Don Van Wynens Study Language In Peru Jungle

Work of Mr. and Mrs. Don Van Wynens of Holland in Peru was recently featured in a story in a Chicago newspaper. Van Wynens is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Van Wynens of Holland.

The Van Wynens are living in the Amazon basin with a tribe of primitive Peru Indians, the Machiguengas. They are members of the summer institute of linguistics, a group studying languages of Indian tribes and affiliated with the University of Oklahoma.

The institute, which has headquarters near the Ucayali river port of Pucallpa east of the Andes, collaborates with the Peruvian ministry of education. Members are sent out in pairs for six months at a time to learn the Indian language, teach the Indians and convert them to Christianity.

The Van Wynens and their two-year-old daughter, Ruth, live in an isolated region in a two-room house and communicate by radio with the institute base. A camp plane brings supplies and mail once a month.

The Machiguenga settlement to one side of their camp is made up of crude shelters of wild cane fronds. The Machiguengas, friendly but uncivilized, live on wild game and a few plants and dress in tog-like garments woven by the women from wild cotton.

A school for the children and adults was established last April by the ministry of education, assisted by the institute, and 22 pupils attend. No Indian could count past three before the school was opened. The women paint their faces with dyes from jungle roots and berries, dye their hands and wear beaded jewelry made from nuts, shells and monkey teeth.

The Van Wynens have given the Indians Christian names. They had addressed each other by relationship, such as mother, sister or friend. The chief of the tribe has three wives and many children. The Machiguengas prefer girls, as dowry may be obtained when they marry at an early age, or they can be traded for goods.

Road Budget Lists 3 Local Projects

A widening project on Lakewood Blvd. at a cost of $26,400 is included in the proposed 1955 budget and program of the Ottawa County Road Commission which was presented to the Board of Supervisors this week. The proposed improvement covers 2.2 miles from Old US-31 to 152nd Ave.

Also included in the 21-point program of 1955 construction is a grading and graveling improvement on 120th Ave. from Adams to Mason Sts., and a bridge over Black River at 96th Ave. near Zeeland. The 120th Ave. improvement lists an estimated cost of $15,000 for a half mile, and the bridge will cost $25,000.

The road commission has requested a county allocation of $200,000 this year. Total of the proposed budget is $1,143,000, the bulk of which comes from motor vehicle funds.

The proposed program lists six items under prime and seal, 10 items under grading, graveling and drainage, two widening projects and three bridges, for a grand total of $431,000.

$15,000 Sought

The suit is the result of first and second degree burns on both hands and wrists allegedly received by plaintiff through the use of a tint and dye product purchased from a Zeeland drug store about July 3, 1952, which is a product of defendant company. ## New Assessment Plan Considered By County Board

Proposal Tabled After
Communications Heard
Against Millard Ruling

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Walter Vander Haar, Holland Township clerk and president of the Ottawa county chapter of township officers, submitted a three-point program for new county assessments at the opening session of the Board of Supervisors Monday afternoon.

The three points follow: 1. Have each political unit have a card system to assure uniformity in assessing procedures; 2. Have each political unit bear the expense of preparing this data; 3. Establish equitable rates on buildings, land and personal property in order that assessments be on a comparable basis throughout the county. He suggested these recommendations be referred to the equalization committee of the board.

George Swart, city assessor of Grand Haven and a member of the equalization committee, suggested a roundtable discussion of all assessing officers in the county. Henry Slaughter of Tallmadge Township made a substitute motion that the matter be laid on the table for 48 hours. Several communications from other counties were filed opposing Attorney General Frank Millard's ruling on 100 percent equalization on counties that have fractional school districts.

Neal Van Leeuwen, chairman of the Ottawa County Road Commission, submitted the 1955 budget asking for a $200,000 appropriation, compared with the $75,000 requested last year. He said the present program of building new roads and bridges and maintaining existing roadways has not kept pace with the deterioration and does not meet the needs of increased traffic. John Hassold, Chester Township supervisor, reiterated requests for improving a five-mile stretch in his township. The budget was referred to the good roads committee and the ways and means committee.

A communication from Mrs. Floyd Koopman of Holland concerning care of animals in the dog pound was referred to the county officers committee and the sheriff with a request that they report back at this session.

Supervisor John Van Dyke, Jr., of Holland was authorized to appoint three members to study county traffic conditions in connection with a proposal of the Michigan State Association of Supervisors for a new law to create county traffic safety organizations to be operated by county funds. The board was informed that statewide traffic deaths have increased 49 percent in counties and decreased 3 percent in cities.

Supervisor Clarence Reenders, who voiced the board's objection to reducing the number of conservation officers in the county, informed the board that the state will continue to give the present officer Harold Bowditch, some assistance throughout the year. Ottawa County has had the assistance of three extra conservation officers recently during duck season.

Supervisor Van Dyke reminded the board that it is to appoint a road commissioner to serve a six-year term during the current session. Richard Ossewaarde, route 1, Coopersville, was appointed Jan. 1 to fill the unexpired term of Peter Vanden Bosch, who resigned. The board also must appoint a county canvassing board for a two-year term.

R. T. White of Grand Rapids, representing the Michigan Resort Tourist Association, requested an appropriation. He said competition is keen and the association expects to do more advertising this year in view of the fact that business is 10 to 15 percent less than last year.

Turkey Show In Civic Center

The first district 4-H turkey show will be held in the exhibition room of Civic Center Nov. 11, sponsored by the Community Service committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The event will attract entries from nine counties, with 160 projects representing 4,000 turkeys. The birds will be brought to Holland alive, then taken to the same processing plant for dressing after which they will be frozen. The frozen birds will be judged and displayed in refrigerated cases in Civic Center.

Entering displays will be 4-H's from Ottawa, Kent, Ionia, Barry, Allegan, Newaygo, Muskegon, Mecosta and Oceana. The 4-H display is under the general direction of Michigan State College.

A public auction will climax the day-long show. The Chamber will entertain 4-H club members and judges at a turkey luncheon in Civic Center that noon.

Rotarians Hear Rep. Van Peurse

George Van Peurse, state representative from Zeeland, addressed Holland Rotary Club on "The Duties of a Legislator" at a luncheon meeting Thursday noon at the Warm Friend Tavern.

Van Peurse said one of the most important activities of a legislator is the constant answering of letters. He said there is a continual flow of mail over his desk, with suggestions and requests—90 percent of them strictly selfish, requesting bills that would benefit some particular individual or group.

Van Peurse emphasized the importance of the Nov. 2 election and discussed the four constitutional amendments to be voted on: the first concerning absentee voting for persons who have recently changed their residence; sales tax diversion law; veterans' pension which would benefit about 250,000 Korean War vets, and the Bingo Bill. Van Peurse, in discussing the latter, expressed his feeling that passing of the Bingo Bill would bring about not only legalized bingo, but would open the door to legalized gambling of all sorts.

State Sen. Clyde Geerlings introduced the speaker. Robert Kow, president, introduced Mrs. Catherine Wood of Michigan Children's Aid Society, who spoke briefly concerning activities of that organization.

George Heeringa introduced visiting Rotarians and guests and Randall Bosch introduced visiting Junior Rotarians, Bruce Van Leeuwen of Holland Junior High and Fred Schuurman of Holland Christian Church.

VFW Urges 'Yes' On Korean Bonus

LANSING — An all-out drive to promote passage of the Korean Bonus amendment in the general election Nov. 2 has been put into effect by the Michigan Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Speaking for the organization of more than 75,000 veterans of overseas duty and their ladies auxiliary, Leon B. Buer, Grand Rapids, state commander said: "We have a duty and a sacred pledge to do all possible to get this bonus for the men who fought during the bloody Korean conflict, one of the costliest wars in our history."

Buer called for a unanimous citizenry vote in favor of the bonus amendment.

Provisions in the amendment would give Korean veterans the same bonus which was paid to World War II veterans which was $15 per month for overseas duty and $10 for domestic duty for 60 or more days of service up to a maximum payment of $500.

