Diekema Writes Theme Song For Ford Program

HOLLAND MAN IS MUSIC
COMPOSER AS WELL AS BEING "MEDICINE MAN"

A new football marching song, written by Harold A. Diekema of Pontiac, and Willis A. Diekema of the DeFree company, is now being used as the theme song for the Kipke broadcast on the Ford sports program over WJR, Detroit, each Thursday evening at 7:45.

The song is called "A Punt, a Pass and a Prayer," which was also the title of one of the articles by Fitzgerald and Kipke published in the Saturday Evening Post last season.

Another series of Fitzgerald-Kipke football articles is appearing in current issues of the Saturday Evening Post, the last one bearing the title "Watch Your Laterals."

Harold Fitzgerald, son of H. H. Fitzgerald, formerly of Macatawa Park, and well known in Holland, is now the editor and business manager of the Pontiac Daily Press.

The music for "A Punt, a Pass and a Prayer" was composed by Willis A. Diekema of Holland, who while attending the University of Michigan composed the music for two of Michigan's best-known operas.

WJR, Detroit, is said to have recently increased its power by the installation of a new broadcasting tower and other modern equipment, and local radio fans are reporting that the Kipke broadcast can now be heard clearly if tuned in at 750 kilocycles.

DR. DANIEL POLING
SPEAKS AT C. E. MEET
IN HOPE CHAPEL

An overflow crowd of more than 2,100 filled Hope Memorial chapel Wednesday evening at the second and last mass meeting of the two-day inspirational conference of the particular synod of Chicago of the Reformed Church of America and the Christian Endeavor societies.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the World Christian Endeavor union, and Rev. C. H. Span of Grand Rapids, were the speakers. Homer A. Rodeheaver, world famous song writer, led the devotions and singing.

Dr. Poling, drawing instances to illustrate his point from his experiences in Europe, through which he traveled extensively last summer, declared Christ's appeal is more effective and attractive to young people than any other program that can be offered.

"There can be no Christianizing of the social order without new men and women, that is, men and women who give themselves to Christ," Dr. Poling stated.

Pointing out that it is personalities which lead and are followed.

NATIONALLY KNOWN SPEAKERS TO BE HEARD

The popular "Sunday Evening club program" at Orchestra Hall, Chicago, has resumed at 9:30 o'clock. Many folk tuned in on WGN in years passed—now the big speaking and musical program resume. Orators of world-wide fame are heard on these programs from Sunday to Sunday.

Large Number Attend Annual Missionary Meet

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED; RE-PORTS SHOW SUM OF
$2,000 COLLECTED

As stated elsewhere in this issue, Forest Grove was a busy place on Friday afternoon, October 5, when the second annual conference of the Women's Missionary Union of classic Holland was held in the Reformed church there. Both the afternoon and evening sessions were attended by large audiences.

The program, presided over by Mrs. George Koller of Holland, president of the union, was carried out as already published.

Mrs. James Weyer reported that $997.52 had been collected for Miss Pieter's salary and $949.85 for Mr. Oppeneer's salary, by missionary unions of Grand Rapids, Muskegon and Holland.

The union also discussed plans for the support of Dr. Bruins, the missionary unions of Kalamazoo, Holland, Grand Rapids and Muskegon by special pledges assuming her support of $750 for the coming year.

The Holland union decided to assume its share of the pledge.

Collections taken Friday amounted to the sum of $94.84 at the afternoon meeting, and $98.45 at the evening session of a total of $193.33.

Conference fees amounted to $36 and $37.55 was collected for the Arabian bed, making a grand total for the day of $266.88.

The conference will be held in Trinity Reformed church of Holland next year.

HOLLAND THEATER SHOWS FOR CHILDREN

Manager Carley is to put on a special show for children at the Holland theater with plenty of "funnies" and cartoons and of course "Mickey Mouse" and such productions as interest children.

The price is to be very reasonable—at least Mr. Carley will give the Saturday morning children's show a tryout.

Team Work In Baseball All Important

AN OLD, HISTORIC STORY OF
TWO HOLLAND TEAMS
MAKES THAT CLEAR

Holland, the board of supervisors and the rest of the nation went baseball crazy the past week, watching undoubtedly the best world series of all time, by two teams as evenly matched as ever were brought together on a baseball diamond. Everyone knows that St. Louis pinched out ahead by one game in seven played. It is a well-known fact that team work is the only thing that wins baseball. The pitcher and the backstop cannot do this alone, as was evident in the first game played when the best field of all time had "butter fingers" and stage fright and it lost Detroit the world series.

It is not however, our intention to give a resume of this year's series, but to turn the pages back 25 years, that is the time when Neal Ball, Holland's "Dizzy Dean" of five years before—when Holland had the best baseball team in the state—made that unassisted triple play for Cleveland against Boston, the second play of that sort ever pulled off by major leaguers up to that time.

Here is how Ball's triple was made:

Wagner was on second base and Stahl on first for Boston on hits with none out. With three and two on McConnell at bat the runners started on the pitched ball. McConnell hit a line fly over second. Ball made a great running catch, retiring McConnell, and then touched second base, doubling Wagner. Stahl, on the other hand, was so close to the second base sack that he could not retreat. Ball, running up the base line, caught Stahl easily.

We repeat this play which appeared in the News some time ago in the Holland City News 25 Years Ago story, because there is more to this story. Holland went wild because one of her sons had become world famous overnight, and immediately efforts were made to get Neal Ball here for an exhibition game. The matter went further than that. All the old Holland Independents of 1899 became "cocky," in fact had chips on their shoulders, and through "Jakie" Van Putten they sent an ultimatum to the 1909 Independents asking for a championship game for the gate receipts and a $1,000 side bet.

In a letter published at that time Mr. Van Putten said:

"Dear Ben: I wish you would give this public. We will choose our team from the olders, namely, 'Leapple,' 'Jawa,' 'Ver Schure,' Art Huntley, Bert Huntley, Pat Trimble, Oscar Peterson, 'Tards' Ver Schure, Neal Ball, Jake Van Putten, Jack Schouten, 'Vaudie' Vanden Berg, Ben Vanden Berg, Ray Hoek, Fred Pfandstiel, H. B. Hadden, Neal Van Putten, 'Tony' Van Ry, 'Kid' Alexander, 'Leggs' Vanden Berg, Fred Seery, 'Buttons' Doesburg, Jim DeFree and Bob DeFree. Now Ben, you have a good subject to agitate. Give it lots of space. Write up Neal Ball of Cleveland just as you generally write things. Keep things hot. We will be there including Ball, who has written me he would come."

"JAKE VAN PUTTEN."

This was in July 29, 1909, and the News did make things "hot." The News offered $5 reward in gold for the nearest guess as to the line-up of the 1899 old timers. Jake Van Putten at that time was pitching for the Logan Squares, the best independent team of Chicago, and all through the file copies until Friday, September 23, 1909. "Putty" sent in correspondence of other players who were to be here, even Tony Vanden Hill, a Holland backstop better known as "Patty." Vanden Hill was undoubtedly the best backstop Holland has ever had, and graduated into the Three-I League.

Agitation was rife for weeks. Delay after delay prevented Neal Ball, the headliner, from coming since the season in the National League had not terminated, so Holland fans simply waited and argued as to the line-up. Line-ups for the $5 gold piece were being published regularly, causing much argument.

At last it was decided that on September 23 the game would be played at 9:30 in the morning on Friday on the Nineteenth Street grounds. Admission to the grounds was 25 cents. It was to be on a homecoming week when a large gathering from the countryside was bound to be on hand to swell the crowd and incidentally the gate receipts.

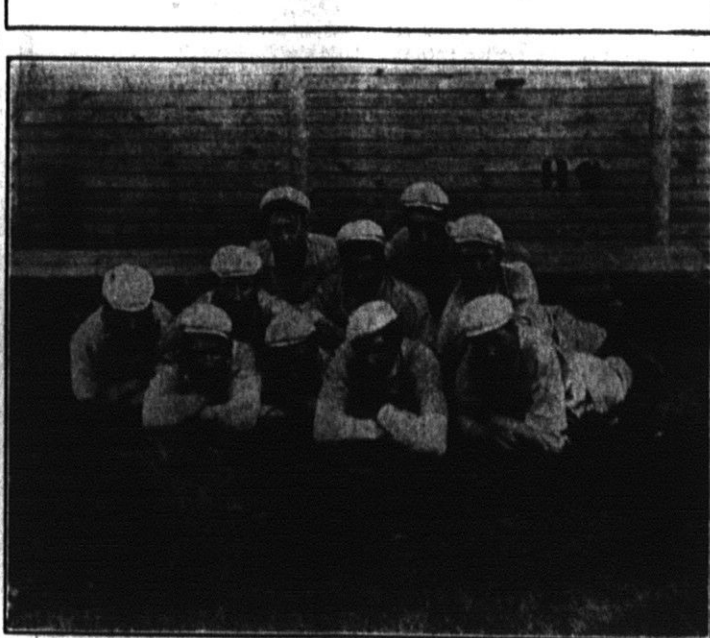

Well, on that Friday morning, everybody was there, including Neal Ball and many of those among the old-time baseball players who were not in the line-up. The old timers line-up was as follows: Jack Schouten, c.; Jake Van Putten, p.; Oscar Peterson, 1b.; Bert Noblett, 2b.; Neal Ball, ss.; "Hatch" Karsten, p.; Kelly, 1b.; Henry Jappinga, cf.; Tony Van Ry, cf., and Bill Tibbald, rf.

The new Independents, Bill Rotschaefer, c.; Babe Woldring, p.; Pete Lievens, 1b.; Chris Knutsen, 2b.; "Shinner" Vanden Hill, ss.; Benny Batema, 3b.; Johnnie Levan, 1b.; Carl Shaw, cf.; Ray Peterson, rf.

You will notice that the old timers had a few extra fielders, but these were placed in as substitutes. Van Putten, Logan Square pitcher, exchanged positions with Henry Karsten from Zeeland, who was also a great mound artist. They divided their time between the third sack and the mound.

Well, there were more than 2,000 spectators on the grounds, and a column write-up, play by play, was given. But here comes the surprise. Everyone thought that the old "crack" team of ten years before would overwhelm us at that time, young Independents. The team of 1909 had gained national fame, nearly defeating the all-American team chosen from the

HOLLAND'S INDEPENDENTS OF 1899.

Here is part of Holland's best baseball aggregation in 1899. No, they aren't in a huddle. They don't seem to have very much pep, but believe us they could play ball. The group is right in front of the grandstand then located at River avenue and Sixteenth street, on the site of the Poppen residence, which was a large open commons at that time, where cows were pastured. The News has been endeavoring to get the names of all these players. We know that the second from the right, first row, is

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Deer hunters are numerous in this vicinity and not a few from out of the state. Many deer are being taken to town shot in our nearby forests.

Klaas Vanden Berg, who lives a few miles north of this place, brought us a "late rose" potato with five separate tubers, which weighed three pounds and six ounces. It was a monster. Note—The older citizens will remember that the potato of 50 years ago was the early and late "rose" potato.

Prof. G. A. Shepherd of Grand Rapids gave his first lesson in vocal music in our public schools on last Friday afternoon. Note—Mr. Shepherd was a tall, heavy black bearded man, black eyes, very much unlike the music teachers of today. He carried his "tone fork" and whistle with him and went from room to room to give about a half-hour recitation in each room. The selections your editor still remembers are the "round" "Three Blind Mice" for concentration and the Jolly Little Clacker with His Clack! Clack! Clack! And how the boys came down on that last clack! most to the discomfiture of Mr. Shepherd.

Ben Butler, candidate for president, consumes 15 cigars a day. His supporters hope his aspirations will not end like the cigars.

Leap year is not yet over, girls, still a few months left to propose, and thus fish for a diamond engagement ring. Note—Already mercenary 50 years ago it would seem.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Six new boilers were placed in the Holland sugar factory by the Muskegon Boiler Works.

Bert Wiersma and Roy Breen have bought out the Holland Tea store and will continue business at the old stand, 11 East 8th st. Note: This later became the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

John Verhoef and Miss Dena Dekker of Saugatuck were married at the home of the groom on West 14th st.

Mayor Henry Brusse turned the first sod at the corner of River and 11th sts. last Thursday morning at 6 o'clock in the presence of city officials and a goodly turnout of citizens. Rev. E. J. Blekkink opened the occasion with prayer.

Congressman G. J. Diekema made a short speech. Remarks were also made by Mr. Bowd, architect. After the short but impressive ceremonies were closed, citizens went home for a hearty breakfast. Next will be the laying of the cornerstone and six months hence the dedication of the new hall, if all goes well.

The following delegates from the Elizabeth Schuyler Hamilton Chapter, D. A. R., Holland, left for Benton Harbor to attend a conference. Mesdames Charles M. McLean, H. P. Burkholder, Wm. Swift, Charles H. McBride and J. H. Parr.

Over a quarter of a million dollars were paid to apple farmers at that time.

That game, played at Reed's Lake in Grand Rapids, went 11 innings and a bounding ball from the bat of Napoleon Lajoie of Cleveland did the trick.

Any way the surprise came when the Old-Timers got 4 scores as against 6 scores for the young Independents. The youngsters got 7 hits against the Old-Timers' 2, and made 6 errors as against 5 for the Old-Timers. There was a lot of money changed hands in Holland on that day, odds being in favor of the Neal Ball aggregation. "Vaudie" Vanden Berg, who was to have been in the line-up was on the bench with a broken leg sustained during a previous baseball game at Fennville.

Johnnie Levan of the young Independents team also gained baseball fame. Scouts for the St. Louis Browns were in Holland and secured him for the American league.

Holland Loses Its County Road Commissioner

MAN FROM NORTH END OF
COUNTY IS ELECTED
INSTEAD

Holland is again left in the cold because of the action of the board of supervisors. Grand Haven has always had representation on the board of county road commissioners. Zealand was ably represented by Berend Kamps and Holland had Austin Harrington, who has more than 18 years of road building to his credit, and when the road history is written we can safely say that Captain Harrington was one of the men who pulled Ottawa county out of the mud and sand.

Anyway it has been known for some time that Austin Harrington had considerable opposition on the board of supervisors, but Holland did not dream that if the board did not see fit to renege Austin Harrington, that Holland, the largest center in Ottawa county, would not be recognized by the placing of another good man from this city in the place of Austin Harrington.

Arthur W. Wrieden, a man well versed in bond issues, intricate financing, and with plenty of "horse sense" indicated a willingness to serve in order to represent Holland and Ottawa county. There were other good men. Former Mayor E. P. Stegenga, who has had a great deal to do with roads and street paving. Then there was Simeon Henkle, also a man with mature business judgment. Then we had genial Nick Hoffman, who indicated a willingness to serve and undoubtedly would make a good official. And Frank Dyke, a builder of large structures and with considerable road building experience, one who knows steel, iron and concrete. Another young man in the running who had considerable strength was William Winstrom of Park township, a former Holland

Attorney who not only has had business experience, but for a time was connected with the board of public works staff. So this end of the county had plenty of good candidates but failed to land any of them whether through lack of organization or concentration upon any one candidate, we do not know, since the man from the north end of the county was elected shortly before the News went to press.

It appears that a greater part of this morning was devoted to the naming of a road commissioner. From this end of the county did not seem to materialize. The Supervisor Albert Stegenga of North Holland threw his hat in the ring, resigned as supervisor, and Charles Bartels, at one time Olive township clerk, was elected supervisor in Stegenga's place, and the board then elected Stegenga to the road commissioner job.

It became apparent, according to the judgment of attorneys, that Stegenga was ineligible to serve. There was considerable discussion. The proceedings were absolutely wrong, asserting that Stegenga was virtually a member of the board when he was elected, and Mr. Bartels who supplanted him had cast the deciding vote in his favor. Prosecuting Attorney Dethmers also asserted that Stegenga was unable to serve legally, and that opinion was also held by Mayor John De Pree of Zealand.

Before final action was taken there was an adjournment for dinner and the board of supervisors convened at 2 o'clock to go into the matter again. Mr. Stegenga, when he found the proceedings were illegal, gracefully withdrew from the race. Mr. Stegenga was elected by a vote of 14, with 7 votes going to Frank Dyke of Holland, 3 to Austin Harrington, and 2 to Winstrom, of Park Township, with 1 blank vote, giving Stegenga a plurality of 1 vote.

Peter Van Ark of Holland had moved that the ballot poll would be informal in order to get the sentiment of the board, but Hunter Herwig of Crookery claimed that Mr. Van Ark's motion was not supported, and after much discussion the vote was declared formal and Stegenga was temporarily elected.

After the legality of Stegenga's election was in doubt, the board of supervisors did not select one of the several good men from Holland, but instead went to the north end of the county and selected Everett Collar of Wright township, who received 16 votes. It is understood that three ballots had to be taken to assure the position for Mr. Collar.

Anyway, Holland, the big center in the county, vitally interested in roads because roads lead to big centers, is now out of the picture. The city pays 30 per cent of the entire tax bill of the county and certainly deserves some recognition. Because of press time there was no time to find out fully who was who in this whole matter, and who voted for who in this road commissioner contest. It is definitely understood, however, that Mr. Collar will take the position of road commissioner after January 1 when Mr. Harrington's term of office expires.

MONTELO PARK P. T. A.
SPONSORS MOVIE PROGRAM

The first of a series of special programs sponsored by the Montello Park P. T. A. will be given in the school auditorium on Friday evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

At that time motion pictures of Michigan deer hunts, fish and much other wild animal life will be shown, as well as Michigan mines and minerals, including iron, coal and salt mines, oil wells, etc. The beauties of Isle Royal will also be seen in these motion picture reels.

The program is being sponsored by the P. T. A. board, which includes Mrs. H. Boss, Mrs. E. John, Mrs. J. Nyland, Mrs. R. Wiggers, Mrs. Zuber, Mrs. J. Welscoot, Mrs. J. McElay, Mrs. Richard Scholten and Mrs. G. Voss.

ALLIGATOR FOUND BY GRAND HAVEN BOY

Wandering far from its usual habitat, a young alligator, 21 inches long, was found today on Paradise Island, near Grand Haven, by Clyde Sparks, 14, of that city. What the ultimate disposition of the "gator" will be has not been decided, but for the time being young Sparks will keep it as a pet. Theft of an alligator had been reported to state police, but it was another reptile, for the length of the missing "gator" was given as 35 inches.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS NOTES

A change in the name of Black Lake to Lake Macatawa requested by citizens of Park and Holland townships and Holland city was granted by the board of supervisors at the meeting. A unanimous vote was given favoring the change. Well, who says Holland don't sometimes get something. The list of names included members of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary club, Woman's club and several other organizations, and many residents from Holland.

George Heneveld of Park township, chairman of the board, said at the close of the meeting at noon that he had a radio provided for the board of supervisors whether they would sanction its installation for the world's series game. He timidly made the proposition but his eyes were shining with hope. "You'll probably have to work the balance of the evening," he said, "for the day's business must be completed, but what kind of business could we accomplish when our minds are on the game?"

We might add, especially after the slaughter of Detroit—the solons must have been "dizzy" or "dazed" by the vote—16 were for the radio and 10 against. More than the score they were about to hear.

After much discussion, the supervisors fixed the salaries of all three road commissioners at $600 per year. The chairman had been drawing $950.

The selection of the school commissioners will not, it is believed, cause any excitement, as Charles G. Van der Vliet, incumbent, has no apparent opposition.

The board adjourned until Tuesday at 10 a. m. Albert Hyma moved the board adjourn until 1:30 p. m. "Don't you know there is a world series baseball game being played today?" inquired one of the supervisors.

It was suggested the committee meet for work, among them the finance committee, to prepare the annual budget. Charles E. Misner, the chairman, was in Detroit attending the game, and many said they wished they were with him.

The board authorized the placement of a new floor in the lower floor of the courthouse.

