Civic Pride Jolted Here in Chest Drive

Chairman Hanson Urges
Hard Work to Make Up
For Shortage in '57

Officials of the Holland Community Chest jolted Holland's civic pride today as they made final plans for this year's campaign for $73,835.

The drive gets under way next Monday with the Single Solicitation Plan, Inc., the chest's vehicle for soliciting contributions from business and industry, and plainly every individual has his work cut out for him.

"The unvarnished truth of the matter is that the community-at-large fell down on the job last year," Campaign Chairman David Hanson said today. "Only because of gracious giving in previous years which produced a small carry-over fund, was the Chest able to continue its vital program without curtailing services."

The announcement came as a surprise to the city which traditionally supports the community fund at least 100 per cent and often over-subscribes its quota.

"Last year the drive for $72,798 ran out of steam with some $15,000 still to go," Hanson said. He added that it was not so much a matter of an unwillingness to give as it was a lack of understanding throughout the community on the real needs of the many agencies serving it.

Last year when last-minute appeals to the community failed to produce the margin needed for complete victory, chest directors had no choice but to look for resources elsewhere. Fortunately, there was just enough money carried over from 1956 and years previous to make up the deficit, plus some additional aid from the Single Solicitation Plan.

The disappointing results of the 1957 appeal were not brought to the attention of the public at the conclusion of the campaign, largely because of Holland's history of supporting the Community Chest and other worthwhile projects. Chest directors were reluctant to publicize a blemish on the record, and so long as carry-over funds were available they considered the matter closed for the time being.

"With these reserves depleted, we cannot stress too strongly the importance of fair-share giving this year," This was a joint statement by Hanson and his co-chairman, John Fonger.

Agencies covered by the Holland Community Chest are Salvation Army, Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts, Muskegon Area Guidance Clinic, Visiting Nurse Association, Prestable Huis, Red Cross, Council of Social Agencies and the Michigan United Fund which in turn supports many statewide agencies. George A. Pelgrim is serving as executive director this year. Community Chest headquarters are maintained in the John Good building on Eighth St.

Mrs. Anne M. Estabrook, 22, of Indianapolis, Ind., was ticketed by Holland police for failure to yield the right of way following a two-car accident Saturday at 12:30 p.m. at the corner of 29th St. and Washington Ave.

Mrs. Estabrook was going west on 29th St., police said, and a car driven by Vernon R. Johnson, 28, of 304 Fifth St., was going north on Washington Ave. when the two collided. Officers estimated the damage to Mrs. Estabrook's 1953 model station wagon at $300 and the damage to Johnson's 1955 model car at $250.

Mrs. Esther Cartwright, 37, of 166 Elwell Ct., received a ticket from Holland police for disobeying a stop sign as the result of an accident Saturday at 9:05 p.m. at the corner of Seventh St. and Central Ave.

According to police, Mrs. Cartwright was going north on Central Ave. when she went through the stop sign to collide with a car driven by Conrad T. Eckstrom, 30, of 276 West 30th St., who was making a left turn onto Central Ave. Police estimated the damage at $150 to Eckstrom's 1953 model car and at $25 to Mrs. Cartwright's 1953 model car.

Motorist Charged After Two-Car Crash

ZEELAND (Special) — Gerrit Bredeweg, 60, of 316 North Ottawa St., Zeeland, was charged with interfering with through traffic after a car which he was driving collided with a car driven by Mrs. Sylvia Elhart, 53, of 1014 Bluebell, Holland at 1:40 p.m. Wednesday at the intersection of M-31 and Paw Paw Dr.

According to Ottawa County deputies, Bredeweg stopped for the stop street and then pulled directly into the path of Mrs. Elhart's car. Mrs. Elhart's 1950 car was judged a total loss and the damage to Bredeweg's 1954 car was estimated at $300.

BIG HAILSTONES—Ben (left) and Don Vos, of Don's Flowers, Zeeland, this morning found some 500 windows smashed in their greenhouse on Lakewood Blvd. when they came to check the damage caused by the big storm early today. Vos said that in some places under the shattered glass ceiling they found hail piled six inches deep, with some chunks as large as golf balls. Vos also estimated that the hail and falling glass ruined about a quarter of his plants. This greenhouse received the brunt of the storm, as other area greenhouses reported little or no damage. Large Crowd Visits Sentinel's Open House

A large crowd visited the Holland Sentinel Wednesday afternoon on its second open house this year during National Newspaper Week.

Reactions from the many visitors were much like those expressed during the first open house last Friday, with most interest centered around the big 40-page Goss press. Flowers came from Holland Furnace Co., Peoples State Bank and Wooden Shoe Factory. Coffee and doughnuts, plus 7-Up, were served.

New Justice Familiar Here

Potter Stewart, newly appointed Justice to the U. S. Supreme Court and his wife, "Andy," the former Mary Ann Bertles of Grand Rapids are no strangers to Holland, having spent many summers at Ottawa Beach with the Charles Kirchen family.

Mrs. W. Robert Fitzgerald, the former Peggy Kirchen of Ottawa Beach Rd., a cousin of Mrs. Stewart says the family is very thrilled and excited about President Eisenhower's appointment of the 43-year-old Cincinnati federal judge to the highest court in the land.

"Andy is one of the nicest girls and Potter is a really brilliant person," Mrs. Fitzgerald said. "They are a down-to-earth family with a wonderful sense of humor."

Mr. and Mrs. William Bertles, who are visiting at the Bramblewood estate of Mrs. Charles Kirchen, are tremendously proud of their son-in-law, Potter Stewart. Mrs. Bertles, a sister of Mrs. Kirchen, told The Sentinel they were very pleased and happy about the appointment.

Mrs. Bertles, the former Kate Hummery and Mrs. Kirchen the former Marguerite Hummer and another sister, Hilda, Mrs. A. Chester Benson of Grand Rapids, grew up in Holland in a home on 12th St.

The new Justice was born in Jackson, Mich. Judge Stewart's name came up two years ago as a possible appointee.

Has Phone Number Ready When Fire Strikes Home

Woman's intuition paid off for Mrs. Don Hop of 1008 Bluebell Court Wednesday afternoon just before lightning struck her home. Believing in being prepared in case of an emergency Mrs. Hop had just looked up the telephone number of the fire department when the bolt struck the refrigerator in her home at 1 p.m. She hastened to a neighbor's home to make the call to the department. Her telephone was near the fire area.

Holland Girl Slightly Injured in Accident

Marilyn Guilford, 16, of 246 Howard Ave., was treated at Holland Hospital for bruises and released following a two-car collision Wednesday at 11:36 p.m. at the corner of Eighth St. and Columbia Ave. Miss Guilford was a passenger in a car driven by her mother, Mrs. Florence Guilford, 37, of the same address, who was driving east on Eighth St., and attempting to make a left turn onto Columbia Ave.

Holland police said Mrs. Guilford collided with a car driven by Jack D. McClellan, 31, of Muskegon, who has headed west on Eighth St. Police ticketed Mrs. Guilford for failure to yield the right of way. Officers estimated the damage to Mrs. Guilford's 1955 model car at $250 and the damage to McClellan's 1954 model car at $325.

Police Attend FBI Meeting

Holland Police Chief Jacob Van Hoff announced Wednesday that several men from the local police force will attend an FBI conference on the interstate transportation of stolen property to be held Oct. 15 at the new Kent County Jail in Grand Rapids.

Detectives Dennis Ende and Gilbert Tors are scheduled to attend, Chief Van Hoff said, while he and others of the force may also decide to go.

The FBI has scheduled 150 conferences on this subject, including three others in the state of Michigan, in order to combat the criminal schemes of confidence game swindlers, jewelry and fur thieves, fraudulent check passers and others.

The conferences will be on an open-forum basis to stimulate the free exchange of ideas and suggestions, according to FBI Agent Thomas J. Gearty, in charge of the meetings. Gearty said that the interstate passing of fraudulent checks alone cost the public $5 million in 1957.

Gearty said the FBI's jurisdiction arises when stolen property or funds are transported over state lines or wires, radio or television are used to defraud.

Holland Mother, Son Hurt in Crash

A Holland mother and her infant son were slightly injured in a two-car collision Wednesday at 5:36 p.m. on State St. just north of 24th St.

Mrs. Thelma Pelon, 21, of 736 Lincoln Ave., was treated at Holland Hospital for a cut lip and bruises and released. Her 10-month-old son, Calvin, was also treated for bruises and released.

Both were passengers in a car driven by her husband, Audley, 21, who was headed north on State St., according to Holland police, while a car driven by Lloyd G. DeBoer, 32, of 31 East 30th St., was headed south on State St. and making a left turn into a gas station when the accident occurred.

Officers estimated the damage to Pelon's 1952 model car at $250 and the damage to DeBoer's 1950 model car at $225.

Districts Vote 10 to 1 to Consolidate

13 Northside School Districts Merge
Into Single Area

Thirteen school districts, located north of Holland, voted 10 to 1 Monday to consolidate into one school district which eventually will operate its own high school. By the same majority, the districts also voted to share the bonded indebtedness and to raise four mills to retire this debt.

Nearly 1,700 persons voted in four locations during the 13-hour period from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Total vote cast was 1,691.

Shortly after votes were tabulated, the Ottawa County Board of Education met to name a five-member school board which will carry on until a school election is called some 45 days hence in November. Named to the board are Paul Brouwer, of West Crisp, J. Dyke Van Putten of Waukazoo, Gerrit M. Van Kampen of North Holland, Jack Daniels of Pine Creek and Harvey De Vree of Beechwood.

The new board met for a brief organizational meeting and named Van Kampen, president; Daniels, clerk, and De Vree, treasurer. Brouwer and Van Putten are designated trustees.

Vote on question 1 (consolidating 13 districts) was 1,501 yes, 144 no, and 46 blanks.

Vote on question 2 (assuming bonded indebtedness, property owners only) was 1,417 yes, 166 no, and 38 blanks.

Vote on question 3 (raising 4 mills to retire indebtedness) was 1,474 yes, 169 no, and 48 blanks.

Election workers said most of the "blanks" were ballots with check marks instead of cross marks. There also were several blank ballots.

One of the first things the new board will determine will be a distinctive name for the new district. The current program for consolidation had been listed as suburban schools consolidation, but other names will be considered too. After a name is selected, the Ottawa County Board of Education will designate a number.