The provision was voted favorably in the state Senate and House of Representatives almost unanimously, with only two House members voting against the proposal.

The VFW has already put a coordinated plan into effect to promote passage of the Korean Bonus. Final plans will be affected when the VFW holds its annual Mid-Fall Pow Wow in Jackson Oct. 9-10.

Michigan's VFW has also pledged itself to "get out the vote" campaign and many posts in individual communities are initiating campaigns of publicity, tax service to the polls, and baby sitting while parents are voting, including the Henry Walters post in Holland.

Grandstanding...

By Randy Vande Water

Following the tradition for outstanding halftime performances, the Holland High band under Arthur C. Hills, presented a story of television. Included in the sequences were a boxing ring, complete with two battling youngsters, named Bowman and Becker, a candelabra for Liberate and the playing of his theme "I'll Be Seeing You," followed by the band's formation of a horse and the Lone Ranger theme. The musicians concluded with a numbers 714 in large badge for Dragnet and Dum, De Dum Dum.

Six buses brought the Catholic team, the band and fans. About 750 Catholic fans attended the game.

The Catholic Cougars rolled up more yardage than any team the Dutch have played against this year. They amassed 544 yards on the ground and 38 through the air.

Ron Van Dyke and Paul Northuis turned in some good punting for Holland. The duo punted four times for 178 yards and an average of 44.5 a punt. The longest boot was Van Dyke's 54 yard kick in the first quarter.

The Cougars were the third straight team not to punt against Holland. Grand Rapids Union and Muskegon Heights were the other two clubs.

The Catholic Central band saluted Holland with a block H and then saluted the Catholic rooters with a block C, playing the respective school songs, which turned out to be the same tune "Go You Northwestern."

George Lumsden, public address announcer, had his hands full with several of the Catholic Central players. Some of the tongue twisters included Dobrygowski, Przybysz, Feutz, Paskeiewicz and Tomajczyk.

Ottawa Farm News

County Agricultural Agent Henry G. Guernik of Allendale has almost completed a beautiful basement laminated rafters barn erected in place of the one that was burned last summer. The rafters were built of native grown lumber. "We have barn and other farm building plans of all descriptions at the Extension Office for anyone interested. Drop a card if you need some help."

The Western Michigan Guernsey sale held at Marne last Saturday was a success according to the officers of the association. Prices were not high but good. Consignments for the sale came from a number of Ottawa County farmers. Consignors from Ottawa County were Henry Modderman of Marne, Roe Cusick of Coopersville, Harold Jenison & Sons of Jenison and Henry Van Farow of Beaverdam. There were some excellent calf calves sold.

Erosion is certainly showing up after the heavy rains on Sunday. I notice many gullies appearing on slopes in wheat fields. Folks who have used good conservation practices such as across the slope cultivation and across the slope planting have retained more top soil in their fields. Soil lost by erosion takes years to replace. A good soil conservation plan for your farm will pay off.

Two of our 4-H club members are feeding swine for the West Michigan Fat Stock Show to be held in Grand Rapids, on Dec. 7, 8 and 9.

Hog mange caused by mites boring into the hide of hogs causing a rough and scabby skin is cutting down the growth in hogs. Controlling mange will definitely pay. Hog mange can be controlled by using Lindane-72 level, tablepoons to three gals of water of 25 percent wettable powder. Be sure every hog is thoroughly covered.

You can get good results by applying nitrogen in the late fall as in the spring on fall sown grains. This especially is true on crops growing on heavy clay soils. Usually this season is too far advanced in the spring before you can safely get on the wet soggy fields.

Dutchmen Battle On Even Terms Most of the Way

Holland High ran into a state ranked football team Friday night at Riverview Park. The Dutch were whipped, soundly too, but not before the winners, Grand Rapids Catholic Central, knew they were in a ball game. The final score was 39-7.

For three quarters, Holland High played rugged football. By far the game was the best the Dutch played this year, but the lack of depth ruined Holland.

Having no manpower beyond the first string, after the Holland starters tired or were taken out with bumps, the reserves couldn't maintain the pace. Local fans left the park surprised at Holland's showing and complimentary about the spirit displayed by the Dutch.

A sign written on the Dutch locker room wall told the same story. "Good fight fellows, we're still proud of you"—Coaches.

It took two touchdowns for the Holland spirit and fight to come out. The Cougars scored three minutes after the starting whistle with a 21-yard off tackle smash by Frank Huizenga. The touchdown came after Catholic had taken the kickoff and marched for four first downs to the Holland 21. The extra point kick was good.

Denny Cook dashed 47 yards for the second Catholic score. He broke through the middle and cut for the sidelines. The touchdown came with two minutes left in the first quarter.

Then Holland started to really battle. A pass play in the first minute of the second quarter from Ron Van Dyke, Holland left halfback, to Gerald Boeve, right end, covered 23 yards with Boeve smatching the ball in the rear of the end zone. The play climaxed a drive that started on the Dutch 33. Later in the quarter Holland got to the Cougar 23 and 30 but lost the ball on downs and a fumble.

The Cougars longest advance in the second quarter was to the Holland 38.

Catholic started the second half with a touchdown, one minute and three-quarters after the kickoff. Walt Stein went 18 yards around end to culminate a drive that started on the Catholic 44. Leroy Fogarty, Holland sub center, stymied a Catholic thrust shortly after recovering a fumble on the Holland 22.

Stein opened the fourth quarter with a 56-yard touchdown run and from then on it was the Cougar's game. The last two scores came on Cook's 32 yard run and a five yard tackle smash by Tom Hanna. Two of the extra point attempts were good.

Both teams received many bumps and bruises in the rough tilt. The Cougars were penalized 130 yards and Holland 95. Van Dyke, Gerald Boeve, Carl Ver Beek, Chuck Gouloze, Henry Vischer, Carl Kemme, Ed Shidler and Bruce Brink, Holland players, all sat out part of the game with hurts.

Brink, sub guard, is the only player who probably won't practice Monday. He received a displaced cartilage in the right knee. A Holland penalty midway in the third quarter was the local's tuning point, Coach Dale Shearer said after the game. He was referring to a five yard offside penalty assessed Holland following a completed pass to the Catholic two yard line. The play started on the Catholic 25.

The crowd was estimated at 3,800.

Holland Christian Senior Is Victim; Six Others Injured

Cars Come Together At Beeline Road, US-31 Intersection

A 17-year-old Holland youth was killed and six companions hospitalized as the result of a two-car crash at 10:50 p.m. Friday at the intersection of new US-31 and the Beeline road about three miles north of the junction of US-31 and M-21.

Killed instantly in the crash was Warren Gene Nykamp, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nykamp of 38 West 21st St. He was a passenger in a car driven by John Mulder, 17, of 71 West 20th St. The seven young people in the Mulder car, all 17 years old, had attended a freshman reception at Christian High School that evening and had left the school about 10:30 p.m.

Driver of the other car was John Allan Geurin, 39, a Detroit resident who is in the process of moving his family to 958 South Shore Dr., Holland. Geurin was traveling north on the highway and Mulder was traveling northeast on the Beeline road. Geurin escaped injuries but was severely shaken up.

Of the six others injured, most seriously hurt was Janice Mokma, 17, of 74 East 18th St., who received a severe neck injury. She was transferred to Blodgett Hospital in Grand Rapids Saturday. Her condition was described as fair.

Remaining in Holland Hospital was Ruth Bareman, route 2, Holland, whose home is located about a mile northeast of the scene of the crash. She received five broken ribs and lacerations of the scalp and chin. Her condition was described as good.

Treated for general bruises were the driver John Mulder; Arlene Branderhorst of 486 Lakewood Blvd., Yvonne Tubergen of 210 East 13th St., and Jacqueline Ortman, route 6. They were discharged after treatment. The injured were taken to Holland Hospital by ambulance and in two sheriff's cars.