The agricultural agent, L. R. Arnold, reported that 465 corn-hog contracts had been sent to Washington for approval, which will return $45,650 a year to Ottawa county farmers; also 64 wheat contracts, to pay $27,000 each year for three years on a two-year reduction plan.

William Connelly of the Holland Chamber of Commerce, appealed to the board for an $800 appropriation for the Michigan Tourist and Resort association. He quoted figures to show that 1934 was the equal of 1929 in resort business, which is only second to the automobile business of the state. The request was referred to the finance committee.

ZEELAND POLICE CHIEF WINS LEGION'S AWARD

Fred Bosma, chief of police, has been awarded the commander's cup. Bosma was individual winner in the American Legion membership drive staged by the local post. He obtained 25 new members. The post this year has 80 paid members.

MISS SCHRIJPSMA, HOLLAND MAN WED

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Schrijpsma, Vries street, southeast, was the scene of a lovely wedding Tuesday evening when their daughter, Marjorie, and Louis Klomparsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klomparsen of Holland, spoke their nuptial vows. There were 58 guests who were members of the families and intimate friends.

Rev. C. H. Spaan performed the ceremony before an improvised altar of palms, fern and baskets of gladioli and chrysanthemums. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was becomingly gowned in a fitted model of white satin with a white lace jacket. Her veil of net and lace was held in a cap fastened at the sides with orange blossoms and pearls. Her flowers were Joana Hill roses and baby pompons.

Miss Jennie Schrijpsma attended her sister as maid of honor; were pink taffeta. She carried Briardiff roses and blue delphinium. Russell Klomparsen assisted his brother as best man. Mr. and Mrs. William Kemperman were master and mistress of ceremonies. Carl Sennema played Mendelssohn's wedding march and Miss Carrie Trimp sang "Oh, Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

The couple left on a week's honeymoon, the bride attired in a light brown ensemble with dark brown accessories. They will be at home to friends after October 15 at 512 Crescent street, northeast, Grand Rapids.—Grand Rapids Herald.

Holland Woman Tells Of Working Of County Relief

UNCLE SAM SPENDS HALF MILLION DOLLARS IN OTTAWA COUNTY

Average Welfare Cost Per Person
Per Month in Ottawa County
IS $3.81.

The annual report of the F. E. R. A. of Ottawa county presented by Miss Veneklasen of Holland, county administrator, was presented at the board of supervisors on the opening day of a week's session, showing comprehensively the welfare work as undertaken by the county, state and federal funds since last fall, the federal government assumed a large part of the burden of relief.

The basic plan of the distribution of relief is the direct relief by means of welfare orders. In conjunction with this plan the federal government has operated a civil works program and with help from the state is now operating a works division program, she stated at the outset. She recounted the CWA operations during four months last year, the supervised expenditure being $477,366.31 of federal money on its projects besides $61,738.75 which was contributed by the local communities in Ottawa County. The entire cost of administering these funds to CWA was only $11,334.41, or 2.1 per cent of the total funds expended.

There was no budget, no allotment and no grant of funds. The checks were drawn on the treasury of the United States, the only restriction being the number of men allowed to work. This quota was set by the state and at its peak employed over 2,800 men in this county, she stated.

Following this the division was set up under state emergency relief administration. It employs only relief labor and the men are allowed to work only the number of hours necessary to earn relief requirements. The works division has cost $87,789.41 from April 6, 1934, to September 27, 1934.

A complete list of the case loads of the townships was submitted, showing that in September Grand Haven had 365 families; Spring Lake, 46; Robinson, 13; Grand Haven township, 13; Crookery, 18, and Holland, 472.

The case load for the county at the end of November, 1933, was at least 1,200. Had the road commission not helped by hiring 220 men in August and September, the case load would have been 1,541 instead of 1,321.

The increase in the cost per case from June to August was necessitated by the increase in the price of food and other commodities. In September, although prices continued to rise a reduction of 84 per cent was made which resulted from the road commission taking over.

Some of the 1,642 cases needed help but a week or two. The cost per case has averaged $16.33 from

Beer License Folks Ask More Strick Laws

ASK FOR SHORTER HOURS
AND PATRONS MUST BE OLDER

Firms distributing or selling beer in Ottawa county have formed an association with the following officers: President, Charles K. Van Duren; vice president, James Hoeksema of Holland; treasurer, Albert Miller; secretary, Charles Hannum of Grand Haven.

They have a definite desire for better regulation of their own business as this relates to their vocation, fully explained in the following platform:

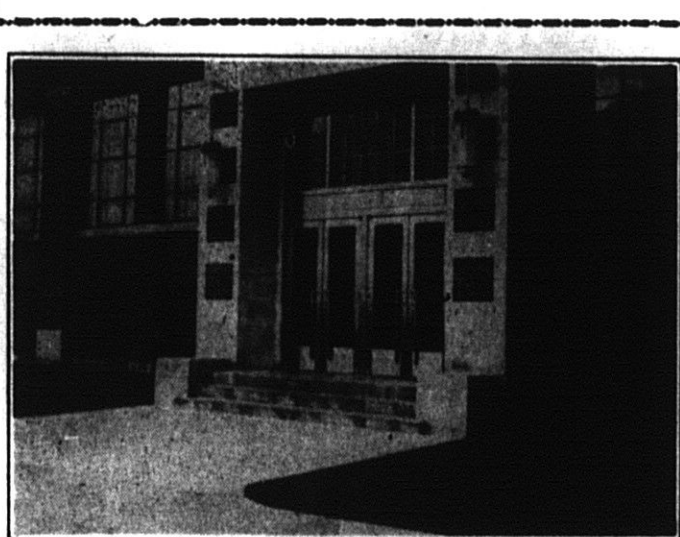

PLATFORM OF OTTAWA COUNTY ASSOCIATION OPPOSED TO LOCAL OPTION

The Ottawa County Association Opposed to Local Option goes to the voters of Ottawa county on the following platform.

In the first instance it must be borne in mind that this association is composed of a large majority of the firms, corporations and individuals engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of liquor and beer. There are a total of 119 licenses in Ottawa county. It is clear that not everyone of the licensees is a member. The members can control themselves, but have no machinery to enforce their will upon those who refuse to cooperate and join. This membership is unalterably pledged to clean, honest, law-abiding, temperate business in the manufacture, sale and distribution of liquor and beer. If we could possibly control those who refuse to join with us, we know that we could show Ottawa county an administration that would stand out as an example of what all of its citizens most earnestly desire. However, Michigan has control. We welcome it and we pay for it. Let us have it. We will get it from the liquor control commission or from the legislature, as we want it. It is unquestioned that the next legislature will add strenuous regulatory measures—we want them.

The association recognizes that present laws regulating hours for the sale of liquor and beer are too lenient, and that the 2 o'clock closing is harmful to its members. It also agrees that the public at large

BUSINESS KNOCKS AT "WARM FRIEND" DOOR

For nearly three decades the Holland Furnace company has been classed as a sort of industrial barometer in the city of Holland. In our industrial setup the "Warm Friend" establishment has been and is an institution that presages the business pulse about as accurately as any in western Michigan.

The Holland Furnace company, through its more than 400 branches, has been in close touch with every locality throughout the nation, and is thus placed in a position to determine whether business is good, bad "spotty" or indifferent. Sometimes local conditions would bring good or bad results to the furnace company in that particular locality, but it had its finger on the national pulse just the same.

During the stressful period, however, it was bad all over. For that reason it is gratifying to read from this Holland barometer that there has been a tremendous turn about, beginning early in the season, that cannot help but picture better times ahead. There are many lines of trade and industry that have improved first, but this could not be said until now relative to home building, home improving and such accessories, or shall we say auxiliaries, as complete the home.

The selling of lumber, the remodeling of homes, the building of new ones are being reported daily. The start is slow to be sure, but the beginning has been made, and as time goes on this movement of "back to the home," will gain momentum. Nothing is more directly allied with the home than the heat unit, the "heart of the home."

For that reason the slogan "Holland Furnace Makes Warm Friends," has proved so conclusively appropriate, that throughout the nation, "Warm Friends" is immediately understood as the heating unit made by our local institution. A home immediately portrays warmth and happiness and it would seem that there could be very little happiness in a cold house.

But then, we are straying away from this industrial barometer. We are pleased to state that in interviewing Mr. P. T. Cheff, general manager of the Holland Furnace company, he painted a very bright and reassuring picture, even brighter than the story chronicled three

Among other things Mr. Cheff said: "The factory worked over one month and a half more this year than last year over the same period of time. More than 200 carloads of furnaces were shipped thus far this year over the number reported shipped for the same period in 1933. At least 80 men have been employed over the regular factory force, and besides an amount exceeding $50,000 more was paid in wages to the factory employees thus far this year over last year, which Mr. Cheff modestly states was partly due to extra work together

What Radio Listeners Want

A questionnaire recently given to some 18,000 visitors to the NBC studios in New York brings out interesting facts. The questionnaire requested them to ask for the kind of program they would like to have broadcast. The answers were divided into percentages and then compared with the division of programs at present being used by the National Broadcasting company.

On such subjects as dance music, comedy acts, symphonic music and variety shows the percentages were nearly equal, showing that the broadcasters had accurately felt the public pulse. But on drama and mystery the requests showed 7.1 per cent for this type of program, while the broadcasting company figures showed that it now puts on the air 12.6 per cent, or nearly 100 per cent more drama and mystery programs than the public wants.

The greatest discrepancy, however, was on the question of news broadcasts. Here the requested percentage was 6.2 per cent, while the actual amount broadcast was 1 per cent. Thus the broadcasters were sending out 500 per cent less news than the Radio City visitors indicated they would like to have. That there should be such a demand for news of vital things, coming from a source which is usually considered as purely entertainment, should be hopeful news for those persons who feel that radio is rather futile and that it must remain so because a rather dull audience wishes nothing better.

It also points to a field yet to be fully developed by the broadcasters, in which news can be interestingly and vitally portrayed. Such a development in radio programs could do a great deal toward stimulating the thinking of the American people, and such a people would be inclined to seek an intelligent, capable type of government, which is the desire of every right-thinking citizen.

GOLD MINES TO BE OPENED IN MICHIGAN

There is gold in Michigan—gold deposits in the upper peninsula that, in the opinion of the Geology Division, Department of Conservation, can be mined at a profit.

For 80 years geologists have known that there was gold ore in the upper peninsula, and that it was discovered that produced gold for a time at a profit, but eventually the companies that mined it closed down and suspended operations.

It is the general belief that the failure of these attempts was due principally to the inefficiency of methods employed and the type of machinery available at the time the mines were worked. With improved methods it may be possible to obtain gold in quantities that would more than pay for the cost of operations.

The Ropes Gold & Silver Company, first concern of its kind in the state, started mining operations three miles northeast of Ishpeming in 1882, and during its activity produced more than $600,000 in gross value of bullion. The Michigan Gold Mining Company, whose property was located near Ishpeming, obtained some of the finest specimens of free gold ever produced in this state. Now, after 40 years' inactivity, the Michigan Gold Mining Company has resumed operations with modern methods and equipment. The first shipment of Michigan gold taken from an operating mine in two-score years was recently made by this concern. It was in the form of bullion weighing 18 ounces and valued at $500 and it went to the New York mint.

ONLY THREE DAYS MORE

In a page announcement on sec. 2 of this issue Montgomery Ward announces that Ward Week has but three days more to go, including Saturday night. Ward Week Sale is the company's greatest bargain fest and prospective purchasers will do well to turn to this bargain page. It is Ward Week through the nation when "all America goes shopping." The Holland store on East Eighth street has been all dressed up for the past ten days, expressive of the Ward Week Sale.

April through September. The average number of persons included in each case is about 4.3 persons making the average cost per person per month, $3.81.

The administrative costs have risen from November, 1933, at $1274.70 to $4304.68 in August and $5579.17 in September. The policy of keeping the expenditures for relief at a minimum by maintaining a sufficiently large staff of investigators, so as to make frequent and careful investigations, as recommended by state authorities, was pointed out.

Get Commodities.

Besides administering direct and work relief the county administration has distributed about $86,819.60 of federal surplus commodities from January through September to relief and borderline families.

Of the total amount spent for administrative salaries, approximately two-fifths go to persons whose families would otherwise be on relief rolls. The state administration considers only the salaries of the non-relief persons as the actual administrative salary cost; however, in order to show a true picture of the situation both relief and non-relief persons were included in the figures.

Miss Veneklasen quoted from the Michigan welfare relief administration news:

"Administration costs always present a vexing problem to the executive. It is of paramount interest in business because, in the final analysis, the success of the executive is measured by the dividends which he returns to the stockholders. The relief administrator is faced with a different problem. The dividends which he returns can only be measured by the terms of social values. The relief administrator, therefore, is under obligation to use this money with the utmost economy consistent with social service standards."

A table was presented showing detail on budgets, allotments and expenditures. In November, December, January, February, June, July, August the balances for the month were in the red as high as $8,000. The allotment for September was $40,000 with a balance of $8,393.81, and the allotment for October was $41,000 with a budget requested of $48,500.

The budget is made up after a careful investigation and analysis of the industrial and agricultural situation and the prospects for the succeeding month while taking into consideration the experience under similar circumstances in previous years. This budget must show the amount of money expended to need in the succeeding month.

The state E. R. A. considers the request and makes an allotment of funds. The basis which seems to determine the amount is the amount requested, participation by the local communities in supporting relief burden and the cash position of the county welfare relief administration.

Miss Veneklasen stated that the road commission did not give $10,000 as requested by the board. This together with the rise of food costs the closing down of factories increases the load. When the predicament in August was discovered drastic retrenchments in the work division was made and the direct relief cut.

Cost in August.

The total expenditures during August were $33,217.56. If the full amount of the budget had been received the month could have been ended with a surplus of $1,957.44 instead of an actual deficit of $8,011.20. This deficit has been reduced to $6,000.89 by transfer of $2,010.31 balance from the March account. September was ended with a surplus of $8,393.81.

In August the commission received assurance that the city of Holland would donate $1,000 and the city of Zeeland $175 and it was received. Upon the request of the road commission for $10,000 the amount allotted from the state was $24,000, a reduction from our request of 29.4 per cent.

Grand Haven Group Forming Socialist Local

ARIE VAN DOESBURG OF HOLLAND ADDRESSES NEW BODY ON SOCIALIST PRINCIPLES

(Grand Haven Tribune)

A socialist local was being organized in this city Friday night at a meeting held in the Odd Fellows hall where 25 people gathered to hear Arie Van Doesburg, Holland Socialist candidate for congress, speak on the principles of Socialism and the need for a change of system in this country and over the world.

"Things that we use together must be owned together," Mr. Doesburg stated. He pointed to the public schools, the postoffice, the fire departments and highways as examples of public ownership which have proved successful.

"Capital is no longer needed to develop machinery. The things that are produced by the worker must be enjoyed by the worker. At the present time the worker can secure but 11 per cent of that which he produces, causing stagnation in the channels of trade, poverty, and want in a land where there are great surpluses of natural products, and manufactured products," he continued.

"The CWA, the old age pension and other methods of relief are but does which are fast plunging the country into the red. It will continue from time to time to stop revolution, which the capitalists see is certain to come. These relief measures are but a sop to the workers given out periodically to sustain the capitalist system," he stated.

"Lincoln stated this country cannot exist half slave and half free. There are two kind of slaves, chattel slaves and wage slaves, and his statement applies to present conditions as it did to chattel slaves. "It is nonsense to say the machine age is a detriment to human progress. It is a development to bring greater happiness to the mass of the people."

O. K. KIDDIE SHOW

A special show for children will be held at the Holland theater on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, October 13. All children will be admitted for 10c and adults desiring to attend will be admitted for 25 cents.

Mickey Mouse Cartoons, Our Gang Comedies, Sillies, Symphonies, Traveltalks, Spas Reels and Selected Shots from late news reels.

Entire program will run approximately one and one-half hours.

In all sources of film rating these subjects are listed as films suited to any audience and particularly children.

This is the first of a series of Saturday morning programs which we are sure will meet your approval and are the types we would like to have our boys and girls attend. Their continuance depends upon a paying audience. Won't you see that your youngsters are informed of the program.

SAUGATUCK MOURNS POPULAR YOUNG MAN

Keith Kelly, 18, graduate of the Saugatuck High school last June and one of the community's most popular young men, died Monday from a sinus infection that went to the brain. He was an honor student and was to take a position with a brother, George of Chicago.

George Kelly, the father, died when Keith was 2 years of age. Mrs. Kelly later married Charles Radebaugh. They own the Hotel Butler.

Survivors include the mother; a sister, Lucille, a senior at M.S.C.; the brother, George, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wilson, besides two stepbrothers and a stepister.

Funeral services are being held at the home at 2 p. m. Thursday, with Sea Scouts as bearers. School will be closed and pupils will attend in a body.

Squirrel Turns Thief

At a loss to account for the frequent disappearance of candy bars, which no payment was made, from the outdoor candy counter at Camp Curry in Yosemite National Park, proprietors of the counter conducted a special watch to see that customers took only what they had paid for. The culprit turned out to be a small Douglas squirrel which was observed to sneak up to the tempting array of sweets, snatch a large bar of candy and whisk to the top of the roof with his booty in his mouth before anyone could stop him.

Beer License Folks Ask More Strick Laws

timint. Its members do not want the small hour mornning business, and it hereby pledges itself to use sincere and determined effort with the liquor control commission and the legislature of the state of Michigan to place an hour for closing not later than 12 o'clock at night.

The members of this association believe that the youth of this county should be protected from temptation to overindulge. They believe that during the ages between 18 and 21 there may be that lack of discretion in the youth of our county which might protect them from abuses. They favor and hereby pledge themselves to use their sincere and determined efforts with the liquor control commission, and the legislature of the state of Michigan to place a minimum age limit of 21 years at which minors may purchase liquor or beer.

The members of this association are paying federal and state license fees. In return therefore they are receiving benefit of control by the state. They pledge themselves to co-operate to the fullest extent through the association officers in stamping out unlicensed, illegal, handling of liquor and beer, and in keeping out the bootlegger.

The association favors co-operation among its members in dealing with the habitual. It suggests, and will assist in a system of black listing. It proposes that the police and sheriff's departments institute a black list system, to be published periodically to the membership. It pledges its co-operation in refusing to sell such habituals as the departments may designate.

There is no suggestion made, nor comparison with the liquor business as before prohibition. It cannot be questioned that the present system so far overshadows that of the pre-prohibition era as to present no comparison. Proponents of local option refuse to recognize the evils of the prohibition era. Those evils must be faced. We must persist in our statements that at the present time CONTROL is to be our watchword. We have control and want more of it. We pledge ourselves to that task, with brightest prospects of co-operation from our controller, our licenser—our state.

STATE OF MICHIGAN
 IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF OTTAWA
 IN CHANCERY

Ben Bouman, Plaintiff, vs. Jeanette De Ridder Bouman, defendant.
 Order.

At a session of the said Court, held at the Court House in the City of Grand Haven, in said County, on the 11th day of October, 1934. Present: THE HON. FRED T. MILES, Circuit Judge.

It appearing to this Court from affidavit on file, that Jeanette De Ridder Bouman, defendant herein, cannot be located and that her whereabouts is unknown:

It is ordered that she appear and answer the bill of complaint filed in this cause within three months from the date of this order, or said bill will be taken as confessed and that this order be published as required by law in the Holland City News, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said County.

FRED T. MILES, Circuit Judge.

COMMISSION FORMED TO ASSIST FARMERS

The rehabilitation commission, recently formed in Ottawa county, met at Holland the evening of October 8 to discuss plans for the future. The commission consists of Miss D. Veneklasen, Holland; Roy Lowing of Georgetown township; Hunter Herring of Crocker township, and L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent. Mr. Herring was elected chairman, and Miss Veneklasen, secretary. Mr. Lowing is supervisor and has active charge of the projects. The commission is formed for the purpose of assisting those farmers who, through a small loan, may become or remain self-sustaining. This loan may be paid back in labor or produce. The first work project to be undertaken by the commission will be the opening of marl beds in different parts of the county. Stock piles of marl will be established and farmers will be enabled to obtain the marl at fairly low cost, about 25 cents per yard. A survey is now being made of the county for the location of suitable beds. Digging will start as soon as the projects have been approved in the Lansing office.