A district-wide election to name five board members will be held in November. Steps in the future will include planning a new high school and selecting a site and the necessary bond issues to finance such programs.

Duck Hunters Receive Score

Four Holland duck hunters had a scare Wednesday in the Ottawa marshes east of New Richmond but were rescued about 12:30 a.m. today by following the sound of a car horn.

Jerry Gras, John Achterhof, Ron Woltring and David Reolofs, all 19, were hunting in the area about 4 p.m. Wednesday afternoon and became lost early in the evening. After wandering around for some time, they decided to sleep and wait until morning.

While huddled together, a heavy rain shower aroused them and they began to wander through the marsh area. One of the boys' father had driven to the general area and began blowing the car horn.

According to reports, the boys, dripping wet, heard the horn and walked toward it. With the experience came a warning from conservation officials for hunters to leave the area before dark.

New Crossing Slated

A new crossing for the Allegan branch railroad at 24th St. will be constructed Wednesday, Oct. 15, according to Chesapeake and Ohio railroad officials. Twenty-fourth St. will be closed to traffic that day between Apple Ave. and the US-31 bypass.

Rain, Hail Hit Holland

between Washington and Van Roolte Aves. Kraai is shoving branches into the "chipper," a machine which grinds up the wood and leaves to fine particles and blows the chaff into a waiting truck. A large branch from a tree also blocked traffic on 10th St. just off Maple Ave. (Sentinel photo)

Council Okays Bid for Walk At High School

ALLEGAN (Special) — Allegan's city council and the Allegan township board jointly approved the low bid of Moultenbelt and Rumery, Allegan contractors, for construction of a sidewalk to serve the new high school Monday night.

The low bid totaled $2,238 and the cost will be shared almost equally by the city and township.

Engineer Donald Allen said the walk would extend from Grant St. on the south side of Western Ave. to a point west of the bowling alley where it would cross to the north side of the street and connect with school property at the south end of the school. This will eliminate routing pedestrian traffic along the heavily traveled combined M-40 and M-89 which pass in front of the school.

Opening of bids for repairs to the Griswold Memorial Building roof was adjourned to Oct. 13 at 8 p.m. due to the shortness of time previously allowed contractors to make their bids.

A resolution requesting the state highway department to change traffic signals at the intersection of Cutler and Cedar St., to allow right turns from west Cutler onto Cedar, was passed by the council. The council also was in agreement that no protest be filed in the Cook St. drain hearing Oct. 14 unless the drain commissioner increases the city's present 76 per cent share of the project.

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — Joe Smith Drake, 42, Grand Rapids, was released from county jail Wednesday on payment of $15 fine and $4.90 costs on a larceny charge to which he pleaded guilty before Justice Lawrence De Witt Tuesday afternoon. Drake was charged with taking a wheelbarrow from Aman park in Tallmadge township Tuesday noon. He was picked up as he was leaving the park with a wheelbarrow in the trunk of his car. Drake, who formerly worked at the park, told the officer he wanted to borrow it.

This year the program of study and action will develop the practical theme, "To Serve God and Neighbor Best — Find the Career Just Right For You."

Road Changed To Rose Park

GRAND HAVEN (Special) — The name of Rifle Range Rd. in Rose Park subdivision north of Holland was officially changed to Rose Park Dr. at a special meeting of the Ottawa County Road Commission Wednesday.

Petitions from residents of Van's Blvd. in Harrington subdivision and Vandenberg Bros. subdivision in Park township requesting a 25-mile speed limit signs were denied for the reason that an automobile 25-mile limit is in effect in all residential areas which are not main thoroughfares. The commission's general policy calls for posting signs in control zones on main thoroughfares.

A petition for establishing a special assessment district for blacktopping David St. in Fredella subdivision in Grand Haven township was referred to the engineering department to check legal qualifications and prepare cost estimates. If the report is okayed, the road commission will set a date for hearing.

Boy Slightly Hurt As Bike Hits Car

An 11-year-old Holland boy escaped serious injury today at 12:43 p.m. when the bicycle he was riding collided head-on with a car on Eighth St. between College and Columbia Aves.

James Diekema, son of Mrs. Alma Diekema, 182 Columbia Ave., was treated by a local doctor for facial lacerations and bruises.

Holland police said the boy, riding west on Eighth St., crossed over to the left side of the street to collide head-on with a car driven by Clyde McNeely, 36, of 150 Clover Ave., who was headed east.

Diekema was thrown off to the side on the pavement by the impact, officers said, while the car ran over the bike and wrecked it. The boy told police he did not see the car.

Scouts to Usher

Chippewa District Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts will usher at the Michigan State-Pittsburgh football game Saturday in Spartan Stadium in East Lansing. Each year a group of scouts, usually five from each unit, take part in the ushering at MSU.

A savage rain and hail storm ripped through Holland early today and together with the rain that fell around noon Wednesday dumped a total of 2.01 inches in a 24-hour period.

Greatest intensity of the storm was around 1:30 a.m. when hail the size of marbles to walnuts lashed the area, stripping down a good share of the leaves. But plenty remained on the trees and hopes were good for the annual autumn show of colors which usually continues throughout the month of October.

Since 8 p.m. Wednesday, the rainfall measured 2.37 inches. Amount earlier in the day measured .64 inch. Hail hit hardest about 1:30 a.m. but rain and some hail continued intermittently until well after 5 a.m. Some streets were flooded, some basements were flooded and a few breaks in electrical service were reported.

Falling branches knocked out a primary wire in Waukazoo, putting the western part of that community in darkness for about two hours. Other trouble calls, less serious, came from Lakewood Blvd., James St., and Michigan Ave. in the 27th St. area.

Lightning struck the fire alarm system about 1:30 a.m. and it was put back into service an hour later. Then it was struck again and was out a few hours, according to the Board of Public Works.

Consumers Power Co. said it received several trouble calls on service interruption, but there appeared to be no serious breaks.

Harold Vanderveer, repair foreman at Michigan Bell Telephone, reported about 450 telephones out of service this morning, due to the combined effects of lightning, hail, wind and rain.

Falling tree limbs pulled down a few wires, Vanderveer said, although no telephone poles were actually struck by lightning. Lightning striking some cables burned them out, and moisture working into other wires shorted them out, he said.

Vanderveer said every available repair crew is out working today, and they hope to have all service restored by this evening.

Hail "as big as golf balls" and high winds early this morning smashed some 500 windows at the greenhouse of Don's Flowers, located on Lakewood Blvd. near 12th St. Owner Don Vos said he believes about 25 per cent of his plants were ruined by falling glass, but said he would not be able to make an accurate estimate of the total damage until later.

Vos said that in some places, inside the shattered greenhouse, hail lay six inches deep, with some jagged chunks as large as golf balls.

Shady Lawn Florists, with a greenhouse on 10th St. near the old city limits, reported about 150 windows knocked out by the hail, but very little damage to plants.

LePore Greenhouses on State St., south of Zeeland, reported about 15 windows broken by hail, but no damage to plants. Clare Zwiap of Zwiap's Greenhouses at Central Park reported no damage.

About four feet of water accumulated in the basement of the Pados Iron and Metal Co. on River Ave., knocking out the telephone service, heating and air conditioning and lights and ruining the files of records stored in the basement.

Seymour Pados estimated the damage at several thousand dollars. Pados said the water was surface water which came pouring down River Ave. and Fifth St. after storm sewers were filled and could no longer carry it away.

Holland city firemen were kept busy with three calls during the night reporting homes struck by lightning, but fortunately none resulted in fires.

At 1 a.m. a telephone call sent two trucks and ten men out to the John Schurman home on US-31 in the Maplewood district. Lightning had struck the corner of the house, firemen said, but no fire resulted.

At 1:45 a.m. firemen were called out again, this time to the William C. McVee residence at 96 West 27th St., where lightning struck the home. Twenty-four firemen searched the smoke-filled house but found no fire.

Somewhat later lightning was reported to have struck the William Masselink residence at 135 East 30th St., but firemen again reported no fire.

Holland police also found themselves wading in water at the station about 3 a.m. as the water backed up out of the drain in the rear cell block and flooded the floors. The water went down as the rains abated, however, and Night Sergeant Neal Plagenhoef got to work mopping the place up.

Several farmers in the Overisel and Benheim areas reported severe hailstorm damage to wheat and corn crops and also to windows. It is also reported the hail ruined the late tomato crop, breaking off the plants as well as the tomatoes.

Ottawa County deputies reported that Fillmore St. just east of 40th Ave. near Hudsonville, was completely blocked this morning by three or four trees felled by the storm. The trees also took down the electrical wires, deputies said, and service is out throughout a wide area there.

Falling trees damaged a car and a truck near Hudsonville also, deputies said.

When a native mother was unable or unwilling to care for prematurely-born twins, Linda took upon herself the responsibility of looking after them, spending most of her time in the mother's native hut. Mrs. Lemcke will bring with her a collection of African household items. The Lemcke's have a third child, 2-year old Joyce, born in Africa.

The offering at the children's meeting will go for equipment for the new Christian hospital at Takum, Nigeria.

He will speak on "A Challenging Frontier," at the evening session Oct. 9. Mrs. Kobes, together with her husband, the Rev. Kobes, are veterans of missionary service among the Navajo Indians, having been stationed at Toadlena since 1925. She will also speak at the afternoon session for the women.

The afternoon offering will be divided between the Reformed Bible Institute in Grand Rapids, and the Back-to-God Radio Hour, earmarked for the work of the Rev. Bassam Madany who is making Arabic transcriptions to be broadcast to the Moslem world. The evening offering will be divided between Classical and Synodical Home Missions, the latter earmarked for the new chapel at Madison. The families of the Missionary Union members are also invited to the evening meeting.

Literary Club Opens With Tea and Book Review

"Four Days in July (1776)" were portrayed most vividly by Mrs. Paul G. Goebel for members of the Woman's Literary Club at their opening fall meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Written by Cornell Lengyel dramatist and poet, the days Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, July 1, 2, 3, and 4 in 1776 with the locale of Philadelphia, Pa., told the story of the "Forbidden Congress."

Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Roger Sherman and a host of other historical figures came alive as they fought for their Declaration of Independence under Mrs. Goebel's skillful handling.