Coroner Gilbert Vande Water said Nykamp died of multiple skull fractures.

Geurin told Deputies Leonard Ver Schure and Ken De Jonge that he was traveling about 45 miles an hour at the time of the crash. He said he had just passed another car and then noticed a car from the left coming at a high rate of speed. He said he knew the other car would not be able to stop and swerved to the right in an effort to avoid a crash.

Mulder told officers he was traveling about 50 miles an hour but previously had been going faster. He said he did not see the stop sign until one of the girls yelled at him.

The impact bounced the Mulder '53 model into the air and flipped it over knocking down a stop sign 88 feet from the center of the intersection and coming to rest 148 feet from the point of impact. Geurin's 1951 model which was damaged on the left front landed 119 feet from the point of impact.

Mulder clung to the wheel but all other passengers were thrown out of the car. Nykamp's body was found 33 feet from the Mulder car. A car door was found Saturday 50 feet east of the place where the body was found, or more than 200 feet from the point of impact.

Geurin said he immediately halted another motorist and dispatched him for ambulances and police, and then turned to aid the injured.

Both cars ended up in a field which is about six feet below the level of the two roads. Officers estimated 300 to 400 persons converged on the scene and deputies resorted to strong words and threats of arrest to keep the on-lookers from swarming the scene.

Ruth Bareman, one of the injured, was a sister-in-law of Roger Nienhuis who was fatally injured in a two-car crash less than a year ago, on US-31 near Benton Harbor.

Let's Plant Beauty--Civic Center Will Have Lawn of Superior Merion Grass

Dick Smallenburg, Park Superintendent, will sow Merion blue grass for the Civic Center lawn and everyone will have a chance to watch its performance. It has been in use long enough now for its superiority to have been demonstrated and those who sowed it several seasons ago are enthusiastic about it.

Through Merion blue grass seed is more expensive than other, it uses only one fourth as much. Smallenburg will use only one pound per 1,000 square feet. One does not fully appreciate the excellence of this grass until the second or third year, as each plant sends out several underground stolons from which new plants grow. The stand of grass keeps growing thicker and crowds out weeds.

Merion thrives in full sun and resists drought well, but it should not be cut shorter than one and a half inches. Some suggest that an ideal time for using this grass seed on an established lawn is during February thaws when the soil is spongy and receptive.

A 19 foot wide curb has been left for landscaping on the south and east sides of the Civic Center's large parking area. The steep slope of this curb at Ninth and Pine presents a problem but Smallenburg is devising ways of preventing erosion. Some stone will be used to build level pockets in which to set plants behind the stone. A good deal of ground cover will be needed to hold the soil with roots and low spreading growth. A great variety of shrubs in this extensive border will give blossom all through the season, forsythias, lilacs, deutzias, weigels, beauty bush, flowering quince, and others. The soil removed from the tulip lanes will fill this embankment.

Hard maples, spaced 50 feet apart, will furnish shade and enduring beauty in all the curbs around the Civic Center block. Flowering and ornamental trees will be placed between them where it is appropriate.

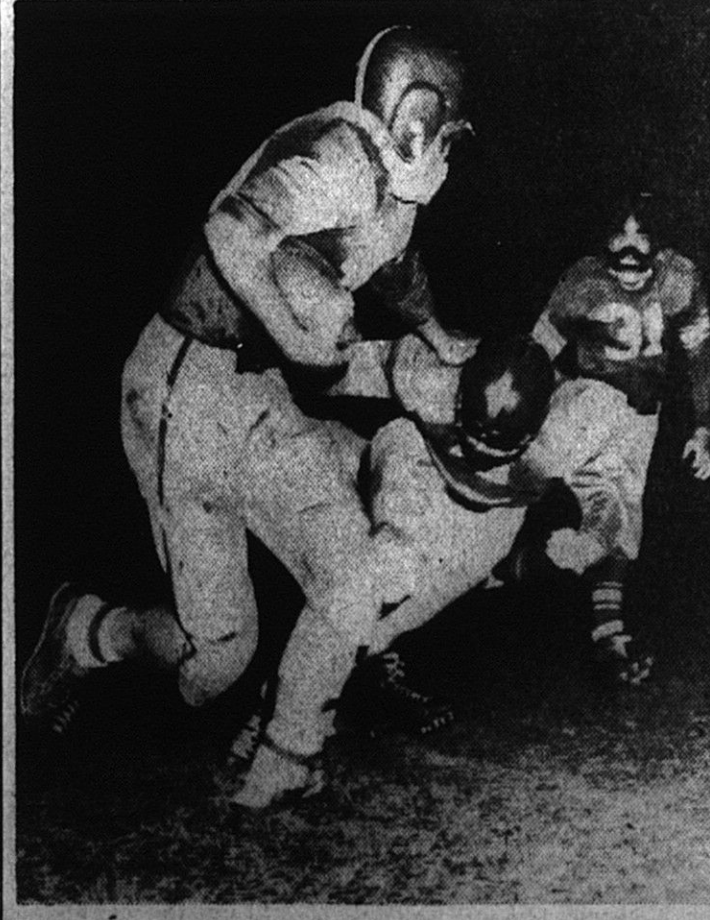

One of the shrubs you will notice next autumn at the south of the entrance of the Civic Center main entrance will be Pyracantha, or Scarlet Firethorn, because of its spectacular clusters of orange red berries. This is one of the broad leaf evergreens which does well in a neutral soil. It needs a protected sunny location. It may be grown as a bush or trained to grow against a brick wall or chimney. As it is thorny and of dense growth habit it may also be planted to block any undesired runway.

The leaves of Pyracantha are smooth and waxy, turning bronze in winter. An advantageously located, well grown plant is definitely one of the most striking fruited plants to be found at this season. When you see one you will want to find a place for one or more in your own yard. Be sure to get Pyracantha coccinea as only this one of the half dozen species is hardy here. It will normally grow twice as wide as its height. Allow five to six feet for each plant.

Dutch Show Power In Knocking Scots Off Unbeaten List

"A team that won't be beaten, can't be beaten."

It's an old saying but it applied Saturday afternoon at Riverview Park. Hope College, without a victory in three starts, trounced previously unbeaten Alma College, 20-7, stopping what was currently the longest winning streak in Michigan college football. The Scots had won eight straight, including three this season.

The win avenged the loss Hope absorbed at Alma last year. The Scots were the only MIAA team to defeat the 1953 Dutchmen. The win made Hope's MIAA crown defense look better. Hope now has a one and one conference mark.

Only twice in the 60 minutes did the Scots enter Hope territory—once on an intercepted pass with 15 seconds remaining in the first half and in the last seven minutes when the Hope lineup was filled with second and third stringers.

The Alma first half advance into Hope territory got to the 19 yard line. A last second pass by the Scots was intercepted and the rally was squelched.

The second time produced an Alma touchdown. Damon Culbert, sub halfback, scored on an off tackle play, going 36 yards. The Alma drive started on the Scots' 41.

A visitor to the Hope practice session last week could see the Dutch were really pointing for Alma. The spirit was obvious at each session. Co-captain Don Vander Toll said prior to Monday's practice, "We'll beat Alma," and that statement was echoed all week. Coach Al Vanderbush added an optimistic note about midweek, reporting the team looked sharp, aggressive and was "up."

On Hope's first time with the ball, the Dutch pushed from the Alma 47 to the Alma 15 in five plays but lost the ball on a fumble. Seconds later, Vander Toll, Hope guard, recovered an Alma fumble on the Scots' 16.

The ball was moved to the eight and Del Grissen, freshman quarterback, hit Ron Wetherbee with a pass. The ball was caught out of the end zone and called back.

Alma punted to its own 42. Five Hope running plays and a 15 yard penalty put the ball across with John Adams, left halfback, driving over tackle from the one. Don Van Hoven's extra point attempt was good.

Hope drove to the Alma 22 for the most penetrating drive in the second period but lost possession on downs.

