Leading Local Industrialist Taken By Death

PASSING OF J. A. VANDER
VEEN IS REMINDER OF HIS-TORICAL EVENTS

Furniture Co. where He Was the Head

Tuesday afternoon the last rites were said over the remains of J. A. Vander Veen one of the leading manufacturers of furniture in this city, who died in the early evening of Saturday at Holland hospital at the age of 69 years. Mr. Vander Veen was born on January 26, 1868. He had been in ill health for the past four years and was seized with a heart attack. He was hastily taken by ambulance to Holland hospital, where he passed away shortly afterward.

The funeral services at the old Vander Veen homestead, 77 West 9th St., were in charge of Rev. Paul E. Hinkamp, member of the faculty of Hope College. Interment took place in Pilgrim Home Cemetery.

The pallbearers were former mayor E. P. Stephan, Otto F. Kramer, Charles H. McBride, John Bosman, Gilbert T. Haan and Dr. George W. Van Verst.

The Holland Furniture Co., of which J. A. Vander Veen was the head, was closed during Tuesday afternoon, while the funeral was in progress. The American flag was placed at half staff over the factory building.

Friends were given the opportunity to pay their respects at the Nibbelink-Notter Funeral Home, Monday afternoon and evening, and Tuesday morning. The 150 employees came in groups during the evening to view the remains of their former employer. A few of the men had been employed in this enterprise from the time that Mr. Vander Veen was elected president in 1893.

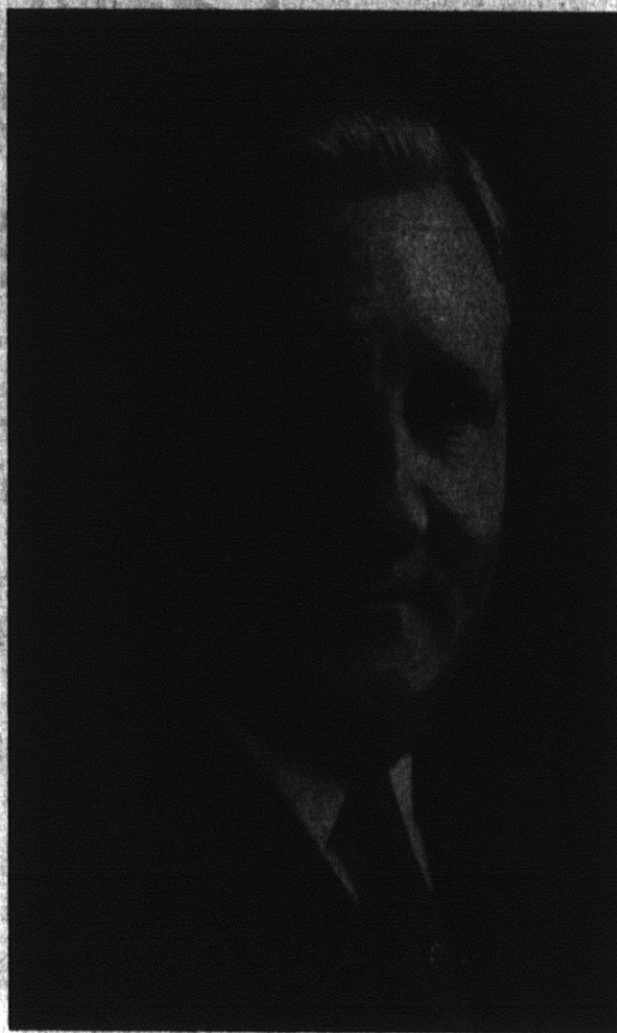

It can be truly said that J. A. Vander Veen was one of our pioneer business men, and furthermore, he was a son of a very early pioneer, Holland's first jockey and tinsmith, as they were then called, namely, E. Vander Veen. Scarcely out of his teens J. A. Vander Veen entered the business established by his father on what has always been known since Van Raalte days as the Vander Veen corner, on River Ave. and 8th St.

When as a lad John Vander Veen applied himself studiously in the hardware store of his father, and learned all the ramifications of the tinsmith's work as well as the stove and hardware business. In those days kettles, pans, wash boilers, pails, and kindred utensils for home, business or farm, were made to order in the tin shop; and young Vander Veen, at that time, had been taught the art of the tinsmith, who made these serviceable home necessities.

At the age of 21 he purchased from his father the store that had been established not so many years after Dr. Van Raalte brought his little band to the head of Black Lake. For nearly a quarter of a century the hardware store was conducted by his father in a frame building that did service until one of the first brick blocks in the city was erected on that corner by him, and the wooden structure was moved directly east of the new building.

The father, at one time mayor of the city, observed the keen business sense of the son and shifted a great many of the burdens of the hardware enterprise on younger shoulders. Young Vander Veen's business affairs were so apparent that shortly he was in charge. It is a well known fact that even in the slipshod days of local storekeeping J. A. Vander Veen inculcated his own system that was thorough and accurate. He took a sincere pride in his methods of doing business, and his unprecedented success prepared him for greater things.

In 1914 he sold the hardware stock and became actively involved in industry. He was a stockholder in manufacturing enterprises early in life. He was one of the men identified with the Bay View Furniture Co. as a stockholder even before his entrance into the Holland Furniture Co., and was connected there until the day of his death.

In 1893 Mr. Vander Veen became president of the Holland Furniture Co. He became actively engaged in the company a few years after the death of former mayor, Jacob G. Van Putten, which occurred under his regime the plant has been enlarged several times, and he, together with his able staff, has kept this large furniture enterprise up-to-the-minute with modern equipment, modern remodeled buildings, and modern business methods, until today the Holland Furniture Co. product is very favorably known throughout the nation and Canada.

Mr. Vander Veen's business acumen and energy urged him on to still greater business developments. He was financially interested in many western Michigan manufacturing companies. He was president of the Dutch Woodcraft Shop of Zeeland; director of the Mac-Simbar Paper Co. of Otsego; director of the Globe Knitting Works of Grand Rapids and a director of the Peerless Novelty Co. of Grand Haven. He was also a director in the Continental and Holland-St. Louis Sugar companies for a number of years.

Mr. Vander Veen built the three-story building on West 8th St., now occupied by Yonker's Drug Store, and which was for many years utilized as Holland's City Hall, where the city clerk, the Board of Public Works, and the council rooms were located.

Mr. Vander Veen also took a deep interest in civic affairs. He was the moving spirit in welfare work, harking back a quarter of a century; however, not as welfare work is being termed today. In those days the needy were taken care of by the thoughtful people

The supper hour will be held in the 14th Street Christian Reformed Church, with Miss Henrietta Lam as the speaker.

The afternoon session will begin at 2 o'clock and the evening program at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. William Selles and her four daughters, Anne, Kathryn, Helene and Maxine, entertained at a miscellaneous shower at their home, 110 East 15th St., Monday evening honoring Miss Esther Kammerling whose marriage to Bert Selles will take place in the near future. The evening was spent in playing games.

The Sinking of the Alpena Off Holland Harbor 57 Years Ago

The above pictures the artist's conception of the sinking of the Steamer Alpena, bound from Grand Haven to Chicago on October 11, 1880. In all probability the side-wheeler sank not far from Holland Harbor, since a great deal of the wreckage came ashore on what is now known as Alpena Beach, near Lakewood Farm.

The wreckage that came ashore was the large three-legged grand piano and strange to say, it stood right side up when found on the beach. Several of the buckets of the ship and a step ladder were picked up here, as was the sign "Alpena," torn from the wheelhouse. This sign was owned by the late C. Blom, Sr., for many years and was later given to George Getz of Lakewood Farm, who still has it in his museum on the farm.

The Holland City News still has in its possession one of the ventilators from the cabin, and no doubt there are several other relics owned by people living in the vicinity of Holland.

Part of the deck came ashore near Port Sheldon, and the beach was literally covered north and south of Holland Harbor with small pieces of wreckage. A lifeboat of the doomed ship was found off Saugatuck.

Chief of Police Frank Van Ry was the last man now living to see the Alpena leave the harbor. Frank, who was 20 years old, was sailing mate on a small schooner owned by Captain Smith, who was also lighthouse keeper at the Grand Haven harbor.

The schooner was tied up between the pier and there was a great calm. Lake Michigan was smooth as glass, but in the north-west there was a black sky slowly creeping up.

Captain Nelson Napier was standing on the wheelhouse as the side-wheeler plowed the quiet waters between the piers as it was leaving port. Frank Van Ry and Captain Smith waved to him as the Alpena churned by. The light-keeper, cupping his hands, called to Napier, "Cap, the barometer is falling fast, believe we will have a bad night, better point her straight to Milwaukee." Captain Napier called back, "I think we will be all right, Smithy, I am going to Chicago."

The boat was out less than an hour when stiff little gusts of wind out of the northwest began to ruffle the calm waters. The wind increased as the night advanced and the storm broke in all its fury shortly after midnight.

It was a trying night in Grand Haven as many of the passengers and the crew were well known or lived there. Not a soul of the sixty persons on board lived to tell the tale of the Alpena's foundering.

The last persons to see the Alpena were the Miller boys, well known in Holland years ago, who were sailing a two-masted schooner. They saw the Alpena, apparently in distress, nearly in mid-lake between Grand Haven and Milwaukee.

Storm warnings were flown at all western Michigan ports, but Capt. Napier, a seasoned navigator of dauntless courage, as well as several other skippers that night elected to put out on their trips in the face of the warnings.

The exact point of the breaking up of the Alpena never has been learned, although the captain of a schooner reported having seen the ship in distress, one wheel out of the water and at the mercy of the elements, about half-way from Grand Haven to Chicago.