All the familiar phrases "when in the course of human events," "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" were pinpointed and put into historical perspective. As she described each one of the fateful four days, Mrs. Goebel kept increasing the suspense until she reached the moment on the morning of July 4 when the Congress assembled, passed unanimously the Declaration of Independence and John Hancock signed his firm bold signature that has become so famous.

Still in the first quarter, Morse passed for 40 yards to Gene Luna for the third score. Earl converted after the first two scores.

Pandell intercepted another pass early in the second quarter and romped 30 yards for the touchdown. Ted Strnad passed to Pandell for the fifth touchdown and his third on a 55-yard play to make the halftime score 32-0.

Coach Sam Morehead played his reserve most of the second half. Roger Tiffany raced 25 yards for the final Fennville touchdown in the third quarter and Charles Kwiatkowski kicked the extra point.

Morehead praised the work of Hammer, Morse and Gooding in carrying the Fennville offense and complimented the defensive line of Pandell, Ray Modrak, Earl, Bill Blackburn, John Damaskus and Luna.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

With the demonstrations by our community fire departments, once each year over the country, the matter of Fire Prevention is called to your attention.

Since this is a yearly event there may be a great many people that take our efforts as just another week and after all there are only 52 weeks in each year.

The fact remains that all of these efforts by our people to call the dangers of fire to your attention we think are important. Some will say that it is not necessary to dwell on the disaster that can be caused by fire.

We want to again call your attention to the prevention of fires.
There are many reasons and most of them are due to people who are careless about matches, cigarettes, cigars, electrical equipment, oil burners, gas operated equipment furnaces that need repairs to name only a few.

We suggest that you take a look around your places of business and also your homes. If you find that there are any one of the many things that cause fires present please correct them.

This is just another gentle reminder that each of us can help prevent fires every day in the year. Fires destroy, lives are lost.
Your work and building of a lifetime can be destroyed. Please make a careful check right now.
This may help to stop fires before they start. It is the duty of everyone.

The Promise Fulfilled
Luke 2:25-35
By C. P. Dame (Based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Division of Christian education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. and used by permission.)
In the time when Jesus was born the state of religion in Palestine was far from ideal. Religion was cold, formal and ritualistic. However there were a few people who were spiritually minded and pious.
Simeon who saw and blessed the child Jesus in the temple belonged to that group.

1. The Holy Spirit leads people.
Simeon "was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel." This godly man honored justice and practiced it in his dealings with men; his relationship to God is expressed by the word "devout" and besides that it is said that he was waiting for the coming of the Messiah, and furthermore the "Holy Spirit was upon him." The Holy Spirit had revealed to him that he would not die until he had seen the Christ.
The Spirit who had revealed to him this fact led him into the temple right at the time the parents of Jesus brought their child there.

Joseph and Mary were in the temple to meet the requirement of the Jewish law stated in Leviticus 12. This law required that the parents should bring an offering.
Because Joseph and Mary were poor they brought a pair of turtle-doves or two pigeons instead of a lamb. Simeon was led by the Holy Spirit so that he might see Jesus and recognize him as the Messiah. This same Holy Spirit will lead us today if we seek his guidance.

II. Salvation is of God, not of man. The Spirit who led Simeon in the temple also guided him in his speech. Luke records several hymns in his gospel. The hymn of Simeon is called Nunc Dimittis.
This hymn reveals something of the man. He took the babe who was then forty days old in his arms and praised God that his eyes had seen God's salvation. Christ came to this world for the sake of gaining salvation for fallen mankind.
Christianity is a religion of salvation. This salvation is for all people. Simeon expressed this fact in the words, "before the face of all people" and "to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel." It is no wonder at all that we read that "Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him."

III. People decide for or against Christ. After Simeon had blessed Joseph and Mary he turned to Mary and made a prediction about Jesus. He said that the knowledge of Christ may bring a blessing to men or condemnation. In addition he said that Christ will meet with opposition. And besides this he also said that Christ is the revealer of the thoughts of the heart. People who hear of Christ have to decide what to do with him — and they either accept him or reject him. The words of Simeon are being fulfilled before our eyes day by day.

In our day too little is said in many churches about the death and resurrection of Christ. Observe that Simeon foretold the death of Jesus in the words, "Yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also." When Joseph and Mary and Simeon stood in the temple together Mary's heart rejoiced. Later she stood at the cross and saw her Son hanging there in agony. It was then that a sword pierced through her soul for most likely she did not understand why he was crucified — we do. Jesus came here to die for the sins of mankind.

Dutch Convert After 2 TDs For Third Win

Displaying the ingredients of a well-balanced football team, Hope College won its third straight game of the season Saturday night with a narrow 14-13 win over powerful Northern Michigan before 3,800 fans at Riverview Park.

The Dutch came up with another strong running attack, concentrating on knifing the tackles and s-sweeping the ends, added to it a smooth passing game which resulted in seven of 10 completions, and then successfully kicked two extra points.

The Dutch put with it a strong defense, particularly in its secondary pass defense, where Hope showed unusual strength coupled with the expected strong line play. Bill Huibregtse, who led Michigan college players in points after touchdown in 1957, kicked two perfect boots Saturday. He also kicked the two PAT's last season which defeated Northern at Marquette by a similar 14-13 score.

Bud Tompkins converted after the first Northern touchdown Saturday but his second with 5:49 remaining in the game hit the crossbar and dropped back. Northern also lost 14-13 in 1957 as Tom Schwalbach, who was out of Saturday's game with an injury, missed the kick.

Paul Mack, who probably won himself the Hope quarterback position, engineered both Hope touchdown drives and just missed a third possible score. Rapidly learning the T-formation quarterback's job, Mack was particularly tops in his passing where he hit seven of 10, including six straight in the first half.

Mack tossed an eight-yard aerial to fullback Ron Bekius with 2:15 of the first quarter left for the opening touchdown. It climaxed a 70-yard Hope drive in 14 plays. It was Bekius sixth TD this season.

The Holland quarterback also threw a 12-yard pass to end Mike Blough and one for 15 to halfback Paul Watt in the drive. Bekius led the rushing in the drive with 28 yards in five carries while halfback John Vandenberg and Duane Voskuil also contributed with key yardage.

Northern scored its first touchdown with 13:22 left in the second quarter to climax a 7-yard nine-play drive which started with the kickoff return. Halfback Jack Darr led the way with a 17-yard swiftness dash around end and Roy Langford cracked the tackle for the final 10 yards.

Then Hope turned right around and marched 65 yards in 16 plays for its final TD. Voskuil found a nice hole over left guard for the last four yards with 5:16 left in the half. Voskuil, Vandenberg and Watt had led this drive with Voskuil grabbing 27 yards in four tries. Mack tried just one pass, good for eight yards to end Ron Boeve.

The first half ended with Hope on the Northern one. Bekius intercepted a pass on the Dutch 35. Mack then hit him on pass to the Dutch 45. Four line plays, including an 11-yard smash through center by Bekius, put the ball on the Northern 34 where Mack hit Boeve on a 17-yard completion. Mack's passing fortune stymied on the next play and he missed Jack Faber on a corner pass on the one-yard line.

But he followed with a quarterback keep to the one-yard line. Bekius then tried a belly dive but was stopped short as the half ended.

Hope's Huibregtse recovered a Northern fumble on the nine-yard line in the third quarter but Mack lost it on the next play. Midway in the fourth period Wildcat tackle Gus Krantz fell on a Hope fumble on the Dutch 18. In four plays, including a 12-yard pass, Paul D'Arras cracked over from the four for the score.

Bekius, Mack and junior Jim Mohr stood out on Hope's pass defense. Mohr's knocking down of a Northern pass at the last split second deep in Hope territory brought an ovation when the blond back returned to the sidelines.

Capt. Larry Ter Molen again led the Hope defensive line with good work from Tom Miller, bothered by an ankle injury, Don Paarlberg, Ron Bronson and George Peelen. Huibregtse looked good as a linebacker.

The Dutch gained 256 yards, 73 in the air and 183 rushing. Of this, 66 aerial yards and 115 on the ground, were obtained in the first half. Northern had 92 yards rushing and six passing in the first half. Hope had 13 first downs in the first half.

Bekius had 57 yards in 12 carries, 56 in the first half while Voskuil had 51 yards in 14 carries. Darr led the Wildcats with 61 yards in five attempts. End George Blommel was the leading Northern linemen. Northern is now 1-3.

Chuck Scallorn, Northern back, twisted his knee in the first quarter. He was x-rayed at Holland Hospital and no fractures were reported. Huibregtse and Miller received injuries while halfback Jerry Herp sat out the game because of a shoulder injury.

This trio, along with center Gene Van Dongen, should be ready to play against Kalamazoo College in an MIAA game Saturday at 2 p.m. at Angell Field in Kalamazoo.

Sentinel Story as Words Are Turned Into Type

BUSY NEWS ROOM — All of the news which appears in The Sentinel is handled by this editorial room staff. Local copy is written by this crew, proof is read and the United Press teletype news and other non-local news, edited. Alfred Bransdorfer, city editor, (center-foreground), coordinates all activities in the newsroom, edits all copy, decides how the story will be "played" and selects pictures.

Here he confers with Peter Baker, reporter-photographer, on a picture assignment. Randall Vande Water, sports editor (right-foreground), is typing a news story while Mrs. Leonard (Rolene) Fought (left-second row) is marking up society copy and reporter Linda Gordon is taking a news item over the telephone. Mrs. Verne (Lorraine) Hohl, (left-third row) handles society copy and proof reading and is checking a copy of The Sentinel. Miss Cornelia Van Voorst, reporter, writes many of the local stories and here confers with part-time Sentinel employee Jack Huizenga, a University of Michigan student, about a picture. Part of The Sentinel "morgue" or filing cabinets is located on the far wall.

W. A. BUTLER . . . President and Publisher of The Holland Evening Sentinel

NEWS FOCAL POINT — The Sentinel's contact with the world is made with these two United Press teletype machines. The machine on the left is a "day wire" and sends news from 1 a.m. to 3 p.m. The words sent on this machine are sent in column width to correspond to the automatic perforator which is punching out the same material on a narrow piece of tape for use in a linotype machine. Here, Alfred Bransdorfer, city editor, checks the "day wire" prior to editing it. The "night wire", which operates from 3 p.m. to 2 a.m. is a main trunk wire of the United Press and supplies news from all over the world as it happens.

