWN IS EXAMINED FOR SANITY IN COURT

Nat Brown, who confessed to bombing the Nicholas DeWitt cottage at Grand Haven and then again pleaded not guilty, was examined for sanity at Grand Haven in probate court before Judge James J. Danhof and two Grand Haven physicians. The matter will be held in abeyance for a time, said the judge today and Brown will be held under observation at the county jail. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of bombing when arraigned before Judge Fred T. Miles early in the week.

Confession to sinking a scow as a revenge act against the Pool brothers, for being denied hunting privileges, led the officers to believe Brown's sanity should be established.

Peter A. Lievense, who assumed the office of police chief Thursday, received a Sherlock Holmes outfit as one of the first contributions to initiate him in his new office. The collection consisted of an air rifle, flashlight, magnifying glass, air handcuffs, discarded police badge, and a bunch of more than 100 old keys. The gift was sent by retiring Acting Chief Henry Vander-Schell and was accompanied with a card, extending congratulations and assuring him 100 per cent co-operation.

Indian Relics Brings to Mind Relic of Early Pioneer's Life

Zeeland Record—Mr. John Grit, who lives in his farm home one mile east of Jamestown, has the fortune of finding an old Indian relic on his place recently, in the shape of a granite ball six inches in diameter, and he exhibited his find in the Record Office, Tuesday afternoon.

The granite ball is very nearly spherical and weighs more than ten pounds. Although much roughened by wear, the grain of the stone is distinctly visible and there is no doubt about the use to which it had at one time been put. In cutting this instrument the Indians have displayed some of their rare skill, and it is regrettable the counterpart of the ball was not left with it, probably having been carried away by the Indians as they migrated.

The ball was used by the Indians in grinding their corn. A large granite mortar in the shape of a bowl, eighteen inches wide from rim to rim, was used, into which the ball and a quantity of corn were placed. The squaw then placed it on her knees and set it in a gyrating motion, grinding the grain.

Mr. Grit's place was at one time an Indian camp, and until the white settlers caused them to leave, Indians were quite numerous. This was due to a natural "salt lick" caused by a scant flow of salt springs which attracted wild animals and improved their hunting. About sixty years ago the white men became too numerous and the last of the Indians departed. The salt springs have long since dried up.

H. C. Maris, local barber, is the owner of a half-penny bearing the date of 1794. The coin bears the head of the Goddess of Liberty on one side and the date and wreath encircled by United States of America on the reverse side. Maris has a large collection of foreign coins, the oldest being an Austrian 1 shilling of 1771.

Mr. Vanden Brink was at one time city treasurer, and is now associated with the Vandenberg Bros. Oil Co., and the Wolverine Advertising Co.

September Sets Ten-Year Record

AVERAGE TEMPERATURE FOR LAST MONTH WAS 4.7 DEGREES ABOVE NORMAL

Average temperature for the month of September was 4.7 degrees above normal, according to the Ottawa county weather bureau. It was the warmest September since 1921. There were 10 days during the month when the temperature averaged more than 10 degrees above the normal. There were but nine days below the normal, the greatest departure being five degrees.

A temperature of 84 was reached on the 12th of the month, a new record for that date. The previous high temperature records for the 11th, 13th and 16th were equalled. The maximum temperature of the month was 85 on the 11th. The minimum was 41 on the 28th. Light frost occurred on the 28th and 29th. The greatest daily range was 26 degrees on the 7th and the least was eight degrees on the 14th.

Precipitation was slightly below normal. The total amount was 3.42 inches compared to the normal of 3.63. The rain was quite well distributed through the month with measurable amounts falling on 12 days of the month. The greatest rainfall in 24 hours was 0.90 inches on the 13th-14th. Thunder was heard on eight days. Wind movement was slightly above normal. The total movement was 7094 miles or an average of 9.9 miles per hour. The maximum velocity was 37 miles per hour from the southwest on the first.

Sunshine averaged 64 per cent of the possible amount. The normal is 50 per cent. There were nine days with 90 per cent or more and three days without any. There were 14 clear days, seven partly cloudy, and nine cloudy during the month. Solar halos were observed on one day and lunar halos on two days. One aurora was seen. There was light fog on two days.

Approximately 8,000 fingerlings were taken from the bass pond on M21, near New Groningen, Thursday, and planted in Black lake, the big bayou, Pine Creek bay and Port Sheldon, by officials of the Holland Fish and Game club. Four bushels of crabs were found in the pond and planted in the lake, and about 300 gold shiners. Emptying of the bluegill pond Oct. 8 will require special help as it is expected the number of fingerlings may reach 400,000. These will be planted in streams in Ottawa and Allegan counties.

