Community Chest Sets Year's Goal

Office of County School Supervisor Originated in 1867

Popular Vote Named First Superintendent; Salary, $3-5 Per Day

In 1867, the office of county superintendent of schools was first created in Michigan. The county superintendent was elected by popular vote and no particular educational qualifications were required. His salary was to range from three to five dollars per day for each day employed by the duties of his office, the number of such days to be determined by the county board of supervisors.

His duties included the examination of teachers, the granting of certificates and annual visitation to each school of the county, an examination into the discipline of the schools, the promotion of public education, and other supervisory duties. The areas included in the teacher examination were orthography, reading, writing, grammar, geography, and arithmetic.

In 1875, the office of county superintendent of schools was discontinued and the office of township superintendent was created. The qualifications and duties of this office were practically the same as that of the county superintendent. This office was abolished in 1881 and the office of county board of school examiners was created. Teachers were examined and certificates granted by the board and the secretary of the county board of school examiners were given some very general supervisory powers.

A board of township school inspectors was created without mention of qualifications for membership and the chairman of this board was made immediate supervisor of the township. Upon request of this chairman, the secretary of the county board of school examiners could be requested to investigate conditions of any school and had the authority to cite the teacher in any school in the county to appear before the examiners for failure to successfully and profitably conduct the school.

In 1891, the act for creating the office of county commissioner of schools was passed. This law required that to be eligible for the office of county commissioner of schools, a person must be a graduate of some reputable college, university or normal school, or hold at least a first grade teacher's certificate, except in certain sparsely settled counties. The salary was fixed to range from $500 to $1,500 a year, depending upon the number of schools within the county.

In the bill, passed by the legislature during the 1941 session, further revisions were made placing the minimum salary at $750 and graduating on the basis of population. The 1941 law also called for higher training requirements necessitating a master's degree with a major in education for newly-elected commissioners in counties of 30,000 population or over.

In July, 1903, the term of office changed from two years to four years. The duties of the county school commissioner as specified by law included an annual visitation to each school, the supervision of discipline and modes of instruction, the approval of textbooks used in the school, and of school apparatus, library supervision, responsibility for evaluating the programs and the proficiency of pupils, the examination of school property, responsibility to school boards on professional matters, promotion of school improvement, and of teaching training within the county. In addition to this the commissioner was responsible, under the law, for a great amount of general administrative and clerical work.

Despite increased costs of operating health and welfare agencies, Community Chest directors have trimmed their 1947-48 budget under last year's according to Carl C. Andreasen, drive chairman. The drive will be conducted during the week of Oct. 20 when a quota of $25,050 will be sought. Last year's figure was $27,075.

In announcing the approved budget, Chest directors pointed out that all requests for funds had first cleared the board of the Council of Social Agencies and had then been carefully considered by Chest members along with detailed accounts of last year's expenditures by the various agencies.

Reduction in the budget is made possible by the withdrawal of the usual appropriation for the City Mission which will be self-supporting this year and by the discontinuance of USO.

Volunteer workers are now being organized in all divisions for the general drive which will be held from Oct. 20 to 24. Committees will be announced within the next few days for the industrial division which will handle factory solicitation beginning Oct. 13.

Community Chest board members for the current year are President John H. Van Dyke, J. W. Moran, Mrs. Mayo Hadden, Clarence Klaasen, Henry S. Maentz, Dr. Lester J. Kuypers, Fred Galien, William Boer and Andreasen.

Principal budget items follow: Rotary (Crippled Children's fund), $800; Exchange (Good Fellows Foundation), $500; Lions (Blind and Sight Conservation), $300; Kiwanis (Underprivileged Children), $800; Salvation Army, $3,400; Camp Fire Girls, $4,000; Michigan Children's Aid society, $450; Holland Youth Center, $3,600; JCC Auxiliary (West Michigan Children's Center), $2,000; Veterans Counseling Center, $1,000; Boy Scouts, $4,500; Woman's Literary club (Civic Health), $700; American Cancer society, $1,500.

Supervisors Okay State Tax Report On Equalization

Three Dissenting Votes Cast; New Valuations Are Virtually Doubled

Grand Haven, Oct. 6 (Special)—With three dissenting votes, the Board of Supervisors Friday adopted the mandatory report of the State Tax commission calling for changes in the county's equalization setup.

Casting dissenting votes were Mayor Nicholas Frankena and Nick Cook of Zeeland and Gerrit Bottema of Spring Lake township. Holland's share in county taxes under the new equalization program will be reduced 1.55 per cent from the 29.77 per cent figure for Holland adopted by the board at its June meeting. The new figure represents a 1.38 per cent increase over 1946 figures.

Valuations of real and personal property in the county were virtually doubled in the 1947 equalization study. The total equalized figure is $100,897,683 as compared with $58,545,857 adopted by the board in June.

The equalized figures are 80 per cent of the actual valuations in the county, set by the commission at $126,122,114.

The new valuations would permit taxing units, city, school or county, to increase their tax income if it be determined that larger budgets are necessary.

The study was made following an appeal by Holland city claiming Holland was paying an undue proportion of county tax.

Zeeland city and Holland townships were given the largest boosts in the county.

Following is a comparison of the new equalized figures with the amount adopted by the Board of Supervisors in June:

Exchangites Told Of Fire Hazards

In observance of Fire Prevention Week, Sgt. Quentin Dean of the Michigan Police fire division, addressed local Exchangites Monday noon in the Warm Friend Tavern. Types of fires and their prevention were discussed.

"Fire is the greatest servant mankind has," Dean stated. "It is only when he becomes master that he presents a problem."

Dean touched upon problems of fire prevention in the local public schools and suggested that the primary consideration should not be money but lives. He mentioned that poor smoking habits place third in the state list of fire losses, while grass fires also rate high.

Fire Chief Andrew Klomprens introduced the speaker who has been in the "fire business" 20 years. Klomprens pointed out that this week all school children in Holland from the second to the seventh grades will go to engine house No. 2 to receive instructions and demonstrations on fire prevention.

Topics emphasized there were dangers of the atom bomb, aviation, need for a standing army and anti-Communism. National Exchange now has 1,012 chapters and a membership of 50,000, it was pointed out.

Visitors at the meeting included John Lucas of Philadelphia and A. Avenal and Jim Grant, both of Grand Rapids. Exchange J. J. Riemersma was in charge of opening devotional exercises and during the meeting M. Robert Nottier's name was proposed for club membership.

Kiwanis Board Votes To Hold Speech Course

The Board of Directors of the Kiwanis Club last night authorized the sponsoring of the Dale Carnegie course in Holland.

In sponsoring this course in Holland as a civic project, it is the hope of the Kiwanis club that citizens may be developed into speakers and that a speakers bureau may later be formed for the supplying of speakers before local organizations.

At the regular meeting at the Warm Friend Tavern which preceded the board meeting, Robert Sneden of Grand Rapids, a director of the Dale Carnegie course, outlined the course and the proposed organization in Holland.

Dan Vander Werf, program chairman, introduced Sneden. The meeting was conducted by Simon Borri, president.