So quickly did the ship sink that none of the passengers had time to write any detailed account of the tragedy and drop it into the sea. The only message from any of the victims was a hastily scrawled note, pinned to a piece of moulding in a stateroom. It was so water-soaked when found it was practically illegible, but a Hope College professor, with the aid of a magnifying glass, made it out to read as follows:

"This is awful. The Alpena is breaking up and I am on board. Frank Connell."

Among the well known Ottawa county persons who went down with the Alpena were W. S. Benham, editor of the Grand Haven Tribune, and Mrs. Benham, Heber V. Squier, Jr., and Mrs. B. F. Curtiss, all of Grand Haven.

In a paragraph from the News of that date, it appears that pieces of that wreck had come ashore at points on our coast about 60 miles apart and that the Alpena must have been probably two-thirds of the way from Grand Haven to Chicago when she was overwhelmed by the fury of the tempest.

So closely allied was the sinking of the Alpena with these shores that for nearly a half century the beach along Lakewood Farm, Tennessee, Buchanan, and other resort beaches, has always been named Alpena Beach; and what is now Lakewood Boulevard, leading to that beach, was called the Alpena Road. Of course, that harks back to the time when there was not a building to speak of all along that resort area. In fact, it was a veritable wilderness.

The coming of George Getz and the building up of his beautiful estate twenty-five years ago created an urge to build up that area from Ottawa Beach nearly to Port Sheldon. Every new improvement brought a new name; and it is only recently that Alpena Beach and Alpena Road, as names, were slowly discarded, but history ties up this vicinity very vividly with the sinking of the steamer Alpena.

The files of the News of October 11, 1880, gives a full account of the sinking at the time, together with the investigation and the inquiries that followed. These many columns make intensely interesting marine history, also vividly describing the hundreds of relatives who patrolled the beaches here, and the heart-rending scenes of mothers who were vainly looking for loved ones known to have been aboard the ill-fated steamer.

This is an artist's conception of the wreck of the old Goodrich side-wheeler, the S. S. Alpena, as seen by Captain Olsen, of the schooner "Holmes," at 11 a. m., Saturday, Oct. 16, 1880. The Alpena sailed from Muskegon and was never seen again, lost in a terrific storm on Lake Michigan. This old picture, which formerly hung in the cottage of Charles O. Smedley, a prominent Grand Rapids attorney until his death some years ago, was loaned to The Chronicle for reproduction, by his son, Harold H. Smedley, of Muskegon. Mr. Smedley announced he will donate it to the proposed Muskegon museum.

The Holland City News is indebted to the Muskegon Chronicle for this picture, which is so timely during this anniversary month.

FIFTY YEARS AGO FROM FILES OF THE NEWS

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY...

Jurors drawn for circuit court duty 50 years ago from this vicinity were: Holland Town, Albert Vander Haar; Holland City, Edwin Welch; Zeeland, Jan Slabbeek; Grand Rapids, Olive Leendert Diepenhorst; Jamestown, Thomas A. Brown.

An unusual and swift equinoctial storm put Lake Michigan in a dangerous mood on Monday. The sailing schooner Ebenezer, laden with shingles at Muskegon for Chicago, endeavored to enter Holland Harbor, struck the south pier and went ashore just south of the lighthouse. At last account there was no prospect of getting her off although the crew is now safe. The life-saving crew from Holland harbor have also succeeded in removing all of the canvas and other valuable effects. She is pounding badly in the sea. Two days later a file copy shows that the Ebenezer was pulled off and the life savers had hauled her in between the piers for safety.

The annual tirade against horse racing at the Holland Fair is again evident from certain professional reformers. We will venture the assertion that the gate receipts will increase rather than diminish by it. Note: Yes, Editor Rogers, it was ever thus. Maybe this "professional reformer" crawled over the back fence and found room in the "standing room" somewhere along the course so he, too, could enjoy the ponies go. Enjoying a horse race has been a failing of our editor for 50 years. We only deplore the fact that we haven't a fair ground to stage more of them. Those were "happy days."

Charles Harman, local barber, killed five Mallard ducks in one shot. He endeavored to get them on display at the fair in the poultry department but the secretary, Arend Vischer, said "nay," that only live domesticated poultry received premiums and advised displaying them in a butcher shop, which Charles, the barber, did. Note: Charles Harman was the leading hunter and fisherman in Holland 50 years ago. He built the store now occupied by Buehler Bros. market on West Eighth street and conducted a barber shop there until he passed on.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO...

Judson Stapelkamp won the silver medal in the Ottawa WCTU oratorical contest. His oration subject was "Old Soapy." Others in the contest with different temperance subjects were: Marjorie McBride, Katherine Mc Bride, Vera Keppel, Roy Riksen, Ada Whitman.

Steamer Alpena in More Placid Waters

The above picture is one taken before the ill-fated steamer Alpena went down 57 years ago. The News is indebted to Mat Pellegrini, Pine Ave., one of the Holland Furnace Co. staff, for this reproduction. Mr. Pellegrini formerly lived in Grand Haven before he came to Holland several years ago to go with the local furnace company.

SEE DUTCH SOLDIERS IN DUTCH ON PAGE FOUR

On page four, this section, will be seen a large picture of a group of Dutch soldiers, men and women, who went to the Legion Convention in New York City and showed the world how they dress "Tulip Time" in Holland. The photograph was taken on 8th Ave., and has just reached the Holland City News.

Chester Van Tongeren, in an interview, states the Holland delegation marched in Dutch costume and wooden shoes all along the line of march for hours, and wooden shoes were presented to the National Commander, Mr. Colmery and staff. Governor Lehman of New York and Mayor LaGuardia of New York City all were pleased.

SUPERVISORS RAISE THEIR OWN PAY

The Supervisors of Ottawa County, under an act recently passed by the state legislature, namely, bill number 199, have raised their pay from $4.00 to $5.00 per day, and 5c per mile traveling expenses each way, and the same pay for every trip they make. Today the mileage is 10c a mile one way, charged for only one time during a session.

Supervisors formerly stayed at Grand Haven until the session was over. That was before the day of the automobile. Today Supervisors go home after sessions are over and return in the morning for the next session. Should the session last for six days there would be six trips forth and back during the session. Under the new law supervisors from Holland will draw $2.10 a trip since the distance from Holland to Grand Haven is approximately 21 miles. The Zeeland supervisors could add six miles more, or 27 miles. However, the new state law has made this possible.

FORMER HOLLAND GIRL TO WED IN MILWAUKEE

Miss Geneva Houting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Houting, formerly of Holland, now of Milwaukee, is to wed Mr. Milton Shafer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Shafer, at the Ambassador Hotel, Milwaukee, this week Saturday, October 16. Those from Holland, who are to attend the nuptials are Miss Jean Houting, Mr. and Mrs. Murvel Houting, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Houting, Lois De Koster and Harvey Zoet.

BROTHER OF HENRY MAENTZ WINNER OF GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Fighting through preliminaries, semi-finals and finals, Donald Maentz, Allegan, met and defeated some of the best golfers in this section to take the championship of the Otwellglen club by beating his final opponent Charles Ephonen in 36 holes of golf.

During the first nine Ephonen had Maentz down one hole. The second nine found Maentz recovering and with one up on Ephonen. The final 9 found Maentz going strong and Ephonen weakening.

Bob Maentz, a brother, is also an excellent golfer. "Bob," however, was defeated in this Allegan contest in the semi-finals by his brother "Don." Both the Maentz boys are well known in golfing circles in Western Michigan. They are brothers of Henry Maentz, head of the Holland State Bank of this city.

MR. AND MRS. CAPT. HARRINGTON TON CELEBRATE

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Harrington are observing their 50th wedding anniversary this month. Last week they drove to Chicago to see the house where they began their married life and to drive along the street where Mr. Harrington started business fifty years ago. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harrington.

The Holland Choral union will present its performance of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," on Dec. 14. The oratorio will be given under direction of Prof. Kenneth Osborne, head of the music department of Hope College. Four solo artists will assist in the presentation. A 30-piece symphony orchestra is being organized under direction of Eugene Heeter, musical director of Holland high school.

Mayor and Movie Queen Hold 'Spotlight'

MAYOR AND MOVIE QUEEN HOLD THE 'SPOTLIGHT'

The young lady, so wistfully smiling, with an arm bouquet, is the Lions' Movie Queen, who in the play, to be staged at the Masonic Temple next week Thursday and Friday, is Mary Brown, one of the leading figures in the cast. Her real name is Miss Carma Coster of Holland. She has in her hand a large key, just presented to her by Mayor Geerlings, presumably a key to the city.

Tunnel Park Can Now Be Extended

GEORGE F. GETZ OFFERS TWO PIECES OF PROPERTY TO
OTTAWA COUNTY; MORE THAN 800 FEET FOR $20,000

It is a well known fact that Tunnel Park is becoming one of the most popular parks in Western Michigan. Some years ago this strip of land, from the highway to Lake Michigan, with its beautiful woods, was donated by George Getz of Lakewood Farm, for which the Township of Park closed a small stretch of road leading into the Lakewood Farm estate. It was a great bargain for the Township and for Ottawa County. That was some years ago, but Tunnel Park has become so crowded with picnickers that it was long apparent that more ground was necessary to accommodate the crowds.

At times there are from 18 to 20 picnics a day and those who seek recreation there must make reservations in advance to avoid overcrowding in any one day. It is rather interesting to note that those who seek a day of pleasure at Tunnel Park come largely from the east-end of the county and from abroad—Georgetown, Vriesland, Jamestown, Allendale, Polkton, Zeeland; and several churches and societies in that radius make several annual pilgrimages to Tunnel Park. Weather permitting, there is never less than from five to ten picnics a day.