Fishing License Must Be Carried

If you have purchased a fishing license be sure to have it with you when fishing. It was issued for that purpose and a license left at home will fail to give the inquiring conservation officer the proof which he needs.

Henry Jarks, 21, recently apprehended by Officers E. H. Stiller and Dell Haley, was hailed before Justice George Decker of White Cloud on a charge of not having license in possession while fishing. Jarks was fined $5 and costs which were suspended. Jarks, however, was placed upon a 60-day probation, which, if broken, will result in his digging up $11.85 of hard money.

Fishing without your license in possession is just as risky as trying to drive your car without plates. You are sure to get picked up and it is the duty of each conservation officer to be sure that each and every individual fishing has met with the state's requirements.

Your co-operation along these lines will aid the officers in the performance of their duty and make it possible for them to spend more of their time in the running down of those whose rank violations are each day making serious inroads upon our fishing and wildlife.

Application for marriage licenses from the following have been made at the county clerk's office: Thomas D. Elzinga, 28, Holland; and Cornelia D. Griep, 22, Holland; Marvin T. Tinnholt, 24, Holland; Lydia Van Otterloo, 23, Holland; Marvin Kamp, 22, Nunica; and Genevieve Baldus, 17, Spring Lake.

DRIFTWOOD GROWS SCARCE ALONG LAKE

"Bring your own wood." That is advice to the thousands who visit the shores of Lake Michigan for picnics if the supply continues to diminish. In fact, many already are carrying their own firewood now when they go to the lake to roast wieners or steaks, or just to build a bonfire to add to the scene.

Usually the shores of Lake Michigan are covered with driftwood of all kinds washed up during the winter storms. But so many people have visited the lake this season that the supply is exhausted within miles of the favorite outing spots. Of course the situation will be remedied for another season, as more driftwood is brought ashore during the winter and spring. But right now it is well to provide your own supply.

HAMILTON HERD IS HIGH IN AVERAGE

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Madison, Wisconsin, reports that the Henry Overbeek herd of registered Holsteins, at Hamilton, has completed 135 days of its annual production test, and has maintained the satisfactory daily average of 1.3 pounds fat per cow. Two cows in the herd have already exceeded the 200 pound fat mark, with the cow named Pauline Veeman Osterbaan in the lead with a credit of 243.4 pounds fat and 7837.7 pounds milk. During the last reported monthly test period, four cows in the herd exceeded the 40 pound fat mark, one of them making 51 pounds.

Since the Holstein Association adopted a breeding program sponsored by President A. J. Glover, there has been an increased interest in testing for production. The breeding program as adopted by the Holstein Association is simply more testing — mass testing — testing every cow in the herd year after year. These records will locate the good sires and the broad cows of the breed. By intelligently applying this accumulated knowledge, it is hoped to establish many herds that will be bred pure for high levels of production. When this is done, the term "pure-bred" will mean something. When this is done, the registration paper will be, in a measure, a guarantee of production.

Sugar Beet Crop In State Is Bigger

While Department of Agriculture estimates just issued indicate a below-normal beet sugar crop, five of the country's important beet sugar producing states have an indicated production will will top the five-year average from 1927 through 1931.

The Department's crop report shows that California, Montana, Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin will top the five-year average. Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Nebraska and Wyoming will be slightly under the five-year figures.

While the indicated production for 1934 as outlined in the crop report is only slightly below the five-year average for the country, it is considerably under last year's bumper crop.

The report shows an estimated 1934 crop of 7,502,000 short tons of sugar beets as compared with 7,654,000 short tons for the 1927-1932 period. The 1933 production was 11,030,000 short tons. Michigan's 1933 acreage was 167,000; 1934 acreage, 147,000; five-year average production, 500,000 tons; 1933 production 1,203,000 tons, indicated 1934 production 812,000 tons.

GLOBE TRAVELING PEST ARRIVES — EATS WAY ACROSS COUNTRY

One of the best insect travelers, the Alabama moth, is due to arrive in Michigan about this week on its annual pilgrimage from Honduras, according to the entomology department at Michigan State college. In common with other globe trotters, the Alabama moth has a variety of names and a taste for knickknacks found in all localities. The Alabama moth eats cotton in the south under the title of the cotton worm, when it gets to the tobacco fields it becomes the false bud worm, and in the truck gardener's tomatoes it is the tomato fruit worm.

In Michigan, the Alabama moth is just a pain in the neck. It collects around lights in clouds and causes more or less mental disturbance to food producers. It also rasps the skins of ripe fruits and causes them to decay. The moth is brown, about one and one-half inches in wing spread, and only the adults cause damage here. It attacks only soft fruits and the damage can be lessened by storing picked fruit in screened buildings. The moths disappear after the first frosts and reappear again the next year if conditions further south have been favorable for their development.

China's Talkie Troubles Sales Goes Up

Although it has but one written language, China has a dozen or more well defined spoken dialects, which have risen up in the past to plague it in more ways than one. At the moment the producers of Chinese talking pictures are scratching their heads over the problem of making talkies for general distribution in China and among Chinese abroad.

The Nanking government is trying to make the "mandarin" or official dialect the spoken language of all Chinese. This dialect is already the common tongue of virtually all Chinese except those living south of the Yangtze and within 200 miles of the coast. As a means to making it universal the authorities in Nanking have forbidden the use of any other dialect in talking pictures.

Canton has its own dialect and resents Nanking's action. Canton producers are preparing to make their own talkies and boycott those in which mandarin is employed. A movement is on in Fukien, which also has a dialect of its own, to follow Canton's example. As there are many Cantonese in America and many Fukiense in the Straits Settlements, a considerable overseas sale for such pictures is anticipated.

Theodore Roosevelt, defending English as the sole language of the American public school, said that this country did not intend to become "a polyglot boarding-house." Owing to the multiplicity of its spoken languages or dialects, China long ago developed into just that.

There is probably no greater barrier to the early creation of political unity and a national consciousness in China than this linguistic hurdle, which the talking picture people are trying to get over or around.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Mulder of East Saugatuck entertained on Tuesday evening at a surprise party in honor of their son, Ernest, the occasion being his birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Lemmen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fairbanks, the Misses Gertrude and Elizabeth Fairbanks, the Misses Theresa and Esther Fairbanks, Miss Anna Mulder, the Misses Esther, Leona, Evelyn and Verna Mulder, John Dykhuys, Cornelius Konk, Ben Eckwielen and Albert Nienhuis.

The News Says Amen!

(Grand Rapids Press) Warning issued at Grand Haven by Conservation Officer Antles that speedboats on inland lakes must be operated with due regard for the presence of other boats, bathers and persons engaged in fishing, is one that might well be applied throughout the state.

Speedboat disturbers have in many instances become a major nuisance on some Michigan resort lakes. Uncurbed, they will serve to drive away vacationers and tourists who come into the region to enjoy fishing and bathing. There is no excuse for the "smart Alec" operator who shows off by seeing how close he can come to other boats or swimmer without hitting them.

Michigan's resort lakes should be open for the enjoyment of all comers, not merely for the selfish pleasure of a few speedsters. Operators who show no consideration should be forcibly curbed for the benefit of others who desire to enjoy the waters.

If speedboat operators will not practice self-regulation they may find themselves eventually barred altogether and as usual the selfishness of a few will spoil the pleasure of all, even of those who are careful and reasonable with the craft.

Bees Unable to Store Up Honey

Even the bees sat on their front door steps and talked about the weather which made it impossible for them to gather good stores of honey this summer, according to specialists in agriculture at Michigan state college. The experts agree that the bees did not lose ambition and that they continued to send out scouts to locate nectar bearing plants but the task was hopeless and the honey supply will be only half of normal this year. Feed stores for the bees themselves will be short and many colonies must be fed before winter if they are to survive until spring.

The professor said to weigh the bees to find whether they need a supply of syrup. He failed to state whether bees are to be fed or waxes since the scales but as a pound is supposed to weigh 100 pounds if feed stores are sufficient, perhaps you weigh the colonies on dark nights with the hive entrances plugged.

Dr. Wynand Wichers, president of Hope college, will discuss his recent trip to Europe at the fellowship supper of the Third eformed church Men's League, which will take place Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the church. All men of the church are invited.

Fishing License Sales Goes Up

Twenty per cent more resident fishing licenses were sold in Michigan up to July 30 than for the entire year of 1933, according to a report of the Licence Division, Department of Conservation.

During the first seven months of 1934, the report shows 335,251 licenses were purchased by resident fishermen. The total for the entire year of 1933 was 286,532.

The demand among non-residents for special 10-day licenses has exceeded the demand for annual licenses this year. The non-resident annual license cost $2, 10-day license, $1.

A tabulation of August returns is expected to see increases over the total for 1933 in all types of fishing licenses. The figures up to July 30 as compared to 1933 are:

July 30 1933
 Non-resident annual 17,981 30,127
 Non-resident special 19,751 26,090
 Wife licenses 13,276 9,365
 Resident licenses 355,251 286,532

SALES CONTEST STARTED FOR KROGER EMPLOYEES (Grand Rapids Press)

A sales contest for Kroger employees in western Michigan was announced Monday night at a Kroger sales meeting and party having a football theme and addressed by Coach Charles Bachman of Michigan State college at the Civic auditorium.

Approximately 1,200 persons attended the meeting. The sales campaign starts immediately and will continue until December 1. Many prizes are offered. Penalties for fumbles and points for dropkicks were announced.

Various divisions of the Kroger organization in western Michigan were given college names, college songs were played by a dance orchestra and the various units gave yells.

Speeches were made by William E. Burke, sales manager; L. O. Griffin, branch manager, and Clem Fries, advertising manager. The meeting was under supervision of Harold Stuart, member of the sales department.

Emory Parnell, "One Man Band," from Detroit, entertained. Dancing was among the enjoyable features. The Holland and Zeeland stores are included in the western Michigan gridiron.

Church Board to Grant Aid

The Board of Benevolence met on September 19 for the purpose of granting financial aid to those students who are preparing themselves for future service to the church. Originally the board was incorporated for the purpose of making loans to those students who sought to enter the ministry. Later, however, this board advanced funds not only to aid future ministers, but also to aid future missionaries. As a result of this the Board of Benevolence is now assisting about fifteen Hope students, both men and women.

Plans for a dance for Saturday evening, October 20, were discussed by the Junior Welfare League at their regular meeting held at the Woman's Literary club Monday evening. Reports on the tea and last dance were also given. Miss Sarah Lacey, Miss Hester Pellegrin, Miss Elizabeth Arendshorst, Mrs. Clarence Klaassen and Miss Gladys Huizenga, who were elected to league membership last week, were formally welcomed into the organization Monday night.

John R. Dethmers, Ottawa county prosecutor, will talk on the "Issues of the Coming Election" at the Woman's Literary club at next Tuesday's meeting. Mrs. Siegel Judd of Grand Rapids will speak on "What Does Your Vote Mean?" Miss Emily Kardux was hostess to the Waketa Camp Fire group on Tuesday evening. Business, work on scrapbooks and plans for a Halloween party and a social hour made up the evening's program.

The Seebewa Camp Fire Girls of Saugatuck have elected the following officers: President, Joanne Edgcomb; vice president, Gertrude Deike; secretary, Isabelle Crapple; scribe, Laverne Taylor; treasurer and guardian, Mrs. L. R. Braay.

Mrs. W. Vander Veere and her daughter, Miss Kathryn, were hostesses at a shower Saturday afternoon, complimenting Miss Helene Tuls. A pleasant time was had by guests present, among whom were Mesdames A. Bolks, G. K. Van Duren, Arthur Van Duren, C. W. Nibbelink, Andrew Hyma, H. De Vries, the Misses Jean and Jennie Grotenhuis and Anna Boot.

Mrs. Geizina Eisen, 62, suffered a fractured leg and minor bruises and lacerations when struck by a machine driven by Clarence A. Moyer of Grand Rapids. Moyer, on his way to Chicago, took the injured woman to Holland hospital and informed police department she walked in the path of his machine.

The reasons given the board of supervisors for changing Black Lake to Lake Macatawa were that there are many Black lakes over the country, causing confusion on the part of tourists and resorters; that the name is not an especially attractive one; that Lake Macatawa is used frequently especially by marine men accustomed to attaching the name used for a certain resort near Holland. The change has already been approved by the state conservation commission and the geological commission. The approval of the board today virtually assures it and the application will be made to the state for final approval.

The Oecowasin Camp Fire group will meet next Monday at the home of Sybil Brailey, 111 East Ninth street. Last Monday the group hiked to Pine Lodge.

The Woman's Literary club at their regular meeting Tuesday heard the play "Romance," by Edward Sheldon, read by Mrs. Elvera Baker of Grand Rapids. Mrs. Baker is a most able reader and presented the several characters vividly. The business session preceding the program was presided over by the president, Mrs. J. D. French, report of the state convention being given by Mrs. W. J. Olive. A rummage sale to take place October 27 at the clubhouse was announced by Mrs. William Winter.

Marvin C. Lindeman of this city who has been a member of the county emergency welfare relief commission since its organization more than a year ago, serving as vice chairman, has resigned his position on the commission because of the fact that as advertising manager of the Charles Karr company he feels he cannot give to the work of the commission the time it deserves. Mr. Lindeman states that the many important matters that Next post meeting on October 24.

Did you notice our new commander last night? He took charge of that meeting like an old timer. Of course, his portly figure had something to do with it.

We can now begin planning on the Armistice Day banquet. As it appears now it will not be the "pot-luck" type. The main reason for the change is that the work of planning and serving always fell on the same few and who are now ready to sit down and be served.

The cost will be within reach of everyone and will probably be announced next week. So far the menu is sufficient to satisfy even the hungriest member. We saw to this so that Louis Dalman would not have to reserve an extra plate.

Any ex-service man desirous of making application to the CCC camps can obtain blanks from Sam Bosch.

The post is considering the sponsorship of a Cub Pack, a Junior Boy Scout group. If you have a son between 9 and 12 years old that has talked this matter and wants to join, it will be talked over at our next meeting.

The past president of the auxiliary was up to see us last night. She asked for a moment to thank the membership for their co-operation in all projects and especially Past Commander De Fouw for his willingness to help the auxiliary.

The park board rendered its report which was in detail and very complete. It showed that, in spite of a cool August, a nice business was done at the beach. A rising vote of thanks and confidence was extended the members of the board.

We will print the committee appointments next week. If you are donated a job, the only thing to do is to do it.

Forensic Society Plans Year's Work

The first meeting of Pi Kappa Delta, Hope's national oratorical society, was held in the "Y" room, Monday, September 24.

It was decided to have a social meeting at Ek Buy's cottage, October 11. At today's meeting the year's work will be outlined and reports made by the representatives of the society who attended the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech Conference.

At this conference, held October 5 and 6 at Michigan State College, Lansing, Michigan, the debate subject for the year was announced. Dr. J. B. Nykerk and Prof. Deckard Ritter attended as faculty representatives with Miss Ruth Verhey, as orator manager; Miss Marion Wray, as women's debate manager; David De Witt, as men's debate manager, and Henry Kuizenga as secretary.

Margaret Dregman, Vander Meulen, Chairmen

According to all indications, Hope College is looking forward to one of the greatest homecomings in her history. The week-end of October 19 and 20 has been selected for this year's celebration.

Margaret Dregman and John Vander Meulen, general chairmen, have appointed the following committee chairmen: Alumni, Dove Cupery; Program, Jay Bush; Field Decorations, Dick Smith; Parade and Floats, Ken Vander Velde; Publicity and Advertising, James Borer; Campus, Calvin Vander Werf; Refreshments, Victor Turdo.

As is traditional, the homecoming celebrations will be opened with the float parade of the sororities and fraternities. At the conclusion of the parade the entire student body will congregate at Carnegie Gymnasium where the winners of the parade will be awarded their prizes. A pep meeting, including speeches, cheers, music, and refreshments will follow.

On Saturday, after much cavorting and celebrating around town, students arrayed in Hope colors will assemble at the Riverview Stadium to watch the Dutchmen struggle against the Albion grid-ders. It promises to be a great battle with Albion claiming to have their best team in five years. Last year the Hopetites struggled with the Purple and Gold in a sea of mud to a scoreless tie. With this game to be played on their home field, the boys are confident of victory. The American Legion band will stir the grid-ders on with martial music.

Following the game, Mrs. W. H. Durfee will hold her usual Coffee Kletz at Vorhes Hall. All alumni and students are cordially invited. The rest of the day will be spent with alumni gatherings, shows, and dates.

HAMILTON

A peculiar accident took place on Main street last Monday afternoon when a car driven by Junius Kooiker crashed into the rear end of James Archambault's automobile. Both cars were going south when the Archambault engine stalled and Kooiker's brakes failed to work. Although there was a loud crash neither car revealed even a scratch to mar the shine. The jar, however, had started the stalled engine and Jim claims that a model T. Ford is the only car he cares to drive.

Mrs. John Kronmeyer, Mrs. J. Roggen, Mrs. Harry Lampen, Mrs. Henry Kemper, Mrs. Richard Haakma, Mrs. John Tanis, Mrs. Henry Strabbing, Mrs. E. A. Danglemond, Josephine Bolks, Ella Roggen attended the Woman's Missionary conference at Forest Grove last week, Friday.

Harvey Johnson submitted to an operation for appendicitis at the Holland hospital last week, Thursday.

Student C. Vander Naald of the Western seminary had charge of the services at the Second church Sunday.

Mrs. Nellie Borgman of Kalamazoo visited relatives and friends on Sunday.

Very little business was done in this village last week. Most of the men were home or had congregated in some place of business to listen to reports coming from Detroit and St. Louis. The town of stubborn National League fans has suddenly become a daffy and dizzy mob of American Leaguers. "Card" fans were as scarce and as popular as Democrats were in the last primary.

Harvey Zeerip and Jacob Eding enjoyed box seats at the games Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lampen and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Jo Hagelskamp were in Kalamazoo Saturday. The men attended a firemen's regional meeting of western Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Vos and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nyhoff attended the Century of Progress exposition last week, Saturday.

Dr. G. H. Rigerink returned home Friday from Detroit. He spent several days at Herman Kiefer hospital in the study of contagious diseases. Dr. M. H. Hamelink stopped on his return at the Ann Arbor state hospital.

New Officers To Be Installed By Auxiliary

The fiscal year of the American Legion auxiliary is drawing to a close and on Monday of next week the officers who have served faithfully and well for the past year, will retire in favor of those newly elected.

The auxiliary meeting Monday evening will be preceded by a pot-luck supper to which all auxiliary members are invited. The supper to be staged in the G.A.R. room at the city hall, will begin at 6 o'clock. Each member should bring one dish of food for the table, so that there may be plenty to eat, and should also bring their own dishes and silverware. Mrs. Sooter, auxiliary president, states that coffee will be served by the committee.

The regular meeting will begin at 8 o'clock, business for the evening including the installing of new officers, yearly reports, etc. The meeting will be presided over by Mrs. E. Sooter, who is also making all arrangements. Mrs. Nellie Stanaway, past district committee woman, will install the new officers. They are, president, Mrs. Jeanette Ver Meulen; first vice president, Mrs. Mae Van Tongeren; second vice president, Mrs. Margaret Barkema; secretary, Mrs. Margaret Jappings; treasurer, Mrs. Antoinette Joldersma; chaplain, Mrs. Katherine Van Duren; historian, Mrs. Maureen Dills; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Lillian Strowenans.

DR. DANIEL POLLING SPEAKS AT C. E. MEET IN HOPE CHAPEL

he called upon men and women of the Reformed church and the young people of the Christian Endeavor to evangelize for Christ and thus renew and preserve the Christian order, which is the only salvation of the world's problems.