Arnold Mulder, formerly of Holland, now of Kalamazoo college, will be the speaker for the opening luncheon of the L. L. C. Scribblers at Pantlind hotel, Grand Rapids, today.

Sophs Retain Cup At Field Day And Pull

THE STORY OF THE FIGHTS TOLD FROM THE CO-ED STANDPOINT

Field Day and the Pull are over and the Frosh and Sophs can now settle down to a peaceful year—that is—for the present.

Field day certainly was a scrappy affair. It was so bloody that both classes vent their rage on a poor innocent sandbag, and "rent it in twain." One of the fair co-eds thought the hog race was "awful" 'cause she saw one Frosh trying to twist off Frank Vlascher's head. We liked the way both classes glared at each other. We're sure if looks could have killed there would have been loads of funerals that day.

Harvey Scholten made a husky pole protector—no wonder the Sophs had the advantage! We thought the Frosh made some "plenty good" flying leaps and were sorry to see them lose. Oh, if the co-eds had only been in charge of the pole rushing contest—some of the strategy planned by them for the Frosh would have no doubt won the contest. That affair closed Field Day with the Sophs ahead 64 to 6.

Next day came the pull and what lovely weather for a dip in the murky waters of Black river! It seemed as if all Holland had turned out for the big event and we were not far from wrong. Even the large police force of two officers showed up, "big as life" and chatty as ever.

As non-partisan and unprejudiced spectators, we were on the Soph side because one didn't have to cross the river—and so of course saw everything that happened among the Sophs. We were worried lest John Bouman would swallow the gun he was chewing so vigorously and looking farther down the line we saw Milt Slaght swim the line. When we came to the end of the line-up we saw that Russell Paulman was ready for any emergency and after considerable thought came to the conclusion that the thing around his waist was a halter.

We were a little sorry to see the Frosh go through because we thought it would have been a novel experience for the Sophs, but anyway both displayed fine spirit and were deserving of all the support given them.

Look Out for the White Canes! They Mean Safety for the Blind

Look out for the white canes! Muskegon motorists will be seeing them shortly, for the Lions club has made arrangements for the distribution of white canes to the blind of Greater Muskegon. These canes are to serve as a badge of identification.

The city has adopted an ordinance whereby the blind man is to have preference over the motorist at street intersections. Failure to observe this regulation makes the driver liable to a penalty of a fine or jail sentence.

A blind person who wishes to cross a street, holds the white cane horizontally. This act, it is believed, is sufficient to enable the car driver to distinguish the blind man from an ordinary pedestrian. Fire trucks, police patrol wagons, and ambulances are not subject to the ordinance. However, these vehicles are equipped with special traffic horns and sound devices which will make their presence known to the blind pedestrian.

There are 25 blind persons in Greater Muskegon according to the last census. Muskegon has 17; there are five in Muskegon Heights, and three in Muskegon township. The Lions club, through the generosity of one of its members, is purchasing these canes through the Michigan Employment Service for the Blind at Saginaw. They are made by a blind man there who makes his living by manufacturing these canes.

Saginaw was one of the first cities to adopt an ordinance for the protection of its blind. Muskegon's ordinance was modeled after that of Saginaw's.

The Lions International is working to have all cities adopt uniform similar ordinances.

THEFT: PLEAD HUNGER DROVE THEM TO IT

Pleading hunger as their excuse for stealing four cabbages from the farm of John Bramer, near Grand Haven, William Barringer, 39, and two youths, Benjie Moodt, 17, and Leroy Girard, 17, all of Muskegon, admitted the theft before Justice C. E. Burr of Grand Haven. Bramer and a neighbor who had been annoyed by the loss of farm produce, were on the watch for any trouble and met the three as they were putting the cabbages into a bag and dragging the pack to a car.

Justice Burr severely reprimanded Barringer as an older man for leading the two youths into such delinquency and fined him $3.25 with 24 hours to pay or 10 days in the county jail.

The two boys were told to go home and be back before the justice with their parents, or they would spend 10 days in jail. They came with their parents and were reprimanded and discharged.

Teachers and pupils in junior high schools realized 1684 quarts of peaches in their first canning bee for needy families. Men teachers collected six bushels of peaches, fruit jars were donated by the pupils and the teachers canned the fruit. One pupil couldn't find an empty jar, so brought one filled.

