PROPOSED ALLEGAN FIRE STATION — City officials this week were studying this architect's drawing of the proposed new Allegan fire station to be located on Monroe St. on a site purchased for that purpose 12 years ago. At the Nov. 6 election voters will be asked to approve a $60,000 bond issue and one-mill tax increase for the purpose of financing the new building. The fire department is presently housed in the city hall which has been cited as unsafe by the state fire marshal's office. Other city departments will move Oct. 22 to the new city hall located in the former bank building on Locust Street.

Action Follows Earlier Rejection Of 12th St. Site

Immediate Need of Some Move Told
At Special Meeting

At a special meeting called by City Manager Herb Holt Thursday at 7 p.m., City Council voted 7 to 1 to offer to the county of Ottawa for use as a branch county building the city-owned property at 13th and Central known as "Little Netherlands," and the clinic building.

Conditions of the transfer would require the county to transfer to the city the deeds to the two properties on West 12th St. near City Hall which previously had been designated for the site. These parcels, known as the Wagner and Ferris Homes were abandoned as a county site when Holland's appeal board denied an application for a variance in zoning requirements.

Another attempt to place the site slightly to the east to cover the Wagner and the Ed Brouwer home sites failed when Council Wednesday night denied permission to move the Brouwer home.

Councilman Raymond Holwerda cast the dissenting vote in the 45-minute meeting. Mayor Robert Visscher presided. Councilman Robert Kouw was absent.

In the discussion, it was generally understood that another site should be found for Little Netherlands, the miniature Dutch village which has been a long time Tulip Time and tourist attraction.

The site is 111 by 132 feet, somewhat larger than the 12th St. site, but subject to more rigid setbacks since it occupies a corner lot. There also would be a parking problem. The 12th St. site had adjoined two city parking lots.

Mayor Visscher outlined the history of the branch building which came about mainly when city officials questioned the growing county uses of City Hall rent free through the years. The Board of Supervisors agreed the county should provide its own quarters for its services and considered sites, several of them outside the city.

To keep such services centrally located for convenience of the greater number of people, City Council offered to deed to the county the Wagner property valued at some $8,000 if the county purchased the Ferris property next door which cost $13,700. These transfers were consummated, but the program was stymied when residents in the area protested erection of a county branch building.

Council recognized the need for Board of Appeals action on zoning variance of the Little Netherlands site if it is to be used for a county building. The property in question is presently zoned B-residential.

The proposition was presented by Councilman John Van Eerden. He made the motion, seconded by Councilman Laverne Rudolph. City Manager Holt said today that Council has withdrawn its request for a zoning variance on the Brouwer property which had been scheduled to be heard before the board of appeals Oct. 8.

Football Equipment Room Razed at the High School

GUTTED DAMAGE AREA — Athletic Director Joe Moran (right) surveys the burned equipment room at Holland High School Wednesday night as firemen remove shelves which once held football equipment. The small room housed virtually all the new game uniforms and some new footballs. The adjoining locker room, which firemen are entering, was covered with an inch of water and littered with burned timbers and pieces of football jerseys and pants.

REMAINS OF FIRE — The usually spotless locker room floor at Holland High School was a mass of water, burned uniforms and shelves after Wednesday night's fire in the equipment room. The plastic helmets were melted by the intense flames and fused to the shelves. Other clothing was reduced to cinders. All of the water had been cleaned up this morning but debris and a strong odor of smoke still filled most of the school.

Holland High Dips Into Reserves To Outfit Team for Friday's Game

A good-sized stockpile of equipment made Athletic Director Joe Moran's job much easier today as he went around getting gear set for the Holland High football team, which must play Friday night at Dowagiac.

Moran reported that $2,000 worth of varsity game equipment was lost in the fire that swept through the team manager's room Wednesday night in the Holland High basement. Lost in the blaze were the new game pants, the white "home" jerseys and the game helmets, along with several footballs.

"But we'll have the team dressed and we'll be playing at Dowagiac and all of the rest of the games," Moran said quickly.

The varsity will wear last year's pants which were stored in an equipment room in another part of the building. The burned trousers were purchased this year.

Holland will wear red jerseys, which were purchased two years ago, and have been used as "traveling" jerseys. The team wears white jerseys at home and expects to have replacements by the next home game, Friday, Oct. 19.

All of the red game helmets were burned and only little mounds of melted plastic were left as a reminder of where they were hung. Moran said practice helmets will be worn this week.

He is still scouting around for a couple more duffel bags in which to carry equipment. Most of these were burned.

Only two of the full-length red warmup coats were burned and these, although somewhat water soaked, have been laid out on the gym floor to dry.

The reserve team and ninth grade team equipment was in another equipment room and not damaged.

Varsity players had protective equipment and shoes in their individual lockers, in the team room, and although some water seeped through the bottom of the lockers, only minor water damage was reported.

Ironically, the pants and shirts had been returned from the laundry one day early this week and were slated to be worn today for a formal yearbook team photo.

Holland Woman Hurt In Grand Haven Crash

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Mrs. Hyma Temple, 50, of 12 East Sixth St., Holland, is in Municipal Hospital for treatment of injuries received when her 1953 car left the road, hit a ditch and rolled over several times on US-31 near Ferris St. at 12:05 a.m. Wednesday.

The crash occurred as a state police patrol car was clocking her speed at 70 miles an hour. The car rolled over two or three times which rolled over two or three times is a total loss.

The driver received bruises, contusions and head lacerations. She was charged with reckless driving. She was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Officials Poking Into Debris Today To Find Cause

Supt. Scott, Others
Praise Fire Chief,
Men for Quick Work

Fire of unknown origin Wednesday night raced through the equipment room at Holland High School reducing $2,000 worth of football uniforms to cinders.

The fire department, Holland police and the State Fire Marshall's office immediately opened an investigation into the cause of the blaze.

The first alarm was turned in at 7:20 p.m. by members of the Holland Archery Club who were meeting in the school gymnasium a few hundred feet from the scene of the fire.

In a matter of minutes the three-story school was completely filled with smoke making it impossible to see even a few feet and impossible to breathe.

Four firemen equipped with smoke masks descended into the basement in an attempt to locate the source of the blaze. As water was poured through the broken windows in the equipment and locker rooms smoke continued to pour up the steps and throughout the building.

Police said it was the third fire at Holland High School in the past 18 months. All three were within 50 feet of each other. In April an attempt was made to burn several benches stacked just outside of the equipment room near the stairs leading to the 16th St. parking lot entrance.

Last fall another fire was set to the doors near the same area. The first two were definitely arson, police said.

Officers early this afternoon were unable to state if Wednesday's fire was also arson but they admitted it was unusual that all three fires were so close to each other.