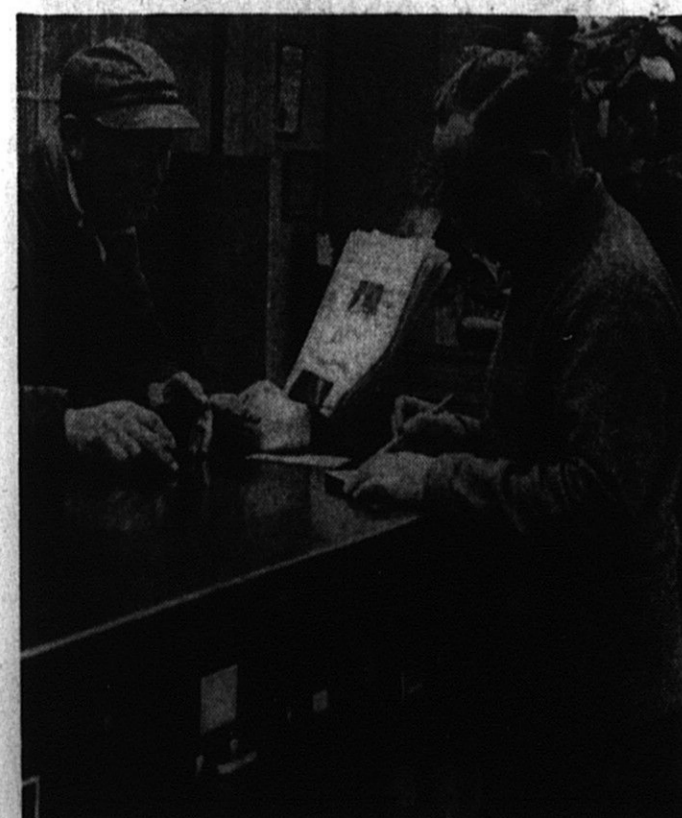

TALK OVER DISPLAY AD — Advertising manager Orlie A. Bishop (seated) and Merle De Feyter, advertising salesman, look over one of the full-page ads scheduled for publication in The Sentinel. All of the ads are made up in the composing room and then sent back to the advertising department where they are proofed. The Sentinel will furnish proofs of all advertising and the salesmen will provide suggestions as to making ads attractive.

MAKING BUSINESS CONNECTION — John Vander Ploeg is talking to a would-be advertiser on the rates of Sentinel display advertising. Sentinel ad men talk over advertisement ideas with merchants, businessmen and salesmen. Complete advertising service, including layout work, copy writing, consultation and personal contact by trained advertising salesmen, is afforded advertisers.

TOURS POPULAR — Youngsters and adults, too, frequently visit The Sentinel and take tours to get a closer look at the operation of the paper. Here, Miss Linda Gordon, reporter, explains how the United Press Facsimile machine operates. This machine transmits pictures and allows The Sentinel to have the latest pictures of news happenings throughout the world. The Sentinel can also request specific pictures to be sent on this machine.

TAKING A CLASSIFIED — Robert Crawford (right), is writing a classified ad for a customer which will appear in the classified section of The Sentinel. Customers come in to place classifieds or call one of the ad takers. The deadline for classified ads is 9 a.m. on the day of publication.

PUNCHING OUT TAPE — After a story is written, it is turned into perforated tape, seven-eighths of an inch wide. Here, Leonard Marcinkus is punching out some copy. The perforator code is in back of the machine. The dial at the right determines the number of letters that can go in each line. The United Press teletype machines are also set up similarly and as the stories are sent, a tape is perforated. This in turn is put on the linotype and operated automatically, the same as the hand-set perforator.

WORDS INTO METAL — The step-by-step word-picture of the newspaper production was started by giving this copy, written in the news room, to a perforator operator who made an attached tape. This tape was then put on a teletype operated linotype machine and the type was produced at the high speed of ten lines per minute. This is used for straight matter and is the news dress of The Holland Evening Sentinel. The linotypes can be operated automatically or manually. In the foreground Richard Wolters and Keith Liddle are operating perforating machines to make tape. James Stool and Gordon De Ridder are operating linotypes while Ed Dykema (background) is setting headlines on another linotype. The head machine is set up to produce heads of 8, 12, 14, 18, 24 and 36 point size. This gives a wide variety of heads and adds reader interest to various stories. Herman Wesseldyke (standing) is going over some copy with Ernest Penna, mechanical supervisor.

Latest Methods, Machinery Used By Sentinel

MAIL ROOM ACTIVITY — With each edition of The Sentinel, the mail room crew goes into action, taking the papers off the conveyor, bundling and addressing wrappers for papers that are mailed. The papers, after being tied, are sent through the open slot in the far wall and loaded into cars for distribution.

LETTERS FROM LINOTYPE — Ray Mouw is sitting at one of the two modern Linotype mixer machines. These machines set necessary ad guts (ad guts is a printers' term for type used in advertisements). The Sentinel composing room is equipped with seven Linotype machines. Four are high speed teletype operated, the others are models 32, 30 and 36 and equipped with multiple magazines.

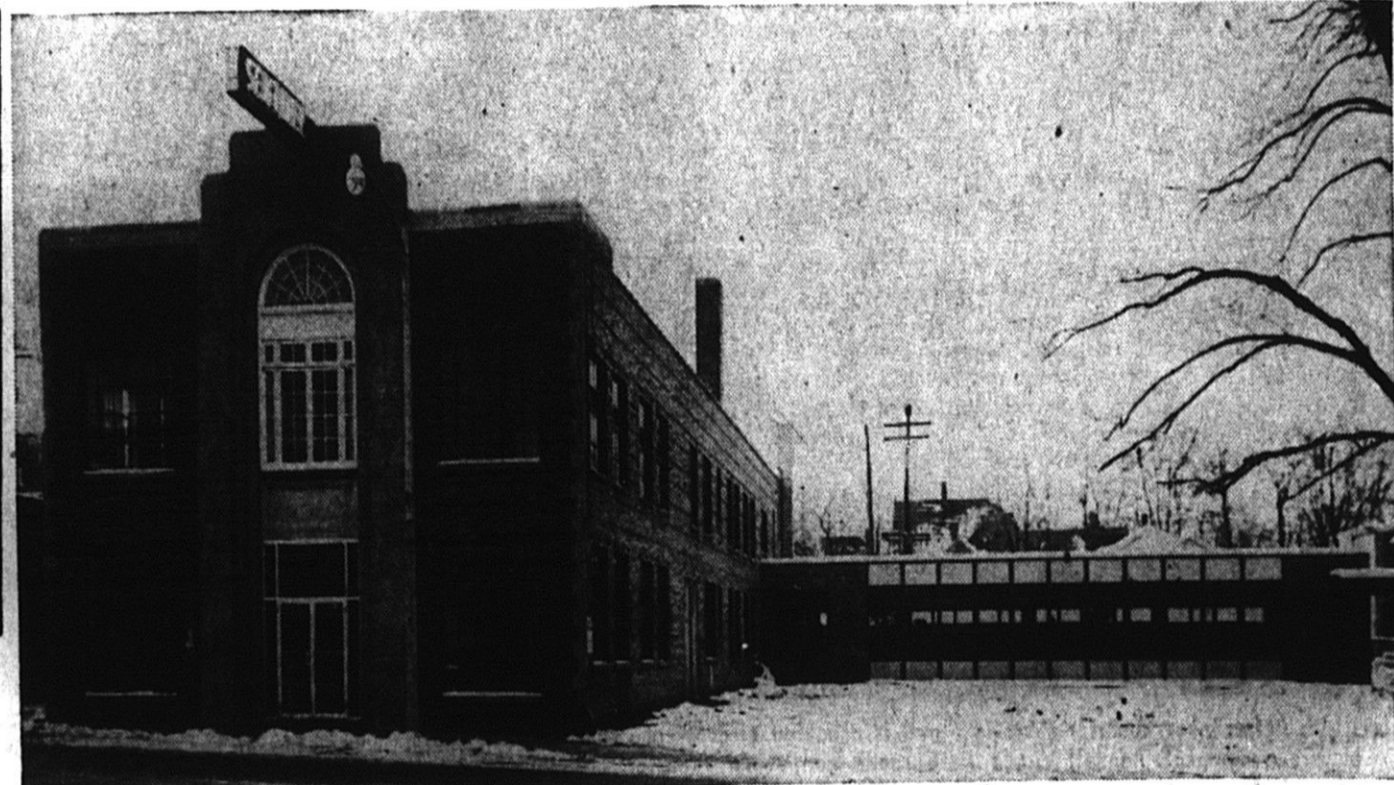

SUPPLY SUBURBAN AREAS — These persons are members of the rural motor route which deliver Sentinels every day as far north as West Olive and Camp Geneva, northeast to Borculo, east to Drenthe, southeast to Overisel and Fillmore, west to Waukazoo, Virginia Park and south to Hutchins Lake.

NEWSPAPER 'DUMP' — The news type dump is one of the focal points of the newspaper operation. Here type is gathered to be proofed and corrected. Heads are put in proper places with stories and flaglines are set with each story to show where the story will appear in the paper. The make up man takes the stories from the dump and places them according to the flagline in the paper. Here, Rog Borr, (left), proofs a story which will be read and then corrected for errors by Don Cranmer, (right).

