Supervisors Ask Return to Old Primary System

Printing on Both Sides
Confusing to Voter;
Too Many Votes Spoiled

Grand Haven (Special)—Michigan voters may return to the twin partisan ballots in the next primary election if the Ottawa county Board of Supervisors and other governmental agencies have their way.

Supervisors Wednesday afternoon adopted a resolution drafted by the committee on rules and legislation asking that primary election ballots be changed from the present system of only one sheet having party tickets on opposite sides, to a system whereby all political parties appear on one side of the ballot only.

The resolution pointed out that the current system was perplexing and confusing to the individual voter, easily leading to spoiled ballots and not expressive of the intent of the voters.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to the governor, state senator and state representative of this district, asking the legislature to enact suitable legislation.

Clarence Reenders, chairman of the West Ottawa Soil Conservation committee, submitted a report for 1949 showing total income of $12,433.41 for the year plus a 1948 balance of $2,140.89. Expenditures amounted to $7,888.99, leaving a balance Jan. 1, 1950, of $6,735.31. From Jan. 1 to Oct. 11, sales and other items brought a balance of $25,040.07, less expenses of $16,377.50, leaving a balance of $8,662.57. The audit was made Aug. 14 by Roosen Accounting Service.

Reenders also revealed the district had planted 17,804,083 trees on 12,823 acres.

This report answered questions submitted in a communication from Mrs. H. J. Kruthof, room 3, Zeeland, secretary of the Farmers Education and Co-operative Union of America, requesting an audit in order to stop present rumors and asking the matter be referred to a committee other than the agricultural or conservation committee.

A communication from Mrs. Esther Lannin Gehrke of Grand Haven, filing a claim for injuries received in a fall down the court house stairs Sept. 25 was referred to the buildings and grounds committee and the prosecutor, Mrs. Gehrke received leg and body bruises, requiring treatment by a physician.

Board Chairman Nicholas Frankena named Probate Judge Frederick T. Miles and Jack Spangler as delegates to a meeting of the Municipal Employees Retiring system in Lansing Oct. 19. Alternates are Robert Kammeraad and Leona Postma.

All candidates for member of the Ottawa County road commission were invited to appear before the board this afternoon or Friday morning to present their qualifications or other information. A new commissioner will be named as the first order of business Friday afternoon.

It was recalled that supervisors balloted all day to elect a commissioner in 1936. It took 43 ballots before final results were announced.

Township Fire Stations Stress Alarm Procedure

"Know Your Fire Department" is the theme of the Holland Township fire department during Fire Prevention week this week.

The three township chiefs, John Vande Burg, Alvin Potter and Bert Schultema joined in an appeal for area residents to learn the proper way to turn in an alarm in order to bring prompt response.

Since all rural alarms must come over the public telephone, it is extremely important that the first call be the right call. Station No. 1 is located on the old US-31 in the Beechwood area. Station No. 2 is on East Eighth St. near Hart and Cooley. Station No. 3 is located on M-21 in the New Groningen area at the west approach to Zeeland.

All telephone numbers appear conspicuously on the first page of the telephone book.

Fire station No. 2 will hold open house Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. to display its fire fighting equipment.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has completed a two-day safety campaign during which members equipped more than 200 bicycles with luminous Scotch-lite strips for cyclists' after-dark safety. Club president Howard Topp announced today the club would continue the service next Wednesday from 4-6 p.m. The idea first was put into practice in 1948, but died out last year. The 1950 safety campaign, Harve Buter and Bob Topp, brought the plan to light again, and conducted the campaign with the assistance of Paul Winchester. Several Jaycees donated time to put on the strips.

—red bars on the back and silver ones on the front, which are visible for 250-300 feet. The strips are applied free of charge and cost the club about 20 cents per bike, officers estimated. In the photo above, five-year-old Jane Dalman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Dalman, 74 East 16th St., critically watches as Howie Topp and Harold Vande Bunte apply the safety strips to her new bicycle. One-Day Hunting Permits Planned At 'High Banks' and Todd Farm

4-H'ers Lead Way In Fire Prevention

Because of the ever present threat of farm fires and the damage caused by them, Farm Fire Prevention week will be held throughout Michigan, as well as the nation, from Oct. 8-14.

Realizing the threat of fires, several members of the Martinsville, Wayne county 4-H club, have already been working on fire prevention projects, and have created a large scale interest in the prevention of fire in their community.

Members of the organization interested in the subject kept scrap books, listing causes of fires and methods of prevention. Trips were made to all 4-H club members' homes for fire checks. Members found faulty chimneys, bad wiring, and numerous other possible fire causes. All were labeled with red signs as fire hazards.

To further promote fire prevention the Martinsville 4-H club had an Achievement Day display at the club's annual spring achievement program, where each member was awarded a blue ribbon.

The first happened Saturday at 11:40 a.m. at the corner of 16th St. and Lincoln Ave. John C. Andrews, 38, of Detroit, told police the brakes on his 1950 model truck locked, pulling him to the right and into a stop sign. Only minor damage was reported to the truck, but the sign was knocked down. No ticket was issued.

Sunday at 8 p.m. at the corner of US-31 and 26th St., a rod gave out on a 1935 model car driven by Albert G. Payne, 20, Mishawaka Ind. Two peaceful tracts of land in nearby Allegan county will become veritable "Times Squares" with the opening of migratory game bird season Sunday at 10 a.m.

They are the so-called "high banks" at Swan Creek Experimental station grounds and the Todd farm (Fennville State Game area).

A new policy whereby one-day permits are issued, will be in effect at each popular hunting site this season.

A total of 160 permits will be issued for geese and duck hunters at the high banks each day during hunting season from Oct. 15 through Nov. 16. And 240 permits will be issued daily for migratory bird hunters on the perimeter of the Todd farm.

However, conservation department personnel advise hunters that goose shooting, won't be "very good" Sunday because the birds fly away from the area before opening hour.

Monday morning shooting starts at 6:29 a.m. Nimitz with regular seasonal permits are allowed to shoot behind the back line of the high banks.

The seven-mile perimeter to the Todd farm had been spaced into 10 separate shooting areas. Just 24 hunters will be allowed in each area for a total 240 daily permits. Headquarters for permits is a special building next to the big barn on the reservation.

Orland Haugen, manager of the Swan Creek station reports that permits will be issued on a first come, first served basis.

Permits at each site will be issued between 8 and 9 a.m. Sunday, and from 5 a.m. on during the remainder of the season.

"There are fewer waterfowl in this area than last year," Haugen said.

The daily bag limit of duck is four, of which not more than one may be a wood duck. The daily bag limit of geese is four, of which two may be either Canada or white-fronted geese, or one of each.

Jury Declares Allegan Will Valid After Five Hours

Unsigned Copy Held
By Holland Attorney
To Be Put Into Effect

Allegan (Special)—A jury Saturday made legal a lawyer's copy of a will made by the late James Kanera of Saugatuck. It took five hours of deliberation and two days of testimony.

The jury's action confirmed the claim of Mrs. Rose Sitzler, Kanera's former housekeeper, that he intended her to have life use of his estate, estimated at $8,500. After her death, by terms of the will, the money will go to the Veterans of Foreign Wars home at Eaton Rapids.