Dick Gantos, Hope freshman guard, gobbled up an Alma fumble on the 20, in the third quarter to set up the second Hope touchdown. Wetherbee, freshman right halfback, moved to the 15 and then Del Grissen struck Bob Hoeksma in the end zone with a pass. Warren De Witt's kick was good.

Offensively it was Dave Kuyser's day. The 200 pound Zeeland sophomore spearheaded every Hope drive. He gained 116 yards in 19 tries, all through the middle, for an average of more than six yards a try.

Not to be overlooked was the play of Del Grissen, Holland freshman. Entering the game two minutes after the start Grissen handled the club the rest of the afternoon. His ball handling was good and showed only minor flaws, but his passing brought raves. Not a long passer, Grissen completed eight out of 16 passes.

John Holmlund, Hope distance passer, started but was shaken up and Grissen was called up. Duane Grissen, freshman and twin brother of looked good in his own right. An ex-guard converted into full-back, Duane carried the ball seven times, six in succession, and picked up 43 yards.

But the real glory Saturday went to the Hope forward wall. They charged from the start and never let down. The starting line read, Lynn Post, John Hollander Vander Toll, Ron De Graw, Don Van Hoven and Hoeksma, with able assistance from Warren De Witt, Gantos and Paul Wiegierik.

The Dutch line was especially keyed to stop All-MIAA halfback Marv Raab and Bob Hill. Each had scored four times this season. The Dutch held Raab to a net gain of four yards and Hill to a net gain of eight yards.

Holland Student Gets Scholarship

Dwight Alan Kraai, Route 2, Holland, has been awarded a $400 scholarship in metallurgy for the second consecutive year. The scholarship is sponsored by the American Society for Metals Foundation for Education and Research. The scholarship won by the Holland High School graduate is one of 50 awarded this year by the American Society for Metals Foundation. Both United States and Canadian schools are participating.

Donald L. Katz, head of the Department of Metallurgy at Michigan, places great value on these scholarships.

"I believe," he said, "that scholarships of this type help to stimulate interest in metallurgical engineering and tend to increase the number which choose this branch of profession."

A DEFINITION OF "MUD"

When the leaders of both parties engaged in the present national contest signed and sealed an agreement to refrain from slinging mud, they failed to spell out a definition of that little word.

When the head of the Democratic national committee calls the vice president of the United States a "liar," is that proof that there is political mud on his hands? When his Republican opposite charges that certain Democrats are hitting below the belt, is that a case of mud-slinging?

The average American voter in either party would probably say "No"—that is, it would be "No" in reference to the epithets used by the spell-binders in his own party. If he is at all fanatical he may feel that the somewhat impolite terms used by the speakers of the other party constitute real mud.

But a month from now the members of both parties will agree that such charges and counter-charges are not actually "mud." It may not be polite to call a vice president a "liar," in any private relationship it would be truly "muddy"; in a political campaign it enjoys a big discount by reason of the atmosphere in which it is spoken.

The American people are old hands at such things, and they know perfectly well that political epithets must not be taken at face value, regardless of which party uses them.

There are other types of "mud" that do not enjoy such a discount, and that legitimately come under the terms of the agreement signed by the leaders of both parties. The suggestion, or rather unspoken implication, that a presidential directive involving golfer Bobby Jones was motivated by considerations of financial gain is an example of something that at least comes perilously near to being "mud" in the true sense.

But there has been very little of that sort of thing in the present campaign. On the whole the party leaders have lived up to their pledge about as well as could humanly be expected in a contest that raises party temperatures to fever heat.

Gertrude Stein's famous "a rose is a rose" may be paraphrased by some party members as "mud is mud is mud." But the fact is that political campaign mud has somewhat different connotations from those the word bears in the dictionary.

Dr. Rottschaefer Talks On Children's Ailments

Monday evening at Washington School the Community Lecture Series continued with an interesting lecture-discussion led by Dr. William Rottschaefer.

Dr. Rottschaefer chose for his topic, "Stomach Ache and the Child." He pointed out the many causes of abdominal pain in youngsters. After considering the many causes of some of the symptoms to observe, he made some warnings concerning care and treatment of the condition.

The audience had opportunity to ask specific questions at the end of the talk, and Dr. Rottschaefer answered informally to provide as clear a picture as possible for all concerned.

The public is invited to this free lecture-discussion series every Monday evening at Washington School.

Next week, Dr. William Westrate, Jr., will speak on "Allergy and You." The series is sponsored by the local Medical Association and the Holland Public Schools as an educational community service.

The Way of Wisdom
Proverbs 3:1-6; 4:10-19

By Henry Geerlings

The best counsel a father can ever give his son is that which pertains to heavenly wisdom. To advise him how to be careful, how to make money, how to get along well in this world, is good in its place, but it is very deceptive unless it is accompanied with the wisdom that comes down from above. The wisdom of most fathers is better than we give them credit for possessing. The counsel of a good father stands next to the wisdom of God.

We admire the prayer of Solomon. If he had remained true to his spirit he would have left the world a different and better record than the one we have of him. But let us think highly of him for it. An understanding heart is far superior to the wisdom of men. If the heart is not naturally understanding it can be made so through sincere and earnest prayer. Many of our failures will be excused if it can be said of us that our heart was right.

To live prudently is to live wisely, carefully, cautiously and sensibly. We have but one life to live. If we waste or ruin it, we have no other chance and this life is our very own. We save it or lose it. It is and ought to be the most precious thing in the world to us. It is more than silver and gold. It is more than anything else we can conceive. To use it wisely is to make the most out of it.

There is nothing of greater importance to any individual than that of making choices wisely. There are two courses open to us. The one is right and the other is wrong. The one is high and the other is low. We must take the one or the other. The choice is definitely before us. We ought to learn to choose thoughtfully and carefully and wisely. No other act in life can be greater than this.

We would not want to build a house that would soon fall to pieces. That is bad business. We should not build a life that will not stand the test of time. What we should like to be ten or twenty years from now, we should begin to build today. Permanent values come into life when we live long enough with them. It is the things that endure that should mean most to us.

Life is made of choices. We must decide each day some important issue. We may not think at the time it amounts to much, but what we choose at any time may change the future for us. That life is rich which makes a good choice each day. That may not be easy at first, but in a little while it will become natural.

Perhaps never did a man enter upon a public career under auspices more favorable than those that attended Solomon. He was gifted with high natural endowments—a good mind in a strong body, and a soul that loved the Lord. To begin with, he had a good father. David, in spite of serious lapses, was, in the main, a man after God's own heart. Solomon acknowledged his debt of gratitude to his parents. Solomon added certain wise things his father taught him.

Solomon was a diligent student. Not only was he deeply interested in the wisdom of his day. He achieved high scholarship in the natural sciences especially zoology and botany. He was wiser than the Hebrew scholars of his day, several of whom are mentioned by name. He spoke three thousand proverbs, and his songs were a thousand and five. And he spoke of trees, from the cedar tree that is in Lebanon even unto the hyssop that springeth out of the wall. He spoke also of beasts, and of fowl and of creeping things and of fishes.

At the beginning of his reign he went to Gibeon to worship. There he prayed the Lord to give him an understanding heart to judge the people that he might discern between the good and the bad. That his prayer was answered is evident from the wise judgments that followed. With his decision in the case of two women who both claimed the same baby and the wise answers to the Queen of Sheba, we are all familiar.

His teachings on wisdom and righteousness, which he did not separate, are found in the Book of Proverbs. Scores of sayings giving high moral instruction from his pen are preserved. During his early reign he followed them. He was a shining light and inspiration to all the people.

He built the temple and dedicated it to the Lord. He was a devout worshipper of the Lord. No sage ever taught the pitfalls and ruin of the evil way more clearly than did Solomon. His proverbs bristle with warnings against going in the way that leads to death. And yet Solomon, with all his wisdom went astray.