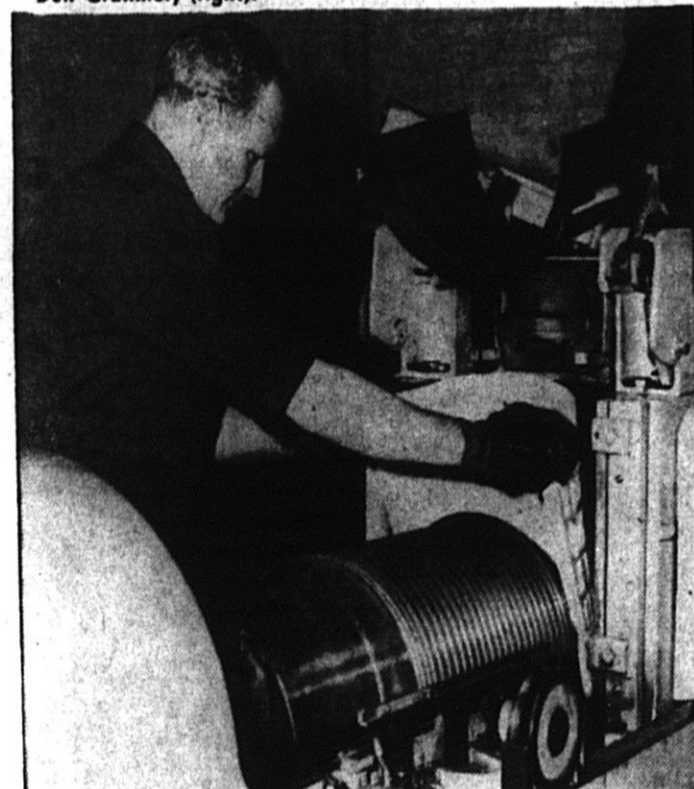

THE SENTINEL PUBLISHED HERE — This is the familiar office of The Holland Evening Sentinel located at 54 West Eighth St., in Holland. The Sentinel has been located in the same spot since 1928 and in 1957 a west wing addition which contains a new 40-page press was added. Publisher W. A. Butler's office, the advertising department, the news room and the composing room are located in the original building on the first floor. The engraving and photography departments are located in the basement and the library and general office area is on the second floor. Also in the new addition are the mailing area and the stereotype department. The Sentinel has been publishing for more than 62 years. The Holland City News, a weekly paper, is also published by The Sentinel each Thursday.

COMPLETING MAKEUP OF PAGE — John Slog, makeup man, is planing a page form to make sure all of the metal placed in the page form is in place. His job as makeup man is to fit the news stories and advertisements of metal into pages. The stories and advertisements are placed in relation to each other. Pages are completed at different intervals to provide a flow of work during the day. These pages, resting on trucks, are then sent to the stereotype department where a mat is rolled.

MAKING A CASTING — Bill Bekius is placing a page mat into the plate-perfector to make a page casting. From a large vat with metal heated to 600 degrees Fahrenheit, the metal comes in contact with the mat and after a 30 second cooling period, the plate is formed, cut and ready to be put on the press. When all of the castings are locked in place the press run begins.

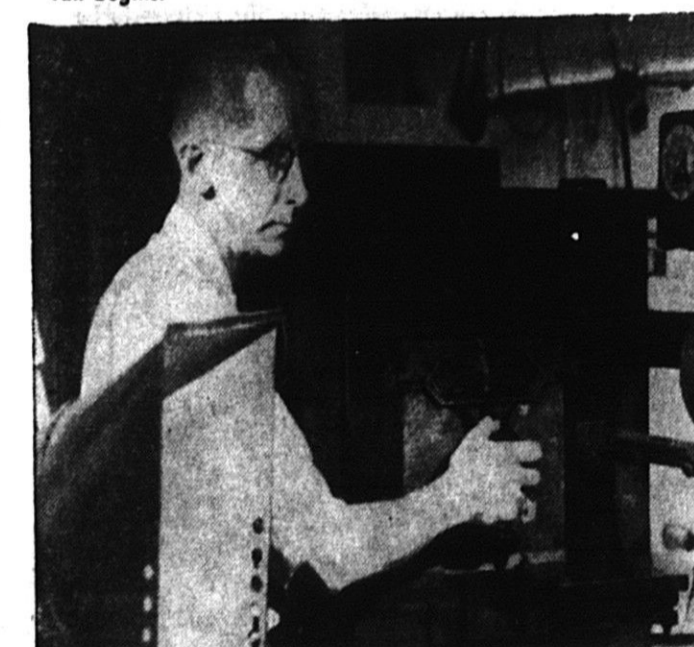

BUILD ADS OF METAL — With the lines of type, the head-line letters, and the cuts and casts which reproduce illustrations, the compositor builds an advertisement of metal. The display ads are assembled with proper spacing and borders to meet the desired size of ads. Also the ad copy is marked with colored pencils to show type and size to the typesetter. Jack Essenburg (left) composing room foreman, is in charge of the building of the ads and the general operation of the composing room. Gil Bussies is putting an ad together while Lawrence McCormick is operating a proof press used for proofing the advertisements for corrections by proof reader. A smaller proof press is used for proofing columns of news.

ROLLING A MAT — Mart Dunning prepares to roll a mat after the page has been made up in a form. The moist cardboard-like mat is placed on the page of metal. Then a thick sheet of cork and fibrous material is put on top of the mat and the mat roller exerts pressure of about 800 pounds per square inch. A mat is formed with an impression of the page on a composition sheet which is used to cast the pages in a semi-cylindrical shape to fit the press. From the mat former, the mat is packed to prevent black spots from appearing on the paper, then it is pre-shrunk for 20 seconds in a flat scorcher. Then it is scorched in a semi-cylindrical dry mat former for three minutes.

REPIGGING METAL — William Schierbeek is repigging metal in the remelter at 560 degrees to remove the impurities. This makes the metal in shape for the line casting machine. Schierbeek is also in charge of the custodial work at The Sentinel. The melting pot is located in the basement.

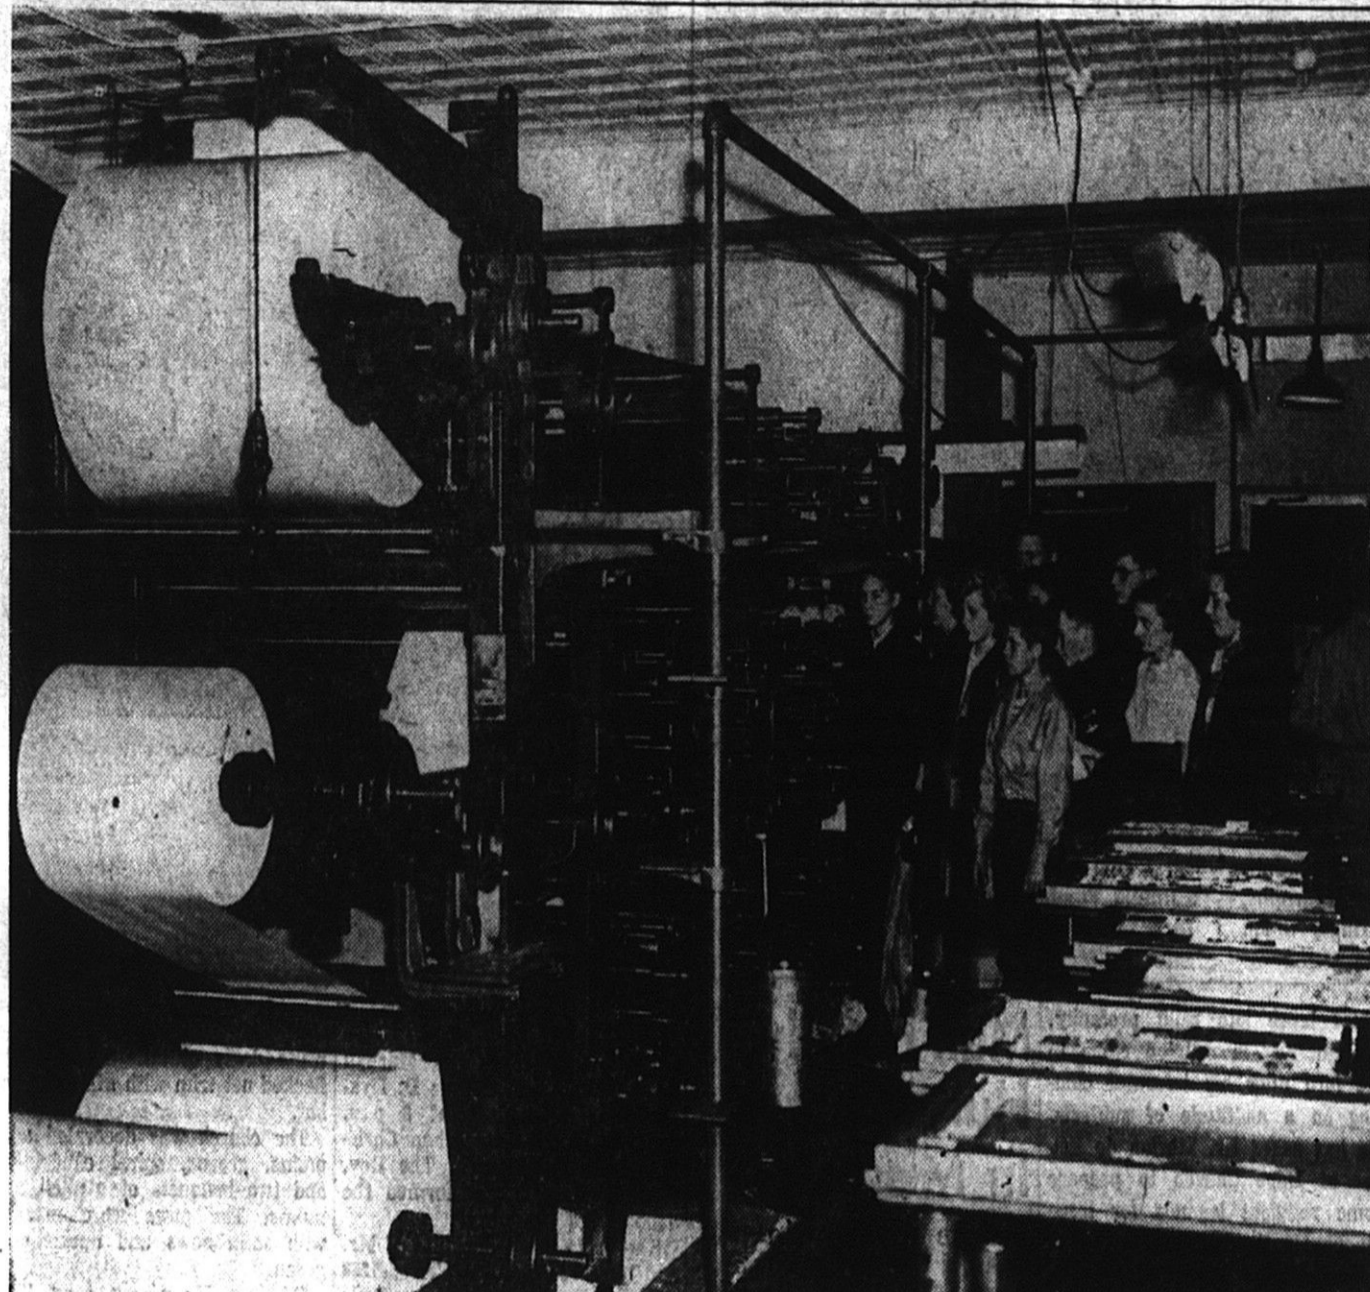

PRESS ROLLS DAILY — One of the final steps in publishing a newspaper and the scene most created as a symbol of the newspaper business, is the actual rolling of the press. The press is rolled after the metal page castings have been locked into place on the cylinders. Here John Piers checks the rolls of paper, Chuck Wingard looks over an issue to check for the proper flow of ink and Mart Dunning checks that the conveyor is operating. The present press was put into operation in April, 1957 and replaced a press used since 1935. The 16-page press installed in 1935, had four-page additions made in 1952, to increase the pages to 20, and in 1955, when the total page output was upped to 24. The present press is capable of publishing 40 pages at one time. Prior to the installation of the 16-page press, The Sentinel was published on an eight-page flatbed press from 1925 to October, 1935.