Anyway, George F. Getz, owner of this property, who has had several chances to dispose of it, has sent a communication through George Heneveld of Park Township to the Board of Supervisors, offering to sell 800 feet adjoining the north of Tunnel Park and 550 feet, approximately, adjoining the south of Tunnel Park. This land extends from the beautiful bathing beach on Lake Michigan to the west to the fine highway to the east. In fact, the same length that Tunnel Park is.

Tunnel Park itself today is approximately 200 by 1,000 feet, and if this land is acquired with this beautiful, large forest, hills and valleys, and undergrowth, together with the bathing beach, Ottawa County will have one of the finest public parks in Michigan, large enough to accommodate a vast number more than are being accommodated today.

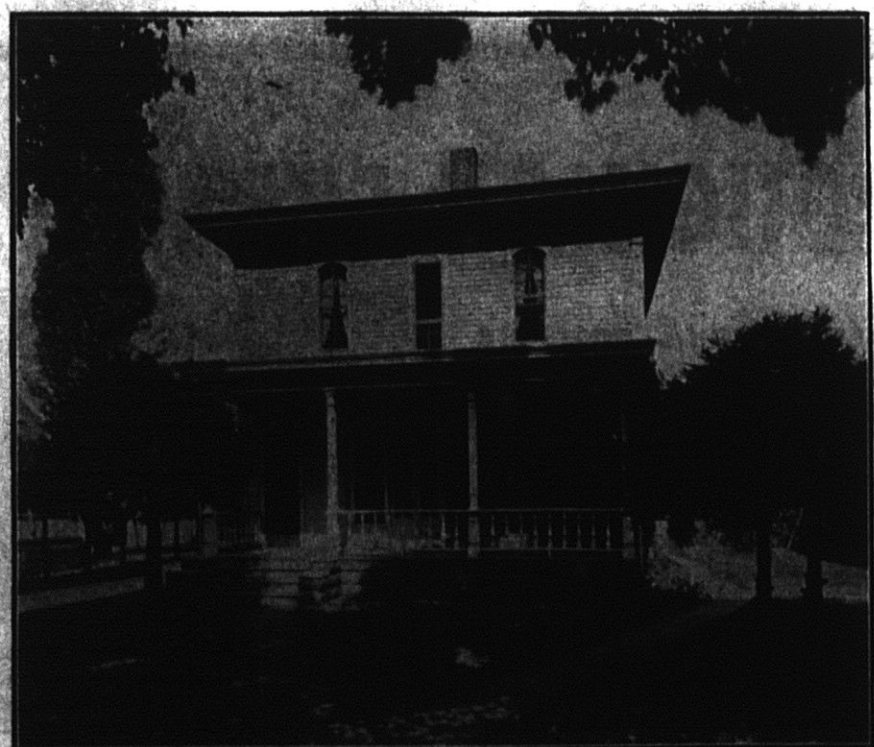

The amount Mr. Getz asks for this property of approximately 800 feet is $20,000. The time of payments will be very liberal. All Mr. Getz asks is that everything be taken care of properly in a correct legal way. There are other minor stipulations that are easy to comply with. Mr. Getz states that, "whatever financial arrangement the county desires to make I am sure I will be able to agree to it," which would indicate that the county would have plenty time to pay, and it would be no financial burden.

The News feels that this is a great opportunity. Such choice property will soon be purchased by private parties; then our Ottawa County folk can look at this beautiful, natural vista over someone else's fence, rather than enjoy it themselves as their own.

The public is entitled to such a beautiful place of recreation. Today this fine park is overcrowded during the entire summer. The added facilities of 800 feet of beautiful woods and bathing beach can well be imagined.

Anyway, the matter came up before the Board of Supervisors, and the whole proposal was left to a special committee with Mayor Henry Geerlings, Chairman. Other members of that committee are Mayor Richard Cook of Grand Haven; Mayor Gerrit Yntema of Zeeland; Charles Loving, chairman of the Board; and Henry Slaughter. This committee was suggested by Supervisor Albert Stegenra of Olive. It is a mighty good committee that is to look into the needs and feasibility of this property. Not a few citizens of lower Ottawa for the past month have been quietly working in behalf of this project. We in this vicinity know that added room is an imperative need at Tunnel Park.

The Old Vander Veen Homestead on West Ninth Street

It is altogether fitting at this time to print a picture of the old homestead of the late E. Vander Veen, father of J. A. Vander Veen, who passed away last Saturday. This is the home where the entire Vander Veen family so closely identified with the very early pioneer days until the present day, were born. Few families have left their mark of success on a community in a business way more than have the Vander Veen family.

In the very beginning it was an intense struggle for the father and the mother. The late E. Vander Veen began his career back in the late "fifties" as a humble tinsmith, and his efforts later created the leading hardware enterprise in Holland. The old gentleman, too, was alderman and mayor and was on the school board. He was a large holder of real estate. Many of the children followed in the footsteps of the father in mercantile and industrial enterprises, as well as real estate, and their collective holdings made them a potent factor as far as Holland's business life was concerned. J. A. Vander Veen being a leader among them.

Despite the affluence that came in later years, the Vander Veen family clung closely to this old homestead, built 65 years ago—they simply loved it. It has been the scene of many happy days, and a year was never complete without the usual family reunion, and seldom was there a living member of the family absent. Time brought its inroads in the family circle. The greater number of the children have passed on, and since the death of the venerable gentleman, Engertus Vander Veen, the reunions were not as frequent, which before had become an institution in the Vander Veen family.

It seemed to be very appropriate that the last rites for the late J. A. Vander Veen should be held from this home, the place of his birth, the place where he spent his boyhood days, and the home he visited almost daily for many years afterward.

Get Off the Main Road

With the leaves turning and the hill sides being transformed into banks of yellow, red and golden brown; with the wild asters, gold-rod and scarlet-painted oak shrubs blazing the roadsides and the fields; with the cornstalks all bundled, the apple trees ripe to harvest and the autumn winds blowing pollen through the air, now is the time of all the year for a quiet auto excursion through the countryside.

But if you start on one, don't make the mistake of keeping to the high roads where you have to stay with the procession, and where the smell of gasoline and the trundle of trucks block out pleasant thoughts and sensations.

Take the side roads, the obscure cross ways, and in case you are brave and don't mind coming out anywhere or nowhere, venture up the lanes.

Because there is where you find real autumn in the country, and only there.

The glimpses you get on the main lines may be charming, but they are mere moving picture flashes.

Go where you can halt and buy a basket of grapes or peaches from the farmer's wife in the front yard, or purchase permission to go into the orchard and pick your own—there are such places—or park on some hard shoulder, and amble along the road-side to gather up an autumn bouquet of the sort they used to have at the harvest home festivals along with the pumpkins, the squash, the potatoes and the corn.

Slip down by the river or the lake, deserted now by summer tourists and campers, and let the ripple of the water soothe your nerves and clear your mind of fogs.

Go over the hills and through the valleys away from the towns and the traffic.

It's no great trick even on a week-end if you are a little adventurous; and it's everlastingly worth while.

All in the Point of View

Fashion shows belong in a woman's world. But the Merchant Tailors Designers Association has been meeting in Chicago to discuss new fashions for men.

One member said that a well dressed man must have at least seven suits of evening clothes. Another said that shoulders are to be cut narrower. Emphasis is to be placed on a "chesty effect."

In Japan where the chesty effect is that of the war chest, a company of patriots is pledged to "honorable shabbiness" in dress, to cut down textile imports and release more funds for the conduct of affairs in China.

One official has even urged a "no suit" association. This presumably favors a return to Japanese dress exclusively, in place of the common practice of wearing "foreign style" clothes on the street and during business hours at least.

The average well-to-do American man considers himself well equipped for his wardrobe includes a set of "tails" and a tuxedo for evening wear, plus a business suit or two. Also, he usually clings to some garments beloved for their "honorable shabbiness," which he will wear around the house every time he gets the chance, provided his frau doesn't play him a scurvy trick by giving them away.

CHARGED WITH TAKING

Charles Lewis of Fennville was sentenced to 15 days in jail and fine and costs of $14.50 by Justice William Foster. Allegan. He was charged with taking an automobile clock from the Ford garage. Several Mexicans working on the railroad were arrested on charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct Tuesday night and were taken to the jail at Saugatuck. Justice Newman sentenced them to pay a fine and costs.

SCHOOL PATRONS ON COLOR TOUR

On Saturday afternoon several of the parents at Zealand who have pupils attending Holland Christian high school enjoyed a color tour. They left North Street Church at 1:00 o'clock, going in the Reo bus. The points of interest along the way were Stearns Bayou, Muskegon State Park, Pioneer Park, and Whitehall. The return trip was by way of Fruitport, Nunica, Eastmanville, Leont, Allendale on M-50 and back to Zealand.

NEW CASE OF POLIO IN THIS COUNTY REPORTED

A new case of poliomyelitis in Ottawa county has been reported to the Ottawa county health unit. Lillian, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Van Til of Coopersville, was taken to Butterworth hospital, Grand Rapids, yesterday and the case was diagnosed. Dr. Ralph Ten Have, head of the health unit, was present when the diagnosis was made.

There have been four cases of poliomyelitis in the county this fall; one in Zealand city; one in Holland township; one in Crockett township and now one in Polk township. There have been no deaths. Mr. Van Til is manager of a store in Coopersville.

TAKE SAFETY STEP AT HOLLAND AIRPORT

Sheldon Steers of the state department of aeronautics Monday conferred with officials of the board of public works of Holland and the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in regard to making the southeast approach to the Park township airport, three miles west of Holland, safer for landing of planes.