It cut off a brother and two sisters who had appealed the case into circuit court. John Kanera, Saugatuck, Anna Kanera, Detroit, and Mary Penshorn, Chicago, would have been heirs at law.

Issue in the suit was the will which Vernon D. Ten Cate, Holland attorney said he drew up for Kanera in April, 1949. Kanera's copy, according to testimony during the trial, was kept in a black bag in his home. After his death, it was discovered to be lost or suppressed.

The trial failed to reveal what happened to the original will, but evidence convinced the jury its provisions had been Kanera's intentions, and put Ten Cate's copy into legal effect. The attorney's copy was unsigned, but Ten Cate declared he believed the original was in existence at the time of his client's death.

Kanera, a veteran of World War I, was quoted as saying he had great sympathy for widows and orphans; that Mrs. Sitzler was an orphan and he wanted her "to have a roof over her head as long as she lived." Kanera had become a friend of Mr. Sitzler's late husband while both were patients in a veterans' hospital.

Deadline Nearing For Registration

Registration deadline for the Nov. 7 general election is approaching rapidly, and city and township election officials urged otherwise qualified voters to register early and avoid a last minute rush.

Next Wednesday, Oct. 18, is the deadline for registration—20 days prior to the election. Those who must register are potential voters just reaching 21 years of age, newcomers to town, or those who haven't voted in four years and have been dropped from the rolls.

Persons who have changed address from one polling precinct to another must notify the Clerk's office of that change.

City clerk Clarence Grevenoged expects a large registration "because there are so many issues coming up."

To date, 75 new registrations and 70 changes of address have been filed in Grevenoged's office. Assistant Clerk Helen Ter Meer estimated the number is about normal.

Holland township clerk Walter Vander Haar has announced sites of registration for township voters. These are: Oct. 14, Beechwood school, 7-9 p.m.; Oct. 16, Montello Park school, 7-9 p.m.; Oct. 18, the Vander Haar home, 213 South 120th St., 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Park township clerk Nick Stielstra announced similar arrangements. He will receive registrations Oct. 17 at the Dick Nieuwma home at Central Park, and on Oct. 18 at the Stielstra home on Lakewood Blvd.

Conversion Point Decides Scoring Contest in Rain

Appledorn Scores Two Touchdowns in Brilliant Offensive-Geared Tilt

Kalamazoo-Kalamazoo college Hornets proved slightly better "mudders" than Hope's Dutchmen and they splashed out a 21-20 MIAA victory on rain drenched Angell field Saturday night.

A smattering of rain-drenched fans came to watch two high-powered offensive machines work. And they were not disappointed as both teams handled the sloppy pigskin with the finesse of pros.

They amassed a total of 41 points, the difference being in the unerring toe of a Humphrian, 230-pound Kazoo tackle, Conrad Hinz, Jr., who converted after each Hornet score.

Fleet Ron Appledorn of Hope, was far in the way the finest back on the field, as he rolled to 165 yards rushing, scored two touchdowns, and electrified the small crowd with an 87-yard run for Hope's second tally.

The Hornets always seemed to have that little extra stuff, and were never headed, holding at least a one-point edge at all times. Hope had all the better of it statistically, rolling up a total of 321 yards to K-college's 264. Both teams, strangely enough, had the same total of running yardage. The difference was the manner in which Ron Schipper, propelled the soggy ball. Schipper, who is developing into an extremely capable performer, completed six of 10 aerials for 57 yards.

Hope seemingly couldn't brace its defenses to stop the short split T gyrations of the K-backs, especially in the first half when Bob Van Horn, Lloyd Johnson and Bob Simonton ripped the Hope forward wall for sizable gains.

Midway in the initial stanza the Hornets marched on a sustained 53-yard drive which ended in a 7-0 lead in their favor. Johnson picked off Schipper's pass on the Hornet 47.

On short thrusts, Van Horn, Johnson and Phil Dillman carried to the Hope one, from where Van Horn plunged over. Hinz converted. Kazoo 7, Hope 0.

The Dutchmen came right back with a 73-yard march which started in the first quarter and culminated with a touchdown in the second. Little Eddie Leverette broke loose to scoot 39 yards to Kazoo's 30. Leverette, Appledorn, and full-back Tom Van Wingen rumbled the ball to the Hornet four, from where the burly Van Wingen bulled over. Bob Prins then missed the point which was to decide the game. Kazoo 7, Hope 6.

Kalamazoo marched back with the ensuing kickoff for a touchdown. Van Horn and Johnson alternated on wide sweeps with Van Horn tallying from the Hope four. Hinz again split the uprights. Kazoo 14, Hope 6.

The half ended with the teams exchanging kicks. Hope marched the second half kickoff to the Kalamazoo 18 where a fumble lost the ball. After Kalamazoo punted to the Hope 15 and Leverette gained two yards, Appledorn broke over his own left tackle, emerged from a maze of tackles, and galloped 87 yards to score. Prins converted. Kazoo 14, Hope 13.

Not to be outdone the Hornets struck back on a series of nine plays with the payoff a sideline sprint by Johnson for 36 yards after taking a lateral from Dillman. Hinz converted. Kazoo 21, Hope 13.

Schipper unlimbered his pitching arm after the next kickoff. He hit Bob Vischer with a 30 yard aerial, good to the Kazoo 33. A few plays later some quick thinking on the part of Schipper put the ball in payoff territory.

Back to pass and finding no teammates open, Schippers underhanded a short forward pass to Van Wingen, who zoomed to the Kazoo 22. On two plays, Van Wingen rumbled to the 15.

On the next play, Appledorn cut over left tackle, reversed his field and sprinted into the end zone. Prins converted. Kazoo 21, Hope 20.

Hope tried an outside kick as the waning seconds ticked away but Kalamazoo recovered and stalled out the remaining time.

The entire Hope backfield ran well with Appledorn the standout. Van Wingen, Leverette, and Ted Barrett, cavoring at right half, all ran well. Schipper's passing will provide headaches for further opponents. Van der Velde, Meyer and Bocks played fine defensive games.

But the defensive line, especially in the first half, was outtrushed. Hope (20).

Ends—van der Velde, Bauman, B. Vischer, H. Vischer. Tackles—Nyenhuus, Yonkman, Stone.

Guards—Groeters, Droppers, Meyer, Van Hoeven, Beckman. Centers—Campbell, Newton, Nienhuus.

Backs—Schipper, Leverette, Appledorn, Van Wingen, Stouten, Bocks, Frisfeldt, Barrett, Lane, Prins.

Kazoo (21). Ends—Nesser, Steffot, Brown. Tackles—Pierce, Millard, Hinz, Williamson, Burns, Veek.

Guards—Stevens, Sheets, Wagner. Centers—Monier, Grogg. Backs—Winter, Glennon, Van Horn, Simonton, Mario, Gill, Johnson, Tutera, Dillman, Stelle.