Education Faces Great Challenge, Hunt Says

"The Sermo on the Mount and the Golden Rule, brought about by education, is the formula by which the people of the world will ultimately come into accord," Dr. Herold Christian Hunt told local citizens attending the Centennial Celebration for Holland public schools Tuesday night in Holland high school auditorium.

Dr. Hunt, superintendent of Chicago public schools, prefaced his address on "For Such an Age" by reminiscing briefly about the happy years spent in Holland, particularly in Holland high school which he served as mayor during his senior year.

In his introduction he spoke of ceremonies he witnessed at the New York World's Fair Sept. 23, 1939, when a Time Capsule containing objects indicative of the current civilization was sealed and buried deep in the earth, to be opened 5,000 years hence, in 6939.

Into this capsule, he said, went a calendar, a zipper tobacco pouch, a woman's hat, compact, coins, seeds, music scores, best sellers, sound film, ten 50-word statements on modern civilization, and the Oxford edition of the King James Version of the Bible.

"It is only eight years since the capsule was sealed and buried, but already we live in a new age, the Atomic age," the speaker said. "It was in 1942 that nuclear physicists set into motion a chain for developing atomic power, and the year 1947 may be known as 5 A.A. (After the Atom)," he said.

"Scientific developments the last decade or two have put the Atomic people on an international citizenship status. Today there is no spot farther from Holland, Mich., than 40 air hours. This realization, together with the great concentration of power and wealth in terms of industry and labor; the profligate use of natural resources, and the realization that the supremacy of the White Man is drawing to a close, puts a responsibility on education that has never been there before. We must look forward with confidence and faith," he said.

Distinguished platform guests, introduced by former Supt. E. E. Fell, included Henry Goertlings, Fred T. Miles, James Brouwer, Dr. Abraham Leenhouts, Mrs. George E. Kollen, Fred Beuwkes, George Mooi, Albert E. Lampen, Cornelius J. De Koster, John Orlert and Albert E. Van Lente, all of whom served as members of the Board of Education more than 10 years.

Supt. C. C. Crawford presided and Board President De Koster gave the invocation. Centennial Commission President Cornelius Vander Meulen reviewed Centennial activities to date and said the school program was one of deep significance in that it not only paid tribute to the past but was a great working force for the future. The speaker was introduced by Principal J. J. Riemersma.

A selection was played by a cornet trio consisting of Richard Ruch, Robert Albers and Edward Avison, accompanied by Miss Barbara Lampen.

The event was marked by elaborate programs which listed school centennial activities, a history of the public schools, and a reprint of the program of the "annual public exercises" of Holland Union school Aug. 16, 1867.

Potent Hillsdale Trips Dutchmen In Saturday Tilt

Hope Opens Scoring During Second Quarter; Emery Scores Twice

A capacity crowd saw the 1946 MIAA Football Co-champions, Hillsdale open their 1947 bid for the conference leadership as they hammered out a thrilling 21-14 victory over the Dutchmen from Hope college Saturday afternoon at Riverview park. The Hollanders pulled ahead 7-0 in the second quarter but before the first half ended the Dales had knotted the count at 7-all. The Dales under Coach Davey Nelson scored again in the third and fourth periods with Hope scoring their final touchdown late in the final quarter.

Fred Kalsbeek, Hope tackle, kicked off to the triple threat back, Bill Young, who ran the ball to the Dales 26 yard line. After three unsuccessful attempts to gain, the Dales were forced to punt and Hope took over on their own 31. Emery picked up eight yards on two plays and Leverette carried the ball three more for a first down on the 41-yard line. On third down Emery got away with a beautiful quick kick which went into the Dale's end zone. Hillsdale then picked up one first down but were again forced to punt and the locals took over on their own 36.

Three plays then netted the Dutch five yards and Emery again booted down to the Dales 21 where the ball rolled out of bounds. Three attempts didn't gain the necessary yardage for Hillsdale and Yonker took Young's punt on the mid-field stripe. Eddie Leverette then broke away for nine yards around left end on a reverse and a pass from Yonker to Holwerda netted 12 yards and put the pikelin to rest on the Dales 29-yard line, as the first quarter ended.

Bob Emery, husky full back from Roseville, then took the ball from Yonker and knifed his way through tackle and broke into the clear to score a touchdown on the first play of the second period. Dick Higgs entered the game and converted for the extra point giving the Dutchmen a 7-0 lead with interest and excitement swelling every minute as the underdog Hope eleven began to roll.

But midway through the second period, as the locals began their second scoring drive, Ernie Post fumbled when he was hit hard on the Hope 48. Winchell, Dales center, pounced on the ball and set Hillsdale up for their first touch down. Ward was hit back on the Dale 47 on a five yard loss, but on the next play Bill Young flipped a long pass to Johnny Cudeback who wasn't brought down until he hit the Hope 29-yard line for a 34-yard gain. Young then carried the ball around end to the 10 and Ward weaved off tackle into the end zone to make the score 7-6. Young's conversion was perfect and the score was knotted at 7-all. Several minutes later Nick Yonker intercepted one of Young's passes on the Hope 16 as the first half ended.

On the kick off of the second half Barrett carried the ball to the Hope 29 and Yonker then shot a 43-yard pass to Barrett who was waiting on the Hillsdale 17-yard line. Several plays later Young intercepted another of Yonker's passes and halted the Dutch threat.

But only a minute later Gwilt, Dale fullback, fumbled on Hope's 26-yard line and the Dutch once more began to roll. Yonker, on the first play, tossed a short five-yard pass to Bill Holwerda who jogged all the way to the Dale 10-yard line where he was finally knocked out of bounds for a 59-yard gain. But the Hollanders failed to make the final five yards and the Dales took over on their own 5. Young then flashed off tackle, broke into the open and plowed all the way to his own 49-yard line. Ward and Albright then combined their efforts for another first down. Several plays later Young sprinted off tackle and scored from the Hope 32-yard line to make the score 13-7. Young converted to make the count 14-7.

It didn't take long in the fourth quarter and the Dales were leading 21-7 as a result of several line bucks and a pass from Young to Cudeback. Ward plunged over from the 2-yard line. Young's point after touchdown kick was again good.

It was Bob Emery again who carried the brunt of the Dutch offense as they plugged their way to the 14-yard line where he again dodged off tackle to score on a 14-yard run. Higgs kick was good to make the score 21-14 and the locals began trying desperately to gain possession of the ball but couldn't, with time running out. As the game ended Bill Young took the ball from center and started around right end but found a host of Dutch "would be tacklers" waiting for him. He reversed his field and was 20 yards behind the line of scrimmage but still fought his way back to the line where he was smeared by the whole Hope team as the final horn sounded.

It was Hope's high spirits and the plunging ability of the Dutch fullback Bob Emery that gave Hope such a splendid showing as well as good blocking and a strong defense. Dasher, a 230-pound guard was constantly stopping Hope's line attempts and was the most outstanding defensive player on the field.

Zeeland, Wyoming Battle To Tie

A determined Zeeland eleven fought back in the second half of their tilt with Wyoming Park, Saturday to gain a third period touchdown and a 6-6 tie, with the Vikings. The contest was played at Riverview stadium.