It was decided to remove two poles on the southeast side of the field. The board of public works will run electric lines along the shortcut road about 400 feet from the port. This shortcut will bring the wires under the trees. The power and telephone lines will use the same poles and proceed from the Waukazoo corner to the airport.

OLD PIONEER WOMAN DIES AT AGE OF 94 YEARS

Funeral services for Mrs. Adrianna Vander Hill, who was 94 last Feb. 1st, were held last Monday at 2:30 p.m. at the home, 234 West 10th St., with the Rev. L. Veltkamp of Central Avenue Christian Reformed Church officiating.

Mrs. Vander Hill, one of Holland's oldest residents, came to the United States about 70 years ago. Eight children survive: Gerrit, Arie, Henry, James, John, Miss Esther Vander Hill, Mrs. Herman Van Faassen, and Mrs. John Overbeek, all of Holland; a sister, Miss Alice De Fel, 84, who lived with Mrs. Vander Hill until the latter's death, and Teunis De Fel, 90, of Laketon. Twenty grandchildren and 27 great grandchildren survive.

Mrs. Vander Hill had been sickly for some time previous to her death on Thursday. She was born in Noord Brabant, The Netherlands. A charter member of Central Avenue Christian Reformed Church, she remembered the time when branches were used to sweep the floors, since there were no brooms in Holland at that early time. Burial took place in Fairlawn Cemetery.

Jobs Representatives to Aid Employers; Holland Man in Charge

Frank A. Picard, chairman of the state job insurance commission, today announced the assignment to Holland of Mr. Henry Steffens, a commission field representative, to assist employers in the vicinity in complying with requirements of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act. Picard said that Mr. Steffens, who will be located in the Chamber of Commerce, will be available to employers on Monday and Friday. He comes to Holland direct from Detroit where he participated in a three-day training course designed to assist commission representatives in explaining to employers recent amendments in the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act.

Office space in the Chamber of Commerce was furnished Mr. Steffens and the commission through the courtesy of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Steffens will remain here for at least three weeks. The course Mr. Steffens attended was given by various department executives of the commission and was attended by between 35 and 40 other field representatives and district supervisors. It was intended to acquaint the men with various provisions in the act and changes made by the state legislature last July. Knowledge obtained from the course will be used to advantage in 36 Michigan cities in assisting employers.

Mr. Steffens will be available to assist all employers in determining whether or not they are liable for contributions under the act and in filling out forms required by the commission. These forms, Picard said, are a "Report to Determine Liability," due October 15, and the contribution report, due October 31 with a two per cent contribution on all wages paid during the first nine months of 1937. Mr. Steffens is the son of George Steffens of Steffens Bros., Holland.

ALLEGAN O. E. S. CONVENTION OCT. 20

The Allegan county O. E. S. convention will be held at the Saugatuck Masonic hall Wednesday afternoon and evening, Oct. 20. The Saugatuck chapter, according to Mrs. A. B. Davis, worthy matron, is planning an interesting program. In the afternoon Mrs. Billie Taggart of Burlington, Wis. will give dramatic readings. Music will be furnished by the Harmony Trio. Mrs. Herbert Miller and Mrs. L. H. Waugh will stage a "star drill" with 10 girls. Dinner will be served at the Green Parrot and Crow cafes. AMERICAN LEGION

Find in this issue a large picture of a group of Dutch soldiers who made a hit at the National Legion Convention in New York City. The picture was taken on 5th Ave. You will recognize every member of that Holland group.

The committee that will arrange the program and lunches for the balance of the year will be named and notified within the next week. Watch for your appointment and begin looking for some entertainment.

Comrade Louis Dalman was admitted to the hospital Wednesday night for an operation. We extend our best wishes for a prompt recovery.

There will be a meeting of the Fifth District next Thursday evening, October 21st, at the Club Rooms of Daniel Waters Cassard Post just south of Grand Rapids. This is "not" a joint meeting with the Auxiliary so we'd better get over there and see why not.

Plans for the Ex-Servicemen's banquet on Armistice Day are about complete, at least we know it will be held in the Warm Friend tavern on November 11th. The menu, speaker and price will be announced later. Anyway, pass the word around that this is for Ex-Servicemen and their ladies.

Comrades Van Tongeren, Westra and Miller told us a few of the high-lights of the New York Convention. From their stories and from news items we cannot help know of the crowds that attended and the fun they had.

Remember, keep next Thursday night open and we'll see you at the Fifth District meeting.

Lillian Borchers was elected president of the Henry Walters post, V.F.W. auxiliary, at the annual election meeting held in the city hall last Thursday night. SCHOOL PUPILS CAN READ 10 COMMANDMENTS—DISAPPROVE NIGHT FOOTBALL

Last Monday night a regular meeting of the board of education was held at Holland high school. All members of the board were present, and a great deal of business was transacted.

The primary matter before the board involved the playing of night football by the Holland high team. Friday night games by Hope college, it was maintained by Trustee A. E. Lampen, are necessary, since Hope has classes on Friday afternoon, and since Holland high uses Riverview Stadium on Saturday afternoons.

As far as financial ends go, Trustee Lampen added that it was more profitable for Hope to play night games, since much larger crowds are attracted to night performances. It was felt by board members that there was too much risk involved in transporting players after dark from one city to another.

Although board members voiced their being in favor of night games, the board recorded itself as not approving night football games for the local high school team.

It was suggested by Trustee William Arendshorst that Hope college supply each member of the local board with a season courtesy ticket for Hope college games, since the board has invested considerable time and money in the improvement of Riverview Park.

Twenty large placards containing the Ten Commandments have been placed in all the schools throughout the city, it was reported by Trustee John Orlert. Purchase was made from the Women's Christian Temperance Union. The committee on schools, upon motion of Trustee Arendshorst, was requested to look into the matter of procuring frames for the placards.

Mayor Henry Geerlings' report on the recommendation of the Ways and Means committee for the sale of $12,000 worth of school bonds in Paris township was approved. The bonds are at present board property.

Upon motion of Trustee C. J. De Koster, $36,746.01 was allowed in accounts and claims. The motion was seconded by Trustee A. E. Van Lente. Two hundred dollars was appropriated by the board for work to be carried on in 1937-38 on the school's forestry project. Trustee Lampen made the motion, and Trustee Martha D. Kollen seconded it.

Supt. E. E. Fell reported the results of the Holland high home economics department's tomato canning project. Thirty bushels of tomatoes were used, totaling 200 quarts of the finished product and 320 quarts of juice. The tomatoes are used by the crippled children of Washington School, as well as by the oral and deaf departments at this school.

Recommendations were at this point extended by Trustee Kollen to Supt. Fell, Principal J. J. Riemersma, and Mayor Geerlings for the type of speakers obtained for recent high school conventions. The committee on grounds and buildings was assigned the task of looking into the matter of installing a light at the west end of the high school building. Trustee Van Lente reported that the matter of the school board providing physical examinations for athletic candidates had come up, in view of the fact that some families found it financially difficult to pay for these examinations.

"MOVIE QUEEN" PARADE HELD TUESDAY; LIONS BENEFIT PERFORMANCE INTERESTS COMMUNITY

On Tuesday afternoon the identity of the mysterious movie queen was revealed to the community, who heretofore had been kept in the dark as to who the young lady might be. It was promised, however, that she would be as beautiful and lovely as any Hollywood queen and the spectators apparently were not disappointed.

The queen was to arrive from the direction of the airport, supposedly from Hollywood at 3:30 p. m. Mayor Henry Geerlings was waiting on the corner of 8th St. and College Ave., with an armload of flowers and the usual key to the city. The queen was about 10 minutes late, but that is a privilege which belongs to queens. Finally a decorated car came speeding down 8th St. with horn wide open, parked where the Mayor stood, and Burt Post proudly presented Miss Carme Coster, Holland's movie queen.

James Boter, who plays the part of Jimmy Cain, Hollywood's press agent, and Robert Evans, the great movie producer of Goldstein, Goldstein & Goldstein, Inc., were also present. Miss Coster was then given her flowers and the key to the city, while cameras clicked. Many movies and stills were taken of the celebration.

Then Mayor Henry Geerlings escorted her highness, the queen, and other members of the cast to an open, decorated car, and they went to join the parade, which was already starting down 8th St. The parade was led by the Holland High School band. Following in line were the Queen's car, the chorus girls on a float, decorated cars representing the welcoming committee of the Lions Club, and commercial entries from the business houses. A movie camera parked on a large truck at the corner of 8th St. and River Ave., clicked off the whole parade.

James Boter Leading Man; Robert Evans Stars in Comedy

Practically the entire cast for "Movie Queen," the benefit performance sponsored by the Holland Lions Club has been announced. James Boter is well cast as a fast talking, high pressure publicity man. Robert Evans is expected to all but steal the show as Mr. Goldstein, the Jewish movie producer of Goldstein, Goldstein & Goldstein, Inc. He is supported by his "yes-men," Frank Brieve, Earnest Post, Raymond Smith and Russell Barnard, who add considerably to the comedy of situations. The two characters, through great misunderstanding and uncontrollable circumstances, skyrocket plain, little Mary Brown (Miss Carme Coster of Holland) to unprecedented fame and earn for her the title of movie queen.

Another leading comedy role is that of Ma Brown, taken by Mrs. Earnest C. Brooks. Ma Brown, familiarly called this in her home town, Holland, is the mother of the movie queen. Through her unexpected arrival in Hollywood many amusing scenes arise and she finds her name changed to that of Madame Ma Brownski, a glamorous Russian writer. Mr. Flowers is a Parisienne dress designer in the cast. This lisping, fawning, debonnaire Frenchman is in reality Lemuel Harris, who never saw Paris, but really can act a typical par, a la French.