The latter part of his life is a sordid commentary to prove the truth of his teaching about walking in the evil way. He taxed oppressively his people with the result that at his death they rebelled. He imitated the heathen monarchs in building up a vast harem. He loved many strange women. He built temples for them and joined their idolatrous worship.

FIVE NEW NURSES, just out of training, have been added to the staff at Holland Hospital in the last month. They are a few of the many graduate nurses this year who are helping to alleviate the shortage in that profession being emphasized currently during observance of National Nurses Week. The new girls, pictured with Miss Norine Swanson, seibted, a St. Mary's Hospital graduate, on the local staff two years,

Nurse Week Points Up Shortage in Profession

and all the agencies, public and federal, concerned with nursing are particularly emphasizing the shortage existing in that profession.

In Holland, a Holland Hospital Auxiliary workshop committee, concerned with promoting nursing as a career, is making its own plans for the week's observance. Displays will be set up this week at Holland Christian High School and Holland High, showing the advantages of the honored profession and giving information about training. The displays will feature miniature doll nurses, a small nursery section and posters and pamphlets concerning the nursing profession.

In charge of the displays is a committee appointed by Mrs. Fred Davis, workshop chairman. She named Mrs. Glenn Van Noord, chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. T. Hoogstra, Mrs. Judson Davis and herself.

Nursing, one of the most honored professions a young woman can choose, is steadily increasing in popularity, but the need is still great. A recent special study completed in Michigan by the Cunningham Drug Company Foundation of Detroit, aided by the federal Public Health Service, points up the problem in the state.

Entitled "For Better Nursing in Michigan," the report states there is presently a need for 2,813 professional nurses in all fields. Non-professional nurses, aides, etc., also are needed.

The greatest need was shown to be in mental hospitals, but there is also a shortage in tuberculosis hospitals, general hospitals and public health centers.

Nationally, the picture is no better. In 1947, the President's Commission on Higher Education predicted that more than 500,000 active nurses would be needed by 1960. Estimated number of graduate nurse now active in the U.S. is about 390,000.

A NEW ELECTRIC STOVE, a gift to the local Red Cross from The Sentinel Printing Co., is proving to be a boon to the canteen corps which serves refreshments to blood donors at clinics every other week. ## Guest Artists Interpret Music of Claude Debussy

John and Florence Richardson, pianists with a dramatic flair, entertained the Women's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon at its second meeting of the season.

In their program entitled "Echoes in Music from Saint Germain," the two guest artists presented the story of famous French composers, Claude Debussy.

A dramatic scene involving a young American pianist and the daughter of a close friend of Debussy gave the audience an insight into the popular composer's moods, his personality, his loves and his life, with the result of a deeper understanding of his music and an understanding of why he wrote as he did.

Throughout the scene, which was set in Debussy's own study in Paris four years after his death in 1918, the two pianists played Debussy compositions, including the famous "Clair de lune," selections from "The Children's Corner" and some of his "24 Preludes."

The Richardsons, both accomplished pianists, were well qualified to give the intimate picture of Debussy. They recently spent a year in Europe, pursuing their musical studies and actually visiting the famous composer's homes and his haunts.

They visited the modest home where he was born in 1862—tiny living quarters above the shop run by his father—and marveled that from this humble beginning emerged an artist whose music has echoed to all corners of the world.

Debussy lived in a world of dreams and fancies, reflected in his music which interprets "all the sounds and scents that linger in the air... legends, stories, pictures, Spanish guitars and moonlit terraces."

Debussy's "inspiration was France herself," and his music "brings to life all the joy of France."

Mrs. Bruce van Leuven, club president, introduced the guests and announced a Public Affairs dessert meeting will be held next Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Fred Sivens, technical advisor of the Socony Vacuum Oil Co. of Detroit, addressed the Holland Exchange Club Monday noon at the Warm Friend Tavern. He discussed fuels and lubricants for tomorrow's automobiles.

Sivens observed that although engines today are smaller and more compact, they have increased in horsepower; thus, each engine part is under greater stress, necessitating changes in lubricants and fuels.

He said today's lubricants aid in keeping all parts of the engine clean, in decreasing engine noises, and detergents are added to prevent deposits of carbon or other solids in the cylinders.

Gasoline today will deliver more energy than five years ago—about 50 percent more, he said. Present refining methods have greatly increased the amount of gasoline obtained from each barrel of crude oil. Chemicals have been added to improve engine performance; Tetraethyl lead to reduce engine knock, compounds to keep spark plugs from misfiring, to keep deposits from forming on cylinder walls, and others to prevent engine stalling.

Sivens said mileage obtained from a gallon of gasoline depends more on the driver than on the brand of gasoline. Best mileage is obtained by regular speeds and avoiding sudden stops or starts.

Russell Boeve was in charge of the program. President John O. Hagans presided.

The November meeting will feature a "Visit With the Kelpers," missionaries supported by Beechwood Church.

Police Tuesday said they will ask Probate Court to waive jurisdiction over a 16-year-old boy who talked two other minors into stealing a car battery Monday night.

Officers said the boys removed a new battery from a car on the R. E. Barber used car lot and hid it under a truck Saturday or Sunday night. The boys came back Monday night and picked up the battery. They drove off in a car owned by the 16-year-old and switched batteries. They were arrested by police who caught them returning an old battery to the car on the lot.

Police said a half-dozen siphon hoses were also found in the trunk of the car. The two other youths, 14 and 16, are also being held for further questioning.

Two Grand Rapids youths who were racing were both charged with reckless driving. One was Gordon Ver Wort, 17, and the other a 16-year-old juvenile who will be cited to Kent County probate court.

The third car which pulled out of the driveway was driven by Robert Groothuis, 20, Grand Rapids. He was charged with driving with an expired operator's license. Jacqueline Cryslar, 19, Grand Rapids, was treated by her family physician for cuts and bruises.

Seven Youngsters Admit Looting 50 Cars, Burglaries

Six Boys, One Girl, All Under 14 Years, Implicated in Thefts

Weeks of tireless investigation paid off for Holland detectives late Monday with the apprehension of seven local youngsters who admitted committing a half dozen burglaries and looting at least 50 cars.

The group of six boys and one girl range in age from 12 to 14. Police said more are believed to be involved and they were sure further questioning would clear up additional breakins and thefts.

Four of the boys admitted entering the Holland Co-op, 88 East Seventh St., on three different occasions. The first time on Sept. 19 quantities of bb's, candy, gum and cigarettes were taken.

On Sept. 26 and Oct. 10, similar items were taken plus several boxes of high powered rifle and pistol shells and at least a dozen jackknives.

Police said one of the boys accompanied by the girl broke into a sealed railroad box car on Sept. 5 and stole a case of beer. The two threw each bottle against a brick wall.

Apparently to show his gratitude for her help, police said the boy next stole a simulated diamond ring from a dime store and presented it to the girl. Police recovered the ring.

Two weeks ago several of the group scaled the fence at River-view Park and did an estimated $50 damage to the ladies rest room. Officers said a 2 by 6 plank was used to smash the window panes and window frames.

Police said the boys also admitted stealing anything removable from the glove compartments of at least 50 cars parked on streets or in used car lots.

After additional questioning the youngsters will be turned over to Probate Court for further action.

Through Street Is Recommended

The Holland Planning Commission at its regular meeting Thursday night recommended keeping 16th St. a through street, retaining the stop at River Ave. and recommending improvement in the curve at Montello park. The subject was referred to the planning commission by City Council Wednesday night.

The commission also recommended early action by council on developing Ninth, 12th and 22nd Sts. as through streets from Ottawa Ave. to State St. or River Ave.

The group also discussed a more effective traffic control at the 24th St. railroad crossing near Lincoln Ave. where three Fennville women were killed recently. Gate and flasher signals were suggested, but no action was taken.