The damaged area was closed off Wednesday night and no attempt was made to clean it up until investigators could sift through the debris.

From the outside it was difficult to determine where the blaze had originated. The fire started in a small room, approximately six by 15 feet, used to store the varsity game equipment.

As firemen fought the stubborn blaze policemen struggled to keep the crowd back from the door leading to the parking lot on 16th St. where the fire was concentrated.

Police blocked off 16th St. from River to Pine Ave. to all traffic. Off-duty officers were called from their homes to assist.

The interior of the small room was completely gutted. Firemen were forced to chop holes through the floor directly above the fire, to put extra water on it.

The locker room was untouched by the fire but it was believed some damage to clothing in the lockers would result.

Some damage from smoke to other portions of the building was feared since the smoke was extremely heavy. A heavy lingering odor still remained this morning.

Superintendent of Schools W. W. Scott praised the prompt work of firemen who kept the blaze from spreading to other portions of the building.

Scott said it took a great deal of courage for the men to blindly probe their way down smoke filled steps to find the source of the blaze.

Other school and city officials, joined Scott in congratulating Chief Andrew Klompars and his men on their excellent work.

Classes were held as usual today at the school.

Oldsters Invited To 'Chat' Session

Friday, Oct. 12, is Columbus Day.

It also marks the 85th birthday anniversary of A. W. Baker of Holland who was born Oct. 12, 1871, just three days after fire all but destroyed the city.

"Hospitals were scarce at that time and I might have been born in a woodshed if there were any left," the elderly man said. He added that his mother talked often about the fire but little about his part in it.

What he is mostly interested in at the moment is to have all the people of the old horse-and-buggy days drop in on his antique shop just south of the city on US-31 for a chat, come Friday.

"I know we should all look forward, but at 85 I like to think back to what many people call the 'good old days.' I'd like to have the friends I have met in my time in Holland and surrounding country come in and say hello," he said.

Baker's 85 years on the local scene covers a good share of the history of this city which was founded 109 years ago. He remembers that his father was in business with D. B. K. Van Raalte and he believes the business was located on or near the Nies hardware store site. Their building was burned during the fire of 1871. The home where his parents lived at 84 West 10th St. was recently moved to make room for a parking lot for Hope Church.

Baker operated a dray business during the early days, this developed into Citizens transfer located a few doors west of the Sentinel. He developed an interest in antiques back in the '30's, and today remains active in his shop a quarter mile south of the city limits.

One of his first ventures was buying the furniture from a family in which the mother was leaving for the Netherlands. The attic was full of "useless" things and he bought most pieces for 75 cents to $1.50. Other times he bought all the household furniture for $20.

"I learned the antique business the hard way," he said, "and I missed a lot of good deals in those early days. Once I sold a rocker for $8 which should have brought $35 on any market."

Baker never went in for restoring furniture to any degree, but the late Bert Zweering used to do a lot of work evenings on the basis of 50 cents an hour. The men shared this relationship in business for 10 years or more. Baker operated his shop for several years on River Ave. between Eighth and Ninth St., site of the new modern E. and J. shop. Several years ago he moved to the new shop out of town.

Mrs. Baker died about 20 years ago and Baker lives with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Tanis, on South Shore Dr. Another daughter, Mrs. George Landstra, lives in Grand Rapids, and a son, Albert J. lives in Muskegon. There are 12 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

School Board Endorses County Building Vote

The Board of Education Monday night passed a resolution recognizing and endorsing the county's need for new buildings, and recommended a "yes" vote on the county referendum ballot Nov. 6 to raise the constitutional limitation.

A proposition to raise one mill for four years for a county building program passed in the Aug. 7 primary election, but school leaders raised the question that some school districts at or near the 15-mill limitation might be seriously hampered. To resolve this problem, the Board of Supervisors voted to put the subject of limitation to the voters on Nov. 6. Passage of this question will eliminate any possibility of individual school districts being forced to put the same question to a vote in their local jurisdiction.

In other business, it was pointed out that the senior high school has a final enrollment of 1,070 students, and that estimated enrollment in the three grades next year is 1,250. Pressure will be greatest in physical education and study hall space. Supt. Walter Scott said one solution would be to provide a facility in which students might eat lunch and which could be used for study hall purposes the rest of the day. Plans for next year must start now, the board was advised.

Principal Bernice Bishop of Junior High School in a communication broached the question of future planning. If a new high school is built and the present high school becomes a part of Junior High, a study should begin now on curriculum, etc.

Supt. Scott reported that approximately 10 representatives of the University of Michigan will visit Holland High School Oct. 31 for the purpose of making a three-year review.

"The value of accreditation by the North Central Association of Schools and Colleges and also by the University of Michigan cannot be overestimated. Much good comes to the faculty and the school administration from participation in the accreditation program," Scott's statement read.

Plans were made for the board to meet with the university representatives at an informal supper that night.

The buildings and grounds committee recommended that the Bontekoe property which the board purchased recently be used by the bookkeeping and purchasing departments, along with storage. Because of rigid fire restrictions, neither the Bontekoe house or Van Huis house could accommodate a very large enrollment, and the committee recommended that the Van Huis house be rented for the present. The board concurred.

The board considered appointments of some 16 persons to serve as a nucleus of a committee to publicize the area school study committee report. Appointments will be made public soon.

A communication was read from Harvey De Vree of the Beechwood School board calling attention to crowded conditions in Holland High School and stating that Beechwood was willing to assume its own responsibilities in solving such problems. The letter pointed to a previous overwhelming vote of 9 to 1 to provide its own ninth grade, and the Beechwood Board invited the Holland Board of Education to be represented at a meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. President Mildred mmm wrhmm President Miles and James Hallan plan to attend.

Claims and accounts last month totaled $109,387.73.

President Miles presided at the meeting which adjourned at 9:45 p.m. Hallan gave the invocation. Carl C. Andreasen was absent.

The Maplewood Blue Birds met at the home of Mrs. B. Mazurek with Mrs. M. De Feyter after school Monday, Oct. 1. The meeting was opened by singing the Blue Bird Wish. Ellen Van Duesen was welcomed to the group. It was Linda Naber's birthday and she treated with a cake decorated with candles, bluebirds, and candy, and the girls sang "Happy Birthday" to her. The girls went on a penny hike—flipping a penny at each corner to decide which way to go next. Many interesting points of nature were pointed out to the girls, and songs were sung on the way back to the leaders home. Announcements were made and the meeting was closed with Linda leading in the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag." Reported by Scribe, Carol De Feyter.