SETTING ADVERTISING COPY — Orley Van Dyke is setting up some letters on the Ludlow machine, which makes large headlines, advertising letters and numerals. The Ludlow machine is located in the ad alley near to all the cases of type.

Producing a Daily Newspaper Is a Complex Job

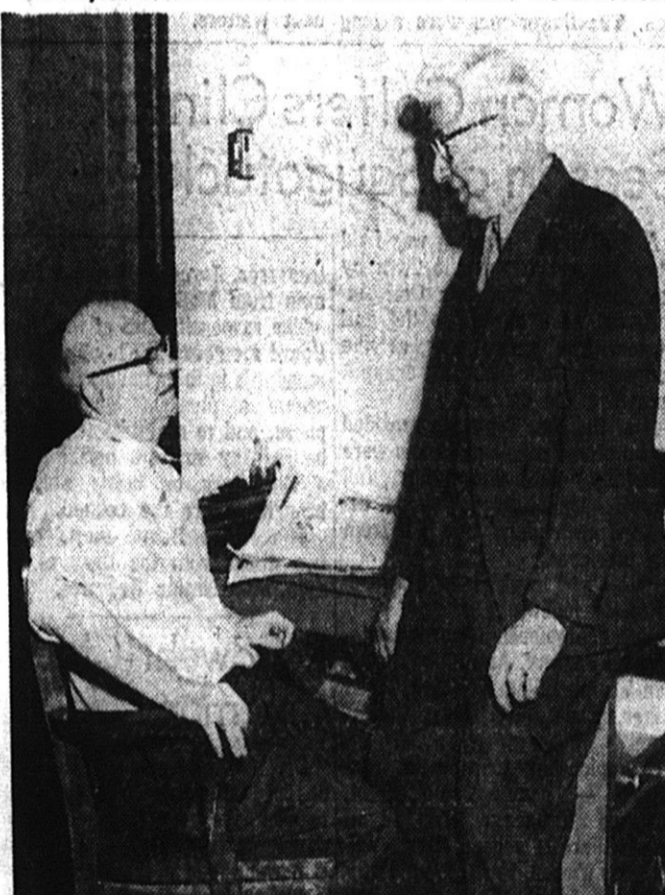

VISITORS ALWAYS WELCOME — It is rare that a week goes by that a group of students or just interested residents do not stop at The Sentinel to see how a daily newspaper is produced. In 1949 (above) one group of hundreds to visit The Sentinel in that year are shown looking at the press which was replaced with a new modern press in March of 1957. Sections of the press (above) went to the Marshall Evening Chronicle and The Sturgis Journal.

COMPLETE CONVEYOR SYSTEM — The heart of distribution in the mail room is the conveyor and bundler. An overhead conveyor sends the papers from the press to a bundler and then to the cars. Papers come off the press in 50's and are then bundled with a rope. After they are tied, the bundles are placed in cars and are taken to the homes of newsboys for delivery to the subscriber. The mounted routes are delivered to subscribers the same day. The papers that are sent out from the post office are run through the address-a-graph being operated by Herman Wesseldyke (center). Terry Grotler (right) is busy straightening papers for bundling while Frank McCarthy is throwing individually wrapped papers into the mail sacks which are later taken to the Post Office.

VETERAN EMPLOYEES—Herman Kiekintveld (left) and John VanDen Heuvel here talk over activities at The Sentinel and how the newspaper has grown. Kiekintveld has worked at The Sentinel for 45 years and VanDen Heuvel has been employed for more than 15. Kiekintveld has served The Sentinel longer than any of the present employees.

PREPARING ADVERTISING — Mrs. Janet Gaillard is preparing some display advertising to be sent out into the composing room where it is made up. Sentinel advertising personnel act as advertising consultants, copy writers, and layout artists and in many cases help retailers plan well coordinated promotions.

THE 'LAST WORD' IN 1925 — This Duplex eight-page flatbed press served The Sentinel for ten years being replaced by another press (pictured elsewhere on this page) in 1935. The press printed direct from type using a single roll of paper.

Its speed was 2,500 papers an hour compared with the more than 40,000 papers an hour of the press on which this edition of The Sentinel was printed. The old press was purchased by a paper in South America.

Newspaper Story Told In Brief

Many Steps Involved In Daily Publishing Of The Sentinel

This step by step word-picture of newspaper production was started by giving this copy to a Perforator operator who made the attached tape. This tape was then put on a teletype operated Linotype machine and the following type was produced: This is used for straight matter and is the news dress of the Holland Evening Sentinel.

HEAD LETTERS

The head-letters at the top of this story were set on a Model 32 Linotype machine. This machine is set up to produce heads of 8, 12, 14, 18, 24, and 36 point size. This gives a wide variety of heads and adds reader interest to various stories.

AD MACHINES

This plant is also equipped with two modern Linotype mixer machines to set the necessary ad type used in advertisements. The attached proof shows the wide range of type faces available to enhance the display ads.

The Sentinel composing room is equipped with seven Linotype machines. Four are high speed teletype operated, the others are models 32, 30, and 36 all equipped with multiple magazines.

THE DUMP

The news type Dump is one of the focal points of newspaper operations. Here type is gathered to be proofed and corrected. Heads are put in proper places with stories; flaglines are set with each story to show where the story will appear in the paper.

MAKEUP

The Makeup Department is where news stories and ads are placed in relation to each other. Pages are completed at different intervals to provide a flow of work during the day.

AD ALLEY

The ad alley for display ads is where the type and plates are assembled with proper spacing and borders to meet the desired size of ads. Also the ad copy is marked with colored pencils to show type and size to the typesetter.

The department uses a Ludlow machine to set big type that cannot be cast on the Linotype machine.

MAT ROLLER

When the page has been made up the form is sent to the mat roller, (a Goss Roll-O-mat) exerting a pressure of about 800 lbs. per sq. inch. A mat is formed with an impression of the page on a composition sheet which is used to cast the pages in a semi-cylindrical shape to fit the press.

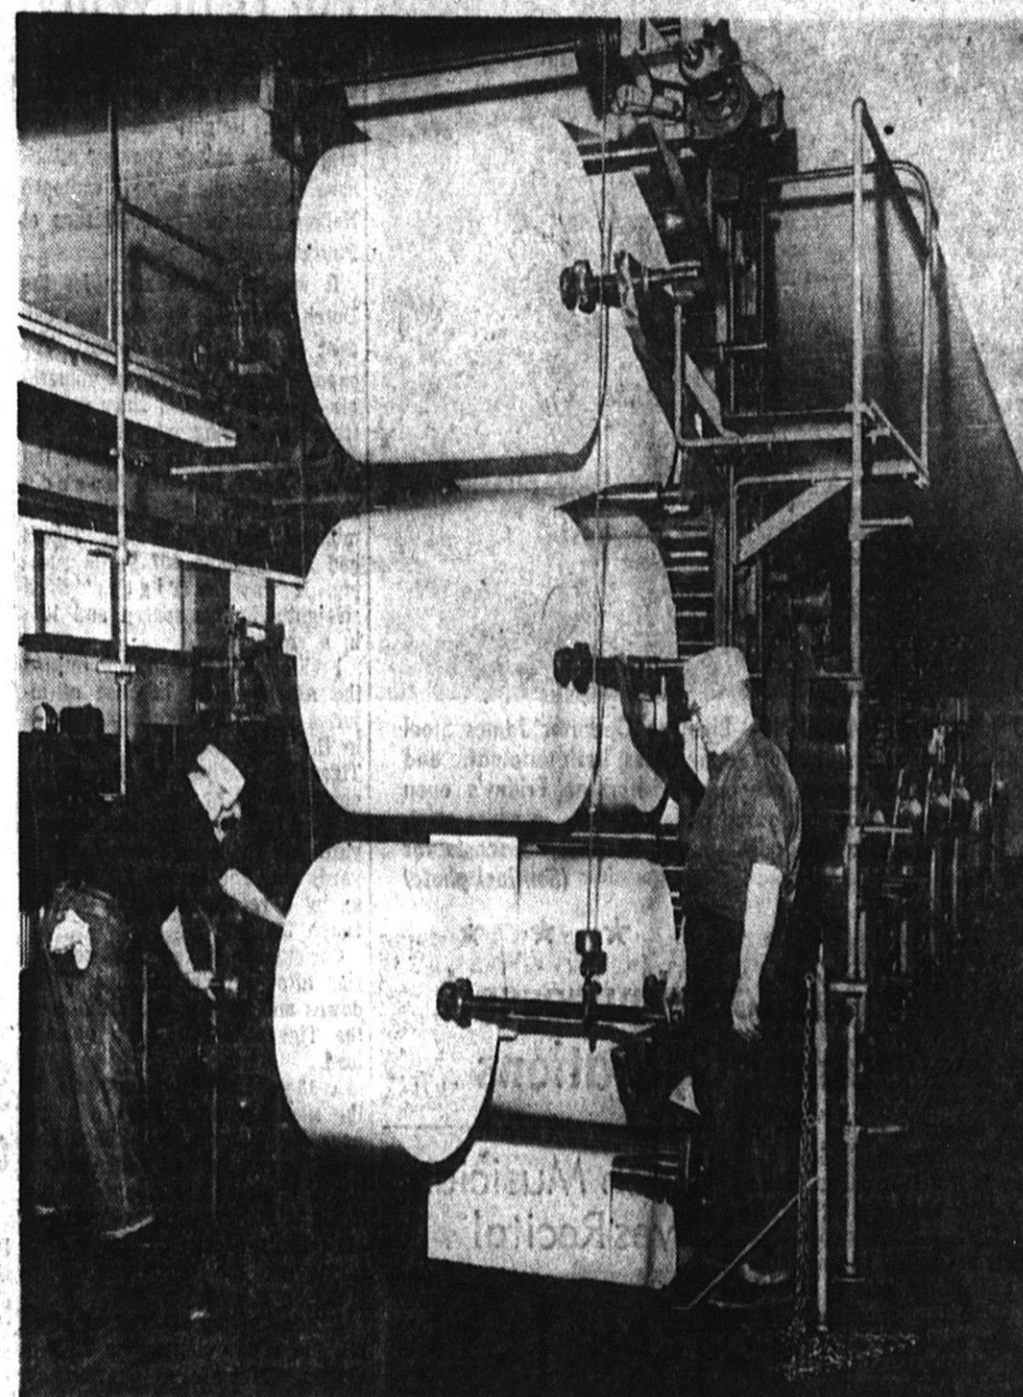

From the mat former the mat is packed to prevent black spots from appearing on the paper, then it is pre-shrunk for 20 seconds in a flat scorching. Then the mat is scorched in a semi-cylindrical STA-HI Master Vacuum dry mat former (Goss) for three minutes.