TELLS EASY METHOD FOR CANNING FOWLS

Birds Culled from Laying Flock Make Delicious Future Meals At Low Cost

Glass or tin cans provide housewives with an easy means of cutting budgets, according to Muriel Dundas, extension specialist at Mich. State College, recommends that the low producers in the farm poultry flock be converted into delicious future meals when preserved by canning.

Canning chicken requires little effort, and when properly done converts old hens into tender, well-flavored meat. The fowl is killed by opening the bird the entire length with a cut along the ribs through the thin flesh between the back and the breast. The cut is continued to the pelvic bone and the entire side is opened so the entrails can be removed easily.

After the legs and wings have been removed, the skin is opened from the wing opening toward the head and the windpipe, crop, and gullet are taken out. The shoulder blades come out easily if a cut is made across the back underneath them and they are broken off at the joint.

Remove the gall bladder from the liver without breaking it, and cut through the thick portion of the gizzard to remove the sack. The giblets are packed in a separate can to avoid darkening the other meat and changing its flavor.

To pack, place one thigh, one drumstick, two wings, and the neck and ribs in the center of the can. Cover with the back and remaining pieces, add two teaspoonfuls of salt, but no liquid. Put rubber jar ring in place and partially seal jar. If using tin cans, exhaust the air in cans by placing them in boiling water for seven minutes and then seal.

Seal the jars and place them in the pressure cooker, leave petcock open and process for one hour at 15 pounds pressure. Tin cans may be cooled in cold water.

Dr. Nykerk, Miss Paine Mr. and Mrs. Ritter, Louise Kieft, Nella De Hahn, and Arthur Ter Keurst attended the Michigan Oratorical and Debating Conference last Saturday. The purpose of this conference was to discuss the subjects and dates of this year's debates. The conference was held in Lansing, Mich.

THE PRESENT-DAY GAS INDUSTRY

At present consumption of manufactured gas is nearly four times as great as it was twenty years ago. The industry is composed of 655 companies—of which 603 are privately owned and operated—serving 4,600 towns and villages. To manufacture the present annual gas output requires almost 10,000,000 tons of bituminous coal, 443,000 tons of anthracite, 4,188,000 tons of coke and 962,312,000 gallons of oil. Sales for 1929 were 40,000,000,000 cubic feet over the former record total established the year before.

The scene of forty or fifty years ago said that the advent of electricity sounded the death knell of gas. Like most seers, they were bad guessers.

FRUIT MUST BE WASHED EVEN IF IT IS CHEAP

Fruit inspectors have notified Fennville dealers that all fruit that is to be shipped out of the state must first be washed to remove the spray, even though they be cider apples. They admit that there never has been a known case where any person was injured by eating sprayed fruit, but they are obliged to work under this law. While we have such a law there seems to be no trouble to dispose of sprayed and unwashed fruit within the state, but it is different in interstate deals. The Fennville fruit exchange has had to unpack and wash 1,500 bushels of crabapples that were ready for the market. Fruit dealers sure seem to have their troubles besides no market for their product.

FISHERMEN

By Jacqueline Karreman

Alone on a crumbling pier which stretched far out into the unlimited expanse of water, a solitary fisherman sat dangling his line into the cool depths of the deserted channel. Warm sunlight beat directly upon his stooped shoulders, seeming almost to penetrate the brim of the battered straw hat perched quite jauntily on his gray head.

He wore a nondescript appearing top coat and baggy, threadbare trousers, which scarcely covered ankles showing above the ragged sneakers that beat a slow, monotonous tattoo on the rotten timber of the wharf. A rusty tin can of bait stood beside him in which with one brown wrinkled hand he absently searched for a wriggling worm. His tanned and weather-beaten countenance turned toward the distant horizon, and he gazed with dreamy serenity into space. Perfectly content, he remained on his humble throne, master of all he surveyed.—Holland High Herald.

From the Latin
The word "sincere" originated from two words, "sine cera," meaning without wax. In the days of ancient Rome cracked and chipped vessels were made as good as new by filling up the cracks with wax.

Fire Safety of Home-Building Materials Is Demonstrated

Of particular interest during Fire Prevention Week was a test conducted the other day in a Chicago laboratory. A wall section of concrete masonry units such as are used in modern residences was being given to "ordeal by fire." For three hours, it had been sealed across the open face of a testing furnace from the back of which flames from 27 jets were directed against the inner side of the panel. The temperature within the furnace was more than 1900° Fahrenheit, almost hot enough to melt cast iron. Yet it was possible to touch the outer face of the wall without burning the hand.