The Cheerful Blue Birds of Van Raalte School held their meeting Thursday at the home of their leader, Mrs. Vander Molen, assisted by Mrs. De Neff. The girls finished their puppets and practiced their skit for the fourth grade Hobo Hike. Then they sang songs they learned at Day Camp last Summer. The fourth grade Blue Birds of Waukazoo School held their first meeting Tuesday Oct. 2, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Ted Rhuday. New officers elected were: President, Eileen Joy Scheiback; vice president, Lorna Volkema; secretary, Becky Van Haisma; and scribe, Patricia Dailey.

They also sponsored trips for the various bands and orchestras and gave scholarships for Interlochen.

He also said that with the $3,500 the city plans to use for the cement floor of the band shell, there is approximately $10,000 for the construction of the band shell in Kollen Park which is expected to be ready by next Tulip Time.

Crozier also announced several projects planned for the year including a Christmas tree sale, the Harlem Globe Trotters a benefit concert and other concerts to be given during the year by musical organizations of the public school system.

Prof. E. E. Brand accepted the vice presidency for the coming year to fill a vacancy. Arthur C. Hills demonstrated the new tape recorder.

City Fire Chief Hails Importance of Inspection

Holland Fire Chief Andrew Klomprens today called inspection the most important phase of his department's duties as the city entered Fire Prevention Week.

Inspector Marvin Mokma is on the job every day, he said, checking homes for defective wiring, and electrical equipment, rubbish, open fuse boxes and other faults that could result in the starting or spreading of a fire.

Meanwhile, calls to the two Holland city fire stations are running about the same as last year, Klomprens said. Through Aug. 5, 82 calls were received, including four false alarms. In 1955, the department reported 109 alarms, with nine of them false. Three of the four false alarms this year have been received in the last three weeks.

The 78 fires which have been attended by the Holland department have resulted in $21,375 worth of damage, the records show. Broken down, this amounts to $3,300 in commercial damage, $13,900 to residences, and $4,175 to other possessions, largely automobiles.

The Holland department, with stations on both ends of Eighth St., employs 13 full-time men, including Chief Klomprens. In addition, there are 20 part-time employees. There are four men who sleep at each station every night, Klomprens said.

Besides the various demonstrations the firemen will give to various groups this week, they are currently sending reminders to all buildings within the city which are used as public meeting places.

The letters outline the precautions that must be taken by these organizations in order to prevent fire. Exits, seating and aisles are among the things which must be at standards set by the State Fire Marshall, Klomprens said.

Throughout the year, as the day-by-day inspections are made, about 25 letters are annually sent out demanding that residents remove the hazards from their property, Klomprens said. The chief pointed out that the number of demands that are mailed is decreasing every year and that cooperation has been excellent.

Smoke, one of the worst troublemakers in many large industrial cities, doesn't cause much trouble in Holland, the chief reported. He called cooperation on this problem "wonderful."

15-Acre Pine Tract Burns

A discarded cigarette was believed responsible for a fire which destroyed 15 acres of young pine trees on the Ben Van Lente farm at 160th Ave. and Riley St. in Park township Sunday afternoon.

Firemen from Park township station No. 2 worked for about an hour and used 1,500 gallons of water in extinguishing the blaze.

The Michigan Conservation Department fire truck from Alledale was called in when the flames threatened to get out of control and assisted in mopping up operations.

Herman Windemuller, chief of the Park township station cited the fire as an opportunity to warn citizens to be careful with cigarettes and matches in the rural areas.

Road Commission Asks $200,000

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The Board of Supervisors at its second session Tuesday took under consideration the Ottawa County Road Commission 1957 budget and program and heard plans for a five-year program which would replace nearly all of the deficient bridges, blacktop the balance of the primary road system, and improve primary roads in most industrial and commercial zones.

The program was presented by Henry Stafeth, county engineer who illustrated the report with some 20 slides of different operations in program and which are anticipated. A county map also was displayed.

The five-year program is based on a request of the road commission for an appropriation of $200,000 a year from the county board. L. W. Lamb of Holland, commission chairman, and other commissioners were present.

The report listed a 1957 budget of $1,271,000 with the greater share coming from the motor vehicle fund. The 1957 improvement program lists 17 different projects—five on prime and double seal on 1955 grading and graveling; four on grading, graveling and drainage structures; seven on bituminate aggregate surface capping, and three on bridges and miscellaneous.

The report also listed programs for other years from 1957 to 1961. The 1961 program lists a new bridge on 120th Ave. in Holland township at an estimated cost of $123,000. The 1960 program lists a new bridge on Paw Paw Dr. at a cost of $80,000. The total proposed construction program for the five years would cost $2,357,000.

Mrs. Overstreet Lectures Before School Groups

Bonaro Wilkinson Overstreet, noted writer and lecturer in the field of psychology, spoke in Hope College chapel Monday afternoon. Her appearance in Holland was sponsored by Western Theological Seminary, Holland Public Schools and Hope College.

Harry Allen Overstreet who was booked to appear with his wife, was not able to be here because of illness. Generally Mr. and Mrs. Overstreet present a dual lecture.

Mrs. Overstreet's gracious personality and flawless composition and English charmed the capacity audience with her topic "What Emotional Health Looks Like." Admonishing those in attendance to think of these seven characteristics in terms of themselves rather than in others, she outlined the qualities in evidence when life is in good working order.

In the first place a well adjusted person has a tendency to go toward experience rather than to ward it off. The main motive is living and learning rather than its opposite of "fight and flight." In human relationships the subject has a tendency to help rather than hurt others, which is the natural outgrowth of the fortunate child whose outreach and questions have been encouraged rather than repelled.

Secondly, the emotionally stable person likes more people than he dislikes. He is able to evaluate people and admire them where they are superior to him. The unhealthy person thinks of people in terms of whether they help or bother him, is not able to give and take.

The third measure of stability is "How appropriate are a person's reactions." The healthy subject does not make strong reactions to minor stimuli. The unhealthy person puts more into a situation than intended and reacts with strong hostility to the self-inflicted portion of the stimulus.

In the fourth place the well adjusted person likes to be alone at times. Though a social being he has creative things to do when alone. When the poorly adjusted person is alone he tends to think only of the injustices he has suffered, and his defeats. He has no pleasant memories.

The fifth test of stability is reaction to the unwanted experience. The healthy subject realizes that throughout history, people have had to meet the unwanted experience with strength, pick up the pieces and go on, in order for the present generation to be alive on the face of the earth. The unhealthy can't manage disappointment and can't go on.

The two final measures of emotional health are knowing that each is a part of something greater than himself and accepts his small part in the larger pattern; and the healthy is never wholly trapped in things as they are. He is always confident that there is a solution to his problem no matter how large it is.

Mrs. Overstreet was introduced by Dr. John R. Mulder, president of Western Seminary, who spoke of her appearance as one of the outstanding experiences of the school year.

Walter W. Scott, superintendent of the Holland Public Schools, closed the meeting.