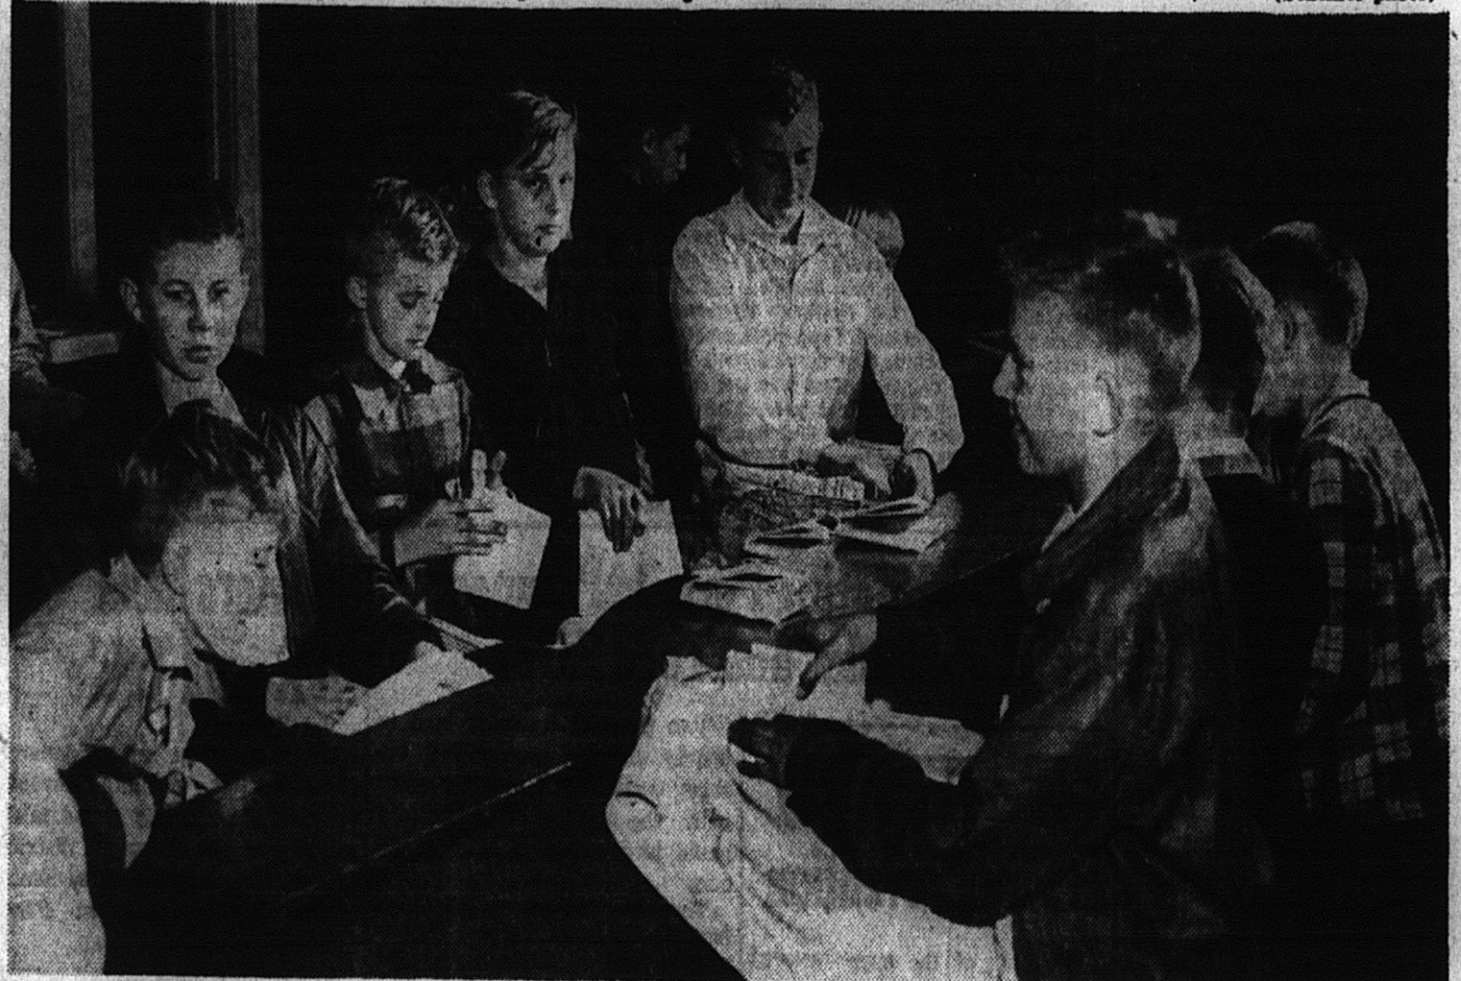

Scoring: Hope touchdowns—Appledorn (2), Van Wingen. PATs—Prins (2). Kazoo touchdowns—Van Horn (2), Dillman. PATs—Hinz (3).

de Pour's Infantry Chorus

Singing Infantrymen To Give Concert Here

The first important concert attraction to spring from World War II, de Pour's Infantry Chorus, will be heard here at 8:15 p.m. Monday, Oct. 16, in Hope Memorial chapel, under the auspices of the college. The tuneful veterans who sang for American troops from Iwo Jima to Bad Nauheim, remained together as a unit under Capt. Leonard de Pour's direction. They are now making their third civilian concert tour of more than 160 concerts.

Organized within the 372nd Infantry regiment at Fort Dix, N.J., in 1942, the chorus gave more than 2,000 concerts for American Armed forces while in service. They visited every theater of war during their three year travels. They sometimes gave six performances a day, in hospitals, on decks of battleships, at hidden bomber bases and drab supply stations.

It was the enthusiasm of the servicemen that inspired the chorus of singing soldiers to stay together as a concert unit after the war. Part of their repertoire is made up of music of the many lands the ex-soldiers visited. Also included are service songs of World War II, contemporary classics, spirituals and songs of different faiths.

Capt. de Pour, who enlisted in the Army as a private and rose to the rank of captain, has been heard in New York as a chorus conductor and organized and led the chorus which was a feature in Moss Hart's Army Air Force stage play, "Winged Victory," in 1944. A native of Summit, N. J., he first attracted attention as an associate conductor of the Hall Johnson choir.

The average chorus member is 30 years old and a bachelor. Twenty members are college graduates, four are taking advanced courses at Columbia university, two at the Juilliard School of Music and one at City college. Most are natives of New York City.

Jail Changes Discussed Again By Supervisors

Leaders Ask State To Clarify Need For Moving Kitchen

Grand Haven (Special)—Overdue improvements to the county jail accounted for considerable discussion at the second meeting of the Board of Supervisors Tuesday afternoon.

A communication from the department of corrections dated July 13 ordered the county to remove the jail kitchen from the basement to the first floor and rewire the jail. Sixty days were allowed for the changes, the matter to be referred to the attorney general for whatever action he deems necessary if the order were not complied with. Prosecutor Wendell A. Miles wrote the jail inspector the board would not be in session until this month and asked the matter be deferred.

The subject was discussed previously on several occasions and each time certain members felt adequate changes had been made. Henry Slaughter of Tallmadge township stoutly maintained that "as long as the jail is sanitary and the food can be prepared, it doesn't make any difference to the prisoners whether it is cooked downstairs or upstairs."