Rev. Mr. Spaan, carrying out the theme of the conference, "The True God and the Church," spoke on "The Supremacy of Jesus." He emphasized the need of stressing the supremacy of Christ rather than of man, not only theologically and dogmatically, but especially in a practical way.

About 50 Christian Endeavorers attended the supper Tuesday evening in First Reformed church, which was followed by informal conferences under the direction of Mr. Marks and Mr. Wright. On Tuesday evening Endeavorites met in Hope chapel, together with synod delegates when Rev. H. Maasen of North Holland was chairman of the meeting. The song service on Tuesday evening, led by Ernest S. Marks, was followed by the address of the evening given by Rev. H. Huenemann, of Forreston, Ill. He pointed out the need of continuing in the faith of our fathers. He emphasized the need of doctrine, saying "A church is always what its doctrine is," and therefore much attention must be paid to the purity of the doctrines of the church.

Major Tells of West Point and The Army

GIVES THREE REASONS WHY WARS ARE FOUGHT: SELF-PRESERVATION ONE

The members of the Holland Exchange club listened to a fine address at the regular meeting on Wednesday by Major Charles K. Fales, of "The United States Army." Major Fales was introduced by Captain Henry Geerts of our local branch of the national guard, who had secured the major as a guest speaker.

Major Fales told the story of how he had worked against odds to obtain a West Point appointment, coming from the state of Washington. He considered this the most democratic institution in the world as he said no distinction would be noticed a few minutes after matriculation between rich and poor, or between different social ranks. A man is respected there for what he can make of himself, but all start on an equal footing.

The speaker said that our army defense consisted of three divisions, viz., the regular, now numbering 85,000 men; the national guard, and the reserves. The latter two are, of course, scattered throughout the nation to be mobilized in case of emergency, whereas the regular army is constantly prepared for immediate service. Holland's unit, called Company D 126th infantry, is an efficient and well-trained branch of the national guard, the major said.

The main causes of war, he considered to be man's inability to distinguish constantly between right and wrong, between fair and wrong dealing, growth of populations beyond capacity of nations to absorb them, and desire for selfish expansion. Japan has a growth of population annually of nearly 900,000 on a land area of which only 15 per cent is arable and no larger in extent than the state of California. Such nations must have new land on which to place their excess population as no nation will allow its people to starve. Thus for protection nations shall need for many years to come an army alert and prepared to defend their peoples as well as territories.

Mr. Homer Rodheaver was the guest of the club and was introduced by Director Eugene Heister. He sang two songs, one called "Sunbeams," and the other a song written while he was in service and wounded in France. The song is entitled "Carry On," the rallying cry and slogan of the British soldier. He asked the members of the Exchange club to join in the chorus.

Rev. Mel Trotter and his brother, Rev. George Trotter, now in charge of our City Mission, were also guests of the club.

More Than One Thousand At Big Banquet

FEDERATION OF YOUNG WOMEN'S SOCIETIES NOW MEETING IN CITY

Holland has been and is being hostess to three large gatherings this week, namely the Synod of Chicago of Reformed Churches of America, the Christian Endeavor union, both meeting on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, and the American Federation of Young Women's societies, meeting in Fourteenth Street and Central avenue on Thursday and Friday.

Articles relating to the synod and Endeavor meetings can be found in this issue. The federation meetings are being well attended, delegates being registered from Iowa, Denver, Colorado, as far south as Cleveland, Ohio, and as far east as Paterson, New Jersey. Miss Anne Weesies of Kalamazoo, treasurer of the federation, was in charge of the registration.

The young ladies were officially welcomed Thursday morning by an

Miss Dena Kuiper, president of the League of Young Women's societies, following the organ prelude played by Miss Gertrude Beckman, organist of Fourteenth Street church, where Thursday morning's session was held.

Mrs. George Pels led the song service and devotions were conducted by Mrs. C. Dornbos, chairman of the session.

The opening address of the convention was given by Miss Johanna Timmer, dean of women of Calvin college, and federation president, who spoke on the subject "Life's Common Denominator."

The afternoon programs, beginning at 2 o'clock, included an address by Mrs. E. Van Halsem of Passaic, New Jersey, her subject being "The Consecrated Bible Student." A large mass meeting is being held at Central Avenue Christian Reformed church this evening. The program scheduled, includes an address by Rev. H. Keegstra of Alendale, former pastor of Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church, who will discuss the topic "Consecration in Reading." Prof. H. Jellema of Calvin college will present greetings from the Federation of Young Men's societies. Miss Timmer will conduct devotions and Mrs. Catherine Wabeke will lead the song service. Special music will be by the Aelion chorus under the direction of Marvin Baas of the Christian High school faculty.

The two-day convention will be concluded with a banquet to be held Friday evening at the Holland armory. More than 1,100 will sit down to the festive board, 200 to be served in the Methodist church since all cannot be accommodated in the armory. Miss Johanna Timmer, president of the federation will be in charge of the banquet program.

Officers of the federation are Miss Timmer, president; Miss Dena Kuiper of Holland, vice president; Miss Helen Zandstra of Grand Rapids, secretary; Miss Weesies, treasurer, and Mrs. J. Helmus of Chicago, and Mrs. A. Oelen of Grand Rapids, board members.

were called to Ann Arbor last Saturday by the sudden turn for the worse of their little boy, Davis Lee, a patient at the University hospital. Latest reports show considerable improvement and his mother is expected to return home in the near future.

Miss Sarah E. Lacey of the Hope college faculty of the School of Music was the guest soloist at the evening service last Sunday. Miss Lacey was formerly organist at the local church. She played "Notturno," by Respighi.

The Wednesday evening young people's classes were omitted to enable the members to attend the Christian Endeavor rally held at Hope Memorial chapel that evening. Next Wednesday evening regular classes will be held and Mr. E. Aumasa of Chicago, Illinois, will teach the class in church history and Mr. Nicholas Roseboom of Steen, Minnesota, will be in charge of the class in Christian doctrine.

Mrs. Fred S. Bertsch and Mrs. Albert Bremer were the hostesses at the regular meeting of the Willing Workers Aid society held at the church Thursday afternoon.

The Ladies' Adult class held its quarterly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Albert Lugers. Mrs. Henry Lugers assisted the hostess and a very profitable program was presented by the reading of interesting missionary items by each of the members present.

The Central Park male choir will sing at the morning service next Sunday and the pastor will preach on the subject, "Do Evil that Good May Come!" Romans 3:8.

An Intermediate Christian Endeavor society was organized at the church Sunday afternoon. The following officers were elected: President, Robert Van Dyk; vice president, Edwin Nieuwsma; secretary, Kenneth Van Den Berg; treasurer, Louis Van Dyk. Mrs. Floyd Boerema, Mrs. James Cook and Miss Vivian Harkema constituted the committee of adults in charge of the organization.

Among those present at the missionary conference held in Forest Grove last Friday going from here were Mrs. F. J. Van Dyk, Mrs. D. Van Der Meer, Mrs. J. M. Cook, Mrs. P. J. Emmick, Mrs. D. Miles, Mrs. R. Van Lente, Mrs. S. Harkema, Mrs. F. Boerema, Mrs. J. Harthorn, Mrs. C. S. Prince, Mrs. A. Schurman, Mrs. J. H. De Pree, Mrs. E. Kemel, Mrs. W. H. Hel-mink and Mrs. H. Van Velden.

Mrs. George Heneveld and Mrs. Blaince Timmer and daughter, Audrey Jean, were the guests of Mrs. George De Vries Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. F. J. Van Dyk and Elder Edward Kiemel attended the meetings of the Synodical conference held in Hope church, Tuesday and Wednesday.

New Factory Is Moving to Spring Lake

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS CONCERN THAT MAKES MOPS AND DOES PLATING TAKES BILTWELL BUILDING

The Michigan Sanitary Supply and Superior Plating and Rust Proofing companies operated by Frank H. Werschem will locate in Spring Lake in the building formerly occupied by the Biltwell corporation. The company formerly operated in Muskegon Heights and is a going concern employing at the present time 15 men.

Mr. Werschem is the owner of the company and has been in business since 1921. He is purchasing the building.

The new factory will get into production immediately. The manufacture of the company's products provides a balanced production the year round as the plating and rust proofing department is a seasonal one employing at certain periods as high as 60 men.

Helped in Negotiations
The new company was brought to Spring Lake through the combined efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Commerce and Industry. Negotiations were started about two months ago when it became known that Mr. Werschem was looking for a building in which he could expand his business. His location in Muskegon Heights in a commercial zone made it impossible for him to expand in the way it was necessary due to the growth of the business.

The Sanitary Supply company manufactures all types of commercial mop equipment such as is used in public buildings, schools, institutions and large commercial buildings.

The plating department engages in plating and polishing brass fixtures for refrigerators and manufactured articles of that type. The building with the two long wings is ideally constructed for both departments and was the deciding factor in inducing the owner to move to this locality.

Already work has started on making a few changes necessary before the machinery and equipment can be moved in. The heating plant is being put in shape, new floors are being laid and small changes are being made to admit the machinery which will be moved from the old plant in Muskegon Heights. Work will start as quickly as possible and the men employed at the present time will gradually be transferred to maintain as continued an operation as possible.

BIG HORNED OWL CAUGHT

Because it got its feathers wet, a large horned owl which had been observed several times in Wilderness State park during the summer, is now an enforced resident at Ann Arbor. William J. Howard, CCC wildlife technician, and F. F. Brunson, park superintendent, saw the owl along the beach feeding on an American merganser, which bore evidence of having been freshly killed. The owl hissed and flapped its wings at Howard's approach but seemed unable to fly. It was captured and sent to the University of Michigan for exhibition purposes.

KNICKERBOCKERS OBSERVE 25TH ANNIVERSARY AT WARM FRIEND TAVERN

Invitations having been sent to alumni in all parts of the nation, active members of the Knickerbocker society of Hope college are completing plans for a silver jubilee dinner at the Warm Friend Tavern Saturday, October 20.

Just 25 years ago the society was founded on Hope's campus by a group of 12 students. In order to raise funds to found the organization, a Knickerbocker quartet was formed which entertained in Holland and surrounding communities during the year. The organization founders were freshmen and graduated as a class of 1913.

Among the speakers at the jubilee program will be Clarence Lokker, former city attorney and county prosecutor, who practices law in Holland.

The dinner will be held in conjunction with the Hope college homecoming and will be staged at 6:30 o'clock, after the Hope-Albion football game.

JOHN H. DYKE PASSES; HAD BEEN RESIDENT OF THIS VICINITY 64 YEARS

John H. Dyke, 79, resident of Holland and vicinity for the past 64 years, passed away at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hornstra, 188 West Eighteenth street, with whom he had made his home for the past twenty years.

Mr. Dyke was born in The Netherlands, coming to America when a lad of 15 years, and settling in Allendale, where he continued to make his home until coming to Holland to live with the Hornstras. Mrs. Dyke having passed away some years before.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hornstra and at 2 o'clock in the Sixteenth Street Christian Reformed church. Rev. Peter Jonker, the pastor, officiating. Burial took place in Allendale cemetery.

Mr. Dyke is survived by four sons, Gerrit and Egbert Dyke of Holland and Mrs. John Kraker of Allendale; 22 grandchildren and 1 great-grandchild.

The dry goods and grocery store of Dyke & Hornstra, son and son-in-law of the deceased, was closed all day Wednesday.

Cows That Are a Loss to the Farmer

Dairy cows which would pay their owners a profit in 1933 are a dead loss to their owners now, and the dairy department at Michigan State College urges Michigan farmers to cull their herds on the basis of butterfat production high enough to pay a profit on high priced feeds.

It costs $36 to feed a cow which produced 150 pounds of butterfat in 1933. The feed cost now for the same cow would be $45. The returns from sales of butterfat at 30 cents a pound will be only $45 so the owner of such a cow this year will lose all his labor and any costs other than those for feed.

The 1934 feed cost per year for a cow producing 300 pounds of butterfat is $54. The returns from butterfat sales at 30 cents a pound will be $90, leaving a margin of $36 between the price of the feed and the receipts for butterfat. This margin, of course, is not profit because all expenses other than feed must be deducted.

Unless cows are better than the state average in producing ability their owners will lose money on all the feed supplied to them this winter. Such cows are of little value as breeding stock because they tend to produce daughters which are no better than themselves.

Julius Newman, Simon Pauwe and E. Spruit were arrested Tuesday by Allegan authorities assisted by Deputy Tony Greenfield, and are in custody of Allegan county officers charged with simple larceny from a home south of Holland.

Miss Belle Morgan Monday exhibited in her Allegan store a sprig of lilac in bloom and some red dogwood blossoms picked on the farm of her brother, Thomas Morgan, of Trowbridge township.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reus gave a birthday party Friday evening in honor of Miss Harriet Johnson, sister of Mrs. Reus, the affair being a surprise to Miss Johnson. A feature of the evening was the wish of many more happy birthdays as expressed in song by Pearl Dorothy Hoving, Alma June Hoving and Hazel June Sale. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Peter Achterhof, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoving and family, Pearl Dorothy Hoving, Alma June Hoving, Mr. and Mrs. William A. HOLLAND TO KEEP BLACK LAKE FILLED

The Holland Fish and Game club will again make an effort this year to maintain Black Lake's reputation as an excellent fishing ground, according to a recent announcement made by President Frank M. Lievens. The club is making extensive plans to continue the restocking of nearby lakes and streams with fingerling bass and bluegills as well as seining carp and other obnoxious fish from these waters.

The work will begin before the end of this week and will be in charge of a committee composed of C. Klaasen, Andrew Klopars, George Vrieling and Mr. Lievens.

GRAND HAVEN MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO STRIKING HIS CHILD WITH BELT

Frank Shaw of Grand Haven was arraigned this noon on a charge of assault and battery to which he pleaded guilty. He was given four days in the county jail, a fine of $5 and costs of $6.30 by Justice Peter Verduin who heard the case. The complaint was made by the wife of the defendant who testified that her husband had struck their five-year-old daughter with a belt, the buckle making marks on her body.

HOLLAND MEN OPPOSE GAS TAX REDUCTION

The proposed weight and gas tax amendments were opposed by Carl Bowen, county engineer, and E. E. Fell, superintendent of Holland public schools, at a regular noon luncheon of Rotary club yesterday in the Warm Friend Tavern. They declared that if the gas tax is reduced in addition to the cut in weight tax, county indebtedness will be thrown on real estate taxes.

FLOOD OF MARRIAGE LI- CENSES SOUGHT FROM COUNTY COURT CLERK

A flood of applications for marriage licenses came into the county clerk's office at Grand Haven over the week-end, adding to the growing demand for licenses which has been evident for the past several months. William Wilds sent out the following licenses:

William R. Vander Vere 26, Holland, and Helen Tuls, 21, Holland; Clarence Van Etten, 29, Grand Haven, and Ruth M. Bergwell, 17, Coopersville; Anthony J. Zokas, 24, Tallmadge, and Nellie J. Karsicus, 19, Tallmadge; Ben Bograaf, 22, Holland, and Ruth Nibbelink, 19, Jones, Michigan; Henry Hollenbeck, 23, Holland, and Fannie Wolters, 23, East Saugatuck; Marvin V. Monroe, 23, Hartland, and Cora Kruthof, 24, Holland; Egbert Gerritsen, Jr., 26, and Carolyn De Kraker, 25, Holland; Edward De Haan, 25, Spring Lake, and Helen Alberta Bloomquist, 24, Grand Haven; Louis F. Harrison, 24, Grand Haven, and Marjorie Streng, 22, Grand Haven; William Schiele, 31, Coopersville, and Ellen Klatt, 19, Coopersville; B. P. Sherwood, Jr., 26, Grand Haven, and Elizabeth Krause, 24, Rockford.

ARREST MADE WHEN PHEASANT IS TRAPPED

A pheasant was caught recently in a trap set by Robert Ellis of Grand Haven, which he claimed was set at his home to catch rats that were very annoying. He was arrested by the local conservation officer and arraigned before Justice Paul Behm, who suspended sentence as the defendant was working and needed to support his family. The pheasant was discovered in the trap by the officer and the arrest followed as it is unlawful to kill birds of the kind in this way.

"THRU THE RIVER THEY DID GO—THOSE POOR FROSH"

Last Friday afternoon, in one of the hardest contested pulls ever waged, the husky sophomores of Hope college hauled the battling frosh through the cold waters of Black River.

The frosh, however, put up a hard battle and after fifty-one minutes of pulling, the green-clad team finally was forced up the soph's side. At the beginning of the fray, the frosh took the upper hand and the white cloth gradually moved toward their side. The sophs soon put an end to this and the mid-stream marker reversed its course and slowly it was taken in by the south side team.

From then on the sophs had the upper hand of the tug, and although the frosh staged several comebacks, they were gradually forced to take to the water. The river seemed to revive the frosh as they valiantly tried to rally, but that also was soon ended.

The sophomores were coached by Joe Esther and Tony Mistretta, while George Douma and Ben Plasman took charge of the freshmen. The field meet in which the sophomores took part was held on Friday

What Fishing Means to the Tourists

That the Holland Fish and Game club has done much for the resort as well as for our home fishermen by replenishing our local waters with fish, is evident from the following letter sent to the secretary of the club which is self-explanatory:

CENTRAL REPUBLIC COMPANY
Chicago, Illinois
September 13, 1934.

Mr. Jacob Lievens,
Holland Fish & Game Club.
Dear Mr. Lievens:

For the past eight years my family has been spending their summers at Castle Park. Naturally, it is difficult to find a summer place where the activities are numerous enough so that every member of the family can find enjoyment. Personally, I am very fond of fishing and without restrictions would much prefer to spend my vacations in Canada where at least people have the feeling that fishing is more productive. Two or three years ago I started fishing in Black Lake and the purpose of this letter is to tell you how much I enjoyed the lake and also to register with you that the results have been sufficiently good to at least make me partially forget my love for northern Canada.

I think your club has done and is doing a magnificent piece of work in restocking the lake and in general working toward improved fishing. I hope you carry on and will be able to prevail on the state to increase their activities.

It must be apparent to residents of Michigan that work such as your club is doing goes a long way toward increasing the enjoyment of people who love Michigan as a summer residence and that it attracts people in greater numbers. From a commercial standpoint this is important as the resort industry financially must be one of great importance in your state.

Yours very truly,
NEWTON P. FRYE.

HOLLAND WILL SEND 120 TEACHERS TO LOCAL MEET

Holland's public school system will be represented by about 120 teachers at the fourth district education meet Oct. 25 and 26 in Grand Rapids. Holland High school band will stage a half-hour concert on the afternoon of the opening day. Hope college will be represented by President Wynand Wichers as speaker at the history meeting.

Holland teachers as chairmen on programs and speakers will include: Lucile Lindsley, Lida Rogers, Russell H. Welch, Minnie Nelson, Carolyn Hawes, Ervin D. Hanson and Raymond Lamb of Beechwood school.

HOLLAND MAYOR STUDIES LOCAL MILK ORDINANCE

(Grand Rapids Press)
Mayor Nicodemus Bosch of Holland, and a son, Randall Bosch, visited City Manager C. Sophus Johnson and Dr. E. F. Meyer, municipal milk inspector, Tuesday, to discuss the Grand Rapids modern milk ordinance. Mayor Bosch recently vetoed a milk ordinance in Holland, contending it "lacked teeth." He said he was seeking a stringent and workable code for his city.

MONEY FOR THE FARMERS FOR FEED

Farmers who are short of feed will have an opportunity to secure a loan through the Federal Government. Application blanks have been received by L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent. The application is to be made out in the agent's office.

The maximum loan advanced on this loan is $250.00. The maximum allowance per head per month for the purpose of purchasing feed for livestock are as follows: Horses $4.00, cows $3.00, hogs $1.00, sheep and goats 75c. The loan matures Nov. 1, 1935. The interest rate is 5 1/2%. In securing a loan this farmer offers his stock as security. The final date for filing application for such loan is Dec. 31, 1934.