The zoning ordinance which has been reviewed by a sub-committee is now ready for unofficial public hearing, and the planning commission planned an informal hearing with City Council Oct. 27. Study will be continued on the zoning ordinance with specific groups such as bankers, realtors and builders.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Harry Harrington, Jacob Zuidema, Robert Vischer, Mrs. William G. Winter, Willard C. Wichers, Ward Hansen, R. E. Barber, Stuart Boyd and Walter Vander Haar.

Mrs. De Jong, who recently arrived home on furlough from the Arabian mission field, discussed "My Little Old Ladies in Arabia." She presented a vivid contrast between the lives of American women and Arab women. She said "you'll find no happy old women in Arabia, except those in Christianity."

Mrs. D. Boter, president, conducted the meeting and Mrs. Otto Van Til led devotions. Mrs. Collins Weeber, accompanied by Mrs. E. Ruusard sang "Now I Belong to Jesus."

Hostesses were Mrs. M. Nykerk, Mrs. J. Nykerk, Mrs. H. Labotz and Mrs. E. Wilterdink.

Registration Set For Adult School At Holland High

Next week will mark the opening of a new term in the Holland Community Evening School. George Lumsden, director of adult education for the Holland Public Schools points out that there are 23 classes offered for adults in the Holland area.

He emphasized that the program is open to all adults in the area and not restricted to residents of Holland. In past years many people have come from Zeeland, Saugatuck and Hamilton, and they are again invited.

A full schedule of classes appears in tonight's Sentinel. Registrations will be accepted all this week. Classes will begin next week.

New classes to be offered this year include Auto Mechanics which will be taught by Orville Haan, formerly a teacher of auto shop in Grand Rapids and Muskegon. The class will be on fundamentals of mechanics and will be a study and workshop on engines. The class will meet each Monday evening for a short classroom session and will then move to the Vandenberg garage where facilities have been arranged for actual shop practice.

Another class will be Corsage Making to be taught by Mrs. C. Lamoreaux. She has given numerous lectures and demonstrations on the art of making corsages and other items of floral art. She offers this course as the result of many requests to provide more intensive instruction in this and floral arrangement.

Miss Velma Lloyd, instructor in commercial subjects at Zeeland High School joins the Adult program staff to teach bookkeeping. This will be a basic course in record keeping and will be of interest to the people who for the last two years have requested such a course. With the addition of bookkeeping the evening school now offers a fairly full schedule of commercial subjects with more planned for second semester.

Citizenship training, formerly offered in the winter term has been moved up into the fall term because of the many people who would like such training prior to their application for citizenship before the first of the new year. People who have friends or relatives interested in becoming U.S. citizens should encourage these New Americans to attend this class and the course in English for New Americans offered by Marion Shackson.

Other courses in art, music, crafts, business and vocational subjects will be offered as in former years. Persons desiring full information on the adult program are invited to call the Office of Adult Education, 6-6676.

Veteran at Holland Coast Guard Station Retires After 25 Years

After more than 25 years with the Coast Guard, Engineer First Class Ed Feddick has retired.

On Thursday, Sept. 30, the day of his retirement, he and the other Coast Guardsmen at the Holland station were in full dress uniform for a short ceremony that released him from the job he began in 1929.

Edwin O. Feddick joined the Coast Guard when he was 23 years old. He was born in Port Hope, in Michigan's "thumb." During his years in service, especially during the war, he traveled to many different stations in the country.

It was because of his four children that he later stayed in Holland, refusing any promotion in order to do so. Mrs. Feddick died 10 years ago, and Ed decided that his children, Edward, James, Lona and Terry should have a permanent home, and that Holland was a good place for them to grow up in.

The retirement ceremonies were held after a turkey dinner for all the men at the station. At the ceremonies Feddick was commended for his outstanding record while in the service.

Attending from other life boat stations besides the Holland men under Chief Francis Kelly, were Bosun F. D. DuBrucq, Group Commander from Grand Haven, who read the discharge orders; Raymond G. Chapman, BMC, South Haven; Leslie M. Furst, BMC, Muskegon; Arthur H. Cushing, BMC, Grand Haven, and George Maier, BMC, Muskegon.

Feddick, who plans to do a lot of hunting and fishing, and "get used to the new life" was presented with a shotgun, tool box and cart-ridges by the men.

Surviving are the wife, Grace; one daughter, Mrs. Harold South of Goodridge, Minn.; a son, William Roberts, of Grand Rapids; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren, and one brother, John, of Zeeland.

All Hope students' wives are invited.

NEW LIBRARY BOOKS

Many people have been asking "What are the new books?" "Who are their authors?" "What are they about?" and today we hope to answer these questions, at least in part.

Once a week the local library staff will give flash reports on what is new on library shelves, and little gossip notes about the world of books, both old and new. The World Council of Churches Assembly has given an impetus to books on religion and the Christian life and the local library gets many requests for them. Two books which should prove of interest to the layman are "Ten Words That Can Change Your Life" by Dr. Ervin Seale, and "Smoke on the Mountain" by Joy Davidson.

Both deal with the Ten Commandments, and present vivid and widely diversified modern interpretations of them. Dr. Seale deals with them from a deeply spiritual and a wide-range standpoint. His views are unorthodox, but strike a note of great sincerity. He suggests that the Commandments were never meant to be a series of prohibitions and punishments, but a true guide to the good life. He likens them to an open book—one half representing the law and the other the Prophets. The first deals with duty towards God, and the second Duty toward the neighbor.

Joy Davidson writes more crisply, pointing out that Christ himself re-interpreted the Law and the Prophets, but that we have become dulled in our minds and conscience by constant repetition. She too has some refreshingly new angles on the Commandments for while she agrees that the fifth has been forgotten in these modern days, she points out that St. Paul added the suggestion that parents should not "move their children to wrath" and she considers that many sins—mainly of omission are committed today by parents. In the final analysis, both authors agree that love is the whole of the Law. Love of God, of life and therefore of mankind. These books are more than thought-provoking; they are conscience pricking.

This being Newspaper Week, people's interest and curiosity have been aroused as to how their daily newspaper comes into being. We have two books on the shelves which will help to satisfy that curiosity. They are "Your Daily Paper" by J. Floherty, and "Newspaper Writing and Editing" by W. Blye. The first is a quick survey of a day in the life of a newspaper illustrated by excellent photographs, and the second is a comprehensive guide to all who wish to make the newspaper world their career. We hope you all saw the interesting and comprehensive display arranged by the Holland Evening Sentinel in the Library.

There is a feast of new fiction for all tastes. Just out is "Soldier of Fortune" by Ernest Gann, the author of the best seller "The High and the Mighty." This is quite as thrilling and full of excitement. The scene is laid in Hong Kong, of which the author says in his preface "Hong Kong is a pore on the body of Asia. Through this minute vent the immense carcass of China still breathes feebly of the non-Communist world." That piece of clear cut writing vividly presents the scene and the pace at which his exciting book is written. It is a tale of adventure, a fine love story, and an eyewitness account of life in the Far East today. It has suspense, pace and depth. Read it and see if you can tell who is "The Soldier of Fortune."

For the history lover, there is that rare treasure, the authentic historical novel "Katherine" by Anya Seton. This is about John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster in the 14th century, and his little-known love for Katherine Swynford. Even the minor characters have their true names, and four years of research went into this story. The scholarship of the writing is cloaked in the moving and enthralling story.

Teenagers should be delighted with "Prom Trouble" by James L. Summers, which is characterized by humor, sharp writing and a light though satisfying plot. Makes adults chuckle, too.

Other popular books are: "Not as a Stranger" by Morton Thompson; "Love is Eternal" by Irving Stone; "Sweet Thursday" by John Steinbeck; "The Royal Box" by Frances Parkinson Keyes; "The Dollmaker" by Harriette Arnow; "A Fable" by William Faulkner.