Eagles Auxiliary Holds Installation

Installation of Mrs. Nellie Israels as inside guard highlighted a meeting of the Eagles Auxiliary Friday evening at the lodge hall. Twenty-one members attended the meeting.

Plans for a district meeting in Manistee at 3:30 p.m. Oct. 21 were announced.

Lunch was served by Mesdames Erna Looman, Betty Ooms, Irene Picotte and Laura Martin. Prizes were won by Mesdames Nellie Israels, Marie Slayter, Minnie Van Der Bie and G. M. Austin.

The Graafschap Fire Department which serves Fillmore and Laketown townships is proud of its improved fire fighting equipment which includes a new 1,200-gallon tanker and a pumper which has been in operation since 1949.

Dave Schripsema, who has been fire chief for four years, says the volunteer department averages 25 to 30 calls a year. There are 18 fulltime volunteers and three auxiliary firemen. In training, they operate as four squads of four each plus officers.

The new 1,200-gallon tanker is a 1953 International truck which fire department members designed for use as a tanker. The work was done at Knoll's Hatchery by Harold Knoll and Teunis Lubbers. This tanker replaces an old tanker which has been in use since the department was organized in 1942. That 600-gallon tanker was a 1937 model truck which firemen also converted.

Members of the force are Chief Schripsema who has been with the department since its beginning in 1942, Harold Knoll, Nick Blystra, Ray Bultema, Vern Mulder, Gradus Knoll, Oliver Den Blyker, Clarence Mulder, Charles Reimink, Harvey Rutgers, Teunis Lubbers, Steve Langejans, James Mulder, Gerrit Heetderks, Don Blaauw, Russell Goeman, Henry Gebben, Harold Knoll, Jr., James Genzink, Capt. George Koops, Lt. Clare Elders, Herman Tien.

The department, which has had its share of fighting fires during the last 14 years, had an opportunity for special service when the volunteers did rescue and cleanup work in the April 3 tornado which hit several places in the Graafschap area before striking Hudsonville and other areas in Ottawa and Kent counties.

Optimists Hear John B. Martin

"This bloody September of 185 traffic deaths is only the beginning unless we drive the drunk and reckless driver off our roads," John B. Martin, Republican candidate for Secretary of State told Holland Optimists at a noon luncheon Monday.

"It will never be done under the present soft policy of the Secretary of State's office inaugurated by his pre-election backdown order of Aug. 27, 1956. Note this date well. In August before his order we had a drop of 51 below the same month last year. In September after his order, the final figures will show an increase of 30 deaths over September a year ago, the worst September on record," Martin said.

"The Secretary of State has put out figures to prove that there has been no backdown from a tough policy on reckless traffic violators. Unfortunately he has not given the true picture. To obtain his figures he has added in even the most minor restrictions on licenses applied by his office. The real evidence of a vigorous policy against drunks and reckless drivers is the number of revocations and suspensions. By his own figures these revocations and suspensions have dropped 413 in one month from 1891 in August to 1478 in September. Furthermore, warning letters have dropped from 2,688 in August to 433 in September.

Worse traffic fatalities and more deaths are ahead unless the Secretary of State has the courage to reverse his "go easy" policy on traffic violators regardless of whether he might lose a vote or not," Martin said.

Lack of Spirit At Football Games Concerns Board

The Holland Board of Education is deeply concerned over the attitude of townsfolk at students over the high school football program.

Those sentiments were expressed at a regular meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

First concern was voiced by James A. Hallan, the board's representative on the Athletic Council, who said the football program is not recognized on the same par as the academic program, band or other segments of the curriculum.

"Basically, I believe we have a well-rounded, broad athletic program, but there's something drastically wrong with the spirit and morale that should go with the high school football games. Except for the Grand Haven game, the fourth game so far this season, the crowds have been lacking in spirit—and this reflects on teams too," he said.

Hallan added that parents of players also have been concerned and have been calling him.

Several other board members including President Wendell A. Miles and Alvin J. Cook added their concern, and the sentiments voiced to them.

None of the persons speaking seemed to put their finger on any one thing—and certainly no single member or members of the coaching staffs were mentioned.

Supt. Walter W. Scott said the lack of spirit affected not only the students and players, but also the staff. "Certainly, nobody in Holland expects the Holland team to win every game, but it's not too much to expect the players to give their best, and have the crowd pulling for them," he said.

He pointed to the general disorder among the grade school children and junior high age groups who seem more interested in walking around and getting in people's way. "There must be something we can do on the lower levels in teaching girls and boys the simple rules of football. Most youngsters at games don't even know the score—or care," he said.

Some board members said some people were more interested in the band performance than in the game... and that subject led to a slap on the wrist for the band players who started leaving the field before the game was done last Friday.

There was a lot more discussion on the subject—concern rather than irritation—and the upshot was that this "hot potato" was tossed to Supt. Scott to discuss with his staff and figure out ways to boost school morale.

"I polled some Holland students before the game last Friday and of the dozen or so I talked to on who was going to win, only a couple dared say they hoped Holland would win. We need more fight than that," Scott said.

HARVEY MATUSOW'S

"REVOLUTION"

When he was sent to the penitentiary by a New York judge as the most monumental liar in modern American life, Harvey Matusow took time out to issue the following statement:

"I'll never have to be ashamed of anything I've done from this day forward."

In other words, from now on he is resolved to go straight. Doubtless he means to do so, and a good resolution, even if it is broken, is better than no resolution at all. But it would be stretching the power of faith almost to the breaking point to accept Matusow's resolution without the salt of reserve.

Matusow is the notorious "witness" who reserved his sworn testimony in open court so dramatically that in the end he confessed that he himself had forgotten which statements were true and which were false. The jury in the case convicted him of having lied under oath in five cases, and the judge sentenced him to five years for each perjured statement, but mercifully allowed him to serve the sentences concurrently.

Hence Matusow will be in position within less than five years to put his resolution to the test; with time off for good behavior, he will be out of the pen in considerably less than five years.

He has rolled five New Year resolutions all into one, and he will have to show about five times the stamina of the average citizen who vows on December 31 that he will live a life of virtue the coming year.

If he can make good he will be establishing a record of some sort. But in view of the fact that he has lived 29 years and that by his own confession in court he has been a liar for all but the first two of those years, it would be asking far too much of the average citizen who is himself reasonably honest and who does not expect too much of fallible human nature to expect him to take Matusow with complete seriousness. Doubtless this magnificent liar means well at the emotional moment of going behind the bars, but the average citizen knows that the road to a certain undesirable place is paved with good intentions.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, October 14
The Ten Commandments
Exodus 20:1-17
By C. P. Dame

(Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. and used by permission.)