Wants Land Put In Zone, Bad Lands Out

CITY FARMER (?) WILL THEN NOT BE STUNG WITH WORTHLESS PROPERTY

Allegan county's board of supervisors will be asked during the coming October session, to sponsor and begin a move that will eventually result in the passage of a state zoning law, the aim of which will be prevention of purchase of lands not suitable for farming. The board will hear T. E. Ward and A. D. Morley, Allegan, both committee members of an Allegan county sub-marginal land utilization committee, whose goal is to take out of production many thousands of acres of land now open for farming.

The plan to appear before the board with the request that the Allegan supervisors sponsor the move, originated among committee members after it was discovered that a conservation program and sub-marginal land project in this and other Michigan counties could not be approved under the present setup.

At a meeting of committee members with the state sub-marginal land committee, members of the board of conservation, and other state officials, it was learned that the state hesitates to purchase unproductive land unless the other non-producing land is taken out of the picture, because it would be possible for any person to purchase a large amount of such land, holding it with the express purpose of selling it to the government.

The zoning law would make it possible for a board of supervisors and the state to eliminate land that is not suitable for farming and prevent its purchase by individuals desiring to farm it. It would definitely restrict certain lands, such as those comprising Allegan's grubs and would prevent, it is pointed out, the settling of such lands by people ignorant as to land values for cultivation who later would find it necessary to appeal for county relief because of the non-productivity of those lands.

It is known that a zoning law for the state would be given approval by federal as well as state officials and it is the desire of the local committee to influence the passage of such a law in the next legislature.

While the state conservation department will not ask for the passage of such a law, it has been announced that the department will aid and assist any county initiating the move and with many of Michigan's counties having problems similar to those of Allegan, it is the consensus of opinion among committee members that a program of this nature will meet with the approval of other boards of supervisors.

The committee, after striving to influence the government in the purchase of about 32,000 acres of sub-marginal land in Allegan county is anxious to start the zoning project because it is of the opinion that a law of this kind would enable many county boards of supervisors to eliminate their non-productive lands, prevent the settling of such lands, and hereby save many counties large sums of money that now must be expended to aid in the support of many residents of such lands.

Land being used by the state in its sub-marginal program has been obtained because of failure to pay delinquent taxes. Many a would-be city farmer has sunk his all in a farm that was fit only for sandbars.

MISS NELLIE ZWEMER HEADS MISSION UNION

Miss Nellie Zwemer, who has served as a missionary for the Reformed church in China 40 years and now is retired and living in Holland, was elected president of the Missionary union of the classis of Holland at the second annual conference in Forest Grove Friday.

The meeting was attended by nearly 500 delegates and the Forest Grove Reformed church had an overflow gathering.

The talks and addresses of the day were given by Mrs. Raymond Drukker of Grand Rapids, Dr. Mary Bruins, newly appointed missionary to China; Mrs. Sojoro Shimizu of New York, Miss Jane Pieters, retired missionary to Japan, now living in Holland; Mrs. James L. Wayer and Mrs. Paul Hinkamp of Holland and Miss Tena Holkeboer, missionary to China.

The classis union is composed of 25 churches in the Holland classis. A collection of more than $100 was contributed Friday. It is expected to hold the meeting in Zeeland in 1935.

Other officers elected: Vice president, Mrs. John VanPursen of Zeeland; secretary, Mrs. E. Heeren of Vriesland; treasurer, Mrs. George Albers of Holland.

The League of Service organization of the various churches in the classis held a banquet in the Forest Grove church Friday evening in connection with the conference.

HOLLAND FOLKS ON "LIT" PROGRAM AT ZEELAND

The Zeeland Literary club opened its 1934-1935 season with a tea at the club room on Tuesday, October 9th, with the social committee being in charge. This is their fifteenth year, the club having been organized in 1920.

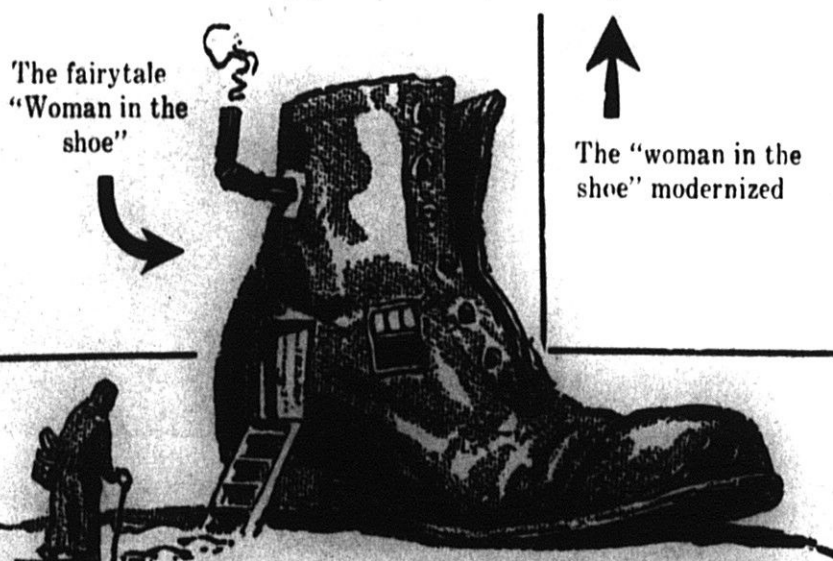

Introduction of new officers and presentation of the year's program was part of the activities. Mrs. Helen B. Karsten of Holland played two piano solos and Mrs. Seara McLean, also of Holland, gave an address. Both Holland women were well received by the Zeeland women.

The officers for this year are: President, Mrs. J. R. DeWaters; first vice president, Mrs. T. A. Dewey; second vice president, Mrs. G. P. Rooke; recording secretary, Mrs. Joe Verplank; correspondence secretary, Mrs. J. R. DeWaters.

"THE WOMAN AND THE SHOE"

"There was an old woman
Who lived in a shoe—"

The roof became leaky
The sole had worn through
The landlord had promised repairs alright
But before they were started, raised the rent out of sight
Now this worried old lady had heard of the way
That "Bolhuis Co." builds homes and how you could pay
That you see from the plan just how it will look
And you know the exact cost with no hook or crook
This was long years ago—now she's all out of debt
But her "Bolhuis Co." built home is standing there yet.
They're building homes still and now with the NHA,
Perhaps they can help you in the very same way.

Hope College News

Thomas Leads Frosh Class

Don Thomas, Cosmopolitan pledge, was elected president of the freshman class Friday morning, September 21. Thomas is a recent graduate of Kalamazoo Central high school.

Other freshman officers are the following: William Arendshorst, vice-president; Lois Tyse, secretary and girls' treasurer; LaVerne Scheerhorn, boys' treasurer; Cornelia Lievense, council; Homer Lokker, council. Oliver Van As became pull-captain after he had admitted his weight to be 240 pounds. Henry ("Henk") Kuizenga, president of the student council, was in charge of the election.

Prof. Snow Directs Reorganized Band

With a spirit of enthusiasm among its members which augurs well for its success, the newly organized Hope band, under the direction of Prof. W. Curtis Snow, made its first appearance before the student body at the pep meeting Friday night. The band was well received by the students in attendance at the meeting. All indications tend to show that in the near future Hope will be able to boast a splendid band.

The first rehearsal was held in the gym on Wednesday afternoon, at which time Professor Snow explained his plans as to the development of the organization. He immediately made known the fact that at no time would the band play any number that could not be well played. His aim is to get a well balanced band which will eventually develop into a symphonic band. Steps are being taken to obtain the required instruments.

There is no reason, he explained, why Hope College can not have an "A-1" band of considerable size. There is a great deal of talent on the campus, and the first task will be to uncover this talent and put it to use. No one will be barred from the band who is willing to attend the rehearsals regularly and work while there. Everyone interested is asked to attend.

Poppink Injured in Grid Practice

A broken arm, sustained in a practice session, robbed the Hope football team of a prospective candidate for the end position. Bill Poppink, sophomore end, received a fractured arm in scrimmage at his first appearance on the regular team. Tuesday, Oct. 2, saw Hope's first and second squads hard at work in preparation for the Alma game and on the second play Poppink, playing end, was buried under a pile of players when he received his injury.

The arm refused to respond to local treatment and Poppink was taken to the Ann Arbor hospital Friday, where he will be taken care of.

Poppink is also a basketball player of no small importance. It is not believed, however, that Bill's arm will keep him from the basketball court this winter.

The students of the college unite in wishing him a very speedy recovery.

Chapel Choir is Organized

The Chapel Choir, composed of 83 mixed voices, made its initial appearance Thursday morning, October 4, at the regular chapel exercises. Professor W. Curtis Snow is again the choir director. The list of members was posted on the bulletin boards Wednesday, October 3, and the first practice was held the same day.

At the first meeting the following officers were elected: President, Marian Wray; Treasurer, William Welmiers; Secretary, Kay Donahue.

Wichers Attends Brunswick Fete

Dr. Wynand Wichers was out of town most of last week because of his attendance at the celebration of the hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Theological Seminary at Brunswick, N. J. He carried Hope's greetings and congratulations to the Seminary.

The New Brunswick institution is the country's oldest theological school. It was founded in 1784 under the leadership of John H. Livingston to supply the great need for ministers during the early days of the United States. In 1810 the Seminary was moved from New York City to New Brunswick, N. J.

Fraternal Present Initial Serenade

Promptly at 12 o'clock several nights ago the jangle and clatter of some two dozen Big Bens shattered the surrounding stillness of Voorhees Hall while through a radio came the mellow voices of Ken Vander Velde and Jay Bush announcing to the gathering audience the opening of the first Fraternal Serenade. After these melodious articulations had completely enraptured all of the girls, not to mention some of the fellows, President Albers introduced the new officers and also the beaming young freshmen who by this time were proudest about the place in an airy ecstasy of happiness over the thought of pleasing the girls.

Our two foremost crooners, Pape and Spence, then stepped before the mike and passionately rendered a few songs which created audible sighs all around.

Bill Arendshorst entertained with a violin solo, after which Oliver Van As, accompanied by that master pianist, Chuck Van Dommelein, gave us a few semi-classical songs that were applauded loudly.

Our old pal, Jan Garber, was then switched on and for fifteen minutes he entertained us royally, ending with "Once Too Often," a selection he dedicated to the girls of Voorhees Hall, Holland, Michigan.

After the master of ceremonies had very cordially thanked Jan, Pape and Spence closed the serenade with "Good Night, Sweetheart," the other members joining in on the chorus.

Extensive preparatory drills have been started by Coach "Bud" Hinga in preparation for this Saturday's game with Grand Rapids Junior College. Injuries sustained in the Alma game last Saturday are only a part of the worries that assail Coach Hinga. The lack of a sustained offense will result seriously if not soon remedied.

Ek Buys, big sophomore tackle, whose power has bolstered the Hope line, is hobbling around with a wrenched ankle that, though it will not keep him from playing if his services are needed, will cause him to lose a bit of his effectiveness. Stewie Gross, a letterman from last year's team and one of Hinga's fastest backs, suffered a recurrence of an injury to his knee on the fourth play of the Alma game. Although Gross is light for college competition he has plenty of speed and his ability to handle his weight often makes him the superior of other backs who are larger. Boven, star guard and a veteran of last year's warriors, suffered injuries to his chest which may keep him from the J. C. game. The backfield, as a whole, did not function well offensively against Alma and, as a result of this, will receive a goodly share of the coaches' attention before the Grand Rapids contest. Although the line functioned with more accuracy than the backfield, the coaches are not yet satisfied with their performance. Both the line and backfield will receive their most extensive workouts throughout the week.

In a letter sent to Coach Hinga by Coach Bos of Kalamazoo College, he writes that Junior College practically tore his team to pieces. This speaks bad for all J. C. opponents because Kalamazoo has one of the strongest aggregations in years.

Coach Schouten is building up the material of Hope cross-country squad which is anticipating four major events this year.

They expect to run against the Kalamazoo College squad in a dual meet. One meet will be on the home course and the other will be on the Kalamazoo course. Then there will follow the State meet at East Lansing and the annual all-college run.

Captain Joe Esther has an excellent squad working with him this year. Hotelling and Van Pernis are veteran runners of last year. Faber and De Dee, two new sophomore entries, show good running form.

And there are also two freshman entries, Talman of Muskegon, a former high school all-state man, and Schneeman, a Flushing High school cross-country man.

The Sunday School Lesson

OCTOBER 14, 1934

"The Christian and His Bible" (Acts 8:26-39)

HENRY GEERLINGS

One can scarcely read our lesson today without being impressed with the thought of how God gets men together—one man of need and another man who can help in that need. We are rather inclined to look upon the directing of Philip as extraordinary, that is without the use of ordinary agencies. Maybe it was and maybe it was not. We say maybe it was not when we think of the fact that any agency which God may have employed may have been called properly an angel. Therefore, we may say that God is still getting men together. And the fact is none the less wonderful.

How is it that someone has come into your life at a time when you needed some guidance and some spiritual illumination? How is it that by what you have thought was the merest accident you have met some strong and helpful personality as you have been traveling and that very same person has left a lasting impress upon your thinking and has furnished continued impulses for your doing? How is it that someone has uttered in your hearing some word that glows and throbs in your memory and throws down upon your soul a power that is inescapable? May we not with reverence and truth say that the perfectly plain to Him, but utterly mysterious to us, sent that person across your way of life? It seems that with so many crossings and recrossings of pathways the process is not totally by the merest accident. Life is not a mere panorama of chance happenings and chance goings. If it is, then we must confess that chance has produced meetings and crossings that have resulted in some of the greatest blessings that we know. If what takes place in our lives, in what we look upon as unexpected and unplanned for, be the result of chance, then many of us owe a vast debt of gratitude to chance. Then some of us are who we are by the merest chance. Some of us are following a vocation by reason of chance happenings. But may it not be rather true that there is an unseen guidance, an intelligence standing behind the curtain using the ordinary things and goings and plans of men to accomplish something of the unplanned things of life?

Why shall we not regard the so-called merest accidents of meetings and crossings of paths and saying of words after all as the results of an invisible and unknown spiritual power? What we call surprising happenings and merest accidents may be to a higher intelligence but the ordinary and expected comings-to-pass of a well directed and rational order of things?

At any rate, by the guiding hand of him who holds the destiny crossed the pathway of a distinguished and influential stranger? He was a big man in an ancient empire. Very evidently he was a seeker after truth. He began with what he had. He was doubtless a heathen converted to Judaism and, therefore, he was interested in the Jewish Scriptures. He was reading the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah. We can understand how these glowing and stirring words would stimulate a mind like his. No ordinary man of ordinary intelligence would have been chosen to occupy such an important place in the official family of the queen. So as a reverent and earnest thinker he was trying to get at the meaning of what he said.

At this anxious moment Philip came along. There are right and fortunate times in God's providence. This occasion was one of them. Philip was no blunderer in the business of the Lord. Here was a soul that wanted to know and here was a man who could help him in the knowing process. Here was an opportunity to tell this black man about Christ—of how he was the wonderful fulfillment of the words of the eunuch was reading. Isaiah had given the outline of the picture. His words were the suggestion of the dawn. Christ was the glorious and radiant morning. Philip was not long in bringing the man to a sense of his need. He accented Christ at once. In imagination we can follow this man into his own country. He took the kingdom out there and it grew across that ancient civilization.

THE BIG THING IN BUYING FIRE INSURANCE!

How Much Will You Receive In Case of Fire?

It is natural to assume that in case of fire you will be reimbursed for everything that is burned. But will you? In case you have what is called a "classified" policy on personal property, split up in several parts, there may be many things that it does not cover. To be safe you should have a blanket policy on personal. Our policy contains many broad and liberal features and is so written that it covers property insured under any reasonable condition.

Insured under any reasonable condition. Insured in Michigan's Largest Fire Mutual Fire Insurance Company. Our policies accepted by the Federal Land Bank, of St. Paul, The Home Owners' Loan Corporation and other Loan Agencies.

For further information see representative or write the Company's Office.

Stallkamp Buys Business Stand In Zeeland

WORK STARTED BUILDING NEW OFFICE AND WAREHOUSE AT ONCE ON WEDNESDAY

(Zeeland Record) A business deal was made by one Zeeland business concern a few days ago that meant much for that city, when Leonard G. Stallkamp purchased the property of the First Chr. Ref. church on North Church street, the site of the old horse barns in use before the advent of the automobile. He made the purchase for the purpose of building his own business place and warehouse.

Mr. Stallkamp, who has established a large egg market, came about ten years ago, when he traveled this section buying eggs by the truck load and hauling them direct to the Chicago market. This market grew so rapidly that it soon became wise for him to establish permanent headquarters at Zeeland, where egg producers could deliver their eggs. He established offices in the old flouring mill and later the canning factory on North Elm street where he soon added the lines of live poultry and feeds to his egg enterprise.

This business has grown so rapidly that his large trucks are now making daily trips carrying capacity loads to and from Chicago. He was the first to introduce the grading of eggs and making the Zeeland egg a factor in the egg market.

During the time he has been in Zeeland Mr. Stallkamp has rented his business quarters, and while that was the case there was fear in the hearts of many that through some outside influence he might be convinced to move to the present move tends to dispell that fear more than any other thing that indicates that Mr. Stallkamp has definitely determined that Zeeland is the logical place for him to definitely establish and develop his business.

It will be remembered that a year or two ago, he bought the buildings on the old Holland fair grounds, known as the art hall, and that at that time efforts were made by Holland citizens to secure his as a business institution for that city.

In building here on his new site he will utilize the lumber from the buildings that were wrecked by him at the old fair grounds. In providing himself with the ground for this purpose he purchased the church property facing North Church street with a frontage of 100 feet, then continuing east he bought 100 feet of the north end of the property belonging to Chris K. Barenam now occupied by Andrew Vander Ploeg's market, and a piece of the Wynarden property extending east from the Barenam property to a point about ten feet east of the east line of the Fred Timmer garage building and measuring 170 feet north and south. This property forming an L shaped piece 170 feet long on each leg and about 100 feet wide will provide him with plenty of driving space and room for the building he expects to erect measuring 70 by 170 feet. This building will contain his offices, storage facilities, and egg candling space.

The purchase of the ground was consummated Wednesday morning and immediately a crew of men were put to work wrecking the old horse barns so as to permit the immediate construction of the new structure in the hope of having it completed by the first of the year. Mr. Peter Meeuwse has been secured to build the structure.

The auxiliary of the American Legion, Zeeland, will meet Monday evening, Oct. 15, to install officers. The installation will be in charge of Mrs. Alma Vergeer of Grand Rapids, fifth district commandant.

KALAMAZOO WINS FROM HOLLAND IN LEAGUE GAME, 6-0

Kalamazoo Central's Maroon giants ran roughshod over Coach Gerald Breen's undefeated Holland high school eleven in the south-western conference open today, but the courageous Dutchmen submitted to a 6 to 0 defeat only after a classic battle.

Holland, outgained in first downs by a 12 to 1 margin, battled the heavier Kazoosks every inch of the way. Midway in the third period the visitors counted their lone touchdown with Hunt, captain, leading the attack almost single-handedly.

After getting away for a 41-yard run, the longest of the game, to lug the leather to the 6-yard line, Hunt carried the ball over on the third down after Morris had plowed his way to the one-half-yard stripe. Deward blocked Peckham's attempted place kick for the extra point. Holland, with a strong wind at its back, held its own in the first period, making its lone first down.

Late in the stanza Kazoo marched into Holland territory and advanced to the 5-yard line as the quarter ended. Here Holland braced in the first of its several stands and took over the ball when the Maroons tossed the ball incomplete in the end zone on the fourth down. Kalamazoo threatened repeatedly in the second half.

The first serious drive resulted in Hunt's score. Early in the fourth period Kazoo manipulated a first down on Holland's 3-yard stripe, but after four plays Holland took possession on the 4-yard marker. Again Kalamazoo threatened, but Heneveld intercepted a pass. The next time Holland held again just outside of the 10 and the game ended with the ball in the center of the field in Holland's possession.