Mayor Martin Boon of Grand Haven suggested the inspector show the buildings and grounds committee and the ways and means committee what is to be done and why, and give the buildings and grounds committee power to act. Philip Nosbach of Grand Haven, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee, felt his committee should not shoulder the responsibility alone but will do the best it can.

William Koop of Holland asked who had the final authority, the federal inspector or the state, and he was informed state has the authority to insist and demand certain changes be made. Nick Cook of Zeeland moved Mayor Boon's suggestion be tabled until next Tuesday afternoon.

Several requests for appropriations were presented. Chester Wells of Grand Rapids, representing the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association, asked for a $500 appropriation. He presented sales tax figures for Ottawa county of $138,620.12 for March and $187,813.14 for July and said the $49,193.02 increase was largely due to the tourist dollars which come from the outside. He mentioned the tourist and resort industry is considered second largest in the state and that the business is worth going after and worth keeping.

Roy Lowing of Georgetown township requested appropriations of $300 for the Berlin fair and $200 for Hudsonville, both for 4-H purposes.

The city of Holland, through William H. Vande Water, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, asked $300 for staging the 4-H rural program. The $150 increase is asked because of Army rental.

The Michigan Children's Aid society is requesting $500; the Michigan department of agriculture, $300 for apirary inspection. Report of the latter department shows 214 apiaries and 479 colonies inspected in Ottawa county the past year. All requests were referred to the ways and means committee.

John H. Ter Avest of Polkton suggested further nomination of candidates for the office of road commissioner to be named Friday to succeed the late Capt. William Ver Duin.

A communication from the De Roo Realty Co. in Holland offering up to five lots adjacent to Tunnel park at a cost of $50 a foot was referred to the good roads committee, with instructions to report back at this session.

Mrs. B. Kruithof Gives Review of Best Seller

A dramatic presentation of a current best seller, "White Witch Doctor," by Louise A. Stinetorf, was given by Mrs. Bastian Kruithof before members of the Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon. Using the first person in her review, Mrs. Kruithof, in her own inimitable fashion, brought to life the story of an American missionary to the Belgian Congo.

The book tells the story of pioneer medical work in the jungle in the words of Ellen Burton, the "white witch doctor," the woman who "lighted one candle for Africa." Hardships of the life in that far off country, the excitement of big game hunting, the amusing incidents of everyday life, all were included in the story and were made real to her listeners by the reviewer.

Mrs. Clyde Geerlings presided. Guy Vander Jagt of Hope college announced a coming attraction at the college, the concert by the world-famous de Paur Infantry chorus next Monday night in Hope Memorial chapel.

Civic Health committee held a work meeting in the club house Tuesday morning. The group worked on cancer dressings. Mrs. E. P. Schneider and Mrs. R. G. Rannels are co-chairmen.

Schools Plan Hearing Tests

During the next three or four weeks the Ottawa County Health department will test all children in grades four through high school for possible hearing defects.

Those who fail this test will be given a pure tone hearing test by a technician from the Michigan Department of Health. Students failing the second test will be examined by an ear specialist. It is estimated 15,000 children will be included under this program.

Figures obtained from testing more than 450,000 Michigan school children show that about 3 per cent of all school children have hearing losses that need attention and 2 per cent need classroom adjustments to compensate for their hearing loss. One per cent are so handicapped by hearing loss that they should have special education-instruction in lip reading, rooms for the hard-of-hearing, or special schools for children handicapped in hearing.

State figures also show that more than 70 per cent of children with hearing losses who received medical attention had their hearing improved and that 50 per cent of those with hearing losses were restored to normal hearing.

In carrying on the tests, special instruments called audiometers have been devised to test the hearing of large numbers of children quickly and accurately. One type of audiometer is a group screening device with which 40 children can be screened at one time. Those with questionable hearing are tested with a different type of audiometer, a pure tone clinical audiometer. With this instrument a graph is made of the children's hearing which shows accurately even slight deviations from normal hearing.

WITH MALICE TOWARD

NONE

"The United States government has decided on a policy of victory without vengeance toward the defeated people of North Korea," we are told in a wire service dispatch from Washington. The only possible comment on that information is that anything else would be unworthy of a great nation. Lincoln fixed the pattern for all time for the attitude of victor to the losers: "With malice toward none, with charity for all."

And don't make the objection that Lincoln was speaking of people who were countrymen. The people of the South certainly bore as much responsibility for the bloodshed and destruction of the war at the close of which Lincoln's words were spoken as the people of North Korea do for the havoc wrought by the present war. If Lincoln could enjoin a policy of victory without vengeance then, he certainly could do so now, and so long as he remained Lincoln it is certain that he would do so. He would remember that thousands of simple people bear no responsibility for the war personally, that they were as much victims of forces beyond their control as were the South Koreans. To make them the subjects of vengeance would make the winners the spiritual losers.

Using the Bible
Acts 8:26-39

By Henry Geerlings

The text today introduces us to two of the most unusual characters in sacred literature and one of the most remarkable incidents in sacred history. It will lead to the consideration of one of the most vital activities of the Christian.

The first of the characters is Philip, usually called the deacon, to distinguish him from the apostle. He had been one of the seven appointed along with Stephen, to supervise the financial affairs and similar matters in the community enterprise of the early church. Then, when Stephen had been stoned to death and many of the believers were driven from Jerusalem by Saul's persecution, Philip had gone to Samaria to preach the gospel.

It was not an easy field. Samaritans did not love Jews nor did Jews have dealings with Samaritans. Philip, nevertheless, found this field white unto the harvest. He had such remarkable success, indeed, that Peter and John were sent from Jerusalem to examine his work and give it official recognition.

In the midst of his Samaritan labors, he unexpectedly received a call to go south toward Gaza, a city on the seacoast and the edge of the desert some forty miles southwest of Jerusalem. En route to this new field, on the road from Jerusalem to Gaza, Philip met the Ethiopian.

Ethiopia comprised all Africa south of Egypt. In the southern part, between the rivers which are the sources of the Nile, was a kingdom ruled by a queen with the royal title Candace. From this country the queen's treasurer had journeyed down the road through Gaza to Jerusalem, and was now returning by the same route. The man was undoubtedly a Negro and a native business man in government service. He probably had been won out of his pagan religion to the Jewish faith whereupon, like all the other faithful Jews, he had, at the first opportunity, made this thousand-mile pilgrimage to the Holy City for one of the festivals.

It must have been as unusual for Philip to see a man riding in his chariot reading Isaiah as it was for him to hear one reading the gospel of John in a motor car. Philip joined the reader eagerly and opened conversation with the very apt question, "Do you understand what you are reading?" The Ethiopian did not. It was one of the Messianic passages in Isaiah, difficult for the Ethiopian, but just the passage which Philip might have chosen. With such a text, the open chariot was his pulpit, and a congregation of one the missionary told the old story of Jesus Christ.

It is possible so to know the Bible. One should approach the Bible with some initial appreciation of its value. This is not a difficult requirement for us for we live among persons who revere the Bible.