STEREOTYPE DEPARTMENT
The mat is then placed in a Goss Plate-Perforator. From a large vat with metal heated to 600 degrees F the metal comes in contact with the mat. After a 30 second cooling period the plate is formed, cut and ready to be put on the press.

THE PRESS

The Goss Universal press has five units capable of printing 40 pages, 40,000 copies per hour on a straight run and 20,000 per hour on a collect run. The press also has color units capable of printing three colors. The press has a heavy duty folder.

The papers are carried along a conveyor system to the mail room from which they are handled by the mailing departments for fast delivery to our readers.

MANY ROLLS OF PAPER USED — The rolls of paper, which weigh between 800 and 1,000 pounds, are hoisted from the basement into place. Here Bill Bekius (left) and Mart Dunning check on a roll. It takes a little over one day's run to use up a single roll. The Sentinel press has five units capable of printing 40 pages, 36,000 copies per hour on a straight run and 18,000 per hour on a collect run. The press also has one color unit capable of printing four pages and can run three colors on a single page. The press has a heavy duty folder.

LEARNING ABOUT ENGRAVING — Members of the fifth and sixth grade of Borculo school stand as Henry Engelsman, Sentinel engraver, shows them screen negatives that have been stripped onto a plate of glass. The children toured The Sentinel earlier this year. The Sentinel is always open to school groups and other organizations who wish to tour the newspaper offices.

FORMER SENTINEL PRESS — This 20-page Sentinel press, later expanded to print 24 pages, was removed in March of 1957 and replaced by the new Goss printing press which can produce over 40,000 papers an hour with

READING PROOF — Bob Jaehrig, part-time Sentinel employee, reads a galley proof and marks corrections. Jaehrig, who is attending Hope College, also announces several of The Sentinel's daily newscasts over WHTC.

AT LINOTYPE MACHINE—Linotype Operator James Stael explains operations of linotype machines, both automatic and manual, for this group of young visitors at Friday's open house. In charge of this group is Bob Jaehrig in white shirt, part-time employee who does several Sentinel newscasts for WHTC. (Sentinel photo)

Tigers Show Running Game For 18th Win

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (Special)—Following a long tradition, Muskegon Heights' football team displayed a strong running attack here Friday night and walloped Holland 35-6 before 3,000 fans at Phillips Field.

It was the same story for the Dutch again this week as was evident in the first two defeats. The opposition found the most vulnerable spots early and then concentrated on boring into them.

The ends and the center of the line couldn't stop the speedy Heights backs and before the 48 minutes had elapsed the Tigers had accumulated 307 yards rushing. It was the Tigers' third straight win this season and 18th in a row.

Fullback Bill Poland, who missed the Alpena game because of injuries ripped through center twice in the first quarter to give the Tigers an early lead. His touchdown, set up by Art Christopher's 41-yard run, was off guard for one yard and the second was from 10 yards out. The second TD was set up by a recovered fumble on the Dutch 30.

Christopher kicked the conversion after each of the five touchdowns and his first two kicks gave the Tigers a 14-0 first quarter lead.

A 13-yard screen pass early in the second quarter from quarterback Rog Buurma to halfback Bob Teall set up Holland's lone touchdown. The play was stopped on the Tiger 11 and three plays later fullback Scott Brower crashed over tackle for the touchdown. Rich Woltman missed the kick.

After receiving the Holland kickoff, the Tigers climaxed a 72-yard drive in 14 plays as quarterback Don Stricker sneaked for the tally. Halfback Art Oliver raced 25 yards around end late in the second quarter for the fourth Heights score. His run was set up when end Ron Byl recovered Teall's fumble on the Dutch 27. This made the halftime score 28-6.

Oliver, also a star basketball player, romped 34 yards early in the third period with the final Tiger touchdown. He executed a cross-back over guard, was soon in the clear and off to the end zone.

Coach Okie Johnson then began to substitute and cleaned his bench. Coach Bill Hinga also played his entire team.

Holland netted a total of only 14 yards rushing. They picked up 32 yards in the first half but lost the yardage in the second half.

Besides the first half first down pass play, Brower raced 23 yards on a draw while the other first downs came in the fourth quarter. Buurma hit Teall for 15 yards with 6:47 left in the game and in two line plays Brower made 13 yards for a first down. He bruised his shoulder on the two plays.

The other first down was a 12-yard aerial in the closing seconds from Buurma to Teall.

Only fourth quarter excitement was a 57-yard run by Ozel Parham for a TD but the run was cut in half when the little speedster nipped the out of bounds line.

Holland opened with a direct pass to the quarterback and tried some passes but found the Tigers with a strong pass defense. The three passes the Dutch completed were all screen aeriels. The Dutch made a total of 40 yards in the air.

Defensively, tackle Jan Nienhuis, guard Jim Schaap and safety Buurma looked about the best. Offensively, the Dutch were hurt by the pulling guards being too slow.

Holland faces arch-rival Grand Haven next Friday night in the Football Festival game at River-view Park at 8 p.m.

Police Investigate Two-Car Accident
Holland police today continued their investigation of an accident Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. on 17th St. between Washington and Van Raalte Aves.

According to police, a car driven by Abraham DeKleene, 77, of route 2, Hudsonville, headed west on 17th St., collided with a parked car belonging to Robert J. Fleming, 17, of route 2, Fennville. Officers estimated the damage to DeKleene's 1951 model car at $75 and the damage to Fleming's 1957 model car at $30.

NEWSPAPER DISPLAY—This display, set up in observance of National Newspaper Week Oct. 1-8, has attracted a great deal of interest at the Holland Public Library. Both young and old enjoy seeing photographs, engravings, mats, copy and castings, which

Enthusiasm knew no bounds as Ray Herrick, Tecumseh industrialist who has been revealed as the donor of Holland's new library, unveiled plans for the new building at a meeting of the Library Board, members of the Council Library committee and various other officials Thursday afternoon in the council chambers of City Hall.

First revealed were architect's drawings of the plot plans and the floor plans of the block-long building, and then Herrick took special delight in unwrapping a beautiful painting of the new building which had been done by the artist who sketched buildings of the Brussels Fair for architects.

The sketch, now on display in the front window of First National Bank, shows a handsome structure of Indiana limestone with the entire front of glass. A center entrance on River Ave. will have a few broad steps with only four-inch risers. A ramp entrance on 13th St. will accommodate wheel chair persons and those who have difficulty in climbing even a few steps.

Carl W. Pirscher, architect, explained the floor plans for the structure which measure 200 by 190 feet and cover the entire area. As Herrick put it, "there isn't even room for the librarian's car."

Offices, conference rooms, work rooms and rest rooms will be housed in the south end of the building and all reading rooms and stacks in the north half. There will be special areas for children, young people and adults. There will be a two-story effect at the north end, allowing a balcony additional stacks and smoking rooms on the upper level.

Consideration for future needs dominated all factors of the plans, and whatever question was asked by local persons received excellent answers from Herrick and his architect. Asked whether it might not be a good idea to move the conference rooms nearer the 12th St. side of the building which would be closer to existing parking accommodations, Herrick answered, "We considered that point for two hours. We know eventually you're going to have to develop more parking area, and thinking of the next 50 years, this particular arrangement seems to be the best answer."

Herrick announced that the building will be fully air conditioned and gave some technical information on equipment which will be needed... a subject he knows a great deal about since he is in the refrigeration and air conditioning field.

Although the donor might at times lapse into mild profanity, his sincerity in religion came to the fore after his informal chatting on a multitude of subjects. He has asked Dr. Marion de Velder of Hope Church to prepare some religious legends for three plaques in the building.

Herrick also suggested that local furniture manufacturers might get together and provide furniture for the new library which has grown and grown in the plans, starting out with 14,000 square feet and graduating to 21,000 square feet.

He announced that shortly after the beginning of 1959, the city of Holland will receive $100,000 from the Herrick Foundation, founded by Mr. and Mrs. Herrick who are listed as the donors of the $325,000 building. He also explained that he has rescheduled some of the work of the foundation to make way for the library in Holland in 1959.

Mayor Robert Visscher who greeted Herrick and his party at the local airport said the sign on the property will be repainted to read "Herrick Public Library" instead of "Public Library."

Accompanying Herrick from Tecumseh were his son, Kenneth; his architect, Carl W. Pirscher and his contractor, Ned Kriehof. Library board members present at the meeting were Mrs. Henry Steffens, president, Mrs. Preston Luidens, Milton L. Hinga, Donald Thomas and Hero Bratt, plus Librarian Hazel Hayes whose correspondence with Herrick resulted in his decision to provide a library for his home town which he left about 50 years ago. Also present were Mayor Visscher, City Manager Herb Holt, Councilman Raymond Holwerda, City Attorney James E. Townsend.

Firemen Find 'Smoke' Was Steam From Boiler
Holland city firemen Saturday at 7:38 a.m. were called to the Apple Ave. school, on Apple Ave. just south of 24th St., where a neighbor saw what he thought was smoke filling the boiler room.