Hunt, Morris and Peckham were standout players for Kazoo, while Vandewater, Degroot and Overway were best for Holland. Kalamazoo won the preliminary game by the same score, 6 to 0.

MUSKEGON MANS KILLS HIMSELF AS MOTHER IS DYING

A few hours after the death of his mother, Meelissa J. Jackson, 82 years old, the body of Bert J. Jackson, 60, was found in his gas-filled home early Friday. The gas jets on a kitchen stove were all opened. The son had visited his mother Thursday morning about noon and was shaken by her critical condition. He left and his mother remained to care for her mother-in-law. About midnight the mother died and the daughter-in-law went to her home. There she discovered Jackson's body. Coroner L. B. Lee said he would hold no inquest.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE ALTHOUGH summer fruits are disappearing from the markets, the arrival of many typical fall vegetables and the lowest prices for two months on beets and leeks should make it easy for the housewife to plan interesting and varied meals.

Fine quality cabbage is cheap and abundant; cauliflower, broccoli and Brussels sprouts are also in season. The makings of pumpkin or squash and apple pies and of sweet potato are all seasonable and moderately priced. White potatoes are cheap. Good spinach is high, but green beans are still low in price.

Grapefruit is beginning to be plentiful though the season is still early. Persimmons and pomegranates with grapes, pears and bananas help to make a colorful bowl of fruit.

The following menus are made up from the latest market news available.

Low Cost Dinner

Roast Pork Mashed Potatoes Buttered Cabbage Bread and Butter Apple Pie

Medium Cost Dinner

Roast Lamb Browned Potatoes Creamed Celery Bread and Butter Prune Whip Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner

Fruit Cup Fried Chicken Candied Sweet Potatoes Carrots and Peas Tomato Salad Rolls and Butter Vanilla Ice Cream Chocolate Sauce

ma and Julia Postma, all of Zeeland; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schneider of Holland, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Riksen, Allie Riksen, Irene Riksen and Willis, all of Monterey. Riksen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Riksen of Monterey and Mrs. Riksen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bouke Postma of this city.

Diary of a Smart Homemaker

By JEAN ALLEN

SUNDAY — Mr. and Mrs. Adams coming for dinner today. Awoke early, decided to get up and bake a pie. Worked hard and fast, being very quiet lest Tom hear the commotion in the kitchen and come down to breakfast before it was ready. All was well until time to take the pie out of the oven. Glanced up and there stood Tom! The aroma from this pie at 7:30 in the morning is the best alarm clock one can find.

CHERRY RAISIN PIE

1 No. 2 can sour pitted cherries, drained
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup pastry flour
Cover the raisins with the cherry juice and simmer for 10 minutes, or until most of the liquid is evaporated and the raisins are soft. Add the sugar which has been mixed with the flour and salt. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens, then add the cherries and toss together. Turn into pastry lined tin and dot with the butter. Cover with an upper crust or criss-cross strips of pastry. Bake at 425° F. for 10 minutes, reduce heat to 375° F. and bake an additional 20 or 25 minutes.

MONDAY — As Tom left for work this morning he jovially called over his shoulder, "Three guesses what we have for dinner this evening... and two don't count!" The rascal! He thought it would be leftovers from yesterday's dinner. He is due for a surprise in a brand new dish... he's sure to like it. When he has eaten until he is happy and contented he shall hear about a certain dish that really should be mine.

BAKED PORK CHOPS AND POTATOES

6 medium-sized potatoes
1 can tomato soup
1 onion, minced
1/2 cup green pepper, minced
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Arrange the potatoes in the baking dish. Sprinkle with the minced onion, green pepper, and salt. Cover with the tomato soup. Arrange the chops, which have been browned and seasoned, on the mixture. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) covered, for 45 minutes or until the potatoes are soft. Increase the heat to 450° F., uncover, and bake for 15 minutes longer to brown the meat.

TUESDAY — The dress is lovely and very becoming! The pork chops certainly paved the way. It's a wise wife who feeds her husband delicious foods. After shopping, one should be tired but I'm just in the humor to dash right into the kitchen and make Tom's favorite apple cake. Not to bribe him! Just to thank him.

SLICED APPLE CAKE

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter
1/2 to 3/4 cup milk
1 1/2 cups sifted pastry flour
1 egg, separated
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
Cream the 1/2 cup butter and the sugar; add beaten egg yolk, and sifted dry ingredients (flour, baking powder, and salt) alternately with the milk. Beat thoroughly, add vanilla, and fold in the beaten egg white. Pour into an oiled and floured square layer cake tin. Place the apples in overlapping rows over the top of the cake; cover the top with butter, and sprinkle with cinnamon, or nutmeg if preferred. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 40 minutes. Remove from the pan and place upside down on a serving platter. If desired, the top may be sprinkled generously with powdered sugar. Cut in squares and serve plain or with rich cream.

WEDNESDAY — Tom home for lunch. Had my day all mapped out for mending, pressing and those hundred and one little things that need looking after. Didn't let the lunch worry me... arranged simple fare and Tom was delighted. Prepared my meal in one dish, put it in the oven and went right on with my work. At mealtime made a salad and coffee and we had quite a feast.

Yours for fashionable meals,
Faithfully,
JEAN ALLEN.

The Occupation With Heaviest Death Rate

What effect does a man's job have on the length of his life?

An answer to this question, after five years of study by Miss Jessemina Whitney, statistician of the National Tuberculosis Association, was given this week for the first time in a report made public by the Association.

Despite popular belief, the most dangerous occupation of all was not found among aviators, policemen, firemen or miners. It was found that among working men between 15 and 64 years of age, stable hands and hostlers have the highest death rate, 38.22 deaths from all causes, per thousand employed.

Aviators, in fact, were third on the list with a rate of 28.73, while coal miners were far, far down with 12.99. And the job of policing our country is only slightly more hazardous than that of getting out its newspapers—while putting out its fires seems to come in the "sissy" class. The respective rates for policemen, editors (and reporters), and firemen are 9.91, 8.77 and 6.71. These three are close to the average of 8.70 per thousand for all "gainfully employed" males between 15 and 64.

If you want a really safe occupation, the report reveals, become a machinist's apprentice or work in a candy factory. Those rates are the lowest of all: 0.61 and 0.91 respectively.

The report, entitled "Death Rates by Occupation," contains eight comprehensive tables, and is based on the United States Census Bureau data for ten states which comprise 38 per cent of the country's population.

A study of the tables reveals that tuberculosis is second only to heart disease in the cause of deaths among male workers, and that it takes its greatest toll among unskilled workers, whose rate is double the average for all workers. Professional men have a death rate from tuberculosis that is less than one-third the average, while the rate for skilled workers is a little under the average.

Enforcement of Shingle Law In Allegan Is Asked

Enforcement of the city's ordinance prohibiting the covering of roofs with material other than fire resisting, is to begin in Allegan and in the future all property owners who recover a roof without abiding by the city's laws aimed toward fire prevention, will be prosecuted. Statements that the city roofing ordinance will be enforced were made Monday night by officials when complaints were brought before them concerning the building of roofs with wooden shingles and it was pointed out that sixty per cent of the fires in the city are caused by poor roofs. The city's ordinance does not require that a new roof shall be put on each house whenever minor repairs are needed, but it does specify, officials point out, that a new roof shall be placed on a house according to the requirements of the ordinance when a large percentage of it is destroyed by fire or worn out. The ordinance went into effect in 1925 and prohibits wooden shingle construction.

FORMER TEACHER HAS HIGHEST HOLSTEINS IN 1934 NATIONAL CONTEST

(Zeeland Record)

The highest herd of purebred Holsteins to finish so far in 1934 in the national herd test is that of Hays & Andrews, Howell. This is in class C, cows milked but twice daily.

Mr. Herman A. Andrews formerly taught in the Zeeland high school and gave up his position here to take up farming.

Eight cows averaged 408 pounds of butterfat, 11,334 pounds of milk, 3.6 test. The high cow, Kumboss Princess Walker, made 491 fat, 13,208 milks, 3.7 test. Three others exceeded 400 pounds fat.

This herd is one of 20 in the U.S.A. that has completed six years' continuous run in the herd test. The grand average for the period is 367 fat, 10,472 milk, 3.5 test.

The Holstein herd test is national in scope. Michigan has more herds enrolled than any other state. Every cow in the herd must be included in the test. Supervision is given monthly by a tester sent from the dairy department, Michigan State college. The object of the herd test is to weed out low producers and to get reliable records on top-notch producers such as are reported in this story by the Michigan Holstein association.

READING FUN IN STORE FOR BOYS

Here's important news for the boys of America. THE AMERICAN BOY — YOUTH'S COMPANION, the nation's quality magazine for boys, has been reduced from $2.00 a year to $1.00. The three-year rate, formerly $3.50, has been reduced to $2.00.

"For a long time we have been seeking a way to reduce the cost of THE AMERICAN BOY to readers," states Griffith J. Ellis, editor. "Recently we have effected savings that make the cut possible, and we think boys will agree that the new price is big news on the reading front. We hope boys will help us to spread the good news by telling their friends."

Along with the cut in cost, the magazine's publishers are planning a magazine that will continue to set the pace in fiction, articles, and departments. The favorite characters of millions of boys will parade through THE AMERICAN BOY in new stories. Douglas Renfrew of the Royal Canadian Mounted, Bonehead Jim Tierney, the detective, will give the reader many exciting hours in the months to come.

William Heylinger, whose true-to-life, gripping vocational stories have won him wide acclaim from parents and librarians, as well as the working boy's stories. Staff writers are interviewing famous coaches and athletes and world-renowned explorers, to bring boys the color and fun of sports and travel.

In short, THE AMERICAN BOY under its new price, will continue to give boys a magazine that measures up to the best standards set by adult magazines. Send your subscription to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan. Enclose your name and address and the proper amount of money, and THE AMERICAN BOY will soon be headed your way, loaded with reading thrills.

Second Ward Smell Soon To Be Eliminated

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS TO SPEND $31,000; TO AVOID
SHUTDOWN OF WATER PLANT

Although the common council last evening held the shortest session within the year and the meeting was handled with quickness and dispatch, a tremendous lot of business was accomplished within that three-quarters of an hour. Mayor first asked Alderman Huyser to make a report on manning the crossings at public and Christian schools. Mr. Huyser and his committee stated that they had met with the board of education in which meeting Superintendent Heyns of the Holland Christian schools was also invited.

It was the consensus of opinion that students should not be placed at the corners to do this work, but that this safety measure should be under the supervision of the police department and that men with police authority properly uniformed with cap and badge, so they could be distinguished, should be placed at the intersections near the schools so children would be protected.

Men from the welfare, it was considered, should be used and Superintendent Fell has already made application to the FERA for the necessary finance to do this work. It is understood that this department can be paid for from this source. Public and Christian schools are working hand in hand in this matter, for it is very important that the children of the city be properly protected by men of mature judgment.

Mayor Bosch thanked Alderman Huyser and the committee for their real worthwhile report.

The board of public works presented a "stunner," but the mayor and aldermen deserve credit for not unnecessarily delaying the project that will cost the board at least $31,000. It has been noticed for some time that the water in the river, which is screened to avoid the dirt and used for cooling purposes in the condenser room, is gradually going lower, in fact, dangerously so, and if some method was not applied quickly it would cause a shutdown in the plant, and what that would mean isn't hard to conjecture, with no water for fires or drinking, no current for power or lighting used on our city streets, in our homes and in our factories.

The board, through Assistant Superintendent Charles Vos, submitted a plan for the construction of a new intake canal and screen house for the elimination of the water supply at the Fifth street station, the cost to be $31,000. It was evident that such a move was imperative, since any further drop in the river level would be very disastrous.

The river water is used for condenser-cooling purposes in the power plant and the amount of water used exceeds that used by the city, varying from 4,000 to 7,500 gallons per minute.

The common council unanimously sanctioned the request of the board of public works and there will be no delay in getting this project under way.

Another matter of vital importance upon which the board of public works gave estimates is the doctoring up of the sewer disposal plant so that the odorous condition prevailing in the Second ward for some years be eliminated. The system now proposed covers the construction of concrete plugs, and gas domes in the gas vent areas of the Imhoff tanks and the installation of a system of gas collecting pipes to convey the gas from the gas vents to a point near the pumping station where it could be burned. This is the first step and should be taken before the second project is started, which would include the incinerator proper. Then the gas pipe system would be extended to the incinerator building and the gases used to burn screenings and also if sufficient gas is available, to heat the present pumping station.

According to the estimation cost by Mr. Vos, the amount would be as follows: materials, $3,108.13; labor, $1,533; engineering expenses for entire project, $700; omissions and contingencies, $685.87; total, $6,026.93.

The report was read by chairman of the ways and means committee, Henry Prins.

The common council then by unanimous vote authorized the transfer of $6,000 appropriated for cleaning up the swampy area to the main sewer fund in order that operations may be started immediately by the board of public works for the installation of this gas-collecting system at the sewage disposal plant.

GOOD AND BAD RISKS

The officials of the Holland Merchants' Credit Service Bureau state that there is a mistaken idea prevailing among some that when names of men and women are listed with this organization that it means a "black listed" name. The fact is that the names of the best folks are listed as well as the poor pay, and immediately the credit bureau is in a position to say "Give this man or woman credit at your place of business for they have an excellent credit rating."

It is not their aim to unnecessarily embarrass those who find themselves temporarily hard pressed, but rather to expose the professional "dead beat" so-called, who makes it a business to "get by" without paying, in fact, never intends to pay in the first place.

FITZGERALD FAVORS PAY-AS-YOU-GO PLAN

Less bureaucracy in state government was advocated by Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican candidate for governor, in a brief talk at a Rotary club luncheon at Ionia today. Expensive boards and commissions should be slashed and eliminated where possible, he contended. The nominee said he favored a "pay-as-you-go" policy in

PLENTY OF STORIES ON ROAD

Mr. Van Wagoner of the state highway department told the delegation that during all his experience in road building he had never received so many newspaper stories demanding and pointing out the needs of any road as that of M-40 out of Holland, and these newspaper stories were supplemented by stacks of letters and petitions from the entire countryside, as well as from Holland, Allegan and Hamilton. He said it was a wonder the road hadn't been taken care of six years ago.

Another interesting feature on this road project was the fact that Benur of Kalamazoo had sent his bus to Holland to pick up the entire delegation for Lansing, donating the entire trip for the benefit of the prospective road.

FIFTY YEARS AGO COLUMN HELD OVER

Because of the historic article of the sinking of the Alpena and another article of marine history written by Peter Schoon of Holland, we are omitting the Fifty Years Ago feature until our next issue when it will surely appear as usual. It happens to be an exceptional one. However for this issue we feel there is history enough.

COUNCIL NOTES

Alderman Huyser opened the meeting with prayer.

Rev. T. G. R. Brownlow of the First Methodist church asked that a traffic light be placed at River avenue and Tenth street for the safety of the pedestrians and motorists as well. Alderman Kleis referred this to the police department and undoubtedly a traffic light will be placed there.

County Clerk Wilds informed the common council that a meeting would be held at the courthouse for the instruction of inspectors of election from cities and townships today, but the council felt that this was needless expense for Holland, for the inspectors here are all seasoned with years of experience.

Mayor Bosch publicly thanked Arthur Drinkwater for his diligent effort in cleaning up the Second ward. Said the mayor: "You all know I've been in a large room, but I wish to take no credit for its consummation. That credit belongs to Mr. Drinkwater, and I wish to thank him." The aldermen said "amen."

There was a large audience present supposedly from the Citizens' league, which expected the council might rescind their action, and give them a meeting place in the city hall. Nothing like that occurred, however, but since that organization now can meet in a large room in Froebel school No. 2, it would seem that they have been accommodated. As the news said before, from time to time there have been squabbles about using the city hall for different purposes, and it was finally decided that the hall should not be used by anyone but soldiers, starting with the G.A.R. Welfare room occupies the only room available, and unless the aldermen draw the line at organizations, political parties, and there would not possibly be enough nights and available rooms to go around if there was a general demand such as there was shortly after the hall was built.

Some complaints were brought in on the 15th, if this fell due on a Saturday, customers were unable to pay light and water bills. This is partly due since Saturday afternoon is a half holiday for city employees. Mayor Bosch injected that he believed city employees were entitled to a half holiday and respite from work as well as anyone else, but that some arrangements could be made so that some one could accept the money. It was suggested that a sign be hung out at the treasurer's door directing customers to pay at the board of public works office on such occasions which does not often occur during the year.

Compare Grand Haven Homes With Hen Coops

Grand Haven is selling its real estate for practically what it is in it. The other day a house went for $800. Like in Holland, this property is acquired from old folks who must be supported by the city anyway, and they give their property in lieu of this support and thus prevent heirs, who will not support the old folks from grabbing off the property after the parents have passed on. This has been done here some years ago—leaving the city "holding the bag."

Grand Haven, like Holland, has had many such cases and Mayor Heap has something to say about the "sale for a song" of such property.

Grand Haven has 13 houses, which have come into possession of the city through circumstances of the owners, declared Mayor Heap. This city has never made a business of improving its properties, nor securing proper returns for the investment. He suggested that one of the city employees be placed in charge of such matters, or, if the properties increased, that a board similar to the board of public works be appointed to look after the department in a business-like way.

He believes the city should set the example for proper housing and follow the trend of some large cities which are ridding the municipalities of slums and replacing them with decent homes. He said "there are 200 houses in this city that are not fit for habitation. Even thickfingers of the community shudder housed than some

A Painters Conception of the Sinking of the Alpena 54 Years Ago

The above picture is an artist's conception of the sinking of the Alpena. The ship was sailing from Grand Haven to the city of Chicago in October, 1880. Mariners differ as to just where the Alpena sank. The general belief was that it went down near Kenosha, Wisconsin, but in Holland it has always been held that the big sidewheeler sank not far from this harbor since a great deal of the wreckage came ashore on what is now known as Alpena beach near Lakewood. The grand piano and stool, and the sign from over the wheelhouse were all washed up here, and the Holland City News still has ventilators of the Alpena picked up on this shore. Part of the deck came up at Port Sheldon, and from Holland harbor north the beach was littered with wreckage. A life boat of the doomed ship was found off Saugatuck.

Chief Frank Van Ry was the last Holland man to see the Alpena afloat. He was sailing mate on a small schooner which was tied up inside Grand Haven harbor at the pier. There was a dead calm. Lake Michigan was as smooth as glass, but a dark sky was creeping up, and Captain Nelson Napier was standing on the wheelhouse of the Alpena when Frank and Captain Smith waved to him from the pier as the Alpena plowed through the channel. The lighthouse keeper cupped his hands and called to Napier: "Capt., the barometer is falling fast. Believe we will have a bad night. Better point her straight to Milwaukee."

"Captain Napier called back: 'I think we had better turn back. We are going to Chicago.'"

The boat was out less than an hour when a stiff gust of wind out of the northwest began to rufle the calm waters. By midnight the storm broke in all its fury. There was tremendous excitement since there were many well-known people aboard, especially from Grand Haven.

Storm warnings had been flown, but Capt. Napier, a seasoned navigator as well as other skippers, decided to go out on their trip in the face of warning. Apparently the ship sank so quickly that none of the passengers had time to write any details of the tragedy and drop it into the sea. The only message from any of the victims was a hastily scrawled note pinned to a piece of molding in a stateroom. It was so soaked when found that it was practically illegible, but a Hope college professor with the aid of a magnifying glass, made it out to read as follows:

"This is awful—The Alpena is breaking up and I am on board. Frank Connell."