The part of Marlene Starbo is very well done by Miss Corinne Walker. She is more temperamental than her namesake, Marlene Dietrich, and more glamorous than a Garbo. Her effected voice and Swedish accent are bound to get applause from her audience. Other members of the cast are: Director Von Von Heim, Bruce Graham; Kenyon, Neal Wiersma; Barrymore Cohen, Phillip Vicari; Abe, Harry Wieskamp; Dave, Marvin Lamberts; Hotel manager, John Kelly; Chief Creditor, Vernon Klomparsen; other creditors, Burt Post, Delbert Vaupell and Everett Spaulding; Clancy the Cop, Dr. Jas. Cook.

Chorus Dancing Featured in "Movie Queen"

Large and flashy dancing choruses will be another feature of "Movie Queen." The routines include a military tap, fast tap and a soft-shoe. Flash, color, pep are characteristics of the dancers. The military will be the most difficult and unusual routine ever offered girls on a local stage, using sixteen of all the dancers in the local girls. They are being taught professional routines. Included in the choruses are: Hilda Anderson, Amy Haight, Pearl Baldus, Laughvan Victor, Betty Leenhouts, June Ahler, Lorraine Victor, Dorothy Curtis, Helen Mary Stroop, Sylvia Corrie, Kay De Jongh, Wilma-Kling, Rose Burrows, Anna Botsis, and Selma Cherven. In addition to the dancing choruses there will be singing choruses and specialty dances. The Lions Club Quartet will also sing.

Moving Pictures Being Taken in Holland

The fourth act of the musical comedy, "Movie Queen," is being filmed here in Holland. The movie features the movie queen's vacation in her town. Movies of the parade, children, newsreel shots of all Holland and "Gangster" pictures will be taken. During this entire week the movie camera will be on the streets filming scenes to be used in "Movie Queen."

The public will have an opportunity to see how a real movie is made. Saturday at one o'clock a carload of "gangsters" will come to town, hired by the jealous Slarbo, to kidnap the movie queen. The queen will really be kidnapped and subsequently rescued by her hero, Jimmy Cain, James Boter to you. The daring rescue will be made on a bicycle. Mr. Boter will be assisted by the Holland police force. The identity of the "gangsters" will finally be revealed and they will turn out to be some of Holland's leading business men.

Lions Club Hopes to Make $500 for the Blind of Holland

As everyone knows, the main work and purpose of the Lions Club is to raise money for and to support the blind of the community. The Holland Lions Club has been particularly active in this field in Holland. Their activity at the present time is sponsorship of "The Movie Queen," a stage and screen show, a musical comedy with variety, pep and color.

"The Movie Queen" will be presented on Thursday and Friday, October 21 and 22 in the Masonic Temple at 8:15 p. m. A matinee performance will be given Thursday afternoon at 3:45, when each child will be given a free ice cream cone. Russell Rutgers is in charge of tickets. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Lions Club and reserved at Post Jewelers. They are reasonably priced, and the house is expected to be sold out early.

SHERIFF OBJECTS TO STATEMENT THAT JAIL IS NOT SAFE

Sheriff Frank Van Etta takes exception to a statement in a Grand Rapids paper that the reason Ray Stevenson, held by federal authorities in Grand Rapids, was not taken to the Ottawa county jail is customary with federal prisoners, was that it was believed he would be safer in the Kent county jail under care of Sheriff Hugh Blacklock. Sheriff Van Etta says the federal men told him that Stevenson was remaining in Grand Rapids for convenience and questioning. The officers are constantly questioning him and it would mean many trips here and in some cases several trips from here to Grand Rapids for the prisoner. Every time the federal officers transport a prisoner by automobile, three cars and several men are used. The sheriff says the Ottawa county jail which annually holds many federal prisoners awaiting trial, is considered safe by all authorities.

THOUSANDS TO BE COLLECTED FOR FIVE HOLLAND GROUPS IN WELFARE DRIVE

Five groups, it was disclosed Wednesday, are to benefit from the Community Chest Campaign, which will be carried on Nov. 1 to 5 inclusive. The total $14,000 was budgeted among the various benefiting organizations as follows: Salvation Army, $3,900; Red Cross, $3,000; Boy Scouts, $3,000; Civic Health Committee, $1,000; Administration Expense, $1,000; Camp Fire Girls, $750, and Contingent Emergency Fund, $750.

Since no elections have been held for several years, the present board members will resign Nov. 8, at which time all donors to the cause will be granted an opportunity to vote for a new board.

Dr. A. Leenhouts is at present chairman of the board, and C. Vander Meulen is secretary. Significant portions of their statements follow:

"No election of board members has been held for several years, since it was believed that a plan for solicitation was inadvisable during the depression years." The estimates of the various organizations benefiting have been carefully considered. Work contemplated and past expenditures were taken into consideration. "Two other projects were submitted to the board. Allowance for these projects was not made, at least not temporarily."

"It was determined, for this reason, that the campaign for this year be limited to the organizations named above, together with the formation of a contingent fund for causes of obvious justification."

BETTER HARBOR TO BE TOPIC AT MEET TONIGHT

Local officials and representatives of interested groups for the improvement and maintenance of Holland harbor will discuss plans for this purpose at a meeting to-night in the Warm Friend tavern. Col. W. H. Holcomb, of the U. S. War Department, with headquarters in Milwaukee, will be a guest. Scheduled to attend the conference are officials of the city, harbor board, Chamber of Commerce, Holland Fish and Game club and a representative from a group of property owners and manufacturers. Invitations have been extended to Senator A. H. Vandenberg and Congressman Carl E. Mape. For the past four years there has been a substantial increase in tonnage of Holland harbor. Freighters up to 600 ft. have used the harbor for the past two years which was originally designed for vessels of 250 to 300 feet in length and comparable draft. Federal funds are now available for needed extensions. The next step will be to secure recommendations for an additional protective breakwater to permit safe harbor entrance of these longer vessels in times of storm.

Specifications are being prepared for a $125,000 project for enlarging the channel and turning basin next season.

Mrs. J. Vanden Elst, Mrs. G. G. Groenewoud, and Mrs. H. Van Dyke presented a playlet entitled "Worship, Service and Christ in Arabia," at a meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society of Fourth Reformed church Wednesday afternoon. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. B. Olgers and Mrs. Van Dyke. Readings were given by Mrs. C. Kammeraad and Mrs. G. Visscher. Refreshments were served during the social hour by Mrs. Kammeraad, Mrs. J. Elenbaas and Mrs. Visscher.

The Dutch Soldiers in the American Legion Parade in New York City

The above picture has just reached the Holland City News from New York City, taken shortly before the tremendous parade, which took eighteen hours to pass a given point. This is surely a "chipper" lot of Hollanders, and we will vouch they didn't look as spry after the eighteen hours of marching. The picture was taken on 6th Avenue, and the background was a camouflaged box car, one of the spectacular features in the parade. The drummers alongside are no part of the Holland aggregation. They are simply curious onlookers. "Heinie" Geerds, the first on the left, hasn't been wounded in the head—only a piece of paper came fluttering down from the skyscrapers, cutting off his sight temporarily. It is said that tons of paper came fluttering down from the giant buildings on the marchers who passed through those city canyons.

The demure maiden just left of "Heinie" is Mrs. Al Joldersma—but we are wondering where Al is. "Mrs." doesn't seem to be much worried. Possibly he is locked up in the box car.

Then you have Dr. William Westrate, with a face as round as a large red apple, and a smile that won't come off. Doc's "better half" is the wistful Mrs. Westrate, who is intent on watching something just across the way.

The apex of the little group, with yoke and flower baskets and peaked "Mutsen" is Mrs. Chester Van Tongeren. You would think she had just stepped off the steamer Rotterdam from Volendam.

Mrs. "Heinie" Geerds surely looks animated and happy. "Chet" Van Tongeren, with his long Dutch pipe, is telling her the story that "all white burly, Kentucky Club tobacco makes that pipe of his taste twice as good."

The lady with the queenly bearing and the full regalia is Mrs.

Charles Miller. With her arms akimbo, she must be telling somebody something. Maybe Mr. Miller, the last man in the group, isn't the same brand of tobacco his pal, "Chet", is smoking and therefore, the handsome disdane.

Anyway, here you have a Holland, Michigan group, who attracted a great deal of attention in that New York line of march—and why wouldn't they? All the same, our Holland Tulip Festival again received some tremendous publicity via the American Legion Convention, held in the metropolis of the nation.

County Solons Hold Important Oct. Sessions

Supervisors Make Soil Conservation Trip

The board of supervisors of Ottawa County convened Tuesday morning for the October session in which the annual budget is adopted, appropriations are made and salaries are fixed.

One of the important matters to come before the board is county welfare and the methods to be used in regard to disbursement of funds. Mayor Richard L. Cook has taken an active part in the Michigan Municipal league and at state meetings where the problem of welfare has been considered. He has maintained that welfare could be better handled through individual counties than by the state at large.

Miss Deborah Veneklasen, county director of welfare, will make a report some time during the week. Unofficially she stated yesterday that the welfare rolls had been largely increased during the past few weeks with some 200 now on relief.

William Stribley, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and a director of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association, requested an appropriation of $600 per year, which is $100 more than was referred to the finance committee. Mr. Stribley briefly drew attention to the splendid resort season of the present year and noted the tremendous increase of this business which has been brought to western Michigan in the last few years, due to a great extent, to the efforts of the association in advertising the beauties and desirability of western Michigan as a summer playground.

Request for Fair

He stressed that Michigan's second industry is the tourist and resort business which brings millions of dollars into the state, which eventually shifts into many hands during the year.