Wyoming took a second quarter lead when Anderson, Wyoming back, weaved his way 17 yards for the initial score. A pass from Terpetra to Anderson for the extra point was not good. Wyoming's score was set up on a pass from Terpetra to Anderson putting the ball on the Zeeland 17-yard marker. The Vikings had been within the Zeeland 20-yard marker twice before connecting on the scoring play.

Zeeland came back roaring after the half, after taking the ball on downs on their own 47-yard line. Bud De Weerd and Jack Sheridan cracked the Wyoming forward wall on a series of thrusts taking the ball to the Wyoming 2-yard marker. De Weerd then crashed over for the score. Sheridan tried a line buck for the extra point, but he failed to go over, keeping the 6-6 total. The final quarter was a see-saw battle, with neither squad threatening.

Zeeland will meet Coopersville in an all-Ottawa county game Thursday at Riverview stadium. The game is slated to start at 7:30 p.m.

PROMISING ROOKIE

One of the Hope speedsters who may provide plenty of trouble for the Hillsdale secondary Saturday afternoon is freshman Eddie Levrette, promising Hope back. He has played well in the last two contests and has given a superb exhibition of running. Although he has not started a contest, he has seen plenty of action so far this season.

Sports Briefs

Gone are the days when writers in Riverview press box relaxed and took their Holland High games calmly. Now the confusion on the field is not much worse than that in the press box as announcers, sports writers and spotters try to figure out who did what. Holland's red on grey combination is as hard to see as the "and up" that follows the $1.98 in a white shirt advertisement.

In case any fans have been wondering what the long clothes line is doing near Carnegie gym, here's the dope. We understand that the Hope managers are now doing their own washing. They wash everything including socks, towels, etc. and other athletic luxuries.

It seems that Bob "Gabby" Van Dis, of Hope basketball fame, has really found out what it means to "commence"—commence to work, that is. Some of those who know "Gabby" will appreciate the fact that he was in town just long enough to see the Hope game Friday night, and then had to rush back to Kalamazoo to "be on deck" for work in his dad's shoe store on Saturday.

Other Hope athletes who are making good include Russ De Vette at the University of Michigan. We understand that he is taking some coaching courses from Michigan's cage mentor, Ossie Cowles. Charles Davidson, a Hope griddler of 1946, is also doing well. He is assisting with the football squad at Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills.

Perhaps the old timers remember, but without a doubt there are many that do not know that Milton (Bud) Hinga was quite a basketball player in his day. Hinga reached stardom as a forward at Kalamazoo college, now one of his bitterest court rivals. The team we are referring to, was the quintet of 1922, then coached by Ralph Young, now athletic director at Michigan State college. This outfit, which Young termed as perhaps the best outfit he ever coached, went to the finals of the National collegiate tournament at Indianapolis before bowing to Wabash college. During the regular season they whipped such colleges and universities as Notre Dame, Michigan State and Detroit.

The starting five included several players known in this locality in some way or another. They are: Fred Doyle, now a physician in Kalamazoo; Tom Dewey, former coach at Zeeland and well known athletic official; Fred Spurgeon, noted official in this area; Lyle Mackay and Hinga.

Hinga said, "Young really knew how to work us". So in case any of the Hope cage stars are wondering why you are worked so hard, blame it on Ralph Young.

Efforts of alleged experts to forecast results of football games often lead to some ridiculous lengths. For instance, one highly regarded pre-season picker selected the same team to finish fourth and last in standings. To be specific, in rating Mountain States teams he had Utah State finish fourth and Utah Aggies finish last. They are the same team. Naturally, not every forecaster can know all of the more than 750 football teams in the country. But this doesn't stop them from making their "picks" week after week. It appears highly significant that nobody pays much attention to them.

Everyone has heard about absent minded professors, but here is one on a governor—Governor Luther W. Youngdahl of Minnesota.

Last week when the University of Washington, located in Seattle, played the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis, there was one distinguished guest not at the game. It was Governor Youngdahl, who by game time was comfortably located in Seattle, expecting to see Bernie Bierman's "powerhouse" battle the Huskies. The story is, however, that the Governor went fishing instead.

Holland Guards Rescue Fish Boat

Gustav Nynas, officer in charge of the local Coast Guard, announced Friday that a Holland crew had towed a disabled fishing tug into port Thursday evening. The Holland Coast Guard responded to a call received from the Chicago station asking them to intercept a steamer which had the tug in tow.

According to Nynas, the tug, Fred Weimer, had left the Chicago station on Sept. 30 and had done some fishing before mechanical difficulties developed. Fred Weimer and James J. Gilligan, the only two on the tug, told Nynas that they drifted for 24 hours before they were picked up by the steamer William B. Palmer. According to the pair, the boat was about 40 miles north of Chicago when the steamer reached them.

Nynas said that he and two others of the local station intercepted the steamer, between Saugatuck and South Haven, about 20 miles out at 4:50 p.m. Thursday. He reported that repairs were being made on the tug this morning.

Muskegon Heights Edges Holland In Grid Thriller

Locals Nearly Upset Tigers in Final Spurt; Dutchmen Show Power

A highly touted Muskegon Heights eleven was lucky to eke out a 14-12 win over a vastly improved Holland High squad at Riverview Park Friday night. The Heights had won 20 straight going into the contest. Two scoring breaks, one an 80-yard run by speedy Frank Howell, in the first quarter accounted for all of the scoring by the Okie Johnson-coached lads. Holland managed both of their touchdowns by way of the aerial route, one in the second period and the other in the fourth.

Outside of the first period, Holland virtually played the Tigers to a standstill, with the climax coming in the fourth quarter with the score 14-6 in favor of the defending Southwestern conference champs. A pass from Appledorn from his own 27-yd line to end Fuzz Bauman netted 59 yards to the Muskegon Heights 14-yard marker. A six-yard gain by Roger Prins and a Tiger holding penalty put the ball on the four-yard stripe. After a first down on the next play and no gain on the next, Appledorn passed to Van Hecken in the end zone for the score.

With the crowd then settling down, content that the locals had given the Heights a real ball game, Holland's surprising gridder blocked a fourth down kick on the Tigers' 12-yard line, Bauman recovering. The threat was short-lived however, as an Appledorn pass, on the first play, fell into the hands of Howell on the two-yard line. The Heights then held the ball, advancing to the Holland 42-yd line before the game ended.

Holland's first marker came with four minutes left in the first half, the locals trailing, 14-0. The scoring break was set up when the Stupkamen blocked a Heights kick on the Tigers' 35-yard line. Van Hecken then netted six yards on the first play from scrimmage. Pierson was held for no gain on the next play, before Appledorn uncorked a pass complete to Van Hecken on the Heights 16-yard line. Then Van Hecken passed to Ken Bauman who stood unmolested in the end zone. The play was beautifully executed. Holland's deception pulled the entire Heights defense to the right, with Van Hecken passing diagonally across the field to Bauman. Bauman missed the conversion.