We are living in a world of laws. In the world of nature there are laws which make the study of nature possible. Nature is governed by law. We could not have athletic games if there were no rule books. God has also given us laws for our moral life—The Ten Commandments.

I, God gave the law to Israel. We consider the Ten Commandments to be of divine origin. They are not the product of human experience. In these commandments which God gave to Moses on Mt. Sinai who in turn gave them to Israel, God expresses His will for our lives. These laws are good and they are meant for our good. Some people think they are outmoded but that is not so. They apply to all people and to all times.

It always was wrong to kill, steal, commit adultery and to covet. God has written the law on man's heart and conscience but when sin came man's heart and conscience became dulled. Jesus has taught us that the Ten Commandments, also called the Moral Law and the Decalogue, apply not only to the overt act but also to our thoughts. In view of the fact, no one can fully keep the law, hence the law condemns us and shows us our sinfulness. The law therefore tells us that we are by nature law-breakers and hence guilty.

II. The law tells us about our duties to God. The first four commandments teach us about our relationship with God. The sum and substance of the first table of the law, composed of the first four commandments, is love to God. The first commandment summons us to worship God only and exclusively. Some people make an idol of a car, cottage, family or their business and put these before God which is wrong. The second commandment tells us to worship God in a spiritual manner. I imagine a misrepresent God and therefore to make images of Him is forbidden.

The third commandment tells us to hold the name of God in high honor—to take His name in vain is sinful. The fourth commandment about the keeping of the Sabbath is the longest of all. God set aside one day of seven in which to rest and worship. The weekly day of rest was established by God when He created this world. God gave us an example for He rested on the seventh day and hallowed it.

III. The Second Table tells us about our duties to our fellow men. In these six commandments we are ordered to love our neighbor as ourselves. Our first obligation is to our parents. Children should obey and honor their parents. Disobedience in the home often has tragic results. In the sixth commandment, murder is forbidden. One of the ways people are killed is on the highway by drunken speeders. Everything that shortens and stunts life is forbidden. In the seventh commandment, which is most violated, adultery is forbidden. The word "adultery" refers to illegal sex relationships between persons one or both of whom are married. However all manner of impurity is sinful and wicked. Chastity is God's ideal.

It is wrong to steal—this is what the eighth commandment says. God orders us all to respect property. Fraud, trickery, cheating and all dishonest dealing are wrong. Employers who take advantage of employees and employees who loaf on the job and kill time steal. We can steal from God and from men and many people steal from God.

In the ninth commandment we are ordered not to bear false witness but speak the truth always. The tenth commandment says: "Thou shalt not covet"—that is to desire something that rightly belongs to another. This commandment is important because it deals with the realm of desire.

The negative does not do anything that hurts our neighbor—we should do all we can to help him to live a full life. Remember this too—as Christians we strive to keep the law not to be saved—Christ has done that—but because we are saved.

Hope Receives $4,000 Grant

Hope College has received a check for $4,000 from the Eastman Kodak Company. Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, Hope president, said today.

The grant is one of 50 made by Eastman to privately-supported colleges and universities whose graduates have been employed by the company during and since 1951 and are currently employed.

Grants made in the Eastman 1956 program amount to $500 for each year of normal academic work successfully completed by each graduate to meet the requirements of a regular college degree. Dr. Lubbers said the employee made have received a degree from the institution, and no allowance is made for his attendance at or credits received from any institution from which he did not actually graduate. The grants apply to degrees received either at the undergraduate or graduate level.

Dr. Lubbers pointed out that the college transcript of the graduate is used to verify the award of the degree as well as the number of years of regular academic attendance by the graduate at the college or university.

Hope graduates whose affiliation with the Eastman Kodak Company made possible the $4,000 grant include James Grooters, originally of Orange City, Iowa; Richard L. Hoebeke, Grand Rapids; and Gerrit H. Hoppers, III, Ontario Center, N. Y.

All three received their A. B. degrees from Hope College, majoring in chemistry.

Army Approves Reserve Unit Here

The Army has approved activation of an Army reserve unit in Holland, according to Lt. Col. David E. Cleary of the Grand Rapids sub-office.

Major Daniel Clark of 213 10th St., will be training advisor for the unit and will be in a position to answer questions locally, pending assignment of additional Holland officers and men in the unit.

Christian Endeavor

October 14, 1956

Possessions — Mine or God's

Psalm 50:10; Psalm 8

By Darrell Franken

To The Leader: "If God gave you ten times what you gave Him, how much would your income be?" ... This is a pretty stiff and accurate tabulation of your giving for Christianity. To bring one's self to the place where he is willing to tithe is not an easy task. It is extremely difficult to convince ourselves of the truth which says, "All that we have is thine, O Lord."

There are cars we want to buy, houses we want to build, television sets we want to take up our spare time, and air - conditioning to make life more pleasant. All these and a hundred more brazenly call for our paychecks. And when the deacons face us on Sunday morning we reach for that jingling conscience money, and pay God less than we pay a car-hop for food, or an attendant for a tank of gas. It hurts some people to give. But it shouldn't be. "Give and it will be given unto you; shaken measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over will be put into your lap."

Poor Giving

Opening our billfolds and purses in church is often a painful operation. When the offering plate moves up and down the rows and comes closer to us we begin to think such thoughts as, "My car is about out of gas, so I need money for that," "I'm buying a new radio and payments are rather hard to meet," "My paycheck won't come until next Friday," "I go to school and so my income is small. Therefore I don't need to tithe." These and hundreds of other ideas crowd our minds when that shiny brass plate goes by us in church.

But why should this happen? Probably because our own selfish interests reign supreme in our minds. However, this may not be the only reason. Our "cheap-skate" giving may be due to a real feeling of thanksgiving. Another reason for poor giving is the lack of real purpose in giving. Just tossing a quarter in a money-stained, velvet-lined tray is rather meaningless without seeing the objective toward which it is going.

Good Giving

Good giving begins where two things are present in the heart: thanksgiving and a vision of a need.

1. Thanksgiving is the coal that fires the furnace of our giving. We put coal in our furnaces to produce fire and heat. If there is no coal the fire dies out. And in the heart of a Christian, if there is no coal of Thanksgiving the fire of giving also soon dies out.

If your society finds it hard to "give," maybe you ought to take a trip to a slum area, or go to one of your denominational domestic mission stations. Maybe you could visit a Home for Elderly, a Children's Home, or a hospital for the physically or mentally ill. This might fire the furnace of your giving.

A Vision of a Need is the other way to tap the flow of giving. How many times in the past year did you know where your quarter or dollar was going. Did your leader ever say, "This offering is going for such and such" Mission Project, or something of that nature.

If you gave some portion of your possessions, you gave out of a sense of thanksgiving, or maybe out of a sense of obligation. Therefore, if your society could be brought to see some particular need, the "giving" of your particular society would very likely increase.