But, like many other things we honor, the Bible remains too often dusty on the shelf or unused in a trunk. The general ignorance of its form and content is no less than abysmal. When the typical man examines his situation in this regard he finds himself among the millions who have often lamented that they know so little about their Bible and then continue to do nothing about it.

Knowing the Bible demands study, hard study and a lifetime of it. Careful devotional reading of the Bible, too, is fine and proper. It can satisfy the worshipful spirit of a man and bring him into the peace which passeth all understanding. It may likewise incite a man's zeal to high Christian endeavor. Too often, though, such Bible reading is not careful. It results then in little more than fragmentary acquaintance with a few characters, inexact knowledge about a few incidents, and garbled memory of a few passages. Only this, with perhaps a pious satisfaction over such meager achievement that is false and fatal.

This is not enough. Indeed, it is tragically unfortunate. The Bible is too massive, complex and majestic for such casual handling. Study is demanded if one would know the heights and depths of its glories. There must be study with helps, too. The best teachers possible should be sought and dictionaries and commentaries should be available for every Bible student.

Sometime the church will take Bible study seriously. It will foster with every resource a mighty program of Bible study among the people. Fathers and mothers will study it at home with their children. Young people's societies and men's and women's societies will welcome Biblical topics.

Like showers refreshing the earth and reviving vegetation is the Bible to our souls. Our lives can become very arid as we delve day by day into the material facts and concerns of life. We need the renewing influence of God's message of grace. The rain falls and seeps into the soil. But it does not become lost. It reappears in the beauty of flowers and the riches of grain. So does the Bible fall upon our souls. When it penetrates into our lives, it makes them more beautiful and fruitful.

Paul Schroeder, left, district forester for the department of conservation, helps Gaylord Gilbert set up the first official tree farm sign in Allegan county. The state recognized the Glenn Gilbert 21-acre woodlot as being a well-managed forest. Gaylord Gilbert, son of Glenn, helps his father on the farm near Moline.

State Conservation Department Certifies Allegan 'Tree Farm'

Allegan (Special)—Glenn Gilbert's 21 acres of lowland hardwoods has become Allegan county's first official "Tree Farm" certified by the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Located west of Moline, Gilbert's woodlot is on the farm once operated by his grandfather, and which he took over in 1948. He recently was presented the official tree farm sign by Paul Schroeder, district forester in charge of Allegan State Forest.

A farmer particularly interested in conservation practices, Gilbert qualified for the designation by adapting good forestry practices to managing his woodlot. Besides the elm, beech, maple, oak and basswood mature trees, he has planted pines and walnut seedlings to perpetuate the forest. The woods was cut heavily at the time the farm buildings were erected, and in recent years, small cuttings have been made for fuel wood. Now that he is a tree farm owner, Gilbert will mark the proper trees to cut when needed.

Qualifications to become a tree farm owner provide that he must follow forest practices to assure continuous production of commercial forest crops; must co-operate in protecting his property from fire; must eliminate all grazing in the woodlots; and he must have six acres in one parcel of well established trees.

The people of India today are concerned with the building of a new state of which they can be proud, Bishop Michael Hollis, moderator of the Church of South India, told Century club members Monday night at their opening fall dinner in Hope church parish hall. They will welcome help in their effort only if it will not infringe on their freedom, he said.

Bishop Hollis said they are sensitive about not being treated as responsible people, and due to past experience, they fear economic exploitation. The idea of impartial justice and rights is written into the constitution of the new India. If it will work, depends on the character and integrity of the men and women who work for its accomplishment, he said.

There is no background for such a state in the Hindu religions, said the speaker. It can be found in Christianity, and there lies the challenge to the Christian church.

Character and unity are pretty well to be found in Christian Indians and the recent founding of the Church of South India is a great step forward from prejudices of denominational misunderstandings, the speaker explained.

Bishop Hollis, who is making his first visit to the United States, was introduced by Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, Hope college president, who presided. Greetings were also extended by Mrs. Hollis who told of the changes in the status of women in India.

A group of three songs was presented by Miss Dorothy Ten Brink, accompanied by Miss Jeanne Ver Beek. Both are Hope college students. Arrangements for their appearance were made by Mrs. J. E. Telling. Miss Ten Brink sang "Dawn" by Curran; "Music I Heard with You," Hageman; "Bird of the Wilderness," Horsemann, and as an encore, "My Hero," by Strauss.

The Rev. Ralph Korteling, missionary to India pronounced the invocation.

M. L. Hinga, vice president, asked for nominations to fill the nine vacancies in club membership and Miss Adelaide Dykhuizen announced the next meeting to be in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lubbers on Nov. 6.

Guard Assigned Strength Limit

A new strength ceiling for army units of the Michigan National Guard making possible the appointment of more than 400 officers and 2,000 enlisted men has been revealed by state Guard officials.

This order affects Holland's Co. D, 126th Infantry regiment, in the appointment of two officers and 15 enlisted men, according to company executive officer, WOJG Van Anrooy. The 17 appointments would bring the company to regular peace-time strength over the present four officers and 97 enlisted men.

The new strength for state units now is 10,844, including 1,211 officers and 9, 633 enlisted men. This quota must be filled by March 31 or the vacancies may be assigned elsewhere, the adjutant general revealed.

To reach the March deadline, all unit commanders have been directed to sign up at least one recruit each week. Under recent draft policies, selective service registrants enlisting in the guard would not be inducted.

Board Considers Another Site for Van Raalte School

Present Site Inadequate And Not in Center of Population in District

The Board of Education Monday night approved a recommendation to purchase two square blocks of property in the vicinity of 24th and Van Raalte Ave. as a site for the future Van Raalte school.

With board approval the buildings and grounds committee will make offers to the owners of the property on the basis of an appraisal of $29,158.60 set by a competent local appraiser. When property is obtained, the first unit of the school will be built as soon as possible and the remainder would be built as funds are available.

The property lies between 24th and 26th Sts. running from Van Raalte to Harrison Aves. There are three houses on the large plot. It was pointed out that the present location at 20th and Van Raalte is four blocks from the center of population in the section, and that the necessary amount of property for building and site is not available at that site.

Letters protesting the board's action two months ago to allow social dancing to be included as entertainment at school parties were received from Harderwyk Christian Reformed church, Bethel Reformed church, Nieuwe Christian Reformed church, Maple Avenue Christian Reformed church and East Saugatuck Christian Reformed church.

Some letters went into detail on the dangers of moral issues and others were quite brief in stating a protest. All asked the board to reconsider the action. The matter was referred to the committee on schools for study. It was pointed out that the board is every bit as concerned over the moral welfare of the students as the churches are, and that the new policy on school parties was adopted after years of study and consideration. At the one party staged thus far, games proved to be more popular than dancing.

A request from A. W. Hertel, chairman of the ways and means committee of Common Council, asking the Board of Education to share in expenses of obtaining a master plan for Holland area as recommended by the Planning commission, was referred to the board's ways and means committee for study. It was suggested a careful study of the legality of the question be made.