The Johnson-coached crew didn't wait long in the game to show Holland fans why they were undefeated in 20 games. After the Dutchmen had held the winners on their first series of downs, after taking the opening kickoff, the Heights took over on their own 19 yard line. On the first play, Howell, a colored lad, sped 81 yards down the sidelines for the first score of the game. His tremendous speed carried him past the Holland secondary, and he had the last 50 yards all to himself. Bob Stibitz, Tiger center, then kicked the first of his game winning conversions for the first seven points of the tilt.

Muskegon Heights forced Holland to punt, after kicking off and they took over on their own 20-yard line. Holland's line, playing a superb game, held for three downs, and Bramble kicked to the Holland 25. Referee Rudy Miller, however, ruled that the ball had touched a Holland player. Therefore when the Heights landed on the ball, they were given possession. Three tries failed to gain a first down before Howell passed to Bob Johnson in the end zone for the score. Johnson is the son of Coach Okie Johnson. Stibitz again converted making the score 14-0.

The third quarter was evenly played with neither squad causing any serious threats. Holland did, however, stop a Heights passing attack, when they drove within the local's 30-yard marker.

The locals displayed a smooth working aggregation, and served notice to all conference foes that they are not to be counted out of the flag race. Holland's tackling at times was vicious, but good. Particularly outstanding in the second half was the player of the Holland ends, Jack Vander Velde and Ken Bauman. Both boys refused to be "turned in" and repeatedly broke up plays outside and inside end positions.

Above all, the entire local eleven displayed a fighting, "never say die" spirit throughout the tilt, even though they did trail 14-0 at one point in the contest.

The Dutch garnered six first downs while the Heights accounted for 10. Frank Howell, halfback on the Heights squad, was the outstanding back on the field and repeatedly broke through the Holland forward wall, only to be stopped by an alert secondary. Muskegon showed an all around heavier squad than the locals although the Dutch line played its best game of the year.

The win was the Heights first in the 1947 conference play and the Stupkamen's first league defeat. Holland will battle Grand Rapids Central in a game here next Friday night.

WHY IS THE LAWYER

UNPOPULAR?

The curious assertion won official recognition recently from the American Bar Association, in convention at Cleveland, that the lawyer is being misrepresented.
What to do about it had the nation's lawyers scratching their heads; the only thing they were sure of was that something ought to be done.

The question rose out of the report of a committee on the increase in juvenile crime, Arthur J. Freund of St. Louis, chairman of the committee, placed the blame on the fact that, in the movies and comics, the processes of the law, and incidentally the lawyers, are "unfavorably presented or treated with grotesque inaccuracy."

Then he added: "Whereas the doctor is almost always presented as a kindly, charitable and capable professional person, the lawyer is usually portrayed as cruel, selfish, tricky and unethical." He and his fellow-lawyers wanted to know why. Perhaps many others would like to have the question answered.

That an unfavorable prejudice against lawyers exists is of course common knowledge. The jokes are legion that have the alleged trickery of the profession as their base; and folk jokes are a pretty good index to popular opinion. It is hardly an answer to suggest that the profession has more crooks and tricksters than other professions. After all, the medical profession has its quota of quacks, but that does not give the doctor a black eye in the movies.

Or to look at the matter from the other side, some of the nation's best and most revered men have been members of the legal profession. Lincoln was a lawyer.
Apparently in an effort to excuse
the fact itself the masses of the American folk developed the legend that he never took a case for a criminal or for the wrong side
—a naive myth that only the naïve can accept. And there have been plenty of other good and great men who began life as lawyers. Somehow people can forget all that and continue to cast the lawyer for the role of villain.

Even the late President Wilson,
although he began life as a lawyer himself, seemed to share in the popular prejudice against the profession. He took so many cracks at lawyers, especially at the fact that congress was filled with lawyers, that his feelings in the matter could hardly be mistaken. And the late President Roosevelt had a touch of the same curious disorder.

The answer? There probably is none that can be put into definite words. The chances are that the folk prejudice is rooted in a kind of tribal tradition dating so far back that its origin has been forgotten.

Christ the Minister of Better Things
Hebrews 4:14-16; 7:26, 27; 9:23-26;
Hebrews 10:11-14
By Henry Geerlings

The book of Hebrews is not an easy one for us to read. For one thing, the average Protestant is too far removed from the ancient religious practices of the Jews, such as the temple service in which the priest in behalf of the worshippers, sought to present a suitable offering to the Lord for the sins of the people. The people felt that if they gave such an offering to God, he would accept their penitence and forgive their sins.

It was to a group of people thoroughly acquainted with this practice that the author of Hebrews addressed his letter. Like a master teacher he began with what they already knew and showed how it led to Christ. His letter is like a mosaic made up of argument and exhortation. The high priest's office began with Aaron. Josephus tells us that the number of high priests from Aaron to Phanas was 83 and that the office continued from Aaron to the fall of Jerusalem.

They differed from other priests in that they were anointed. They wore a distinct costume and were the only ones permitted to enter the Holy of Holies, once a year on the great day of Atonement. This entrance was preceded by special purification, and a whole week in temple residence, where strict rituals were observed in order that they might be fitted to enter the presence of Jehovah. The purple and gold raiment and sash of the high priest were removed and white robes placed on him. Tinkling bells took the place of the silent bells on his garments, and thus he entered, with due ceremony, the holiest place to make his offering for the sins of Israel.

Early Christians delighted to meditate upon the High Priesthood of their Lord as compared with the high priests they had known in Jerusalem. The picture of the priesthood as it appeared in Jerusalem at about the time the epistle to the Hebrews was written, was not an altogether pleasant one. The office had become notoriously corrupt, the center of political intrigue, because it opened the door to riches and vast influence. A long line of cheap and tyrannical contenders had passed through the office in a period of two centuries. Annas and Caiaphas, named in the New Testament, were quite like the rest. The officials were self-indulgent, violent, luxury loving, and given over to the basest of immorality.

All of this, however, did not keep the Jews from idealizing the high priesthood. The high priest's appearance was majestic. On his head was a crown bearing the inscription, "Holiness unto the Lord." But this office was a human office. Its occupants were for a time. When Christ came into the world all this was changed. He is the unchangeable High Priest. He can sympathize with us in our weaknesses and despite our infirmities, and since he was tempted in all points like as those without sin, we may come boldly into a throne of grace. Coming as suppliants we shall obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need. We are not left to a single-handed battle or conflict. The pure in heart are not left on an isolated pilgrimage. They tell us that in some trackless lands when one person passes through the pathless forests he breaks a twig over and anon as he goes, that those who come after may see the tracks of his having been there, and may know that they are not out of the road. When we are journeying through the murky night, and the dark woods of affliction and sorrow, it is something to find here and there a spray broken, or a leafy stem bent down with the tread of His foot and the brush of His hand as He passed, and to remember that the path He trod He has hallowed and that there are lingering fragrances and hidden strength in the remembrance that He was tempted as a man and that He bore our grief.

Jesus, the great High Priest, offered one sacrifice for sins forever. Fortunately for the early Christians, beset as they were with problems and opposition on every hand, they had no feeling that their religion was on loose pulleys. He had settled the sin problem for them completely and for all time for the whole world.
They had seen the sacrifices in the temple offered again and again, but they thrilled to know that the sacrifice that brought them into fellowship with God had now been made once for all.