Firemen arrived to find the "smoke" was steam escaping from a safety valve on the boiler and turned off the gas. There was no damage, firemen said.

Driver Unhurt as Car Leaves Road, Hits Tree
Eugene C. Denny, 39, of 1688 1/2 South Shore Dr., escaped injury when the car he was driving left the road on Butternut Dr. just south of New Holland St. Thursday at 10:10 p.m. and collided with a tree.

Ottawa County deputies said Denny apparently fell asleep at the wheel, and estimated the damage to Denny's 1956 model station wagon at $600.

Man Fatally Hurt in Crash In Missouri

GRAND HAVEN (Special)—Vern R. Hammond, 69, route 2, Spring Lake, received fatal injuries Friday afternoon when a busload of football players sideswiped his car on a highway seven miles from Kirksville, Mo., or 40 miles from Independence, Mo.

Hammond and his wife had left Spring Lake Tuesday with their house trailer to spend the winter in California. They had planned to go by way of Independence to visit Mr. and Mrs. Henry Olson, former Grand Haven residents.

Mrs. Hammond was not injured. Hammond died two hours after the crash in Grim-Smith Hospital in Kirksville. The family was notified of the crash at 1:30 p.m. Two hours later word was received Hammond had died.

He was born in Charlevoix and married the former Elma Beaton there in 1911. The couple moved to Spring Lake in 1922. Before his retirement he was employed as a maintenance engineer in Camfield Manufacturing Co.

Hammond was an ordained minister of the reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints of Muskegon.

Surviving are the wife; four daughters, Mrs. Edward Saul, Mrs. James Dirkse and Mrs. Elmer Mielke of Grand Haven and Mrs. Wayne Tobey of Spring Lake; a son, Perry of Muskegon; two brothers, Candel of Los Angeles and Harry of Charlevoix; a sister, Mrs. William Donaldson of Muskegon; 15 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Tulip Time Stories, Pictures Requested
With Tulip Time about eight months off, Festival Manager S. H. Houtman already has received many requests for stories and pictures to be used next spring in various periodicals. Tulip Time dates next year are May 13, 14, 15 and 16, 1959.

Four publications, New York Mirror, Chicago Tribune Sunday Magazine, Lions International and Motor Travel have requested color pictures for next spring.

Others requesting stories and black and white photographs are Michigan Journal of Education, Flower Garden Magazine, Louisville Courier-Journal magazine, Garden Gossip, Trailer Topics, Travel, American Motorist, New York Motorist and Ohio Motorist. Houtman said the June issue of Pure Bred Dogs and the September issue of Popular Dogs have carried stories on the participation of the Keeshonds at Little Netherlands last May.

Dykstra-Walters Vows Spoken

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Dykstra (Joel's photo)

The marriage of Miss Marilyn Jean Walters and George D. Dykstra was solemnized at 8 p.m. Sept. 23 in the Graafschap Christian Reformed Church. The Rev. Edward Masselink performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Walters, 1268 Graafschap Rd. and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Dykstra, 355 West 19th St.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of heavy bridal satin with rosepoint lace insets at the neckline and front of the bodice. The sleeves were long and pointed at the wrists and the full skirt ended in a cathedral train. Her elbow length veil was attached to a pearl and sequin trim crown hat. She carried a white Bible with white orchid and feathered carnations.

Sentinel Visitors Impressed By Newspaper Operations

More than 200 adults plus uncounted numbers of children visited the Holland Evening Sentinel Friday afternoon during its National Newspaper Week open house. Nearly everybody expressed surprise at the huge amount of machinery and the large work force necessary to put out a daily paper. Visitors registered at the main entrance and then traveled in groups through the business office, news room, composing room and press room. They returned to the composing room for coffee and doughnuts.

To the average reader whose concept of the newspaper industry is geared to the copy he receives daily at his home, the operations of a modern newspaper plant loom tremendously large. And they are! But it takes a visit to a modern newspaper plant to realize how much work is involved.

A three-page picture layout such as appeared in Friday's Sentinel will give a person a fair idea of work in the news room, in a business office and the countless machine operations in a composing room, but the clicking noises of teletypes and typewriters, the fairly subdued noises of the linotypes and the roar of the big press (not nearly so noisy as it used to be) plus the movements of 45 busy employees at work, spell out a picture that the faithful newspaper reader at home cannot possibly imagine.

The marvels of the machine age, starting with the United Press facsimile machine which transmits pictures line by line (about seven minutes per picture), to the teletype news machines, the automatic linotypes and the many additional processes are but stepping stones to the climaxing operations of the big 40-page Goss press. Pressmen staggered operations Friday for the convenience of the visitors, running the press periodically for 1,000 copies. The daily run numbers well over 13,000.

Adding a festive note to Friday's open house were two large bouquets, the gifts of Zeeland State Bank and of Kammeraad and Stoop, architects for the new press room which was completed about 18 months ago.

Land Use Program Readied

2,900 Acres of Federal Land Eventually Involved In Ottawa Transfers

U. S. Rep. Gerald R. Ford, Jr., announced Saturday that 2,900 acres of federal land in Ottawa County are currently involved in plans for transfer to private, township, county and state ownership.

Ford revealed that under the authority of his bill (Public Law 85-514) deeds, covering the sale of six parcels of federal land in Park and Port Sheldon townships to Michigan residents, are now being prepared in Washington. Sixteen additional parcels will be ready for sale early this fall.

Federal land in Ottawa county consists of scattered tracts purchased during the late 1930's in order to retire submarginal farm land from cultivation. A high proportion of the acreage was raw, blowing sand at that time. The Soil Conservation Service administered the land for a number of years until the federal Reorganization Act designated the Forest Service as administrative agency in 1952.

Both agencies, by a lease arrangement, in turn placed the land under the immediate care of the West Ottawa Soil Conservation District. During the intervening years, it has been fully stabilized by plantings of beach grass and conifer trees.

The development of the West Ottawa County area resulted in an increasing need of land for private and public use. Under the Ford bill, passed during the 85th Congress, federal land in Ottawa County suitable for private purposes and not needed for public use, may be sold at the fair market price to the highest bidder.

In a recent conference with Rep. Ford, the Forest Service officials handling this program said, "It will be the policy of the Forest Service to consult beforehand with township, county and West Ottawa Soil Conservation District officials before any parcels of federally owned land are made available for public sale." On the basis of this consultation with local government officials the Forest Service can get helpful recommendations on and approval of Forest Service policy in the restoration of this land to private ownership, community organizations such as the Boy Scouts, and public recreation facilities.

After all of the land had been studied and classified as to its best use, a local firm of reliable land appraisers was employed to establish a fair market price on selected parcels. A trial sale by sealed bid procedure was then held last June in order to test the sale methods and to sample the potential demand.

Eight bidders responded to the advertised sale and presented nineteen offers on the six parcels.

Other Ottawa County federal land transactions, not covered by the Ford bill authority but under other federal land laws, include current negotiations towards:

Acquisition by Consumers Power Co. of a parcel in the Port Sheldon area for railroad, powerline, and related development work. At the present time Consumers Power owns acreage adjacent to the Lumberman's Monument area on the Au Sable River, Huron National Forest. It is anticipated some federal acreage in Ottawa County will be traded to Consumers Power for acreage of equal value in Iosco County in the Upper Peninsula.

Transfer to the State of Michigan of a tract in Spring Lake township to be reserved for future public recreation activities. In return for the federal land in Ottawa County, the Michigan authorities will likely transfer state held land to the Forest Service.

Adding adjacent land to the Boy Scout Camp Kirk site for use in the expanding of the Scout's conservation program.

Establishment of a Port Sheldon township community affairs site south of Pigeon river.

Development of a county park system by combining the best federal recreation land with existing county ownership.

Co. D Looks Sharp for Fifth Army Federal Inspection Team

The men of Holland's National Guard Co. D were all shined up Thursday night to stand their annual Federal inspection at the local Armory.

The inspection was conducted by a five-man inspection team from Fifth Army Headquarters in Chicago, led by Lt. Col. George D. Bond.

Co. D Commander Capt. Russell Kempker said the men have been preparing for the inspection since they returned from the Grayling encampment in August, and the sharp appearance of the troops backed up the statement.

Although the results of the inspection will not be known for about a month, company officers said they believed Co. D stood up well under the rigid and careful inspection. Co. D has earned the top rating of "superior" seven times in the past eight years.

During the afternoon the five-man team checked such things as records, maintenance of weapons and company vehicles, and in the evening they inspected the training classes and the men in ranks.

Capt. Kempker announced that

First Lt. George Smeenge will leave Oct. 15 to attend a four-month "associate infantry company officer" training course at Ft. Benning, Ga., and will return early in February.

Intruders Fail to Get Money at Local Church

Holland detectives Monday continued their investigation of a breaking and entering case at the Bethany Christian Reformed church, 11 East 32nd St., where intruders broke into a desk in the consistory room in an apparent search for money, but were unsuccessful.

The attempted burglary was discovered Saturday about 8 p.m. by the janitor, Clarence Vander Vliet. Detectives said the thieves had used a screw driver or small crow bar to force open a desk drawer where money was customarily kept.

However, the minister of the church, the Rev. William Brink, said that he recently lost the key to the drawer, so he had put the money, from collectors and the sale of catechism books, in another place, where it was not found.

Hekman Speaks To Exchangites

John Hekman of Grand Rapids addressed the Holland Exchange Club at its noon luncheon Monday noon.

The speaker had recently returned from a visit to Iceland and by means of slides, he shared his experiences with the club members.

The pictures showed clearly the rather bleak territory situated just north of the 65th parallel. The land is made habitable by the Gulf Stream which flows along its southern coast.

There are no trees in Iceland and all of the buildings must be constructed of cement and stone. The Icelanders were most hospitable and leaned toward the United States but Russia is making every play possible for their favor, the speaker said. The people have all the modern conveniences in their homes and follow the fashions in dress of Paris. Sixty percent of the homes and practically all of the industrial buildings are heated by the natural hot water springs which are plentiful.

Illiteracy is practically unknown and the young people are encouraged to interest themselves in foreign service, a movement which the United States might profitably follow, the speaker added.

At the beginning of the meeting President Willard Connor reported on the National Exchange Club Convention which was held in Los Angeles, Calif. last summer.