Non fiction: "But We Were Born Free" by Elmer Davis; "The Mind Alive" by H. and B. Overstreet; "The Epigrams of Oscar Wilde" by Alvin Redman; "The Roosevelt of Sagamore Hill" by Herman C. Hagedorn; "Understanding Your Son's Adolescence" by James Roswell Gallagher; "Letters to My Daughter" by Dagobert D. Runes.

A unique honor has been accorded to L. Quincy Mumford, since 1950 Director of the Cleveland Public Library. He has been awarded the Presidency of the American Library Association and the directorship of the Library of Congress. He has had experience in Duke University Library, New York Public Library, the Library of Congress, and Cleveland public library, and has included an unusually broad range of library activities.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Several cases were processed in Circuit Court Monday, the first day of the October session.

Trial of Ronald V. Kennedy, 43-year-old dismissed state highway land buyer of Grand Rapids was scheduled Oct. 27 and 28. Kennedy was charged with conspiracy to defraud the state of $600 in connection with a land sale near Hudsonville. His former boss, G. ## Grandstanding...

By Randy Vande Water
Hunting season and the TV game of the week were probably the main reasons for the surprisingly small crowd at the Alma-Hope game Saturday afternoon. About 2,000 attended the contest.

The Hope College band, under the direction of Morette Rider, added several "hit" tunes to its list of selections. The band played during time outs.

The Alma College Kiltie Band, led by Robert Ruthener, presented the halftime festivities. Entitled "Romance in Toyland," the band made figures depicting a doll, jack-in-the-box and toy soldier. The story was told through a narration over the public address system.

Overheard on the Alma bench. Mary Raab, Alma left halfback, was complaining to Head coach Loyd Eaton about the lack of holes in the Hope forward wall. "If you can do any better, we'll put you at guard next week," Eaton answered.

John Hollander, Hope's 6'7", 240 pound tackle got a crowd laugh when he reached up and slapped down an Alma pass. A blocking attempt on the big fellow had been unsuccessful and he was standing on the line of scrimmage.

John Adams, Hope usual backfield workhorse, carried the ball only 12 times. The Scots gave him only 30 yards. Ron Wetherbee, other starting half, picked up 34 yards in nine tries.

A school bus from the Grape Belt School district brought about 30 students to the Hope-Alma game. High school groups have been encouraged to attend Hope games and tour the campus, Dean of Men Milton Hinga said.

Fred Spurgeon, long-time football official, at the Hope-Alma game as a spectator, was put to work holding the down marker. Spurgeon came to Holland with two other officials who were calling the Hope game. The trio was slated to work a football game in Grand Rapids Saturday night.

Mert Vander Lind and Bunk Van Ark, two Hope college halfbacks, didn't see action in the Hope-Alma game. Both dressed but were question marks following Thursday's workout. Vander Lind has a leg muscle injury and Van Ark, a bruised knee.

Wetherbee and Kuysers, Hope right half and fullback respectively, played similar positions on the Zeeland High School team two years ago.

Miss Mokma, who received a serious neck injury, was transferred from Holland Hospital to Blodgett Hospital in Grand Rapids a few hours after the crash. Hospital authorities said her condition is still fair.

Meanwhile, sheriff's officers continued their investigation into the fatal crash and were busy today obtaining statements from all persons and witnesses involved in the accident. The famous Harlem Globe Trotters will appear at the Civic Center Oct. 26.

Soil Sampling Test Time Near

From the middle of October through the middle of November has been set aside as "Soil Sampling Month" by the Ottawa County Agricultural Council.

All farmers are urged to have their soil testing done during this period for fields to be cropped next year. It is necessary in order to receive an ASC payment for lime that the farmer have a soil test that shows the need for it.

The price for soil testing is 50 cents per sample.

"This is quite a modest price for determining the amount and analysis of fertilizer that should be put on per acre," said Dick Machiele, county agent.

Fertilizer dealers in some areas are giving discounts on fertilizer ordered this fall for next spring. With a soil test the farmer knows just how much and what analysis to order and the dealer is able to place his orders far enough in advance so no one will be shorted in the spring.

Samples may be taken by farmers and should be sent to the laboratory in Hudsonville or, they may call or write the county ASC, Federal Building, Grand Haven, telephone 1410. A representative will call and take the sample at no extra charge.

Audience Lauds Pianist At 'Pre-Debut' Concert

An impressive preview of Pianist Anthony Koolker's New York debut was enjoyed by a large audience Thursday night when he performed at Hope Memorial Chapel.

Mr. Koolker, who is associate professor of music at Hope College and former accompanist for the noted violinist, Albert Spalding, will make his debut at Town Hall on Friday, Nov. 26, at 8:30 p.m. His program Thursday night was the same one he will play at Town Hall.

A brilliant young musician who plays with technical finesse and emotional sincerity, Mr. Koolker gave a program that was not too familiar; nevertheless interesting in its diversity.

A program highlight was the "unofficial first" performance of Four Preludes by John Lessard, young American composer whose works were commissioned by Hope College for Mr. Koolker. Lessard wrote the preludes early this year in Rome, where he was working on a Guggenheim fellowship. Modern in nature, the preludes were concise and brief, and not the usual melodic music which the concert listener is used to.

Another "first" was Mr. Koolker's presentation of Frederick Werle's "Sonata Brevis I."

The recital opened with Bach's "Toccata in G Major," "Pascaglia" by Walter Piston and a character piece, "The Cuckoo," by Howard Swanson, the latter two contemporary compositions written in classical form.

Especially appreciated by the attentive audience were the Johannes Brahms and Claude Debussy groups. The Brahms group included three lovely intermezzos, played by the artist with great feeling and technique, and a livelier "Rhapsody in E Flat Major."

The Debussy works included two Etudes, illustrating the modern approach, and a highly impressionistic "La terrasse des audiences du clair de lune," painting one of Debussy's romantic musical pictures.

Climaxing the recital were two compositions by Maurice Ravel, both in the Spanish mood.

The audience recalled Mr. Koolker for three encores with its approving ovations which indicate the young artist's successful introduction to New York concert-goers.

Herb Magic Illustrated For Local Garden Club

Members of Holland Tulip Garden Club had a double treat in store for them at the opening meeting of the club on Thursday in Fellowship Hall of Third Reformed Church.

Mrs. Mary Collin of Kalamazoo presented a stimulating talk on "Magic in Herbs" and illustrated her discussion with the actual fresh herbs which she raises, as well as the various assortment of dried herbs that she also sells.

She explained that the Egyptian apothecaries 8000 years B.C. used herbs for medicinal purposes and for mummy preservations; the Bible mentions the use of herbs in at least 14 books, and finally, herbs were brought to the United States on the Mayflower and still grow like weeds throughout the New England area.

There are many legends concerning the use of herbs and in this modern world they are very much in use, she said. Oria Root makes face powder cling; caraway is basic ingredient for medicines to relieve nausea; nasturtium oil relieves itching; lavender is used in paint, varnish and lacquer; sage substitutes for musk in manufacture of perfumes; mint is used in mouth washes, toothpaste.

Any home gardener can have an herb garden in a 2 by 5 plot and grow all the herbs possibly needed for culinary purposes, Mrs. Collin said. Most herbs are perennials, but basil, dill and summer savory are annuals. They will grow in any kind of soil, sun or shade and many of them can well be placed in flower arrangements.

But, of course, the main purpose of herbs is to perk up the taste buds and add to the pleasure of eating. This, Mrs. Collin demonstrated by preparing samples of herb butter, herb bouillon, herb potato salad, and hors d'oeuvres arranged attractively on a table with a brown cloth, turquoise and brown tureens, with an eye-catching arrangement of vegetables as a centerpiece, executed by Mrs. Fred W. Stanton.

Mrs. Collin brought out the interesting fact that herbs are so beneficial to people on a salt-free or sugar-free diet. They give pep and zest to many foods that can otherwise be dull and drab to dieters.