The flames were shut off, the wall was withdrawn, and slowly it cooled from a bright cherry color to a dull red and then returned to its normal gray. During the test, hydraulic jacks subjected the panel to a vertical pressure of 80 pounds per square inch, the maximum load which building codes allow on a residence wall. After the wall had cooled the pressure was increased to more than three times the allowable load before it buckled under the strain.

This test was just one of a series that has been conducted over the past few years to determine the most efficient designs of concrete masonry for fire resistance and structural strength. Through tests such as these manufacturers are able to offer materials whose fire-safety and durability have been scientifically determined.

A few years ago in Los Angeles, an even more spectacular demonstration of the fire-safety of modern construction was made. A building of hollow concrete Duntile was filled with oil-soaked wood and ignited by a torch applied by the Mayor of the city. Crowds of people watched the blaze flare up.

During the fire temperature readings were taken through a pipe extending through the wall. A maximum of 1800° Fahrenheit was shown, yet the outside of the wall remained cool. After about 40 minutes a stream from a fire hose was directed on the blaze. When the cold water struck the interior face of the super-heated tile, a cloud of steam gushed through the openings. But not a single crack could be found in the tile or the concrete sills and lintels after the building had cooled.

Saugatuck, Douglas, Fennville and Vicinity

The annual reunion of the Arnold-Bassett-Killian family was held at the Johnson cottage at Pier Cove with 26 present. Officers elected: President, Dan Arnold, Allegan; secretary-treasurer, Miss Marcia Bassett, Fennville; executive committee, Mrs. W. H. Chaddock and Mrs. Dan Arnold Killian, both of Allegan.

Miss Ellen Farley and Cameron Hopper will play the leading roles in the first play, "Lady Windermere's Fan," to be given in Griswold's auditorium, Allegan, October 19 and 20 by the Allegan Community Players.

The first meeting of the fall season of the Woman's History club, the oldest woman's club in Allegan, will be held Friday evening in the Griswold auditorium. The members will be guests of the officers. The South Ward PTA will hold its first meeting of the season in the auditorium Tuesday evening, Oct. 13. Needs for the new school building now under construction will be discussed.

Citizens of the Allegan county villages of Fennville, Ganges, Saugatuck and Douglas have combined their interests toward the establishment of a community hospital at the latter place, meeting a need that is common to scores of rural and semi-rural areas. Growth of motor traffic is one of the factors creating this need. In Michigan the ever increasing resort patronage is another reason for extending hospital facilities to every community. The hospital also reflects influence that promotes a higher standard of health administration in the territory served. Highway accidents often call for immediate medical attention for victims. Too often there is no such aid available nearby and a ride of many miles is necessary to take the injured to places where proper care and ministrations may be given. The small community hospital can render invaluable service in meeting such situations. Resorters taken suddenly ill also sometimes receive inadequate treatment because the distance to hospital beds is too great to be attempted. The community hospital movement is similar in many respects to the community school. The pooling of resources of several adjacent groups insures better service and equipment than would be possible if each attempted to carry on its projects alone.—Grand Rapids Press.

School Commissioner Guert V. Fales of Allegan announces a county institute for grade and rural teachers for demonstration of reading will be held Oct. 8 and 9 in Allegan, Fennville, Plainwell and Wayland. Sessions will be one half-day in each place.

Dogs killed 52 fine sheep out of a flock of 75 on the farm of W. B. Hydenberg of Wayland Wednesday night. Several of the animals were so badly mutilated they had to be killed. Hydenberg will dispose of the balance of his flock.

Plans are being made by A. D. Morley county farm agent, for soils and fruit schools for Allegan county. Classes will be organized in groups of 25, and the complete program will soon be announced. All interested in their soil and fruit troubles are invited to enter these classes and may notify either County Agent A. D. Morley, or Keith R. Landsberg of the Fennville high school.

The Chicago market is taking all his shipments at good prices.

A serious change in the condition of Ernest Schumaker made it advisable to take him to Ann Arbor, since they are proving to be of great benefit to the late crops. The celery fields are a surprise to the owners. The crop is far above the average and of exceptional quality. Shipping has started and the crop is obtaining a better price than last year. Pastures and the wheat fields almost make us believe that our calendars have in some way jumped the month.

General Etterbeck, while returning home from the local school last Wednesday afternoon, escaped serious injury when a speeding truck caught her and hurled her to the ground.

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Roggen attended the meeting of the Western Social Circle held in the parlors of the First Reformed Church of Holland, Monday.