Purposeful Giving

Take time at your meeting this week to find some "need" to which you can give your tithes. I am sure this will increase your giving, and thereby glorify God.

Dog Notes

by Peter Boggs

Dogs Are Really Fast Growing

If humans grew and developed as fast as dogs, we would weigh about 450 pounds on our first birthday.

For instance, a dachshund puppy weighs about five ounces at birth and around nineteen pounds at the age of twelve months. A German shepherd weighs close to sixty pounds. Dogs increase their weight sixty times during their first year of life, while a child increases its weight only three times during this period.

If we grew at the same rate as pups, we would grow two sets of teeth and gain an average of a pound and a half a day during our first year of life.

Not On Doorstep

Why is it that some dogs choose the front steps as a favorite place to lie? Perhaps it is from habit - waiting to be let inside. But it is one habit that should be discouraged.

Not only has many a person been seriously hurt by tripping over a dog on the steps, but a normally placid dog seems to develop special guarding instincts while on that perch and will snap at visitors at whom he would normally wag his tail if he met them anywhere else on the premises.

Your dog may look attractive stretched out on your front steps but it is not the place for him, especially if he is one of those who has to be watched closely when strangers are about.

Feeding Your Dog

Feed your dog at approximately the same hour each day. Some people believe in feeding a grown dog only once a day; however, I think they should receive something in the morning followed by their main meal at night. All my dogs have shredded wheat and milk in the morning. Once or twice a week a raw egg is added to the dogs.

Dogs are a lot smarter than we are about eating. Sometimes they will cure themselves of minor ailments by refusing food. Never leave your dog's food dish in front of him for over ten minutes. If he refuses to eat in that length of time, the food should be taken away and he should not be fed until his next regular meal hour.

A dog not fed on a regular schedule each day will be looking for and expecting food all the time. You'll be surprised what a difference it will make in your pet's behavior if he is fed at about the same time each day.

The Question Box

QUESTION: Is it safe to give my beagle a bath outdoors in the late fall?

ANSWER: It is all right in warm weather, but I wouldn't advise it when the weather is cool. Your dog may catch cold. I suggest that you dust Fuller's earth or corn meal into his coat, followed by a thorough brushing. Groom him daily.

Ditcher Available To Cooperators

The West Ottawa District Board has purchased a new type ditcher which will be available for district cooperators to rent according to Clarence Reenders, chairman.

The ditcher which resembles two moldboard plows back to back was demonstrated at the Tony Wolf farm in Robinson Township and the John Bouwman farm south of Borculo two weeks ago. The board feels that this tool will provide a real help in getting shallow surface drainage for the farmers in the Robinson and Olive township areas especially.

Any medium size farm tractor can handle the tool. It is equipped with a ratchet device or depths so that the tractor does not need a hydraulic to operate it. A grader blade is also available for cooperators to use in leveling the spoil bank of the ditch.

Farmers wishing to use this tool should get in touch with Bill Sinderman who lives on M-50, one-fourth miles east of 112th Ave.

Always dry scrubbing brushes with the bristles down, and in the sun if possible.

Arrange that special business appointment of The Bier Kelder. Air-conditioned with only nationally advertised beverages. Open for your convenience from noon until midnight.

Speaker Explains African Problems

George Huff, missionary who recently returned from Africa, was guest speaker for Rotary at their noon luncheon Thursday. Speaking on "Growing Pains in Africa," Mr. Huff outlined the history of political development in Africa until the present time. At present, countries under colonial rule have a district commissioner under whom is a legislative council of 52 members and a cabinet of 12 ministers, all of whom are chosen by the people.

According to Mr. Huff, the missions have been a great influence in the political development of Africa, through education, medicine and spiritual development with schools being the major influence. However, with only a small minority being educated, Mr. Huff said that political power is under their control and graft and extortion has been rampant and has led to many riots in protest against the tax abuses.

Mr. Huff stated that the solution of Africa's trouble depends on the spread of education and religion to a larger number of people.

Junior Rotarians for October are Dale Cooper and John Crozier. They were introduced by Rotarian Randall Bosch.

Mission Group Has Stewardship Program

The Missionary group of the Women's Guild of Third Reformed Church held its regular monthly meeting in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. John Van Zomeren, president, opened the meeting.

She illustrated total dedication of oneself and means from the lives of some of the Chinese she knew throughout her many years of service as a missionary to China.

Mrs. Abraham De Young, speaker, further developed the stewardship theme, using the hand as a symbol. The index or pointer finger, she said, indicates using all of life to direct others to God; the little or ear finger to denote what we hear or take to ourselves mentally; and the ring finger wearing the symbols of yielding and consecration to another, indicative of total surrender to God; the tail finger reaching out above all others, representing prayer, and the thumb, or grasper, representing all-inclusive stewardship, grasping the world for Christ.

The book, compiled by many leading authorities for use in this climate, is highly endorsed by nurserymen in the state. It is available at the Holland library or copies are available for sale. Do — it — yourself gardeners or new home owners will find it a valuable asset in their plantings. Mrs. Cook told the group.

Holland Scores TD On 9-Yard Pass After Long Run

After tearing up the Riverview Park turf for more rushing yardage than in the last two games combined, Holland High's football team still had to counter with its best '56 weapon, the forward pass, to score Friday night in a 7-7 battle with Grand Haven before a standing room crowd of more than 5,000 fans.

Although the forward pass, a nine-yard aerial from quarterback Tom Stoel to right end Larry Alderink in the right corner of the end zone with 2:35 left in the third quarter scored the touchdown, it was fullback Wes Kuylers, driving through big holes in the line on delayed bucks, including a 52-yard gallop that set up the score and held up the bulk of the Holland offense.

But Kuylers, playing his first game in two weeks, wasn't the only ground siege gun in the game. Gene Ralya, 180-pound right halfback, sliced through the Holland line on crossbucks that accounted for almost half of the Grand Haven rushing total.

Ralya, who scored the Grand Haven touchdown on a reverse from one-foot out, and kicked the extra point, netted 110 yards in 21 tries for an average of 5.2 yards per carry.

But his bone-crushing counter-part from Holland did even better. Wes, tugging the ball underneath ox-yoke-like shoulders, accounted for 152 of Holland's 198 net yards on the ground. He carried 19 times for an average of eight yards per try.

Adding to the improved Dutch yard-eating offense was an equally improved defense which twice held the Buccaneers inside the Holland 15 yard line twice.

Grand Haven marched 65 yards to the Holland two-yard line immediately after the opening kickoff.

Don Bigler, 185-pound junior fullback, and Ralya tried all four downs, hitting up the middle twice, around end and off tackle. They ended on the Holland six.