The board approved hiring Lillian Meppelink of Holland as an elementary teacher. She attended Hope college one year and received a B. S. degree from Western Michigan college. She taught third grade at Godwin Heights two years.

The board also approved of Mrs. Julia Stone as secretary for the Veterans' Institute.

Approval was given a new program whereby a course to be called Social Problems will be offered to seniors during the second half of the senior year. The course was recommended by the Social Hygiene committee which has studied the situation more than a year.

The buildings and grounds committee recommended that fire insurance and extended coverage be placed on the Longfellow addition as soon as possible. Approval also was given a recommendation to have Mr. Van Kammin, superintendent of buildings and grounds of Grand Rapids schools, investigate boilers and firing at Washington school in an effort to alleviate the smoke nuisance. Van Kammin is regarded as one of the best authorities on boilers and firing in this part of the state.

Claims and accounts totaled $74,079.22 of which $34,201.68 went for teachers' salaries and $16,183.50 for buildings and site. President A. E. Lampen presided and Trustee Jay L. De Koning gave the invocation. Trustees Sadie Grace Winter and Vernon D. Ten Cate were absent.

Probation Given In Break-In Case

Grand Haven (Special)—James Bouws, 22, formerly of Holland, who pleaded guilty Sept. 16 to a nighttime breaking and entering charge, was placed on probation for three years when he appeared before Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith Monday.

In addition he must pay $100 costs within 90 days, support his family, keep steadily employed, leave intoxicating liquors alone and pay $3 a month oversight fees.

Judge Smith said he hesitated to give Bouws further consideration, and that if Bouws failed to live up to requirements of the probation a harsh penalty would be meted out. He said probation was given only with the hope of preserving a home. Bouws' wife, from whom he has been separated, had expressed her willingness to have him return to her and their two small children.

SSP Drive Gets Warm Reception

The Single Solicitation plan fund-raising drive is getting a warm reception in Holland's industrial plants, according to first reports submitted Monday at a committee meeting in the Warm Friend Tavern.

The move to wrap up all fund raising drives in a single campaign now includes 45 industrial plants, according to O. W. Lowry, chairman. Lowry reports that four newcomers are on the fund list this year: Bell Telephone Co., A. J. Cook Lumber Co., Scotts Inc., Dunn Mfg. Co.

And many of the old-timers are boosting employee participation for this year's drive.

Charles R. Sligh Furniture Co. has all 60 employees enrolled and Holland Hitch has increased employee participation 90 per cent. There were 65 under the plan last year and that figure has jumped to 101 this year.

Other increases reported were: Donnelly-Kelley Glass Co., 40 to 85 employees for an 85 per cent increase; Buss Machine, 22 to 36 for 72 per cent increase; Holland Racine Shoe Co., 105 to 211 employees for an 85 per cent increase. Holland Cotton Products has 20, or 60 per cent of its employees, under the plan.

The drive which started one week ago is being concluded this week, according to Lowry, and final reports will be submitted before next week-end.

Police Hunt Store Robber

Grand Haven (Special) — All law enforcing officers in this vicinity were put into action Sunday noon after an alarm had been received that John White, operator of a shoe shop about a mile west of US-16 near Nunica, was held up by an armed robber who took his billfold containing about $400 shortly before 11 a.m. Sunday.

White, who lives back of the shop, was approached by a supposed customer who wanted a pair of shoe laces. When he went to get the article, the customer pulled a gun and took White's wallet. He then ordered White into a back room and White, thinking he was going to get shot, jumped at the robber, who threw him off, ran out of the building, got in his car and went down a side road east toward Eastmanville.

White asked a passing motorist to chase the car, but instead the motorist drove to a filling station and called state police. A blockade was immediately put into action by Grand Rapids and Rockford cars as well as the sheriff's department. A meager description of the car and gun was given by White.

Physicians Ask Supervisors to Stock Supplies

Backlog of Bandages, Ointments and Drugs Sought for Emergencies

Grand Haven (Special)—A request from the Ottawa County Medical society asking an appropriation of some $1,500 for stockpiling certain essential materials for use in emergencies under the civilian defense program was referred to the ways and means committee at the opening meeting of the Board of Supervisors Monday afternoon.

The communication, signed by Dr. E. Vandenberg, secretary of the society, suggested that quantities of bandages, ointments, drugs and the like be stored in three areas about the county where hospitals are located. The subject was discussed by county physicians at a meeting of the county medical society Oct. 6, on suggestion of Donald S. Leonard, state civilian defense director.

The first order of business Friday will be the appointment of a new member to the county road commission to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Capt. William VerDuin, chairman, May 13. Five nominees are under consideration. They are Charles S. Lowing of Jenison, former Georgetown supervisor; John Lachman of Conklin, endorsed by his township board and others; James E. De Spelder of Grand Haven, Jacob Smith of Coopersville, and Peter J. Ryenga of Grand Haven whose name was submitted by Mayor Martin Boon of Grand Haven.

A communication from Clarence Greengood, Holland city clerk, asking the county to pay $8 a month for use of city dog pound facilities, was discussed and supervisors voted 22 to 6 to allow the payment. The letter pointed out that Tony Beyer serves both the city and the county as dog warden and that city dog pound facilities are used. Dog kennels and a gas chamber have been built at a cost to the city of $112.

A claim from the Social Welfare department for $109.35 against the estate of Jennie Eding representing hospitalization was waived by the board enabling the executor of the estate to file a final account and close the estate. A request from Soldiers and Sailors Relief commission for a $2,500 appropriation was referred to the ways and means committee. The commission did not ask for an appropriation in 1949, but during that year it gave relief to 43 World War I veterans including 22 burials. Balance on hand is $2,897.35.

Annual meeting of the Michigan State Association of Supervisors will be held in Lansing Jan. 23 to 25. Board members desiring to attend will have their expenses paid.

Chairman Nicholas Frankena will appoint a county officer and county employee to attend the annual meeting of the Municipal Employees retirement system in Lansing Oct. 19.

Fennville's new vocational agriculture school building rapidly is nearing completion, and should be ready for at least partial use this week, according to school officials. Shown above is the scene as workmen put on the metal roof. The lattice-like construction on the upper side of the walls shows where windows will be installed to ring the building completely with light. Clare Harrington of Fennville is the contractor, and the building will cost slightly more than $25,000. Supt. Wayne Woodby said it should be ready for classroom use about Nov. 1. (Sentinel photo)

Fennville School Building Rapidly Nearing Finish

Fennville—Fennville's congested school system will receive a shot in the arm in the form of a new vocational agriculture building now being constructed.

The new building is located immediately north of the regular school buildings on the west Main St. It will measure 441 by 85 feet when completed and will be ready for occupancy in about a month.

Containing a classroom and a farm shop, the construction will cost slightly more than $25,000, to be paid partly by funds accumulated in the sinking fund and partly by loan.

The sinking fund was created when a five-mill tax was voted in 1947 for construction purposes to run for five years. Supt. Wayne Woodby emphasized that there would be no bond issue to finance the building.

The classroom will measure 22 by 44 feet, while the larger shop room will be 63 by 44 feet, and have an entrance large enough to accommodate the largest type of farm machinery. Heat will come from an oil furnace.