The church of today has been given a great challenge. Christ has not only made the final sacrifice and taken His place at the right hand of God, but He waits there until the great day when the powers of evil shall be defeated.
To make that day possible is the task of the church empowered by the might of a victorious Christ.

Holland Station Ready to Begin Programs Jan. 1

Broadcasting System Covering 25 Miles to Operate 17 Hours Daily

Holland Broadcasting company, has set Jan. 1 as the day on which they hope to start broadcasting operations here. The station will be a standard broadcasting station with a frequency of 1450 kilocycles and 250-watt power. Expected coverage will be about 25 miles and the hours of operation will be 7 a.m. to midnight weekly. Sunday broadcasts will be 8 a.m. to 11 p.m.

A full schedule is being planned by Willard Wichers, program director. Local talent and events will be used extensively and a contract has been made for a full-time Press association news wire. No plans have been made for network programs. It is believed that Holland area has sufficient talent and interest to maintain a local station. Sunday will include religious programs shared by the local and nearby churches.

Obtaining a full-time frequency from the Federal Communications commission represents an achievement for the six local owners. For more than a year they have been filing forms and exhibits and making field intensity measurements to show that a station could be operated here without undue interference to existing stations.

Work was started a few days ago on making a road in the swamp north from Fourth St. between Central and College Aves. This is where the tower will be located. Studios and transmitter are expected to be in the penthouse on the Warm Friend Tavern. Major equipment has been ordered and every effort is being made to build a station which will have highest performance, according to the engineer, Millard Westrate, and Nelson Bosman, the technician. Other members of the group are W. A. Butler, I. H. Marsilje and P. T. Cheff.

Knipe Station Has Parking Feature

Parking accommodations for 50 cars is a feature of Knipe's Super service special parking lot at the northwest corner of Seventh St. and Central Ave. Harry F. and Al Knipe, owners and operators of the station, offer a special service feature for downtown shoppers. While their customers are shopping, the station attendants wash, grease and service the cars and upon completion place them in the parking lot.

Snappy and friendly service is given by the four full-time employees and two part-time employees at Knipe's Super Service station.

Standard products have been sold at the station since June 1. The owners said they have a nice supply of batteries at the present time, an item that is becoming scarce.

The service station has been in the present location since 1910. Fifteen years ago the owners built their modern station where they specialize in washing, greasing and polishing cars.

Volley From Ambusher

AS A PARTING volley to National Newspaper week the Ambusher feels a few minutes spent on features of newspapers might be profitable. More formal writers have already told you about news, editorials, the composing room and press rooms. And you have been told about the "Little Merchants" who get you The Sentinel, rain or shine, within a few minutes after the presses start.

The features include comics, the crossword puzzle, "You're Telling Me", "Day's Thought", the columns by nationally known writers, and so on.

Almost everybody reads the comic page of a newspaper. And there are hundreds of comics to select from. You may have noticed a few changes have been made in the comic page of The Sentinel. No change is made without an exhaustive study of the comic strip to be selected for content, draftsmanship and interest.

Some features become permanent fixtures in newspapers because of reader acceptance. Others may be dropped because after a fair trial they fail to live up to advance notices.

Some newspapers have tried to drop such features as crossword puzzles, but few have succeeded, because of the popularity of the feature.

As much effort is made to strike a good balance in feature material as in news. No feature is expected to interest everyone, but those that attract the greatest interest are those that continue in papers year after year.

The Sentinel is one of few daily newspapers to carry a daily feature on religion. "Day's Thought" has long been a must on the editorial page.

Maybe it was a coincidence, but the Ambusher's son had his birthday during National Newspaper week. The feminine readers will, perhaps, give a sigh when they learn that for hours afterward the Ambusher couldn't sit down anywhere for fear of crushing a handful of peanuts overlooked by the small fry.

But it was rather pleasant to slip into the kitchen and swipe a piece of cake and a glass of cold milk.

If it's anything the Ambusher is a sucker for, it is onion soup. So when onion soup appeared on the eatery's bill of fare the Ambusher said "yes." After enjoying it to the last spoonful, he then remembered he was due at a wedding in a few short hours!

It wasn't at this wedding, but at one a day or two before that the singer choose "Look Not Back" as one of the songs to sing. The office cynic said that one was for the bride and that a companion number, "Look Not Ahead" should be sung for the groom, what with bills and apartments and no nights out and so on.

The Ambusher has been asked about how Centennial park got its name. And the best answer immediately available is that it was dedicated to the Centennial year of the nation.

The Ambusher ought to tell you a joke that was pulled on Dick Boter on one of those guessing contests. He knew the answer and so does the Ambusher now, but it was the prize he was offered that prohibits telling it in full. Ask Dick because the punch line is priceless.

And this one was pulled in a speech at a farm bureau meeting. Several speakers had discussed at considerable length the mutual problems of rural and urban folks. Then a speaker arose who was, to say the least, on the big side.

"One of the problems I have mutually with rural folk is food. You rural folks are concerned with the production of more food; I am concerned with the problem of consuming your surpluses. From the looks of my figure you can easily determine we both are doing a magnificent job."

New Linoleum On Council Floor

Laying of new linoleum on the floor of the Council chambers in the city hall Wednesday marked the completion of the modernization program which has transformed the heretofore large noisy room into an attractive hall with acoustical problems at a minimum.

The new floor has alternating 10-inch squares of black and green with marbled effects. In other improvements, the 18-foot ceiling was lowered six feet and acoustical board applied. Walls were painted a soft green, and woodwork, desks and railing were refinished. An electric clock and fluorescent fixtures also were installed.

Ald. Edward Prins, in reporting on latest improvements, displayed an old brass cuspidor which he had found in the city hall attic. The 12-inch high spittoon was polished to its former elegance and reposed on Prins' desk in snobbish contrast to the plain glass ash trays now used by the city fathers.

Prins also reported a new stocker had been installed in the city hall and new rubber treads on the west stairway.

City Signs Lease With Owner of Tower Building

A 25-year lease with the owner of the Tower building at a rate of $1 per year was approved by Common Council at its regular meeting Wednesday night but final action on selection of a clock was deferred two weeks to allow more bids to be submitted and obtain further information on needed replacements.

The lease covers only that section of the tower occupied by the clock.

Ald. L. C. Dalman, head of the Civic Improvements committee, presented two bids, one for an electric clock movement using present dials and hands, and another for four completely new electric clocks and needed case-repairs.

The two-week delay was voted after several councilmen felt other firms and concerns would probably be interested in submitting bids.

Ald. Melvin Van Tatenhove, a member of the Civic Improvements committee, offered some criticism on procedures in the Tower clock issue and suggested bids be advertised.

With considerable enthusiasm, Council approved a recommendation offered by Ald. A. A. Nienhuis, chairman of the Park and Cemetery contact committee, to accept an offer from the Netherlands government for 25,000 tulip bulbs for payment of freight and duty. He said these costs would amount to approximately $300.

Ald. John Beltman said the bulbs already were in this country and would arrive here shortly. It was pointed out that the Park and Cemetery department is able to provide manpower for planting the bulbs this fall.