When a Holland Schooner Weathered a Storm the Alpena Could Not Take

By Peter Schoon of Holland

It was 54 years ago on October 16 that the great storm, generally spoken of as the "Alpena Blow," occurred, causing a record-breaking loss to shipping on the Great Lakes. Peter Schoon, one of two sailors now living who were out during that storm, upon request of the News tells in his own nautical language the story of the storm and the experiences gone through by himself and his mates during the four nights and three days in which the storm in all its fury held sway. The trip which ordinarily would be made in ten or twelve hours, took the greater part of a week, under the weather conditions which existed during that cyclone.

The schooner on which Mr. Schoon sailed was the A. Plugger, captained by Bass Van Ry, father of Chief of Police Frank Van Ry. Capt. Van Ry had loaded a cargo of soggy second hand common pine lumber at the Davis Mill at Muskegon; the day (Friday) had been warm, unseasonably so, and the other sailors remarked that it was a bad weather breeder, and the prediction came true far beyond expectation. The story, in seaman's style, as related by Mr. Schoon, follows:

"The wind was southeast, enabling us to save a ton bill, and we got out in the 'Big' Lake at about 6:30. We hauled on the wind which was still southeast, but could not hold the land, heading south by west. At eight bells (8 o'clock) we, Harry Raffenaud, mate, and myself took the watch. Sometime later we saw a steamer leave Grand Haven and head southwest. The steamer was the Goodrich line Alpena. She made good time and I remember, 'God bless Harry,' as he was generally known, saying, 'I wish she had our line,' he figuring that we would all be in port the following morning. But, alas, that was a wrong guess as the Alpena never saw land again, but was lost between ten and twelve the next day.

"The wind which was moderately fresh increased gradually, and at 11 o'clock we were under lower canvas. By 2 o'clock we were close reefed and by 5 o'clock Saturday morning we hoisted her. Then we did something which I had never seen before nor since. We stretched a line from the quarterdeck through the foremast, through the foreguy and main rigging to the lee quarterdeck, there reeving a life line around the whole deckload for the safety of the sailors. The wind blew so hard that it was impossible to face it, and the sea made so fast that our deckload began to float overboard and it was a ticklish job to clear it from the lee lifeline. This continued till afternoon when we found water on the cabin and forecastle floors. Chas. Boyenga, who often tried the pump, reported that he got no suck, and so Captain Van Ry and mate decided that she was leaking worse than before. At 3 o'clock it was decided that we run before the wind and sea, and try to find shelter at the foot of the lake, as the taking of a harbor was unthinkable in such a sea.

"We were somewhere off Saugatuck when the decision was made, and we could see a schooner south-east of us occasionally. The wind was so strong, and blew the tops of the waves so hard into our faces that we could not look in that direction. When we squared away, our close reefed mainsail came down and we were in under our staysail, but as we were keeping off the wind, the staysail half yard block came down and so like-wise did the sail. Thus we were running nearly under bare poles. This had a startling effect on the other schooner as we passed so suddenly out of sight. They saw and knew us, but did not know our

NOW TERMITES ARE EATING THE COURTHOUSE AND JAIL

The action of termites, which have been found in the courthouse and county jail, was explained by George Christman of the Spring Lake Lumber company; Dick Groenvelt, employed there, and Henry Bosch, Holland. Examples of the ravages made by the pests were exhibited. These had been taken out of the courthouse and showed that those parts were virtually eaten up.

A price of $1276 for the courthouse and $516 for the jail was offered by Mr. Christman to rid the buildings and guarantee no return of the insects for five years. Semiannual inspections are made after the treatment and the company offers bonds on the guarantee. Mr. Groenvelt explained the work of the termites, the habits and told of the insidious action which could destroy any wooden part of a building almost before it was apparent. He told of the habits of the insect, their origin and said Michigan was one of the states badly infected. They are to be found in old wooden stumps and are known by the layman as white ants. They mate in the air and immediately lose their wings and go into the ground and seek wood upon which to subsist.

Due to the warmth of most buildings, they work summer and winter. He spoke of one building in Grand Haven where Sunday school services were dismissed due to the swarms of the insects. He showed how termites eat into wall board and other building material other than wood.

Mr. Christman urged the buildings be treated believing that treatment would be less expensive than repairs. The matter was turned over to the committee on public buildings. Termites have been found in two sections of the courthouse and in the county jail.

DR. IRA LANDRITH TO SPEAK AT FIRST REFORMED CHURCH

A public meeting under the auspices of the Ottawa county local option campaign committee will be held at First Reformed church, Holland, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Dr. Landrith, of Washington, was formerly state secretary of the Anti-Saloon League. He has toured all America as a member of the famous flying squadron and as one of the allied campaigners for prohibition speaking many times in every state. He has long served as president of the national temperance council, and of the International Prohibition association.

The Central Park Reformed church men's chorus will furnish special music.

Educated for the law and the ministry, Dr. Landrith has served pre-eminently in religious, educational, youth and temperance fields. He has edited the official periodical of his church, and occupied the highest executive office in his denomination.

Dr. Landrith, it is said, is fully equipped to give facts relative to the results of the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

The meeting is open to everyone. An offering will be taken to meet the expenses of the local option campaign.

Solons Make Drastic Cuts In Salary

SHERIFF IS CUT $400; MUST BUY AND MAINTAIN TWO CARS HIMSELF

Board of Supervisors Swept to Keep County Within Budget
Limit.

The courthouse family is not smiling this morning after the terrible cuts the different county officers have been receiving at the hands of the board of supervisors. It seems that the board has been sweating for the greater part of the week with an endeavor to fix the county budget to conform with the 15-mill tax limitation, and the paring knife has been almost brutal and all county officers have felt the deep cut made in their respective salaries.

The Ottawa county sheriff, Mr. Rosema, and the clerk's office received the most drastic reduction. The sheriff was cut from $4,000 to $3,600, and besides he must not only buy two automobiles but must also pay for servicing and upkeep, which means all that has to be done to an automobile to keep it running.

The county officers are disgruntled over the fact that their salaries were cut, but that the board of supervisors raised their own appropriation from $4,000 to $5,000 dollars. The reasons given by the board of supervisors are that the cost last year exceeded the budget by about $1,200. The raise does not mean that the supervisors will receive more pay per day because of the raise. Their salaries have not been reduced, however.

Anyway, below is found a list of the county officers, the salaries they got, and the cut that has been made.

John Den Herder, county treasurer; salary $2,000; cut to $1,750. Benjamin Rosema, county sheriff; salary $4,000; cut to $3,600. John R. Dethmers, prosecuting attorney; salary $2,500; cut to $2,200.

Frank Botje, register of deeds; salary $2,000; cut to $1,750. William Wilds, county clerk; salary $2,500; cut to $2,200.

George Bosch, county drain commissioner; salary $1,000; cut to $720.

Ed Ryenga, undersheriff; salary $1,600; cut to $1,450.

Bill Boeve, deputy sheriff; salary $1,500; cut to $1,350.

Anna Van Horssen, deputy county clerk; salary $1,800; cut to $1,500.

Fred Den Herder, deputy county clerk; salary $1,800; cut to $1,500.

Harriet Swart, register of probate; salary $1,500; no cut.

Anna Botje, deputy register of deeds; salary $1,200; cut to $1,000.

Dr. Ralph Ten Have, board of health; salary $3,600; cut to $3,200.

Madge Breshman, county nurse; salary $1,800; cut to $1,600.

Marian Badies, county nurse; salary $1,500; cut to $1,350.

Jennie Shaffer, clerk of health unit; salary $900; cut to $800.

Katheryn Headley, clerk in office of prosecuting attorney; salary $500; cut to $450.

Edward Roberts, clerk in treasurer's office; salary $1,040; cut to $900.

Delores Wierenga, deputy register of probate; salary $900; no cut.

Ethel Smith, agriculture clerk; salary $600; raised to $720.

Greenwood, school commissioner; salary $400; cut to $200.

Mrs. Ben Rosma, county jail matron; salary $600; cut to $480.

Herman Koster, janitor at courthouse; salary $1,350; cut to $1,000.

Maurice Rosema, court officer; salary $300; cut to $200.

Among the appropriations approved by the board sitting as a committee of the whole was that for salaries and mileage of the board, raised from $4,000 to $5,000, as last year the cost exceeded the budget by about $1,200. The general fund was increased from $25,000 to $40,000 to provide for a deficit last year of over $18,000, a part of the income this year, which it is hoped will be sufficient to repay a part of that deficit.

The Ottawa county health unit was increased from $5,000 to $6,700 due to the loss of supporting appropriations from the Rockefeller Foundation and other sources.

Cut Pension Fund.

Reductions were made in the widows' pension from $50,000 to $45,000; the insane appropriation from $5,000 to $2,500; there will be no bounty on sparrows; cutting out an item of $1,250; the road commissioner was cut from $950 to $600; and no appropriation will be made for the soldiers' relief fund as there is a balance in the fund of $4,000.

It was suggested that Judge Miles be asked to take a cut. The clerk read the list of salaries of the judges of the state and Judge Miles was found to be among the number who do not receive any extra money from the county as is done in Muskegon county, which raises the judge's salary there to $10,000. Judge Miles receives $6,000. The matter was dropped after the list of high salaries existing in the state was read.

In the plea to raise the appropriation for the county health unit, Charles E. Misner showed the physician was receiving $3,400; the nurses, $1,784 and $1,534, respectively.

He stated the cost of tuberculosis in the townships in this county had been reduced in the past few years from $56,000 to $43,000 and believed the unit was largely responsible for this and that the cost to the county for immunization had it been necessary for the state department of health to have conducted it would have been $6,500. As a matter of greatest economy and saving, as a matter of humanity and charity he pleaded that the unit be given the increased appropriation to carry out the work as efficiently as it has been done in the past. This year the unit will receive but $3,000 from the state, forcing the county to

COLLAR'S HANDS ARE FREE, HE SAYS

Everett Collar, Wright township, appeared before the board of supervisors to thank them personally for the support in selecting him as a road commissioner. He said he had always been a farmer and had lived in Wright township all his life. He has been an officer in the Grange there and in the Co-operative Elevator company of Coopersville.

He said he came to the board with his hands free as he had made no promises and he intended to make a study of the work that he might serve the county as well as he could.

We only hope that Mr. Collar will know and become acquainted with the fact that there is a city by the name of Holland in his county and give it a chance with the rest of the known territory.

SUPERVISORS' NOTES

Philip Rosbach called attention to the bills presented by Mrs. Anna Popen for expenses incurred as chairman of the Ottawa county old-age pension bureau. The state has refused to pay the bills, he stated, and he wanted some action of the board as to what stand the county should take in the matter. It was not discussed.

At the meeting at the county infirmary at Eastmanville, where a banquet was held, the board of supervisors heard Melvin B. McPherson, member of the state tax commission, discuss tax matters and he assisted individual supervisors with their problems. The board enjoyed a bountiful chicken dinner and inspected the infirmary "and a good time was had by all."

George Bosch, county drain commissioner, submitted a report. John DePre took exception to one section that stated application for work on several drains had been made to the works division of the FERA. The board, on the recommendation of the good roads committee, accepted the report of the Ottawa county road commission.

Mr. Kelby of the Starr Commonwealth School for Boys requested an annual appropriation. He talked at length on the work which is being done for wayward boys and the atmosphere of fine living that is maintained which in most cases influences the boy to be a normal good citizen. Ottawa county has sent boys to the school with fine results, he stated.

Charles Veldhuis, school commissioner, was re-elected by 24 votes. There were three blanks. Possibly some of the solons were tired of voting after the road commissioner contest.

Mrs. Anna Popen of Holland, county welfare agent, appealed to the board for an appropriation to care for neglected children in the county. She said there were at present 17 children that she was looking after. She pointed to the support of agencies of the kind outside of the county and while in sympathy with them she believes the board should make provision for its own wards.

William Omer presented a report on the progress of the property description correction of Ottawa county as authorized several months ago. The cost today is a little over $6,000 and is being borne by the township units. The method will bring several parcels of land on the tax roll not before on and thus, it is said, will bring in more taxes than the job of making corrections will amount to.

Mr. Zaagman presented the annual report showing that there are 79 inmates at Eastmanville infirmary and recommended the board appropriate the amount of last year, or $2,500. The matter

MRS. SEARS R. MCLEAN AGAIN HONORED

Mrs. Sears R. McLean of this city was again honored with the nomination for presidency of the Michigan Federation of Women's clubs, according to a report from Grand Rapids. It is stated that she has no opposition and apparently her election is assured.

read and has traveled much and is an able executive as well as a presiding officer. Holland is indeed pleased to hear of signal honors given her, and her success in this state-wide organization, which has done a great deal of good in communities was turned over to the finance committee. The further support of the infirmaries comes from the respective townships and municipalities of the county and the farm upon which the home is located.

A report of the soldiers' welfare commission was received. The commission requests that the one tenth of a mill allowed by the state, be spread this year. The commission reported that $789.38 had been spent during the year; that $4,500 had been raised in the county and total assets had been $4,817.67; and a balance of $4,028.29 is in the fund. The finance committee was delegated to make recommendations on the matter.

The Roots of Farm Progress

Unprejudiced reports from many agricultural areas indicate that an increasing number of farmers are becoming dissatisfied with political farm relief.

That is not entirely the fault of relief measures, the promises held out were too rosy. Thousands of farmers, with or without reason, expected the immediate creation of Utopia, and when that didn't happen they were bitterly disappointed. Such relief efforts, no matter how sincerely or wisely they are carried on, are doomed to at least partial failure, because political considerations inevitably appear, and often outweigh practical considerations. Again, all political parties hold power for comparatively short times, and there is always the chance that they will be supplanted at the next election. As a result, they cannot plan for the "long pull," but must seek to speed up the action of economic law—something no one has yet done successfully.

It is possible that our farmers are coming to see that their best chance for relief lies in their own efforts. They have the instrument of progress ready at hand—the Farm Cooperative. It is permanent. It is non-political. It does not have to seek temporary benefits at the expense of permanent good. Farm legislation is passed and is replaced, administrations come and go, but soundly established co-ops remain.

Out of the farmer's own work, reflected in cooperative actions and policies, will come real and permanent farm progress.

72.8 PER CENT OF GRAND HAVEN TAXES COLLECTED

The collection period for Grand Haven taxes which closed on October 15, shows, according to the city treasurer, that 72.8 per cent of the city taxes have been paid. Out of a budget of $112,325.36 there has been $81,847.26 paid. The collections this year are slightly better than last year when $72,000 was collected out of a budget of $102,000.

"Heard Any Mae West Stories?"

Mae West, at Los Angeles, believes the time has come for some censorship outside the movies. "Going into character" at a testimonial dinner for Emanuel Cohen, a film company official, here last night, she said:

"I think it's time I should do a little censoring about some of the stories going the rounds about me. 'But if you hear any new ones come up and see me.'"

Large Sunfish Prove Hybrids

Green sunfish and common "pumpseed" sunfish will cross and produce hybrid offspring, but these offspring will not reproduce, says Dr. Carl Hubbs, director of the Institute for Fisheries Research, after several years of experiment with these fishes at the University of Michigan Museum aquaria. The purpose of raising these sunfish was to verify the belief that these two species cross in the wild and that the hybrid sunfish is not a distinct species.

Hybrid sunfish occur most commonly, sometimes even abundantly in ponds and small lakes of southern Michigan, the shoals of which are mucky and densely overgrown with chara. Because there is intensive competition for spawning grounds, this tends to throw the species together and encourages crossing. The experimental hybrids produced in the laboratory are completely like the supposed hybrids taken in nature, uniformly and exactly intermediate in all respects between the parent species.

The importance of this verification lies in the fact that the large sunfishes that are caught are hybrids, often being twice as large as the parents, the green and the pumpseed sunfish. The angle r who asks: "Why not raise hybrid sunfish and get larger sunfish?" also can get an answer to his question from Dr. Hubbs' Laboratory. The hybrids, like mules, are infertile, and do not produce their kind.

TWAS HIS WIFE HE HUGGED. SO DRIVER IS FREE

If it weren't for the occasional flash of reassuring amusement in Detroit traffic court, judges and staffs might wither up into the dust of disillusionment and blow out the window.

Saturday, Karl Fischer supplied the saving smiles. He was accused of driving with one arm at Michigan ave. and Shaw st.

"Are you going to marry this girl?" Judge John J. Maher asked. "She's my wife!" Fischer shot back.

"Oh, my goodness!" gasped the judge. "Go on home to her," he added after the clerk had silenced the packed room so that he could be heard.

CITIZENS' LEAGUE NOW MEET IN SCHOOL

Forced to vacate the courtroom in the city hall for its regular meetings due to larger essential quarters for the county welfare administration, the Citizens' league has been granted the use of one of the school buildings at $2 a session for a period of three months by the board of education, with the provision no smoking be permitted. Proebel No. 2 is the building designated for the league.

The first meeting of the season of the girls' Junior Athletic club was held Wednesday in the Junior High school gymnasium. Miss Cornelia Mulder, Junior High gymnasium teacher, will direct the class, to which all post-graduate girls are invited. Each is to take her uniform.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Banks of Fort Wayne, Indiana, were the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Banks a few days last week.

Dr. Wynand Wichers, president of Hope college, Tuesday afternoon addressed the convention of the Michigan Federation of Women's clubs being held in Grand Rapids this week.

SAY DR. TEN HAVE HAD DONE EXCELLENT WORK IN THIS COUNTY

Dr. Morton L. Levin, acting head of the Ottawa county health unit during the absence of Dr. Ralph Ten Have, who is in Baltimore for further study, addressed the board of supervisors on the subject "The Financial Advantages of Public Health Work."

It is understood that the health committee were not united in their recommendations that the health unit be continued. The appropriation this year calls for $6,700 as the Rockefeller Foundation appropriation which was offered two years ago, when the unit was initiated, diminishes slightly each year and will be discontinued after a three-year period.

Dr. Levin stated that the benefit to the county alone from the immunization for diphtheria and smallpox, care of afflicted adults and medical treatment was worth at least $8,000 to the county, and this is but a small part of the total amount of work done.

He stated that in the prevention of venereal diseases the savings are very material. The average cost of treatment and cure of one case is $500, which, according to law a township is responsible for providing if the individual is without funds. He spoke of the disease as the cause of approximately 20 per cent of the insanity and stated that Illinois pays out as much for the care of insanity patients from this cause alone as it pays for the entire public health work of the state.

He cited recent court decisions which make local authorities responsible for disease transmitted by polluted water and the case of one township in New York that was required to pay $33,000 for a typhoid fever epidemic.

In the last analysis the financial aspect of the subject is but a small part of the service. The larger aspect includes conservation of health; prevention of disease, and preventable death. The value of life, according to insurance statistics, is $10,000. The saving of even one life more than justifies the cost of the local unit, he stated.

Dr. Levin pointed to the splendid work that had been done in this county under Dr. Ten Have. In recognition of it the Rockefeller Foundation offered him a scholarship at Johns Hopkins where he is to spend a year.

MAYOR, HOLLAND MAN TO STUDY SELF-HELP STATE CO-OPERATIVES

Mayor Heap, in company with Sears McLean of Holland, will leave tomorrow to make a tour of self-help co-operatives located at Lansing, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids and Allegan. He will make a report of his findings to the city council in an effort to establish projects of the kind in this city if his investigations show the co-operatives to be successful and feasible for this city.—Grand Haven Tribune.

Speakers of the evening will be Rev. R. J. Vandenberg of Zeeland, one of the charter members of the society; Rev. Bernie Mulder of Grand Rapids, and Rev. Fred Wynand, who recently accepted the pastorate of Clifton, New Jersey, Reformed church.

Marc Brouwer of Orange City, Iowa, president of the society will extend greetings from the college to the society on its birthday.

Sherwood Price of Holland is chairman of the program, and Elmer Wissink of Zeeland is chairman of the alumni committee and in charge of invitations.

The dinner will be at 6:30 o'clock after the Hope-Albion football game.