The building will be fireproof, of brick and steel construction, with a partial wall of windows completely around the structure. Clare Harrington of Fennville is contractor. Bids were let June 27 and work began Aug. 1.

Woodby pointed out that the building will be ready to use for the annual horticultural show Oct. 12-13. Classes should start in the building about Nov. 1, Woodby said.

He pointed out that vocational agriculture and horticulture are of prime importance to students in the area because most of them return from school to those pursuits. It was decided to build an agricultural building instead of general school building for this reason, he said.

Howard E. Bryant, who is in his third year at Fennville, is head of the agriculture department.

Benton Harbor Scrambles Loop Football Chase

Benton Harbor's snarling Tigers, behaving like they never read the papers and found out that they just weren't supposed to win many games, are turning the Southwestern football picture topsy-turvy.

The Harborites, led by 175-pound Negro halfback Nate Clark, turned in their second straight league upset by tying overwhelmingly favored Muskegon 6-6. It was Muskegon who had to rally for the tie, too.

In another conference thriller, Kalamazoo Central had to pull out all the stops to cop a 20-13 verdict over plucky Grand Haven.

In non-conference games, Muskegon Heights drubbed Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills 19-7 and Holland fought back to tie Grand Rapids South 20-20.

Muskegon Heights now leads the league with a single victory against no defeats. Muskegon also has one victory but has been tied.

League Standings:

Lifer Denied Motion To File for New Trial

Grand Haven (Special)—In an opinion filed in Ottawa Circuit court Monday, Judge Raymond L. Smith denied Leendert (Leonard) Vander Jagt's motion for leave to file a motion for a delayed new trial.

Vander Jagt, who was sentenced June 14, 1949, to life imprisonment on a rape charge, complained that on his arraignment in circuit court, he was deprived of counsel, that he did not know his rights nor understand the nature of the offense charged, that he was ignorant of the law and was confused and incoherent in his plea.

The court, in its opinion, stated he is convinced the respondent knew all his rights, etc., as evidenced by the transcript of the proceedings taken at the time of his arraignment.

Spartans Lead Holland Touch Football Loop

The Spartans at East Lansing were jostled from the ranks of the unbeaten but the touch football Spartans of Holland roll merrily along.

The high-powered youngsters ran their victory string to five straight with two comparatively easy victories last week. They whipped Army 18-6 and then slammed Notre Dame 32-12.

In other games, Notre Dame downed the Wolverines 19-13 but the Wolves came back to feast on hapless Army 18-0.

Dick Den Uyl and George Hootges sparked the Spartans in their win over Army. Each scored a touchdown. Tom Ragains registered the only tally for the losers.

Ron Van Dyke was the sparkplug in the second Spartan win over Notre Dame. Van Dyke crossed the goal line four times and threw a TD pass to Den Uyl for the other. Paul Northuis and Larry Den Uyl tallied for the "Irish."

Notre Dame counted its first win of the campaign in its victory over the Wolverines. Larry Den Uyl again led his team, scoring twice on runs of 75 and 25 yards. He also uncorked a pass to Ted Du Mez for the final tally. Bob Saunders was the star in the losing cause. He scampered 40 and 60 yards for his team's touchdowns.

The angry Wolverines, smarting from two straight lacerations, took it out on winless Army in their game. Army threatened but the winner's defenses braced and from then on dominated the game.

Bob Saunders and Duane Teusink teamed up to account for all the Wolverines scoring. John Hoffman played a fine game on defense for Army.

Standings:

Spartans	5	0	0
Wolverines	3	2	0
Notre Dame	1	3	1
Army	0	4	1

Hunters Warned To Watch Catch Of Wild Rabbits

Wild Animals Can Spread Tularemia; Safeguards Listed

Lansing—Hunters—beware of rabbit fever.

That's the caution note sounded today by the Michigan department of health. Some wild rabbits have tularemia. Therefore, it is necessary for hunters to handle all wild rabbits in such a way as to prevent the diseases from spreading.

Tularemia in humans is painful, dangerous and difficult to treat. Hunters can contract the disease by handling cleaning or eating undercooked meat of an infected wild rabbit.

The tiny tularemia germ can seep into the body through the unbroken skin on hands or face and it may enter through the eyes, mucus membranes or the intestinal tract.

Four to 12 days after the germ gets into the body, the patient has chills, fever, body pains and nausea. A sore usually appears where the germs enter the body and the lymph glands become swollen and painful.

In view of these facts, the health department issued the following safeguards for all persons hunting, handling, cleaning or cooking wild game:

1. Shoot wild rabbits which are running—slow moving rabbits are more likely to be infected with tularemia.

2. Do not handle rabbits that are found dead.

3. Protect yourself from the bites of flies and ticks.

4. Always wear rubber gloves when dressing rabbits.

5. Destroy all rabbits whose internal organs are studded with small white spots—it may be tularemia.

6. Cook rabbits thoroughly, so that no red meat or red blood remains. Thorough cooking of the meat destroys the germs of tularemia.

Green Pots Issued To Hope Freshmen

The wearing of the green has begun for members of the Hope college freshman class who must now answer the taunts of "Pot, frosh!" with a courteous bow or curtsy.

The green pots were issued at an all-college event Friday night at Carnegie gymnasium. Frosh president, Monte Dyer, and Secretary Carol Jacobs were the first to get the greens. They were presented by Bill Van't Hoff and James Ver Beek, president and vice president of the college student council.

Issuing of the greens followed a program, arranged by Bob Stoppe, chairman, with Dave Karsten as master of ceremonies. Skits were presented by members of each class.

A complete list of freshman rules was read, including curfew details, dating regulations and the necessary courtesies to be given to upperclassmen. Sophomores, for the first time, will have jurisdiction over the frosh as well as juniors and seniors.

Punishments for violations of freshman rules will be meted out in a kangaroo court. John Van Eenennaam will be judge.

Guard Company Faces Inspection

A 16-man delegation, led by the inspector general of the Fifth Army area, looked over Holland's National Guard company Thursday night and reportedly were well pleased with what they saw.

Co. D was inspected by a party led by Col. Milo Gay, inspector general, and from all indications, will be awarded its usual "excellent" rating. The rating will not be made known for about a month.

Inspectors checked records, equipment and its maintenance, the Armory building, and personnel in rank.

Besides Col. Gray, inspectors included Col. Edward R. Roberts, regular Army instructor assigned to the 46th division; Col. Frank Murphy, regimental commander; Col. Angell, 46th division G-1 chief; Maj. Burkes, regular Army instructor; Maj. Roy Houston, battalion commander; and their staffs.

Last year, Co. D received one of the few "excellent" ratings in the state.

An indication of the 1950 rating might be inferred by the comment of Col. Roberts, who said, "It's always a pleasure to come to Holland."

Tasma Glitters; Leads Dutchmen In Uphill Battle

Bob Tallies Twice, Armstrong Once to Gain Tough Standoff

Holland high was a mighty lucky football team when it walked off the field with a 19-19 tie against a scrapping Grand Rapids South eleven. A lucky team because it had recovered a fumble in the fourth quarter to turn into a touchdown burst but a much luckier team to have a back of the tremendous stature of Bob Tasma.