A delegation from the Berlin Fair association requested $500, an increase of $200 over the last year. The matter was referred to the agricultural committee.

Jay Cowing, vice inspector of Ottawa County, requested the usual $150 which was referred to the budget and finance committee.

John Ter Avest of Coopersville moved that the first order of business on Thursday be the annual report of the Ottawa county road commission.

The Board of Supervisors as a body made a tour of the county yesterday visiting where conservation projects were being perfected. The group was accompanied by E. C. Sackrider, state coordinator of the soil conservation service in Lansing, who addressed the board on establishment of a soil conservation district in the county wherein there might be a possibility of securing a CCC camp in this county or WPA grants might be obtained for soil conservation work.

The annual report showed that 30 or 40 acres in beach grass have been planted to halt sandblows and 1,000,000 trees are being propagated for future planting. The county this year received a WPA grant of $2,278 for labor and $1,500 was appropriated by the board for purchase of grounds.

Arnold Reports

Verbal reports were given by Leo R. Arnold, County agricultural agent and Mrs. Grace Vander Kolk, home demonstration agent, on the work of these departments through the past year.

Soil conservation, said Mr. Arnold, will be one of the principal projects for the coming year. Erosion among the farms is increasing annually, he stated, with last year one of the worst on record in this county. Education along these lines is the method employed to teach the farmer how to prevent his valuable top soil from being washed away.

Mr. Sackrider stated that experiments at St. Joseph last year showed that at St. Joseph harbor 23,000 tons of soil in every 24 hours was floated past that point. He presumed that a similar rate could be found in Grand river and at Holland.

Hunter Hering, Crockery township, requested a report on the expenditure of $300 annually to the Marne fair and $200 to the Hudsonville fair, which he said was designated solely for premium purposes. Henry Slaughter said he believed the board should encourage county fairs by donating money for premiums but that gambling should be discouraged.

Members of the boards associated with the fairs defended the fairs stating that it was their objective to conduct clean fairs with a minimum of gambling. Maynard Mohr stated he would bring in a report within a few days as to how the Ottawa county funds had been spent.

Suggestion was made by attorney Charles E. Misner of Grand Haven that Judge Miles' salary be increased $1,000 to be paid by the county. The matter was referred to the budget committee. It is reported that very few changes in salaries will be recommended and only a few changes are suggested for employees in the lower brackets. Judge Miles now draws $6,000 and is paid by the state. Mr. Misner pointed out that the Allegan-Ottawa circuit is the fifth in the state in number of cases tried per year.

FATHER OF HOLLAND WOMAN DIES AT ZEELAND

Death on Wednesday morning, at four-thirty o'clock claimed the aged citizen, John J. Wabeke, at his home, one mile southeast of Zeeland, after he had attained the age of seventy-nine years, six months and twenty-four days.

Mr. Wabeke, who had always enjoyed exceptionally good health, had been ill about six weeks prior to his death.

He was a lifelong resident of this community, and died in the same homestead where he was born, one of the pioneer children, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gillis Wabeke, who purchased the homestead upon their arrival in America in 1849. Upon the death of his parents the old home passed to his ownership, and now recently the place passed into the ownership of his son, Howard Wabeke, with whom he made his home.

He was born March 19, 1858, nine years after the arrival of his parents in the colonial settlement. In 1882 he was united in marriage with Rika Boone, daughter of the late H. J. Boone of Zeeland with whom he happily lived about ten years when death claimed her. He again entered matrimony with Miss Grace Hartger on October 21, 1896, who survives him.

Besides his widow he leaves the following children: Mrs. Dick Langhejans, Plainwell; Mrs. Gilbert Van De Water, Holland; Mrs. Guy Roys, Allegan; Henry Wabeke, Vriesland; Charles Wabeke, Hudsonville; and Howard and Miss Julia Wabeke at the parental home. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Ada Van Zwabenberg of Riverside, California, wife of the late Dr. Van Zwabenberg, formerly of Holland; 15 grandchildren, and 7 great grandchildren.

The funeral services will be held at the home on Saturday at two o'clock, when relatives, and friends and neighbors are invited to attend. Rev. William Kok, pastor of First Christian Reformed Church of Zeeland will officiate. Burial will take place in Zeeland Cemetery. The remains may be viewed at the home on Friday afternoon and evening. Pallbearers will be grandsons, namely, Justin, Gordon, Merton, Marvin and Elvin Wabeke, and Gerald Langhejans.

of this community. Those in less fortunate circumstances were given aid from time to time and were well remembered during the Yuletide season. It was at this time when J. A. Vander Veen not only contributed liberally, but also gave of his time to organize and perfect a campaign that lasted for days, but never failed ultimately to bring the desired and happy results.

He also did a great deal in behalf of the old City Mission in the days when Miss Nellie Churchford was still living, and afterward. He helped in the campaigns that aided materially in keeping the Mission going for a score of years at least. During all this time the Mission has been a potent factor, religiously and spiritually, among a certain class of people, who feel at home in a Mission with those environments. This Mission also aids many little ones, who receive their early Sunday School training there, as was evident last week during the Sunday School convention.

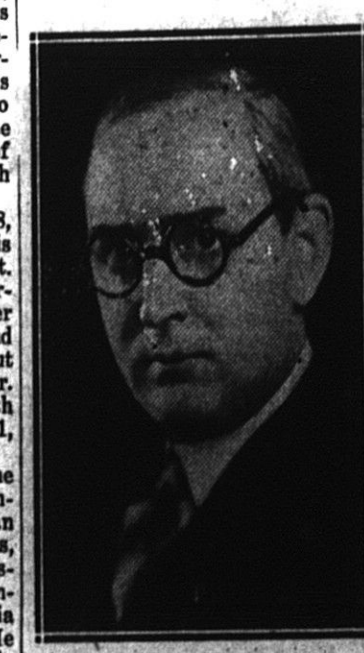

Mr. Vander Veen was always very thoughtful of his family. Their beautiful home on Lake Shore drive on Lake Macatawa was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Vander Veen during most of the year, the fall and winter months being spent in their apartments in Warm Friend Tavern.

Mr. Vander Veen was married to Miss M. C. Frances Van Leuwen, who came from a highly respected and prominent pioneer family of Grand Rapids. The marriage took place on October 30, 1896.

The survivors are the widow and one daughter, Mrs. Theodore O. Yntema, and two grandchildren, Elizabeth and John Arend Yntema of Chicago; and two sisters, Mrs. Anna G. Van Zanten and Miss Cornelia Vander Veen, both of Holland; two nephews, David and Stewart Boyd, Mrs. Albert Van Zoeren, wife of the former alderman, is a niece.

ZEELAND GAILY DECORATED FOR HOMECOMING

The streets of Zeeland especially the business section on Main St., have been attractively decorated with colored lights and flags for the big homecoming which will end Friday night. The celebration opened with a parade Wednesday afternoon. No effort was spared in planning the reception for old timers. A cordial invitation was extended to all friends and former residents to return to the city where they once made their homes.

Besides the concession booths, which lined both sides of Main St., the ferris wheel and merry-go-round, there were special attractions including exhibitions by the Zeeland Fire Department.

Dornbos Returns from
Study Trip to West
Coast and Alaska

Henry J. Dornbos, president of H. J. Dornbos Bros. fish industry of Grand Haven, a firm he has been connected with 48 years, has returned from an interesting trip. In company with Mrs. Dornbos, he visited the big fishing, lumbering and mining regions of Alaska and Washington with side trips in British Columbia and to Yellowstone Park.

Mr. Dornbos mixed business with pleasure, making a thorough study of the Alaskan fishing and canning industry and while there bought quantities of salmon and halibut to sell in Ottawa county. Two carloads are on the way at this time. The Grand Haven firm plans to smoke most of the salmon.

The trip was made by rail to Seattle with a stop at Yellowstone National Park. From Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Dornbos took the inside passage by boat through Ketchikan to Juneau and Skagway, arriving in time for the big salmon runs and canning season. Mr. Dornbos reports 40 million dollars worth of fish were taken from the waters around Juneau in three months and in the same period, ore deposits in Alaska yielded 65 million dollars worth of metal.

Mr. and Mrs. Dornbos returned by the last boat from Alaska, stopping at Vancouver and then coming on to Portland for the Columbia river salmon run. They went by rail through British Columbia, then to Lake Manitoba and Lake Winnipeg, arriving at Grand Haven via Minneapolis.

Triplets Born
To Grand Haven
Couple MondayBOTH MOTHER AND BABIES
ARE DOING WELL-HOSPITAL
AUTHORITIES REPORT

Grand Haven Tribune

Triplet boys were born at Hattson hospital Monday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Wildrom, of Grand Haven, which are believed to be the only living triplets in that city.

The babies are in splendid health, large, well-formed, each with a head of heavy black hair. The color of their eyes cannot be determined as yet. As they are identical triplets they will probably look alike and have many similar characteristics.

Both the mother and the babies are doing very well and Mr. Wildrom is receiving congratulations from all corners of the city, especially among his fellow employees at the Eagle-Ottawa Leather Co. where he has been employed as a timekeeper for several years.

The total weight of the three boys at birth was 18 pounds and one quarter ounce. The first boy was born at 2:18 a.m. and weighed

JERRY, JULIAN, JOEL
ARE TRIPLETS' NAMES

The Wildrom triplets, born at Hattson hospital, Grand Haven, were named today by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Wildrom. They are Jerry A. Wildrom, Julian B. Wildrom and Joel C. Wildrom, in the order of their birth.

The A. B. C. initials were used to preserve the manner in which nurse designated the triplets as they were born about two hours apart.