Mrs. Addie Spykerman was pleasantly surprised at her home on West Thirteenth street, Saturday, her daughter, Miss Alice Spykerman, being hostess. Mrs. Spykerman celebrated her birthday Sunday, and guests at the party Saturday brought many tokens of their well wishes and congratulations for the guest of honor. Those present were Mrs. Henry Kuyers, Mrs. C. DeKeyser, Mrs. N. Jonker, Mrs. C. Kuyers, Mrs. Peter Kuyers, Mrs. Paul Kuyers, Miss Gertrude Jonker, Miss Hilda De Keyser, Misses Alice, Emma and Mary Kuyers.

Don't Get Your Ducks Mixed

To clarify misunderstanding among Michigan duck hunters concerning the federal regulation on duck bag limits, the Department of Conservation issues the following explanation:

The federal and state bag limit on ducks is 12 in one day, but canyabacks, redheads, greater scaups, lesser scaups, ringnecks, blue-winged teal, green-winged teal, cinnamon teal, shovellers and gadwall included in the 12 may not total more than five. These five may all be of one species or they may be of different species of the restricted class—but in no case may the total number of ducks belonging to these 11 species exceed five. The number of ducks representing other species that may be hunted is limited only by the provision that the total bag limit of all ducks taken may not exceed 12.

Thus, the hunter may take a dozen mallards or he may take a dozen pintails, or six mallards and six pintails or eight mallards and four pintails or any combination of these birds that does not total more than twelve. But if he takes the maximum of 12 and includes in his dozen the species on which the limit is further restricted he will have bags like the following: Seven mallards plus five canyabacks, or four mallards and three pintails plus one black duck, one canyaback, one redhead, one scaup and one ringneck; or five pintails and two mallards plus two canyabacks, two redheads and one ringneck.

HOLLAND CLASSIS OBSERVING CHURCH CENTENNIAL TODAY

The hundredth anniversary of the secession in 1834 of churches in The Netherlands from the established state church is being commemorated here today, Thursday, by Christian Reformed churches of Holland and vicinity. A large number attended the mass meeting held in Central Avenue Christian Reformed church this afternoon when Dr. S. Volbeda of Calvin seminary delivered the main address in the Holland language.

Dr. H. Beets of Grand Rapids, well known church historian, was the principal speaker at Thursday evening's meeting.

Special music was rendered by local organizations of the denomination.

Wants Hunters' Help

How many pheasants and grouse did you kill during the open hunting season on these species? How many others did you see? These are two of the questions that Michigan hunters, who wish to co-operate with the Department of Conservation in its efforts to check up on hunting conditions in various areas of the state, will answer when they fill out and send in their game tally cards at the end of the upland game bird season. Conservation officers throughout the state are being supplied with these cards for distribution.

Of 30,000 such cards sent out last year only 600 were returned to the department which is hoping for much better co-operation from this season's hunters. The cards require no postage.

Kroger's Fall Food Fair is in full swing in all Kroger stores and will continue through Saturday, October 20. The stores have been specially decorated for the occasion, with the fall atmosphere prevailing. Brightly colored leaves, pumpkins, shocks of corn and other natural material have been blended into a harmonious bit of splendor. During the fair, all Kroger stores are conducting a sale featured by unusually low prices on almost all merchandise, despite the fact that prices for all commodities are rapidly rising in all sections of the country. Because of this, thousands of housewives are buying canned goods in case lots in order to have their own supply.

How your MONEY WORKS FOR YOU IN A Checking Account

When you put your money in a savings account you get interest on it. In a checking account you get service for it—and let the bank draw the interest. In return for this interest the bank gives you privileges worth far more to you than the interest itself.

When you maintain a balance commensurate with your use of your checking account privileges, the bank will be reimbursed for the expense of serving you. Otherwise, the bank may properly look to you to meet this expense.

Money in a checking account is an investment that pays you real dividends.

If You Shoot a Banded Pheasant, Tell About It

(Dept. of Conservation Press Service)

If you shoot a banded pheasant this fall the Department of Conservation would like to know about it. Several thousand pheasants have been released by the department in various parts of southern Michigan where cover and food conditions are favorable. All of the birds released, as well as the large number of the hens, have an aluminum band on one leg or a tag on one wing inscribed as follows: "Department of Conservation, Lansing, Michigan, E1289."

These birds were released at points where it was hoped they would increase and improve hunting and many of them doubtless will be shot this fall. Hunters who bag one of the tagged birds are urged to report the same to the Game Division, Department of Conservation, to forward the following information: Date and place pheasant was killed, name of the hunter on whose land it was shot, the name of the section, township and county.

The information will show, among other things, how far the pheasants have traveled from point of liberation. The hunter may keep the band or tag as a souvenir, if he desires, only the information on the shooting being needed by the Department. The same information is asked of individuals who find tagged or banded pheasants that have been killed by automobiles or other accidental means.

Jacob Kraai was in Grand Haven on business Thursday.

The Allegan County Council of Religious Education will hold an all-day institute for children's Sunday school teachers and parents this week, Saturday, October 20, in the M. E. church at Allegan. The program theme will be "Home Religion," including several talks on the subjects, "The Primary Object of Christian Education," "The Bible in the Home," "Parents and Teachers Working Together," "Guiding Parents in Their Task," "Preparing Leaders for Local Schools." Divisional conferences will be held with Miss Ione Catton of Lansing and Miss Suzanne Olsen of Fennville as discussion leaders. The morning session opens at 10 o'clock and the afternoon session at 1:15, with Mrs. H. D. Strabbing of Hamilton, county superintendent of children's division, presiding.

Rev. Fred Wyngaarden preached his farewell sermon last Sunday to a large audience at the Second Reformed church. Sunday. The church regrets to see Rev. and Mrs. Wyngaarden leave. Although they have not been with us long they have made a large number of friends who will remember them for a long time and wish them success in their new field of labor.

Evelyn Schutmaat and Anna Hamberg left last Saturday for a week's visit at the Century of Progress exposition.

John Kalvoord, Jr., attended the Democratic executive committee meeting of Allegan Monday afternoon.

Ruth and Laura Veen visited at the Henry Klein home Sunday evening.

The hunting season opened Monday morning with a bang. The woods and draws were crowded with hunters. The shooting began with day light and continued during the greater part of the day. Our sympathy was entirely with the rabbits and the birds, who had no chance against such an army.

A pot-luck supper was held last week, Tuesday evening, at the First Reformed church by the Women's Church League and the King's Daughters. Miss Jennie Pieters was the guest speaker. Ella Roggen, Aileen and Edna Dangremond rendered several vocal selections. Josephine Kaper favored with a piano solo. Several of the young ladies were dressed in Chinese costumes which Miss Pieters had brought with her. It was a very interesting meeting with a large number in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dangremond, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dangremond and family visited relatives at Fennville Sunday.

Irene Kalvoord of Chicago spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kalvoord, Jr.

Josephine Kaper, Elaine Ashley, Morris Nienhuis and Marvin Kaper attended the world's fair at Chicago Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Van Doornink spent the week-end with relatives in Grand Rapids.

Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Hamelink returned home Monday after an extended trip to Ann Arbor, Detroit, Chicago and St. Louis.

A meeting of the executive committee of the local Community Players was held at the home of Gladys Lubbers last week, Friday evening. Plans were made for the presentation of several plays during the winter months. Rehearsals for the first will be started as soon as possible. The officers of the organization are: President, Gladys Lubbers; vice president, Ella Roggen, and secretary-treasurer, Aileen Dangremond.

Mrs. Van Tatenhove, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Van Tatenhove and Grace Van Tatenhove of Holland were at the home of William Ten Brink last week, Thursday afternoon.

"The Christian at Prayer"

(Matthew 6:5-15)

HENRY GEERLINGS

There is no greater word than prayer in the vocabulary of religious faith. In its true meaning it is synonymous with religion itself, for prayer means personal communion with God. It includes both our appreciation and approach to God, and his vital response to us. Hence prayer is as universal as religion.

In all religions men pray. But religious men do not pray alike. Their prayers differ as do their religions. Indeed, the prayer of a man is a sure index of the character of his God, and of the quality of his religion.

The Pharisees lived prayerful lives. A strict Pharisee prayed many times every day, according to precise rules. But his prayers were as hollow as his religion. It was a mechanical art. It was performed ostentatiously before men. In the synagogue, even on street corners, he paraded his superior piety. He sought the praise of men, and, at the same time, wooing the favor of God with many vain repetitions.

FORMER SAUGATUCK FRUIT GROWER DIES AT HOLLAND

John W. Dick, 84 East Ninth street, died at Holland hospital on Thursday morning at the age of 83 years.

Mr. Dick had been a resident of Holland for the past ten years. Prior to his coming to this city he owned and operated a large fruit farm in Saugatuck for more than half a century. He was born in Williams county, Ohio, on August 28, 1851.

Mr. Dick is survived by four sons, Bruce of Harvey, Illinois, M. Everett, Elden and William J. of Holland; a daughter, Mrs. Frank Stephens of Fennville; six grandchildren, Helen and David Dick of Charlevoix, Dorothy Dick of LaPort, Indiana, Hazel Dick of St. Louis, Michigan, and Bruce and Leonard Dick of Holland. He is also survived by two brothers, M. A. Dick of Cherokee, Iowa, and Lewis Dick of Joliet, Illinois.

Funeral services will be on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the Dykstra funeral home, the Rev. E. E. Winter, pastor of the Congregational church of Douglas, of which he was a member, officiating.

Grave services and interment in the Saugatuck cemetery will be at 11:15 o'clock. Friends may view the remains on Friday afternoon and evening at the Dykstra funeral home.

HOLLAND REFORMED CHURCH UNION ELECTS VAN EERDEN

Rev. P. Van Eerden, pastor of Seventh Reformed church, was named president of the consistorial union of the Reformed Churches of Holland at the annual meeting.

Simon Verburg was elected secretary-treasurer for his fifth consecutive year. Vice presidents were named by each church to complete the personnel of the executive committee.

Dr. Edward D. Dimment of Hope college delivered an address on "The Christian and the State."

SPECIAL PROGRAMS AT CITY MISSION

Special meetings will be held at the City Rescue mission beginning Sunday, October 21 to 28. A party of four from the Chicago Hebrew mission will conduct the campaign. Rev. Israel Sax, Miss Louise Johnson, a singer, player and preacher; Miss Betty Moreland, a chalk artist, and the superintendent, Rev. C. P. Meeker. Evangelistic services will be held every night and Sunday afternoons in the mission and in a number of churches in and about Holland.

PATHETIC DEATH TAKES PLACE IN HOLLAND HOSPITAL

Late Friday afternoon a promising young man, Harold Kolenbrander, aged 27 years, passed away at Holland hospital where he was taken the day before when it was found that acute infection developed into rabies as a result of a slight bite some weeks before from a neighborhood dog.

Mr. Kolenbrander had been employed in the office of the Western Machine Tool Works for nearly 10 years, and all during that time, Mayor Bosch states, the young man has shown an aptness in his vocation of bookkeeping that never needed correction. He was affable and showed great tact in meeting business people and the entire office force as well as the employees in the shop were deeply touched because of the untimely passing of this able young man.

Both Manitou and Ronald Bosch were in Chicago during the turn of events and the death of their associate in the office, and when they did arrive they were prepared to go over some business matters with him and they were told that the young man had passed away suddenly, which proved to be a terrible shock to the Bosch brothers, as well as to the mayor.

Mr. Kolenbrander was born in East Saugatuck November 8, 1906. He is survived by the widow; two daughters, Barbara Jean and Joan Fay; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kolenbrander; a brother, Frederick, and a sister, Miss Juliana Kolenbrander, all of Holland.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of the parents, 83 East Twenty-fourth street, and at 2 o'clock at Prospect Park Christian Reformed church, Rev. L. Van Laar officiating. Interment was in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

Pallbearers were Mayor Nicodemus Bosch, G. J. Bosch, Randall C. Bosch, Nicholas Chard, Charles E. Drew and Edward J. Yeomans, all of whom have been closely associated with Mr. Kolenbrander at the office of the Western Machine Tool Works. Employees of the Western Machine Tool Works attended the funeral in a body.

Missionary Union To Meet Thursday, Oct. 25

SESSIONS TO BE HELD IN NINTH STREET CHRISTIAN REFORMED CHURCH

The annual fall meeting of the Women's Missionary union of the Christian Reformed churches of Holland, Zeeland and vicinity will be held next week, Thursday, October 25, when it is expected that a large number of society members and friends from various parts of the county will gather here. The meeting, one of two held each year, the one being held in the spring of the year, and the other in the fall. The sessions next Thursday are to be held in the auditorium of Ninth Street Christian Reformed church, the afternoon session to begin at 2 o'clock and the evening session at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Robert Poole, president of the union, will preside.

An interesting program has been prepared by the committee, speakers for the day including Rev. J. R. Kamp of the Indian mission field. Mr. Kamp is a canal worker at Rehoboth and no doubt will have much to tell that will be of interest to his listeners.

Dr. Henry Beets, mission field secretary, will also be on the program, and it goes without saying that Rev. Beets will have a real message to bring to those who hear him. Rev. Beets will speak on "South America." Miss Lillian Boda, missionary to China, stationed in Jukao, and now home on furlough, is also listed on the day's program as well as Miss Grace Plum of the Helping Hand mission of Chicago.

Music for the day will include selections by the Oriole Four of Hudsonville; vocal solos, by Mrs. Cora Van Nul; selections by the Ter Beek sisters quartet, and a short program by the Oakland church orchestra.

Between the afternoon and evening sessions those who desire to stay for the supper hour will be invited to meet in the parlors of the Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church, where coffee will be served by a committee of the entertaining churches, each individual to bring their own lunch. A program has also been planned for the supper hour, which will include a short talk by Miss Plum. Hereafter the supper hour has always been held in the church where the other sessions are held, but the committee thought it wise to hold the supper hour in another church this time.

Anyway, the program for the union meet is all set, and no doubt Ninth street church will be well filled next Thursday afternoon and evening.

HOLLAND CONTINUES SAFETY DRIVE FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Holland's school children must be protected. That is the consensus of opinion of Mayor Bosch and the city fathers not only, but also of school authorities in the city. Much has been said and done for this cause in Holland, and although to date it is not definitely settled as to who will pay the expenses of crossing watchmen, etc., the council is decided on one thing and that is that watchmen shall be retained at the dangerous street intersections in the school zones.

Children are also being reminded daily just prior to dismissal to "watch, look and listen" before they cross the street, and also to refrain from playing in the streets.

Statistics show that most accidents take place between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

A safety council of five elementary teachers will also co-operate with the police department. The teachers, Hermine Ithman, Van Raalte school; Verda Hawkins, Washington school; Martha Bird, Froebel school; Helen Sprietsma, Lincoln school, and Margaret Garthe, Longfellow school, state that they are enlisting the co-operation of parents through our parent-teacher organizations in order that the teaching of safety may begin with the pre-school child and may continue after school hours.

Every elementary public school child is requested to cross only at intersections; to obey traffic signals; to look both ways before crossing the street, and to refrain from playing in the street.

HOLLAND BUSINESS MEN TO TAKE PART IN HOMECOMING

Local merchants and businessmen today were requested by the Merchants' association and the Chamber of Commerce to take part in the Hope college homecoming, Saturday with display of curb flags.

Display of the flag was authorized by the Willard G. Leenhouts post of the American Legion. The Legion has taken a stand that flags be displayed only on patriotic holidays, nevertheless, approved the plan because of its pride and respect for the college.

The request for merchants to co-operate was made jointly by William M. Connelly, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and Charles Van Zyl, secretary of the Merchants' association.

HOLLAND DELEGATION ON ROADS TAKE BUS

For some time William M. Connelly, director of the Chamber of Commerce, and members of the good roads committee of the chamber have been negotiating trips furthering the paving of US-40 between Allegan and Holland. The project even assumed such large proportions that the road was to be extended cross counties to Toledo, Ohio, and a name, Michigan-Erie road, connecting the two Great Lakes, has been suggested and it may so happen that this project will become a fact before very long. Many trips were taken in which your editor participated, but in the final Mr. Connelly had to get a hearing with Murray D. Van Wagoner, and a large delegation from Holland, Hamilton and Allegan met at Lansing Wednesday and were given a fine reception by the state highway department and its head.

It was evident that Mr. Van Wagoner was very much alive to the needs of M-40, in fact this is the next project after US-31 has been reconditioned. It is apparent that money is the all-important question. The contract for the new bridge at Hamilton has already been let, and it is safe to say that all the projects now pending in the state not yet allowed, M-40 will be the first to be given consideration.

The state highway department feels that this road should have been completed a long time ago. It is a tremendous artery of travel and the state highway department is well aware of this fact.

Herman Brouwer, one time living in Hamilton, now in Holland, reminded the delegation that he was on the committee that started this project ten years ago. We would like to add that the Holland committee at that time was composed of G. J. Diekema, John Arendshorst, Austin Harrington, Peter Prins and your editor, and Mr. Diekema was made chairman of the state group that met at Post Tavern in Battle Creek. This road project has been kept alive all this time, and we are in hopes that eventually something will materialize.

Anyway, the committee from Holland is well satisfied with the reception given them. Among those who were present from Holland were the following:

MAN GETS HIS DOG BACK

Justice John Gallien used the wisdom of Solomon in deciding a dog case.

It appears that Henry Bouman of Fillmore township owned a 2-year-old Beagle hound. It is stated that he turned the dog over to a neighbor, Charles Newcombe, on a partnership deal. Newcombe in turn traded the dog to Lester Venhuizen of Holland in exchange for a collie. The hunting season brought need for the hound and Bouman, when he shouldered his gun, found that the Beagle was missing and the collie wouldn't serve the hunter. He immediately brought proceedings to regain the dog. The matter was taken up in Justice John Gallien's court who decided that Bouman should have his "hound" central.

CENTRAL PARK

The Lakewood P. T. A. held its first meeting of the season at the schoolhouse Tuesday evening. Mrs. F. J. Van Dyk sang a solo; Miss Sarah E. Lacey played a selection on the piano, and Geraldine Teusink gave a reading. The Boosters' Class Kitchen band also played several selections. At the business meeting the following officers were elected: President, Dick Nieusma; vice president, Floyd R. Maney; secretary, Mrs. F. E. Davidson; treasurer, Mrs. John Nyland.

The Optimists' Circle of the Ladies' Aid society met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Helmink. There was a good attendance and an auction sale of articles brought by various members netted the organization a tidy sum.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rozeema of Roseland, Chicago, Illinois, are occupying the Shipman cottage for a few weeks. Mrs. Rozeema's sister, the wife of Rev. B. De Jonge of Muskegon, was a recent visitor.

Mrs. Henry W. Helmink is visiting in Grand Rapids for a few days. Miss Martha Van Dyk of Chicago was a recent visitor at the parsonage.

Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Van Dyk attended the meeting of the Ministers' Social Circle held in Zeeland last Monday.

A special meeting of the congregation was held Monday evening at which it was decided to postpone the painting of the church and parsonage until next spring.

ZEELAND

Special services will be conducted Sunday in First Reformed church Sunday school when Donald VanLiere, son of C. Van Lier of Holland, R.F.D. No. 10, is presented the Pine lodge award. At the close of the Pine lodge conference he was selected all-conference champion.

Bert Brower was selected by the Zeeland city council to fill the vacancy of the aldermanic office of Edgar Hall, recently resigned. Former Mayor Fred Klumper declined the office because of business reasons.

Advantages of the Merchants Credit Bureau

Some people are of the opinion that if their name is on file with the Merchants' Credit Service Bureau, they are on the so-called "Black List." This is entirely wrong.

The files in the Merchants' Credit Service Bureau contain the names of people of Holland and surrounding territory. When one takes care of his accounts as agreed and is entitled to credit, it is to his or her advantage to have a place like the Merchants' Credit Service Bureau where concerns granting credit can get this information without delay. On the other hand if a person does not take care of his accounts and makes no effort to make satisfactory arrangement, if for some reason it is impossible to pay, it is advantageous to the grantor of credit.

The Merchants' Credit Service Bureau is an asset to the entire community in that it provides information which avoids delay for people who are entitled to credit.