Council voted to vacate an alley between 30th and 31st Sts. west to Central Ave. and set Nov. 5 as a date for public hearing.

In routine business, council approved an application for a license to sell soft drinks by Brookhouse Super Service, 310 Lincoln Ave. A communication from McBride Insurance, agency pertaining to robbery and burglary insurance carried by the city on city treasurer monies was referred to the Ways and Means committee with power to act.

A communication from Michigan Hospital service regarding expansion of service to employees to include surgical service, provided 75 per cent of the employees apply, was referred to the Ways and Means committee.

A communication from Standard Oil Co. requesting permission to erect a flood light pole at Central and Ninth was referred to the Public Safety commission.

The annual report of the Michigan Municipal league was accepted and ordered filed.

Mayor Ben Steffens and Clerk Clarence Greengrove were instructed to sign the 1947-48 maintenance contract with the Michigan State highway department.

Council granted permission at no cost to the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the use of River-view park the evening of Oct. 31 for the annual Halloween party and to conduct the annual chain of dimes campaign Oct. 18 and 25.

Claims and accounts totaled $12,710.36. Other claims were $5,717.76; library board, $648.70; park and cemetery, $5,867.66; Board of Public Works, $112,326.80. The latter claims included a large shipment of coal. The city treasurer reported BPW collections of $31,266.77; miscellaneous collections of $42,768.61; school taxes, $672.27, and city taxes, $584.59.

Local Mission Societies Hold October Meetings

Mrs. Gerald Nykerk, missionary home on furlough from Kuwait, Arabia, addressed two local missionary societies here Wednesday. She spoke to the 100 women who attended the annual fall luncheon of the Women's Missionary society of Trinity church Wednesday afternoon, giving an interesting review of the work done by missionaries in that part of the world. She stressed the joy of service in Christian work in a country in which only five out of every 100 have heard of Christ.

Mrs. H. D. Torkeurst presided at the business meeting and program. Mrs. Lester Kuyper conducted devotions and Mrs. Peter Veltman, accompanied by Mrs. Harold Beernink, sang "Going Home" and "He Smiled on Me."

Mrs. Nykerk also talked about her work at Kuwait before 38 members of the Maplewood Reformed church Missionary society Wednesday night in the church parlors.

Mrs. James Baar, president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Marvin Dobben conducted devotions. A trio composed of Mrs. Harvey Kronmeyer, Mrs. Julius Sale and Mrs. Paul Baker, sang two numbers.

Four new members were added to the membership roll. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Arthur Boeve and Mrs. Albert Overbeek.

Miss Clara Reeverts gave an interesting review of the fascinating book, "A Brother Is a Stranger," by the Rev. Toru Matsumoto, before members of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary in Third Reformed church parlors Wednesday night. Rev. Matsumoto appeared in Third church in November, 1946. Pearl Buck, distinguished author, considers this the most comprehensive book on Japan, Miss Reeverts explained.

Former Local Man Gives Parents Airplane Trip

Of interest locally is the news that John Harold Vander Schel, formerly of Holland, is making his return flight to California after flying his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Vander Schel of 404 Van Raalte Ave., to Holland from Oceanside, Calif.

Vander Schel has been connected with the airplane business, both flying and building, for 12 years. He was a test pilot for Lockheed during the war and is now in the plane repair business. He also acts as flying instructor to former GI's who are learning to fly under the government program.

He combined both business and pleasure on this trip as he was navigator and instructor for flying student Earl Prentiss of Buffalo, N.Y., who still needed a cross country flight to complete his flying course. This also gave the latter a chance to visit his parents in Buffalo, whom he had not seen for three years.

There have been only 2,500 half-grams of radium—less than three pounds—produced in the world since the time of the Curies' experiments.

Hurricanes Lose To Flint Eleven

Holland's injury-riddled Hurricanes, gave a good exhibition of football at Flint Wednesday night, even though they were defeated 19-0 by the Falcons. The contest was close throughout with no score recorded until the middle of the second period. It was Holland's third loss against one victory.

Flint notched their initial touchdown midway in the second period when the locals fumbled on their own 30-yd line and Flint recovered. After a series of line plays, Willie Hamilton, All-State halfback from Flint Central, then went over for the score. Incidentally this was Hamilton's first game with the Falcons. A blocked punt late in the second quarter accounted for the second Flint score. The blocked kick rolled into the end zone and a Flint man landed on the ball for the touchdown. They converted, making the score 13-0.

With only seconds remaining in the first half, Holland drove to the Flint one-foot line, but an off-side penalty removed all chances of a score.

The Hurricanes looked good in the third quarter as they stopped Flint's fleet footed Hamilton with virtually no gain. Holland, several times, drove within the Flint 15-yd line, but failed to reach scoring territory. Flint's final touchdown came late in the fourth quarter as a result of a sustained march down the field. They failed to convert, accounting for the 19-0 total.

Books was satisfied with his team's play, especially with Jack Westerhof, rookie quarterback who raced 65 yards Wednesday night on an intercepted Flint pass. Books said, "We didn't have the replacements Flint had, and we became a bit worn out, while they always had a fresh ball club."

Flint garnered 13 first downs while the locals managed to get eight.

September Sets Five-Year Mark, Bureau Reports

High Average Rise Recorded Last Month; Still 10 Rainy Days

Outside of the fact that the month of September showed a higher average maximum temperature, than did any other September in the last five years, there were no other outstanding marks established. This fact was shown in the monthly weather report released by the local weather bureau station at Hope college.

The highest level attained by the mercury in this area last month was 91 degrees compared with the five-year high of 92 degrees set in 1945. The lowest record in the five-year period was 85 degrees in 1943. Lowest mark hit by the mercury, was 30 degrees, compared to 29 degrees in 1945 and 1946. Average maximum temperature for the month and a new five-year high was 77.8 degrees. Its closest rivals were the 76.4 set in 1945 and the 76.3 in 1944. September's average minimum was 55 degrees. Overall average temperature for the fall month was 66.4, which was higher than the 65.2 recorded in 1944 and the 62.6 in 1945.

With 10 rainy days accounting for 6.61 inches of precipitation, the month gives the impression of being dreary and gloomy. The amount of rain was considerably higher than that of other years, but still fell short of the 6.74 inches registered in 1945. Only 1.97 inches fell during September 1946. There were 10 clear days and 14 partly cloudy.

Some sort of a phenomenon, for the last five years at least, was recorded last month, however. A total of five thunderstorms were observed, compared to no such occurrences in any of the Septembers, 1943-1946.

Fall has arrived and the winter isn't far distant—just a reminder that again the seasons have completed their cycle. It is not too long ago, at least it seems so, that we were asking for warm, sunny bathing weather. Now we have all taken our "dips" and are turning our thoughts to ice, and all the enjoyment that it may bring, or all the grief it may cause.

Here's Warm News-You Won't Freeze This Year

The city won't freeze this winter, but the better grades of coal will be scarce.

This is the opinion of coal dealers of Holland who aren't worried about the scarcity of highest grade solid fuels. One dealer said he had a good supply of coal on hand although the Pocahontas variety was scarce. He expects a shipment of 7,500 tons additional coal soon. When asked if he was taking on any new customers, the dealer said he took them "as they come."