A well-packed house watched fullback Tasma, every inch an all-star if ever there was one, turn inevitable defeat into a tie with a "football heart" and two piston driving legs. Bullet Bob roamed all over the gridiron, running for two touchdowns and making bone crunching tackles all over the field.

The underrated Trojans had wheeled their "Iron Horse" into the back yard of the unsuspecting Dutch and powered by two monstrous, hard-driving, lightning-fast macks almost turned the trick.

They unleashed huge Hal Johnson and his "alternate," mountain-out Pat Fortune, in a grinding ground attack which seemingly had the locals gasping on the ropes. Gasping until an opportune fumble turned the tide of battle in the last quarter to open the gates for the tying touchdown.

It was a see-saw game which saw South strike in the first quarter for the initial touchdown, Holland tie it up and take the lead 13-6 before halftime, and South came back slugging to tie and go ahead 19-13 before the fatal fumble.

But it was the indomitable running of Tasma which pulled the Dutch through.

South scored midway through the first quarter, when Tasma fumbled and the Trojans recovered on the Holland 29. Johnson, on gallops of 18 and 12 yards carried to the Dutch two, from where he barreled over. The kick was wide.

Shortly after the second quarter opened, Holland marched from their 37 to a touchdown. The payoff came on a coffin corner, 15 yard pass from quarterback Jack Kemper to Bob Armstrong. A magnificent 26-yard run by Tasma set up the score. Ron Dalman aided nicely with a 14-yard jaunt. Carpenter's conversion boot was blocked.

A South fumble recovered, on the Holland 48, set up the next Holland score. Kemper again tossed, this time to the irreplaceable Tasma, who in a brilliant exhibition of open-field maneuvering, outstepped the South second to go in and score. Carpenter's kick was good and the Dutch lead 13-6.

The enraged Trojans came back as the third quarter opened to strike back furiously. An interception gave South the ball on its 21. A penalty set them back on their 27 after some ground plays had gained.

At this point, the 230-pound Fortune, broke loose off his own right tackle, and showing amazing open field agility and speed, steamed 73 yards for a touchdown. His kick for conversion was good and the game was tied at 13-13.

In the fourth period an exchange of punts found South in possession of the ball on their 43. The hulking Johnson, on runs of 23 and 11 yards, spearheaded the drive which carried to the Holland 16. Fortune again hit over right tackle, cut back and scored. His kick this time was wide.

The Dutch cause looked hopeless at this point. They were being rushed off their feet. They hadn't collected a first down all during the second half. Johnson and Fortune had ripped huge gaping holes in the Holland line.

After an exchange of punts, the Dutch got the break they needed. A Guard Rex Young pounced on a South fumble on the invader's 17. On the first play, Tasma circled right end, cut back and swirled into the end zone. Carpenter's hurried conversion boot went wide and the score was knotted 19-19.

The game turned into a rough-house affair with both teams getting set back after roughing penalties.

The Trojans played inspired football, outgaining the Dutch 239 to 199.

Holland high gave the patrons a looksee at a potentially fine passer in Kemper, who turned in an outstanding job of hurling in his first game.

The Dutch line was outplayed out front and did not look like the same forward wall which held Muskegon Heights in check during most of last week's game.

Jack Kuipers and Young turned in fine defensive games. But the blocking, especially on the right side, where Tom Carey was trying to move, was pitifully weak.

Dalman ran neatly, breaking away for several good gains and playing a sterling defensive game. But it was Bob Tasma's night.

For South, Johnson and the ponderous Fortune shared the limelight. Both played outstanding defensive games at tackles, especially Johnson.

No objections were voiced to the Board of Appeals upon the request of Cornelius Klomparsen to convert the home at 244 West 11th St. into a two family home, so the application was approved at a board meeting Tuesday night.

Chix Seconds Run Over Allegan Team

Zeeland (Special)—The Zeeland high Reserves won their third game in as many starts last night tripping Allegan's Seconds 21-7 under the arcs at Allegan.

Frank Dionise ripped to two of his team's touchdowns and converted twice for 14 points. Paul Heyboer went over for the first score.

Dionise and Heyboer were the standout backs on the field while Randy Baar and Nick Schrottenboer played fine games in the forward wall.

About one-fourth of the stoker coals sold annually, about 12 million tons, are used in household stokers.

The Trojans played inspired football, outgaining the Dutch 239 to 199.

One need not go far to revel in the glories of nature these days. This picture was taken looking west from the Waverly bridge at the bend in Black River. The foliage there is just beginning to show traces of color, and the scene will be at its best in the next week or two. There's more color at the moment on the shore road between Holland and Grand Haven, and Allegan State forest is getting ready to stage its annual rhapsody of colors. Plan now for that color tour everybody always talks about but too many pass up. Drive leisurely through side roads. You'll probably get more satisfaction out of aimless touring than following a planned color tour. (Sentinel photo)

Autumn Colors Beckon All Lovers of Beauty

That season is here again—the season when the trees start putting on their holiday dress in a grand finale before winter sets in. Touches of color are rapidly appearing, and those interested in the true beauties of nature should start now to plan a color tour in the next week or so.

Pick a day when the sunshine is mellow and the air is bracing—and pack a picnic lunch. Of late years, Michigan has been capitalizing on color tours and travel bureaus and Chambers of Commerce for the convenience of persons merce industriously lay out routes wanting to enjoy the best in nature.

But the Holland residents need not go far from home to enjoy color. Virtually any side road in the Ottawa-Allegan area will show the bright touches in luxuriant foliage, signaling once again the best in primeval beauty and color.

Tours along the scenic drive north of Muskegon and in the Newaygo area have long been promoted by tourist and resort associations. But Allegan State forest will offer the same colors with less than half the travel.

The recommended tour starts out from Allegan on M-89 northward, catching a view of Lake Allegan. A winding road to the right takes you deep into the forest and up to Swan Creek headquarters. Here you will find the goose and duck sanctuary, waterfowl marshes and wildlife as well as the colors brought out in the hemlock, the yellow sassafras, the red dogwood, stately old white pines, gold and purple oaks and the colorful maples.

Some of the roads are one-way, and many of the roads are tricky. Some say it's wise to pack a compass along with the lunch, the binoculars and the color camera. Any southbound road is bound to take you back to M-89.

Continue on M-89 and take the next curve to Allegan dam with its spectacular views of Lake Allegan again. You will emerge on M-40 about seven miles north of Allegan.

Best known color tours are in the Newaygo area where tours originated 26 years ago. In this section, new routes are marked through the Muskegon river valley and the lakes region of Michigan's Little Switzerland.

In Wexford county where three routes have been mapped by the Cadillac Chamber of Commerce, motorists will be directed through the Chabert winter sports area through Mesick and the Horden-pyle dam section.

Scenic routes also are marked in the five-county Grand Traverse bay region around Traverse City. At Boyne City, the chairlift at Boyne Mountain Ski club will be in operation to carry visitors up the 1,800-foot main ski slope for a view of forest lands around Walloon lake and along the Boyne River valley.