In what turned out to be the last Grand Haven series of the game, the Dutch held again, this time for four downs inside the 15.

Holland had failed on a fourth attempt to make a first down on their own 40. With four minutes remaining the Bucs took over.

Ralya crossbucked for 11, quarterback Jerry Lietzke rolled out for four, Ralya grabbed a handoff and raced 12 to the Holland 14 with a first down.

Two line plays lost two, Lietzke ran to the 10 and then Ralya tried Grand Haven's third pass of the game, and it, like the two thrown earlier, fell incomplete.

Holland took over as time ran out and finished play on their own 27.

Tom Aye, whose conversion turned out to be mighty important, remembered the important point of keeping his eye on the ball. On the conversion, the pass from center was high, holder Stoel had to jump out of his kneeling position, get back down and place the ball. He did. Aye kicked and it split the uprights.

Ralya's kick, too, had its moments. The ball was placed in time and booted, but a Dutch line-man, got a hand on it to partially block it. But the ball gained enough height to just skim the bar.

NOTES—Ted Van Zanden, Holland co-captain, was bothered with the flu and only got in for one play. His hard-charging guard play was missed. It was the first time this season Grand Haven has had the ball less than its opponents in the first half. Holland had the ball 28 times and Grand Haven 19.

Grand Haven still holds a 27-26 in the all-time competition. This was the seventh tie. Grand Haven used the Y formation with fullback one yard ahead of halfback. This was the first time Holland saw this setup this year. Both Al Hill and brother Ken, brought up from the second team this week, had wind knocked out on the same play in the second quarter. Both returned and played strong games. Al's defensive charging was a high point and Ken did Holland's punting, getting off three for 104 yards. Al also called defensive signals and acted as captain. Stoel's TD pass was his fifth of the season, accounting for all Holland touchdowns. The Dutch picked up 94 yards on ground in third period, thanks to Kuylers' 52-yard run, longest of the game. Holland didn't fumble, but recovered one of Grand Haven's two. Both quarterbacks showed finesse. Stoel picked Grand Haven weaknesses in line and Lietzke was more deceptive than any field general Holland has seen. Holland put ball in play 53 times and Grand Haven 43. Holland confined its passing to second and third quarters, completing all four out of nine tried in those periods. As a result of the tie, the wooden shoes, symbol of the Ottawa county football supremacy since 1947, will remain in the Holland High trophy case. Holland travels to Dowagiac next Friday night and Grand Haven meets Ionia, Dowagiac lost to Allegan 12-12 Friday. A slight confusion in the huddle on the play resulted in Holland not kicking on fourth down on their own 40 late in the game. Wes Kuylers received the pass from

TYING POINT—Gene Ralya, Grand Haven right halfback, boots what proved to be the tying point in the 7-7 Holland-Grand Haven football game Friday night at Riverview Park. Ralya's boot was partially deflected by Holland tackle Laverne Bronkema (70), but the ball picked up enough altitude to just skim over the cross bar. George Boerigter (78) is another Holland defender. (Sentinel Photo)

Supervisors Will Consider 5-Year Road Program

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—The Good Roads committee of the Ottawa County Board of Supervisors tentatively approved a five-year road construction program at a meeting with the County Road commission Thursday afternoon and made arrangements to submit the report at the Tuesday session of the supervisors next week.

The five-year program is based on requests for an appropriation of $200,000 each year from the Board of Supervisors which would care for immediate deficiencies in the primary county road system. Supervisors attending the afternoon meeting were Roy Lowing, chairman, Clarence Reenders, Harry Harrington, Dick Nieuwma, Robert Murray and Albert Walcott.

At a morning session, the road commission took under advisement a petition with 46 signatures submitted by Abe Sybesma, Park township treasurer, objecting to construction of a road along the old interurban right-of-way in Park township between Goldenrod Ave. and Graafschap Rd.

Bids also were opened for sand and gravel hauling for a construction project on Barry St. and 48th Ave. in section 36 of Blendon township. Contract was awarded to William Huizenga for low bid of $5,200.

The commission also voted to ask the Board of Supervisors to pass a resolution at the next session making road commission employees eligible for social security along with the Michigan Retirement Plan. The commission has been operating under plan C.

The commission approved Michigan State Highway grade separation plans for carrying 16th Ave. over the new US-16 in Marne. It also authorized advertising for three dump trucks and underbody scrapers, bids to be opened at the next regular meeting.

Holland Reserves Trampled by Bucs

Grand Haven's second team scored with the game only 37 seconds old and then roared on to record a 33-0 victory over the Holland high reserve football team Friday afternoon at Riverview Park.

Bob Van Opyen raced 60 yards for the first touchdown and then later in the quarter Dave Greene ran around right end for four yards.

Still in the first period John Essenyi blocked a Holland punt on the one-foot line and then carried over on the next play.

Essenyi broke away for 83 yards in the second quarter to record the fourth Grand Haven touchdown and then ran 23 yards around end for the final score. The last touchdown was set up on a recovered Holland fumble on the Dutch 28.

Coach Loy Lovitt, playing without the services of 11 players, all out with injuries, came up with a makeshift team that picked up 35 yards rushing and four first downs. The winners had only two first downs.

Highlight of Holland's play was a 40-yard run by Joe Gutierrez. Holland fumbled five times and lost the ball four times.

Wilsons See the Sights in Austria And Take in Hitler's Famous 'Nest'

By Matthew C. Wilson

Our first visit to Austria landed us in Innsbruck, a village in the Tyrolean Alps. We traveled by bus to the top of Mt. Pelscherkofel where we had a good view of Innsbruck and a little mountain town of Igls. From our vantage point of 6,000 feet we could see mountain ranges extending into Germany, Italy and Hungary.

Innsbruck, which was heavily bombed during the war, is a lovely medieval town. Some of the attractions of the town are the town hall with the golden roof, signs of inns visited by Mozart and Beethoven and the palace of Maria Theresa, who was a great ruler and well loved by her people. Being an Imperialist, it she had her say there would be no United States of America because she strongly opposed our revolt against England. The Panorama showing the battle of the Tyrolean farmers against Napoleon is worth seeing and I wonder if that was not the origin of the idea for the Panorama of the Battle of Atlanta seen in Atlanta, Ga.

This is a fascinating city and has many good places to eat. We sampled some new dishes, such as a dessert "palatchinken." It is a thin pancake filled with jelly and rolled up. Weiner Schnitzel is on every menu. A lot of pork is served, but very little beef, and not much fowl.