The mother and the children are in fine condition and are expected to remain in the hospital the usual time.

Five pounds and one quarter ounce; the second at 4:48 a. m. and weighed six pounds and three ounces and the third at 6:21 a. m. and weighed six pounds and 13 ounces. Mr. and Mrs. Wildrom have two daughters, one born in December, 1931, and the other in January, 1933. Mr. Wildrom thought it would be appropriate if this time he could have a baby son and told the doctor as much. "Doc" promised he would do all he could "to oblige."

Finally came the breath-taking word from Mr. Wildrom's physician: "Your wish has been granted—thrice," he said.

No names had been selected for the babies up to noon today. The parents were warned by the physician that they might have twins but nobody dreamed of triplets.

As far as could be learned this morning these are the first triplets to be born in Grand Haven in 18 years, when triplets were born to Mr. and Mrs. James Daane on Washington street. Margaret Daane survived her two brothers, one who died at birth, the other living but a few weeks.

Indications are that the Wildrom triplets will become robust and beautiful children.

Excitement prevailed at the hospital during the early hours of the morning and since then many inquiries as to the health of the newborn have been received as the news spread of the babies' arrival.

Dr. W. B. Bloemendaal is the "Dr. Dafoe" in this instance.

M. E. "Spider-Fly" Float

The Methodist Church float was the only one missing out of sixteen others appearing in the Tuesday parade. The camera jammed just as this float was going by. The Holland City News then stated that if anyone had a photograph of this float, that this picture would be published in the next issue. We wish to thank Philip Harrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harrington, for bringing up this picture. He stated that he had read of the request, and made it possible for this reproduction.

There are others who came with a float, for which we are thankful, but, of course, one is sufficient to make the cut.

The float, as you will notice, shows a large spider, which has spun its web in a clump of trees. The web is well defined and the spider in the center of the web represents a bottle of rum, from which spider legs protrude. The theme was from the well known poem, "Come into my Parlor, said the Spider." The reference, however, applies to mankind rather than the thoughtless fly.

By Truck Near Here

R. J. Reedy, 57, of Grand Rapids, received serious injuries, Friday, about 5:15 p.m., when he was struck by a truck loaded with gravel, in the driveway of a gasoline filling station on M-21, one-half mile east of Holland. Mr. Reedy, an employee of a pump company, was stooping down to work on some equipment, when the truck struck him as it was being driven from the station. The truck was being driven by Raymond Gordin, of Douglas, who was engaged in hauling gravel for road improvements at Saugatuck. The filling station where the accident occurred is owned by George Morey and operated by Henry Woodruff. Reedy was reported to have been crushed between the truck and the gasoline pumps.

TEACHER FROM INJURY

Miss Constantine Hillman, daughter of F. H. Hillman of Crocker township, who is a teacher in the Nunica public school, probably missed serious accident or death of her car to the back of the car as it rolled down a 12-foot embankment on a road one mile east of Nunica.

The front of the car was demolished as it landed against a tree with the top side down and the young woman emerged from it with little or no injuries save bruises and scratches.

The accident was caused when Miss Hillman, driving from Nunica to her home, came directly upon a wagon, filled with corn stalks, driven by Clifford Palen. To avoid hitting it she went off the road in an attempt to pass and got over so far the car rolled down the embankment.

Charles Salisbury, undersheriff, investigated the accident. He reported that Miss Hillman stated there was no light on the wagon and as it was very dark she did not see it until almost upon the horses as it was being driven in the opposite direction from which she was driving.

Fennville Gasoline Station Held Up

A holdup took place at the filling station operated by Tom Helbach on M-89, at the turn of the road south of Fennville, near Pearl.

Lon Fraley, who was helping at the station, was alone about 10:30 p.m.

Believing he had heard a car stop, Fraley opened the door and found himself looking into the muzzle of a pistol pointed straight at him by a tall masked man, who told him to "Stick 'em up," and pushed Fraley back, forcing him behind the showcase. The robber then opened the cash register, which, however, was empty, except for some pennies, Mr. Helbach having taken the day's receipts home with him. The robber then went through Fraley's pockets but got nothing there either. He then left, getting into a car and driving toward Allegan.

As he was leaving Fraley turned on the lights and saw the car was a 1934 model two-door Ford V-8. There were no license plates on the car, Fraley says.

The man, according to the description given by Fraley, was very tall, about six feet three inches, and had the upper part of his face covered with a black cloth. He wore a cap with visor pulled low over his face.

The old building, originally erected as a warehouse for the proposed Michigan Central Terminal on the north side of the harbor, was purchased years ago by Mr. Robbins and floated to its present location which Mr. Robbins purchased from the T. W. Kirby estate in 1907.

G. H. TRUCKER REPORTS
THEFT OF $60 FROM OFFICE CASH DRAWER

William Bronsema, operator of a trucking business here, reported to Grand Haven police that about $60 was taken from his office cash drawer Saturday between 8 and 10:30 p.m. The drawer was jammed open with a hacksaw blade, Chief Lawrence De Witt said. A former employee of Mr. Bronsema was questioned by the officers but maintained he knew nothing of the loss.

Entrance was made through a basement window, Chief Lawrence De Witt reported today that no fingerprints or other marks were obtained to assist in the search of the robber.

Search is being made for two hit-and-run drivers who damaged cars on Saturday, as they were parked on Franklin and Washington streets, and then failed to notify the owners of the cars or the police.

Assistant football coach Rex Chapman and members of the Holland high school reserve football team witnessed a fatal automobile accident about 5:30 p.m. Saturday on US-131, north of Kalamazoo. They were enroute home from Kalamazoo where they had played in a morning game. Roy Fulton, 18, of Kalamazoo was the victim of the accident. His death occurred shortly after being admitted to Bronson hospital in Kalamazoo. James Billingham, Robert Parker and Ben Boettger, Fulton's companions, suffered serious injuries. All were confined in Bronson hospital. The group had attended the Kalamazoo-Holland football game and had gone for a ride. Investigating officers said Fulton was trying to pass another car when the accident occurred on a curve on the highway. The automobile skidded into a ditch, after it had crashed into a culvert, and overturned several times. The night of the accident, by the Holland squad, caused quietness to prevail during the remainder of the trip.

The 10 per cent cut in the state budget, as applied to primary supplement and equalization money, will deprive the Grand Haven schools of $6,402.20 according to Superintendent E. H. Babcock. Mr. Babcock said the loss in possible revenue and been anticipated in making up the budget and the budget would not be out of balance even with expenditures going ahead as planned. The local income was to have been $64,021.98.

24 WINDOWS ARE BROKEN
IN GRAND HAVEN SCHOOL

About 24 windows at Perry school, Grand Haven, were destroyed some time Friday between 5 p.m. and dark, believed to have been done by children with airguns.

Damages reported this morning by E. H. Babcock, superintendent, was between $75 and $100. The cost of the glass is nominal but the labor costs are high.

Chief Lawrence DeWitt of the police department said an attempt was being made to trace the acts to children known to have these small guns. A city ordinance provides that children may not shoot airguns within the city limits.

Christian Speech and Conduct
James 3.
Henry Geerlings

Another brother of our Lord writes a letter. His name was James. He did not hesitate to call himself the brother of Jesus. The constant struggle between the followers of Jesus and the Jews caused many anxious moments. The failures of believers to practice the principles of the gospel in daily life disturbed James. His viewpoint was that of a practical man. He wanted the life of Christians to count for the spreading of the gospel and the strengthening of the church. His letter does not present a plan of salvation from sin. It does not emphasize faith in Christ to be saved. He wrote a manual to guide Christians in daily life. It must be that he had ample provocation for writing as he did. What James wrote is known as a general epistle, because it was directed to no individual or church, but to Christians in general. Then, too, the epistle is a general survey of the requirements of Christian life. That it has present worth for Christians need not be argued. What James described is too well known by us. The warnings he gave we know are needed today. It seems that James had no problem about teachers, except that he had too many of the wrong kind. He had a clear conviction about who can teach and what they should teach. Teaching was regarded by too many as an honor; so James had to warn against persons starting to teach before they were qualified. The teacher occupied too prominent a position not to be watched and judged, both by what he taught and also by the life he lived. Unless he could back up his teaching by his life he was not fit to teach. That was the plain truth of the matter. Words come from thought and thought comes from character. Jesus had said that out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. James made an immediate and practical application of Jesus' words to the teachers in the church.

To meet the situation James urged a controlled tongue. He used three good illustrations to clarify what he meant. He made it clear that no reader could miss his point. The bit in the rider's mouth to hold it to its course, and a small fire that might get out of control and do great harm—these James said are like the tongue; for when it is controlled it serves to a good end, but it tends to destruction when out of control. He went so far as to say that the tongue is not tamed by man. No man can keep control of his tongue by an act of the will. The Christian who attempts this is doomed to disappointment, and will be saying things he will regret. By God's help, James suggests, the tongue can be tamed. How does this come about? It results from the fact that the heart is changed by God and what a man says is ruled by his heart. This again has to do with what Jesus said about the heart as the source of what is said. The mouth should always be for clean words. No mouth should be defiled by a filthy, unclean speech.

But Christians are not always consistent, as James observed. Some of them are self-condemned by filling their mouth with praises to God at one time and curses of men at another time. Such folly is exposed by observing such a simple fact as trying to get figs and thistles from the same tree or plant, or expecting pure water and foul water from the same fountain. So the words of a Christian indicate much about the Christian at heart. It stands to reason that God should require only Christian talk from a Christian. It is not offering a prize for cleanness of speech to suggest that God rewards those who speak. It is not hard to designate what these rewards are.