Another coal dealer said he has a good supply on hand now. He said he was receiving the regular shipments of coal although they are not running according to schedule. Regular customers are being supplied with the Pocahontas coal. New customers cannot be assured of this type of coal but will have to be satisfied with the soft coal of which there is ample supply.

The oil outlook is somewhat darker although here also, there is no cause for panic. Although many oil dealers in this vicinity are not taking on new customers, they expect to keep their regular customers supplied with fuel oil this winter.

All oil dealers contacted said they had a good supply of oil on hand and expected to keep their regular customers supplied this winter if the situation doesn't change.

One expressed the opinion that the supply of fuel oil would be about the same as last winter.

Englishwoman Speaks To Woman's Club Group

Emilie T. Jacobson, of London,

England, "the little lady with the big personality," entertained the 240 women who attended the opening Women's Literary club luncheon in the Warm Friend Tavern Tuesday afternoon with her amusing talk, "England As I Left It—America As I Found It."

Painting a tragic picture of England, where privations are greater and more inconvenient than during the war, and where the fuel shortage affects the economy of the nation and that of all of Europe, the speaker declared that nevertheless "you cannot douse the spirit of the British people." She stated that former Prime Minister Churchill never was repudiated by the English people. Though personally popular, it was his coalition government that was overthrown. She expressed confidence that "we are not witnessing the fall of the British empire."

Turning to the American scene, the speaker, who is a trained actress as well as journalist, emphasized the abundance of all things in America. "Your young people are the favored ones and should be taught to appreciate their blessings," said Mrs. Jacobson. In referring to American women as the "most organized," she suggested that they do not realize the enormous power and influence of the two million club women in the country. She predicted a day when, with the proper crusade and an inspired leader, their hidden strength will be realized.

The speaker lightened the serious aspects of her talk with humorous comments on American ways as viewed by a visitor. She closed with a plea that "the two great English-speaking peoples can stick together as they travel down the road to lasting peace."

Mrs. John K. Winter, club president, extended greetings and announced a membership of 509, largest in the club history. She reviewed summer activities of the club and outlined opportunities for service in the various club committees. Mrs. Henry Steffens gave the invocation.

Tables were decorated with garden flowers by Mrs. L. G. Stallkamp and Mrs. A. A. Vlascher.

Local Man Again Heads Church Organization

Charles R. Sligh, Jr., was re-elected president of the Churchmen's Association of the Diocese of Western Michigan at the annual meeting of the association Tuesday night in the Rowe hotel, Grand Rapids.

Guest of honor was the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, D.D., presiding bishop of the Episcopal church and formerly chairman of the Army and Navy commission of the Episcopal church during World War II, who addressed the 500 clergymen and laymen from all parts of the diocese.

It was the first time in 11 years that a presiding bishop visited the diocese. Bishop Sherrill was introduced by the Rt. Rev. Lewis Bliss Whittemore, D.D., Bishop of Western Michigan. During their student days, the two were schoolmates at Yale University and Cambridge Theological seminary.

In his address, the presiding bishop declared he was "all for the United Nations" but that the sickness of the world was a "spiritual sickness which cannot be cured by political or economic schemes." It is the church that keeps alive the spiritual glow which otherwise the world would put out. The cause of the church is even more important than democracy for which so many thousands laid down their lives, he said.

Christians must stop indulging in vague generalities and actually practice "specific acts" called for by Christianity, he emphasized.

Dignitaries seated at the speakers table were: The Rev. Canon Franklin Smith, diocesan historiographer; the Rev. William A. Simms, president of standing committee of the diocese; Mrs. Ralph J. Teeter, Cadillac, president of the Women's organization; Burritt Hamilton, Battle Creek, chancellor of the diocese and former law partner of Gov. Kim Sigler.

Among the new clergy to be introduced were the new Episcopal chaplains at Western State college, Kalamazoo college, Ferris Institute and Albion college. The monastic orders were represented by Fr. Francis and Fr. Patrick of the Order of St. Benedict at St. Gregory's Priory, Three Rivers.

Lee Holton of Kalamazoo, vice-president of the club, presided in the absence of Mr. Sligh. The local parish was represented by the Rev. and Mrs. William C. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. William Slater, Mrs. Maurice Brower, Mrs. George Copeland, Mrs. Egbert H. Gold, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Yost, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Hohl, Roy Stevenson and Sam Pickens.

Mrs. Japinga was presented with many useful gifts which she opened under a pink and green umbrella, hung in the archway.

The evening was spent in playing games, and a two-course lunch was served by the hostesses.

Guests were the Mesdames Dena Overweg, Dick Rotman, Ed Van Der Yaght, Peter Steggerda, Ed Pelon, Ken Matchinsky, John Overweg, Carl Visser, Rance Overbeek, Marvin Overweg, Frank Eby, Otto Dressel, Clarence Wagner, John Japinga, Walter Siedelman, Henry Van Ry, William Hollier, Ernest Vandenberg, Simon Michiele, John Walters, Dick Japinga and Harold Japinga. Recruiter Lists New Cadet Training Course

A new aviation cadet training class will start Oct. 15 at Randolph Field, Texas, and applications are now being accepted, it was announced here today by First Sgt. Claude R. Bell, local recruiter.

Each class starts with 500 cadets, and men completing the 12-month course are commissioned second lieutenants and assigned flying duty with the United States Air Force.

Admission standards for cadet training are high, Sgt. Bell said. Only unmarried young men now living within the continental limits of the United States, are eligible. Applicants must be between the ages of 20 and 26. They also must have completed at least one half the credits leading to a degree from an accredited college or university, or be able to pass an educational examination given by the air force. Men with the required college credits are exempt from taking this examination. Excellent character, a sound physique, and good health also are required.

Restaurants Here Await Trends in Food Program

Restaurant owners here generally are ready and willing to cooperate in the food conservation program, but will observe trends in Western Michigan before following a set program, it was decided at a meeting of restaurant owners and drive-in operators this morning in Chamber of Commerce headquarters.

Ralph Cumerford, representative of the restaurants on the board of directors of the Retail Merchants' association, said owners are chiefly concerned with drive-ins and small sandwich places.

"We don't want to work hardship on small operators or force them to close on Tuesdays. After all, the program is not designed to create unemployment," Cumerford said. He also pointed out that nearly all restaurants are closed on Sundays.

Operators, however, did agree on the "bread-saving" issue of President Truman's program, but amended it to the point where waitresses will ask patrons how much bread they want.

The opinion was expressed at the meeting that the program is more designed for the housewife than commercial establishments.

Cars, Trucks Involved In Two Accidents

Two drivers were given summonses for failure to yield the right of way following accidents in Holland Thursday.

Fred Kobes, 41, of 122 West 20th St., received rib bruises when the BPW truck he was driving collided with a car driven by John W. Styf received a summons. Police records show that Styf's car skidded 30 feet after the point of impact.