We took a wonderful trip by bus from Innsbruck to Salzburg over lovely rolling country and through many quaint villages. Since it is Sunday morning, we saw the villagers, many in native costumes, heading for church. People stood in the middle of the road exchanging gossip and I was sure that our bus would strike them. In Salzburg we had the surprise of the trip. A brand new hotel, the Park Mirabel, had just opened. It had studio beds, a radio (our first on this trip), modern lights and even an indoor swimming pool with heated water and Olympic in size. In the lobby was a TV, but since it was in German we did not watch it.

After a lunch on the roof garden we took a bus trip to the Galsbergspitze at 4,200 feet and had a view of Salzburg, Grossglockner and Hitler's old roost at Berchtesgaden. After a fine dinner at the old Powandner, in the old part of Salzburg, we took in a concert of folk songs with some native dances. We were too late for the actual famous Salzburg music festival. The equally famous Alcher marionettes were there, so we saw a performance which was very lifelike, a premier of Apollo and Hyacinthos.

Our guide was a Doctor of Philosophy who was denied a teaching job in Austria because he insisted on teaching some of the origins of rituals in the Christian religion which were taken from early religions. He was an interesting guide. He spent much of the war in a Hitler concentration camp. Since his wife is part Jewish, he was fortunate in not being killed. Hitler overran Austria and then forced its men to fight in the German armies. As a result Austria suffered heavy losses from bombing.

We went to Berchtesgaden near where Hitler had his famous hide-out which was called "The Eagle's Nest," but would have been better named "Robber's Roost." The Fuehrer, his lady love and his generals would meet there to relax. In order not to leave a place that might become a shrine for Hitlerites, the castle was demolished. It was reached through rock by an elevator from Berchtesgaden and a private road which was heavily guarded with troops every few yards. The hotel which housed Goring and others still stands. Today it is a U. S. soldiers rest home named after General Walker.

Hitler, drunk with power, forced the world into a war which killed and maimed millions and destroyed irreplaceable works of art, ancient history, fine cathedrals as well as modern cities

Hope Students Expect Biggest Homecoming Fete

Hope College students are preparing for what they believe will be the biggest Homecoming in the history of this quarter-century celebration.

Miss Virginia Vanderborgh, junior from West Sayville, N. Y., and Roger Garvelink, Holland junior, are co-chairmen.

The host of alumni expected this weekend will be entertained by a variety of events. Unusually clever house decorations will follow the theme "Future Fantasy." The 1956 Homecoming Queen will be crowned in ceremonies at the Civic Center Friday night, Hope's football team will meet Adrian at Riverview Park Saturday afternoon and alumni gatherings will be featured throughout Saturday.

Festivities began Monday morning when George Lumsden, Hope alumnus, who is specialist communications and training for General Electric Co., addressed the student body and expressed the feelings alumni hold for Hope's spiritual and educational program.

The annual Homecoming Parade is scheduled at 10 a.m. Saturday followed by the Alumni Varsity H Club steak dinner at noon in the Juliana Room, Durfee Hall. Mrs. Irwin J. Lubbers will be hostess at her annual luncheon on the President's home.

The Hope-Adrian game will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday and the annual alumni buffet supper in Durfee Hall will follow from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. A number of campus societies plan alumni events during the day.

Open house will be held in all dormitories and fraternity houses in the evening from 8 to 11. From 9 to 11 p.m., the faculty will hold a reception in Durfee Hall.

Robert Rescorla, district commissioner, and his staff will coordinate the distribution in neighborhood areas. It is expected that more than 1,000 boys will participate in the vote promotion campaign.

Other vote activities mentioned were bicycle signs and decorations, "sandwich boards" and signs on long sticks for the boys to carry, and accompanying the parents to the polls.

Other business conducted at the roundtable included plans for the distribution of community chest posters by Boy Scout Troops of the Holland area. The meeting was held at the Ganges Methodist Church.

State Senator Clyde H. Geerlings and State Representative George Van Puseur will address Holland Rotarians at their luncheon meeting Thursday noon at the Warm Friend Tavern. They will discuss "Michigan Legislative News."

Mrs. Utley Discusses Suez at Woman's Club

Egypt and the Suez canal question took the center of the stage Tuesday afternoon at the Woman's Literary Club when Mrs. Clifton Utley of Chicago analyzed the current world problems.

Pointing to the reasons behind the tensions over the Suez canal, Mrs. Utley said the next few weeks would tell the story. It is on the U.N. agenda.

"The fact is that relations between Britain, France and the U. S. are not as cordial as we would like them to be," she said.

Franny Utley, whose background gives her authority, says her prediction is that "Egypt will get away with it." She built up a picture of Premier Gamal Nasser and his predecessor, General Naguib, with reasons for Egypt's seizure of the canal.

Nasser is reasonable and personable and is a diplomat, she said. He promised many things to the Egyptian people when he was put in power over Naguib by the military.

Construction of the Aswan Dam, which was to double the amount of land that could be cultivated, was denied by the refusal of loan promised by the U. S. When the Egyptian ambassador went to the State Department to say that Egypt was ready to accept the terms of the loan for the dam, he was told the U.S. had decided against the loan, she said.

"There was no good reason for the way we refuse the loan," Mrs. Utley said. "Nasser being a diplomat, the refusal was a sharp reproof against him. His natural resentment and the promises he made to his people forced him to save face and seize the canal, she told her attentive audience."

The Indian proposal for an international control commission was refused by Egypt, who would have title to the canal with the commission maintaining and running the operations. Oil and shipping companies using the canal would actually be paying the bills, the commentator said.

Mrs. Utley briefly mentioned some of the other small countries currently in the news pointing out Germany and Chancellor Adenauer's stiffening to NATO proposals; Tito who would like to be leader of the Slavic countries, and Japan's pending negotiations for a peace treaty with the Soviet Union to release Japanese prisoners of war.

Questions of special interest to members of the club were answered by Mrs. Utley.

After you have used the automatic washer for tinting clothing, be sure to clean it thoroughly to prevent staining clothes in future laundries.

Junior League Hears Report

Miss Jo Lee Hurlbut gave a report on her activities as a delegate to Wolverino Girls' State to members of Junior Welfare League Tuesday evening at the Woman's Literary club house. The League sponsored Miss Hurlbut to the session, held at University of Michigan last summer.

Because of the wonderful opportunity Girls' State affords young high school girls, League members voted to send a representative from both Holland High School and Christian High School next summer.

Miss Hurlbut said the experience gave the girls a deeper appreciation for their country and they learned how political parties are organized and work to select candidates. She was chosen a justice of the supreme court in the fictional state government system that was set up to instruct the girls. She also was chosen as an alternate to Girls' Nation held in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. James F. Brooks, president, conducted the business session, in which League members voted to contribute $50 to Prestatie Huis for necessary supplies. Junior League also is providing a fund for daily refreshments for the children at Prestatie Huis.

Following the meeting, coffee was served by Mrs. Ted Boeve and Mrs. John De Haan.