Christians are doers. None can be doers. Some act will be the fruit of life. Only the dead do nothing at all. Conduct itself may be referred to as the doings of a life. Conduct is not to be boasted about. It is not for show. Unless it grows out of wisdom that is from God it is not fit for a Christian. The demand for proof of being what we profess to be looks toward what the Christian does. His deeds are his proof that he is a Christian. So the Christian cannot be independent, but must be dependent on God. The kind of wisdom that leads to right conduct proceeds from God to the believer. The beautifying fruits that which are referred to as evidences of Christian character are nothing else than the deeds, works, of a Christian.

Two Local Fires On Anniversary of Big Fire Here

Fire believed to have originated from sparks from the chimney set fire to the two-story residence, 236 West 19th St., owned by Jerry Dykstra, 182 West 18th St., at 11:25 a.m., Saturday. The lower part of the home was occupied by Joseph Doezeman family and the upper part by the Gerald Reinink family.

Fire Chief Cornelius Blom estimated damages to the home at $1,000 and said that Mr. Dykstra carried insurance to cover his loss. It was reported that the Reinink family carried no insurance on their household furnishings, damaged considerably by water used in extinguishing the flames. Holland firemen were called to the rubbish fire, along the shore of Lake Macatawa, at the rear of the Western Machine Tool Works, West 9th St., at about 1:40 p.m., Saturday. There was no resulting damage.

It was just 66 years ago Saturday that the great fire of 1871 swept across Holland, destroying the major part of the city and leaving an estimated loss of $900,000.

Miss Lois Van Faassen, fiancée of Clarence Bouwman, was the honored guest at a personal shower given Friday evening at the home of Miss Hazel Slikkers, 486 Washington Ave. Table decorations which were carried out in pink and white included a miniature bride and groom as a centerpiece from which streamers led to miniature bouquets of swainsons as favors for each guest. CENTURY CLUB SPEAKER TELLS OF PEACE PERILS IN EUROPE

Dr. H. J. Heneman, assistant professor of political science at the University of Michigan, in an address Monday night before members of the Century Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McLean, told of the political situation in Europe relative to the possibility of war in the near future. Dr. Heneman, introduced by Prof. E. Paul McLean as a dynamic young thinker and well versed in international affairs, took as his subject, "Dictatorship and Prospects of Peace in Europe." He set forth the influences threatening peace in Europe as well as the restraining influences.

Dr. Heneman left the impression in conclusion that immediate outbreak of war is remote, and that hope for America keeping out of another European embroilment may lie in the very fact of unpaid war debts.

At a business meeting, the resignation of Mrs. Seara R. McLean as president of the club, was accepted. Prof. E. Paul McLean, vice president, was named to fill the office of president, and committees for the year were appointed. Mrs. Albert Diekema, secretary, outlined the programs for the year, which will include, among others, lectures by Dr. Arnold Mulder, Bishop Frederick Fisher of Detroit, the Rev. A. J. Muste of New York, Dr. M. S. Rice of Detroit, Lew White, Detroit newspaper publisher, Dr. Robertson of Ionia, and Mrs. John Vander Vries of Chicago, a member of the Illinois State legislature. Mrs. De Pree extended greetings, stating that the club membership now numbers 275, 50 of whom are entering as new members. A brief tribute was paid to four members of the club who have died during the summer, including Mrs. C. M. McLean, a former president, Mrs. R. L. Eaton, Mrs. J. P. Kolla and Mrs. George Albers. Appreciation was expressed of the work of committees arranging the luncheon and handling ticket distribution. The club collect was read by Mrs. John R. Mulder.

Rev. Aulenbach, a most entertaining speaker, told his audience how to live normally and happily by recognizing their limitations. In these days of activity and hurry, he said, the tendency is to become interested in things that are not of the most importance.

Too many men are dying too soon in the desire to be successful, the speaker pointed out, saying that real success comes only when it comes naturally and normally.

Rev. Aulenbach closed his talk with the thought that there is a capacity and a limitation in each individual, with the power of choice to be exercised in every day life. When we are miserable, we have not recognized and lived within our limitations, he concluded.

A group of old school mates held their annual gathering, last Thursday, at the Log Cabin cottage of Mr. and Mrs. G. Alderink. Refreshments were served by Mrs. George Kalkmink, Mrs. H. Vander Bie and Mrs. Henry Sprick.

DONNELLY-MARTINEAU MARRIAGE AT ST. FRANCIS DE SALES CHURCH

The marriage of Miss Margaret Mary Donnelly, daughter of Mrs. B. P. Donnelly of this city, to Vincent G. Martineau of Grand Rapids, son of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Martineau of Milwaukee, Wis., took place Monday morning at St. Francis de Sales Church. A profusion of white chrysanthemums in the church formed a beautiful setting for the ceremony. High mass was sung at 10:30 o'clock by the very Rev. John F. Fenlon, Provincial of the Sulpicians of Baltimore, Md., uncle of the bride, who also officiated at the marriage of her parents.

Wedding music was played by Eugene J. Phillips, organist of St. Andrews cathedral, Grand Rapids. Including the Benediction, Nuptials, Offertorio, Invocation from the Messe du Marriage by Du Bois, the Bridal Chorus from the Rose Maiden by Cowen, and the Processional and Recessional Sans Deo, also from the Du Bois suite, "Messe Solonelle" by Alexandre Guilmant was sung by the Cathedral quartet and the Proper of the Mass was sung in Georgian chant by Gounod by Catharine Jansheska Phillips, soprano, of Grand Rapids.

The bride was gowned in ivory satin, the dress showing a Spanish influence with its square neck bound in narrow pleating, long sleeves with fullness at the top, high waist line, and tiny buttons to the waist in the back, the skirt extending in a graceful train, the hem also bound with the narrow satin pleating. In her hair she wore an old French comb, and her head was covered with a lace mantilla, both of which were brought from France by her uncle, Fr. Fenlon. From her prayer book, also a gift of her uncle, fell white sweetheart roses on tiny satin ribbons.

Miss Helen Claire Martineau of Milwaukee, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. She wore a floor-length gown of deep violet blue velvet, with a turban of the same material. Her bouquet was of yellow roses and deep blue hybrid delphinium.

The little flower girl was Mary Alice Hohman, the bride's niece, wearing a white dress with yellow sash and ribbon, carrying a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and blue bachelor buttons. Masters Thomas and John Leonard of Grand Rapids, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Leonard, were the ring bearers.

Following the marriage, a wedding breakfast was served at the Donnelly home on Maple Ave. A large wedding cake centered the table in the candle lighted dining room, as the guests were served. Masses of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums were used as decorations throughout the rooms.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Donnelly wore a gown of deep blue lace, with a corsage of deep pink roses. Mrs. Martineau, the groom's mother, wore blue velvet, with pale pink roses. Later in the day the bride and groom left on a motor trip after which they will be at home at 1040 Lake Drive, Grand Rapids. For travelling, the bride wore a three-piece tweed suit of creme de coco with aqua accents, her accessories in matching colors and a small hat with face veil.

Having attended Campion and Notre Dame prep schools, Mr. Martineau was graduated from Marquette University Law school. He is now special attorney in the U.S. District attorney's office in Grand Rapids. The bride graduated from Trinity college, Washington, D.C., later studying in Chicago and at the Sorbonne, Paris.

As bridesmaid, Miss Helena Steen was attired in aquamarine diagonal satin style with silver flower at the neckline. She carried a bouquet of Hollywood roses.

Preceding the bride were two flower girls, Miriam Gemmill and Joyce Vander Ploeg, who carried small white baskets containing rose petals. The former, a niece of the bridegroom, wore ruffled peach georgette with green sash and hair ribbon. The latter, a cousin of the bride, wore white taffeta.

Attending the bridegroom was his brother, Donald T. G. Vander Ploeg. Ushers were Dennis Boer of McKeesport, Merle De Weerd and Jerry Bulthuis. De Weerd and Mrs. Jan B. Vander Ploeg, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, were master and mistress of ceremonies.

A wedding reception was held in the church parlors where a repast was served to about 150 guests by Misses Alma Deur, Mildred Kuyers, Susan Grissen, Beatrice Deur, Thelma Steketes and Florence Klaasen. Many out-of-town guests were present. Both bride and groom were born and educated in Holland. Mr. Vander Ploeg is connected with the Shady Lawn Florists.

Mr. and Mrs. Vander Ploeg left on an extended eastern trip and will be at home at 275 East 16th St. after Nov. 1. For traveling the bride wore gray with black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kardux, Mr. and Mrs. John Ederlee, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dalman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Decker and Mr. and Mrs. William Lokker spent the week-end at the Lok-Ker Inn cottage at Big Bass Lake, Lake county. While there they visited Coulee bridge, Tippy dam and Chittenden nursery. It was reported that the fall color in that region were exceptionally beautiful.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE
GOOD food is made more appetizing by careful seasoning which need not mean pepper and spices but imaginative use of the whole family, lemon juice and rice, celery leaves, parsley and other herbs.
Meats in general are lower but particularly forequarter beef and pork chops. Eggs are an excellent value. Fish is fairly plentiful and reasonably priced. Cheese continues to be one of the best possible values. Orysters are again in fairly general distribution. Apples, grapes and grapefruit are the outstanding fruits though many others are generally available. Vegetables are plentiful and reasonable. Reasonable seeds make up the following menu.

Low Cost Dinner
Liver with Onions
Baked Potatoes
Buttered Carrots
Bread and Butter
Banana Bread Pudding
Tea or Coffee
Milk
Medium Cost Dinner

Brower received many useful gifts. Farmers are busy husking corn and silo-filling. Just now there is plenty of farm work. The fall rush is on before the more quiet winter period.