A delivery truck driven by Frank Aloysius Millnamow, 27, Detroit, and a car driven by Hessel Bremer, 66, of 349 Columbia Ave., collided at 12:15 p.m. at Ninth St. and College Ave. The Bremer car, going east on Ninth, was damaged on the right front, and the truck, traveling north on College, was damaged on the left side. Daily Newspaper Pleads Its Cases Before Readers

A WITTY MAN once called his hometown paper "the poor man's attorney."

It is altogether fitting that this waggish definition of one of the functions of a free and democratic press be recalled during National Newspaper week. Because a newspaper pleads its causes before the bar of public opinion with its readers as jurors.

The American press traditionally bases its freedom and its obligation to air wrongs on a court case pleaded in August, 1735, when John Peter Zenger won acquittal and was released from jail after being charged with seditious libel by British Colonial Governor Crosby. Crosby had taken exception to Zenger's attacks on his administration of the New York colony.

Today, as in those turbulent pre-Revolutionary times, a free and vigorous press stands ready to protect the individual rights of any person or group of persons. True, not all papers discharge their obligation with equal energy, but the very fact that a free press exists is a deterrent to the unscrupulous or the over-ambitious.

NEWSPAPERS HAVE reached high into public office to topple the greedy from their thrones. It was a courageous newspaper that publicized the Teapot Dome steal. An enterprising reporter enrolled in a "diplomat mill" and received a medical degree in less than two months. A police reporter solved a particularly vicious murder of a student in an Ohio college.

Yes, this is big stuff. Crusades like these lead to public acclaim and Pulitzer prizes. But there are less spectacular crusades going on in every community that is fortunate enough to have an honest hometown newspaper.

A shoeshiner is bled by a loan shark. A story appears in the paper setting forth facts as honestly as an objective reporter can determine them. An aroused public opinion forces redress. A widow is evicted from her home. Another reporter prints the facts without bias or malice. The public does the rest. Perhaps public opinion this time decrees the subscription of funds.

A NEGRO is bilked in a lottery by a service club. In this case a weekly newspaper defied postal regulations and printed the story. This story was reprinted in every first class newspaper in America, every one of which was in technical violation of postal regulations. And were they punished? No. Their righteous indignation forced a change in postal regulations.

Not because the papers were interested in lottery as such, but because an injustice had been done that must be corrected.

Yes, it can be assumed that a newspaper does plead a case now and then, but only before a jury of its readers. And papers do not always win their cases. But they'll try again another day.

Lake Michigan Erosion Reviewed In Army Report

U.S. Engineers Hold Macatawa Washouts Not Caused by Approaches

Final reports of U.S. Army engineers on erosion problems at Macatawa park, a situation which resulted in a public hearing in the Holland city hall Jan. 30, 1945, have been forwarded to Harry Harrington, chairman of the Holland Harbor board, by Rep. Bartel J. Jonkman.

The unfavorable report, filed last May 19 by Army engineers, was forwarded to Rep. Jonkman last month prior to transmission of the report to Congress. In his letter to Jonkman, Lt. Gen. R. A. Wheeler, chief of engineers, said a copy had been furnished to Gov. Kim Sigler for comment before the report is submitted to Congress.

The detailed report reiterates previous reports from investigating engineers that outer harbor structures at the entrance to Holland harbor are not responsible for erosion of the lake shore in that vicinity to any determinable extent and that alteration of structures as a means of preventing shore erosion is not warranted at this time.

Early surveys, supported by views of residents of the area, indicated that the entire shoreline in the vicinity of Macatawa park was receding because of erosion from natural causes prior to construction of the harbor structures. Comparison with later surveys indicated that pronounced accretion had occurred within several thousand feet north of the north pier and 1,200 feet south of the south pier. Beyond this 1,200-foot point erosion of the shore line has continued at approximately the same rate as prior to construction of outer harbor structures.

The survey was made by the War department's Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors in connection with a resolution adopted by the Committee on Commerce of the U.S. Senate Nov. 10, 1944.

The report reads in part: "Local interests desire that beaches at Macatawa park be protected against erosion and that their property be restored. They contend that those beaches have been washed away since the outer harbor structures were built as a result of currents set up by the south pier. As means of relief, they suggest construction of piers, jetties, and groins near points of greatest erosion; a breakwater extending south from the end of the south harbor pier; and snow fences on the hillsides where damage has occurred. No local cooperation has been offered."

The report reveals Holland harbor is located on the east shore of Lake Michigan 95 miles north-east of Chicago and 88 miles southeast of Milwaukee, Wis. The harbor consists of a pier-protected outer harbor in Lake Michigan and a channel 3,000 feet long into Lake Macatawa, thence through the lake to a turning basin at the town of Holland, 5.5 miles from the entrance.

"The nearest improved harbors are at Saugatuck, 8 miles to the south, and Grand Haven, 23 miles to the north. Lake Michigan is not tidal but temporary changes in water levels due to wind and barometric influences range from 2 feet below to 2 feet above prevailing levels, and the long-term variation ranges from 1.2 feet below low-water datum to 5.7 feet above.

"The existing federal project for Holland harbor provides for protecting the outlet channel from Lake Macatawa by north and south converging piers 'having lengths of 752 and 801 feet, respectively, 300 feet apart at the outer end and 740 at the inner end; for inner piers and revetments along the channel from the outer harbor to Lake Macatawa 180 feet apart, having a length of 1,755 feet on the north side and 1,639 feet on the south side; and for a channel 23 feet deep from like depth in Lake Michigan to a point 400 feet inside of the entrance between the outer piers, thence decreasing to 21 feet deep at the outer end of the inner piers; thence 21 feet deep into and through Lake Macatawa to the town of Holland, with a turning basin at the inner end 600 feet wide, 21 feet deep within the channel limits and 18 feet deep outside of the channel limits."

"Channel widths are 300 feet through the outer harbor, thence 140 to 110 feet between the inner piers and revetments and thence 150 feet through Lake Macatawa. The existing project was completed in 1938. Federal cost to June 30, 1946, was $452,402 for new work and $74,819 for maintenance a total of $527,221. The latest approved estimate of annual cost of maintenance is $16,000.

"Local interests contributed $2,000 toward the cost of dredging the channel and are reported to have expended $30,000 prior to 1888 for providing a channel between Lakes Macatawa and Michigan; $148,000 in 1939 for dredging and other improvements above the turning basin; and $450,000 more for construction and maintenance of revetments and wharves since 1860.

"Terminal and transfer facilities consist of 8 commercial piers and wharves on Lake Macatawa providing a combined total of 3,495 feet of berthing space. Existing facilities are adequate for present commerce and there is ample frontage for development of additional terminals as needed. During the 20-year period from 1925 to 1944, inclusive, waterborne commerce of Holland harbor ranged from 18,120 tons in 1930 to 137,574 tons in 1940, averaging 68,862 tons annually for the period.

"Freight traffic during 1944 consisted of 123,399 tons including 10,181 tons of cement, 54,817 tons of coal, 57,352 tons of gasoline, and 1,049 tons of miscellaneous commodities. Vessel traffic consisted of 25 round trips by steamers, 308 by motor vessels and 3 by barges, having drafts up to 20, 16 and 12 feet, respectively. The harbor also is used by 160 locally-based recreational craft and a large number of visiting craft."