Alethea.—The Aletheans met at the home of Helen Barre on Friday evening for a "Pre Pull Party" as the officers treat. After a business meeting the officers went out to start preparing the treat and the rest of the members sang songs and then played several games. Prizes were awarded to Josephine Kaper and Mildred Schuppert. By this time the taffy was ready (or seemed to be) and everyone proceeded to have a tug-of-war between their fingers and the candy. It was mostly stick-o-war. Martha Van den Berg was the most successful. After much excitement and fun it was discovered to be rather late so after enjoying the results of their labors the girls left for home.

Dorian.—Pot luck! What luck! for the Dorians. After a mad race to the North Shore Thursday evening, the hungry Dorians were met at the home of Alma Plakke by one not Alma herself. The home was thrown open to the girls and what a supper was served! After the feed was over, the girls gathered in the big living room and sang college songs. Then came a real treat. Miss Boyd reviewed for us the life of Harriet Beecher Stowe. After singing the Dorian Songs the meeting was adjourned.

Delphi.—The Delphi Society meeting was opened with the singing of a few songs led by Delphians Ruth Mulder and Helen Pelon. Devotions were in charge of Delphian Mildred Kooiman. The program was featured with the reading of selections taken from the archives. "Delphi, Its Meaning and Significance," written by Katherine Walvoord of the class of 1918, was read by Delphian Helen Pelon. Delphian Beatrice Vasser read "A Clear Mystery," written by Marie Bolks. Two vocal selections, "Until" and "Her Dream" were sung by Delphian Hazel Paalman. "Appreciation," dealing with the appreciation of music, written by Mabel Nienhuis, was read by Delphian Sarah Lacey and Delphian Eula Champion played 2 piano duets, "The Swan and the Story of the Stork," by Mac Dowell. "An Ode to Delphi," by Katherine Poppen, was read by Louise Kieft. Delphian Marion Den Hoeder closed the program with the reading of a humorous paper, entitled, "Love's Labor Reconsidered." After a short business meeting the society was surprised with a treat, from the president, Delphian Ruth Geerlings, in honor of the announcement of her engagement to Mr. Reo Marcotte. Sibylline.—The Sibyl "Old Timers" met in their room Thursday night as the chimes of their clock struck 7:30. The devotions were led by Lois Ketel. After the business meeting, the program was announced by the chime toll of the clock. The first number was "The Chapel Clock Talks," which told some tales of the night life of some of the Sib members. Next was a short paper on "Four o'Clocks"—the flowers and then the modern kind—read by Velda Blair. The chairman of the program, Lois Ketel, read a rousing paper on "Alarm Clocks," and Mildred Esenberg read a humorous poem about the "Coo Coo Clocks." The Sibyls were then treated with delightful refreshments by the officers, and as the clock warned them of lessons on the morrow, the meeting was adjourned after the singing of the Sibylline song.

Old Castles in Africa
There are some 36 medieval castles along the coast of West Africa, that of St. George at the town of Elmina being considered the oldest and greatest. The Portuguese are said to have begun it ten years before the discovery of America, the stone for the foundation being brought from Portugal. Its double fosse was hewn out of solid rock.

Wednesday morning. He has been suffering some time with arthritis growing out of a sinus infection, but of late had been much better. He was able to be out the first of the week and looked after some of his Standard Oil business but it was thought that he must have taken an over-dose of some powerful medicine as he became unconscious for a time. It is hoped that his change of treatment will bring about his complete recovery.—Allegan Gazette.

Among the attractive summer cottages that have been built this year is the log bungalow on M-89 at Round lake by E. A. Freiwald of Chicago. It has a cement floor and a very attractive stone fireplace and chimney and a front porch. Some, who have an idea that such log buildings are inexpensive, will be interested to know that this building cost close to $900.

The canning of crabapples and peaches is about over at the Fennville factory and beets are now being processed. The pear crop will be rather light so that the canning season will be shorter than usual. The report that Alex. Blenc has sold his celery crop to eastern parties is a mistake. Connecticut dealers were in Fennville to buy but

HAMILTON

C. Lucasse, the local shoe man, is proudly showing a beautiful Philco radio at his store. He drew the lucky number at a sale of a Fennville store. Some folks seem to have all the luck.

They visited farms at Bancroft, Holly, Mt. Morris, Lapeer, Memphis, Romeo and Detroit. The trip was made not merely for pleasure, but rather for the purpose of information in regard to improving poultry industry in this vicinity. Mr. Lohman, manager, announces that Prof. J. A. Hanna of Michigan State will be here during the latter part of this month for a three day demonstration. Poultry raisers will also be given an opportunity to bring their problems to that meeting.