She gave several recipes from her cook book, known from coast to coast, suggested a number of herbs to grow easily in your own garden and ended her lecture with the method for drying your own herbs. To do this successfully, she said, the herbs in the early morning and wash them thoroughly. Shake them as dry as possible and lay them on a cookie sheet. Place in the oven with the heat on as low as 125 degrees and leave the oven door open at the broiler stop for four hours, approximately. Herbs dried this way will not lose their natural green color.

At the business meeting preceding the lecture, Mrs. Harold Van Tongeren, president, announced that there will be a tour of Mrs. W. C. Ingerson's chrysanthemum garden at 15 Union Ave., Battle Creek, on Oct. 21 at 1 p.m. It was suggested that members wishing to see this outstanding garden make up their own groups.

Douglas McKay, Secretary of Interior

Cabinet Official Coming Oct. 21

Douglas McKay, secretary of the Department of Interior, will visit Holland Thursday, Oct. 21, and will address an assembly in Hope Memorial Chapel at 11 a.m. and a joint service club luncheon for Holland and Zeeland service clubs at noon in Durfee Hall.

McKay served as governor of Oregon from 1949 to 1953 when he was appointed by President Eisenhower to the cabinet post. He will be in Western Michigan on Oct. 21 and will address a meeting in Benton Harbor that night.

Attendance at the joint service club luncheon will be limited to 250, according to Carl C. Andreason, who has appointed the following persons to work out plans for McKay's appearance: here: State Senator Clyde Geerlings, State Rep. George Van Pearsse, Rep. President I. Lubbers, Harold Ramsey of the Inter-Club Council and W. A. Butler. The public will be invited to attend the 11 a.m. meeting in Hope Chapel.

Announcement of McKay's visit to Holland was made Friday night by Andreason at a meeting of Republican workers in the Centennial room of the Warm Friend Tavern. Andreason, who is county Republican chairman, discussed plans for the forthcoming election Nov. 2. Later the group watched TV for President Eisenhower's speech from Denver, Colo.

Volleyballs

It's only October, but already Harold J. Karsten, the efficient guy who manages those well-run Tulip Time band reviews, has received two applications for the 1955 band review at Riverview Park. Karsten said it's the earliest he ever received applications. Both, incidentally, are from schools which have not entered the band review before.

Oh well, Tulip Time is closer than you think.

An operating table at Holland Hospital has provided the setting of plenty of operations the past 25 years, but this time we were treated to a sight in which the operating table was being operated upon.

It seems the hydraulic mechanism was faulty and the table had a tendency to drop down by degrees. So a couple of maintenance men, Albert Johnson and Adrian (Ed) De Groot, took the base to the parking lot behind the hospital and drained the fluid. They found the leather valves were worn, and replacements were not available from the firm that no longer manufactures that particular line.

Necessity is the mother of invention. The two men found some valves for water-pumps at a local supply house that served excellently.

It's a famous week we've lived through. Besides National Newspaper Week, it's Fire Prevention Week, and guess what—also National Letter Writing Week.

The latter is a promotion of the Post Office department, focusing attention to the various services in air mail, first class letters, registry service and money orders.

Incidentally The Sentinel's newspaper display at the Holland Public Library has been attracting lots of attention, and Librarian Hazel Hayes has been busy all week describing the various operations in producing a newspaper.

Perhaps the secret of the popularity of the display was the fact that people might handle any and all items, and these included wire copy, mats, castings, teletype-writer tape, cuts, plastics, telephotos, type and photographs. Besides that, they could turn the pages of a big three-months file of The Sentinel. The library has a full set of newspaper files, but no room to keep them in the reading room.

The only thing the people couldn't touch and handle was a microfilm of the same three months, a little reel which could be held in one hand, whereas even a husky person finds the big file cumbersome. On microfilm, a single newspaper page is only about a square inch.

Mrs. Hayes despaired of keeping the display neatly in order. Sentinel personnel reassured her. "Keep it messed up—it looks like a newspaper office then."

Four members of a high school class of the late 1920's found themselves waiting together in Dr. H. G. De Vries' office a few days ago. They were Dr. Bill and Dr. John Winter, Herman Bos and Margaret Van Vyven. Herk De Vries also was a member of the class. There was some good-natured chitchat all around. One was even contemplating trifocals.

Maurie Overway was looking over some used cars in a local lot the other day. He had driven up with his brother, Garry, who parked his car at the curb. In the course of events, the salesman tried to sell Maurie his brother's car.

Is this a variation of buying your own shoes at the shoe store?

HELP US FINISH THE JOB!

In November of 1952, you decided you had had more than enough.

Of the Truman New Deal's waste, inefficiency, and corruption;

Of a foreign policy which got us into and kept us in a losing war;

Of the codding of Communists in Washington, while in Korea our men were being killed by Communists.

Now, some Democratic candidates for state and Federal office, professing repentance, claiming they support life (while sharpening their knives to cut his political throat,) are coaxing you to elect them so they may take us back to the policies and the situation which your patriotism and your good judgment caused you to repudiate in '52.

Although the 83rd Congress has made remarkable progress, it has but started on the clean-up job you gave it in '52.

Elect a Republican Congress which will get rid of the inefficient and corrupt HOLD-OVERS in the Executive Departments (many have been named in the Press); which will, in '55, finish the monumental cleanup task you gave it in '52.

VOTE A REPUBLICAN TICKET!

Eaton Rapids Man Puts Finishing Touches on His Life-Long 'Dream'

Ever since he was a boy, Jim Gillett has wanted to sail. Now at the age of 60, he will soon realize his ambition.

A retired building contractor from Eaton Rapids, Gillett launched his home-built boat, the Pipl-Quaw (Indian for Little Hawk) in Holland early in September.

Gillett says that sailing the vessel may become his life work. He began building it 14 years ago in the basement of his barn, but the war interrupted his schedule and he did not finish it until this year.

The Pipl-Quaw is a 24-foot, four-ton sloop equipped with a 16 horsepower auxiliary engine as well as nylon sails. She has a fiberglass coated hull for good water-proofing in case Gillett runs into rough weather.

He has no definite plans but will leave Holland as soon as possible and head for the Gulf of Mexico and warm weather from Chicago about Nov. 1. He is vague about further ports but wants to visit Florida, the Bahamas and Cuba and he doesn't care how long the trip takes.

Gillett will remove his mast as soon as possible for the trip down to Chicago. This part of the cruise will be a test for his motor and help him to get the feel of the craft.

So far, Gillett has only one crew member, his dog Buddy, who enjoys sailing and fishing. As for Mrs. Gillett, she has helped in getting the vessel seaworthy but hasn't made up her mind yet about risking the voyage.

Holland Reserves Lose To Catholic In Rain

Holland High's reserves lost a 26-7 decision to the Grand Rapids Catholic Central seconds Monday afternoon at Riverview Park. The game was played in a steady downpour.

Moving hard and fast on the ground, the Cougar cubs scored four times on runs of five, 15, 40 and 60 yards. Coach Bill Hinga of Holland reported Catholic made six runs of 20 yards or better.

Displeased with the defensive showing made by Holland, Hinga indicated most of the gains were made off tackles and around the ends. Rog Ramsey, local quarterback, made a majority of tackles in the Holland secondary.

The little Dutch were handicapped by not being able to pass. The lone score came in a line smash by Wes Kuyers from four yards out. The halftime score was 13-7.

The Holland chorus competed Saturday afternoon.

Third place at the annual convention of the state chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, went to the Muskegon Port City chorus.

The winning Grand Rapids chorus will represent Michigan at the national contest at Miami next June.

Mail Train Delayed By Record Rainfall

Chicago's record rainfall Sunday forced a delay in the mail train scheduled to Holland at 4:30 a.m. Monday. The train finally entered the city at 7:45 a.m.

Post office officials said the mail was unloaded quickly and the majority of it distributed to carriers before they left on their routes.

Holland escaped the brunt of the storm but still registered 34 inches of rain from Saturday afternoon until Sunday afternoon with an additional .49 inches recorded from Sunday night until Monday morning.
